

TABLE

OF

HEADINGS AND SUB-HEADINGS

The main headings, under which cases are digested, are printed in thick type.

Identity.	Inam Commissioner
IDOL.	INAMDAR.
Iddut	INAM LAND.
Ignorance of Law.	Incapacity.
Ijara.	Incestuous Adultery.
IJARADAR.	Incidents of Tenancy.
Ijmal Share.	Incitement to Murder and Acts of Violence
ILLEGAL CESS.	Income
Illegal Composition.	INCOME-TAX.
ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION.	INCOME-TAX ACTS
Illegal or Immoral Debts	Income tax Collector
Illegality.	Incorporated Company.
Illegitimate Children	INCORPOREAL RIGHTS.
ILLEGITIMATE SON.	Incriminating Articles
Illicit Sale	Incriminating Statements in Cross-examination.
ILLUSORY WAKF.	INCUMBRANCE
Illness.	Incurability.
Illustrations to Statutes.	Indemnity.
Image	INDEMNITY BOND
Imitation	Independent Advice
Immoral Custom	Indian Army Officer
Immoral or Illegal Debt	Indian Civil Service
Immoral Proposal	Indian Companies Act.
IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.	Indian Councils Acts
IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.	Indian Explosives Act
IMPERFECT GIFT.	Indian High Courts Act.
Imperfect Partition	Indian Insolvency Act
Import	Indian Legislature
Impossible Condition.	Indian Marine Service
Impossibility of Performance	Indian Staff Corps
Impotency	Indigo
Imprisonment	Individual Community.
Improvements	INFANT.
Improvement Act, Bombay	Inference.
Improvement Trustees.	Informant
Imputation of Criminal Offence	INFORMATION.
Inadequacy of Price.	Infringement
Inadvertence	Inherent Jurisdiction.
Inalienability.	Inherent Power
INAM	Inheritance

INJUNCTION

Injunction in Personam

Injured Person

Injury

In Pari Delicto

Inquiry

Insanity

INSOLVENCYINSOLVENCY ACTS

Insolvency Court

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

Insolvency Rules

INSOLVENT

Insolvent Plaintiff

Inspection of Document

INSTALMENTINSTALMENT BOND*INSTALMENT DECREE

Instigation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNSEL

Instrument

Instruments of Gaming

Instrument of Title

Insurable Interest

INSURANCE~~Insurance Company~~

Insurance Policy

Intangible Property

Intent and Knowledge

Intention

Intention of Founder

Intention of Parties

Intention to Legitimise

Intercepted Letter

INTEREST

Interest Post Diem

Interference

Interim Orders

Interim Receiver

Interlocutory Order

INTERMARRIAGE

International Law

Interment

INTERPLEADER

Interpretation

Interpretation of Statutes

INTERVENCIENTS

Intestacy

Inundated Lands

INVENTIONS AND DESIGNS ACT

Inventory

Investigation

IRREGULARITY

Irrelevant Evidence

Irrigation

Irrigation by Percolation.

IRRIGATION ACT, 1879IRRIGATION CESS ACT, 1865

Irrigation Cess Act 1900

Irrigation Channel.

IRRIGATION WORKSISSUES*ITMAM*JAGIR*JAIL CODE

Jail Register

JAINS

Jajnavalkya

JALKAR

Jats

JEWISH LAW

Jivai Grant

Jodi

Joinder of Causes of Action

JOINDER OF CHARGES

Joinder of Parties

Joint and Acquired Property

Joint Appeal

Joint Bond

Joint Business Joint Contract

JOINT CONVICTION

Joint Creditors

Joint Debts

Joint Debtors

Joint Decree

Joint Decree holders

JOINT ESTATE

Joint Execution

Joint Family

JOINT FAMILY BUSINESS

Joint Family Property

JOINT HINDU FAMILY

Joint Holding

Joint Immoveable Property

Joint Enquiry

JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS

Joint Magistrate

JOINT OWNERS

Joint Penalty

JOINT POSSESSION

Joint Probate

JOINT PROPERTY

Joint Proprietors

JOINT TENANCY

Joint Tortfeasors

Joint Trade

JOINT TRIAL.

Joint Venture.

Joshi Vatandar.

JUDGE.JUDGMENT.

Judgment Creditor.

Judgment Debt.

Judgment Debtor.

Judgment of a Single Judge.

Juds.

Judicial Act

Judicial Commissioner.

Judicial Committee.

Judicial Decisions

JUDICIAL DISCRETION.

Judicial Enquiry

Judicial Interpretation.

Judicial Notice

Judicial Officer

Judicial Officers' Protection Act.

Judicial Opinion.

JUDICIAL PROCEEDING.

Judicial Separation.

JURISDICTION.

Jurisdiction and Claim.

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTSJURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS*JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS

Jurisdiction of District Court

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT.JURISDICTION OF INFERIOR COURT.*JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE.

Jurisdiction of Revenue Court

JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE COURT.

Juror

JURY.

Just Antecedent Debt

JUS TERTII.

Justice, Equity and Good Conscience

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Justification

JUTE TRADE.KABULIYAT.

Kacchi Adat.

KADIM INAMDAR.

Kahuts

Karmi lease.

Kalichat Temple.

Kamathia.

Kanganam

Kanom.

Kanti Marriage

Kanungo.

Karnam.

Karnavan.

Karamkari Tenure.

Karta.

KASBATIS.

Kazi.

Kazis Act.

Ketubah.

Khairat

Khadanis.

Khamar Land

Khana-damad.

Khandesh District.

Khanga Attached to Darga.

Kharach i pandan.

Khas Possession.

Khatedar

Khatib Inam Lands.

KHOD-KAST JOTES.KHOJAS.*KHORPOSH GRANT.

Khot

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT.

Khoti Takshum.

Khoti Village

Khud kasht.

Khurdah in Orissa.

KIDNAPPING

Kidnapping a Girl out of British India

Kulladari Estate

Kullajat Estates.

King's Bench.

King's Prerogative of Pardon

Kittima Adoption

Knowledge

Knowledge and Intent.

Kobala.

Koches

Koli Caste

Konkani Mahomedans.

Kowl

Kudivaram.

Kulachar.

Kulkarni Vatan.

Kumaun.

KUMAUN RULES.KUNJPURA, STATE OF.

Kuzlukanam

Labourer.

Laches.

LAKEHRAJ LAND.

LAMBARDAR
LAMBARDAR AND CO-SHARERS Land LAND ACQUISITION
LAND ACQUISITION ACT, 1894
LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE.
 Land Cost
 Land Encroachment Act.
 Land for Agricultural Purposes
 Land Holder
LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT
 Land Law in Bengal
 Landlord
LANDLORD AND TENANT
 Abandonment.
 Adverse Possession.
 Agricultural Lease
 Alienation
 Building and residential Lease
 Cesses Covenants
 Custom
 Digwari Tenure
 Dispossession by landlord.
 Ejectment
 Encroachment.
 Enhancement of Rent
 Forfeiture
 Grove Land.
 Hypothecation
 Improvements.
 Inam Injunction Interest
 Lease.
 Mineral Rights
 Mulgana Tenure
 Not on to Quit.
 Occupancy Right
 Permanent Tenancy Relinquishment.
 Rent
 Title
 Transfer
 Miscellaneous
 Landlord and Tenant Act.
LANDLORD'S INTEREST
LAND REGISTRATION
LAND REGISTRATION ACT
 Land Revenue.
 Land Revenue Code.
LAND TENURE IN BENGAL.
LAND TENURE IN MADRAS
 Lands Clauses Consolidation Act.

Lapse to Monastery Larceny
 Lathi Play
LAW
 Lawful Apprehension
 Leading Questions
LEASE.
 Lease in Perpetuity
 Leasehold Property
 Leave of Court
LEAVE TO APPEAL.
 Leave to Sue.
 Leave to withdraw
 Legacy
 Legal Interest.
 Legal Justice.
 Legal Misconduct.
 Legal Necessity
 Legal Owner
LEGAL PRACTITIONER
LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACTS
 Legal Proceedings
 Legal Memorandum
 Legal Representative.
 Legal Representatives Suite Act
 Legal ty
 Legation
 Legislation Legislature
 Legitimacy
 Legitimate Purpose.
LENDER AND BORROWER.
 Leprosy
LESSEE.
LESSOR AND LESSEE
LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
LETTERS PATENT
LETTERS PATENT APPEAL.
 Letters Patent Jurisdiction
 Leva Kunba.
 Level Crossing
 Lex Fori.
 Lex Loci Contractus
 Liability LIBEL.
LICENSE Licensee.
 Licensor and Licensee Lien
 Lieutenant-Governor
 Life Assurance Companies Act.
 Life Estate
LIFE INSURANCE
 Life Interest.

LIGHT AND AIR.

Lighters or Boats]

LIMITATION

Limitation Act 1859

LIMITATION ACT, 1871.LIMITATION ACT, 1877*LIMITATION ACT, 1908Limitation Amendment Act 1909*

Limited Company

Limited Ground

Lingayet Panch kales Marriage⁺

Liquidated Damages

Liquidation

LIQUIDATORLIS PENDENS

List of Members.

Litigation

Loan

Local Boards Act

Local Booking Form

Local Customs.

Local Fund Code

Local Government

Local Inquiry

LOCAL INSPECTION

Local Limits

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT*Locus DelictiLocus Poenitentiae.Locus StandiLOCUSTSLorryLOSS OF GOODS

Lottery

Love Potion

Lower Appellate Court

Luggage

LUNACYLUNACY ACT, 1858*LUNACY ACT, 1912*LUNATIC*LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS*MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT*MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT*MADRAS FOREST ACTMadras General Clauses ActMADRAS HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT*MADRAS HIGH COURT RULESMadras Hindu Transfer of Bequests ActMadras Inam ActMADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT*MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT*MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT*MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACTMadras Motor Vehicles ActMadras Permanent SettlementsMADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACTMadras Port Trust ActMADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGE SERVICE ACT*MADRAS REGULATIONSMadras Religious Endowments ActMADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT*MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT*MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT*MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCES ACTMadras UniversityMADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT*MADRAS WATER CESS ACTMafi.MAGISTRATE.

(1) Change in Bench of

(2) Jurisdiction of

(3) Power of.

(4) Transfer of

MAHA BRAHMS*MahadMahalMAHANTMahar Vatan LandMAHOMEDAN*MAHOMEDAN LAW

Adopt on

A. senati n

B gamy

Conversion

Custom.

Divorce

Dower⁺

Endowment

Gift

Guardian

*Husband and Wife*Inheritance⁺

Joint Family

MACHINERYMADRAS ABKARI ACTMadras Acts.MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT, 1904.*MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT, 1888*MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT 1873.*MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT*MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT

MAHOMEDAN LAW—contd

Legitimacy
Maintenance.
Marriage
Minor
Mutawalli
Pre-emption
Religious Office
Restitution of Conjugal Rights
Sale
Succession
Trust
Wakf
Widow Will.
Worship.

Mahomedans

Mahratta Brahmin

Mahdona Property

Maiden & Sindhan

MAINTENANCE.

MAINTENANCE GRANT

Majority

MAJORITY ACT

Major

Makan

Makbuz

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT

MALABAR LAW

MALABAR MARRIAGE ACT

Malabar Tenants Improvements Act

Male Heirs

Male Members

Malice.

Malicious Arrest

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

MALIKANA

Mahk-o qab z

Mamlatdar

MANLATDARS COURTS ACT

Management.

Manager

Manager and Director of Newspaper Company

Manager under Court of Wards.

Managing Agent

Managing Member

MANDADARI TENURE.

MANDAMUS

Mandatory Injunction

Manpu

Manufacture, Sale or Possession

Manu Kyay

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR.

Marfadari Receipt

Marine Insurance

Maritime Necessaries

Mark by Illiterate Executant

Market

MARKET FRANCHISE

Marketable Title

Market value

Marksmen

MARRIAGE.

Marriage brokerage Agreement

Marriage Custom

Marriage Expenses

Marriage Settlement

Marriage with Wife & Sister

Married Woman

MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY

Marshalling

Martial Law

MARTIAL LAW ORDINANCES

MARUMAKKATTAYAM LAW

Martini Mart

Master

MASTER AND SERVANT

MATADARS ACT

Material Irregularity

Material Prejudice

Maternal Line

Mate & Receipts

Math

Math n Kasavu and Sadalwar

Matrimonial Causes Act.

Matwali

Maxims

Mavukha

Measure of Damages

MEASUREMENT OF LAND

Measure of Right.

Medial Works

Medical Preparation

Mehr

Melvaram

Melvaramdar

Member

MEMONS

Memorandum of Agreement.

Memorandum of Appeal

Memorandum of Association.

Menace to Person and Property

Merchandise Marks Act

MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT

Merchant Shipping Act.

MERGE

MESNE PROFITS

Mharki Vatan.
 Miadi Sarbarakan Tenure.
 Migration.
 Military Officer.
MINES AND MINERALS.
MINING LEASE.
 Mining Rights.
 Minister Licensed to Solemnize Marriages.
MINOR.
 Minor Co-parcener.
 Minor Reversioner.
 Minor Widow.
 Minority.
 Mirasdar
 Miras Lease.
 Miras Lease and Mortgage.
MIRASI VILLAGE.
 Misappropriated Goods.
 Misappropriated Money.
MISAPPROPRIATION.
MISCHIEF.
 Misconduct.
 Misdelivery
MISDIRECTION.
 Misjoinder.
MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION.
MISJOINDER OF CHARGES.
MISJOINDER OF PARTIES.
 Misjoinder of Persons and Offences.
 Misrepresentation.
MISTAKE.
 Mistake of Fact.
 Mistake of Law.
 Mitakshara.
 M'itakshara Family.
 Mittadar or Zamindar.
 Mixed Fund.
 Mufussil Property
 Moghall Brahmottar.
MOGULI RENT.
 Mohunt.
 Mokarari.
 Mokarari lars.
 Mokarari Lease.
 Mombasa Migration to.
 Money.
 Money-decrees.
MONEY HAD AND RECEIVED.
 Money lender.
 Money Order
 Money paid under Decree.
 Moopsi.
 Mopla.
 Mopbia.

MORTGAGE.

Assignment.
 Attachment.
 Attestation.
 Consent Decree.
 Consideration.
 Consolidation.
 Construction.
 Contribution.
 Deposit of Title Deeds.
 Discharge.
 Estoppel Execution of Mortgage Decree Exoneration.
 Females, Representation of.
 Foreclosure Fraud.
 Guardian, Mortgage by.
 Interest.
 Lost Bond.
 Marshalling
 Minor.
 Moveables Parties Partition.
 Priority.
 Redemption
 Registration.
 Sale of Mortgaged Property.
 Severance of Mortgagees Interest
 Simple Mortgage
 Subrogation.
 Transferee Mortgagee
 Unfructuary Mortgage
 Miscellaneous.

MORTGAGE BOND.

Mortgage by Karmavan

MORTGAGE DEBT.MORTGAGE DECREE.

Mortgage Deed.

MORTGAGE OR SALE.

Mortgage Sale.

MORTGAGE SUIT.

Mortgaged Property.

MORTGAGEE.

Mortgagor

MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE.MOSQUE.

Mother.

MOTOR VEHICLES.MOTOR VEHICLES ACT.*MOURASI MOKURARI KABULIYAT.

Movable Property.

Moad.

Muashier	NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT
MUKHTEAR	Nepal
Mukteer	New Case
MULGENI LEASE	New Channel.
Mulgeni Tenure	NEW TRIAL
Multifariousness.	Newspaper
Multifarious Document.	Newspaper Comment
Municipal Acts	Newspaper Correspondent.
Municipal Affairs at Aden.	NEWSPAPERS ACT
MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT	Next Friend
Municipal Board.	Nij Chas
Municipal Bye-laws.	Nomination Paper
Municipal Commissioner	Nibandha
Municipal Contractor	NIMAK SAYAR MEHAL.
MUNICIPAL CORPORATION	Noabad Mehal
MUNICIPAL COUNCIL	NOABAD TALUK
Municipal Councillors	Nolle Prosequi
Municipal Courts.	Nominations of Junior or Senior
MUNICIPAL ELECTION	Non-agricultural Land.
MUNICIPAL LAW	NON AGRICULTURAL TENANCY
Municipal Office	Non Appealable Case
Municipal Officer	NON APPEARANCE
Municipal Rules	NON COMPOUNDABLE OFFENCE
Municipal Taxes	Non Confessional Statement
MUNICIPALITY	Non Feudatory Zamindars of C. P.
Munim	NON JOINDER
Munsif	Non-Judicial Stamp
MUSSALMAN WAKF VALIDATING ACT	NON OCCUPANCY HOLDING
MURDER	NON OCCUPANCY RAIYAT
Muscoorat and Halkar Rights	NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT
Mushaa.	Non performance of Work.
Mutabik Dowl Vatan	Non Riparian Owner
Mutation of Names	NON TRANSFERABLE HOLDING
Mutation Proceedings	NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE ACT
Mutwalli	NORTHER INDIA FERRIES ACT
Moth.	N W P AND OUDH ACTS
MUTT	N W P AND OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT
Mutual Consent.	N W P AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT
Mutual ty	N W P RENT ACTS
	Note of Evidence
NAIKINS	NOTE OF HAND
Narya Tenure	NOTICE.
Native Indian Subject of His Majesty	Notice of Arrival.
Native State	Notice of Discharge
Nattukottai Chetties	Notice of Execution
Natural Son.	Notice of Loss
NAVIGABLE RIVER	Notice of Suit.
Naxianna	NOTICE TO QUIT
Nazir	Not fiction
Necessaries	Notified Area
Necessity for Alienation.	Novation
NEGLECTANCE	Novelty
NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT	NUISANCE

Nullity of Decree	Ostensible Owner
Nullity of Marriage	Otti Deed
Numbers.	ODDH ESTATES ACT, 1869
Nun Pro Tunc	ODDH LAND REVENUE ACT, 1878
	Ondh Laws Act, 1876
	ODDH RENT ACT, 1868
	ODDH RENT ACT, 1886
Oath.	Ondh Talukdars
Oaths Act, 1840	OUSTER
Oaths Act, 1873	Outcast
Objection	Overcrowding of House
Obligation	Over Head Tank.
OBSCENE PUBLICATION	Owner
Obstruction.	Ownership
Occupancy
OCCUPANCY HOLDING
OCCUPANCY RAIYAT	PACHETE RAJ
OCCUPANCY RIGHT	Paddy
Occupancy Tenant	Paik
Occupant	PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTION
Octroi Duty	PALA OR TURN OF WORSHIP
Offence	PALAYAM
Offending Matter	Palmyra Juice
Offer and Acceptance	Panchayat.
OFFERINGS	Pandarasannadhi.
Officer	PAPER CURRENCY ACT, 1910
Official Assignee	Paralysis.
Official Corruption	PARDANASHIN LADY
OFFICIAL RECEIVER	PARDON
Official Record	PARLIAMENT, MEMBER OF
OFFICIAL TRUSTEE	Parliament, Proceedings in
Official Trustees Act, 1864	Parol acceptance
Official Witness	Paras Marriage and Divorce Act, 1865
Old Waste Grounds	PARSIS
Omission	Part Heard Suit
ONUS OF PROOF	Part Payment
OPIUM	Partial Decree
OPIUM ACT, 1873	PARTIAL
Option of Purchase	PARTIES
Oral Agreement	PARTITION
Oral Evidence.	PARTITION ACT, 1893
Oral Sale	Partition and Possession
Oral Surrender	Part tion by Collector
Order	Partition Decree.
Order Absolute	Partition Deed.
Order in Council.	PARTITION SUIT
Ordinance	Partner
Origin	PARTNERSHIP
Original Court	PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT
ORIGINAL SIDE, HIGH COURT	Partnership Property
Orissa.	Party
Orissa Zamindari	Part Payment
ORISSA TENANCY ACT, 1913	PART PERFORMANCE
Orphan Adoption	Passenger
OSTENSIBLE MEANS OF SUBSISTENCE.	Passing Off Action.

PASTURE LAND

Pasture Rent.

PASTURAGE

Pastoral Service

Patent

Patents and Designs Act, 1911

Paternal Aunt

Patilki Vatan.

Pat Kum Parganas

PATNA HIGH COURTPATNA HIGH COURT RULES

Patni.

Patni Lease

Patni Taluq

Pauper

Pauper Plaintiff

PAUPER SUIT

Pay and Pension

Payment

PAYMENT INTO COURT

Payment Towards Debt.

Pecuniary Sufficiency

PEDIGREEPENAL ASSESSMENT*PENAL CODE, 1860

Penal Provisions.

Penal Statutes

PENALTY

Pension

PENSIONS ACT, 1871.

Performance

Pergana Register

Perils of the Sea

Period

PETIURY

Permanency of Rent.

Permanent Agricultural Tenure

Permanent Hereditary Tenure

Permanent Improvements

Permanent Lease

Permanent Right of Occupancy

Permanent Settlement

PERMANENT TENANCY

Permanently Settled Estate.

Perpetual Injunction.

PERPETUITIES

Persons Incurta.

PERSONAL ACTION

Personal Covenant.

Personal Debt.

Personal Decree

Personal Designata.

Personal Inam

Personal Liability

PESHKUNOSH.

Petition

Petition of Compromise.

PETROLEUM ACT 1899

Pial

Picketing

Pieco-meal Acquisition.

Pieco-meal Trial.

Pilgrina Business.

Pilgrimage.

Piral Chela.

Place of Examination

Place of Suing

PLAINT

Plaintiff

PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (MADRAS) 1903

Plea of Guilty

PLEADERPLEADER'S FEES

Pleaders Act 1840

Pleaders Mukhtars and Revenue Agents Act 1865

PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATION

Plea lers of Lower Provinces Act 1852

PLEADINGS.

Pledge.

Police.

POLICE ACT 1861.

Police Constable.

POLICE DIARIESPOLICE JAGIRS*POLICE OFFICER.

Police Patil.

Police Regulations

Police Report.

Policy of Insurance

Political Agent

POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM COURT OF Political Officer

Political Resident at Aden.

Polygamy

Poolbundi Charges

Poona Cantonment.

Poramboke.

Port Commissioners

POSSESSION

Possession by Fraud

Possessory Right

POSSESSORY SUIT

Possessory Title

Post nuptial Gifts

POST OFFICE ACT, 1898

Posting of a Demand Draft

Postponement.

POUNDAGE.POWER OF ATTORNEY.*PRACTICE.*PRADHAN.*PRAGWAL.Prayers.PreamblePRE-EMPTION.Contract.CustomFormalities.MortgagePossessionPre-mortgagePrice.Right of Pre-emption.Wajib ul-ArzMiscellaneous.PRE-EMPTION DECREEPre-emptor.Preference.Preference ShareholdersPreferential Claim.Preferential Hear.PrejudicePRELIMINARY DECREE.Preliminary InquiryPreliminary Mortgage DecreePreliminary OrderPreliminary PointPremortgagePreparationPrerogatives.PRESCRIPTION.*PRESENTATION.*PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES.*PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT*PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT,*1882.Presidency Small Cause Courts (Amendment)Act, 1895PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT,*1909.Presiding OfficerPressPRESS ACT, 1910.Presumption.Prevailing RatePREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS*ACT, 1890.Previous Acquittal.PREVIOUS CONVICTION.Previous Depositions.Previous Enjoyment.Price.PriestPrimary Court.PrimogeniturePrincipal.PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.Accounts.Authority of AgentFraudulent Representations by AgentLiability of Agent.Liability of PrincipalNotice.MiscellaneousPrincipal and InterestPRINCIPAL AND SURETY.Principal ContractPrinter and PublisherPRINTING PRESS.*PRINTING PRESS AND NEWSPAPERS ACT,*1867.Prior Mortgages.Prior Right.Prior SalePriority.Priority of TitlePrivacy.Private AwardPrivate Common DrainPRIVATE DEFENCE.Private FerryPRIVATE FISHERIES ACT, 1889.*PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW.Private KnowledgePrivate Land.Private PartitionPrivate Pathway.Private ReferencePrivate SalesPrivate Street.Private TribunalPrivilegePrivilege of Counsel.Privilege of Witness.Privacy.Privacy of Contract.Privacy of Contract and Estate.Privacy of EstatePRIVY COUNCIL.*PRIVY COUNCIL, APPEAL TO.*PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.PrizePRIZE COURT.*PROBATE.*PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881..*PROBATE DUTY.

PROBATE PROCEEDINGS.	Proxy
PROCEDURE.	Public Authority.
Proceedings.	Public Body
Process of Court.	PUBLIC CHARITY.
Procession.	Public Conveyance.
PROCLAMATION.	PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENG. OF 1895)
Proclamation of Sale.	Public Document.
Produce Rent	PUBLIC DRAIN.
Profession	Public Ferry
Professional Conduct of Counsel	PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT, 1867.
Professional Etiquette.	Public Good
PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT	PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVER
Profits.	PUBLIC NUISANCE.
PROFITS A PRENDRE.	Public and Private Nuisance
Pro Forma Defendant.	Public Officer
Progressive Rent.	PUBLIC PATHWAY.
PROHIBITORY ORDER.	Public Policy
Projection.	PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.
Promise	PUBLIC RELIGIOUS TRUST.
Promisor	PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY
PROMISSORY NOTE.	PUBLIC SERVANT
Prompt Dower	Public Street
PROOF	Public Temple.
Proof in Common Form	PUBLIC TRUST.
Proof of Document	PUBLIC WAY.
Proof of Title.	Public Works Department.
Propagation of Disease	Publication.
Proper Court	Publicity
Property.	Public Mortgage
Property title.	Pujari
Proprietary Title.	Punishment.
Proprietor	PUNITIVE POLICE.
PROSECUTION.	Punjab
Prosecution Witnesses	Punjab Act
Prosecutor	Punjab Alienation of Land Act, 1900
Prospective Legislation	Punjab Colonisation of Government Land
Prosecutor	PUNJAB COURTS ACT, 1914.
Prostitute's Property.	PUNJAB COURT OF WARDS ACT, 1905
Prostitution.	PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT, 1887.
Protection	Punjab Laws Act, 1872
Protection of Judicial Officers	PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT, 1911
PROTECTION ORDER.	PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT, 1913.
Prothonotary	Punjab Ruling Chiefs
Protraction of Litigation.	Purchase
Provident Fund Act, 1897, as Amended by Act IV of 1903	Purchase Money
PROVIDENT INSURANCE.	Purchase of Arms
Provident Insurance Societies Act, 1912.	Purchaser
Provident Insurance Society	Purchaser for Value.
PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, 1907.	Purchaser in Execution.
PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, 1920.	Purchaser, Pendente Lite.
PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT. 1887.	Purdanashin
Provisional Appointment.	Putative Father
Proviso	PUTNI.

PUTNIDAR.
 PUTNI LEASE.
 PUTNI REGULATION, 1819.
 PUTNI RENT.
 PUTNI SALE.
 PUTNI TALUK.
 Putni Taluq Regulation, 1819
 PUTNI TENURE.
 Putnidar
 Putnidars and Darpatnidars.
 PUTRA POUTRADIK.

Qabulat.
 Qadi
 Quality Mark Quarries.
 Question of Fact.
 Question of Law
 Questions of Law and Fact.
 Quinquennial Register

RAFA TANKIDARS.
 Railway RAILWAY COMPANY.
 RAILWAY PASSENGER.
 Railway Promises
 RAILWAY RECEIPT.
 Railway Rule
 RAILWAY ACT, 1890.
 RAIYAT.
 RAJINAMA AND KABULIYAT.
 Rajput Family.
 Rape
 Rash or Negligent Act
 Rate Circular
 RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION.
 Rateable Value
 RATES AND TAXES.
 Ratification.
 Rating of Property.
 Rayati Lease
 Reasonable Notice
 Re Assessment of Premises RECEIPT RECEIVER.
 Receiving Stolen Property
 Reciprocal Promises
 Revision of Contract
 Recital.
 Recitals in Deeds.
 Recitals.

Recognition Reconstruction
 Reconversion
 Re Conveyance RECORD.
 Recorded Tenant
 RECORD OF RIGHTS
 Recording Officer
 RECOUPMENT.
 Recruitment RECTIFICATION.
Recurring Charge.
 REDEMPTION.
 Redemption Decree
 REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB)
 ACT, 1913
 Reduction of Rent
 Re entry REFERENCE
 Reference by Collector of Rangoon
 Reference to Arbitration
 Reference to Full Bench
 Reference to High Court.
 REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT, 1897.
 Refund.
 REFUND OF COURT FEE
 Refund of Purchase-Money
 Refusal by Judge.
 Refusal to Grant Time.
 Register of Births
 REGISTER OF DEATHS.
 Register, Rectification of Registered and Unregistered Documents
 Registered Bond.
 Registered Company
 Registered Lease
 REGISTRATION.
 REGISTRATION ACT, 1877.
 REGISTRATION ACT, 1908.
 REGISTRATION LAW, FRAUD ON REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS.
 Registration Officer
 Registration of Name
 Registry of Vessels.
 Re Grant of Land.
 REGULATIONS
 Re Hearing
 Re Imbursement.
 Re-Instatement Relationship.
 RELEASE.
 Relevancy.
 Relief
 Peligious Bequest.

RELIGIOUS CEREMONY	Respondent
RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT	RESTITUTION
RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT, 1863	RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS
RELIGIOUS FOUNDATION	Restoration of Appeal.
Religious Institutions	RESTORATION OF SUIT
Religious Office	Restraint of Proceedings
Religious Poem	Restraint of Trade.
Religious Procession	Restraint on Alienation
RELIGIOUS TRUST	Restraint upon Drunken and Disorderly Person
Relinquishment	RESTRICTION OF HABITUAL OFFENDERS
Relevancy of Evidence	(PUNJAB) ACT, 1918
Remainderman	RESULTING TRUST
REMAND	RESUMPTION
Remarriage	Retainer
Remembrance of Legal Affairs	Retraction of Statement by Witness
Remoteness	RE-TRIAL
Removal Notice of	Reunion
Removal of Caste Disabilities Act, 1850	Revenue
Remuneration.	Revenue Commissioner
Renewal	Revenue Court
Renou's Map of Inland Navigation	Revenue Free Land
RENT	REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1876
Rent Free Grant	Revenue Officer
RENT FREE HOLDING	Revenue Paying Estate
Rent Free Tank	Revenue Records
Rent in kind	Revenue Recovery Act (Madras), 1864
Rent Reserved	Revenue Register
Rent Poll.	REVENUE SALE.
Rent Settlement Act 1879	REVENUE SALE LAW ACT 1859
RENT SUIT	REVERSAL OF JUDGMENT
Renunciation	Reversal of Sale
Repeal	Reversionary Heir
Repealing and Amending Act, 1914	REVERSIONARY INTEREST
REPRESENTATION	Reversionary Trust
Representative	Reversioner
Representative in Interest	REVIEW
Representative Suit	REVISION
Re Publication	REVISIONAL AND APPELLATE JURISDICTIONS
Repudiation of Title.	Revision Survey
Repudiation of Will.	Reversional Jurisdiction
Re Purchase	REVIVAL
Reputation.	Revocation.
Repute	Revolutionary Activity
Requirements	Rhander als
Re Sale.	Rice Merchants Association Rules
RESCUE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY	Right of Appeal.
RESERVED FOREST	Right of Audence
Reserved Rent	Right of Cross Examination
Rescance	Right of Occupancy
Resident at Aden	Right of Private Defence
Residuary Clause	RIGHT OF RE-ENTRY
RESIDUARY LEGATEE.	RIGHT OF SUIT
Res stance	Right of Trial by Jury
RES JUDICATA.

- Right of Way.
 Right of Arrest.
 Right to Begin.
 Right to Partition.
 Right to Sue.
 Right to Worship.
 "Ring" Game.
RIOTING.
RIPARIAN RIGHTS.
RISK NOTE.
 Rites and Ceremonies.
 Rival Candidate.
 Rival Decree-Holders.
 River.
RIVER BED.
 Riwaaj-I-Am.
 Roads.
 Road and Public Works Cess Act.
 Road Cess
ROAD-CESS RETURN.
ROAD-CESS ACT (BENGAL), 1880.
 Royal Proclamation of August 1914.
 Royalty.
 Royalty or Seigniorage Fees.
 Rules.
 Rules and Orders of Court.
 Rules of Evidence.
 Ruling Chief.
RULING OF COURT.
 Ryot.
 Ryoti Land.
 Ryoti Rent.
 Ryotwari Land Owner.
 Ryotwari Lands.
 Ryot Tenure.

 Sacrifice of Goat.
 Sadalwar and Matbiri Kasvu.
 Salary.
SALE.
 Sale Absolute.
 Sale by Government
SALE CERTIFICATE.
SALE DEED.
SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT.
SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.
SALE OF GOODS.
SALE OF GOODS ACT (56 & 57 VI C.C. 71).
SALE OF LAND.
 Sale of Mortgaged Property.
 Sale or Agreement to Sell.
 Sale or Exchange.
 Sale Price.
 Sale Proceeds.
SALE-PROCLAMATION.
 Sale with Option of Re-Purchase.
 Saltpetre.
 Salt Works.
 Salvage.
 Sambalpur District.
 Same Transaction
SANAD.
 Sanction
SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
 Sanction of Court.
 Sanction of Government.
 Sanction to Sell.
 Sanction to Sue.
 Sanitary Cess.
 Santal Civil Rules.
 Santal Parganas.
SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULA-TION, 1872.
SANTAN.
 Sanyasis.
 Sapindas.
SARANJAM.
 Saranjam Rules.
SARANJAMDAR.
 Saranjami.
SARBARAKARS.
SARBARAKARI TENURE.
 Sardeshmukhi Haq.
 Sardrakhti.
 Sarva Wanta Land.
 Sati.
 Satisfaction.
 Satta.
 Satyagraha Movement.
 Sayads.
 Scandalous Matter.
SCHEDULED DISTRICTS ACT, 1874
 Scheme.
 Scholarship.
SCHOOLMASTER.
 Science
 Scope of Agency.
 Screening Officers.
 Scriba.
SEA CUSTOMS ACT, 1878.
 Seaman
SEARCH.
SEARCH FOR ARMS.
 Search for Explosives.
SEARCH WARRANT.

SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT.

Seaworthiness

Sebat 4

SECOND APPEAL

Second Marriage

Second Mortgage

Second Mortgagee.

Second Probate.

Second Sale

Second Sanction.

Second Trial

Secondary Evidence

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

Secret Society

Securities Act, 1886

Security

Security Bond.

SECURITY FOR COSTSSECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR*SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE*SEDITION

Seditious Label.

Sovereignty Fees or Royalty

Seizure in Custom House

Self Acquired Property

Self Acquisition.

Seller

Senate and Syndicate.

SENTENCE.

Separate Convictions.

Separate Offences

Separate Sentences.

Separate Trial

Separation.

Servants' Quarters

SERVICE INAM.

Service of Notice.

Service of Suit

Service of Summons

Service Tenure

Servient Estate.

Sessions Judge

SESSIONS TRIAL

Set Back

Set Forward

SET OFF

Settling Akidh.

SETTLEMENT.SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN ON TRUSTS

Settlement Court

Settlement Officer

Settlement of Accounts

Settlement of Rent

Settlement Reports.

SETTLEMENT OF REVENUE.

Settlement Proceedings

Sewer Pipe

Shafa.

Shaffel Mahomedans

Shafi I khalit

Shah Jey Hands

Share

Share Capital.

Share Certificates

Shareholder

Share of Estate

SHARESSHAWLS MEANING OF*SHEBAIT

Shebait's Rights

Shek Ansaries Tribe of.

Shenfi's Right of Pundage

Shetsanadi Lands

Shias

Ship

Ship-Owner

Shipping

Shipping Documents

Shipping Orders

Shivarpana.

Short Delivery

Shrotnemdar

Shudras

Sioca Rupees

Signature

Siklum

SIMANADARS

Similarity of Names

Simple Interest

Simple Mortgage

Simultaneous Adoption

Single Judge

SIR LAND

Sister

Sister's Son

Slander

Slang Terms

Slaughtering Fees

Slavery Bond

Small Cause Case

SMALL CAUSE COURT

Small Cause Court Decree

SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

Society

Sohag Grant

Soldier

Solehnama

SOLICITOR	Stay of Proceedings
SOLICITOR & LIEN FOR COSTS	STAY OF SUIT
Solvent Company	Steamship Company
Son	Step Brother
SONTHAL PARGANAS	STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION
Sonthal Parganas Act 1885	Step in the Proceedings
Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulations 1893	Step Mother
SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT	Step-Sister & Son.
REGULATION, 1872	Still Head Duty
Sovereign Prince	Stipend
Sovereign Rights	STOCK EXCHANGE
SPECIAL APPEAL	Stolen Property
Special Bench.	STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT
Special Citation.	Straits Settlements Bankruptcy Ordinance.
SPECIAL CONSTABLES	Straits Settlements Ordinance 1890
SPECIAL COURT	Straits Settlements Ordinance 1907
Special Damage	Stranger
Special Judge.	Street
Special Leave to Appeal	STRIDHAN
Special Procedure	Structure (Temporary)
Special Tribunal.	Student
Specific Area.	Sub Divisional Magistrate
SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY	Sub-Lease
SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE	Submission
SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877	Sub Mortgage
Speculative Purchaser.	Subsequently Acquired Property
Spes Successionis	Sub-Tenancy
Spiritual Welfare	Sub-Tenant
Spiritous and Fermented Liquors	Subordinate Court
Spy or Detective	Subordinate Judge
Stradh	Subordinate Officers
Stables	SUBROGATION
STAKEHOLDER	Subsequent Mortgage
Stamp.	Subsequent Prosecution After Acquittal
STAMP ACT 1889	Sub-Sol Rights
STAMP DUTY	Substantial Loss.
STANDARD OF PROOF	Substantial Question of Law
Standard Rent	SUBSTITUTED SERVICE
Standing Committee	SUBSTITUTION
Stani	SUCCESSION
Staple Food, Price of	SUCCESSION ACT 1865
Stare Decisis	SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE.
Statement	SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1889
Statement in Writing by Accused	Succession (Property Protection Act 1841)
Statement on Information and Belief	Succession Duty
Status of Tenant	Successive Adoptions.
Statute Law in England.	Successor
STATUTES	Sufler Dewany A lawiat.
STATUTE, CONSTRUCTION OF	Sufler Dewany Adawlat.
Statutory Obligation	Suflra
Statutory Resumption	Suflrent Cause.
Statutory Right	Suflre
STAY OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS	SUIT
STAY OF EXECUTION	SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENT

Ent for Declarat on of Right

SUIT FOR LAND

SUIT FOR RENT

SUIT FOR PROFIT

Suit in Forma Pauperis

SUIT TO SET ASIDE A DECREE

Suits Valuation Act, 1837

Summary Case

Summary Dismissal.

Summary Evict on.

Summary Jurisdiction

Summary Procedure

Summary Proceedings

Summary Relief.

Summary Settlement.

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOMBAY ACT 1863)

SUMMARY TRIAL

Summons

Summons Case

SUMMONS SERVICE OF

SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS

SUNDARBANS

Sunn s

Superfluous Matter

Superintendence

Superintendent.

Superstitious Belief

Supplementary Affidavit

Support

Supreme Court

Surat District

SURETY

SURETY BOND

SURETY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

Survey Settlement

Surface Water

Surplus Collect ions

Surplus Sale Proceeds

Surprise

SURRENDER

Surrender or Abandonment

Survey Act

Survey Map

Survivor Settlement.

Surviving Member of Committee

Survivorship

Suspense Account

Suspension

Suspension of Rent.

Suspended Police Officer

Synj ion

SYMBOLICAL POSSESSION

Syndicate and Senate.

Tacking of Possession.

Tegavi Advance

Telabi Brahmoitar

Talab I Lead

Talab I Mawaeibat

Talak.

Talakhnama

TALUKDAR

Talaqa

TALUQDARI PROPERTY

Talukdari Settlement Officer

Talukdar Village

Tank.

TANKHAS

TARWAD

Tarbatnamah

Tax

Taxat on of Costs

Taxing Judge

Taxing Officer

TEA

Tea Garden

TEISHKHANA PAPER

Tej Mandi Transactions

Telegram from Counsel.

Temple

Temple Committee.

Temple Property

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

TENANCY

TENANCY AT WILL.

Tenancy by Sufferance.

Tenancy in Common

TENANT

TENANT IN COMMON

Tender

Tenements

TENURE

Tenure-Holders.

Termination of Service

Territorial Jurisdiction.

Testamentary and Intestate Jurisdiction.

Testamentary Capacity

Testator

THAK MAPS

THAK SUPVEY

Theatres

THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE.

THEFT

Thekadar

Third Judge

THIRD PARTY

THIRD PARTY NOTICE.

Threatening Letter to Court.

THUMB IMPRESSION.

Ticca Tenant

Tidal River.

Timber.

Time.

Time-Barred Debt.

TITLE.

Title Deeds.

Title of Donor.

Title Paramount.

Toda Giza Allowance.

TORT.

Tort.

Town Nuisances.

Trade.

Trade License.

TRADE-MARK.TRADE NAME.

Trade usage.

Trading Licenses

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY.

Trading with the Enemy Proclamation No 2.

Trafficking in Offices

TRANSFER.

Transfer Deed.

TRANSFER OF APPEAL.TRANSFER OF HOLDING.³

Transfer of Property.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882.

Transfer of Property Amendment Act, 1885.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (VALIDATING) ACT, 1917.

Transfer of Shares.

TRANSFER OF SUIT.

Transferability.

Transferable Right.

Transferee.

Transit.

Transmission by Post.

Transport

Traveling Without Ticket.

Treasury Officer.

Treaty.

TREES.TREES-PATTA.*TRESPASS.*TRESPASSER.*TRIAL.*TRIAL BY JURY.

Tribal Community, Punjab.

Tribunal of Appeal.

TRUST.

Trust-Deed.

TRUST-ENDOWMENT.TRUST PROPERTY.*TRUSTEE.*TRUSTEES AND MORTGAGEES [POWERS ACT, 1866.

Trustee De Facto.

Trustee in Bankruptcy.

TRUSTED OF TEMPLE.

Trustees of Caste Funds.

TRUST ACT, 1882.

Turn of Worship.

Ubayakar

ULTRA VIRES.

Unalienated Village.

Unanimous Verdict.

Unauthorised Act

Uncertain Event.

Uncertain Possession.

Uncertainty.

Uncertified Payment.

Unchastity.

Unconscionable Bargain

Undefended Suit

Under Broker.

Under Estimation of Value of Property.

Under Ground Rights.

Under Proprietor.

UNDER-RAIYATSUNDER-RAYATI HOLDING.

Under Tenant

UNDER-TENURE

Undertaking.

Under Valuation of Suit.

UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT.

Undisclosed Principal.

Undivided Family.

Undivided Interest.

Undue Advantage

UNDUE INFLUENCE.

Unhypothecated Property.

UNENFRANCHISED PERSONAL INAM OF LANDS.

United Provinces and Oudh Acts. ,

UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT, 1899.UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT, 1912.*UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT, 1910.*UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT, 1901.

United Provinces Municipal Accounts Code.

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT, 1900.

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT,
1916

UNITED PROVINCES PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION ACT, 1912

United Provinces Public Gambling Act, 1917

United Provinces Rent Act, 1881

United Provinces Tenancy Act 1901

Utility of Object.

UNIVERSITIES ACT, 1904

UNIVERSITY LECTURESHIP

University of Madras

University Regulations

Unlawful Assembly

Unlawful Recruitment

Unliquidated Damages

Unnecessary Matter

UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Unreasonable Delay

Unrecorded Confessions

Unregistered Document

UNSETTLED PALAYAM

Usage

Usage of the Profession

User

Using False Trade Mark

USING FORGED DOCUMENT

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE.

Usurious Interest

Usurious Loans Act 1918.

Usury

UTTARAYAN

Vacation

VAKALATNAMA

VAKIL.

Valatdara Patta

Validity of Wakf

Valuable Consideration

VALUABLE SECURITY

VALUATION OF APPEAL.

Valuation of Land.

VALUATION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

VALUATION OF SUIT

Value of Property

Value-Payable Post.

VARTHAMANAM (OR LETTER)

VATAN

Vatandar

VATANDAR BARBERS

VATANDAR JOSHI

Veh cle

Vendes

Vendor

VENDOR AND PURCHASER

VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR

Ven for a Lion

Vendor's Mark

Veneral Disease

Venue

Verbal Application

Verbal Notice

VERDICT OF JURY

Verification.

Vernacular Government Gazette

Vested Interest

Vested Right

Vesting Order

Vexatious Charge

View of Precious.

VILLAGE.

VILLAGE CHOUKIDARI ACT (BENGAL), 1870

Village Community

Village Management

Village Police Act.

VILLAGE ROAD

Vinchar Court.

Vin Major

Violable Contract

Voluntary Liquidation

Voluntarily Obstructing Public Servants in the Discharge of Public Functions

Voluntariness

VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

Voters

VRITTI

Vyavahara Mayukha

Vyavaharika

WADHWAN CIVIL STATION

WAGERING

WAGERING CONTRACT

Waging War

WAIVER

WAJIB UL-ARZ

WAKF

WAKF VALIDATING ACT, 1913.

Wakf

WAKF-NAMA

War

Warning of Fire.

WARRANT

Warrant Case

WARRENT OF ARREST

WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT.

Warrant of Attorney

Warrant Officer

Warranty.	Withdrawal of Pardon.
WASTE.	WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION.
Waste Lands.	Withdrawal of Rights.
WASTE LANDS ACT, 1863.	WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT.
Watan.	WITNESS.
Watandar	Women.
Water.	Words and Phrases.
Water-Cess.	Work Calculated to Deprave Morals.
Water Connection.	Workman
Water Duties	WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT, 1859.
Water Course.	Workings
WHERRYLOW.	Wrist-Watch Band.
Water-Passage.	Writ.
WATER RATE.	WRITTEN STATEMENT.
WATER RIGHTS.	Wrongful Acts.
WAY.	Wrongful Attachment.
Weekly Sitting List.	WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT.
Weights and Measures.	WRONGFUL DISMISSAL.
Well.	Wrongful Possession.
Whipping	Wrongful Restraint.
WHIPPING ACT, 1909.	Wrongful seizure.
Widow
Widow's Estate.
Wife.
WILL.	Yajman.
Construction.	Yati
Debattar.
Demonstrative Legacy.
Execution.	Zaminder.
Executor.	Zamindar and Inamdar.
Probate	Zamindar or Mittadar.
Proof.	Zamindari.
Revocation.	Zamindari Lands.
Validity.	Zamindari Rights.
WILL AND CODICIL.	ZAMINDARI SALE.
WINDING UP.	Zamindars and Rajas.
WINDING UP PETITION.	Zerai
Wire Fence	Zins
Withdrawal of Case	ZURPESHGI LEASE.

A DIGEST

OF

THE HIGH COURT REPORTS,

AND OF

THE PRIVY COUNCIL REPORTS OF APPEALS FROM INDIA, 1910-1921.

I

IDENTITY.

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 159
evidence of—

See CONSPIRACY. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 754 of Transaction.

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1153

proof of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1128

IDOL.

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I. L. R. 33 All. 253

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

1. ——— Suit against an idol—Description of defendant—Amendment of plaint—Limitation—Practice. Inasmuch as an idol is a juristic person capable of holding property, a suit respecting property in which an idol is interested is properly brought or defended in the name of the idol, although ex necessitate rei the proceedings in the suit must be carried on by some person who represents the idol, usually the manager of the temple in which the idol is installed. Thakur Raghubathji Maharaj v. Shah Lal Chand, I. L. R. 19 All. 330, overruled. Jodhi Rai v. Basdeo Prasad (1911) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 735 ————— Property dedicated to an idol—Decree against manager—Execution alone—Purchase by defendant—Suit by succeeding manager to recover possession—Defendant's possession adverse to the idol. The plaintiff, a manager of a temple, brought a suit in the year 1908 to recover possession of certain endowed property in the possession of the defendant. The defence was that the property was purchased at a Court sale in 1870 in execution of a decree against the then manager and that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol. Held, dismissing the suit, that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol. Dattagiri v. Dattatraya, I. L. R. 27 Bom. 363, referred to. Pandurang Balaji v. Dnyanu (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 135

IDDUT.

————— reconversion—during period of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 409

IGNORANCE OF LAW.

————— In extenuation of punishment—

See PENAL CODE, s. 494
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 440

IJARA.

————— beneficial to Estate—

See HINDU LAW ALIENATION
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 793

IJARADAR.

————— Contract, written, of tenant with lessor alone—Co-sharer of lessor—Registration of name, effect of—Rent suit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 50—Land Registration Act (Beng. VII of 1876), ss. 78, 81—An ijaradar is entitled to maintain a suit for the entire rent upon a written contract, which had been executed by the tenant in favour of his lessor alone, and without reference to the latter's co-sharer whose name had previously been registered in respect of an eight anna share. Surya Kanta Ghatak v. Ananda Mohan Chatterjee, 24 Ind. cases 866, followed. Abdul Aziz v. Kanithu Maffuk, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 512, and Jesur Chandra Bera v. Kali Charan Santra, 27 C. L. J. 474, distinguished. Prabodh Chandra Mitter v. Harish Chandra Naskar (1921) . . . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1078

IJMALI SHARE.

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 897

ILLEGAL CESS.

See ABWAB . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 806
————— Abwab—Suit for arrears of rent—Consideration for grant of pawns—Stipulation in lababat to pay sum as mamuli for the idol Iswar Thakur—Recovery of—Rents Act (Ben. X of 1859), s. 10—Regulation VIII of 1793, ss. 62, 64—Regulation V of 1812, s. 3. In a suit to recover Rs. 3,330-4-0 as arrears of pains rent the defendants pleaded that Rs. 15 had been claimed in excess and that this sum was in the nature of an obrah and not recoverable. The kabul pat on which this sum was based provided that an annual rent of Rs. 3,310-4-0 should be paid by 1st monthly instalments. In a subsequent clause it stipulated that in the month of Bhadra every year a further sum of Rs. 15 should be paid as mamul for the Isa Thakur by the lessor a house and then went on to state that if the lessee failed to pay the said sum of Rs. 15 amicably the lessor should deduct the same from the money remitted by the lessee as rent or sue for the amount along with or separately from the arrears of rent, and the lessee would not take objection thereto. Held that the sum of Rs. 15 was not intended by the parties to be part of the consideration for the use and occupation of the land or as part of the rent. It did not form part of the rent nor was it treated as part of the rent and was not recoverable. Held also, that s. 3 of Regulation V of 1819 referred only to the amount which was by the contract fixed as the rent payable to the landlord. Per SANDERSON C J. The rule which has been followed in this Court is that each case must depend upon the proper construction of the contract before the Court and if upon a fair interpretation of the contract it can be seen that a particular sum is specified in the contract or agreed to be paid as the lawful consideration for the use and occupation of the land or if it is really part of the rent although not described as such, the landlord can recover it. Per CHATTERJEE J. It is only the rent and not any other sum though not indefinite and though agreed upon to be paid in the written engagement which can be recovered. In determining whether an item does or does not form part of the rent the fact that it has been separately stated to be paid separately from the rent and also the fact that it is not included in the instalments of rent have an important bearing on the question. Ex adm Lal Gupta v. Meharaj Das 21 C W N 108 explained BIJAY PRAGHA TRIPATHY v. KRISHNA BEHARI BISWAS (1917) I L R 45 Calc 259

ILLEGAL CESS—contd

ILLEGAL COMPOSITION

— of non compoundable offence—

See UNDER INFLUENCE.

I L R 4th Calc 286

ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION

Contract—apprehension of prosecution for non compoundable offence Where the consideration for an agreement is a promise not to prosecute for an offence which is not compoundable the agreement is not enforceable by law but this limitation of freedom of contract should only be enforced where it is quite clear that the consideration for the agreement was such an illegal promise. When an agreement has been come to on a mere threat to prosecute or on an apprehension that prosecution would take place, such threat or apprehension is not sufficient to vitiate the agreement. The distinction between the motive for coming to an agreement and the actual consideration for the agreement must be carefully kept in view and the care must be particularly exercised in a case where there is a civil liability already existing which is discharged or remitted by the agreement. SCINDIA DAS v. MANGAL CHAND 2 Pat. L. J. 630

ILLEGAL OR IMMORAL DEBTS

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 40 Calc 288

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

ILLEGALITY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

as. 233-236 239 I L R 32 All 219

as. 234-235-237 I L R 32 All 57

ILLEGITIMATE CHILDREN

See HINDU LAW

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

— Maintenance of—

See CUSTOM

I L R 2 Lah 243

— right of—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 38 Mad 1144

ILLEGITIMATE SON

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 40 Bom 369

I L R 43 Calc 643

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 2 Lah 207

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 34 Mad 277

— gift to—

See HINDU LAW

I L R 39 Mad 1029

— of a Sudra—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Mad. 136

I L R 33 Mad. 386

Held that under the Bengal School of Law an illegitimate son of a Sudra is entitled to a share of the inheritance provided his mother was in continuous and exclusive keeping of his father. PAJANI NATI DAS AND OTHERS v. NITAI CHANDRA DE AND ANOTHER 25 C W N 433.

ILLICIT SALE

See OBTAIN

I L R 37 Calc 581

ILLNESS

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

14 C W N 573

ILLUSORY WAKEF—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Calc 866

ILLUSTRATIONS TO STATUTES

See EVIDENCE

I L R 43 I A 258

IMAGE.

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

— destruction of—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R. 41 Calc 67

IMITATION

See TRADE MARK I L R 35 Bom 425

IMMORAL CUSTOM.

— of caste—

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE.

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 538

IMMORAL OR ILLEGAL DEBT.

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 238

See HINDU LAW—DEBT.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 862

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

IMMORAL PROPOSAL.

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 358

IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT, APPLICATION OF.

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 517

18 C. W. N. 1146

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, SCH. I, ARTS.
142 AND 144 . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 289

See SALE . . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

See SALE OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

— english mortgage of—

See ADMINISTRATION.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 653

— restoration of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898,
s. 522 . . . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1050

— restoration of, to judgment debtor—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, SCH. I, ARTS.
185, 181 . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 339

— sale of—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 110

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXI, r. 83.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 775

— suit for—

See MESSE PROFITS.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 220

Sale of, in Court-auction—Fraud, sale vitiated by— Fendee benamidar of purchaser—Suit to cancel sale—Who can sue—Contract Act, ss. 231 and 232. Where a sale of property is vitiated by fraud on the part of the vendor, the person who bought the property at Court-auction though only a benamidar can maintain an action to cancel the sale. Pether Perumal Chetty v. Mandyarararao, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 551, distinguished. A benami transaction does not vest any title to immovable property, the subject of such transaction, in the benamidar, and therefore such a person cannot maintain a suit which is based on title, namely a suit in ejectment. But where an agent of an undisclosed principal enters into a contract for the purchase of land and the land is conveyed to him in pursuance of the contract he acquires rights and liabilities under the contract (see ss. 231 and 232, Contract Act, IX of 1872) and can sue in respect thereof. DATTA

IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY—contdVENKATA SUBBANARAYANA JAGAPATHIRAJU v.
GOLUGURI BAPIRAJU (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 143

Order regarding possession of, following acquittal in case under ss. 447 and 426 of the Penal Code, propriety of. The accused were tried for offences under ss. 447 and 426, Indian Penal Code, for having cut and removed some bamboos from a bamboo clump alleged by the complainant to be his. The trying Magistrate acquitted the accused but directed that the complainant was to retain possession of the bamboo clump until ousted by the Civil Court. The High Court set aside the order so far as it contained the direction about the bamboo clump. RADHA KANTA GUIN v. KABIR GUIN (1916)

20 C. W. N. 1302

IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1892, ss.
13, 462 . . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 53

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I. L. R. 34 All. 65

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1179

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 396

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I. L. R. 31 All. 79

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 1

I. L. R. 43 All. 228

See KUTUMBA, STATE OF

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 711

See OLD ESTATES ACT (I OF 1909), ss.
2, 3, 8, 10, 22

I. L. R. 35 All. 391

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE

I. L. R. 33 Calc. 182

Impartible property—Transfer, whether subject to right of maintenance. A transfer of impartible property is not subject to rights of maintenance claimed by younger members of the family of the transferor unless a family custom to that effect is established. Tilakur Debendra Nath Shah Deo v. Deendrasa Singh (1915) . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 643

Alienation beyond alienor's life time, validity of—Custom of inalienability, effect of—Regulation XXI of 1592. In the absence of proof of a special custom of inalienability, the zamindar of an impartible zamini has power to alienate the zamini for a legitimate family or other necessary purpose beyond his life time. The estate held by him is not analogous to that of an estate as it originally stood upon the Statute de Donis [Statute of Westminster II (1285) 13 Edw. 1, c. 1]. The law relating to estates held in impartible zamindari remains the same. Where the subject of a court sale was stated to be "the right, title and interest" of the zamindar there is no presumption that what was intended to be sold was merely the life interest of the zamindar in the zamini. AVALAPPA NAIKKA v. MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR (1913) . . . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 325

Coparcenary in, if exists. An impartible zamindari is the creature of custom, and it is of its essence that it be coparcenary

IMPARTIBLE ESTATE—contd

in it does not assist RAJKUMAR BABU BISHEUN PRASAD NARAYAN SINGH v MAHARANI JANAKI KORN 24 C W N 837

IMPERFECT GIFT—

*Shares in limited Company—transferable by entry in the books of the Company—Transfer deed executed by donor and made over to donee—Transfer not registered in the books of the Company during donor's lifetime. A executed a voluntary document called a transfer deed purporting to transfer five shares of which he was the registered holder in the Bengal Timber Trading Company Limited to his wife and gave possession thereof to her with the intention that from that time she was to be the owner of the shares. These shares were transferable only by entry in the books of the Company but no such transfer was ever made in the lifetime of A. A lived for about two years after the execution of the deed during which period the dividends on the shares were received by A and sometimes made over by him to his wife and sometimes retained by him with her permission or implied consent. Held that the gift having been intended to take effect by way of transfer the Court will not hold the intended transfer to operate as a declaration of trust. Held further that the disposition of the shares failed as being an imperfect voluntary gift. Miley v Lord 4 DeG F & J 764 and Richards v Delbrige L R 15 Eq 11 followed. AMARENDRA KRISHNA DUTT v MONIMONARY DEBI (1911) I L R 48 Calc 886*

IMPERFECT PARTITION

See PARTITION

I L R 46 Calc 236
I L R 47 Calc 354

See PRIESTHOOD

I L R 42 All 477

IMPORT

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES

I L R 39 Calc 1053

See COCAINE

I L R 41 Calc 537

IMPOSSIBLE CONDITION

See WILL

I L R 48 Calc 1100

IMPOSSIBILITY OF PERFORMANCE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 56
60 I L R 40 Bom 529

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 45 Calc 28

IMPOTENCY

See DIVORCE

I L R 48 Calc 283

IMPRISONMENTS

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 110
AND 123 I L R 42 All 583

without first ordering attachment—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1908) O XIII R 1 (r) AND O
XXIX, R. 3 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 907

IMPROVEMENTS

See DISTRICT LAND

I L R 41 Calc 104, 164

IMPROVEMENTS—contd

See COURT SALE I L R 36 Mad 194

See HINDU WIDOW

I L R 40 Calc 555

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 38 Mad 710

See MADRAS ESTATES LANDS ACT (MAD I
OF 1908) ss 3 (7) 6

I L R 37 Mad 1

See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS
ACT 1900—

ss 3 AND 5 I L R 38 Mad. 954

ss 5 6, 9 TO 18

I L R 36 Mad 410

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 43 Bom 69

See PARTITION

15 C W N 375

— compensation for—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 41 Calc 852

IMPROVEMENT ACT, BOMBAY (BOM IV OF 1898)

See BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT ACT

IMPROVEMENT TRUSTEES

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPALITY ACT,
1888 s 47 301

I L R 45 I A 233

IMPUTATION OF CRIMINAL OFFENCE

See LIBEL

I L R 37 Calc 760

INADEQUACY OF PRICE

See SALE FOR AREARARS OF REVENUE

I L R 42 Calc 897

INADVERTENCE

See REFUND OF COURT FEE

I L R 40 Calc 365

INALIENABILITY

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877),
SCH. II, ART 91

I L R 38 Mad 321

INAM

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT 1879—
ss. 82 216 AND 17

I L R 44 Bom 586

I L R 45 Bom 1280

s 202

I L R 45 Bom 894

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT,
1876 s 12 I L R 45 Bom 483

See CHARITABLE INAMS

I L R 43 Mad 939

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882 s 424,
I L R 35 Bom 382

See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD I OF 1908)—
ss 3 (2) (3) I L R 40 Mad 389

ss 3 (2) AND 8 I L R 40 Mad 664

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOMBAY ACT III OF 1874 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT V OF 1886),

s 2. I L R 43 Bom 323

INAM—contd

- s 15 . . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 237
 See MADRAS REGULATION (XXV of 1802),
 s. 4 . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 620
 See PERSONAL INAM
 See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI of 1908), s 17 . . . I. L. R. 41 Egm. 510
 See SANAD . . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 639
 See SARANJAM . . . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 329
 See SARANJANDAR
 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 694
 See SERVICE INAM—

— distinction between resumption and enfranchisement of—

- See CHARITABLE INAMS
 I. L. R. 40 Mad. 939
 — entry in Register—

- See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT
 24 C. W. N. 249

— exemption for Land Revenue in return for services as Patel—

- See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, s
 202 . . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 894

— duties of Inam authorities—

- See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I. L. R. 33 Mad. 155

— grant of—

- See CIVIL COURTS I. L. R. 39 Mad. 21
 See LAND REVENUE IN MADRAS
 L. R. 46 I. A. 123

— grant of, previous to British Rule—

- See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD I OF 1908),
 s. 3 (3) (d) . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1012

— right of Government to resume—

- See MADRAS REGULATION, XXV of 1802,
 s 3 . . . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 694

— whether land held on Political Tenure

- See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1878
 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 464

— service—

- See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VIL-LAGE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1894), ss
 5, AND 10, CL. (2)
 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 330

— settlement—

- See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 155

— Grant by a Naoab in 1798 for building mosque etc.—Public Trust—Confirmation of inam by British Government, subject to performance of duties—Resumption of inam —Levy of full assessment—Ryotwari patta issued to grantees—Title of grantees—Lords, whether freed from trust and made private property of trustees—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1852), s 33—Principle of s 33—Applicability of, to public trusts —Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908), s 92—Hereditary trustee, removal of—Misconduct of predecessor, whether a disability for trusteeship of descendant. An inam, granted by the Nawab of the Carnatic in 1798 for the building and upkeep of a mosque, was confirmed by the British Government in 1861 subject to the performance of the duties by the grantees, and, on account of non performance of duties and misappropriation of the income by the grantees, was resumed by the Government, full assessment being levied on the lands and a ryotwari patta issued to the grantees in 1893. On a suit being instituted for removal of the defendants who were descendants of the grantees from trusteeship and for a scheme of management under s 92, Civil Procedure Code, the latter pleaded that there was no public trust and that the lands had become the private property of the grantees by the resumption and re-grant to them in 1893. Held (in the Letters Patent Appeal), that the inam was a grant of the land in trust for a mosque, and did not cease to be such by its being made resumable by Government for non performance of duties by the trustees, that the resumption of the inam by levy of full assessment on the lands and issue of ryot-wari patta to the trustees in 1893, did not free the lands from the trust and make them the private property of the trustees, and that even if the lands were resumed and re-granted to the trustees in their individual capacity on full assessment, they were bound to hold the lands so granted for the benefit of the trust, under the principle contained in s 88 of the Indian Trusts Act. Held, in the Appeal (Per WALLIS, C J), that the inam comprised both the lands and the assessment due thereon, that when Government resumes an inam by imposing full assessment and does nothing more and does not expressly resume the lands as well, the ownership is unaffected and if it was subject to any charitable trust it still continues subject to it, and that it was unnecessary and improper to impose a permanent disability to fill the office of trustees on the defendants and their descendants on account of the misconduct of the defendants or their predecessors. (Per SPENCER, J) contra that in cases of resumption of charitable inams, when they consist of the land as well as the assessment, it is within the discretion of the Government to grant it on full assessment and issue ryotwari patta to the former trustee or to a person unconnected with the trust, in the former case as much as in the latter, the land becomes the private property of the grantee, freed from the trust, that the inam in this case must be taken to have been of the assessment only, that being the presumption raised by Government in dealing with grants more than sixty years old, and by resumption of the inam and levy of full assessment the trust was at an end, and that the suit grant was not for a public trust of the kind to which s 92, Civil Procedure Code, was applicable. MUHAMMAD ISHUF SAHIB v

INAM—contd

MOULVI ABDUL SATRUH SAHIB (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 161

— Resumption of.—Grant by Naoab for a mosque, services therein and feeding the poor.—Confirmation by British Government.—Misappropriation by trustees.—Alienation by trustees on mortgage and on long lease.—Performance of services on lower scale.—Mosque kept in good repair.—Power of Government to resume inam.—
 Terms of confirmation, construction of.—Suit by trustee against Secretary of State.—Suit for declaration and possession.—Limitation Act (IX of 1908).
 Art 14 or 14a, applicability of. An inam, g by the Nawab of the Carnatic in 1773 for the upkeep of a mosque, the performance of services and ceremonies therein and the feeding of travellers and the poor was confirmed, by the British Government, permanently so long as the service was performed. Owing to persistent misappropriation of the income by the grantee's successors and alienations by some of them of two of the villages, included in the inam, one on a usufructuary mortgage in 1893 for thirty years and the other on a long lease of twelve years in 1894 for purposes not binding on the charity, the Government resumed the inam in 1903 and ordered the assessment to its general revenues. It appeared however that the mosque was maintained in good repair, services and ceremonies were regularly performed there though on a smaller scale. The present trustee disputing the power of the Government to resume the inam sued in 1913 the Secretary of State for India in Council for a declaration that the resumption was invalid and for recovery of possession of the inam villages, the latter contended that the resumption was valid and that the suit was in any event barred by limitation under Art. 14 of the Limitation Act. Held, (i) that, as the charity did not fail altogether, the performance of the charity was not wholly discontinued and the alienations (mortgage and lease) did not permanently deprive the charity of the use of the property, the Government was not authorized, under the terms of the grant, to resume the inam in the circumstances of this case; and (ii) that the resumption being a nullity and the suit being one for possession, it was not barred by limitation, as Art. 141 and not Art. 14 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. On a reasonable construction of the words of the grant, any default in the performance of services of however minor a character would not entitle the Government to resume the grant but what was contemplated was that if the charity failed altogether or substantially as through the disappearance of the mosque or of persons who would resort to the institution for prayers, etc. or if the charity was entirely discontinued, then the Government would be entitled to resume the grant. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. GULAM MAHMOOD KHAN SANI (1919) I L R 42 Mad 873

INAM—cont'd

INAM—cont'd

vator's share in the produce of land held by him, as distinguished from the landlord's share of the produce received by him as rent, sometimes designated 'malvaram'. Where it was alleged that the documents under which tenants held land under temporary tenures were not willingly executed by them or their predecessors or with knowledge of their provisions Held, that the allegations amounted to saying that the landlord had by fraud and the exercise of undue influence procured the execution by the tenants of the agreements of tenancy under which the latter held the land occupied by them allegations which in the absence of any evidence to suggest that there was any foundation of truth for them, must be dismissed from consideration as unfounded. ANDESCHILLI SRIYATHARAYANA v. ACHUTHA PORAYANA (1918) 23 C. W. N. 273

Shrotriyaam—Conveyance of Minerals—Enfranchisement, effect of—Royalties on quarried stone—Mad Act VIII of 1869 A village was granted as a shrotriyaam inam in A.D. 1730 by the Nawab of the Carnatic. The grant the terms of which appeared from a translation produced from a Government register, provided that its purpose was that the grantee having appropriated to his own use the produce of the seasons each year, might pay for the prosperity of the Empire, and that he should pay a fixed yearly sum to the arkar. The inam was enfranchised in 1864, there being given to the inamdar title-deeds which purported to convert the tenure into a permanent freehold upon payment of a quit-rent. After the enfranchisement the Madras Government requiring stones acquired part of the village from the shrotriyaamlars under the Land Acquisition Act. In or about 1900 the Madras Government imposed and levied upon the shrotriyaamlars royalties in respect of stone which they had quarried in the village. Held (1) that upon the true construction of the grant the full right to the quarries and minerals did not pass to the grantee, (2) that terms of the grant being in evidence neither the inam title-deeds nor the land acquisition proceedings were evidence as to its effect (3) that having regard to Madras Act VIII of 1869, the inam title-deeds could not vest in the inamdlars a subject matter not vested in them by the grant, (4) that consequently the Government was entitled to impose royalties on stone quarried in the village. An inam grant may be no more than an assignment of revenue and even where it is or includes a grant of land, what interest in the land passed must depend on the language of the instrument and the circumstances of the case. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. SRINIVASA CHARIAR (1921) I L R 40 Mad 288

I L R. 41 Mad. 431

Presumption of Law—Whether grant is of both malvaram and kudivaram Although their Lordships of the Privy Council do not expressly lay down, in Suryanarayana v. Padayana (1918) I L R 41, Mai 1912 (PC) and Venkata Sastrulu v. Sotharamulu (1920) I L R 43, Mai 166 (PC) that there is a presumption in law that in inam grants both the malvaram and kudivaram are included such an initial presumption is deducible from the grounds on which these judgments are based. MURTHY GOVINDAN v. PRADEEP (1921) I L R. 41 Mad. 593

Instrument not presumed as of Government revenue only—Reg. XVI of 1902—Estate, meaning of—Madras Rent Recovery Act (Mal. I of 1908) s. 3 (2), (1)—Kudivaram and malvaram meaning of—Allegation by tenant of fraud and undue influence not substantiated by evidence There is no presumption of law that the grant of an inam (in the absence of the inam grant under which it was held) was of the Royal share of the revenues only. In respect of an inam grant of 1773, the grant itself could not be produced but it was recorded in Mr Oake's Inam Register kept under a 15 of Reg. XXVI of 1802. Held, that this was conclusive evidence that the grant was not only of the revenue but of the soil of the village, and was not an estate within s. 3, sub s. 2 (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908 Mal.) A grant of a village by or on behalf of the Crown under the British rule is in law to be presumed to be subject to such rights of occupancy, if any, as the cultivators at the time of the grant may have had. Kudivaram literally signifies a culti-

INAM—contd

Karnam service lands
—Enfranchisement—Inam title-deed—Confirmation in last holder—Nature of title The karnam of a village in Madras occupies his office not by hereditary or family right but as a personal appointee, although the appointment is primarily made of a suitable person who is a member of a particular family. When karnam service lands have been enfranchised, a quit rent being imposed in lieu of the service, and an inam title-deed is granted confirming the lands to the holder of the office, his representatives and assigns, the lands are his separate property, and are not subject to any claim to partition by other members of the family. Venkatu v Rama (1885) 1 L R 8 Mad 249 (F B) approved; Gunnayya v Kamalachi Ayyar (1903) 1 L R 26 Mad 339 and Pingala Lalshimipathi v. Bommaraddipalli Chalamayya (1907) 1 L R 30 Mad 431 (F B), disapproved. VEY KATA JAGANNADHA v VEENABHADRAYYA (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad. 643

INAM COMMISSIONER.

See INAM . 1 L R. 40 Mad. 268

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R. 38 Mad. 155

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (BOM)

s. 4 . 1 L R. 34 Bom. 232

1 L R. 44 Bom. 120

1 L R. 44 Bom. 130

INAMDAR.

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

1 L R. 45 Bom. 638

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879)—

ss. 3 AND 217 1 L R. 34 Bom. 686

s. 217 . 1 L R. 44 Bom. 110

s. 3 . 1 L R. 45 Bom. 61

ss 76 AND 88 1 L R. 45 Bom. 893

See KARNAM INAMDAR

1 L R. 42 Bom. 112

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879), s. 3

1 L R. 43 Bom 77

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 8 (EXCEP)

1 L R 38 Mad 608, 891

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887), SCH II, ART 13

1 L R 39 Bom. 131

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876)—

s. 4 . 1 L R. 44 Bom. 120 and 130

and Zamindar—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 8, ETC 1 L R. 38 Mad. 603

and Ryot—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) 1 L R. 38 Mad 33

Right to levy mamul dues—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT, 1879, ss 216 and 217

1 L R 45 Bom. 1263

INAMDAR—contd

1. Jodi payable to Government—Right of Government to a first charge—Assignment of jodi by Government—Right of assignee to a charge—Assignment of jodi to a zamindar or mittadar under permanent sanad—Right of zamindar or mittadar to a charge Jodi payable by an inamdar to the Government, where it has not been assigned, is recoverable by the Government as revenue and is a first charge on the interest of the inamdar. A zamindar or mittadar, who under his sanad has a right to collect jodi payable by an inamdar to the Government, has no charge for arrears of jodi on the interest of the inamdar. PER WALLIS, C J—Where the Government assigned its revenue to an inamdar, the latter did not acquire a charge upon the land but was left to recover rent from the occupiers under the Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1863). PER SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J If the Government assigned the right to collect jodi or other revenue as such, the assignee would have a first charge he would be entitled to the security which the Government had although he might not be entitled to all the statutory remedies which the assignor had. CASE LAW ON THE SUBJECT REVIEWED SUBBARAYA GOVINDAN v RANGANADA MUDALIAR (1916) 1 L R. 40 Mad. 93

2. Suit to recover assessment from tenant—Tenant's liability to pay customary rent—Jodi—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch I Art 131—Recurring right—Limitation—Demand and refusal Lands situated in Inam villages not being in the actual possession of Inamdars themselves and falling under the calculation of Government Jodi are liable in turn to pay customary rent assuming that there has been no survey and assessment or contractual rent agreed upon to the Inamdars who are directly liable to Government for the Jodi. The payment of assessment is a recurring right falling within the contemplation and language of Art 131 of the first Schedule of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). In order that such a recurring right should be time barred, it is necessary for the defendant to show that there has been a definite demand and refusal. Mere omission on the part of the person having such right to exercise it will not start a period of adverse possession under the Article. GANESH VINAYAK v SITABAI (1916) 1 L R. 41 Bom 159

INAM LAND.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R. 38 Mad 155

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879), ss 3 (11), 217

1 L R 34 Bom. 686

acquisition of—

See RIGHT OF SUIT.

1 L R. 36 Mad 373

Regulation XVI of 1827—Bombay Act VI of 1833, s. 2—Summary Settlement Act (Bom Act II of 1863), s. 12—Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874)—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) ss 11 and 15—Service inam land—Summary settlement—Alienation—Will—Probate—Decision of Probate Court not to be destroyed by adjudication in a regular suit—Res judicata The title of the family of Navalgund Desai came into existence in the time of the Bijapur Monarchs in the 17th century. The Desai was the chief revenue officer of the district under both the Mahomedan rule and the Maratha rule which followed it. The services of the Desai as revenue officer were not made use of during the British rule and he was informed in 1843 by the Collector under the provisions of s. 2 of Bom Act XI of 1843 that his services as a revenue officer would not be required of him. As the result of inquiry regarding claims to inam lands, the Desai for the time being was offered the option of continuing his service by payment of an annual sum in the nature of a quit rent for the lands which he held up to that time on a service tenure or by occasional payments in the nature of fines both which classes of payments were styled Nazarana. In the year 1862 the Government passed a Resolution No. 455 sanctioning the treatment of the Navalund Desai's potjee (allowance) as a personal holding continuable to the holder on the terms of the summary settlement and the Desai consequently accepted the settlement on the terms that the commutation payment should be in the nature of an annual Nazarana or quit rent. Lingappa Sar Desai, the last male member of the Desai family, made a will prohibiting his widow from making an adoption and bequeathing the whole of his property to charity. The will was propounded for probate in the District Court of Belgaum and was duly admitted to probate and the grant of the probate was confirmed by the High Court in appeal. The widow of Lingappa made an adoption and she and the adopted son brought the present suit for a declaration that the testator have no power to make a will and to alienate the property which being service inam was inalienable. Held that the settlement of the Navalund Desai of the year 1862 was a settlement valid and binding upon Government that under the settlement the Desai was no longer liable to render any service in respect of the lands held by him and they were therefore no longer held upon service tenure and that the possession of lands as service lands for 200 years in the absence of any evidence as to family custom could not impress them with the character of inalienability. Held further that where service has been commuted for a quit rent if the donee's descendants should continue to pay the rent the tenure would be altered from service to rent, that in the case of service land, which in practice at all events was not usually alienated, it would be difficult to establish a family custom which should have any effect, as distinct from the ordinary incidents of a service tenure and evidence that land had remained in a family for a long period of years and had descended by the rule of primogeniture where it was service land would be more consistent with the fact of its having been held for service than with the theory of any special family custom and that when service had come to an end the last holder if he had no sons or co-sharers could put an end to a tenure based upon family customs, and that the lands might be treated as the property of an ordinary Hindu land owner subject to the payment of the agreed quit rent to Government and in the absence of co-parceners the owner could dispose of the lands by will. Held further that under s. 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure it was not open to the Court after the decision of the District Court granting probate of the will to try the question of the authority of the widow to adopt, which question was bound up with the question of the revocation of the will in the present suit, inasmuch as the issue decided by the Probate Court had conclusively determined between the parties the question of whether or not the testator had revoked his will before death and whether the statement that he had given authority to his widow to adopt expressed his wishes at the time of his death, and inasmuch as the District Court which had tried the probate case was a Court competent to have tried the present case. BRENDON & SUNDARAI (1913)

INAM LAND—contd

INAM LAND—contd

I L R 33 Bom 272

INCAPACITY

to make a will—

See HINDU LAW—MIRON

I L R 38 Mad 169

INCESTUOUS ADULTERY

condonation of—

See DIVORCE. I. L. R. 39 Calc 395INCIDENTS OF TENANCYSee OCCUPANCY PACT

I L R 46 Calc 160

INCITEMENT TO MURDER AND ACTS OF VIOLENCESee PRINTING PRESS FORFEITURE OF

I L R 33 Calc 202

INCOME

attachment of—

See GUJARATH TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1858) s. 31

I L R. 35 Bom 97

INCOME-TAXSee COMPANY. I L R 42 Bom. 579See REFERENCE.

I L R 43 Calc 766

See ROYALTY. I L R 38 Calc 372

Illegal levy of—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 33 Calc 501

on income of a club—

See INCOME TAX ACT 1918, s. 35 & 8 AND 51. I. L. R. 2 Lah 109

Executor's liability to income tax—Suit maintainable if for declaration of non liability to tax—Collect's jurisdiction of to assess income tax—Income Tax Act (11 of 1886)—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 72. Income accruing to an executor under the will of a testator is income as defined in s. 2 cl. (5) of the Income Tax Act 1886 and is liable to be taxed under the Act. It is the Collector's duty to determine what persons are chargeable in respect of sources of income other than salaries and pensions profits of companies and interest on securities. A suit brought by an executor of an estate for a declaration that as executor he was not liable to pay income tax in respect of any income of the estate and that the Collector in realising the same paid to him, acted without jurisdiction, and for a decree for the amount so paid with interest, does not lie. Payment of income tax by the executor of an estate, under protest, on the ground that as executor no tax was payable by him, may be regarded as paid under coercion within the meaning of s 72 of the Contract Act, Kanahya Lal v National Bank of India, Ltd 1 L R 40 Cal 598, L R 40 I A 56, referred to FORBES & SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914) . . . I. L. R. 42 Cal. 151

INCOME-TAX—contd.

Agricultural Income—Tea gardens. In a reference under s 51, as to whether income from a tea garden where tea was grown and made ready for market by mechanical process was assessable Held, that the income was to be apportioned and so much of it as was obtained by the manufacturing process was assessable. Kibing Valley Tea Company Limited v Secretary of State . . . I. L. R. 48 Cal. 161

INCOME-TAX ACT (II OF 1886).

See CERTIORARI I. L. R. 36 Mad. 72

See INCOME TAX I. L. R. 42 Cal. 151

s. 3 (5).

See INCOME TAX I. L. R. 42 Cal. 151

ss 4, 11, 12, 49, Sch. II, Part II—

See COMPANY I. L. R. 42 Bom 579

ss 14 and 16

See INCOME TAX I. L. R. 42 Cal. 151

ss 14 and 50—A Collector has power after first assessment to make a fresh assessment if the circumstance of the case require it REYANSTODAPPA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) . . . I. L. R. 44 Bom 234

Part IV, Sch. II, s. 3, cl. (5)—Annuity in Mysore Province—Annuitant resident in British India—Remittance by agent to her in British India—"Income," meaning of—Income, if taxable in British India Where a person was enjoying an annuity in Mysore Province, instalments of which were remitted by her agent to her while she was resident in British India, the remittances were "income" under Part IV of Sch II of the Income Tax Act, and these sums were "received in British India" within the definition contained in s 3, cl. (5), of the Act and therefore taxable NARASAMMAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) . . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 885

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918).

s. 2—Salami paid to a Landlord for wasteland and abandoned holdings is exempt from assessment but that paid for recognition of a transfer of a holding from one tenant to another is liable to be taxed MAHARAJA BIKEND VARISHORE MASIKYA BAHADUR v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA . . . 25 C. W. N. 81

s. 3—Money lending firm—Interest accruing due but not received in the year of account—Whether taxable under section 9 On a reference under s 51 of the Indian Income tax Act, 1918 Held by the majority of the Court—Interest which accrues due to a money lending firm in the year of account is not assessable under s. 9 as profits of the business unless it is received or realized in the year of account What will amount to receipt or realization considered by

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

NANIER AND KRISHNAN, J. J. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.—Such interest would be taxable, though not realized, if it came so completely under their control that by an act of their will they could receive it in cash without greater trouble than is involved in drawing money from their bankers. SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF REVENUE, INCOME-TAX, MADRAS v ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR (1921) . . . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 65 ss 3, 5, 8, 51—Income of the United Service Club of Simla, a registered Company—Whether liable to income tax Held, that the income of the United Service Club of Simla, a Company registered under the Indian Companies Act, is not liable to be assessed to income tax under the Indian Income Tax Act except in respect of its house property The New York Life Insurance Company v Styles (L R 14 4p Cases 331) and The Carlisle and Silloth Golf Club v Smith (3 K B 75) followed. THE UNITED SERVICE CLUB, SIMLA v THE CROWN . . . I L R 2 Lah 109 ss 3(1), 17(1) and 51—Income accruing arising or being received in British India—Company registered and business controlled in British India—Manufacture carried on outside British India—Reference—Costs Under section 3 Sub section of the Income Tax Act (VII of 1918) the profits of a Company which are made from manufacture carried on beyond British India cannot be said to accrue or arise in British India on account of the Head Office being in Bombay and because the Directors control the business in Bombay Nor would the mere fact of the entries in respect thereof being made in the accounts of the Company kept in Bombay entitled the Collector to treat the profits as having been received in British India within the meaning of section 3 (1) of the Act The cost of a reference under section 31 of the Income Tax Act 1918, made at the instance of the Chief Revenue Authority of Bombay within the local limits of the Original Jurisdiction should be taxed on the Original Side ALRAGABAD MILLS LIMITED, IN RE I. L. R. 45 Bom. 128 ss. 3, 33(1)—Non resident foreigner having business connexion in British India—Assessability to income tax in British India A person who is not a resident in British India, but to whom income arises or accrues through business connexions in British India is assessable to income tax under sections 3 and 33 (1) of the Indian Income tax Act (VII of 1918) whether he is a British subject or a foreigner The provision in the latter section that such income shall be taxable in the name of the agent of any such person does not mean that it is not chargeable unless assessed in the name of an agent CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX v BHANUPRA BHANJAN AND COMPANY (1921) . . . I L R 41 Mad. 773

ss. 3 and 9—Proprietor resident in British India—Business outside British India and not carried on from British India—Income not remitted to British India, whether taxable under the Act of—Reference under s 51—Right to begin A resident in British India owning a money lending business carried on for him outside British India by agents resident there who merely keeps himself acquainted with the progress of the business and occasionally issues general instructions is not liable to be taxed under the Act where the income from such business is not remitted to British India. On a reference by the Board of Revenue under s. 51 of the Income tax Act the assessee and not the Board has the right to begin. BOARD OF REVENUE MADRAS v. RAMANADHAN CHETTI (1930)

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

I L R. 43 Mad 75

ss 4 and 2—"Agricultural Income" —Application under s. 51—Right to begin. In a reference by the Revenue Authorities under the Indian Income tax Act (VII of 1918) s. 31, sub s. (1) on a question whether the income from a tea garden where tea was grown and made ready for the market by mechanical process was assessable Held, that the income was to be apportioned and so much of it as was obtained by the manufacturing process was assessable. Commissioners of Inland Revenue v. Ransom, [1918] 2 A. B. 709, and Commissioner of Inland Revenue v. Mazze [1919] 1 A. B. 647, followed. Held, also that the counsel for the company was to begin. Marquis of Chandos v. Inland Revenue Commissioners 6 Arch 461 followed. HILLING VALLEY TEA COMPANY LTD v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920)

I L R. 43 Cal 161

—ss 5, 9 and 11—Income derived from the rent and Royalties of Collieries does not come within income derived from business within the meaning of s. 5 (iv) but within income from other sources of sub s. (vi) and in assessing such a income tax the amount paid in respect of Road Cess should not be deducted. In the matter of the RASA JYOTI PRASAD SINGH DEO OF HASEPUR

6 Pat L. J. 62

—ss 8, 9, and 11—Income tax—Allowance of property assessable—Allowance in respect of annual value of business premises owned by firm—House property. Held by KNOX and GOKUL PRASAD J. J., (Pillay, J., dissenting) that as Act No VII of 1918 (the Indian Income tax Act) now stands the allowance on account of the annual value of business premises owned and occupied by a firm is not liable to assessment at all. PER PILLAY J. See quere whether such business premises would fall within the purview of section 8 of Act No VII of 1918 as being house property. In the matter of A JOHN AND COMPANY

I L R. 43 AU 139

—s 9 cl. 2, sub-cl. (ix)—Joint Stock Company—Increase of capital—Issue of new shares—Commission paid to underwriters whether allowable deduction—Assessment. Where a joint stock company increases its capital by the issue of new shares for which it pays commission to the underwriters of the shares the amount of the commission so paid cannot be allowed as an item of expenditure under section 9 clause 2, sub-clause (ix) of the Indian Income Tax Act (VII of 1918). TATA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY LIMITED, IN RE

I L R. 45 Bom 1306

—ss 24, 29 (d), 40 and 41—Failure to produce accounts—Prosecution under s. 39 (d)—Penal assessment—Tory of whether a bar to prosecution—Bar under s. 21 proviso 2 whether applicable. Section 24, proviso 2, of the Indian Income tax Act, does not bar the prosecution of an accused for an offence under s. 39 (d) of the Act for failure to produce accounts when penal assessment had been levied on him under s. 24, in consequence of his making a false return of his income. KING EMPEROR : HOOGANALLY & CO (1930)

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

I L R 43 Mad 498

—ss 31, 33, and 34—Assessment to super tax as agent of principal non resident in British India—Agent who is—Agent if must be in receipt of income on behalf of principal. The applicant Company was assessed to super tax as agent for six share holders in the Company all of whom were non residents of British India in regard to the dividends payable to them by the Company. Held per WOODROFFE and GREAVES J. J. That ss 31 and 34 of the Indian Income tax Act are to be read together, the latter section merely defining who may be included as an agent under s. 31. That being so the agent must be in receipt of income within the terms of s. 31 and the Company was not in receipt of income on behalf of the share holders within the meaning of s. 31. That even if the two sections be read disjointly the Company was not in the circumstances of the case an agent within the terms of the Act. That in this view no question as to the propriety of assessment to super tax as agent arose. THE IMPERIAL TOBACCO COMPANY OF INDIA LIMITED v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE

28 C W N. 745

—s 43—Rule framed by Government of Madras under s. 43 (2)—Company incorporated in England with branches in India and elsewhere—Total profits—Whether income tax and excess profits duty payable in England and income tax payable elsewhere to be excluded. Rule 2 framed by the Government of Madras under s. 43 (2) (c) of the Income tax Act provides that the profits of the Indian Branch of a foreign company may be assumed for income tax purposes to bear the same proportion to the total profits of the company as its receipts bear to the total receipts. A company incorporated in England with branches in India and elsewhere cannot in calculating the total profits for the purposes of this rule claim deduction of the excess profits duty and the income tax payable by it in England and elsewhere. CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX MADRAS v. THE EASTERN EXTENSION AFRICALASIA AND CHINA TELEGRAPH CO. LTD (1931)

I L R. 44 Mad 439

S 51—

Sec 4

I L R. 43 Cal 160

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT 1919—

s 3

I L R. 43 Bom 1064

s 6

I L R. 45 Bom 881

—Held that interest which accrues due to a money lending firm in the year of account is not assessable under s. 9 as profits of business unless received or realized in the year of account. Secretary of State v. Arundhan Chettiar

I L R. 44 Mad 65

—ss 51 (1) 52, 108 (2) of the Government of India Act 5 and 6 George V., Chapter 61—s. 45 (A) of the Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877)—English decisions on English Income tax Act guides to interpret Indian Income tax Act. Where a person who was assessed to income tax appealed to the Board of Revenue and the Board while dismissing the appeal refused to refer the matter to the High Court under s 51 of the Income-tax Act, though requested to do so, Held, that s. 106 (2) of the Government of India Act and s. 52 of the Income tax Act prohibited the High Court from entertaining any application under s. 45 in the nature of a mandamus for the purpose of compelling the Revenue Board to refer the matter to the High Court under s. 51 of the Income tax Act, Spooner v Juddow (1870) 4 W L 4, 353, followed. Issuing an order under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act in the nature of a mandamus is an exercise of "original jurisdiction" within s 106 (2) of the Government of India Act. An application under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act against the Board is a "proceeding" within s 52 of the Income tax Act. In re Onward Building Society, [1897] 2 Q B, 463, applied. "Anything done" in s 52 includes "anything omitted to be done" Joliffe v Wallasey Local Board (1873) L R 9 C P, 62, followed. English decisions are not decisions of "Foreign Courts" and as the Income-tax Act of India generally follows the lines of the English Income tax Act, the decisions of English Courts on the latter Act are the best guides to the interpretation of the Indian Act. The meaning of "unnecessary" in s. 51 of the Income tax Act considered. CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX v NORTH ANANTAPUR GOLD MINES, LIMITED (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 718

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

INCOME-TAX COLLECTOR.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s 195, CLS (b) AND (c)
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 642

INCORPORATED COMPANY

See COMPANY

See SALE. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 780

INCORPOREAL RIGHTS

See EASEMENTS.

Incorporeal rights, enjoyment of for less than the statutory period—Person in such enjoyment entitled to protection against trespassers. It is well settled law that a trespasser, in enjoyment of land for less than the statutory period, is entitled to be maintained in possession against all persons except the true owner. The same principle is applicable to incorporeal rights, such as rights to light and water-courses. A person in enjoyment of a water course for less than 20 years is entitled to protection in such enjoyment against persons who have no right to such water-course. KONDAPA PAJAM NAIDU v DEVARAKONDA SURYANARAYAN (1910)
I. L. R. 34 Mad 173

CL. EASEMENT. I. L. R. 38 Mad 280

INCRIMINATING ARTICLES.

possession of—

See DACOITY. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350

INCRIMINATING STATEMENTS IN CROSS-EXAMINATION.

See FALSE EVIDENCE.

I. L. R. 37 Calc 878

INCUMBRANCE.

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 80
14 C. W. N. 229

See HOMESTEAD LAND
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 638

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 138
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 758

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 923

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
14 C. W. N. 677
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 779

— avoidance of—

See REVENUE SALE
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 559

— by non-occupancy raiyat—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 709

Putni Tenure—Customary right to cut and appropriate trees, whether an incumbrance—Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819), s 11—Right of an auction purchaser at a sale held under the Putni Regulation to avoid such incumbrance—Bond fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with resident and hereditary cultivators, effect of. A customary right to cut and appropriate trees is an incumbrance within the meaning of s. 11 of Regulation VIII of 1819. A purchaser of a putni taluq at a sale held under Regulation VIII of 1819 is not entitled to hold the property free from a customary right or a right recognised by usage which has grown up during the subsistence of the putni, and under which occupancy raiyats are entitled to appropriate and convert to their own use such trees as they have the right to cut down, inasmuch as he is not entitled to cancel a bond fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with the resident and hereditary cultivators. PRADYOTE KUMAR TAGORE v GOPT KRISHNA MANDAL (1910) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 322

Absolute sale—Unregistered purchaser of portion of putni tenure, interest of, whether an incumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 161, 167—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 93. Per JENKINS C. J., and N. R. CHATTERJEE J. (McLICK, J. dissenting). The interest of an unregistered purchaser of a portion of a putni tenure is not an "incumbrance" within the meaning of s. 161 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Chandra Sakis v Kalla Kishore Chatterjee, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 251, distinguished. A purchaser of a tenure at a sale held in execution of a rent decree is not therefore required to annul such an interest (i.e., of an unregistered purchaser of a portion of a putni) under the provisions of s. 167 in order to get a clear title. ABDEL RAHMAN CHOWDHURY v AHMADAB FAHMAN (1913) I. L. R. 43 Calc. 858

INCURABILITY.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 250

INDEMNITY.

See CONTRACT ACT s. 121
See HINDU LAW (MITHAKHARA).
3 Pat. L. J. 396
See SALE. I. L. R. 25 All. 163

INDEMNITY—contd

contract of—

See ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT

I L R 37 Mad 270

to Estate of sealt—

See PARTIES I L R 37 Cal 229

right to—

See EXECUTOR I L R 45 Cal 538

INDEMNITY BOND

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WARR

I L R 35 All 68

Suit to recover money payable under an indemnity bond—Decree passed against plaintiff but money not actually paid—Suit maintainable. It is not necessary that before a suit on an indemnity bond can be filed the plaintiff should have already been compelled to make the payment in respect of which he is seeking to be indemnified. It is sufficient that a decree has been passed against him for such payment. British Union and National Insurance Co v Rawson, [1916] 2 Ch. D 476 and Tota Das v Babu Ganesh Prasad (unreported) Civil Revision No 79 of 1909 decided on Jan ary 31st 1910 referred to CHITRAJIT LALL v NARAINI (1910) I L R 41 All 395

INDEPENDENT ADVICE

See GIFT (PURDANASHIN DONOR.)

I L R 39 Cal 933

See PARDANASHIN LADY

I L R 46 I A 272

INDIAN ARMY OFFICER

attachment of pay of—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 38 Bom 667

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 60

I L R 39 All 303

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE

salary derived from by member of Joint Family—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I L R 2 Lah 40

INDIAN COMPANIES ACT

See COMPANIES ACT

INDIAN COUNCILS ACT, 1861 (24 & 25 VIC, cl 87)

s 22—

See DEFEAT OF INDIA ACT

3 Pat L J 581

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Cal 467

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

I L R 40 Cal 391

ss. 22 and 42.

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 44 Mad. 446

s 23—

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY

I L R 41 Bom 390

ss 42 and 44—

See BYE LAWS I L R. 47 Cal 547

INDIAN COUNCILS ACT, 1861 (9 EDW VII, c 4)

s 6—

See ELECTION I L R 41 Cal 384

INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT (IV OF 1884).

rule 3 (1) (b)—

See MAGISTRATE I L P 39 Cal 119

INDIAN HIGH COURTS ACT 1861 (24 & 25 VICT c 104)

See HIGH COURTS ACT

ss 9 11 13 & 15—

See DEFEAT OF INDIA ACT

3 Pat L J 581

s 104—

See DEFEAT OF INDIA ACT

3 Pat L J 537

INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT 1848 (11 & 12 VICT, c 21)

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Cal 72

See INSOLVENCY ACT

See PRESIDENTIAL T W N S INSOLVENCY

ACT (III OF 1900) ss 6 27 30 31
I L P 37 Bom 464INDIAN LEGISLATURE

powers of—

See PROCEDURE I L R 40 Cal 470

INDIAN MARINE SERVICE

See SERVICE OF SUMMONS

I L R 42 Cal 67

INDIAN STAFF CORPS

See INDIAN ARMY OFFICERS

INDIGO

cultivation of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 38 Cal 432

INDIVIDUAL COMMUNITY

See PUBLIC ROAD RIGHT TO USE

I L R 34 Bom 571

INFANT

See EVIDENCE L R 43 I A 256

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 42 Cal 351

See PROBATE

14 C W N 1068

In partnership concern—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Cal 523

Golden Temple Amritsar—

I L R 1 Lah 511

Custody of—Mother parting with child under agreement not to take it back it loses her right to custody—Circumstances in which restoration will be refused. It is well settled that a mother cannot be deprived of her natural right of absolute control over her own child by any agreement by which she makes over the child to another to be brought up as the latter's own, even though she might have definitely stipulated never to claim back the child. But there may be circumstances in a particular case which would render it undesirable in the interests of the infant that she would resume her rights when she has once made over the child to another and associations or expectations have been created on the part of the infant. The mother of a posthumous boy made him over when two or three months old to her sister to be brought up as her own, in order that she might go and have herself trained as a nurse and be thereby in a position to bring up her children of whom there were four others who were placed in various charitable institutions. When the boy whom the aunt was bringing up as her own child and for whom she had much affection was 7½ years old, the mother, being now in a position to maintain and bring up the child, asked for the custody of the child. Held—That in the circumstances of the case, the child should be restored to the mother. PATRY FEMELINE PETERSON v. EARNEST HENRY SHAVE 24 C. W. N. 711

INFANT—contd.

INFERENCE.

— from facts which are not evidence—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 38
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 352

— of Law—

See RENT. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 278

INFORMANT.

See FALSE INFORMATION TO POLICE.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 850

INFORMATION.

Criminal Procedure Code, s. 250—"Information," meaning of—Compensation—Order if can be made against servant for information given on behalf of master—
Information subsequent to the original complaint
The question whether a servant can be held responsible under s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code, for an information lodged on behalf of his master, is a question of fact and depends on the question whether the servant is merely the mouthpiece of the master and is merely giving expression to his master's accusation, or whether he joins personally in the accusation himself. In the former case no order of compensation should be made against the servants under s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code. "Information" referred to in s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code, need not necessarily be the information on which the case is instituted. Where a person making a complaint against an accused person subsequently gives information leading to the accusation of others in the case, he may be dealt with under s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code, in respect of his subsequent information. The words "from information received" in s. 157, Criminal Procedure Code, refers to the information given in s. 154, Criminal Procedure Code. JAGDAMI PARNHAD KHOU v. MAHADKO HANDEO (1909)
1 C. W. N. 328

INFRINGEMENT.

See JUDGMENT. I. L. R. 46 Calc. 978

See SEARCH WARRANT.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 164

— of rules—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 524

— of Trade-mark—

See TRADE MARK.
I. L. R. 37 All. 204 and 446
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 110

INHERENT JURISDICTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 151
AND O. XLII, r. 19

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 648

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF

See REMAND. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 929

INHERENT POWER.

See APPEAL. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 433

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—
s. 144 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 255

s. 141 and 151 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 339

O I, r. 8 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 582

O I, r. 10 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 393

O IX, rr. 8 and 9, s. 151.
I. L. R. 41 All. 426

See DECREE, AMENDMENT OF
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 265

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
14 C. W. N. 836

See HIGH COURT, POWER OF

See PRACTICE. I. L. R. 34 Bom. 408

See STAY OF EXECUTION.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 955

— criminal Court to release attachment—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, ss. 145 and 146. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 451

— to amend decree—

See PRACTICE. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 649

— to restore application for execution dismissed for default—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 141
AND 151 I. L. R. 2 Lah. 66

INHERITANCE.

See ALIYASANTANA LAW.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 12

See BENGAL LAW.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 887
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 379

See CUSTOM. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 418
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 749
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 450

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAY.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 82
[I. L. R. 43 Calc. 64]

INHERITANCE—*contd*See MANU MADAN LAW—INHERITANCESee OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 42 Cal 254

— by mortgagor of decree for sale on prior mortgage—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 All 309

— right of women to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII s. 3

I L R 38 Mad 830

— Sudra ascetic right of to—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 40 Mad 846

INJUNCTION

See ARBITRATION 23 C W N 811See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

s. 9 I L R 32 All 527

s. 11 I L R 36 Bom 283

s. 80 I L R 37 Bom 246

s. 115 I L R 40 Bom 83

O XXXVIII s. 5

I L R 37 All 423

O XXXIX s. 1

I L R 35 All 425

I L R 33 All 79

I L R 42 All 134

I L R 43 All 383

1 Pat L J 560

O XXXIX s. 2

I L R 38 Bom 381

O XL s. 1 I L R 36 All 19

See CONSEQUENTIAL RELIEF PRAYER FOR

I L R 29 Cal 704

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s. 30

I L R 42 Bom 676

See *DECREE FOR INJUNCTION*See EASEMENTS I L R 36 Mad 11

I L R 44 Bom 486

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 406See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE.

I L R 38 All 520

See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS.

3 Pat L J 456

See JURISDICTION

I L R 48 Cal 582

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 35 All 292

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH

II ART 18 I L R 34 All 436

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908)—

SCH I ARTS 170 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

SCH I ART 181

I L R 42 All 564

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

I L R 34 Mad 366

See MPC 19 C W N 887See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

I L R 38 Mad. 6

INJUNCTION—*contd*See LEGAL CODE (ACT XLI OF 1900)—

s. 150 s. 3 Pat L J 106

s. 168 I L R 39 Mad 543

See *PERPETUAL INJUNCTION*See PRAGWAL I L R 43 All 20See PUBLIC ROAD RIGHT TO USE.

I L R 34 Bom 571

See REGISTRATION

I L R 45 Bom 170

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHT

I L R 44 Bom 434

See *TEMPORARY INJUNCTION*See TORT I L R 43 Bom 164See TRADE MARK.

I L R 35 Bom 425

I L R 37 Cal 204

See TRADE NAME

I L R 40 Cal 570

s. 1 s. 1 I L R 45 Bom 236

— against person wrongfully collecting

rent—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1904 s. 10.

I L R 2 Lab 262

— and declaration—

See DECLARATION ETC

I L R 38 Mad 972

— Court fees payable—

See COURT FEES ACT 184 s. 1

I L R 45 Bom 567

— interlocutory disobedience of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF

1908) O XLIII, s. 1 (i) AND O

XXIX s. 1 cl. (3).

I L R 39 Mad 907

— notice whether necessary—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

III OF 1909 s. 34.

I L R 44 Bom 555

— order for an account is not—

See PENAL CODE s. 186, 193.

3 Pat L J 106

— prayer for—

See COURT FEE I L R 40 Cal 245

— relief by—

See NEUMAN I L R 40 Bom 401

— suit for—

See MAMLATDARS COURTS ACT (BOM.

ACT II OF 1906) s. 3

I L R 37 Bom 595

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT.

1909 ss 34 AND 52

I L R 44 Bom 555

See TRADE NAME INFRINGEMENT OF

I L R 41 Bom 49

— tree branches projecting—

See EASEMENT I L R 44 Bom 605

1 ———— Restraint on execution of a decree obtained in a previous suit—*Agst*the plaintiff—Specific Rel of Act (I of 1877), ss

INJUNCTION—contd

54, 56 (e) Where the defendant has not invaded, or threatened to invade the plaintiff's right to, or enjoyment of, any property, and there is no apprehension of a multiplicity of judicial proceedings to which the plaintiff need be subjected for the purpose of establishing or safeguarding his rights or for preventing the acquisition of rights of the defendant—Held that s 56 of the Specific Relief Act constitutes a manifest bar in the way of the plaintiff's suit for a declaration that the defendant had no title to lands in suit, and for perpetual injunction restraining the defendant from taking possession of the lands by executing his decree. Dhuranidhar Sen v Agri Bank I L R 4 Cal 390 followed in principle Appu v Raman, I L R 14 Mad 425, not followed KARNADHAR HALDER v HARIBRASAD ROY CHALDHURI (1910) I L R 37 Cal 731

2 ——— Cases where injunction might be granted—Plaintiff out of possession—Prima facie claim to the disputed property—Irreparable injury Where the plaintiff is out of possession and claims possession the Court will refuse to interfere by grant of injunction against the defendant in possession under a claim of right, but where the threatened injury will be irreparable an injunction will lie at the instance of a complainant out of possession. No injunction should be granted in a case where there is no foundation for any suggestion that the defendants are about to commit an act in the nature of waste. Where the plaintiff has another adequate remedy and where if an injunction were granted it would be of the vaguest description, no injunction ought to be granted in such cases. KESHO PRASAD SINGH v SARVIBASH PRASAD SINGH (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 701

3 ——— Jurisdiction—Restraint of proceedings in subordinate Court outside the jurisdiction of High Court—Injunction in personam The High Court can restrain proceedings in a Court outside its jurisdiction only if the party sought to be restrained is within its jurisdiction and it is not sufficient that the party should have property within the jurisdiction. Pilean Iron Works v Bishambhar Prasad I L R 36 Cal 233 followed. The Carron Iron Co v MacLaren 5 H L C 416, referred to. Mungle Chand v Gopal Ram, I L R 31 Cal 101, not followed. JUMSA DASS v HARCHARAN DASS (1910)

I L R 38 Cal 405

4 ——— Suit against Secretary of State for India—Injunction, suit for—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 424—Notice—Inam—Revemption The plaintiff an inamdar of a village was called upon by the Collector to hand over the management of the village to Government officials on the ground that in the events that had happened the inam had become resumable by Government. The plaintiff thereupon, without giving the notice required by s 424 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) filed a suit against the Secretary of State for India in Council for a declaration that he was entitled to hold the village inam and for a permanent injunction restraining the defendant from resumming the village. Held that the suit was bad in absence of notice required by s 424 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). The term 'act' used in s 474 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 relates only to the public officers, not to the Secretary of

INJUNCTION—contd

State. The expression 'no suit shall be instituted against the Secretary of State in Council' is wide enough to include suits for every kind, whether for injunction or otherwise. Per HEATON, J—Where there is a serious injury so imminent that it can only be prevented by an immediate injunction, a Court will not be debarred from entertaining the suit and issuing the injunction though the section requires previous notice, if it is owing to the immediate need of the injunction that the plaintiff has come to the Court for relief before giving the required notice. Flower v Local Board of Law Leyton 5 Ch D 347, followed. SECRETARY OF STATE v GAJANAN KRISHNARAO (1911) I L R 35 Bom 362

5 ——— Temporary—Order by Revenue Court, suit for setting aside—Competency of Civil Court to grant injunction—Temporary injunction if may be granted when perpetual injunction not sought for—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908), O XXXIX, r 2—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 70 Although a decree may have been passed by a Revenue Court, when it is under execution in a Civil Court, proceedings may be stayed by the Civil Court if a suit has been brought for a declaration that the decree was obtained by fraud or was made without jurisdiction and for a perpetual injunction, to restrain the decree holder from executing the decree. In granting a temporary injunction, the Court acts in aid of the legal right so that the property may be preserved in status quo. Where the plaintiffs sued for a declaration that a certain order by the Revenue Court was without jurisdiction, but did not ask for a perpetual injunction it was not competent to them to ask for a temporary injunction during the pendency of the suit. JITLAL SINGH v HAMALSWARI PRASAD (1912) 18 C W N 92

6 ——— Wrongfully obtained—Suit for damages if lies—Limitation No suit lies for damages against a defendant for maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause obtaining a perpetual injunction which has been subsequently dissolved on appeal. A temporary injunction granted in such a suit is ipso facto dissolved by the Court a decree granting a perpetual injunction. In a suit for damages in respect of the temporary injunction, limitation would therefore run from the date when the temporary injunction was dissolved by the decree granting perpetual injunction. Per FLETCHER J Nothing in the Limitation Act can give a party a right of suit, unless such right exists independent of the Limitation Act. And Kumar Shaha v Gour Sunkar, 13 W R 305 is questionable authority in so far as it decides that a plaintiff can maintain a suit for damages against a defendant for maliciously and without probable cause obtaining an interlocutory injunction. An allegation by the plaintiff that the defendants were actuated by malice and that their suit for perpetual injunction ultimately proved unsuccessful when the decree of the High Court in their favour was set aside by His Majesty in Council was not a sufficient allegation of want of reasonable and probable cause. Want of probable cause is not to be inferred because of mere evidence of malice. Turner v Ambler, 10 Q B 252, referred to. Per RICHARDSON, J s 95, Civil Procedure Code seems to contemplate the possibility of a suit being brought to recover compensation in respect of a temporary injunction applied for on insufficient grounds or in a suit instituted without reasonable or probable cause. It is at least doubtful whether such a suit is maintainable in the absence of an undertaking to pay compensation. A party is not liable in damages for procuring an erroneous decree. Dharma Varma v. Sreenivasulu Dasari 25 B R 410 referred to. Mohini Mohan Misra v. Surenina Narayan Singh (1914)

INJUNCTION—contd

I L R 42 Cal 630
18 C W N 1189

8 ——— Temporary status quo maintenance of—Indian High Courts Act (24 and 25 Act, 1908) s 15—Jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere. The plaintiffs were some of superior landlords of the disputed property which consisted of two plots of land and claimed to have been in direct possession of about one-third of the property. The defendants who were in occupation of the remainder being alleged to have obtained a permanent lease from some of the co-sharers of the plaintiffs commenced to dig the foundations for an extension of their factory house. The plaintiffs sued for partition and applied for a temporary injunction. The defendants notwithstanding notice of the application for injunction expelled the erection of the building. It appeared that on partition the plaintiffs could not conveniently be allowed any share of one of the plots but must be limited to an allotment out of the other plot. Held that there was a substantial question in controversy between the parties and pending its determination the status quo should be maintained to the necessary extent. That it was desirable that the plot a share of which only could be allotted to the plaintiff on partition should be retained in status quo so that the Court might be free to grant such relief as it might think proper and an injunction should be granted restraining the defendants from building on this plot for a period of one month during which the partition suit was to be tried out. That it was open to the High Court to give the necessary directions under a 15 of the Indian High Courts Act and in a case of this description it was essential that the High Court should interfere to prevent what might otherwise place one of the litigating parties in an unfairly advantageous position and thus turn out in the end to be the cause of an irretrievable injustice to the other. Pranaya Kumar Roy v. Baranagore Jute Factory Co (1914) 19 C W N 442

9 ——— Temporary injunction in mandatory form—Power of Indian Courts to grant under O XXXIX r 2 Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) Courts in India can under O XXXIX, r 2 Civil Procedure Code issue temporary injunctions in a mandatory form. Imail v. Shambur Rahman, I L R 41 Cal 436 and Champery Bhimsji & Co v. Jaman Flour Mills & Co 26 Bom L R 566 referred to. The view of BRAMAN, J. in Ramlal Kaur v. Pirabhai Amrithani, I L R 23 Bom 381 not followed. Kandawami v. Subramanya (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 208

10 ——— Mandatory and prohibitory injunctions—Decree for injunction—Mode of enforcement—Execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 47, O XXI r 32 cl (1) (5)—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 181 182 Where in a suit for declaration of title to land the plaintiff contended that the defendant by raising a wall had disobeyed a permanent injunction embodied in a decree dated September 1893 and prayed for the demolition of the wall so far as it was above the height limited by the aforesaid injunction—Held that the remedy lay by way of execution under O XXI, r 32, and the enforcement of an injunction being a question relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree by which it was awarded a separate suit was prohibited under s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Colonial Landowners v. His Honor the Judge of the High Court of Madras 243 India Decs 243 (1908) 11 B 33 Cal 306, Jamsetji Bhanji v. Harji Inayat 11 B 32 Bom 181, referred to. See Harji Inayat v. J. O. XXI, r 31 cl (1) and (5) clearly applied to injunctions both mandatory and prohibitory. The expression the act required to be done in cl (5) means what had to be done to enforce the injunction. Ramji Inayat Meherji v. Amarnath Roy Chowdhury (1916) I L R 45 Cal 103

INJUNCTION—contd

11 ——— Jurisdiction of single Judge of a High Court to issue status quo decrees—Power of High Court to punish for contempt a person who is a party before it but does not reside within its jurisdiction Civil Procedure Code 1908 O XXXIX r 2—Rules of Court of the 15th January 1908 rr 1 and 4 Held (1) that a Judge of the High Court sitting singly has jurisdiction to issue an injunction to a party before the Court restraining such party from alienating his property subject to certain conditions (2) that when such an injunction has been ordered in open Court in the presence of counsel for both parties it may be presumed that the Court's order was communicated to the party affected thereby and it is not sufficient excuse for disobedience thereto that a formal notice of the injunction has not been served upon him personally (3) that the High Court has power to punish disobedience to such an injunction whether under O XXXIX r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure or by virtue of its inherent jurisdiction to punish contempts of its own orders and this power where the order in question has been passed against a party to a proceeding before it is not confined to persons living within the limits of its territorial jurisdiction. Mangle Chand v. Gopal Ram I L R 34 Cal 191 and Valcon Iron Works v. Bhambar Prasad I L R 36 Cal 231 referred to. See Prasad Singh v. The Benares Bank Ltd

I L R 42 All 98

12 ——— Arbitration proceedings—Declaratory suit—Contract the subject matter of the arbitration denied—Competency of the Court to grant injunction—Question of competency raised for the first time on appeal—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877) ss 52, 53, 54 and 55 The Court of Appeal cannot avoid the decision of a pure question of law which does not depend on the determination of a question of fact and which goes to the root of the matter and raises the question whether the Court was competent to grant the injunction sought for by the plaintiffs. See Akshai Nandoo v. Subramanya Sastri I L R 11 Mad 26 L R 14 I A 169 and Connecticut Fire Insurance Company v. Aarongh [1892] 4 C 473, referred to. Where there is a breach of an existing legal right, which is vested in the applicants, the breach thereof may be restrained by injunction Imperial Gas Light and Coke Company v Broadbent, 7 H. L. C. 609, referred to. In a suit for declaration that a certain contract entered into between the plaintiffs and the defendants was not binding on the plaintiffs, inasmuch as they did not enter into such a contract, and that they were accordingly entitled to an injunction to restrain arbitration. Held, that no injunction could be claimed under s. 54 of the Specific Relief Act. Held, also, that the injunction claimed should not be granted in view of the provision of cl. (2) of s. 56, which laid down that an injunction could not be granted when equally efficacious relief could certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding (except in case of breach of trust). Held, also, that if the plaintiffs' case that they did not enter into the alleged contract were well founded, the arbitration proceedings before the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, even if they resulted in an award, could only terminate in an award which would be a nullity and could not possibly affect the rights of the plaintiffs, if the arbitrators made an award in favour of the defendants (which case was undoubtedly, the plaintiffs would have ample opportunity to protect themselves by an appropriate proceeding. Held, also, that ss. 54 and 56 must be read together as supplementing each other, and it would be an erroneous construction of the statute to hold that the right to an injunction should be determined independently of the provision of ss. 54 and 56 by reference to the terms of s. 53. RAM KISSAN JOYDOYAL v POORAN MULL (1920). I. L. R. 47 Cal. 733

INJUNCTION—contd.

13. ———— Device—Right as sole importer and seller—Misrepresentation, effect of—Cycles sold as being made by a Company not in existence, whether amounts to misrepresentation—Injunction whether could be granted when there was misrepresentation. The Plaintiff (Respondent) who was the agent of the Veloce Limited of Birmingham, for the sale of the Veloce Cycles, arranged with them for the manufacture and sale in India of a cheap quality cycle and the name or transfer of "Warrior Cycle" was adopted. Letters were circulated by the plaintiff in India about December 1910, containing Warrior specification and were issued in the name of Warrior Cycle Company, Birmingham, and described the Plaintiff as their agent in India. There was no warrior Cycle Company, Birmingham, but the name was adopted by the Veloce, Limited to keep the two qualities separate. In December 1910 the Plaintiff also ordered the supply of "Warrior Cycle" with the same Warrior Transfer and specification from the Victoria Motor Cycle Company, Limited, Glasgow, and these arrived in July 1911. In September 1911 the Plaintiff's agency with the Veloce Limited came to an end and the sole agency was placed with Leretius & Co. New lists were prepared upon which the Defendants (Appellants) were described as import agents. In October 1911, Veloce Limited registered in England the word "Warrior" as a trade mark in connection with cycles. The Plaintiff claimed the exclusive use in India of the Warrior Transfer as being one employed by him and understood by the dealers and purchasers as indicating importation and sale by himself and asked for an injunction restraining the Defendants from passing off cycles, not imported by the plaintiff with the same transfer on them, for delivery of cycles in their custody and for other reliefs. Held—That the plaintiff had failed to prove that he was the owner of the mark or transfer or that he had a right to use the same alone in India. Held also—That as there was no Warrior Cycle Company in Birmingham, there was a material misrepresentation on the part of the Plaintiff and so he was not entitled to the relief asked for. SEN AND PANDIT v E S OAKES 24 C. W. N. 155

INJUNCTION—contd.

14. ———— For stay of suit—On the ground of suit relating to same matter in foreign Court—Principle regulating such injunction—Suit in Calcutta by Plaintiff and suit by the Defendant against Plaintiff about same subject matter in a foreign Court—Plaintiff's application for injunction and principle regulating it. The very sound principle laid down in Hyman v Helm, 24 Ch. D. 531 (1885) and Vardapulo v Vardapulo, 25 T. L. R. 518 (1909), viz., that a Defendant in a pending suit here should not be restrained from commencing and prosecuting proceedings in a foreign Court to enforce rights which he acquired within the jurisdiction of the foreign Court against the Plaintiff under the law of that foreign country, should not be impaired. In an application for an injunction to restrain the Defendant in a pending suit from prosecuting an action in a foreign Court about the same subject matter, it is an essential condition that it should be applied for very promptly and that it should not be applied for after a considerable amount of time and trouble has been expended in the foreign suit. TICUM CHAND SALTOKERCHAND v SALTOKERCHAND SINGHER 24 C. W. N. 735

15. ———— To restrain defendant from officiating as priest—In certain houses, main sanctity of Where, in a suit between priests for enforcement of a partition both of the family jagnas and of the family birt, the court granted the plaintiff an injunction restraining the defendants from trespassing on certain areas within which the plaintiffs were by the terms of the partition deed entitled to sole control over the jagnas, held, that neither the injunction, nor an order directing the ascertainment of the defendants' earnings from the specified area during the three years prior to the suit, could be maintained. LUTAN PANDEY v PRAYAG PANDEY (1918). 4 Pat. L. J. 53

INJUNCTION IN PERSONAM.

See INJUNCTION I. L. R. 38 Cal. 405

INJURED PERSON.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877) s. 45 I. L. R. 40 Mad 125

INJURY.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss. 345, AND 439 I. L. R. 37 All 419

See TRADE NAME I. L. R. 40 Cal. 570

irreparable—

See INJUNCTION I. L. R. 38 Cal. 791

to health—

See DIVORCE I. L. R. 39 Cal. 395

See NUISANCE I. L. R. 38 Cal. 296

INJURY—contd

to house—

See PROBATIONARY ORDER

I L R 38 Cal 878

IN PARI DELICTO

See LIMITATION SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT I OF 1880) ss. 9, 10

I L R 39 Bom. 709

INQUIRY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 107 AND 117

I L R 37 All 80

See MAGISTRATE TRANSFER OF

I L R 37 Cal 812

by District Magistrate—

See CRIMINAL TRIALS

I L R 47 Cal 843

delegation of—

See SURETY I L R 46 Cal 1024 order passed without—

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908), s 47, Art 47

I L R 38 Mad. 432

INQUISITION

See LUNACY I L R 48 Cal. 677

INSANITY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 14 15 154 161 ETC

3 Pat. L J 291

ss 464 AND 465 I L R 42 All 137

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE.

I L R 33 Cal 700

INSOLVENCY

See BANKRUPTCY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 Ch XX c 331

14 C W N 143

I L R 35 All. 402

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 (I) XXII, s. 10

I L R 39 Bom 568

See CONTRACT ACT s. 247

I L R 42 All 515

See COSTS I L R 46 Cal. 158

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 41 Cal 50

See FORFEITURE I L R 39 Cal 1048

See INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT

See INSOLVENCY

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH II, ART 179

I L R 39 Bom 20

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s. 19

I L R 35 Bom 583

See MITOR I L R 42 Cal. 225

See OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

I L R 46 Cal 887

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT) 1909—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III) OF 1907—

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Cal. 878

INSOLVENCY—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1842 s 75

I L R 42 All 335

of Hindu in Singapore —

See BANKRUPTCY I L R 40 Mad 581 of partner —

See MITOR I L R 42 Cal 225

of purchaser—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Cal 523

Rules (Calcutta)—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Cal 721

transfer of petition for—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s. 101

I L R 35 Mad 472

1. ——— Ad interim protection—*Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 4 sub-s. 1 cl (2) 47 48 16 (8), 15 14—High Court of may grant interim protect n and appoint receiver pend ng appeal—Inherent jurisdiction and civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 151 Where an appeal has been preferred against an order refusing the appellant's application to be declared an insolvent the High Court has power in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction as a Court of appeal, to make an ad interim order for protection of the appellant and for the appointment of a receiver of his assets during the pendency of the appeal. Panchanan Sinha v Drunk Nath Roy 31 I J 29 Hickam Chand Dutt v Kamalchand Singh 30 C L J 67 relied on. As there appeared to be substantial points in controversy in the case which required consideration on the High Court granted ad interim protection pend ng appeal to the appellant and also appointed a receiver of his assets. *ANAND KARAN v BASIRUDIN AHMED (1910) 14 C W N 586

2. ——— Punjab Laws Act (IV of 1872) s 27—Order of Insolvent Estates Court at Amritsar declaring debtors insolvent and appointing a Receiver—Subsequent order of High Court, Bombay under II and Ist bet (Under Insolvency Act) declaring some debtors insolvent and vesting the r property in Official Assignee Bombay. By the provisions of the Punjab Laws Act (IV of 1872) as to the property in the Punjab of debtors who have by an order under the Act been declared insolvent the Court is entrusted (by s 27) with merely administrative powers with regard to it and no transfer of the property takes place. Held, therefore by the Judicial Committee (reversing the decision of the Chief Court) that where such an order had been made by the Insolvent Estates Court at Amritsar in respect of certain debtors carrying on business at (amongst other places) Amritsar and Bombay and a Receiver of the r property had been appointed by the Court a subsequent order of the High Court of Bombay in its Insolvency Jurisdiction made under the Indian Insolvency Act II (and Ist bet. c 21) declaring the same debtors insolvent and vesting the r property in the Official Assignee of Bombay had the effect, notwithstanding that it was of later date than the order of the Punjab Court of vesting all the property of the debtors including that in the Punjab, in the Official Assignee of Bombay. The High Court had rightly held that the Insolvent debtor sections of the Civil Procedure Code (Act

INSOLVENCY—contd.

XIV of 1881) were not applicable to the case. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, BOMBAY, v REGISTRAR, SMALL CAUSE COURT, AMRITSAR (1910)

I L R. 37 Calc. 418

3. ———— Insolvency in foreign jurisdiction—Effect of in other jurisdictions—Discharge of debts—Burden of proof Insolvency does not of itself operate as a discharge of debts in all jurisdictions. In the absence of authority that insolvency does so operate in a particular jurisdiction the Court is not entitled to assume in favour of a defendant that the debt is discharged by his insolvency in that jurisdiction. RANGASWAMI PADAYACHI v NARAYANASWAMI PADAYACHI (1910) . . . I L R. 34 Mad. 247

4. ———— Adjudication in England—Trustee in Bankruptcy—Petition to the Indian Court to act in aid of, and to be auxiliary to, the English Court—Examination of witness—Jurisdiction—Bankruptcy, Act, 1883 (46 and 47 Viet c 52) ss 27, 118—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1909), s 126 The firm of L. King & Co. carrying on business in London as well as in Calcutta was adjudicated bankrupt in England, and a Trustee in Bankruptcy of the property of the firm was appointed by the English Court. On an application of the Trustee in Bankruptcy to that Court, it was ordered that the High Court of Judicature in Bengal be requested to act in aid of and to be auxiliary to it. The Trustee in Bankruptcy, thereupon, petitioned the High Court in Bengal presenting the order of the English Court and seeking the assistance of the High Court in aid about the said insolvency. He obtained an order that the High Court of Judicature in Bengal and its officers do act in aid and be auxiliary to the High Court of Justice in England and, further, that James, the Manager in Calcutta of the firm of L. King & Co., do personally attend before this Court to be examined before it. Upon James appearing on the date fixed for his examination and objecting that he ought not to be examined, because the order ought not to have been made—Held, that to get the jurisdiction to examine James as a witness, there must be a request from the English Court asking this Court to act in aid, and a letter of request from the one Court to the other ought to have been sent, and that the order of the English Court presented by the Trustee in Bankruptcy was not sufficient to give this Court jurisdiction. In re L. King & Co., Bankrupts (1911) . . . I L R. 38 Calc. 542

5. ———— Banker and customer—Money held by banker in suspense account—Fiduciary relationship. Certain monies were held by A & Co., bankers, in suspense on the claimant's account. Pending negotiations as to its investment the bankers failed—Held, per MILLER, J. and MENON, JJ. (ABDUL RAHIM, J. dissenting), that the money was not held in a fiduciary capacity and the relationship of banker and customer existed between the parties. Per MILLER, J.—When a man pays money into a bank, whether he is a customer or not the presumption in the absence of other evidence will be that he pays the money in to be held by the banker as bankers ordinarily hold the moneys of their customers. Official Assignee v. Smith, 1 L. P. 32 Mad 68, followed. Per ABDUL RAHIM, J.—Money held by a banker to a suspense account does not amount to payment to the bank. Commercial Bank of Australia

INSOLVENCY—contd

v Official Assignee of the Estate of Wilson & Co., [1933] A C 181, followed. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v MILAPPARANAOVAR SANKAJANA SAKAYA NIDHI (1910) I L R. 34 Mad 125

6. ———— Insolvency in Presidency Towns—Appeal under the Letters Patent, s 15—Indian Insolvency Act, 11 & 12 Viet, Ch 21—High Court Act, 24 & 25 Viet, Ch 104—Banker and customer, relationship of—Fiduciary capacity, money held in. A further appeal lies under s 15 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of two Judges of the High Court who differ in opinion in an appeal from the Commissioner in Insolvency. Under s 11 of the High Court Act, 24 & 25 Viet, Ch. 104, the Indian Insolvency Act, s 73, is not applicable to the High Court, it being inconsistent with s 15 of the Letters Patent. A customer instructed his banker to purchase a Government Promissory note with money standing to his credit with the banker. Before doing so the banker failed. On a motion by the customer to have his amount paid in full—Held, per MILLER, J.—A mere direction by a customer to a banker to apply money at credit of the former's account in a particular way does not alter the relationship between banker and customer. Per MENON J. (dissenting from his judgment in the same case reported in 1 L. R. 33 Mad at p. 146). The bare undertaking of the banker to purchase a note could not have the effect of transferring the ownership of the sum of money necessary for the purchase from the banker to the customer. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v LUPPIAN (1910)

I L R. 34 Mad 121

7. ———— Effect of adjudication order—Property situate at Delhi attached by order of District Court of Delhi—Title of Official Assignee—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1909) ss 17, 126—Auxiliary and—Provincial Insolvency Act (111 of 1907), s 59 Under s 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act on the making of an order of adjudication by this Court the property of the insolvent situate in every part of British India vests in the Official Assignee of Bengal. Official Assignee, Bombay v Populstar, Small Cause Court, Amritsar, 1 L. R. 37 Calc 418, 1 L. R. 37 I & 86, followed. Where prior to the order of adjudication by this Court, certain properties at Delhi belonging to the insolvent, were attached under degrees of the District Court of Delhi and the subsequent application of the Official Assignee of Bengal for realisation of the insolvent's assets so attached was refused by the District Judge, and the properties were thereafter sold in execution and the sale proceeds brought into the District Court an order was made under s 120 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act requesting the District Judge of Delhi to act in aid under s 50 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. In re JEWANDAS JHAWAR (1912)

I L R. 40 Calc. 78

8. ———— Title of official Assignee—Attachment under Mortgage decree and order for sale of mortgaged property—Execution order under s 2 of Insolvency Act (11 & 12 Viet, c 21) effect of—Sale after waiting order—Sale by Official Assignee to plaintiff—Title of purchaser from Official Assignee as against judgment creditor purchasing at sale in execution of his own decree—Notice. An attachment in execution of a money-decree on a mortgage of land, followed by an order for sale of the interest of the judgment debtor does not create any charge on the land. Sarkis v Bunkho Bux, 1 N W P 172, referred to. An attachment prevents and avoids any private alienation, but does not invalidate an alienation by operation of law such as is effected by a vesting order under the Indian Insolvency Act (11 & 12 Vict., c. 21); and an order for sale though it binds the parties does not confer title. Previous to the 8th September 1904 a colliery leased to the judgment debtors was attached under a mortgage decree by the respondents (judgment-creditors), and an order for sale on 5th September was made but at the request of the judgment-debtors the sale was postponed until the 10th. On 8th September the judgment-debtors filed their petition in the Insolvency Court in Calcutta and the usual vesting order was made on the same day. On 12th September the execution proceedings were stayed. After issue of notice, on the application of the respondents, to the Official Assignee to show cause why he should not be substituted in the place of the judgment debtors, the Subordinate Judge on 10th January 1905, finding that the notice had been duly served, made the order for substitution and fixed the sale for 6th March 1905, on which day the property was sold, and purchased by the respondents who in June were put into possession. Meanwhile on 23rd May 1905 the Official Assignee with leave from the Insolvency Court in March 1905 sold the property to a purchaser, who on 24th June 1905 sold it to the plaintiffs by whom on 16th July 1905 the present suit was brought for possession of the colliery. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the notice calling on the Official Assignee to show cause why he should not be substituted for the judgment-debtors was not a proper notice under s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882. A notice under that section should have called on him to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him. But assuming the notice to have been duly served (which was denied) the sale was altogether irregular and inoperative. The property having vested in the Official Assignee it was wrong to allow the sale to proceed at all. The judgment-creditors had no charge on the land, and the Court could not properly give them such a charge at the expense of the other creditors of the insolvents. In the second place, no proper steps had been taken to bring the Official Assignee before the Court and obtain an order binding on him and accordingly he was not bound by anything which had been done. In the third place, the judgment-debtors had, at the time of the sale, no right, title or interest which could be sold or vested in a purchaser, and consequently the respondents acquired no title to the property. Malkarjua v Narkari, 1 L. R. 25 Bom 337, 1 L. R. 27 I. A. 216, distinguished. No proper notice was served under s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code, and the respondents had full notice, and were responsible for the irregularities of the procedure adopted. Raghu Nath Das v Sordar Das Khatri (1914)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L. R. 42 Calc 72

9. ——— Interim Receiver—Insolvent's money, attachment of, before the adjudication order—Provincial Insolvency Act (111 of 1907), s. 13, cl. (2), s. 16, cl. (6), s. 34, cl. (1)—Bankruptcy Act of 1883 (46 & 47 Vict., c. 52) s. 40. An interim receiver is appointed for the protection of the estate of the debtor for the benefit of the entire body of creditors. Ex parte Fox, L. R. 17 Q. B. D. 4, referred to. Cl. (1) of s. 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act restricts the operation of s. 16, cl. (6) thereof. A creditor, who had attached a sum of money due to the insolvent before his estate vested in the receiver appointed after the adjudication order, is entitled to apply it exclusively in satisfaction of his debt. Mahnu Sardar v Khitish Chandra Baverjee (1914)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L. R. 42 Calc 289

10. ——— Practice—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1907) s. 36 (4), (5), whether applicable to contentious matters. S. 30 (4) and (5) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909, is intended to provide a summary procedure for ordering payment of debts due, and delivery of property belonging to an insolvent, where there is no dispute. It is not intended for contentious matters or for following property the subject of fraudulent preference or dishonest concealment. In re J. M. Lucas and Another (1914)

I L. R. 42 Calc 109

11. ——— Infant—Whether can be adjudicated an insolvent—An infant cannot be adjudicated an insolvent under any circumstances. Ex parte Jones, L. R. 18 Ch. D. 103 followed. Sital Prasad and Others, Re (1910)

I L. R. 43 Calc 1157

12. ——— Security for costs—Appeal—Jurisdiction—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1907) s. 8 (2) (b) Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908), ss. 117, 151 and O. XLI, r. 10—Practice. On an application to the Court of Appeal for security for costs in an appeal from an order of a Judge in insolvency—Held, that the Court has jurisdiction to entertain the application under s. 117 and O. XLI, r. 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure read with s. 8 (2) (b) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. Sesha Ayyar v Jagannathan Lal, 1 L. R. 27 Mad. 121, not followed. Lakshmiya Dasi v Rakesh Das (1913)

I L. R. 43 Calc 243

13. ——— Application to wrong Court—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 11, inapplicability of, to insolvency proceedings—Appeal, notice of only to interested parties. S. 14 of the Limitation Act does not apply to proceedings under the Provincial Insolvency Act. Hence an application filed in a wrong Court to declare a debtor an insolvent and represented to a right Court can be said to be presented only on the date of its representation and if on such date of its representation the application is not maintainable for any reason such as that the act of fraudulent preference, as in this case, having occurred more than three months before the date of representation, it is liable to be rejected. In an appeal by a creditor in insolvency proceedings, it is sufficient if notice is given of the appeal only to the parties directly affected by the order of the lower Court, and not to all creditors who may have any remote or possible interest in the result of the appeal. Trasi Deva Rao v Parameshwaraya (1914)

I L. R. 39 Mad 74

14. ——— Debtor presenting his own petition—Application for discharge—Abuse of process of Court—Jurisdiction to annul adjudication—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1907), ss. 14, 15, 21, 35—Rules of the Insolvency

INSOLVENCY—contd.

Act, 1909, s 112 (a) Where debtors were adjudicated insolvents and an order for annulment of that adjudication was made, and the debtors subsequently presented their petition to be again adjudicated insolvents on the same material and in respect of the same debt and the same creditors as in their prior application for adjudication Held, that the subsequent application to be adjudged insolvents was an abuse of the process of the Court and that the Court had jurisdiction to annul the latter adjudication in insolvency Ex parte Painter, [1895] 1 Q B 85, In re Bettie, [1901] 2 K B 32, In re Hancock, [1901] 1 A B 535, In re Archer, 20 T L R 390, Sannuruddin v Kadumoyi Das, 12 C L J 445, Ponnamma Chetti v Narayamma Chetti, 25 Mad L J 515, Trilok Nath v Badri Das 1 L R 36 All 250, Re Aranyayal Sakhayath Moodliar, 1 L P 21 Bom 297, and Uday Chand Maity v Ram Kumar Khara 12 C L J, 400, referred to MALCHAND v GOPAL CHANDRA GHOSAL (1916)

I. L. R 44 Cal 899

15 ——— Order of administration—Attachment by creditor prior to order—Sale after order—Rights of attaching creditor—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s 53 (1) 108, 109 S 53 (1) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act does not apply to an administration of the insolvent estate of a deceased person under ss 108 and 109 of the Act. But as an attachment in this country only prevents alienation and does not confer any title or create any charge or lien on the attached property such as attaches in England upon seizure under a writ of fi fa, a creditor who has attached property in execution of a decree has no rights therein prior to sale and, upon the making of an administration order before the property is sold, the property vests in the Official Assignee, and the attaching creditor is relegated to the same position as the other creditors and the sale proceeds are distributable rateably Pearock v Madan Gopal, 1 L R 29 Cal 428, Raghunath Das v Sunder Das Khatri, 1 L R 42 Cal 72 L R 41 I A 251, followed Hasbuck v Clark, [1898] 2 Q B 23, [1899] 1 Q B 699, Johnson v Pickering, [1908] 1 A B 1, In re Clark, [1893] 1 Ch 336, Ex parte Williams In re Davies 7 Ch 314, Slater v Pinder 6 Exch 236, 7 Exch 95, considered Re PREM LAL DHAR (1917)

I. L. R. 44 Cal 1016

16 ——— Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909, s. 36—Whether applications under may be made ex parte—S 112, rules framed thereunder—Pr 17, 18, 19 and 30 According to the rules framed by the Calcutta High Court under s 112 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, applications under s 36 may be, and are intended to be, made ex parte. KISSORY MOHAN ROY, In re (1916)

I. L. R. 44 Cal 236

17. ——— Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909, ss 33 to 37, 43—Examination of persons under s 36—Application for examination, what should contain—Order, if may be made after insolvent's discharge—Prospect of litigation with Official Assignee, no ground for refusing order. An application for examination of a person under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act should state shortly the nature of the information likely to be given by the person sought to be examined and the dealings or properties of the insolvent to which such information will relate.

INSOLVENCY—contd

The Court can, in a proper case, even after the discharge of the insolvent, make an order for the examination of a person under s 36. There is nothing in the Insolvency Act to limit the powers of the Court under that section to the period before the insolvent's discharge, though, having regard to s 43, it may be that the provisions of s 36 will not be applicable to the insolvent himself after his discharge. An order for examination under s 36 should not be refused merely because litigation may ultimately ensue between the Official Assignee and the person sought to be examined Pe HARIPADA RAKSHIT Ex parte BRINDISI DASSEE (1916) 1 L. R. 44 Cal 374

18. ——— Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907, ss. 5, 6, 15 and 16—Petition by debtor—Debtor's right to order of adjudication where all the requirements of the Act have been fulfilled—Dismissal of petition as 'an abuse of process of Court' a matter to be dealt with on application for discharge On an application under the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) by a debtor to be declared an insolvent where all the conditions specified in the Act have admittedly been satisfied, he is entitled to an order of adjudication. This does not depend on the discretion of the Court, but is a statutory right of which he cannot be deprived by the Court on the ground that his petition is 'an abuse of the process of the Court'. To this effect there is a current of authority in India that the stage at which to visit with its due consequences any misconduct of a debtor is when his application for discharge comes before the Court, and not on the initial proceeding. CHITRAPAT SINGH DUCAR v KHARAG SINGH LACHMIRAM (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 535

19 ——— Adjudication, date of taking effect of—Creditors, claims of—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907), ss 16 (6), 36 The provisions of s 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act are to be read with s 16 (6) of that Act. An order of adjudication relates back to, and takes effect from, the date of the presentation of the petition for the purpose of making the properties of the insolvent liable to the claims of the creditors. RAHUL CHANDRA FINEATT v SUDHINDRA NATH BOSE (1910)

I L R 46 Cal 891

20 ——— Annulment of insolvency—Suit by receivers commenced before annulment—Suit maintainable after annulment Held, that a suit brought by the receivers in insolvency with the object of ascertaining the factum and extent of indebtedness of the defendants to the insolvents did not necessarily abate on the insolvency being annulled but might be carried on by the receivers themselves, if not by the receivers. MANVU LAL v NALIN KUMAR MILKERRI (1918)

I L R. 41 All 200

21. ——— Position of mortgagee of insolvent—Whether mortgagee entitled to receive interest at contractual rate up to date of payment A mortgagee from a person adjudicated an insolvent under the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907, is entitled, as a secured creditor, to receive out of the proceeds of the sale of the mortgaged property his principal, interest and costs, and he is entitled to interest up to the date of payment. JOGAT KISHORE v PANKAJ CHANDRA (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All 431

22 ——— Rights of judgment-creditor—Of insolvent as against the receiver in respect

INSOLVENCY—contd

of execution of his decrees before and after adjudication. In 1914 one B P attached in execution of his own decree a decree held by his judgment debtors against other parties. In the same year a petition in insolvency was filed against the judgment debtors and in 1915 an interim receiver was appointed. The judgment debtors deposited the amount due under the attached decree in Court to the credit of P P, who proceeded to draw out a considerable part of it. After this the judgment debtors were declared insolvents and subsequently to the adjudication B P assigned his rights under the attached decree to one M S Heli that the receiver had no right to recover the money realized by B P prior to the adjudication but in respect of any balance of the decretal money remaining due after the date of the adjudication the assignee might prove his claim as against the insolvents. The assignee would however be bound to account for any part of the decretal money which he might have realized after the adjudication. Sri Chand v Murari Lal I L R 31 All 623 and Dambar Singh v Munawar Ali Khan I L R 40 All 82 referred to MUHAMMAD SHARIF v RADHA MOHAN (1918) I L R 41 All. 274

23 Jurisdiction—Order by Registrar in Insolvency appeal from—Lamisai v Reference under Sec 11 s 13 of Act III of 1909—Validity of mortgage question of—Consent of parties—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) s 6 101 Sec 11 s 13—The Calcutta Insolvency Act 1910 v 5 The period of limitation prescribed by s. 101 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) for an appeal from an order made by the Registrar in Insolvency shall be computed not as from the date when the findings of the Registrar are signed or filed but as from the date when the report is signed by the Registrar and the matter is thereby completed. Upon application by certain persons claiming to be mortgagees of an insolvent's estate an order was made by the Court directing them to prove the mortgage before the Registrar in Insolvency under s. 13 of the second schedule of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) Held, that under such reference to him the Registrar had no jurisdiction to deal with the question of the validity or otherwise of the mortgage, even with the consent of the parties before him so as to affect the interest of infants adversely by his deeds on LALBHAI SHAH In re (1920) I L R 47 Cal 721

24 Procedure and Practice—Contempt—Verbal order by the Official Assignee to attend—Dissatisfaction of order—Motion to commit—Voice of application—Service of affidavits—Irregularity—Waiver—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s 33 (1) (c) (e) and (f) —Insolvency Rules Nos 26 and 37 Having regard to the terms of s. 33 (2) (e) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act there is no need for the Official Assignee to apply to the Court for an order for the insolvent's attendance nor any need for the Court's order to be in writing to be served personally on the insolvent and to contain a notice that unless the insolvent complied with it he would be committed for contempt. An order given by the Official Assignee to attend his office in pursuance of s. 33 (2) (e) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act need not necessarily be in writing. If an order is given by him verbally it is valid and there is a duty upon the insolvent to comply therewith. Non compliance with such order will render the insolvent liable to be punished for contempt of Court. There is no express provision that affidavits in support of the application for contempt should be served at the same time as the notice of application. Per CURRIE. In future, if the Official Assignee intends to apply for a committal order for contempt of Court he will be well advised to put his order into writing and have it served on the persons intended to be proceeded against, with a notice that if the order is not complied with proceedings for contempt will be taken. Further, it is eminently desirable from all points of view that the procedure laid down by the Rules should be strictly complied with. BYRAMULL BAKKA v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BENGAL (1919)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L R 47 Cal 56

25 Appeal by a creditor—Receiver made party—Respondent—Appeal of incompetent because other creditors not made parties In an appeal by one of the creditors against an order overruling his contention that he was in the position of a secured creditor the Appellant joined as party Respondent the Receiver. Two of the creditors appeared by leave to support the order appealed against, but other creditors who did not appear to contest the Appellant's case in the lower Court were not made parties to the appeal. Held—That the appeal was competent and it was not necessary to make the last mentioned creditors parties to it. THE EAST INDIA CIGARETTE MANUFACTURING CO. LD v AWANDA M HAN BASAK 24 C W N 401

26 Person who claims title to property attached by the Insolvency Court as belonging to the insolvent—whether competent to bring a regular suit to establish his rights after the Insolvency Court has rejected his application to have the property released—Provincial Insolvency Act III of 1907—Punjab Laws Act, IV of 1972 Held, that the plaintiffs who claimed title to certain property attached by the Insolvency Court as belonging to an insolvent were competent to bring a regular suit to establish their rights and that the order of the Insolvency Court rejecting their application for the removal of the attachment was no bar to such suit whether the case was governed by the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act or of the Punjab Laws Act. Duni Chand v Muhammad Hussain (22 P R 1917) Agindul Chavital v Official Assignee (I L R 35 Bom 473) Barlow v Cockrane (2 Beag L R O C 56) Satja Kumar v Manager, Bankers Bank Ltd (22 Cal. W N 700) and Ishad Hussain v Gopal Nath (I L R 41 All 378) referred to Abdul Latheef v Official Assignee of Madras (I L R 49 Mad 1173) Official Assignee of Madras v Mangayara, Acurasa (17 Indian Cases 293), and Pita Ram v Jykar Singh (I L R 39 All 626), dissented from. RAM PYARA v BHAWA MAL I L R 2 Lah 147

27 Member of an agricultural tribe—Whether Insolvency Court can proceed against the land of the insolvent by making a temporary alienation without the intervention of the Collector—Provincial Insolvency Act III of 1907, s 16 (2) (a) and 21 (2)—Punjab Alienation of Land Act XIII of 1900, s 16—Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908, ss 60, 63 and 72 Held, that an Insolvency Court is competent to proceed against the land of an insolvent, who is a member of an agricultural tribe and effect a temporary alienation, and it is not necessary that the receiver or the Court should proceed through the Collector Bador Din v Bura Mal (4 P. R 1903), referred to, also Punjab Alienation of Land Act, s 16 and Provincial Insolvency Act, ss. 16 (2) (a) and 21. Provisions which trench on the usual jurisdiction of a Civil Court to execute its decrees or orders must be strictly construed Sardarna Datar Kaur v Ram Rattan (1 L. R. 1 Lahore 192), (F. B.), followed Held, also, that a Court or receiver proceeding under the Insolvency Act should proceed as far as possible on the same lines as a Court acting in execution of a decree—vide s 21 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act—and that consequently a farm or mortgage made of the insolvent's land should not be for a term exceeding 20 years and should be automatically redeemed by the profits, the debt being in either case extinguished MAJJI v GIRDHARI LAL

INSOLVENCY—contd.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 78

23. —Whether sons of deceased insolvent have locus standi—In insolvency proceedings—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907), ss. 24, 27, 47. On general principle as well as on the express provisions in s. 24 (3) read with the further provisions in s. 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, it is incumbent on the Court to permit the representatives of the insolvent to appear at the enquiry held, with a view to framing the schedule under s. 24 of the Act. Queris: Whether the representatives of the insolvent have locus standi to submit a proposal for composition? SRIPAT SINGH AND ANOTHER v PRODIPAT KIMAR TAGORE (1920).

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 87

29. —Application for examination of witness—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s. 36—Appeal—Under the rules of the High Court an application for examination of a witness under s. 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) should be made ex parte In re KISHORE MOHAN ROY, 20 C. W. N. 1135, referred to ALBERT FELIX SELDANA, Re SURESH LAL KARNANI v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE (1921).

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1089

INSOLVENCY ACT (11 & 12 VICT., c. 21).

See INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 42 Calc. 72

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1909, s. 6

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 464

s. 7—

See INSOLVENCY, I. L. R. 42 Calc. 72

ss. 7, 27, 49—Salary earned by insolvent after vesting order and before discharge, vests in Official Assignee, who however must get an order under s. 27. The earnings of an insolvent, including salary, after his insolvency and before his discharge vest in the Official Assignee under s. 7 of the Insolvency Act. The effect of s. 27 of the Act is not to cut down the operation of s. 7 but to require the Official Assignee before obtaining payment of any salary due to insolvent to obtain an Order of Court as to the amount necessary for the maintenance of the insolvent. A judgment creditor of the insolvent who is aware of the insolvency and whose judgment debt is included in the schedule cannot attach such salary without the giving Official Assignee an opportunity of obtaining an order under s. 27. The insolvent debtor has the right to object to such attachment as it is open to him to show that property attached as his belongs to another RANGANATHA RAO v ANANDA CHAMAR (1010) I. L. R. 34 Mad. 183

INSOLVENCY ACT—contd.

ss. 7, 27, 49—contd.

s. 24—

See IRUSTER

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 712

s. 39—Set off—Right of set off exists against Official Assignee in respect of bills discounted before and dishonoured after insolvency. Under ss. 39 and 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act, anything can be set off in India which can be set off in England under the Bankruptcy law in force for the time being. Mutual credits, which may be set off, include credits which have a natural tendency to terminate in debt and not merely credits which must terminate in debts. Claims in respect of bills discounted for the insolvent before insolvency and dishonoured by the makers after insolvency, can be set off under s. 39 of the Indian Insolvency Act. Miller v National Bank of India, 1 L. R. 19 Cal. 149, dissenting from Young v Bank of Bengal, 1 Moo. I. A. 57, referred to and explained Abager v Currie, 2 M. A. W. 751, followed. In the matter of CANTON & Co. (1909).

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 53

ss. 39, 40—'Mutual credits'—Relate to date of vesting order—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, s. 69—Money deposited as security under section does not become the property of the decree-holder—Right to set off claims for unliquidated damages. Money deposited in Court under s. 69 of the Small Cause Courts Act does not become the property of the decree holder. Before the date of the vesting order an insolvent had obtained two decrees against a debtor. In the case of one of the decrees the debtor applied for a reference under s. 69 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act and the amount deposited by him remained in Court on the date of the vesting order. The High Court declining to express an opinion on the reference, the decree became absolute and the money was paid to the Official Assignee. Before the date of the vesting order the debtor had brought a suit against the insolvent, and a decree was passed therein against the insolvent after the vesting order. Held, that the debtor was entitled under s. 39 of the Insolvency Act to set off against the amount of the two decrees obtained against him the amount due by the insolvent under the decree obtained by the debtor. The decree in respect of which the deposit was made remained unsatisfied in law on the date of the vesting order and was an item of credit within the meaning of s. 39 on such date. The subsequent payment to the Official Assignee did not deprive the debtor of his right of set off. Per KRISHNASWAMY AYYAR, J.—Claims for unliquidated damages cannot be the subject of set off as mutual credits under s. 39 of the Indian Insolvency Act. Such claims are however mutual dealings within s. 38 of the English Acts of 1869 and 1883 and can form the subject of set off under s. 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act which makes the provisions of the subsequent English Acts applicable to the proof of claims under the Indian Insolvency Act. CHANDALVARAYA MUDALI v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1910).

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 467

INSOLVENCY ACT—contd

s 73—Person aggrieved.—Who is—Official Assignee, right of, to appeal as person aggrieved—Adversary relationship—Effect of Demand by creditor in creating fiduciary relationship between him and debtor A 'person aggrieved', within the meaning of s. 73 of the Indian Insolvency Act, is a person against whom a decision has been pronounced which has wrongly refused him something which he had a right to demand. Where a debtor whose claim to be paid in full was rejected by the Official Assignee moved the Insolvency Court making the Official Assignee a party and obtained an order directing payment in full, the Official Assignee is a person aggrieved within the meaning of s. 73 of the Act and is entitled to appeal against such order. Ex parte Subbottam in re Subbottam, 14 Ch D 458 465, referred to. In re Lamb & Co [1894] 2 Q B 505 referred to. The Official Assignee, in refusing the creditor's claim does not act judicially and the notice of motion to Court cannot be considered as an appeal against a judicial or quasi-judicial proceeding of the Assignee. Where a person pays money into a Bank without giving any directions, the money becomes the property of the Bank and the relation between the Bank and the person paying is that of debtor and creditor. Per MURDO J—Where the person paying money without any directions makes a proper demand for payment after the money has become payable, the debtor is bound to remit at once such money to the creditor, and the debtor thereafter holds such money in a fiduciary capacity just as if the creditor had received payment and deposited it with directions to remit. Per ABDUL RAHIM, J—It is not competent to a creditor by making a demand upon his debtor, to convert the latter into a trustee in respect of the amount due. Such a change in the relationship can be brought about only by the debtor agreeing to accept the altered position and by his doing something towards effectuating the trust. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v RAMACHANDRA IYER (1909)

I L R. 23 Mad 134

s 86—Judgment entered up under the above section—Insolvent absent. After due notice being served by the Official Assignee an insolvent failed to appear at the hearing. Judgment was entered up against the insolvent under s. 86 of the Indian Insolvency Act. In re BALCHAND SUBBANA (1913)

19 C. W. N. 433

INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1903)See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT*INSOLVENCY COURTSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 11. I L R. 39 All 626

sanction of—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1903) ss 17, 103 and 104. I L R. 35 Bom 63INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGSSee CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s. 193 (b) (c)

I L R. 37 Mad 107

Attachment before judgment of sums due to debtor—Order directing payment

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS—contd.

to decree holder—Injunction restraining payment, validity of—PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907), ss 34 35 and 47—Assets realized—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908), s. 151 and I XXXIX, r 1—Injunction A instituted a suit against B in August, 1916, and on 25th September, 1916 attached, in anticipation of judgment, a certain sum of money in the hands of the District Board which was due to B. On the 12th April, 1917, B filed an insolvency petition before the District Judge. On the 2nd June 1917, A got his decree, and on the 6th the executing Court issued a precept to the District Board to pay to the decree holder the amount in deposit at the credit of B. On the 17th B made an application to the District Judge, asking for an injunction directing the District Board to stop payment. The injunction was issued. Held, (1) that the District Judge had no power to issue an injunction upon the District Board as the District Board was not a party before him. (2) That the District Judge had no power to issue an injunction on A as it did not appear that the conditions enumerated in O XXXIX, r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 existed. (3) That the facts of the case did not indicate that justice equity and good conscience required that the decree holder who instituted his suit before the insolvency petition was filed, should be kept out of his money. (4) That the case was not affected by ss. 34 and 35 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907 as there had been no adjudication of insolvency and no receiver had been appointed. (5) That from the 2nd June the amount in dispute became the decree holder's money, and the District Board were merely trustees on his behalf. (6) That in this case the assets were realized within the meaning of s. 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907. RAM SUNDARAI v RAM DATTAN RAM (1918)

3 Pat. L. J. 456

Order disallowing a claim to goods seized by the Official Assignee after adjunction—Suit to set aside the order, maintainability of. No suit lies to set aside an order made by the Insolvency Court dismissing on the merits a claim to goods seized by the Official Assignee after adjudication. Followed in The Official Assignee of Madras v Mangayarkarasi Ammal I L R. 40, Mad 1173. ABDUL LATHEEF v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1912)

I L R. 40 Mad 1173

Whether sons of deceased insolvent have locus standi in insolvency proceedings—PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) ss 24 27, 47. On general principle as well as on the express provisions in s. 24 (3) read with the further provisions in s. 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act it is incumbent on the Court to permit the representatives of the insolvent to appear at the enquiry held, with a view to framing the schedule under s. 24 of the Act. Quere Whether the representatives of the insolvent have locus standi to submit a proposal for composition? SRIPAT SINGH AND ANOTHER v PRADYAT KUMAR TAGORE (1922)

I L R. 48 Cal 37

INSOLVENCY RULES.

rule 37—(Bom).

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1903), ss 6, 27, 36 and 121.

I L R. 37 Bom. 464

INSOLVENCY RULES—*concl'd—Rule 5 (Calc.)—

See INSOLVENCY . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 721

INSOLVENT.

See ARBITRATION

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 555

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882, CH. XX, s 351— I. L. R. 35 All. 402

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, ss 2 AND 50 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 895

See INSOLVENCY

See INSOLVENCY ACTS.

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT, 1909—

ss 7, 80 . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 473

ss 15 AND 21(2)

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 200

s. 17 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 359

s 18 (J) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 312

ss 38 AND 52 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 555

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)—

ss. 16 AND 22. I. L. R. 39 All. 204

ss. 18, 36 AND 47

I. L. R. 37 All. 65

s 36 . . I. L. R. 39 All. 95

I. L. R. 36 All. 549

s. 43 . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 673

ss. 43 AND 46 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 213

ss. 54 AND 55 I. L. R. 43 All. 427

s. 69 . . I. L. R. 43 All. 406 criminal proceedings against—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909), ss 17, 103 AND 104

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 63

execution of fictitious sale-deed by—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s 18. I. L. R. 39 All. 633

1. Insolvent, undischarged, suit by—Security for costs—Cause of action accruing after the order of adjudication—The amount claimed in excess of the debts proveable in insolvency—Intervention of the Official Assignee—Nominal plaintiff—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 151 An undischarged insolvent brought an action for the recovery of a sum due in respect of brokerage from the defendant and earned by him subsequent to his adjudication, the amount claimed being in excess of the amount of his debts proveable in insolvency. The defendant applied for an order that the plaintiff be directed to give security for the costs of the suit. Held, that the plaintiff was not a nominal plaintiff suing merely for the benefit of the Official Assignee and so no order for security for costs should be made. That the application is not covered by any provision in the Code of Civil Procedure, but that Code is not exhaustive and it must be dealt with under the general law. That it is well settled in English law that a cause of action which accrues to a bankrupt subsequent to the adjudication in respect of after acquired property, remains vested in him and does not vest in his Trustees in Bankruptcy and that he is the proper plaintiff to sue in respect thereof and that anything recovered by him remains in the bankrupt until the Trustee intervenes and the same principles are applicable in this country. That it is also well settled that a plaintiff will not be compelled to give security for costs merely because he is a pauper or a bankrupt. MURRAY & EAST BENGAL MAHAJAN FLUTILLA CO., LD. (1918) . . . 22 C. W. N. 1018

INSOLVENT—cont'd

2. Deposition—Evidence—Admissibility—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s 36 Deposition of an insolvent examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), is admissible as evidence against him in a criminal charge. Reg v. Erdheini (1896), 2 Q B 260, Reg v. Widdop, L. R. 2 C C R 3, Reg v. Scott, 25 L. J. (M C) 123, Reg v. Sken, 28 L. J. (M C) 97, Reg v. Robinson, L. R. 1 C C R 80, Ex parte Hall, in re Cooper, 19 Ch D 530, referred to JOSEPH PERRY, In re (1919) I. L. R. 46 Calc. 994

3. Insolvent acquiring property after vesting order but before his final discharge—Insolvent can alienate property bona fide and for value, before intervention of Official Assignee The property, movable or immovable, acquired by an insolvent after the adjudication order but before his final discharge, can be transferred by him provided the transaction is bona fide and for value and is completed before the intervention of the Official Assignee. Cohen v. Mitchell, 25 Q B 262, followed. ALIMAHMAD ABDUL HUSSEIN v VADILAL DEVCHAND (1919)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 890

4. Charge for preventing production of books—Notice—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), ss 103, 104—Intent, finding as to—Evidence. In a charge framed under s. 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), for preventing production of books, there were some verbal differences between the notice and the charge. Held, that the accused could not be prejudiced by such trivial difference. Held, also, that removing a document is a mode of preventing its production under s. 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. At the trial on such charge deposition of the insolvent taken under s. 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act was adduced as evidence for the prosecution. Held, that such evidence was admissible under s. 17 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872). LEWIS v Official Assignee, A O No 29 A of 1914, and R. v Ingham, 29 L. J. N S 19, distinguished. JOSEPH PERRY v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA (1919) . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 254

5. Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909)—Discharge granted by the Insolvency Court in Bombay—Opposing creditor filing suit against insolvent after discharge, in foreign Court—Foreign Court decreeing claim of opposing creditor—Insolvent applying to Court granting discharge to restrain opposing creditor from proceeding with his suit or executing the decree—Jurisdiction of the Insolvency Court to restrain proceedings in foreign Court—Order of discharge of Insolvency Court in Bombay not binding on foreign Courts in the absence of reciprocity—Insolvent Court will not restrain opposing creditor from taking proceed.

INSOLVENT—contd.

sue in a foreign State if the Official Assignee is unable to recover insolvent's property in that State—Equitable Jurisdiction to act in personam—Practice. On 27th November, 1918 the appellant applied for insolvency in Bombay under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909. The respondent was one of the opposing creditors, and his debt mentioned in the schedule was in respect of costs awarded to him by the High Court in a suit filed against him by the appellant. On 1st October 1918, the insolvency proceedings terminated and the appellant was granted his discharge. Thereafter, the respondent sued the appellant for the amount of his debt in the Court of Sirohi State and obtained a decree for Rs. 2,844-4-0. The appellant, thereupon, took out a rule in the Insolvency Court at Bombay calling upon the respondent to show cause why he should not be restrained from proceeding in the suit filed against the appellant in the Sirohi Court and from executing the decree in the said suit. The respondent contended that the appellant had property in the Sirohi State which the State refused to hand over to the Official Assignee in Bombay and that under s. 45 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act the Court had no jurisdiction to restrain the respondent from taking proceedings in the Sirohi State to recover his debt from the insolvent's property. The Trial Court discharged the rule on the respondent undertaking not to arrest the insolvent personally and to give notice to other creditors mentioned in the schedule of any property or money received in execution of the decree to enable them to claim rateable distribution. On appeal, ad id, confirming the order of the trial Court, (1) that though an order of discharge granted by the Insolvency Court in Bombay would be recognised by all Courts in the British Empire, still there would be no obligation on Courts outside British India to recognise the order of discharge as a complete release from debts mentioned in the order, (2) that if the appellant insolvent has assets in the Sirohi State which the Official Assignee was unable to get hold of, the respondent ought not to be restrained from taking proceedings in that State to recover his debt from any property of the insolvent situated in that State. Equitable jurisdiction of the Court to restrain a party before it from proceeding in an action in a foreign Court, discussed. Per MACLEOD, C. J.—It would be contrary to all ideas of equity that a party trading and incurring debts in Bombay and having property in foreign territory which the Official Assignee could not get hold of, should be able to completely get rid of all his liabilities as regards his creditors in the British India, and then proceed to enjoy his property outside British India, free from all those liabilities. Tenckhoff v. Lohmischand Manelchand (1919), 41 Bom. 272 and Carson Iron Company v. Molesworth (1935), 5 H. L. C. 415, referred to. LAKSHMINARAYAN v. POOTANCHAND PITAMBHER (1920)

1 L. R. 45 Bom. 550

Creditor causing seizure of property as that of an insolvent—Suit by real owner for damages—Liability of creditor. Where property is taken possession of as the property of an insolvent by the receiver in insolvency acting under orders of the court, and loss is caused thereby to the real owner of the property, it is not the receiver who is liable in respect of such loss, but the person at whose instance the court directed the receiver to take possession of the property. Abdul Rahim v. Sital Prasad, I. L. R. 41 All. 658, followed, BINDA PRASAD v. RAM CHANDAR, I. L. R. 43 All. 432

INSOLVENT—contd.

INSOLVENT PLAINTIFF.

See Costa, I. L. R. 46 Calo. 156

INSPECTION OF DOCUMENTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (V OF 1908)

O XI, R. 14 14 C. W. N. 147

See DISCOVERY, I. L. R. 38 Calo. 428

See BOLTTON'S LIEV. FOR CONTR.

I L. R. 35 Bom. 332

— made of—

See SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS.

I. L. R. 47 Calo. 647

INSTALMENT.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1909)

O XXIV, I L. R. 38 Bom. 32

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF

ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 15B.

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 190 310

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)

ART. I, ART. 75 I L. R. 35 All. 435

I. L. R. 41 All. 104

ART. 13, I. L. R. 43 All. 671

— default in payment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF

1908), s. 43 I. L. R. 39 Bom. 258

— payment by—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF

ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 15B

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 492

— power to grant—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF

ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 20

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 488

Contract—Default in payment of instalments—Waiver—Effect of the waiver. The plaintiff agreed to sell certain lands to the defendants for Rs. 1,000 in 1901 and put the latter in possession thereof the same day. The material stipulations in the contract were as follows:—(i) that the purchase money should be paid annually by instalments of Rs. 100 each on a certain day fixed in the contract, (ii) that in case of default in the payment of the first instalment on the due date, the plaintiff should be entitled to recover it as rent and sue for possession of the lands, (iii) that, in case of default in the payment of any three or four subsequent instalments on the due dates the plaintiff should be entitled to recover possession of the lands and claim the unpaid instalments as rent, and (iv) that on payment of all the instalments the title to the lands should be treated as having passed to the respondent by sale, but that in the meanwhile the plaintiff should continue owner thereof. In 1903, the plaintiff filed the present suit to recover possession of the lands, alleging default in the payment of the instalments which became due in 1904, 1905 and 1906. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiff had waived the payment of the first two instalments, and probably the third also. On appeal:—Held, confirming the decree, that as to the first three instalments the plaintiff dealt with the defendant in such a way as to show that he did not insist on payment on the dates fixed in the contract, that, therefore, after that course of conduct, he was not warranted in law in enforcing payment according to the strict terms of the contract without previous intimation to the defendant to that effect. Cornwall v Henson, [1900] 2 Ch 298, followed.

INSTALMENT—contd.

CHHAGAN v SUKA VALAD BARKU (1911)
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 511

INSTALMENT BOND.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXXIV, r. 14

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 981

See DECREE . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 840

See INTEREST . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 775

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 374

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908),
s. 75 I. L. R. 36 Mad. 66

SCH I, ART 74

SCH I, ART 132 . I. L. R. 37 All. 400
I. L. R. 43 All. 596

Consent not to sue on failure to pay instalment, if would amount to waiver—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art 75 Waiver is consent to dispense with or forego something to which a person is entitled. Where it was proved that demand was made in three successive years in respect of three instalments due upon an instalment bond, but the plaintiff consented not to sue for the whole amount as he was entitled to do under the bond for default on the first two occasions but refused to consent on the third: Held, that this amounted to a waiver of the payment of the two earlier instalments. When the instalment bond was executed on the 6th of November 1908 and provided payment of Rs. 10,000 by annual instalments of Rs. 400, commencing from the 30th of September 1909, and further that in case of default the whole amount payable on the bond was to fall due and the plaintiff waived the payment of the first two instalments as aforesaid and filed a suit for the recovery of the whole amount on the 12th of November 1914. Held, that this suit was not barred by limitation and it was decreed for Rs. 9,200. RAM CHUDDER BANEA v. RAWATMULL (1915)

[19 C. W. N. 1172]

INSTALMENT DECREE.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. XXI, r. 2; O. XXIV, rr. 4, 5.

I. L. R. 39 All. 532

See DECREE . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 728

Penalty clause—Failure to pay two instalments making the whole decree payable at once—First instalment not paid on due date, but paid up before the second one fell due—Second instalment not paid on due date—Penalty clause not becoming operative. A decree payable by instalments provided that the instalments were to be paid on certain fixed dates; and that on failure to pay any two instalments at the period fixed, the whole amount of the decree remaining unsatisfied was to be paid up at once. The first instalment was not paid on the date fixed, but was paid some time afterwards and before the second instalment fell due. On failure to pay the second instalment on the due date, the decree holder applied for execution of the whole amount of the decree which remained unsatisfied. Held, dismissing the application, that the real intention of the parties was that before the penalty could be enforced two instalments must be in arrears together, whereas in the present case only one instalment was in arrears. SUBBAYA VENKAPPA v SUBBAYA (1915)

INSTALMENT DECREE—contd.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 304

INSTIGATION.

See ABETMENT OF AN ABETMENT

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 607

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNSEL.

See BARRISTER . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 741

See COUNSEL . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 828

Charges of misconduct by Counsel—Reasonable grounds—Privilege against Court—Disciplinary action against Counsel. The Court is entitled to ask counsel, who, during the conduct of a case makes charges of misconduct, whether he makes the charges on instructions, and, if so, on whose. It is not sufficient to plead instructions. Counsel have responsibility in the matter, and are not justified in making serious charges of fraud and crime unless they are personally satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for putting them forward. Instructions to counsel are only privileged in the sense of being protected from disclosure to the opponent. There is no privilege as against the Court. The latter cannot use them as evidence in the case, and for the purpose of the trial would have to treat them as confidential, but they could be called for then and there and be used after the trial for determining whether disciplinary action should be taken against counsel by the Full Court. WESTON AND OTHERS v PEARY MOHAN DASS (1912)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 893

INSTRUMENT.

See ATTESTATION OF INSTRUMENT

I. L. R. 37 All. 350

INSTRUMENTS OF GAMING.

See BOMBAY PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT (BOM. IV of 1887), s. 3

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 263

See COTTON-GAMBLING

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 963

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT, 1867, ss. 3 AND 10 . I. L. R. 42 All. 470

INSTRUMENT OF TITLE.

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 630

INSURABLE INTEREST.

See INSURANCE . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 484

INSURANCE.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 28

I. L. R. 33 Bom 344

See JUTE . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 98

See LIFE INSURANCE.

See LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

See MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT

(III OF 1874), s. 6.

I. L. R. 37 Mad 483

See SALE OF GOODS

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 11

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882, AS AMENDED BY ACT II OF 1900).

s. 130 . . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 138

Marine Insurance—Insurable interest of agent in goods of principal—Effect of a Mahajan's "Majur"—Local custom taken enforced—Duties and rights of insurer and policy holder in case of total loss. The plaintiffs, as commission agents, shipped certain goods on behalf of constituents on board the ship "Ali Madut" in the year 1899. The plaintiffs were instructed by their principals to insure these goods, and accordingly by a policy dated February 7th, 1899 the plaintiffs insured the goods, with the defendants, subject, as stated in the policy, to the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi. The ship "Ali Madut" was wrecked off the coast of German East Africa and the wreck and the remains of the cargo was sold by the local authorities and the proceeds handed over to the owner of the vessel. The plaintiffs sued the defendants to recover Rs. 3,500 as the value of the goods. The defendants, besides certain other objections to the plaint, objected that the plaintiffs as agents had no insurable interest in the goods, that by the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi the claim of the plaintiffs could not be established without the production of a Mahajan's "Majur," and that the defendants were in any event entitled to credit for the sale proceeds of the wreck and cargo. Held, that an agent who has authority from his principals, express, implied or ratified, can effect insurances on the goods of his principals, that the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi must be construed in a reasonable manner and that under it a Mahajan's "Majur" could not be required in the case of total loss, that the policy holder's duty was only to give intimation of total loss, at the earliest possible opportunity, to the insurer, and that it was for the insurer to protect his interest and to recover whatever was left as the net balance of the sale proceeds of the cargo. Rameshwar Bhogilal v. Kamesing Mohanlal, 1 Bom H C 229, referred to. KANTI DWARKADAS v. HARIDAS PURUSHOTAM (1911)

I. L. R. 38 Bom 484

Policy of Marine insurance—Perils of the sea—Wear and tear not included within the words. Where a boat was insured against the perils of the sea, and it was proved that it sank in fair weather and smooth water without any assignable cause and where it was not proved that the bottom plates had sprung a leak in consequence of the alleged bumping of the boat and where also there was some evidence of the boat having been deliberately scuttled, which, if not accepted would lead to the inference that the bottom plates had corroded in consequence of age and ordinary wear and tear. Held that the case was not covered by the terms of the policy.

INSURANCE—contd

The term "perils of the sea" refers only to fortuitous accidents or casualties of the sea. The words do not cover every loss of which the sea is the immediate cause and so wear and tear do not come within the meaning of those words. There must be some casualty, something which could not be foreseen as one of the necessary accidents of adventure. The "Xantho", L R 12 A C 593, 599, followed. Anderson v. Morice, 10 Com. Pleas 53, Blackburn v. The Liverpool and Brazil River Plate Steam Navigation Co [1902] 1 K B 299, distinguished. W. STEWART v. THE NEW ZEALAND INSURANCE CO., LD (1912)

16 C W. N. 891

Fire—Damage by fire—Possession of Insurance Company and their acts after fire is extinguished—Damage to machinery of mill by water used to extinguish fire—Omission to protect or clean machinery—Arbitration—Evidence taken by arbitrators alleged to be outside scope of reference—Petition to Court to revoke submission—Arbitration Act (IX OF 1896), s. 10. The provisions in virtue of which, under the conditions of a policy, an Insurance Company takes and holds possession of premises damaged by a fire, are for the purpose of enabling it to minimise the damage. As it has to bear the loss it is, more than anyone directly interested in doing everything for the best, not as a duty to the insured, but in its own interest. Its powers are of the nature of a privilege to do that which is most for its own benefit under the circumstances so as to reduce the loss. After a fire in October 1906 at the Victory Mills, Bombay, which then belonged to the appellant, he sent in his claim to the respondents, who took possession of the premises under powers reserved to them in that behalf in the policy, and retained possession for a considerable period for salvage purposes. The assessment of the damages was disputed and the matter was in accordance with the terms of the policy referred to arbitration in the course of which the appellant tendered evidence to prove that the machinery was seriously damaged not only by the actual fire, but owing to the water used to extinguish the fire being allowed to remain on it, the injury in that way being progressive. The evidence was objected to on the ground that damage so caused to the machinery did not come within the loss insured against in the policy, but that the liability for damage to the property ceased when the fire was extinguished. The arbitrators admitted the evidence, whereupon the respondents petitioned the High Court to revoke the submission to arbitration on the ground that the arbitrators had exceeded their jurisdiction in admitting evidence, which would only relate to damage from some tortious act of the respondents which was outside the reference to arbitration. The Judge of the High Court, before whom the matter came, made no order on the petition being of opinion that the arbitrators had decided nothing by admitting the evidence, and that there was no reason to interfere with their action. The respondents appealed and the appeal was allowed, the appellate Bench of the High Court expressing in its decree an opinion that the jurisdiction of the arbitrators extended only to the dispute relating to loss and damage from fire under the policy, and not to the question of any loss or damage alleged to have arisen from the neglect of the respondents to take care of the machinery after the fire had been extinguished, and the respondents to have entered into possession of the premises. Held (reversing the decision of the Appellate High Court and restoring that of the Original Court), that the finding that the loss was to be estimated from the condition of the machinery at the time the fire was extinguished, was erroneous. There was no question of tort on the part of the respondents. They may have thought it was not worthwhile to spend money in drying the machinery, but right or wrong they unquestionably had full power to take the course which in fact they did take. But having taken possession of the premises and done what in their opinion was wisest to minimise the damage, they could not say that the actual damage done was not the natural and direct consequence of the fire. ARMEDSHOF HAMBROV & BOMBAY FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY . . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 183

INSURANCE—contd

Warning that premises would be set on fire—Insurance in consequence of warning—Duty of assured to disclose facts affecting risk and premium—Defective declaration under O XXX, r 2, Civil Procedure Code, its effect It is the duty of a person who receives information or warning that his premises will be set on fire, in consequence of which he insures his premises, to disclose to the insurer the information so received. If he fails to do so, the insurer is discharged from liability. Greet v. Citizens Insurance Co., Tupper's R., (U C) 598, C A, followed. Kelly v. Hoche luga Fire Insurance Co., 24 L. Can. Jur. 298, distinguished. Every circumstance which would influence or be likely to influence the judgment of a prudent insurer in fixing the premium and in determining whether he will take the risk or not, should be disclosed. There is a duty to disclose to the insurer all facts which bear upon their being a possibility of a fire greater than usual, and which might indicate the motive of the assured in effecting the insurance. There is no obligation on an assured to disclose matters already known to the insurer. A suit need not be dismissed for incomplete disclosure of the names of partners, according to the provisions of O XXX, r 2, Civil Procedure Code. It is a defect which may be allowed to be corrected. Abraham & Co v. Dunlop Pneumatic Tyre Co., [1905] 1 K B 46, referred to. Imperial Pressing Co v. British Crown Assurance Corporation, Ltd (1913) . I. L. R. 41 Cal. 581

Liability of Company for further loss Per CHANDAVARKAR, J.—The loss or damage by fire which is insured against in a policy of insurance, cannot include loss caused by deterioration of the property insured consequent on neglect (if any) of the Insurance Companies to take care of it if they have taken possession. A loss so caused is not an inevitable or direct consequence of the mischief by fire. It is only where mischief arises from fire (in fire insurance cases) and from perils of the sea (in marine insurance cases) and the natural and almost inevitable consequence of that mischief is to create further mischievous results that underwriters become responsible for the further mischief so incurred. Montoya v. London Assurance Company, 6 Er 457, 458, referred to. Per BATCHELOR, J.—The loss insured against is limited to the loss by fire (which includes the loss by water in extinguishing the fire) and cannot conveniently embrace all possible damages, however remote, which could by ingenuity be traced up to some connection with the fire as the ultimate cause visz quis non. It is impossible to hold that damages arising from the alleged negligence of Insurance Companies while in possession are properly claimable in pursuance of the contract of insurance, for whereas this contract refers only to loss by fire, those damages would arise from an origin totally different and wholly distinct and separable from the fire, namely, a neglect of some duty imposed on the companies after the loss by fire or water had become an accomplished fact. ATLAS ASSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED, v. ARMEDSHOF HAMBROV (1908)

INSURANCE—contd.

I L R 34 Bom. 1

INSURANCE COMPANY.

See TRADE NAME I. L. R. 40 Cal. 570

INSURANCE POLICY.

See COMMON CARRIER, LIABILITIES OF
I L R. 38 Cal. 28

INTANGIBLE PROPERTY.

See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP
I. L. R. 42 Cal. 455

INTENT AND KNOWLEDGE.

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 80 . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 479

INTENTION.

See CAUSE OF ACTION
I. L. R. 41 Cal. 825

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 480

See FORFEITURE I. L. R. 41 Cal. 406

See FRAUDULENT PREFERENCE
I L R. 43 Cal. 640

See HIGH COURT I L R 34 Bom. 378

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS.
I. L. R. 44 Cal. 358

See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1860), s. 269 . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 84

ss. 300 AND 325 I L R. 35 All. 329

s. 302 . . . I L R. 40 All. 360

ss. 304 AND 325 I. L. R. 40 All. 103

s. 450 . . . I L R. 38 All. 517
I L R. 47 All. 393

See PRINTING PRESS AND NEWSPAPERS ACT (XXV OF 1867) ss. 4 AND 5
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 55

See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE.
I. L. R. 43 Cal. 671

evidence of—
See FORGERY I. L. R. 43 Cal. 783

materiality of—
See FORFEITURE I. L. R. 47 Cal. 190

necessity of—
See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 43 Cal. 591

of writer—
See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910), ss. 3 (1), 4 (1)
17, 19, 20 AND 22.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1093

to cause death—
See MURDER I. L. R. 37 Cal. 315

INTENTION—could to deceive—

See TRADE NAME I L R 46 Calc 570 to defraud—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 44 Calc 321

to mortgage—

See EVIDENCE L R 44 I A 236

INTENTION OF FOUNDERSee MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 43 Calc 1085INTENTION OF PARTIESSee MINES AND MINERALS
I L R 38 Calc 845

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 527

INTENTION TO LEGITIMISESee MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY
I L R 48 Calc 259INTERCEPTED LETTER

admissibility of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Calc 545

INTERESTSee BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1885) ss 287 '90
I L R 43 Bom. 181See C I F CONTRACTS
I L R 42 Bom 473See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 34
O XXXIV, RR 2 & 4
I L R 38 All 220O XXIV, RR. 1, 2 AND 3
I L R 40 All 125

s. 151 I L R 41 Mad. 318

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 257
14 C W N 148

s 257A I L R 38 Bom. 219

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) SCH. III s 7 (1)(b) ss 69 70
I L R 37 Bom. 32See CONTRACT ACT s 74
I L R 36 Bom. 164See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN FRIEND
I L R 41 Bom. 390

See COMPROMISE 2 Pat L J 673

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (XVII OF 18 9)
I L R 35 Bom. 204See DEMONSTRATIVE LEGACY
I L R 43 Calc. 201

See EXORBITANT INTEREST

See HANDNOTE 14 C W N 1100
2 Pat L J 451See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 34 All 128See HINDU LAW MINOR
2 Pat L J 212See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE
I L R 41 All 571, 609INTEREST—could

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

20 C W N 1067

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 328

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 10
I L R 35 All 378

I L R 41 All 111

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY STATUTES VIL-LAGE SERVICE ACT (11 OF 1894) ss
5 AND 10 CL (2)
I L R 39 Mad. 930See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWRY
I L R 33 All 182

I L R 38 All 581

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 342
15 C W N 862

I L R 35 All 534

I L R 35 Bom 327

I L R 42 Calc 1146

I L R 46 Calc 448

I L R 45 Bom 523

See MORTGAGE AND MORTGAGEE
I L R 45 Bom. 523

See RENTAL I L R 44 Calc 163

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
I L R 41 All 254See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY
I L R 44 Calc 978

See PERS JUDICATA I L R 1 Lah 83

See SNAVERY BOND
I L R 42 Calc 742

See WILL I L R 43 Calc 401

at Reduced rate—
See APPEAL I L R 48 Calc 1036award as to—
See ARBITRATION
I L R 46 Calc 534creditors right to apply payments in discharge of—
See DEBT 26 C W N 33grounds for reduction of—
See INDIAN CONTRACT ACT s 18
I L R 36 Mad. 533Liability of trustee for—See TRUSTEE I L R 28 Mad 71payment of—
See ADJUDICATION OF ANNUITY OF
I L R 47 Calc 914profits to be enjoyed in lieu of—
See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE
I L R 45 Bom 523on damages—
See TRESPASS I L R 38 Mad. 71on ex parte decree—
See DECREE 6 Pat L J 676on enemy debt—
See DEBENTURE AND CREDIT
I L R 44 Bom 1on our draft—
See BANKERS I L R 44 Bom 474postponing payment of—
See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 542

INTEREST—contd

power of Court to grant—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s 34

I L R. 2 Lah. 25

—right to depend on contract or statute—

See PRIVY COUNCIL (PRACTICE)

I L B 40 All 497

I — Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 144—Decree—Interest award of—Discretion of Court—Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894)—Court determining the amount of compensation—Payment of the amount to claimant—Subsequent reduction in amount on appeal—Interest over the excess—Inherent powers of the Court A sum of money by way of compensation awarded under the Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894) and paid into Court was taken out by the claimant. Subsequently on appeal, the High Court reduced the amount of compensation payable to him, but made no order as to interest. Government then applied to recover from the claimant interest over the excess drawn by the claimant from the Court Held, that the interest claimed should be awarded, inasmuch as the claimant had had the benefit of the money belonging to Government in excess of that to which the High Court held him to be entitled, and the benefit was represented not only by the excess wrongly taken by the claimant from the District Court but also the amount of interest which the excess carried. Mookond Lal Pal v. Mahomed Sami Meah, I L R 14 Calc 484, 486, Mahomed Sami Vanan v. Sakharam Ramchandra, I L R 3 Bom 4^o referred to. COLLECTOR OF AHMEDABAD : LALJI MULJI (1911)

I L R 35 Bom. 255

—Interest, right to claim, till payment or legal tender—Tender or agreement to waive tender must be of an ascertained sum—Valid tender must be unconditional. At common law, where interest is payable by the terms of a contract it runs ordinarily up to the date of payment. A valid tender must be an unconditional offer to pay a specific and ascertained sum. An offer to pay such amount as may be found due on a settlement of accounts if the payee would execute an indemnity bond in accordance with law is not a valid tender. There can not be a tender or an agreement to waive tender of an unascertained sum. Guruda Peddi v. Gudi Janakiswaru Garu I Mal H O P 124, distinguished. Jandurang Krishnaji and another v. Dadabhai Vastuji I L R 26 Bom 613, distinguished. IAL BACHA SAHIB v. ANNOT NARAYANASWAMI MUDALIYAR (1910) . . . I L R 34 Mad. 320

—Usufructuary mortgage—Interest not stipulated for—Charge in the nature of mortgage must be in writing and registered. Where no interest is stipulated for in a mortgage bond, no interest is recoverable. A charge in the nature of mortgage, whether for principal or interest, must be expressed in writing and registered, and cannot be raised by implication. Kuttiamma v. Madhava Menon, 11 Mad L J 186 followed. Imdad Hasan v. Endri Prasad, I L R 20 All 491, distinguished. MAJIBUL ALI v. ALI AHMAD (1913) . . . I L R. 40 Calc 514

—Arrears of rent—Rate of interest—Evidence of admissible, to explain liability. Where a document recites that interest is to be paid by the tenant upon rent in arrears at the rate of one anna per rupee but does not expressly state whether interest at this rate is payable monthly or annually, evidence is not admissible to show what was really intended. Monmtha Nath Choudhury v. Nabin Chandra Sanyal, 14 C B N 1100, discussed. Mahomed Sumsooddeen v. Moonsee Abdul Haq (1864) W R 379, not followed. Evidence to construe the terms of a contract is not inadmissible in certain cases. PRATAP CHANDRA SHAHA v. MAHOMMED ALI SARKAR (1913) . . . I L R 41 Calc 342 —Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 16 74—Undue influence, presumption of—Penalty—Excessive and usurious interest—Duty of the Court. Where there is ample security, the exaction of excessive and usurious interest in itself raises a presumption of undue influence which it requires very little evidence to substantiate. The attempt to conceal the real rate of interest, by describing it as one pie in the rupee per mensem or as in the present case R 5 per mensem is evidence of an intention to get the better of the debtor. The law lays down that there must be a footing of complete equality between debtor and creditor and they must be, so to speak, at arms length to make a bargain, which is in itself harsh and unconscionable enforceable at law. Carringtons, Ltd v. Smith, [1906] 1 K B 79, In re a Debtor [1903] 1 K B 706, referred to. Where there is ample security, an excessive rate of interest has been held to be any thing over ten per cent. Where there is no security, no rate of interest can be considered excessive. There can be no standard rate on personal loans, and where the parties are reasonably on terms of equality a Judge cannot do better than adopt what they themselves have agreed on though, of course when that is not the case he has to judge what is reasonable, as best he can and under all the circumstances. Where the contract is for a temporary accommodation the stipulation that interest is to run at R 5 a month is one which necessitates the payment of interest not at 60 per cent per annum but at R 5 in each month and a stipulation that in default of 12 months instalments of interest, compound interest would begin to run, is in the nature of a penalty. However technical this may be it is the duty of the Courts in India to enforce the letter of the law against obviously harsh and unconscionable bargains of this nature. The exploitation of the necessities, of the careless and inexperienced, is a trade to be extirpated in the interest of the whole community as contrary to individual morality as well as to public policy. Swtha Krishna Iyer v. Sankaralingam Pillai I L R. 36 Mad 229, Samuel v. Debold [1906] A C 461, Asemulu Naidu v. Arulavolu Ammal I L R 36 Mad 631, referred to. ABDUL MAJEED v. KINRODE CHANDRA PAL (1914) . . . I L R 42 Calc 690 —Stipulation in mortgage bond for interest at 75 per cent. per annum whether penalty—Liquidated damages—Undue influence—Unconscionable bargain—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 16 74 illus. (f) as amended by Act VI of 1899 s 4 (1)—Act XXVIII of 1905 s 2. Per MOOREHEAD, J. (DEACON, J., agreeing to as to penalty). Notwithstanding the small group of cases where a restricted view was taken of the authority of the Court to relieve against a penalty, the rule has turned back, and the more modern cases repudiate the doctrine that any rate of interest, however exorbitant, cannot be deemed penal. Motay v Sheikh Hassan, 6 Bom. H. C. 8, Patil v Govind, 10 Bom. H. C. 382, followed. Aryas Baji v Agar Ali, 1 L. R. 13 Cal. 209, Gokul Chand v Khaja Ali (1899) Pw. Rec. 32, Sankaranarayana Fadhyar v Sankaranarayana Ayyar, 1 L. R. 23 Mad. 343 Chinnu v Pedda, 1 L. R. 28 Mad. 445, Periaswami v Subramanian, 11 Mad. L. J. 116, not followed. This principle is fairly deducible from the modern decisions that the Court is competent to grant relief whenever the rate of interest appears to the Court to be penal. Miyana Putari v Abdul Judder 10 C. W. N 1020, Velchand v Flagg 1 L. R. 36 Bom. 164, 14 Bom. L. R. 18, Ganapathi v Sundara, 22 Mad. L. J. 354, Muthukrishna v Sankaranayagam, 1 L. R. 36 Mad. 229 followed. Although s. 74 of the Contract Act was originally framed to deal with the doctrine of penalty and liquidated damages as understood in the law of England it is in its present form comprehensive enough to include the type of cases before the Court, because it covers all cases where the contract contains any stipulation by way of penalty. It is obvious that each case must be treated on its own circumstances. The test is, was the agreement to pay damages for the breach of contract unconscionable and extra vagant, such as no Court ought to allow to be entered into. Webster v Bosanquet (1912) A. C. 394, referred to. "You are to consider whether it is extravagant, exorbitant, or unconscionable at the time when the stipulation is made—that is to say in regard to any possible amount of damages which may be conceived to have been within the contemplation of the parties when they made the contract." Clydebank Engineering Co. v Don Jose Carlaneda, [1905] A. C. 6, referred to. A stipulation for merely accelerating payment of the whole debt in default of payment of one or more instalments is not, by itself, by way of penalty. Ex parte Burden, 16 Ch. D. 675, Sterne v Beck, 1 DeG. J. & S. 595, Wollingsford v Mutual Society 5 App. Cas. 685 referred to. But when the entire sum which the creditor had agreed to receive in instalments without interest is not only repayable in one sum, but is also made to carry interest at an unusual rate, the Court may, in view of all the circumstances of the case, regard the stipulation for payment of interest at an exorbitant rate as penalty. When (on an account originally made up very largely of interest at an exorbitant rate) the stipulation was made in the mortgage bond (no interest being payable up to due date) that upon default of payment of one or two instalments not only would the whole balance due become forthwith payable, but would carry interest at the rate of 75 per cent. per annum: Held, that the covenant for payment of interest at this rate was a penalty, i.e., it did not represent the damages which the creditors were likely to suffer by reason of the default of the debtors, but was rather intended as an effective means to secure punctual performance of the contract. Per Moore J., J. Where the lender makes it clear that the creditors were in a position to take advantage of the embarrassment of their debtors and the bargain they made was unconscionable, there is a concurrence of the two elements which must combine to attract the operation of a 16 of the Contract Act. Datta v Mung Shree Goh, 1 L. R. 38 Cal. 808, 1 L. R. 33 I. A. 135 Amarulal Nanda v Arulakshi Ammal, 1 L. R. 36 Mad. 335, followed. KRAGHAM DAS v RANAJANKAR DAS PRAMANTH (1914) 1 L. R. 42 Cal. 652

INTEREST—contd

INTEREST—contd.

INTEREST—contd.

Power of Court to grant relief, where interest unconscionable—Creditor, when his improper act or omission delays payment of debt. Where delay in the payment of the principal debt is caused by some improper act or omission of the creditors, the accrual of interest will be suspended during such period as the debtor is so prevented. Edwards v Warden, 1 App. Cas. 281, Merry v Ryves, 1 Eden. J., Marlborough v Strong, 4 Broten, P. C. 539, Cameron v Smith, 2 B. & Ald. 305, Bann v Dalziel Moo. & M. 228, Anderson v Arrowsmith, 2 P. & D. 408, Leving v Stone, 2 Man. & Ry. 561, Moo & M 229, London, Chatham and Dover Railway Company v South Eastern Railway, [1891] 1 Ch. 120, and Webster v British Empire Mutual Life Assurance Co., 15 Ch. D. 159 referred to. A Court is competent to grant relief where the rate of interest appears to the Court to be of a penal character that is, so unconscionable and extra vagant that no Court should allow it. Ahogaram Das v Ramankar Das 1 L. R. 42 Cal. 652, Abdul Mojed v Khurde Chandra Pahl, 1 L. R. 42 Cal. 680, Bouwang v Banga Behari Sen, 22 C. L. J. 311, 20 C. W. N. 493, referred to. GOPESWAR SAHA v, JADAV CHANDRA CHANDRA (1915) . . . 1 L. R. 43 Cal. 632

Interest not contracted for and not recoverable under the Interest Act (XXXII of 1839) allowed as damages. KHETRO MOHAN PONDAR v NISHI KUMAR SAHA (1917)

22 C. W. N. 488

Compound Interest—Court's power to give relief when money lender not shown to have taken undue advantage of his position. It is difficult for a Court of Justice to give relief on grounds of simply hardship in the absence of any evidence to show that the money lender had unduly taken advantage of his position even when the transaction appeared to be undoubtedly improvident. The opinion of the Chief Court affirming that of the Divisional Judge that the plaintiff in a redemption suit was bound by the mortgagor's contract to pay compound interest at 25 per cent. per annum was upheld. ANIL KHAH v DURI CHAKU (1918) 23 C. W. N. 130

Bond—Consideration—Interest in advance added to principal—Total amount made payable by instalments—Scheme of the bond providing in effect for progressive increase in the rate of interest—Transaction 'substantially unfair' within the meaning of the Usurious Loans Act (X of 1918) s. 3 (1)—Jurisdiction of Court to consider the transaction in an ex parte suit. On the 7th September 1918, the defendant executed a bond for Rs. 8,400 in favour of the plaintiff, a professional money lender. The consideration of the bond was a cash advance of Rs. 6,000 by the plaintiff and Rs. 3,400 interest thereon which was calculated in advance for thirty four months at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum. The 'cash' amount of Rs. 8,400 was made payable under the bond in thirty four instalments. The first three instalments had been recovered by the plaintiff by a suit instituted in the Court of Small Causes, Bombay. The defendant having made default in respect of the next six instalments from January to June 1919, the plaintiff sued to recover Rs. 1,500 the amount due under the same. The defendant did not appear. Held (1) that though the suit was ex parte, the Court had under s. 3 (1) of the Usurious Loans Act, 1918, jurisdiction to consider the merits of the transaction between the parties; (2) that inasmuch as the scheme of the bond was that the interest on the whole sum of Rs. 5,000 should be continued to be paid though the principal was being progressively discharged by instalments, the interest charged in the bond was "excessive" and the transaction "substantially unfair" within the meaning of s. 3 (1) (a) and (b) of the Usurious Loans Act, 1918; (3) that the plaintiff was not entitled to claim interest on sums which he actually received and which accordingly went towards part-satisfaction of the principal amount. Samuel v. Newbold, [1906] A. C. 461, referred to. KERING RITCHARD & Co v. BAXLEY (1919)

INTEREST—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 775

Mortgage—Hard and unconscionable bargain—Court when should reduce stipulated interest. In a suit on a mortgage executed by a Hindu lady which provided for interest at 15 per cent. with quarterly rests the trial Court allowed interest at 12 per cent. up to date of suit only. Held—That unless it can be shown that undue advantage had been taken the Court ought not to come to the conclusion that the transaction was hard and unconscionable. In appeal the High Court allowed interest at the contract rate up to the date fixed for payment and thereafter at 6 per cent. BEJOY KUMAR ADDY v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH . 24 C. W. N. 444

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)

s. 67—Kabulyat, rate of interest mentioned in—Purchaser at auction sale, liability of, to pay interest—Interest whether penal and unconscionable. The purchaser of a raiyati holding at fixed rates in execution of his own mortgage decree buys it subject to the terms and conditions of the subsisting lease of which he had notice and is liable to pay interest at the rate and pay rent in accordance with the instalments provided for in the kabulyat. Lal Gopal Dutt Chowdhury v. Manmatha Lal Dutt Chowdhury, 1 L. R. 32 Cal. 258, followed. Alum v. Satish Chandra Chaturdhuri, 1 L. R. 24 Cal. 37, distinguished. In the absence of evidence that any undue advantage was taken by the landlord of his position, the rate of interest mentioned in the contract cannot be interfered with. Upendra Lal Gupta v. Akheraj Bibi, 21 C. W. N. 108, not followed. Lala Balla Mal v. Akad Shah, 23 C. W. N. 233, Atiz Khan v. Dhun Chand, 23 C. W. N. 130, and Bejoy Kumar Addy v. Satish Chandra Ghosh, 24 C. W. N. 444, referred to. BRUT NATH CHATTERJEE v. RAMA NATH NASIR (1920) . I. L. R. 48 Cal. 93

INTEREST ACT (XXXII OF 1839).

Debt payable in kind—Interest allowable. A debt which is specially expressed as payable in certain fixed measures of grain and payable at a specified time is a debt certain within the meaning of Act XXXII of 1839 and interest is allowable on the same. Juggomohan Ghoss v. Manekchand, 7 Moo. J. A. 263, referred to. Narayan v. Nagappa, 12 Bom. L. R., 331, dissented from. GOVINDA NATH v. CHERAL (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 464

Award of interest, as damages, apart from the Act. The Interest Act (XXXII of 1839) is not exhaustive of all cases where interest is allowable. The Act while specifically allowing interest in all cases of "debts or sums certain payable at a certain time or otherwise" saves by its proviso other cases in which it is legally allowable. Where the suit was for a sum of money which would be payable to the plaintiff (a Muhammadan lady) as for her share on taking accounts of the business which was carried on by her father while he was alive and which was continued by her brothers, the defendant, after his death, wherein the amount due to the plaintiff was utilized by her brothers. Held, (i) that the proviso in the Interest Act applied to the case, and (ii) that 6 per cent. interest was payable as damages on the amount due to the plaintiff. Miller v. Burloe, L. P. 3 P. C. C. 733, and Hurro Persaud Roy v. Shama Persaud Roy, 1 L. R. 3 Cal. 654, followed. Kamalammal v. Peernamra Laxmi Routhen, 1 L. R. 20 Mad. 481, Subramania Aiyar v. Subramania Aiyar and others, 1 L. R. 31 Mad. 259, and Kalyan Das v. Magbul Ahmad, 1 L. R. 40 All. 497, distinguished. ABDUL RAFFER ROWTHEN v. HAMIDA BEVI AMMAL (1919) . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 681

INTEREST ACT (XXXII OF 1839)—contd

A Principal is not entitled to interest on moneys detained by an agent on his behalf in the absence of a contract to his contrary. LALMAN v. CHRISTANAN

I. L. R. 41 All. 254

INTEREST POST DIEM.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 35 All. 534

INTERFERENCE.

— by High Court—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 220

INTERIM ORDERS.

See PRESIDENT OF TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909), s. 25.

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 47

INTERIM RECEIVER.

See INSOLVENCY . I. L. R. 42 Cal. 289

INTERLOCUTORY INJUNCTION.

— breach of—

See EASEMENT . I. L. R. 39 Cal. 59

INTERLOCUTORY ORDER.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

s. 47 . I. L. R. 34 All. 530

ss. 104 and 115.

s. 109 . I. L. R. 42 All. 174, 176

s. 115 . 15 C. W. N. 682, 848

I. L. R. 34 All. 592

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 619

5 Pat. L. J. 550, 400

O XI, s. 14 . 14 C. W. N. 147

O XX, s. 18 . I. L. R. 35 All. 159

O XXXII, s. 7 . 15 C. W. N. 353

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 42 Cal. 926

See LAND ACQUISITION.

I. L. R. 38 Cal. 230

INTER MARRIAGE.

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I. L. R. 48 Cal. 926

— According to law and custom prevalent in Bengal a marriage between a Kayastha

INTER MARRIAGE—contd

and a Tante both belonging to sub-division of the Sudra caste is valid in the absence of any special custom rendering such marriage invalid
Bawanath Das Ghosh v Sreemati Saranbala Das and others
 25 C. W. N. 639

INTERNATIONAL LAW.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s 86 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 635

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 39 Mad. 661

INTERNMENT.

— object of—

See ALIEN ENEMY, SUIT AGAINST
 I L. R. 43 Cal. 1140

— order for—

See HABEAS CORPUS
 I. L. R. 41 Cal. 459

INTERPLEADER.

— An interpleader suit with a prayer for declaration of the titles of the several sets of defendants in the disputed land by the tenant against the landlords in whose favour he has executed separate Kabulyats is not maintainable
Shelley Bowyerjee v Rai Chandra Datta
 I. L. R. 37 Cal. 532
 14 C. W. N. 784

INTERPRETATION.

See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES — principle of—

See LIMITATION ACT IX OF 1909

See I. ART 182
 I L. R. 39 Mad. 923

See REVAND. I. L. R. 41 Cal. 108

INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 11.
 25 C. W. N. 9

See COMPANY I. L. R. 43 Mad. 550

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 11
 3 Pat. L. J. 291
 5 Pat. L. J. 321

See LAND ACQUISITION
 I. L. R. 44 Cal. 219

See RAILWAYS ACT, 1890, s 75
 I L. R. 42 All. 78

See NON OCCUPANCY RAIYAT
 I. L. R. 44 Cal. 287

See NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT
 3. Pat. L. J. 1.

See PRESS ACT, 1910, s. 4.
 I. L. R. 42 All. 233

4 Pat. L. J. 174

— Rules, effect of—

See REMAND. I. L. R. 41 Cal. 108

— Heading of chapter may be looked at—

See NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT
 I. L. R. 44 Cal. 287

— Illustrations cannot control the plain meaning—

See NON OCCUPANCY. 14 C. W. N. 414

INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES—contd

— PROVISION—

See PRESS ACT, 1910, s. 3.
 I. L. R. 39. Mad. 1164

See LAND IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1883
 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 691.

— The word "and" may be read as "or" when necessary to carry out the obvious intention of the legislature.
KUNHALOON PUTHA VENTEL KATAPPA v PASKUM PUSI-SERI KALAPPA
 I L. R. 40 Mad 594

— When a particular section of an Act which has received judicial construction has been reenacted it must be treated as a legislation recognition of that construction.
JOONDRA CHANDRA POY v SHANDAS
 I L. R. 36 Cal. 543

INTERROGATORIES

See DISCOVERY I. L. R. 41 Cal. 6

— Admissibility of interrogatories—Inadmissibility of certain questions as interrogatories though admissible in cross-examination—Interrogatories obviously designed to assist in fishing up a case—Defence of wagering—Inadmissibility of interrogatories by the party raising defence of wagering as to the general business transactions of the opponent apart from the particular transactions in suit. The mere fact that questions would be admissible in cross-examination of a witness, does not make them good as interrogatories. Interrogatories must not be exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously, nor be prolix, oppressive, unnecessary or scandalous. Nor should interrogatories be allowed which are sought to be administered obviously for the purpose of fishing out a case. The Court will, in cases where the defence of wagering is set up, refuse to allow the party setting up this defence to interrogate his opponent generally as to his business transactions apart from the particular transactions in suit, on the ground that it is manifestly unfair to compel a man to disclose his general dealings on the chance that thereby his opponent may discover something that will support his case.
BRAGWANDAS PARASHAM v BURJOMI RUTTOYJI (1912) I L. R. 37 Bom. 347

— Method of administration—Disclosure of assets by affidavit in probate proceedings, now obtained—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908), O XI, r 2—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881), s 55 O XI of the present Code of Civil Procedure applies to proceedings in probate (vide s 55 of the Probate and Administration Act) Under that Order there are only two methods of discovery, one by interrogatories and the other by an order directing discovery of documents in the possession of power of the other side. An affidavit of assets actually received can, therefore, be obtained in probate proceedings by interrogatories only. Under r 2 of O XI in India as in England, the Judge has not any power to settle interrogatories, but he can only decide what should be administered. The dicta in English cases with regard to the more extensive powers of Courts in matters of probate, seem to imply that the strictest relevancy may not be required in interrogatories therein.
AVILABALA DAS v. RAJENDRANATH DALAL (1915)

I. L. R. 43 Cal. 309

INTESTACY.See JEWISH LAW.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 708

INUNDATED LANDS.See CUSTOM . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 475INVENTIONS AND DESIGNS ACT (V OF 1888)

— s 29—Suit for infringement of patent—Defence that invention was not new—“New combination of old materials” The plaintiffs patented a process of manufacturing banalochan (a medicinal preparation made by calcining portions of the bamboo plant) of which the essential features were the treatment of the substance at a red heat with sulphuric acid inside a closed crucible or retort made entirely of earthenware. The advantages claimed were (a) no iron or other metal being used in the composition of the crucible there was no danger of any deleterious action on the part of the fumes of the acid upon the metal aforesaid, (b) the retort or crucible was entirely closed from the time when the acid was added until the process of calcination was complete, so that no deleterious fumes escaped into the air, and the result was that the substance prepared was both purer and cheaper than that prepared in the old iron pans. Held, that the process was a new combination of admittedly old materials and as such was a good subject matter for a patent. Harrison v The Anderson Foundry Company, L R 1 A C 571, Brunton v Hawkes, 4 Barn & Ald 511, and Plumpton v Spiller, L R 6 Ch D 412, referred to LAKH-PAT RAI v SRI KISHAN DAS (1918)

I. L. R. 41 All 68

INVENTORY.See ADMINISTRATION

L R 40 I. A. 236

See COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1899), s 19 II

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 556

— preparation of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, O XXXIX, R. 7 . 15 C. W. N. 353INVESTIGATION.See FRAUD* . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 938*See VALUATION OF SUI*

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 225

IRREGULARITY.See AUCTION PURCHASER

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 622

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXIII, s 1

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 682

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE,

ss 145, 522 . I. L. R. 37 All 654

ss 250 537 . I. L. R. 36 All 122

ss 439, 422, 423.

I. L. R. 39 Mad 505

See DECREE . I. L. R. 38 Calc 125*See DEMOLITION OF BUILDING*

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 585

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

IRREGULARITY—contd.See RECEIVER . 14 C. W. N. 560*See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE*

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 407

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 765

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 26

See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 632

— Trial by confronting parties to a suit and relying on allegation between them—Decision of suit on statements by parties when confronted in the witness box after the case heard and judgment reserved—Propriety of such procedure—De novo trial ordered by High Court Where in a Small Cause Court suit the Judge, after the close of the evidence and arguments, and having reserved judgment, sent for the parties and ordered them to argue with each other in his presence about the merits of their respective cases, which they did, and he decided the suit upon the evidence and also the statements made by them when confronted in the witness box in the above manner, and which statements were not recorded.—Held, that the procedure adopted by the Judge was very irregular, and a de novo trial of the suit was ordered. ARYMUDDIN BEWA v ASIMUDDIN FRAMATIK 25 C. W. N. 593

IRRELEVANT EVIDENCE.See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 5.

5 Pat L. J. 410

IRRIGATION.See EASEMENT . 15 C. W. N. 259IRRIGATION BY PERCOLATION.See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1856), s 1 (b)*

I. L. R. 40 Mad 58

IRRIGATION ACT (BOM. VII OF 1879).

— District Municipal Act (Bom Act III of 1901), s 58—Drainage cut—Drainage channel—Neglect of proper repairs by local bodies—Flow of water across the road into plaintiff's field—Damage—Liability of local bodies—Non feissance—Neglect of highways Where drainage water passing along a certain drainage cut owing to some default instead of flowing along the assigned channel flowed across the road into the plaintiff's field and caused damage to the plaintiffs and the damage was found to be due, not to the authorized drainage work but to the neglect of the drainage channel which the Municipality was bound to repair.—Held, that the Municipality was liable to the plaintiff's in damages. PER CURIAM—The exemption from liability of local bodies on the ground of non feissance is confined to neglect of highways and does not apply to drainage works carried out by the local bodies for their convenience, which they are bound to maintain in a proper state of repairs so that they shall not be a nuisance to the neighbouring owners. Borough of Bathurst v Macpherson, L R 4 App. Cas 256, Municipality of Picton v Geldert, [1893] A C 524, referred to DHOLKA TOWN MUNICIPALITY v PATEL DESAI BHAI (1913)

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 116

IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD. VII OF 1865).See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

Conditions necessary to entitle Government to levy water-cess—Extent of right to water—Engagement by land-holder with Government. In this case the decision in Prasad Row v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L. R. 40 Mad 886, was followed, on the admission of the respondent that the rights of the parties were governed by it. AMBALAVANA PANDARA SAMMAHDI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I L R 40 Mad. 809

s. 1 (b).—Opinion of Collector that irrigation is beneficial, not a judicial one, reversible by Courts—'Irrigation by percolation covers' irrigation by subsoil water. Construing s. 1 (b) of the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1865), the Full Bench held—(a) that it is not obligatory on the Collector to certify under s. 1 (b) of the Act that the irrigation is beneficial, and (b) that the words "irrigation by percolation" mean not only irrigation by means of water flowing on the surface of the land irrigated, but cover also cases where subsoil water is taken by the roots of trees. Held, also, that the opinion of the Collector that the irrigation in any particular case is beneficial to the land is not a judicial one capable of being revised by a Civil Court. Secretary of State for India v Srami Narathencanar, 1 L. R. 34 Mad 21, approved. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MANADEVIA SASTHIGAL (1916)

I. L. R. 40 Mad 58

s. 1, provs. 1 and 2.—As amended by Madras Act V of 1900—Right of Government to levy cess for irrigation purposes—Landholders settled at Permanent Settlement—Sanads, construction of—Cultivation extended and crop grown not customary at date of sanad—Engagement by zamindar with Government—Right to flowing water—Madras Land Encroachment Act, III of 1905. The appellants sought to recover from the Secretary of State for India, the respondent, sums of money paid under protest in respect of water cesses levied by the Government of India under Madras Act VII of 1865 (as amended by Madras Act V of 1900), the portions applicable to the case being s. 1 and provs. 1 and 2. The lands in suit were contiguous to the river Vamsadhara, and sometime prior to the Permanent Settlement extensive works had been carried out to supply the district with water from the river, and the water was distributed throughout the district by means of branch channels and subsidiary channels ending in many instances in village tanks and reservoirs. The Government carved out of the land four zamindars on each of which they assessed a permanent revenue or jumma, and had them put up to public auction, and each purchaser received a sanad. These sanads did not mention any water rights. They contained (inter alia) agreements by the zamindars to encourage their ryots to improve and extend the cultivation of the land. Subject to his observing the conditions of the sanad, each zamindar was authorized to hold the zamindars in perpetuity for himself and his heirs. One of the four zamindars (Ullam) was purchased by the appellant's predecessors in title at a sale for arrears of revenue and the other three were brought at various times by the Government. The sluices of only one of the channels were on the appellant's lands, but he used for irrigation purposes water from the river through all the four channels. Held, that the IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD. VII OF 1865)—*contd.s. 1 provs. 1. and 2.—contd.

Permanent Settlement was an engagement with the Government within the meaning of pro. 1 of s. 1 of the Act VII of 1865. That the effect of the Permanent Settlement was to vest the channel with their head sluices and branch and subsidiary channels, and the tanks or reservoirs in the zamindars through or within whose zamindars the same respectively passed or were situate, and to give the zamindar the right or easement of taking water from the river for irrigation purposes. That the zamindar on whose estate the head sluices and initial portions of each of the four channels in question were situate, obtained under his sanad the right to take water from the river (assuming that it belonged to Government), and such right was to be measured by the size of the channel, or the nature and extent of the sluices and weirs governing the amount of water which entered the channel, and not by the purposes for which the grantor or his tenants had been accustomed to use water from the channel prior to the date of the grant. That after the water was lawfully taken into the channel the Government had no further rights in it except as owners of the other zamindars. That the zamindars in whose favour the sanads were made, took, subject to the customary rights of the ryot cultivators, and the rights of all holders of mans under existing jumma grants and in other respects, the right in specie of the several zamindars under the sanads were analogous to the rights of upper and lower riparian owners on a natural stream. That there being no evidence that more water was being taken from the river than would be justified by the sanads as construed, the cesses were wrongly levied on the appellants. The law of the Madras Presidency as to rivers and streams certainly differs in some respects from the English law, and it is quite possible that it recognizes some proprietary rights on the part of Government in the water flowing in rivers and streams. PRASAD ROW v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 886

IRRIGATION CESS AMENDMENT ACT (MAD. V OF 1900).See IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1865), s. 1, PROVS. 1 AND 2

I. L. R. 40 Mad 886

IRRIGATION CHANNEL.

—right to obstruct flow of rain water into—

See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1908), ss. 4, 27, 73 AND 143

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 640

IRRIGATION WORKS.

—Government, liability of, for not repairing irrigation works—No duty of Government to repair irrigation works. In India, the Government is under an obligation with regard to each individual ryot to repair irrigation works whenever they require repair. Madras Railway Company v Zamindar of Carothanpattam, 1 L. R. 11 A 361, distinguished. The rule derivable from English cases is that where statutory powers have been conferred and statutory duties imposed on persons or corporations, no liability for nonfeasance in regard to individuals arises, in the absence of such liability under the common law, IRRIGATION WORKS—contd.

merely because such duty is imposed. The statute must impose the liability expressly or by clear implication. Sankara Vadivelu Pillai v Secretary of State for India, 1 L. R. 23 Mad. 72, referred to. The right and obligations of Government in regard to irrigation works in this country have to be ascertained from unrecorded custom and practice; and no custom or practice, recorded or unrecorded gives the ryot, in case of non repair, compensation measured by the value of the crops lost by defects in irrigation works commanding his land arising from such non repair. There is no contract between a ryot and the Government, by which the latter is bound to maintain a supply of water for the irrigation of lands belonging to the former. The irrigation rights of ryotwari owners are not rights personam, but rather partake of the nature of rights in rem. Chinnappa Mudaliar v. Sitta Nairan, 1 L. R. 24 Mad. 36, doubted. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MUTHUVEERAMA REDDY (1910) . 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 82

ISSUES.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 11 1 L. R. 37 Bom. 563

See LABEL . 1 L. R. 37 Calc. 760

See PRELIMINARY DECREE
1 L. R. 37 Bom. 60

Issues, raising of—Practice. The practice of raising a number of issues which do not state the main questions in the suit but only various subsidiary matters of fact upon which there is not agreement between the parties is very embarrassing. Issues should be confined to questions of law arising on the pleadings and such questions of fact as it would be necessary for the Judge to frame for decision by the jury in a jury trial at nisi prius in England. WEST FRED WATCH COMPANY v BESSA WATCH COMPANY (1910) . 1 L. R. 35 Bom. 425

Several issues should not be tried together. The practice of trying all the issues in a case together defeats the object of the law in requiring the various issues to be kept separate and distinct, and cannot but lead to confusion. RAJANI KANT MUKERJEE v RAM DULAL DAS (1912) . 17 C. W. N. 55

Not exactly framed but no surprise. Held, that High Court was right in treating question in respect of which no express issue was framed as an issue upon which the parties had in fact gone to trial and was entitled to look at the evidence recorded. Held, that the appointment by the head of a Matt of a successor to avoid criminal prosecution was not bond fide and was invalid. NATARAJA TAMBIRAN v KAILASAM PILLAI . 25 C. W. N. 145

ITMAM.

See PAYEE REGULATION

25 C. W. N. 857

"Taluk," what it imports—"Marjaddars" receipts, if conclusively show tenure to be non transferable.—Settlement Reports and District Gazetteers, if admissible in evidence.—Written instrument, terms of, inconsistent with ordinary implication of an expression, effect of.—Grant for an indefinite period, nature of.—Condition restraining alienation with no clause of re-entry.—Transfer notwithstanding such condition, if opera-

ITMAM—contd.

—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 35 The word "itmam" imports a permanent, heritable and transferable tenure, when applied to a tenure in the permanently settled parts of Chittagong. Maibul Ali Choudhury v Jogesh Chandra Roy, 23 C. W. N. 915, referred to. The word "taluk" primarily imports permanency. Sarada Krishna Laha v Akhil Bandhu Biswas, 21 C. W. N. 903, and Upendra Lal Gupta v Jogesh Chandra Roy, 22 C. W. N. 275, followed. The fact that rent-receipts have been granted marjaddars in the name of the original grantee does not necessarily show that a tenure is not transferable. There can be no objection to refer to settlement Reports or District Gazetteers, whether they are strictly speaking evidence or not, under a. 35 of the Evidence Act. Gauradhwaja Prasad v Superdhwaja Prasad, 1 L. R. 23 All. 37, 1 L. R. 271 A. 233, referred to. If a grant be made to a man for an indefinite period it enures, generally speaking, for his lifetime and passes no interest to his heirs, unless there are some words showing an intention to grant an hereditary interest. But that rule of construction does not apply if the term for which the grant is made is fixed or can be definitely ascertained. Lekhraj Roy v Kunhya Singh, 1 L. R. 3 Cal. 210; 1 L. R. 41 A. 223, referred to. A condition against transfer does not, without more, render an assignment or transfer of the lease inoperative. Such a condition is often inserted merely as a foundation for a claim to nazar (or premium). Nil Madhab Sikdar v Naraitam Sikdar, 1 L. R. 17 Cal. 826, and Basarat Ali Khan v Mansrelli, 1 L. R. 36 Cal. 745, referred to. JOGESH CHANDRA ROY v MAIBUL ALI (1920)

1 L. R. 47 Cal. 979

JJAGIR.

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1872, s. 12. 1 L. R. 45 Bom. 451

See POLICE JAGIR. 2 Pat. L. J. 725

See SAVAD . 1 L. R. 36 Bom. 639

See SETTLEMENT, CONSTRUCTION OF
1 L. R. 39 Calc. 1

—whether Land is held on Political Tenure—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT, 1872, s. 2. 1 L. R. 45 Bom. 464

*Sanal, construction of—Tenure created by document—Custom—Life estate—Use of the words "putra poutradi"—Absolute and heritable estate—Regulation XXXII of 1773, s. 15. A grant of a jagir is a grant for life only, but in the absence of any custom to the contrary, the addition of the words "putra poutradi" in the grant implies an absolute and heritable estate and passes an estate of inheritance. Under a sanal gatta the ancestor of the plaintiff granted a jagir in the district of Hazaribagh to the grantee and his putra poutradi. On the death of the grantee and of his sons without any male issue, the plaintiff finding that the tenants of the jagir stopped paying him the rents, brought a suit for resumption of the jagir on the ground that according to custom the grant was a service grant and resumable by the grantor and his representatives.*

JAGIR—contd

on failure of male issue in the line of the grantee, and obtained a decree. On appeal to the High Court Held, that the original grantee took an absolute, heritable, and alienable estate and that all his heirs were capable of inheriting it. Ram Lal Mookerjee v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 7 Cal 304, L R 8 I A 46 followed. Gulabdas Jugvandas v The Collector of Surat, 1 L R 3 Bom 186, L R 6 I A 54, Bhujanga Puri v Ramayamma, 1 L R 7 Mad 357, and Lalit Mohan Singh Roy v Chukkun Lal Roy 1 L R 21 Cal 834, L R 24 I A 76, referred to. Perkash Lal v Rameshwar Vaid Singh, 1 L R 31 Cal 581, and Roopnath Konwar v Jugun Nath Sahas Das, 6 S D A R 31, Rep 153, distinguished. RAM SARAN LAL v RAM NARAYAN SINGH (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 305

Construction of jagir —Life estate—Custom of succession in Chota Nagpur —Construction of words putraputraditi—Grant must be not ambiguous—Bengal Regulation XXXVII of 1793, s 15—Liability to resumption on failure of lineal male heirs A predecessor in title of the appellant granted a jagir of a village in Raj Ramgarh, Chota-Nagpur, in the following terms: "you with your putraputraditi will continue to enjoy the same." The respondents were not the direct lineal heirs of the grantee but only collateral, the lineal male heirs having failed. The evidence showed that all jagirs granted in Raj Ramgarh were by custom resumable on failure of lineal heirs in the male line of the original grantee. In a suit to resume the jagir—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court, and restoring that of the Subordinate Judge), that a jagir must be taken to be prima facie an estate for life only though it might possibly be granted in such terms as to make it hereditary. But the terms making the grant of a jagir a grant of an estate of inheritance must, if they are to be considered alone, be terms which are not ambiguous, and must clearly shew whether it was intended by the grantor that the right of inheritance should be general or should be confined to a particular class of heirs. In this case it was held on the evidence that the jagir was resumable by the heirs of the grantor on failure of male heirs in the direct line of descent. Ramlal Mookerjee v Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 7 Cal 304; L R 8 I A 46, and Lalit Mohan Singh Roy v Chukkun Lal Roy 1 L R 21 Cal 834, L R 24 I A 76, distinguished. RAM NARAYAN SINGH v RAM SARAN LAL (1918) 1 L R 46 Cal 683

JAIL CODE.

Rules in the Jail Code are framed by the Local Government and have the force of law when sanctioned by the Governor General in Council PRABU MOHAN DAS v WATSON 16 C W N 145

JAIL REGISTER

—extract from—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
1 L R 43 Cal 1128

JAGADGURU.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s 9
1 L R 45 Bom 590

JAINS

See HINDU LAW

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

1 L R 32 All 247

1 L R 45 Bom 754

25 C W N 273.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

1 L R 33 Mad 439

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

Jains are of Hindu Origin They are Hindu dissenters and although generally adhering to Hindu Law (i.e.) the Law of their 3 superior castes they recognise no divine authority in the 'Vedas,' and do not practise the 'Shradhs' or ceremony for the dead but the Hindu rules of adoption are applied in the absence of customary usage SAROKHARRAI v JEOBAJ (1920) 25 C W N 272

JAJNAVALKYA.

—Ch II, Vers 117, 145—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAY

1 L R 43 Cal 944

JALKAR

—right of—

See FISHERY . 1 L R 42 Cal 489

Dispute concerning jalkar—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to institute proceedings under s 145 of the Code after an order binding down one of the parties to keep the peace—Order attaching the subject of dispute on being unable to determine the question of possession—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) s 107, 145 146 The Magistrate has jurisdiction to take proceedings under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, after an order under s 107 of the Code binding down one of the parties to keep the peace, when the circumstances so require. Where there was a reasonable apprehension that several persons who were interested in the subject of dispute and had absconded at the time of the s. 107 proceeding might cause a breach of the peace with the first party, who were fishermen, or that the latter might seek to enforce their rights against the second party, who had been bound down, in which case the order binding them down would have the effect of ousting them from any possession they might have Held, that the Magistrate acted properly in instituting proceedings under s. 145 of the Code, in order to determine which party was in actual possession of the disputed property, and was justified in attaching the same, under s. 146, if he found himself unable to determine the question of possession. BAISNAH CHAMAN MAJHI v GATEWATH MURSHI (1912) 1 L R 39 Cal 468

Rights in a river—Bed of a river, meaning of—Hunter's Statistical Accounts s) can be referred to for establishing existence of private rights Per JESNIAH, C J—Jalkar rights of a river extend to waters in the river bed though they are not connected with the waters of the flowing stream throughout the year Where the right of fishery is in a river the Court has to be satisfied on a consideration of all the material facts and conditions whether it can fairly and reasonably be said that the waters over which the fishery is claimed are a part of the river Per HARRINGTON, J—The tract in dispute was the bed of the river because it was habitually and regularly covered by the river for a substantial portion of the year in the ordinary course of nature. Per MOOKERJEE, J—The bed of a river is the whole of what contains its waters when most swollen in whatever time of the year without leaving its channel and overflowing its banks. The grantee of a fishery right in the river is entitled to fish in all waters comprised within the banks of the river, and the circumstance that a particular sheet of water may, during part of the year, be disconnected from the flowing stream of permanent current does not affect the rights of the grantee. ANMODI BEGUM v. TARAKNATH GHOSH (1913) . . . 17 C. W. N. 1173

JALKAR—contd.

Jalkar rights in river —Shifting of bed leaving sheets of water which become connected with the river only when there is inundation—Certain kopras or sheets of water which once formed the bed of the river Mahananda are now surrounded by cultivable lands within the plaintiff's pattas. The river has moved many miles away, the kopras are completely isolated, and are no longer part of the river bed, and there is no connection of the kopras with the river except when the whole country is inundated by the flood water of another river. Held, that the defendant, who have jalkar rights in the Mahananda have no right of fishery in the kopras which belong exclusively to the plaintiffs. SARU KANTA ACHARYA v. KUNJA MOHAM MOITRA (1917) . . . 22 C. W. N. 63

JATS.

See CUSTOM . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 749

JEWISH LAW.

Marriage Custom—"Ketuba," legal effect of—Rights of wife. In a suit brought by a Jewish lady, married in Calcutta, for the recovery from her deceased husband's estate of the sum mentioned in a ketuba, executed on the occasion of their marriage. Held, that the ketuba was a necessary but formal incident of the marriage contract and ceremonial, and created no such right in favour of the widow. JOSHUA v. ABRAHAM (1912) . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 266
CONFIRMING . . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 708

JIVAI GRANT.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 778

JODI.

See JUDL

JOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O II, R. 2.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 444

JOINDER OF CHARGES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 223 to 239

1 — Offences against different persons by the same accused—Legality of joint trial—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s 234—Practice S 234 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not limited to the case of offences committed against the same person, but applies also where they are committed against different persons. Manu Miya v. Empress, I L R 9 Calc. 371, and Sri Bhagwan Singh v. Empress, 13 C W. N. 507, followed. Empress v. Murari, I L R 4 All. 147, Nanda Kumar Sircar v. Empress, 11 C. W. N. 1123, Ali Mahomed v. Empress, 13

JOINDER OF CHARGES—contd.

O. W. N. 418, dissented from. Queen Empress v. Juala Prasad, I L R 7 All. 174, referred to. At the same time the powers under the section should be used with great care and caution where there are different complainants. SUBEDAR AHIR v. EMPEROR (1915) . . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 13

2 — Offences of the same kind committed in respect of different persons—Legality of joint trial—Criminal Procedure Code, ss 234 and 239—Practice The words "offences of the same kind" used in s 234 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and as defined by sub cl. (2) of the said section, do not imply that the offences should necessarily have been committed against the same person. Where, therefore, there were six persons accused of having been jointly concerned in carrying on a systematic swindle, and three joint charges were framed against all the accused. Held, there was nothing illegal in the procedure. Subedar Ahir v. Emperor, I L R 43 Calc. 13, followed. Empress v. Murari, I L R 4 All. 147, dissented from. EMPEROR v. BACHAN PANDE (1916) . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 457

JOINDER OF PARTIES.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 340

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 13

See PARTIES, JOINDER OF
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 87

JOINT AND ACQUIRED PROPERTY.

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT
I. L. R. 34 Mad. 257

JOINT APPEAL.

See COMPANIES . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 368

JOINT BOND.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 462 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 409

JOINT BUSINESS.

See JOINT FAMILY BUSINESS
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT PROPERTY
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1099

JOINT CONTRACT.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 462
I. L. R. 34 Mad. 314
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 409

See CONTRACT ACT ss 43 to 45

JOINT CONVICTION.

Joint Penalty—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899), ss 444 and 574—Disobedience of order under s. 444 (2) by two persons The owner and an occupier of a house in Calcutta were jointly convicted of disobedience of an order under s. 444 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, and a joint penalty of fine was imposed upon them. Held, that the joint conviction and the joint penalty were illegal, each of the accused being guilty of a separate offence. BHAI RAB CHANDRA KOLAT v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1910) . . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 895

JOINT CREDITORS.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 55.
2 Pat. L. J. 520

JOINT DEBTS.See ACCOUNTS, SUIT FOR.

I L. R. 44 Calc. 1

JOINT DEBTORS— suit for contribution between—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 39 Mad. 238

JOINT DECREE.— execution of—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 46 Calc. 25

JOINT DECREE-HOLDERS— rights of, inter se—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L. R. 33 All 563

JOINT ESTATE

— *Private partition—Encumbrance by co-sharer—Holding in severalty—Tenancy in common—Partition by Collector, effect of—Estates Partition Acts (Beng Act V of 1897, s 99, and Beng Act VIII of 1878, s 123)—Practice —Abandonment of plaintiff's case and adoption by him of defendant's s. 99 of Beng Act V of 1897 applies only where the lands are held jointly by the proprietors and not in severalty in pursuance of a private arrangement between the parties. *Hriday
Nath v Mohobutnessa* I L. R. 29 Calc. 235
Aimanaddi Patra v Nabin Chandra Gope, 11
C L J 95 Syed Abdul Latif v Aimanaddi Patra
15 C W N 476, followed. Joy Sankari Gupta v, Bharat Chandra Bardhan, I L. R. 26 Calc. 431, distinguished. Where a section of an Act (here, s.
123 of Beng. Act VIII of 1878) which was received a judicial construction [Hriday Nath v Mohobutnessa] is re-enacted in the same words such reenactment [here, s 99 of Beng Act V of 1897] must be treated as a legislative recognition of that construction. Mansell v Regina, 8 E and B 54 Ex parte Campbell, L. R. 5 Ch. App. 703, followed. When on a partition by the Collector any land of an undivided joint estate, which had been encumbered by any co-sharer, is allotted to another co-sharer, the latter takes it free from the encumbrance so created. Byjnath v Ramodeen, L. R. 11 A 104 followed. The decision in Sheikh Ahmadullah v Sheikh Ashraf Hossein, 13
W R 417, [where the lands were held in severalty] which was followed in Hriday Nath v Mahobut-nessa I L. R. 29 Calc. 235, is not, as is assumed in Joy Sankari Gupta v Bharat Chandra Bardhan, I L. R. 26 Calc. 431 [inconsistent with, and has not consequently been overruled in effect by the decision of the Judicial Committee in Byjnath v Ramodeen, L. R. 11 A 106, [where the lands were held in common tenancy] Byjnath v Ramodeen, L. R. 11 A 106, Venkatarama v Evumia, I L. R.
33 Mad 429 Sheikh Nura v Bhatudamm Roy
21 C L J 596, Broja Nath Saha v Dinesh Chandra Roy, 21 C L J 599 Taralanta v Ishur Chandra, 21 C L J 693, Joy Sankari Gupta v Bharat Chandra Bardhan I L. R. 26 Calc 431, distinguished as cases where land was held in common tenancy. A plaintiff cannot be allowed to abandon his own case adopt that of the defendant and claim relief on that footing Shabiruts Sircar v Abdul Haqueem, I L. R. 5 Calc. 602, *Ramdayal v
Jumunoy* I L. R. 14 Calc. 791 *Balmukund
Kewada v Bhagvandas Kewada*, 15 Bom. L.
R. 202 followed. But that does not prevent the defendant from contending that even on the facts*

JOINT ESTATE—contd

found the plaintiff's claim [here, for ejectment] cannot be sustained. *NAKENDRA MOHAN ROY v
PYARI MOHAN SAHA* (1915)

I L. R. 43 Calc. 103

JOINT EXECUTION.

See ATTESTATION BY EXECUTANTS.

I L. R. 37 Calc 526

See PROMISSORY NOTE.

I L. R. 38 Mad. 689

JOINT FAMILY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1832,

s 231 I L. R. 32 All 404

s. 214 I. L. R. 1 Lah 134

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s. 68-
I L. R. 32 All. 325

See JOINT HINDU FAMILY

See KHUJAS I L. R. 33 Bom 419

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L. R. 41 Calc. 524

JOINT FAMILY BUSINESS.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L. R. 39 Bom 715

See MUHAMMADAN LAW

I L. R. 33 Mad. 1039

— *Private arbitration—Award, operation of, on moneys realised by member on behalf of family—"Cash" meaning of. The members of a joint family business referred their disputes (in view of dissolution) to an arbitrator before whom on 31st July 1895 they stated inter alia, that they had divided amongst themselves all the moveables consisting of cash and kind, etc. that a sum of Rs.
5,650 was payable to one of them B, that they had understood the accounts among themselves and that "now no co-sharer has any right to demand accounts from another, and the arbitrator made his award on 5th August 1895. At the date of the award, there was an undischarged usufructuary mortgage executed on 10th June 1893, for 14 years, by one M in favour of B as representing the family to be discharged by receipt of the usufruct. Held that the terms and intent of the award precluded the other co-sharers from asking for an account of moneys realised previous to the date of the award. The word "cash" referred to all moneys received by the parties before the statement was made to the arbitrator
SHRO NARAIN SINGH v BISHUVAH SINGH (1913)
18 C W. N 426*

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY.

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901) s.
22 I L. R. 38 All 325

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PRO-PERTY

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L. R. 39 Mad. 138

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE
ACT (II of 1901) ss. 107, 111 112.

I L. R. 35 All 543

— if exists in Mahomedan Law—

See MUHAMMADAN LAW—JOINT BUSINESS
I L. R. 33 Mad. 1039

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd.

Sale by father—

See HINDU LAW . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 338

JOINT HINDU FAMILY.

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901),

s. 20 . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 314

s. 22 . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 668

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1852), ss 366, 371

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 248

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss 2 (11), 53

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 504

s. 2 AND O XXII, r. 3

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 114

s. 11 Expt VI . I. L. R. 42 All. 359

O XX, r. 18 . I. L. R. 38 All. 461

See COPYRIGHT . I. L. R. 43 All. 41

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872, r. 69

I. L. R. 34 All. 615

See GUARDIAN ad litem

I. L. R. 38 All. 315

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I. L. R. 40 All. 98

See JOINT FAMILY.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 34 All. 239

See PARTITION . I. L. R. 39 All. 651

See REGISTRATION I. L. R. 37 All. 105

See SALE OF GOODS

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 523

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s. 42 . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 126

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), s. 4 I. L. R. 38 All. 380

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

I. L. R. 41 All. 515

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1852), s. 93 . I. L. R. 36 All. 516

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901)

ss 107 AND 111 I. L. R. 35 All. 527

ss 111, 112, 233 (k)

I. L. R. 35 All. 123

—Whether salary of a member in the ICS is partible property—

See JOINT HINDU FAMILY

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 263

—Whether salary of a member in the ICS is partible property—

See HINDU LAW . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 40

—Ancient property—

Will—Probate—Payment of full probate duty in a case where there was admittedly a joint Hindu

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd.

family consisting of a father and a minor son, the father made a will in effect bequeathing the whole property to his minor son. It was not disputed that the property covered by the will was joint family property. The executors contended that the deceased testator had no beneficial interest in any part of the property devised and therefore they were exempted from the payment of any probate duty: Held, that where the matter in question was probate, the parties claiming under the will could not go behind its terms, or claim any exemption whatsoever upon allegations utterly inconsistent not only with the fact of the will itself, but with the express statements made therein and that the executors must pay full probate duty upon the will. Collector of Kara v Chaudhri I. L. R. 29 Bom. 161, distinguished. KASHINATH PARSHARAM : GOUDAVARAI (1913)

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 245

JOINT HOLDING.

—Widow of one of the joint owners claiming partition—

See SECOND APPEAL

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 348

—Whether section 145, Criminal Procedure Code, is applicable to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 145

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 372

JOINT IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

—partition of—

See BENAMIDAR I. L. R. 43 Calc. 504

JOINT INQUIRY.

—against members of a gang—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 91

JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS.

Release of some—Liability of others—English law—Indian Contract Act (I of 1872), s. 41—Rule of justice, equity and good conscience—Rule of English law, applicability of A release by a decree holder of some of the joint judgment debtors from liability under the decree, does not operate as a release of the other judgment debtors from liability under the decree. The rule of English law should not be applied, in India, as it is based on the substantive rule applicable to contractual joint debtors, which is different under s. 41 of the Indian Contract Act, and is not in consonance with justice, equity and good conscience. Quare Whether the English law should be applied in cases arising within the original jurisdiction of the High Courts. Chinnammannar and Gurusami v. Sadanra, I. L. R. 5 Mad. 337, referred to. Moolchand v. Alwar Chetty (1915) . . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 548

JOINT MAGISTRATE.

See BENGAL REGULATION No. VI of 1825,

s. 2 . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 84

JOINT OWNERS.

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I. L. R. 33 Calc. 833

JUDGE—contd

prosecution by—

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R 43 Calc 169

No privilege or protection attaches to the publication of acts of a Judge who exempts him from advertisement content CHANNING ANSOLD v IMPEROR I L R 41 Calc 1023

JUDGMENT

S & ARBITRATION

I L R 47 Calc 611

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENTSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908

O XLI R 2

I L R 33 All 236

I L R 35 All 358

I L R 42 All 262

O XLI R 11 I L R 37 Bom 610

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (22)

s 110

I L R 38 All 393

ss 367 AND 491

I L R 36 All 496

2 Pat. L J 695

See JUDGMENT OF A SINGLE JUDGESee LETTERS PATENT 1865 (115)

I L R 39 Mad 235

I L R 34 Bom 1

I L R 42 Bom 260

I L R 45 Bom 377 & 428

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

I L R 45 Calc 111

See PES JUDICATA

I L R 38 Mad 158

a nullity—

See JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Calc 639

affirmed on appeal—

See ESTOPPEL

L R 44 I A. 213

Foreign Judgment—Sult on—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 13

I L R 40 Mad. 112

necessity of writing—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908

O XLI R 11

I L R 36 Bom 118

not on the merits of the case—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 13 (b)

I L R 40 Mad. 112

of a single Judge—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL

I L R 43 Calc 90

of the previous Judge, successor not bound to pronounce—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 367

I L R 40 Mad 168

relevancy of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Bom 1JUDGMENT—contd

remarks against a person not a party or witness—

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

I L R 43 Bom. 1127

setting aside a, for fraud—

See FRAUD I L R 38 Mad. 203

1 ——— Judgment binding nature of, on succeeding Judge—Partition of property between co-owners may be effected orally. Where a Judge on appeal decides certain points and remands the case his decision is binding on his successor before whom the case comes up again on appeal from the judgment of the remand. There is no hindrance in the transfer of property A to prevent co-owners from effecting an absolute sale of their property or by LATCHUMAMMAL v ANJANMAL (1913)

I L R 34 Mad 2

2 ——— Personal knowledge of Judge—Material facts in evidence or improperly admitted as basis of judgment—Invalidity of such judgment. A judgment which is based on material facts which were not in evidence and which have been improperly admitted or on the personal knowledge of the Judge is a nullity in accordance with law. See to this effect Madras v Ram Doyal referred to D. P. S. RAMASWAMI v RAM Doyal CHAUDHURI (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 153

not enter part ——— Per judgment—Fiduciary—Estate—R. Levan v. The Hindu purchased certain properties at a sale in execution of a decree against A. Another B whose claim to the property under a katha a village to have been executed by the original owner B had been dismissed in execution proceedings also failed in a suit instituted by her against plaintiff and others under Act of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 having been found that B was really a benamdar for A. Plaintiff's proceeding to take possession was opposed by D. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover the property from D. Held that the orders and decrees in the proceedings were relevant to the issue as to title and the plaintiff not res judicata between the parties were admissible in evidence. Ramaswami Doyal v. The Secretary of State for India I L R 35 Mad 141 referred to. PRASAD MOHAN SHARMA v. DURLAVI DASSA (1913)

18 C W N 954

lost—Procedure. Where a criminal case the accused was convicted and sentenced the records in the case being at the time lost. Held that it was unnecessary for the High Court to order a retrial especially in the absence of an appeal by the accused person. There is no provision of law which enacts that unless all the records of a case are in the court house at the time of conviction and sentence the conviction and sentence are void and should be quashed or that the Sessions Judge's jurisdiction is ousted by the loss of the records. Where a judgment has been lost the appropriate course is for the Sessions Judge to rewrite the judgment in memory and from the materials before him and place it on record. See KAMAK SHARMA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 498

A judgment of one Judge for or leave is valid. SARAJ PANDAY CHOWDHURY v. FRENCHAND CHOWDHURY (1913)

22 C W N 263

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd

Sale by father—

See HINDU LAW . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 338

JOINT HINDU FAMILY.

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901),

s 20 . . . I. L. R. 40 ALL 314

s 22 . . . I. L. R. 42 ALL 668

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV
OF 1882), ss 366, 371

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 248

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss 2 (II), 53

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 504

s 2 AND O XXII, r 3

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 114

s 11 Expt. VI . I. L. R. 42 ALL 359

O XV, r 18 . I. L. R. 38 ALL 481

See COPYRIGHT . I. L. R. 43 ALL 41

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872, r 69

I. L. R. 34 ALL 615

See GUARDIAN ad litem

I. L. R. 38 ALL 315

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PRO-PERTY

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I. L. R. 40 ALL 96

See JOINT FAMILY.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 34 ALL 289

See PARTITION . I. L. R. 39 ALL 651

See REGISTRATION I. L. R. 37 ALL 105

See SALE OF GOODS

I. L. R. 40 CALC 523

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 42 . . . I. L. R. 38 ALL 126

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII
OF 1889), s 4 I. L. R. 38 ALL 380

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

I. L. R. 41 ALL 515

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s 93 . I. L. R. 38 ALL 516See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901)

ss 107 AND 111 I. L. R. 35 ALL 527

ss 111, 112, 233 (1)

I. L. R. 35 ALL 126

Liability of Co-parcenary property under money decree against father—

See JOINT HINDU FAMILY.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 263

Whether salary of a member in the
I.C.S. is partible property—

See HINDU LAW . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 40

Ancestral property—
Will—Probate—Payment of full probate duty in a case where there was admittedly a joint HinduJOINT FAMILY PROPERTY—contd

family consisting of a father and a minor son, the father made a will in effect bequeathing the whole property to his minor son. It was not disputed that the property covered by the will was joint family property. The executors contended that the deceased testator had no beneficial interest in any part of the property devised and therefore they were exempted from the payment of any probate duty. Held, that where the matter in question was probate, the parties claiming under the will could not go behind its terms, or claim any exemption whatsoever upon allegations utterly inconsistent not only with the fact of the will itself, but with the express statements made therein and that the executors must pay full probate duty upon the will. Collector of Kara v. Chunilal, I. L. R. 29 Bom. 161, distinguished. KASHINATH PARSHARAM v. GOURAVABAI (1914)

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 245

JOINT HOLDING.Widow of one of the joint owners claiming partition—

See SECOND APPEAL

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 348

Whether section 145 Criminal Procedure Code, is applicable to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 145

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 372

JOINT IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY

partition of—

See BENAMIDAR I. L. R. 43 CALC. 504

JOINT INQUIRY.

against members of a gang—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I. L. R. 37 CALC. 91

JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS

Release of some—Liability of others—English law—Indian Contract Act (I of 1872) s 41—Rule of justice, equity and good conscience—Rule of English law, applicability of. A release by a decree-holder of some of the joint judgment debtors from liability under the decree, does not operate as a release of the other judgment debtors from liability under the decree. The rule of English law should not be applied, in India, as it is based on the substantive rule applicable to contractual joint debtors, which is different under s 41 of the Indian Contract Act. And is not in consonance with justice, equity and good conscience. Quære Whether the English law should be applied in cases arising within the original jurisdiction of the High Courts. (Chinnamannar and Gurusami v. Sadanra, I. L. R. 5 Mad 387, referred to MOOLCHAND v. ALWAR CHETTY (1913) . . . I. L. R. 33 Mad 543)

JOINT MAGISTRATE.

See BENGAL REGULATION NO VI OF 1823,

s 2 . . . I. L. R. 33 ALL 84

JOINT OWNERS.

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND.

I. L. R. 33 CALC. 683

JOINT OWNERS—contd

See EVIDENCE I L R 39 All 696

See NOTICE I L R 40 Cal 503

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV of 1860) s 497 I L R 33 All 773

—suit by, to recover rent—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX of 1887) Sec II Art 31

I L R 40 All 666

Part 10.—Abolition of formally divided but separate portions thereof taken possession of by the various owners.— In a suit for an equal share of the rights of a village was divided into three mahals with the exception of the ghat as to which it was found that it had not been divided between the mahals by agreement on the village map or on the spot but the owners of the mahals had been in separate possession of portions of it. It held that the only possible inference from this finding was that the parties had agreed amongst themselves as to the possession of the ghat and that so long as the agreement continued each party was entitled to use the portion in his possession in any way he pleased so long as such user or possession did not interfere with the user or possession of the owners of the other mahals. Kumud N. D. Desai v. P. J. J. Mazumdar 11 C H N 51 followed JAGAN NATH PRASAD v. BADRI PRASAD (1911)

I L R 34 All 113

The right.— Quarter what amounts to— Cause of action.— Each joint owner has the right to the possession of all the property held in common equal to the right of each of his companions in interest and superior to that of all other persons. He has the same right to the use and enjoyment of the common property that he had to his sole property except in so far as it is limited by the equal right of his co-sharers. Accordingly each co-owner may at all times reasonably enjoy every part of the common property that is he is entitled to such enjoyment as will not interfere with the like rights of the co-owners. It necessarily follows that one co-owner has no right to the exclusive possession and use of any particular portion of the joint property and if he exercises such rights and excludes his co-sharers from participation in the possession he must account to his co-sharer for his interest in the part from which he is ousted even though he takes no more than his just share. But the co-sharer out of possession cannot complain of the mere possession of the co-owner so long as he refrains from setting up any claim to share in that possession. Hence in order to give rise to a cause of action against the co-sharer it must be proved that he has amounted to ouster or disavowal. It is not easy to frame a formula to cover all cases of ouster but it may generally be stated that where there is an actual turning out or keeping excluded the party entitled to the possession there is an ouster. Any resistance preventing a co-sharer from obtaining effective possession is an actual ouster. Such resistance must be clearly and affirmatively shown and is not presumed from equivocal acts which may or may not have been designed to operate as an exclusion. Jacob v. Seaward I L R 5 H L 464 referred to DEBENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v. NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGH (1919)

I L R 47 Cal 182

JOINT PENALTY

See JOINT CONVICTION

JOINT POSSESSION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XVI s 25 I L R 24 All 150

See COMMON LAW I L R 2 Lab 73

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE I L R 38 Mad 1036

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 37 Cal 637

Suit for possession of a house.— When a house is divided into two parts and one part is only a portion of the whole and the other part is a proper residence when it is taken a suit for joint possession is not maintainable unless there is actual ouster. If it is stated by the defendant in possession that the plaintiff has no right and if he is refused leave to enter the land it is a case of actual ouster and a suit for joint possession will lie. SARAT CHANDRA MUKHOPADHYAY v. PRAJENDRA LAL MITRA (1913)

13 C W N 420

JOINT PROBATE

See HINDU LAW VIII

I L R 59 Mad 365

JOINT PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE I L R 38 Mad 1036

See LIMITATION ACT (XI of 1877) Sec I Art 12

I L R 37 Bom 64

See PARTITION I L R 37 All 155

—Suit for damages for ouster by co-owner—

See DEBENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v. NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGH (1919)

23 C W N 900

Co-owners.—Purchase of an undivided moiety.— Occupancy of the other moiety in virtue of a lease deed.—Subsequent hold over.— I must on Act (IX of 1908) Arts 110, 115 and 120 Arts 110 and 115 of the Limitation Act presuppose the existence of a contract, express or implied where there is no such contract or any relationship of landlord and tenant subsisting between the parties or no holding over as tenant but when the relationship is referable to rights as co-owners a suit for recovery of the moiety of a house and rent for a period of years governed by art 120 of the Limitation Act. Rel. v. Watson & Co. Ltd. v. Ram Chand Dutt I L R 23 Cal 790 applied Quare Whether the fiction of tenancy by sufferance should be kept up after the passing of the Transfer of Property Act. Subbairam Ram v. Gundala Pamanna 1 Mad W N 145 referred to. MADARI KADAR SINGH (1914)

I L R 39 Mad. 54

JOINT PROPRIETORS

—Liability of—

See THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE

I L R 44 Cal 1025

JOINT TENANCY—

1.—Presumption of joint tenancy.— Gift.— Donor's gift for himself.— Manager

JOINT TENANCY—contd

ment handed over on different dates, effect of—Transfer of Property Act, s 46 Where there are no words in an instrument of gift of property to several persons indicating an intention to create tenancies in common, there is a presumption that the donees hold the property as joint tenants and not as tenants in common Indian Succession Act, s 93, illustration, relied on Differences in dates of handing over the management of the property by the donor to the several donees creates no presumption in favour of a tenancy in common the property having vested on the same date. Karoyi Munocky Wadia v Peroshan, I L R 23 Bom. 50, referred to S 45, Transfer of Property Act, has no application to gifts. ARAJAL JOSEPH GABRIEL v. DOMINGO INAS (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 80

2. ——— Partition—Suit by transferee of a portion of a joint tenancy for part on of such portion, maintainability of—Limitation Act XV of 1877, Sec II, Art 144—Adverse possession burden of proving, in a suit for partition The transferee of a portion of a joint tenancy can maintain a suit for partition of such portion when such partition will not be attended with much inconvenience to the other sharers Ramasamy Chetti v Alagarsamy Chetti, I L R 27 Mad 361, not followed Where in such a suit by the transferee, it is alleged that the right of the transferor to claim a share has become barred by exclusion for more than twelve years from enjoyment, the article of the Limitation Act applicable is Art 141 and the burden will be on the defendant to show that the sharer was, in denial of his title, excluded from enjoyment of his share HARIKRISHNA CROWDARY v VENKATALAKSHMI NARAYANA (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad 402

JOINT TORT-FEASORS.

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 All. 237

See TORT . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 486

JOINT TRADE.See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1036JOINT TRIAL.See CHARGE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 318
I. L. R. 46 Calc 712

See CONFESSION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 446

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 110
AND 117. 25 C W. N. 331

ss. 110 AND 190 . 4 Pat. L. J. 7

ss. 197, 239, AND 732
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 147

s. 239 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 311

s. 237, CL (3) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 146

s. 433 . . I. L. R. 39 All. 549

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s 30.
I. L. R. 37 All 247

See JOINDER OF CHARGES.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 13
I. L. R. 38 All. 457

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1133

——— of thief and receivers—

See MISJOINDER I. L. R. 45 Calc 741

JOINT TRIAL—contd

——— of two separate calendar cases—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act
V OF 1898), ss 421, 233, 537

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 527

Secret society—Waging war—Penal Code ss 121 to 123 Where the accused were all alleged to have been members of a secret society, with its head quarters in Manipal in the suburbs, and its places of meeting in Calcutta and elsewhere and to have joined in the unlawful enterprise, and with others, known and unknown, to have conspired to wage war or to deprive the King of the sovereignty of British India and to have collected arms and ammunition with such intent and to have actually waged war Held, that the joint trial of the accused on charges under ss 121, 121A, 122 and 123 of the Penal Code was not bad for misjoinder of persons or charges. BALINDRA KUMAR GHOSH v. EMPEROR (1900)

I. L. R. 37 Calc 467

Receivers of stolen property acting in concert If two persons are shown to have been acting in concert and were in joint control of the stolen property a joint trial would not be illegal Query where it is merely shown that a part of the property which has been stolen was found in the possession of one person and the remainder was found in the possession of another JADUNANDAN PRASAD v KING EMPEROR

I Pat L J. 64

JOINT VENTURE.

——— agreement for—

See PARTNERSHIP

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 281

JOSHI VATANDAR.

See VATANDAR JOSHI

I. L. R. 40 Bom 112

I. L. R. 42 Bom 618

JUDGE.See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XLII, r 27, CL (6)

I. L. R. 38 Mad 414

——— Defamatory Statements made by—

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT, 1856

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1099

——— formerly Counsel for a party—

See COUNSEL . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 823

See CHAMBERS

See STAY OF EXECUTION.

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 796

——— order of a single—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898), ss 435 437, AND 113.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 537

——— order of a single, in revision—

See APPEAL FROM DECISION (24 AND 25 VICT
c. 104, s. 15) I. L. R. 39 Mad. 539

——— personal knowledge of—

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 163

See JUDGMENT . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 163

JUDGE—could prosecution by—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 45 Cal 169

No pr v lepe or protetion attaches to the publc acts of a Judge wh ch attempts h m from adverse comment CHANNING
ARNOLD v EMPEROR I L R 41 Cal 1023

JUDGMENTSee ARBITRATION

I L R 47 Cal 611

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENTSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O V L R 33 All 236

I L R 35 All 388

I L R 42 All 262

O V L R 37 Bom 610

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

s 110 I L R 38 All 293

ss 377 AND 471

I L R 36 All 496

s 471 2 Pat. L J 695

See JUDGMENT OF A SINGLE JUDGESee LETTERS PATENT 1865 CL 15

I L R 39 Mad 235

I L R 34 Bom 1

I L R 42 Bom 260

I L R 45 Bom 377 & 428

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

I L R 45 Cal 111

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 38 Mad 158

a nullity—

See JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Cal 639

affirmed on appeal—

See ESTOPPEL L R 44 I A 213

Foreign Judgment—Sustained—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 13

I L R 40 Mad 112

necessity of writing—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908

O V L R 33 Bom 118

I L R 38 Bom 118

not on the merits of the case—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s. 13 (b)

I L R 40 Mad 112

of a single Judge—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL

I L R 43 Cal 60

of the previous Judge successor not bound to pronounce—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1908) s. 307

I L R 40 Mad 108

relevancy of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Bom 1JUDGMENT—could remarks against a person not a party or witness—

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

I L R 45 Bom 1127

setting aside a, for fraud—

See FRAUD

I L R 38 Mad 203

1 Judgment binding nature of on succeeding Judge—Parties of property between co n does may be eff t d orally Where a Judge on appeal dec des certa p nts and remends the case h s dec s on a b nd ng on l s successor before whom the case comes up again on appeal from the judgment o remand There s no b nd ng n the Transfer of Prop ty Act to pre nt co w dows effect ng an absolute d v s on of property orally LATCHUMAMMAL GANJAMS AL (1910)
I L R 34 Mad 72

2 Personal knowledge of Judge
—Ma rals not n e dence or mprop ly ad a ted as bas s of judgn nt l d j of su h j dgn t
A judgn nt wh ch s based on mater als wh ch were not n evden s and wh ch ha e been mprop-perly admitted or on the personal knowledge of the Judge a not accordance w th law Pat labha v M doud an I L R 19 Mad 495 referred to D RGA PRASAD SINGH v RAM DOYAL
CHANDRURI (1910) I L R 23 Cal 153

Judgments and ord rs not nter pa t es—Res j d cala Pa opnl—F d nce —Rel vancy Pla nt d purchased certa n property es at a sale n execut on of a n oncy decre aganst
A As mother B whose clm to the property under a kobala alleged to have been executed by the org nal owner D had been d sn ssed execu-t on proceedngs also failed in a su t nter t d by her again t pla nt ff and others n l r s. 267 of the C v l Procedure Code of 1892 i hav ng been found that B was really a benamdar for A Pla nt ff on proceed ng to take possess on was opposed by D In a su t by the pla nt ff s to recover the property from D Held tl at the orders and decrees n the prevous t gat on were relevant to the issue as to tle and though not res j d cala between the parties were adm ssible n evd nce Lamamurti Dhora v The Secretary of State for Ind a I L R 36 Mad 141 referred to PEANI
MODAN S IANA v DURLATI DASSYA (1913)
19 C W N 954

Not pronounced—Pe-cord lost—Procedure Where n a cr m nal case the accused was convicted and sentenced the records in the case being at the time lost Held that it was unnecessary for the H gh Court to order a retrial especially n the absence of an appeal by the accused person There s no prov s on of law which enacts that unless all the records of a case are in the court house at the t me of convict on and sentence the convict on and sentence are v d and should be quashed or that the Sec ons Jud s trial has been held or the sentence passed w thout jurisdiction. Where a judgment has been lost the appropriate course is for the Sec ons Judge to recall to it from memory and from the mater als before him and place it on record Re KANAK SUNAMA (1913) I L R 38 Mad 498

A judgment of one Judge of H gh Court read in Court by another when former on leave is val d SARAJ PARSAN CHOD-DRURY v PRINCHAND CHODDRURY (1917)
22 C W N 263

JUDGMENT—contd.

Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908), O. XX, rr 1, 2, 3—Judgment, provisions of the law relating to—Infringement—Curable by consent or waiver O. XX, r 3, Civil Procedure Code, lays down that a judgment shall be dated and signed by the Judge in open Court at the time of pronouncing it and when once signed shall not afterwards be altered or added to save as provided by s 152, or on review. The provisions of the law relating to the delivery of judgment may be deemed to have been framed for the benefit of the parties litigant and their contravention is an irregularity curable by consent or waiver. It is not a case of lack of inherent jurisdiction where the maxim applies that consent cannot give jurisdiction Golab Saa v. Chowdhury Madho Lal, 2 C. L. J. 384 and Gardeo Singh v. Chandrikah Singh, 5 C. I. J. 611. Nor is it a case of a mandatory provision of law, the infringement whereof nullifies the entire proceedings: Ashutosh v. Bchari Lal, 1 L. R. 35 Cal. 61, and The Liverpool Borough Bank v. Turner, 2 De G. F. and J. 502. The infringement of the procedure prescribed by O. XX, rr 1, 2, 3, constitutes an irregularity curable by consent or waiver. It affords no ground for reversal of the decree based on the judgment irregularly pronounced, where the irregularity is waived by the parties and does not affect the merits of the case Brand v. Hammersmith and City Ry. Co. L. R. 2 Q. B. 223, Mahomed Akil v. Aradunissa Bibi, 9 W. R. 1, Lachman Prasad v. Ram Kishan, 1 L. R. 33 All. 236, Holmes v. Russell, 9 Dougl. 437, Garratt v. Hooper, 1 Dougl. 28, Sukh Lal v. Tara Chand, 1 L. R. 33 Cal. 66, referred to Fort Gloster Jute Manufacturing Co. v. Chandrar Kumar Das (1919). I. L. R. 46 Cal. 978.

Insufficient judgment ground for interference in second appeal. A mere general statement that on a perusal of all the evidence in the case the Court is satisfied as to a certain state of facts, is not a sufficient judgment within the meaning of the law. The High Court in second appeal will interfere with a finding of fact where it is shown that a miscarriage of justice has been occasioned by the lower Court's failure to weigh all the evidence before it. Moharab Hussain v. Syed Shah Hamid Hussain.

2 Pat. L. J. 8

Written and signed by one Judge and pronounced by his successor, validity of—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. XX, r 3. Where the Judge who had heard the evidence and arguments in a case also wrote and signed the judgment and was then succeeded by another Judge who, after giving notice to the parties, pronounced the judgment and signed the decree Held, that the judgment was valid. Sar Motya Lakshama Jin v. Loknath Das.

5 Pat. L. J. 147

of Appellate Court in Criminal case—What it must contain—Proper procedure—Where appellant is charged with an offence under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code—Criminal Procedure Code, Act I of 1898, Sections 367, 424, 480, 487. The petitioner was convicted by a Magistrate of the 3rd class of the offence of intentionally offering insult or causing interruption to a Court under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code and fined Rs. 20. He appealed to the District Magistrate who dismissed the appeal recording the following order:—"I have heard the Pleader for the appellant. He has dealt with the points only which are already dealt with in the judgment. In my opinion the appellant has been rightly convicted. Appeal rejected." Held that the judgment of the District Magistrate does not satisfy the requirements of section 367, Criminal Procedure Code, the provisions of which are applicable to the judgment of an Appellate Court—vide section 424 of the Code. An Appellate Court is not required to write a long and elaborate judgment, but it is clearly its duty, not only to examine the evidence, but also to write a judgment affording a clear indication that the appeal has been properly tried and that the points urged by the appellant, have been duly considered and decided. An Appellate Court, which writes a judgment which the High Court is unable to follow without reference to the judgment of the trial Court, obviously falls in the discharge of the duty imposed upon it by law. Held also, that a Court taking action under section 480, Criminal Procedure Code, is required to record particulars mentioned in section 481 and inter alia must record the facts constituting the offence, and the record must also show the nature of the interruption or insult attributed to the accused. When the guilt or innocence of a person depends upon the exact words used by him it is obviously the duty of the Magistrate to record them with a reasonable degree of precision, and his omission to record the nature of the insult constitutes a grave defect of procedure. Dalip Singh v. The Crown.

JUDGMENT—contd.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 308

Charges of unlawful assembly and theft—Statement of points for determination and findings thereon in such cases—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss 367 and 424. Under s. 424, read with s. 367 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the judgment of a lower Appellate Court must, among other matters, contain the point or points for decision, the decision thereon and the reasons for the decision. On a charge under s. 143 of the Penal Code the judgment of such Court should contain, as one of the points for determination, a statement as to the existence of the elements constituting the unlawful assembly in the particular case, and the decision thereon, bearing in mind the provisions of s. 141 of the Penal Code. The judgment on a charge under s. 379 of the Penal Code should contain, as one of the points, the question as to the dishonest intention and a finding on it, especially when the taking of property is admitted, but a bona fide claim of right thereto is set up by the accused. Raw Lal Singh v. Hari Charan Ahir (1909). I. L. R. 37 Cal. 194.

JUDGMENT CREDITORSee INSOLVENT v. I. L. R. 42 Cal. 72JUDGMENT DEBT.

—payment of a portion of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XVI, r. 89 (b).

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 429

JUDGMENT-DEBTOR.See ASSIGNMENT OF A MONEY DECREE

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 35

JUDGMENT DESTROYED—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 201
I L R 33 Mad 485

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908)

O XXI

n. 89 I L R 40 Bom 557

n. 91 I L R 35 Bom 29

See DEPOSIT IN COURT
I L R 43 Cal 100

See EXEMPTION I L R 34 Bom 567

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 190) s. 31 I L R 87 All 452

— alienation by—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 41 Cal 682

— death of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (XIV of 188) s. 241 25 817
I L R 34 Bom 546

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s. 47 AND 50.

I L R 38 Mad. 1076

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 41 Cal 50

— disability of, to mortgage—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 32A I L P 40 Cal 183

— examination of—

See PRACTICE I L R 43 Cal 285

— interest of—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I L R 44 Cal 524

— payment by as interest—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 43 Cal 207

— representative of—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 418

— security for default of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 145; O XXXIV, s. 14.
I L R 38 All 327

JUDGMENT OF A SINGLE JUDGE

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL.
I L R 43 Cal 80

JUDI

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
I L R 45 Bom 638

See KANDAR I L R 41 Bom 159
I L R 40 Mad 93

— payment of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1879) s. 60
I L R 42 Bom 93

JUDICIAL ACT

See SEARCH FOR ARMS.
I L R 39 Cal 853

JUDICIAL COMMISSIONER

See JURISDICTION
I L R 43 Cal 136

See SECOND APPEAL.
I L R 47 Cal 107

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE.

See JURY COUNCIL

See PRACTICE

I L R. 43 Cal. 984

— functions of in criminal cases—

See JURY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF
I L R. 41 Cal 1023

— Practice of—

See PRACTICE I L R 43 Cal 110

JUDICIAL DECISIONS

— application of—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L P 41 Cal 446

— suspicion not a ground for—

See BURDEN OF PROOF
I L B 34 All 511

JUDICIAL DISCRETION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 145 AND 145 4 Pat. L J 428

OVI s. 1. 25 C. W N 289

See COMMISSION AGENCY

I L R 45 Cal. 139

See LIMITATION L R 44 I A 218

Decision not based on adequate and no power of High Court to reverse——Law not on— Not justice of accounts Where it is left to the Court's discretion to act or to refuse to act in a particular way and it is found that the conclusion of fact at which the Court arrived and which formed the basis of its decision were not such as could possibly support that decision, then the Court's discretion has not been exercised in a legal and proper manner and the High Court is entitled to reverse the decision arrived at. In this case a discretion had been exercised because of the negligence of a party's servant which was not right and the High Court therefore interfered. Where the law has provided a time limit within which any particular step is to be taken and a party waits until the last moment before beginning to take action he is not entitled to the Court's indulgence if an accident prevents the step from being taken within the time prescribed by law. SETH JAHAN MAL v G M. LEITCHMAN (1913)
4 Pat. L J 391

JUDICIAL ENQUIRY

See SURVEY I L R 42 Cal 706

JUDICIAL INTERPRETATION

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s. 160
2 Pat. L J 722

JUDICIAL NOTICE

See MAPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR.
I L R 39 Mad 1052

See LABEL I L R 37 Cal 760

JUDICIAL OFFICER

— suit against—

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT (XVIII of 1850) s. 1
I L R 39 All 516

Defamatory statement made by a Judge in the course of a suit—Discharge of judicial duty—Judge protected from being sued in a Civil Court The plaintiff

JUDICIAL OFFICER—contd

iff, a pleader, while conducting a suit in the defendant Subordinate Judge's Court, applied for an adjournment. The defendant, considering that the application contained a statement which was false and was intended to deceive the Court, called upon the plaintiff to apologise and withdraw the alleged objectionable statement. The plaintiff having refused to apologise or to withdraw the statement, the defendant issued a notice to the plaintiff and reported his conduct to the District Judge. The plaintiff alleged that both the notice and the report contained defamatory statements and therefore sued the defendant for libel. Held, that the defendant in dealing with the conduct of the plaintiff pleader was acting as a Judge in discharge of his judicial duty, and was, therefore, protected from any liability to be sued in a civil Court under Act XVIII of 1850. VITHAL RAMCHANDRA v. RAGHA VENDEA RAMRAO (1920) I L R 45 Bom. 1089

JUDICIAL OFFICERS' PROTECTION ACT (XVIII OF 1850).

See TRESPASS I. L. R. 34 Cal. 953

Suit for damages—

Allegation that defendant had brought a false case against plaintiff—Rejection of plaint. A suit for damages was filed against a judicial officer, the material allegations in the plaint being that the defendant had, on account of enmity, taken the plaintiff into custody, and had, through ill feeling and dishonesty, brought a false charge against him under ss 384 and 165 of the Indian Penal Code. Held, that the plaint as framed could not be said to disclose a cause of action, so as to justify its rejection in limine, for which purpose it was necessary to consider the plaint only and nothing else; but it was necessary to ascertain what facts the plaintiff could prove before it was possible to decide whether the case came within the purview of Act XVIII of 1850. IZZAT ALI v. MUHAMMAD SHARAFAT ULLAH KHAN (1917)

I L R. 39 All. 518

JUDICIAL OPINION

difference of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXXIII, R. 5.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 620

JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT, 1908 s. 27. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 518

See "COURT," MEANING OF.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 476. I. L. R. 33 All. 396

See DEFAMATION

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 383

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT, s. 14. 15 C. W. N. 269

See PENAL CODE, s. 193. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 834

stage in a—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 597

1. — Criminal Procedure Code, s.

476—"Judicial proceeding," execution proceeding

JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS—contd

if An execution proceeding is a "judicial proceeding" within the meaning of s. 476 of the Code, the definition in s. 4, cl. (m), being clearly not exhaustive. SHAIKH BAHADUR v. SHAIKH ERABATULLA (1910) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642
14 C. W. N. 789

2. — Preliminary inquiry—Preliminary inquiry by an Assistant Settlement Officer to determine whether a prosecution should be directed—Power to take evidence on oath in such inquiry—False evidence in the course of the inquiry—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895), ss 4 (m) and 476—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193 and Explanation (2)—Oaths Act (X of 1873), s. 4—Government Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), Rule 40. A Court holding a preliminary inquiry under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code may legally take evidence on oath therein, and the inquiry is, therefore, a "judicial proceeding" within the terms of s. 4 (m) of the Code. Raghobhans Sahoy v. Kailash Singh, I L R 17 Calc. 572, and Emperor v. Gopal Barik, I L R 34 Calc. 42, referred to. Such an inquiry is also a stage of a judicial proceeding under Explanation 2 to s. 193 of the Penal Code, and a person giving false evidence in the course of it commits an offence under the section. Under s. 4 of the Oaths Act and Rule 40 (a) of the Government Rules framed under the Bengal Tenancy Act, a Settlement Officer has the power to receive evidence on oath, and is competent to hold a preliminary inquiry under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code. ABDULLAH KHAN v. EMPEROR (1909)

I L R. 37 Calc. 52

JUDICIAL SEPARATION.

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869), s. 23.

I. L. R. 33 All. 500

JURISDICTION

See ACQUITTAL. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 703

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—

s. 4. I. L. R. 39 All. 605

ss 4, 5 AND 8 I. L. R. 43 All. 445

ss 58 AND 177 (e).

I. L. R. 38 All. 485

s. 79. I. L. R. 39 All. 455

s. 106. I. L. R. 43 All. 454

s. 177. I. L. R. 43 All. 18

s. 198. I. L. R. 43 All. 325

s. 95. I. L. R. 35 All. 14

I. L. R. 43 All. 168

s. 190. I. L. R. 37 All. 94

See APPEAL.

See ARBITRATION

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 29, 752

I. L. R. 36 All. 354

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1059

See ARBITRATION BY COURT

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 421

See ARBITRATION ACT (IX of 1899)

ss 8 (1) (a), (b), (c) (d) AND (2) 0

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 809

JURISDICTION—contd

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT

I L R 43 Calc 780

See BENGAL NORTH WESTERN RAILWAYS AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT (XII of 1887)—

s. 8 & 20 I L R 31 All 383

s. 8 & 21 I L R 34 All 205

s. 21 I L R 32 All 222

s. 22(3) I L R 37 All 232

See BENGAL REGULATION VI OF 1843

s. 2 I L R 33 All 84

See BOMBAY CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV of
1862) s. 10 I L R 39 Bom 136

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT

1901 s. 151 I L R 44 Bom 738

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT

BOMBAY III OF 1874 ss. 23 AND 30

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT 1870,

I L R 36 Bom 203

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE s. 121

I L R 45 Bom 6

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT

(X OF 1876) s. 4 (a)

I L R 43 Bom 277

I L R 44 Bom 130, 181

I L R 45 Bom 1121 1122

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1902—

s. 43 I L R 33 All 244

s. 278 I L R 34 All 365

s. 539 I L R 36 Bom 29

s. 583 I L R 32 All 79

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1903—

s. 9 I L R 32 All 527

I L R 37 All 313

I L R 45 Bom 500

s. 10 I L R 44 Bom 283

16 (a) and (d) I L R 41 All 513

s. 20 (c) I L R 34 All 49

I L R 36 All 563

I L R 37 All 189

I L R 39 All 807

I L R 45 Bom 1238

s. 24 I L R 34 Bom 411

I L R 39 All 214

I L R 40 All 525

I L R 1 Lah 158

s. 47 and 144 I L R 44 Bom 702

s. 54 I L R 42 Bom 639

s. 60 I L R 37 Bom 415

s. 68 O XXI s. 100.

I L R 37 Bom 438

s. 80 I L R 35 All 439

I L R 42 Bom 742

s. 110 I L R 36 Bom 105

I L R 39 All 101

I L R 42 All 18

I L R 42 Bom 119

3 Pat. L. J 378

O 7 s. 10 I L R 1 Lah 203

O IV s. 13 I L R 37 All 208

JURISDICTION—contd

O IV s. 8 AND 9

I L R 44 Bom 62

O XVI s. 1 I L R 38 Bom 184

O XVII s. 1 I L R 37 Bom 632

O XVIII s. 1 I L R 44 Bom 593

OO XVIII s. 1 I L R 44 Bom 593

OO XVIII s. 1 I L R 44 Bom 593

O XIX s. 22 I L R 1 Lah 396

O XX s. 1 I L R 38 Bom 416

I L R 43 All 238

See III s. 69

I L R 37 Bom 32

See COLLECTOR I L R 40 Calc 465

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) s. 207

I L R 38 All 407

See COMPANY I L R 45 Calc 456

See COMPLAINT

I L R 40 Calc 441

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 45 Calc 169

See CONTRACT I L R 47 Calc 583

See CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT 1912

s. 42 I L R 44 Bom 552

See COPYRIGHT ACT (XV OF 1847)

ss. 1 AND 12 I L R 33 All 24

See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 1070

See COURT FEE

I L R 40 Calc 245

I L R 40 Calc 615

I L R 45 Calc 634

See COURT FEES ACT 180 s. 1

I L R 36 Bom 623

See COURT OF WARDEN ACT (BOM ACT

I OF 1903) s. 3 (c).

I L R 37 Bom 313

See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST

I L R 48 Calc 879

See CRIMINAL JURISDICTION

I L R 37 Calc 714

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, (ACT V

OF 1898)—

ss. 110 AND 576 I L R 37 All 20

s. 107 170 438 I L R 40 All 140

s. 110 I L R 36 Mad 88

I L R 39 All 139

ss. 112, 167 I L R 36 All 262

s. 170 I L R 35 All 103

I L R 41 All 631

s. 133 I L R 36 All 209

s. 143 2 Pat. L. J 88

ss. 143 430 I L R 32 All 132

ss. 143 AND 433 I L R 36 All 233

ss. 145 AND 572 I L R 37 All 634

s. 145 I L R 39 All 612

I L R 40 All 364

s. 177 I L R 34 All 431

s. 179 I L R 34 All 437

I L R 25 All 29

ss. 179 AND 188 I L R 38 Mad 779

ss. 182 631 I L R 32 All 297

JURISDICTION—contd

s 188	I L R 41 All 452
s 190	I L R 44 Bom 42
s 195	I L R 39 All 857
	I L R 44 Bom 877
	I L R 34 All 197
	I L R 36 Mad 138
ss. 190 476	I L R 34 All 602
s. 203	I L R 36 All 129
s 339	I L R 37 All 331
ss 345 AND 439	I L R 37 All 419
s 350	I L R 36 All 315
	I L P 40 All 307
s. 407	I L R 34 All 244
s 437	I L R 36 All 53
ss 439 476	I L R 40 All 144
s. 4 G	I L R 39 All 91
	I L R 40 All 24 & 116
	I L R 43 All 180
	I L R 43 Bom 300
ss 517 520	I L R 35 All 374
s 50	I L R 35 Bom 253
	I L R 42 Bom 664
s 529	I L R 39 Calc 1050
ss 596 107 117 118	I L R 32 All 642
s. 556	I L R 32 All 635
See DECREE	I L R 39 Bom 34
	I L R 40 All 579
See DIVORCE	I L R 44 Bom 924
	I L R 45 Bom 547
	I L R 45 Calc 525
See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND	I L R 49 Calc 1056
See DIVORCE ACT (V OF 1869)—
ss 2, 4 7 AND 45.	I L R 38 Bom 125
s. 3	I L R 32 All 203
	I L R 37 Bom 57
See EVIDENCE	I L R 38 Mad 160
See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1879) s 44	I L R 34 All 143
See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT	I L R 39 Mad 942
See EXECUTION OF DECREE	I L R 33 All 306
	I L R 35 All 119
	I L R 36 All 33
	I L R 47 Calc 1100
See EX PARTE DECREE.	I L R 43 Calc 153
See EXTRADITION	I L R 41 Calc 400
See FOREIGN DECREE.	I L R 39 Mad 24
See FORFEITURE	I L R 42 Calc 730
See FRAUD	I L R 38 Calc 936
See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (V OF 1897)	s. 3 (25) I L R 35 All 156
See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT 1890—

JURISDICTION—contd

s. 9	I L R 34 Bom 121
ss 19 24 25	I L P 37 All 515
See HABEAS CORPUS	I L R 44 Calc 76
	I L R 48 Calc 52
See HIGH COURTS ACT (24 AND 25 VICT	c 104) ss 9 AND 13
	I L R 39 Bom 604
See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
See HIGH SEAS	I L R 42 Bom 234
See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION	5 Pat. L J 164
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION	I L R 43 Calc 1059
See HOMESTEAD LAW	I L R 42 Calc 638
See INSOLVENCY	I L R 38 Calc 542
	I L R 43 Calc 243
	I L R 44 Calc 899
	I L R 45 Bom 550
	I L R 47 Calc 721
See INTEREST	I L R 44 Bom 775
See JURISDICTION AND CLAIM
See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS
See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND PREVENTIVE	COURTS
See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS
See JURISDICTION OF DISTRICT COURT
See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT
See JURISDICTION OF INFERIOR COURT
See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
See JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE	COURT
See JURY	I L R 37 Calc 467
	I L R 44 Calc 723
See LAND ACQUISITION	I L R 39 Calc 33
See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—
s. 3	I L R 45 Bom 277
s. 18	I L R 35 Bom 146
See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V	OF 1879) s 85
See LETTERS PATENT (BOMBAY) s 19	I L R 37 Bom 494
See LETTERS PATENT (Calc) s 39	2 Pat. L J 684
See LITIGATION ACT OF (V OF 1908)—
ART 109	I L R 34 All 482
ARTS 181 189	I L R 42 Bom 309
See LUGNACY	I L R 48 Calc 577
See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD	III 1904) s 413 I L R 38 Mad 581
See MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT (I OF	1909) s 189 I L R 39 Mad 239
See MAGISTRATE	I L R 39 Calc 119
See MAHALDAR S COURTS ACT (BOM. ACT	II OF 1900) s. 3.
	I L R 37 Bom 595

JURISDICTION—contd

- See MISFE PROFIT I L R 40 Calc 58
2 Pat L J 594
- See MINOR—GUARDIAN
I L R 41 I A 314
- See MORTGAGE I L R 33 All 97
I L R 37 Mad 420
- See MORTGAGE DEED
3 Pat L J 478
- See PARTITION I L R 45 Calc 873
- See LEGAL CODE (ACT XVI of 1860)
s 40 I L R 38 Mad 639
ss 102 AND 211 I L R 38 All 212
ss 463 471 I L R 38 Mad 387
- See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII of 1911)
s 4 I L R 37 Bom 91
I L P 42 Bom 257
I L R 45 Bom 186
- See PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATE
I L R 47 Calc 147
- See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT
I L R 38 Calc 425
- See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT—
Act (XV of 1937) s 33.
I L R 42 Bom 80
I L R 39 Mad 219
- See PROHIBITORY ORDER.
I L R 39 Calc 154
- See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
Act (IX of 198)—
s 75 I L R 34 All 348
I L R 45 Bom 292
s 20 I L R 37 All 450
I L R 39 All 357
s 9 SCH II ART 41
I L R 41 All 51
- See SCH II ART 13.
I L R 40 All 663
- ART 31 3 Pat L J 423
- ART 31 I L R 40 All 142, 666
- ART 34 I L R 40 All 52
- ART 41 I L R 40 All 135
- See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III of 1867)
s 5 I L R 34 All 597
- See PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 1887
s 119 I L R 1 Lah 387
- See RAILWAY ACT (IX of 1859) ss 170(a)
130 I L R 43 Bom 889
s 4 I L R 45 Bom 1324
- See RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 70, 352
4 Pat L J 642
- See REGISTRATION
I L R 41 Calc 972
- See REGULATION (V of 1885) ss 85, 141
I L P 37 All 220
- See REWARD I L R 46 Calc 738
- See REST I L R 45 Calc 769
- See RESTITUTION OF CONFISCATED RIGHTS.
I L R 34 Bom 238
- See REVENUE COURT—JURISDICTION OF

JURISDICTION—contd

- See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT— s 4 AND s. (a) I L R 34 Bom 232 ss 4 (c) 7 AND 6
I L R 37 Mad 542
- See REVENUE I L P 43 Calc 903
- See SALARY EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I L R 41 Calc 590
- See SEA CUSTOMS ACT (VIII of 1875), ss 167 (J) 180 184 191
I L R 43 Bom 221
- See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
- See SMALL CAUSE COURT
- See STAMP ACT (II of 1893) ss 40 47
I L R 40 All 128
- See STAY OF SUIT I L R 43 Calc 144
- See SUCCESSOR CERTIFICATE ACT (VII of 1869) ss 13 20 I L R 34 All 145
- See THIRD PARTY NOTICE.
I L R 45 Bom 1
- See TRADE MARK I L R 37 All 416
- See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901)—
s 4 I L R 43 All 45
s 18 I L R 39 All 297
ss 6 & 18 I L R 43 All 422
s 33(1) I L R 39 All 469
- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (I of 1900) s 147
I L R 32 All 620
- magistrate cannot invite District Magistrate's opinion—
I L R 37 Bom 144
- See INTERIM I L R 37 Bom 144
- preliminary decrees—Duty of Court to draw up—
- See INTERIMINARY DECREE
I L R 37 Bom 60
- See WRIT I L R 45 Bom 234
- See WAIVER I L R 44 Calc 10
- objection to, not taken in first Court—
- See VALUATION OF SUIT
I L R 43 Bom 507
- dismissal of the suit for want of—
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s 11
I L R 37 Bom 563
- in suit for maintenance—
- See PARCIS I L R 38 Bom 615
- of Chief Presidency Magistrate—
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1938)—
s 514 I L R 42 Bom 400
- of Civil and Revenue Courts—
- See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—
ss 90 AND 167 I L R 36 All 48
s 107 I L R 39 All 675
- See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE
ACT (III of 1901), ss 203 TO 207
I L P 39 All 711

JURISDICTION—contd

- of foreign Court—
See FOREIGN DECREE, EXECUTION OF
 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 24
- of Municipal Courts—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908), s 86 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 635
- of Registrar in Insolvency—
See PRESIDENCY INSOLVENCY ACT, s 5
 20 C. W. N. 631
- of subordinate Courts to take proceedings under s 14—
See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XV of 1870), s 14 I. L. R. 39 Mad 1045
- ouster of—
See CIVIL COURTS I. L. R. 39 Mad. 21
- protest against—
See FOREIGN COURT
 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 733
- of High Court in a Revenue case—
See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901, s 167
 I. L. R. 42 All. 83
- submission to, whether voluntary—
See FOREIGN DECREE, EXECUTION OF
 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 24
- to rehear—
See AFFIDAVIT I. L. R. 37 Cal. 259
- to try offence committed on high seas—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898), s 183.
 I. L. R. 41 Bom 667
- voluntary submission to—
See FOREIGN COURT
 I. L. R. 39 Mad 733

1. — Secretary of State for India in Council—"Dwell or carry on business of personally work for gain"—Letters Patent, 1863, s 12 This Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit brought against the Secretary of State for India in Council, where the cause of action arose wholly outside the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of this Court, on the sole ground that the Secretary of State for India in Council dwells or carries on business or personally worked for gain within the local limits of Calcutta, the capital of India, at time of the institution of this suit. Doya Narain Tewary v The Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 14 Cal. 256, followed. RODRICKS v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912).
 I. L. R. 40 Cal. 308

2. — evidence taken by another Judge—Practice—Evidence in criminal case recorded by Assistant Sessions Judge—Judgment pronounced by Sessions Judge without rehearing the evidence. Where a Sessions Judge decided a case upon evidence taken, not before him, but before an Assistant Sessions Judge, it was held that the Sessions Judge's judgment was ultra vires and a fresh trial was ordered. KARNAN v BAPU PRASAD (1912).
 I. L. R. 35 All. 63

3. — Sonthal Parganas—Suit to enforce Mortgage—Land partly in Sonthal Parganas—Urgy—Sonthal Parganas Act (XXXVII of 1913), s 2

JURISDICTION—contd

—Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (Beng III of 1872), ss 5 and 6—Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation (Beng V of 1893) Part II—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1932), s 19. A suit was brought in 1901 in the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Bhagalpur to enforce a mortgage of land, of which a portion was situate in the Sonthal Parganas (a part only of that land having been settled) and a portion in the Bhagalpur district. The mortgage provided that it might be enforced in the Bhagalpur Court. Held, (1) that all suits in regard to land in the Sonthal Parganas, so long as the land has not been settled and the settlement notified in the Calcutta Gazette, must be brought before the settlement officers or the Courts of officers appointed under the Sonthal Parganas Act, 1853, and the Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation, 1893, and that the Bhagalpur Court had no jurisdiction in the present suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, s 19, or otherwise, (2) that the Court exercising jurisdiction to enforce the mortgage was bound by the rules as to usury contained in s 6 of the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation, 1872. MARA PRASAD v RAMANI MORAN SINGH (1914).
 L. R. 41 I. A. 197

4. — Concurrent Jurisdiction—Trial—High Court—Power to determine venue when several Courts have concurrent local jurisdiction—Absence of any doubt as to which Court has such jurisdiction—Interference on the ground of convenience only—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1893), s 185 S 185 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not warrant the High Court within the local limits of whose criminal jurisdiction the offender actually is, in interfering thereunder merely on the ground of convenience, but only when a doubt arises as to the Court by which an offence should be enquired into or tried. Where, therefore, there is no doubt that two Courts are equally competent to exercise jurisdiction, the High Court has no power under the section. RAJANI BEYODE CHAKRAVARTI v ALL INDIAN BANKING AND INSURANCE CO (1913).
 I. L. R. 41 Cal. 305

5. — Additional Sessions Judge, competency of, to try suit under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, if not directly empowered by Local Government—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), ss 21, 22—Bengal N. W. P. and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887), s 8. An Additional District Judge, who is not vested with the power of trying suits under s 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure by the Local Government, has no jurisdiction to try such suits, and a transfer of such a suit by the District Judge to the Additional District Judge is not competent. Abul Karim Abu Ahmed Khan v Abdul Subhan Chowdhury I. L. R. 33 Cal. 116 referred to. MAHOMED MUSA v ABUL HASSAN KHAN (1914).
 I. L. R. 41 Cal. 866

5(a) — Valuation—A plaintiff landlord sued for a declaration of title and an injunction to restrain from realising rents the defendant who had been recorded in settlement proceedings as entitled to realise rent from tenants. The value of the property was found to be Rs 4,000 or Rs 3,000 but the plaintiff valued the relief prayed by him at only Rs 500. Held, the value of the suit ought to be the value of the property. KRISHNA DAS LALA v HARI CHAND BAYENJEE.
 15 C. W. N.

JURISDICTION—contd

8 ——— Execution of decree—Ejectment—Indian High Courts Act, 1861 (24 & 25 V.L., c 104) s 10—Bengal, Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s 21—Sonthal Parganas Civil Courts Statutory Rules paragraph 29—Sonthal Parganas Act (XXXI of 1885), s 1, cl (2), s 2—Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872)—Sonthal Parganas Rent Regulation (II of 1896) s 25—Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation (I of 1893), ss 7, 9, 12, 14, 15, 27 Where the decree holder applied for execution of a rent decree by ejectment, as previous applications for attachment and sale had failed, and the Sub Deputy Collector of Deoghar ordered the ejectment of the judgment-debtor from a portion of the holding but the Deputy Commissioner on the recommendation of the Sub Divisional Officer sanctioned eviction from the whole holding and as the suit for rent was valued at less than one thousand rupees, though the market value of the land was more. Held that the suit was rightly tried in the Court of the Sub Deputy Collector, and the execution proceeding was properly commenced in the Court in which the suit had been brought and the decree made. Held also that in relation to that Court, the Court of the Commissioner was the High Court (rule s. 15 of Regulation V of 1893), and not this High Court. Though the same individual may be appointed to discharge the duties of Sub Divisional Officer and Subordinate Judge or Deputy Commissioner and District Judge, and in one set of Courts be subject to the superintendence of this High Court, still the two sets of Courts as institutions or tribunals were entirely distinct from each other. Abul Karim v The Municipal Officer, Aden, 1 L R 27 Bom 575, Municipal Officer, Aden v Iemal Hayre Khan, 1 L R 39 Bom 246, Rhinat v Marum, 1 L R 31 Bom 267. In the matter of John Thomson, 6 B L R 180 14 B R 237, distinguished Golum Naja Vash v Pancharan Gupta, 19 C L J 292, followed. Held, further, that s. 2 of Regulation II of 1893 was framed for the protection of the raiyat. If the execution Court determined that the decree was to be executed by ejectment, that order was not to be carried out until it had been sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner, and even then there need be no ejectment if the decree was satisfied. It could never have been intended that the scope of the order as made by the execution Court should be widened by the Deputy Commissioner, as had been done in the present case, and that without any notice to the raiyat. DARABAI PANJARI v BHORI ROY (1814)

I L R. 41 Cal 915

7. ——— Cantonment tax—Civil Courts—Taxes levied by cantonment authorities—Payment under protest—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts to entertain suit for recovery of payment Civil Courts have jurisdiction to entertain a suit to recover the amount of taxes levied by the cantonment authorities and paid under protest on the ground that the assessment was illegal. This may be the case both when a serious demand requiring very attenuated consideration has been made on the plaintiff, and reasonable time has not been given to the latter to take advice on the subject and when the cantonment authorities have wholly disregarded the basis on which the rate should have been assessed by assessing the rate upon the gross income of the plaintiff. Koodas v Antimony, 1 L R 25

JURISDICTION—contd

Bom 294, followed SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAJOR HUGHES (1913)

I L R. 38 Bom 293

8 ——— Transfer of venue from one Court to another after decree—Appellate forum The District Munsif of Madanapalle having jurisdiction over Kadiri, passed a decree on 30th March 1911 in respect of a cause of action which arose in Kadiri on 1st April 1911. Kadiri was transferred to the territorial jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court at Penakula, from which appeals lay to the District Court at Bellary, whereas appeals from the District Munsif's Court at Madanapalle lay to the District Court at Cuddapah. Held, on the question as to the proper appellate forum in the case that the appeal from the decree lay to the District Court at Bellary, as the transfer of territorial jurisdiction post facto effected a transfer of venue. SUBBAYYA v RAOHALLY (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 477

9. ——— L. devaluation of suit—Change of Court of Appeal owing to undervaluation—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court—Judgment of Court having no jurisdiction, a nullity—Effect of such judgment—Consent decree to the prejudice of minor or any reversionary heir, not binding on heir—Stranger, introduction of into appeal, without leave of Court A suit was intentionally undervalued. The defendants raised no objection as regards valuation, and the suit was tried. The appeal was filed before the District Judge instead of before the High Court, in consequence of the undervaluation, and the District Judge decided the appeal, by a consent decree. Held, that if a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject matter of the litigation its judgments and orders, however precisely certain and technically correct, are mere nullities, and not only voidable, they are void and have no effect either a stoppage or otherwise, and may not only be set aside at any time by the court in which they are rendered but be declared void by every Court in which they may be presented. These principles apply not only to Original Courts, but also to Courts of Appeal. Jurisdiction cannot be conferred upon a Court of Appeal by consent of parties, and any waiver on their part cannot make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction. Gurdeo Singh v Chandrooth Singh, 1 L R 35 Cal 193, Bai Nath Singh v Gajraj Singh, 7 All L R 675, Gooroo Pershad Roy v Juggobandoo Mazumder (1862) 11 B R 15, Gulab Sae v Chowdhury Madho Lal, 9 C W 936, Ledger v Bull, 1 L R 9 All 191, 1 L R 13, 1 A 134, Minoakshi Vaidya v Sarthamangya Satri, 1 L R 11 Mad 26, 1 L R 141 A 160 Lawrence v Wilcock, 11 A F E 941 The Queen v The Judge of the country Court of Shropshire 20 Q B D 258 referred to. Where in a suit between a Hindu Widow and a claimant to the estate of her husband, a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a consent decree made, the decree was not binding upon the reversionary heirs. A Hindu widow, who is a limited or qualified owner, cannot confess judgment and be party to a consent decree so as to bind the inheritance in the hands of the reversionary heirs. Kutana Duttcher v the Raja of Sitampura 9 Moo A 539 Stapleton v Stapleton 1, 11 All and Ind, 8th Ed 231, 1 All 2 distinguished Imrit Kooner v Roop Narain

JURISDICTION—contd

Singh 6 C L F 76, explained Shoo Narain Singh v Khurgo Kowry, 10 C L R 377, Sant Kumar v. Deo Saran, 1 L R 8 All 365, Jeram Laljee v. Vurba, 5 Bom L R 555, Gowind Krishan Narain v Khursi Lal, 1 L R 29 All 487, Mans Lal I L R 29 All 487, Mahadev v. Baldeo, 1 L R 40, All 75, Roy Radha Kissan v. Navaratnam Lal, 6 C L J 190, Asharam Sadhani v. Chandi Charan Mukerjee, 13 C W N 147, referred to. A consent decree does not operate to the parties thereto. Nicholas v. Asphir, 1 L R 24 Calc 218, In re South American and Mercan Company, (1895) 1 C, 37 and the Balcarran, 10 P D, 161, distinguished, Huddersfield Banking Company, Limited v. Lister (1895) 2 Ch. 273, followed. RAJLAKSHMI DASSEE v. KATY AYANI DASSEE, (1910)

I. L. R. 38 Calc 639

10. ——— Objection by defendant to Defendant, if acquiesces by not applying for transfer. A defendant who takes exception to the jurisdiction of the Court, is not bound to apply for a transfer of the suit to the proper Court, and does not acquiesce in the trial of the suit by not so applying. RATAY CHAND DHARAM CHAND v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1340

11. ——— Interlocutory orders—Proceeding under s. 10, Civil Procedure Code—High Court's jurisdiction to interfere with interlocutory orders—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 10—Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict., c. 104) s. 15. The jurisdiction of a Court in a proceeding under s. 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure is limited to stopping a new suit if the circumstances mentioned in that section as conditions precedent to the passing of the order be found by the Court to exist. Courts have no jurisdiction to decide the question of res judicata in such a proceeding. Where a Court has jurisdiction to pass an order, but it has been exercised in violation of the provisions of the law and under a misapprehension of the questions at issue, the Court must be held to have acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. Venkatul v. Lakshman Venkata Khori 1 L R 12 Bom. 617, Sero Bur Boyla v. Shih Chunder Sen, 1 L R 13 Calc. 275, Gogobandhu Puttuck v. Joda Ghore, 1 L P 15 Calc 47, Tarun Charan Banerjee v. Chandra Kumar Dey, 14 C W N 783, referred to. The High Court is entitled to interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act, if not under s. 115 of the Code, with interlocutory orders when they might lead to failure of justice or irreparable injury. Dhapa v. Ram Prasad, 1 L R 14 Calc 765, Gowind Mohan Das v. Kunja Behary Das, 14 C W N 147, and Amjad Ali v. Ali Hussain Johar, 15 C W N 353, referred to. SIVAPRASAD RAM v. TRICOMDAS COVERJI BHOJA (1916)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 826

12. ——— Suit for land or other immovable property—construction of—Letters Patent, 1863, cl. 13—Tripura—Compensation for wrong to land—Wrongful cutting and removal of coal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 16—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 5—Fenar. The expression "suits for land or other immovable property" in cl. 12 of the Charter of 1863 cannot be construed as being limited to suits for the recovery of land in its strict sense, but must be construed as extending to a suit for compensation for wrong to land, where the substantial question is the right to the land. SUDAM-DIH COAL CO., LD. v. ESPIRE COAL CO., LD. (1915)

JURISDICTION—contd

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 942

14. ——— Suit to eject a tenant holding over—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s. 7, cl. (x) (cc)—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873), s. 14. The effect of amendment of s. 7 of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) by adding to it cl. (x), (cc) is that a suit to recover immovable property from a tenant is governed for purposes of jurisdiction by s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), and not by s. 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873), so that in the case of such suits the valuation for purposes jurisdiction is the same as for court fees. Chalasarmy Ramiah v. Chalasarmy Romanam 11 Mad L J 155 distinguished. SESHAGIRI ROW v. NARAYANA SWAMI NAIDU (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 795

15. ——— To entertain suit after remand—Suit originally tried by District Judge, after remand tried with consent of parties by Subordinate Judge—Irregular assumption of jurisdiction no objection. Where a suit valued at Rs 1,368 was heard in the first instance before the District Judge and dismissed as barred by limitation, but on appeal the High Court remanded it for trial on the other issues and thereafter (the case having been transferred to the file of the Subordinate Judge, the latter officer with the consent of the parties tried and disposed of the suit. Held, that if the order of the High Court did not place any restrictions on the power of the District Judge to transfer the case the transfer was authorised by s. 21 of the Civil Procedure Code. But if the remand order was interpreted to have directed the District Judge himself to try the suit, it was not a case of the trying Court not having local or pecuniary jurisdiction but of that Court assuming jurisdiction in an irregular manner, and the parties having consented to the trial by the Subordinate Judge were not entitled to object to it on that ground on appeal, and it was immaterial that as consequence of such trial appeal from his decision on facts lay before the District Judge and not before the High Court. PHOTAP CHAVARA POY v. JEDHETIR DAS (1914)

19 C W. N. 143

16. ——— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng VI of 1908), ss. 57, 253, 261—Revenue Officer—Judicial Commissioner—Government's power to appoint the officer to hear appeals. S. 87 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act provides for a suit before a Revenue Officer and for an appeal in the prescribed manner to the prescribed officer from decisions passed under sub s. (b) that is a decision on any other matter not referred to in cl. (a) to (c). The rules made by the Government provide that suits under s. 87 of the Act shall be tried in all respects as suits between the parties. S. 264 (viii) of the Act gives the Government power to prescribe the officer to hear appeals, and the Judicial Commissioner is the prescribed officer under the rules. The provisions for appeal appear to have been overlooked in s. 258 and it must, therefore, be understood that the special Appellate Court in Revenue cases, in dealing dispute under this Act, performs the functions of a Revenue Officer. HANESH NARAIN SARKI DZO v. PHOTAP UNAI NATH SARKI DZO (1913)

I L R. 43 Calc. 136

17. ——— Meane Profits—Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction—Meane profits amounting

JURISDICTION—contd

6. ———— Execution of decree—*Ej cunctis
*—Indian High Courts Act, 1861 (24 & 25 Vict., c. 104) s. 15—Benjal, Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s. 21—Southal Parganas Civil Courts Statutory Rules, paragraph 29—Southal Parganas Act (XXVIII of 1885), s. 1, cl (2), s. 2—Southal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872)—Southal Parganas Rent Regulation (II of 1856), s. 25—Southal Parganas Justia Regulation (I of 1893), ss. 7, 9, 12, 14, 15, 27 Where the decree holder applied for execution of a rent decree by ejectment, as previous applications for attachment and sale had failed, and the Sub Deputy Collector of Deghar ordered the ejectment of the judgment-debtor from a portion of the holding but the Deputy Commissioner on the recommendation of the Sub Divisional Officer sanctioned eviction from the whole holding, and as the suit for rent was valued at less than one thousand rupees, though the market value of the land was more Held, that the suit was rightly tried in the Court of the Sub Deputy Collector, and the execution proceeding was properly commenced in the Court in which the suit had been brought and the decree made. Held, also that in relation to that Court, the Court of the Commissioner was the High Court (vide s. 15 of Regulation V of 1893), and not this High Court. Though the same individual may be appointed to discharge the duties of Sub Divisional Officer and Subordinate Judge or Deputy Commissioner and District Judge, and in one set of Courts be subject to the superintendence of this High Court, still the two sets of Courts as institutions or tribunals were entirely distinct from each other. Abdul Karim v The Municipal Officer, Aden, 1 L. R. 27 Bom. 575, Municipal Officer, Aden v Ismail Hajeer Allana, 1 L. R. 30 Bom. 246, Rhimbo v Marum, 1 L. R. 31 Bom. 267, In the matter of John Thomson, 6 B. L. R. 130, 14 H. R. 257, distinguished Gulam Nafis Vah v Panchanan Gupta, 19 C. L. J. 299, followed, Held, further that s. 20 of Regulation II of 1846 was framed for the protection of the raiyat. If the execution Court determined that the decree was to be executed by ejectment that order was not to be carried out until it had been sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner, and even then there need be no ejectment if the decree was satisfied. It could never have been intended that the scope of the order as made by the execution Court should be widened by the Deputy Commissioner, as had been done in the present case, and that without any notice to the raiyat. DARSINI PANJARA v BROTHI ROY (1814)*

1 L. R. 41 Cal. 915

7. ———— Cantonment tax—Civil Courts
—Taxes levied by cantonment authorities—Payment under protest—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts to entertain suit for recovery of payment Civil Courts have jurisdiction to entertain a suit to recover the amount of taxes levied by the cantonment authorities and paid under protest on the ground that the assessment was illegal. This may be the case both when a serious demand requiring very attentive consideration has been made on the plaintiffs and reasonable time has not been given to the latter to take advice on the subject and when the cantonment authorities have wholly disregarded the basis on which the rate should have been assessed, by assessing the rate upon the gross income of the plaintiffs. Kasand v Aslam, 1 L. R. 26

JURISDICTION—contd

Bom. 234 followed. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAJOR HUGHES (1913)

I L. R. 35 Bom. 293

8. ———— Transfer of venue from one Court to another after decree—Appellate forum
 The District Munsif of Madanapalle having jurisdiction over Kadiri, passed a decree on 30th March 1911 in respect of a cause of action which arose in Kadiri on 1st April 1911. Kadiri was transferred to the territorial jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court at Penakonda, from which appeals lay to the District Court at Bellary, whereas appeals from the District Munsif's Court at Madanapalle lay to the District Court at Cuddapah. Held, on the question as to the proper appellate forum in the case that the appeal from the decree lay to the District Court at Bellary, as the transfer of territorial jurisdiction ipso facto effected a transfer of venue. Subbaya v Raghaya (1911)

1 L. R. 37 Mad. 477

9. ———— U. Jurisdiction of Suit—Change of Court of Appeal owing to under valuation—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court—Judgment of Court having no jurisdiction, a nullity—Effect of such judgment—Consent decree to the prejudice of minor or any reversionary heir, not binding on heir—Stranger, introduction of, into appeal, without leave of Court A suit was intentionally undervalued. The defendants raised no objection as regards valuation, and the suit was tried. The appeal was filed before the District Judge instead of before the High Court in consequence of the undervaluation, and the District Judge decided the appeal, by a consent decree. Held, that if a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject matter of the litigation its judgments and orders, however precisely certain and technically correct, are mere nullities, and not only voidable they are void and have no effect either a estoppel or otherwise, and may not only be set aside at any time by the court in which they are rendered but be declared void by every Court in which they may be presented. These principles apply not only to Original Courts, but also to Courts of Appeal. Jurisdiction cannot be conferred upon a Court of Appeal by consent of parties, and any waiver on their part cannot make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction. Gurdeo Singh v Chandroth Singh, 1 L. R. 36 Cal. 193, Bhai Yath Singh v Vajray Singh 7 All. L. J. R. 676, Gowra Prasad Roy v Juggabundoo Masumder (1862) 11 R. F. B. 18, Gulab Rao v Chaudhary Madho Lal, 9 C. W. N. 956, Ledjard v Bull, 1 L. R. 9 All. 191, L. R. 13, 1 A. 134, Munshi v Vasu v Subramanyam Sastri, 1 L. R. 11 Mad. 26, L. R. 141 A. 160, Lawrence v Wilcock, 11 A. F. E. 941. The Queen v The Judge of the county Court of Shropshire 20 Q. B. D. 255 referred to. Where in a suit between a Hindu Widow and a claimant to the estate of her husband, a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a consent decree made, the decree was not binding upon the reversionary heirs. A Hindu widow, who is a limited or qualified owner, cannot confess judgment and be party to a consent decree so as to bind the inheritance in the hands of the reversionary heirs. Kelana Nakhari v The Paga of Shrivangana 9 Mo. 1 A. 539, Stapilton v Stapilton 1, White and Ind. 5th Ed. 234, 1 Atk. 2 distinguished Imrit Kooner v Roop Narain

JURISDICTION—contd

Singh & C. L. P. 76, explained Shro Narain Singh v. Kharjo Kowrey, 10 C. I. R. 377, Sant Kumar v. Deo Siran, 1 L. R. 8, 111 365, Jerani Laljee v. Verbai, 5 Bom. L. R. 353, Gound Krishna Narain v. Ahunt Lal, 1 L. R. 29 All. 487, Muni Lal 1 L. R. 29 All. 487, Mohadir v. Baidoo, 1 L. R. 40, All. 75, Roy Radha Kisan v. Narraiam Lal, 6 C. L. J. 450, Akhanna Siddhans v. Chandi Charan Mukerjee, 12 C. W. N. 147, referred to. A consent decree does not operate to the parties thereto. Nicholas v. Asphir, 1 L. R. 24 Calc. 218, In re South American and Mercan Company, (1895) 1 C. 37, and the Balleau, 10 P. D. 161, distinguished, Huddersfield Banking Company, Limited v. Lister (1895) 2 Ch. 273, followed. RAJAKHSHI DASER v. KATI ANANI DASER, (1910)

I L. R. 38 Calc. 639

10. ——— Objection by defendant to—Defendant, if acquiesces by not applying for transfer. A defendant who takes exception to the jurisdiction of the Court, is not bound to apply for a transfer of the suit to the proper Court, and does not acquiesce in the trial of the suit by not so applying. RATAN CHAND DHARAM CHAND v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

19 C. W. N. 1340

11. ——— Interlocutory orders—Proceeding under s. 10, Civil Procedure Code—High Court's jurisdiction to interfere with interlocutory orders—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908), s. 10—Charter Act (24 & 25) Act, c. 104, s. 15. The jurisdiction of a Court in a proceeding under s. 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure is limited to stopping a new suit if the circumstances mentioned in that section as conditions precedent to the passing of the order be found by the Court to exist. Courts have no jurisdiction to decide the question of res judicata in such a proceeding. Where a Court has jurisdiction to pass an order, but it has been exercised in violation of the provisions of the law and under a misapprehension of the questions at issue, the Court must be held to have acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. Yeshubhai v. Lakshman Yeshubhai Khat, 1 L. R. 12 Dom. 617, Sew Durr Begla v. Shik Chunder Sen, 1 L. R. 13 Calc. 203, Jugobundhu Pattuck v. Sen, 1 L. R. 15 Calc. 47, Tarun Charan Joda Ghose, 1 L. R. 15 Calc. 47, Tarun Charan Banerjee v. Chandra Kumar Dey 14 C. W. N. 783, referred to. The High Court is entitled to interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act, if not under s. 115 of the Code, with interlocutory orders, when they might lead to failure of justice or irreparable injury. Thapi v. Rini Pershad, 1 L. R. 14 Calc. 768, Gobind Mohan Das v. Kunja Behary Das, 14 C. W. N. 147, and Amjad Ali v. Ali Das, 14 C. W. N. 353, referred to. HUSSAIN JOHAR, 15 C. W. N. 353, referred to. SIVAPRASAD RAM v. TRICOWDAS COVERJI BHOOJA (1915)

I L. R. 42 Calc. 925

12. ——— Suit for land or other immovable property—construction of—Letters Patent, 1865, cl. 12—Trespass—Compensation for wrong to land—Wrongful cutting and removal of coal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908), s. 16—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 5—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 5. The expression "suits for land or other immovable property" in cl. 12 of the Charter of 1865 cannot be construed as being limited to suits for the recovery of land in its strict sense, but must be construed as extending to a suit for compensation for wrong to land, where the substantial question is the right to the land. SEHAM-DIN COAL CO. LD. v. FATHAL COAL CO. LD. (1915)

JURISDICTION—contd

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 942

14. ——— Suit to eject a tenant holding over—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, cl. (vi) (cc)—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873), s. 14. The effect of amendment of s. 7 of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) by adding to it cl. (vi), (cc) is that a suit to recover immovable property from a tenant is governed for purposes of jurisdiction by s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), and not by s. 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873), so that in the case of such suits the valuation for purposes of jurisdiction is the same as for court fees. Chalawumji Ramji v. Chalawumji Rameshwarji 11 Mad. L. J. 155, distinguished. SESHAGIRI ROW v. NARAYANA SWAMI NAIDU (1914)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 795

15. ——— To entertain suit after remand—Suit originally tried by District Judge after remand tried with consent of parties by Subordinate Judge—Irregular assumption of jurisdiction no objection. Where a suit valued at Rs. 1,368 was heard in the first instance before the District Judge and dismissed as barred by limitation, but on appeal the High Court remanded it for trial on the other issues, and thereafter the case having been transferred to the file of the Subordinate Judge, the latter officer with the consent of the parties tried and disposed of the suit. Held, that if the order of the High Court did not place any restrictions on the power of the District Judge to transfer the case, the transfer was authorised by s. 24 of the Civil Procedure Code. But if the remand order was interpreted to have directed the District Judge himself to try the suit, it was not a case of the trying Court not having local or pecuniary jurisdiction but of that Court assuming jurisdiction in an irregular manner, and the parties having consented to the trial by the Subordinate Judge were not entitled to object to it on that ground on appeal, and it was immaterial that as consequence of such trial appeal from his decision on facts lay before the District Judge and not before the High Court. PHOTAP CHANDRA ROY v. JUDHISTIN DAS (1914)

19 C. W. N. 143

16. ——— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng. VI of 1908), ss. 87, 258, 261—Revenue Officer—Judicial Commissioner—Government's power to appoint the officer to hear appeals. S. 87 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act provides for a suit before a Revenue Officer and for an appeal in the prescribed manner to the prescribed officer from decisions passed under sub s. (f) that is a decision on any other matter not referred to in cl. (a) to (e). The rules made by the Government provide that suits under s. 87 of the Act shall be tried in all respects as suits between the parties. S. 264 (viii) of the Act gives the Government power to prescribe the officer to hear appeals, and the Judicial Commissioner is the prescribed officer under the rules. The provisions for appeal appear to have been overlooked in s. 268 and it must, therefore, be understood that the special Appellate Court in Revenue Cases, in deciding dispute under this Act, performs the functions of a Revenue Officer. GANESH NARAI SARI DEO v. 1 ROTAP UDAI NATH SARI DEO (1915)

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 136

17. ——— Mesne Profits—Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction—Mesne profits amounting to Rs 60,000, antecedent to suit and pendente lite whether can be investigated by Munsif—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) s 50, 211, 212—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887), s 7, cl (1), 19. When a plaintiff institutes his suit for possession and means profits antecedent to the suit in a Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction, he may be rightly deemed to have limited his claim to the maximum amount for which that Court can entertain a suit. In fact in such a case if the plaintiff subsequently put forward a claim in excess of the jurisdiction of the Court, he may be justly required to remit the excess because he had with his eyes open brought his suit deliberately in a Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction. Golap Singh v Indra Kumar Haria, 13 C L J 493 9 C L J 367, followed. Sudarshan Dass v Ramprasad 7 All J P 963, dissented from. But means profits antecedent to the suit and means profits pendente lite stand on very different grounds. A Munsif cannot entertain an application for investigation of means profits pendente lite when the claim was laid over Rs 60,000. The proper course to follow was to direct the return of the plaint in so far as it embodied a prayer for assessment of means profits from the institution of the suit to the date of delivery of possession, for presentation to the Court of competent pecuniary jurisdiction i.e., the Court of the District Judge. Pamessar Makhan v Dulu Makhan, 1 L R 21 Calc 350, distinguished. BRUPENDRA KUMAR CHAKRAVARTY v PURNA CHANDRA BOSE (1910)

JURISDICTION—contd

1 L R 43 Calc 650

13 ——— Ruling Prince or Chief—Consent of Local Government—Submission to jurisdiction—Water—International Law—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)* s 86 construction of Where His Highness Rajah of Cochin was impleaded as a defendant in a suit in the capacity of a trustee of a temple, without the consent of the Local Government under s 86 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) Held that the suit was not maintainable as against the Rajah of Cochin in the absence of consent of the Local Government under s 86 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Per Oudizeld J.—The recognition of cases of waiver, as excepted from the ordinary provision of International Law as understood in England cannot be imported into the clear language of the Indian Code. Chandulal v Ahmad bin Umar Sultan, 1 L R 21 Bom 351 dissented from. Per SADA SIVA AYYAR J.—Objection to jurisdiction is enough to show that there was no voluntary submission by the defendant to the jurisdiction of the Court. Perry & Co. v Appanappa Pillai 1 L R 2 Mad 487 approved. Veeraraghava Iyer v Muga Sa I, 1 L R 33 Mad 24 referred to. NARAYANA MOORTHY v THE COCHIN SIRCAR (1913)

1 L R 39 Mad 681

19 ——— Criminal misappropriation or breach of trust—Receipt of money and conversion at head office of a company in Madras Presidency—Loss to complainant in a district in Bengal—Jurisdiction of Court at latter place to try the offences—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)*, s 179, 181(2). The jurisdiction of a Court to try the offences of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust is governed by s. 181 (2) and not s. 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Loss, though a normal result is not an ingredient of the offences of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust and not, therefore a consequence within the meaning of s. 179. A complaint of offences under ss 403 and 406 of the Penal Code against an official of an Insurance Company having its head office at B in the Madras Presidency, where the money was received and the contracts took place, cannot be tried by a Court at A where loss occurred to the complainant. Ganesh Lal v Nand Ashore, 1 L R 34 All 487 and Pambhoo v Emperor, (1914) Mad W N 394 followed. Queen Empress v O'Brien 1 L R 19 All 111 and Langridge v Affins 1 L R 35 All 29 dissented from. Cohilla v Aristo Ashore Esar 1 L R 26 Calc 740, Emperor v Mahadeo 1 L R 32 All 397, distinguished. SIMHACHALAM v EMPEROR (1916)

JURISDICTION—contd

1 L R 44 Calc 812

20 ——— Leave to withdraw suit by the Appellate Court—Subsequent Suit—Res Judicata—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882)* s 373 (Act I of 1908) O XIX 111 r 1. The plaintiff brought a suit for the declaration of his title in respect of certain rights and for other reliefs. This suit was dismissed by the Court of first instance on the merits after the evidence had been gone into. The plaintiff thereupon preferred an appeal. At the hearing of the appeal he made an application for leave to withdraw from the suit under s 373 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882 on the grounds of a formal defect and of his inability to produce the necessary evidence in time and obtained an order in the presence of the defendants to the effect that the appeal be dismissed with costs and the plaintiff's suit be allowed to be withdrawn with leave for fresh act on for the same subject matter if not barred. Subsequently the plaintiff brought a fresh suit against the same parties on the same cause of action as in the previous suit. Held that the ground on which the order was made by the Appellate Court was not a ground which was contemplated by s 373 of the Civil Procedure Code and that therefore, the order was without jurisdiction. Akorda Coal Co Ltd v Durga Charan Chandra 11 C L J 45, and Mohd Ha Sardar v Hemangra Debi, 11 C L J 512 referred to. KALI PRASAD SETH v PANCHANAN NARAI (1916)

1 L R 44 Calc 367

21 ——— Execution proceedings—Suits above Rs 5000—Appeal from order in execution proceedings—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887)* s 21, sub-s (1)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), ss 99, 100, 108. Where, in execution proceedings in a mortgage suit the value of which exceeded Rs 5000 an order was made by the Court of first instance which on appeal was modified by the District Judge. Held that the order of the District Judge was made without jurisdiction and was contrary to law. In such a suit an appeal against an order made in a proceeding arising out of the decree lay to the High Court and not to the Court of the District Judge under the provisions of s 2 sub-s (1) of the Bengal Civil Courts Act 1887. Held also that as the order was passed on appeal by the District Judge a second appeal lay to the High Court under s. 100 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Ranjit Meher v Ramdhar Singh 16 C L J 77, referred to. BANDHAN MOOKERJEE v PURNA CHANDRA ROY (1917)

1 L R 45 Calc 928

22 ——— Deficit court-fee whether recoverable by attachment of movables
Where after the dismissal of a suit the Court ordered the deficit court-fee to be paid by the plaintiff and, on default, of its own motion ordered the attachment of his movables. Held, that the Court had no jurisdiction to do so. JATRA MOHAY SEV v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918)

JURISDICTION—contd

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 520

23. ——— Mortgage of property situated partly in district subject to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and partly in a scheduled district under Act XXIV of 1839—Mortgage of such property and order for sale made by Court under Code of Civil Procedure—Order for sale without jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code, 1908, s 1, sub s (3), and ss. 17, 21—Meaning of 'Courts' in s 17. A suit was brought under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, to enforce a mortgage of property which was situate partly in a district to which that Code applied, and partly in a scheduled district under Act XXIV of 1839, and therefore subject to the special jurisdiction of the Agency Courts and a decree on the mortgage and for sale of the mortgaged property, was made by the Subordinate Judge, and affirmed by the High Court. Held, that so far as the decree was for sale of the mortgaged property in the scheduled district the Courts had no jurisdiction to make it s 21 of the Code not being applicable to such case. And it could be set aside, notwithstanding that no objection to the jurisdiction had been taken in the Subordinate Judge's Court. The word 'Court' in s 17 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, means Courts to which that Code applied, and not Courts one of which was subject to the Civil Procedure Code and the other to the Agency jurisdiction. The alteration made in the decree by striking out that part of it which ordered the sale of the mortgaged property would not interfere with the plaintiff's right to obtain from the Agency Court an order for the sale of the property situate in its jurisdiction. RAMABHADRA PAJJI BHADUR v MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE (1919)

I. L. R. 42 Mad 813

24. ——— Second Appeal—Decree set aside—Consideration of wrong question of fact—Absence of evidence to support finding—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 100. Upon a second appeal the decree of a Subordinate Judge in favour of the plaintiffs, affirmed on the facts by the District Judge, was set aside by the High Court on the grounds that the evidence taken showed that the true question of fact, which had not been considered and as to which no issue had been framed, should have been answered in favour of the defendant, and that there was no evidence to support a finding of fraud arrived at by the lower Courts. Held, that there was jurisdiction under s 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, to set aside the decree upon the grounds above stated and that, upon the evidence, it had been rightly set aside. DAURCAR v ABDUL SAMAD (1919)

L. R. 46 I A 140

25. ——— Error—Whether misinterpretation is a question of—Superintendence—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1908), ss. 115 and 117—Mining rights, whether included in 'land'—Where a Magistrate has jurisdiction to take cognizance of a case and devotes his judicial mind to a consideration of the points which he is required to determine any error in law with regard to the interpretation of the words of the section which he is applying is not an error in the exercise of his jurisdiction but an error which would, in the ordinary course, be subject to an appeal. Such errors are not subject to superintendence. S 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1899, covers all profits derivable from land or water, including mining rights. ANDREW YULE Co v A H SONE (1919)

JURISDICTION—contd

4 Pat. L. J. 154

26. ——— Distinction between existence and exercise of jurisdiction—Withdrawal of suit—Liberty to institute a fresh suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXIII, r 1. An order for withdrawal of a suit with leave to institute a fresh suit made under O XXIII, r 1, but in circumstances not within the scope of the rule, cannot be treated as an order made without jurisdiction, such order is consequently not null and void. A fresh suit instituted upon leave so granted is not incompetent. The Court trying the subsequent suit is not competent to enter into the question whether the Court which granted the plaintiff permission to withdraw the first suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit had properly made such order. The authority to decide a case at all and not the decision rendered therein is what makes up jurisdiction. Kali Prasanna Sil v Panchannan Nandi Chowdhury, 23 C L J 489, 20 C W A 1000 overruled. Hriday Nath Roy v Ram Chandra Banya Sarma (1920)

I. L. R. 48 Calc 138

27. ——— Income-tax—Agricultural income—Practice—Vakil—Right of Audience—Advocate. When a Court hears a reference really performs the functions of the Court of Appeal. On a reference by the Chief Revenue authority under s 51 of the Income tax Act (VII of 1918), in cases, where the assessee or the business is outside the local limits of the Original Jurisdiction of the High Court, vakils and not attorneys are entitled to appear. Girdhar Singh v Hurdoy Narain, 21 W R 263, Secretary of State for India v British Indian Steam Navigation Company, 13 C L J 99, referred to Solani or premium received on settlement of waste land, but not on transfer of a holding, is exempt from assessment of income tax. Illegal evictee are assessable. Patridge v Holland, 18 Q B D 276, referred to. BIRENDRA KISHOR MANIYA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920)

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 766

28. ——— Mortgage comprising properties outside Calcutta—Sub-mortgage including properties in Calcutta—Suit on sub mortgage whether maintainable in the High Court—Leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent, may be granted in such a case—Fos judicata—Decree without jurisdiction, if wholly void—Waiver or acquiescence, whether confers jurisdiction—Question of jurisdiction not raised or decided in the previous suit, effect of. On 30th August 1907 A mortgaged to B certain immovable properties situated outside Calcutta and outside the Ordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court. On 17th December 1907 B mortgaged to C certain immovable properties in Calcutta together with his interest as mortgagee under the mortgage of 30th August 1907. On 25th November 1912 C instituted a suit in the High Court to enforce his mortgage against A and B by the sale of properties comprised in both the mortgages after having obtained leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent. The preliminary decree was passed ex parte on 21st

JURISDICTION—contd

September 1914 and the final decree was passed on 24th August 1917. On 20th June 1916 D purchased the right title and interest of A at an execution sale and in July 1918 D filed the present suit for a declaration that the decrees in the previous suit were without jurisdiction so far as they affected properties outside Calcutta and that the leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent was improperly obtained. GRIMES, J. held that the Court had jurisdiction to pass the decrees. Held, that the decrees were without jurisdiction in so far as the immovable properties outside Calcutta were concerned and that leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent could not be granted. Held further that the question of jurisdiction could be raised in the present suit though it could have been and was not raised in the previous suit. PER MOOREHEAD J.—It is an elementary principle that where a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the action in which an order is made, such order is wholly void, for jurisdiction cannot be conferred by consent of parties and no waiver or acquiescence on their part can make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction. Rajkshami v Kalyani 1 L R 38 (al 659 (1910)) Gurdo v Chandra 1 L R 35 Cal 133 (1907) and Ranjit v Ramdutt 17 C W 116 (1911) referred to. Held also, there could not be res judicata inasmuch as the question of jurisdiction raised in this suit was neither raised nor decided in the previous suit. PER MOOREHEAD J.—When a Court judicially considers and adjudicates the question of its jurisdiction and decides that the facts exist which are necessary to give it jurisdiction over the case the decision is conclusive till it is set aside in an appropriate proceeding. But when there has been no such adjudication the decree remains a decree without jurisdiction and cannot operate as res judicata. KRISHNA BHISHORE DE v AMAR NATH BHISHETRY 24 C. W. N 633

JURISDICTION—contd

a Civil Court, and that they had failed to discharge that duty. RAMESH LAL v MANOJ SINGH 1 L R. 2 Lab. 302

30. ——— Suit for money advanced and for specific performance of an agreement to mortgage land outside jurisdiction—Injunction to restrain disposal of land outside jurisdiction—Interest in land. In a suit instituted in the High Court in its original jurisdiction the plaintiff stated that the plaintiff firm advanced in Calcutta various sums of money secured by promissory notes as well as by the deposit of title deeds of property outside Calcutta to the defendant who resided outside the jurisdiction. It stated that the title deeds were with the plaintiff firm in respect of a previous regularly executed mortgage. It stated further that the defendant agreed to register and execute a regular mortgage whenever called upon to do so but that the defendant refused to return the money or execute the said mortgage and in breach of the agreement the defendant was attempting to transfer the property to others. The plaintiff firm prayed for leave under clause 12 of the Letters Patent and under Order II r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code to institute the suit in this Court. On an application for settlement of issues. Held, that a suit for specific performance of an agreement to mortgage lands outside the jurisdiction, even if the title is accepted, is a suit for land within the meaning of clause 12 of the Charter and accordingly that leave cannot be given. Srinath Roy v Gally Dass Ghose, 1 I L R 5 Calc 82, followed. RATANCHAND DHARACHAND v GOVIND ALL DUTT (1921) 1 L. R. 48 Calc. 892

JURISDICTION AND CLAIM.

——— denial of—

See FOREIGN DECREE, EXECUTION OF
1 L R. 39 Mad 24

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

See APEN SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VII OF 1900), s 13

1 L R. 40 Bom. 446

See JURISDICTION

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R. 44 Calc. 219

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 79A 1 L R. 35 Calc. 72

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 1 L R. 38 Mad 609

See PENSIONS ACT (XVIII OF 1871), ss 4, 5, 6 1 L R. 37 All. 338

See REGULATION II OF 1827

1 L R. 34 Bom. 455

See RIGHT OF SUIT

1 L R. 40 Bom. 200

See TITLE 1 L R. 37 Calc. 662

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 231 (1)

1 L R. 33 All. 440

——— Caste question

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE

1 L R. 36 Bom. 94

See TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882)

ss 5 AND 6. 1 L R. 34 Bom. 467

29. ——— Civil or Revenue—suit for recovery of price of barley delivered to defendants by a Revenue Officer—whether competent—Punjab Land Revenue Act XIII of 1857, sections 144, 158 (2) (XIX)—onus probandi. Defendants applied to the Revenue Officer for division and appraisement of the produce of a holding in which they were co-sharers with the plaintiffs. An appraisement was duly made, but before the produce could be divided the plaintiffs removed it and stored it in a house. Thereupon the referee appointed by the Revenue Officer made over a whole Khatta of barley to the defendants in lieu of their share of the produce. The plaintiffs after making an unsuccessful attempt to get redress through the Revenue Authority brought the present action for the price of the barley alleging that it belonged to them exclusively. Held, that the question whether the barley is joint property or belongs exclusively to the plaintiffs is a question of title which cannot be determined by a Revenue Officer, who is required only to divide the produce which is admittedly joint, or to determine its value; and that consequently the Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain the present suit which does not come within the purview of section 158 (2) (XIX) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act. Held, also that the onus was on the defendants to satisfy the Court that the claim made by the plaintiffs is not within cognizance of

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

— question of title—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT 1879

s. 121

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 67

1. ——— Aden Act (II of 1864), ss. 8 and 15—Court fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, sub-s. 4, cl. (c) and (d)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s. 8—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 551—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909), s. 115—Valuation for the purposes of Court fees and jurisdiction—Suit for declaration and injunction—Rejection of plaint as not properly stamped—Appeal—Application to state a case to High Court—Summary dismissal of appeal—Application for revision. The plaintiff brought a suit in the Court of the Assistant Resident at Aden for a declaration of heirship and an injunction with reference to certain property of the value of upwards Rs. 50,000. The claim being for declaration and injunction was, under the provisions of the Court fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, sub-s. 4 cl. (c) and (d) valued by the plaintiff at Rs. 130 upon which the prescribed Court fee stamp was Rs. 10 only. The Assistant Resident rejected the plaint on the ground that it was not properly stamped. Against the order of the Assistant Resident the plaintiff appealed to the Resident at Aden, and on the 23rd September 1903 presented an application under s. 8 of the Aden Act (II of 1864) to state a case to the High Court upon certain questions specified in the application. The Resident, however, on the next day, that is, on the 24th September, summarily dismissed the appeal under s. 551 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). The judgment dismissing the appeal was read out to the plaintiff on the 7th October following when she attended the Court. The plaintiff, thereupon, preferred an application for revision to the High Court praying that the order dismissing the appeal might be quashed and that the Resident be required to state a case. A question having arisen as to whether the High Court had jurisdiction to interfere in revision with any order passed by the Resident in the exercise of his Civil Jurisdiction under the Aden Act (II of 1864) Held that with regard to questions which might arise regarding cases to be stated by the Resident for the decision of the High Court under the provisions of s. 8 of the Aden Act (II of 1864) the Resident's Court is subordinate to the High Court. Under s. 15 of the Aden Act (II of 1864) as the Court of the Resident is to be guided by the spirit and principle of the laws and regulations in force in the Presidency of Bombay and administered in the Courts of that Presidency not established by Royal Charter and in the High Court in the exercise of its jurisdiction as a Court of Appeal from those Courts the provisions of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) are 'the law for the time being for the valuation of claims' in the Courts of the Resident of Aden. Held, further, that the plaintiff's claim being valued at Rs. 130 according to the law for the valuation of claims for the time being in force and according to the rulings of the Bombay High Court, it did not fulfil the requirements of s. 8 of the Aden Act (II of 1864) so as to give the plaintiff a right to demand the statement of the case upon any question of fact or law arising in the suit. REHMAJI JAMALBUKH v. MARIAM BINTI ABDUL (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 267

2. ——— Appellate decree passed without jurisdiction—High Court bound to set aside

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

such decree Where a small cause suit is tried by a Munsiff on the original side and his decision is reversed on appeal, the High Court is bound to set aside the appellate decree as having been passed without jurisdiction. Tarameskhvira Lambudri v. Isakhu Embrandiri, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 478, dissented from. Pamasamy Chettiar v. Orr, I. L. R. 26 Mal. 176, approved. Shankarbhau v. Samabhai, I. L. R. 25 Bom. 417, approved. KOLLI PAPA KRISHNAIAH v. KANKIPATI SUBBAYYA (1902)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 323

3. ——— Suit for land—Letters Patent, cl. 12—Suit in which decree is asked for operating directly on land, is a suit for land. A suit which prays for any relief with reference to any specific immoveable property is a suit for land within the meaning of cl. 12 of the Letters Patent. Where in a suit for maintenance the plaintiff prays that the amount may be charged, not on the ancestral property generally, but on specific land, the suit is a suit for such land within the meaning of cl. 12 of the Letters Patent. SCNDARA BAI SANKRA v. TIRUMAL RAO SANKRA (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 131

4. ——— Letters Patent, cl. 12, 14—application under—Cause of action arising partly within jurisdiction—Further cause of action arising wholly outside jurisdiction—Joinder—Time of application. An application under cl. 14 of the Letters Patent to join a further cause of action arising wholly outside the jurisdiction, can be made in a case in which leave to sue has to be obtained under cl. 12, nor is there anything in cl. 14 to show that this application must be made before the plaint is filed. There is nothing to prevent the plaintiff making the application at any time before the hearing but it would certainly be advisable for him to make it at the time the plaint is presented. JOHN GEORGE DORSON v. THE KRISHNA MILLS, LTD. (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 564

5. ——— Practice—Precedency. Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1882), s. 22—Suit commencing by Small Cause Court brought in High Court—Non-joinder—Contract of sale subject to rules of the Merchants Association—Rule providing jurisdiction of Court of law—Rule providing for fixing value rate of goods for purpose of ascertaining difference in case of non fulfilment of contract—Suit by buyer for damages for non-delivery—Plea that no damages recoverable having regard to rate fixed—Allegation by plaintiff that rate fixed was not binding inasmuch as the rules were not observed—Construction of rules—Principal and agent—Agent's power to bind his principal to arbitration—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 93—Sale—Tender. The Bombay United Rice Merchants Association was a commercial body of which most of the principal rice merchants in Bombay were members. Its rules were printed and circulated and they prescribed a certain form of contract which was very generally used in Bombay. By these rules a Sub-Committee was nominated "to decide all disputes which may arise as to contracts and do all other business relating to contracts." It was also provided that the exclusive authority "to decide all such disputes should be the said Sub-Committee and the Association and that no party should be at liberty to go to Court with respect to any matter connected with such contracts except to enforce the decision of the Sub-Committee and the Association. It was further provided that the Sub-Committee should keep a record of the daily rates and on the last day of the month should fix the weekly rate (i.e. the market rate of the day) on the basis of which differences should be calculated which became payable in cases in which contracts were not carried out. The plaintiff who were rice merchants in Paterson were not members of the Association, but they employed agents in Bombay, who were members, to purchase rice for them and on the 24th November 1941 these agents bought from the defendants 1,340 bags of rice at Rs. 9 per bag deliverable at the end of March but 1943 (i.e. from the 10th November 1941 to 10th November 1943). The contract which was in the printed form framed under the rules as above-mentioned contained the following clause: "This contract is made subject to the rules of the Bombay United Rice Merchants Association. Each party is bound to act in accordance with the same. For delivery at this time a large number of the members of the Association had made contracts of sale. The plaintiffs and a few others were purchasers and they were agreeable to act in settling the weekly rate the interests of the buyers would be disregarded in favour of those of the sellers. They accordingly wrote to the President of the Association asking him to see that no interested person was allowed to act on the Sub-Committee for fixing the weekly rate. In accordance with the practice a general meeting of the Association was held on the 24th November 1941 at which after discussion a special Sub-Committee was appointed to fix the rate consisting only of three persons, one of whom was not a member of the standing Sub-Committee and another of whom had large contracts of sale due at this time. This Sub-Committee fixed the rate at Rs. 8.11.0 per bag. The plaintiffs alleged that it should have been fixed at Rs. 8.5.0 or Rs. 9.4.0 per bag which was the real market rate of the day at the rate fixed was deliberately fixed in the interest of sellers; that the Sub-Committee was not constituted according to the rules, two members of it being ineligible one because he did not belong to the standing Sub-Committee and the other because he was interested in fixing a low rate, and they contended that for those reasons (inter alia) they were not bound by the rate fixed. They had also demanded delivery of the rice contracted for and the defendants failed to give delivery and the plaintiffs now seek for the difference between the contract price (Rs. 9) and the market price on the 24th November 1941. The case claimed as damages was less than Rs. 1,000. The defendants pleaded: (1) That having regard to s. 13 of the Civil Procedure Code (IX of 1908) and s. 14 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1937) the suit was not maintainable in the High Court. (2) That certain alleged partners of the plaintiffs and being parties to the suit it should be dismissed for want of due diligence. (3) That having regard to the rules of the Association which provided a remedy in case of default among its members and that in the present case the plaintiffs were prevented from suing at law at all events until they had exhausted the remedies provided by the rules. (4) That the plaintiffs were to sue by the weekly rate fixed by the Sub-Committee appointed by the Association. (5) That the High Court had jurisdiction and that the suit should proceed subject to the provisions as to costs contained in s. 21 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

(IX of 1937). (6) That the alleged partnership was proved, but nevertheless the suit could not be dismissed for non-joinder. (7) That the plaintiffs were entitled to sue at law notwithstanding the provisions contained in the rules of the Association requiring all disputes to be submitted for decision to the Association and restricting the right of members to sue each other. (8) That at the meeting of the Association held on the 20th November 1941 the plaintiffs (through their agents) had consented to the appointment of a Sub-Committee of three persons to fix the weekly rate and that they were therefore bound by the rate then fixed. Any stipulation that the award of an arbitrator shall be accepted as final restricts the rights of contracting parties to invoke the aid of the ordinary Courts and to that extent is void. The effect of s. 24 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1932), s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1927), read with the related provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1909) and the Civil Procedure Code dealing with arbitration, is that a person may not contract himself out of his right to have recourse to Courts of law but that in the event of any party having made a lawful agreement to refer a matter of difference to arbitration as a condition precedent to going to law about it the Courts will recognise the agreement and give effect to it by staying proceedings in the Courts. Mellor Tasson v. Rayer Dwyer (1909) L. R. 34 Bom. 13

6. ———— Suit for share in produce of immovable property—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1937), ss. 16, 27, 32, Sec. 11 Cls. (2) and (3)—had for the recovery of certain sums representing a share in the produce of immovable property—Compromise by the Court of Small Causes—Interlocutory Appeal. A suit for the recovery of Rs. 12.11.4 representing plaintiff's share in the produce of immovable property in a suit for money but not received to the plaintiff was and is recoverable by the Court of Small Causes and the decree in such a suit is final under s. 27 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1937). Notwithstanding its finality an appeal was preferred to the District Court at Ahmedabad, which Court entertained the appeal and reversing the decree allowed the plaintiff's claim. The defendant, thereupon, preferred a second appeal and at the hearing proved that the second appeal ought to be treated as an application for review under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), on the ground that the District Court acted without jurisdiction in entertaining the appeal. The respondent (plaintiff) urged that a second appeal lay and further that by reason of the conduct of the parties and the fact that the appellant (defendant) had not objected to the jurisdiction of the District Court, it was too late to second appeal to take the point. Held, that the District Court had no jurisdiction to try the case and the conduct of the parties would not prevent its jurisdiction. Interlocutory Appeal, L. R. 111 Cal. 111 and Monsalvo Sankar v. Subramanyam Sankar, L. R. 111 Cal. 151 referred to. Decree of the District Court reversed and that of the first Court restored. Datta Ramani (Monsalvo Sankar) v. Anandappa Sankar (1941) L. R. 34 Bom. 171

7. ———— Suit for declaration of title and injunctive, valuation of—Interlocutory Appeal—Act (IX of 1937), s. 16, sub-s. (4),

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd.

(c) and (d)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s 8—Jurisdiction Plaintiff landlord sued for declaration of title and for an injunction to restrain from realising rents the defendants who had been recorded in settlement proceedings as entitled to realise rent from tenants. The value of this property was found to be about Rs. 4000 or Rs. 5000, but the plaintiff valued the reliefs prayed by him at only Rs. 500. Held, that the value of the suit ought to be the value of the property as it was virtually a suit for possession and that therefore the suit did not lie in the Court of the Munsif. Ganapati v Gantha, I. L. R. 12 Mal. 223, Prayaga v Kamamath, I. L. R. 15 Mal. 511, referred to. The proposition cannot be maintained that it is open to the plaintiff in such cases to value the suit arbitrarily. Hari Sankar Datt v Kabi Kumar Patra, I. L. R. 32 Cal. 734, commented on and distinguished. Brij Nath Alix v Vithas Lal Alix, I. L. R. 17 Cal. 631, Ram Brij Lal v Luchoo Koor, I. L. R. 11 Cal. 691, referred to. Krishna Das Lala v Hari Churn Bayersie (1911)

15 C. W. N. 823

8 ————— Content of the parties as to jurisdiction—Suit of value beyond the jurisdiction of the Court—Trial of suit—Jurisdiction cannot be questioned in appeal—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s 58 The plaintiffs filed a suit for partition in the Court of the Subordinate Judge, First Class, valuing their claim at an amount which made the suit triable by that Court alone. The Judge, however, made over the trial of the suit to the Joint Subordinate Judge. In the latter Court neither party raised any objection on the ground of jurisdiction, nor was any issue raised relating to it. The trial proceeded on merits and a decree was passed in favour of plaintiffs. The defendant appealed to the lower Appellate Court, where he, for the first time, raised the question of jurisdiction on the strength of the market value stated in the plaint. The objection was overruled. On appeal — Held, that the market value stated in the plaint prima facie determined the jurisdiction. Held, further, that as neither party raised any question as to want of jurisdiction in the first Court, and as they by their conduct and silence treated the market value to be of the amount sufficient to give jurisdiction to the Court, they dispensed with proof on the question by their tacit admissions, and thus the principle of law laid down in s 58 of the Indian Evidence Act came into operation and prevented the result of the statement of the market value in the plaint. As a rule, parties cannot by consent give jurisdiction where none exists. This rule applies only where the law confers no jurisdiction. It does not prevent parties from waiving inquiry by the Court as to facts necessary for the determination of the question as to jurisdiction, where that question depends on facts to be ascertained. Joshi Akravich v Prayoncho Akravich (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 21

9. ————— Suit for declaring adoption invalid—Jurisdiction—Civil Court—Subordinate Judge of Special Class—Bombay Civil Court Act (XIV of 1897), s. 21—Claim valued for Court fee purposes at Rs. 137—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, cl. 10, sub-cl. (i), (d)—Property exceeding Rs. 500 in value—Mishra v. K. —Consent from Hinduism—Question of adoption—Burden of proof A suit to obtain a declaration that an adoption was invalid was valued for

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd.

Court fee purposes at Rs. 130, though the property affected by the adoption was more than Rs. 5,000 in value. It was brought in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of the second class, whose jurisdiction extended only to suits involving claims valued under Rs. 500 (Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1897, s. 21). It was objected that the Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Held, that the Subordinate Judge was competent to try the suit. Varappa v Subramya, (1899), P. J. p. 93, and Bai Revu v. Keshoram D. Churn, (1895), P. J. p. 223, followed. The Mahomedan law does not recognise adoption. Hence, where a Hindu is converted to Mahomedanism, the presumption is that as a necessary consequence of conversion the law of adoption recognised by Hindu law has been abandoned by him. He who alleges that the 1897 Act and law in question had been retained must prove it. Bai Himmata v. Bai Himmata (1911)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 231

10 ————— Judgment of Court having no jurisdiction, a nullity—Jurisdiction—Under-valuation of suit—Change of Court of Appeal owing to undervaluation—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court—Effect of such judgment—Consent decrees to the prejudice of minor or any reverentary heir, not binding on him—Stranger, introduction of, into app. at suit at leave of Court A suit was tentatively undervalued. The defendants raised no objection as regards valuation and the suit was tried. The appeal was filed before the District Judge instead of before the High Court, in consequence of the undervaluation and the District Judge decided the appeal, by a consent decree. Held, that if a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the litigation, its judgments and orders, however precisely certain and technically correct, are mere nullities and not only voidable; they are void and have no effect either as estoppel or otherwise, and may not only be set aside at any time by the Court in which they are rendered, but be declared void by every Court in which they may be presented. These principles apply not only to Original Courts, but also to Courts of Appeal. Jurisdiction cannot be conferred upon a Court of Appeal by consent of parties and any waiver on their part cannot make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction. *Gurdev Singh v. Chant Singh, I. L. R. 33 Cal. 191, Bai Nath Singh v. Gurdev Singh, 7 All. J. R. 675, Ganga Pershad Bai v. Jagdishdas J. J. J. (1907), W. R. P. B. 15, Gopal Rao v. Chavhanji, Madras L. R. 9 C. W. N. 355, Lalji v. Bull, I. L. R. 9 All. 131, I. L. R. 13 All. 131, Marathi Naula v. Subramanyam Sastri, I. L. R. 11 Mal. 36, I. L. R. 11 All. 169, Lawrence v. Wilcock, 11 All. 911, The Queen v. The Judge of the County Court of Shropshire, 20 Q. B. D. 217 and In re Alford, 20 Q. B. D. 253 referred to. When in a suit between a Hindu widow and a claimant to the estate of her husband, a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a consent decree made, the decree was not binding upon the reverentary heirs. A Hindu widow, who is a limited or qualified owner, cannot confer judgment and be party to a consent decree as to the title of the inheritance in the hands of the reverentary heirs. *Krishna Vachar v. The Rajah of Shajapur, 2 Mor. L. J. 517, Stephen v. Stephen, 1 White & Tait, 8th Ed. 331—1st Ed. 2, distinguished. In re Koor v. Ravi Varan Singh 6 C. L. R. 176, explained

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd.

Sheo Narain Singh v Khunjo Korry, 10 C L R 337 Sant Kumar v Deo Saran, 1 L R 8 All. 365 Jeram Laljee v Ferraz, 5 Bom. L R 885, Gobind Krishna Narain v Khunjo Lal, 1 L R 29 All 437, Mahadev v Baloo, 1 L R 39 All 75, Roy Radha Kanta v Narayan Lal, 6 C L J 499, Asharam Sarhani v Chandu Churn Mukerjee, 13 C B N 147, referred to A consent decree does not operate to the prejudice of persons not parties thereto. Dholak v Aghar 1 L R 21 Calo 218, In re South American and Mexican Company, [1896] 1 Ch 37, and The Bellocan 10 P D 161 distinguished. Huldersfield Bunting Company Limited v Lister [1895] 2 Ch 273, followed. RADJAKSHMI DASKE v KATYAKANI DASKE (1910) 1 L R 38 Calo. 639

11 ——— Suit for declaration regarding various alleged customary rights of zamindars, mostly of the nature of ceases. A suit was filed by certain tenants of a village against the zamindars praying for a declaration that no custom existed in their village which entitled the zamindars to take certain fruits and wood, or to the use of a plough, or to a number of other dues, including sugarcane juice from some of the tenants, poppy seed from the Koria, and various other matters of the same description. Held, that the suit was properly filed in a Civil Court, and was not excluded from the jurisdiction of such Court by anything contained in either the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 or the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901. SHROFAMBAH AMR v THE COLLECTOR OF AZAM GARRH (1912) 1 L R 34 All. 358

12 ——— Burma Town and Village Lands Act—(Burma Act IV of 1893) s 41(b)—Act taking away power of subject to sue Government to determine any right to land—Power of Lieutenant Governor in Council to pass Act—Legislation ultra vires—India Councils Act 1851 (24 & 25 Viet c 67), s 22—Government of India Act, 1858 (21 & 22 Viet, c 106) ss 65, 66 67 Held (affirming the decision of the majority of a Full Bench of the Chief Court of Lower Burma), that s 41(b) of the Burma Town and Village Lands Act (Burma Act IV of 1893), which enacted that "no Civil Court shall have jurisdiction to determine any claim to any right over land as against the Government" was ultra vires of the Lieutenant Governor of Burma in Council, and therefore invalid. s 22 of the India Councils Act 1861 (24 & 25 Viet c 67), provides that the Governor General in Council shall have no power "to repeal or in any way effect (amongst other matters) any provision of the Government of India Act 1858 (21 & 22 Viet, c 106). And the effect of s 65 of the latter Act which enacted that "all persons shall and may have and take the same suits remedies and proceedings, legal and equitable against the Secretary of State in Council of India as they could have done against the East India Company," was to debar the Government of India from passing any Act which could prevent a subject from suing the Secretary of State in Council in a Civil Court in any case in which he could have similarly sued the East India Company. The words could not be construed in any different sense without reading into them a qualification which is not there, and may well have been deliberately omitted. The question was not one of procedure, but of the power of the Government to take away by legislation the right to proceed against them in Civil Court in a case involving a right to land; and the suit in this case (for damages for interference with the respondent's property) was one which would have lain against the East India Company. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MOMENT (1912)

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd.

1 L R 40 Calo. 391

13 ——— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act—(Beng VI of 1905), s 139(3), cl (a) The plaintiffs brought a suit in the Civil Court against the defendant for recovery of arrears of basta rent. The defendant contended that as crops were grown on a portion of the basta lands, this land was agricultural, and suits in respect thereof were triable exclusively by the Revenue Court under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act. Held, that the land in respect of which rent was claimed was basta land and consequently the suit was maintainable in the Civil Court. Ramdhun Khan v. Haradhin Paramanki, 12 W R 404, Kaler Kishen Biswas v Sreemully Jankar 8 W R 250, and Kumod Narain Shoop v Purna Chunder Roy, 1 L R 4 Calo 547, referred to. MIDNAPURAM ZAMINDARI CO LD v MURTAGHJI DAS (1912)

1 L R 40 Calo 403

14 ——— Agra Tenancy Act, Ch. X, and s 198—suit by rent free grantee against Zamindar for declaration of status and recovery of rent allowed in a Civil Court. SHAM DAS v BANADUR SINGH 1 L R 43 All. 325

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS

See JURISDICTION

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (1 OF 1908) s 8 1 L R. 38 Mad. 608, 343

Occupancy holding—One of two co-owners of an occupancy holding upon the allegation that the other co-owner was in fact cultivating more than his proper share of the holding, sued him in a Civil Court, asking for a decree for possession of his half share of the holding and for mesne profits. The court however, granted him a decree for a declaration of his right to a half share and also for mesne profits. Held, that there was no objection to such a decree being granted by a Civil Court. In such circumstances a Revenue Court could not grant a decree for mesne profits. Ashiq Hussain v Iqbal Begam, 1 L R 30 All 90 referred to. GANGA BANAH BANSI 1 L R. 43 All 64

Civil and Revenue Courts—Rent-free grantees against zamindar—To recover possession after alleged unlawful ejectment. There is no section in the Agra Tenancy Act and no article in the schedule thereto which provides for a suit by a rent free grantee to recover possession as such in the event of his wrongful ejectment even though that ejectment may be the act of his zamindar. Nanhu v Sri Thakurji Maharaj, 1 L R 41 All 37, distinguished. GOVIND RAI v BANWARI LAL 1 L R. 42 All. 412

Partition of trees—An dispute from zamindari property. Held, that a suit for partition of trees which had been purchased by the plaintiff and others jointly from one of the zamindars of two villages but apart from any interest in the zamindari itself, was a suit which would lie in a Civil and not in a Revenue Court SHEO SAMPAT PANDE v THAKUR PRASAD

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—contd

I L R 42 All. 574

Civil and Revenue Courts—Act (Local) No. II of 1901 (Agra Tenancy Act) chapter X, and section 198 (2)—Rent free grantee—Suit against zamindar for declaration of status and recovery of rent wrongfully realized by zamindar from sub tenant Plaintiff brought his suit in a Civil Court and asked for a declaration that he was the rent free grantee of certain land, and that, having occupied the land for a certain period he had thereby become the proprietor. Incidentally, plaintiff also asked for the refund of a sum of money which the defendant's predecessor in title had received as rent from a third party. Held that the suit as framed was within the cognizance of a Civil Court Gobind Rai Banwari Lal, I L R 42 All. 412, referred to SHAM DAY v BHADUR SINGH

I L R. 43 All. 325

Suit by a minor for a declaration that a partition of land effected by the Revenue Officers is not binding on him where no question of title is involved—whether cognisable by Civil Court—Punjab Land Revenue Act, XVII of 1887, s. 158 (1) and (2) (XVII) The plaintiff, a minor, was one of the two sons of one S K who died in 1909, leaving inter alia the landed property in dispute. The defendant A H his half brother, a major, applied in 1911, to the Revenue authorities for partition which was completed in 1912. In those proceedings the plaintiff was represented by his mother who had been previously appointed by the District Court as his guardian. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that the land is still the joint property of himself and his half brother and that consequently the partition is not binding on him. He alleged that the partition was detrimental to him that the Revenue Officer had not taken account of the trees, that he was not properly represented and that the sanction of the District Judge was necessary, etc. Held, that, as there was no dispute as to title in the land partitioned, the plaintiff's grievances arising solely out of the manner in which the land was actually allotted, the Civil Court was debarred from taking cognizance of the suit, and the plaintiff must pursue his remedy on the revenue side, vide s. 158 (1) and (2) (XVII) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act Gulab Singh v. Mussamat Sukhan (104 P R 1900), followed Dasandi v. Buta (74 P R 1915), distinguished. GHULAM HAIDAR : AMIR HAIDAR

I L R. 1 Lah. 298

Civil suit for recovery of price of barley delivered to defendants by a Revenue Officer—Whether competent—Punjab Land Revenue Act, XVII of 1887, sections 144, 158 (2) (XIX)—onus probandi Defendants applied to the Revenue Officer for division and apportionment of the produce of a holding in which they were co-sharers with the plaintiffs. An apportionment was duly made, but before the produce could be divided the plaintiffs removed it and stored in a house. Thereupon the referee appointed by the Revenue Officer made over a whole khatts of barley to the defendants in lieu of their share of the produce. The plaintiffs after making an unsuccessful attempt to get redress through the Revenue authorities brought the present action for the price of the barley alleging that it belonged to them exclusively. Held, that the question whether the barley is joint property or belongs exclusively to the plaintiffs is a question of title which cannot be determined by a Revenue Officer, who is required only to divide the produce which is admittedly joint, or to determine its value, and that consequently the Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain the present suit which does not come within the purview of section 158 (2) (XIX) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act. Held also, that the onus was on the defendants to satisfy the Court that the claim made by the plaintiffs is not within cognizance of a Civil Court, and that they had failed to discharge that onus RAMJI LAL v MANGAL SINGH

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—contd

I L R. 2 Lah. 302

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS.

See COGNIZANCE OF AN OFFENCE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 188, 227. I L R. 33 All. 516

s. 339 I L R. 1 Lah. 218

s. 476 I L R. 33 All. 396

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

See EMIGRATION I L R. 37 Calc. 27

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R. 37 Calc. 467

See OFFERINGS TO DEITY

I L R. 38 Calc. 387

1. ——— Practice—Order directing prosecution for instituting a false case—False information to the police—Subsequent complaint before the Magistrate—Grounds of the exercise of such jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 195 (b) and 476 S. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be read subject to the restrictions contained in s. 195 (b), and does not, therefore, empower a Court to direct a prosecution for making a false charge before the police Dhar madas Kaur v King Emperor, 7 C L J 373, followed Lalji Gope v Gridhari Chaudhury, 5 C W N 106 referred to In re Dey, I L R 18 Bom 581, Aikil Chandra Dev Queen Empress, I L R 22 Calc 1004, Abdul Rahman v Emperor, 7 C L J 371, and Habib Khan v Emperor, I L R 33 Calc 30, distinguished. But if the informant, upon the police reporting the information to be false, subsequently petitions the Magistrate for a judicial inquiry, he must be taken to have preferred a complaint and s. 476 would then apply Queen Empress v Sham Lal, I L R 14 Calc 707, Queen Empress v Sheikh Bani, I L R 10 Mad. 232 and Jogendra Nath Moosherjee v Emperor, I L R 33 Calc 1, referred to. No sanction should be granted or prosecution directed, unless there is a reasonable probability of conviction, though the authority granting a sanction under s. 195, or taking action under s. 476, should not decide the question of guilt or innocence. Great care and caution are required before the Criminal law is set in motion, and there must be a reasonable foundation for the charge in respect of which a prosecution is sanctioned or directed. Ishri Jorad v Sham Lal, I L R 7 All 371, Ash Charan Lal v. Basudeo Narain Singh, 12 C. W. N.

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS— contd.

(VI of 1909), of which the Magistrate could not then take cognizance for want of the consent of Government under s. 7 of the Act, and a complaint was subsequently filed by the Superintendent of Police, with such a consent obtained, before the additional District Magistrate Held, that the latter had jurisdiction to take cognizance of the offence, and that the initiation and continuation of the proceedings by him were legal, notwithstanding that he had not withdrawn the original case to his own file Jhumuck Jah v. Pathuk Mandal, 1 L. R. 27 Calc. 798, Gulapdy Sheikh v. Queen Empress, 1 L. R. 27 Calc. 979, [followed in Radhoballur Ray v. Benode Behari Chatterjee, 1 L. R. 30 Calc. 449] Emperor v. Sonairam Mohan Chuckerbutty, 1 L. R. 37 Calc. 412, Moul Singh v. Mahabir Singh, 4 C. W. N. 242, Charu Chandra Das v. Narendra Arishna Chakravarti, 4 C. W. N. 367, Bhishen Doyal Rai v. Chedi Khan, 4 C. W. N. 560, and Jharu Jola v. Shukh Deo Singh, 3 C. L. J. 87, distinguished Held, also, that in any case, having regard to ss. 529 (c), 530 (k), and 531 of the Criminal Procedure Code, unless it appeared that the proceedings wrongly held had, in fact, occasioned a failure of justice they could not be set aside. Sonatai Dass v. Gooroo Churn Deuan, 21 W. R. Cr. 88, referred to. A search for explosives by police officers of rank, not below that of an Inspector, is legal under rule 32 (1) (v) of the Government Rules framed under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) s. 309 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code requires the opinions of the Assessors to be stated orally, and not in writing or in the form of a judgment under s. 367. Under s. 399 of the Penal Code, having in possession or immediate control any explosive substance is one of several means to the end, whereas, under s. 4 (b) of the Explosive Substances Act, it is the offence itself, provided the necessary intent is proved. In order to render documents found in the possession of a party admissible against him as proof of their contents, it is necessary to show that he has in some way identified himself or, in other words, has, by any act, speech or writing manifested an acquaintance with, and knowledge of, the contents of all or any of them. The rule would apply more strongly where some of the papers and letters were received, and others written, by the party against whom they are sought to be used Wright v. Tatham, 5 Cl. & Fin. 670 and Barindra Kumar Ghose v. Emperor, 1 L. R. 37 Calc. 467, followed LALIT CHANDRA CHANDA CHOWDHURY v. EMPEROR (1911)

1 L. R. 39 Calc. 119

7. ——— Transfer of territory to native state—Jurisdiction—Offence committed in British India—Accused committed to Sessions—Accused discharged for want of jurisdiction—Remission. Certain persons were charged with committing an offence at a place in British India and were committed to the Sessions Court of Mirzapur, the case being subsequently transferred to the Sessions Court of Benares. Before trial, however, the place where the offences had been committed became part of the newly constituted state of Benares. Held, that the Sessions Court, whether of Mirzapur or Benares, was not deprived of jurisdiction to dispose of the case which had been committed to it for trial, inasmuch as at the time of the transfer to the state of Benares of the place where the alleged offence had been committed the accused were in British India in custody in point of law, if not in fact, of a Court of competent jurisdiction. Emperor v. Malabar, 1 L. R. 33 All. 678, followed, Danodahr Gordhan v. Dhoram Kanyu, 1 L. R. 1 Low. 367, distinguished. EMPEROR v. RAM NARESH SINGH (1911)

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS— contd.

1 L. R. 34 All. 118

8. ——— Conspiracy at Cambay, foreign territory—Jurisdiction—Forgery—Abetment of forgery—Abetment by conspiracy—Consequent forgery committed in British India—Trial in British India of the forger who conspired to forge at Cambay and who was in Cambay when the forgery was committed in British India—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 31, 109, 467. The accused was a subject of the Cambay State. He lived there and traded with his business partner A. He conspired with A at Cambay and sent A to a professional forger at Umreth (a place in British India) with instructions to instigate the latter to forge a valuable security. To facilitate the forgery, the accused sent his Khata book with A. In pursuance of A's instigation the forgery was committed at Umreth. On these facts, the accused was charged, in a Court in British India, with the offence of abetment of forgery under ss. 407 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code. The trying Judge referred to the High Court the question whether the accused, not being a British subject, was amenable to the Jurisdiction of his Court—Held, that the Court in British India had jurisdiction to try the accused, for the accused's offence was not wholly completed within Cambay limits, but having been initiated there, was continued and completed within the British territory of Umreth. Where a foreigner starts the train of his crime in foreign territory, and perfects and completes his offence within British limits, he is triable by the British Court when found within its jurisdiction. s. 34 of the Indian Penal Code provides not only for liability to punishment but also for subjection of a conspirator to the jurisdiction of a Court though he conspires at a place beyond the jurisdiction. EMPEROR v. CHHOTALAL BABAR (1912)

1 L. R. 36 Bom. 524

9. ——— Order of discharge—By the High Court in its original criminal jurisdiction, ex bar to fresh proceedings—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 190 (c)—Nolle prosequi—Practice. An order of discharge does not operate as a bar to fresh proceedings being taken before a competent Magistrate upon complaint or upon a police report, or under s. 180 (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Mir Akbar Hossein v. Mahomed Askari, 1 L. P. 29 Calc. 728, referred to. EMPEROR v. SHEIKH IDOO (1912) 1 L. R. 40 Calc. 72

10. ——— Complaint—Irregularity—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 195, 476, 532, 537—Order for prosecution—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 211—False charge laid before the Police—Police Report—Judicial inquiry—Commitment to the Court of Session. A conviction by the Court of Session cannot be set aside simply on the ground of a defect in the initiation of the proceedings in the commitment Court or on the ground of some irregularity in the commitment of proceedings more especially when that point was not raised in the lower Court. s. 532 of the Criminal Procedure Code would cure such a defect. Haidat Khan v. Emperor, 1 L. R. 33 Calc. 30, distinguished Abdul Rahman v.

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS— continued

Emperor v C L J 371, and Queen Empress v 4 Morlan and Moortzen Ah, I L R 9 Bom 238, referred to Recommendation for prosecution by a Police officer under s 211 of the Penal Code comes within the meaning of the word 'complaint' as used in s. 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code as that section clearly contemplates prosecution at the instance of Police officers. DILAN SINGH v EMPEROR (1912) I L R 40 Calc 380

11 ——— Arrest of an Indian subject in railway land in the Gwalior State.—Under a warrant issued by the District Magistrate of Montgomery for a non-extraditable offence committed in British India—Government of India Notification No 534 I B, dated 8th February 1907 Petitioner was arrested at the Railway Station at Gwalior by the Railway Police in pursuance of a telegram sent by the District Magistrate of Montgomery in the Punjab for an offence under s. 101 Indian Penal Code alleged to have been committed in the Montgomery District. Held, that the arrest was illegal, as it could not be said that the Gwalior State had ceded to the British Government jurisdiction over railway lands in respect of offences not committed in those lands and having no connection with the railway administration, regard being had to the words in paragraph 3 of the Notification No. 534 I B of the 8th February 1907 viz. have ceded to the British Government full jurisdiction, or all the jurisdiction they had or the jurisdiction necessary for the administration of Railways and of Civil and Criminal justice in connection therewith. Muhammad Yusuf ul Din v Queen Empress I L R 25 Calc. 20 C P R (Cr.) 1897, (F C) followed. RADHA KISHEN v CROWN I L R 1 Lah 406

JURISDICTION OF DISTRICT COURT

See GUARDIAN AND WARD ACT 1890.
I L R 36 Mad 23
88. 12 13 17, 19 24 25.
I L R 40 Bom 600

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT, 1901 s 167
I L R. 42 All 83

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE
I L R 38 Calc 824

See EXTRADITION I L R. 46 Calc 31
I L R 38 Calc 547

See HAWKES CORPUS
I L R. 39 Calc 164

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF See HINDU, SETT OR
I L R 40 Bom 473

See INJUNCTION
I L R 38 Calc 405
I L R 42 All 98

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R. 44 Calc 816

over conviction and sentences by Mewar Agent—

See SCHEDULED DISTRICTS ACT (XIV OF 1874), s. 7
I L R 41 Bom 657

in revision—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 115
I L R 40 All 674

See REVISION
I L R. 47 Calc 433

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

1 ——— Revision—Appeal wrongly lost before Collector instead of District Judge—Procedure by Deputy Collector under s 101 of the Rent Recovery Act—Civil Procedure Code, how far governs Act X of 1859—Act X of 1859, s. 103—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1859) s. 310A The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with the orders of the Collectors and Deputy Collectors, passed under Act X of 1859. Haro Mohan Moortzen v Kedarnath Das s W R 1st X 25 commented on *Blyrub Chunder Chunder v Shama Saunderson Debi 6 W R Act X 68, Gobind Coomur Chowdhry v Asst Coomur Chowdhry 7 W R 531 Deannutoolah v Nourab Nizam Suther Yu et Ah Khan Bishar 10 W R 311, Cudabhar Chatterjee v Nand Lal Mookerjee, 12 W R 406 Anantmaji Nour Jon v Akbar (Muzumdar 15 W R 318 Vilnani Singh Das v Tarunath Mukerjee I L R 9 Cal 295 referred to Mohan Gobind Ramanuja Das v Lukhan Parida 11 C W N 112 explained. The jurisdiction of the Deputy Collector under Act X of 1859 being a limited one and the procedure under s 109 of the said Act not being strictly followed, a sale under s. 109 must be held to be ultra vires. *Deannutoolah v Nourab Nizam 10 W R 311, referred to. Except upon points expressly provided for by Act X of 1859 the procedure of the Revenue Courts must be governed by the Civil Procedure Code. The ratio decidendi of Vilnani Singh Das v Tarunath Mukerjee I L R 9 Cal 295 followed. Harish Chandra Ghose v Ananta Churn Patra 2 C W N 127 doubted. Adhiram Narain Karmar v Raghun Moopatraya I L R 12 Calc 50 approved. Radha Madhub Santra v Laksh Narain Roy Chowdhry I L R 21 Calc. 418 and Mokunda Buller Kar v Bhogban Chunder Das I L R 21 Calc. 514 discussed. Nandendra Nath Mallik v Mathura Mahan Paria I L R 18 Calc 363 explained. Hare Krishna Mahanta v Bhuban Chandra Mahanta I L R 35 Calc 79 Ram Lochan Singh v Beni Prasad Kumar I L R. 36 Calc. 250 and Madha Prakash Sinha v Juri Manohar I L R 33 Calc 406 referred to. Where a sale under Act X of 1859 is impeached as ultra vires and illegal or the sale is rightly sought to be set aside under s. 310A of the Code of Civil Procedure (XIV of 1859) the proceedings of the Deputy Collector are amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court in either case. The fact that the original suit was valued at above Rs 100 and an appeal lay to the District Judge and not to the Collector before whom the appeal was, in reality heard, does not take away the right of the High Court to interfere in revision. CHATTAN PATRONI MAHAPATRA v KUNJA BEHARI PATRAIK (1911) I L R 38 Calc 832

2. ——— Power to revise an order of acquittal at the instance of a private party.—Decision on a point of local jurisdiction and not on the merits—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1859), s. 432 433 (2)—Practice S. 433 (5) of the Criminal Procedure Code does not bar the jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere with an order of acquittal on an application made at the instance of a private party. Where the Appellate Court set aside a conviction and sentence on the ground that the place of occurrence was outside the local limits of the trying Magistrate's jurisdiction, overlooking the provisions of s. 631 of the Code the High Court set aside the order of acquittal and directed a rehearing of the appeal.

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

What the Appellate Court has to find is whether, the offence, of which an accused is convicted has been made out, not with reference to any dispute as to jurisdiction, but on the merits and in accordance with the evidence. KANGALI SARDAR v BAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARJEE (1911)
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 786

3 ————— Jurisdiction—
High Court—Letters Patent 1885 Ch 12 The plaintiff Company's predecessors in title, who held certain coal lands known as Mouza Lodna in Manbhium under a permanent lease, granted an underlease of a share thereof to S, and it was agreed that the boundary should be demarcated between the portion underleased and the portion retained by the grantors, and that a barrier of 30 feet of coal should be maintained between the two portions of the Mouza, and that if either party encroached within 15 feet of the boundary line, he should make good any loss sustained by the other party. No boundary was demarcated at the time. The permanent lease of the said Mouza was, subject to the said underlease to S, subsequently assigned to T and others, and thereafter the boundary was laid down and marked by the respective Agents of T and others, and of S and a plan showing the boundary was signed by both parties. Subsequent thereto T and others assigned their permanent lease of the mouza to the plaintiff company, and S granted an underlease of his share in the mouza to R L S, who granted an underlease of the same to the defendant who there carried on a colliery. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had wrongfully cut into and removed portions of coal from the 30 feet of barrier and beyond it, that the trespass and conversion had taken place within two years, and that the coal so removed had been sold and delivered to the plaintiff company under an agreement to purchase the output of the defendant's colliery, and claimed damages for the value of the coal so removed and damages caused by the breach of contract in cutting through the barrier. The defendant denied that he had carried away any coal from the 30 feet barrier, and stated that he had confined his operations well within the area underleased to him, and that the plaintiff company had never been in possession of the area from which he had carried away coal.—Held that the suit, so far as it sought to recover damages for carrying away the plaintiff company's coal, was founded on a case of trespass quare clausum fregit, which necessitated the title in respect of that coal being gone into and was therefore a suit for land within the meaning of Cl 12 of the charter Raj Mohan Bose v East Indian Railway Company, 10 B I R 211 distinguished. That so far as the agreement not to cut into the 30 feet of barrier was concerned, there was no priority of contract or estate between the defendant and the plaintiff company, and the defendant was not personally liable on any of the covenants in the underlease granted to S and that the plaintiff did not disclose any cause of action against the defendant based on the agreement LODHA COLLIERY Co, Ltd v BIPIN BHARBI BOSE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 739

4. ————— “Dwelling” within the jurisdiction of the Court—Executor, liability of—Reproduction of will—Executor and trustee acting up adverse title to property disposed of by will—E stopped—Removal of trustee and executor from office—Joint and acquired property This was a suit on the Original Side of the High Court by three of the executors and trustees of a will against the fourth executor and trustee (who was the son of the testator) for the removal of the defendant from his office and for administration of the estate by the Court. Probate had been granted to the executors by the High Court at Madras and the assets realised under the grant had come into the possession of the defendant, who subsequently repudiated the will and alleging that the property of the testator was joint claimed in this suit to be entitled to the estate by survivorship. The defendant was domiciled and resided in the State of Mysore, but some months previously to the institution of the suit he left his house there in charge of a servant, and hired a house in Madras to which he brought his wife and family, and apprenticed himself for a year to a vakil of the High Court with a view to become in due course enrolled as a vakil himself. He was in Madras on 30th April, 1901, when the plaint was filed but left on 31st before the summons was served. The first Court made a decree removing the defendant from his office as executor and trustee which was affirmed by the High Court, and both Courts decided that the cause of action arose partly within the jurisdiction of the Court, and that the Court could therefore entertain the suit. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court), that the defendant was at the time the suit was brought “dwelling” within the jurisdiction within cl 12 of the Letters Patent of the High Court. Held also, that no person who has accepted the position of a trustee and has acquired property in that capacity can be permitted to assert an adverse title on his own behalf until he has obtained a proper discharge from the trust with which he has clothed himself. On the question whether the property dealt with by the will was joint or acquired, their Lordships of the Judicial Committee also agreed with the Courts below that on the evidence it was self acquired and that the testator therefore had power to dispose of it as he had done in the will. Srinivasa Moorthy v Venkata Varada Aiyangar (1911)

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

I. L. R. 34 Mad 257

5 ————— Practice—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 115 O XXIII, r 1—Withdrawal of suit under O XXIII, r 1—Notice to the other side, if necessary—Judicial order—Practice The High Court has power to set aside orders made under Order XXIII, r 1, in the exercise of the powers vested in it by s 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Khanda Coal Co v Durga Charan, 11 C L J 45, Mahalla v Hemangini, 11 C L J 512, Ram Krishna v Ram Kirpanath 9 All. L J 358, Umesh Chandra Palodia v Balkrishna Chandra Chatterjee, 15 C W N 666 Burata Gunda v Thirlapatti, 9 Mal L T 204, referred to. Though r 1 of O XXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure does not specifically require that notice of an application under it must be given to the opposite party, still it is an elementary rule of universal application and founded upon the plainest principles of justice that a judicial order which may possibly affect or prejudice any party cannot be made unless he has been afforded an opportunity to be heard. Ajant Singh v F. T. Christian, 17 C W. N 562, referred to. Panes Singh v Krishna Lal Thakur, 1 L. R. 41 Calc 632, dissented from. RAJENDRA LAL SINGH v ATAL BEHARI SINGH (1916)

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 454

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—concl'd

6 ———— Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893), ss 150, 521, scope of— "Doubt," meaning of—Transfer—Questions of convenience and expediency—Power of the High Court over Courts outside its territorial limits—Form of order. Held, by the majority (WOODROFFE, J. dissenting) The High Court has power under s. 185 of the Criminal Procedure Code to make an order in respect of an enquiry instituted or trial commenced in a Court situated beyond its territorial limits. Hiran Kumar Choudhary v. Majrat Sen, 17 C W N 761, Emperor v. Chanchal Singh, 3 Cr L J 551 approved. S. 185 is not restricted to proceedings instituted in a Court subordinate to the High Court where the application is made. The section invests that High Court with authority to determine the question within the local limits of whose Appellate Criminal Jurisdiction the offence actually is. Where jurisdiction is given to more Courts than one for the same offence, if a doubt arises as to the Court by which such offence should be tried, it must involve a doubt as to the suitability of one Court as compared with another from the point of view of "convenience," and "expediency." Pajani Ebnale Chakravarti v. 47 India Banking and Insurance Company, 1 L R 41 Cal 305, discussed tenet. The order should be limited to a declaration that the case should be inquired into or tried by the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate in Calcutta. This will leave it open to the prosecution or the applicant to take such steps as they may be advised. Per WOODROFFE, J. S. 185 does not deal with transfer or decisions on the ground of mere convenience raised by the accused but with doubt as to competency. S. 185 is not designed to cut down admitted jurisdiction but to determine cases where the facts said to constitute jurisdiction are doubtful. These provisions deal with jurisdiction and not with convenience. Per MOOKERJEE J. The two ss. (185 and 527) have entirely different scopes. In the first place, the order under s. 527 is an executive order which may be made without opportunity afforded to the accused to be heard. In the second place, s. 527 contemplates an order for transfer, and recourse may possibly be had thereto if an order made by one High Court under s. 185 is disregarded by another. CHANDU CHANDRA MOHAMMAD v. EMPEROR (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 595

7 ———— Review of order made in criminal case—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893), ss 438, 439—Enhancement of sentence by High Court on reference by District Magistrate without hearing accused—Review of order on application of accused. On a reference under s. 438 Criminal Procedure Code, by the District Magistrate the Bench taking undefended criminal cases made an order enhancing the sentence. Subsequently, on the application of the accused, the same Bench reviewed the said order, set it aside and referred the case to the regular Criminal Bench, holding that no order of enhancement could be made under s. 439, Criminal Procedure Code, without hearing the accused. KING-EMPEROR v. KAMESH CHANDRA GUPTA (1917) 22 C W N 168

JURISDICTION OF INFERIOR COURT.

——— Jurisdiction of Inferior Court to set aside decree of Superior Court obtained by fraud—Reliefs that can be granted. A District Munsif can entertain a suit for a declaration that a decree passed by a District Court was obtained by fraud when the suit concerned subject matter of the suit and within his jurisdiction, but he cannot direct a retrial of the suit by the District Court. The present suit can be revived only by an application to the District Court. ARUNA CHELLAM v. SAMATHY (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad. 213

JURISDICTION OF INFERIOR COURT—cont'd

JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

- See BROTHEL* 1 L R 45 Cal 301
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—
 ss 107, 192 528.
 1 L R 41 Mad 246
 1 L R 38 Mad 469
See DISPUTE CONCERNING EASEMENT
 1 L R 39 Cal 560
See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
 1 L R 39 Cal 150
See FALSE INFORMATION
 1 L R 43 Cal 173
See JALKAR 1 L R 39 Cal 469
See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
See MAGISTRATE
See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

——— A Magistrate who has received information in another public capacity of the offence of mischief by cutting timber from the state forest cannot act on it in his capacity as Magistrate and initiate proceedings under s. 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. LAKSHI NARAYAN GHOSH v. EMPEROR

1 L R 37 Cal 221

——— Charge with a view to commitment, cancellation of—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893), s 213 (2)—Cross examination of prosecution witnesses after framing of the charge, effect of— "Witnesses for the defence, interpretation of—Practice. It is open to a Magistrate, having drawn up a charge against an accused person with a view to his commitment to the Court of Session, to allow the accused to cross examine the witness for the prosecution and, as the result, to cancel the charge. The words "witnesses for the defence" in s. 213 (2) are wide enough to cover evidence elicited in cross examination of witnesses for the prosecution. Surjya Narain Singh In re, 5 C W N 110 referred to JOGENDEA NATH MOOKERJEE v. NATI LAL CHUCKERBUTTY (1912) 1 L R 39 Cal 385

JURISDICTION OF REVENUE COURT

- See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT*
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) 1 L R 38 Mad. 33

JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE COURT

- See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887)—*
 ss 15 AND 33 1 L R 37 Bom. 675
 SCH. II, ART 13. 1 L R 42 All 446
See RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS) ACT (BOM. II OF 1903), s 9
 1 L R 45 Bom. 1043

JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE COURT—couldSee SMALL CAUSE COURT 3

Plaintiff deposited money with the Defendant for payment to Plaintiff's creditor. The Plaintiff's case was that only a small portion of the money deposited was paid to the creditor and on his demanding the balance the Defendant agreed in the presence of witnesses to refund it which he did not do. The Plaintiff sued to recover this balance—Held—That the acts alleged amounted to misappropriation and the cause of action was not based on the promise to make restitution and the suit was not triable by the Court of Small Causes. CHERRA-KUDDIN v RAM SUDAMAN

25 C. W. N. 256

JUROR.

speaking to a person not a juror—

See VERDICT . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 207JURY—TRIAL BY.See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—*

s 133 . . . I. L. R. 37 All. 26

s 282 . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 481

ss 367, 418, 423 I. L. R. 39 All. 348

ss 462 (3), 537 I. L. R. 33 All. 385

See PREFERENCE

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 789

See TRIAL BY JURY

absence of proper charge to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 435
439

25 C. W. N. 309

evidence how to be summed up—

See JURY

25 C. W. N. 623

trial of question of forfeiture as a preliminary issue—See PARDON

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 856

misdirection of—

See ACCOMPLICE . . . 24 C. W. N. 119*See PRACTICE* . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 220power to question as to the reasons for verdict—See VERDICT OF JURY

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 621

verdict of—

See DACTORY . . . 15 C. W. N. 434

Misdirection in the charge—Omission to bring certain facts to the notice of the jury violating the charge—First information—Evidentiary value of—Jury, questioning after verdict—Absence of—Jury, not justified in questioning the jury after they have given an unanimous verdict in respect of one of the offences included in the charge—It is a misdirection when the Judge asks the jury to accept the statement in the first information in preference to the evidence in the case—Where the defence is cross-examining a prosecution witness asked whether two other men did not beat the deceased and the accused in his

JURY—TRIAL BY—could

written statement gave an account suggesting that he was not the culprit—Held, that it was misdirection for the Judge to tell the jury that there was no suggestion that any one other than the accused was the culprit. Where the charge to the jury ended abruptly with the statement "no evidence adduced by the defence"—Held, that if the Judge thought it necessary to put this fact so prominently to the jury, he was at least bound to qualify it by pointing out to the jury that the defence was not bound to call any evidence, that they could rely upon the prosecution evidence as far as it could help them and that they were entitled to the benefit of doubt, and that the omission of these qualifying statements constituted a misdirection. Where the medical evidence showed that the wound on the neck of the deceased was directed downwards and inwards from the left to the right side of the neck and it was proved that the accused was very much shorter than the deceased—Held, that the Judge ought to have drawn the attention of the jury to this fact and asked them to determine whether it was possible for the accused to have raised his hands to a sufficient height to strike downwards at the deceased's neck. Where the Judge after pointing out to the jury the Sub Inspector's evidence that he found the accused and the other villagers absconding, wound up by saying "under the circumstances, can the jury doubt, etc." Held, that this was a misdirection inasmuch as it was the duty of the Judge to tell the jury that absconding was a matter which was equally consistent with innocence as with guilt and that it could only be considered in connection with the rest of the evidence and it was for the jury to attach any weight to it which the rest of the evidence enabled them to do, but that it was in itself a circumstance of no weight. ASAFAR SHERKH v EMPEROR (1910)

15 C. W. N. 198

Misdirection to—*Confession before village salsak—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 24—Person in authority—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss 302/115, 328/116—Abetment of murder by poisoning and causing hurt by means of poison—Absence of evidence as to amount of poison proposed to be administered—The accused was charged under ss 302/115, and 328/116, Indian Penal Code, the case for the prosecution being that the accused suspecting an intrigue between her husband and a certain woman gave a powder to a girl with instructions to give it to the woman. Owing to the intervention of a relative of the girl the powder was not given to the woman. The accused asked the girl to give her back the powder and the girl returned a portion of it. On the matter getting about in the village a salsak was summoned before whom the accused made a confession and produced the powder. The chemical analyst's report was that traces of white arsenic were found in the powder but it was not disclosed how much arsenic was there. It was found that the president and members of the salsak told the accused that if she confessed they would compromise the matter. The Sessions Judge in charging the jury said that the confession was not inadmissible because the members of the salsak were not persons in authority and the accused was not then charged with any offence. Held, that the Sessions Judge misdirected the jury in the matter of the confession. The president of a panchayat may be a person in authority within the meaning of s 24 of the Evidence Act, and to tell the jury that he was not*

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

was clearly erroneous: the matter depending on a question of fact i.e. whether the confession was caused by any inducement, threat or promise, having reference to the charge against the accused. Nazir Jharadar v The Emperor, 9 C W N 474, and the Emperor v Jasha Beus, 11 C W N 904, referred to. That the solah being summoned to consider the case which was being made against the accused she was before the solah on that charge and the Sessions Judge was wrong in directing otherwise. That having regard to the inducement offered by the president and members of the Yafiah to the accused it is extremely doubtful whether the confession should have been allowed to be placed before the jury at all. It certainly ought not to have been placed before them without an explanation as to how they should value it having regard to the circumstances in which it was made. That the chemical analysis not disclosing how much arsenic was found in the powder there was no evidence on the record against the accused as to the amount of poison which was proposed to be administered and it was doubtful whether the case would come under s 302 or s 324, Indian Penal Code. KING EMPEROR v ARSHI BIRI (1913) 20 C. W. N 512

Forgery—Where in a case under s 465 Indian Penal Code the charge against the accused was that by personating A B the husband of one S he induced the Mahomedan Marriage Registrar to make an entry of the divorce of S by her husband to which entry he affixed his thumb impression and the Sessions Judge charged the jury as follows. If the person who put his thumb impression in the register as Mir Baksha was not really Mir Baksha, it is clear that he made a false document within the meaning of s 364 and that his intention was that fraud should be committed, also that injury should be caused to Mir Baksha. He therefore committed forgery. Held that the Sessions Judge misdirected the jury in not having left it to the jury to say whether on the evidence they found that the intention of the accused was dishonest or fraudulent. The High Court did not set aside the verdict holding that it was not erroneous in spite of the misdirection. EMPEROR v NAIMADDI (1918) 22 C. W. N 572

Duty of Judge to place before jury cases of prosecution and defence—Defective direction on a point of law—Propriety of delivering charge through interpreter. The appellants were charged under s 148 304/149 and 324, Indian Penal Code. In the record of the heads of the charge there was no clear statement of the cases for the prosecution and defence but the Sessions Judge stated that he placed the evidence of the witnesses before the jury reminding them of the nature of the offence and dealing with some of the principal points. As to the charge under s 324 the direction was "certain persons are charged with causing certain wounds. If you find they gave those wounds they cannot plead right of private defence because they have not admitted giving those wounds". Held, that it did not appear that the jury were made fully acquainted with the nature of the case for the prosecution and the nature of the case for the defence. That the mode in which the case was placed before the jury was defective and the verdict must be set aside and the case

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

retried by a new Judge. Per CHAUDHURI, J.—That the jury are responsible for their verdict and are the sole judges of facts but the Judge's charge is not only for the purpose of stating the law and explaining it to them but also of helping the jury to find facts. He has to advise the jury as to the logical bearing of the evidence admitted upon the matters to be found by them. It is a privilege granted to Judges and a duty cast upon them. In a case of this character it is absolutely essential that the principal points should be clearly placed before the jury and it should appear from the Judge's charge that he did so. Heads of charge to jury how to be recorded pointed out. Propriety of delivering charge to jury through interpreters considered. ARSHI BIRI v KING EMPEROR (1919)

23 C. W. N 833

Citation of ruling in the charge to the jury—Right of private defence when trespassers have begun cutting crop. When trespassers began cutting and carrying away crop grown by the person in possession reasonable apprehension to the property having already commenced the right of private defence of the latter commenced at the same time and it was misdirection on the part of the Judge to leave it to the jury to say whether the fact that the police station was only 9 miles off from the place of occurrence did not take away that right. The reference in such circumstances to his civil remedies also amounted to misdirection. No rulings or authorities should be cited by the Judge in his charge to the jury nor should they be asked to differentiate or form any opinion whatever on any authorities. Such procedure confuses the minds of the jury and constitutes misdirection. MEHER SARDAR v THE KING EMPEROR (1911) jurisdiction—Grievous hurt—Abetment by conspiracy—Cases by Jury—Retrial—Jurisdiction. Where there was evidence that certain persons conspired to eject the complainant from his land or, in other words, to commit criminal trespass and the Judge said that if the jury found that those persons conspired with the first accused to commit criminal trespass then they would if absent be guilty of abetment, and being present they were guilty of the substantive offence. Held that the omission to notice that the substantive offence, for which the accused were being tried was not one of criminal trespass but of voluntarily causing grievous hurt constituted misdirection. The jury have to give their verdict on the facts as against each man severally and they are not, like the Judge in charge of the entire case as a whole. When an accused is to be retried he must be placed before the jury upon all the charges which were framed against him and the High Court has no jurisdiction to uphold the conviction under one section and to order him to be retried under another. JANTRUDDI BISWAS v KING EMPEROR (1912) 16 C. W. N. 909

116 C. W. N 46

Verdict by casting lots—Admissibility of the evidence of jurors and of admissions by jurors as to the mode of arriving at the verdict—Evidence of other persons in proof of the same, admissibility of. The sworn statements of jurors, and evidence of admissions by them as to the modes in which their verdict had been arrived at, are inadmissible. But the evidence of other persons as to the same is receivable. Queen v Harbison, 1 B & P 326, Straler v Graham, 4 M & W 721, Burgess v Langley, 5 M & G 722, and Queen v Murphy L R, 2 P C 535, referred to. The evidence of a witness that he saw one of the jurors put some pieces of crumpled up paper in his alcoa, shake them up and take them out, is not sufficient to prove that the verdict was arrived at by casting lots. EMPEROR v HARKUMAR BARMAN ROY (1913)

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 693

Suggestion by the Judge of an alternative aspect of the case not put forward by the prosecution or defence—Omission to point out to the jury, specifically, the evidence against each accused and minute details—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 297, 303—Riding—“Violence,” meaning of—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss 146, 147—Admissibility of evidence of a proceeding to keep the peace as part of the res gestæ. Where the common object alleged in the charge as framed was to take forcible possession of the complainant's land and hut and to assault him and others named, and the prosecution and defence each asserted exclusive possession and an attack by the opposite party. Held, that the Judge was not wrong in asking the jury to consider, as a third alternative an intermediate state of facts, viz., that the complainant's party went to turn the accused party out of possession, was resisted and driven back, and that the latter then followed after they assaulted the former. Banga Hadua v King Emperor, 11 C L J 270, Queen v Sabid Ali, 20 W R Cr 6, and Wafadar Khan v Queen Emperor, 1 L R 21 Calc 955, distinguished. The word “violence” in s 146 of the Penal Code is not restricted to force used against persons only, but extends also to force against inanimate objects. The omission to point out to the jury, specifically, the exact evidence against each accused, is not a misdirection when the Judge has discussed the whole of it and has told them to be satisfied as to the guilt of, and to return an independent verdict against, each accused. SAMARUDDI v EMPEROR (1912)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 367

Misdirection—Held that omission of Judge to give direction on point of law arising out of the plea in defence amounts to a misdirection. When a verdict is quashed it is in the discretion of the High Court to order acquittal instead of retrial. ABDEL RAHIM MIA v THE KING EMPEROR 25 C. W. N 623

Misdirection—Civil Procedure Code, s 297. When material witnesses named in the first information and the evidence were not examined at the trial and the Judge did not tell the jury they could draw an inference unfavourable to the prosecution and also did not draw their attention to discrepancies in evidence given in chief and cross examination, the conviction and sentence passed on the accused were set aside. TENARAM MONDAL v THE KING EMPEROR 25 C. W. N. 142

Held, that Judge was wrong in charging jury to the effect that if accused pleaded abbi he was bound to prove the plea and if he failed then that would arise a presumption against him. KING EMPEROR v TARBELLAK SUREKH. 25 C. W. N. 682

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

Irregularity in procedure and absence of proper charge. When evidence given by three police witnesses with preliminary enquiry was read over and treated as their examination in chief and two witnesses whom Public Prosecutor declined to call were called as Court witnesses and cross-examined by both sides, the Court putting no question and there was no examination of accused under s 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the heads of charge contained no indication as to how the evidence was summed up nor how the law of private defence which was material was explained to the Jury. Held, that there were sufficient irregularities to justify the setting aside of an acquittal. GANGA DHAR GOALA v ROISAID WILLIAM SIMON REED 25 C. W. N 609

Misdirection—Trial by Jury—Misdirection in charge to Jury—Questions of fact, Judge's expression of opinion in dogmatic and unqualified terms—Material evidence, omission to refer to—Conditio precedent to using certain evidence and drawing adverse inference against accused omission to point out—Abandoning not incompatible with innocence omission to point out—Retrial by a new Judge. Where the accused was convicted under ss 304 328 of the Penal Code, for having administered arsenic mixed with sugar to two boys and thereby caused the death of one and hurt to the other, and the Sessions Judge in his charge to the jury expressed his own opinion on the evidence in terms too dogmatic and unqualified, although he informed them that on questions of fact they were not bound by any opinion of his and omitted to refer to some statements of one of the two boys before the Committing Magistrate and before the Sessions Judge and did not warn the jury that before drawing inferences against the accused they must first be satisfied that he knew of the presence of arsenic in the sugar and that the evidence negatived the possibility of accident or mistake, and that before using the Chemical Examiner's report they must be satisfied on the evidence that the substances examined were in fact what they were said to be, and in discussing the question of accused's absence from his village did not warn the Jury that even if they believed that he absconded, absconding is not necessarily or invariably incompatible with innocence. Held, that the charge to the jury was vitiated by misdirection. The High Court set aside the conviction and sentence and ordered a retrial by a new Judge on the ground that the trying Judge had formed a strong opinion on the case. OFEL MOLLAN v THE KING EMPEROR (1913) 18 C. W. N. 180

Jurymen, communication with by stranger and by Clerk of the Crown—Police Officer's presence near jury room—Communication of deliberation by jurymen before or after case is over—Habeas corpus, writ of—Jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s 491—Letters Patent, 1865 cls 25 and 26—Trial vitiation of—Practice Per Curiam. It is highly undesirable that a juror should have any communication with any body who is not a jurymen upon the subject-matter of the trial. But the mere fact that one of them is addressed by a stranger, to whom apparently the jurymen makes no reply or whose remarks the jurymen does not look upon as worthy of consideration, cannot have the effect of invalidating a trial. A mere casual question (which

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd.

Held, that the joint trial of the accused on charges under ss. 121, 121A, 122 and 123 of the Penal Code was not bad for misjoinder of persons or charges. A confession under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be made either in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV or after it has ceased and before the commencement of the inquiry or trial. The condition requiring the confession to be prior to the commencement of the inquiry or trial is only imposed when the investigation has ceased, and not when it is made in the course of the police investigation. Where a number of persons were arrested on the 1st May and the confessions of some of them were recorded on the 4th and 5th, while others were brought in subsequently and their confessions taken while the police investigation was then actually going on, and on the 17th an order under s. 196 was obtained and the police report sent in, and on the next day the examination of the prosecution witnesses begun—Held that the Magistrate did not take cognizance under s. 190 of the Code, nor did the inquiry commence on the 4th, and that the confessions were taken in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV. The fact that the Magistrate who has taken the confessions, afterwards holds the inquiry, does not, under s. 164, constitute the recording of the confessions an examination of the accused in the course of it and at its commencement. Empress v Anuntam Singh, 1 L R 5 Cal 951, and Empress v Yakub Khan, 1 L R 5 All 251, declared obsolete. Sat Narain Tewari v Emperor, 1 L R 32 Cal 1035, distinguished. S. 164 includes confessions taken by a Magistrate who afterwards holds such inquiry or trial. Empress v Anuntam Singh, 1 L R 5 Cal 951, and Reg v Bay Ratan, 10 Bom. II O 166 declared obsolete on the point. Ss. 164, 342 and 364 of the Code are not exhaustive, and do not limit the generality of s. 21 of the Evidence Act as to the relevancy of admissions. Queen-Empress v Narayan, (1893) 10 All 679, referred to. The mere fact that a statement was elicited by a question does not make it irrelevant as a confession under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code or s. 29 of the Evidence Act, though such fact may be material on the question of its voluntariness. Methods of proving handwriting discussed. A document does not prove itself nor is an unproved signature proof of its having been written by the persons whose signature it purports to bear. S. 73 of the Evidence Act does not sanction the comparison of any two documents, but requires, first, that the standard writing shall be admitted or proved to be that of the person to whom it is attributed, and secondly, that the disputed writing must itself purport to have been written by the same person. A comparison of handwriting is at all times, as a mode of proof, hazardous and inconclusive and especially so when made by one not conversant with the subject and without guidance from the arguments of counsel and evidence of experts. Phooda Bibe v Govind Chunder Roy, 22 W R 272, referred to. The value of expert evidence of handwriting discussed. Reg. v Harvey, 11 Cox C C 346 referred to. To constitute an admission, the document need not be written by the party against whom it is used; it is sufficient if it is found in his possession and his conduct thereto creates an inference that he was aware of its contents and admitted their accuracy, but, unless this is done, the document cannot be used against him as proof of its contents. What conduct would properly give rise to such inference depends on the facts of each case. The mere fact of possession of letters is not of much value, unless it is shown that their contents were recognized and adopted by the parties elicited or the conduct inspired by them. The expression "wages war" in s. 121 of the Penal Code must be construed in its ordinary sense, and a conspiracy to wage war, or the collection of men, arms and ammunition for that purpose, is not waging war. An agreement between two or more persons to do all or any of the unlawful acts mentioned in s. 121A of the Penal Code is an offence, and the fact of the purpose not being immediate is only material in connection with s. 95. No proof is necessary of direct meeting or combination, nor need the persons be brought into each other's presence, but the agreement may be inferred from circumstances raising a presumption of a common concerted plan to carry out the unlawful design. Nor is it necessary that all the accused should have joined in the scheme from its inception. Eliciting answers from witnesses while under examination in chief or re-examination, by leading questions, deprecated. PERCARPUS, J.—Regard being had to the definition of "proved" in s. 3 of the Evidence Act, "moral conviction," provided it is based exclusively on evidence that is admissible is not distinguishable from "legal proof." Save when an accused person is being examined under s. 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code, there is nothing to prevent a Magistrate from eliciting information from him by independent enquiry so long as the information is voluntarily given. A statement by an accused to the police, which tells against him but does not amount to an admission of guilt, is admissible in evidence. Each case must be decided as it arises with reference to the question whether the particular statement is or is not a confession. Queen v Macdonald, 10 B L R App. 2. Empress v Dabee Pershad, 1 L R 6 Cal 530, Queen v Amir Khan 9 B L R 36, 72, and Emperor v Mahomed Ibrahim, 5 Bom. L R 312, referred to. Queen v Haribhole Chavter Ghose, 1 L R 1 Cal 277. Queen-Empress v Mathias, 1 L R 10 Cal 1922. Queen-Empress v Mehr Ali Mullick 1 L R 15 Cal 559. Imperatrice v Pandharinath 1 L R 6 Bom. 34, and Queen-Empress v Jacharam 1 L R 19 Bom. 363, discussed and distinguished. Handwriting may, in addition to the usual methods, be proved by circumstantial evidence under s. 67 of the Evidence Act, which prescribes no particular kind of proof. Neel Kant Pandit v Jyotsnabai Ghose, 12 B L R App. 18. Abdul Ali v Abdul Rahman, 21 W R 422 and Idalla Paru v Gannabai 1 L R 11 Bom 697 referred to. BARINDRA KUMAR GHOSH v EMPEROR (1909) 1 L R 37 Cal 487 —Trial by, in Criminal case Ouns of proof in—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1862) s. 417—Receiving stolen property. In a criminal case the onus is on the prosecution to prove beyond reasonable doubt the guilt of the accused. That onus never changes. Where recent possession of stolen property by the prisoner is established, and he offers an explanation which the jury thinks may be reasonably true though they are not convinced that it is true, the prisoner is entitled to an acquittal because the Crown in such a case has not discharged the onus of proof that rested upon it. In a case under s. 411 Indian Penal Code, in charging a jury it should be pointed out that the possession of stolen goods referred to must be possession soon after the theft or that the stolen goods must have been recently stolen HATHEN MONDAL v KING EMPEROOR 24 C W N 619

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd.

JURY—TRIAL BY—concluded

— Misdirection—On mission to explain ones.—When the Sessions Judge in his charge to the Jury did not clearly explain that the ones of proof was on the prosecution nor set out the points for decision and omitted to give proper direction on facts Held, that it amounted to a misdirection which vitiated the verdict. ABDUL CONEE SIKAR v KING EMPEROOR 26 C W N. 972

— to—Verdict when should be interfered with.—Test whether misdirection occurs oned failure of justice. The accused were found not guilty by the unanimous verdict of the jury and acquitted by the Sessions Judge. On the appeal by the Local Government against the acquittal on the ground of misdirection in the Judge's charge to the jury Held—That though there was misdirection this did not justify a reversal of the verdict of the jury unless the misdirection in fact occasioned a failure of justice. The High Court not being prepared to hold that the jury's verdict was due to the misdirection in the charge and that apart from this they would not have come to the same conclusion, the acquittal was not disturbed. SUPERINTENDENT AND REVENUE BRANCHER OF LOCAL AFFAIRS v SHAYAM SUNDAR BHUMY 26 C W N. 558

JUST ANTECEDENT DEBT

See CUSTOM (ALIENATION)

I L R 1 Lab 472

JUS TERTII

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—

ss 102 AND 198 I L R 33 All 61

s 177 I L R 33 All 260

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11

EXPL VI I L R 33 All 493

— Suit in ejectment. Held that a defendant in ejectment might set up and prove jus tertii. And is entitled to rely on the jus tertii appearing from the facts adduced by the plaintiff to defeat his claim. SITARAM BHIMAJI v SADHU I L R 38 Bom 240

JUSTICE, EQUITY AND GOOD CONSCIENCE.

See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS.

I L R 39 Mad. 548

See WILL I L R 35 All. 211

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT

I L R 39 Mad 942

— Trials of European British subjects. The powers of Magistrates of the first class who are Justices of the Peace and European British subjects are the powers referred to in s. 36 of the Code of Criminal Procedure of 1894 as hereinafter conferred upon them and specified in the third schedule and styled 'ordinary powers.' They do not include powers with which by virtue of s. 37 of the Code a Magistrate of the first class may be invested by the authorities mentioned therein. LOUAY v LOMER (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 344

JUSTIFICATION

See TORT

I L R 39 Mad 433

JUTE TRADE.

See SHARES I L R 46 Calc 331 342

— usage of—

See VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR.

I L R 39 Calc 127

— Furnish—Trade usage at Chandpur—Passing of property on sale—Custody with purchaser merely as security for advances—Insurance of that interest benefit of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s. 81. When nothing remains to be done to the goods by the seller for the purpose of ascertaining the price then prima facie the property in them passes although they have not been weighed by the buyer. Summons v Swift 5 B & C 857 Turley v Bate 2 H & C 200 Shook Mohun Pal Chowdhry v Vaboo Krishna Poddar I L R 4 Calc 301 Marinneau v Kuching L R 7 Q B 436 referred to. It would be otherwise in England if the parties intended that property in the goods should not pass until the goods had been weighed. The Indian Law is the same and the provisions of s. 81 of the Contract Act do not exclude the question of intention which is laid down in the English cases as the determining factor. Where according to the usage of trade at Chandpur the sale of jute by furnish is not complete until the goods are examined, selected and weighed by the company (purchaser) although stored in the godowns of the company by whom advances have been made to the furnish against these goods—Held that the contract in the present case being in the first instance a contract for the sale of unascertained goods, what remained to be done by the buyer to the goods appropriated to the contract by the seller was not merely for the purpose of ascertaining the price but was also for the purpose of placing the buyers in a position to say whether and to what extent they would for their part accept the goods offered to them. That the position seemed to be that the buyer had a right to the custody of the jute as security for his advances, and that in addition while the seller had no right to sell to others, the buyer was under a corresponding obligation to buy as much of the jute as was of the requisite standard. That (though the company had insured this jute as their own) the insurance appeared to have been intended for the protection of their own interest in the jute not for the protection of the seller's interest which they were not bound to insure. That the defendants therefore were entitled to apply the whole amount which they received under the policies of insurance to indemnify themselves against the loss which they themselves had actually sustained and were not bound to apply any portion of it to the benefit of the plaintiff. That there was no usage that the loss is borne entirely by the company in cases where the jute is not insured to the full extent. ABDUL AZIZ BEPARI v JOGENDRA KRISHNA ROY (1916) I L R 44 Calc 93

KKABULIYAT

See INTEREST I L R 41 Calc 342

I L R 43 Calc 93

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 Calc 493

KABULIYAT—contd.

See RENT . I. L. R. 47 Cal. 133

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, s 105
14 C. W. N 73

— containing false recitals—

See FABRICATING FALSE EVIDENCE
I. L. R. 46 Cal. 986

— construction of—

See RENT . I. L. R. 47 Cal. 133

— stipulation in—

See ILLEGAL CESS
I. L. R. 45 Cal. 259— Stipulation to pay same as mamuli for the Idol—See ILLEGAL CESS
I. L. R. 45 Cal. 259

Kabulyat, construction of—Rent, partly in money and partly in kind—Fixed rent—Evidentiary value of later documents between different parties in construing an earlier one Where the terms of a document clearly point to the fact that the rent is to be partly in money and partly in kind, the rent cannot be regarded fixed in amount, even though the kabulyat is a molarvari one, and in the original deed the two items of rent in kind and rent in cash were lumped up and expressed as a consolidated money rent. An earlier document cannot be construed by reference to a later document which is not between the same parties. BANESWAR MUKHERJEE v UMESH CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY (1910) . I. L. R. 37 Cal. 626

Lease—Landlord and Tenant—Kabulyat without pottah if constitutes a lease—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 4, 105 and 107—Amending Act (III of 1885) s 3—Registration Acts (III of 1887), s 3, and (XVI of 1908), s 2(7) A registered kabulyat signed by the lessee and accepted by the lessor is sufficient to constitute a lease within the meaning of s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act. Akram Ali v Durga Prasanna Roy Choudhury, 14 C L J 614, referred to Nand Lal v Hanuman Dass I. L. R. 26 All 368, Kashi Gir v Jogendra Nath Chose, I. L. R. 27 All 136, Sheo Karan Singh v Maharaja Parbhu Narain Singh, I. L. R. 31 All 276, Tufel Sahib v Esuf Sahib, I. L. R. 30 Mad 322, Kali Subbanadri v Muthu Rangayya I. L. R. 32 Mad 532 discussed Sayed Ajam Sahib v Madura Sree Menatchi Sundaresvaran Desai 21 Mad L J 292, approved Nilmamund Sarkar v Baul Das, 14 C H N 73 distinguished RAI MONI DAS v MATHURA MOHAN DEY (1912)

I. L. R. 39 Cal. 1016

Stipulating to pay rent in kind, a money value being given in the document—Landlord if may recover market value or the amount stated—Proof that amount was inserted for registration purposes or to fix stamp duty, if inadmissible—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92—Conflict of decision Where a tenant executed a kabulyat promising to pay as rent Rs 4 in cash and 91 aris of paddy as the landlord's share of the produce and it was stipulated that on the tenant's failure to pay the said rent and share of paddy, the landlord would be competent to realise the said rent and Rs. 30 as price of the paddy. Held, that on the tenant making default in paying the landlord's share of the paddy the latter was not entitled to recover the market value of the paddy at the time but only the fixed amount of Rs 36. Per CHATTERJEE, J.—Contracts for payment of bag paddy are very common and it was well known that middle class people, specially of the badra logue class who cannot cultivate lands themselves, let out their lands for getting paddy for the consumption of their family and in some cases the bag paddy is the only means of subsistence of the family. A certain value has to be fixed for the paddy in the kabulyat not only for the ascertainment of the registration fee, but also (and specially) for fixing the stamp duty payable, though that is not expressly stated in the kabulyat. A distinction may perhaps be drawn between cases where there is no express stipulation to pay the sum mentioned in the kabulyat as the value of the paddy in the event of its non delivery and where there is such a stipulation. But even in the latter class of cases, it has been held upon a construction of the contract in some cases that the value mentioned was the value of the paddy at the date of the contract or stated for purposes of registration, while a contrary view has been taken in some other cases. The view taken in Ajer Morale v Pro sunna Kumar, 15 C W N 249 & c. 12 C L J 649 (1910) and recent decisions, viz., that it is not open to the Court to hold that the value of the paddy mentioned in the kabulyat is applicable on the ground that it was so done for fixing the stamp duty or registration fee, affects not only the cases where there is stipulation that the money value mentioned is to be paid on default but also where there is no such stipulation, and it is desirable that the question should be settled by a Full Bench. GURU DAS SEN v GOBINDA CHANDRA SINHA 24 C. W. N. 85

KABULIYAT—contd

Contract of tenancy, whether kabulyat amounts to Where a tenant has been put into possession of land on the strength of a kabulyat and has paid rent at the kabulyat rates, the kabulyat having been confirmed by the conduct of the parties must be deemed to have been adopted as a contract of tenancy. Sheikh Kasim Ali v Sheikh Ahmad Ali 2 Pat L J 40

KACCHI ADAT.

See CONTRACT I. L. R. 42 Bom. 224

KADIM INAMDAR.

Grantee of soil—Introduction of summary settlement into the alienated village—Mirasdar holding lands in the village to be before the alienation—Inamdar's right to enhance the rent—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V) of 1879, s 217 A Kadim Inamdar who is a grantee not merely of the Government share of rent and land revenue but a grantee out and out of soil in a village where a survey settlement has been introduced, is entitled to enhance the rent of the Mirasdar whose tenancy dates from a Umo prior to the grant. PANDU v RAMCHANDRA GANESH (1917) . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 112

KAHUTS.

See CUSTOM I. L. R. 2 Lah. 170

KAIMI-LEASE.See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885, s 20
5 Pat L J 257

KAIMI-LEAST—contd

S & LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R. 37 Cal. 515

KALIGHAT TEMPLE.

See PALAR OR TURNS OF WORSHIP
I L R. 42 Cal. 455

KAMATHIS.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R. 31 Bom 553

KANQANAM.

levy of, legality of—
See ESTATES LAND ACT (Mad. Act I of 1908), ss 4, 27, 73 AND 143
I L R. 40 Mad. 640

KANOM.

See MALABAR LAW I L R. 44 Mad. 344

KANTI MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE . . . 24 C. W. N. 958

KANUNGO.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 27
I L R. 39 All 51, 58

KARNAM.

*Nature of tenure—Land appurtenant to office and impartible—Enfranchisement and its effect of—Law governing Palayams not applicable in Madras, the Karnam of the village occupies his office not by hereditary or family right but as personal appointee, though in certain cases that appointment is primarily exercised in favour of a suitable person who is member of a particular family. It follows that land appurtenant to the office so enjoyed should continue to go with that office and should accordingly be impartible. The enfranchisement of the Karnam lands in 1906 whereby the Karnam was confirmed to V his representatives and assigns to hold and dispose of as he or they might think proper subject to the payment of quit rent and the reservation of minerals, did not ensure for the benefit of the joint family of which V was a member but to him exclusively. Different considerations apply to the case of a Palayam, or when a Palayam was abolished in so far as the duty of rendering military service was concerned, the estate was continued with all its hereditary incidents to the Palayam in the same manner as it possessed by a zamindar and the Privy Council in Madras was in error in applying the law regarding Palayams by analogy to a Karnam case in Quasim v Karnam & Ayaz, I L R 96 Mad 392, *MUSTI VENKATA JAGANNATHA SANKA v MUSAMMAT VEERABHADRAYYA (PL)

25 C. W. N. 301

KARNAVAN

See MALABAR LAW I L R. 44 Mad 140
See MALABAR LAW
I L R. 39 Mad 518

KARAKKARI TENURE

See MALABAR LAW
I L R. 38 Mad. 389

KARTA

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER.
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
See HINDU LAW—MINOR.
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R. 43 Cal. 459

of Hindu joint family—

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY
23 C. W. N. 500—

suit against—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, ss 10 AND 20
23 C. W. N. 358

KASBATIS.

*History and status of Kasbatis in Gujarat—Ahmedabad Talukdar's Act (Bombay Act VI of 1862)—Gujarat Talukdar's Act (Bombay Act VI of 1865)—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879), ss 68, 73—Rights of Kasbatis after cession to and annexation by British Government—Rights of leasees from British Government—Onus of proof on claimant of rights of permanent tenure—Lease implies no obligation to renew at end of term—Obligation to give up possession at end of lease. In this case their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (reversing the judgments of the Courts below) that the respondent, the descendant of a family of Kasbatis who were in possession of a village called Charodi in the district of Ahmedabad in Gujarat and the date of the cession of that district by the Peshwa to the British Government, and whose predecessors in title held thereafter under leases from the Government, where more leasees of the Government of Bombay, bound to give up, at the end of each term of lease, possession of the village, and were never legally entitled as each lease terminated to have a new lease granted in the last leasee or representative, and therefore never acquired permanent possession of the village. The only legal enforceable right the Kasbatis could have as against the British Government were those and those only, which that Government by agreement express or implied, or by legislation chose to confer upon them. The relation in which they stood to their native sovereign, and the consideration of the existence, nature and extent of their rights before the cession were only relevant matters for the purpose of determining whether and to what extent the British Sovereign had recognized their antecedent rights and had elected or agreed to be bound by them. The burden of proving that they had any such rights which the Bombay Government consented to their continuing to enjoy rested upon the respondent. The principle laid down in The Secretary of State for India vs Council v Kamache Boye Sahaba 7 Moo I A 476, and Cook v Spry, [1899] A C 572, followed. The just and reasonable inferences to be drawn from the evidence were that the respondent had failed to discharge the onus on her, that the Bombay Government had never by agreement express or implied conferred upon her or any of her ancestors the proprietary rights in, or ownership of, the village claimed by her, they never conferred upon any of the leasees of the village a legal right to insist, at the termination of the lease upon a new lease being granted, they were never under a legal obligation to grant any lease of the village, and the granting or withholding of a* lease rested solely in their discretion. The mere repetition of acts of grace by the Government could not per se create a legal right to their continuance. Prima facie a lease for a term does not impart any right to a renewal of on the contrary it prima facie implies that the lessee's right to the premises ends with the term. There was no analogy between holdings of the Grassias and the Kasbatis, they and the Mewassies were clearly distinguishable from the Kasbatis. The Ahmedabad Taluqdars Act (Bombay Act VI of 1862) did not apply to Kasbati lessees. They never were Ahmedabad Taluqdars in the true sense they did not lose their ancient rights of ownership of land by taking leases as did the Grassias and therefore did not suffer the injustice which the statute was designed to remedy. The effect of ss. 68 and 73 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879) read with the Gujarat Taluqdars Act (Bombay Act VI of 1883) is that a lessee whether a true Taluqdar, or a Thakur, Mewassie, Kasbati, or Naik, is bound by the terms of his lease one term of which is that he shall only occupy for the term of years for which a lease for years is granted, and prima facie no longer. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BAR RAJRAJ (1915)

KASBATIS—contd.

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 625

KAZI.

alienation of inam lands granted for Kazi service

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT, s 4 . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 120 discretion of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1085 sanction by—

See WAKF § I. L. R. 47 Calc. 592

KAZIS ACT (XII OF 1880).

ss. 2 and 4—Kazi not entitled to any exclusive right to officiate as such. The appointment of a person as Kazi under the Kazi's Act (XII of 1880) does not confer on the appointee any exclusive franchise or any exclusive right to perform the functions of his office. Where therefore, the plaintiff, a Kazi, appointed under the Act, sued the defendant to restrain him from officiating at marriages, and for the recovery of sums of money received by the latter as fees for niklas performed by him. Held that the suit must fail as the plaintiff had no right to restrain any person from discharging any of the functions of a Kazi. Mohammad Yusub v. Sayid Ahmed, 1 Bom. H-C R. App. 18 distinguished. Sayid Hashim Saheb v. Hussainsha, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 329, Mura Mohidin v. Asan Mohidin, 17 Mad. L. J. 421, Bhoolwa v. Syid Umar Ulee, (1859) V. W. P., S. D. A. 127, and Zeenatoolah Case v. V. Jeebhoo, 1815 6 Ben. S. D. A. 31 referred to. SHEIK UMMAH v. BUDAY KHAN (1914)

I. L. R. 37 Mad. 223

"KETUSAH"

See JEWISH LAW.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 236

KHAIRAT.

See BEQUEST . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 181

KHADIANIS.

See MAHAMMADANS . 2 Pat. L. J. 103

KHAMAR LAND.

See NON OCCUPANCY RAIYAT

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 267

KHANA-DAMAD

See CUSTOM . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 749

KHANDESH DISTRICT.

See PRE EMPTION I. L. R. 40 Bom. 358

KHANGA ATTACHED TO DARGA.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 303

KHARACH-I-PANDAN.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I. L. R. 32 AH. 410

KHAS POSSESSION.

See UNDER RAIYAT . 23 C. W. N. 435

suit for—

See CHAWKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 57

KHATEDAR.

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879), s 74

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 170

inamdar's name entered as—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879), ss 3 (11) 217

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 685

KHATIB INAM LANDS

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT, 1876 s 4

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 130

KHOD-KAST JOTES.

Dowl Bandobast Kabuliyaat—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss 10, 111 and 117—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s 92—Proof of custom—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 104 A suit lies to correct an entry in a finally published record of rights. The fact that an application under a. 106 of Bengal Tenancy Act was withdrawn does not bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to deal with the matter. Troilakya Nath Bose v. Marleni I. L. R. 28 Calc. 28, Saidabekhan Hazra v. Shaukh Eshahar 19 C. W. N. 636, followed. Jogendra Nath Ray v. Krishna Pramada Datta, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 1013 disented from. Gulab Misser v. Kumar Kalandand Singh, 14 C. W. N. 831, Pandab Dwar Das v. Ananda Kisin Chakrabarti, 14 C. W. N. 897, referred to. With regard to Dowl kabuli yats from the fact that the sons have been allowed to hold the tenancy, it does not follow that it is heritable. Nor from the fact that the landlord accepted the mortgage of the tenancy from the sons can it be inferred that it is heritable. It is necessary to look into the express terms regarding the tenancy as appearing in the kabuliyaat. The evidence of custom in respect of tenance is inadmissible where the custom alleges it is contrary to the terms of the written agreement. Therefore, in an agreement where the tenancy was non transferable in express words, no evidence can be given of the customary transferability of tenures in the locality Webb v Plummer, 2 Barn Ald 746, Beranton v Green, 18 East 71, Clarke v Royston, 13 M W 752, and Brown v Byrne, 3 El El 703, referred to. An interest in land created before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act is not subject to that Act. Paramoti Dasya v Ananda Prasad Ghose, 7 C L J 553, and Ananda Mohan Saha v Gobinda Chandra Roy Chaudhuri, 20 C W N 320, referred to. But where it is found that a yearly tenancy commenced after the passing of the Act Held that such a tenancy is an interest in land which can be transferred and could only be determined under s. 111 of the Transfer of Property Act by a notice. MAHOMAD ATZJEDDIN, PROXYAT KUTAN TAGORE (1928). I. L. R. 48 Cal. 359

KHOD-KAST JOTES—contd

KHOJAS.

See DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 211

Hindu law, how far applicable to Khojas—Joint family—Presumption as to membership of joint family—Mahomedan law—Spec successions, transfer of—Family arrangement in the nature of a partition, reasonableness of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Articles 91 and 127 In the year 1879 one D, a Khoja was living at Malad in the Thana District, where he carried on a small business, together with, inter alia, his mother and unmarried daughter, his sons A and I and A's wife and A's son J. In that year it was agreed that A should separate from the rest of the family and should receive what was considered to be his share in the family property. The family property was valued at Rs. 4,500 and Rs. 900 or the fifth part of it was made over to A or the members of his family at his share namely, Rs. 400 in cash given to A, ornaments of the value of Rs. 200 given to A's wife and a house of the value of Rs. 300 settled on J. The terms of this transaction were contained in a deed of release dated the 13th of February 1879, by which deed A released all claims of himself and his wife and son against the family and family property. Subsequently I by himself or assisted by his father D continued to carry on business and acquired a considerable amount of property. After the release, A lived in the house given by the release to his son J and some 12 or 13 years after the release another son was born to A, namely X. J and X at times lived with their grandfather D and their uncle I and received assistance from them in various ways, in particular their marriage and other ceremonies being performed from D's house and at his expense. J and X were at times also employed by D and I in their business for wages. In the year 1902, D made a gift to I of his property at Malad reserving about Rs. 7,000 to himself. J and X filed the present suit. In their plaint they stated that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid or binding as having been obtained by fraud, undue influence, etc., and also because it had not been acted upon. They prayed, inter alia, for a declaration that the above-mentioned business and properties were the properties and business of an undivided family, that the rights of the plaintiffs and defendants therein might be ascertained and declared, that the properties might be partitioned between the plaintiffs and defendants in accordance with their interests so ascertained and declared, that all necessary accounts might be taken that a receiver might be appointed, that D and I might be restrained by injunction from alienating the properties that it might be declared that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid and binding on the plaintiffs and A and that it might be declared that the deed of gift of the 8th of October 1902 was void and of no effect as against the interests of the plaintiffs and other members of the joint family. D and I filed written statements denying the allegations as to fraud, etc., and asserting that the release of the 13th of February 1879 had been acted on. It was assumed in the pleadings that the parties were governed by the Hindu law of the joint family. Held, that, as to the law governing Khojas the proper way to approach the question was as follows:—(i) Where Mahomedans were concerned the invariable and general presumption was that they were governed by the Mahomedan law and usage and that it lay on a party setting up a custom in derogation of that law to prove it strictly. (ii) But that in matter of simple succession and inheritance it was to be taken as established that succession and inheritance among Khojas and Memons were governed by Hindu law "as applied to separate and self acquired property." Held, accordingly, that the plaint disclosed no cause of action at all unless the plaintiffs had alleged and were prepared to prove two or three salient features of the Hindu law of the joint family as customs adopted by the Khojas of Bombay as the question involved in the suit did not really arise on a plea of simple succession and inheritance and that there had been no allegation of custom and no attempt had been made to prove a custom and in any case many of the prayers in the plaint were on the face of them bad as the plaintiffs could not have the declaration asked for as to the nature of the property and their rights thereon not sue for partition. Held, further, that assuming this to have been a joint family under Hindu law when A passed the release of the 13th of February 1879, he went out of the family and purported to take out of it his wife and infant son that the plaintiffs could not dispose of the release as void under Mahomedan law as the mere transfer of a spec succession as under Mahomedan law the plaintiffs had no cause of action and that X, having been born after his father A had gone out of the family, from the point of view of members of the joint family did not exist. Held, further, that it could not be inferred from the facts that their grandfather and uncle had kept the plaintiffs, educated them, and got them married, etc., that the plaintiffs thus became members of a joint family, that what was to be looked at in estimating the reasonableness of such family arrangements as the release of the 13th of February 1879 (under Hindu law) was not the state of the family fortune on the day it was called in question but at the time it was made and that if there was then an adequate motive the Court would not scrutinize too closely the adequateness of the consideration. Ramdas v. Chabildas, 12 Bom L. R. 621, applied Simble Where the existence of a document if valid and binding on a party would defeat his suit to recover possession of any property, he must sue under Article 91 of the Limitation Act for the cancellation of the document and that if he does not take steps in time to remove what else will be a bar to the success of his suit, he cannot surmount that bar during the trial by exactly the attack he ought to have made on it directly and within the shorter period allowed by the law of limitation. Semle Article 127 of the Limitation Act does not apply to Mahomedans as such or to Khojas and Memons except where the property is shown to have gone through one unimpaired descent and thereafter to have been held by the survivors as joint family property. Wasant Rao v Anand Rao, 6 Bom L R 225, considered Semle also since no Khoja son can enforce a partition it follows that he can not be a co-sharer. Ahmedbhai Husbhai v Laseembhai Ahmedbhai 1 L R 13 Bom 534, and Rani Saraj Kuari v Rani Deoraj Kuari, 1 L R 15 I A 51, considered JAN MAHOMED v DATU JAFFER (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 449

KHOJAS—contd

KHOJAS—could

Settlement—Settlor him self trustee—No delivery of possession—Son born after settlement—Power of settlor to revoke settlement—Settlor's intention not carried out owing to settlor's death—Power of Court to aid defective execution—Suit by after-born son to set aside settlement—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 10—Resulting trust back to settlor—Adverse possession—Difference between estoppel and res judicata—Validity of wakf contained in deed containing other gifts—Local usage cannot override Mahomedan Law—Requisition—Vis Major By an indenture of settlement dated 7th January, 1886, J P, a Khoja Mahomedan, purported to convey certain immovable properties to trustees for the benefit of his family. The trusts were in effect for J P for life and after his death, subject to certain rights of residence and maintenance, to pay the net income of the trust properties to N M for his life and in the event (which subsequently occurred) of the death of N M without leaving male issue to divide the trust funds into ten equal parts to be held in favour of certain donees, four tenths being given to charity. The indenture also reserved to the settlor power to revoke or vary any of the trusts contained therein. There was no surrender of the property in fact to any one except J P himself in his character as trustee for himself. The donor however, opened an account in his books of this property as trust property. On the 26th October 1886, a second son, the plaintiff was born to J P, whereupon J P being desirous of providing for the second son desired to vary the terms of the deed of the 7th of January 1886 and to resettle the same so that his two sons should share equally. A draft deed of declaration of new trusts was accordingly prepared by J P's attorneys and on the 24th of July 1887 was finally settled and approved by J P. An engrossment was thereupon made and duly stamped but on taking the engrossment to J P for his execution on July 29th it was found that owing to an error of the engrossing clerk several pages of it were missing. Another engrossment was prepared forthwith but on the same day before the new engrossment was ready J P died. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit to have it declared whether or not the deed of 1886 was a valid deed and prayed that the defective execution of the second deed might be added by the Court and the provisions of the said second deed declared to be valid. Held, (i) That the plaintiff was not time-barred as against the trustees from bringing the action. (ii) That however, restricted the gift was in form to J P it was in effect a gift absolute to him for life, and that entirely irrespective of the power of revocation. (iii) That all the gifts in the trust settlement made contingent upon N M dying without issue were bad. (iv) That the portion of the instrument which purported to create a wakf in respect of four tenths of the settled property was bad and void. (v) That the gift was bad for want of contemporaneous delivery of possession. (vi) That this was a case, if ever there was a case in which the Courts might act upon those principles which have always guided the Courts of Equity in England and aid defective execution of a power, defective not through any fault on the part of the person intending to execute it but by reason of an act of God and that the unsigned deed ought to be effectuated by the Court to the extent of making it binding on that conscience of the trustees. PER CURIAM It is only in the events of the trusts of some of them being bad that the question of limitation can arise. For if a trust deed in its entirety is good, then of course effect must be given to it irrespective of any question of lapse of time. Where what purports to be a trust deed turns out to have been entirely void and therefore not to have passed the legal estate, the position of those who took possession believing themselves to be trustees but not in law real trustees necessarily assumes the character of possessors on by trespass and is therefore from its inception in law adverse against all the world. Where, however, the trust deed in itself is good and valid to the extent of passing the legal estate but the trusts declared are in themselves wholly or partially bad then there is a resultant trust to the author of the trust and the possession of the trustees, whatever they might think of it and however they might intend to use it for the purpose of carrying out the bad trusts, could not in law be adverse to the cestus-que trust, that is to say the grantor. Widely different is the case of trustees who obtain the legal estate from the author of the trusts to apply the beneficial uses to specified objects which may or may not be good. For then from the beginning there is always a relation between the author of the trusts and the trustees in whom confidence has been reposed and there is always the legal possibility at least of another relation coming into existence between them where owing to the failure of the declared trusts, there is a resultant trust back to the grantor who from that moment becomes in law the cestus-que trust of the trustees. Where it was the intention that there should be an ultimate trust in favour of the grantor it is usual to express that on the face of the deed. A deed so framed as upon its very face to provide for the springing back of the trust fund or a part of it in certain events to the author of the trust does create what is at once an express and resultant trust. The current of authority seems to have set steadily against the extension of s 10 of the Limitation Act to all cases of resultant implied or constructive trusts. Where the ultimate resultant trust which is to spring back to the settlor is consistent with the discharge of the declared trusts, then it may, by loose use of language, be said to be express on the face of the deed but when the extinction or failure of all the intended trusts is a condition precedent to the resultant trusts coming into being, then the latter is clearly a true resultant trust and is not express and never can be express on the face of the deed. The answer to the question—What is the true position when declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust over to the settlor or his heirs—is to be found in the very elementary proposition that the possession of the trustee is always that of cestui-que-trust, and, therefore, however he may think or wish to be holding as trustee for trusts which have failed in the eye of the law, he is really holding, when those trusts failed, as trustee for the settlor. Then the position is simply this so long as he retains and professes to retain the character of a good and legal trustee, he is holding the legal estate as stake holder for two claimants, the intended beneficiaries of the declared trusts which have failed and the resultant trustee, that is, the settlor. And no length of possession by a trustee can be adverse to his cestui-que-trust as soon as that legal person is discovered and ascertained. So long as the trustee occupies the position of a trustee as soon as declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust in favour of the settlor, the trustee's possession is essentially that of his cestui-que-trust and can only be changed into adverse possession by a conscious and deliberate act, that is to say, that he must repudiate all intention of holding for the resultant cestui-que-trust and he must assert his intention of continuing to apply the trust fund to uses which the Court has declared or which are known to him to have failed. Then his possession might become adverse to his legal cestui-que-trust and if that person did not take steps within twelve years he might not be able to avail himself, under the Indian authorities, of the provisions of s. 10 of the Limitation Act. Estoppel and res judicata are entirely distinct. Res judicata precludes a man averring the same thing twice over in successive litigations, while estoppel prevents him saying one thing at one time and the opposite at another. It is consistent with the Mahomedan Law that a Mahomedan may devote his property in wakf and yet reserve to himself and his descendants in a very indefinite manner the usufruct of property. Jamdal v R D Sekha, 1 L R 34 Bom. 601, considered. The power of revocation is inherent in the donor of every gift, so that expressing it as is usually done by English drafts men in these voluntary settlements is merely surplusage and so far from invalidating the gift as a whole would necessarily be implied in it were it not expressed. Under the Mahomedan Law where a gift is conditioned by a power restricting alienation, the gift is absolute and the condition is void. A gift to the donor himself for his life and then over to others could not be reconciled with any recognised principle of the Mahomedan Law of gift and must necessarily, therefore, so far as the remoter donees are concerned, be bad ab initio. Jamdal v P D Sekha, 1 L R 34 Bom. 601, followed. A vested remainder in the strictest sense of the English words and a fortiori a contingent remainder could not possibly by any stretch of ingenuity be made the subject of a valid Mahomedan gift, inter vivos consistently with the requirements of the Mahomedan Law on that head and for this very simple reason that no man can give possession in present of that which may never come into possession at all. It is of the essence of a Mahomedan gift inter vivos that the donor should divest himself of the actual possession of the thing given and transfer it to the donee and if the donee does not take physical possession of it at the time of making the gift, then till he does, the gift is revocable. There is no authority to be found anywhere in the Mahomedan Law books themselves for the proposition that a man giving inter vivos may give an estate first to himself and then to A for life and then to B absolutely. It is undoubtedly a rule of the Mahomedan Law that where a donor makes a gift and accepts in exchange something, whether that something be independent of or part of the original gift, then the rest of the gift is irrevocable. No gift in futuro can be made by a Mahomedan inter vivos, in order to validate such a gift there must be an actual delivery of seisin to the donee there must be a transfer of possession and that transfer of possession must be from the donor to the donee. While the Mahomedan Law insists that a gift to private persons should be free of all pious and religious purposes this does not necessarily prohibit the making of the gift to wakf which may be contained in a deed which makes other gifts at the same time to private persons. It appears to be the Mahomedan Law that a donor may give his property in wakf, that is to say, appropriate and dedicate the corpus to the service of God, while reserving for himself a life interest in the usufruct. But as in the case of gifts to private individuals the Mahomedan Law never contemplated and will not allow a merely contingent gift in wakf. This necessarily flows from the juristic conception of a wakf which is the immediate appropriation and consecration of specified property to the service of God and the reservation of the donor's life interest in that property does not in any way clash with that conception for the corpus is there and then definitely and finally appropriated to its intended purpose. But it is plainly otherwise, while the gift is conditioned upon the happening of some future uncertain event. There can, in such circumstances, be no appropriation synchronizing with the declaration because should the future events happen it is neither the donor's intention then nor after the happening of that event that the property ever should be appropriated to the service of God. It would be passing the limits of the application of the maxim Ubi est contentio incertum legem. If it were sought to be a gift to the Khojas are allowed by local usage to override the Mahomedan Law which prohibits any Moslem from disposing of more than one third of his property by will. CASRAMALLY JAFRAHAI v SIE CURENBHOY INHAIN (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 214

KHOJAS—could

KHOJAS—contd

KHOJAS—contd

KHORPOSH GRANT Sub-soil right The interest of a Khorphoshdar heritable in the male line was a limited interest liable to be defeated at any time by the failure of heirs and thereupon resumable by the proprietor for the time being, and would not be an interest sufficient to carry with it the sub-soil rights. BHAWANATH GOBAIN v SURENDRA MOHAN GHASE (1913) 19 C W N. 102

KHOT Effect of adverse possession against—
S. 10 KHOT SETTLEMENT ACT, 1890, s. 8 AND 10. 1 L R 45 Bom 1001

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM. I OF 1880).
ss. 8 and 10—
—Khot—Privileged occupant
—Renunciation of occupancy in favour of Khot—

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880)

—contd

—ss 8 and 10—contd

Adverse possession of land against the occupant—
Error of adverse possession against the Khot—
Ejectment by Khot—Notice—Land Revenue Code (Bom 1st V of 1879) section 81 An occupancy tenant of khoti land having died in 1894, the defendant who was his remote relative took possession of the land and held it adversely. A first cousin of the deceased relinquished the holding in favour of the plaintiff Khot in 1914. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession of the land—Held that the defendant's adverse possession against the heir of the occupancy tenant only extinguished the latter's right to the actual possession of the land and did not operate to annullate the occupancy tenant's right which he would transfer to the plaintiff Khot. Held further, that the defendant, on account of the resignation of the rightful occupancy tenant could claim to be a tenant under s 8 of the Khoti Settlement Act 1880, and in the absence of any specific agreement between himself and the Khot he should be held to be a yearly tenant liable to pay rent to the Khot at the rates prescribed, and that he was accordingly entitled to the notice prescribed in the case of yearly tenants under section 84 of the Land Revenue Code 1879. VISHNU
BHASKAR v BABLA LAKHA (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 1001

—s 9—

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 40 Bom 675

—ss 9, 10—Khoti Takshu's—Resignation of occupancy rights—Transfer—Lease for a term of years—Expiration of the lease—Suit to recover possession—Impeachment of plaintiff's title—Consent of Khot necessary for transfer—Resignation accompanied by consideration—Porties in pari delicto—Falselple The defendant resigned his occupancy rights in a khoti takshu to the plaintiff who was one of the khots in the year 1907. Synchaneously with the resignation a lease for a term of five years was executed and the defendant attorned to the plaintiff in respect of the lands. The defendant's resignation was accompanied by consideration. After the expiration of the term of the lease the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the lands and the defendant impugned the plaintiff's title. Held dismissing the suit for recovery of possession that the foundation of the plaintiff's title in 1907 was illegal, that the resignation and lease having been made at the same time and having formed part of what was virtually one transaction if the transfer which the resignation was held to amount to were tainted with any illegality as being in contravention of the statute law, namely the Khoti Settlement Act (Bom Act I of 1880) the letting must go with it that under s 9 of the said Act the consent of the Khot including the plaintiff was necessary to the validity of the transfer and it was not shown that such consent had been obtained that accordingly the conditions stated in s 9 being not complied with there was no transfer under that section nor could the transaction be regarded as a resignation under s 10 of the said Act because it was accompanied by consideration. Held, further, that in the case of a contract where both the parties were in pari

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880)

—contd

—ss 9, 10—contd

delicto the plaintiff was not entitled to estop the defendant from showing the illegality of his title, nor was there any estoppel against any Act of Parliament or in India against an Act of the Legislature SHRIDHAR BALKRISHNA v RADAJI MULA
(1914) I L R 38 Bom 769

—Occupancy tenants—

Transfer of occupancy rights—Possession—Right of Khot to forfeit occupancy right Defendants Nos
 2 to 6 were the occupancy tenants of the plaintiff Khot. On the 12th January 1912, the defendant sold their occupancy rights to the defendant No 1 giving him possession. The plaintiff having sued for a declaration that by transfer the defendants had forfeited their occupancy rights, and that therefore he was entitled to possession of the property. Held, dismissing the suit that although the transfer to defendant No 1 was null and void as against the Khot, the defendants
 Nos 2 to 6 still remained his occupancy tenants.
JESU BIN RAMA v SAKHARAM GOPAL (1905) 30
 Bom. 290, followed. DAMODAR RAMCHATH v
VASUDEO PARASHURAM (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 267

—s 20—Entry in settlement register—

Occupancy tenant—The fact of tenancy not conclusively settled by the entry The rule of evidence laid down in s. 20 of the Khoti Act that the entry in the settlement register purporting to record the fact that the interest of any occupancy tenant is not transferable shall be conclusive evidence cannot apply where according to a judgment inter partes the person relying on the section is not an occupancy tenant, for the fact of the tenancy of the individual is not conclusively settled by the entry. CHINTO MAHADEV v MAHA- DEV RAMCHANDRA (1913)

I L R 43 Bom 565

—s 21—Decision of the Recording

Officer—Finality—Mere entry in revenue records as occupant is not such decision—Scope of the section S 21 of the Khoti Settlement Act, 1880 makes conclusive certain decisions of the Recording Officer. The mere entry of the name of some particular person as occupant is not such a decision. What are contemplated as conclusive are decisions as to the class of tenure and as complicated rights of the Khots. BIWA BABA to the v BAHU BALESET (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 469

—ss 33 (c) 40 (a), Rules I III and

VIII—Occupancy tenant—He is bound to the law—
Appraisal is under the provision of s 33—
Appraisal by the tenant I VIII of the Rules framed under s 40 (a) of the Khoti Settlement Act (Bom Act I of 1880) is in force, and under the provisions of that rule the Khot can recover from the occupancy tenant rent either on the basis of appraisal made under the provision of that rule or on the basis of appraisal made by the tenant himself. The Court is precluded from arriving at what it considers the reasonable amount of rent by the provision of the said rule. VINAYA
BALKRISHNA v SITARAM JANARDAN (1912)

I L R 37 Bom. 284

KHOTI TAKSHIM

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880) ss 9 10

I L R 38 Bom 709

KHOTI VILLAGE

See BOMBAY SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT ACT 1863 ss 25 28, 37 38.

I L R 36 Bom 290

KHUD-KASHT

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 120(?) 5 Pat L J 87

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 38 Calc 432

KHURDAH IN ORISSA

See SARDARAKARI TENURE I L R 48 Calc 378

KIDNAPPING

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 188. I L R 41 All 452

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—s 360 I L R 38 Mad 453

s 361 I L R 42 All 146

ss 361 366 169 I L R 38 All 664

ss 361, 363 AND 368 4 Pat L J 74

s 363 I L R 37 Mad 567

s 366 I L R 34 All 340

ss 366 AND 372. I L R 37 All 624

ss 366 AND 368. I L R 40 All 507

Removal by the mother of her child from the custody of the father after decree nisi deliv'ing custody to him—Absence of prayer for divorce put on for custody and of subsequent application therefor—Ex parte decree—Subsequent application to High Court for confirmation—Order of custody part of the decree—Time of operation of order of custody—Dorce Act (IV of 1869) s 17 43 57—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 363 Where the plaintiff in a divorce suit did not contain a prayer for custody of the child and there was no subsequent application therefor by the husband but the District Judge passed an ex parte decree and included in it as one of its terms, a decree to deliver the child to the wife to deliver her child to the father and submitted the decree to the High Court for confirmation and where the father subsequently obtained custody of the child but she took it away from his house, and was charged with kidnapping—Held that the Judge's direction as to the custody of the child was not intended to be an ad interim order under s. 43 of the Dorce Act which was to take effect immediately but formed an integral part of the decree and did not operate till confirmation by the High Court and that she had, therefore, committed no offence punishable under the Penal Code

KIDNAPPING—contd

Lall v Lall & L. R 28 Calc. 473, referred to BORTHWICK & BORTHWICK (1913)

I L R 41 Calc. 714

KIDNAPPING A GIRL OUT OF BRITISH INDIA

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 366 360 90

I L R 42 Bom 391

KILLADARI ESTATE (ORISSA)

See CHOWKIDARI ACT s. 1 15 C W N 300

KILLAJAT ESTATES (ORISSA)

See RENT I L R 38 Calc 278

KINGS BENCH, COURT OF

See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R 41 Calc 173

KINGS PREROGATIVE OF PARDON

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF I L R 42 Calc 739

KITTIMA ADOPTION

See BURNES LAW I L R 45 Calc 1

KNOWLEDGE

See ATTESTATION OF INSTRUMENT I L R 37 All 350

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION I L R 44 Calc 186

See PROBATE I L R 42 Calc 450

KNOWLEDGE AND INTENT

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s. 36 I L R 38 Mad 479

s 309 I L R 40 All 360

KOBALA

See FALSIFYING FALSE DOCUMENT I L R 48 Calc. 911

KOCHES

See HINDU LAW (SUCCESSION) 24 C W N 173

KOLI CASTE

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE I L R 37 Bom 295

KONKANI MAHOMEDANS

See CONTRACT . I L R 42 Bom 499

KOWL

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM) OF 1870, s. 3, CL. (19)

I L R. 35 Bom. 462

KUDIVARAM

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS.

L R. 46 I A 123

— acquisition of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 8, (EXCEPT)

I L R 38 Mad 843

— ownership of—

See CIVIL COURTS

I L R. 39 Mad 21

— right to—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 8 (EXCEPT)

I L R 38 Mad 608, 843

— sale of—

See LIMITATION ACT (II OF 1908) s. 22

I L R 38 Mad 837

KULACHAR

See BARTANA GRANT

KULKARNI VATAN

See BOMBAY PREVENTIVE JURISDICTION ACT, 1878, s. 4

I L R 44 Bom 261

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 20

I L R. 45 Bom 1207

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)

s. 4 I L R. 42 Bom 257

KUMAUN

— land tenures of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s. 100

I L R 36 All 258

KUMAUN RULES (1894)

— r. 17—'Final decree'—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s. 2 (2)—Promissory note liability of maker of not disclosing name of principal Held that the definition of "decree" as given in s. 2, cl. (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure, (1908) cannot be applied strictly in interpreting the term 'Final decree' as it occurs in the Kumaun Rules, which were framed in 1894 Held also, that where a person executes a pro-

KUMAUN RULES (1894)—contd

— r. 17—contd

missory note without either before or at the time of execution thereof disclosing the fact that he does so merely as an agent the executant is personally liable on the note Sadasuk Janki Das v Sir Kishan Pershad, I L R 46 Cal 663, referred to NARIB ULLAH v KUNWAR ANAND SINGH I L R 42 All 642

KUNJPURA. STATE OF.

— Succession to estates of Punjab Ruling Chiefs—Custom—Impartible estate—Primogeniture—Mahomedan law—Sust by junior members of Kunjpura family for shares in estate—Zemindari rights—Property appertaining to Chief ship up to 1819—Property subsequently acquired The question in this case was as to the rule of succession applicable to the Kunjpura State situate in the Cis-Sutlej districts of the Punjab. The raiat or raj, was founded by Najabat Khan, who in 1748 obtained a sanad from the Afghan Conqueror, Ahmed Shah Abdali, granting him an hereditary pagar of the villages of which he was then in possession which were declared to be revenue-free, and held subject to the obligation of maintaining order in his possessions. In 1849, however the British Government withdrew from the Chief of Kunjpura the civil and criminal jurisdiction under which he had been until then exercising quasi sovereign power Held, that it had been established beyond doubt that the Kunjpura State had ever since the time of Najabat Khan, descended to a single heir who had been recognised as the Chief of an impartible raiat and that at attempts by junior members of the family to obtain shares in it had invariably failed. The two instances relied on as showing the allotment of shares to junior members were, in their Lordships' opinion, opposed to that contention, and no other evidence had been referred to suggesting that there had ever been a division of the estate in accordance with Mahomedan Law. The opinion of the Board of Administration in 1852 that the zemindari rights in the villages comprised in the pagar were the subject of "inheritance according to the Mahomedan law" and should be shared by all the members of the family, became in effect, and was never acted upon in the course of the constant claims put forward by the junior members of the family to a share in the estate, and later decisions on those claims laid down in explicit terms that the zemindari rights belonged to the raiat. With regard to the property acquired after 1849 in which the Chief Court had decided that the plaintiffs (younger brothers of the defendant who had taken possession of all the property as the eldest son) were by the Mahomedan law entitled to shares Held (reversing that decision) that there was nothing to show that the Government in withdrawing the civil and criminal powers which the Chiefs had exercised prior to 1819 intended to make any alteration in their status or to vary the rule which had governed the succession to the estate. ISRAHIM ALI KHAN v MUHAMMAD ANSARULLAH KHAN (1912)

I L R 39 Cal 711

KUZHIKANAM

See CUSTOMARY LAW

I L R 41 Mad. 118

L

LABOURER

prosecution of—

See MADRAS PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT
(Mad 1 of 1903) at 24, 33
1 L. R. 39 Mad 869

LACHES.

See HUNDI BHAN JOO

1 L. R. 39 Bom 513

See JUDICIAL DISCRETION

4 Pat. L. J. 381

LAKHRAJ LAND

See ASSESSMENT

1 L. R. 43 Calc. 973

See LAND ACQUISITION

20 C. W. N. 1028

See LIMITATION 1 L. R. 38 Calc 453

See RENT FREE HOLDING

18 C. W. N. 1200

1. ——— Lakhraj or rent free holding, grant of, if valid—Lakhraj, meaning of—Belagan, meaning of—Pecord of rights, entries of holdings in, as belagan and kabilagan, effect of—Presumption from long and uninterrupted non payment of rent, in holding lakhraj The word belagan means simply not paying agricultural rent" and does not imply anything as to liability to pay rent, whilst the word kabilagan indicates a tenancy for which rent is not actually paid, but which is liable to pay rent Where in respect of a holding entered in the record of rights as belagan the District Judge presumed, from evidence of long and uninterrupted possession without payment of rent, a grant of land under conditions which make it rent-free Held, that the District Judge was entitled to make that presumption and his determination in no way conflicted with the entry in the record of rights. There can be a rent free grant of permanently settled land and such a grant cannot be treated as a nullity by the grantor or his heirs or by any person claiming through him. Mohamed Ali v. Anandram Das 9 D. R. 2, referred to. KESWAN BHAGAT v. SAKO PROSAD LAL (1914)

18 C. W. N. 913

2. ——— Presumption arising from possession—Opinion of a try in Pargana register, Kanungo register, General and Mauzawar registers, Taluk & map, evidentiary value of—Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1855) s. 103B, 106—Regulation XIX of 1793 ss. 22 to 25 I purchased a potal taluk in 1899 and the Record of Rights was finally published in 1909 containing an entry to the effect that no rent was actually paid but that the occupant B was not entitled to hold without payment of rent. B instituted a suit under s. 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for a declaration that the lands were his rent free bramottar, and that the entries in so far as they stated that the lands were liable to be assessed to rent were incorrect, and claimed continued possession without payment of rent or revenue since the date of the grant of the lands to his predecessor. I relied upon the omission of any entries as to the lands being lakhraj in the Pargana, Kanungo, General and Mauzawar registers and Taluk & map and proceedings Held, also, that the proved possession free from payment of rent was sufficient to rebut the presumption that the lands were liable to be assessed to rent. Held further, that the omission from the Pargana, Kanungo, General and Mauzawar registers, and Taluk & map and statements, of any indication that the lands were lakhraj, was of no evidentiary value. Held therefore, in the absence of proof of payment of rent at any time that the lands were lakhraj and no part of the mal assets of zemindars or taluk BIRKARAR LAL CHOWDHURY v. MANORAMA DEBI (1917)

LAKHRAJ LAND—contd

1 L. R. 43 Calc. 574

3. ——— Lakhraj lands in the zemindars of Tenastages—Government, if may assess revenue thereon—Income tax, if apply to them—Permanent settlement of revenue, if could be concluded apart from Reg. XXV of 1862 (Mad)—ss 3 and 4—Reg. XXXI of 1862 (Mad), s. 4 of Dec 4 of Reg. XXV of 1862 (Mad), by which Government in concluding permanent settlement of revenue with the zamindars of the Madras Presidency reserved to itself the power of imposing additional revenue upon lakhraj lands, had no application to the Veristagari zamindars inasmuch as the award a malikani zamindari granted by the Government to the zamindar in respect of it made no such reservation and must, in view of the provisions of s. 3 of the Regulation and the necessity which arose of making separate arrangements with powerful zamindars, have been granted independently of the provisions of the Regulation. Reg. XXXI of 1862 (Mad.) refers entirely to procedure appointed for the investigation of title to hold lands exempted from payment of revenue. SECRETARY OF STATE v. HAJI GOFALA KRISHNA JACHURNA VARU

20 C. W. N. 809

LANEBARDAR

See AGRA TENANCY ACT II of 1901, s. 194

1 L. R. 38 All 441

suit against, for profits—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—s. 164 1 L. R. 38 All 223

—Ejection, still for—Central Provinces Land Revenue Act (XVIII of 1871), ss. 112, 113 A lanbardar is only a representative of the proprietary body of a mahal in its relations with Government and is not entitled alone to bring a suit for ejection. SILMANI GOENTIA v. JAGNENDRA GOENTIA (1910)

1 L. R. 37 Calc. 694

—Implication Act (13 of 1934) Schedule I, Arts 89, 115 and 120 A suit by some of the proprietors of a village against the lanbardar, for an account of the profits of the village governed by Art. 115 of the Limitation Act, 1909 and not by Art. 120. In so far as the proprietors permit the lanbardar to collect rents and to manage the village on their behalf he is their agent, and he is as such bound by an implied contract to render an account at the end of each agricultural year. The lanbardar's liability to account commences on the date upon which the account should have been rendered under the implied contract, and the period of limitation of three years commences from that date. ANANTRAM BODHAR v. GANESHRAM BODHAR

4 Pat. L. J. 304

LAND ACQUISITION—co M

the meaning of the provisions of s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act. Where a portion of the debtor's property was acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, and the compensation money was invested in approved securities the debtor is entitled to withdraw a portion of the invested funds and apply the same to effect necessary repairs to the remainder of the debtor's property. As under s 32 of the Act the compensation money is placed in the custody of the Court, jurisdiction is by implication conferred upon it to deal with all questions that may arise as to the application of the fund in its custody. KAMINI DEBI v PRAMATHA NATH MOOKERJEE (1911)

I L R. 39 Calc 33

See Also SHEBAY I L R. 40 Calc 895

Apportionment of Compensation-money—Method of Assessment—Government as landlord, share of. In assessing the amount of compensation due to the landlord regard must be had to the question of how much the landlord is actually realising from the land. The Government in its capacity as landlord, is entitled as usual to a capitalisation of as much rent as may be found to be payable in respect of the proportion of the holding that is taken together with 15 per cent for compulsory acquisition and something more in respect of the possibility of the enhancement of the value of the land thereafter. The Government is not entitled in law to a higher proportion on the ground that in similar cases it has frequently received a higher proportion either by consent of the parties or otherwise. Where a raiyat's rent is fixed in perpetuity it would be enough in apportioning compensation to capitalize this rent according to the rule laid down in Disandra Narain Roy v T. Turam Mookerjee I L R 30 Calc 891 in order to arrive at the share due to the landlord, but where that is not the case, this rule will not be sufficient and some other means of calculation must be adopted. MAHMOHAN DUTT v COLLECTOR OF CHITTAGONG (1912)

I L R. 40 Calc 69

17 C W N 1001

Estate Land—Valuation—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng Act III of 1897) s 557, sub-s (c) (d)—Market value—Inadmissibility of evidence with regard to sales of other lands in the neighbourhood—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 6, 23. When land is compulsorily acquired any use to which the land may be put in future should not be taken into consideration in determining its value. The valuation should be according to the market value at the time of the acquisition. Sub-s. (c) of s 557 of the Municipal Act precludes evidence being given of other purposes to which estate land can be put in future. Evidence, relating to the undertenants and rents paid by them, is not relevant for the purpose of ascertaining the market value as defined by sub-s (c) of s 557 of the Municipal Act. Harnish Chunder Nagoy v Secretary of State for India 11 C W N 375 followed. MAHENDRA CHANDRA NANDI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

I L R. 41 Calc. 967

Godowns used as servants' residence, whether part of house or building—Compensation of such godown alone, legality of—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 49 (1) 54—Principle—Appeal. Godowns necessary as residence for servants are part and parcel of a building (within the meaning of s 49 (1) of the Land Acquisition Act)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

being a most important part of that building for the purpose of letting it out to gentlemen as a place of residence. The acquisition of such godowns would thus be an acquisition of a part of a house contrary to the provisions of the Act. It has never been doubted that an appeal would lie in the case of such an order under that section. Hosain Halls v Tanvirul Haq I L R 39 Calc. 393, distinguished. DALCHAND SINGH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)

I L R. 43 Calc 685

Court, if may determine question of title—Claim to compensation by Zemindar as against person holding under a lakhraj title—Onus of proof. A purchaser of an entire estate soil for arrears of revenue suing to recover land claimed by the defendant as lakhraj must prove a prima facie case that his soil land has, since 1790 been converted into lakhraj. The fact that the lands are within the ambit of the estate is not sufficient to meet this burden. Whether in a particular case, the plaintiff has been able to prove such a prima facie case would depend upon its own circumstances. Where the question of title to a plot of land arose between claimants to compensation money paid by Government on acquisition thereof under the Land Acquisition Act one being the purchaser of the estate at a sale for arrears of land revenue, whilst the other was holding it as lakhraj. Held, that the former was in the position of the plaintiff and the burden of proof as stated above was on him. Harikar Mookerjee v Madob Chandra Babu 14 Moo I A 152 relied on. A Land Acquisition Court has jurisdiction to determine a conflict of title between rival claimants. KRISHNA KALYANI DAS v R. BRAUNFELD (1915)

20 C W N 1028

Title by adverse possession—On the acquisition of a piece of land under the Land Acquisition Act it was found that the person in possession had taken possession of it on the death of the last male owner and held possession for more than 12 years without payment of rent. He asserted that he held the land under another person and not under the rival claimant who was the reversionary heir of the last male owner. Held that the person in such possession was entitled to the full compensation paid for its compulsory acquisition having acquired the right to hold the land rent free by twelve years adverse possession. RATHANS SAHAY v RAJ MAHARAJ PRASAD (1916)

20 C W N 828

Award, meaning of—Appeal—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 49, 51. A decision or determination under the Land Acquisition Act which has no reference to compensation in some form or other, is not an 'award'. An order under s. 49 of the Land Acquisition Act is not an 'award' and is not appealable, under s 54 of that Act. Dalchand Singh v Secretary of State for India, I L R 43 Calc 655. Mulraj Akhtar v Collector of Poona 15 Bom. L R 802, Siddon v Deputy Collector of Madras, 17 Ind C 117, Bhramanar Ray v Sham Sunder Varadra, I L R 23 Calc 896 and Trivayana Das v Krishnaiah De 17 C W N 833, referred to. SARAT CHANDRA GHOSH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) I L R. 46 Calc 861

Timber compensation for—Destruction between Landlord and Tenant. By custom of the country bamboos are used in building and therefore are Timber Held Landlord entitled to half compensation for the trees in this case MAHARAJA SRI RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR v BASUDERA SINGH 6 Pat. L. J. 127

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

— Binding agreement can be made between parties fixing the amount of compensation—Before the Collector has made his award

— Offer and acceptance by letter—Contract—Specific performance of contract—Power of Municipal Commissioner—Powers of Directors of Joint stock Companies—Collector—Award—Indian Contract Act

(IX of 1872), ss 2 and 10—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), ss 6 (3) and (7), 11, 18, 25, 31, 43 and 51 (2)—The City of Bombay Municipal Act (III of 1883), ss 61 (m), 64, 69, 87, 90, 91, 92) 296 and 517—Specific relief—Declaration, form of In August 1916, the plaintiffs, the Municipal Corporation for the City of Bombay, wishing to acquire certain property belonging to the defendant Company, for the purpose of widening a street, entered into negotiations with the defendants in order to arrive at the price the defendants would accept for their property. No agreement having been arrived at, the plaintiffs applied to the Government to acquire the property for them by proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. Thereafter, on 12th July 1917, the defendants resumed negotiations with the plaintiffs. On 26th July 1917, the usual notification was published in the Government Gazette. On 12th September 1917, the Secretary of the defendant Company in pursuance of the previous correspondence between the parties and the interviews of their respective engineers wrote to the plaintiffs' engineer—"The Company is willing to accept without prejudice the sum of Rs. 1,45,517 inclusive of 15 per cent for compulsory acquisition. The amount will be subject to deductions of the capitalised dues to the Collector and of the easements of the neighbouring properties if any." The said letter was placed by the plaintiffs' engineer before the Municipal Commissioner who endorsed on it his approval of the acceptance of the offer. On the 14th September 1917, at a meeting before the Deputy Collector who held inquiry under the Land Acquisition Act, the plaintiffs' solicitor produced the letter of 12th September 1917. The defendants' engineer stated at the meeting that the term "without prejudice" in their letter had no longer any force as the Municipality had accepted the proposal of the defendants. Thereupon, the Deputy Collector recorded the agreement between the parties and adjourned the inquiry to determine the claims of owners of adjoining premises to easements of light and air. On the 22nd September 1917, the Directors of the Company passed a resolution approving of the letter of 12th September 1917, and noting that the said letter conveyed the acceptance of the plaintiffs' offer by the Secretary on behalf of the Company. On 23rd October 1917, the defendants through their solicitors intimated to the plaintiffs' engineer that they had withdrawn the offer made by them on the 12th September 1917. The plaintiffs' solicitors replied that there was a definite agreement concluded between the parties and that the defendants were not entitled to resile from the same. At an adjourned meeting before the Collector held on 29th January 1918, the defendants made a formal claim of Rs. 5,71,600 as compensation and the proceedings were adjourned by the Collector. The plaintiffs, there upon, sued for a declaration (1) that there was a contract binding on the defendants in terms of the letter of the 12th September 1917, which had been accepted by the plaintiffs, (2) that the defendants were not entitled to claim in the proceedings before the Collector any sum for compensation other than or beyond Rs. 1,45,517 and (3) that if Collector awarded more the excess belonged to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs also claimed thereon in question accordingly. The defendant contended that their letter was not an offer but an invitation or in the alternative that the agreement was void for want of mutuality or was made without authority or that Government could withdraw under s 48 of the Act. Held that the letter was an offer and not a mere invitation and that the offer and the acceptance thereof had been made by the duly authorised agents of the defendants and the plaintiffs, respectively. Held, further, that the offer and acceptance amounted to an agreement definitely fixing the compensation as between the parties themselves whatever sum may be ultimately awarded by the Collector and with an obligation on either party to refund any excess or make good any deficiency as the case might be and that this agreement was a "contract" within the meaning of ss. 2 and 10 of the Indian Contract Act, which was capable of being specifically enforced against the defendants. Held, also that the agreement was not wanting in mutuality nor rendered nugatory as between the parties merely because power of withdrawal was reserved to the Government under s. 48 of the Land Acquisition Act. The dicta of Bowen L. J. in The Moorcock (1889) 11 P. D. 64 at p. 68, referred to FORT PRESS CO., LTD v THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BOMBAY (1919)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

I L. R. 44 Bom 797

— Application by owner for abandonment of acquisition in consideration of special payment—Application—Street scheme—Submission of scheme to Government for sanction—Building sites not demarcated—Scheme ultra vires—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911), ss 39, 41 and 73

There is nothing in the Calcutta Improvement Act which compels the Trust to delineate on the plan the building sites before the scheme is submitted to Government for sanction. The owner of certain premises made an application to the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta, under s. 73 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, for the abandonment of acquisition in consideration of special payment. Such application was subsequently rejected by the Board, inasmuch as the disputed property was too small to form an independent building site on a 100 feet main thoroughfare and would not fit in with the lay out. Held, that the Board came to the conclusion bona fide, and as there was no evidence to show that the land was not required for the execution of the scheme within the meaning of sub s. (1) of s. 73, there was no basis for the application to the Trustees, nor was there any ground for complaint in the suit, for the fact that they made enquiries under s. sub-s. (2) of s. 73 did not entitle them ultimately to reject the application on the ground that it did not come within sub s. (1) of that section. DIPIN DEBARI SINGH v TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA (1920) I. L. R. 47 Calc. 604

— Recoupment—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911), ss 42 (a), 73-75 (2),

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

122—Street scheme— Affected, meaning of On the construction of s 42 (a) of the Calcutta Improvement Act 1911 their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held that there was no limitation of severance either in that section or in s 79, and there was no ground for implying any limitation as affecting the authority of the Board of Trustees for the acquisition of land under s 42. The result, in the opinion of their Lordships, was that none of the suggested limitations to the usual and normal meaning of the word "affected" in s 42 was admissible, and that there was no reason, either in the general purpose of the Act or in the special context, that the word should not be construed in its ordinary sense, and that, as so construed, s 42 authorised the acquisition of the land of the respondent, which was inserted in the scheme, because, in the opinion of the Board it would be enhanced in value by its execution. TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA v CHANDRA KANTA GHOSI (1910)

I L R 47 Cal 500

OVER RULING I L R 44 Cal 219

—Piecemeal acquisition—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 6 to 9, 11 Where there is one holding there cannot be piecemeal acquisition, as the Land Acquisition Act refers only to one notice, one proceeding and one award to be given, taken, and made regarding one holding and one ownership. But when the Collector in obedience to the decision of a Court to which he was subject desisted, pending an appeal from that decision, from proceeding with the acquisition of the portion of the premises affected by that decision, he is not thereby debarred from further proceeding with the acquisition when a Court superior to that which gave the decision declared the latter to be erroneous. R. C. SEW v THE TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA AND THE LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR OF CALCUTTA (1921)

I L R 48 Cal 892

—Calcutta Improvement Act—(Beng V of 1911)—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 20, 357, 516—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 6(3) 52—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 4—Proceedings before Land Acquisition Collector—High Court, power of, to restrain further proceedings—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45 (c) In an application under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act by the owner of certain premises to restrain the Corporation and the Improvement Trust from taking further steps in the proceedings then pending before the Acquisition Collector in the acquisition of the said premises by the Corporation under a Government notification in terms of s 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, it was found having regard to the absence of a sanctioned project on the part of the Corporation or of a scheme on the part of the Trust and having regard to the fact that the Corporation was to acquire and the Trust was to pay, that notwithstanding a Government notification under s 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, the acquisition proceedings should not be continued. Held, that though the notification under s 6 of the Land Acquisition Act is conclusive so far as s 4 of the Evidence Act, considered, yet the Court is entitled to enquire into the validity of the steps leading up to the recommendation, and was competent to inquire into the legality or otherwise of the acts of the Corporation and the Trust. Held, also, that special powers of the Corporation for purposes of acquiring land cannot be used to enable another body to acquire land through them, however estimable the purpose. The power to acquire is limited to cases where the Corporation itself undertakes the work. It was observed that it is to be assumed that the Local Government and the Land Acquisition authorities will stay their hands in view of a decision of the Court, and not be parties to what may be held to be illegal and ultra vires action. MANICK CHAND MANATA, JARU v THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA AND THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST (1921)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

I L R 48 Cal 916

—Assessment of compensation—Prospective user, it may be taken into account—Land not capable of use as independent brickfield, but wanted for inclusion in existing brick fields, if may be valued as brick field Land Tribunals assessing compensation must take into account not only the present purpose to which the land is applied but also any other more beneficial purpose to which in the course of events it might within a reasonable period be applied just as an owner might do if he were bargaining with a purchaser in the market. Where it appeared that the lands acquired could not profitably be used as independent brickfields, but there was trust worthy evidence to show that if the acquired lands had been thrown into the market, adjoining brick field owners would have come forward to purchase them or take leases of them for inclusion in their brick fields. Held—That the Court was justified in assessing the value of the lands as brickfield lands. Too much importance must not be attached to evidence of offers in ascertaining the market value of land but the position is different when the question is whether there is a market at all for a tract of land for use for a specified purpose. MOHINI MOHAN BANERJEE v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

25 C. W. N 1002

—City of Bombay Municipal Act (III of 1888) ss 91 and 226—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), ss 16 and 31—Land acquired by the Government of Bombay of the instance of Municipality—Effect of acquisition—Feeding of land in Municipality—Municipality empowered to acquire land in addition to that required for its scheme and to sell such additional land—Bombay Rent (War Restrictions) Act II of 1918, s 9—Bombay Rent Act does not override general provisions of the Land Acquisition Act or the Municipal Act—"Sufficient Cause" within the meaning of s 9 of the Rent Act—Leases for fixed period terminate on compulsory acquisition—Monthly tenants under the original leases—Tenants on sufferance not entitled to a month's notice—Ejectment. In pursuance of a scheme for the widening of a street within the Fort, the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay, plaintiff No. 1, moved the Government of Bombay to acquire certain buildings on behalf of the Corporation under the Land Acquisition Act. The Governor in Council thereupon issued the necessary notification for the acquisition of the said buildings. Plaintiff No. 2 was the owner of the buildings in the five suits and he had leased them to D for a period of three years from 1st November 1917. D let out different portions of the buildings to the several defendants in the suits on monthly tenancies. By the time the proceedings before the Collector terminated, but before the award was actually published, an agreement was arrived at between the Municipality and plaintiff No. 2 whereby in consideration of the plaintiff No. 2 agreeing, inter alia, not to claim from the Municipal Corporation the compensation payable to himself and to pay the portion of compensation payable to two other claimants the Municipality agreed to convey to him the residue of the land acquired from him after retaining the portion necessary for the purpose of widening the street, and to give in addition a certain strip of land which the Municipality were to get under an arrangement with a third party. The Collector thereupon published his award. Soon after, the Collector's Surveyor wrote to the Acquisition Officer of the Municipality that plaintiff No. 2 had handed over to him charge of his properties; and he further sent along with the letter a charge receipt for the properties and the same was signed by the Surveyor and the Acquisition Officer whereby it was recorded that they had respectively handed over and taken charge of the said properties. The Municipality thereafter served on 23rd December 1919 notices on the various defendants in the suits to vacate the premises in their occupation by the 31st December 1919 and on defendants' refusal to vacate filed suits against them in ejectment. Held, that under s. 16 of the Land Acquisition Act when the Collector made the award he could take possession of the land which thereupon vested absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances; that the acquisition and the resulting vesting were equally effective and complete in the case of acquisition undertaken by Government on the application of the Municipal Commissioner under s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act which pro tanto modified the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act so as to vest the property in the Corporation instead of in the Government on the payment of compensation awarded, and that no transfer from Government to the Corporation was needed. Held, further, that the provisions of s. 31 of the Land Acquisition Act did not apply in the case of acquisitions made by virtue of the provisions of s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act and payment of the compensation amount by the Commissioner was enough. Held, also, that in the case of acquisitions under s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, the taking of possession by the Collector and his handing over the same to the Municipality was not necessary inasmuch as the property vested directly in the Corporation without the intervention of the Government or the Collector and the Corporation became entitled to take possession, and that if actual possession was required, the same was given by the Collector to the Municipality as evidenced by the signing of the charge receipt. Held further, (1) that the general provisions of the Rent Act could not be held by implication to repeal and override particular and special enactments like the Land Acquisition Act and the Municipal Act, inasmuch as the whole object of such an acquisition was to get the land immediately for useful public purposes and it would be defeating that object to lay down that the public body acquiring the land was not entitled to immediate possession, and (2) that assuming the Rent Act applied for the premises were required by the Municipality for a satisfactory cause in order to enable them to carry out the whole scheme and to fulfil their obligation under the agreement with plaintiff No. 2. Dodd v. Shepherd (1876) 1 Fr D 75

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

at p 78 followed Held, further, that on the compulsory acquisition of the premises, the lease of D terminated and that on such determination the monthly tenancies of the defendants as under-lessees of D also came to an end with the result that the defendants thereafter remained on the premises merely as tenants on sufferance and were not entitled to a month's notice. PER SETALVAD, J.—S. 290 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act expressly empowers the Municipality to acquire in addition to the land actually required for widening any public street all such land and buildings outside the intended regular line of such street as it shall deem expedient and to sell such additional land. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER FOR THE CITY OF BOMBAY v. M. DAMODAR BROTHERS (1920) I. L. R. 45 Bom. 725

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894).

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I. L. R. 40 Cal. 21

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1883, AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT V OF 1905) s. 297, 299, 301 I. L. R. 42 Bom. 482

See INTEREST I. L. R. 35 Bom. 255

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908 SEC. I, ARTS. 120, 132, 141 and 144 3 Pat L. J. 522

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 6, SUB S (6) AND S. 8 I. L. R. 39 Mad 944

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I. L. R. 43 I A 310

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890 AS AMENDED BY ACT IV OF 1896), s. 7 I. L. R. 41 Bom. 291 award, whether a decree—

See LETTERS PATENT CLS 15, 36

I. L. R. 41 Mad 943

proceedings under—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I. L. R. 40 Cal. 21

1. — Compensation—Valuation of residential property—Elements to be considered—Evidence before Acquisition Officer—Practice The income of a property whether actual or imaginary is no doubt one of the recognised starting points for a valuation, but it is a mistake to think that it is the only element to be taken into consideration. In the case of residential property, to endeavour to arrive at the market value solely, on the basis of an hypothetical rent may work grave injustice to the owner. There are commodities which may possess a value in the market not for the return they give on capital invested but for the advantages and enjoyment which accrue from their possession. Residential property, in the sense of property which a purchaser wishes to acquire for his own residence is such a commodity. The first question to determine is whether there is a demand, and if there is a demand the original cost is the most important element for consideration. It is the duty of legal practitioners attending before the Acquisition Officer to assist him in arriving at a valuation by putting before him all the information and materials at their disposal. In the matter of LAND ACQUISITION ACT (In the matter of GOVERNMENT AND SURESHAWAD) (1909) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 486

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd.

2 ———— "Land"—Acquisition of outstanding interest where Government owns fee-simple. Per CHANDAVARKAR, J—To acquire a land (b. under the Land Acquisition Act) is not necessarily the same thing as to purchase the right of fee simple to it, but means the purchase of such interests as clog the right of Government to use it for any purpose they like. The definition given to the word 'land' in s. 3 (a) of the Act is not exhaustive. The use of the inclusive verb 'includes' shows that the Legislature intended to lump together in one single expression—viz., 'land'—several things or particulars, such as the soil, the buildings on it, any charges on it, and other interests in it, all of which have a separate existence and are capable of being dealt with either in a mass or separately as the exigencies of each case arising under the Act may require. Per BATHCHELOR, J—Government are not debarred from acquiring and paying for the only outstanding interests merely because the Act which primarily contemplates all interests as held outside Government, directs that the entire compensation based upon the market value of the whole land, must be distributed among the claimants. In such circumstances there is no insuperable objection to adopting the procedure to the case on the footing that the outstanding interests, which are the only things to be acquired, are the only things to be paid for. In the matter of the LAND ACQUISITION ACT THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. EASTERN SALEBHAI I L R 34 Bom 618

3 ————, Collector's award—Government directing Collector to publish his award on a lower valuation. When the Collector, appointed under the Land Acquisition Act of 1894 once makes the enquiry prescribed by the Act and reaches his own conclusion as to the amount of compensation to be awarded to the claimant it is not competent to the Government to set aside the conclusion and to direct the Collector to substitute a smaller amount than that which as the result of his inquiry, he has determined to offer. Dossabai Bejanji v. The Special Officer, Salsette Building Sites (1912)

I L R 26 Bom 599

4 ———— Apportionment of compensation—Between zamindar and occupancy ryot, principles of—Value of trees on land acquired to be given to whom. In making an apportionment of compensation for land, awarded under the Land Acquisition Act, between a zamindar and his occupancy tenant, several factors are to be taken into consideration for determining their respective rights in the land such as expenses of cultivation, the fact that the cultivator has a home and a sphere for labour for himself and his family and the nature of the tenure. The principle of Apprentice Mudali v. Rangappa Nattar, I L R 1 Mad 367, applied. This decision which apportioned, on the facts of that case, three fifths to the zamindar and two fifths to the ryots was not intended to lay down a general rule applicable to all cases. On the facts of this case their Lordships affirmed the decision of the lower Court which apportioned the compensation given for land in the ratio of three fifths to the ryots and two-fifths to the zamindar. Raja Rammadavara Tenkalanarasimha Nayudu Bahadur v. Lakshmanrao (Appeal No. 119 of 1931) Shama Prasanna Laxa Mazumdar v. Brakoda Sunders Dasi, I L R 23 Cal 146, Lakshendra Narain Poy v. Tirumal Sivaswami I L R

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd.

30 Cal 561, Rajya Poy v. Secretary of State, 5 C. L. J. 662, and Baiba Chandra Chittooradhya v. Rao Jahendra Anth Choudhury, 7 C. L. J. 284 distinguished on a consideration of the whole evidence in the case, their Lordships affirmed the decision of the lower Court which gave to the ryots the whole value of the trees, (fruit) trees that stood upon the land which was compulsorily acquired. Saravaya Appaygar v. Orr I L R 26 Mad 252, and Boddi v. Godappa v. The Mahorah, a for its namam I L R 30 Mad 155, distinguished. Per CUTLA. Proceedings under part III of the Act are not by way of appeal and what is contemplated is a new enquiry by the District Judge. RAMADEVARA V. KATANTARASIMHA NAIKA v. SUBBARAYUDU (1913) I L R 36 Mad 395

5 ———— Special adaptability of land for purpose required—Where a piece of land is compulsorily acquired by Government for quarrying purposes, its special adaptability for quarrying is an element for consideration in fixing the amount of compensation. DAYA KUTSAL v. ASSISTANT COLLECTOR, SERAT (1913) I L R 38 Bom 37

6 ———— Noabad Mehal property—Apportionment of compensation between Government and claimant—Basis of calculation of value of Government interest—Chance of enhancement of rent value of A Noabad Mehal held under Government implies a hereditary and transferable title in perpetuity subject to payment of rent for all lands under cultivation. Where certain properties included in a Noabad Mehal held under the Government were acquired under the Land Acquisition Act. Held that the mere fact that the rent was enhanced did not justify the Court awarding half the compensation money to Government as Government would not in ordinary course increase the assessment unless the assets of the property also increased. That the interest of the Government ought to be measured by capitalising the present rent at 30 years purchase. JOSEPH CHANDRA PAT v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

18 C W N 531

7 ———— Objection to award by one of two claimants—Other claimant, if entitled to any portion of the excess amount allowed by Judge on reference. When in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act the tenants accepted the Collector's valuation but the landlord objected to it and asked for a reference and the Judge allowed an excess amount representing all the interests in the land. Held that the tenants were not entitled to any portion of the excess amount allowed by the Judge. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. MANOHAR MUKHERJEE (1913)

23 C W. N 720

8 ———— Acquisition of lands for building purposes—If lands in a zamindari—Occupancy rights of tenants included—Valuation of lands, mode of—Interests of zamindar and tenant, how valued—Apportionment of compensation—Land whether to be valued merely as wet lands or as house etc. Where wet lands in a zamindari are acquired by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act for extension of the village site the lands have to be valued in the first instance including all interests in it, and the amount as ascertained has then to be apportioned among the parties interested according to their interest. The proper way of valuing lands with occupancy rights is to ascertain what would be their market value if they were put to the most lucrative use, having regard to their condition, and when they are acquired for building purposes, they ought to be valued as building sites and not merely as wet lands, the fact that neither the landlord nor the tenant can utilize the lands for building purposes without the concurrence of the other, does not make any difference. Collector of Belgaum v Bhima Rao, 16 Bom L R 657, and Collector of Dacca v Hari Das Eynak, 14 I C 163, followed. Raja of Pithapur v The Revenue Divisional Officer, Cocanada, Appeals Nos 371 and 372 of 1916 (unreported), dissented from Raja of Pithapur v The Revenue Divisional Officer, Cocanada (1919).

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd.

I L R 42 Mad 644

9 Compensation—

The Government acquired certain land containing gravel and laterite, for the gravel for which it had been paying the owner at the rate of six annas per hundred feet. Compensation was assessed on the basis of the average income which had actually been obtained by the owner from lands of this description. On objection that the compensation should have been based upon the value of the entire quantity of gravel and laterite contained in the land at the rate of six annas per hundred cubic feet, held, that the basis upon which compensation had been assessed was correct. Birabar Narayan Chandra Dhie Nareyda v The Collector.
2 Pat L J. 147

10 Acquisition of land for quarrying—Principle of compensation—

Value of prospective gravel. When a piece of land is compulsorily acquired for quarrying purposes, its special adaptability for quarrying is an element for consideration in fixing the amount of compensation, in spite of the fact that no one but the local authority for which the acquisition was made, ever made any demand for the land as a quarry, and it is not right to award compensation for it only as cultivable land. Daya Khush v Assistant Collector, Surat (1914) 1 L R 38 Bom 37, followed. Ja. ment of Moulton, L. J., in In re Lucas and Chesterfield Gas and Water Board (1903) 1 K B 16 at 30, 31, distinguished. The amount of compensation to be awarded is the present value of all the gravel that might be expected to be realized in the future. Raghunatha Row v Secretary of State for India (1921).
I L R 44 Mad. 264

s 3(a)—Per Chandavarkar

J To acquire land is not necessarily the same, thing as to purchase the right of the fee simple in it but means the purchase of such interests as clog the right of Government to use it for any purpose they like. The Government of Bombay v Eustali Salenbhai.
I L R 34 Bom 618

Land, meaning of—Bungalow (a cantonment limits)—Compulsory acquisition—Compensation for building awarded to claimant and for land awarded to Government on the footing that it belonged to Government—Jurisdiction—Appeal by claimant to recover compensation for land—Apportionment of compensation between claimant and Government—Valuation of claim—Ad valorem Court fee on memo of appeal—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s 3 The claimant owned a bungalow which stood within the limits of Ahmedabad cantonment. The Government having acquired the bungalow under the Land Acquisition Act, the claimant was awarded Rs 4,600 as compensation for the superstructure of the bungalow, and Rs 18,634 were awarded to Government as compensation for the land on the footing that the land being within cantonment limits belonged to Government. The claimant appealed to the High Court contending first that the superstructure was undervalued and secondly that he was entitled to the full compensation for land also inasmuch as under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act the Court had no jurisdiction to try any question of title or apportionment between the claimant and Government. The memorandum of appeal bore a Court fee stamp of Rs 2 only, as the claim in appeal was treated as one of apportionment of compensation between the claimant and Government. A preliminary point having been raised whether the memorandum of appeal was properly stamped—Held, by Shah and Hayward JJ., that the memorandum of appeal should bear Court fee stamp ad valorem on the value of the land claimed, since what was styled as apportionment was really the determination of the amount payable by Government to claimant for the land. On the question, whether proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act were proper to determine compensation when the land was claimed by Government—Held by Shah and Crump JJ. that in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act it is competent to the Court to adjudicate on any question of title to the land acquired or to apportion the amount of compensation for it as between the claimant and Government. The Government of Bombay v Eustali Salenbhai (1909) 34 Bom 618 approved. Per Shah J.—Under the Land Acquisition Act, what is acquired is the land which includes all that is stated in clause (a) of s 3 of the Land Acquisition Act. But in the case of any land with superstructure thereon in which either the Government have an admitted interest or wherein that interest is a matter of dispute between a claimant interested in the property and the Government it is open to the Government to acquire that property, under the Act. When it comes to a question of determining the market value of the property acquired and the sum payable as compensation for the property acquired to the person having a limited interest in the property it is open to the Court to determine what sum is really payable to the limited owner. The question of title in such proceedings is really incidental to the question of the determination of the market value of the interest of the claimant in the land acquired. Mangaldas Girdharadas v The Assistant Collector of Prant Anjniabad (1920).

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd.s. 3 (a)—contd.

I L R 45 Bom 277

ss 3 (b) 11, and 31 (1) and (2)—Compensation money deposited in Court under s 31 (2)—Claim of Government to deduct poundage and fees paid by Government on such deposit out of the money deposited—Interest in compensation money—Compensation money how to be apportioned among Government sought under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) to acquire a piece of land vested in the City of Bombay Im-

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd.*s 3 (b)—contd.

Improvement Trust under Schedule C of Bombay Act IV of 1893, and in the occupation of one Pestonji Jehangir under an agreement with the Improvement Trust under which he had the right to obtain a lease of the land for 99 years when certain buildings had been erected in accordance with the terms of the said agreement. The amount payable as compensation for the land was fixed by the Collector under s 11 of the Act and was apportioned under the same act on between the Government, the Improvement Trust and Pestonji Jehangir. The amount awarded to the Improvement Trust was deposited by the Collector in Court under s 31 (2) of the Act and poundage and fees thereon were paid by Government. Pestonji Jehangir raised objections to the basis on which his claim had been valued but this matter was settled by a consent decree. Government thereon claimed to deduct the amount of the poundage and fees paid by them from the amount deposited in Court. Held, that the Court had only power to direct payment of the compensation money without any deduction to the person or persons interested therein and consequently had no power to direct that portion of such money should be refunded to Government as representing the poundage and fees paid by them when the money was deposited in Court. Semle. It is possible for a person to be interested in the compensation money within the meaning of cl 11 of the Act without having an interest in the land in the legal sense of the term and that the Collector and the Court should apportion the sum awarded among the persons interested as far as possible in proportion to the value of their interests the market value of which might afford some guide as to the amount to be apportioned in respect of that interest, but only considered in relation to the total sum awarded as compensation. Pestonji Jehangir Modi, in the matter of (1911)

I L R 37 Bom 76

s 3 (b), 18

*Award of compensation by Revenue Divisional Officer—Application for reference to Court—Person claiming interest—Power of Collector to refuse to refer—Order refusing reference—Judicial or administrative order—Revision petition to High Court—Power of High Court to revise—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo V, Cap 61) s 107. An order passed by a Revenue Divisional Officer dismissing an application under s 18 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) for a reference to the Court regarding his award of compensation for certain lands, is a judicial order and is subject to revision by the High Court. The Administrator General of Bengal v The Land Acquisition Collector, 12 C W R 241 followed. Leit & Co v Deputy Collector of Madras 20 M L T 388 discredited from S 18 read with s 8 (b) of the Act enables any person, claiming an interest in the compensation who has not accepted the award, to require a reference to the Court; it is no part of the Collector's duty to decide whether the claim is well founded and he is not authorized to refuse to make the reference merely because he may think the claim is not well founded. *PARAMESWARA AYYAR v LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR, PALNAT (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 221

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd.

s 3 (1) 6—

“Public Purpose” meaning of

The provision of a suitable house for Government Officers in Bombay held to be a public purpose. HANABAT FRANKS v SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 39 Bom. 279

s 6—

Sec 3

I L R 39 Bom 279

s LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 48 Calc 892, 916

s 6 (3), (7) 11, 18 25, 31, 48 and 41 (2)—

Sec LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 797

s 6, 9, 23 (1) (4), 24 (6), 48—

Sec RECOVERY

I L R 45 Calc 343

s 6, 23—

Sec LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Calc 967

s 7—

Sec RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1900) s 7

I L R 38 Bom 565

I L R 41 Bom. 291

s 9—

Sec LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 48 Calc 892

*Procedure—Occupier of land sought to be compulsorily acquired—Notice. Under s 9 cl (3) of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 the occupier of land concerning which a public notice has been given under cl (1) of the section, is entitled to such notice as will give him in the same manner as the persons mentioned in cl (2) fifteen days interval in which to state before the Collector the nature of his interest in the land and the particulars of his claim for compensation etc. *KRISHNA SAR v THE COLLECTOR OF BARKILLY (1917)

I L R 39 All 534

s 9 to 21, 50, 53—

Sec LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 38 Calc 230

s 9 18, 25—Effect of omission of owner to state his claim under s 9—Reference under s 18—Limitation of powers of Judge. The facts that there had been previous negotiations between the Government and a person whose land the Government wished to acquire and that the Government was aware of the price which the owner had asked for the land would not afford a sufficient reason for the owner omitting to put in any claim under s 9 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894, nor relieve the owner from the consequence of such omission as not forth in s 25. NARAYAN DAT v THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DEHA DUT (1914)

I L R 37 All 68

s 9 25—Omission to attend in answer to notice—Owner not entitled to claim more than what was awarded by the acquisition officer. It is intended by s 9 cl (2) of the Land Acquisition Act that the owner of property about to be acquired should appear and state his claim in the manner provided by the clause s as to enable the acquire tion officer to make a fair, reasonable and proper award based upon a proper inquiry after the proper means have been placed before him for holding such inquiry. S. 25, cl. (2), makes the refusal or omission to comply with the provisions of s. 1 (2) without sufficient cause an absolute bar to the obtaining of a greater sum than that awarded by the Collector. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BISHAN DAT (1911)

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd.ss. 9, 25—*contd.

I. L. R. 33 All. 378

Claim of owner filed beyond time, but no objection raised before Judge—Objection not entertainable in appeal. In a case under the Land Acquisition Act, the owner's claim was not filed until after the period prescribed therefor, but no objection was taken on that score before the Collector. Held that it was too late to raise the objection when the case had come in appeal before the District Judge. LACHMAN PRASAD v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL

I. L. R. 48 All. 652

When a claimant appeared before the Collector on the date specified in a notice under s. 9 and probably made a verbal statement but filed his petition of claim next day held that this was sufficient compliance with the notice under s. 9 or alternately "sufficient reason" under s. 25. GYANENDRA NATH PAL v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

25 C. W. N. 71

ss. 9 (3) and 45—Notice of award—Want of notice of acquisition proceedings. The Collector's failure to serve notice of the intended acquisition on the occupier or owner, as required by ss. 9 (3) and 45 of the Land Acquisition Act, does not make the subsequent proceedings, such as the award, void so as to entitle the owner or occupier to resist a suit in ejectment. Ganga Ram Marwari v. Secretary of State for India (1903)

I. L. R. 30 Calc. 576, followed. HASTURI PILLAI v. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, ERODE (1920)I. L. R. 43 Mad. 280*s. 11*See s. 3*I. L. R. 37 Bom. 76*See LAND ACQUISITION*I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797*I. L. R. 48 Calc. 892*15 C. W. N. 87

Apportionment of compensation by Collector—S. 13 and proviso to s. 31, cl. (2), maintainability of a separate suit by a person dissatisfied with the apportionment but who did not ask for reference to "Court". Some lands were acquired for a Railway and the Collector after serving notice under s. 9 of the Land Acquisition Act on the zamindar and the putindar, apportioned the compensation half and half between them. Neither party applied for any reference to Court under s. 13 of the Act and the putindar withdrew the amount awarded to him. The zamindar thereupon brought a suit for recovery of the amount withdrawn by the putindar on the ground that under the putni lababiyat the putindar was not entitled to any portion of the compensation money. Held—That the zamindar having been served with notice under s. 9 of the Act was bound to apply for a reference under s. 13 when he was dissatisfied with the award, and he cannot maintain a suit in the ordinary Civil Court to re-open the question. The Act creates a special jurisdiction and provides a special remedy. And ordinarily when jurisdiction has been conferred upon a special Court for the investigation of matters which may possibly be in controversy such jurisdiction is exclusive and the ordinary jurisdiction of the Civil Court is ousted. Under the third proviso to s. 31, cl. (2), a person who was a party to the apportionment proceedings cannot re-open the question by a regular suit. The proviso must be given a limited application, and it applies only to cases where the person was under a disability or was not served with notice of the proceedings before the Collector. SATISH CHANDRA SARKAR v. SIR BEJOY CHAND MAHATAB BANARJEE

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd.s. 11—*contd.

26 C. W. N. 506

ss. 11 and 12—A person in possession without payment of rent for 12 years preferred to collateral heir of last male owner. RAJ BUNS SAHAY v. MAHADEB PRASAD

20 C. W. N. 829ss. 11, 12, 18, 31—

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT (BOM. ACT IV OF 1893) s. 48 (11)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 54s. 18—*See s. 3*I. L. R. 42 Mad. 231*See LAND ACQUISITION ACT*I. L. R. 34 Bom. 466*See LAND ACQUISITION*I. L. R. 33 Calc. 230*I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797*1—Hereditary Offices

Act (Bom. Act III of 1874), ss. 10 and 13—Maharaja's Vatan land—Acquisition by Government—Award—Compensation—Title by adverse possession against Vatan-dars—Collector's certificate—Jurisdiction. Certain land with buildings thereon having been acquired by Government under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), the Assistant Collector passed an award whereby he awarded, by way of compensation, one sum to the owner of the buildings on the land and another to certain Mahar Vatan-dars on account of the land being Maharaj's Vatan. The owner of the buildings having objected to award, the Assistant Collector at the instance of the objector referred the matter to the District Court under s. 18 of the Act. The District Judge found that the objector had acquired title to the land by adverse possession and thus became entitled to the compensation on account of the land as against the Mahar claimants. Subsequently the Collector forwarded to the District Court a certificate issued under s. 10 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom. Act III of 1874) that the order for the payment of the compensation to the objector should be set aside in accordance with the provisions of ss. 10 and 13 of the Act. Thereupon the District Judge holding that he had no jurisdiction to decide whether the property was Vatan or not in the face of the Collector's certificate cancelled his order. The objector having appealed against the said order Held, restoring the award of the District Court that an award under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) was not a decree or order payable of execution under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) and was therefore not within the purview of s. 10 of the Hereditary Officers Act (Bomb. Act III of 1944) Held further that the award of the District Court which was the cause of the certificate made it clear that the Maharaja's property had been acquired by the Government by adverse possession before the commencement of the proceedings for the acquisition of the land by Government. Per curiam. Even if it could be said that there was any danger of the passing of the ownership by virtue of an execution of a decree or order in the Land Acquisition proceedings it could not be said that that result was arrived at without the sanction of Government who set the machinery of the Act in motion for the acquisition of the land. And in this The Collector of Dhule v. P. D. D. 22 Ind. 402 (Calcutta 1940) v. Phakar N. D. 11 P. 410 (1961) Phakar N. D. 11 P. 410 (1961) referred to. LALONA PRAKASHANI CO. v. THE ASSISTANT COLLECTOR, LALONA (1910)

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd.*ss. 18—contd.

I L. R. 35 Bom. 146

2. — Money paid out to one party before reference heard—Power of Court to exercise reference—Inherent power to recover the money The mere fact that the compensation money awarded under the Land Acquisition Act has been paid out to a party does not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to entertain a reference duly made under s. 18 of the Act. Where the party to whom the money had been paid is found to have no title to receive it the Court to which the reference has been made has inherent power to recall it. In this case, the High Court directed that on failure of the party to restore the money within a time limited the other party would be entitled to recover it in execution. JOGESH CHANDRA RAY v. YAKUB ALI (1912)

27 C. W. N. 1037

2. — Reference to Court for valuation—Duty of Court to see whether the award replaces Collector's award—Effect when evidence exaggerated and unreliable—Compensation payable for land acquired by Government cannot be ascertained with mathematical accuracy and the Court has to see whether the evidence adduced displaces the amount awarded by the Collector The valuation of the Collector is not displaced by evidence of value given by the claimant which is so exaggerated and reckless that an inference can be drawn therefrom. HORRIDGE v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

22 C. W. N. 639

4. — *Application by claimant for reference on the ground of inadequacy of award—Reference of land to be made and given under s. 18 of the Act—Nothing in the Land Acquisition Act or s. 18 of the Act to state the grounds in detail upon which an application for a reference under s. 18 of the Land Acquisition Act, he claims a larger sum than that awarded by the Collector. MANABENDRA LAL v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)*

24 C. W. N. 716

5. — *Final award under s. 18 of the Act—Award made by the District Judge and not an appeal. *BHAKTAVATSALA V. RAY v. ARMOH CHANDRA

I L. R. 26 Mad. 293

6. — ss. 18 and 26—Whether the Court to which a reference has been made should consider the compensation as a whole or as a part of the property value. Certain land belonging to the appellants was acquired by Government for the new capital of India at Delhi. The Special Land Acquisition Officer made a separate valuation for wells, bauling trees and for the land the total of the various items with 15 per cent addition amounting to Rs. 11,613. The appellants raised objections and a reference was made under s. 18 of the Land Acquisition Act to the District Judge of Delhi who came to the conclusion that, having regard to prices paid for land in the immediate vicinity, the market value of the property acquired was approximately Rs. 10,000 and as that sum with 15 per cent addition amounted to slightly less than that awarded by the Land Acquisition Officer maintained the original award. Against this decision the present appeal was presented, and it was contended that the District Judge had no power to examine the compensation awarded as a whole but should have confined himself to a consideration of the valuation of the various parts into which it had been split up by the Land Acquisition Officer. Held that when a case is referred under the Land Acquisition Act, the whole case is referred subject to the limitation in s. 26 of the Land Acquisition Act and not merely any particular objection, and the District Judge was therefore right and in legal bound to consider the question of the compensation awarded in its entirety. Ganpathrao Dastur v. Deputy Collector of Madras (14 Indian Cases 70) followed. British India Steam Navigation Co. v. Secretary of State for India (1917) I L. R. 39 (Cal. 239) not followed. ZITTO DIS v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd.*ss. 18 and 26—contd.

I L. R. 1 Lah. 352

ss. 18, 30—

See MORTGAGE I L. R. 42 Cal. 1145

— s. 23—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L. R. 41 Cal. 967

7. — Compensation—Market value of land—Valuation by sale The Government acquired land on the banks of the Hugli. The owners objected to the Collector's award. The Special Judge on reference determined the amount of compensation by having his calculations on a system of dividing the land into belts. On appeal the High Court rejected the Special Judge's method of valuation and upon a careful consideration of previous awards and prices realised on sales of land in the neighbourhood and other matters, increased the amount. Held on the appeal of the Government to His Majesty in Council that the argument based on the great expense of the Special Judge in such cases amounted to a denial of the right of the High Court to review his finding. The judgment of the High Court which gave due weight to the evidence in the case was affirmed. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. THE HINDU DISTRICT STEAM NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO., Ltd. (1909)

I L. R. 34 Cal. 967

14 C. W. N. 124

8. — Although in ascertaining the market value of land sought to be acquired under Act No. I of 1894 the general principle to be applied is that the value of the land should be calculated with reference to the most lucrative and advantageous way in which the land might be used, if it is apparent that the use of such land for some special purpose e.g., as building sites, would be permitted, the land should not be valued as if it could be utilized for such purpose Stobbing v Metropolitan Board of Works, L R 6 Q B 37, referred to UJAAR LAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. I L R 33 All 733

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s. 23—contd

Orchard land, method of valuing In assessing the amount of compensation to be paid on the acquisition of orchard lands, regard should be had to the suitability of the land for orchard purposes. A calculation of the value of ordinary occupancy rights in neighbouring plots and of the value of the trees of which the orchard is composed is not a satisfactory method of arriving at the proper compensation for orchard land, and should only be adopted when there is no possibility of ascertaining the value of lands as orchard lands ELIAS M COHEN v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. 2 Pat L J. 615

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Cal 967

Market value of land, definition of—How to determine market value, whether with reference to commercial value or abstract legal rights—Tenancy at will, valuation of In a Land Acquisition case there were two sets of claimants, one was a tenure holder and the others were sub tenants in actual occupation of the land acquired. The Collector awarded to the tenure holder the capitalized value of the rent actually recovered by him from the sub tenants. It was contended on behalf of the tenure holder that the award was inadequate. On the other hand, on behalf of the Secretary of State it was contended that at the time when the tenant in occupation transferred his interest in the land to the present occupant the rent being increased from Rs 24 to Rs. 36 per bigha, it was not probable that the rent could be further increased and consequently the capitalized value of this rent was more than adequate. Held—That when the rent was enhanced the landlord took premium and did not claim a higher rent as he might well have done if no premium had been paid. Consequently it was not sufficient to award to the tenure holder the capitalized value of the rent as then settled. Held also—That the market value means the price that an owner willing and not obliged to sell might reasonably expect to obtain from a willing purchaser with whom he was bargaining for the sale and purchase of the land. The Court below in concurrence with the Collector had not awarded any compensation to the sub tenants on the ground that their tenancies were of so precarious a nature that they could not be deemed to have any market value. It was found in evidence that they were tenants at will having no transferable interest in the land, but that their interest in the land was frequently sold and substantial prices were paid by the purchasers who thereupon approached the landlord and got his consent to the sale. Held—That the sub tenants had an interest in land which had a market value inasmuch as such sales were common because purchasers were able in usual course to secure recognition from the landlord. Held also—That the question of market value is to be determined rather with reference to the commercial value than with reference to any abstract legal rights. Held further—That the view that the value of land should ordinarily be determined as a whole and the question of apportionment of the compensation awarded amongst claimants of different degrees should thereafter be taken into consideration, has not always been accepted in practice. The procedure adopted in the present case, namely, that the market value of the interests claimed by persons who held interests of different degrees in the property acquired has been determined successively and independently of each other has been followed as a matter of convenience GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. 24 C. W. N 124

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s. 23—contd

Circumstances to be considered by the Court in determining compensation Special use of land (in this case for a Municipal drain) is an important factor and introduces the principle of reinstatement BARODA PRASAD DEY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1921). 25 C. W. N 677 ss 23 (2) and 32—Hindu widow—Position of widow under the law prevailing in Bikanir—Mode of calculating the 15 per cent extra allowed for compulsory acquisition A piece of land with some buildings and trees on it was taken up by Government under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. The land belonged to a Hindu widow, but evidence was given on her behalf that her husband a native country was Bikanir, and that according to his personal law his widow would take an absolute interest in the property left by him and not merely an ordinary Hindu widow's estate. Held that the widow was entitled to be paid the whole of the price awarded for the land and not merely to have it invested for her and to receive the interest during her life time. Held, also, that the 15 per cent which is to be added for compulsory acquisition was not to be calculated on the value of the land alone but on the combined value of the land buildings, and timber KRISHNA BAI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. I L R 42 All 555 ss 23, 49—Principles of assessment of compensation—Land forming part of compound of house, but actually in possession of tenants with occupancy rights The owner of a house with a compound attached to it let out a large part of the compound to agricultural tenants whom he allowed to acquire occupancy rights therein. Held, on a question arising as to the principle of assessing compensation for this portion under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 that so far as the owner's interest was concerned compensation was properly calculated at so many years purchase of the annual profits actually received by the owner at the time of the sale. The owner could not in the circumstances, be allowed to claim compensation as for a building site. Bombay Improvement Trust v Jathbhoy Irdesair, I L R 33 Bom 483 referred to ORDER v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL (1918). I L R 40 All 267

s. 25—

See 0

I L R 33 All 376
25 C. W. N. 71

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—cont'd

—s 25 and 31—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 297

—s 26—

See s 18

I L R 1 Lab 352

—s 30—Compensation—Mode of apportioning amount allotted as compensation between different interests Where land which is taken up under the Land Acquisition Act belongs to two or more persons the nature of whose interest there is differs the compensation allotted therefor must be apportioned according to the value of the interest of each person having rights therein so far as such value can be ascertained. HIRDE NARAIN v POWELL (1919) I L R 35 All 6

Preference to Civil Court

if filed after payment of compensation to one party by Collector—Order by Civil Court directing Government to pay compensation to party found entitled to it and to realise the amount wrongly paid from the other party property of—Facts to be proved by claimant in order to be entitled to compensation—Road cess return value of to show status as Likhtajdar The appellant who was the first party claimed that he had a likhtaj title to a land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act The second party claimed as putndars and darputndars The Collector made an award in favour of the first party and the amount of compensation was actually paid to him On a reference to the Civil Court under s 30 of the Act the Subordinate Judge found in favour of the second party and directed the Government to pay the compensation to them and to realise the amount previously paid to the first party from him. Held that though the Land Acquisition Act clearly contemplates that when there is a dispute as to apportionment the reference to the Civil Court under s 30 should be made before any payment has been made, still there is nothing in the Act that prohibits the Land Acquisition Collector from making the reference after payment of compensation to one of the parties When such a reference has been made, it is undesirable that the party who succeeds in showing that the Collector's order was wrong should have to resort to a regular suit to compel the opposite party to refund the compensation on to which he has been held not to be entitled nor can the rights of the opposite party be in any way prejudiced by the reduction of litigation. That the omission of the appellant to file any road cess return with regard to the land went strongly against his claim to have asserted a likhtaj title to it The High Court varied the decree of the Subordinate Judge and ordered the first party to pay the amount of compensation received by him to the second party with interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the date of withdrawal. Held further that a claimant in a Land Acquisition proceeding can get no share of the compensation on without establishing either title to or possession of the land acquired. SATISH CHANDRA SETHI v ANANDA GOPAL DAS (1916). 20 C W N 816

—s 31 cl (2)—

See s 3 I L R 37 Bom 76

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT 1893 s 48

I L R 42 Bom 54

See SHERRATT I L R 40 Cal. 895

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—cont'd

—s 31, 32—Debutter lands—Status of shabats—Order for deposit of compensation money, there being no person competent to alienate the lands Where certain lands dedicated to an idol were acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the application of the shabats for payment of the compensation money was rejected and an order for deposit thereof in Court was made. Held that a shabari has no power to alienate the dedicated property in the general character of his rights and the order made was a proper order. RAN PRASAD NANDI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1913) 19 C W N 652

—s 32—

See COURT FEE I L R 39 Cal. 906

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 39 Cal. 33

Bhagdari and Narvaders Act (Bom Act V of 1882) s 3—Unrecognised sub-division of a narva holding—Compulsory acquisition The provisions of s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) cannot be made applicable to a case where the land compulsorily acquired is an unrecognised sub-division of a narva holding. Per BATHUR J The only case contemplated by the drugi tasam (in s 3 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894) was the case where the legal estate was in a person possessing only a limited interest while outstanding rights were in a beneficiary or reversioner who upon the exhaustion of the limited estate would become in the words of the clause "absolutely entitled to the land" ASSISTANT COLLECTOR OF KATRA v VIKRANT DAS (1915).

I L R 40 Bom 254

—Widow's estate—Purchaser of widow's estate, if may withdraw compensation money—Refund of money withdrawn power of Court to order—Investment of compensation on money A widow's estate in a property was sold without any legal necessity and purchased by the defendant. Subsequently the land was acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the defendant withdrew the compensation money. In a suit by the reversioners for a declaration that they were not bound by the sale to the defendant and for a deposit of the money in Court for investment in Government securities. Held that the defendant could be compelled to refund the money into Court for the purpose of investment and the Court has authority to give directions for proper investment of the money in the interest of the reversioners in accordance with the rules of justice equity and good conscience in the absence of any statutory power. S 32 of the Land Acquisition Act applies to Hindu widows who hold possession of property as limited owners. Shree Ramesh v Mohan I L R 21 All 354 Shree Prasad v Jaleha I L R 21 All 189 followed. Mahammad Ali v Ahmmed Ali, I L R 26 Mad. 236 distinguished. Till the money passes into the hands of a person absolutely entitled thereto there is constructive reconversion of it into land. S 32 makes it reasonably clear that although an owner may be deprived of the land for the sake of public purposes the Legislature intended that the protection enjoyed by reversionary heirs when land is in the hands of limited owners should not by reason of the acquisition alone be completely withdrawn. Cases of this kind where land has been compulsorily converted into money stand on a different footing from

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 32—contd

cases where a Hindu widow inherits moveable property, and the law applicable to the latter case does not apply to the former. Quare Whether the Land Acquisition Court could compel refund of the money improperly withdrawn in violation of s 32. Nobin Kuli v Danalata I L R 32 Cal 921. Gobinda Rani v Brinda Rani I L R 35 Cal 1101 s c 12 C W N 1039 referred to. MRINALINI DAS v ABINASH CHANDRA DUTT (1910) 14 C W N 1024

Investment in the purchase of other lands.—If includes erection of buildings. Some lands having been acquired for the Calcutta Improvement Trust a sum of Rs 244,000 was deposited with the President of the Calcutta Improvement Tribunal. The Trustees of the estate to which the lands belonged applied for delivery of the money to them in order that they might erect buildings on the exempted portion. The President refused. Held that s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act as amended by the Calcutta Improvement Act provides that the Tribunal shall order the money to be invested in the purchase of other land to be held on like conditions and having regard to the definition of "land" s 32 includes the erection of buildings. In re GANENDRA MULLICK 25 C. W. N 597 ss 35 36 (2)—Compensation.—Principle on which it should be awarded. Where culturable land in the hands of tenants was acquired temporarily for the purpose of digging kankar. Held that having regard to s 36 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 such portion of the compensation as might be awarded to the owner for the purpose of restoring the land to its original condition was not assessable until after the term of occupation had expired. In the circumstances of the case also this amount was not rightly assessed on the probable value of the kankar which might hypothetically be extracted from the land. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ABDUL SALEEM KHAN (1915) I L R 37 All 347

s 45—

See s 9 I L R 43 Mad 280

s 48—

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 44 Bom 497

ss 48 and 51—

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 44 Bom 297

s 49—

Question whether land under acquisition part of house.—Reference to Court.—Refusal by Collector.—High Court if may interfere in revision. Where a Land Acquisition Collector refused to make a reference to the Civil Court under s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act, the High Court in revision set aside his proceedings subsequent to the refusal and directed the Collector to proceed according to law. The Administrator General of Bengal v The Land Acquisition Deputy Collector 24 Parganahs 12 C W N 241 followed. British India Navigation Co v Secretary of State for India, 12 C L J 505 s c 15 C W N 87 referred to. An application for a reference under the section may be made at any time before the award is actually made. KRISHNA DAS ROY v THE LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR OF PABNA (1911)

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 49—contd

18 C W. N 327

Acquisition of part of a house.—reference to Civil Court duty of Deputy Collector to make.—refusal to refer.—High Court's power to interfere with order of refusal.—Revision. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with an order refusing to refer to the civil court a question under the second proviso to sub s (1) of s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894. In making or refusing to make a reference under that proviso the Deputy Collector is a court. ABASHWATTI PATTA v THE LAND ACQUISITION DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF CHAMPARAN 2 Pat L J 204

ss 49 (1), 54—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 665

I L R 46 Cal 861

s 52—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 918

s 53—

See RECORDS POWER TO CALL FOR

I L R 43 Cal 239

The Court can enforce refund of compensation money taken from Court in certain instances. COLLECTOR OF AHMEDABAD v LARAJI MULAJI I L R 35 Bom 235

Review whether District Judge may order.—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XLVII. A District Judge is competent to review his own order apportioning the compensation money paid on compulsory acquisition of and between the parties entitled to it. Pangoon Butatoung Co v Collector of Rangoon I L R 40 Cal 21 referred to. SURESH SARTI NARAIN SINGH v BIR SINGH 5 Pat L J 253

ss 53 54—

See ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION ACT (VII OF 1904) ss 10 21

I L R 42 Bom 100

Land—Compulsory acquisition.—Compensation.—Award by Assistant Judge.—Appeal to the District Judge.—Second appeal.—Practice and procedure.—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 98 100. Where an award is made by the Assistant Judge under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 and there has been an appeal to the District Judge, no second appeal can lie from the appellate decision. NATHU BHAI NARAYAN v MANORAS LAL DAS (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 360

s 54—

See APPEAL I L R 39 Cal 393

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 665

I L P 46 Cal 861

I L R 40 Cal 21

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 100

I L R 43 Mad 51

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd— s 51—contd

by High Court on appeal—appeals to Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Letters Patent 39 An appeal does not lie to His Majesty's Privy Council from the decision of the High Court on appeal under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) Pagoo Palahang Company Ltd v The Collector Bangalore, 1 I R 49 Calc 21 followed SPECIAL OFFICER, SALSETTE BUILDING STRIKE & DEMONSTRATION (1913) 1 I L R 37 Bom 605

— Order of rectification of compensation to be intended in Government securities if appealable—Award what is An order under s 53 of the Land Acquisition Act by which the sum awarded as compensation is directed to be invested in Government securities is an integral part of the award made in the case and is open to appeal under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act TRINAYANI DAS v KRISHNA LAL DEB (1910) 17 C W N 935

— Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) s 15—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 96 (1)—Reference to Assistant Judge—Award not exceeding Rs 5,000—Appeal to the District Judge—Second appeal to the High Court not maintainable A reference having been made in accordance with the provisions of the Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) to the Assistant Judge he tried the reference and made an award under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) which did not exceed Rs 5,000 An appeal was presented against the said award to the District Judge and he having decided the appeal a second appeal was preferred to the High Court Held that under s 16 of the Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) the Court authorized to hear appeals from the Assistant Judge's Court where the value of the subject matter was less than Rs 5,000 was the District Court and not the High Court and no second appeal being expressly given by the Act the (second) appeal to the High Court was not maintainable ARMEDSHOR HANIFHOY v WAMAN DHOUDU (1913) 1 I L R 38 Bom 337

— Order allowing withdrawal of money deposited under s 51, if appealable Under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act there is no appeal against an order of the District Judge allowing a Hindu widow to withdraw the compensation money deposited by the Collector under s 31 of the Land Acquisition Act. BHAWA NATH SINGH v BIDHUMUKHI DAS (1915) 19 C W N 1290

LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 I L R 38 Calc 230

See MORTGAGE —INTEREST

1 I L R 42 Calc 1146

— order of—

See COURT FEE ACT 1870 s 8

1 I L R 39 Calc 806

— Land Acquisition Judge, powers of—Order for discovery The Court of a Land Acquisition Judge is a Court of special jurisdiction the powers and duties of which are defined by statute and it cannot be legitimately invited to exercise inherent powers and assume jurisdiction over matters not intended by the Legislature

LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE—contd

to be comprehended within the scope of the enquiry before it Shyam Chander Mardraj v Secretary of State for India 1 I R 35 Calc 595 Gajendra Sahu v Secretary of State for India 8 C L J 39 distinguished It was never contemplated by the statute to authorize the Land Acquisition Judge to review the award of the Collector to cancel it or to remit it to him to be re-assessed or reduced The Court of the Land Acquisition Judge is restricted to an examination of the question which has been referred by the Collector for decision under s 18 and the scope of the enquiry cannot be enlarged at the instance of parties who have not obtained or cannot obtain any order of reference Promotha Nath Mishra v Rakhal Das Addy 11 C L J 490 followed An order for discovery can be made in a case under the Land Acquisition Act under O A, R 1st Civil Procedure Code BRITISH INDIA STRAM NAVIGATION CO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) 1 I L R 38 Calc 230

LAND CESS

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887) ART 30

1 I L R 36 Mad 18

LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1905)

See IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1863) s 1 PROVISIONAL 2

1 I L R 40 Mad 886

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT 1133

LAND FOR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE s 48

1 I L R 34 Bom 239

LAND-HOLDER

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) 1 I L R 38 Mad 33 1155

1 I L R 39 Mad 1018

1 I L R 44 Mad 677

— engagement by with Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD ACT VII OF 1863)

1 I L R 40 Mad 886

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT (XIX OF 1883)

— s 7—

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879)

1 I L R 40 Bom 483

— s 7 (1) (c)—Sale under—Loan as first charge on the land—Sale free of prior encumbrances—Improvements effected before receipt of loan effect of—Non completion of improvements within time and extension of time effect of on further advance of loan—Proviso to a section as to use of to interpret the section A loan advanced under the Land Improvement Loans Act (XIX of 1883) is subject to proviso to s 7 (1) a first charge on the land for the improvement of which the loan is advanced hence a sale under s 7 (1) (c) of the Act to recover the loan is free of prior encumbrances

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT (XIX OF 1883)—contds 7 (1) (c)—contd

Neither the fact that a portion of the loan was not repaid has been effected with the help of a private loan before the loan applied for was actually advanced nor the fact that the Government relaxed the rigour of its rules and allowed the borrower an extension of time to utilize the first instalment of the loan before the second was disbursed makes the loan any the less a loan under the Act if in effect the loan was utilized for the purpose for which it was borrowed. Though a proviso to a section cannot be used to extend its operation yet in case of doubt or ambiguity as to the meaning of the substantive part of the section the proviso can be looked to to ascertain its proper interpretation. West Derby Union v. Metropolitan Life Assurance Society [1897] A.C. 617 followed. SANKARAN NAMUDURIPAD v. RAMASWAMI AYYAR (1918)

I L R 41 Mad. 691

LAND LAW IN BENGAL.See MINEFALLS L. R. 44 L. A. 246LANDLORDSee SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT ss 9-47
I L R 33 Mad. 452See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 107
L. L. R. 36 Bom. 500Interest of—See SALE I L R 45 Calc. 294right of—See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAY LAND
I L R 37 Calc. 589LANDLORD AND TENANT

Colo

ABANDONMENT 2387ADVERSE POSSESSION 2387AGRICULTURAL LEASE 2388ALIENATION 2389BUILDING AND RESIDENTIAL LEASE 2390CESSES 2390COVENANTS 2391CUSTOM 2393DIGWARI TENURE 2393DISPOSITION BY LANDLORD 2393EJECTMENT 2394ENCRUMBENCE 2400ENHANCEMENT OF RENT 2401FORFEITURE 2402GROVE LAND 2404HYPOTHECATION 2404IMPROVEMENTS 2404INAM 2406INJUNCTION 2406INTEREST 2407LEASE 2407MINERAL RIGHTS 2410MULGEMI TENURE 2417NOTICE TO QUIT 2417OCCUPANCY RIGHT 2419LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

Cyl.

PERMANENT TENANCY 2419PLUNGIANT 2421RENT 2421TITLE 2423TRANSFER 2426MISCELLANEOUS 2426See ABANDONMENT 2 Pat. L. J. 225See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 38 Bom. 53

I L R 37 Mad. 373

See ADVERSE POSSESSION ACT (11 OF 1901)—

s 16 I L P 41 All. 223

ss 18 AND 44

I L R 43 All. 608

ss 23-25 30 AND 31

I L R 35 All. 123

s 31 I L R 40 All. 300

ss 74-75 AND 76

I L R 32 All. 458

ss 79 AND 80

I L R 35 All. 299

ss 102 AND 108

I L R 33 All. 61

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879

s. 83 I L R 45 Bom. 303 and 350

See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS)

ACT 1918

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O

II s 2 I L R 38 Bom. 444

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAY LANDS

I L R 37 Calc. 57

See EJECTMENTSee EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872) s 110

I L R 38 All. 228

s 116 I L R 40 Mad. 561

See FAZENDARI TENURE

L L R 39 Bom. 316

See INTERPLEADER

I L R 37 Calc. 552

See KABULAT 2 Pat. L. J. 40See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 45 Bom. 725

See LEASESee LESSOR AND LESSEESee LIMITATION ACT (14 OF 1908) Sec 1

I Arts. 120 AND 144

I L R 42 Bom. 333

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD

ACT 1 OF 1908) s 40 cl. (3)

I L R 41 Mad. 109

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 38 Calc. 845

See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913

2 Pat. L. J. 46

See PEVAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1870)

ss 341-100 I L R 43 Bom. 531

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III

OF 1907) s. 16 I L R 34 All. 121

See RENT ACT (BOM. ACT II OF 1918)

ss. 2 (c) 9 I L R 43 Bom. 795

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

See SECOND APPEAL.

I L R 39 Calc 241

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) —

s. 106 I L R 43 All. 330

s. 111 I L R 42 Bom. 195

Adverse Possession—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

Sch. I, Art. 120, 145

I L R 42 Bom. 333

Denial of Title—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s. 111

I L R 35 All. 145

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872

s. 116

I L R 40 Mad. 516

ABANDONMENT

When a tenant having a non transferable occupancy right sells such right to a 3rd person and having obtained a sub lease remains in possession the landlord (in the absence of representation by the tenant of his landlord's title) is not entitled to receive possession as there has been no abandonment. SEPARANG v PUMDER PAI 24 C W N 117

ADVERSE POSSESSION

Adverse possession against landlord—Transfer of non transferable occupancy holding in possession for over 12 years—Payment of rent by him as marfadar—Suit for ejectment—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch. I, Art. 140 Where a person recorded in the record of rights as a trespasser was in possession of the land in dispute for more than 12 years but had once during that period paid rent to the landlord on behalf of the old tenant and taken a rent receipt in which he was described as a marfadar. Held that the suit by the landlord for khas possession against the trespasser after 12 years was not barred by limitation. Iskan Chander v Ram Ranjan, 2 C I J 125 and Baktoo Singh v Sudhram Ahar, 8 C L J 557, referred to. JADU NATH BELAL v RAJ NARAIN MUKHERJEE (1912) 17 C. W. N. 459

Adverse possession by tenant—Suit for declaration of title to jailar and injunction against defendants—Plaintiff's title based on darpul lease—Defendants' possession as tenants for 12 years previous to lease—Knowledge, if necessary to constitute possession adverse. Where the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to a certain jailar and for an injunction prohibiting the defendants from catching fish in that jailar and it was admitted that the plaintiff was entitled to an eight annas share of the jailar and the plaintiff claimed the other eight annas share under a darpul lease granted to them by one R. the putadar of the said eight annas share who, it was found, had no possession at the time of granting the lease to the plaintiffs and no knowledge as to who was in actual possession and the defendants proved possession as tenants for 12 years previous to the granting of the lease by R. to the plaintiffs. Held, that the defendants by their possession gained title as against all the world and thus held good as against the person who was in fact their landlord, though he did not know and the defendants' possession was a good answer to the plaintiffs' claim which was equivalent to a claim for khas possession. Iskan Chander v Ram Ranjan, 2 C L J 125 Iskharan Singh v Ailmoney Bahida, I L R 35 Calc 740 s. c. 12 C W N 636, and Gopal Krishna v Lalraia 16 C W N 634, followed. KALI CHARAN SAMA v DABISTUDIN AHMED (1913) 18 C. W. N. 654

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*ADVERSE POSSESSION—contd

Adverse possession—Title—Under tenant—Purchase of tenancy by a co-purchaser—Incumbrance—Notice of annulment proceeded upon—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 161 167 When a person has by adverse possession against a sub tenant, acquired a statutory title to a portion of the lands comprised in the sub-tenancy he has an interest in the sub-tenancy, so that when on a sale of the superior tenancy for arrears of rent, the purchaser seeks to annul the sub-tenancy as an incumbrance, such person stands in the position of an incumbrancer and is entitled to notice under s. 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. BAHUSHAN CHANDRA GHONE v SHI KANTA BANERJEE (1910) I L R. 45 Calc 756

Tenant selling up permanent right of tenancy by adverse possession—Specific notice of such right must be given to the landlord—Limitation If a person in occupation of land as a tenant wishes to set up a larger claim of permanent tenancy by adverse possession the landlord must have a specific notice of such a claim and until that is done time does not begin to run against the landlord. Dudesh v Hanmantha (1896) 21 Bom 509 discussed. DABISTUDIN RAM CHANDRA v PADU (1920) I L R 45 Bom 508

AGRICULTURAL LEASE

Agricultural lease—Days of grace for payment of rent—Forfeiture clause for non payment of rent after days of grace—Relief against forfeiture Courts in India have power to relieve against forfeiture for non payment of rent even in cases where a period of grace is allowed for payment by the lease deed and this rule applies equally to a lease (as in this case) for agricultural purposes. Whether relief against forfeiture should in any particular case be given depends on the facts of that case. Per HISHADHI AYYAN J. It is open to Courts to look at legislative provisions regarding the liability of other lessees and tenants as embodying the principles of justice, equity and good conscience. Per NAYIER J. When the statute specifically excludes one transaction of the same class as that which is being dealt with from its purview, the — cannot be applied. The Transfer of Property Act cannot be looked to for guidance in the matter of an agricultural lease. APPAYYA SWAMY v MANIAM MAD BHANU (1915) I L R. 33 Mad. 834

FLOODING BY SEA WATER—Land rendered unfit for cultivation—Right of leasees to abatement of rent—Duty to avoid lease in lata—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s. 108 cl. II (c)—Principle of the section applicability of it by an inundation of sea-water a portion of lands leased for agricultural purposes becomes unfit for cultivation and the landlord brings a suit to recover the whole rent reserved in the lease, the tenant can plead as a defence that he is entitled to a proportionate abatement and is not bound to have avoided the lease in toto. The principle of proportionate abatement was recognized in India prior to the Transfer of Property Act, and is in accordance with natural justice. Neither s. 103-B (c), Transfer of Property Act, nor its principle is applicable to cases of flooding by sea water of lands leased for agricultural purposes. Sheikh Enayutullah v. Sheikh Elahabullah, (1884) 10 F.R. 469 (Act X Rulings), 42, followed. SUBRAMANIAM PATTER V KATTANBALI RAMA (1920)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdAGRICULTURAL LEASE—contd

[I. L. R. 43 Mad. 132]

Annual tenancy—Tenant building on a portion of the land to the knowledge of landlord—Suit in ejectment—Tenant bound to vacate—Landlord bound to compensate in equity for tenant's building. The defendant was for a number of years in occupation of plaintiff's land as an annual tenant. On a portion of the land, the defendant in 1882 erected a building to the knowledge of the plaintiff. The plaintiff after giving notice sued to eject the defendant in 1914 and prayed that the land be restored to him by removing the defendant's building. The trial Court ordered the plaintiff to get possession on paying Rs. 2,000 to the defendant. The appellate Court reversed the decree on the ground that the defendant being allowed without objection to build on a portion of the land, the agricultural lease for a year had become a building lease. On appeal to the High Court. Held, restoring the decree of the trial Court, that the plaintiff was entitled to get vacant possession at the expiration of the defendant's term of tenancy, but on the facts of the case he was in equity bound to compensate the defendant for retaining his building. RAM CHANDRA RAOHUNATH V VISNU BABAI (1920)

[I. L. R. 44 Bom. 950]

Hut built by tenant—On lands demised for agricultural purposes—Conversion of the hut into a substantial building—Use of the building by the tenant for agricultural purposes—Conversion allowed. A tenant, permanent or otherwise, of lands used for agricultural purposes is entitled to erect even a substantial building for himself to live in and for agricultural purposes. BRHU MANADU V VITHAL DATTATRAYA (1918)

[I. L. R. 44 Bom. 609]

ALIENATIONSee SUB HEADING LEASE

21 C. W. N. 117

Position of landlord purchasing rayats' interest. The position of the landlord purchasing the rayats' interest under a private alienation and of the landlord purchasing himself at a sale for arrears of rent, distinguished. JANAKINATH HORE V PRABHASINI DAS (1915)

19 C. W. N. 1077

When the landlord purchases at a sale held in execution of a decree possession is delivered to him by the Court as auction purchaser, i.e., on the footing that there is no longer any relation of landlord and tenant between him and the tenant and the possession of the landlord as purchaser cannot be challenged

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdALIENATION—contd

so long as the sale is not set aside or declared ineffective against the tenants. In the case of a private purchase such as the present there is a relation of landlord and tenant between the Plaintiff and the Defendants and the mere fact that he obtained a kobala from one of the heirs of the original tenants cannot take the case out of the purview of Art. 3, Sch. III. NABIT CHANDRA SAHA V SHEIKH WAJID 21 C. W. N. 382

BUILDING AND RESIDENTIAL LEASE

Building and Residential Lease—Heritability—Transferability—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 108 (j). Where there is a lease for building and residential purposes, in the absence of any intention to the contrary, indicated either in the terms of the grant or in the nature of the tenancy, the leasehold interest is heritable, and the tenancy does not determine by the death of the lessee, but vests in his legal personal representatives who are entitled to give or receive the usual notice to quit. Such a tenancy, in the absence and any custom or contract to the contrary, is governed by the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, and is consequently prima facie transferable under s. 108 (j) of that Act. KISHORI LAL ROY CHOWDHURY V KRISHNA-KAMINI CHOWDHURI (1910)

I. L. R. 37 Cal. 377

CESSSES

1 Cesses, inclusion of, in patta—Payment of cesses for a long time—Effect on legality and enforceability of—Rules for determining whether cesses are legal and enforceable—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908), s. 143—Usage—Contract—Cesses called kanganam, kula vellu, tiruppan, etc., nature and legality of. Cesses paid for a long time by the tenant without objection are not necessarily legal and recoverable by the landlord. Such of them as have a direct or proximate bearing on the purposes for which the land was let are prima facie legal while those having no such bearing are only recoverable under a contract supported by consideration or under a usage proved or presumed from the nature of the case and long course of payments. Held accordingly on the facts of the case and the nature of the cesses in question, that the cesses, called kanganam, kudavettu, melvaram urai, kudivaram urai and swalantram, which were paid for a long series of years out of the gross produce before division thereof between the landlord and the tenant, were legal and recoverable by the landlord, that the cesses, called kangoo and tiruppan, paid out of the kudivaram for a long time were not legally recoverable, and that the cess for the use of the thrashing floor was recoverable unless the tenant had a thrashing floor, in which case the cess ought not to be levied. Rules for determining whether cesses paid for a series of years are legal and enforceable, pointed out. VADAMALAI THIRUVANATHA SEYUGA PANDIA THEVAR V SANKARANMOORTHY NAIDU (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 167

2 Charge for taking landlord's water "rent" within s. 3 (II), Estates Land Act (I of 1908)—Res judicata—Competent to try such subsequent suit in s. 11, Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), meaning of. The words "competent to try such

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

CONFIDENTIAL

I L. R 43 Eom 119

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

CUSTOM

*Rights of tenant occupying a house in the abadi—Custom—Evidence—Nature of evidence requisite to prove custom—
Second appeal.* The High Court, in second appeal, has jurisdiction to consider the evidence given in support of an alleged custom and to determine whether or not that evidence is sufficient in point of law to establish the custom set up. Hashim Ali v Abdul Khamin, I L R 23 All 638, and Ram Hils v Lal Bahadur, I L R 30 All 311, followed. GIRRA SINGH v HARBOOVIN SINGH
(1909). I. L. R. 32 All. 125

DIGWARI TENURE

See DIGWARI TENURE.

*Landlord and Tenant—
Digwari Tenure in Manbhurn—Grant of Coal Mines by Digwar—Grant of Mohiari lease—Mine rights, right to, under the soil—Suit by zamindar claiming mineral rights—Parties to suit—Government—Digwar appointed and liable to dismissal by Government.* Though the Digwari tenures in Manbhurn are similar in some respects to Ghat wall tenures in Birbhum, as having been originally granted in consideration of the performance of military service to which police duties were attached, and as being hereditary and inalienable, the two kinds of tenure are not analogous. The Ghatwals had special rights under Regulation
XXIX of 1814 and as to minerals, under Act V of 1859, and paid rent direct to Government, and not to the zamindar. The Digwar of Tazra in Manbhurn, appointed and liable to dismissal by Government, was the holder of two mouzabs at a fixed rent payable to the plaintiff (appellant) in whose zamindari they were situated. He granted a perpetual lease of the coal mines underlying the two mouzabs to a coal company. He took possession and mined and sold a large quantity of coal.
In a suit for a declaration of the zamindar's right to the minerals under the soil and for an account and an injunction—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court), that there having been at the time of the permanent settlement, no separate settlement with the Digwar of Tazra (if the Digwari tenure then existed which was doubtful and the mineral rights not being vested in him at that time, the presumption was that the mineral rights remained in the zamindar in the absence of proof that he had parted with them. Hari Narayan Singh Deo v Surram Chakravarti, I L R 37 Calc 723, I L R 37 I A 136 followed. Held, also, that it was not necessary to make the Government a party to the suit. They had never claimed the minerals under the mouzabs in suit, nor put forward any claim inconsistent with the rights asserted by the zamindar, and the rights of the Government would not be prejudiced or affected by the result of a suit to which they were not a party. *DEBDA PRASAD SINGH v BRAJA NATH
BOSE* (1912). I. L. R. 39 Calc. 698

DISPOSSESSION BY LANDLORD

Suit by tenant against landlord for recovery of land—Rules of limitation, general and special ones of proof as to—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch 1, Art 142—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1882), Sch III, Art 3, ss 184, 550, 291—Character of tenancy, presumption as to—

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.

DISPOSSESSION BY LANDLORD—contd

Area less than 100 bighas. In a suit by a tenant for the recovery of land of which he had been dispossessed by the landlord, the tenant claimed the land as tenure holder and the defendants contended that it was an occupancy holding. Neither the character of a tenure holder nor that of an occupancy raiyat was established by positive evidence. The question being what period of limitation was applicable to the case. Held, that in the circumstances of the case there was no statutory presumption either way. That the general rule of limitation in suits for recovery of possession of property was twelve years and that it is upon the party claiming the benefit of a shorter period of limitation to establish that the case fell within the special rule limiting the period to a shorter time. The defendants having failed to establish the occupancy character of the holding so as to bring it within the special rule of limitation under the Bengal Tenancy Act and plaintiffs suit being within time by the general rule, the suit was not barred by limitation. A suit by a tenant to recover lands from the landlord, of which he alleges he has been dispossessed, is not a proceeding under the Bengal Tenancy Act within the meaning of cl (7) of s. 20 of the Act. There is no provision in cl (5) of s. 5 of the Bengal Tenancy Act that when the area held by a tenant is less than 100 bighas the tenant is to be presumed a raiyat until the contrary is shown.
*TARA NATH CHAKRAVERTY v ISWAN CHANDRA
DAS SARKAR* (1911). 16 C. W. N. 393

EJECTMENT

See EJECTMENT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (FORFEITURE)

See WAIVER. 2 Pat. L. J. 595

*Suit for ejectment—
Denial of landlord's title—Forfeiture.* Where defendant in a suit for rent by the plaintiff, his landlord had denied his title and claimed to hold it under a third party. Held, that in a suit by the landlord for ejectment of the defendant as a trespasser the defendant was debarred from pleading his tenancy and claiming to hold possession on that ground.
*Nilmidhab Bose v Ananta Ram Bagdi, 2 C W N.
755, Fayy Dholi v Aftabuddin Sirdar, 6 C W N.
575, Ramgati Mahur v Prankari Seal 3 C L J.
201, Akater Mistri v Sadrudin Khan, I L R 34
Calc 922*, followed. Malika Dassi v Malham Lal Chowdhry, 2 C W N 928, distinguished.
SHRIK MAIDHAR v RAJANI KANTA RAY (1909).

14 C. W. N. 339

Co sharers—Notice to quit. A notice to quit by some only of the co sharers, is not sufficient to determine a tenancy.
Gopal Ram v Dikeshwar, I L R 25 Calc 807, followed. *Dad Aslu v Summersell, I B &
Ad 135* not followed. *SURENDRA NATH ROY v
KRISHNA SAKSHI DAS* (1910). 15 C. W. N. 239

Presumption as to landholders right in the abadi agricultural village—House site occupied by a person not an agriculturist nor one of the customary village servants of artisans —Adverse possession. In a village which was not a purely agricultural village, but in which, on the contrary, some two thirds of the inhabitants

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd EJECTMENT—contd

were non agriculturists, certain persons, father and son, were in possession of a house site in the abadi. They carried on the occupation of inn keepers and sellers of tobacco and there was no evidence of the origin of their possession or that they ever paid rent to the zamindar or acknowledged his title in any way. The site was sold by the son, and some time after such sale the house or shop thereon having fallen down the zamindar sued to eject the purchasers. Held that in the circumstances of the case the defendants and their predecessors in interest, were properly held to have acquired a title to the site by adverse possession. (Kajju Singh v Kanthia, All Weekly Notes (1931) 114 and Bhaddar v Khar ud-din Hussain, L R 29 All 133 referred to INCHA RAM v BANDI ALI KHAN (1911) I L R. 33 All 757 Evidence Act (I of 1872) as 11, 13 32, cl (2) and (3)—Deeds not inter partes, admissibility—Description of boundaries in sales and mortgages of adjoining plots—Statements against pecuniary interest. In a suit to eject the defendants as trespassers the latter set up title as tenants in occupation of the land. Held, that recitals of boundaries in deeds of sales and mortgages executed by owners of adjoining plots of land and describing the disputed land as the tenanted land of the defendants or their predecessors were relevant s 32 (3) of the Evidence Act though not under s 32 (2) or 11 or 13 of that Act. (Sheonandan Singh v Jeonandan Dasaad, 13 C W N 71 Singpuria v Harimappa I L R 23 Bom. 63 Haji Bibi v Ali Khan 11 Bom L R 499 Abdul Aziz v Ibrahim I L R 31 Cal 985 referred to ABDULLAH v AHMED BEHARI LAL (1911) 16 C W N 252 Suit for Ejectment—Tenant's claim to hold more land than included in lease—Limitation—Onus—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 41 Art 142. In a suit by the zamindars for ejectment the defendants claimed to hold seven puras of land as mokurari chak under a sauad of 1740 renewed in 1815 which purported to grant only two puras. The defendants also pleaded limitation. The boundaries of the mokurari chak on three sides were specified in the sauad and were identifiable but the other boundary was described as an ail. The plaintiffs failed to prove that they or their predecessors ever had possession of any portion of the seven puras since the sauad was originally granted and they also failed to show what was the eastern boundary if it was not the ail pointed out by the defendants. If it accepted would make the lands seven puras. Held, that the plaintiffs having failed to prove that the lands in suit were not covered by the sauad and that they had been dispossessed or that their possession had been discontinued within 12 years before the suit, it was properly dismissed. It lay upon the plaintiffs to prove not only title in against the defendants to the possession but to prove that the plaintiffs had been dispossessed or had discontinued to be in possession of the lands within 12 years of the commencement of the suit. (DHARANI KASTA LABRI CROWDURI v BABAR ALI KHAN (1912) 17 C W N. 389

Tenancy termination of, by notice to quit—Tenancy outside Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1922)—Sufficiency of notice

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd EJECTMENT—contd

Service by registered post—Proof—Endorsement of tender and refusal by postal officers, if sufficient—Terminancy of tenure, question when one of law—Second Appeal. The rule which has generally been applied to cases outside the Transfer of Property Act in connection with the sufficiency of a notice to quit is that the notice is not to be a reasonable notice. The tender to and refusal by the defendant of a cover sent by registered post and containing the notice to quit was sufficiently proved by the endorsement on the cover or envelope stating the defendant's refusal to receive the document. (Jogendra Chander Ghose v Dwarka Nath Karmakar, I L R 15 Cal 631, followed. A finding of the lower Appellate Court that a tenure is not permanent if and when open to be second Appeal dismissed. DURGIA NATH PARAMANICK v RAJENDRA NARAYAN SAMA (1913) 17 C W N 1078 *Ejectment—Purchaser of non transferable occupancy holding, possession for more than 12 years—Rent payment as marfadar—Tenant, recognition by land lord—Possession, if adverse—Limitation, if would extinguish right or create limited interest and tenancy*. A plaintiff suing in ejectment a purchaser of a non transferable occupancy holding cannot succeed (unless he makes out a case under s. 18 of the Limitation Act) where his right to possession accrued long before 12 years of the commencement of the suit. Where the defendant had paid rent for more than 20 years and the rent had been received by the landlord from the defendant as marfadar of the original tenant who had no transferable right a Court would be slow to hold that a complete extinguishment of the plaintiff's right took place by adverse possession and prefer to hold that the statute of limitation created a limited interest and tenancy. The mere fact that in rent receipts the word marfadar is used is not conclusive to show that there was not recognition and the Courts should determine in each case whether on a consideration of all the facts, not merely by giving undue weight to words used a legal inference is or is not to be drawn that there has been a recognition establishing a relationship of landlord and tenant between one who has paid and another who has received rent for a number of years. (PRABHAKARTI DASJI v TAIBATUNNESSA CROWDCHAKRI (1913) 17 C W N 1088 Landlord and tenant—Right of leasee after expiry of lease, to eject a trespasser. Where a lessee whose lease had expired prior to suit sued for possession of the land leased to him, from a trespasser. Held that the expiration of the lease did not necessarily imply the expiration of lessee's right of possession and the lessee was entitled to a decree for possession as against trespassers a fortiori where the landlord acquiesced in plaintiff getting a decree. (Gibbons v Buckland L R 12 Exch 126, and Smith v Clarke 25 Q B D 294 referred to VENKAYYA v SATTEYYA (1914) I L R. 37 Mad. 281

What was held in Rajendra Kumar Das v Mohini Chandra Ghose 3 C R. N 763 was that when a tenant has been in possession of land ostensibly as part of an admitted tenure it lies upon the landlord in a suit in ejectment to prove in the first instance that the land is his khas property. It the law that because a defendant is found tenant of some land under the plaintiff, it is thereby cast upon the plaintiff to show that the land he seeks to recover is the tenancy of the defendant. The burden ordinarily is on the defendant to show tenancy under which he claims to hold. da Lal Goswami v. Jaynagar Haldar, N. 105, and Skedoni Roy v. Chatterbhuj T. L. J. 376, referred to. PROFAR CHANDRAN JUDHISTIR DAS (1914)

LORD AND TENANT—contd

EJECTMENT—contd

19 C. W. N. 143

Onus, of on landlord to prove tenancy. The mere fact defendant holds some land under the plaintiff would not be sufficient to shift the burden of showing proof of any other land in the zamindari defendant may be found to be in possession of, he has no right as tenant. The burden of proof in a case like this is on the tenant. The principle laid down in Ritoyo Krista Mishra's case, 12 C. L. R. 457, throwing the onus on the plaintiff should be held applicable to cases where the land sought to be recovered is admitted by the plaintiff to be contiguous to the holding of the defendant, or that it has come to his possessions by encroachment. GORTI DEVI v. RAM TAPAR TEWARY (1911) . 19 C. W. N. 140

Suit for—Lease of land for residential purposes—Law before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Onus to prove transferability—Presumption of transferability, if arises from long continued possession. The effect of the recent decisions is that when a landlord sues a person on the allegation that he is a trespasser and that person sets up a transfer from a tenant, it is for the latter to prove, first of all, the tenancy and, secondly, the validity of the transfer. With regard to tenancies of homestead land created before the Transfer of Property Act, the tendency of these decisions has been to establish that in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the burden of proof being upon the tenant, these tenancies are non-transferable. Benee Madhab v. Joushassen, 12 B. F. 495, and Durga Pershad Misar v. Bindaban Sookul, 15 B. P. 274, referred to and doubted. The only exception made to the above rule is when there has been an erection of pucca buildings or a standing by on the part of the landlord while the tenant spends a large sum upon the land. Madhu Sudan Sen v. Damini Kanta Sen, I. L. R. 32 Cal. 1023; s. c. 9 C. W. N. 895, and Nabu Mandal v. Cholim Mullik, I. L. R. 25 Cal. 896, s. c. 2 C. W. N. 405, relied on. Mere long continued possession cannot give rise to a presumption of transferability. AMBICA PRASAD SINGH v. BALDEOLAL (1916)

20 C. W. N. 1113

Suit for ejectment—

Notice to quit—Tenancy reserving an annual rent—When notice a tenant holding an annual tenancy is entitled to—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 106, 107. The defendant's brother, one Chandu, by a registered kabulyat, took a lease of 2 cottages of land from the landlord, at an annual rental of Rs 12 for residential purpose. On the death of Chandu, his heirs, including the defendant, continued to live on the land and, subsequently, the defendant's name was substituted in the landlord's shewala as tenant in respect of 2

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

EJECTMENT—contd

cottages of land at an annual rental of Rs 15. Thereafter, the landlord executed a registered patta and let out one bigha of his lands, including the defendant's portion, for a period of 30 years, to one Sheikh Fasilulla, who accepted the defendant as tenant of a portion of it. Fasilulla then transferred his interest to one Mamsa, who, subsequently, sold the same to the plaintiff. On the defendant's failure to pay rent for the 2½ cottages of land, the plaintiff on the 10th Kartick, 1318, corresponding with the 27th October, 1911, served the defendant with a notice to vacate the land within the 30th Kartick, 1318, corresponding with the 10th November, 1911. The defendant failed to comply with this notice. The plaintiff, thereupon, brought a suit for ejectment and khaz possession and for arrears of rent. Held, that the rent being an annual rent and there being nothing to rebut the presumption in such a case that the tenancy was of a character corresponding thereto, the presumption ought to be drawn that the tenancy was to be an annual tenancy. Durgu Nikarasi v. Gokardhan Bose, 20 C. L. J. 448, referred to. Held, also, that inasmuch as there was a contract of tenancy between the plaintiff and the defendant, but there was no registered instrument as required by s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act, this case came within s 100 of that Act. Held, further, that inasmuch as this was a lease of immovable property and not for agricultural or manufacturing purposes, but for some other purpose it must be deemed to be a lease from month to month terminable on the part of either lessor or lessee, by 15 days notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy. SHEIKH AKLOO v. SHEIKH IMAN (1916)

I. L. R. 44 Cal. 403

"Taluka" patta

if imports permanency—Covenant by tenant to relinquish land on grantor personally requiring it if runs with the land—Grant to be construed against grantor—Rule explained—Land encroached upon by tenant and treated by landlord as part of permanent tenancy—Tenant, if may be ejected therefrom. If there be nothing either in the surrounding circumstances or in the instrument which creates the interest, to show that it was intended to be otherwise, the inference is that a tenancy called "taluka" constitutes a permanent tenure. Where in a contract of tenancy prima facie purporting to be a permanent tenancy, there was a covenant that "if the grantor had a personal necessity, the grantee would relinquish the land" Held, that the covenant was in favour of the grantor personally and was not enforceable after his death by his heir. Scope of the rule that a covenant is to be construed most strongly against the grantor and most beneficially in favour of the grantee explained. The tenant aforesaid having encroached upon land belonging to the landlord, the landlord did not within the statutory period from the date of encroachment institute a suit to eject the tenant on the ground that he could not, without his consent, acquire the status of a tenant on the land encroached upon, but on the other hand treated it as part of the permanent tenancy; Held, in a suit for ejectment, by the heir of the grantor, that the land originally leased as well as the encroached land stood on the same footing and the tenant could not be ejected from

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

EJECTMENT—contd

other of them SARODA KRISHA LAHA v AKRIL
ANDHUR B SWAS (1917) 21 C. W. N. 993

Ejectment of tenant, effect—Suspension of rent The eviction of the tenant either from part of the demised premises or from the whole entails a suspension of the entire rent while the eviction lasts, whether the tenant remains in possession of the residue or not, the tenancy, however is not thereby terminated nor is the tenant discharged from the performance of his covenants other than payment of the rent such as a covenant to repair. It is not necessary for the application of the rule to find from how much land the tenant has been dispossessed if it is found that he has been dispossessed from some land. To constitute an eviction it is not necessary that there should be an actual physical expulsion by force or violence from any part of the premises. Any act of a permanent character done by the landlord or his agent with the intention of depriving the tenant of the enjoyment of the demised premises or any part thereof operates as an eviction. Therefore, whether the tenant is expelled by violence or is obliged from the exigencies of the situation to submit quietly to the high handed act of the powerful landlord, the result in either case is suspension of rent. DWILAK DEO NATH RAY v AFFARUDDI SARDAR (1916) 21 C. W. N. 492

Tenant resident at house with fruit bearing trees if governed by Bengal Tenancy Act or Transfer of Property Act—Land with house and used for residential purposes with fruit-bearing trees—Nature of tenancy—Presumption of permanency when can be drawn—Dakhsalas stating tenant to be tenant at will, value of The fact that a portion of a holding used for residential purposes is planted with fruit bearing trees does not alter the character of the holding and the case is governed by the Transfer of Property Act. Where in a suit for ejectment, the Plaintiff produced dakhsalas shewing that the predecessors in interest of the Defendant were tenants at will, and it was found that the tenancy held by the Defendant existed in 1884 and there was nothing to shew that it existed before that year, and the Defendant urged that under the circumstances there was a presumption that the tenancy was much older and in its origin it was intended to be permanent Held—That the evidence afforded by the dakhsalas was not to be regarded as conclusive, but the lower Appellate Court was right in holding that the Defendants' tenancy was created after the passing of the Transfer of Property Act, and that quite apart from the entries in the dakhsalas the circumstances of the case did not warrant the presumption that the tenancy was in its origin of a permanent character. Surendra Nath Roy v Dhurukanath Chakravarti, 24 C. W. N. 1 (1919), referred to Moharam Chappam v Telamuddin Khan, 16 C. W. N. 567 (1911) distinguished. SRIMATI SAKUNALA DEBI v SRIMATI ANALA DEBI 25 C. W. N. 378

When the Kalyan provides ejectment as a remedy for a breach of its conditions that is not the only remedy and damages can be claimed. KRISHNA DAS ROY v MONENDRA CHANDRA 25 C. W. N. 930

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ENCROACHMENT

By tenant ensure for the benefit of the tenant during his tenancy and afterwards for the benefit of the landlord—Adverse possession Possession by a person will be presumed to be held in his own right and adversely to the true owner. This presumption will not apply when a special relationship exists between the parties, as tenants in common or members of an undivided family. The presumption in such cases will be that possession is held on behalf of all the co-owners or members of the family and it will lie on the possessor to prove that he held exclusive possession to the knowledge of those whose right he seeks to affect by such possession. Where a tenant taking advantage of his position as such, takes possession of lands belonging to his landlord not included in his holding, the presumption is that such lands are added to the tenure and form part thereof for the benefit of the tenant so long as the holding continues and afterwards for the benefit of his landlord, unless it clearly appeared by some act done at the time that the tenant made the encroachment for his own benefit. Guroo Doss Poy v Issur Chander Bose 22 W. R. 246 approved. It is not necessary that the tenant trespasser should prove that his trespass was known to his landlord to justify such presumption. MUTHURAKKOO THEVAR v OMR (1912) I. L. R. 35 Mad. 618

Encroachment by tenant—Adverse possession of encroached land as tenant if creates title—Landlord's right to recover possession when barred—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sec. 11 Act 144—Interest acquired by tenant While a tenant is bound to treat that which is an encroachment on his landlord's land as held by him under his landlord the landlord is not bound to treat the land on which his tenant encroaches as held under a tenancy. But the landlord's right to recover possession of the land encroached upon may be lost by the tenant having adversely to the landlord asserted his title as tenant to the land for more than twelve years. Under Act 144 of the Limitation Act there may be adverse possession not only of immovable property but of any interest therein, and tenant may claim to have been in adverse possession for 12 years of a limited interest in encroached land, viz., a tenancy commensurate with that in the admitted lease between the parties. GOPAL KRISHNA JANA v LAKSHIRAM SARDAR (1912) 16 C. W. N. 834

Encroachment by tenant upon land not his landlord's—Tenant if may keep land in a suit by owner to recover—Bona fide possession under a de facto landlord, what amounts to—Possession by de facto landlord and settlement of encroached land with tenant to be proved The principle of the Full Bench decision in Binod Lal Palraski v Kala Pramanik, I. L. R. 20 Cal. 703, only applies where raiyats are settled upon land by a person in de facto possession as landlord, who is afterwards found to have no title. It is not applicable in every boundary dispute or in every case where a question of parcel and no parcel arises. Where in a suit by the owner, D, to recover land from C, who held other lands as A's tenant, it was not found that the disputed land was ever in A's possession or that it was included in the area settled by A with C, but C appeared to have encroached upon the land in such circumstances as to raise a presumption that the encroachment would enure to A's benefit and become an accretion to C's holding under A: Held, that though A might perhaps be described a Cs de facto landlord, it could not be said that the land was settled with C by A, and there is nothing in the Full Bench decision to prevent B from suing to recover possession from A and C. TEPU MAHAMMAD v. TEPAJET MAHAMMAD (1915)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*ENCROACHMENT—contd.

19 C. W. N. 772

ENHANCEMENT OF RENT

Waiver—Enhancement of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 43, 108—Chur lands—Right of Occupancy A took a lease of a certain Government has mehal and executed a labuliat in favour of the Collector by which he (A) covenanted not to raise the rents of rayats beyond the amounts mentioned in the settlement jumabandi. The tenants, however, subsequently agreed to pay rent at an enhanced rate on the ground that the fertility of the land had been increased. Upon a suit for arrears of rent at the enhanced rate against the tenants, the defence was that A was bound by the labuliat executed in favour of the Collector, and as such he was not entitled to a decree at the rate claimed. Held, that, inasmuch as the tenants voluntarily agreed to an enhancement of rent, they deliberately waived the benefit of the said covenant, and they could not impeach the validity of their own agreement on this particular ground. Zamir Mandal v. Gopi Sundari Das, 1 L R 32 Calc 463 (note), referred to. Under s 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, a rayat holding a chur land, but who has not acquired a right of occupancy, is liable to pay such rent for his holding as may be agreed on between him and his landlord, irrespective of the provisions of s 43 of the Act. JAHANDAR BAKSH MALLIK v. RAM LAL HAZRAH (1910)

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 449

Rent in kind—Enhancement of rent by addition of a rent-in-kind—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 29 S 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies even where a money rent is enhanced by the addition of a rent in kind. KISHORI MONDOL BOSE v. SHEIKH USIR (1910)

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 610

Prevailing rate of rent—Occupancy rayats—Enhancement of rent—Proof of rise in price of staple food-crops, how ascertained and Court's duty in the matter—Prevailing rate for similar land in same or neighbouring villages with same advantages—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 29, 30, 32, 39 In a suit for enhancement of rent under s 30 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, it is the duty of the Court to refer to the price lists prepared under s 39, whether the parties to the suit produce these or not. It is right and proper that the Civil Court, in directing a local investigation under s 31 (d) should indicate to the officer holding the investigation what it is that the Court precisely requires. Where the Court is satisfied that all the rent in the village should be excluded from consideration in finding out the prevailing rate in the village, because it is fixed in a mode which contravenes the provisions of s 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, then an enquiry should be directed which will bring to light the prevailing rate of rent paid by occupancy rayats for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the neighbouring villages. NABIN CHANDRA SHAN v. KULA CHANDRA DHAR (1910)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—contd.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 742

Contract between landlord and tenant—Right to enhance rent—Expression "putai taluk" whether imports fixity of rent—Hereditary tenure whether implies fixity of rent—Evidence of conduct when admissible In a lease granted in 1823, there was a clause as follows— "I (tenant) shall pay the annual rent of Rs 175 8 as 12 gds year by year and month by month as per dowl in the has taluk." In another clause it was stated "I shall continue to be in enjoyment, down to my sons, grandsons, etc., on receipt of the talukdars rents according to custom on account of tanks, bheries, etc., lying in the village." The landlord in a proceeding under s 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act alleged that the rent was enhanceable while the tenants contended that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. Held—That unless the landlord is precluded from the exercise of the right of enhancing rent by a contract binding on him or the lands in question can be brought within one of the exemptions recognized by Bengal Reg VIII of 1793 he may be presumed to have the right of enhancing rents. Bama Sundari v. Radhika Chowdhram, 13 M I A 248 (1869), followed. Held—The expression putai taluk in the contract did not import that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. The mere fact that a tenure is hereditary does not show that rent of the tenure has been fixed in perpetuity. In the present case although there were expressions which showed that the tenure was mawrasli there was nothing to show it was intended to be makurisi. Tarnacev Watson, 12 W R 413 (1869) and The Port Canning and Land Improvement Co. Ltd v S M Kalyanas Deb, 1 L R 47 Calc 280 s c 24 C W N 369 (P C) (1919), distinguished. Held also—If the terms of the contract are ambiguous the rights of the parties may be determined with reference to the conduct of the parties but in any case where the terms are unambiguous no evidence can be given of the conduct of the parties in contravention of the terms of the contract. Hebbert v Purchase, L R 3 P C 605 (650) (1871) and N E Railway v Hastings, [1900] A C 260 (263) referred to. BRUPENDRA CHANDRA SIKOH v. HARINATH CHAKRA VARTY 24 C. W. N. 874

In a suit for rent at an enhanced rate on the ground of additional lands it is sufficient if the landlord can establish that since the creation of the tenancy rent has been assessed and when last assessed it was on the basis of a certain area and that defendants are in possession of land on which no rent was assessed at the time. DURGAPATTA CHOI DEVI v. NAYRA GAIN AND ORS 25 C. W. N. 204

FORFEITURE.

See BOMBAY RENT ACT, 1918, ss 3, 9 AND 12. I. L. R. 45 POND. 535

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (TITLE)

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT.

Forfeiture clause contained in a decree—Execution proceeding—Power of the Court to grant relief. The principle that Courts of equity will not forego their power to grant relief against forfeiture in the case of non payment of rent where the relations of the parties are those of landlord and tenant, merely on the ground that the agreement between them is embodied in a decree of the Court applies alike to a suit to enforce a decree and to proceedings in execution. Krishnaiah v Hari I L R 31 Bom 15 explained. Balambhat v Vinayak Ganpatray (1910)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.FORFEITURE—contd.

I L R. 35 Bom. 239

Lease before Transfer of Property Act IV of 1882 forfeiture of—Suit for ejectment by landlord, maintainability of with out subsequent act evincing intention to forfeit—Waiver—Claim for rent in suit for ejectment does not amount to waiver. Under the law applicable to leases before the Transfer of Property Act forfeiture is incurred when the denial of title occurs, any subsequent act of the landlord electing to take advantage of the forfeiture is not a condition precedent to the right of action for ejectment. The bringing by the landlord of a suit for ejectment is simply a mode of manifesting his election. Where a tenant holding under a lease prior to the Transfer of Property Act denies the title of his landlord, the landlord can maintain a suit for ejectment without having done prior to the suit, any act evincing his intention to determine the lease. A claim for rent in the suit for ejectment will not amount to a waiver of the forfeiture. The election to forfeit is complete and irrevocable when the suit for ejectment is instituted. Venkatarama Dhalu v Comandaras I L R 31 Mad 403 considered. Padmanabhaya v Ranga (1910)

I L R. 34 Mad 161

Relationship of Landlord and tenant denied in previous rent suit, if can be urged in subsequent suit—Res in locata—Forfeiture of property for denial of landlord's title under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885). Where in a suit for rent the defendants denied the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant and got an adjudication to that effect, in a suit subsequently brought by the landlord for his possession of the land on a declaration of his title. Held, that the question as to the relationship of landlord and tenant between the parties was res judicata and the defendant could not assert his title as tenant in such suit. Debiruddi v Abdur Rahim, I L R 17 Cal 196, Dhara Kaur v Ram Jewan, I L R 20 Cal 101, Mallika Das v Matham Lal Chowdhry 9 C W N 923, distinguished. Serikhi Abadkar v Rajani Kanta, 14 C W N 339, referred to. Ekambhar Shrinivasa v Hara Bawa (1910)

15 C W. N. 335

Landlord and Tenant—Ejectment—Recorded Tenant—Effect of denial of tenancy by him on his unrecorded co sharer—Forfeiture. In a suit for ejectment based on the ground of forfeiture by reason of the denial of the landlord's title, it was found that the denial was by the recorded tenant and not by his unrecorded co sharer in the tenancy: Held, that a person representing the tenancy in the books of the landlord, was entitled to bind his co sharers for the purposes of the tenancy; but when he repudiated the tenancy, he must be taken to have acted beyond the scope of his authority; his disclaimer

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.FORFEITURE—contd.

consequently, could not operate as a forfeiture of the tenancy. Pitendrabh Kichore Mahikya v Bhuraneswari (1912) I L R. 39 Cal. 903

In order that a denial of landlord's title should work a forfeiture three things are necessary (1) the tenant must set up title either in himself or a third party inconsistent with the mutual relationship; (2) the denial must be direct and unequivocal and not casual and (3) it must be made to the knowledge of the landlord. Kizhakkankuthi Kernaloot v Pulikkalakkuthi Mahamed I L R. 41 Mad 629

Forfeiture of lease by non payment of rent—Relief against forfeiture only on payment of all arrears of rent though barred by limitation—Transfer of Property Act, s 114. Under s. 114 of the Transfer of Property Act a tenant can be relieved against forfeiture of lease incurred by non payment of rent only on payment of all arrears of rent, including such as may be barred by limitation, together with such interest as might be legally due thereon. Example. The arrears of rent so payable will probably be limited to twelve years. Varaddeva Udaya v Krishna Udaya (1921) I L R. 44 Mad. 629

A permanent tenancy governed by the transfer of Property Act, 1882, is determinable by denial of the landlord's title. Bidyā Nath v Kumbhanda Koor

1 Pat L J. 152

GROVE LANDSee GROVE LAND

Rights of tenants with regard to groves—Custom—Hajib ul-arz—Construction of document—Malik. The Hajib ul-arz of a village contained the following provision as to grove land:—Persons who have planted a grove and who are in possession of a grove have the rights of an owner (ikhtiyar mulikana). If any trees fall down they can plant fresh trees without the permission of the zamindar. When the land becomes denuded of all trees the planter of the grove will have the first right to cultivate the land. Held, that these provisions implied a right of transfer in the possessor of grove land. Muhammad Yasin v Ilahi Bakhsh (1912)

I L R. 34 All. 545

HYPOTHECATION

Tenant in possession without a patta—Suit to enforce hypothecation of property as security for rent. Held, that a hypothecation of other property by certain tenants as security for their rent was none the less enforceable because, though the tenants had executed a gubali in respect of the land held by them, no patta had been executed by the landlords in their favour. Sheo Karon Singh v Maharaja Parshu Narain Singh I L R 31 All 276, referred to. Emi Krishan Das v Yakub Khan (1913)

I L R. 35 All 505

IMPROVEMENTS

Tenancy determination—Improvement, non removal of during tenancy—Right to them or their value after determination of tenancy—Transfer of Property Act (IV of

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*IMPROVEMENTS—contd

1882), s 108 (A) The plaintiff's husband took a house site on lease from the predecessor in title of the first defendant in 1883. After 1883 and before 1st May 1898 the plaintiff built a house thereon to the knowledge of the landlord and the lease was renewed by the first defendant on 1st May 1898 in plaintiff's favour who thereby agreed to vacate the land on a month's notice. While the plaintiff was in possession under that lease, the first defendant filed a suit in ejectment in the Small Cause Court, Madras, and though the present plaintiff then set up the claim now advanced, viz, a right to the superstructure built by her or its value, she was ordered without the determination of the right set up by her, to deliver possession of the land on or before the 26th February 1907, and on her failure to do so the first defendant was put in possession on that date. On the 1st August following, the first defendant gave the plaintiff notice to remove the superstructure within a fortnight. She did not do so but in 1908 instituted the present suit for (a) a declaration that she was the owner of the house built by her and for its possession or (b) in the alternative to be paid compensation for it or (c) if that was not granted, to be allowed to remove the superstructure. WALLIS, J., holding that the plaintiff was not entitled to any of the reliefs demanded the suit. Held on appeal, confirming the judgment of WALLIS, J. (SANKARAN NAIR, J., dissenting), that the plaintiff was not entitled to any of the reliefs asked for. Held by the Court, that the landlord was not estopped from disputing the plaintiff's right if any by the mere fact that the house was erected with his knowledge and without any protest by him. Held (WHITE, C. J., dissenting), that the tenant was, for the purpose of removing her superstructure, entitled to a reasonable time after the determination of the tenancy whether it is by act of parties or by the order of Court. Held by MILLER, J., that the tenant having been given ample time to remove the building after giving up possession through the Court she was not entitled to any further time. Per WHITE, C. J.—s 108, clause (A) of the Transfer of Property Act governed the case and the tenant was not entitled to remove the buildings after the termination of the tenancy. Per SANKARAN NAIR, J.—s 108 of the Transfer of Property Act is only an enabling section and it did not take away the pre-existing right of the tenant to compensation or to remove building even after the termination of the tenancy if he is not given compensation. The new lease having recognized the tenant's ownership in the house the plaintiff's ownership thereto cannot be defeated by her failure to remove the house within a reasonable time and as such failure cannot effect a transfer of ownership, all that the landlord was entitled to was an option to retain the building and pay compensation for it or to restore the land to its old condition by removing the building and claim damages. Per MILLER, J. The recognition by the landlord for the period of the new tenancy, of the tenant's property in the building has no other necessary effect than to prevent the landlord from treating the building as having been surrendered to him at the end of the previous term and it was only a piece of evidence of a contract to allow the removable fixture to remain as such upon the land for the new term. Ismael Awan Escheran v. Nazareth Sahib, I. L. R.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*IMPROVEMENTS—concl'd

27 Mad 211 referred to English and Indian Case Law on the subject, considered AKGAMMAL v. ASLAMU SAHIB (1913). I. L. R. 38 Mad. 710

INAM LANDS

Inam Register—Object of mentioning the tax payable for the land—Inam authorities, duties of—Right of melvaramdor to trees in case of lands which were topos at the Inam Settlement In cases where the holding of a tenant was at the time of the Inam Settlement and has subsequently been a tope consisting of trees the melvaramdor has a right to a portion of the value of the trees and the ryot is not entitled to cut them down for his sole appropriation, the portion due to melvaramdor being determinable according to the evidence. The incidents of the tenure of a tenant under an inamdor are governed by the law applicable to landlord and tenant and not by the Inam patta or the Inam Register whose object in mentioning the tax payable by the tenant was only to enable the Inam authorities to fix the quit rent payable to Government by the Inamdor. Bodda Godeppa v. The Maharaja of Vizianagram, I. L. R. 30 Mad 155. Rangayya Appa Rao v. Kadiyala Ratnam I. L. R. 13 Mad 219. Ayyarar v. Narathana I. L. R. 15 Mad 47. Narayana Iyyengar v. Orr I. L. R. 26 Mad 252 and Kalarla Abayya v. Raja Venkata Pappayya Rao I. L. R. 29 Mad 24, distinguished. SRI RAJAGOPALASWAMI TELLEP v. JAGANNADHA PAUDYAN (1913). I. L. R. 38 Mad. 165

INJUNCTION

House in abeyance—Well sunk by tenant inside his house—Mandatory injunction—Discretion of Court In this the High Court refused to grant a mandatory injunction at the suit of the zamindar for the removal of a well recently constructed inside their lease by tenants of a house in a town the position of the tenant's being that they and their predecessors in title had paid no rent for generations and were only liable to ejectment in the event of the site occupied by them being cleared of buildings. BRAGWAN DAS v. MOHAMMAD YAHIA (1913). I. L. R. 35 All. 292

INTEREST

Oral agreement containing stipulation to pay excessive rate of interest—Assurance by landlord at the time of execution of kahalayat that contract would not be enforced, effect of, on the document—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s 52, prov 1 A kahalayat for a period of one year provided that on default of payment of rent the arrears would carry interest at 75 per cent per annum. The tenant held over after one year. On a suit for rent on the basis of the kahalayat the tenant pleaded that before the kahalayat was executed by him, the landlord assured him that the covenant for payment of interest at 75 per cent would not be enforced. This allegation was found to be true. Held, that under the circumstances the kahalayat was not the real agreement between the parties, having been induced by fraudulent misrepresentation, and the tenant was not liable to pay interest claimed on the basis of the kahalayat. s 52, Prov 1 of the Evidence Act referred to. NADIA CHAND BAKA v. ERENDEBA CHANDRA DUTT (1915).

20 C. W. K. 1067

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd LEASE

1. ———— Trees—Kaimi lease—Lease created before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Trees planted after lease—Right of removal of trees by tenant—Fixtures, doctrine of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 23—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 2, 108 (A) In the absence of any special provision in a lease granted before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) came into force, the property in the trees planted by the lessee after a kaimi lease had been granted does not vest in the landlord. The rule laid down in s. 108 cl. (A) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) has no application to such a case. The lease in the present case not being for agricultural or horticultural purpose s. 23 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application. The doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures cannot be appropriately extended to this country on equitable grounds. Dain v Brand, 1 App Cas 762, Mears v Callender [1901] 2 Ch 335. Ehara v Mao, 2 Smith's Leading Cases 189 3 Last 38. Noss v Parard 2 Piers 137, referred to. The Law of Fixtures is not recognized under the Hindu or Mahomedan laws. Thakoor Chunder Paramanik v Ramdhona Bhattacharjee, 6 W P 228, R L R F B 595. Secretary of State v Charlesworth Pilling & Co 1 L R 26 Bom 1. Khadodee ram Serna v Trilochan, 1 Mac. Sel Rep 35. Jankee Singh v Bihloore Singh (1856) 1 Beng 3 D A 761, Pogose v Nymnatoolah, (1855) Beng 8 D A 1517, Brij Bhooluk v Dabee Dyal, (1865) 2 Agr S D A 430. Kalee Parashad Dutt v Gourree Parashad Dutt, 5 W R 103 relied upon. Before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act, the doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures did not prevail in this country, and the provisions of that Act substantially reproduced the law on this subject as recognised by Hindu and Mahomedan jurisprudence. Inna Kani Rautkhan v Nararah Sahib, 1 I R 27 Mad. 211, referred to. MORRIS SURIKHE RASIK LAL GHOSH (1910) 1 L R. 37 Cal 815

2. ———— Sarbarahari jamal lease—Construction—Intermediate tenure if can be created between proprietary and patta interests Where a pottah recited that a sarbarahari jamal settlement had been taken from the zemindar at a certain annual rental and continued "I hereby confer upon you all the powers I had to realise the rents, etc., payable by the pottahdars. . . . By virtue of these powers you shall be competent to sue those pottahdars in my behalf and using my name. . . . I have executed am mukar namahs in your favour . . . lest your applications . . . be not accepted by the Collector." Held, upon a construction of the pottah, that it did not create any interest in land as that of a tenure holder but only a personal obligation between the grantor and the grantee. Scoble. A zemindar cannot create a permanent tenure between his own interest and patta taluk of the first degree. BIDI JABAO KHAMBI SARABAR HANIFUDDIN ARAND (1909) . 14 C. W. N. 389

3. ———— Mokurnai pottah, construction of—Conflict between area and boundaries—Landlord and tenant. It is only when the boundaries of a land can be ascertained with perfect certainty that an intention to convey all lands comprised within those boundaries can be inferred, if the boundaries are uncertain the intention should be taken to be to convey the specified quantity of land within those boundaries. Held, upon a construction of the pottah in the case, that the dimensions specified were an essential part of the description of the land conveyed and not a cumulative description of it which was to be governed by the boundaries. Held, further, that in the circumstances of the case the intention should be inferred to have been to pass the specified quantity of land only. Daniel Herrick v Garret Surby, L R 1 P & A 436, Mellor v Holmesley, (1905) 2 Ch. 161, referred to. KUMAR RAMESHAR MAJIA v RAMTARAK HAZRA (1909) . 14 C. W. N. 268

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd LEASE—contd

4. ———— Rent in kind and in default a fixed price—Payable, if landlord can recover more than price specified—Money value put down for purposes of registration—Object of may be proved—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 92—Oral agreement to vary written contract, if admissible. Where a kabulyat, provided for the payment of rent partly in money and partly in kind and further provided that if the tenant neglected to pay the rent the landlord would be entitled to recover a certain sum as the price of paddy deliverable. Held, that, upon a true construction of the kabulyat, the landlords would be entitled to realise only the amount stated in the kabulyat as the price of the paddy on the failure of the tenants to deliver it. Evidence to show that the money value was put in only for the purpose of registration and that thus the real intention of the parties was to realise the current price of paddy would be evidence of an oral agreement to contradict or substantially vary the terms of a written contract which is not admissible under s. 92 of the Evidence Act. Lakshailala Sheikh v Bismambhar Roy 6 Ind Cas 577 2 Ind Cas 169, referred to. Nokhot Ali v Abdool Ali, 3 C W N 151, Dipra Charan v Suchand Roy, 14 C W N 422211, Baneswar Mukerjee v Umesh Chandra Chakravarti, 14 C W N 422212, not followed. Saikh Isahaf v Gopal Chandra Das, 14 C W N 42210, referred to. AFARI SURJIA KUMAR GHOSH (1910) . 15 C W. N. 249

5. ———— Raiyati surpesghi and others—Cultivation of Indigo—Acquisition for right of occupancy—Nature of holding—Zerast, khudkashi and private land of landlord—Notice to quit on expiry of lease—Suit to recover land leased—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 5, cl. (5) and s. 116—Raiyat—Tenure holder. The appellants (plaintiffs) were the proprietors of the village of Balipara Paraman and the owners of the Halibari Indigo Concern (the predecessors in title of the respondent, defendant) and the respondent himself had been their tenants under various leases (*raiya*it, surpesghi and others) since 1837 for the cultivation of indigo. To a suit brought to recover two areas of land of 155 bighas and 25 bighas respectively, on the ground that the latest leases (of 21st October 1891 and 10th February 1892) under which they were respectively held, had expired, the respondent pleaded as to the larger area that he had acquired occupancy rights, and that even assuming he had not acquired such right a notice to quit was necessary under s. 45 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) before he could be ejected. The latter defence alone was set up as to the smaller area. The Subordinate Judge held, on the construction of the various leases, that the larger area was the appellants' private land in respect of which therefore (within the meaning of s 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act) the respondent, could not acquire a right of occupancy and (acting on the presumption under s 5, cl (5) of the Act, and on an admission that the smaller area was the private land of the appellants) be decided that the respondent was a tenure holder and not a raiyat in respect of all the land in suit, and that he could be ejected without notice to quit. The High Court on appeal reversed that decision, holding as to the larger area that the presumption under s 5, cl (5) of the Act had been rebutted, and that respondent was a raiyat and not a tenure holder, and (notwithstanding the admission) came to a similar conclusion as to the smaller area, and decided that the respondent had acquired rights of occupancy in both areas of land, and a notice to quit was necessary before ejectment. Held (by the Judicial Committee) that on the construction of the leases and under the circumstances of the case the High Court had rightly decided as to the larger area, but were wrong in going behind the admission made as to the smaller area. Bengal Indigo Company v. Raghobur Das, 1 L R 21 Cal 272, L R 23 I. A 158, distinguished, on the ground that in that case there was no finding of fact to rebut the presumption under s 5, cl (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. DANODAR NARAYAN CHOWDHURI v. DALALISH (1911). L. L. R. 33 Cal. 432

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*LEASE—contd.

8. ——— Sub-lease—Avoidance of lease—Vacant possession—Holding over—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1932), s 108 The plaintiffs were lessees of a godown for one year from 1st April 1909, at a monthly rent. From 1st May 1909 they sublet it on the same terms for the remainder of their lease to the defendant who used it for storing bags of sugar. On 5th December the godown was partially destroyed by fire, and a quantity of sugar therein considerably damaged. The defendant's insurers came in to take charge of the salvage, but soon after sold the remains of the sugar to G M, and the latter then took possession, and continued in possession, storing the sugar until 16th February 1909. Meanwhile on 10th December the plaintiff had written to the landlord advising him of the fire and of their termination of the lease in consequence. The landlord, however, insisted on their liability to pay rent until such time as vacant possession should be given to him. The defendant, in answer to a bill for rent, wrote to the plaintiffs to the effect that he had terminated his lease on account of the fire and would not pay more than the proportionate rent for the first 5 days of December. As however, vacant possession was not given until 16th February (on which day G M went out of possession), the plaintiffs sued the defendant for rent and for use and occupation. Held, that the plaintiffs could not exercise their option to terminate the lease until they put the landlord into possession. If the avoidance of the lease under s 108 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1932) was effectual without surrender of vacant possession, the plaintiffs by failing to give vacant possession were holding over after the termination of their lease and were liable for rent under an implied monthly tenancy on the same terms as before. If the avoidance was ineffectual, the lease continued until put an end to by mutual consent. Held, further, that the abandonment to the insurers by the defendant was effected for his benefit, and in the absence of evidence that the insurers and their vendee G M kept the sugar in the godown in spite of protest by the defendant, the latter (as between the plaintiff and the defendant) must be taken to have been in occupation either under his original tenancy or under a similar one resulting from his holding over. SIDICK HAJI HOSEIN v. BRUEL & Co (1910). L. L. R. 35 Bom. 233

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*LEASE—contd.

7. ——— Amalnamah—Construction of—A present demise or an agreement to make a future demise, a question of intention—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 10, 72, 155, 178, sub s (1), cl 8—Waste land—Notice if necessary to terminate a lease of—Lessee of waste lands if may be ejected except in execution of decree—Registered lease, omission of the landlord to give, if effects tenants' position The question whether an instrument made a present or merely an agreement to make a future demise must depend upon the paramount intention of the parties. Parmanan Das v. Dharey Virji, 1 L R 10 Bom 101, Jones v. Reynolds, L R 1 Q B 506, 516, Chapman v. Townner, 6 M & W 100, 104, referred to. Where an amalnamah granted in 1313 recited that the defendant had applied for a mowasi mohurari chuldari lease from the plaintiff and that in anticipation of the execution of a proper lease the plaintiff had agreed to place the defendant in possession of the land on certain conditions viz. that out of Rs 2 000 payable as premium Rs 500 would be paid in Magh 1311 and the remainder by three equal annual instalments, that in default of such payment the amalnamah would stand cancelled and cease to be operative and that in 1312 and 1313 the lands should be held rent free and that rent at specified rates would be payable in respect of the lands in subsequent years and the instrument further provided that in 1312 the defendant would bring under cultivation 200 bighas of land and that the whole would be brought under cultivation in 1313 and that in the event of a failure to cultivate the lands in 1312 and 1313 the grantor would be at liberty to re-enter and settle the land with other tenants. — Held, that there was a present demise by the amalnamah and not an agreement to make a future demise. See Semle. The position of the tenant under such circumstances would not in substance be affected by the failure of the landlords to execute a registered lease in favour of the tenant. Bibi Jawahar Kumari v. Chatterput Singh, 2 C L J 343. Singharam v. Iqbalat Harder, 11 C L J 543 referred to. Held, that s. 178 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not operate to make s 155 of the Act inapplicable to the case of a tenant of waste lands, who cannot therefore be ejected without notice under s. 155 being served on him. Held, further, that under s 178 sub s. (1), cl (8) read with s 89 and s 10, the landlord had no right to eject the tenant in the circumstances of the case except in execution of a decree. CHAMPALATIKA MITRA v. NARAYAN CHANDRA PAL CHOWHRY (1910). 15 C. W. N. 538

8. ——— "Protected Interests"—Transfer of Property Act (VIII of 1885), s 160 (g) The plaintiff had under a sub-lease granted by G, who held under a permanent lease granted by B, a leasehold under a permanent lease granted by P. The lease given by P to B authorized B to grant sub-leases. Held, that the right and interest of G, and therefore of the plaintiffs, are "protected interests," and are not such as can be interfered with by a purchaser under the Bengal Tenancy Act AFAZUDDI KHAN v PRASAD GAIN (1911) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 138

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*LEASE—contd.

9. — Mistake in Lease—Landlord and Tenant Where a comparatively small portion of the demised lands was found to have originally belonged to the lessee and to have been included in the lease by mutual mistake Held, that the whole lease should not be set aside but that there should be an apportionment of rent for the remaining land RAMONI DAS v MATHEA MONON DEY (1912) 18 C W N. 606

10. — Denial of Title—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 116—Estoppel A purporting to be dhammarika of a temple gave a lease of the temple properties to B. During the tenancy, C and not A was declared, in a separate suit, to be the rightful dhammarika. B had not attorned to nor been evicted by C. Held, that the tenancy had not been determined and that in a suit by A for rent, B was estopped by s. 116, Indian Evidence Act, from denying A's title DEVALAJI v MAHAMED JAFFER SAKIB (1913)

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 53

11. — Tenancy at will—Lease until lease requires or wishes—Tenancy at will on both sides A lease by which the lessee is to hold for such time as they require or wish is a tenancy at the will of the lessee which in law is a tenancy at the will of the lessor also Coko on Littleton, page 51 (a), and Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol. 18, page 431, referred to. MAVIRA v CHINNAIPA (1913) I. L. R. 36 Mad. 557

12. — *Lease of land for mining coal—Description in kabulyat given in bighas and boundaries specified in schedule—Area of land delivered found less than area stated in kabulyat—Claim to abatement of rent in respect of deficiency—Onus on tenant to prove right to reduction of rent—Construction of kabulyat—Negotiations leading to contract and other extraneous evidence inadmissible in evidence* This appeal arose out of a suit for Rs. 23,868 as arrears of rent, cesses and interest under a mokarrari mauza khabulyat dated 3rd December 1891 (1301) executed by the respondent on behalf of himself and his co-sharers (the other respondents) in favour of the predecessor in title of the appellant for the right of coal mining under "400 bighas of land" in mauzah Dolari in Manbhumi (the boundaries of the area leased being specified in a schedule to the kabulyat) at a rental of Rs. 2,800 a year which the kabulyat stated "shall never on any account be varied." The land within the boundaries specified in the schedule was not measured at any time, or if measured it was not shown what the measurement was in bighas. The defence, so far as material, was mainly that the respondents had been given possession of the mining rights under an area less than 400 bighas of land, and were therefore entitled to an abatement of the rent in respect of the deficiency; that by an injunction made in 1902 in a suit brought by the appellant, the rights of the respondents to work coal underneath the land leased to them was restricted to an area of 275 bighas, and they tendered rent at a reduced rate which the appellant refused to accept. The rent had been reduced in 1898 (1305) by the original lessor on the ground that the coal taken out was of inferior quality, and rent had been paid at the reduced rate for 2 years, but the document witnessing the reduction had not been registered, and was therefore inadmissible in evidence. On the construction of the kabulyat the appellant contended that the respondents were entitled only to the coal underneath such quantity of land as was contained within the boundaries given in the schedule, and the contention of the respondents was that they were entitled to the coal underneath the full quantity of 400 bighas of land. Both Courts below found that 400 bighas of land had been demised, but the Subordinate Judge, while finding that the respondents were in possession of only 316 bighas, held that they were not entitled to any abatement of rent in respect of the deficiency. The High Court disregarded the description of the land by boundaries, but found on the evidence in the former suit that the respondents had only been in possession of 275 bighas, and held that they were entitled to a proportionate abatement of the rent fixed by the kabulyat. Held (reversing the decrees of the Courts in India), that the question as to what had been demised in 1894 turned on the true construction of the kabulyat which could not be varied by extraneous evidence as to the negotiations which led up to the contract, or by evidence showing that within the boundaries specified in the kabulyat there was not 400 bighas of land. Held further, that there was no reliable and admissible evidence to prove that the original lessor ever bound himself permanently to accept a reduced rent, and the fact that he did so for some years was consistent with the reduction having been a mere voluntary and temporary abatement. It was for the respondents to make out a case for the abatement of the rent but they had not proved how many bighas were contained in the area of mauzah Dolari within the boundaries specified in the schedule to the kabulyat, nor had they proved the area in bighas within those boundaries of which they were put in possession. They had not proved, otherwise than by the action of the Subordinate Judge on the former suit in granting an injunction in the form in which it was granted and by their neglect to appeal from that decree that they had been deprived of the right to work any coal which otherwise they would have been entitled to work under the demise, and the injunction as granted gave them no right which they could enforce by suit or of which they could avail themselves as a defence to a suit for the fixed rent, they had in fact wholly failed to prove any facts which would entitle them to any abatement of the rent fixed by the kabulyat. The tenders based on a reduced rent were therefore not good, and were ineffective, and the appellant was entitled to a decree for the amount sued for, less the costs of the former suit. DURGAPRASAD SINGH v RAJENDRA NARAYAN BAOGHI (1913)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*LEASE—contd.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 453

13. — Clause allowing removal of fixtures—After expiry of lease, if a renewal clause—Not a lease—Notice of terms of a lease—Estoppel—Ouster Terms in a lease giving the lessee, if unwilling at the end of the term to take a fresh settlement, the right to take away the fixtures put on the land cannot operate as a covenant under which the lessee could comp-

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdLEASE—contd.

the lessor to grant a fresh term. SARAT CHANDRA MUKHOPADHYAY : RAJENDRA LAL MITRA (1913)
18 C. W. N. 420

14. — Nim-howla lease—Stipulation as, against voluntary alienation by tenant to person other than landlord—Purchase of tenure by stranger at sale in execution of money decree—Purchaser acquires good title—Landlord if can sue original tenant for rent and obtain decree binding on tenure The plaintiff purchased at an execution sale the right, title and interest of the tenants in a nim howla tenure. Notwithstanding the purchase by the plaintiff which was duly notified to the landlord, the latter brought a suit for rent against the tenants and obtained a decree. The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that this decree was not binding on him and that the tenure in his hands was not liable to be sold in execution thereof. The lease which created the nim howla provided as follows: "Let it be known that if you find it necessary to transfer the nim howla tenure, you will transfer it to me for proper price. You will not be at liberty to transfer it to any person other than myself. If you transfer it to any other person, such transfer will be invalid." Held, that there being no covenant against involuntary alienations and no covenant for re-entry, the plaintiff acquired a good title by his purchase and consequently it was not open to the landlord to sue the original tenants with a view to obtain a decree whereby he could proceed against the tenure in the hands of the plaintiff. PROMODE KANJAN GHOSH v ASWINI KUMAR NAG (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1138

15. — Covenant against alienation—Permanent lease of agricultural land—Covenant against alienation, voluntary as well as involuntary, with proviso for re-entry, if enforceable—Purchaser, if must be notified by lessor of intention to determine lease, before suit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 155, Sch III, cl (1), if applies—Limitation—Mortgage by lessee, sale in execution, purchase by mortgagee—Mortgagee if trespasser. A permanent lease of agricultural land contained a covenant against sale, gift, mortgage, etc., by the lessees with a proviso for re-entry in case the land was transferred or sold by auction. The lessees having mortgaged the land, the mortgagees sued on his mortgage and in execution of the decree obtained therein had the holding sold and purchased it himself and got possession through Court on 23rd November 1898. The original lessees continued in possession of a portion of the land under a sub-lease from the purchaser. Plaintiffs who proved their right to a 12 annas share in the interest of the landlord sued the purchaser and the original lessees for ejectment on 20th March 1908. The lower Courts having decreed the suit, the purchaser only preferred this second appeal. Held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover (joint) possession to the extent of their 12 annas interest, the defendant being a trespasser and the suit which was governed by Art 142 of Sch I of the Limitation Act having been instituted within time. Per SANDERSON, C. J.—The assignment was not ad inritum, as the execution sale was directly due to the voluntary act of the lessees. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—A covenant for re-entry by the landlord upon an involuntary sale is valid in

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdLEASE—contd

India as in England. Per CURHAM—That in the absence of any act of the Plaintiffs recognising the purchaser as a tenant, he was in the position of a trespasser and neither s. 165 nor cl (2) to Sch III of the Bengal Tenancy Act applied to the case. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—Where a covenant against alienation is coupled with a proviso for re-entry, the landlord is not limited to the reliefs by injunction or damages. That as the tenancy was of agricultural lands, s. 111, Transfer of Property Act, did not apply, and the suit was not bad because the plaintiffs did not previously notify their election to enforce the proviso. The institution of the suit itself was a sufficient manifestation of the option to treat the lease as determined. DWARKA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY v MATHURA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY (1916)

21 C. W. N. 117

16. — Option of renewal—Written notice in exercise of option to be given within time specified in Indenture—Oral arrangement—Modification or rescission of covenant for renewal—Admissibility of evidence—Waiver—Estoppel—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss 91, 92 (proviso 4), 115 An Indenture of lease contained a covenant for renewal of the lease whereby if the lessee desired to renew the lease he should give 3 months' notice in writing of his intention to do so. The lessee, however, failed to observe this covenant and relied on an oral statement or agreement between himself and his lessors for renewal of the lease. Held, that there was no waiver. Held, also, that the oral statement or agreement amounted to either a modification or a rescission within the meaning of s. 92, proviso 4, of the Evidence Act, and evidence of such oral statement or agreement was not admissible. Held, also, that there was no representation of a thing with the meaning of s. 115 of the Evidence Act and consequently no estoppel. MARK DEBEZ v JITENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE (1910) . I. L. R. 48 Cal 1077

17. — Non-delivery of possession of entire land demised—Rent, suspension of, for non delivery Where the landlord, having let out a portion of a land to an earlier lessee, lets it out again with other lands to a subsequent lessee, and fails to deliver to the subsequent lessee possession of the entire land leased to him, the entire rent is suspended. Neale v Mackenzie, 1 M & W 747, 46 R R 478, and Smith v. Raleigh, 3 Camp 513, 14 R R 829, followed Stoles v Cooper, 3 Camp 514n, 14 R R 829n, and Annada Prosad Mukhopadhyay v Mathura Nath Nag Mazumdar, 13 O W N 702, distinguished MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI : NARENDRA CHANDRA LAHIRI (1919)

I. L. R. 46 Cal. 956

18. — Right of pre-emption—of leasehold right—Clauses of forfeiture of lease and right to re-enter on breach of covenant—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 74, applicability of—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss 111 (g) and 117, applicability of—Relief against forfeiture, whether grantable Where a mutagen lease provided for previous notice to the lessor in case of any intended sale or mortgage of the leasehold interest by the lessee and for forfeiture of lease and re-entry on breach of the covenant. Held, that s. 74 of the Indian Contract Act did not apply, that Courts had no power to relieve against the forfeiture and that the lessor was entitled to possession on breach of the covenant; Held, further, that by reason of the prohibition in s. 117 of the Transfer of Property Act, s. 111 (g) of the Act did not in terms apply but that the principles of the Courts of Equity embodied in s. 111 (g) applied to the case. KALISHA SHETTY v. GILBERT LINTO (1910).

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.LEASE—contd.

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 654

MINERAL RIGHTS.

Permanent tenure of an agricultural character—Underground rights not mentioned in lease—Minerals under surface of land—Rights of Zemindar—Onus of proof—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 103, 117. The question for decision in this case, whether certain Goswamis, the abhants of an idol and lessors of a village in the zamindari of the appellant, the Rajah of Pachete, had under their lease which had been granted by a predecessor in title of the appellant about 60 years ago, acquired any rights to the minerals beneath the surface of the village which they could have transmitted to the respondents who claimed to hold under them. There was no document or evidence defining the terms of the lease to the Goswamis. Two decrees in favour of the Rajah for the payment of an annual rent of Rs. 22 15 6 by the Goswamis were put in, in one of which they were described as "cultivators" and in the other as "british holders." There was no evidence whatever that the Rajah had ever granted mineral rights in the village to the Goswamis or to any other person. Both the Courts in fact found that the village was a mof (rent paying) village of the zamindari of the Rajah, and that no prescriptive right had been proved by the respondents to any underground rights in the village. The High Court held that the zamindar had created a permanent tenure of an agricultural character, and that the tenure-holder would possess all underground rights in the absence of express reservation by the zamindar. Held, by the Judicial Committee (reversing that decision), that the title of the zamindar Rajah to the village being established he must be presumed to the owner of the underground rights appertaining thereto in the absence of evidence that he had parted with them, and no such evidence had been produced. Principles of Bengal Regulations, Introduction, page 36, referred to. In the case of leases under the existing law of 1882 (the Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882 s. 103), no right arises for a lessee to work mines not open when the lease was granted. HARI NARAYAN SINGH DEO v. SRI RAM CHAKRAVARTI (1910).

I. L. R. 37 Cal. 723

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.MINERAL RIGHTS—contd.

terms of the lease should not be presumed to own the underground rights. Atkaram v. Shyama (Atkaram, I L R 35 Cal. 1003, 14 C. W. N. 1; Shyam Choud v. Jam Karam, 15 C. W. N. 417; Shama Choud v. Atkaram, I L R 33 Cal. 511, 10 C. W. N. 735, 37 Leg. Lal v. Raj Kumar, I L R 34 Cal. 355; 11 C. W. N. 527. Proprietorship case v. Durga Prasad, I L R 34 Cal. 751; 12 C. W. N. 193. Sriman v. Hari Narain, I L R. 33 Cal. 51, 10 C. W. N. 425 referred to. Where the original grant was that of a permanent tenure, the fact that subsequently the tenure was merely split up into more than one would not affect the permanent character of the tenancies. Edy Chandra Agru v. Arjendra Narayan Bhup. I L R 36 Cal. 257, 33 C. W. N. 410 distinguished. JOTI KARNAD SINGH DEO v. GEORGE WATKINS DAWY (1911).

16 C. W. N. 242

The grantee of a permanent or heritable tenure at fixed rent or rent free from a Zamindar is not entitled to the minerals in the absence of express provision to that effect. RAGUNATH ROY v. PAJA OF JHERIA.

23 C. W. N. 514

Mining lease construed—Provision for payment of royalties—Power to lessee to surrender lease on six months' notice without definite time fixed—Condition of surrender all royalties to be paid before lessee's right arises—Waiver of condition by lessee by his asking for surrender by deed on receipt of notice from lessor of intention to surrender and delay caused thereby. A lease for 999 years was granted by the appellant in favour of the respondent company, of coal land and mining rights in certain mouzahs in the zamindari. By cl. 1 of the lease certain royalties were fixed for each ton of coal, and cl. 2 provided that such royalties should be payable quarterly. By cl. 3 an annual minimum royalty was fixed until the expiration of the term with a provision that if the royalties paid were found at the end of the Bengali year to be less than the minimum royalty the lessees should be bound to make up the loss and pay the minimum royalty in full within the first two months of the following year. By cl. 6 the lessees were given power to take the necessary surface land, for the purpose of carrying on the colliery business, at a fixed rent per bigha to become payable at the end of each Bengali year. Cl. 9 gave the lessees a right "to surrender any or all of the mouzahs hereby leased to you by giving six months' written notice" and paying the minimum royalty for the said six months, i.e., a half of the annual minimum royalty. But I shall not accept any surrender for a portion or any of the mouzahs, no rent shall you be entitled to surrender so long as any rent or royalty remains unpaid." The respondent Company on 11th May 1912 sent to the appellant a registered letter giving him six months' notice of their intention to relinquish the mouzahs. The appellant handed the notice to his manager who requested the respondent Company to execute a formal deed of surrender. Admittedly no deed was tendered for execution nor was any amount ascertained as being payable for royalties before the expiration of the six months' notice. The respondent Company, on 23rd May 1913, paid the amount they calculated to be due, but the appellant objected that there had been no effectual surrender, Mineral rights—Permanent tenures, grant of, of conveyed underground rights—Mogals Brahmins grants—Proof of permanency—Original tenure split up—Character of tenancy if altered. When certain tenures which were described as Mogals Brahmins were shown to have existed since before the permanent settlement and it appeared that the same rents had always been paid for them and that they were freely transferable. Held, that the tenures were at least permanent tenures. That it was not correct to view such tenure-holders as owners of the land subject to a rent charge. The holder of a permanent tenure in the absence of all evidence of the inasmuch as the notice did not expire at the end of the Bengali year, and no tender of the amount due had been made. In a suit brought by the appellant treating the lease as being still in force—Held, that there was nothing in the terms of the lease to fix the notice as one that must be given at any definite period, and therefore under cl 9 it had been rightly given, that cl 9 did not make it necessary to tender the amount due for royalties at the time when the notice was served; that when the manager asked that the surrender should be by deed it was not obligatory to pay the money until the deed was tendered; and that the lease was no longer subsisting on the expiry of the six months, and therefore the suit was not maintainable. DURGA PRASAD SINGH v. TATA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY (1918). I. L. R. 46 Cal. 552. L. R. 45 I. A. 275.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*MINERAL RIGHTS—concl'd

MULGENI TENURE.

— *Landlord and Tenant—Mulgeni tenure—Revenue assessment, who to pay—Revenue Pecuniary Act II of 1861, ss 1 and 35—Principles apart from Act—Under s 35, Revenue Recovery Act, a mulgenidar who pays revenue due on land held by him as a mulgeni tenant is entitled to recover the same from his landlord the mulgar by deducting the amounts so paid from any rent then or afterwards due from him to the mulgar. The fact that the mulgar's revenue assessment has been increased by Government does not make him the less liable to pay the whole assessment although the amount so to be paid may be in excess of or out of proportion to the rent to be received by him. To hold otherwise would be to deprive the mulgenidar of the right secured to him by s 35 of the Revenue Recovery Act. Per BENSON, J—Apart, however, from the Revenue Recovery Act which thus indirectly and as it were unintentionally imposes the whole burden on the pattidar it cannot be held that where an increased revenue assessment has been contemplated in the mulgeni chat either the mulgar or the mulgenidar is bound to pay the whole of the increase in assessment imposed by Government. Assessment is a burden imposed by Government on the land and where the rent has been fixed by contract and the imposition of a higher assessment by Government is a matter outside the terms of the contract altogether and is not provided for in it either expressly or impliedly, it ought in accordance with principle, to be shared by the mulgar and the mulgenidar in proportion to the benefit which each derives from the land. VIDYAPURNA THIRTHASWAMI v. UGGANNU (1910). I. L. R. 34 Mad. 231.*

— The rights of mulgenidar do not escheat to Government on the death of the last owner dying without heirs but revert to the mulgar for whom the mulgeni was acquired—a mulgeni differs from a permanent lease. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. SHITARAM APPA. I. L. R. 42 Mad. 327.

NOTICE TO QUIT

— Principles to be observed in construing notices to quit—Inaccuracies in notice may be immaterial—Test of sufficiency though inaccurate—Interpretation affected by the fact that the persons on whom they are served are conversant with all the facts and circumstances of the tenancy it is deemed to terminate—*Maxim Ut res magis valeat quam pereat—Mode of service—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 106. The principles on which notices to quit containing errors honestly but mistakenly or inadvertently made are to be construed, are entirely inapplicable to notices containing inaccuracies deliberately inserted for fraudulent purposes. The principles laid down by the English authorities are equally applicable to cases arising in India. They establish that notices to quit, though not strictly accurate or consistent in the statements embodied in them, may still be good and effective in law, that the test of their sufficiency is not what they would mean to a stranger ignorant of all the facts and circumstances touching the holding to which they purport to relate, but what they would mean to tenants presumably conversant with all those facts and circumstances, and, further, that they are to be construed not with a desire to find faults in them which would render them defective, but in accordance with the maxim "Ut res magis valeat quam pereat". Doe v. Huntingtower v. Cullford, & Doe v. Ry 245, Doe v. Williams v. Smith 5 Ad & F 350, Wride v. Dyer, [1900] 1 Q B 23 and Doe v. Archer, 14 East 245 referred to. Applying these principles to the present case in their pleadings to which the defendants attributed fraudulent intentions to the plaintiffs—Held that the plaintiffs were not actuated by a desire to effect any fraudulent purposes in connection with the notice to quit or in bringing the suit, from all their action and on the evidence a contrary view was to be inferred that the earlier portion of the notice to quit correctly and clearly described the identity of the land it was intended to cover which the defendants admittedly knew was 2 bighas 2½ cottahs, and the erroneous statement in the schedule as to the area of the land being 6 cottahs did not predominate over the description of it already given in the notice but was merely an immaterial inaccuracy and that the pleadings and evidence in the case showed that the defendants were conversant with all the circumstances and facts relating to the land. The notice was sufficient to cover the entire area held by the defendants from the plaintiffs, and was therefore a good notice. Held, further that the notice to quit had been duly served on all the tenants and the conditions laid down in s. 106 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) were complied with. Service on one joint tenant is prima facie evidence that it has reached the other joint tenants. *Macarney v. Crick, 5 Esp 196, Doe v. Bradford v. Wakins, 7 East 551, and Pollack v. Kelly, 6 Ir C L R 367, referred to. Service through the post was sufficient (Gresham House Estate Co v. Rossa Grande Gold Mining Co (1870), W N 119) and the presumption that the notice so served has been received is greater when the letter is registered as in the present case, and is not rebutted but strengthened by the fact that a receipt for it is produced signed on behalf of the addressee by some person other than the addressee himself. Tanham v. Nicholson, L R 5 H. L. 361, referred to. MARIBAR BANERJI v. RAMSHASHI ROY (1918). I. L. R. 46 Cal. 458.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*NOTICE TO QUIT—contd

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

OCCUPANCY RIGHT.

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT

Occupancy right, extinguishment of—New occupancy right in the same holding—Acquisition of adverse rights in two capacities—Non occupancy raiyat, if he can sub let and create incumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 22 cl (2), 159, 160, cl (g) When an occupancy right is extinguished by the operation of s 22, cl (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act a new occupancy right cannot be acquired in the same tenancy by the co-sharer proprietor or by whose action the occupancy right has ceased to exist. The owner of a holding cannot acquire a right adversely to himself in his other character as co-proprietor. A non occupancy raiyat is a raiyat and the land held by him is a 'holding', s 159 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies to non occupancy holdings also. A non occupancy raiyat is not prohibited from sub letting and may have an under raiyat under him, and may create a protected interest under s 160 cl (g) if his landlord allows him so to do. An incumbrance may be created by a non occupancy raiyat on his holding, in limitation of his own interest however limited, by way of sub-lease. RAM LAL SUKTL v BURELA GAZI (1910) I. L. R. 37 Cal. 708

Purchase of raiyats in interest by sole Landlord—Occupancy holding and occupancy right—Transferability—Merger—Under raiyat—Notice to quit—Ejectment—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) as amended by Bengal Act I of 1907, ss 22, cl (2) 49, 85 and 167 The raiyats of certain lands in dispute executed a mortgage of their lands and put the mortgage in possession. Subsequently the mortgagee settled the lands with under raiyats. The superior landlord then brought a suit for rent against his raiyats and purchased the holding at a sale for arrears of rent. Thereafter the landlord sold the permanent raiyats to one Meenjan who, after having taken a lease from the landlord and after having redeemed the mortgage, sold the same to the present plaintiff. The plaintiffs, thereupon brought a suit to eject the under raiyats. Held, that the occupancy still continued to exist after the purchase by the landlord. Akhil Chandra Dasgupta v Hasan Ali Sadagar, 19 C W N 216, followed. Held, also that the landlord was able to transfer the holding to Meenjan, through whom it came to the plaintiffs. Held, also that the under raiyats continued to be under raiyats and were duly served with notice to quit and must be ejected. YAKUB ALI v MEENJAN (1915) I. L. R. 43 Cal. 164

PERMANENT TENANCY

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, 1879.
ss 63, 216 I. L. R. 41 Bom. 566

Evidence of permanent tenancy—Contention that no permanent tenancy can exist in the Punjab, as there is no Permanent Settlement as there is in Bengal In this case the land in dispute was situated in a suburb of Delhi, and was covered by buildings of masonry occupied by the respondents. It was admitted that their predecessors were invited to occupy the land for building purposes by the predecessors of the appellants in 1852. No document showing the terms of occupancy is extant, nor is there any reliable evidence of what passed at that time. But the facts found (as to which there was no dispute) were that from 1859 onwards a uniform and fixed rent had been paid, that in some of the receipts given by the landlord the term "permanent" as applied to the rent was used, that the respondents and their predecessors in title have erected substantial buildings without the landlord's objection, that they have dealt with these properties, by way of sale and mortgage and that the properties has passed by succession. Held, that the evidence sufficiently showed that the respondents had a permanent tenancy, and the fact that there was no permanent settlement in the Punjab was not material as affecting this conclusion. AFZAL U'N NISSA v ABDUL KARIM (1915) I. L. R. 47 Cal. 1

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

PERMANENT TENANCY—contd

Permanent heritable and transferable tenure—Liability to enhancement—Contract for rent at progressive rates—Inference when highest rate is reached and there is no further enhancement by law—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 29 30 The defendant in this case was the tenant of the plaintiffs (appellants), and the tenure was admittedly permanent, heritable and transferable. The only question was whether the rent was fixed as the defendant alleged, or was liable to enhancement. Ordinarily, the admitted characteristics would create a presumption in favour of the tenant, and throw on the plaintiffs the onus of showing that the tenure was wanting in the characteristics of fixity of rent. But held, that, even if the onus lay on the defendant, she had fully discharged it. In the books of the plaintiff Company it was expressly stated that the tenure should not be liable to rent for the first four years. After that it carried rent on a progressive scale, until in 1298 it reached one rupee one anna per bigha. The contract as to progressive rent thus came to an end in 1298 and there was no further enhancement by operation of law. The clear inference from those facts was that the maximum rent reached in 1298 was the fixed rent of the tenure as long as it lasted. Gulam Ally v Gopal Lal Thakoor & Co in Privy Council. Soorasondery Dubee v Golum Ally, 15 B L R 125n, 9 Suth W R 65. Dhanput Singh v Gooman Singh, 11 Moo I A 435, and Huro Prasad Roy Chowdhry v Chundia Churn Roychowjee, 1 L R 3 Cal. 505, referred to. PORT CANNING LAND IMPROVEMENT CORPORATION v KATTANI DEBI (1910) I. L. R. 47 Cal. 280

*Raiyats holding created in 1845 and held at fixed rent—Recognized as heritable and transferable—Inference that holding permanent—Rent receipts stating tenant to be tenant at will, volvo of In a suit to eject the Defendants from a raiyat holding situated within the Calcutta Municipality, it was found upon the evidence that the holding was created somewhere in 1845, that it had been held ever since at a fixed permanent rent, and that the Plaintiff landlord had in the persons of another person taken a mortgage of the holding treating it as a permanent transferable heritable holding. Held—That the District Judge was right in holding that the holding was a permanent heritable one, and in refusing to attach any importance to a statement in the rent receipts granted to the tenants that they were "tenants at will," when there was nothing to show that the tenants consented to the insertion of these* words in the receipts or were even aware of it SURENDRO NATH ROY v DWARKANATH CHAKRA-

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*PERMANENT TENANCY—concl'd

 VARTI 24 C. W. N. 1

RELIQUISHMENT

Joint tenants, surrender by one of her share, if operative against the other—Relinquishment to take effect at a future date if inoperative A relinquishment made in favour of the landlord by one of two co tenants so as to effect her share is valid A relinquishment is not inoperative, because it was to take effect at a subsequent date KUBIR MUNSHI v BAIKUNTA CHANDRA SHANA (1910) . 15 C. W. N 680

Occupancy tenant—Usufructuary mortgage—Relinquishment of tenancy during the term of the mortgage Held, that an occupancy tenant who has made a usufructuary mortgage of his holding and put the mortgagee in possession cannot during the subsistence of such mortgage relinquish his holding to the prejudice of the mortgagee's rights RANNU RAI v RAJENDU, 1 L R 27 All 82, followed CHHOTU LAL v SAKOPAL SINGH (1903)

I. L. R. 33 All 335

RENT

1. — Presumption of permanency of rent—Record of Rights—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), as amended by Bengal Acts III of 1898 and I of 1903, as 50, 105, 115 When an application is made under s 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act as amended by Bengal Acts III of 1898 and I of 1903 for settlement of rent after the final publication of the record of rights, the tenant is entitled, in view of the provisions of s 115 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to the benefit of the presumption under s 50 of the same Act Radda Kishore Manikya v Umed Ali, 12 C W N 904 approved Secretary of State for India v Rajmuddi 1 L R 26 Cal 617, distinguished PATRICK LAL CHOWDHRY v BASARAT ALI (1909)

I. L. R. 37 Cal 20

2. — One suit for rent of different tenancies, it maintainable—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 20, 29, cl (a) and (b)—Presumption under s 20 when arises—Effect of division of tenancy When there are several tenures held by the same tenant the landlord may institute one suit for the rent of all the tenures but if he does so he cannot put the tenancies to sale in execution of the decree so as to enable the purchaser to avoid incumbrances Hriday Nath Das v Krishna Prasad Sircar, 1 L R 34 Cal 298; see 6 C L J. 153 11 C W N 497, Bailanta Nath Roy v Thakur Debendra Nath Saha, 11 C W N. 676, Janda Lal v Sadhu Charan, 7 C L J 96, Bipra Das v Rajaram, 13 C W N 650 referred to No inflexible rule of law can be laid down that the division of a tenancy creates or does not create a new tenancy Whether it does or does not is a question of the intention of the parties to be decided on the evidence Uday Chandra v Arupendra Narayan, 13 C W N 410, Sadhu Mala v Alfa zuddi, 13 C W N. 962, referred to MULIK CHAND DASS v SATISH CHANDRA DAS (1909)

14 C. W. N. 335

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

3. — Denial of lessor's right to sue—Estoppel Held, that a tenant who had taken a lease from one of several trustees was not competent to deny his lessor's right to sue alone for the rent Musammatt Purnia v Torab Ally, 3 Wyman 14, and Jainarayan Bose v Kad m bin Dan, 7 B L R 723, referred to KESHO DAS v MAKSUDAN DAS (1910) I L R. 32 All 213

4. — Suspension of rent—Substantial interference by landlord with enjoyment of holding by tenant—Tenant when entitled to suspension of rent—Bona fide interference, what is Where there is substantial interference by the landlord with the tenant's enjoyment of his tenure even though there is no complete eviction, the tenant is entitled to suspension of rent for the period during which there was such interference Kadumbari Dossai v Aashee Nath Biswas, 13 W R 338, Dhunpat Singh v Kasim Isphahani, 1 L R 24 Cal 296, Harro Kumar v Purna Chandra, 1 L P 28 Cal 188, Lalia Sundari v Surnomoyee Das 5 C W. A 353, discussed J auction purchased a durputas with power to annual incumbrances and served notice to quit on the seputnidars who refused to yield possession On J attempting to take forcible possession, criminal proceedings ensued as a result of which the seputnas was attached under s 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code, on the 3rd October 1902 The land attached was subsequently let out to garadar who paid rent to the putnidar and deposited certain sums as gyara rent in the Collectorate Some of these sums deposited were withdrawn by J as durputnidar In 1906 the seputnidars obtained a decree establishing their seputni title and in pursuance of that decree withdrew some of the gyara rent that was deposited in the Collectorate In a suit for rent by J against the seputnidars for the period during which the property was under attachment Held that the circumstances constituted substantial interference by the landlord with the tenant's enjoyment of his tenure such as disentitled him to recover rent for that period Held on the facts of the case that it was not such bona fide interference without prejudice to the tenant as would entitle the landlord to receive rent Ramee Surnomoyee v Shooakhee Moolhee 12 Moo J A 244, distinguished MAHOMED JEALUYYA MEAN v SUKHEANNESSA BINI (1910)

14 C W N. 446

5. — Co-owners—Receipt for rent collectively given to tenant by one co owner—Rights of the others to sue tenant and remaining co owner for rent W and others were co owners of a shop which was let to U The other co owners, suspecting W's good faith, gave notice to U forbidding him to pay rent to W They then commenced proceedings for partition of the shop. Subsequently W executed in favour of U a receipt for arrears of rent and for a further sum alleged to represent rent paid in advance Held that in the above circumstances the co owners other than W were entitled to sue the tenant and W for their proportionate share of the rent their allegation being that the receipt referred to above was fictitious and collusive Doorga Churan Surma v Jangra Dasree, 12 B L R 289, referred to ZIA UD DIN v MUHAMMAD UMAR (1910)

I L R 33 All 308

6. — Joint promise—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s 43—Joint and several liability when

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*RENT—contd.

arises—Joint heirs of original tenant, if jointly and severally liable—Where suit for rent dismissed against two of three joint tenants who did not admit the rate of rent, if landlord can recover entire rent from one who admits rate of rent Whether a promise is joint or several or joint and several is a question of construction depending upon the intention of the parties to a contract In cases of joint and several promises in addition to several persons joining in a promise to another there is a promise by each to the others and of each of them separately to the promisee It cannot therefore be affirmed as an inflexible rule that in every case where A lets out land jointly to B and C there is a promise that each of them will be responsible for the entire rent so that the landlord may recover against any one of them At any rate where several persons jointly inherit a tenancy any one of the heirs cannot be made separately liable for the entire rent Where out of three joint tenants who were representatives of one original tenant there was an admission by one in favour of the rate of rent claimed by the landlord, but the admission was held to be inadmissible against the other tenants and the suit against the other two was dismissed—Held that the landlord could not recover the entire rent from the tenant who admitted his rate of rent The suit was dismissed as against him also Quære Whether a landlord may make one of several joint tenants responsible for the whole rent KALI KINKAR SEY v. SATYENDRA NATH BHADRA (1910)

15 C. W. N. 191

7. ———— *Transfer of tenure—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886), ss. 12, 13, 167—Suit for rent—Unregistered transferee of permanent tenure who has paid landlord's fee, if necessary party—Sale in execution of rent decree obtained against recorded tenant only—Decree, if money decree only—Beneficiaries of necessary parties—Notice to annual incumbrances signed by Deputy Collector—Validity The transfer of a permanent tenure is completed upon payment of the landlord's fee prescribed by s. 12 irrespective of its acceptance by the landlord and thereupon the landlord is bound to look to the transferee for payment of rent accruing due since that date. It is not necessary in such a case that the transferor himself should have had his name registered in the landlord's books Where the landlord sues for such arrears of rent without making the transferee a defendant, the decree obtained in the suit only operates as a decree for money The landlord is not bound to join in his suit for rent, as parties defendants, persons who are merely beneficiaries GIRI CHANDRA GUPTA v. BHAGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE (1911)*

15 C. W. N. 64

8. ———— *Failure of tenant to raise crop—damages for. If rent—Suit by landlord for recovery of value of his share, if lost in Small Cause Court—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887), Sec. 11, Art. 6—“Rent”—“Damages for use and occupation” Where a landlord brought a suit against his tenant claiming damages for wilfully omitting to raise crops whereby the plaintiff was deprived of his share thereof Held, that inasmuch as the share of the produce to be received by the landlord was ascertained before the commencement of the suit and the term for which the land was let out had not terminated, the claim was in* substance one for recovery of rent and the suit would not lie in the Small Cause Court LALJI PANDAY v. BAHAMANDU PANDAY (1911)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd.*RENT—contd.

16 C. W. N. 89

See also post 2 Pat L. J. 97

9. ———— Rent decrees, one decree for two different tenures—Consolidation of tenures Where there are two different darpuks tenures in respect of 13 as and 3 as respectively of a puksa, with different assessments of rent held by the same tenant though it is competent to a landlord to bring one suit for both the tenures the mere fact that the total rent of the two tenures is claimed in the same suit cannot have the effect of consolidating the two tenures into one A decree obtained for arrears of rent in respect of two or more separate tenures cannot be executed as a rent decree under the Bengal Tenancy Act but must be executed as a money decree under the Civil Procedure Code RASH MOHINI DAS v. DEBENDRA NATH SINHA (1911)

16 C. W. N. 395

10. ———— Tenant holding on after expiry of term—Amount of rent payable When a tenant holds on after expiration of his lease he does so on the terms of the lease and at the same rate and on the same stipulations as are mentioned in the lease unless the parties come to a fresh settlement The mere fact that the rent for some years has been received at a reduced rate does not bind the lessor to accept rent at that rate Durga Prasad Singh v. Pajendra Narain Bagchi, 10 C. L. J. 576, followed Quære Whether variation of the kobulyat rent when the tenant is holding over can be established by oral evidence Sheikh Fayyazullah v. Sheikh Elakee bakhsh [1884] W. R. Art. X, 42, and Sayyid bin Habsay v. Umayy bin Sadoqy, 3 Bom. H. C. A. C. J. 27, followed Mukund Chandra Sarma v. Arjan Ahl, 2 C. W. N. 47, explained BALNATH PRASAD SABA v. RAGHUNATH RAI (1911)

16 C. W. N. 496

See also post 20 C. W. N. 347

11. ———— Denial of relationship of landlord and tenant—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886)—Suit for rent, dismissal of—Appeal by landlord, withdrawal of—Suit for ejectment, if maintainable Mere denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant does not, in case to which the Bengal Tenancy Act applies, work any forfeiture unless the denial has been given effect to by a decree of the Court Where the landlord, after the dismissal of his suit for rent upon the tenant's denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant appealed, and pending the appeal withdrew the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit and then brought an action to eject the tenant on the ground of such denial by the tenant Held, that the only decree that could be relied on here was a decree which ceased to exist owing to the withdrawal of the suit by the landlord and so the denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant by the tenant would not work any forfeiture suit was not given effect to by a decree of the Court PTABIR LAL HALDAR v. HEM CHANDRA SARKAR (1912)

16 C. W. N. 730

12. ———— Settled raiyat—Settlement proceedings, tenant setting up rent free title in—Tenant entered as settled raiyat in Record-of Rights as such published—Suit to have rent assessed—Limitation Where more than 12 years before the landlord's suit for assessment of rent the tenant in the course of settlement proceedings set up a title to hold the land rent free, but no actual decision of the question by the Settlement Officer was proved though the record of rights which was finally published within 12 years of the suit showed that the tenant was entered as a settled raiyat in the village. Held, that it was open to the landlord to rely upon the entry in the record of rights as a tacit recognition of his right to have rent assessed at any time within 12 years of the date of final publication and the suit therefore was not barred by limitation. Maharaja Birendra Kishore Manikya Bahadur v. Rosan, 15 C L J 203 s c 16 C W N 931, distinguished AMAN GAZI v. BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA BAHADUR (1912)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

16 C W N 929

13 ——— Assessment of rent—A suit for assessment of rent brought more than 12 years after an adverse title had been set up, is barred by limitation. BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA BAHADUR v. ROSAN (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 453

16 C W N 931

14. ——— Fixed-rate tenants—Liability—Contract Act (IY of 1872) s 43 Held that the liability of joint holders of a fixed rate tenancy of payment of rent is joint and several and not joint only. The failure therefore of the plaintiff in a suit for rent against several fixed rate tenants jointly to bring upon the record the representatives of a deceased defendant is no bar to the continuance of the suit against the remaining defendants. Joy Gohand Lahri v. Monmotha Nath Banerji, I L R 33 Calc 530 followed Muhammad Askar v. Radhe Pam Singh I L R 22 All 367 referred to ABDUL AKIZ v. BASDEO SINGH (1912)

I L R 34 All 604

15 ——— Denial of landlord's title—Landlord, if entitled to rent for use and occupation where no such alternative claim is made in the plaint In a suit for rent where no alternative claim is made for compensation for use and occupation, no rent can be decreed on that footing. Where in a suit for rent the defendant denied the landlord's title and the plaintiff failed to prove an alleged settlement with him and no alternative claim was made in the plaint for compensation for use and occupation, Held, that the landlord was not entitled to compensation for use and occupation. Fulke Kant Doss v. Sumteroodda, Laskar 13 B L R 241 Saarendra Narayan v. Bhairi Lal I L R 22 Calc 75, Rachha Singh v. Upendra Chandra I L R 27 Calc 232, and Gobinda Sundar v. Srikrishna 10 C I J 531 followed Suremoyee v. Dhoo Nath I L R 2 Calc 903, and Anam Sundar v. Ramloh, I L R 25 Calc 224 dismissed. Fakir Chandra Singh v. Shama Charn Mahato, 11 Moa, J A 7, 20 referred to BURKHU HOXA v. RAM KHELWAN 133 IND (1912), . . . 17 C W N 311

16 ——— Ex parte decree for, if operates as res judicata—Notice under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1855) if laid out for rent An ex parte decree in a suit for rent operates as res judicata upon the question of relation of landlord and tenant. Fir Chander

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

v. Harish Chander, I L R 3 Calc 333, referred to Madhu Sudan v. Brae I L R 16 Calc 300, discussed and distinguished. Where a suit was decided in the presence of the defendant's pleader Held, that the decree could not be called an ex parte one merely because the defendant did not adduce evidence or submit any argument at the trial. Held also that the ex parte decree did not lose its conclusive character because it was not executed. The relation of landlord and tenant being once established the mere fact of non payment of rent is not sufficient to show that the relationship has ceased. If a landlord elects to treat the defendant as a tenant the mere fact of his having served a notice on him under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not bar a suit for rent. Raj Kumar Roy Chowdhury v. ALIMUDDI (1912)

17 C W N 627

17 ——— Agreement to deliver agricultural produce—Over and above cash rent—Cess—Agreement opposed to public policy Certain tenants holding under a registered gabul at agreed therein to deliver to the landlord over and above the sum specified as a money rent, certain agricultural produce and further to supply the landlord with a cart and bullocks when necessary and in default the landlord might claim the cash value of the said dues along with rent. Held on suit by the landlord to recover the cash equivalent of such dues for several years at the covenant in question was for various reasons, non enforceable. Abdul Ha v. Nathu I All L J 537 Sadanand Pandey v. Ali Jan I I P 32 All 193 and Sheoambar Ahir v. The Collector of Azamgarh I L R 34 All 353, referred to SIL LAM v. ANWAR ALI (1912)

I L R 35 All 19

SPECIAL U P LAND REVENUE ACT 1901 s 66

I L R 38 All 266

18 ——— Patni lease—Duties on easement by tidal river—Right to abatement of rent under patni lease—Disturbed land part of taluk re-forming a taluk—Claim by zamindars and patnidars—Bengal Act VIII of 1859 s 19—Limitation on by adverse possession—Failure to show relinquishment of submerged land by patnidar The appellants were owners of a zaminbati with which was a patni taluk created in 1837 by one of the predecessors in title of the appellants; this taluk was owned by the first respondent as patnidar and a strong tidal river flowed close to the borders of the taluk. The patni lease covenanted that "if the land be found to be more in measurement by as' prevalent according to the custom of the pargana I shall separately pay the rent thereof at this rate if it be found to be less I shall get remission therefor." In 1843 the appellants obtained a decree in the Revenue Court for increased rent on the ground that additional land was found on measurement to be in the patni dars possession. In 1853 part of the taluk having been washed away by the river the respondent obtained a proportionate abatement of the rent. Subsequently the land so disturbed was formed in as', whereupon both parties claimed it and each party attempted to exercise rights of ownership as evidence of adverse possession against the other but it was found that neither party had proved sufficient adverse possession to give him a title. In 1901 the appellants' suit for a declaration of their title to khas possession of the land reformed on the ground that it was part of the zamindari or in the alternative were entitled to receive a proper rent for it. The respondents pleaded that the land was an accretion to their taluk, and that the appellants were only entitled to rent and not to khas possession. Held that the High Court was rightly holding that the land reformed did not come within the provisions of s. 4 of Regulation XI of 1864 and that it could not be claimed by either party as an accretion to his lands, had laid too much stress on the terms of the lease and the evidence of intent to deduce from the proceedings respect of additional rent and abatement of rent. There was nothing to show that by claiming or accepting reduction of rent in respect of land washed away from time to time by the action of the river the respondent abandoned or agreed to abandon his rights to such land on its reformation in situ. The divided land formed part of a permanent heritable and transferable tenure and until it could be established that the holder of the tenure had abandoned his right to the subsoil and land remained intact. Hemasoth Iyit v Achgar Sadar I L R 4 Cal 491 dismissed from Ala Har Jo v Rangul Singh I L R 19 All 290 follow Asix C. ANDRA BHOON v KAMINI KUMAR (1913) I L R 41 Cal 893

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

19 ——— Execution of decree for rent — Bengal Tenancy Act (1111 of 1943) ss 65 66 118(a) — Bengal Regulation (1111 of 1919) ss 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100 — *Right to bring tenancy suit on execution of decree for arrears of rent. Assignment of debt. A zamindar having parted with all his interest in the zamindari brought a suit for arrears of rent against the tenant and obtained a decree. Further arrears became due to recover which the purchaser of the zamindari took proceedings under Bengal Regulation VIII of 1819 (relating to patni tenures) and the darpa nidas deposited the amount of the arrears under s. 13 of the Regulation and was put into possession of the patni tenure. In a suit brought by him for a declaration that he had a first charge on the patni for the sum deposited by him and for an injunction to restrain the defendants (persons to whom the zamindar had assigned amongst other property the decree for arrears of rent) from executing the decree. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court), that the decree was not one for rent within the meaning of s. 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act ss 66 and 66 taken together cover practically the remedy provided by law for the landlord to recover arrears of rent. One aspect is the exact corollary of the other. The right to proceed to sale in one case in the other to effect is dependent on the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant at the time when the remedy provided by law is sought to be enforced. By s. 118(a) of the Act the right to apply for the execution of a decree for arrears of rent was attached to the status of decree holder and landlord. The prohibition on a sale in that act on referred to decrees obtained by the landlord under s. 65 and the right to bring the tenure to sale exists only so long as the relationship of landlord and tenant exists and is imparted exclusively to the landlord. A person therefore to whom rents are due and who obtains a decree for them after he has parted with the property in which the tenancy is situated has no such* right. Ka Ira Lal Singh v Krishnamoni Das I L R 33 Cal 500 distinguished. Held also that the plaintiff by his deposit of the arrears for which the patni tenure was a first charge for sale at the instance of the purchaser of the zamindari, acquired the special lien expressly created by Regulation VIII of 1819 arising out of an implication of law. But under the express directions and declarations contained in ss. 11 12 13 and 13 sub s. (2) of the Regulation and the Bengal Tenancy Act is declared by s. 19 of that Act not to affect any enactment relating to patni tenures so far as it relates to those tenures. Korasa v Mahanad Banaraj Sircar (1914) I L R 41 Cal 928

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

20 ——— Abatement of Rent—*Form of Tenant deprives of a part of land by force of injunction erroneously decreed in landlord's suit to restrain encroachment by tenant on khas lands — Agreement to take reduced rent not registered — Adm as lessee — Infringement of encumbrance — The receipt by the landlord of a reduced rent for some years in the absence of reliable and admissible evidence to prove existence of an agreement was held to be consistent with the reduction having been a voluntary and temporary abatement. Where after a permanent lease had been executed the landlord sued the tenant for alleged wrongful entry upon a khas land by the tenant and a judgment for an injunction to restrain the tenant from committing such trespass was set aside by the Court instead of granting the injunction as prayed. Held that the tenant was restrained from dealing with property lying outside the demarcated mouzah as decreed. It in the map prepared by the Civil Court Amn and the tenant preferred no appeal against the decree. Held that it was not intended by that decree to reduce the area of the land which the tenant was entitled to deal with under his lease, and in a suit for arrears of rent he could not claim an abatement of the rent if in fact the injunction which was granted in earlier terms than were called for had that effect as he himself availed himself of his remedy by way of appeal and submitted to the decree. Where the tenant tendered a reduced amount of rent and interest on the plea that owing to his having not been given possession of the entire area demised, he was entitled to an abatement of rent but no ground was made out by the tenant for such abatement. The tender was not a good tender. It is for the tenant to make out a case if he has one for an abatement of the fixed rent. Durga Prasad Singh v Rajendra Narayan Bagchi (1913) 18 C W N 66*

21 ——— Eviction by title paramount — *If good defence to rent suit — Tenant's duty to show to superior landlord by offer of reduced rent — Action by title paramount would be a good defence to a suit for rent if the party evicted having a good title the tenant quitted against his will. The same result would follow where the party seeking to evict should claim the rent and the tenant on such notice of attornment to him. Hir v Sanderia & B & C 599 follow. The doctrine of quittance cannot apply in this country but it does not apply to a case where the tenant is induced to attorn to the superior landlord by an offer to accept reduced rent. *A. ORIZAN SARDAR v BHOOLA SUNDARI GUPTA (1917)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

22. ——— Abatement of Rent—Construction of kabuliyat In a patti kabuliyat there was the following provision for abatement of rent . . . 'If you obtain remission in the saddar jama from the Government in respect of lands taken up for culverts, embankments or roads, I shall also get from you reduction of jama on account of all the said remissions in the jama of this patti' Held, on a construction of the agreement, that the pattidar was to get the same amount of remission which the ramindar would get in the Government revenue Held, also, that the words 'culverts, embankments or roads' in the agreement were illustrative and not exhaustive HIRENDBA NATH DUTT v. HARI MOHAN GHOSH (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 860

23. ——— Adjustment of account—Between landlord and tenant—Wasil baki—Portion of amount due on adjustment, kept in deposit with tenant for payment to superior landlord—Such amount if continues to be rent and if recoverable as such—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sec. I, Art. 115 The plaintiff was the landlord and the defendant the tenant. There was an adjustment of accounts between them as regards rent in 1312 F. S., the adjustment being embodied in a wasil baki, and the defendant was found liable to pay as certain amount out of which Rs. 136.2 was left with the defendant as a deposit for payment to the superior landlord on account of rent payable by the plaintiff to the latter and the balance was stated as payable to the plaintiff. The defendant did not make the payment to the superior landlord who sued the plaintiff and obtained a decree against him for the amount due from him. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendant to recover the rent for the years 1313 to 1315 and the amount which he had to pay to the superior landlord with interest Held, that the wasil baki showing that the amount which was to be paid to the superior landlord was left in deposit with the defendant it must be held that there was a discharge for this portion of the rent. The assignee was no party to the contract but if, as the contract showed, the amount was left in deposit with the defendant for payment to a third party and it amounted to a discharge so far as that portion of the rent was concerned, the amount so kept in deposit ceased to be rent and recoverable as such and Art. 115 of the Limitation Act was applicable to the case LUCHMISSESSER v. DEORI KHAR (1913)

19 C. W. N. 174

24. ——— Tenant never put in possession of entirety of demised land—Acquiescence—Payment of full rent—Suit for rent—Plea of suspension of rent, if sustainable—Abatement—Apportionment Where a tenant who had not been put in actual possession of a portion of the demised land, nevertheless went on paying the full rent agreed to in the lease, in a suit for recovery of arrears of rent by the landlord, Held, that the tenant cannot in such circumstances claim suspension of rent, but the rent payable to the landlord was liable to abatement Annada Prasad v. Mathuramath, 13 C. W. N. 702, followed SARADA PRASAD BHATTACHARJEE v. RAJ MOYMATHA NATH MITTER (1914) . . . 19 C. W. N. 870

25. ——— Non-occupancy raiyat—Leave for a term—Suspension of portion of rent during the term—Stipulation for payment of rent at full rate after expiry of term—Agreement if invalid—Acceptance of rent at reduced rate after expiry of the term, if deprives landlord of his right to claim rent at the stipulated rate—Waiver—Intention of parties Where in a kabuliyat for a term executed by a non occupancy raiyat a certain rent was settled out of which a portion was kept in suspension and the balance was stated to be the rent payable for the term, and it was further stipulated that if after expiry of the term of raiyat continued in occupation without taking a fresh settlement he would be liable to pay rent at the full rate, and after the expiry of the term the raiyat remained in occupation without taking a fresh settlement and rent was then realised from the tenant at the reduced rate for a few years and then upon the landlord sued, for rent at the full rate Held, that the agreement did not contravene the provisions relating to non occupancy raiyats and was not invalid Held, also, that the landlord by accepting rent at the reduced rate was not deprived of his right to claim rent at the rate stipulated in the kabuliyat and was entitled to recover rent at the full rate Durga Prasad Singh v. Rajendra Varayan Bagchi, 1 L. R. 41 Cal. 493 a c 18 C. W. N. 66, and Lajinath Prasad v. Raghunath Rai, 16 C. W. N. 496, followed. Held, further, that evidence that a new execution of the kabuliyat the tenant paid rent at a lower rate than that stated in the kabuliyat was inadmissible to shew the intention of the parties that the kabuliyat was not intended to be acted upon or that there had been a waiver of the terms of the lease Bani Madhab Goran v. Lalmo Das, 6 C. H. A. 242 followed KAILASH CHANDRA SANA v. DARBARIA SHEIKH (1911)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

20 C. W. N. 347

26. ——— Suit for Rent calculated on area under cultivation—On the basis of kabuliyat, by one co sharer only, making the other co sharer a defendant, if maintainable—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 52, 138 The plaintiffs as fractional owners sued to recover rent on a kabuliyat making their co sharer who refused to join them a pro forma defendant. The land was at the time of letting waste and jungle and was not measured but a certain area, was stated by guess and it was provided that the tenants would pay rent at a fixed rate per bigha when the lands would be reclaimed or the surrounding lands brought under cultivation Held that although as a general rule all co-contractors ought to be joined as plaintiffs, a suit by one would not be bad if the others were joined as defendants and if there was good reason for not joining them as plaintiffs, and one of several joint contractors may sue to enforce his share of the obligation if the other co-contractors are joined as defendants. That the present suit was not one for additional rent for excess land within the meaning of a 52 Bengal Tenancy Act, and was maintainable by the plaintiffs upon the kabuliyat under the general law and the provisions of a 138 are not applicable to the suit. BHOOSAI v. AMIRUDDIN (1916) . . . 21 C. W. N. 371

27. ——— Presumption of permanency of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (1111 of 1885) as amended by Bengal Acts of 1893 and 1 of 1903, ss. 31A, 50 (2) 113 and 115—Effect of ss. 31 and 115 of the Bengal Tenancy Act—Prevailing rate—Ground for enhancement of rent. Where a Record.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRENT—contd

of Rights has been finally published, in view of a 115 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the presumption under s 50 (2) of the Act does not arise where the tenants have been recorded as occupancy raiyats and not raiyats holding at fixed rents. Radda Kishore Manikeya v Umed Ali, 12 C W N 304 not followed. Priukhand Lall Chowdhury v. Essarant Ali 1 L R 37 Cal 50, 13 C W N 1149, relied upon. By enacting s 31 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the Legislature never intended to alter the pre-existing law in districts to which that section has no application. Where each tenant holds at a different rate there is no prevailing rate. Even on the ground of prevailing rate, there can be no enhancement of rent for 15 years under s 113, of the Bengal Tenancy Act where rent has been settled under Chap V of the Act. HARINAR PRASAD PAJPAI v. AJUB MISHRA (1913)

I. L. R. 45 Cal. 930

28 ——— Conditions for rendering services when called upon—Denial of title and refusal to render services—Services, a subsidiary consideration and of a circumstantial nature—Forfeiture and resumption, right to. The suit which gave rise to this appeal was brought in 1903 by the appellant the Maharaja of Jeypora, against the husband of the respondent (now deceased and represented by his widow) for the possession and arrears of rent of a pargana called Bissam outtak on the allegation that it was part of the appellant's samindari, and had been held by the predecessors in title of the defendant under grants or leases on conditions of payment of kattiabadi or rent and of rendering services to the Maharaja. The latest was a patta, dated 1st August 1877, under which the possession of the defendant's father had been renewed by the then Maharaja on payment of an annual kattiabadi of Rs. 15,000 and the rendering of services stated in the patta as 'just as your father used to attend at Dasara for service, so now you should also present yourself with 500 palka for service whenever directed to do so.' In 1903 when directed to render such services, the defendant had not so attended the Dasara darbar, nor had he paid the proper amount of rent for that year or for 1901 but had asserted that the pargana was not held as a service tenancy, and had set up a title in himself to the pargana as an independent zamindar, and subject only to a payment of Rs. 2,200 to the Maharaja which sum he then paid as rent, but denied his liability as a tenure-holder under the appellant. He wrote a letter to the appellant, dated 26th November 1901, which was alleged to be a contumacious refusal to render services and to amount to a denial of the appellant's title causing forfeiture of his tenant's holding which the appellant claimed to be entitled to resume. Held, that denial of title in the suit would not work a forfeiture of which advantage could be taken in that suit, because the forfeiture must have accrued before the suit was instituted, and there was no denial by matter of record previous to the institution of the suit. Nizamuddin v. Mamonuddin, 1 L R 23 Cal. 135, and Prasanna Shaha v. Madhu Khatu, 1 L R 13 Cal 36, referred to. Held, also, that here there was no such renunciation by the tenant of his character as such, as to work a forfeiture. Held further, that in this case the rent received was the principal matter, and the rent was subsidiary, and that, under the circumstances the refusal to render the services contracted for did not operate to create a forfeiture or give occasion for resumption. MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v. RUKMINI PATTAMANDEVI (1919)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd.RENT—contd

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 589

29 ——— Letting for cultivation of dry land at fixed rate—Improved cultivation thereafter effected solely at tenant's expense—Payment of higher rate of rent for a series of years—Presumption of consideration for and contract for payment of a higher rate from such payment. Where a tenant to whom dry lands were let for cultivation at a fixed rate and who cultivated them for a certain time, dug wells on the land at his own expense and thereafter raised garden crops for which he paid for a long number of years at rates higher than the dry rate. Held, by the full Bench (AYLING and SESHAGIRI AYYAR, JJ., dissenting) that a Court can presume a contract to pay the higher rate and a legal origin and consideration therefor from such long continued payment of higher rate, if that be the only evidence in the case to prove the rate payable, but that if there be other evidence, a Court cannot make any such presumption from such payment alone. Per AYLING and SESHAGIRI AYYAR, JJ.—Where, as in this case, the reason and origin of the payment of higher rate are known to be due to the raising of better crops by the aid of tenants' wells to which the landlord contributed nothing there is no consideration moving from the landlord and no scope for raising any presumption of a legal origin for the contract from the mere fact of a long course of payment of the higher rate. PERIARABUPPA MOOR KANDAN v. RAJA RAJESWARA SETHUPATHI (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 475

30 ——— Stipulation in kabulyat as to payment of rent in kind. Where a tenant executed a Kabulyat promising to pay as rent Rs. 4 in cash and 91 annas as the landlord's share of produce and it was stipulated that on the tenant's failure to pay the said rent and share of paddy the landlord would be competent to realise the said rent and Rs. 36 as price of the paddy. Held, that on the tenant making default in paying the landlord's share of paddy the latter was not entitled to recover the market value of paddy at the time but only the fixed amount of Rs. 36. GURUDAS SEW v. GOBINDO CHANDRA SINGHA

21 C. W. N. 85

31. ——— Permanent Tenure rent—Reclamation lease providing for progressive increase of rent up to a limit—Further enhancement, if may be made—Regulation Act (XVI of 1903), s 17—Lease not registered but possession given—Entry subsequently made of terms in landlord's book, if admissible. When a tenure is found to be permanent, heritable and transferable, there is a presumption in favour of the tenant that the rent is fixed and the onus is on the landlord to show that it is otherwise. Where the contract in respect of a reclamation lease of 1291 B. S. was that the tenure should not be liable to rent for the first four years, after which it was to carry rent on a progressive scale until 1298, when it reached 17 annas per bigha, and there was no reference to further enhancement by operation of law. Held—That the clear inference from those facts was that the maximum rent reached in 1298 was the fixed rent

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

of the tenure so long as it lasted. THE PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO. v. SREMATI KATAYANI DEBI . . . 24 C. W. N. 369

32. — Permissive tenant, suit against for damages for use and occupation whether as a suit for rent Where, in a suit by a landlord for damages for use and occupation of land, the defendant claimed to be a tenant and the plaintiff admitted that he was a permissive occupant, held that the relationship between the parties was indistinguishable from the relationship of landlord and tenant and that the suit was, therefore, one for rent, and was not cognizable by a Small Cause Court. MAHADEO RAI v. MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH BAHADUR 2 Pat L. J. 97

33. — Suit for rent—plaintiff in possession under revenue sale—sale set aside—whether plaintiff entitled to recover rent from tenants Where the plaintiff's purchase of an umrah share of an estate was subsequently set aside on appeal, held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover rent from the tenants so long as he remained in possession until the original proprietors succeeded in recovering possession of the umrah share. MUSHTI ABDUR RIZZAQ v. RAI BAHADUR RAJIVATH GOENKA . . . 2 Pat L. J. 383

TITLE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEASE) (TRANSFER)

Fetoppel—Tenant admitted into possession, if may deny landlord's title and set up a different title derived from stranger A tenant who has been let into possession cannot deny his landlord's title however defective it may be, so long as he has not openly restored possession by surrender to his landlord. BILAS KUNWAR v. DESRAJ RAJIT SINGH (1915). I L. R. 37 All 557 19 C. W. N. 1207

Onus of proof—Zerai, necessity of proving disputed land—Khas land other than zerai—Tenure or holding—Lease to ticcadar to cultivate—Lands cultivated if rayats land of ticcadar—Ticcadar's possession of land outside ticcadar's possession of land outside ticcadar's possession of land The owner of a tanzim is entitled to recover possession of lands within it, unless the defendants whom he sues can prove a subordinate interest that derogates from his title. The fact that he has failed to prove certain specific titles which he in addition asserted in the disputed lands, does not deprive him of this mutual presumption in his favour. The onus which is on the defendants must be discharged by them. The fact that the defendants were rayats holding other lands of the village would make them entitled rayats of the disputed lands if they prove that these lands were held by them as rayats but not if they fail to prove this. Rajendra Kumar v. Mohim Chandra, 3 C. W. V. 763 did not apply to this case, in which the defendants held a number of separate holdings and did not claim to hold the land in suit as part of any specific holding. Where a ticcadar took a lease of lands for exceeding 100 bighas in area to cultivate by sowing indigo or other crops either by means of Khas cultivation or through tenants. Held that it was a tenure. A tenure holder does not become a rayat with respect to all land that comes into his direct possession, because the lease authorises him to cultivate these lands. A proprietor may hold other lands besides zerai lands in Khas possession, and because he recovers possession of lands on the basis of the presumption arising from his proprietorship, it does not follow that the land is zerai; nor does the fact that he fails to prove the land to be zerai prevent him from claiming the land if the defendant fails to establish a subordinate interest in it. Where the proprietors having purchased certain holdings suffer them without any arrangement to be taken possession of by their ticcadars, the ticcadars' possession of such holdings does not become adverse to the proprietors. MANNERS v. HANINAR KOER (1914) 19 C. W. N. 149

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*TITLE—contd

Denial of landlord's title when entails forfeiture—Power of Court to relieve forfeiture In order that a denial of landlord's title should work a forfeiture of the tenancy, three things are necessary: (a) the tenant must set up title either in himself or in a third party inconsistent with their mutual relationship, (b) the denial must be direct and unequivocal and not casual and (c) it must be made to the knowledge of the landlord. A casual statement, uncommunicated to the landlord, made by a tenant in a sale, deed executed by him in favour of a third party in respect of other properties to the effect that the executant is the owner of the properties leased, does not amount to a disclaimer of the landlord's title. Per SENAPATI AYYAR, J. Obher A disclaimer of the landlord's title effects a forfeiture even if the tenure be for a specific term, and Courts have no power to relieve against it unless the disclaimer was occasioned by the fraud, mistake or accident of the landlord and the tenant was neither careless nor negligent. KENALOOTI v. MENAMPUR (1917) I L. R. 41 Mad. 629

"Sarkhat"—executed by tenant in favour of a person with an imperfect title—Notice of ejection—Tenant not competent to deny the title of person to whom he had given the sarkhat In execution of a decree against one of two joint owners of a house the decree holder caused the entire house to be sold. Whilst the house was under attachment the other joint owner filed his suit for partition and obtained a preliminary decree but the sale took place before this decree was made final. One M. P., who was a tenant of both the original owners then executed a sarkhat or acknowledgment of his tenancy, in favour of the auction purchaser, admitting that he was a tenant of the auction purchaser and liable to ejection by him under the conditions stated therein. Held that it was not open to M. P. to challenge the auction purchaser's right to eject him according to the terms of the sarkhat and to set up the ius tertii of one of the co-owners. Lal Mohamed v. Kallias I L. R. 11 Cal. 510, distinguished. MATHURA PRASAD v. GOKUL PRASAD (1919) I L. R. 41 All. 654

Denial of landlord's title—Forfeiture of tenancy—Denial that landlord's title was subsisting—Adverse possession—Kuduma tenure, nature of—Part of future services—Resumption of lands—Right to eject on denial of title A denial by the tenant of his landlord's title must, in order to work a forfeiture of the tenancy, be brought home to the knowledge of the landlord and it must be unequivocal and clear. The receipt and retention by the tenant of a document of sub lease in which he is spoken of as the jami of the lands demised, cannot operate as a denial of the landlord's title so as to cause a forfeiture of the tenancy. If a tenant denies subsisting title in the landlord and claims that the property became vested in him by adverse possession, such conduct amounts to denial of landlord's title prior to suit. Lands granted on kudma tenure for past services are not resumable. But if granted for future services they are resumable on a refusal to perform service. A denial by such tenant of the landlord's title is tantamount to refusal to tender service. RAMAY NAIK v. MARIYOMMA (1923) I L. R. 43 Mad. 480 stipulation in, against voluntary alienation by tenant to person other than landlord—Forfeiture of tenure by stranger at sale in execution of revenue decree—Purchaser if acquires a good title—Landlord if can sue original tenants for rent and obtain decree binding on tenure. The plaintiff purchased at an execution sale the right title and interest of the tenants in a nim howla tenure. Notwithstanding the purchase by the plaintiff which was duly notified to the landlord the latter brought a suit for rent against the tenants and obtained a decree. The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that this decree was not binding on him and that the tenure in his hands was not liable to be sold in execution thereof. The lease which created the nim howla tenure provided as follows—Let it be known that if you find it necessary to transfer the nim howla tenure you will transfer it to me for proper price. You will not be at liberty to transfer it to any person other than myself. If you transfer it to any other person, such transfer will be invalid. Held—That there being no covenant against involuntary alienations and no covenant for re-entry the plaintiff acquired a good title by his purchase and consequently it was not open to the landlord to sue the original tenants with a view to obtain a decree whereby he could proceed against the tenure in the hands of the plaintiff. PROMODE BANJAN GHOSH v. ASWANI KUMAR NAG 18 C. W. N. 1138

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*TITLE—contd

Denial of landlord's title—Forfeiture of tenancy—Denial that landlord's title was subsisting—Adverse possession—Kudma tenure nature of—Part of future services—Resumption of lands—Right to sue on denial of title. A denial by the tenant of his landlord's title must in order to work a forfeiture of the tenancy be brought home to the knowledge of the landlord and it must be unequivocal and clear. The receipt and retention by the tenant of a document of sub lease in which he is spoken of as the jami of the lands demised, cannot operate as a denial of the landlord's title so as to cause a forfeiture of the tenancy. If a tenant denies subsisting title in the landlord and claims that the property became vested in him by adverse possession, such conduct amounts to denial of landlord's title prior to suit. Lands granted on kudma tenure for past services are not resumable. But if granted for future services they are resumable on a refusal to perform service. A denial by such tenant of the landlord's title is tantamount to refusal to tender service. RAMAY NAIK v. MARIYOMMA (1923) I L. R. 43 Mad. 480

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

TRANSFER

Transfer of a portion of a non transferable jote—Joint possession—Transfer, validity of. The purchaser of a portion of a raiyats jote which is not transferable without the landlord's consent and where there is no finding of such consent, is not entitled to have joint possession of the jote. It is open to tenants in occupation of a portion of the jote to question the validity of the transfer. AGARJAN BIBI v. PARATULA (1910)

I L. R. 37 Cal. 657

See also, OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L. R. 42 Cal. 172

Transfer of holding—Leasehold Mortgage of holding, effect of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 25—Abandonment—Forfeiture. An unauthorized transfer of a holding or the parting with possession of it, in whole or in part does not per se work a forfeiture under the Bengal Tenancy Act. Transfer by way of usufructuary mortgage stands on the same footing as other partial transfers. Ashok Sardar v. Chandra Nath Vag Chowdhury, I L. R. 20 Cal. 520 Mathura Mandal v. Ganga Charan Gope, I L. R. 33 Cal. 1219 referred to Barada Charan Dutt v. Hemlata Das, 13 C. W. N. 242, commented on Ram Lal Dutt v. Bidumukha Das, I L. R. 33 Cal. 1034, Rajendra Kishore Adhikari v. Chandra Nath Dutt, 12 C. W. N. 878, Arushna Chandra Ditta Chowdhury v. Ashraf Begum, 19 C. W. N. 499, distinguished BRUFENDE NATH BOSE v. BANSI TANTI (1913)

I L. R. 40 Cal. 870

Non transferable occupancy holding—Occupancy holder transferring part of his holding without the knowledge or consent of the landlord—Transfer, validity of—Non payment of rent by tenant—Disclaimer—Suit by landlord for his possession of the transferred portion. The holder of a non transferable occupancy holding has no power to create by transfer a title good against his landlord. Where a tenant transferred by a deed of sale a portion of his non transferable occupancy holding without his landlord's knowledge or consent and subsequently refused to pay the rent of the transferred portion to the landlords on the ground that it was sold and relinquished in favour of the purchaser paying rent only for the portion of the holding which remained in his possession, and where such apportionment of the rent was accepted by the landlords. Held, that such an act on the part of the tenant amounted to a disclaimer to all right, title and interest to the transferred part and that the part transferred was at the disposal of the landlords unless any third person could make out a good title to possession as against them. ARUN KISHORE PAL CHOWDHURY v. BAMA SUNDARI DAS (1913)

I L. R. 43 Cal. 878

MISCELLANEOUS

1. — Representation, principle of—Decree against recorded tenants, effect of— When the recorded tenant represents a holding on behalf of all his co-shares, such holding passes by a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent obtained by the landlord against such tenant. Ashok Bhugyan v. Korma Purohit, 2 C. W. N. 843 discussed JAGATYAKA DAS v. DATTAJI BEWA (1909) I L. R. 37 Cal. 75

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

MISCELLANEOUS—contd

2. ———— Burgadar—Burgadar, if tenant—Suit for burgar rent, if maintainable in Small Cause Court—Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1857), Sec 11, cl (8) Settlement with a burgadar, under which he undertakes to cultivate the land for a half share of the produce, the remaining half going to the owner, does not by itself create the relation of landlord and tenant between the parties. A suit for recovery of the price of his share of the produce by the owner is maintainable in the Small Cause Court. KADR MANDAL v AHADALI MOLLA (1910). 14 C. W. N. 629

3. ———— Non-occupancy riyat—Semble Whether a tenant who enters upon a land held under a de facto proprietor, can acquire a riyat interest there in even though the de facto possessor ultimately turns out to be no real owner in case the tenant should have entered on the land in good faith. Binad Lal v Kala, 1 L R 20 Calc 703, Peary Mohun v Radhika Mohun, 8 C W N 315 sc 5 C L J 9, referred to. Where a tenant has acquired the status of a non occupancy riyat in respect of any land, he is entitled to possession of land which has accreted to his holding. Cour Hari v Bha, 1 L R 21 Calc 233, Bani Pershad v Chatur, 4 C L J 63, sc 1 L R 33 Calc 444, Amyad Ali v Kaderjan, 13 C W N 269, sc 8 C L J 537, Ahmed Bipari v Tahi Mahomed, 13 C W N 267, sc 8 C L J 534, Msa Jan v Akromali, 8 C L J 511 referred to. MADHU L SABAR ALI (1910)

14 C. W. N. 681

4. ———— Suit for rent—Third party impleaded and ordered to institute a suit in the Civil Court for declaration of his title—Revenue In a suit for rent instituted in a Court of Revenue the defendant pleaded that he had paid the rent in good faith to a third party. The party so named was impleaded in the suit and he stated that he was the sole owner of the property in respect of which rent was claimed and was entitled to the entire rent. The Court purporting to act under s 199 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, passed an order directing the third party to institute a suit in the Civil Court for determination of his title. Held that the High Court was not competent to entertain an application in revision from such order. Dambar Singh v Srikrishna Dass 1 L R 31 All 445. Parbhhu Varain Singh Kashi Narain v Harbans Lal 14 A I J 281 and Jamna Prasad v Karam Singh 1 L R 41 Ill 98, referred to. MURAHMAD ENTISQAM ALI v LALEJI SINGH (1918)

1 L R 41 All 226

5. ———— Unconscionable bargain—Presumption from possession—Where an unconscionable bargain is entered into by a tenant for no apparent reason the Court is justified in presuming undue influence When a tenant is found in possession of land adjacent to other lands admittedly under his cultivation and he has cultivated same to the knowledge of the Zamindar the Court may until the contra is proved presume that a part of his holding. KASHI NATH ROY v RAJAH DEEPA PRASAD SINGH

1 Pat L J 604

6. ———— In a village not purely agricultural but about 1/3rd so a father and son were in possession of a house site in the abadi

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

MISCELLANEOUS—contd

and carried on the occupation of inn keepers and sellers of tobacco and there was no evidence of the origin of their possession or that they ever paid rent or acknowledged the Zamindar. The son sold and the house fell down and the Zamindar sued to eject the purchasers. Held that in the circumstances of the case the defendants and their predecessors in interest were properly held to have acquired a title to the site by adverse possession. YASHA RAM v BANDE ALI KHAN

1 L R 38 All 757

——— Lessee sub-leasing his right—to another for a term without obtaining possession—Trespass by stranger—Right of lessee to sue stranger for possession, mesne profits and damages A lessee of certain lands who had not obtained possession from his lessor but subleased his right to others for a term with a stipulation that they should obtain possession, has no right to sue during the continuance of the term trespassers in possession either for mesne profits or for damages. Per Wallis, C J (Sadasiva Ayyar, J, contra) The lessee is also not entitled to sue the trespassers for possession. DAYOD MORTIJEEN RAUTNAR v JAYARAMA AYYAR (1921)

1 L R 44 Mad 937

LANDLORD AND TENANT ACT (BENG. VIII OF 1889)

See BENGAL RENT ACT.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R 41 Calc. 633

See UNDER TENURE SALE OF

1 L R 37 Calc. 823

LANDLORD'S INTEREST

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 143 cl (h) By the term 'Landlord's interest' in s 143 cl (h) of the Bengal Tenancy Act is meant the interest of the person entitled to receive the rent from the tenant at the date of the application for the execution of the decree. SHAMBHU NATH SINGH v SURESH PERSHAD SINGH (1913) 1 L R 40 Calc 462

LAND REGISTRATION

Estoppel against Act of Legislature—How far ss 78 and 81 of the Land Registration Act (Beng VII of 1876) affect s 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act—Estoppel—Land Registration Act (Beng VII of 1876) ss 78 81—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 60 There can be no estoppel against an act of the Legislature. Jagabundhu Saha v Riddha Krishna Pal, 1 L P 36 Calc 920, followed. S 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act governs a suit for rent where the plaintiff claims rent as proprietor of an estate though rent is sought to be real sold on the basis of a contractual obligation. The restrictions imposed by s 81 upon s 78 of the Land Registration Act cannot be incorporated by implication into s 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The plaintiff, an unregistered part proprietor of an estate is not entitled to succeed as against the defendant, who relying upon s 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has established that his debt has been discharged by payment of rent to the registered proprietor. As DUL AZIZ v KANTHU MALIK (1910)

1 L R 38 Calc 512

LAND REGISTRATION ACT (BENG VII OF 1878)

ss 42 53, 88—

See FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 38 Cal 365

§ 78—Resumed chauth dars chakran land—Effect of transfer to re-udar—Non registration under the Land Registration Act of 1878 to suit for rent—Village Chauth dars Act (Beng I of 1870) s 51 Where the plaintiff remander claimed rent for land which was originally chauth dars chakran and was upon resumption settled with his predecessor in interest and the defendant resented the claim on the ground that the name of the plaintiff was not registered in the books of the Collector until s 78 of the Land Registration Act of 1878. Held that under s 51 of the Village Chauthdars Act of 1870 the effect of transfer of resumed chakran lands to the remander was not to impart to such land the character of an estate for all purposes, and s 78 of the Land Registration Act was no bar to the plaintiff's suit. TINKARI MEKHERJEE v SATYA NIRANJAN CHAKRABARTY (1913) 18 C W N 158

Suit for rent—Dismissal for non registration of plaintiff's names under the Act—Registration pending appeal effect of—Costs Where a suit failed by reason of non registration of the plaintiff's names under Act VII of 1870 s 78 but registration was obtained during the pendency of the plaintiff's appeal the High Court on second appeal directed the case to be disposed of by the Trial Court on the merits it appearing that no portion of the claim was barred on the day when the land registration was really taken. The plaintiffs were directed to pay the costs of the defendants of the original trial and were not allowed costs of either Court of Appeal. CHULLAN SINGH v MADHO SINGH (1915) 19 C W N 794

ss 78 81—

See ISABADIAH.

I L R 48 Cal 1078.

See LAND REGISTRATION

I L R 28 Cal 512

LAND REVENUE

assignment for the office of Kul-karni—

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)

s 4 I L R 42 Bom 257

LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879)

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE

LAND TENURE IN BENGAL.

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT

Enhancement of Rent—Reservation of Progress vs Rent—Interference—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 30 When the agreement creating a permanent tenure provides that for a certain number of years the land shall be held rent free, and that for a certain number of years subsequently a progressively increasing rent be paid, the inference is that the maximum rent so provided was to remain the fixed rent and was not to be liable to enhancement. PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY v KATYANI DEBI (1910) L R 46 I A 279

LAND TENURE IN BENGAL—contd

See Wakals 17

Khurda—Absence of her table or transferable Rights—Liability to demand for second class Sarbaraks in Khurda have no heritable or transferable right in the office or in the Sarbaraks Jagir lands. They are liable to dismissal for misconduct and upon dismissal lose all rights in the jagir lands. SADDANANDA MAITI v VEDRATHI MAITI s B L R 280 discussed PARANA NANDA DAS GOSWAMI v KRIPASINDHU ROY (1918) I L R 46 Cal 378

L R 45 I A 246

Char acquired in 1833—Purpose of letting—Tenure holder—No accrued right as raiyat—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 19 The appellants' predecessors in 1833 acquired from the Government extensive Char lands in Bengal for the purpose of reclaiming them and then letting them at a profit to cultivators. There was some evidence that on occasions prior to 1885 the Board of Revenue and its subordinate bodies had regarded the holding as raiyati. Held that the appellants were tenure holders within s 5 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 and that s 19 which saves occupancy rights accrued to raiyats prior to the Act did not apply as neither the appellants nor their predecessor had held a raiyati interest in the land. RAJANI KANTA GHOSH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) L R 45 I A 190

LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

1 Inam Grant—Kudavaram—Absence of Presumptio in Fatale—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908 Mad) s 3 sub s 2 (d) In determining whether an inam village is an estate within s 3 sub s (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 there is no presumption of law that an inam grant even if it was made to a Brahman did not include the Kudavaram. Each case must be determined upon the terms of the grant and all the circumstances so far as they can be ascertained. In 1783 in confirmation of a grant in 1748 which was not in evidence a village together with gardens, holy shrines, wells and tanks was granted as a acres ayroharum to be cultivated and enjoyed by the grantee hereditarily. The grantee was referred to in a document of 1788 as being resident in the place. The documents in evidence, including inam registers extending to 1865 and the subsequent dealings with the property were inconsistent with any person other than the inamdars having rights of permanent occupancy. In 1907 the inamdar let to tenants lands which at the time of the grant had been waste lands of the village and upon the terms expiring in 1908 sued to eject them. Held that the lands in suit were not an "estate" within the Madras Estates Land Act 1904 and that the appellant could eject the tenants by suits in the Civil Courts. SURYANARAYANA v PALANAN L R 45 I A 219 followed UPADRASHTA VENKATA SASTRULU v DIVI SEETHARAMUDU (1919) L R 46 I A 123

2 Occupancy Right—Inherently Settled Estate—Part of estate not on other Land—Estate—Madras Estates Land Act (Mad Act I of 1908) s 3 s 3 By s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908 an estate for the purpose of that Act includes "any permanently settled estate or temporarily settled zamindari. Land forming part of a permanently settled estate in Madras was taken by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, and the revenue attributable to it ascertained. The Zamindar petitioned that, instead of a corresponding reduction being made in the revenue for the estate, he should receive as compensation other land which he already held under a Government ryoti patta. That land accordingly was transferred to him in 1893. In 1901 he let it to tenants who, upon the terms expiring after the Act of 1893 came into force, refused to give up possession—Held, that the land so transferred was not part of an "estate" within the Act, and that a suit to eject the tenants could be maintained in a Civil Court. ZAMINDAR OF SAKIVARA PUPPT v. ZAMINDAR OF SOUTH VALLEU (1918)

LAND TENURE IN MADRAS—contd.

I. L. R. 46 I. A. 38

LANDS CLAUSES CONSOLIDATION ACT (8 & 9 VICT., C. 18).

ss. 63, 68—

See RECOUNTMENT.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 343

LAPSE TO MONASTERY.

custom of—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

14 C. W. N. 191

LARCENY.See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 379 . . . I. L. R. 34 All. 89

LATHI PLAY.See PENAL CODE, s 121A

18 C. W. N. 1105

association for, seditious—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAFF WAR.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

16 C. W. N. 1105

LAW.

in part Repugnant—

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

I. L. R. 1 Lab. 326

question of—Decision that there is no evidence to support finding. A decision that there is no evidence to support a finding is a decision of law. HARENDRA LAL ROY CHOWDHURI v. HARI DASI DEBI (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 817

LAWFUL APPREHENSION.

resistance to—

See RESCUE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1161

LEADING QUESTIONS.See CHARGE . . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957*See* JURY. . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467LEASE.See* ADVERSE POSSESSION.

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 53

See BEMIANI PATTI. . . 21st L. J. 180LEASE—*contd.See BOMBAY RENT ACT, 1918

ss 3, 9, 12 . . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 535

See DISTRESS LAND

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 164

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O II, r 2

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 444

See CONTRACT . . . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 771*See* CUSTOMARY LAW OF SOUTH KANARA

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 118

See DEKHEAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s 3 CL (a) AND s 10A

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 397

See ESTOPPEL . . . I. L. R. 39 Cal. 513*See* KABULIYAT

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1016

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880), ss 9, 10

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 709

See LAMBANDAR AND CO SHAFER

I. L. R. 33 All. 17

See LAND ACQUISITION.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 725

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEASE)See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM I OF 1879), s 3 (19)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 462

See LEASEHOLD PROPERTY*See* LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH I, ART. 92, 93 . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 22*See* MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s 42, CL (a) AND (b) AND 2

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 524

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MADRAS I OF 1900), s 19

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 603

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 845

See MINOR . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 618*See* MINING LEASE*See* MOKARARI LEASE.See MORTGAGE . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 371*See* MULOONI LEASE*See* OCCUPANCY RAIYAT.

I. L. R. 40 All. 228

See PERMANENT LEASE*See* REGISTRATION LEASE*See* REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1909), s 17,

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 458

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 8

See RENT . . . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 347*See* RES JUDICATA.

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 224

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), s 59, SCH. I, ART. 35, CL. (a), SUB CL. (iii)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 434

LEASE—contd

See STAMP DUTY

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 629

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 804

See SURVEYS AND BOUNDARIES ACT 8 12 I. L. R. 34 Mad. 108See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—

s 10 I. L. R. 33 Mad. 867

s 105 . . . 14 C. W. N. 73

s 107 . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 500

s 107, 107 I. L. R. 38 All. 178

s 108 (j) I. L. R. 37 All. 144

Agreement to not admissible if unregistered—See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 49
28 C. W. N. 329

agreement to renew—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 665

by Collector—

See EMBARKMENT
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 825

by Mahomedan co-heirs—

See TENANTS IN COMMON
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

by wife, repudiation of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 10 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 867

construction of—

See RESUMPTION
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 279

determination of—

See EJECTMENT I. L. R. 45 Calc. 489 determined by one lessor—

See TENANTS IN COMMON
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

document, varying terms of—

See REGISTRATION
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 284Ejectment of Tenant in arrears with rent—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s 17
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 300

for a term—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1042for a term of years, construction of—See CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 74

forfeiture of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXII s 10
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 563

See EJECTMENT . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 469

From future date—

See REGISTRATION
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 8LEASE—contd.

Intention to determine—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s 111, cl (j)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 185

of mutt properties—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 709

of palmyra juice—

See REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877), s 17 (1), FC I. L. R. 38 Mad. 883 registration of—

See TENANCY AT WILL
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 214

repudiation of—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH II
ART 91 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 321 surrender of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 552

Taraga Lease for reclamation—

See MALABAR LAW
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 509

Unregistered lease for six months—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882,
s 4 . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 55

variation in the terms of—

See REGISTRATION
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 234

1. Solehnama—Unregistered Soleh nama, admissibility in evidence of—Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17, cl (d) and (8) A soleh nama, by which no immediate interest in immovable property is created, and whereby there has been no demise does not amount to a lease within the meaning of clause (d) of s 17 of the Registration Act, and is merely an agreement to create a lease on a future day. Such a document falls within clause (h) of s 17 of the Indian Registration Act and is admissible in evidence without registration. PANCHANAN BOSE; CHANDI CHARAN MISRA (1910) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 808

2. Multifarious document—One lease with several parties concurring to it—Stamp Act (II of 1899), s 5, 28 (3), 35, 57 (1) The concurrence of several parties to one and the same lease does not make it a multifarious document within the meaning of s 5 of the Stamp Act. The stamp-duty on such a lease is the same as on a conveyance for a consideration equal to the amount or value of the fine or premium for which the lease is granted. In re PANJARA (COLLECTORS, LTD. (1910) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 629

3. Letter containing all the elements of a lease, whether admissible in evidence without registration—Payment of rent at a reduced rate on the basis of that letter, effect of—Conflicting descriptions of the subject matter of a grant—Lease not put in possession of specific area mentioned in the lease, effect of—Mistake of fact—Statement of rent in a suit for rent at a certain rate, the lessee pleaded that by virtue of a letter addressed to him by the lessor, the latter was entitled to get rent only at a reduced rate. The letter contained a definition of the reduced rental, rented the area of the land demised under the lease the nature of the interest granted by the lease and the instalments in which rents were payable. Held, that the letter being a non-testamentary instrument which purported to limit in future a vested interest of the value of Rupees one hundred and upwards in immovable property, was not admissible in evidence without being registered. Biraj Mohan Dasree v Kedar Nath Karmakar, 1 L R 35 Cal 1010, referred to. Held, also that the mere fact that rent for some years had been received at the reduced rate did not bind the lessor to accept rent at that rate in future, inasmuch as, even if the letter had been treated as an agreement for reduction of rent it was not enforceable in law, having been made without consideration. Where there are two conflicting descriptions of the subject matter of a grant, or two conflicting parts of the same description, that which is the more certain and stable, and the least likely to have been mistaken or to have been inserted inadvertently, must prevail, if it sufficiently identifies the subject-matter. Newson v Fryer's Lessee, 7 Wheaton U S 7, referred to. But where these two elements—the boundaries and the quantity—are equally certain and exactly defined, or the boundaries are as precise and definite as the quantity is specific and exact and there is gross discrepancy between the quantity specified and the quantity found to be included within the defined boundaries, preference should be given to that element of the description of the subject matter which is more consistent with the intention of the parties to be collected from the other parts of the deed, illuminated, if necessary, by the surrounding circumstances and the subsequent conduct of the parties. Lord v The Commissioners for the City of Sydney, 12 Moo P C 473, 11 Eng R 991. White v Juning 93 U S 514, Croghan v Nelson, 3 How U S 287, and Holmes v Trout, 7 Pet U S 171, referred to. Where a lease is taken of a specific quantity of land within definite boundaries, both the lessor and the lessee being under a common mistake that such quantity exists within the boundaries while in fact it is much less, there is no valid contract and the parties are entitled to rescission thereof, but the defendant has the option to affirm the contract, and hold the lessee for the lesser quantity with proportionate abatement of rent. Pogit v Marshall 28 Ch D 255, Harris v Pepperell 5 Eq 1, and Corrard v Frankel 30 Fawc 115, referred to. Durga Prasad Singh v Rajendra Narain Poochi (1909).

LEASE—contd

I. L. R. 37 Cal. 293

4 ——— Tarward—Lease by senior member alone—Validity of A lease by the senior member of a tarward alone is valid. Koroth Ammar Aulis v Perampattil Appu Nambiar 1 L R 29 Mad 322, explained and distinguished. CHAKKANTA VIDA CHAKKAN ABDULLA v THAPATH (H.K.K. KOOHI) (1910). I. L. R. 34 Mad. 245

5 ——— Oral agreement to lease—Petition of compromise—Matters extraneous to the suit in which the petition of compromise was filed—Specific performance—(bribe) By a petition of compromise which was filed in a previous suit between the parties concerning certain lands, the plaintiff undertook to recognise the defendant as their tenant in respect of lands not included in that suit, and they further gave up their claim of relief for the recognition on the defendant's agreement to pay an additional sum to what was payable by the original tenant. Upon a suit brought by the plaintiffs for recovery of arrears of rent on the basis of this compromise, defence was that the petition of compromise was not admissible in evidence for want of registration. Held, that although the petition of compromise in so far as it related to properties which were not the subject-matter of the suit in which the decree was made, was not operative to affect such properties, it was admissible in evidence as indicating the existence of an oral agreement to grant a lease, which was specifically enforceable and the position of the parties was the same, as if a proper document had been executed and registered, and that, therefore, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree. Birbhadra Nath v Kulpaluru Pan'a 1 C L J 388, and Gurdeo Singh v Chandrikh Singh, 1 L R 35 Cal 193 referred to. The principle of Walsh v Landale, 21 Ch D 2, applied. Held, further, that the sum agreed to be paid by the defendant being in consideration of the land occupied by him, and also in view of the remission of the selami, was not an ai'wab. SARAT CHANDRA GHOSH v SHYAM CHAND SINGH ROY (1912).

LEASE—contd

I. L. R. 39 Cal. 663

6 ——— Unexpired term of lease bequeathed to widow—Widow holding over—on expiry of lease—Grant by Government to widow of property the subject of the lease—Nature of estate taken by widow A lease of a village in Kumaon was granted by the Government in 1844 for a period of twenty years. The lessee died in 1852, having left his interest in the village (without clearly specifying what it amounted to) to his widow for life and after her to her daughter for life with a reversion in favour of a certain temple. The widow, however, continued in possession of the village down to 1871, when the Government granted her proprietary interest in it, which she subsequently sold. Held, on suit for possession after the death of the widow and her daughter by a person claiming as reversioner to the original lessee that the estate which the widow acquired in 1871 as the grantee of the Government was her own personal estate and not merely an enlargement of the leasehold estate of her husband and that the plaintiff had consequently no right to succeed. RAJ KISHORE DAS v JAGAT SINGH. I. L. R. 38 All. 387

7 ——— Rent if enhanceable beyond the maximum fixed—When land was let out for purposes of reclamation to be effected by the lessees at their expense, though the lessors also undertook to make a contribution thereto, and was to be held for the first four years without rent which was thereafter to be progressive till a maximum was reached, and there was no provision for a further rise, the reasonable inference to draw from these circumstances was that the parties intended that when the specified maximum was reached there would be no further increase. KATTANI DEBI v PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO (1914). 19 C. W. N. 55

8 ——— "Istemrari mokarari"—Meaning of the expression, lexicographical and customary—Tenor, propriety of—What covenants and circumstances favour the theory of perpetuity—Meaning of words in a document, whether a question of fact or law—Rights of parties to a contract how governed The expression "istemrari mokarari" does not per se convey, either by connotation or by way of intension, an estate of inheritance, but an istemrari mokarari gatta, notwithstanding the absence of words indicative of heritability, such as ba farzandun, nasab bad nasab or af aslad, may indicate a perpetual grant, if the other terms of the instrument the circumstances under which it was made or the subsequent conduct of the parties, show such an intention with sufficient certainty. Clauses in a lease which impose a restraint on transfer or cutting down of fruit bearing or income-yielding trees by the lessee are not inconsistent with the theory of a perpetual lease. Clauses which throw the cost of improvement on the lessee indicate some measure of continuity, but not necessarily perpetuity. A lease in favour of two persons points to the conclusion that, though some measure of continuity was desired, perpetuity was not intended. A substantial premium for a lease is one of the surest indications of a permanent grant. Tulsh Pershad Singh v Ramnarain Singh, 1 L R 12 (alc 117 L R 121 A 205 analysed and followed. Tule narain Sahu v Rahoo Mod narain Singh (1844) S D A 752 101 D (U S) 532. Amaranath Das Begum v Hitarain Singh (1853) S D A 648. The Government of Bengal v Nawab Jafar Hossein, 5 Moo 1 A 467. Sarobur Singh v Raja Mohendranarain Singh (1860) S D A 577. Raja Lillanand Singh Bahadur v Phalun Munorajun Singh 13 D L R 121 L R Sup Vol 131. Shen Pershad Singh v Kally Dass Singh, 1 L R 5 (alc 543, Bilamoni Das v Raja Shro Pershad Singh 1 L R 8 (alc 601 L R 91 A 33. Bras Pershad Kori v Duddanath Roy 1 L R 27 Calc 156, L R 261 A 216. Agar Dindh Upadhyay v Mohan Bikram Shah 1 L R 30 Calc 20. Narain Singh Sahu v Ram Narain Singh, 1 L R 30 Calc 533 and Choudhary Gridhari Singh v Maharny Ram Narain Singh, 19 C B N cellex followed. Munorajun Singh v Rajah Lellamund Singh 3 W R 84. Tekant Maharny Singh v Raju Lillanand Singh 2 B L R A C, 125a. Rajah Lellamund Singh v Thakoor Munorajun Singh, 5 W R 191. Lakhi Koor v Roy Hari Arulha Singh 1 B L R A C, 226, 12 W R 3, and Korunakar Mahat v Nidhar Choudhry, 6 D L R 652 14 W E 107 overruled. Walson v Mahesh Narain Roy, 24 W R 176 referred to. The meaning of words in a document is a question of fact, though the effect of words is a question of law. Chatterney v Brazilian Submarine Telegraph Company (1891), 1 Q B 79, followed. The rights of parties to a contract are to be judged by that law by which they may justly be presumed to have bound themselves. Lloyd v Guibert 6 R & S 100 122 E R 1131, and Abdul Aziz Khan v Appayamma Nasir 1 L R 27 Mad 131 L R 311 A 1, followed. Where a lease is in favour of two persons and the lease would not terminate till the death of the survivor of the two lessees, no question of limitation can arise before the death of both the lessees. Quere. Whether the mode in which registration of a lease is effected is relevant to an enquiry as to the nature of the lease. Dagbilla Mella v Nasir Mulla 1 L R 7 Calc 198. Jogindhar Narain Prasad v Brown, 1 L R 33 Calc 1133 and Indra Bibi v Jais Sardar Afari, 1 P P 35 Calc 845. Sartaj Kaur v Dewraj Kaur 1 L R 10 All 272, L R 151 A 51, referred to. RAM NARAY SINGH v CHOTA NAOPUR BANKING ASSOCIATION (1915). . . . 1 L R, 43 Calc 332

LEASE—could

9. ——— Limitation—lease of Government land in writing, registered—Consent of part not given from reception of lease—Not for damages—Time from which limitation begins to run—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Art 116—Failure to give possession whether a continuing breach—Equivocal or unambiguous acknowledgment, whether, a valid one under s 19 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877)—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882), applicability of to crown grants. The plaintiff obtained in March, 1896 from the defendant, the Collector of Godavari district, acting as Agent to the Government, a lease, in writing registered, for five years, of a piece of land whose 'probable extent' was described as 777 acres. The plaintiff was given possession of only 168 acres and unsuccessfully demanded possession of the rest in July, 1896. After some correspondence the Tahsildar in 1898 communicated to the plaintiff the Collector's order that, 'pending the disposal of the dispute the collection of one third of the kist (rent) should be stopped and the remaining sum collected.' The plaintiff brought this suit in 1907 for damages for non delivery of possession of 100 acres. Held, (a) that the cause of action for breach of the covenant to give possession occurred at the inception of the lease, i.e., in March, 1896 and that as more than six years had elapsed from that date, the suit was barred under Art 116 of the Limitation Act, and (b) that breach of a covenant to give possession is not a continuing breach and such a covenant is not part of a covenant for quiet enjoyment which is a 'continuing covenant'. Held, further, that the Tahsildar's communication, which was as consistent with a temporary suspension or an ex gratia remission of a claim for rent as with an acknowledgment of liability, was not such an unequivocal acknowledgment as is required by s 19 of the Limitation Act. Held, also, that though the Transfer of Property Act is not applicable to Crown grants, like the one in question, the principle of its provision as to leases, e.g., s 108, etc., is applicable to them. Quere Whether the Tahsildar or Collector had authority to acknowledge. PER SIVAYASA AYYANAR, J.—The plaintiff was barred even if limitation was reckoned from July, 1896 when he demanded and failed to obtain possession from the Government SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA V. VENKAYATTA (1915) 1 L R, 40 Mad 910

LEASE—could

10. ——— Assignment of a lease—Reputation of lessor's title—By the original lessor—Forfeiture. A mere repudiation by the original lessor of the lessor's title will not work a forfeiture against the assignee of the lease. PER HEATON, J. The Transfer of Property Act does recognize that his interest in the property may be transferred by a lease to an assignee and thus may be done without the consent of the lessor and if that can be done it seems to me to follow as a matter of reason that when the entire interest is transferred by the lessee to the assignee, then the assignee is not responsible for acts done by the lessee. GOPAL JAYVANT v SHREINWAS VITHAL (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom 734

11. ——— Mokarari Lease—Grant of Land "maas hak hakuk" (with all rights)—Mineral and other sub soil rights—Rights not expressly included in terms of lease. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court), that the expression "maas hak hakuk" ("with all rights") in a mokarari lease of land did not add to the true scope of the grant nor cause mineral rights to be included within it. The essential characteristic of a lease is that the subject of it is one which is occupied and enjoyed, and the corpus of which does not in the nature of things and by reason of the user, disappear. Unless there be by the terms of the lease an express, or plainly implied, grant of mineral rights they remain reserved to the zemindar, there being no evidence of his having parted with them. Hors Narain Singh Deo v. Sriram Chakravarti, 1 L R 37 Cal 723; L R 37 I A 136, Durga Prasad Singh v. Braja Nath Bose, 1 L R 39 Cal 696, L R 39 I A 133, and Shashi Bhuvan Misra v. Jyoti Prasad Singh Deo, 1 L P 44 Cal 585, L R 44 I A 46, followed. Megh Lal Pandey v. Rajkumar Thakur, 1 L R 31 Cal 358, overruled. By the terms of the lease trees on the land were expressly transferred to the grantee, but mineral rights were not so included in its terms, and the presumption was, therefore, that the zemindar had not intended to transfer them, and they did not pass under the lease. RAJ KUMAR THAKUR GIR DRANI SINGH v. MEGH LAL PANDEY (1917)

LEASE—contd

I L R 45 Cal 57

12 ——— *Darpatni—Conditions in—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 159, cl (b), 179—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 10—Receiver—Appointment of Receiver in administration suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss 503, 505 A, a patnidar, created a darpatni, in 1886 in favour of B, which contained the following terms: "like yourself we shall have full rights to grant leases or make settlements of land in the mofussil, but if these darpatni mahals be sold at auction for arrears of mahikana (rent) due to you, then all agreements entered into by us shall be extinct (stand annulled)." The common manager of B's estate granted to the defendants a permanent under tenure in 1901 B having defaulted to pay rent to A, the latter in execution of a decree for arrears of rent purchased B's interest on the 21st September 1904, the sale was confirmed in due course on the 20th March 1905. The Receiver of the estate of A, appointed by a decree in an administration suit without permission from the District Judge, granted a darpatni to the plaintiff in 1906. Held, that A and B were competent to enter into a contract of permanent tenancy subject to the restriction actually imposed, which was one of the incidents of the under tenure and ran with the land so as to be operative not only between the grantors and grantees but also their representatives in interest and the holders of derivative titles from them. Held, also, that the condition in the lease not being an absolute restraint on alienation and being for the benefit of the lessor, neither the provisions of s 159 of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor s 10 of the Transfer of Property Act had any application. Held, further, that the Receiver not being appointed under s 503 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 but by a decree in an administration suit the provision of s 505 requiring permission of the District Judge did not apply, and the darpatni granted by such Receiver was valid and unassailable. MIDNAPUR ZEMINDARI CO v. MIDNAPUR ZEMINDARI CO (1917)*

I L R. 45 Cal 640

13 ——— Lessee given the option of purchasing the land leased—Within a certain time for a fixed price—Assignment of the lease—Legal assignee of the lessee entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase—Conveyance—Under and purchaser—Purchaser to accept such title as the vendor possessed—Recitals about the title—Orig-

LEASE—contd

nating summons—Estoppel. By an Indenture dated 1st March 1913, the defendants leased to one B P M a plot of land for a term of ninety nine years. Under cl 7 of the Indenture the lessee obtained a right to purchase the premises demised at a price named within eighteen years from the date of the lease, the purchaser accepting such title as the vendors had. By an Indenture of Assignment dated 22nd May 1916, the lessee assigned the lease for the then residue of the said term to the plaintiff. The plaintiff intimated to the defendants by a notice in writing his intention of purchasing the said plot under the provisions of cl 7. The defendants called upon the plaintiff to submit for their approval a draft conveyance of the said plot. The draft conveyance forwarded by the plaintiff to the defendants contained certain recitals tracing the title of the vendors from the last purchaser of the property. The defendants objected to the insertion of the said recitals and sought on the one part to incorporate certain covenants in the draft. Correspondence between the parties showed that the dispute between them was solely confined to the insertion of the recitals and the covenants. The plaintiff took out an originating summons for the determination of the question whether the recitals and the covenants proposed by the respective parties should be embodied in the conveyance. The summons was a joined into Court for hearing. At the trial the defendants conceded that they could not at that stage insist on the covenants set out by them. The defendants, however, contended that the plaintiff was not entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase as he was not the original lessee but only an assignee of the lease and as the option to purchase was a personal covenant and not a covenant which ran with the land it did not ensue to the benefit of the assignee. Held (i) that the plaintiff being bound to accept such title as the vendors had the recitals set out by him in the proposed conveyance were unnecessary and should be struck out. (ii) that as the plaintiff was the legal assignee of the residue of the term of lease he was entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase. (iii) that as the correspondence between the parties proceeded on the assumption on that the plaintiff though an assignee of the lease was entitled to exercise the option of purchase under the lease the defendants having acquiesced in the same were estopped from disputing it. Woodall v. Clifton, 9 L T 292 distinguished. Frary Hildrop and Hensley's Executors Limited v. Singleton, [1899], 1 Ch 86, referred to. LADHARAI LAKHMI v. NIK JAMSHETJI JATISHOY (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 103

14 ——— Surrender or relinquishment of—If requires a dissent—Co-sharer working mines—The other co-sharer's remedy—Accounts or partition—Equities. A surrender or relinquishment of a lease does not require to be in writing but can be inferred from the acts of the parties. In the absence of proof of actual ouster or destruction of property one co-sharer cannot demand accounts from another co-sharer for minerals taken by him out of joint property unless it is shown that he had worked more than his fair share. No claim for account is maintainable where the co-sharer knowing that the other co-sharer had been spending large sums of money to develop the mines acquiesced. His remedy is by a suit for partition in which the other co-sharer should, if possible be maintained in possession of the portion of the property upon which he has spent money

LEASE—contd.

MEER & MONORANJAN BANERJEE (1918)

22 C. W. N. 441

15. ——— Taluka pottah.—meaning of —Enhancement of rent in cases of permanent lease
 The use of the words Taluka pottah would prima facie show that the interest granted to the lessee was intended to be a permanent one.
 The rule has always been in this country that generally, when the lease is a permanent one the rent is liable to enhancement, unless the landlord has precluded himself by a contract or is by law precluded from claiming an enhancement.
UPENDRA LAL GUPTA v JOGESH CHANDRA PAK (1917)

22 C. W. N. 275

16. ——— Holding over.—Notice to quit
 A tenant of homestead land within a town holding over on the terms of an expired ten years lease is not entitled to a six months notice ending with the end of a year of tenancy.
MANMATHA NATH
SANTRA & PRABHU MOHAN MUKHERJEE (1918)

23 C. W. N. 596

17. ——— Successive leases by the same zemindar.—Suit by first lessee for land alleged to be sold in his grant.—Second lessee in possession
—Muzah of which land in suit alleged to be part not defined and not capable of definition.—Defendant if may be made to give all land not shown to be within his lease. Plaintiffs in 1903 sued the Defendants for recovery of certain lands as being parts of their Muzah Pinguldaha. Both parties claimed under leases granted by the zemindar, dated 1871 and 1833 respectively. The locality of Pinguldaha except as a bel was already unknown at the date of the Thalbast survey in 1836 and the very name disappeared in 1880.
 The High Court in decreeing the Plaintiffs' suit determined its area not by any positive finding of its boundaries, but by conjecturing the boundaries of Defendants' land and giving the rest to the Plaintiffs. The Defendants being the parties in possession Held (reversing the High Court's judgment and restoring that of the Subordinate Judge)—That the Plaintiffs could not succeed.
GOPAL CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v RAJANIKANTA GHOSE

24 C. W. N. 553

18. ——— Covenant not to assign without consent of the landlord.—Consent un- reasonably withheld.—Assignee a Limited Company if a "person" under such a covenant.—A respectable and responsible person "if a Limited Company could be such a person."—Or granting common-
High Court Rules and Orders, Or. Genl. S. de, Ch
XIII, r. 9. Under a lease containing the clause that the lessee would not assign etc. without consent of Landlord just consent not to be unreasonably withheld. Held that it was not reasonable and without consent because assignee was a Limited Company. F. H. DICKSON & F.
V. D. COHEN

24 C. W. N. 1007

19. ——— Lease by Baigat.—Lease granted by a Baigat representing himself as a tenant-holder or raiyat at a fixed rent & secured. CHAK
DRAKANTA NATH AND OTHERS v ANJAN ADI HAZI

25 C. W. N. 4

20. ——— Restrictive covenant, breach of.—A stipulation in a lease that the lessee shall not sublet the leased property without the consent of the lessor, amounts, in the absence of a provision for re-entry or forfeiture on breach of the condition to a covenant and not to a condition. A breach of such stipulation does not operate to prevent an assignment of the leased properties but on assignment without his consent the lessee would be entitled to damages from the lessee. SITAL PRASAD v NAWAB OILDAR ALI KHAN

LEASE—contd.

1 Pat. L. J. 1

21. ——— Partition.—Lease for a term, suit by for partition of mines and minerals. A suit for partition of underground mines and minerals is maintainable by a lessee for a term of 999 years.
LALIT KISHORE MITRA & THAKUR (JEEHARI SINGH

1 Pat. L. J. 441

22. ——— Trespass.—Appln. whether lessor may induce stranger on to land demised.
 A lessor cannot during the pendency of the lease, let the demised property to a tenant without the consent or concurrence of the lessee. A person induced on to the land by a lessor during the term of an existing lease is a trespasser and is liable to be ejected by the lessee. KADIR BAKSH
v SHEO PRASAD MISHRA

1 Pat. L. J. 713

23. ——— Permanent tenancy.—Two de- faults in payment of rent.—Forfeiture—Court's order to relieve against forfeiture.—Equity—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). s. 114. The land in suit had been leased to the defendant permanently under an agreement that if rent was not paid within three months of the time fixed, the landlord was to recover possession. The defendant having committed two defaults the lease was forfeited and the plaintiff landlord sued to recover possession. The Subordinate Judge made an order relieving the defendant against forfeiture under s. 114 of the Transfer of Property Act. The appellate Judge set aside the order as in his opinion on the forfeiture which was to come into operation not immediately but three months after the rent became payable could not be reversed against. On appeal to the High Court Held, reversing the decision of the lower appellate Court, that under the circumstances of the case the order made by the Subordinate Judge was a correct order as the general principle of equity was that the Court would relieve against forfeiture unless the tenant had done something to forfeit his right to bring himself within the principle of equity.
KRISHNADASI v BITHARAM (1920)

1 L. R. 45 Bom. 300

24. ——— Lease for a term.—Covenant for renewal of lease from time to time, whether void for perpetuity.—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). s. 14.—Covenants for renewal and for pre- emption & dissent between. A covenant in a lease for a term for its renewal from time to time at the option of the lessee is not void as being in violation of the rule against perpetuities, s. 14, Transfer of Property Act applies only to transfers and not to covenants such as covenants for renewal of lease. Covenants for the renewal of a lease are not similar to covenants for pre-emption which, with regard to the right of the lessee, are perpetual. s. 14 of the Transfer of Property Act, (1915), I. L. J. 35, 3rd H. 115 distinguished.
PICHU NAIDU v JEEFERSON (1921)

1 L. R. 44 Mad 230

25. ——— A lessor cannot during the pendency of the lease let the demised premises to another lessee without the consent of the lessee in possession. KADIR BAKSH v
SHEO PRASAD MISHRA

2 Pat. L. J. 715

LEASE—contd.

26 ———— Oral agreement to, when valid—Agreement to lease—Oral agreement, if valid—Registration, whether necessary—Present demise—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882), s 107—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s 19—Specific performance, whether obtainable—Rights, of third party having knowledge of such agreement—
Transfer for value without notice—Possession, if amounts to notice. An oral agreement to lease is valid. S 107 of the Transfer of Property Act refers to leases, i.e., actual transfers of property and not to agreements to lease. Semble—Although under the Registration Act "lease" includes an agreement to lease, under s 49 no unregistered and registrable document shall affect any immovable property comprised therein or be received as evidence of any transaction affecting such property. So what is precluded under both s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act and the Registration Act is the affecting of the property.
Quare—Whether an agreement to lease i.e., an obligation to transfer, is a transaction affecting the property or whether an unregistered document void as a lease may be used to establish an agreement to lease. When in pursuance of an agreement for a lease the intended lessee has taken possession though the requisite document has not been executed the position is the same as if the document has been executed provided specific performance can be obtained between the same parties in the same Court and at the same time as the subsequent legal question falls to be determined. When the tenant is in possession the transfer from the landlord is presumed to have knowledge of the rights of the tenant unless it is proved that he is a bona fide transferee for value.
See BARANASHI DASI v. PAPAT VELJI RAJDEY
25 C W N 220

LEASE IN PERPETUITY.

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I. L. R. 28 Calc. 526
See MISCELLANEOUS
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 95
——— validity of—
See MILLS, HEAD OF
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 356

LEASEHOLD PROPERTY.

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 448

LEASE OF COURT.

See HINDU SUTEN
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 473
See MORTGAGE, SUTEN FOR
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 258
See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY
Act (III of 1909) s 17
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 359
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 235
See PRACTICE
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 352, 432
——— for compromise on behalf of minor—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 11
XXVII s 4
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 574

LEASE—contd.

——— in suit against guardian—
See GUARDIAN AND WARD ACT, 1890,
s 36 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 802
——— in suit against Receiver—
See HIGH COURT
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 903
LEAVE TO APPEAL.
See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
23 C. W. N. 582
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—
ss 910 110 I. L. R. 38 Bom. 421
s 110 I. L. R. 43 Bom. 477
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 104
See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 955
See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)
s 54 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 508
See PRACTICE L. R. 40 I. A. 241
See PRIVY COUNCIL 14 C. W. N. 872
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 510
S v PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF See REVIEW I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1037

——— Application—*Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 110—Computation of time—Limitation Act (I of 1908), s 12 whether ultra vires—Legislative powers of the Governor General in Council—Order in Council 1833—Government of India Act, 1858 (21 & 22 Vict c
106), s 61—Ind. an. Councils Act 1861 (24 & 25
Vict c 67)—Letters Patent, 1863 ss 39, 41 s 12 of the Limitation Act of 1908 applies to applications for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council s 12, sub cl (5) which enacts that "in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an application for leave to appeal the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree appealed from shall be excluded" was within the legislative powers of the Governor General in Council, not being in contravention of s 64 of the Government of India Act 1858 and is not ultra vires. Eastern Milkways and Agency Company Limited v. Purna Chandra Surbagan, I. L. R. 39 Calc. 510 Ishakmanan v. Perna-san, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 373, Anderson v. Perna-san, I. L. R. 15 Mad. 103, In re Sita Devi Kishor,
I. L. R. 15 All. 14, Thurston Rajah v. J. Anandaram Jothan, I. L. R. 15 Mad. 451, Moroba Ram-chandra v. Ghoshanram Nallath Neddiar, I. L. R.
19 Bom. 301 Mit Chand v. Gangra Parashad s 40,
I. L. R. 24 All. 174 I. P. 29 I. A. 40, referred to ABDULHAQ HUSSEIN CHOWDHURY v. ABDELRAH-MAN HUSSEIN HUSSEIN (1914)
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 33*

LEAVE TO SUP.

See WATKIN I. L. R. 44 Calc. 10

LEAVE TO WITHDRAW.

See JOHNSTON I. L. R. 44 Calc. 347

LEGACY

- See IMITATION ACT 1877 Sec II Art
127 I L R 36 Bom 111
See WILL
I L R 40 Calc 192

depending on uncertain event—

- See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1865)
I L R 37 Bom 644

vesting of—

- See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1865) s 187
I L R 38 Mad 474

LEGAL INTEREST

- See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT F R
I L R 43 Calc 694

LEGAL JUSTICE

as opposed to moral—

- See CONTRACT
I L R 37 Mad 385

LEGAL MISCONDUCT

- See ARBITRATION
I L R 41 Calc 313

LEGAL NECESSITY

- See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
See HINDU LAW—DEBT
I L R 33 All 242, 255
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 34 All 4 128, 135
See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY
See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE
I L R 41 All 571, 609

LEGAL OWNER

- See MAHOMEDAN LAW (ENDOWMENTS)
I L R 47 Cal 568

LEGAL PRACTITIONER

- See BARRISTER I L R 44 Calc 741
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 O III
n 4 2 Pat L J 259
See HIGH COURT DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION
I L R 44 Bom 418
See LIMITATION
I L R 40 Calc 898
See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT
See LETTERS PATENT (ALL) s 8
I L R 42 All 450
See PLEADER duty of—
See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894)
I L R 34 Bom 486

Lien of—

- See CLIENTS I L R 46 Calc 1070

admission by—As agent of client discussed In HINDU LAW (ALL) s 11
17 C W N 150

Compromise by—Without authority discussed In HINDU LAW (ALL) s 11
I L R 34 Bom 408

LEGAL PRACTITIONER—contd

- Counsel to be instructed by attorney——Custom and etiquette discussed In re an Advoca-TE I L R 44 Calc 741

Misconduct of—Cheating client out of the a hybrid matter of suit—Penalty—Removal from practice—Suspension Where it was found by the Chief Court before whom the appellant practised as a pleader that he had taken advantage of his position of trust in order to cheat his client out of the subject matter of the suit and obtain it for himself and on the appellant's application for a review of the finding he instead of pressing it deliberately admitted the charges made against him in the case in which those charges were understood by the Judges Held that the Chief Court was amply justified in passing orders removing the appellant permanently from the list of pleaders on the ground of misconduct and the subsequent order of the Court upon the application for review reducing the penalty to suspension from practice for three years went as far as the direction of mercy as it properly could go In the matter of CHANDRA MOHAN (1910)
14 C W N 521

Legal Practitioner dismissed for misconduct if may be reinstated Where a legal practitioner has been dismissed for misconduct of any description it is open to the High Court to readmit him afterwards if he satisfies the Court that in the interval he has borne an unimpeachable character and may with propriety be allowed to return to practice The test to be applied to such cases is whether the sentence of exclusion has had the salutary effect of awakening in the delinquent a higher sense of honour and duty and whether in the interval his conduct had been so irreproachable that he might be safely entrusted with the affairs of his clients and admitted to the profession without the profession suffering degradation Where there is a muktikar was dismissed upon conviction for a grave offence and it appeared that in a closely connected transaction he had sworn a false affidavit and where in the petition for reinstatement he had not made a full disclosure of his previous history the Court in the exercise of its discretion refused the application In re ABIRUDDIN AHMED (1910)
I L R 38 Calc 309
15 C W N 237

Legal practitioner dismissed for misconduct—Reinstatement on proof of good conduct Case in which a legal practitioner who when yet a comparatively young man had been dismissed from the rolls for misconduct was after five years reinstated on his furnishing certificates showing that during the interval his conduct has been so irreproachable that notwithstanding his previous delinquency he could be entrusted with the affairs of clients and admitted to an honourable profession without that profession suffering degradation In re Abiruddin 15 C W N 237 s c 12 C L J 675 followed In re HALA KUMAR CHATTERJEE (1911)
16 C W N 237

Witness—When her name appears for accused person The rule as to the exclusion of witnesses from Court until they have been examined does not extend to counsel for accused who is called as a present witness There may be circumstances which may make it

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

13-~~contd~~

that we or disciplinary powers conferred on the court by earlier clauses or by statute. BIR KISHORE LAL v. KING EMPEROR

4 Pat L J 423

Willful neglect of pleader to appear after service of full fees— Act onable claim purchase of by a pleader—transfer of Property Act (1) of 1882 ss 3 and 130—Pleader engaged in trade without maintaining to the High Court—R 27 of the Rules under Legal Practitioners Act Held by the full Bench The judgment and evidence given in a civil suit filed by a party against his pleader for refund of fees on account of non appearance of the pleader are admissible as evidence in an enquiry instituted for the purpose against the pleader under the Legal Practitioners Act but they are not conclusive proof in the enquiry Willful neglect by a pleader to appear without any justification on whatever ground at a case after receipt of full fees, a unprofessional conduct for which the pleader could be punished under s 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act MUST REPORT appear in Court in pursuance of a resolution of the Bar Association to boycott that Court propriety of — Duties and obligations of pleaders — Proper course for pleaders when ill-treated by any Court. Some pleaders refused to appear in a certain Court in pursuance of a resolution of the Bar Association to boycott that Court as a protest against its ill-treatment of pleaders. Proceedings under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act were drawn up against several pleaders for failure to appear in Court in matters which had been entrusted to them by their clients. The pleaders concerned have intimated their unqualified regret to the High Court for the course adopted by them. — Held: That having regard to their unqualified expressions of regret the proceedings should be dropped. In the matter of TARIK MOHAM BARARI
• VENKATA ROW (1914) 1 L. R. 37 Mad. 238

28 C W W 6.50

§ 13(b)—Gross negligence—appearance for both a des The conduct of a pleader in acting for both a des in the same case is grossly improper conduct with the meaning of a 13 (b) of the Legal Practice Act, 1939. When a pleader negligently or intentionally doles a the rules of his profession he is guilty of grossly improper conduct and a no excuse that he act on does not involve a moral stigma, or that it has not resulted in actual injury to his client. IN THE MATTER OF HIS HIS ONE RAL, PLEADER

3 Pat L J 320

§ 13 (F) - Mukhtar - Conduct rendering legal pro-tutor amenable to disciplinary powers of the Court - Writing insulting letters to an officer -
A mukhtar practicing in the Criminal and Revenue Courts of a sub-division addressed certain grossly insulting letters to the Sub-divisional Officer in his character as officer in charge of the copy right department. Held that such conduct on the part of a mukhtar falls within the purview of s. 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 18 and rendered the writer amenable to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court. IN THE MATTER OF A MUKHTAR. I. L. R. 42 ALL. 58.

L L R 42 ALL 86

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

§ 13 (f)—cont'd

I respected a fellow

—Words other reasonable cause assigned—hij eden genera The words for any other reasonable cause in cl (f) of s 13 of legal practitioners Act (XVIII of 1899) include general misconduct and are not restricted to professional misconduct. Where two legal practitioners were the President and a Director respectively of a so-called Provident Society which was in some a Provident Society but a means of turning profit to the Directors by enabling those who sodesired to gamble in the lives of persons who were willing to become applicants to the society—Held that there was reasonable cause under s 13 (f) for an order being made against the legal practitioners Per MILLER J—The principle of ejusdem generis cannot be applied to the words any other reasonable cause since the genus professional misconduct is not large enough to include the case of a 1st (where pleader may be suspended or dismissed for having committed a criminal offence implying a defect of character which unfits him to be a pleader Tilman &
Co v Kn Lyford Ltd [1908] 2 K L 385 followed. The intent of the Legislature was to give to the High Court powers of control over pleaders and mukhtars as extensive as those which are given by the Letters Patent, a 10 over advocates and vakils Per HAJIMANWALI AYYAR J—Cl (f) of s 13 is not confined to professional misconduct but may be interpreted so as to include any dishonest or dishonourable conduct whether or not a discharge of professional duty. It is difficult to limit cl (f) to professional misconduct because cl (f) deals with grossly improper conduct in the discharge of professional duty and it is not possible to name any species of professional misconduct which does not fall within cl (f) itself. The fact that the Legislature has restricted the power of Subordinate Courts under s 14 of the Act is no reason for restricting the power of the High Court. In re Ghahol Khan Mukhtar 7 B L R 179 approved.
In re SECOND-GRADE PLEADERS (1911)

ss. 13 14—

See INACTIVE I L R 37 Cal. 173

See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

I L R 43 Cal. 885

between for bringing put a false statement under a (S)—Enquiry commenced under (b) but ultimately declines acting with a (S) of the regular—S 13 cl (f) enquiry under a (S) can be made by subordinate Court Where a magistrate was found to have received a sum of money from a person against whom there were cases to respond for the purpose of influencing the police and acted as a go-between. Held that it is not a function of a subordinate Court to take proceedings under s. 13 cl (f) of the Legal Practitioners Act. A subordinate Court can take proceedings under s. 13 cl (f) of the Legal Practitioners Act and even if the High Court be the only Court which can order such an enquiry to open to the High Court to avoid itself of the enquiry already made by a subordinate Court and proceed to deal with the

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—*contd*ss 13, 14—contd

the case itself. An enquiry by the lower Court is not irregular on the ground that the act disclosed as the result of the enquiry is found to come under s 13 cl (f), and not under s 13, cl (b). Re HARI PRASAD MUKHERJEE (1917) 21 C. W. N 516

Specific charge

under s 13 (b) necessary.—Taking instruction from unauthorised persons—Conduct improper. In a reference under the Legal Practitioners' Act, the High Court confines itself to the charge framed by the Primary Court. The finding that the pleader was guilty of the fraudulent or grossly improper conduct in the discharge of his professional duty within the meaning of s 13 (b) of the Legal Practitioners' Act was disregarded as the pleader was not charged with that. Where a pleader was found to have received instructions from a person about whom he made no enquiries as to his right to instruct him on behalf of certain minors or their mother and also that he filed a written statement which was not prepared by him and that he accepted the rakatsinama at the instance of another party in the suit and that he filed a receipt which on the face of it was not genuine without even examining it, it was held that his conduct was most improper, although no injury resulted from it. The pleader was suspended for nine months. In the matter of JUGAL CHANDRA MAZUMDAR (1916) 20 C. W. N. 1016

20 C. W. N. 1016

In a case which arose out of certain Pleaders observing a brawl their status was fully discussed also the effect of filing a Rakatsinama KING EMPEROR v RAJANI KANTA BOSE 26 C. W. N. 589.

26 C. W. N. 589.

Mukhtear abusing Court's Officer if liable to disciplinary action—Contempt—Object of punishment—Subordinate Court, if may start enquiry under s 14 in cases other than under cls (a) and (b) to s 13—High Court if may accept report made by subordinate Court in a proceeding wrongly initiated but properly conducted. S 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act invests a Subordinate Court with authority to inquire into any case of misconduct alleged against a pleader or Mukhtear practising before it, covered by s. 13 of the Act as amended by Act XI of 1879, and not merely cases covered by cls. (a) and (b) of s 13. In the matter of Sothelal Krishna Rao, L R 14 I A 151 a. c. I. I R 15 Cal 152, explained. In re Purna Chandra Pal, I L R 27 Cal 1023, a c. I C W N 359, commented on. Whether an enquiry is made by or under the orders of the High Court under s 13 or is instituted by the Subordinate Court of its own motion the final order can be passed only by the High Court. The law does not require an inquiry ordered under s. 13 to be conducted directly by the High Court. Therefore, even if it were incompetent for a Subordinate Court to initiate an inquiry into certain kinds of charges of misconduct if such an inquiry has been properly held after notice there is nothing to prevent the High Court from adopting it as one which could be directed under s 13. The Court at least when in session, is present in every part of the place set apart for its own use and for the use of its officers, jurors and witnesses, and it is orderly conduct anywhere in such place amounts to a contempt of Court. The power of suspension or removal is distinct from the power to punish for contempt but a contempt may be of such character as to warrant the exercise of the disciplinary powers of the Court. When the Court takes notice of a misconduct which consists in the obstruction of or an interference with one of its officers, the object of the discipline enforced is not so much to vindicate the dignity of the Court or the person of the officer as to prevent undue interference with the administration of justice. Where a mukhtear in the course of an altercation with the Court's accountant in the latter's office used abusive language which was heard by the Munsif from his Court. Held that for such conduct the Court could take disciplinary action against the mukhtear. In re matter of RASIK LAL SAO (1916) I. L. R. 44 Cal 639 20 C. W. N. 1284

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—*contd*ss 13, 14—contd

I. L. R. 44 Cal 639

20 C. W. N. 1284

It is incumbent upon a Mukhtear to take his instructions directly from his client. If he takes them from an agent he must ascertain that the agent is duly empowered.

A Mukhtear is liable to be punished when he has acted in violation of his duty in circumstances which show gross negligence on his part even though he may be not guilty of fraud. In re LEAKUT HUSSAIN, MUKHTYAR 2 Pat L. J 35

s 14—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 111 r 2

2 Pat. L. J 259

See PLEADER I L R. 47 Cal 1115

Transfer of enquiry under s 14—Nature of proceedings under the Act. The procedure provided by the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, is self contained. It is neither criminal nor civil, but purely designed for the purpose of discipline in controlling the procedure and the conduct of practitioners practising in the subordinate Courts. The enquiry provided for by s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, cannot be delegated or transferred to another officer who is not the presiding officer of the Court in which the malpractices complained of were committed. Disciplinary proceedings taken under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, are not proceedings in a Court of Civil Jurisdiction. The Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not applicable to enquiries under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879. S 141 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is controlled in its operation and effect by the concluding words of the section which limit its application to proceedings in Courts exercising Civil Jurisdiction. S 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915 did not alter the position. In the matter of JANAK KISHORE ARJASU AND OTHERS 1 Pat L. J. 578

1 Pat L. J. 578

Reference arising out of criminal charge against mukhtear—Proceeding under the Act should be distinct from criminal proceeding—Procedure for enquiry is strictly followed. Where in the course of criminal proceedings against the mukhtear, a reference, importing to be made under the Legal Practitioners' Act, was made against him to the High Court. Held that the procedure prescribed in s. 14 of the Act should have been strictly followed from first to last, and that not having been done, the reference was bad. Held, further, that the proceeding under the Act must be separate and distinct and cannot be made part of the criminal proceedings. In re PARALAR RAMANAN (1914) 15 C. W. N. 761

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—*contd*s. 14—contd

Mukhtear—See pension by District Magistrate, before report to High Court—Right to be heard before suspension—Order for prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895), s. 476. A legal practitioner cannot be provisionally suspended pending investigation (under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act) of a charge of misconduct brought against him without being heard in defence under s. 40 of the Act and before a report has been submitted to the High Court in terms of s. 14. The "investigation" referred to in the section is investigation by the District Magistrate. Where upon a reference by the Sub-Divisional Officer relating to the conduct of a mukhtear in a case tried before that officer the District Magistrate suspended the mukhtear and on a perusal of the records directed his prosecution under s. 182, Penal Code. Held that the order of suspension was without jurisdiction. Per WOODROFFER, J.—That the order for prosecution could not be passed by the District Magistrate under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code; as the proceeding not being properly before him was not a judicial proceeding. Per CANNADY, J.—The District Magistrate was not acting in the course of a judicial proceeding. In re BASRANGI SANTAL (1911) 15 C. W. N. 269

Rakulatanama altered after execution, by inserting name of mukhtear actually engaged at the request of party's agent—conduct, if grossly improper. A written rakulatanama for the purpose of engaging certain pleaders to conduct an appeal on behalf of a prisoner was taken by his maternal uncle to the prisoner in jail where it was executed by the prisoner by affixing his mark in the presence of a jail officer and was handed over to the maternal uncle, who brought it to the petitioner, a mukhtear, and instructed him to appear in the appeal. The petitioner pointed out to the uncle of the prisoner that he could not appear as his name was not mentioned in the rakulatanama and then at the request of the latter inserted his own and other names in it and made certain other alterations. Held that although the petitioner certainly acted improperly in altering the rakulatanama, the alterations were not made from improper motives and his conduct was not grossly improper within the meaning of s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. In the matter of PURA CHANDRA CHATTERJI (1912) 17 C. W. N. 323

Legal practitioners—

Prosecution ordered—Certificate not to be cancelled until result of prosecution is known—Practice. Where a District Judge, having the alternative to take action against a pleader practising in his judgeship under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, or to initiate criminal proceedings against him, takes the latter, he ought to wait until the result of the criminal proceedings is known before refusing to renew the pleader's certificate. In the matter of A. PRADER (1918) 1. L. R. 33 All 182

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—*contd*s. 14—contd

Gross contempt of a Subordinate Court by a second grade pleader by unjustly attacking its impartiality in the discharge of its duties—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Courts to take proceedings under s. 14 for all cases coming under s. 13 cl (f), n.d. quodam genere. In the course of an enquiry before a District Munsif, a second grade pleader who appeared for one of the parties to the enquiry swore an affidavit and filed the same in Court requesting that Court should not proceed with the enquiry. The affidavit contained unjust aspersions, imputations and innuendoes couched in insulting language charging the District Munsif with rancour and prejudice against the pleader and with a desire to injure him both as a pleader and also as a public man. The Munsif thereupon took these proceedings under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act (XVIII of 1879) charging the pleader under s. 17 cl (f) of the Act with contempt of Court. Held, (i) that Subordinate Courts have jurisdiction to take proceedings not only under cls. (a) and (b) of s. 17, but also under all the other clauses of the sections (ii) that cl (f) is not confined to misconduct under quodam genere as those referred to in the previous clauses; and (iii) that the pleader was guilty of misconduct by his outrageous attack upon the Court in the exercise of its functions. Their Lordships accordingly suspended the pleader from practice for a period of four months. The decision of KAOX I in the matter of the Estate of Mahomed Abdul Han I I R 29 All 61, and in the matter of a Pleader I I R 26 Mad 413, followed. The District Judge Kistna v HANUMALLI (1917) 1. L. R. 39 Mad. 1045

s. 27, 28—Pleader and client—Fees agreed for payment of, not in writing and no filed in Court, may be enforced—Pleader's lien on moneys realised on behalf of client—Quantum meruit. An agreement by a client to pay certain amount to his pleader as fees for professional services cannot be enforced by the latter when it has not been embodied in writing signed by the client and filed in the proper court in the manner provided by s. 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, even when the amount agreed to be paid is not in excess of that prescribed under the rules framed under s. 27 of the Act for payment by any party to his opponent in respect of the fees of the pleader employed by his adversary. The language of s. 28 is comprehensive enough to include every agreement between a pleader and his client for the payment of fees for professional services and cannot be restricted by reference to s. 27 which does not apply to such agreements. Quere Whether in the absence of a written agreement, a pleader can claim remuneration compensation for his services. KAMINI DEBI v KHEETA MOHAN GANGULY (1911) 17 C. W. N. 45

s. 28—Pleader and client—Lien on client's moneys for fees agreed upon, if enforceable when agreement is in accordance with s. 28, Legal Practitioners' Act (XVIII of 1879). An agreement between a pleader and his client in regard to fees for professional services which the pleader cannot sue on, owing to its not conforming to the provisions of s. 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, cannot also be relied upon in defence to an action by the client to recover moneys deposited in Court

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

s. 28—contd

by the client and withdrawn by the pleader. The plea of the pleader that he had a lien on the money to the extent of the fees agreed upon could not therefore be entertained. Quare Whether the pleader could claim reasonable remuneration for his services in view of s. 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. KAMINI DEBI v KHETRA MOHAN GANGULI (1910). 15 C. W. N. 681

See ALSO ANTI 17 C. W. N. 45

Pleader's suit for fees upon oral agreement, if maintainable. Where a suit by a Pleader for fees against his client is based on an agreement he cannot succeed unless the agreement is both in writing signed by the party to be charged and filed as provided in s. 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. Consequently no suit upon an oral agreement can succeed under the section. BRACHARAY LAHARY v SUDESH DASL. 26 C. W. N. 709

s. 35, 36—Tont, order declaring a person—Evidence to justify. Where witnesses merely proved that a person declared by the District Magistrate to be a tout had been seen in Court looking after cases, one witness only saying that he had heard that the mukhtears regarded him as a tout. Held, that the evidence was clearly insufficient to justify the order of the District Magistrate. SUNDAR UPADHYA v THE PRESIDENT OF THE MUKHTEARS' ASSOCIATION, CHANPRA (1911). 15 C. W. N. 1000

s. 38—Touts—Procedure to be followed by a Court taking action under s. 36—Revision—Statute 5 & 6 Geo V Ch 61, s. 107—Evidence—Criminal Procedure Code, s. 117 (3). It is competent to the High Court to entertain an application in revision against an order passed by a District and Sessions Judge under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, and thus without invoking the aid of the Government of India Act, 1915, s. 107. In the matter of the petition of Madho Ram, 1 L. R. 21 All. 181; In the matter of the petition of Kedar Nath, 1 L. R. 31 All. 59; Basa Sahib v the District Judge of Madura, 1 L. R. 26 Mad. 596; and Hari Charan Sarcar v the District Judge of Dacca, 11 C. L. J. 513, referred to. In a proceeding under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, the Court may properly apply, as regards the nature of the evidence admissible the provisions of s. 117 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Where a person's name has once been included in a list framed under s. 36 the mere fact that the exhibition of such list in any particular court room is discontinued has no effect on the validity of the original order. In the matter of the petition of KALKA AND OTHERS (1917). 1 L. L. R. 40 All. 153

An order under s. 36 declaring a person to be a tout can be made only by one of the authorities specified in that Section and upon evidence taken by such authority himself. In the matter of NAFAR CHANDRA MANDAL. 24 C. W. N. 1074

s. 40—

See s. 14. 15 C. W. N. 269

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

See AGREEMENT 1 L. R. 37 Mad. 408

LEGAL REMEMBRANCER.

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

1 L. R. 41 Calc. 173

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

1 L. R. 41 Calc. 425

1 L. R. 40 Calc. 544

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 L. R. 3 Mad. 406

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1883, SCH III, ART 6. 14 C. W. N. 971

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), ss 244, 252, 617

1 L. R. 34 Bom. 546

s. 373 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 643

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —

ss 2 (11), 53 1 L. R. 42 Bom. 504

s. 2 (11) O XXII r 1

1 L. R. 39 Mad. 382

s. 2 (11) O XXI r 22

1 L. R. 45 Bom. 1188

ss 47 and 50 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 1076

O XXII, rr 3 5

1 L. R. 43 Bom. 168

See DEFENDANT, DEATH OF

1 L. R. 38 Mad. 682

See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT, 1890

ss 34, 35 AND 36

1 L. R. 44 Bom. 552

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

1 L. R. 33 All. 15

See MAHAMMADAN LAW

1 L. R. 42 All. 497

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

1 L. R. 41 All. 515

— of the receiver—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL, r 4

1 L. R. 39 Mad. 584

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES' SUITS ACT 1855

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXI r. 1

1 L. R. 44 Mad. 357

LEGALITY.

See SEARCH WARRANT

1 L. R. 45 Calc. 903

LEGATEE.

See ESTOPPEL. 1 L. R. 44 Calc. 145

See RESIDENCY LEGATEE

1 L. R. 41 Calc. 271

— disclaimer by—

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), s. 187. 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 474

— right of, to sue—

See WILL. 1 L. R. 38 Calc. 327

— suit for maintenance against—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

1 L. R. 39 Mad. 396

LEGISLATION

— when retrospective—

See ASSESSMENT L. L. R. 43 Cal. 973

— ultra vires—

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT
L. L. R. 40 Cal. 391LEGISLATURE

— object of—

See LAND ACQUISITION
L. L. R. 44 Cal. 219— Whether can oust jurisdiction of Civil Court—See BORDAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
1876 & 4 L. L. R. 45 Bom 1161LEGITIMACY

See ADMISSION OF LEGITIMACY

See DIVORCE L. L. R. 33 Mad. 466

See HINDU LAW—LEGITIMACY

See HINDU LAW (MARRIAGE)
L. L. R. 43 Cal. 826See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT
L. L. R. 38 All. 627See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY
L. L. R. 48 Cal. 259

L. L. R. 48 Cal. 838

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
L. L. R. 41 Bom 485

See MARRIAGE 18 C W N 494

— acknowledgment of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDG-MENT OF SONSHIP

L. L. R. 43 Bom 28

L. L. R. 1 Lah. 229

— presumption as to—

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE
L. L. R. 38 Cal. 700

— Son by wife of another man—

See HINDU LAW—LEGITIMACY
L. L. R. 2 Lah 207LEGITIMATE PURPOSE.See MORTGAGE—CONSTRUCTION OF L. L. R. 40 Cal. 342LENDER AND BORROWER— Suitor pro promissory note

— Undue influence and want of consideration pleaded in defence—Ind an Contract Act not principles of English equity to be applied—Federal loans to the plaintiff intervals at intervals when unconscionable—Excessive amount of money due to a debtor's failure to pay to be regarded as oppressive—Contract Act (11 of 1872) s. 16—Onus Where a suit brought on certain promissory notes the defendant pleaded that he had received no consideration for the notes were procured by the exercise by the plaintiff upon him of undue influence, and that the whole transaction was an unconscionable bargain made with the defendant as an expectant heir Held that the question raised were to be decided on the provisions of the Indian Contract Act and on those alone the principles upon which English Courts of Equity deal with such questions being entirely inapplicable.

LENDER AND BORROWER—contd.

A borrower who obtains a loan secured by a promissory note on a quite reasonable basis, by neglecting to pay the note at maturity further neglecting to pay the accruing interest for the several years following and then giving a renewal note for the original debt plus the capitalised interest could produce a result which might at first sight appear oppressive and yet there would be nothing harsh or unconscionable in the creditor's demand since the added interest only accumulated while he forebore to enforce the payment of the same from time to time due to him. On the other hand it would be quite possible for a money lender by making loans for short periods on apparently fair terms and then making the capitalising the interest immediately on it become payable to pile up compound interest on the total debt at such a rate as would make the result after a few years most oppressive and unconscionable. But there is nothing inherently wrong or oppressive in a lender's proceeding for himself compound interest after the borrower has for a considerable time neglected to pay the debt to him or the interest accrued due upon it which he has contracted to pay. The borrower cannot acquire merit simply by breaking his contract. The promissory notes in this case so far from being renewed with undue frequency were frequently allowed to remain overdue for periods of from two and a half to four and a half years before the renewal was taken and the overdue interest capitalised in some instances the renewal being given after the period of limitation had run out. Held, that the transactions between the parties were not on the face of them unconscionable contracts within the meaning of s. 16 of the Contract Act as amended by the Act of 1899. To prove the unconscionable character of the bargain the defence was given to show that the defendant (who undoubtedly was a spendthrift of debt and notorious habits) was heavily indebted to several other creditors during the years covered by his transactions with the plaintiff. Held that it was legitimate to prove these facts in order to establish that the defendant was a person of weak and detached character unable to resist the pressure of creditors' money lenders to gratify his lusts, but it was wholly illegitimate to give any evidence as to the terms on which he succeeded in comprising with the creditors or then the plaintiff. Held, on the evidence agreed with the District Judge, (that assuming that the plaintiff was a person on whom the will of the defendant the latter had utterly failed to prove further that the plaintiff had in fact received undue influence upon him in any of the transactions out of which his liability for the debt sued for arose and that if the defendant had been an expectant heir the plaintiff was in consequence a person on whom the will of the defendant and therefore bound to prove that he had not used that position to obtain an unfair advantage over him the plaintiff had discharged that burden. ALLA HIL ANAN SING (1918)

23 C W N 233

LEPROSY

S s HINDU LAW—LEPROSY

— in anasthetes form.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

L. L. R. 38 Mad. 250

LESSEE.

See LAND LORD AND TENANT

See LEASE.

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ACT
(I OF 1870), s. 2.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1128

See MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1018

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF
1882), s. 10. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 867

s. 103 (J) I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1111

s. 6. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE.

I. L. R. 40 All. 429

dispossession of—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1042

for years or for life—

See MINERAL RIGHTS.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 845

from Bombay Government—

See KASBATHS I. L. R. 39 Bom. 625 from Government in Firozapore—whether land is ancestral—

See CUSTOM I. L. R. 2 Lah. 195

in perpetuity—

See MINERAL RIGHTS.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 845

interest of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I,
ARTS. 91 AND 120

I. L. R. 35 All. 149

liability of—

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM.
ACT III OF 1885), s. 305

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 593

right of, to elect trespasser—

See EJECTMENT I. L. R. 37 Mad. 281 right of—to give monthly tenant

notice to quit—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882

ss 103 & 109 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 241 right of, to improvements—

See MALABAR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS
ACT (MAD I OF 1900), ss 3 AND 5

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 854

right of, to relief against forfeiture—

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882,
s 6. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

Transfer by lessee—

Liability of lessee to pay rent after transfer—Privilege of estate—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 103 The duration of liability of a lessee to payrent to the lessor lasts as long as his estate remains in his possession and no longer, and after anLESSEE—contdassignment of the lease, the privilege of estate between him and the lessor ceases, and the assignee becomes liable for the rent METHA v GADADHAR RAI (1910) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 683

Assignment by lessee—

Assignee's right to apportionment, as against lessor—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss 36 and 103—Apportionment in English Law, under Statute Law in England and under the English Common Law—Rent—Interest accrues de die in diem, English Statute Law, principle of, to be followed in India—No Statute Law in India—Apportionment as between lessor and lessee's assignee An assignee from a lessee is entitled to claim as against the lessor apportionment of rent accru-ing due after the date of assignment to him up to the time of a transfer (if any) of his interest as assignee to a third person There is privilege of estate between the lessor and the assignee, and the latter is bound to perform the covenants of the lease after the assignment Possession is not the ground of his liability but the privilege of estate which is created by the assignment itself It is settled law that the privilege of estate between the lessor and the lessee's assignee is terminated by an assignment by the latter of his interest to a third person On principle there seems to be no reason why an assignee should not be entitled to apportionment as between himself and the lessor, and why rent should not be deemed to accrue due from day to day as between them In England the Law of apportionment has long been regulated by statutes, and all rents, etc., are like interest on money lent, considered as accruing from day to day and apportionable in respect of time accordingly In India there is no reason for not applying to rent the principle adopted in England in the case of interest KUNHI SOU v MULLORI
CHATHU (1912) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 86

LESSOR AND LESSEE.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

See LESSEE.

Forfeiture for non-payment of rent—Joint lessors—Separation of their ownership in the lands—Receipt by one of the joint lessors of his share of rent from the lessee—Right of the other joint lessor to enforce the forfeiture
—No act done by the lessor previous to the institution of the suit to determine the lease—Election previous to suit not necessary—Waiver—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 111, cl (g)—Right of re entry under the old English Common law.
One of several joint lessors who had become separately entitled to his share of the lands leased, is entitled to enforce the forfeiture clause in the lease deed separately as regards his share of the lands. SRI ROJA SIMHADRI APPA RAO v PRATYATI-RAMAYYA, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 9, followed Gopal
Ram Mohan v Dhakeswar Prasad, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 807, disented from Mere breach by the lessee of a covenant involving forfeiture contained in a lease of lands executed for agricultural purposes, gives a sufficient cause of action to the lessor to bring the suit in ejectment, and it is not necessary that the lessor should do some act showing his intention to determine the lease before he brings his suit in ejectment. VERTAB-AROMANA BHATTI v. Gundarappa, I. L. R. 31 Mad.
403, distinguished Padmanabhayya v Ranga

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION.

See ADMINISTRATION BOND

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 563

See ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL'S ACT (II OF 1874), s 20, 52 AND 54.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1134

See COLT FEES ACT, s 18

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 93

I. L. R. 40 All. 279

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 214

See PROBATE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 224

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 666

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, s 50 . 14 C. W. N. 119

I. L. R. 37 All. 380

See SUCCESSION ACT (V OF 1865), s 190

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 618

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1859), s 4 I. L. R. 38 All. 474

— application for—

See PARTIES I. L. R. 45 Calc. 862

Probate and Administration Act (V of 1861), s 23, 54—Hindu, death of, leaving widow who survived over 30 years—Application for letters of administration when no estate left to be administered It is no doubt not necessary for the Probate Court to decide what assets are likely to come to the hands of a petitioner for letters of administration, but it is also the duty of the Court in granting letters of administration to consider whether there is any estate whatever to be administered. In the goods of Narain Chander Bysack, 3 C W N 635, Lakshmi Narain v Nanda Ram, 9 C L J 176, relied on Raghu Nath v Pale Aker, 6 C W N 345, distinguished Where the object of the litigation appeared to be not to administer the estate of the deceased (a Hindu, who had died so long ago as 1875 and was survived by his widow in possession till 1907) but really to obtain a declaration of heirship so as to fortify the successful party in any regular suit that may be instituted. Held, that no grant should be made, although objection on this ground was taken for the first time upon appeal from the order of the District Court granting letters of administration. LALIT CHAKRA CHOWDHURY v BAIKUNTHA NATH CHOWDHURY (1910)

14 C. W. N. 463

Presidency Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s 108—Letters of administration, application by creditor—Debtor dying in insolvent circumstances Letters of administration may be granted to a creditor although the liabilities of the deceased debtor appear to be in excess of the assets. Application in the Insolvency Court is not the creditor's only remedy. In the goods of MAHARAJ LALL CHATTERJEE (1911) 15 C. W. N. 350

Revocation—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1861), s 50, Expl (4)—'Just cause'—'Useless or inoperative', meaning of—Disagreement between administrators whether a just cause for annulling letters of administration A mere disagreement between administrators is not a "just cause" for annulling the letters of administration under s 50, expl (4) of the Probate and Administration Act. The words "becomes useless and inoperative" is s. 50, expl (4) of the Probate and Administration Act imply the discovery of something which, if known at the date of the grant, would have been a ground for refusing it, e.g., the discovery of a later will or codicil, or subsequent discovery that the will was forged, or that the alleged testator is still living. Bal Gangadhar Tyal v Sakwarbar, 1 L R 26 Bom, 792, and Annoda Prasad Chatterjee v. Kulkarni Chatterjee, 1 L R 24 Calc 96, followed GOUR CHANDRA DAS, v SARAT CHANDRA DAS (1912) I. L. R. 40 Calc. 50

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION—contd.

Practice—Colonial Probate Act (55 & 56 Vict., c 6)—Power of attorney, construction of The Colonial Probates Act and the procedure therein indicated, viz., to send an exemplification of the probate granted in any part of the United Kingdom to be resealed by the Court to which it is sent, has not been extended to British India, where the practice is to require administration with will annexed to the estate of deceased British subject leaving property there. Authority in a power of attorney granted by the executrix of a will which has been confirmed in Scotland to produce to the Supreme Court in India in the probate jurisdiction at Calcutta or elsewhere in India the said confirmation and to procure the same to be sealed with the seal of the Supreme Court in India in accordance with the laws thereof does not authorise the donee to obtain grant of Letters of Administration. In the goods of WILLIAM RENNIE (1912)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 74

Probate and Administration Act (V of 1861) s 16—General citation, issue of—Special citation to executor to accept or renounce, not issued—Will, validity of—Proper procedure In a proceeding under the Probate and Administration Act general citation was issued to the executor to attend and watch the proceeding, but no appearance was entered by him, and letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed was granted to the applicant. Held, that the validity of the will was established, but letter of administration should not have been granted, without calling upon the executor by a special citation under s 16 of the Act to accept or renounce his executorship. SAROJINI DAS v RAJLAKSHMI DAS (1920)

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 838

Whether grant of, in respect of part of estate is valid—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1861), s 50—Compromise of probate proceedings, whether binding on minors—Bisulable cellopp Although an executor who has been appointed by the testator for the administration of a particular fund is competent to take out probate limited to that particular fund, yet where there is no direction as to any particular fund and where the applicants for letters of administration apply in their capacity as heirs, there is no provision of law which empowers the court to refuse administration of the whole estate and to limit it to a fractional undivided portion thereof. The only issue before a Probate Court is whether the Will has been proved to be genuine and duly executed, and the court has no concern with the devolution of property. Although it can record a contract or agreement made between the applicant for administration and a cavalier in consideration of the withdrawal of the latter's objection,

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION—concl.

the court a wholly powerless to enforce such contract or agreement SARADA PRASAD TRIPATHY CHANDAN ROY 3 Pat L J 415

Trustee—whether Court should go to question of—paranormal title—Irishate and Idm nstra on 1st (V of 1881) ss 3 of 60 and 73 The question as to whether an estate exists for the administration of which letters of administration can be granted must be decided upon the allegations in the petition. To effect the application to a grant of letters of administration to a person the petition shows that the applicant is according to the rules for the estate of the deceased entitled to the whole or a part of the property and alleges the fact that he is the person of that nature. A Court of Probate is bound to enter into questions of title if it is necessary to decide that question in order to determine which of the two contestants is entitled to a grant of letters of administration. It is not entitled to do so where one of the contestants asserts that no estate exists in the grant, e.g. where such party objects to a grant being made to his opponent on the ground that he has himself taken the entire estate of the deceased by survivorship as his adopted son. In such a case the question of the factum of the adoption would be so relevant to the inquiry only if the alleged adopted son claimed to be preferentially entitled to the grant of letters of administration. DEBENDRA PRASAD SUTHERVA PRASAD SUTHERVA 5 Pat L J 107

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1858 s 115
15 C W N 848

cl. 10—

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I L R 41 Calc. 113

Appellate—Appeal from a decision judgment in an appeal under s 10—Irishate on—Huzbulars—Custom or contract—Partion of village—No new was bulars framed—Construct on of document—Huzbulars deh. Held that an appeal will lie under s 10 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of a Judge who has decided from his colleague in an appeal under the same section. The way bulars of an undivided village gave a right of pre-emption first to a near co-sharer (husband and wife) and then to a co-sharer in the village (husband and wife). Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into two mahals. No new way bulars was prepared. In a suit for pre-emption on by the co-sharers in one of the mahals consequent upon a sale of property situated in another mahal to a stranger. Held that the right might be enforced notwithstanding the partition. The meaning of the words deh and bulars discussed by LARAMAT HUSAIN J. Durgaj Singh v. A. K. Singh, I L R 22 All. Ind. Div. v. J. Ram Ram J L R 30 All 265 referred to. JIWAN RAM v. TONU SING (1911) I L R 34 All 13

cl. 10 39—

S. 4 APPEAL TO THE V. CO. L.

I L R 41 Calc. 734
I L R. 39 Mad 128

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—concl.

cl 12—

See ARBITRATION I L R 47 Calc. 611

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1808) s. 11 I L R. 37 Bom 563

See CONTRACT I L R. 47 Calc. 583

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE I L R. 38 Calc. 524

See HINDU SUIT OF I L R 40 Bom. 473

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT I L R. 34 Mad. 257

See JURISDICTION I L R. 39 Calc. 739
I L R 40 Calc. 308
I L R. 42 Calc 942
24 C W N 552
I L R 48 Calc 882

See LETTERS PATENT (BOM) I L R 48 Calc 882

See MORTGAGE 24 C W N 633

See T. R. D. PARTY NOTICE I L R 45 Bom 24

See WAIVER I L R 44 Calc. 10

For damages against by action of may be brought in a writ of certiorari for India in Council—Jurisdiction of High Court (Cl. 10) Letters Patent (Calcutta High Court 1865) to file plan and to find defendant may question property when once granted Secretary of State for India in Council, for a body corporate and represents Government of India in all its matters. He is not Government s. 65 of 21 and 22 v. c. 106—Government carrying on business for State purposes there may be said Railway Company for a person carrying on his own and where it may be brought against the decision of a Bench of two Judges sitting on Original Side of the High Court. A servant of the Eastern Bengal State Railway was prosecuted at Rungpur on a charge of criminal breach of trust which resulted in his acquittal. He thereupon filed a plaint claiming damages for false and malicious prosecution against the Secretary of State for India in Council in the Calcutta High Court which he craved leave under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent of the High Court 1865 for the institution of the suit in the said Court and the Court granted his leave. He filed that as the cause of action had arisen wholly outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court the leave was not properly granted and that the fact of the leave having been granted did not preclude the defendant from questioning the jurisdiction of the Court at the trial. Under s. 65 of 21 and 22 v. c. 106 the Secretary of State in Council is a Body Corporate for purposes of a suit and as such represent the Government of India in all its matters as may be maintained against the Government by 21 and 22 v. c. 106 such right of suit as individuals had against the East India Company were continued as against the Secretary of State. A Railway Company is a person carrying on business with the meaning of s. 12 of the Letters Patent and it may be sued at the place of its principal office where the directors meet and the general business of the company is transacted or the brain power of the business is a Government may be presumed to dwell in its own capital and a Govern ment engaged in trades, though it may be for purposes of the State, carry on business there. Doja Naran Tewary v Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 14 Cal 256, dissented from. The judgment of Pigot, J., in Dipiro Das Dey v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 14 Cal 262n, approved. Held, that the former being the decision of two Judges sitting on the Original Side, presumably upon a reference by one of the Judges sitting singly on the Original Side, the decision is binding on a single Judge so sitting. RODRICKS v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—contd.—*contd.*cl. 12—contd.

18 C. W. N. 747

Leave asked for, granted by Registrar, but not ratified by Court—Leave, if may be endorsed as if granted on the date of presentation of plaint—Waiver of objection by defendant—Costs of unnecessary application Where leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent as prayed for in the plaint was granted by the Registrar, subject to its ratification by Court, but it did not appear that the plaint was ever placed before a Judge. Held, on the matter being brought before the Judge on a later date after defendants had filed written statement and taken several other steps towards the trial and had entered on the cross-examination of the plaintiff who was being examined on commission, that the granting of leave was a judicial act performable only by the Judge and leave could not now be endorsed on the plaint as given on the date on which the plaint was presented before the Registrar. Lalteswar Sing v Rameswar Sing, 1 L R 24 Cal 619, 627. 11 C W N 649, followed. That by the steps they had taken in the suit, defendants had waived objection as to want of leave. A J King v Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 35 Cal 394. 12 C. W. N 705. The application being thus unnecessary, plaintiff was ordered to pay defendants' costs. SARASWATI DASER v BIRAJ MORIK DASER (1913)

17 C. W. N. 512

cls. 12, 14—Cause of action arising partly within jurisdiction—Further cause of action arising wholly outside jurisdiction—Sunder—Time of application An application under cl 14 of the Letters Patent to join a further cause of action arising wholly outside the jurisdiction, can be made in a case in which leave to sue has to be obtained under cl. 12, nor is there anything in cl. 14 to show that this application must be made before the plaint is filed. There is nothing to prevent the plaintiff making the application at any time before the hearing, but it would certainly be advisable for him to make it at the time the plaint is presented. JOHN GEORGE DOBSON v. THE KRISHNA MILLS, LTD (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 584

cls. 12 and 18—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (111 OF 1909) ss. 7, 36 AND 90.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 810

cls. 12, 15, 20—

See APPEAL. I. L. R. 47 Cal. 1104
See MINOR. I. L. R. 41 I. A. 314

ss. 13, 27 and 44—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT, 1915, s. 4
3 Pat. L. J. 537

cl. 15—

See AMENDED LETTERS PATENT
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 260
See APPEAL
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 352
I. L. R. 45 Cal. 502, 818
I. L. R. 42 Cal. 735
I. L. R. 44 Cal. 804
See ARBITRATION—RIGHT OF APPEAL
I. L. R. 39 Cal. 822
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—
ss 215 AND 478
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 361
ss 435, 439 AND 133
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 537
s 483
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 472
See LETTERS PATENT (BOM.)
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 272
See MISJOINDER
I. L. R. 45 Cal. 111
See REVIEW
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 651

Appeal under—Order of a single Judge in revision against order to give security to keep the peace—No appeal—“Criminal trial,” meaning of Proceedings taken for binding over persons to keep the peace under Ch VIII, Criminal Procedure Code are criminal trials within the meaning of s. 15 of the Letters Patent, and hence there is no appeal from the judgment of a single Judge disposing of a Revision Petition presented against an order of a Magistrate under s. 118 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. In the matter of Ramasamy Chetty, 1 L R 27 Mad 510, followed. Re DESIKACHARI (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 539

Order of Judge refusing to decide whether arbitrators are going beyond scope of their authority—Judgment—Appeal—Construction of submission to arbitration An order of a Judge dismissing a petition to revoke a submission to arbitration on the ground that the arbitrators are going beyond the scope of the reference is a judgment within the meaning of cl 15 of the Letters Patent and as such is appealable. Such an order compels a party to submit to the jurisdiction of arbitrators though he complains that no such jurisdiction exists. It decides a question of right, namely, whether or not he is by the terms of reference to arbitration deprived of his right at common law to have the dispute decided in the ordinary way in a Court of law. It goes to jurisdiction and is not passed as an exercise of discretion. ATLAS ASSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED v AHMEDABAD HAMBROH (1908)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 1

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 38 All. 354

Judgment—Order of single Judge refusing to frame an issue not appealable as a judgment An order of a single Judge on the Original Side, refusing to frame an issue asked for by one of the parties is not a judgment within cl 15 of the Letters Patent and is not appealable. Per ARYOLD WATTS, G J—An adjudication is a judgment within the meaning of the clause if its effect, whatever its form may be and whatever may be the nature of the application in which it is made, is to put an end to the suit or proceeding so far as the

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—contd

cl. 15 —contd

Court before which the suit or proceeding is pending is concerned or if, its effect, if not conformed with, is to put an end to the suit or proceeding. It is not necessary that the decision must affect the merits by determining some right or liability. An objection based on a refusal to exercise discretion, is appealable if the effect of the adjudication is to dispose of the suit so far as the Court making the adjudication is concerned. See V. KRISHNASWAMI AIRAN, J. The word "Judgment" in cl. 15 must be so construed as to include the various kinds of judgments dealt with in other clauses of the Letters Patent. It must be understood as including preliminary or interlocutory judgment but not preliminary or interlocutory orders. Prasanna v. Purnananda Bepum, I L R 4 Code 531 approved; Purnananda v. Cula, 3 Mad H C R 338 commented upon; Perakkadran (Hally v. Vadaraja) District I L R 23 Mad 28 not approved; Maruthamuthu Pillai v. Arishamachari, I L R 30 Mad 143 not approved; Appasamy Pillai v. Somasundara Mudaliar, I L R 26 Mad 437 dissented from; Chinnasamy Mudali v. Srinivasan Goundan I L R 27 Mad 432 dissented from; TELJANAM ROW v. ALAGAPPA (METTIAN) (1910).

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 1

Dissenting judgment at the hearing of appeal under—Further appeal under cl. 15, if lies. Where in an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent from the decision of a single Judge the Judges having differed in opinion, the opinion of the senior Judge prevailed under a 30 of the Letters Patent: Held, that a further appeal lay under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. Barlow v. Cochran, 2 B L R (Or C. J.) 66, 115, and Juran Eum v. Tonda Singh, I. L. E. 34 All 13, referred to; JADIVATH DANDUPAT v. HARI KAR (1913).

17 G. W. N. 308

Appeal from judgment of Judge of High Court affirming that of lower Court and dissented from by his colleagues—Appeal Court, if bound by findings on which differing Judges agreed—Judgment, meaning of. Where a Bench of two Judges of the High Court having differed as to the disposal of an appeal, the judgment of the lower Court was confirmed on a further appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent: Held, that the Appeal Court was not precluded from reviewing points on which the two Judges were agreed though due regard would be paid to the concurrent findings of the two Judges and of the trial Court. "Judgment" in cl. 15 of the Letters Patent means "the sentence of law pronounced by the Court" upon the matter contained in the record and not the statement of the grounds thereof. Nandepudi Mahto v. Urgachari, 13 B R 203, commented on. URENDA NATH BORA v. HINDRAI LAL (1910).

20 C. W. N. 210

"Judgment," order of a single Judge rejecting—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (15 of 1857), s. 23, a revision petition under—Applicability. The order of a single Judge of the High Court rejecting a petition to send for the records and to revise the judgment of the lower Court exercising Small Cause Court jurisdiction is a "judgment" within the

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—contd

cl. 15 —contd

mean of a 15 of the Letters Patent and is therefore appealable; it is immaterial whether before such refusal the records were called for or notice issued to the other side. *Choppan v. Mond v. Aul, I L R 22 Mad 62 and Thiruvannam I v. R. Rajappa (Hollow I L R 35 Mad 1, followed. Venkatarama Iyyar v. Madurai Tamil, I L R 23 Mad 147 and Puhut di Sida v. Purnika Kuchibettu I L R 27 Mad 310, overruled. In matters of jurisdiction such as that, the Court will not ordinarily interfere on appeal though it has jurisdiction to do so. *Indrag v. Haddon & Co. India Company I Q B 374, 375 and Srinivasa Iyer v. Iyengar (METTIAN) (1910).

I L R. 39 Mad. 235

Judgment within the meaning of in order of a single Judge—Effect of an application for review of a judgment—Whether an appeal lies from such an order—cl. 15 of the Letters Patent whether contemplates appeals from such orders where the judgment of which review was sought was passed by two Judges. An appeal was allowed by a Division Bench consisting of two Judges, and an application for review of the judgment passed in the appeal was presented to one of the two Judges when the other Judge had ceased to be a Judge of the Court. The application was rejected by the same Judge sitting alone and against the said order rejecting the application for review a Letters Patent appeal was filed. Held, that it was not an appeal against the judgment of a single Judge within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent because it was virtually directed against the judgment of two Judges, of which review was sought by the application. The intention of the Legislature was not to allow appeals from such orders. KAILAS (N. SAMADHAN v. HIRATI) MOHUN LLOY (1917).

21 C. W. N. 652

*Order of remand by single Judge setting aside decree in plaintiff's favour for further investigation on facts, if judgment of plaintiff having sued the defendants for accounts in respect of two wine shops, first on the footing of his being a servant and in the alternative as partner the first Court gave him a decree for dissolution and accounts on the finding that the defendant was partner. On appeal, the District Judge without going into the facts decided as a matter of law that defendant could not be a partner and accordingly set aside the first Court's decision and gave the plaintiff a decree for accounts against defendant as agent of one of the shops. On second appeal, a single Judge of the High Court ordered a remand to the District Judge in the view substantially that the facts must be investigated before the legal relation between the parties could be determined; Held, that the effect of the decision of the single Judge being to deprive plaintiff of the benefit of the decree made in his favour by the District Judge and to reopen the entire controversy between the parties it was a judgment within the meaning of a 15 of the Letters Patent and a further appeal lay under that section. The expression "some right or liability" in the definition of "judgment" by Sir Richard Couch in The Justice of the Peace v. The Oriental Gas Co., 8 B L R 423, (according to whom the judgment is to* either final, preliminary or interlocutory) is not restricted to the right in controversy in the suit itself. BEHARI LAL SARKI v. JAGENDRO NATH BHATTACHARYA (1917). 21 C. W. N. 921

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—*contd.*cl. 15—contd.

Order under O XII, r 6, Civil Procedure Code [Act V of 1908] rejecting application for judgment on admission, if appealable—Letters Patent, Calcutta High Court (1865), cl. 15—Government of India Act of 1915 An order rejecting an application for judgment on admission is a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and is appealable. KORAMALL RAMBALLY v. MOGILAL DALUCHAND (1910). 23 C. W. N. 1017

High Court rr 130 and 131—Third party notice—Dismissal for directions to third party issued at the instance of defendant—Order refusing directions—Judgment—Typical—Practice—Procedure An order refusing directions under rr 130 and 131 of the High Court Rules is not a "judgment" within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, and no appeal lies against that order. The Justices of the Peace for Calcutta v. The Oriental Gas Co., (1872) 8 B L R. 433, followed. CHARANDAS (HATURNBILI) v. CHHAGANLAL PITAMBARDAS (1920)

I L R. 45 Bom. 428

Appeal from order—Judgment—Suit instituted in High Court—Order of the trial Judge allowing plaintiffs leave to withdraw suit with liberty to take such action as they might be advised against the defendants—Order made after recording evidence and delivering judgment on the points arising in the case—Order appealable—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXIII, r 1, cl. 2—Practice In a suit instituted in the High Court at Bombay, the trial Judge heard the evidence and delivered a written judgment dealing with all the points raised in the case, and he came to a conclusion that on the case as then presented by the plaintiffs, the plaintiffs must fail. The trial Judge ultimately made an order allowing the plaintiffs leave to withdraw their suit with liberty to take such action as they might be advised against the defendants. He made no order as to costs. The defendants appealed, and a preliminary objection was taken by the plaintiffs that no appeal lay from the order. Held, overruling the objection, that the order of the trial Judge was a "judgment" within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, and an appeal lay from the order. The Justices of the Peace for Calcutta v. The Oriental Gas Co., (1872) 8 B L R. 433 at page 432, distinguished and explained. NARAYAN RAGHUNATHAS v. BHANTILAL BHOLABHAI (1920) I L R. 45 Bom. 377

Security not given in time—Subsequent application to sue as pauper court, if bound to dismiss the appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), ss 104, 117, 120, 121, 122, 123, 129—O XII, r 10, it applies to appeals under Letters Patent—Civil Procedure Code, it applies to proceedings in the High Court—Rule making power of the High Court—S 151, inherent power of Court An appeal from the judgment of a single Judge of the High Court given by cl. 15 of the Letters Patent of the Calcutta High Court is expressly saved by the language of s 104 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 [Quære Whether the appeal expressly given by cl. 15, Letters Patent, was interfered with by s 558 of the Code of 1862] In the absence of any rule framed by the High Court in exercise of the power (saved by s 129 of the Code) to regulate its own procedure in its Original Civil Jurisdiction, O XII, r 10 of the Civil Procedure Code applies, by force of ss 117, 120 and 121 of the Code to the jurisdiction exercisable under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, upon appeal from a judgment passed by a Judge of the High Court on its Original Civil Side. Where therefore upon such appeal, the appellant being ordered to give security for the respondent's costs under O XII, r 10 (2) failed to do so within the time fixed, and thereafter having applied for leave to continue the suit in form d pauperis, the Court of Appeal held that in view of the mandatory provisions of O XII, r 10 (2) of the Code, it was bound to dismiss the appeal and could not therefor grant permission to continue it in form d pauperis. Held—That the High Court acted rightly in the matter. That the ends of justice did not require that the leave asked for should be given in this case in the exercise of the Court's inherent power preserved by s 151 of the Code. Quære—Whether a general saving clause like that in s 101 gives power in effect to refuse to apply an appropriate rule made in the exercise of other powers of the Court and having statutory force. The Civil Procedure Code is framed on the scheme of providing generally for the mode in which the High Court is to exercise its jurisdiction, whatever it may be, while specifically excepting the powers relating to the exercise of Original Civil Jurisdiction to which the Code is not to apply. It confers a general rule making power saving only what is excepted in the body of the Code. SABITHI THAKURAIN v. SAVA (P. C.) 25 C. W. N. 557

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—*contd.*cl. 15—contd.

Suit on behalf of a lunatic—Benefit of the lunatic—Application to take the plaint off the file—Dismissal of the application—Right to apply at the hearing—Final decision In a suit instituted on behalf of a lunatic one of the defendants applied for taking the plaint off the file on the grounds amongst other, that the suit was not for the benefit of the lunatic and was an abuse of the process of the Court. The Court dismissed the application on the ground that on the materials before the Court at that stage, the Court was not prepared to hold that these grounds were substantiated. The defendant appealed. Held—That the order dismissing the application was not a "judgment" within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, inasmuch as the said order did not finally decide any right between the parties, it being open to the defendant to substantiate the grounds by further materials at the hearing of the suit. GOUR MOHAN MULLICK v. NARAYAN MUNDURI DASI. 26 C. W. N. 242

cls. 15, 16, 39—

See APPEAL I L R. 41 Calc. 323

cls. 15, 26—Appeal to High Court from order under Lord Acquisition Act (I of 1854)—Locus of two Judges—Difference of opinion—Appeal under cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, whether

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—concl.— cls 15 36—concl.

ma nia nalle— 98 (2) Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908) and cl. (36) Letters Patent applicability of to appeals in Land Acquisition cases—It 2 of Appellate Side Rules applicability of to such appeals. The decision of the High Court in a Land Acquisition appeal is not a judgment within cl. (15) of the Letters Patent so as to enable a party to file a further appeal to the High Court under that article. Rangoon Balaingy Co Ltd v The Collector Rangoon 1 L R 40 Calc. 21 and The Special Officer Sale the Land Revenue v Deasatha Balaingy Notula 17 C W N 401 followed. S 48 of the Civil Procedure Code applies to Land Acquisition appeals and the bench of two Judges on an appeal differs as to the amount of additional compensation awardable the proper order to pass on the appeals to confirm the award of the lower Court under that section and not to give a decree up to the lower limit of additional compensation. Akhen Deyal v Irshad Ali 22 C J J 375 distinguished. An award is a decree or order of a Civil Court within 2 of the Appellate Side Rules of the High Court. Per Deshaigri Ayyar J S 98 Civil Procedure Code is not strictly applicable to the facts of the case. MANAVIKRAMAN THIRUMALAI v THE COLLECTOR OF TAMILNADU (1918)

1 L R. 41 Mad. 943

— cls 15 36 39—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL.

1 L R. 43 Calc. 90

— cls 15 44—

See APPEAL.

1 L R. 43 Calc. 857

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ARTS

11 AND 13. 1 L R. 39 Mad. 1106

— cl 24—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) SS 17 187 506 AND 531.

1 L R. 42 Mad. 701

— cls 25, 26—

See EVIDENCE. 1 L R. 47 Calc. 671

See JURY TRIAL BY

1 L R. 44 Calc. 723

— cl 26—

See COUNTERFEIT COIN.

1 L R. 44 Calc. 477

Review of criminal case decided by High Court in Original Criminal Jurisdiction on certificate of Advocate-General KING EMPEROR UPENDRA NATH DAS (1914)

19 C W N 653

Advocate-General, f has power to grant fiat regarding misconduct on point of fact. On a conviction of kidnapping in the Criminal Sessions of the High Court the Advocate-General granted a fiat under 20 of the Letters Patent that the question whether the direct on to the jury was a sufficient direct on and whether certain alleged circumstances to direct the jury did not amount to a misdirection should be further considered by the High Court. At the hearing objection was taken to the competency of the fact. Held (on a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case) that there was no misdirection and that view was not necessary to decide as to the competency of the fiat. Duty of prosecuting counsel in Sessions trials in the High Court to take notes of the Judge's charge to the jury pointed out. KING EMPEROR UPENDRA NATH DAS (1914)

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—concl.— cl 26—concl.

23 C W N 428

— cls 27 28—

See CONTENT OF COURT

1 L R. 41 Calc. 173

— cl 30—

See DEFAMATION. 1 L R. 43 Calc. 358

— cl 32—

See ARREST OF SHIP

1 L R. 42 Calc. 85

— cl 36—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) S 98. 1 L R. 43 Bom. 423

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

1 L R. 40 Calc. 955

Procedure—Bombay

High Court—Original Civil Jurisdiction—Appeal—Dwarka nath of Judges—Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908) ss 4 and 98 sub s 2. Section 36 of the Letters Patent of the Bombay High Court which provides that the Judges composing a division bench are equally divided in opinion on the opinion of the senior or Judge is prevailed is not affected by s 98, sub s 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 which provides a different procedure in these circumstances. The Judicial Committee allowed an appeal where the procedure of s 98, sub s 2 had erroneously been followed without objection by the appellant but their Lordships expressed no opinion on the merits reserved for the ultimate decision on the question whether the appellant should not be ordered to pay the whole of the costs since the date when the mistake was first made. Decree of the High Court reversed. BRADISH SRINIVAS v BAL GULAB (1901)

1 L R. 45 Bom. 718

See REVISION. 1 L R. 47 Calc. 438

— cl 39—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

1 L R. 40 Calc. 685

1 L R. 41 Calc. 734

1 L R. 39 Mad. 128

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 S 115.

15 C W N 848

— cls 39, 44—

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

1 L R. 42 Calc. 35

— cl 140—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

S 34. 1 L R. 37 Bom. 506

LETTERS PATENT (ALL)

— cl 3—

Legal practitioner—

Disciplinary powers of High Court—Professional misconduct—Petition presented by a vakil purporting to be the petitioner of a case but which was in fact entered in the name of the vakil and contained elements made recklessly and without any reasonable grounds of belief. A vakil was retained to defend in the Court of Session certain persons accused of murder. In the course of such engagement he prepared and put before the Sessions Judge a statement which purported to be a petition issuing from his clients and drafted on their instructions, whereas in truth and in fact it was a petition which originated with him and in respect of which he had received no instructions from his clients, and he put therein allegations which were made recklessly and without any reasonable grounds of belief. Held, that the vakil was guilty of professional misconduct, and in exercise of the powers conferred by s. 8 of the Letters Patent, the vakil was suspended from practising his profession. In the matter of A VARIL I. L. R. 42 All. 450

LETTERS PATENT (ALL.)—contdcl. B.—contd.

cl. 10—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

ss 104 and 41, R 1

I. L. R. 39 All. 191

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 195. I. L. R. 39 All. 147

LETTERS PATENT (BOM.)

See LETTERS PATENT, 1865

cls. 11 and 38—

See HIGH COURT ACT (24 & 25 Vict. c 104) I. L. R. 39 Bom. 604

cl. 12—

See HUNDI SUIT ON

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 473

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 24

Ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court—Suits for land and other immovable property—Title deeds—Suits to compel the delivery of title deeds to land outside the ordinary original jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court. In a suit to enforce, inter alia, the delivery to the plaintiff of the title-deeds of certain immovable property situated outside the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court, where it appeared on the pleadings that the substantial point to be decided in the suit was the title of the plaintiff to the property to which the title-deeds related. Held, that the suit, in so far as it related to such title deeds, was a suit for land or other immovable property and that the Bombay High Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the same. ZULKARAI v. ISRAHIM HAJI VYEDINA (1913) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 494 cl. 15—Judgment, meaning of—Order refusing injunction to restrain prosecution of suit in a foreign Court, not a judgment—No appeal lies against such order—Jurisdiction—Motion. An order refusing to grant injunction to restrain the defendant from prosecuting a suit filed by him in the Court of a Native State is not a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, and no appeal lies against that order. The Justices of the Peace for Calcutta v. The Oriental Gas Co., (1872), 8 Ben. L. R. 433, referred to; Sonabai v. Tribhuvandas (1905) 32 Bom. 602, distinguished. VEERCHAND v. LAKHRICHAND MANERCHAND (1910) I. L. R. 44 Bom. 272

LETTERS PATENT (BOM.)—contdcl. 35—

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869), ss 2, 4, 7 AND 45 I. L. R. 39 Bom. 125

LETTERS PATENT (CAL)

See LETTERS PATENT, 1865

LETTERS PATENT (MAD.)

See LETTERS PATENT, 1865

LETTERS PATENT (N-W. P.)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908),

s. 104, O XLIII, R 1; O XXJ R 90 I. L. R. 39 All. 191

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 195

I. L. R. 39 All. 147

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 69

LETTERS PATENT (PAT.)cls. 9 to 34—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT, 1879, s 13 4 Pat. L. J. 423

cl. 10—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT,

s 7 3 Pat. L. J. 581

Point not argued before single Judge if may be urged in appeal. The conduct of a case before a single Judge of High Court must not be regarded as a preliminary matter in which the parties and their legal advisers are not called upon to exert themselves. Ordinarily a point which had not been taken before a single Judge would not be allowed to be taken in appeal under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent. Saminatha Ayyar v. Venkataraba Ayyar, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 21, and Khub Chand v. Harmaulh Rai, I. L. R. 34 All. 41, referred to. The Tanjore Palace Estate v. Ando Hanmaha II I. C. 339, dissented from. Dani Madhub v. Matungini, I. L. R. 13 Cal. 104 and Bechi v. Ashanullah Khan, I. L. R. 12 All. 461, referred to. DEBI CHAND LAL v. SHERIF MEHDI HUSSAIN (1916) 20 C. W. N. 1303

Rules of the Patna High Court, 1916, Ch VII, rr 2 and 16 Ch VIII, rr 3 and 4. Letters Patent of the Patna High Court, L. 10—Appeal from decision of single Judge—procedure. The procedure in appeals under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent is laid down in Ch VII, rr 2 and 16, and Ch VIII, rr 3 and 4, which provide that the appeal must first be presented to the Registrar, whose duty it is to lay it before a Divisional Bench. The Bench hears the appellant and other witnesses the appeal or causes notice to be served upon the respondent. In dismissing an appeal under these rules without issuing notice upon the respondent the High Court does not act without jurisdiction. JAGDIS CHANDRA DAS v. CHANDRA MOHAN DAS

4 Pat. L. J. 695

Single Judge, whether question not raised before, can be raised before Division Bench. The plaintiff obtained a decree on the 27th September 1913. The decree was prepared and signed on the same day. The Court was closed from the 28th September to the 31st

LETTERS PATENT (PAT.)—contd

— cl. 10—contd.

October (both days inclusive) The defendants applied for a copy of the judgment on the 3rd November and for a copy of the decree on the 13th November. Both copies were ready and delivered on the 21st November. An appeal was filed on the 28th November. Held that the appeal was filed within time. The wording of s. 12 of the Limitation Act, 1908, does not warrant the view that the time requisite for obtaining a copy must be continuous. Where a Court, after considering all the circumstances of the case, has come to the conclusion that sufficient cause has or has not been established for not filing an appeal within time, the High Court in second appeal will not interfere. Thirdly a point which has not been taken before the single Judge cannot be taken in an appeal under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent. DEBI CHAN N LALL v SURESH MANDI HUSSAIN. 1 Pat. L. J. 485

— cl. 20 and 41—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915 s. 7

3 Pat. L. J. 581

— cl. 29—

See PATNA HIGH COURT RULES 1916

5 Pat. L. J. 719

Remand, appeal from decision of single Judge, ordering Under the Letters Patent of the Patna High Court no appeal lies from the order of a single Judge remitting an issue for trial, but the Judge before whom the case comes on for hearing after return of the finding may disregard the order remitting the issue and the finding of the lower appellate court thereon, and dispose of the appeal on the original findings. The executant of a saala sued to set aside the document on the ground that he had been compelled to execute it by coercion. The plaintiff in his plaint made definite allegations which amounted to a charge of coercion and pleaded and proved a number of facts and circumstances which showed that the defendant was in a position to dominate the will of the plaintiff. He also proved that the transaction was unconscionable. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to have the document cancelled although he had failed to prove the definite allegations of coercion. BARA ESTATE, LTD v ANUP-CHANDRA

2 Pat. L. J. 663

— cl. 39—Order in Council, application for execution of, appeal from decision of Calcutta High Court—whether Patna High Court has jurisdiction to execute Order in Council. The High Court at Patna has no jurisdiction to execute an Order in Council passed in an appeal from a decree of the Calcutta High Court on appeal from a subordinate court in Bihar. An application for execution of such an order should be made to the High Court at Calcutta. LALJI SANE v RAI BARADUT BALNATH GOENKA 2 Pat. L. J. 684.

See ALSO CESS ACT, 1880

2 Pat. L. J. 653

— cl. 41—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT, s. 4

3 Pat. L. J. 537

LETTERS PATENT APPEAL.

— period not extendable—

See LIMITATION. 1 L. R. 2 Lah. 117

LETTERS PATENT APPEAL—contd

True result of cancelling thereof of a judgment of several if a single Judge of the High Court—Leave to appeal to Privy Council—Letters Patent 1865, cl. 15, 38, 39—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), ss. 110, 115—Court immediately below. In an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent (for Charter) the cancelling of a judgment of several passed by a single Judge of the High Court results in an affirmation of the decision of the Court immediately below. Such a Judge sitting alone is not a Court subordinate to the High Court, and thus no decision of a single Judge can be revised under s. 115 of the new Code. DEBENDRA NATH DAS v BHINDENDRA MANSINGH (1915)

1 L. R. 43 Calc. 90

From order of a single Judge refusing to stay execution of a decree under appeal to the High Court whether competent—practice of Court to grant stay of execution in respect of immovable property. The defendant against whom a decree for pre-emption of a house had been passed by the lower Court presented an appeal to the High Court and prayed that execution of the decree be stayed pending decision of the appeal. The appeal was duly admitted, but stay of execution was refused by a single Judge of the Court. The appellant then presented an appeal under s. 10 of the Letters Patent against the order refusing stay of execution. Held, that the term judgment in s. 10 of the Letters Patent includes any interlocutory judgment which decides, so far as the Court pronouncing such judgment is concerned, whether finally or temporarily, any question materially in issue between the parties and directly affecting the subject matter of the suit, and that consequently the present appeal is competent. Tuljaram Now v Alagappa Chettiar (1 L. R. 35 Mad. 1, F. S.), followed. The Justice of the Peace for Calcutta v The Oriental Gas Co. (3 B. L. R. 433), Maidura Sundari v Harna Chandra (1 L. R. 48 Calc. 337), and De Souza v Cole (31 Ind. 11 C. R. 351), approved. Srinivasa Durga Prasad v Srinivasa Mahalingam (1 L. R. 24 Mad. 353), approving of Mahabir Prasad Singh v Achilari Kewar (1 L. R. 21 Calc. 473), dissenting from Held also, that in accordance with the practice of this Court the execution of decree should be stayed in respect of the house but not in regard to costs. GOKAL CHAND v SATWAL DAS

1 L. R. 1 Lah. 348

LETTERS PATENT JURISDICTION.

See PROCEDURE 1 L. R. 48 Calc. 482

LEVA KUNBIS.

See HINDU LAW—ILLEGITIMACY

1 L. R. 44 Bom. 168

LEVEL CROSSING.

See RAILWAYS ACT (IV of 1890), s. 7

1 L. R. 44 Bom. 705

LEX FORI

See HABEAS CORPUS.

1 L. R. 39 Calc. 164

LEX FORI—contd

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 522

LEX LOCI CONTRACTUS.

See EVIDENCE I. L. R. 33 ALL. 571

See PROMISSORY NOTE.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 522

LIABILITY

See BILL OF LADING

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 941

See VARTHAMANAM

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 660

— for loss—

See CARRIERS. I. L. R. 47 Calc. 1027

LIBEL

See DEFAMATION

— By Judge—

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT,
1850. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1089

— On Magistrate—

See PRIVY COUNCIL (PRACTICE OF)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1023

Words defamatory per se—Imputation of criminal offence—Fair Comment—Privileged occasion—Hansard's Parliamentary Reports, admissibility of—Statement of Newspaper Correspondent—Evidence of bad character—Proceedings in Parliament—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) ss 55, 57, 78 (2)—Malice—Plaintiff's political character—Deportation—Regulation III of 1873—Judicial notice—Issues—Reputation—Damages, assessment of The expression "That the plaintiff has been guilty of tampering with the loyalty of the Punjab sepoy" amounts to an imputation that he has been guilty of an offence under ss 124A and 131 of the Indian Penal Code and is punishable with transportation for life. A fair comment on matter of public interest is not libel. Mier role v. Carson, 20 Q. B. D 275, referred to. Per HARRINGTON, J. Imputing a criminal offence to a person is not fair comment, and that the fact that another person on a privileged occasion made a similar statement is no protection to the defendant. Publication of a fair and an accurate report of proceedings in Parliament is privileged even though the words are defamatory. Hanson v. Haller, L. R. 4 Q. B. 73, referred to. A libel, which is privileged when it appears as the report of a speech in Parliament, is not privileged when it appears as the statement of a newspaper correspondent. The proceedings of Parliament may be proved, under s 78 (2) of the Evidence Act, by the Journals of the House of Commons or by copies purporting to be printed by order of the Government. Where the gist of the action was damages to the plaintiff's character, the defendants were entitled to show that the plaintiff was a person whose reputation would not be damaged by a particular libel in question. The fact that the plaintiff was a man of considerable influence in the Punjab, and took part in a meeting calculated to influence the minds of the people against the Government, and that he was depicted seven weeks after the meeting under a Regulation empowering the Government to take that step for the purpose of preserving a portion of His Majesty's dominions from internal commotion, should be taken into consideration in assessing the damages. In mitigation of damages the defendants can give evidence of the plaintiff's bad character, but not evidence of rumours and suspicions of bad character. Scott v. Sampson, 3 Q. B. D. 491, referred to. Per WOODROFFE, J. Subject to certain well known limitations, that which has probative force is evidence. The deportation of the plaintiff was evidence as throwing light on the character of his agitation previous thereto and as thus affecting damages. The presumption of regularity required that it should be assumed that the deportation appeared to Government to be necessary. When the presumption had operated to this extent, the fact presumed might itself form the basis of a further inference that what had appeared to be necessary had so appeared because there was an actual cause in fact for such appearance. The subject of 'judicial notice' discussed, and the meaning of s 57 of the Evidence Act explained. Hansard is an appropriate book of reference in case of Parliamentary debates. Fair comment is not a branch of the law of privileged occasion. The law as to fair comment stated. The Code requires that issues should be settled on the Original Side of the High Court. Reputation includes both character and disposition and disposition is not the less proven because it appears on the face of the facts deposed to by the plaintiff himself, or is a proper inference from those facts. Assessment of general damages discussed. The English cases which deal with the question of the revision of damages by the Court of Appeal have no application in this country where the jury system, with respect to which the English decisions have been given, does not prevail. "THE ENGLISHMAN,"

LIBEL—contd

ITD & LAJPAT RAI (1910)

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 760

— Statement in written statement

— Privilege—Party to judicial proceeding, statement by, in written statement—Absolute privilege—Qualified privilege—Rules of English Law, if applies in India—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s 499 Defamatory statements made in the written statements of a party to a judicial proceeding are not absolutely privileged in this country. Royal Aquarium v. Flickin, [1892] 1 Q. B. 451, not followed. Aungda Lam Shaha v. Nemas Chand Shaha, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 867, followed. Qualified privilege on the ground that the defendant had an interest in the subject-matter of the communication and that the person to whom it was made had some duty to perform in the matter cannot be claimed in respect of such statements unless they fall within the exceptions to s 499 of the Indian Penal Code. RAJENDRA K. BHABA SUNDARI DEBI (1910) 15 C. W. N. 895 — Defamatory words spoken by a party in the course of a judicial proceeding, if absolutely privileged—s 499, Penal Code, exception 1 and 2, effect of—Distinction between civil and criminal cases for defamation—English law rule of absolute privilege, if to be followed—Distinction between witnesses and parties to a judicial proceeding. As to the application of the rule of absolute privilege in English law to words spoken by a party in the ordinary course of any proceeding before any Court or tribunal recognised

LIFE INSURANCE—contd

See MARRIED WOMAN'S PROPERTY ACT,
1874, ss 2, 4 AND 8

18 C. W. N. 1335

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV
OF 1882 AS AMENDED BY ACT II OF
1900), s 130 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 198

— money payable under Policy of Life Insurance—Money payable under—Such money forms part of estate of assured and is recoverable by his representatives Where the assured does not, in his life time create any trust in respect of the money payable under a policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of his wife and children such money, in cases where the provisions of the Married Woman's Property Act do not apply, forms part of his estate and is recoverable by his legal representatives The contract between the Company and the assured gives no right of action to the beneficiaries named Where the Company refuses payment on the death of the assured, the legal representatives and not the beneficiary will be entitled to enforce the contract. The Company will be bound to pay the amount to a person who has obtained a Succession certificate under s. 16 of the succession Certificate Act Chauhan v Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, [1892] 1 Q. B. 147, referred to. ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE, LTD., v VASTEDDU AMMIRAJU (1911)

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 162

— Policy holder—Alteration of rules—Effect on policy effected before alteration—Refund of premium paid A policy holder in a Life Insurance Company is not bound by any alterations in the rules made after the contract between himself and the company had become concluded If a policy holder, who is permitted by the rules of an Insurance Company to discontinue payment of premium after stipulated period does so after that period, the policy does not lapse and the company is liable to refund the sums actually paid TANJORE LIFE ASSURANCE CO v KUTIPATTA RAO (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 333

— Agent—Dismissal of agent—Commission—Renewals, meaning of—Premium paid by policy holders subsequent to dismissal of agent—Right of agent to commission on renewal or subsequent premium paid after dismissal—Express contract for such commission necessary for In the absence of a definite agreement to that effect, an agent of a Life Insurance Company who has secured policy holders for the Company and whose duties as agent do not cease with the first introduction of the customer, has no right to commission on renewals, that is, subsequent premium paid in by such policy holders, after he ceased to be its agent. In re The Albert Life Insurance Arbitration (Lawrie's Case) 15 S. J. 328 Royd v Mallers (1893) 9 T. L. R. 443, Original Side Appeal No 42 of 1899, and Civil suit No 178 of 1903, followed EMPIRE OF INDIA LIFE ASSURANCE CO. LTD. v NANG AYTAH (1921)

I. L. R. 44 Mad 170

LIFE INTEREST.

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 561

LIGHT AND AIR.

See EASEMENT . I. L. R. 38 Calc 59

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 46

LIGHT AND AIR—contd

— Damages for infringement of light and air—Injunction, when to be granted. A mandatory injunction will be granted to remove an obstruction of an easement to light and air where the character of the obstruction is such that its consequence is to darken the plaintiff's house so as to make it uncomfortable and in part useless. In such a case damages would not be an adequate remedy. NETRU KRISHNA AYTAH v SOMALINGA MUKUNAGAN-DRICKEN (1913)

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 11

LIGHTERS OR BOATS.

See BILL OF LADING

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 941

LIMITATION.

See ABHARI ACT (BOM ACT V OF 1878),
ss. 32, 67 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 101

See ACCOUNT, SUIT FOR.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 108

ACCOUNTS . 28 C. W. N. 61

See ADMINISTRATION

I. L. R. 40 I. A. 235

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I. L. R. 32 All. 359

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 681

I. L. R. 33 All. 224, 229, 463

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 227

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 425

See ALIEN ENEMY

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 526

See AMENDED LETTERS PATENT, CL 15

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 260

See AMENDMENT

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 110

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT

I. L. R. 36 All. 370

See APPEALS, CRIMINAL.

I. L. R. 1 Lab. 508

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 766

See ASSESSMENT I. L. R. 43 Calc. 972

See BENGAL TENACRY ACT 1835—

ss 60 AND 70 . 2 Pat. L. J. 24

s. 111 A . 1 Pat. L. J. 73

See BENGAL REGULATION (XV OF 1793)

I. L. R. 34 All. 261

See BENGAL ALLUVION REGULATION,

1825 . 5 Pat. L. J. 632

See BILL OF COSTS

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 249

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 817

See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOM

IV OF 1890), ss 63 (b), 80 (3)

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 737

See BOND . I. L. R. 43 All. 38

See CHUQUE, PAYMENT BY

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1043

See CHAUHDARI CHAKRAMAN LAWS.

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 173

LIMITATION—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882)—

s 43 I L R 33 All 244

s 54 14 C W N 882

s. 230 I L R 37 Mad 186

I L R 32 All 136

I L R 34 All 396

ss. 230 AND 25 I L R 33 All 517

s. 315 I L R 35 All 419

s. 375-A I L R 46 Calc 183

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 47 O XII R. 1

I L R 40 All 12

s 48 I L R 40 All 198

I L R 37 All 638

I L R 36 Bom 368

I L R 34 All 20

s. 48, SCH I O XXI

I L R. 35 Bom 103

s. 48 SCH III I L R 42 All 116

s. 50 I L R 33 All 529

s. 92 I L R 40 Mad. 212

s. 115 3 Pat L J 376

s. 120 I L R 40 All 1

O I R. 9 O 34 R 11 Pa L J 468

O XXI—

R. 3 I L R 38 All 204

R 58 I L R 40 All 325

I L R 41 All 623

RR 84 89 AND 92

I L R. 35 All 65

RR. 97 AND 103 I L R 1 Lah 57

O. XVII—

R. 4 I L R 39 All 551

R. 7 I L R 2 Lah. 164

R. 8 I L R. 43 All 621

O XXXIII R. 5

I L R 41 Mad. 620

O XXXIV—

RR. 4 5 AND 10 I L R 41 All 473

R. 5 I L R 38 All 21

I L R 39 All 641

I L R 40 All 203

R. 6 I L R 40 All 553

I L R. 41 All 581

O XXXIV R. 1

I L R 43 All 383

SCH II CLS. 17 AND 20

I L R 38 All 85

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 188) —

s. 169 I L R 33 A L 641

I L R 35 All 177

See COMPANY I L R 36 All 412

See CONTRACT I L R 34 All 429

I L R. 39 Mad. 509

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 ss. 18 AND 140.

I L R 42 All 70

See COURT FEES 3 Pat. L J 454

LIMITATION—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—

s 105 I L R. 42 Bom 281

I L R 1 Lah 602

s. 46 I L R 37 All 344

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom 504

I L R 42 Bom 728

I L R 44 Bom 227 440

See DECREE, ASSENTMENT OF

I L R 43 Calc 990

See DECREE NISI I L R 39 Bom 175

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT—

ss 39 48 I L R 36 Bom 183

s 48 I L R 42 Bom 367

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1901)—

ss 2 46 AND 167

I L R 59 Bom 600

See EJECTMENT SUIT IN

I L R 41 Mad 641

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 35 All 178

I L R. 36 All 452

I L R 37 All 527

I L R 39 All 193

I L R 40 All 211

I L R. 38 All 138

I L R 43 All 520

1 Pat L J 359

3 Pa L J 571

See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS

I L R 37 All 518

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 506

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT s 9C

I L R 35 Bom. 324

s 31 I L R 37 Bom 360

See HINDU LAW—ALLOCATION

I L R 40 Calc 966

I L R 43 Calc 417

See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION

I L R 33 All 356

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

L R 46 L A 204

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

I L R 42 Calc. 364

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

I L R 38 All 126

I L R 47 Calc. 274

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE.

I L R 42 Calc. 1068

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER.

I L R 41 All 492

I L R 43 Bom 509

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 38 All 117

I L R 1 Lah. 564

See HUSBAND AND WIFE.

I L R 37 Bom. 393

See IDOL I L R 33 All 725

I L R. 36 Bom 145

LIMITATION—contd.

- See INJUNCTION L. L. R. 42 Calc 550
 See IN SOLVENCY L. L. R. 47 Calc. 721
 See JUDICIAL DISCRETION
 4 Pat L. J. 381
 See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L. R. 45 Bom 508
 See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877)
 See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)—
 See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT
 (III of 1900) I L. R. 33 Mad. 674
 ss 4, 5, 6, 7 AND 14
 I L. R. 39 Mad. 727
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(ALIENATION)
 I L. R. 34 All. 213
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(ENDOWMENT)
 I L. R. 47 Calc. 866
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(WIDOW)
 I L. R. 43 All. 127
 See MAINTENANCE GRANT
 I L. R. 37 Calc. 674
 See MORTGAGE L. L. R. 37 Calc. 790
 I L. R. 38 Calc. 342
 I L. R. 34 All. 620
 I L. R. 38 All. 92, 540
 I L. R. 41 All. 467
 I L. R. 42 All. 575
 I L. R. 47 Calc. 125
 I L. R. 43 All. 539
 See MORTGAGE DECREE 3 Pat L. J. 478
 See MUTT I L. R. 41 Mad. 121
 See NEGLIGENCE 5 Pat L. J. 353
 See NEW CASE
 I L. R. 43 Calc. 832
 See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH MUNICIPALITY ACT (XV of 1853) s. 10 I L. R. 35 All. 303
 See POSSESSION 2 Pat L. J. 280
 See PRELIMINARY DECREE
 I L. R. 37 Bom 60
 See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
 I L. R. 41 All. 635
 I L. R. 43 Calc. 243
 See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY
 I L. R. 44 Calc. 978
 See SAVING COUNCIL—LEAVE TO APPEAL
 TO I L. R. 39 Calc. 510
 See PROBATE I L. R. 41 Calc. 819
 See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (II of 1907)—
 ss. 22, 26 AND 52
 I L. R. 35 All. 410
 s. 46 (d) I L. R. 33 All. 733
 I L. R. 34 All. 493
 See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
 ACT (VII of 1897)
 s. 25 I L. R. 38 All. 690
 See PUBLIC DEBT AND RECOVERY ACT
 s. 10 14 C. W. N. 607
 See PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1914
 I L. R. 1 Lah. 243
 See RECORD OF RIGHTS 2 Pat L. J. 537

LIMITATION—contd.

- See REGISTRATION ACT III of 1908—
 ss. 2 (1) 6 AND 7
 I L. R. 40 Mad. 759
 s. 7 21 C. W. N. 4, 23, 301
 See RESIDUARY LEGATEE
 I L. R. 41 Calc. 271
 See R. VIVOR I L. R. 43 Calc. 903
 See SALE I L. R. 48 Calc. 875
 See SALES OF ARREARS OF REVENUE
 I L. R. 43 Calc. 779
 I L. R. 44 Calc. 412
 See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
 I L. R. 40 Calc. 233, 554
 See SECOND APPEAL
 I L. R. 2 Lah. 227
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1881)
 s. 30 I L. R. 34 All. 43
 See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1889
 s. 4 I L. R. 43 All. 440
 See SUIT I L. R. 45 Calc. 934
 See TRANSFER I L. R. 40 Calc. 259
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882)—
 s. 82 AND 100 I L. R. 33 All. 708
 s. 90 I L. R. 34 Bom. 540
 See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE
 ACT (III of 1901) s. 121
 I L. R. 35 All. 541
 See UNITED PROVINCES MORTGAGE LISTS
 ACT II of 1916
 s. 326 I L. R. 42 All. 207
 See VATAN I L. R. 37 Bom. 81
 See WASTE LANDS L. R. 43 I. A. 303
 See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT
 I L. R. 44 Bom. 939
 ————— by adverse possession—
 See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L. R. 41 Calc. 683
 ————— for declaratory suit—
 See REGISTRATION ACT 1908.
 I L. R. 2 Lah. 5
 ————— for Second appeal—
 See SECOND APPEAL I L. R. 2 Lah. 1
 ————— instalment decree—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s. 1 ART 181
 I L. R. 2 Lah. 155
 ————— suit between co-majdars of a Khankah—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 120
 134 AND 144 I L. R. 1 Lah. 66
 ————— question of—
 See HONOURABLE JURISDICTION OF
 I L. R. 39 Calc. 473
 ————— recording adjustment of decree—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, O
 XXI r. 2 I L. R. 45 Bom. 91 ————— respecting claim for rent—See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) I L. R. 37 Mad. 545

LIMITATION—contd.

— suit to set aside compromise by guardian—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXII
n 7 . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 164

— Note for recording payment of decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O, XXI n 2 . . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 91

— Suit to recover excess paid for redemption—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 83

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 316

— Suit to recover money under an award—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 120
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 320

— tenant claiming adverse possession against landlord—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 503

— whether suspended by arbitration—

See GUARDIAN AND WARD ACT 1890.
6 Pat. L. J. 273

— whether time can be extended or ground not shown in plaint—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1908, O
VII n 6 . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 13

— whether plea of—can be raised at trial for first time—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879
ss. 68 AND 79 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 920

1. — Endowment—Adverse possession—Dispute between senior and junior chelas as to succession to Hindu maths—Ekrnama allotting one math to senior chela in perpetuity and the other to junior chela as adikars—Suit instituted within twelve years from senior chela's death, but 27 years from date of ekrnama—Hindu Law The Mohant of the temple of a Hindu idol who was in possession of two maths, one at Bhadrak and the other at Bibisarai, died leaving two chelas, or disciples, between whom a controversy arose as to the right of succession to the maths and the property annexed to them. The dispute was settled by an arrangement embodied in an ekrnama, dated 3rd of November 1874, executed by the senior chela in favour of the junior chela, by which the math at Bhadrak was allotted in perpetuity to the senior chela and his successors, while the math at Bibisarai and the properties annexed to it were allotted to the junior chela (described therein as an adikar) and his successors for the purposes connected with his math, subject to an annual payment of Rs. 15 towards the expenses of the Bhadrak math. Less than twelve years after the death of the senior chela, but considerably more than that period after the date of the ekrnama, the appellant, the successor of the senior chela, brought a suit against the junior chela to recover possession of the properties annexed to the Bibisarai math, on the allegation that they were debudar property dedicated to the worship and service of the plaintiff's idol, and held by the respondent (representing the junior chela) as an adikar in charge of the Bibisarai math and asserting it to be a math subordinate to the Bhadrak math—Held (affirming the decision of the High Court), that the property dealt with by the ekrnama was, prior to its date, to be regarded as vested not in the Mohant, but in the idol, the Mohant being only its representative and manager, and consequently that from the date of the ekrnama the possession of the junior chela, by virtue of its terms was adverse to the right of the idol, and of the senior chela as representing that idol and that the suit was barred by limitation DAMO DAB DAS v LAKHAN DAS (1910)

LIMITATION—contd

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 885

2. — Adverse possession against Crown—Party relying on title by adverse possession against Crown must prove sixty years' adverse possession—Burden of proof shifted on Crown by proof of adverse possession for shorter period A party who rests his title on possession adverse to the Crown must prove such possession for sixty years Secretary of State for India v Vira Royan, I. L. R. 9 Mad. 175, explained Where lands have been notified as a reserved forest under the Madras Forest Act, a claimant desirous of establishing his title against the Crown by adverse possession must prove adverse possession for sixty years before the notification Where adverse possession for a shorter period is proved, it lies on Government to show that it has a subsisting title, by showing that such possession commenced within sixty years before such date In this part of India, it is a well established rule of common law that waste land, not being the property of an individual or community, belongs to Government Islands formed within 3 miles of the mainland vest in the Crown. CHELIKANI RAMA RAO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1909)

I. L. R. 23 Mad. 1

3 (a) — Acknowledgment What is sufficient—Where an insolvent has written down a debt in his schedule as owing that debt to a person named and has signed the Schedule that is a sufficient acknowledgment under s. 19 of the Limitation Act to extend the period of limitation CHHOTY SHRIGOPAL CHIRANJUL v DHANALAL GHASISAM

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 383

2 (b) — Courts of Wards.—Act, 1879, does not contain any express power authorizing the Court to execute Promissory Notes But there can be no doubt on the authorities that the Court has power to give an acknowledgment so as to give a new period of limitation. RASBEHARY LAL MANDAR v ASHOK RAM

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 211

3. — Adverse possession—Rent-free tank—Setting up hostile title to the knowledge of the landlord—Lakshiraj rule In a suit for recovery of possession of a tank with its banks by establishment of plaintiff's zamindari title thereto, and in the alternative an assessment of rent, the defendant pleaded that the tank was rent free and that the suit was barred by limitation It appeared that the defendant more than twelve years ago, in the settlement proceedings, claimed the tank as rent free without any reference to any sanad, and the plaintiff's agent denied the claim Held, that, inasmuch as a complete hostile right was claimed by the defendant to the knowledge of the plaintiff, and as no suit was brought until more than twelve years after, the suit as framed was barred by limitation. BIRENDRA KISHORE, MANIKYA v ROSEHAN ALI (1912)

LIMITATION—contd

I L R 39 Calc. 453

4 ———— Symbolical possession—Court-sale
Symbolical possession by purchaser—Judgment debtor remaining in actual possession—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss 263, 264, 318, and 319—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXI, r 5 (2) Merely formal possession of immovable property by a purchaser at a Court sale cannot prevent limitation running in favour of the judgment debtor where the latter remains in actual possession and the property is not in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same. Symbolical possession is not real possession nor is it equivalent to real possession under Civil Procedure Code except where the Code expressly or by implication provides that it shall have that effect. Gopal v Arishnarao I L R 25 Bom 276, and Mahadeo v Parashram Bhawonchand, I L R 25 Bom 358, overruled. MAHADEV SAKHARAM v JANU NAMJI HATLE (1912)

I L R 26 Bom 373

5 ———— Conciliation—Delkhan Agriculturalists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) ss 39 45—Time taken up in conciliation proceedings—Exclusion of time The plaintiff sued on a promissory note dated the 12th of June 1905. He first applied on the 23rd May 1908 for a conciliator's certificate under s 39 of the Delkhan Agriculturalists' Relief Act, 1879 and obtained it on the 31st August 1908, then on the 10th September 1908, both he and the defendant made a joint application for conciliation. The conciliator held that the first certificate that he had granted had become useless and gave a fresh certificate on the 3rd December 1908. The suit was brought on the 11th December 1908. It was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that the suit was within time, inasmuch as the whole proceeding from the 23rd of May 1908 to the 3rd of December 1908, was one and continuous, and that period should be excluded under s 48 of the Act. DEVIDAS v VITHALDAS (1911)

I L R 38 Bom. 183

6. ———— Suit for sale on mortgage—Period of limitation changed with provision for pending suits at passing of Act—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II, Arts 132, 147, Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 31, sub s (1)—Order of His Majesty in Council holding applicable—Shorter period of limitation than provided by Act subsequently passed The Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which came into force on 7th August of that year after providing by s 31, sub s 1 for a suit for sale by a mortgagee, "a period of 'sixty years from the date when the money secured by the mortgage became due' enacts that 'no suit instituted within the said period of sixty years and pending at the date of the passing of the Act shall be dismissed on the ground that a twelve years' rule of limitation is applicable.' In a suit for sale on a mortgage dated 22nd September 1883, instituted on 23rd September 1900, the defence was limitation which the plaintiff avoided by alleging payments of interest and settlement of accounts. The first Court found that part of the claim was barred by the twelve years' period of limitation provided by Art 132 Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877. The High

LIMITATION—contd

Court in appeal held that the suit was governed by Art 147 which allowed a period of sixty years, and that no part of it was barred. On appeal to His Majesty in Council the decision of the High Court was reversed, and by an order in Council it was declared that Art 132 is the article which provided the period of limitation applicable," and the case was remitted to the High Court to be disposed of in accordance with such declaration." So remitted, the case came before the High Court on 16th August 1908 after the passing of the Limitation Act IX of 1908, and that Court holding that s 31 of that Act applied, disposed of the suit as they had previously done in favour of the plaintiff. Held by the Judicial Committee (affirming that decision), that the suit was "pending" at the time of the passing of Act IX of 1908. The judgment remitting the case did not end the suit, nor finally determine it. It was remitted for further procedure and enquiry on allegations of fact and at the passing of Act IX of 1908 that procedure was not concluded and the enquiry not entered upon. The suit in fact was neither adjudged upon nor ready for judgment. VASUDEVA MUDALIAR v. SADAGOPA MUDALIAR (1912)

I L R 35 Mad. 191

7 ———— delay in filing process fees— The question of granting time is always one of discretion and that discretion cannot be properly exercised until the general conduct of the party applying for time has been scrutinised. When a date is fixed for a case it is the business of a litigant to see that the processes for the attendance of witnesses are placed in the hands of the Court within reasonable time for the securing of their attendance upon the date fixed. If he files process fees only two days before the date fixed for hearing an order passed by the Court for the issue of the processes must be understood to have been issued at the risk of the party in fault, and the Court will not grant an adjournment when the case comes on for hearing. JAGABANDHU CHOWDHARY v GOKERY LALL CHOWDHARY 1 Pat. L. J 173

8. ———— Hindu Datties—Suit for removal of Hindu Datties from one's custody to another—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch. II, Arts 49, 120, 145 A suit by Datties (datties) themselves for removing themselves from the custody of the defendants to the custody of the plaintiffs other than themselves is not a suit for a moveable property. It would be a suit for which no provision is made in the Limitation Act and would therefore naturally come under Art. 120 of Sch II of the Act unless any other article also applied. Art. 49 has no application to such cases. BALI PANDYA v JADUMANI PANTRY (1910)

I L R 38 Calc. 234

9 ———— Agreement between joint trustees—If one of several joint trustees barred, the others also barred—Agreement between joint owners or trustees, effect of Two joint trustees A and B entered into an agreement, which recited that the families of A and B were entitled to the management of the trust and further provided that A's right shall after his death be exercised by his heirs and B's right shall after his death be exercised by his heirs. Held, that the effect of the agreement was to constitute the heirs of A and B joint trustees and not to create a right in severalty between the two branches. Where an adult joint trustee takes no steps to protect the trust and his right to take steps becomes time barred, the rights of other joint trustees, even though minors, become time barred. THIRU-GARAJA PILLAI v. RATNASABAPATHI PILLAI (1910)

LIMITATION—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 284

10. ——— Execution of joint decrees—Decree set aside as against one of several joint judgment-debtors against whom it had been ex parte—Decree passed subsequently against the exempted party—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 103—Order on a former application whether res judicata. A decree for sale on a mortgage was passed against several defendants jointly on the 25th August 1900 and made absolute on the 21st December 1901. As against one, defendant, however, the decree was ex parte, and it was set aside as against her on appeal on the 11th March 1902. Subsequently, a decree was passed on the merits against the defendant on the 15th August 1902 and her appeal was dismissed by the High Court on the 16th November 1904 and as against her that decree was made absolute on the 27th November 1905. An application for execution was made against all the defendants on the 21st December 1903, based on the decrees of the 25th August 1900, the 15th August 1902, the 16th November 1904, the 21st December 1901 and the 27th November 1905. The defendants filed an objection to the application on the 7th February 1906 alleging that they were no parties to the decrees of the 15th August 1902 and the 27th November 1905, and that, as to the decrees of the 25th August 1900 and the 21st December 1901, they were time barred. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court), that the decrees of the 25th August 1900 and the 16th November 1904 were steps in granting the plaintiff the relief to which he was entitled. The latter decrees supplemented and completed the former, and for the first time justified the plaintiff in applying for the joint execution of the decree. Time under the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) began to run from the date of the latter decree, or rather from the date it was made absolute—the 27th November 1905, and consequently the application was not barred. Held also that the plaintiff was not estopped in the present proceedings by the order of the 27th November 1903, dismissing his former application for execution of the 15th February 1905, which was based on the decrees of the 15th August 1902 alone; whereas the present application was based on the joint effect of the two orders absolute of the 21st December 1901 and the 27th November 1905 which were in effect one decree of the latter date. The applications therefore were different and the former did not operate as res judicata. Ashraf Hussain v. Ghulam Sahar (1911)

I. L. R. 23 All. 284

11. ——— Suit by an auction purchaser to recover the purchase-money—from a person who attacked money in deposit in Court as representing the surplus sale proceeds belonging to the judgment-debtor—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Art. 170. Limitation applicable to a suit brought by an auction purchaser to recover a certain sum of money from one who had, after the sale and the deposit of money in Court, attacked that sum in execution of the decree against the judgment-debtor, as representing the surplus sale-proceeds belonging to the original judgment-debtor after satisfaction of the decree obtained against the debtor by the decree-holder.

LIMITATION—contd.

is that provided by Art. 120, Sch. II, of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Nilkanta v. Imam Sahib, I. L. R. 16 Mad. 351, relied on. Hanuman Kamal v. Hanuman Manwar, I. L. R. 19 Cal. 123, and Ram Kumar Shaha v. Ram Gopal Shaha, I. L. R. 37 Cal. 67, distinguished. Amrita Lal Bagchi v. Jogendra Lal Crowhury (1912)

I. L. R. 40 Cal. 187

12. ——— Suit for Conspiracy to maliciously prosecute—Conspiracy as a cause of action—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss. 3, 114 id. (g), 125—Standard of proof—Claim of privilege, whether adverse inference can be drawn from—Disclosure of source of information by privileged person, duty of Court regarding—Presumption as to possession of article found in common room of joint family dwelling house—Arrest and Search—Professional conduct of counsel—Counsel making charges of misconduct, powers of Court regarding—Counsel's instructions, no privilege as against Court—Professional Etiquette affecting counsel—Bar Council, resolutions of—Counsel accepting retainer when likely to be witness—Counsel engaged in case, propriety of appearing as witness—Adverse inference where counsel not called as witness—Inspection by counsel of book produced by witness during cross-examination—Reference to medical works by Court, without knowledge of parties—Tort. Per WOODROFFE AND COX, JJ. On the question of the standard of proof there is but one rule of evidence which in India applies to both civil and criminal trials, and that is contained in the definition of "proved" and "disproved" in s. 3 of the Evidence Act. The test in each is, would a prudent man after considering the matters before him (which vary with each case) deem the fact in issue proved or disproved? The Court can never be bound by any rule but that which, coming from itself dictates a conscientious and prudent exercise of its judgment. There is a presumption against crime and misconduct, and the more heinous and improbable a crime is, the greater is the force of the evidence required to overcome such presumption. The English rule in these matters does not, as such, apply to India. Jarat Kumar Das v. Bhadrinarayan Dutt, I. L. R. 39 Cal. 245, explained. Where a document is privileged from production, no adverse inference can be drawn from its non-production. This rule applies as regards the party claiming privilege, and as far as it applies where the privilege is claimed by a third party. Although s. 123 of the Evidence Act does not in express terms prohibit a witness, if he is willing, from saying whence he got his information, the protection afforded by that section does not depend upon a claim of privilege being made, but it is the duty of the Court, apart from objection taken, to exclude such evidence. A fortiori, where privilege is claimed, no adverse inference can be drawn therefrom. Where articles are found in a part of a house to which several persons living in the house have access, such as a bathroom, there is no presumption that they are in the possession or control of any person other than the owner or head of the house. Queen Empress v. Sangram Lal, I. L. R. 15 All. 149, approved. Semle; It is immaterial in an action for malicious arrest, under what section of an Act an arrest is made, if in fact the circumstances are such that the Act justified arrest; and a person making a search is entitled to call in aid any statute which justifies his action, quite irrespective of whether it was present or not to him and when he made the search. The Court is entitled to ask a counsel who, during the conduct of a case makes charges of misconduct whether he waives the charges on instructions and, if so, on whose. It is not sufficient to give instructions. Counsel have a responsibility in the matter and are not justified in making serious charges of fraud and perjury unless they are personally satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for putting them forward. Instructions to a counsel are only privileged in the sense of being protected from disclosure to the opponent. There is no privilege as against the Court. The latter cannot use them as evidence in the case and for the purpose of the trial would have to treat them as confidential, but they could be called for then and there and be used after the trial for determining whether disciplinary action should be taken against counsel by the full Court. Whenever a Court relies on a book of reference such as a work on medical jurisprudence it should be made known at the trial to the parties so that they may have an opportunity of adducing evidence or argument on the point. Durga Prasad & Puri v. Pam Doyal (Kashyap) I L R 33 (C 155) referred to. The following resolution of the Bar Council approved:—(a) If counsel knows or has reason to believe that he will be an important witness in a case he ought not to accept a retainer there in. (b) If he accepts a retainer not knowing or having reason to believe that he will be such a witness, but at the opening or at any subsequent stage before evidence is concluded it becomes apparent that he is a witness on a matter at issue on fact he ought not to continue to appear in the case unless he can retire without jeopardising the interests of his client. (c) If counsel knows or has reason to believe that his own professional conduct on matters out of which the action arises is likely to be impugned in the case he ought not to accept a retainer. (d) If he accepts a retainer not knowing or having reason to believe that his own professional conduct in such matters is likely to be impugned but finds in the course of the case that it is so impugned he ought to adopt the same course of conduct as is mentioned in clause (b) ante. (e) In either of the cases mentioned in clauses (b) and (d) there is no rule of professional ethics which forbids counsel if he continues to act as counsel in the case, from going into the witness box and being cross-examined. Although the resolutions of the Bar Council are not binding on the Court, the Bar Council is the recognised authority on matters of professional conduct and etiquette affecting counsel, and its opinion is of the greatest weight and value. There is nothing necessarily unprofessional in counsel giving evidence in a case in which he appears as such. Sethna v. Mirza Mahmood Shivan, 9 Bom. L. R. 1044 Collett v. Hudson, I E and B 11, Stones v. Byron, 4 Dowl. and L. 393 Deane v. Packwood, 4 Dowl. and L. 395n, Corta v. Parris [1909] A. C. 549 34 C. W. V. 36 Nundo Lal Loo v. Natar 1 Dowl. I L. R. 27 C. 428 referred to. Curry v. Walter I Fep. 456 distinguished. As a general practice however it is undesirable when the matter to which counsel deposes is other than formal that they should testify either for or against the party whose case they are conducting. Under s. 118 of the Evidence Act counsel, although they may be engaged in the case, are competent to testify whether the facts in respect of which they give their evidence occur before or after their retainer. Collett v. Hudson I E and B 11 referred to. The rule laid down in s. 118 (2) of the Evidence Act that the Court may presume that evidence which could be and is not produced would, if produced, be favourable to the party who is liable is not to be applied to the case of counsel engaged in a suit who should not have been under the circumstances, counsel but should have been called as a witness. It is unprofessional for counsel to cross-examine a witness as to facts within his personal knowledge. In the matter of Corta v. Parris 4th Aug. 1908 (unreported), approved. Where counsel during the hearing of a case calls for the production of a book which is produced and handed to him by his opponent with certain pages marked as those only to which he may refer in respect of the subject matter of his cross-examination it is improper for counsel who calls for the book to inspect any of the other pages. If a suit on a tort is barred as against one person, the period of limitation cannot be extended because it happens to be against three persons who are alleged to have committed the tort in conspiracy. The same act of facts cannot constitute separate causes of action both for a tort, and for a conspiracy to commit a tort. Where there is a joint tort the proper action is on the tort against the joint tortfeasors and not on a cause of action to recover special damages by reason of a conspiracy to cause damage. A suit for damages for false imprisonment or malicious prosecution against joint tortfeasors, is governed by the one year rule under Arts. 10 and 22 of the Limitation Act. There are instances in which two or more persons can render themselves liable to civil proceedings by combining to injure the plaintiff although if one of them did the same act by himself and without any preconcert with others, he would escape liability. An action on such a conspiracy would lie in the country. In an action on conspiracy special damages must be proved. PER CHATTERJEE, J. There is no authority for holding that a tort when committed by several persons acting in concert is different from the same tort committed by a single individual. The combination in such cases may be an element of aggravation in the assessment of damages, but does not suffice to make it a different tort. Quinn v. Leatham, [1901] A. C. 495 referred to. Conspiracy or wrongful combination is not a material element in the constitution of a wrong. Gillan v. National Amalgamated Labourers Union [1903] 2 A. B. 600 referred to. WALTON AND OTHERS v. PRARY MOHAM DASS (1912)

LIMITATION—contd

LIMITATION—contd

L. L. R. 40 Cal. 898

13 ——— Land to support religious service.—Lease—Adverse possession. In the case of a lease for a term of years by the holder for the time being of lands assigned to support services rendered to a Mahan and religious community by successive holders, time begins to run not from the commencement of the tenancy of the person claiming to hold as a tenant, but from the date when the claims of the parties became openly and undoubtedly adverse. Tekot Jam Chander Singh v. Srmati Madho Amari, L. R. 12 I. A. 197, and Trimlak Panchandra v. Sheikh Gulam Zaman, I L. R. 34 Bom. 329 referred to. MANA MADHATS v. RAJABAKSHA (1912)

I L. R. 37 Bom. 224

LIMITATION—contd.

14. ——— Adverse possession—Title—Bombay Regulation I of 1827, s. 1—Rule of positive law—Limitation Act (XII of 1859), s. 2—Limitation Act (IX of 1871) s. 2—Repeal of s. 1 of Bombay Regulation V of 1827—Effect of repeal—Construction of statute—Rule of positive law not affected by law of limitation—Endowment of village for the purpose of performing Karpar Mangalari—Trustee—Lienation by trustee—Adverse possession on by alienee. In 1078 a village was given in inam to the then Suami of the Uttaradhi Math for the purpose of meeting the expenses of a religious service called the Karpar Mangalari at the temple of the Math. A successor of the Suami gave away the village in gift (v. e. s. Krishnaravan) to the defendants' predecessor in title who went into possession as proprietors. At first they paid jad on the land at the rate of Rs. 20 per year; but after 1810 this payment was stopped. The defendants continued to hold the village as before. In 1911, the present Suami of the math sued to obtain a declaration that the village belonged to him and to recover its possession from the defendants. The plea of the defendants was that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that inasmuch as the original grant vested the legal property in the Suami and the equitable estate in the juridical person, the Idol, the original grantee took as a trustee and his successors held by the same title. Hardoon v. Belhoo, [1901] A. C. 118, 121, followed. Held, further, that since the defendants went into possession of the village in 1810, their title ripened in 1860 into ownership under the provisions of s. 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827. Held, also, that the operation of s. 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827 was not affected by the enactment of s. 2 of the Limitation Act (XIV of 1859) first, because the Act did not come into force till the 1st January 1862, and, secondly, because it being a statute of limitation did not affect s. 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827, which was an enactment of positive prescription. Sitarum Vasudev v. Akanderv Bhalvasha, 1 L. R. 1 Bom. 260, and Rambhat Singhbhai v. The Collector of Panna, 1 L. R. 1 Bom. 592, followed. Where a later Act of Legislature does not purport or affect to supersede an earlier Act, the Court will endeavour to read the two enactments together and to avoid conflict if possible. RANGACHARYA v. DASACHARYA (1912) 1 L. R. 37 Bom. 231.

15. ——— Redemption of mortgage made in 1793—Act XIV of 1859 s. 1, cl. 10, and s. 4—Act IX of 1871, s. 20, and Sch. II, Art. 143—Act XV of 1877, s. 19, and Sch. II, Art. 148—Acknowledgment of title—Receipt by mortgagees—Interest after date of suit—Damduput—Discretion as to award or not of interest—Assumed exercise of discretion not interfered with. A suit was brought, by the predecessor-in-title of the respondents, for redemption of a mortgage, dated 4th November 1793, in favour of the predecessor-in-title of the appellants. The deed mortgaged with possession a certain desaigri dastur and certain pawada lands situate in the district of Kioach, and after that district finally came under British rule the desaigri dastur was commuted into a fixed money allowance payable from the treasury since which settlement the appellants had received that allowance in lieu of the desaigri dastur. The defence was that the suit was barred by the Indian Statutes of Limitation which provide a period of sixty years for redemption, and that more than that time had elapsed since the date of the mortgage. The respondents, however, put in evidence documents signed by the mortgagees by which they contended the period of limitation had been extended. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court), that an entry in a receipt book relating to the payment on 8th June 1843 of the fixed allowance from the treasury in respect of the year ending 1st May 1843, was an acknowledgment under the Indian Act of Limitation (XIV of 1859, s. 1 cl. 15 Act IX of 1871, s. 20, and Act XV of 1877, s. 19) made within the period of limitation, and sufficient to prevent the suit from being barred. The rights of the mortgagees were then vested in somewhat unequal shares in two persons named in the receipt, whose names had in the ordinary course been entered in the Collector's books as mortgagees under the mortgage in suit, as being entitled to the payment of the annual allowance into which the original rights had been commuted. The entry in the book of the Government agent entrusted with the payment stated that it was made to the two persons named. The amounts of the shares of each of them was set against their names, and against those shares the mortgagees had written their respective names in acknowledgment of the receipt of their shares. This acknowledgment created a new period of limitation from 8th June 1843, and consequently the suit was not barred. The appellants claimed to be allowed interest on the redemption money for the period between the date of suit and the actual date of redemption. Admittedly the rule of damduput applied, and therefore the amount of arrears of interest to be allowed was limited to an amount equal to the capital sum. The District Judge gave no interest from the date of suit. There was nothing to show that he had done so by an oversight or mistake. The High Court treated the matter as if the District Judge had exercised his discretion and had declined to give interest, and they thought that it had not been an unreasonable exercise of his discretion. No application was ever made to the District Judge to amend his alleged omission to give interest, and their Lordships agreed with the High Court decision on and the grounds on which it rested. HIRALAL HIRALAL v. NARSHAL CHATUR SHUDAS (1913) 1 L. R. 37 Bom. 329.

LIMITATION—contd.

16. ——— Suit filed after limitation in wrong Court—Return for presentation to proper Court—Bar of limitation in spite of Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 14. If a plaint is returned for presentation to the proper Court on the ground of absence of jurisdiction in the Court to which it was originally presented, the suit when presented to the new Court is a new suit, and cannot be regarded as a continuation of the infructuous suit in the wrong Court. This is the basis of s. 14 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Hence if the suit when originally filed in the wrong Court would have been ordinarily barred by limitation as by being barred during the holidays of that Court, after which alone it was filed, the suit when filed in the new Court must be held to be barred in spite of s. 14 of the Limitation Act. Mahomed Rowshan v. Nollapervud Pillai, 21 Mad. L. J. 1049 followed. Talarawader Mahomed Ekam Choudry v. Avimboor Choudry, 3 H. R. Cr. 20, Abdul Chondar Ghore v. Nasrullah

LIMITATION—contd

Biber, 16 W R Cr 47, and Assan v Padmanabhi I R 22 Mad 494, distinguished SERRANHI HOW v VAJRA VELAYUDAM PILLAI (1913)

L. L. R. 36 Mad. 482

17 ——— Statute of, if affects procedure only—Amending statute when affects rights—Effect on causes of action previously accrued—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 181 Sch. III Art 3—Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy Amendment Act (P R and Assam I of 1908), s 61 cl (3)—Under res jud, if possessed by land lord before amending Act, suit to recover brought after—Limitation—Statute, construction of—Presumption against retrospective operation where amendment of procedure affects rights—Postponement of operation of statute, effect of—Procedure, statutes of retrospective operation of—The presumption against a retrospective construction of a statute has no application to enactments which affect only the practice and procedure of Courts even where the alteration which the statute makes has been disadvantageous to one of the parties. PER MOUKHJEE J agreeing with N R CHATTERJEE J (GARNHUR, J contra)—The statement that a statute of limitation embodies merely a rule of procedure is only generally and not universally true. Where if a statute of limitation is taken to effect pre-existing causes of action the effect is to absolutely bar all suits where the cause of action had accrued more than the limited time before the statute was passed; the statute ceases to be one of mere procedure and operates to the destruction of existing and enforceable rights. In such cases the presumption against a retrospective construction of the statute by courts applicable unless the coming into operation of the statute has been postponed so as to allow reasonable time for enforcement of existing causes of action. No suit has a vested interest in the course of procedure or a right to complain, if during the litigation the procedure is changed provided no injustice is done. S. 61, cl (3) of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy Amendment Act of 1908 which provides a two years period of limitation for suits by raiyats and under raiyats for recovery of possession (when dispossessed by or through the agency of the landlord) has no retrospective operation on suits by under raiyats or non-occupancy raiyats in which the cause of action arose before the passing of the Act. MAKHOORI BIR v. AKEL MAHMOED (1913)

17 C. W. N 839

18. ——— Hereditary office—Hereditary office—Limit on Act (IX of 1906) Arts 121 and 140. In 1310 the sebai of a Hindu temple instituted a suit for a declaration that he was entitled to a 3 annas 6 pies share in the daily surplus offerings to the idol, that share being attached to the office. The defendant had been in possession of the share since 1892 having bought upon its sale in execution of a decree obtained by him against the widow of a former sebai. She died in 1900. The defendant was proclaimed by his suit from holding the office of sebai. Held, that the suit was not to recover an hereditary office, within the meaning of the Limitation Act, 1908, Sch. I Art 194, and that it was not barred since a fresh actionable wrong arose upon each occasion when the defendant received the share in question. JALANDBAR THAKUR v JHARULA DAS (1914)

L. L. R. 41 L. A. 267

LIMITATION—contd

19. ——— "Dispossession"—Possession—recovery of suit for—Dispossession of auction-purchaser of tenant's right by a subsequent auction-purchaser—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), Sch III, Art 3. By the word "dispossession" in Art. 3 of Sch. III of the Bengal Tenancy Act is meant dispossession by the landlord as landlord. REDBA NARAIN MAITI v. NATORAN JAYA (1913)

L. L. R. 41 Calc. 52

13(a) ——— Mortgage—Certain immovable property was mortgaged on 21st May 1887 to the appellants and on 19th September 1887 by the same Mortgagee to the Respondents (the money being repayable on 18th November 1888) and again on 19th July 1889 to the appellants. On 8th October 1890 appellants in a suit in which the Respondents the high made parties did not appear obtained a decree on their mortgage of 21st May 1887 in execution of which the mortgage property was sold and after satisfying the decree the sale proceeds fell into Court. On 14th July 1891 appellants obtained a decree on their mortgage of 19th July 1889 in a suit in which they did not make the Respondents parties and without notice to them drew the money out of Court in execution. Respondents brought a suit in November 1909 against appellants for surplus sale-proceeds and it was contended that the suit was one for money governed by Art 129 of Sch. II of Limitation Act 1877 and barred because not brought within 6 years from 18th November 1888. Held (affirming High Court), that the suit was one "to enforce payment of money charged upon a 'reversible property'" within the meaning of Art 139 and that a 29 of Civil Procedure Code 1892 was not applicable. BARTAMORE PHADAT TARA CHAND

L. L. R. 41 Calc. 654

20 ——— Suit, right of, how far affected by amending Act—Vested right—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885 as amended by Bengal Act I of 1907) s 184 and Sch. III Art 3. Where the application of the provisions of an amending Act makes it impossible to exercise a vested right of suit the Act should be construed as not being applicable to such cases. Though procedure may be regulated by an Act for the time being in force still the intent on to take away a vested right without compensation or any saving is not to be imputed to the Legislature in any case unless it be expressed in unequivocal terms. Commissioner of Public Works (Cape Colony) v Logan, (1903) A C 355 and Colonial Sugar Refining Co. v Irving, (1906) A C 369 followed. A right of suit is a vested right. Jackson v Woolley 8 Bl & Bl 784 referred to. The decision of the majority in Mayhew v Bibb v Akel Mahmood, 17 C W N 49 has not been affected by the judgment of the Privy Council in Soni Ram v Kankhaya Lal I I R 35 All 227 L R 40 I A 74 in cases where the effect of the application of the amended law would be to confiscate a vested right. GOPESWAR PAL v JIBAN CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY (1914)

L. L. R. 41 Calc. 1125

21 ——— Exclusion of time—Excuse of delay—Time taken up in proceedings before a conciliator—Non-granting of certificate owing to Government ending the conciliation system. The plaintiff advanced money on a bond which became due on the 31st May 1910. He applied to the conciliator for a certificate on the 28th March 1913, but before the certificate could be had Government abolished the conciliation system with effect from the 30th May 1913. The plaintiff filed a suit to recover the money on the 30th June 1913: and he claimed to exclude from the period of limitation the time between the 23rd March and 30th May 1913: Held that though the plaintiff was not entitled to do so, he was entitled to such extension of time as might be necessary to give him a reasonable opportunity to enable him to file the suit in time. SATTANANATH v GOVERNMENT (1914) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 653

LIMITATION—contd.

22. — *Limitation Act (1 of 1908), s. 4—Exclusion of time—Certificate of conciliator—Time taken up in obtaining conciliator's certificate—Intention by Government of the conciliation system—Closing of the Court during vacation—Suit filed on the opening day is not filed in time—Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879), s. 43. The plaintiff advanced money on two bonds which became due on the 24th February 1910. He applied for a conciliator's certificate on the 13th February 1913 and obtained it on the 26th April 1913. From the 23rd April to the 8th June 1913 the Court was closed for the Summer Vacation. In the meanwhile Government abolished the conciliation system with effect from the 30th May 1913. The plaintiff filed the present suit to recover the money on the 9th June 1913 and claimed to exclude the time taken up in the conciliation proceedings: Held, that the suit, though filed on the 9th June 1913 when the conciliation system was abolished, was substantially one to which the provisions of Ch VI of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act were applicable throughout the period of limitation which expired during the vacation, and the plaintiff was, therefore, entitled to deduct the period between his application and the grant of the certificate. Held also, that assuming that s. 43 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act did not apply, as the plaintiff's suit would be strictly in time up to a certain date during the vacation, on which day he could not file it as the Court was closed, he could file it on the re-opening of the Court under s. 4 of the Limitation Act. Held, further, that when the law had created a limitation, and the party had been disabled from conforming to that limitation without any default in him and he had no remedy over, the law would ordinarily excuse him. RUPCHAND MAKUDRAS v MAKUDRAS MANADAV (1914) I. L. R. 33 Bom. 658*

23. — Application out of time, entertained by Court—Without adjudication of question of limitation—Reason by High Court. Where the Court entertained an application which on the face of it was time-barred without a adjudication of the question of limitation it acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction, and the High Court could in such a case interfere in revision, though it might not do so if the Court had considered the question of limitation and decided it erroneously. TARA SANKAR GHOSH v BASIRUDDIN (1915) 19 C. W. N. 970

24. — Admission in a previous suit of liability for a debt—Debt barred at the date of admission—No estoppel from pleading, in a subsequent suit—Plea of limitation, agreement against or waiver of—Estoppel against an act of the legislature—Difference between the English and the Indian law—Limitation Act (Act IX of 1908), s. 3, arts. 74, 75, 82 and 120—Instalment bond—Default in payment of instalments, meaning of—Tender by debtor—Refusal of acceptance by creditor, no default—Waiver. The plaintiff released his interest in a certain business in favour of the defendants for a consideration of Rs. 30,000, for which the defendants executed to the plaintiff on the same date (12th December 1904) a promissory note payable by monthly instalments of Rs. 1,000, the whole sum being recoverable in the event of three successive defaults. After sixteen instalments were paid, the plaintiff refused to receive further instalments tendered by the defendants but brought a suit in August 1903 to set aside the release deed on the ground that it had been obtained by fraud. The suit was dismissed, and, on appeal, this dismissal was confirmed on 19th January 1910. In the Appellate Court an oral application was made on behalf of the plaintiff that a decree might be passed in that suit for the amount of the balance of the instalments. The defendants stated in the Court of Appeal that they were always ready and willing to pay the amount but pleaded that no decree would be passed in that suit for the amount and the Appellate Court refused to pass a decree for the same. The plaintiff then made a demand on the defendants on 23rd January 1910 for the balance of the instalments due on the promissory note and on refusal by the defendants brought the present suit. The defendants pleaded the bar of limitation. The Trial Judge held that the defendants who had admitted their liability for the amount in releasing the plaintiff's application in the previous suit were estopped (though not under s. 115 of the Indian Evidence Act) on general principles of law and equity from pleading that the suit for the amount of the instalments was barred by limitation. The defendants appealed. Held (on appeal) that the defendants were not estopped from pleading that the suit was barred by limitation. Rangappa Appa Rao v Varaswami Appa Rao, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 416, Khetra Mohan Chatterjee v Mohan Chandra Das 17 C. W. N. 518, referred to. Sankarala Vacker v Varada Chariar, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 55, and Ba v Vaid Ram Gopal v Hem Chander Bose, 10 C. W. N. 959, distinguished. Mohammad Zahoor Ali Khan v Mussammat Thalooran Raita Koer, 11 Mo. I. 468, explained. There can be no estoppel against an act of the legislature. Jagadishu Saha v Radhakrishna Pal I. L. R. 35 Cal. 929 and Abdul Aziz v. Kashin Vaidik, I. L. R. 38 Cal. 512, referred to. Under the Indian law parties cannot waive or contract themselves out of the law of limitation. Art. 75 of the second schedule of the Limitation Act (Act IX of 1908) is not applicable to the case because there was no default within the meaning of the article on the part of the defendants in the payment of the instalments but there was only a refusal on the part of the plaintiff to receive the instalments tendered by the defendants. Art. 74 of the Limitation Act, and not art. 120 was applicable to the case and accordingly the suit as to nine out of the fourteen instalments was barred by limitation. Difference between the English and the Indian law as to the plea of limitation pointed out. Per WHITE C. J.—Assuming there was default, the plaintiff waived the benefit of the provision when he repudiated

LIMITATION—contd.

LIMITATION—contd.

the agreement which gave him the benefit of the Provision. SITARAMA v. KRISHNASWAMI (1913)

I L R. 38 Mad. 374

25 ——— Hereditary office of shebat — Successor of shebat when bound by decree against predecessor—Decree holder and purchaser of sole interest on who by reason of law could not be competent to hold office of shebat—Adverse appropriation of temple income by trespasser incompetent to be shebat—Wrongful possession of consulting wrongful holder shebat—Res judicata. This was an appeal from the decision of the High Court in the case of Jharala Das v. Jalandhar Thakur I L R. 39 Cal. 567 in which the widow of the shebat of a temple (the shebats of which were Brahmans Pandas) who succeeded her deceased husband in that office mortgaged land together with her interest in the income of the temple to the defendant (who was not a Brahmin). The defendant obtained a decree on his mortgage on 24th September 1880 in execution of which he put up for sale the share of the temple income purchased by himself and got delivery of possession in 1892. The widow died in May 1900. In a suit brought on 28th January 1910 for the land and income profits, and for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to receive the share of the temple income as it was malenable the defence was that the suit so far as it related to the temple income was barred as being res judicata, and by limitation. Held by the Judicial Committee (reversing the decision of the High Court) that Art. 124 of the Limitation Act was not applicable. The suit was not one for an hereditary office which could not be held by a person who was not a Brahmin and the defendant was therefore not competent to hold the office of shebat and had not taken possession of it. By adversely taking and appropriating to his own use a share of the surplus daily income from the offerings, the defendant acquired title and no right to a share of that income. On each occasion on which he received and wrongfully appropriated to his own use a share of the income to which the shebat was entitled the defendant committed a fresh actionable wrong in respect of which a suit could be brought against him by the shebat, but it did not constitute him the shebat for the time being, or affect in any way the title to the office. Held also that the defence (which had been upheld by the High Court) that the suit was barred as res judicata by the decision in a former suit brought by the widow to set aside the sale of the temple income, was not maintainable. JALANDHAR THAKUR v. JHARALA DAS (1914)

I L R. 42 Cal. 244

26 ——— Mortgage suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXIV, rr 3 and 6—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I, Art. 131—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 99—Personal covenant. The plaintiff in a mortgage suit, who has his personal remedy at the date of the institution of the suit would not lose his personal right by reason of his not having made the application for personal decree under O XXIV, r 6 within three years of the date of the confirmation of the mortgage sale since applications under O XXIV, r 6, are not governed by Art. 131 of the Limitation Act any more than an application for order absolute under O XXIV, r 3. Rafmat Aram v. Abdul Karim, I L R. 34 Cal. 612, and

LIMITATION—contd.

Maddabenus Dora v. Pandita Lambert 12 C L J 378, referred to BISWAMENAR SUDHA v. PANDU SUNDAR KANDANTA (1914) I L R. 42 Cal. 294

27 ——— Suits under special Acts—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 16 (2) applicability of—Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) s 59 suits under s 15 cl (2) of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which excludes from the computation of the period of limitation the time occupied by the notice legally necessary to be issued before instituting criminal actions is applicable to suits brought under s 59 of the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864). Vealela v. Cienegodo I L R. 12 Mad. 168 and Isvara Lal v. Karapann, 3 Mad. L J 255 followed. Abu Baker Sahib v. Secretary of State for India, I L R. 34 Mad. 590 distinguished. The question whether the general provisions of the Limitation Act should be applied to cases where a special period of limitation is prescribed by a special or local Act depends on whether the provisions of such Act should be regarded as enacting a complete body of provisions with regard to limitation of suits coming within the purview of the Act. In other words the question is whether the special or local Act should be construed as excluding the applicability of the general provisions of the Limitation Act. BRISIVASA AYYANGAR v. SECRETARY OF STATE (1912)

I L R. 38 Mad. 62

28 ——— Madras Estates Land Act—(I of 1908) ss 210, 211 cl (2) Art. 8 of Sch I Art A—Suit for rent under registered agreement, more than three years but less than six years of the Act coming into force—Statutes—Constructive—Retrospective operation on when—Limitation Act (IX of 1877) Art. 116 applicability of suits for rent in a Revenue Court. A suit to enforce an immanus right to rent under a registered agreement which accrued due more than three years but less than six years before the Estates Land Act came into force is not barred by the Limitation of three years enacted by its provisions but is governed by Art. 116 of the Limitation Act. Ss. 210 and Art. 8 of Part A to the schedule of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) have no application to cases where the period of three years thereby provided had expired before the 1st July 1908 when the Act came into force and where to apply them would be to deprive the plaintiff of a right of action which was then vested in him. The rule regarding vested rights is not confined to substantive rights but extends equally to remedial rights or rights of action not being rights of appeal. Retrospective operation of statutes considered. Colonial Sugar Refining Company v. Irving (1906) A C 369 applied. RAMAKRISHNA CHAITTY v. SUBBARAYA IYER (1912) I L R. 38 Mad. 151

29 ——— Preliminary Mortgage-decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I, Art. 130 133—Application for sale of mortgaged property under decree—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 85 to 89—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXIV, r 4 s. In this case their Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed the decision of the High Court in Amlook Chand Purkait v. Surat Chander Mulwary, I L R. 38 Cal. 913 that an application for an order absolute for sale under a mortgage decree is an application to enforce a judgment or decree within the meaning of Art 183 of Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), and is therefore barred if not made within the period prescribed by that Article. MUNNA LAL PARRACK v SABAT CHUNDER MUKERJI (1914) . . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 776

LIMITATION—contd

30. ———— Registration Act—(XVI of 1908), s. 77—Thirty days after passing of decree, under Constitution, for the purpose of that section—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XX, r 7 For the purposes of s 77 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) the period of thirty days within which a document has to be presented for registration after the passing of a decree of Court directing its registration, is to be reckoned not from the date the decree bears but from the time it was actually drawn up and signed by the Judge. Per CURRIAM. It is desirable that in decrees of this nature the Judge should put the date on which they are signed by him under O XX, r 7, Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) MUTHIA CHETTI v SUFFAN SENAVAL (1913) . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 291

31. ———— Court of Wards—Competency of, to acknowledge debt—Effect of acknowledgment of pre-existing debt by the Court as regards limitation—Court of Wards Act (Beng IX of 1879), s 18—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 19 The Court of Wards Act, 1879, does not contain any express power authorizing the Court to execute promissory notes. But there can be no doubt on the authorities that the Court has power to give an acknowledgment so as to give a new period of limitation under a 19 of the Limitation Act. Bets Maharani v Collector of Etawah, I L. R. 17 All 193, Kam Charan Das v Gaya Prasad, I L. R. 30 All 422, and Kondamolala Linga Reddi v Alluri Saravayudu, I L. R. 34 Mad 221, applied. RASHBERRY LAL MANDAR v ANAND KAM (1915) . . . I. L. R. 43 Calc 211

32. ———— Executor—Accrual of right to sue—Testator domiciled abroad—Probate—Capable of instituting suit?—Devolution of interest—Substitution of plaintiff—Straits Settlements Ordinance No 6 of 1896, ss 17, 22—Straits Settlements Ordinance No 31 of 1907, ss 233, 196 Straits Settlements Ordinance No 6 of 1896(1), which deals with the limitation of suits, provides as follows—s. 17, subs (1) 'When a person who would, if he were living, have a right to institute a suit or make an application, dies before the right accrues, the period of limitation shall be computed from the time when there is a legal representative of the deceased capable of instituting or making such suit or application' s. 22 'When, after the institution of a suit a new plaintiff or defendant is substituted or added the suit shall as regards him be deemed to have been instituted when he was so made a party' Held, (i) that the executor of a will capable of probate in the Straits Settlements is a legal representative capable of instituting a suit, within the meaning of s. 17, subs (1), from the date of the testator's death and not only from the date when he obtains probate. Quere as to an executor who renounces probate (ii) that, according to the English practice (which is made applicable in the Straits Settlements in the absence of any other provision), the will of a testator domiciled in British India, or elsewhere outside the Straits Settlements, although not proved in the place of the testator's domicile, is capable of probate in the Straits Settlements if (a) it is valid according to the law of the testator's place of domicile, and (b) if there are assets of the testator in the Straits Settlements, (iii) that s. 22 contemplates cases in which a suit is defective by reason of the right persons not having been made parties, but not cases in which the suit was originally properly constituted but has become defective owing to a devolution of interest, in the latter circumstances a carrying on order should be made under s. 169 of the Civil Procedure Ordinance No. 31 of 1907 MEYATTA CHETTY v SUPRAMANIAN CHETTY . . . I. R. 43 I. A. 113

LIMITATION—contd

20 C. W. N. 833

33. ———— Suspension of cause of action—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s 14—In this appeal the Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed, on the question of limitation, the decision of the High Court in the case of Lalkhan Chandra Sen v Madhusudan Sen, which is reported in I L R 35 Calc 269 NRITANONI DAS v LAKHAY CHANDRA SEN (1916)
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 660

34. ———— 'Valuable Consideration' and 'Transfer'—If grant of permanent lease is—Sut to recover possession of property from lessee, if maintainable without making mortgagee of same property, party—Limitation Acts, (XV of 1877) s 10, Sch II, Art. 134, and (IX of 1908), ss 10, 30, Sch I, Art. 134 In a suit by a shebait to recover possession of debutter property vested in the shebait in trust for the deity, which had been transferred more than 12 years before the institution of the suit by the plaintiff's predecessor-in-title, who had granted a patta lease of the property for consideration of a considerable fixed annual rent, but without receipt of any bonus—Held, that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 134 of Sch I of Act IX of 1908 Abhiram Gowami v Shyma Charan Nanda, I L. R. 36 Calc 1003, I L. R. 36 I. A. 148 Ishkar Shyam Chand Jiu v Ram Kanai Ghoer, I L. R. 38 Calc 526 I L. R. 38 I. A. 76, and Danodhar Das v Lalkhan Das, I L. R. 37 Calc 885, I L. R. 37 I. A. 147, distinguished. Held, further, that the grant of the permanent lease in this case was a transfer for valuable consideration Currie v Misa, I L. R. 10 Exch 153, followed. Held, also, that no period of limitation was prescribed for a suit of the present nature under the Act of 1877, and therefore s. 30 of the Act of 1908 has no application in this case. Where in this case the plaintiff had granted a valid usufructuary mortgage of the property in suit to a third person for a term which did not expire before the institution of the suit, it is not open to him to determine the lease to the defendants, the benefit of which had been expressly assigned by the plaintiff to the mortgagee RAMESWAR MALIA v SRI SRI JIU THAKUR (1915)
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 24

35. ———— Adverse possession—Claim by person to lands notified by Government as reserved forest lands under Madras Forest Act (Madras Act V of 1882)—Onus of proof—Islands formed in bed of sea at mouth of tidal navigable river—Right of the Crown to such Islands—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Arts 144 and 145—Right of appeal to High Court from decision of District Court under Madras Forest Act—Right under general provisions as to appeals in Civil Procedure Code. In this appeal the question for deter- question was whether the Secretary of State in Council (an, plant) was entitled to incorporate the lands in dispute into a reserved forest under the Madras Forest Act (Madras Act V of 1852), such lands being islands formed in the bed of the sea near the mouth or delta of the river Godavari, a tidal navigable river, and within 2 miles of the mainland. Held, that such islands were the property of the Crown which was not bounded in its dominion of the bed of the sea by the rise or fall of the tide. The Crown is the owner, and the owner in property of islands arising in the sea within the territorial limits of the Indian Empire. The cause of establishing title to property by reason of possession for a certain requisite period lies on the person asserting such possession. Objectors to aforesaid preferring claims under the Forest Act against the Secretary of State for India are in the same position as persons bringing a suit in an ordinary Court for a declaration of right to which Art 144 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877, is applicable, the period of twelve years however being extended to sixty years by Art 149, and the cause of establishing possession for the required period is upon the claimants. Radha Gobind Roy v. English, T. O. L. R. 366, followed. Secretary of State for India v. Feroz Noyan, I. L. R. 9 Mad. 175, distinguished. In this case held (reversing the decision of the High Court), that on the evidence the claimants had not proved adverse possession for a period sufficient to establish a right against the Crown. Though an appeal from the District Judge to the High Court is not provided for in the Madras Forest Act in a claim to lands which have been notified as reserved forest lands under the Act such an appeal will lie under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. Where in such proceedings the District Court is reached, that Court is appealed to as one of the ordinary Courts of the country with regard to whose procedure, orders and decrees the rules of the Civil Procedure Code are applicable. In such a case the ordinary incidents of litigation could only be excluded by specific provisions to that effect. Kannur v. Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 11 Mad. 309, approved. Angoon Stationing Company v. Collector of Kangan, I. L. R. 10 Cal. 21, L. R. 22 I. A. 127, distinguished. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. CHAKRABARTI RINA RAO (1915). I. L. R. 23 Mad. 617

LIMITATION—contd

28. ———— Suit for contribution—Discrepancy between—Exonerations of defendants by the decree on the ground of limitation—Plaintiff paying the whole debt—Cause of action for contribution only after payment. The plaintiff and the defendant having each borrowed a certain sum of money from a stranger executed a joint promissory note in 1903 for the total amount in favour of the stranger. After receiving some amounts from both the promisors, the promisor sued them both in 1911 but the decree was for the balance due, only against the present plaintiff, the present defendant being exonerated on the plea of limitation. After paying the decree amount in March 1912 the plaintiff immediately sued the defendant for contribution held, (i) that the right to sue for contribution arises on plaintiff's payment, (ii) that the defendant was liable to contribute in spite of the fact that he was exonerated under the previous decree on the ground of limitation, and (iii) that the suit was not barred by limitation, the cause of action having arisen only on the date of plaintiff's payment. See v. Brookes, 2 Ir. R. 6, and Radhakrishnan v. Girdhik, [1923] 2 Ch. 514, followed. The liability to contribute is based on an equity arising at the co-debtor's payment and it has no reference to the original liability to the common promisor. The other decision in page 311, Subramanyam v. Gopala Aiyar, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 368, not followed. ABRAHAM BERVAT v. RAPHAEL MONTAGNA (1915). I. L. R. 29 Mad. 553

LIMITATION—contd

27. ———— Appeal—admitting when time barred—Judicial Discretion—thorough approach for review—Stilled Rule of Procedure—abatement of suit—Ex parte order—substitution of Party to Interlocutory Appeal—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 5—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1907), ss. 366, 368, 371. The judicial discretion given by s. 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, to admit an appeal after the prescribed period of limitation should be exercised if the appeal has been prosecuted with due diligence; the time occupied by an application in good faith for review, although made upon a mistaken view of the law, should be deemed as added to the period allowed for presenting the appeal. The above rule being one of procedure laid down by full Bench decisions in India, and acted on for many years, their Lordships will not interfere with it. When in the exercise of a judicial discretion a judge fails to apply a rule laid down for its exercise, the Appellate Court should either remit the case, or itself exercise the discretion. The remedy by revision given by s. 371 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1902, when a suit has been ordered to abate, applies whether the abatement has been ordered under a 366, consequent upon the death of the plaintiff, or under a 368, consequent upon the death of the defendant. An order for abatement should not be made ex parte and without notice to the plaintiff. The substitution of a new plaintiff or defendant for one stage of a suit, for instance upon an appeal as to an interlocutory order, is effective for all future stages of the suit. Pratt Isaac Syon v. Habib Khan (1917). I. L. R. 45 Cal. 94 [L. R. 44 I. A. 218]

28. ———— Suit for Royalties—Due under a registered lease of land with the right to dig coal—Point not allowed to be taken which was not raised in the lower Court nor in grounds of appeal to High Court or Privy Council—Form of decree where a party has refused to join as a plaintiff and has been made a defendant—Power to alter decree without an appeal. To a suit for royalties due under a registered lease of certain land with the right to dig coal Art 116 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877, "for compensation for breach of a contract in writing executed" and providing a six years' period of limitation, and not Art 110 for "a sum for arrears of rent," and giving only three years, was held to be applicable. There is a long established distinction in the Limitation Acts in favour of registered instruments and a long course of decisions in the Indian Courts in support of this interpretation of the Acts. See Baran v. Ramji Singh, I. L. R. 26 All. 124, distinguished. A point as to the royalty for one bit was in any case barred the amount of the decree should be reduced was held not to be open to the appellant to take, it not having been raised in either of the lower Courts, nor in the grounds of either the appeal to the High Court, or that to the Privy Council. One of the parties on refusing to join as a plaintiff was made the second defendant and included in his defence a claim for a decree against his co-defendant which the first Court gave him separately from the decree in favour of the plaintiffs. The High Court on appeal altered the form of the decree by giving a decree for the entire amount in favour of the plaintiffs, and declaring that for a named portion it was for their share, and as to the residue it was for the share of the second defendant. The second defendant did not appeal, but the principal defendant by his appeal brought the entire decree before the High Court, disputing it in toto. Held, that in the absence of any provision in the Civil Procedure Code or in any other enactment which showed clearly that the High Court had no power to make the decree it had passed, and the whole decree being before it, the High Court had jurisdiction to make the decree which should have been made by the first Court. TRICONDAS COOVERJI BHOJA v. GOPINATH JIU THAKUR (1916) . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 759

LIMITATION—contd.

39. ——— Suit to recover Land diluviated and re-formed in situ—Dispossession—Adverse possession—Continuation of possession of land while diluviated—Definition s 3 of Limitation Act—Continuous possession of successive owners when it cannot be combined. The appellants sued to recover khas possession of a 10 anna share with mesne profits in portions of certain mauzas which after being diluviated had reformed in situ. The question was whether the land in suit belonged to the plaintiffs' mahal, or to the principal respondents' (defendants') mahal. The suit was brought on 6th September 1904. The Subordinate Judge found in favour of the plaintiffs' title and that the suit was not barred by limitation. It was common ground that the period of limitation applicable was twelve years, the main contest being as to whether Art 142 of Sch II of the Limitation Act, 1877, was applicable, or Art 144. The High Court decided the case on limitation alone holding that the suit was barred by Art 142. Held, by the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the first Court both on title and limitation), that there had not been down to September 1892 any dispossession of the plaintiffs within the meaning of Art 142. An owner of land does not discontinue his possession of it whilst it is diluviated. Constructively it continues until he is dispossessed, and upon the cessation of the dispossession before the statutory period of limitation has elapsed, constructively it survives. Leigh v Jack, L. R. 5 Exch D 264, per Cotton, L. J. followed. It seemed to follow that there can be no continuance of adverse possession when the land is not capable of use and enjoyment, so long as such adverse possession must rest on de facto use and occupation. Secretary of State for India v Arushaunoni Gupta, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 513, L. R. 29 I. A. 104, approved. In the present case beyond temporary whanda cultivation there was nothing down to 1892 to show an exclusion of the plaintiffs by the Revenue authorities, whether the land cultivated was the same each year or not does not appear at any rate it was annually submerged, and there were no circumstances to link together various portions of ground

LIMITATION—contd.

so as to make the possession of a part, as it emerged, amount constructively to the possession of the whole. Mohani Mohan Poy v Promoda Nath Roy, 1 L. R. 24 Calc 256, referred to. No dispossession having occurred (except possibly within twelve years of the commencement of the suit) Art 144 and not Art 142 was the article applicable. Whether or not in the circumstances of the case conduct which was insufficient to evidence dispossession can be used to evidence adverse possession available to the defendants, they failed on the ground that the period of time necessary to bring them under the protection of Art. 144 could not be made out unless to the period during which they were in possession there was added, out of the prior period when it is contended the Revenue authorities had possession, a number of years going back to 1892, and that could not be done in this case for the reason shown in the definition s 3, that the defendants did not derive their liability to be sued "from or through" the Revenue authorities in any sense of the words. They had in fact advanced a claim adverse to those authorities and had succeeded in it. BASANTA KUMAR ROY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917) . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 858

40. ——— Payments towards debt—Court, if it can find out whether it is for principal or interest—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 20. Where payments are made towards a debt, but there is nothing to show whether they had been made in respect of principal or interest, the Court is entitled to find out on the evidence for what purpose the payments were made. HEM CHANDRA BISWAS v PURNA CHANDRA MUKHERJI (1916) . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 567

41. ——— Attachment in execution—Claim proceeding—Claim rejected for default at without investigation—Subsequent title suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch I, Art 11—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s XXI, rr 58 and 63. Where a claim is preferred under O XXI, r 58 of the Civil Procedure Code and an order is passed either allowing or rejecting, the party against whom the order is made, may, irrespective of whether any investigation took place or not, bring a suit in the language of O XXI, r 63, "to establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute" or in the language of Art. 11 of Sch I of the Limitation Act, 1908, "to establish the right which he claims to the property comprised in the order," and the suit must be brought within the year allowed by Art 11. Sardhari Lal v Ambika Pershad, 1 L. R. 15 Calc 321, L. R. 15 I. A. 123, Jugul Kishore Marwari v Ambika Dasi, 15 C. W. N. 652, and Umacharan Chatterjee v. Heron Noyes Dasi, 15 C. W. N. 770, referred to. Narasimha Chetti v. Vijayalaya Nair, 27 Ind Cas 244, and Ponnusami Pillai v. Samu Ammal, 31 Mad. L. J. 247, approved. CHANDRA LAL CHOWDHURY v. FANI BHAUSA DAS (1918) . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 725

42. ——— Bengal Tenancy Act, 1855—s 104H, 111A—Scope of a 104H—Limitation governing suits under s 104H—Reliefs outside s 104H but within proviso to s. 111A. S. 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act only refers to suits by a person aggrieved by an entry of rent settled in a Settlement Rent Roll prepared under s. 104F to 104H or by an omission to settle such a rent.

LIMITATION

and suits falling under that section are governed by the special limitation provided in that section. Where relief claimed is outside the scope of the said limitation, the provisions of Art. 113A, of the Limitation Act, 1908, apply. It is that provided by Art. 113 of the said Act is applicable to the Limitation Act, 1908. See Prasad v. Anand, 1950 C.L.J. 1001. RAJANI KANTA MUKHERJEE
SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)
I L R. 45 Cal 645

43. ———— Admission of appeal—Period of limitation expired without notice to respondent—Power of Court to grant reconsideration of order admitting it at instance of respondent—Practice of Courts in India—Specimen by Privy Council that such practice should be altered by the Indian Courts with the view of securing final determination of any question of limitation at time of admission of appeal—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) as amended—The admission of an appeal after the period of limitation has expired deprives the respondent of a valuable right by putting in peril the finality of the order in his favour. When an order admitting an appeal has been made in the absence of the respondent, and with notice to him, to proscribe him from questioning its propriety would amount to a denial of justice. Such an order so made, should therefore be treated as open to reconsideration at the instance of the respondent. This view is sanctioned by the practice of the Courts in India. Held, also, that the Court was not exceeding its jurisdiction in permitting the question of limitation to be re-opened when the appeal came before it for hearing and under the circumstances it had power to reconsider the sufficiency of the cause shown for the delay. That practice was not peculiar to Madras, but prevailed in other Courts in India. Such a practice, however, was in their Lordships' opinion open to grave objection and it was urgently expedient that in place of such a practice, a procedure should be adopted by Courts in India which would secure, at the stage of the admission of an appeal, the final determination (after due notice to all parties) of any question of limitation affecting the competence of the appeal. KALSHANRAO PARIKHAR v. RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR (1917)
I L R. 41 Mad. 412

44. ———— Execution of money-decree—Part payment—Uncertified payment or adjustment—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O. XXI, r. 2, sub r. (3) Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 21, Sch. I, Art. 182 Where a decree for money was made on the 24th November 1909 and an application for execution of the same was presented on the 7th June 1918 and where two payments were alleged to have been made in 1912 and 1913, respectively, neither of which was certified to the Court. Held, that the application was prima facie barred by limitation under Art. 182 of the Limitation Act. Held, also, that an uncertified payment or adjustment could not operate to prolong the period of limitation for an application for the execution of a decree under the Limitation Act. Held further that under the Hindu Law, in the absence of the father, the mother was entitled to be the guardian of her infant sons in preference to their brother and was the "lawful guardian" under s. 21 of the Limitation Act. Jogendra Nath Sarkar v. Ipratish Nath Chatterjee, 1908 L. J. 126. Kulabala Sarkar v. Durga Charan Rudra 13 I C

LIMITATION

423, Thappa Lal v. Chela Lal, 1917 I J 575, and Mahabon v. Chanchal Lal (1917) 8 D. A. 372, 11 N. D. HIGGINSON MINERJEE & ANIRIA CHARRAN LAL CHARRAN (1917)
I L R. 45 Cal 630

45. ———— Application for execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, r. 18 and 19 of (2) Application in accordance with law—Proviso to (2) of the said provision under O. XXI r. 18 is to be construed to be governed with an execution being of supply money (1) of property (2) to be taken in part (3) the original application under the provisions of O. XXI r. 17 (2)—Fresh application for execution of a decree—Such application is to be treated as made in continuation of the original application for execution—A decree was passed on the 28th November 1911 and on the 2nd November 1914 an application for execution was made in which, on the face of it, was in accordance with law. Subsequently on the 16th January 1915 the decree-holder made an application to the Court for a certificate of a further list of properties with a prayer that the execution should proceed by attachment and sale of those properties and the lower Appellate Court allowed the prayer and held that the application for execution having been admitted and registered the proposed amendment could not be accepted and the decree-holder was to make a fresh application in execution. Held, that the supplementary list should be taken as part of the original application under the provisions of O. XXI r. 17 (2), or if a fresh application were at all necessary then the subsequent application furnishing a supplementary list of properties should be treated as one made in continuation of the application first presented on the 23rd November 1914 that in this view no question of limitation arose and that the decree-holder would be at liberty to proceed in execution as on his application dated 23rd November 1914. GHANENDRA KIMAR ROY CHOPDRI v. RISHINDRATMAH ROY CHOPDRI (1918)
22 C. W. N. 540

46. ———— Acknowledgment after attachment—Effect of as against auction purchaser—An acknowledgment by the judgment-debtor may save limitation against the auction purchaser, but such acknowledgment if made after the attachment cannot prevail against the auction purchaser who is entitled to have the property purchased by him in the condition in which it was at the time of attachment. RAJESWAMI DAS v. BINODA SUNDARI DAS (1916)
22 C. W. N. 278

47. ———— Adverse possession—Hindu Widow—Public Assertion of Ownership—Concurrent Findings—Inference from Documents—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec. 11, Art. 146 Concurrent opinions of the Courts in India that the possession of properties by a Hindu widow was merely in lieu of maintenance and not adverse to the plaintiffs reversed on the ground that the question being one of inference from documents, not one of fact, a wrong conclusion had been arrived at. The widow of one of two joint Hindu brothers, after the death of the surviving brother and his widow, successfully applied for mutation of names in respect of property of which she was in possession, alleging that she was owner of it as heir to her husband's separate property, subsequently she put forward the same claim in written statements in suits she also made a gift of part of the property to religious uses. Held, that the abovementioned acts were public assertions by the widow of a right to exclusive possession and ownership, and made her possession adverse within Sch II, Art 144 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877. CHAUDHRI SATGUR PRASAD v KISHORE LAL (1919)

LIMITATION—contd

L. R. 48 I A 197

48. — Adverse possession—Gift—Unregistered Document—Evidence—Quasi—Subsequent Joint Ownership—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 123—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch I, Art 144 (i) A petition by which the petitioners recited that they had made a gift of two villages and prayed that the villages might be transferred into the name of the donees is admissible as evidence that the subsequent receipt of the rents by the donee was in the character of owner of the property so as to make her possession adverse to that of the petitioners, although by reason of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, s 123, and the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, s 91, the petition is not admissible to prove a gift. (ii) Where a person has had such possession of land as to amount to an ouster of the two owners, each being owner of a moiety, and before the expiration of the statutory period of limitation succeeds to one moiety upon the death of its owner, his possession continues to be adverse to the owner of the other moiety, although he has become jointly interested with that other Quasi whether the rule that the possession of one of several joint tenants or tenants in common is not adverse to the others applies to joint sharers in a village who are not members of a joint Hindu family. VABATHA PILLAI v JEEVABATHAMMAL (1918)

L. R. 48 I A 285

49. — Bengal Tenancy Act—s 104H, cl (2) suit under—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Parts II, III, ss 3 to 25, 29 (1) (b)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 89 A instituted a suit under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act against the Secretary of State for India in Council. The latter pleaded limitation. The Courts below overruled this plea on the ground that A was entitled under s 15, cl (2) of the Limitation Act to a deduction of two months in respect of notice which s. 80 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, required. Held, that the Bengal Tenancy Act being a Local Act, the saving clause in s 29 (b) of the Limitation Act applied, and s 15, cl (2) thereof did not extend the limitation period of six months provided under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Secretary of State for India v Gangadhar Nanda, I L R 45 Cal. 934, followed. Droopda v Ilra Lal, I L R 34 ILJ 495, distinguished. Held, also that the provisions of Part III of the Limitation Act did affect periods of limitation prescribed in the Act itself by s 3, which was the first and enacting section in Part III. Held, further, that the language of s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act was not ambiguous and in interpreting the words of a positive enactment such as this, any suggestion of hardship was out of place. SERAZ

LIMITATION—contd

TARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SHIN NARAY HAJRA (1918)

I L R. 46 Cal. 199

50. — Part-payments in satisfaction of Execution of decree—Within three years of date of decree—Application for execution within three years of such part payments if within time—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 182 (5) Application for execution of decree within three years of the date of part payments in satisfaction of the decree if the part payments were within three years of the date of the decree is within time within the meaning of Art. 182 (5) of the first schedule of the Limitation Act. Rahhal Das Maumdar v Jogendra Narain Maumdar, 10 C L J 467, Lakhs Narain Ganguli v Pelamam Das, 29 C L J 131, and Khalidunnissa Bibi v Sancho Lal Nakata, 20 C W N 279 referred to. JAT NARA KUMAR DAS v GAGAN CHANDRA PAL (1918)

I L R 48 Cal. 22

51. — Execution of Joint decree—Decree set aside against one of several joint debtors, if it gives a fresh starting point of limitation against others A joint ex parte decree against several judgment debtors if set aside against only one of them, without notice to others, will not give a fresh starting point of limitation against others. Kharayat v Daim, I L R 32 Cal. 298, L R 32 I A 23, Suresh Chander Wam Chowdhry v Jugul Chander Deb, I L R 14 Cal. 294, and Hanuman Prasad v Muhammad Isba, I L R 23 All 117, followed. Malluram v Narhari, I L R 25 Bom. 317, L R 27 I A 216, Kali Prasunno Basu Roy v Lal Mohan Guha Roy, I L R 25 Cal. 258, Amar Chandra Kundu v Anad Ali Khan, I L R 32 Cal. 908, Gopal Chander Manna v Gopin Das Kalay, I L R 25 Cal. 594, Abdul Khadir v Ahommed Shauwa Rasulkar, I L R 35 Mad. 670, Vydvansha Asyar v Subramana Patter, I L R 36 Mad 104 and Ashfaq Husain v Gauri Sahai, I L R 33 All 241, L R 33 I A 37 distinguished. UMRAK CHANDRA ROY v AKHUR CHANDRA SINGAR (1918)

I L R 48 Cal. 25

52. — Account suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art 7—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O VI r 17, O XXIII, r 1 leave under In a suit for the recovery of money alleged to be due on accounts between the parties, Art 78 of the Limitation Act has no application. Raman v Vasaram, I L R 7 Mad 392, distinguished. Where a plaintiff sought to recover a sum of money upon certain allegations which were found untrue by the Trial Court and on appeal the District Judge came to the same conclusion, but held that the plaintiff might be permitted to abandon his claim with liberty to institute a fresh suit under O XXIII, r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908; Held, that in such circumstances the order under r 1 of O XXIII should not have been made. Where in second appeal the plaintiff, respondent applied for leave to amend his plaint, the object being to abandon the claim deliberately put forward in the Trial Court and persistently reiterated in the Appeal Court below. Held, that such application could not be entertained. Koklasari v. Mohini Rudranand Gorwani, 15 C. L. J 327, referred to. PAIMA LOCHAN PATAR v GRISH CHANDRA KIT (1917)

I L R 46 Cal. 168

53. — Court of Wards—Limitation Act (1908), Sch. I, Arts 142, 144—Fate of decr-

LIMITATION—contd.

qualified proprietor under management of Court of Wards—Suit by proprietor to recover possession of property sold by Collector during Court of Wards management—Courts of Wards Act (Bengal IX of 1819)—Purchaser's possession became adverse when obtained—On 20th July the appellant was declared to be a disqualified proprietor, and her estate was taken charge of by the Court of Wards under Bengal Act IX of 1819. By a deed of transfer dated 12 June 1860 part of the estate was sold by the Collector as manager to the father and predecessor in title of the respondent, and the purchaser obtained possession on 20th April 1861. On 1st August 1911 the Court of Wards withdrew from the management of the estate. In a suit brought by the appellant on 12th May 1912 to recover possession of the portion sold—Held, that before the transfer and until the respondent acquired possession, the estate was in possession of the appellant notwithstanding it was in the charge of the Court of Wards. Limitation, therefore, ran against her not from the release of the estate from management by the Court of Wards, but from the date when the respondent obtained possession adversely to the appellant, and the suit consequently became barred after twelve years of such adverse possession. MANI SINGH MANDHATA v. NAWAB BAHADUR OF MURSHIDABAD (1918) I L R 46 Cal 694 L R 46 I A 60

54. ——— Mortgage—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sec 1, Art. 148—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 55, 100 *A B and C mortgaged a taluk in 1867 to X. Thereafter in 1890 Z purchased the taluk in execution of a decree against A and B, and subsequently in 1892, redeemed the mortgage of A and obtained possession of the same through Court. In 1893 Z obtained from the superior landlord a settlement of the whole taluk in his favour. In 1902 Z's sons granted a riyazt lease to G, and in 1907 sold the superior right to F. In 1907 K purchased the right of G which did not pass at the sale in execution, and in 1911 instituted a suit claiming the right to redeem F and recover possession of the lands. Held, that as the Transfer of Property Act drew a clear distinction between a charge and a mortgage and the suit having been brought more than twelve years after both from the date when the charge came into existence, and also when exclusive possession had been obtained by Z, the provisions of Art 148 of the Limitation Act did not apply, and the suit was barred by limitation. Varadar Bhatia v. Balaji Arishna, I L R 28 Bom. 509, followed. Ashfaq Ahmad v. Huzar Ali, I L R 18 All 1, Khalid Ham v. Tark Ram, I L R 33 All 640, discussed. PURNA CHANDRA PAL v. BARADA PROSAD BHATTACHARYA (1918) *I L R 46 Cal 111

55. ——— Pala or turn of worship—Whether movable or immovable property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 3, Sch. 1, Arts 120, 132 A pala or turn of worship is not an interest in immovable property and consequently governed by Art. 120 and not by Art 132 or the first schedule to the Limitation Act. Eshan Chunder Roy v. Monmohan Das, I L R 3 Cal 633, Jay Agr v. Mukunda Das, I L R 39 Cal 227, referred to. NARASINGHA BAX GOSWAMI v. PHULADHAN TAWARI (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 455

LIMITATION—contd.

56. ——— Premature rent—Suit, effect of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 14—Decree for rent obtained by ex-landlord, whether a money decree—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 65—Construction of solamnam decision on, whether a question of law Where the Court had refused to entertain a claim for rent because it was premature in a subsequent suit for the same, and rent the plaintiff could not rely upon the provisions of s. 14 of the Limitation Act and say that time did not run against him while those proceedings were being prosecuted. The decision in Forbes v. Maheswari Lalasw Singh, I L R 41 Cal 526, did not decide anything more than that by virtue of the provisions of s. 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act a person who had ceased to be the zemindar at the time he sued for rent could not enforce his decree in accordance with the provisions of s. 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. A decree obtained by a landlord against the tenants who had ceased to be tenants, cannot be called a decree for rent. A question of the construction of a solamnam must be of the legal effect of the terms and provisions of the solamnam and is a question of law. DWANNA YATH CHAKRAVARTI v. ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI (1919) I L R 46 Cal 670

57. ——— Money paid consideration which fails—Suit by purchaser at sale for arrears of rent of patta taluq which is subsequently set aside by darpatadar—Sale under Bengal Patta Taluq Regulation (VIII of 1819), s 14—Right of purchaser to indemnity—Duty of Court on reversal of sale to see if purchaser has sustained loss—Limitation Act, 1877, Sch. 1, Arts 62, 97 *The appellant on 14th September 1908 brought a suit against a zamindar to recover certain sums he had had to pay (inter alia the amount of arrears of rent due and paid by the Collector to the zamindar out of the purchase money) as purchaser of the patta taluq of a defaulting patta dar at a sale for arrears of rent under the Bengal Patta Taluq Regulation (VIII of 1819) the sale having been subsequently set aside in suits by the darpatadars, under s. 14 of the Regulation, to which the appellant was a party, by decrees of the District Judge on 24th August 1909 which were affirmed by the High Court on 3rd August 1906. No indemnity under s. 14 was given to the appellant in those suits. On August 28th 1908 the appellant gave up possession of the taluq to the darpatadar. The appellant's suit was throughout treated as governed by Art. 97 of Sch. 11 of the Limitation Act, 1877, is a suit for money paid on an existing consideration which afterwards fails and both Courts below had held that it was barred by that article as having been brought more than three years from 24th August 1909, the date of the decree of the District Court setting aside the sale, at which time it was found the consideration failed. The appellant contended that limitation only ran from the decree of the High Court of 3rd August 1906, or from 28th August 1906 when possession was given up, and the suit was therefore not barred. Held, that owing to the particular course the litigation had taken, and the way the suit had been treated here, the case ought to be dealt with on the assumption, made for the purpose of this present appeal alone, but without affirming its correctness that the present suit is competent, and that it comes within the terms of Art. 97, and that it is barred*

LIMITATION—contd.

by lapse of time. S 14 of the Regulation authorises a suit against the zamindar for the reversal of a sale under it, and provides that "the purchaser shall be made a party in such suit, and on decree passing for the reversal of the sale, the Court shall be careful to indemnify him against all loss at the charge of the zamindar or person at whose suit the sale may have been made." Held, the provision was unambiguous and imperative and imposes a duty on the Court without qualification. To discharge such duty a distinct issue should be framed as between the purchaser and the person chargeable under the section whether in case the sale is reversed the purchaser has suffered any and what loss against which he ought to be indemnified by that person. On that issue there ought to be a finding and a decision subject to such right of appeal as there might be. Whether, and if so how far, the remedy provided by s. 14 in a purchaser's favour excludes all other remedies was not decided Radha Madhub Samanta v Sastri Ram Sen, 1 L R 26 Cal. 828, and Brojo Kishore Rukhi v Bashi Mandal, 21 Suth W R 252, referred to. JUSCUN BOID v PIRICHAND LAL CHOUHURY (1918) L. R. 46 Cal. 670 L. R. 46 I. A. 52

58. — Timber Rights—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 116—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss 184, 193, Sch III, Part I, Art 3—Payment by authorised agent through messenger, but entry made by agent, if good under Limitation Act, s 20—"Punyaka" payment, if for arrears or for new year—Selling off of barred claims by Court, if legal—Interest pendente lite, Court's discretion as to. Under a registered document the plaintiff Bhawal Raj granted to the defendant the right to fell, remove and sell all trees of specified kinds growing within certain local limits in so far as he might be able to do so within a period of five years, and the grantee was further given the right to sublet and in certain circumstances to re enter and make other arrangements for the remainder of the term setting off the sums thereby realised against the sums due from the lessee but if the trees were not cut down or being cut down were not removed before the expiration of the term, the grantee was to have no rights or interests or were to be divested of any such rights. Held, that the grant in this case was of forest rights within the meaning of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and the rule of limitation applicable to a suit to recover the Raj's dues under it is governed under ss 184 and 193 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, by the special rule of three years' limitation provided by Art. 2, Part I to Sch. III of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The General Manager of the defendants having general authority to make payments made a payment of Rs. 15 through a Mohurrir and followed it up by an entry of such payment with his own hand in his account book. Held, that the Mohurrir merely acted as a messenger, and the payment being by the Manager out of monies in his hand, the Manager should be regarded as the person who made the payment for the purposes of s. 20 of the Limitation Act. A payment made on the punyaka was made not on account of a general arrear balance but on account of a special instalment, that is, the first of the newly opened year. The Raj and the defendant having both sued upon the terms of the grant, the former for rent and the latter for damages, it was found that the Raj's demand for arrears was to a large extent barred by limitation and that the dues of the Defendant for damages fell far short of the arrears barred. Held, that the defendant having thus recouped himself, the lower Court was right in refusing to make a decree for damages in his favour. Though interest pending suit is in the discretion of the Court, such discretion should be exercised on sound judicial principles. SARAJUBALA DEBI CROWDHURY v SARADA NATH BHATTACHARJEE (1918) 23 C. W. N. 338

LIMITATION—contd.

59. — Appeal—Time to file an appeal from an order—Time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss 5, 12, Art 151—Application to obtain copies after the expiry of the period, effect of—Duty of drawing up the order—Calcutta High Court Original Side Rules, Ch XVI, r 27, Ch XXXII, r 22 (b)—Memorandum of Appeal filed without a copy of the order, effect of—Laches on the part of the appellant—Sufficient cause. An ex parte decree was made on the 14th of February 1918 as the defendant (appellant) failed to comply with an order of the Court. On the 23rd of March an order was made on the application of the defendant that on the defendant's giving security for the amount of the claim within a certain date the ex parte decree would be set aside. The defendant failed to give security though the time to supply the same was extended from time to time. On the 20th of July the defendant again applied for further extension of time and to have the ex parte decree set aside which was refused on that day. On the 5th of August the plaintiff (respondent) applied to have the order drawn up. On the 7th of August the defendant was served with the order which was returned approved by his solicitor on the 16th of August. On the 30th of August (which was the last day of the term) the Memorandum of Appeal was filed without a copy of the order of the 26th of July. On the 3rd of September the order was filed by the plaintiff. On the 9th of September the defendant applied for a copy of the order and the copy was supplied to him on the 12th of September. Held, that the time to file the Memorandum of Appeal expired on the 15th of August and as the defendant had failed to satisfy the Court that the period from the 15th of August to the 30th of August was requisite for obtaining a copy of the order appealed from, the appeal was barred by the law of limitation. Held, also, that the appeal could not be admitted under s. 6 of the Limitation Act as there was no sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period. PER CHITTY, J.—"On principle, an appellant who has not within the period of limitation applied for a copy of the order appealed from, and who has within that period taken no steps whatever towards procuring such copy, cannot be allowed after the period of limitation has run out to claim exclusion of time requisite for procuring such copy." PRAMATHA NATH ROY v. W. A. LEE (1919). 23 C. W. N. 553

60. — Uncertified payments—If can save limitation, Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, r 2 (3). O. XXI, r. 2 (3) of the Code of Civil Procedure expressly provides that the executing Court shall not recognise any payment that has not been certified. The decreeholder can certify the payments made at any time, but the certification must take place within such time as is required to save the application for execution from being barred by limitation

LIMITATION—contd

BAHUBALLABH ROY v JOGESH CHANDRA BANERJEE
 (1918) . 23 C W N 320

61. ———— Execution of decrees—Application for execution of original decrees—Commencement of period of limitation, whether date of original decree or of appellate decrees—Execution against judgment-debtor not joined in the appeal Where an appeal has been preferred against a decree the period of limitation for an application to execute the original decree runs from the date of the appellate decree, though the appeal was against one defendant and the application for execution was against the other
Hrinama Chavari v Mangammal 1 L R 26 Mad 91, and T S Ari Chetty v Theerthimala Chetty, 34 Ind. Cas 791, followed Lav v Benarashy Prasad Chowdhury 19 C W N 287 Lokenath Singh v Gayu Singh 20 C W N 173, Umaiah Chandra Roy v Alur Chandra Sildar, 1 L R 48 Cal 25, and Hur Prasad Roy v Enayal Hassan, 2 C L R 471, distinguished Gopal Chander Manna v Goman Das Kalay, 1 L R 25 Cal 594 and Abdul Rahaman v Meudia Saibai, 1 L R 22 Bom. 509, referred to. SATISH CHANDRA CHOWDRU v GIRISH CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY (1920) 1 L R 47 Cal. 513

62. ———— Mortgage—Order of sale for sale—Application to enforce the order more than twelve years after the date of the order—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch. I, Art. 133 A suit was brought in 1904 for the enforcement of a mortgage security The usual preliminary decree under s. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, was made on the 30th June 1904, and on the 22nd March 1904 the decree-holder applied for and obtained an order absolute for sale under the provisions of s. 89 of the same Act. The order was drawn up and signed on the 25th May 1907, but was not otherwise completed, and no steps whatever had been taken under it. The present application was made on the 18th May 1919 by the representative of the decree-holder (who had died in the meantime), asking that the representatives of the parties deceased be substituted on the record, and that thereupon the order absolute for sale may be completed and the sale proceeded with.—Held, that a present right to enforce the judgment or order having accrued to the decree-holder on the 22nd March 1907 when the order absolute for sale was pronounced, the present application to enforce the said order is barred by Article 133, Sch. I of the Limitation Act, 1908 ATREKA KRAISHNA SEIT v RASH BEHARI DUTY (1920) . 1 L R 47 Cal 746

63. ———— Suit instituted in wrong Court—in time, but in proper Court beyond time—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s. 77—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss. 14, 29 (b) The provisions of s. 14 of the Limitation Act, 1908, cannot be applied in computing the period prescribed under s. 77 of the Registration Act, 1908 Abdul Hakim v Lalipunneta Khatun, 1 L R 30 Cal. 532, approved. Nagendra Nath McRack v Matkura Mohan Parki, 1 L R 18 Cal 368, referred to. Khetur Mohan Chakraborty v Dinababai Shaha, 1 L R 10 Cal 283, overruled. HAJIMUDDIN MOLLAN v SAHIBUDDIN MOLLAN, (1919) . 1 L R 47 Cal. 300

LIMITATION—contd

64. ———— Accord and satisfaction—Annulment of satisfaction on the ground of coercion, effect of—Fresh cause of action for original claim, on annulment. A debtor who satisfied, by payment, his creditor's claim for balance of money due, sued to annul the satisfaction on the ground of coercion and obtained a decree for refund. Held, that the annulment gave the creditor a fresh cause of action upon the original claim, and time began to run from the date of annulment Musammat Banee Surno Major v Shookhee Moolhree Burmanis (1885) 12 M I A, 244 and Huro Perahad Roy v Gopal Das Dutt (1883) 1 L R 9 Cal. 235, at 259 (P C) followed. VEYHU VEERAPPA CHETTY v ADARAPPA CHETTY (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad. 845

65. ———— Attorney's claim and set off—R 69 Cl 58 of the High Court Rules (Cal., original) is technically free from limitation—Defendant can prosecute a set off if the claim is not barred at time of issue of plaint. RAJAN NARENDRA LAL KHAY v TARUBALA DAS 25 C W N 860

66. ———— Suit started on insufficient court fee—Balance paid after expiration of period of limitation. Where a suit was instituted on the last day of limitation on an inadequately stamped plaint and the balance of court fee was subsequently paid after the period of limitation had expired and the court accepted such payment, Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation GAYA LOAN OFFICE, LTD v AWADH BEHARI LALL 1 Pat. L J 420

67. ———— Adverse possession—Gift, invalidity of as not following the requirements of s. 123 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Evidence as to possession only under it, not of the gift—Joint ownership following intended gift—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 144—Overr The suit from which this appeal arose was brought to establish the title of the appellants to a moiety of a mita or estate, consisting of two villages which belonged at one time to the ancestor of the parties, and eventually became vested in G and P his two younger sons. On the death of G in 1879 his share vested in his widow R and he left also a daughter D P died in 1887 leaving a will which the High Court held gave an absolute interest in the moiety to his widow A and the Lordships of the Judicial Committee upheld that construction On 10th October 1893, R and A who were then the registered owners of the two moieties of the mita, presented to the Collector a petition, which after reciting that they had on 8th October given the two villages of which the mita consisted to D prayed that an order be made transferring the villages into her name. On the same date (10th October) D presented a similar petition to the Collector reciting the gift of the villages to her, and asked for the transfer of them to her on the register, and the Collector thereupon, on 8th May 1896, registered the two villages (being the whole mita) in the name of D, "to hold and enjoy them with power to alienate them by way of gift, mortgage, sale, etc." and from that date D retained possession until her death in 1911, after which the mita descended to the respondent as her successor Held, that the gift was invalid as not being made by a registered deed as required by s. 123 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), that the recitals in the petitions could not be used as evidence of a gift, but might be referred to as explaining the nature and character of the possession thenceforth held by D, and that the evidence proved that she in fact took possession of the mita in her own right when it was transferred into her name, and retained such possession with receipt of the rents until her death, when the plaintiff's claim was barred by more than twelve years' adverse possession. Even if the rule of English Law, that the possession of one of several co-parceners, joint tenants, or tenants in-common, is the possession of the others so as to prevent limitation affecting them, was applicable to sharers in an unpartitioned agricultural village in India not holding as members of a joint family, which is doubtful, it had on the facts of the case, no application. Held, therefore that during the life of B the possession of D was adverse to both the co-owners R and A, and this being so, when on R's death she became legally entitled to a moiety of the mita, the character of her possession of the other moiety as against A was not changed. There having been an ouster of A before R's death this ouster continued after her death, and the possession of D was adverse to A throughout. VARADA PILLAI v. JEEVARATNAMMAL (1920). I. L. R. 43 Mad 844

LIMITATION—contd

68. ——— End of adverse possession by the passing of decrees. Possession prior to decree cannot be tacked to possession after decree—Party wishing to acquire good title by adverse possession must start afresh after the decree—Execution—Execution time barred—Right to recover possession not barred. The defendants had brought Suit No 96 of 1893 against the plaintiff for a declaration that they were entitled to a half share in the right to manage a Devasthan property. The plaintiffs then pleaded that they were solely entitled to the management as they were in adverse possession for over twelve years prior to the suit. It was however held that the plaintiffs' adverse possession commenced only from 1885 and a decree declaring the joint management of the plaintiffs and the defendants was passed on the 7th July 1898. After the decree, the plaintiffs remained in possession and the defendants took no active step to execute the decree in their favour until they were let into possession by the Collector's order, dated the 1st August 1903. The plaintiffs, thereupon, brought a suit in 1912 to establish their sole right to manage the Devasthan property alleging hereditary right and ancient and immemorial custom, and contended that by non execution of the decree in Suit No 96 of 1893, they became entitled to tack on the period of adverse possession before the date of that decree to the period after the decree thereby acquiring an absolute title by adverse possession. Held, (1) that the decree in Suit No 96 of 1893 put an end to adverse possession on 7th July 1898, (2) that although the execution of that decree was barred the right remained and therefore the plaintiff could not get absolute title by adverse possession. Bala v. Abas (1903) 11 Bom. L. R. 1993, reversed. The period of adverse possession is calculated for the benefit of the party setting up adverse possession and if he loses, then there is an end of that period, and he must, if he wishes to acquire a good title by adverse possession, start afresh after the decree. MIR AKBARALI v. ABDUL AJIZ (1920). I. L. R. 44 Bom 934

LIMITATION—contd

69. ——— Rent suit—Suspension of the period of limitation—Pendency of a suit for ejectment. It is established as a general principle that the right to demand the rent which falls due during the pendency of a suit for ejectment is not in suspense during the pendency of a litigation. Surnamoyee's Case, 11 B. R. 5 (P. O.), was one of exception to this general rule. NAJENDRA NATH SEN v. SADHU RAM MANDAL (1920). I. L. R. 48 Cal 65

70. ——— Contribution by co-mortgagors—One paying off mortgage decree in excess of his share. Held, that the position of such co-mortgagor was that of an assignee of the original security and therefore the period of limitation is that within which the original mortgagee could have brought his suit on the mortgage had he not been redeemed and that the suit having been brought more than twelve years after the due date of the original mortgage under Art 132 of the Limitation Act and having been brought more than six years after the dates of payments was barred whether Art 60, 99 or 120 applied. SREEMATI RAJ KUMARI DEBI v. MUKUNDALAL BANDOPADHYAYA (1920). 25 C. W. N 283

71. ——— Letters Patent Appeal—Whether any extension of time can be granted under Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 4 et seq. An appeal was filed on the 27th August 1920 from the judgment of a Single Judge dated 6th July 1920. The vacation of the Court began on 17th July 1920 and ended on the 27th September. Under the rules framed by this Court an appeal under s. 10 of the Letters Patent cannot be entertained if presented after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the judgment appealed from, unless the Division Bench in the discretion for good cause shown extend the said period. Held, that the Letters Patent together with the rules framed thereunder as to limitation for filing appeals are a complete Code in themselves and therefore the general provisions of the Limitation Act, including s. 4, do not apply to appeals filed under s. 10 of the Letters Patent. Letters Patent Appeal No 107 of 1920 (unpublished) followed. S. 29 of the Limitation Act, referred to Held also, that the fact that appellant was under the impression that the limitation was ninety days and the holidays could be deducted was no reason for extending the period, and that the appeal was consequently barred by limitation. DYAL SINGH v. BUDHA SINGH. I. L. R. 2 Lab 127

72. ——— Execution, application for—Objection on the ground that decree had been satisfied out of Court—Objection and application both dismissed for default—Subsequent application for execution, if in continuance of previous application. A decree holder after applying for execution filed processes and process fees as directed by the Court. Thereafter the judgment debtor objected to the issue of execution on the allegation that the decree had been satisfied out of Court. On a subsequent date on which both the application for execution and the objection had been fixed for hearing the latter case was dismissed for default, and the Court recorded the further order 'the decree-holder has no objection to his case being dismissed provided he gets his costs. The execution case is dismissed for default. The decree-holder will get his costs.' Held, that the order dismissing the execution case must be treated as equivalent to an order for striking off the case or removing it from the file for the convenience of the Court, and a subsequent application for execution made more than three years after the date of the first application was therefore to be regarded as one in continuation or revival of the previous application. CHOWDHURY AJODHYA NATH FAKIR v CHOWDHURY S C FAKIR 28 C W. N 323

LIMITATION—contd

72. — Adverse possession—Plaintiff proving title—Both parties having uncertain possession.—Ind an Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, article 144 Adverse possession in order to bar by limitation a suit for the possession of land must be adequate in continuity in publicity and extent so as to show that it is possession adverse to the competitor. When a person establishes his title to land and proves that he has been exercising during the currency of his title various acts of possession then the quality of those acts even though they might have failed to constitute adverse possession against another may be abundantly sufficient to destroy that adequacy and interrupt that exclusiveness and continuity which is required from any person challenging by possession the right of title. Rodhamona Diba v The Collector of Khairat, (1900) 1 I. L. R. 27 Cal., 913 (P. C.) L. R. 27 I. A. 140, and Secretary of State for India v Chikilams Rama Rao, (1915) 1 I. R. 39 Mad 617 (P. C.), L. R. 43 I. A. 192 applied. [Judgment of the High Court reversed.] RUTHALI MOOTHAVAR v BHUHANAN KUTTY (1912)

1 I. L. R. 44 Mad (P. C) 853

74. — Suit to recover value of paddy charged upon immovable property, nature of.—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch. I, Art. 132. A suit to recover value of paddy charged upon immovable property is a suit to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property within the meaning of Art. 132 of the Limitation Act. RAMCHAND SUR v ISWAR CHANDRA GIRI (1920) 1 I. L. R. 48 Cal 625

LIMITATION ACTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1908), s. 230 1 I. L. R. 37 Mad 188

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
1 I. L. R. 40 Mad 846

LIMITATION ACT (XIV OF 1939)

s. 1 (12)—

See BENGAL REGULATION XV OF 1783
1 I. L. R. 34 All 281

s. 1 (15)—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), s. 19, SCH. II, ARTS. 120 AND 148
1 I. L. R. 32 All 33

ss. 1 (15) and 4—

See LIMITATION (14)
1 I. L. R. 37 Bom 231

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1871).

s. 20 and Sch. II, Art 148—

See LIMITATION 1 I. L. R. 37 Bom 231

s. 21—Act No IX of 1908, s. 31—Limitation—Mortgage with possession—Realization of rents and profits equivalent to receipt of interest as such under the terms of the mortgage.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1871)—contd

s. 21—contd

Under the terms of a mortgage-deed executed in 1850 the mortgagee was to take possession of the mortgaged property and appropriate the rents and profits in lieu of interest. The mortgagee remained in possession up to 1889 when he was dispossessed. In 1910 he brought a suit for sale. Held, that the realization of rents and profits in lieu of interest was equivalent to the receipt to interest as such under the terms of the mortgage and therefore under s. 21 of Act IX of 1871 the mortgagee was entitled to compute limitation from the year 1889. Act XV of 1877 having by that time come into operation, the plaintiff was in 1910 entitled to bring his suit within the limitation provided by s. 31 of Act IX of 1908. INDARJIT v GAGADHAR SAHAI (1912)

1 I. L. R. 35 All 270

Art 129 and s. 29—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
1 I. L. R. 40 Mad 846

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
1 I. L. R. 40 Mad 846

s. 2, Sch. II, Art 35—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s. 29
1 I. L. R. 34 All 412

s. 3, Sch. II, Arts. 13, 14—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 310 A—Execution of decree—Suit involving the cancellation of an order setting aside a sale—Limitation. A Civil Court acting under s. 310-A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882 set aside a sale on an application made about 14 months after the sale. The auction purchaser more than a year after this order sued for possession of the property and for a declaration that the order under s. 310 A was passed without jurisdiction. Held, that the order whether passed rightly or wrongly was not a nullity, and that the order having been passed in a proceeding other than a suit, Art. 13 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, barred the present suit, inasmuch as the plaintiff could not obtain a decree for possession without first having the order set aside. KIRBORI LAL v KUNAR SINGH (1910)

1 I. L. R. 33 All 93

s. 4, Sch. II, Art 179 (2)—Limitation—Application of execution of decree—Practice of Privy Council—Order of dismissal for want of prosecution of appeals to Privy Council—Order of 15th June, 1853, r. V—Dismissal of appeal for want of prosecution without order made in the appeal. Under r. V of the Order in Council of 15th June 1853, (1) where for a period specified in the order the appellant to His Majesty in Council, or his agent, has not taken any effectual steps for the prosecution of the appeal, it stands dismissed without further order. Such a dismissal for want of prosecution is not the final decree of an Appellate Court within the meaning of Art. 179, cl. 2, of Sch. II of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, from which a period of limitation can be reckoned under that article in support of an application for execution of a decree. In this case the application for execution having been made more than three years after the decree of the High Court was therefore barred by lapse of time, and should have been dismissed on that ground under s. 4 of the Limitation Act. BARUK NATH v. MUKUN DEI (1914). I. L. R. 36 All. 284

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.s. 4, Sch II, Art. 179 (2)—contd.

s. 5—Suit for order directing registration of document—3 days expiring during a Court holiday—Suit instituted on re-opening day if barred. The provisions of s. 5 of the Limitation Act apply to suits under s. 77 of the Registration Act (III of 1877). When, therefore, the period of limitation provided in that section for a suit for an order directing the registration of a document expired during the X'mas holidays Held, that the suit if instituted on the day the Court re-opened would not be barred by limitation. AYALATOLLAH v. WARIR ALI, I. L. R. 8 Cal. 910, followed. MATAB BAR MOILLAH v. SASI BHUSAN GHATAK (1911).

18 C. W. N. 20

ss. 5 and 7—Application to file an appeal in formā pauperis—Delay in making the application—Minor applicant—Excuse of delay—Probate—Grant of probate—Question of title not affected by the grant—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 11. A suit filed in formā pauperis was decided on the 10th February 1908. An application for leave to appeal in formā pauperis was presented to the High Court on the 13th April 1908, but as it was beyond time it was rejected. On an application to excuse the delay, it was excused on the ground that the applicant having been a minor, s. 7 of the Limitation Act, 1877, applied. At the hearing, it was objected that the application for permission to appeal in formā pauperis must be treated as an appeal, and that s. 5, and not s. 7 of the Limitation Act, applied to it. Held overruling the contention, that whether the application was treated as falling under s. 5 or under s. 7 of the Limitation Act, 1877, the result was the same. If it fell under s. 5 as an appeal, then under the second paragraph of that section, which applied to appeals, the Court had jurisdiction to excuse delay after the period of limitation prescribed for the presentation of an appeal had expired. If, on the other hand, it be treated as an application and fell under s. 7 of the Limitation Act, it was clearly within time and there was no need of excusing delay because the section provided that a minor could apply after he had attained the age of majority within a certain period. The probate is conclusive only as to the appointment of executors and the validity and the contents of the will, and on the application for probate it is not the province of the Court to go into the question of title with reference to the property of which the will purports to dispose or the validity of such disposition. CHINTAMAN VYANKATRAO v. RANCHANDRA VYANKATRAO (1910). I. L. R. 34 Bom. 589 ss. 6, 12—Appeals under Indian Forest Act (V of 1882)—In calculating period of limitation for appeals under the Indian Forest Act, time for obtaining copy of judgment not to be excluded. The provision in s. 12 of the Limitation Act of 1877 that in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order appealed against should be excluded does not apply to appeals under s. 10 of the Madras Forest Act, 1882. The express power given to the Governor in Council by s. 10 of the Forest Act to extend the time for appeal under this section shows that the Legislature did not intend that the general provisions of the Limitation Act should apply to such cases. The Madras Forest Act is a special and local enactment and the application of s. 12 of the Limitation Act to appeals under that Act affects the period prescribed by that Act, within the meaning of s. 6 of the Limitation Act. The provisions of s. 6 of the Limitation Act exclude the applicability of s. 12 of the Act in the case of appeals under s. 10 of the Madras Forest Act. Reference under the Madras Forest Act, 1882, I. L. R. 10 Mad. 210 dissented from. Pecaram v. Abbaiah, I. L. R. 18 Mad. 99, followed. VATTA-KULAKARAN SOWDAKER ABU BACKER SAHIB v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1909).

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.ss. 6, 12—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 505

ss. 7 and 8 and Art. 44—Alienation by guardian of the property of two wards members of an undivided Hindu family—Suit by both more than three years after elder's majority but within three years of the younger attaining majority—Limitation. According to ss. 7 and 8 and Art. 44 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) a suit brought by two brothers of an undivided Hindu family to set aside an alienation by their guardian, more than three years after the elder attained majority is barred by limitation not only as regards the elder brother's share but also in respect of the younger brother's though the latter attained his majority within three years prior to the institution of the suit. DORASAMI SUBRAMAYAN v. NONDASAMI SALUTAY (1912).

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 118

s. 8—Putni Regulation (Reg VIII of 1819), s. 14—Suit to set aside sale—All co-sharers if must sue jointly—Parties—Right of minor co-owner to sue separately—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s. 8 Sch II, Art. 12—Ground of exemption from limitation if must be specified in plaint when plaintiff minor—Amendment—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s. 51. The decision in Jogeshwar Roy v. Raj Narain Miller I. L. R. 31 Cal. 195 s. c. 8 C. W. N. 168, did not lay down that under s. 50 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), a plaintiff could not take advantage of any ground of exemption not set up in the plaint. Nor did it lay down that in no circumstances should the plaintiff who has omitted to set up such a ground be allowed to amend his plaint. When the plaintiff or all the plaintiffs is or are a minor or minors it is not usual for them to plead exemption from the law of limitation as prescribed by that section. So, too, where one or more of several plaintiffs is or are a minor or minors, if the provisions of s. 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) apply, time would not have commenced to run against any of them and it would not be necessary to expressly claim exemption. One of several co-owners of a putni taluk, can alone institute a suit to set aside a putni sale as contemplated by s. 14 of Reg VIII of 1819, provided the purchaser is made a party and the whole sale is sought to be set aside. Ananda Perard Roy v. Erakine, 12 B. L. R. 370, referred to. S. 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) has no application to such a suit, and a minor co-owner would be entitled to bring such a suit even though the adult co-owners have allowed their right to be time barred. GANGADHAR SAKKAN v. KHAJA ABDUL AJI NAHAR SALINGUEA PARADAT (1909).

14 C. W. N. 123

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

— s. 8, Sch. II, Art. 179, expl. I—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s. 7—Minor decree-holders—Applications for execution by guardian—Attainment of majority by one decree-holder—Application by guardian takes effect in favour of all—Right of the major decree holder to give discharge to the judgment-debtor in respect of the judgment-debt Two minor sisters, who were born in the years 1881 and 1887, obtained a decree against the defendants in May 1900. The minor decree holders were represented by a guardian appointed by the Court. The said decree was confirmed by the High Court in appeal in March 1901. Subsequently the guardian presented applications for the execution of the decree in 1904, 1905 and 1908, and while the last application was pending the guardian died. Thereupon the decree holder presented an application for execution as majors in 1908. The defendants contended that as the elder decree holder had attained majority, the application by the guardian was, as to her, unauthorized and the execution of the decree was barred as against her. It was further contended that as the elder decree holder could from the time of her attaining majority make an application and give a good discharge to the judgment-debtor to the decretal debt without the concurrence of the minor, time had, therefore, run against both under s. 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) or s. 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Held that by reason of the first explanation of Art. 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) an application made by a representative of one of joint decree holders takes effect in favour of all. Therefore, though the elder decree holder had attained majority, the applications made by the guardian as the next friend of the minor decree holder took effect in favour of both. Held, further, that the contention under s. 8 of the Limitation Act of 1877 or s. 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908 was inconsistent with the decisions in Gomandram v. Jatai, 1 L. R. 20 Dom 353, and Zamir Hasan v. Sunder, 1 L. R. 22 All 192, the applicability of which had not ceased owing to any change in the words of s. 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908. MAY CHAND PANACHAND v. VESARI (1910)

I L. R. 34 Dom 672

— s. 9—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), s. 10 AND SCH. II, Art. 148

I L. R. 35 All. 227

— s. 10—Will—Trustees—Suit by testator's sister for declaration of heirship and ownership of the residue of testator's estate—Resulting trust arising by operation of law—Limitation One Jethabhai died on the 17th December 1889 after having made a will dated the 20th February 1889. The will gave certain legacies, including one of Rs. 300, to the plaintiff, testator's sister. Under the will five trustees were appointed and it provided as follows:—"Out of these five (trustees), Dave Gatturahankar Keshaji and my nephew (plaintiff's son) Desai Mojilal Premanand should both join and take possession of my properties after my death in accordance with the above will, and with the consent of the remaining trustees, they are to dispose of the properties in accordance with what is written in the above will, and should any outstandings have to be recovered for giving effect to the said dispositions, they are to do the same and I do by this will give them power to do whatever also they may have to do to carry out the will." In the year 1908 the plaintiff having brought a suit for the declaration that she was the heir of the testator, her brother, and as such owner of the residue remaining after administering his property under the will and for the recovery of the residue, a question arose as to whether the suit was time barred on the ground that there was no trust declared with regard to the residue and no direction given to distribute it among heirs at law. Held, that the suit was not time-barred, and that once the testator's property was vested in the trustees for a specific purpose, it was not necessary that any resulting trust of the residue, which necessarily arose by operation of law, should be specified in words in the will in order to bring it within the scope of s. 10 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). MOJILAL PREMANAND v. GATTAURAHANKAR KESHAJI (1910)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.— s. 10—contd.

I L. R. 35 Bom. 49

— s. 10 Sch. II, Art. 134—

See LIMITATION I L. R. 43 Calo. 424

— s. 12—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 4 12—Appeal—Exclusion of time for taking copies—Decree signed after application—High Court—Practice—Rule treated as appeal. An appellant is entitled to the deduction of the time between the delivery of the judgment and the signing of the decree. Where the intending appellant having applied for certified copies of the judgment and decree, the copy of the judgment was delivered to him and at the same time an unused folio and the Court fee filed for the copy of the decree were also returned because the decree had not been signed, and the applicant had to make a fresh application for a copy of the decree after it had been signed. Held, that the first application for a copy of the decree should be treated as pending all the time so that the applicant would be entitled to a deduction of the time between the signing of the decree and the date when the copy of the decree was ready to delivery. When application for copy is made before the decree is signed, the applicant is not entitled to a deduction of the time between the date of the application and the signing of the decree twice over when the same has been already excluded by reason of the decree not having been ready. Bens Modab Nutter v. Matangini Dasari, 1 L. R. 13 Cal. 104 followed. Kali Sarilar Bajpai v. Baidanda Doh Sen, 7 C. W. N. 109 and Dulsh Beva v. Sarada Kinkar Pahi, 3 C. W. N. 55, referred to. The rule in this case was treated as an appeal subject to the condition that the order passed would take effect on payment by the successful applicant of proper Court fees. Mahomed Wabiduddin v. Hakimian, 1 L. R. 25 Cal. 757, referred to. TARAKATI KUTUB v. LALA JASBULO NARAIN (1911)

15 C. W. N. 787

— s. 12, Sch. II, Art. 152—Party, applying for portions of the record, entitled to deduct time spent in obtaining them. Where a party appealing from the decree of a lower Court applies for copies of the judgment and decree at different times, the time which he is entitled to exclude in computing the period of limitation for such appeal is the aggregate of the periods required to grant the copies after the applications were made. Raman Chetty v. Kadircelu, 8 Mad. L. J. 142.

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

— s. 12, Sec. II, Art. 162—contd

referred to and approved SILANBAN CHETTY & RAMANADHAM CHETTY (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 256

— s. 14—

See LIMITATION. I. L. R. 43 Calc 600

I. L. R. 36 Mad 482

1. ——— "Court"—Interpretation—Court in British India—Court in a Native State in India not included. The word "Court" as used in s. 14 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) means a Court in British India, and not a Court in a Native State of India. CHANNALAPA CHENNA SARA & ABDUL VAHAB (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 139

2. ——— Plaint returned for presentation in proper Court—Power of Court to fix a period of time for such presentation—Exclusion of time. For the purposes of determining limitation as governed by the provisions of s. 14 of Act XV of 1877, the date of instituting the suit must be held to be the date on which the plaint was filed in the Court having jurisdiction to try it, excluding only, for the purpose of calculating limitation, the period excluded under s. 14. Where a plaint which had been presented on the last day of the period of limitation, was subsequently returned by the Court for presentation within a week in the proper Court and was so presented five days later: Held, that the suit when so presented was barred by limitation as only the period during which the suit was pending in the Court without jurisdiction would be excluded under s. 14 of the Limitation Act. HARI DAS RAY & SARAT CHANDRAN DEY (1913)

17 C. W. N. 515

— s. 19—

See LEASE. I. L. R. 40 Mad 910

1. ——— Acknowledgment—Step in aid of execution—Compromise—Have part of decree executed at a later date. Whereupon a previous application for execution, the case was compromised by a joint petition stating that a part of the decree had been satisfied and that the rest will be satisfied at a future date: Held, that this was an acknowledgment of the judgment debtor's liability which gave a fresh start to limitation under s. 19 of the Indian Limitation Act. Held, further, that s. 19 of the Limitation Act applies to applications for executions of decrees. Rakhai Chander Tewari & Hemangani Debi, 3 C. L. J. 347, Ram Kumar Sur & Jakur Ali, I. L. R. 8 Calc 716, and Toree Mahomed & Mahomed Akhmed, I. L. R. 9 Calc 730, referred to. Quere. Whether a compromise made upon an application for execution, reciting that the decree has been executed in part and that the rest of it would be satisfied hereafter and containing no reference to any further proceedings to be taken in execution, is not a step in aid of execution. Ghansham v. Mulla, I. L. R. 3 All 320, referred to. BINDES WARI KOB & AWADH BEHARI LALL (1910)

13 C. W. N. 82

2. ——— Acknowledgment of debt by Collector or Deputy Collector as agent for Court of Wards since limitation under—Regulation V of 1804, s. 2, Collector's powers under—Court of Wards, powers of Under Regulation V of 1804 as amended by Madras Act IV of 1899 the duties of the Court of Wards are not limited to the educa- tion of the minor but include the due preservation of the estate. The Court of Wards has power to make an acknowledgment of a debt which would bind the ward and give a new starting point for limitation within the meaning of the Indian Limitation Act IX of 1877, s. 19. By the power of delegation given in s. 2 of Regulation V of 1804 the Collector has power to give such an acknowledgment as agent of the Court of Wards. Suryanarayana v. Narendra, Thattar, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 255, distinguished Bais Maharaja v. The Collector of Etawah, I. L. R. 17 All. 198, commented on. No distinction can be drawn between the powers of a Collector and those of Deputy Collector. KONDAMODALI LINGA REDDI & ALLIES SARIKARAYUDU (1910). I. L. R. 34 Mad. 221

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

3. ——— Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 208 and 209—Suit to recover money—Acknowledgment by defendant's Gumasta (agent) after his death—Death of the defendant not known to plaintiff—Limitation. Plaintiff's firm had dealings with one Haji Usman from the 6th January 1901 till the 25th October 1903. Haji Usman's business was managed by a gumasta (agent) Haji Usman died in or about March 1903, and the plaintiffs had no knowledge of his death. On the 2nd June 1903 the gumasta wrote to the plaintiffs a post-card stating, "you mention that there are moneys due, as to that I admit whatever may be found on proper accounts to be owing by me, you need not entertain any anxiety." On the 30th May 1906 the plaintiffs brought a suit against the managers of Haji Usman's estate to recover a certain sum of money on an account stated. The defendants pleaded the bar of limitation on the ground that there was no acknowledgment of the debt by a competent person. Held, that the suit was not time barred. The gumasta's letter of the 2nd June 1903 was an acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of Limitation Act (XV of 1877). The case fell within the provisions of ss. 208 and 209 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872). The termination of the gumasta's authority, if it did terminate, did not take place before the 2nd June 1903 as the plaintiffs did not know of the principal's death, and the gumasta was bound under s. 209 to take, on behalf of his late principal, all reasonable steps for the protection and preservation of the interests entrusted to him. EBRAHIM HAJI YAKUB & CHUNILAL LALCHAND (1911)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 302

4. ——— Acknowledgment—Judgment-debt, acknowledgment of—Debt specified in insolvency petition. An application for execution of a decree was not time-barred though made more than three years after a previous application, where it appeared that the judgment debtor had in the meanwhile filed a petition of insolvency in which the judgment-debt in question was specified. The petition, though it might not have been addressed to the creditors, was nevertheless an acknowledgment within s. 19 of the Limitation Act. Mansaram Seli & Seli Rupchand, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 1047, 10 C. L. N. 374, relied on. RAMPAI SINGH & NAND LAL MARWARI. 16 C. W. N. 346

5. ——— Mortgage—Redemption—Limitation—Acknowledgment. Held, that an acknowledgment of the title of the mortgagor made by only one of two mortgagees would not avail to save the mortgagor's right to redeem being barred by limitation where the mortgage was a joint mortgage and incapable of being redeemed piecemeal Dharma v. Balmainland, I L R 18 All 458, followed JWALA PRASAD v. ACUBEY LAL (1912) I L R. 34 All. 371

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

6. Acknowledgment—Suit for redemption—Admission in plaint that a certain person had a right to redeem as a co-mortgagor—Where in a suit for redemption of a mortgage the plaintiffs, who were purchasers of a portion of the mortgaged property, admitted in their plaint the right of a representative of one of the original mortgagors to redeem, it was held that this was a good acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, and entered in favour of the representatives of the person so mentioned Sulhamoni Choudhram v. Isahan Chander Roy, I L R 25 Calc 844, I L R 25 I + 95, referred to. BALSHAM v. RAM DEO (1914) I L R. 36 All 408

7. Limitation—Acknowledgment—Authority of managing partner to acknowledge a debt as due by the firm—Receiver, Held, that the manager of a firm who has power to borrow and repay money on behalf of the firm has power also to acknowledge a debt by either immediately giving a promissory note, or subsequently, upon an adjustment of accounts or in any other way in the course of business, making bona fide admissions in writing. Held, also that where in the course of a suit for dissolution of partnership a receiver has been appointed to discharge the debts and liabilities of the firm, the mere fact that a claim which was within time when made is not adjudicated upon by the Court until after the expiration of more than three years, does not render the claim a bad claim against the partnership assets LALTA PRASAD v. BABU PRASAD (1909) I L R. 32 All. 51

ss. 19, 20—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R. 43 Calc. 207

ss. 19, 20, 21—

Acknowledgment by one partner binding on others—The mere fact that one of the partners of a going concern is in charge of a branch of such concern cannot lead to the inference that such partner has authority to bind the firm by an acknowledgment when pressed for payment. A letter by one of two partners to a creditor acknowledging the debt due and asking such creditor to correspond with, and supply goods to, the other partner on behalf of the firm, cannot be construed as authorizing such other partner to make an acknowledgment which will bind the firm for the purposes of limitation. SHAIK MOHAMED SAHIB v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1911) I L R. 35 Mad. 142

s. 19, Sch. II, Arts. 120 and 148—Acknowledgment by widow in possession of husband's estate not binding on reversioners—Limitation—Act No XIV of 1859 (Limitation), s. 1, cl. 15 Held, that the widow and daughter of a mortgagor in possession as such of the mortgaged property are not competent to give an acknowledgment of the title of the mortgagor so as to save limitation, within the meaning of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, in respect of a suit for redemption brought by the representative in interest of the original mortgagor against the reversioners. Bhogwanta v. Suthi, I L R 22 All. 33, and Chhadda

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

s. 19, Sch. II, Arts. 120 and 148—could

Singh v. Durga Dei, I L R 22 All 362, referred to. Held also, that, unless there is a distinct provision to the contrary, the validity of an acknowledgment set up by a plaintiff as saving limitation in his favour must be decided with reference to the law in force when the suit is brought, and not with reference to that in force when the acknowledgment was made. Gurupadaya Basaya v. Furkadraps Irangaga, I L R 7 Bom. 439, referred to. BNIN SHANKAR LAL v. SONI RAM (1900) I L R. 32 All. 33

s. 19, Sch. II, Art. 148—

See LIMITATION (15)

I L R. 37 Bom. 326

Acknowledgment, effect of—Acknowledgment by widow in possession of husband's estate—Suspension of limitation—Act XV of 1877, s. 9—Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 15—Res judicata—Contentions raised for the first time on appeal to His Majesty in Council—Practice of Privy Council—In a suit brought by the appellant on the 4th of March, 1907, against the respondents for the redemption of a mortgage, dated the 2nd of January, 1842, made between the respective predecessors in title of the parties and in which no date for redemption was specified, acknowledgments of the mortgagor's right had been made by the widow and daughter of a former mortgagee, a predecessor in title of the respondents, which, the appellant contended, extended the period of limitation. Held, that the law of limitation applicable to the case was not Act XIV of 1859, the law in force at the date of the acknowledgments, but Act XV of 1877, which was in force at the time of the institution of the suit. Under Art. 148 of Sch. II to that Act the period of limitation prescribed for a suit to redeem a mortgage was 60 years from the time when the right to redeem accrued, and by s. 19 an acknowledgment to be effective must be "signed by the party against whom such right is claimed or by some person through whom he claims title." Held, that the respondents derived title through the last male owner, and not through his widow and daughter, who were therefore not competent under s. 19 to make an acknowledgment of the right of redemption so as to bind any interests except their own. To hold otherwise would be to extend the power of a Hindu female in possession of a limited interest to bind the estate to an extent which was not sanctioned by authority. An acknowledgment of liability only extends the period of limitation within which the suit must be brought, and does not confer title, and, with reference to s. 2 of Act XV of 1877, was not a "thing done" within the meaning of s. 6 of the General Clauses Consolidation Act (I of 1858). There was nothing in Art. 148 of Sch. II of Act XV of 1877 to justify a holding that by reason of the fusion of the interests of the mortgagor and mortgagee (which, it was alleged, took place between the years 1883 and 1898) the period of limitation, which began to run on the 3rd of January, 1842, was suspended, which would be deciding contrary to s. 9 of the Act; this suit not being one to which the proviso to that section applied. Burrell v. Earl of Egremond, 7 Beav. 203, distinguished. The present suit was not barred as res judicata by a former suit in 1904. With regard to contentions raised on this appeal which had not been raised before at any stage of the case, and consequently had not been considered by any of the Courts below, nor were even suggested in the reasons in the case of the appellant to England, their Lordships adhered to the established practice of the Board not to allow new cases to be made for the first time on appeal to His Majesty in Council. SORT RAM v. KANTHAIYA LAL (1913). I. L. R. 35 All. 227

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*s. 19, Sch. II, Art. 143—contd.

s. 20—Payment of interest on behalf of minor by manager of a joint Hindu family, effect of— "Duly authorised Agent." A payment of interest by the manager of a joint Hindu family consisting of himself and his minor brothers, is a payment by the "duly authorised agent" of the minors within the meaning of s. 20 of the Limitation Act, 1877. SARADA CHARAN CHAKRAVARTI v. DURGARAM DE SINGHA (1910). I. L. R. 37 Cal. 461

s. 22—

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 38 Cal. 342

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT.

I. L. R. 33 Mad 115

See PARTIES. I. L. R. 37 Cal. 229

I. L. R. 33 All. 272

Assignment of original plaintiff's rights—Addition of assignee as plaintiff— S. 22, inapplicable—Jungle or forest lands in zamindari—Presumption of ownership of ludivaram in the zamindar—Onus of proving contrary, on ryots The presumption, as regards waste land, jungle or forest land in a zamindari, is that the zamindar is the owner not only of the melicaram but also of the ludivaram and the onus is on the ryots to show that the ludivaram right is vested in them. S. 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) does not apply to a case where a plaintiff is added in the course of a suit, in consequence of assignment of rights from the original plaintiff, but is confined to cases where the new plaintiff is added or substituted in his own right so that he may himself be considered to be instituting a suit to enable him to litigate a right for himself independently of the rights of the original plaintiff. ARUNACHELLA AMBALAM v. ORR (1914). I. L. R. 40 Mad. 722 ss 22, 28—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 31—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O 1, r 9—Lands attached to vatan—Joint owners—Lease—Lease good till the death of the surviving joint owner—Gordon Settlement of 1864—Suit by representatives of one joint owner to recover possession—Representatives of the other joint owner joined as co-defendants with the representatives of the lessee—Plaintiff's claim allowed to the extent of their share—Appeal by plaintiffs and co-defendants claiming their share—Limitation—Treatment of co-defendants as co-plaintiffs—Amendment of plaint and decree. Certain lands attached to a vatan belonged jointly to two brothers V and D. In the year 1872 the lands were let by V under a perpetual lease which was attested by D. D predeceased V. In the year 1905 within twelve years from the death of V, his representatives brought a suit for the recovery of the lands let by V. They sought to recover the entire lands on the ground of eldership. The suit was brought against defendants 1a, 1b and 1c as the heirs of the mortgagee of the lessee (the original 1st defendant), against defendants 2 and 3 as the heirs of the lessee and against defendants 4 and 5 as the heirs of D. The heirs of defendant 1 and defendants 2 and 3 defended the suit on the ground, inter alia, of limitation, the suit not having been brought within twelve years from the date of the lease. Defendants 4 and 5 did not contest the plaintiff's claim. The first Court allowed the plaintiff's claim to the extent of their share, namely, a moiety on the ground that their claim to that extent was not time barred. On appeal by the plaintiffs and defendants 4 and 5, the latter of whom in appeal claimed their share, namely, the other moiety, the Appellate Court awarded the other moiety to defendants 4 and 5. On second appeal by the heirs of the mortgagee—Held, affirming the decree, that the whole claim was within time. A Vatan-dar is entitled to alienate vatan lands for the term of his natural life and his children although not separate in interest from him have no right to object to such alienation until after his death. Where a lease of vatan property is effected by one joint owner with the consent of the other joint owner the time for the recovery of the vatan property from the lessee runs from the date of the death of the survivor of the joint lessors. Defendants 1 and 5 having sought to recover in appeal their share which they had not asked for in the first Court. Held, allowing their claim, that they being parties to the suit instituted within the twelve years during which their right to a share in the vatan property could be effectually determined, the Court must deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually brought before it by the institution of the suit. A party transferred to the side of the plaintiff from the side of the defendant is not a new plaintiff to whom the provisions of s. 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) apply. Nagendrabala Debba v. Tarapada Acharjee, I. L. R. 35 Cal. 1066, concurred in. Plaint and decree of the lower Appellate Court amended by entering defendants 4 and 5 as co-plaintiffs. NARSINGH v. VAMAN VENKATRAO (1909). I. L. R. 34 Bom. 91

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*ss. 22, 28—contd.

s. 23, Sch. II, Parts 36, 115, 116—Transfer of Property Act, ss 76, 92—Mortgagor's right to compensation for property not delivered to him is based on a continuing obligation and time does not run till redemption—Time runs under Art. 36 of Limitation Act from date of tort and not from date of knowledge Under s. 92 of the Transfer of Property Act, the mortgagor on paying the mortgage debt is entitled to be put in possession of the mortgaged properties and the obligation to do so is a continuing obligation on the mortgagee which cannot cease so long as the right of redemption is not barred. The right of the mortgagor under s. 76 of the Transfer of Property Act to have accounts taken and to debit the mortgagee with the loss caused to the mortgaged property, is cumulative and does not take away the remedy under s. 92 of the Act. Where the mortgagee in possession who is bound by the terms of the mortgage deed to pay the Government revenue due on the land neglects to do so and the mortgaged land is sold, a suit for compensation by the mortgagor, brought more than six years after such sale and less than six years from the date of the decree in the redemption suit brought by the mortgagor, is not barred under Arts 115 and 118 of the Limitation Act read with a 23 of the Act. The express covenant in the mortgage deed by the mortgagee to pay the Government revenue only states in words the liability of the mortgagee under s. 78 of the Act and does not curtail the general obligation of the mortgagee under the Act. In suits for compensation for tort to immovable property, the period of limitation prescribed in Art 36 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act runs from the date of the tort and not from the time when the plaintiff has knowledge of such tortious Act. SIVACHIDAMBARA MUDALIAR v KAMATCHI AMMAL (1909) . . . I L R. 33 Mad 71

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

— s. 23, Sch. II, Parts 38, 115 118

—contd

— s. 26—

See FISABERY I L R. 39 Calo. 53

— s. 28, Sch. II, Arts 124, 144—

See RELIGIOUS FOUNDATION

I L R. 35 Mad. 92

— Sch. II, Arts. 2, 61, 62, 120—
Limitation—Suit to recover from a Municipal Board money alleged to have been illegally levied as octroi duty—Municipal Board's powers of taxation. A Municipal Board, in disregard of certain lawful orders of the Government of India, levied upon a Company trading within the municipal limits certain sums by way of octroi duty over and above what they were legally entitled to levy. Held, on suit by the Company to recover from the Board the sums so levied, that (i) the suit would lie and (ii) that the suit was one for money had and received to the use of the defendant within the meaning of Art. 62 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877 Morgan v Palmer, 2 B & C 729 20 R R 537, and Neate v Harding, 6 Exch 349 86 R R 323 referred to. Seth Karimji v Sordar Karpal Singh, Punj Rec. 1886, 283, dissented from RAJPUTANA MALWA RAILWAY CO-OPERATIVE STORES, LD v THE AJMER MUNICIPAL BOARD (1910)

I L R. 32 All 491

— Sch. II, Art. 11—Civil Procedure Code, Act XIV of 1882, ss 278, 281, 283—Art 11 of the Limitation Act not applicable where judgment debtor no party to proceedings under s. 278 of the Civil Procedure Code. Where, in a claim proceeding under s. 278 of the Civil Procedure Code the judgment-debtor has not appeared and there has been no adjudication between him and the claimant, the period of limitation prescribed by Art. 11 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act will not apply to a suit brought by the defeated claimant to establish his right against the judgment debtor SADAYA PILLAI v AMURTHACHARY (1910)

I L R. 34 Mad. 533

— Sch. II, Art. 12—

See MUTT, HEAD OF

I L R. 38 Mad. 358

— Sch. II, Art. 14—Order—Suit to set aside order—Collector—Order ultra vires—Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879), s. 37. Art. 14 of the Second Schedule of the Indian Limitation Act only applies to orders passed by a Government Officer "in his official capacity." The article does not apply to orders which are ultra vires of the officer passing them. When a Collector passes an order, under the provisions of s. 37 Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— Sch. II, Art. 14—contd

with reference to land which is pro rata the property of an individual who has been in peaceful possession thereof and not of the Government, he is not dealing with that land in his official capacity, but is acting ultra vires MAIRAJEPPA v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

I L R. 38 Bom. 325

— Sch. II, Art. 35—

See HUSBAND AND WIFE.

I L R. 37 Bom. 393

— Restitution of conjugal rights, suit for—Where, after demand and refusal differences are made up, time will not run until there is a fresh demand and refusal—Agreement between husband and wife, providing for future separation how far valid under Hindu and English law—The Madras Civil Courts Act, III of 1873, s. 16. Where after demand by the husband and refusal by the wife to return to cohabitation, the parties make up their differences limitation will not run under Art. 35 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877 until there is a fresh demand and refusal. A, a Hindu Brahmin, after refusal by his wife B to return, brought a suit for restitution of conjugal rights in 1903. The suit terminated in a compromise between A and B in July 1904, by which it was agreed that B should return and live with A and that if at any time thereafter she should desire to live apart from A, she was to be paid Rs. 350 by A. B never returned to live with A, who on 6th July 1907, brought a suit for restitution alleging a demand and refusal in February 1907. Held, that the suit was not barred under Art. 35 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act and that the demand and refusal prior to 1903 did not furnish the starting point for limitation—Held, also, that the agreement between A and B in July 1904 providing for a future separation was invalid. It was forbidden by the Hindu Law, which ought, under s. 16 of Madras Act III of 1873 to be applied in determining the marital obligations between the parties Tekait Mon Mohsin Jemadai v Banarsi Kumar Singh, I L R. 28 Calo 751, referred to. Such agreement must also be considered as opposed to public policy and unenforceable. Meharally v. Sakerkhanooobai, 7 Bom L R 602 referred to. Even under the English law, the agreement, providing for a future separation was invalid and would not operate as a bar to a suit for restitution of conjugal rights. KRISHNA AITAR v BALAMMAL (1910)

I L R. 34 Mad. 392

— Sch. II, Arts. 36, 115 and 120—Contract to sell another's goods without authority, breach of—Caveat of action only in contract and not in tort as on misrepresentation—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 235. A suit against a person for breach of contract to sell to the plaintiff certain goods of another on the implied representation that he had authority from his principal to sell them, when in fact he had done, is not one arising in tort or independent of contract but one arising out of and incidental to a contract and is governed by Art. 115 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and not by Art. 36 or 120. S. 235 of the Contract Act, discussed VATHAYAN v AVITHA (1913)

I L R. 38 Mad. 275

— Sch. II, Arts. 39, 109—Art 109 not applicable where profits not received by defendant—Claim for mere profits when plaintiff kept out of possession is a suit for damages and falls within Art. 39—Judgment for possession, effect of. A suit for mesne profits by a plaintiff who had been kept out of possession by the defendant, does not, for purposes of limitation, fall within Art. 109 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, when no profits have been actually received by defendant. Such a suit is one for damages for trespass on immovable property and falls under Art. 39 of Sch. II. Albas v. Pasukh-ud-Din, 24 Calc. 463, not followed. A judgment for possession against a defendant must be deemed to decide that the defendant was in possession at least at the date of judgment. Ramasani Reddi v. Auppi Lakshmi Ammal (1900).

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.—Sch. II, Arts. 39, 109—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 502

—Sch. II, Arts. 44, 91—

See EXECUTOR, DE SON TORT.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 575

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIMINATION

I. L. R. 34 All. 213

—Sch. II, Arts. 48, 49—Illegal distraint and consequent removal and misappropriation of crops—Suit for damages. Where in execution of an illegal distraint, the defendant cut the crop standing on plaintiff's land and removed the same: Held, that a suit by the plaintiff for damages in respect of these acts was a suit in respect of "specific moveable property" within one or other of the two Arts. 48 and 49 of Sch. II of Act XV of 1877. Hari Charan v. Hari Kar, 9 C. W. N. 367; I. L. R. 32 Calc. 469, distinguished. Sripati Sarkar v. Hari Kar, 12 C. W. N. 1090, reversed. Jadu Nath Dandapat v. Hari Kar (1913).

17 C. W. N. 308

—Sch. II, Art. 49—

See LIMITATION (8).

I. L. R. 33 Calc. 284

—Sch. II, Arts. 49, 120, 145—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 284

—Sch. II, Arts. 49, 145—Where depository refuses on demand to return thing deposited, Art. 145 and not Art. 49 applies. Where moveable property is deposited and the depository on demand by the depositor refuses to return the thing deposited, the period of limitation applicable to a suit to recover such property is that provided in Art. 145 and not that in Art. 49 of the Limitation Act. The fact that the possession after demand and refusal is wrongful does not make Art. 49 applicable. Obiter: Where a thing is deposited for safe custody, the depositor has the right to demand the return of the thing at any time, although the deposit might have been for a term. Gangenni Kondiah v. Gottipati Pedda Kondappa Naidu (1909).

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 56

—Sch. II, Arts. 61, 83, 116, 120—

Contract Act, IX of 1872, ss. 70, 222—Suit by agent against principal to recover moneys spent by him for account of principal. A suit by an agent against principal to recover moneys spent by him for account of principal under Art. 61 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act and not under Art. 116 or 120. The duty of the principal under s. 222 of the Contract Act to indemnify the agent is an obligation imposed by law and is attached to the relation of principal and agent constituted by act of parties. Where a registered contract of agency does not provide for such indemnity, such obligation cannot be treated as a term or part of such contract and a suit by the agent for recovering moneys spent by him on account of his principal will not for purposes of limitation fall within Art. 116 of Sch. II of the Indian Limitation Act. Art. 83 of Limitation Act will not apply; and even if it did, limitation will begin to run from the date of such payment and not from the termination of the agency. The fact that the agent has under s. 217 a right of retainer out of sums received on account of his principal and a right of lien under s. 222 will not deprive the right of action until the termination of the agency. The right of the agent to recover is conferred by s. 70 of the Contract Act and there is nothing to prevent his making his claim immediately after he expended his own moneys. The article applicable to such cases is Art. 61 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. That article is not confined to cases where the defendant is under a legal liability to make the payment but is also applicable to cases falling under s. 70 of the Contract Act. Kandawany Pillai v. Avayambal (1910).

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

—Sch. II, Arts. 61, 83, 116, 120—

—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 167

—Sch. II, Arts. 62, 97—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 46 Calc. 670

—Sch. II, Art. 85—Limitation—"Current mutual account" Held, that a "mutual" account within the meaning of Art. 85 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, is an account of dealings between two parties which are such as to create independent obligations in favour of one party against the other. Ganesh v. Gyanu I. L. R. 22 Bom. 606, and Ram Pershad v. Harbars Singh, 5 C. L. J. 158, followed. Bhawan Singh v. Tika Ram, All. Weekly Notes (1896), 186, referred to. Chittar Mal v. Binari Lal (1909).

I. L. R. 32 All. 11

Mutual account, test of. Where the course of dealing between A and B was that A should finance B and that B should keep II secured in respect of such advances by consignments of coffee of a value equal to his indebtedness, the account between A and B though current and open is not "mutual" within the meaning of Art. 85 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. Although the balance may shift from one side to the other, such shifting balance is not conclusive as a test of mutuality. Payments made on account by one party and credited by the other whether in money or goods do not render the account mutual. There must be independent obligations on both sides, to make the account mutual. Hirada Basappa v. Gadugi Muddappa, 6 Mad. H. C. R. 162, referred to. Sivvi Gowda v. Fernandes (1910).

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 513

—Sch. II, Art. 89, s. 8—

See ACCOUNTS, SUIT FOR.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 1

—Sch. II, Arts. 89, 115—Suit for accounts against collecting agent—An express stipulation to account yearly. In the absence of an express contract that account should be rendered at the end of each year, a suit by a landlord for accounts against his collecting agent, is governed by Art. 89 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Mats Lai Dose v. Amin Chand Chatterjee, 1 C. L. J. 211, distinguished. Jogendra Nath v. Deb Nath, 8 C. W. N. 113, and Shri Chandra

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Arts. 89, 115—contd.

v. Chandra Varasi, I L R 32 Cal. 719, followed.
DEBENDRA NATH GHOSH v. SHRIKISH ESHA HUG
MISTRY (1908) 14 C W N 121

Suit against gomasta for account—Hypothecation of immovable property to secure agent's liability—Limitation—Registered contract—Disputation to furnish periodical accounts. Ordinarily speaking, a suit by a principal against his agent for an account is governed by Art. 89 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and the period is three years from either the demand for and refusal of such account or the termination of the agency. Where, however, there is a definite contract to account at the end of each year the appropriate Art. would be 115 as the contract would be broken by the failure of the agent to account at the end of each year. In either case if the contract be registered, Art. 116 applies and the period is 6 years. Mah Lal Bose v. Amin Chand Chatterpadiy I C L J 211, relied on. The fact that the agent had executed a hukumat whereby he had hypothecated certain immovable properties to secure his liability would not alter the nature of the suit so as to make Art. 132 of same Schedule applicable. JOGESH CHANDRA v. BETODE LAL ROY CHOWDHURY (1909) 14 C W N 122

BUT SEE PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R. 43 Cal. 248

Sch. II, Art. 91—Undue influence—Lease, suit to set aside, on the ground of—Applicability of the Article—Suit for possession—Whether setting aside lease by decree of Court necessary—Revocation of lease by the plaintiff, if sufficient—Suit for setting aside lease, if barred, suit for possession also barred—Trusts Act (II of 1928), ss. 86, 89, 90, 91 and 96—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 126—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss. 64 and 66—Custom of inalienability in a zamindars, onus of proof as to—Evidence, nature of. Where the plaintiff sued in 1904 to recover possession of certain lands which had been leased by his deceased father under two registered lease-deeds dated 5th November 1892 and 2nd June 1893, respectively to the deceased father of the defendants, on the ground that the leases were obtained by undue influence exercised by the father of the defendants on the plaintiff's father, and the father of the defendants had died in 1899: Held, that the suit was barred by limitation under Art. 91 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). A transfer which is voidable and which can be effected only by a registered instrument can be avoided only by a formal re-transfer or by a decree of Court. Jasbir Kumar v. Ajai Singh, I L R 15 Cal. 58 explained and applied. S. 84 of the Indian Trusts Act, even if it were applicable to the case, is not available to the plaintiff because there was no allegation in the plaint that a notice of rescission was given to the defendants or their father before the suit, and the suit itself can operate as a notice to the defendants only when a copy of the plaint was served on them after the suit was duly instituted. The defendants therefore were not trustees as the date of the suit, and the right to immediate possession had not then vested in the plaintiff by virtue of the said section. ss. 86 and 89 of the Indian Trusts Act are not applicable because s. 96 of the said Act will operate to prevent their application as it enacts that no obligations under Chapter IX of the Trusts Act (which contains ss. 86 and 89) can be created in evasion of the provisions of any law. The onus of proving inalienability in the case of a zamindar lies on the person who alleges it. Sundaram v. Siammal, I L R 16 Mad 311, dissented from. A perpetual lease, reserving no rent to the Zamindar except a sum which was payable wholly to the Government towards the revenue due on the leased lands, is really an absolute conveyance of the property. The case law on the subjects reviewed. RAJA RAJESWARA DONAI v. ARUNACHALLAN CHETTIAR (1913) I L R 38 Mad 321

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Art. 91—contd.

Sch. II, Arts. 91, 141—Limitation—Suit to recover property sold by guardian during minority of plaintiff—Cancellation of sale deed ancillary—Decree for possession conditional upon restoring such portion of the consideration as was for the minor's benefit. Held, that in the case of a suit to set aside an alienation of the plaintiff's property made during his minority by his guardian, the limitation applicable is that prescribed by Art. 141 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877. UNAI v. Kanchamma, I L R 14 Mad. 26 followed. Abdul Rahman v. Sukhdayal Singh, I L R 23 All 30 Jhannam Kunwar v. Tulshi, I L R 25 All 435 and Ram Das Kunwar v. Abu Jafar, I L R 27 All 491 referred to. When, however, such a sale is in part for the benefit of the plaintiff, he is in equity liable to make good to the purchaser (i.e. portion of the consideration by which he benefited and he would be entitled to recover the property only on condition of his paying to the purchaser that portion of the consideration. Gulab Singh v. Baldeo Singh, I L R 25 All 330 referred to. BACHCHAN SINGH v. KANTA PRASAD (1910) I L R 32 All. 392

Sch. II, Art. 95—

SEE PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R. 37 Cal. 81

Sch. II, Arts. 95, 141—

SEE HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER.

I L R 45 Cal. 390

Sch. II, Art. 98—

SEE HINDU LAW—DEBTS

I L R. 33 Mad. 308

Sch. II, Art. 104—Muhammadian law—Dower—Wife put into possession of husband's property in his lifetime and subsequently dispossessed—Suit by her heir for balance of dower debt—Limitation. Held, that Art. 104 of Sch. II of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877 (Art. 104, Sch. I, Act IX of 1908) does not apply to a suit by one of the heirs of a Muhammadian widow, who, having been put into possession of her husband's property during his life time in lieu of her dower is dispossessed thereof subsequently by his death. HANIF-ULLAH KHAN v. NAJJO (1911)

I L R. 33 All. 568

Sch. II, Art. 106—Suit for partnership account—Presumption of dissolution of partnership from facts of case—Cessation of annual accounts rendered yearly for many years and rendering of final account showing division of capital and reserve. The question in this appeal which arose out of a suit brought in 1902 for a partnership account and to recover the plaintiff's share in the

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch. II, Art. 106—contd

Properties of a business carried on by them and the defendants, was whether the suit was barred by limitation, the defendants contending that there had been a dissolution of the partnership in 1891 which the plaintiffs denied: Held (affirming the decision of the High Court), that when annual accounts of the partnership business which had been rendered year by year from 1868 to 1891, ceased in the latter year and, on 12th April 1891, a final account showing the division of both capital and revenue was made out, the defendants afterwards carrying on the business without any interference from the plaintiffs, the presumption was in favour of the dissolution of the partnership as at the definite date of the year when the account was thus closed. And their Lordships were of opinion that these facts taken with the other acts and conduct of the parties, and the whole circumstances of the case which greatly strengthened the presumption made the inference in favour of the dissolution having occurred at the above date substantially conclusive. The suit, therefore, not having been brought within three years from that date was barred by Art. 106 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). JOOPOOBY SABAYYA v. LAKSHMANASWAMY (1913)

I. L. R. 36 Mad. [P. C.] 185

Sch. II, Art. 109—Suit for meane profits of putni taluk sold under Reg. VIII of 1819 Art. 109 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) which prescribes a three years' rule of limitation is applicable to a suit for meane profits where possession of the property in suit, viz., a putni taluk, was obtained by the defendant under a sale held under Reg. VIII of 1819, which was subsequently set aside. SABAY RANJAN CHoudhury v. FRENCHARD CHoudhury (1917)

22 C. W. N. 263

Sch. II, Art. 110—When arrears become due—Limitation runs under Art 110 only from date when rent is ascertained by proceedings under Rent Recovery Act. In the case of rents recoverable under the provisions of the Rent Recovery Act, such rents become ascertained only when they have been ascertained by means of the procedure provided by the Act. In a suit brought by the tenants against their landlord for a declaration that the latter was not entitled to vary the terms of previous pattaas, judgment in favour of the tenants was given by the High Court in August 1902. Prior to that date the landlord had instituted summary suits under the Rent Recovery Act against the tenants to enforce acceptance of pattaas by them in respect of the same lands and the decision in those cases was given by the Sub-Collector in May 1904. The landlord tendered pattaas as directed in the summary suits and brought suits for rent within three years from the date of the summary decisions but more than three years from the date of the High Court judgment.—Held, in the circumstances, that the rent was ascertained and the arrears became due within the meaning of Art. 110 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act on the date of the judgment in the summary suits and not on the date of the Act on judgment of the High Court. Arumachalam Chelliar v. Kader Eswaran, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 555, distinguished. Pargayya Appa Rao v. Balas Srinivasulu, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 143, reversed. BYED GULAM GHOSIA SRA SAHIB v. SAHIB-UD-DIN PILLAI (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 428

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch. II, Arts. 110, 116—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 759

Suit to recover rent on a registered lease—Limitation. Held, that a suit for the recovery of rent based upon a registered lease, is governed as to limitation, not by Art. 116, but by Art. 110, of the Limitation Act, 1877. Ram Narain v. Kamla Singh, I. L. R. 26 All. 138, followed. JAGGI LAL v. SRI RAM (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 464

Sch. II, Arts. 113, 144—

See CHAKIDARI CHAKARAY LANDS.

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 173

Sch. II, Art. 116—

See CONTRACT I. L. R. 34 All. 429

See LEASE I. L. R. 40 Mad. 910

Sch. II, Art. 118—

See CUSTOMS I. L. R. 39 Calc. 418

Sch. II, Art. 120—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882, s. 103.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 31

See LIMITATION (8)

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 284

See LIMITATION (11)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 187

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 263

Vatan—Suit by reversioner for declaration as nearest heir—Widow of the last male holder—Vested right. The right to sue for a declaration of heirship to a vatan does not accrue until the death of the widow of the last male holder of the vatan, the widow having a vested interest in it as the nearest heir. RAVZI VALAD MAHADU v. SAKUZI VALAD KALOJI (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 321

Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Arts. 120, 123—Suit by widow of Mahomedan for share against son who got order for grant of letters of administration but did not take out same—“Representative”—Time from which limitation runs. Where on the death of a deceased Mahomedan, a contest amongst his heirs as to who should take out letters of administration was decided in favour of the defendant No. 1, but he did not furnish security and the order for grant of letters of administration was thus never completed. Held, that, if Art. 120 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act applied to a suit by one of the other heirs to recover her share from the defendant No. 1 who was in possession, limitation ran at the earliest from the date of the decision of the Appellate Court affirming his right to take out letters of administration. Quere The other members of the family of the deceased having also been joined as defendants, whether defendant No. 1 could be allowed to obtain for himself any advantage by urging that he never in fact became the legal representative of the deceased within Art. 123 of Sch. II of the Act, not having actually taken out letters of administration. FATMA ALI KHAN v. SITARA BACHAN (1910) 13 C. W. N. 10 from a sale of sale—Art 120 applicable—Absence of suit questioning attachment no bar to subsequent suit on sale. Though attachment of a person's land as if it belonged to another, gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit, but did not yet the sale of the same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within six years from the date of sale under Art. 120 of the Limitation Act. Though he might have sued after the attachment he was not bound to sue. The sale though held in pursuance of the attachment was not a necessary consequence of it. Robert Skinner v Shanker Lal I L R 31 All 10 (note) followed. PER CURIAM. The attachment gives the judgment-creditor certain rights in execution, but the title to the property continues in the owner notwithstanding the attachment and it so continues even if the owner's object on to the attachment be disallowed. Varasimha Rao v Gangaram, 18 Mad. L J 590 referred to. ANANTHARAO v NARAYANARAO (1913) I L R 36 Mad. 383

Attachment of wrong man's property—No suit filed—Subsequent sale of property under attachment—Fresh cause of action.

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II, Art. 120—contd

Suit by an executor for reimbursement, governed by—Rights of bono fide de facto trustees for bond fide expenses. A trustee of a public trust has a first charge on the trust properties for the purpose of reimbursing himself advances properly made for the trust and Art. 120 and not Art. 132 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) is the one applicable to a suit for recovery of monies so spent, and the right to sue does not accrue before the date on which he judicially declared to be no longer a lawful trustee (though it may well be that it does not accrue till he is dispossessed of the trust estate in pursuance of the judicial declaration). Pearry Mohun Mukerjee v Varendra Nath Mukerjee, I L R 37 Cal. 229, followed. The expenses of a suit in which a person posing himself to be a trustee unsuccessfully resists another's right to be the trustee cannot be allowed as a proper charge on the trust property. Obiter. The time occupied in defending such a suit as the rightful trustee when no counter claim is made therein for reimbursement of the expenses made by him but only a claim to remain in possession on for such expenses cannot be deducted in his favour under a 14 of the Limitation Act. Maharajah Jagatinder Bhawanee v Das Dayal Chatterjee, I W R 309 followed. ABRAHAM SAULIB v SORAN BIVI SAINA AMMAL (1913) I L R 38 Mad 260

Sch II, Arts 120, 127 144—Period of Limitation applicable to suit by Muhammadan to recover his share of his deceased wife's estate. Art 123 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877 applies only when the suit is for a share of an estate which it is the legal duty of the defendant to distribute. Umairatun Ali Khan v Mubayat Ali Khan I L R 29 All 169 followed. Where a Muhammadan dies intestate his estate at once vests in his heirs as tenants in common and there is no one charged by law with its distribution. In a suit by one of the heirs to recover his share, Art 123 of the Limitation Act does not apply. Azmi v Ayskhan, I L R 15 Mad 69, disavowed from. Art. 144 will apply in the case of immovables and Art 120 when the property sought to be recovered is moveable. Khadura Hajar Bai v R. Puthen Vettill Aiyasa Umman (1910) I L R 34 Mad. 511

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II, Arts 120, 125—Applicability of—Suit by one adopted later to set aside his maternal grandmother's alienation after her death—Attestation and ratification by next presumptive reversioners to a female's alienation, effect of. A Hindu widow sold the suit properties in 1881 and 1889 and died in 1899. Her daughter adopted the plaintiff in 1903 and he sued in 1907 to set aside the sales during the life-time of his adoptive mother. Held that (a) the suit was not barred, (b) Art. 120 and not 125 of the Limitation Act was applicable and (c) the cause of action for the plaintiff to question sales arose only from the date of his adoption when alone he became a reversioner. Of the two sales in this case, the first was assented to by the daughters and attested by the next male reversioner, the second was assented in by the daughters and in 1894 ratified by the then presumptive male reversioner. Held, that the plaintiff was estopped under the circumstances from questioning the sales as a reversioner. For the application of Art 125 of the Limitation Act, (a) the suit must be one brought during the life time of the alienating female and (b) the plaintiff must be the person entitled to the possession of the land if the female died at the date of the institution of the suit. Chirundu Pannamma v Chirundu Perazh, I L R 29 Mad 390, explained and distinguished. Gajjala Veerayya v Gajjala Gangamma, 1912, Mad W. N 912, Alinaksh Chandra Mazumdar v Harinath Shah, I L R 32 Cal 62 71, and Gowinda Pulai v Thayammal, I L R 23 Mad. 57, followed. PER SADAIVA ATYAR J. Consent to an alienation by the next reversioner and a ratification of past alienations stand on the same footing. Effect of attestation by a reversioner to a female alienation considered. NARAYANA v RAMA (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 396

Sch II, Arts. 120, 131—Right of tenant to sue in respect of excess collections arises on every occasion when excess collection is made—Art. 120 and not Art. 131 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act applies to such suits. A landlord had been collecting excess rents from his tenant from 1872. In respect of the excess collection made in October 1898 the tenant brought a suit in December 1909 for a declaration that the landlord was not entitled to collect such excess. Held, that the right to sue for such declaration arose on each occasion the excess was collected, that the period of limitation was six years from the date of collection under Art. 120 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act and that Art. 31 of the schedule did not apply to such suits. SRIKANT MADHABUSHT AGHAMMA v GORISETTI NARAYANASWAMY NAIDU (1909) I L R. 33 Mad. 17

Sch. II, Arts. 120, 132—
See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE.

I L R. 42 Cal. 1068

Second mortgages for surplus proceeds after sale by first mortgagee—Sale proceeds wrongfully withdrawn from Court in execution of decree on later mortgage suit for money—Suit to enforce mortgage—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, ss 214 and 295 cl. (c). Certain immovable property was mortgaged on 21st May 1897 to the appellants and on 18th September 1897 the same property was mortgaged by the same mortgagor to the respondents (the mortgage money being repayable on the 18th November 1898), and again on 19th July 1889 to the appellants. On 8th October 1890 the appellants, in a suit in which the respondents though made parties did not appear, obtained a decree on their mortgage of 21st May 1887 in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold; and after satisfying the decree the sale-proceeds were deposited in Court. On 14th January 1891 the appellants obtained a decree on their mortgage of 19th July 1889 in a suit to which they did not make the respondents parties, and in execution of that decree, without giving any notice to the respondents, they drew out of Court the surplus proceeds of the former sale, though they were aware of the respondents' mortgage of 19th September 1887, and of its priority to their own. In a suit brought on 17th November 1900 by the respondents against the appellants for the surplus sale-proceeds, it was contended that the suit was one for money governed by Art. 120 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877, and barred as not having been brought within 6 years from the 18th November 1888 when the money became due. Held (affirming the decision of a majority of a Bench of the High Court), that the suit was one "to enforce payment of money charged upon immoveable property" within the meaning of Art. 132 of Sch. II of the Act, and having been brought within 12 years from the date when the money became payable was not barred by limitation. The surplus sale-proceeds represented the security which the respondents had under their mortgage of 19th September 1887, and did not cease to represent that security by the fact of the appellants having wrongfully withdrawn the surplus sale-proceeds from the Court where they were deposited. Under the circumstances of the case a. 295, cl. (c) of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, was not applicable. BARHANDEO PRASAD v. TARA CHAND (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Arts. 120, 132—contd.

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 654

Sch. II, Arts. 120, 144—Suit by Mahomedan for partition of immoveable property governed by Art. 144 and not 120 Where a Mahomedan sues for partition of moveables and immoveables, his claim as regards immoveables falls within Art. 144 and not 120 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. SYED NOORDEEN SAHIB v. SYED ISRAHIM SAHIB (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 74

Sch. II, Art. 123—Suit to recover legacy—Legacy not assented to by executor—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881), s. 112—Mahomedan Law—Shiakh—Waf—Request for Gadi khum feast—Fattiah dinner—Valid bequest—Cy pres Art. 123 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act, 1877, applies to a suit where the substantial claim is to recover a legacy, even though not assented to by the executor, and whether or not the suit involves the administration of the whole estate. A Shiakh Mahomedan directed his executors by his will to spend a portion of the income of his property upon the following charitable or religious objects:—(i) the Gadi khum feast at Mecca; (ii) the Gadi feast at Rehmanpura in Surat; and (iii) a Fattiah dinner on the testator's and his wife's account. The Gadi feasts were to celebrate the appointment of Ali as successor of the Prophet. Held, that the first two bequests were valid, but the validity of the third bequest was doubtful. Kaleelulla Sahib v. Nur-uddeen Sahib, I. L. R. 13 Mad. 201, Zoolka Bibi v. Zyulfi Abedin, I. L. R. 6 Bom. L. R. 1088, and

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Art. 123—contd.

Biba Jan v. Kalb Husain, I. L. R. 31 All. 136, followed. Where the testator has indicated a general charitable intention in the bequest made by him and if these bequests fail, the Court can devote the property to religious or charitable purposes according to the cy pres doctrine. SALEBAH ANDUL KADER v. BAI SARIABU (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 111

Sch. II, Art. 124—

See SHEBAIT I. L. R. 39 Calc. 887See LIMITATION (25)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 244

Sch. II, Art. 126—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 126Sch. II, Art. 127—Joint property

—Exclusion of a co-parcener—Knowledge of exclusion—Decree by another excluded co-parcener for share by partition does not prevent time from running Certain joint family property was in the possession of some of the co-parceners (defendants Nos. 1 to 3), who began to hold it adversely to the remaining co-parceners from 1890. In 1895, defendant No. 5, one of the excluded co-parceners, sued all the co-parceners to recover his share in the property by partition. His share, which was one sixth in the property, was decreed to him in 1903, and he recovered possession of it in due course. In 1907, another of the excluded co-parceners brought a suit to recover his share by partition of the property. He sought to bring his suit within time by alleging that the possession of defendants Nos. 1 to 3 became adverse only after 1898. The lower Courts held that the plaintiff was excluded to his knowledge from enjoyment of the property from 1890, and that his suit was barred under Art. 127 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. On appeal—Held, by CHANDAVARKAR, J., that the decree of 1898 gave a sixth share to defendant No. 5, and left the remaining five-sixths untouched, the mutual relations of the defendants in the first suit with reference to their five-sixths having been left to continue as before, the property in their hands remained joint, and that the judgment and decree of 1898 did not disturb as between them the previous state of things and stop the limitation that had begun to run as against the plaintiff from 1890. Held, by BATCHELOR, J., concurring, that the finding of fact against the plaintiff that he was excluded to his knowledge from enjoyment of joint property by defendants Nos. 1 to 3 from 1890, was wholly independent of, and unaffected by, the decree of 1893 which only decided that the family and the property were joint and that the property was consequently partitionable. BASAJI AKORA v. DATTU LAJMAN (1912)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 64

Sch. II, Arts. 127, 142—A co-parcener in possession of joint lands on behalf of all co-parceners—Alienation by the co-parceners without knowledge of the rest—Adverse possession of his vendee Certain lands belonging to the joint family of plaintiff and defendant No. 1 were in the possession of defendant No. 1 on behalf of the family. In 1880, he alienated them to defendant No. 2 but retained in possession on executing a rent note in favour of the vendee. The plaintiffs brought a suit in 1906 to recover by partition their share in the lands. The defendant No. 2 pleaded in defence his adverse possession of the lands from 1880. Held that the possession by defendant No. 1 before the alienation being for himself and his co-parceners and being thus of a fiduciary character, it could not begin to be adverse to the co-parceners in the absence of intimation conveyed by him to them that he intended to exclude them. MALKAPPA V MUDKAPPA (1912)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II, Arts. 127, 142—contd

I L R 37 Bom 84

Sch II, Arts. 132, 147—

See LIMITATION I L R. 35 Mad. 191

Sch II, Arts. 131, 182—Cash allowance—Tashi—Arrears of cash allowance, suit to recover. The plaintiff the manager of the temple of Shri Laxmi Narayan Dev at Ilukkal sued to recover from the defendants the managers of the temple of Shree Madhukeshwar at Banawasi a sum of Rs. 90 as arrears of a cash allowance (tashik) which the former was entitled to receive from the property of the latter. The defendants admitted the title of the plaintiff to the allowance but pleaded limitation as to the arrears for two out of the six years. The lower Courts applied Art. 131 of the Limitation Act, 1877, and allowed the whole of the claim. On appeal, Held, that the claim was properly allowed. A cash allowance of the nature as in the present case is, according to Hindu law, nubandha or immovable property, where it is annually payable the right to payment gives to the person entitled a periodically recurring right as against the person liable to pay. The right to any amount which has become payable stands as to such person on the same footing as the aggregate of rights to amounts which are to become payable and which have become actually due. But where there are more than one person entitled to the payment as co-sharer and the payment is made to one of them by the person liable to pay, the co-sharer receiving the amount holds it, minus his share, on behalf of the rest as money had and received for their use, though as to him with reference to the aggregate of rights, it is nubandha or immovable property, in the nature of a periodically recurring right. The important question is who is the person sued and what is it that is sued for? If what is sued for is the establishment of a title to the right itself then Art. 131 applies, whether the defendant is the person originally liable to pay or is a co-sharer who has received payment from that person. If, on the other hand, what is sued for is the amount of arrears, which has become actually payable to the plaintiff, then there is a distinction between the person originally liable to pay and a co-sharer of the plaintiff, who has actually received payment from that person. Art. 131 applies in that case to the person originally liable to pay, and Art. 62 applies to the co-sharer who has received the payment. SAKHARAM HARI V LAKSHIPRITA TIRTHA SWAMI (1910) . I L R 34 Bom 349

Sch. II, Art. 133—

See MORTGAGE. I L R. 39 Calc 527

Sch. II, Arts. 132, 134, 148—

See MORTGAGE . 14 C. W N 439

Sch II, Arts. 132, 144—*Mortgage—Third person redeeming the mortgage at mortgagor's*LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II, Arts. 132, 144—contd

decrees—Sale by mortgagor of his rights—Sale-deed unregistered—Sale deed could be looked at for evidence of payment of money—Suit by mortgagor to redeem ignoring sale—Lienor's rights—Adverse possession by lienor—Registration Act (11 of 1877), s. 17—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s. 91. The plaintiff mortgaged certain property with possession with defendant No. 1 for Rs. 601 on the 4th April 1873. On the 25th November 1878 defendants Nos. 2 to 4 at the request of the plaintiff, paid off the mortgage to defendant No. 1, and for the sum so paid and for a further payment of Rs. 50, the plaintiff sold the property to defendants Nos. 2 to 4. The document as to the sale was not registered but ever since the purchase the defendants Nos. 2 to 4 were in possession as owners. In 1907, the plaintiff filed a suit to redeem the mortgage of 1873. The defendants Nos. 2 to 4 set up in reply the sale of 1878 and contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that the sale-deed being unregistered could not be looked at for proving the sale, but it could be looked at as evidence of payment of money. Mahadappa bin Danappa v Dori bin Bala, (1875), P J 249, and Waman Ramchandra v Dhondiba Krishnay, I L R 4 Bom. 126, followed. Held, further, that the redemption having been made by the defendants for the plaintiff with his knowledge and consent, they became entitled to hold the property as lienors and the plaintiff could not recover it from them without paying the amount of Rs. 601. Mahomed Shamsool v Shewkrum, L R 2 I A 17, followed. Held further, that the defendant's lien was alive for twelve years after 1878, that is, up to the year 1890 (Art. 132 of the Limitation Act of 1877), that when that period expired, the lien was gone and their possession after that was without any right; and that their title by adverse possession was perfected in 1902. Ramchandra Fashwant Sirpoldar v Sadaashibhai Sirpoldar, I L R. 11 Bom. 422, explained. Held, therefore, that the plaintiff's suit was barred by limitation. SANSHU BIN HANMANTA F NAMA BIN NARAYAN (1911) . I L R. 35 Bom. 428

Sch. II, Art. 134—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 38 Calc 526

Sch II, Arts. 134, 148—*Mortgage—Redemption by one mortgagor—Nature of possession—Subsequent sale under another mortgage decrees—Suit by another representative of mortgagor for redemption—Limitation G, in 1860, mortgaged certain property and died leaving a son, a daughter and a widow. The son obtained a decree for redemption of the whole, which was sold to M H, G M and A, who redeemed the mortgage. After the passing of this decree G's son and widow mortgaged certain shares in the villages affected by the original mortgage, and in 1891 these shares were sold in execution of a decree for sale and purchased by M H and the representatives of G M and A. Held on suit by the representative of G's daughter to redeem her share, that Art. 148 and not Art. 135 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, applied and the suit was not time barred. SATU UD DIX KHAN V. RATAN LAL (1909)*

I L R. 32 All. 160

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

Sch. II, Arts. 137, 142, 144—Adverse possession—"Defendant"—Successors but independent trespassers Plaintiffs purchased certain property at an execution sale on the 20th November 1891, the property being at the time of purchase in the possession of trespassers and formal possession was given to them on the 25th November 1892. In 1897 other persons, also trespassers, obtained possession of the property, against and not through the persons originally in possession. In 1908 the plaintiffs sued the second set of trespassers for possession. Held, that Art 144 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, applied and the suit was not time barred. Ram Prasad Janna v Lakh Narain Pradhan, 1 L R 12 Calc 197, followed. RAM LAKHAN RAI v GAJADHAR RAI (1910)

I L R. 33 All 224

Sch. II, Art. 139—

See GRANT . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 674

Lease of endowed land for a term by Mohunt—No rent paid for over 12 years after the expiry of lease—Successor of Mohunt, if may sue to recover possession. The Mohunt of a math granted a lease of land belonging to the math for a term which expired in 1880. It was found that no rent was ever paid since the expiration of the lease, more than 12 years after which the succeeding mohunt sued to recover the land from the successors of the lessee. Held, that the High Court was right in holding that the suit was barred under Art. 139 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877. MOHUNT BHAGWAN RAMANUJ DAS v RAM KRISHNA BOSH, [P C] 26 C W N. 722

Sch. II, Arts. 139, 144—Suits aga not representatives of deceased tenant governed by Art 139 and not 144 A suit against the representatives of a tenant after the determination of the tenancy to recover the property leased is governed by Art. 139 and not by Art 144 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. Such a suit would be barred against the representatives if it would be barred against the tenant if alive. Vadapalli Narasimham v Dronanarayana Seetharama Murthy 1 L R 31 Mad 163, 167 doubted. SUBRAVETI RAMIAH v GUNDALA RAMANNA (1909)

I L R. 33 Mad 260

Sch. II, Art. 141—Hindu law—Suit by reversioner for possession—Adverse possession by widow of predeceased son of last wife owner—Limitation A separated Hindu died leaving him surviving two widows and a daughter in law, the widow of his predeceased son. Upon the death of the survivor of the two widows the daughter in law took possession of the property and remained in possession thereof for more than twelve years, adversely to the reversioners. Held, on suit by the reversioners to recover possession, that their claim was time barred, their cause of action having commenced from the death of the survivor of the two widows of the last owner. Sham Koer v Dab Koer, L R 29 I A 132, referred to. GAJADHAR PANDE v PARBATI (1910)

I L R. 33 All 312

Sch. II, Arts. 142, 144—

See LIMITATION (39)

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 558

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Arts. 142, 144—contd.

See MUTT, HEAD OF

I. L. R. 33 Mad 316

Suit to recover possession—Dispossession—Discontinuance of possession—Possession as an agent of minors—Decree by the minors on attaining majority against the agent for possession of the property—Decree not executed and barred by limitation—Agent wrongfully dispossessed by a third person—Money decree against the original owners—Decree holder seeking to attach property—Adverse possession—Civil Procedure Code (Act XV of 1882), s. 283 A died in 1879 leaving behind him two minor sons R and D and a mistress A. The latter looked after the minors and managed their property. When they arrived at the age of majority they found that A claimed the property in her own right. In 1891, R and D sued A for the possession of the lands and obtained a decree on the 30th of August 1892 which was confirmed on appeal on the 15th June 1894. This decree was sought to be executed on the 26th June 1897, but the application was dismissed as barred by limitation. A was then wrongfully deprived of the possession of the property by I, who sold it to B in 1898. B mortgaged the property to E in 1900. In the same year, the plaintiff obtained a money decree against R and D and in execution of it he had an attachment placed on the property, but the attachment was removed in 1904 at the instance of B and E. In 1905, the plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that the property was liable to be attached and sold in execution of his decree against R and D. The defendants B and E contended that the suit was barred under Art. 142 of the Limitation Act, 1877, inasmuch as neither the plaintiff nor his predecessors in title R and D were in possession of the property within twelve years preceding the suit. Held that the suit having been brought by the plaintiff, under s. 283 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882, to establish his right to attach and sell the property in dispute as that of his judgment debtors R and D in execution of his money decree all that he had to prove was that on the date of attachment the judgment debtors had a subsisting right to the property and that the suit must, therefore, be tried as if it were a suit for possession by the judgment-debtor. Held also that as A's possession must be deemed to have begun in 1879 as that of half or agent for the minors R and D and to have continued as such until after they had arrived at the age of majority, and as there had never been any dispossession by A of R and D while they had been in possession, in a suit against A her plea of limitation would be decided by the application, not of Art. 142, but of Art. 144 of the Limitation Act, 1877. Morgan v Morgan, 1 All 459, followed. Taylor v Hyde, Sm. L C Vol II (10th Edn), 644, 645, followed. Lallubhai Bapubhai v Manikchand, 1 L R 2 Bom. 338, at p. 413, followed, and Dadoba v Krishna, 1 L R 7 Bom 34, followed. Held, further that though the decree for possession, obtained by R and D against A had become incapable of execution by reason of their failure to apply to the Court for its execution within the period prescribed by the law of limitation, the right established by it remained and though that right could not be enforced as against A by execution through the Court, the decree holders could enter by ousting any trespasser, A included. Bandu v. Daba, I. L. R. 15 Bom 238, followed.

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Arts. 142, 144—contd.

Held, therefore, that there having been no allegation of possession in B and D lost by dispossession or discontinuance of possession, but the case put forward having been a title in them established by their decree against A and a wrongful possession obtained from her after the decree by V under whom B and E claimed, the limitation applicable to the suit was that provided by Art. 144 not Art. 142 of the Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Fali, Abdulla v Bahay, Gungay, I L R 14 Bom 453, followed, and Gangayal Nagu Karal Mahira v Nago Dhaya Mahira, (1837) P J 242 followed. VASTUJO ARMAHAM JOSHI v KAVATH BALKRISHNA THIRU (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 79

Sole owner permitting another, under mistake to hold joint possession for more than 12 years—Suit to recover exclusive possession—Limitation—Consent—Act—quiescence—Estoppel—Mistake—Co-sharers, adverse possession as between—Unity of possession of tenants in common, consequences of Where A is the owner of an estate in which the disputed land is situated and A and B are joint owners in an adjoining estate, and the land in dispute has been held by A and B by mutual consent as part of their joint estate for a period of more than 12 years before suit in ignorance of their rights, limitation arises either by discontinuance of possession by A under Art. 142 or by adverse possession of B under Art. 144 of the Limitation Act. Vasudeva v Magusu, I. L. R. 24 Mad. 337, referred to. Per JENNINGS, C. J.—The mere fact of consent does not prevent possession being adverse. The test is whether the person who sets up adverse possession is able to show that he held for himself and if he did, the mere fact that there was acquiescence or consent on the part of the other person concerned would in circumstances like these make no difference. Purshottam v. Sagay, I L R. 23 Bom 37, referred to. Per CHAPMAN, J.—Art. 142 rather than Art. 144 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. DWARAKA NATH CHOWDHURY v ATUL SHIB BAKER JEE (1913)

Sch. II, Art. 144—

See HINDU LAW I. L. R. 34 Mad. 402

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 48 L. A. 197

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 617

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1877, ss. 17 AND 49

I. L. R. 47 Cal. 238

Summary Cases—In-effect in immovable property The right to levy summary costs, whether it originated in agreement or in unlawful exaction, is an interest in immovable property and is governed by twelve years' limitation under Art. 144 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). RANKMALSINGH v MAHADEWANKAR (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom 174

Adverse possession—

"Possession of the defendant," meaning of, if includes possession of—Defendant's lessee—Nature of adverse possession which can be set up—Effect of s. 3 The words "possession of the defendant" in Art. 144 cannot by reference to the definition in s. 3 be held to include the possession of another person, a co-defendant, still in possession under a different title. Padayras v. Ram Rao, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 160, distinguished. The adverse possession of a defendant must be of the same nature as that sought by the plaintiff and the defendant cannot set up his possession as a permanent lessee as adverse in a suit by the plaintiff for possession as proprietor. Umrannessa v Md. Yar Khan, I L R 3 All. 24, followed. Where the plaintiff brought a suit for possession of certain property purchased by him at an auction sale within 12 years from the date of sale, but after the expiry of 12 years brought the defendant appellant on the record on the ground that subsequent to the plaintiff's purchase he had been granted a permanent lease of the property by the original defendants, the previous owners who had wrongfully retained possession since the plaintiff's purchase. Held, that the defendant appellant was not entitled to add the period of his lessor's adverse possession to his own, in answer to the plaintiff's suit. LAHRI BIRSE v BEJOY CHAND MAHATAF (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Art. 144—contd.

17 C. W. N. 784

Possession of Hindu widow—Assertion, in public documents, of ownership—Questions decided on inferences from documents—Nature of possession of widow, whether in lieu of maintenance or adverse Where a question as to the nature and effect of the possession of property by a Hindu widow, i.e., whether the possession is only in lieu of her maintenance, and not adverse possession, is one decided by legal inferences drawn from documents, opinions of the courts, though concurrent, are not findings of fact and where wrong conclusions from such inferences have been formed they are open to be reversed by the Judicial Committee on appeal. When the widow asserted that she was entitled as full heir to the separate share held by her husband, when in a written statement in a suit brought against her she asserted that she and her co widow were the heirs of their husband and had all along been in possession, and it was only as an alternative pleading that she set up a title to possession as a right to maintenance, when in an application to the court she made an assertion publicly that she and her co widow were the heirs and the only heirs to the property, from which assertion mutation of it to her name followed, and when the widow made an absolute gift of part of the property—when she made such public assertions of a right to exclusive possession from 1859 to her death in 1895—the true inference was that her possession was adverse and the plaintiff's (respondent's) title was barred by limitation under Art. 144 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). SATOUR PRASAD v RAJ KISHORE LAL

I. L. R. 42 All. 152

Sch. II, Art. 146-A—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 6

Sch. II, Art. 148—Limitation—Suit for redemption—Mortgage by conditional sale—Specified period for redemption—Payment of mortgage debt within specified time—Accrual of cause of action. Ordinarily, and in the absence of a special condition entitling the mortgagor to redeem during the term for which the mortgage is created, the right of redemption can only arise on the expiration of the specified period. But there is nothing in law to prevent the parties from making a provision that the mortgagor may discharge the debt within the specified period, and take back the property. Such a provision is usually to the advantage of the mortgagor. The father of the plaintiff executed a mortgage by way of conditional sale on the 6th of January, 1830, in respect of 12 villages in favour of the predecessor in title of the principal defendant, and there was at the time of execution a contemporaneous agreement "that the sale would be cancelled on payment of the amount of consideration in nine years." In a suit brought on the 6th of January, 1899, for redemption the High Court held on the construction of the contract that the suit was not barred, as the right to redeem only arose on the expiry of the nine years. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that the case must be decided, not on the construction of the contract, but on the case made by the plaintiff on the pleadings, which was that she was entitled under the agreement to redeem the property within the period of nine years, and by the statement of account produced with the plaint which showed that the mortgage debt was actually satisfied under the contract on the 4th of September, 1838, and that being so, the right to redeem then accrued, and the whole suit was therefore barred, not having been brought within 60 years from that date (Art. 148 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, XV of 1877) BAKHTAWAR BEGAM v. HUSAINI KHANUM (1914)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd.*Sch. II, Art. 148—contd.

I. L. R. 36 ALL. 195

Sch. II, Art. 164—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I. L. R. 39 CALC. 506

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. II, ART. 164. I. L. R. 37 ALL. 597

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE.

I. L. R. 38 CALC. 394

Sch. II, Art. 170—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 234

I. L. R. 32 ALL. 404

Sch. II, Art. 178—

Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 15—Execution of decree—Limitation—Execution stayed by injunction In execution of a decree certain property was attached by the decree holder by means of an application made on the 8th of July 1904. Objection was taken to the attachment, which was disallowed on the 10th of March 1908. This was followed up on the 5th of April, 1905, by a declaratory suit against the decree-holder. An injunction was also granted on the 6th of April, 1905, whereby the sale of the property in suit was stayed. The suit terminated on the 26th of June, 1907, but the injunction lasted until January 1909. The next application for execution was made on the 14th of April, 1910. Held, that this last application was within time whether the Limitation Act of 1877 or that of 1908 applied. It was not relevant that the decree-holder might possibly have obtained execution of the decree against other property of his judgment-debtor. Dehors Lal Meher v. Jagannath Prasad, I. L. R. 28 ALL. 651, followed. GHULAM NASIR UD DIN v. HARDEO PRASAD (1912)

I. L. R. 34 ALL. 436

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd.

Sch. II, Arts. 178, 179—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), ss. 88, 89

I. L. R. 40 BOM. 321

Article 179 applies to initiate proceedings—Previous orders in execution, effect of, as res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), attachment under, when ceases, a question of intention—Erroneous order on a question of law, when res judicata Previous orders passed in execution and allowing execution on a construction of a decree, as to means profits or as to interest or the like have the force of res judicata, though the later application be in respect of a different subject matter. Thus if under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), attachment of several properties had been made, and more than three years after such attachment sale of some of those properties was ordered, the supposition that the attachment was then subsisting, that order to sell will act as res judicata when a subsequent application for sale is made within three years thereafter to sell other properties originally attached. Under the old Civil Procedure Code the question whether a particular attachment subsists at a certain time was a question of intention. Ram Krupal v. Rup Kuari, I. L. R. 6 ALL. 269, Venkatanarasimha Naidoo v. Papamma, I. L. R. 19 MAD. 54, and Sulbarama Ayyar v. Nagammal, I. L. R. 24 MAD. 633, followed. The rule that an erroneous decision on a question of law has not the force of res judicata does not apply to such a case. Palanippa Chethiar v. Savar Naidoo, 13 MAD. L. J. 548, and Mangalathammal v. Varayanasami Ayyar, I. L. R. 30 MAD. 461, distinguished. It is well established that an application intended to revive and carry through a pending execution is not covered by Art. 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) as it is not an application to initiate a new execution. Qamar-ud-din Ahmed v. Jawahir Lal, I. L. R. 27 ALL. 334, and Suppa Reddier v. Arudas Ammal, I. L. R. 28 MAD. 50, followed. The right to apply to continue execution in such cases accrues from day to day and will not be barred until three years have elapsed after the proceedings have ceased to be pending. So the application is not barred under Art. 178 either. Chalavadi Kotiah v. Paloor Alimelammal, I. L. R. 31 MAD. 71, followed. SUBBA CHARAN v. MUTHUVERAN PILLAI (1913)

I. L. R. 36 MAD. 553

Sch. II, Art. 179—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 33 ALL. 264

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 40 ALL. 407

1. —Application against one judgment-debtor if saves limitation against other—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 215. An application for execution which conforms to the requirements specified in ss. 235, 236, 237, and 238 of the Civil Procedure Code and on which the Court permits execution is an application "in accordance with law" within the meaning of Art. 179 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877. Where a decree was for possession against one set of defendants, for possession through tenants against another set of defendants, and for costs and means profits against all the defendants and an application was made for execution of so much of the decree as related to costs against some of the defendants, but not against the others Held that a subsequent application for execution of the unsatisfied portion of the decree against those defendants against whom the previous application was not directed is not barred, if made within three years of the previous application. BARODA KANKAR CHOW DUTTA : NARIN CHANDRA DUTTA (1909)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— Sch. II, Art 179—contd

14 C W N 465

2. — Application for execution in accordance with law—Decree—Execution—Execution made conditional upon payment of Court fees—Application for execution without payment—Dismissal—Second application with payment A decree was passed on the 30th June 1900 whereby partition of immovable property was ordered but the execution of the decree was made conditional on the payment of the proper Court fees. On the 28th June 1903 an application to execute the decree was made but it was dismissed as it was not accompanied by payment. A second application to execute the decree was presented on the 27th June 1906 it was accompanied by payment. The lower Courts dismissed it on the ground that it was time barred inasmuch as the first application made in 1903 was not one in accordance with law as required by Art. 179 of Sch. II to the Limitation Act 1877. Held that the first application was made in accordance with law for upon that application it was competent for the Court to order that the execution should begin on the Court fees being paid within a certain date. Held, further, that the second application was within time. Per CURRIE. An application for execution of a decree to be in accordance with law must ask for something within the decree and not outside it. NATHUBHAI BASANDAS v. PRANJIVAN LALCHAND (1909) I L R. 34 Bom 189

3. — Application for execution returned for amendment of formal defect—Application amended but not filed within time allowed and registered—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch. II, Art 179 Where an application for execution of a decree made in proper form under a 235 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) was returned by the Court for supplying within 10 days the necessary extracts from the Collector's register under a 238 regarding certain shares of a revenue-paying mouzah and a correct valuation of this and other properties sought to be attached but the application was not refiled till long after the expiry of the 10 days and some days after the period of limitation expired, and the decree holder along with the application filed a petition explaining the delay and it was registered: Held that the previous application which was returned was a step taken in aid of execution, such as would save the amended application from being barred by limitation. Gopal Shah v. Janki Koer, I L R 23 Cal 217, distinguished and explained. Asgar Ali v. Troilys Nath Ghose, I L R 17 Cal 631, Ajajal Ali v. Ram Singh I L R 7 All 329, Jivraj Dube v. Kish Charan Ram, I L R 20 All 478, Gopal Chandra Manas v. Gopin Das Koley, I L R 25 Cal 394, referred to. That the decree holder's application to the Collector for the extracts from the Collector's register was itself a step in aid of execution. Proper scope of a 245 of the Code indicated. MATHURA PRASAD v. ANURAG ROY (1910) 14 C. W. N. 481

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— Sch. II, Art. 179—contd

4. — Rejected application for adjournment to prove service of notice—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 248 An application for adjournment to enable decree holder to adduce evidence of service of notice under s 248, Civil Procedure Code, is an application made in order to obtain from the Court an order in furtherance of the execution of the decree. Such an application, even though it is refused, is a step in aid of execution. MOWAR NARISING DATAL SINGH v. MOWAR HAJI CHARAN SINGH (1909) 14 C W. N. 488

5. — Applications for execution presented by assignees of decree-holder—Dismissal of the application for non production of assignment deed A decree was passed on the 12th October 1894 and an application to execute it was made by the decree holder on the 16th August 1897. The process fee not having been paid the application was struck off. The second application to execute the decree was presented on the 16th August, 1900, by the assignees of the decree holder but as he did not produce the assignment the application was struck off on the 27th October 1900. The third application was presented by a mukhtar of the assignee on the 11th August 1903 but as neither the assignment nor the mukhtarnama was produced it was struck off on the 9th October 1903. The same mukhtar presented a fourth application on the 19th December 1903. A notice was issued to the judgment debtor under s 248 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) and the application was disposed of, the decree holder agreeing to accept a payment of Rs 45 from the judgment-debtor. On the 11th December 1908 the fifth application to execute the decree was filed. The lower Courts holding that the second and third applications could not be regarded as applications for execution made in accordance with law, dismissed the fifth application as barred by the law of limitation. Held, that the present application was not barred, for the non production of the mukhtarnama and the assignment did not prove that they did not exist in fact. Abdul Majid v. Muhammad Farzullah, 13 All 89 followed. VINAYAK VAMAN v. ANANDA VALAD RAMJI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 68

6. — Application to certify payment made out of Court—Although a decree under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882, may not be capable of adjustment under a 237A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882 yet where the parties had professed to make such an adjustment, and the judgment debtor having paid certain instalments of the decretal money, the decree holder had applied to the Court to have such payments certified under a 238 of the Code, it was held that such applications operated to keep the decree alive, although at the time there might have been no application for execution actually pending. Sujan Singh v. Hira Singh, I L R 12 All 339, followed. Tarun Das Bandopadhyay v. Bishtoo Lal Mukhopadhyay, I L R 12 Cal 608, referred to. CHHOTAY SINGH v. ISHWARI (1910)

I L R 32 All 257

7. — Withdrawal of informal application if it is—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 232, 235—Retransfer of assigned decree to decree holder Where a decree holder

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—Sch. II, Art. 179—contd.

applied for execution of a decree and withdrew the application on the objection of the judgment debtors that the decree had been transferred to a third person who had retransferred it to the decree holder and that therefore the execution could not proceed—Held, that the application was a step in aid of execution and saved limitation Gopal Sah v. Janaki Koor, I. L. R. 23 Calc 217, distinguished. MUSARAF ALI v. AMIR JAV BIBKE (1910) 15 C. W. N. 71

8. —Applications when not "in accordance with law"—The plaintiff obtained a decree against the defendants. He sought to execute the decree by filing six darkhasts all within time. The lower Court held that the sixth darkhast was not filed in time, for the first five darkhasts could not be taken into consideration for purposes of limitation as they were not in "accordance with law" because every one of them sought relief or reliefs which on considering the merits of the darkhasts, the Court could not have granted. On appeal Held, that the darkhast in question was in time, for the first five darkhasts were "in accordance with law" as each one of them claimed relief granted by and therefore within the decree and the question whether on a consideration of all the facts the Court could in the events that had happened grant the relief was only a question for trial on the merits BANDU KIRSHNA v. NARA SINGHA (1912) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 42

9. —Application for time to obtain copies—required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) In the course of proceedings to execute a decree, the decree-holder filed an application for time to obtain certified copies of extracts required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882. The second application to execute a decree was filed more than three years after the date of the first application, though it was within three years of the date of the application for time. It was sought to bring the second application within time by relying on the application for time as a step-in-aid of execution. Held, that the second application to execute the decree was presented in time, for the application for time to obtain certified copies required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882, was a step-in-aid of execution SHESHADASACHARYA v. BHIMACHARYA (1912) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 317

10. —Mortgagor's petition for declaration of insolvency—Opposition by mortgagee judgment-creditor—Step-in-aid of execution—Limitation. An application by mortgagee judgment-creditor in execution of his decree, opposing the insolvency proceeding of the mortgagor judgment-debtor, is a step-in-aid of execution under Art. 179, Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and Art. 182, Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). LAXMIRAM LALLCHAI v. BALASWAMY VENIRAM (1914) I. L. R. 39 Bom. 20

11. —Application, oral, for adjournment. An application to take a step-in-aid of execution under Art. 179 of the Limitation Act need not be in writing Amir Singh v. Tula, I. L. R. 3 All 139, and Moneklal Jagann v. Nana Buddha, I. L. R. 15 Bom 405, followed. An application by the decree holder for an adjournment to enable him to produce records or evidence necessary to effectively conduct the execution proceedings further is an application to get an order in aid of execution. Sheshadasacharya v. Bhimacharya, 14 Bom L R 1204, Haridas Narayan v. Vishaldas Khandas, I. L. R. 36 Bom 638, Palam Singh v. Tota Singh, I. L. R. 29 All 301, and Kunhi v. Seethagiri, I. L. R. 5 Mad 141, referred to ABDUL KADER ROWTHEN v. KRISHNAN MALAYAL NAIR (1913) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 695

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—Sch. II, Art. 179—contd.

—Sch. II, Arts. 179, 180—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF

I. L. R. 38 All 350

See REVIVAL

I. L. R. 43 Calc 903

1. —Sch. II, Art. 180—An order in Privy Council affirming a decree of the High Court includes the directions in such decree, an application to enforce any such direction is in point of law an application to execute the order to the whole of which Art. 180 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act is applicable KAMINI DEBI v. AGHORN NATH MUKHERJEE (1909) 14 C. W. N. 357

2. —'Revival' of decree, what is—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), s. 248, notice under—No revival where notice not issued. Where on an application for execution of a decree more than one year old, order for execution was issued without the notice to the judgment debtor required by s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882, such order for execution does not 'revive' the judgment within the meaning of Art. 180 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877. It is only where such notice has been issued that the judgment or decree is 'revived' DESSOO V. KATESA PERUNAL CHETTY v. SHIVASAYA RANGA ROW (1909) I. L. R. 33 Mad. 187

3. —Execution of decree—Limitation—Terminus a quo—Order of His Majesty in Council dismissing an appeal for want of prosecution an affirmation of the decree appealed from. An order of His Majesty in the Privy Council dismissing an appeal for whatever cause is in effect an affirmation of the Court below and is the only order in the litigation capable of enforcement. Where, therefore, an appeal to His Majesty in Council from a decree passed by the High Court for sale on a mortgage was dismissed for want of prosecution, it was held that limitation in respect of an application by the decree holder for an order absolute for sale was governed by Art. 180 of the Second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, time running from the date of the order of His Majesty in Council. Tassandur Rasool Khan v. Kashi Ram, I. L. R. 25 All 109, and Oudh Behari Lal v. Nageshwar Lal, I. L. R. 13 All 278, referred to Byro Doss Gossain v. Chunder Sekur Bhutacharyjee, 7 W R 621, distinguished ABDUL MAJID v. JAWAHIR LAL (1910) I. L. R. 33 All 154

LIMITATION ACTS XV OF 1877 AND IX OF 1908—

—Comparative Statement.—

The sections of the 1877 Act correspond to the same sections in the 1908 Act except the following—section of the 1908 Act Corresponding section in the 1877 Act.

2	.	.	.	3
3	.	.	.	4
4	.	.	.	5, para. 1.
5	.	.	.	5, paras 2, 5 A.
6	.	.	.	7
7	.	.	.	8

LIMITATION ACTS (XV OF 1877 AND IX OF 1908)—contd.

Comparative Statement—contd.

Section of the 1908 Act	Corresponding section in the 1877 Act.
8	7 last clause
21 (1)
21 (2)	21
29 (1) (a)	2 latter part
29 (1) (b)	6
29 (2)	1 (a)
30 31
32

Article in the First Schedule of the 1908 Act.	Corresponding Article in the Second Schedule of the 1877 Act.
--	---

11 (1)	11
11 (2)
11 A	11
33
34	33
35
161	160 A
162	161
163	163 A
164	165 A
165	165 B 175 C
166	166
167	177
168	168
169	169
170	169
171	169
172	169
173	169
174	169
175	169
176	169
177	169
178	169
179	169
180	169
181	169
182	169
183	169

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 40 Mad. 316

inapplicability of, to insolvency proceedings—

See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS IN

I L R 39 Mad. 74

Cause of action No thing in the Limitation Act can give rise to a cause of action unless a right to sue exists independently of its provisions. BRUNN SINGH v A. W. N. WYATT (1911). 16 C W N 540

s. 2—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH

I ART 124 I L R. 41 Mad. 4

s. 2 and 5—

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 484

s. 2 (8), Sch I, Art 144—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R. 49 Calc 173

s. 3—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 23

I L R. 38 Bom 341

Amendment—

Amendment of plaintiff after expiry of limitation—Zamindari property—Incorrect statement of extent of share claimed—In a suit for pre-emption under the Muhammadan law of a zamindari share it was found that the necessary conditions of the Muhammadan law had been fulfilled but, there being some doubt as to the exact share sold, the plaintiff

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

s. 3—contd.

had specified it in his plaint as 15 bismas, when in fact it amounted to 17 bismas. Held, that, it was well in the competence of the Court to allow the plaintiff to amend his plaint so as to claim the larger share even after the period of limitation for the suit had expired. MUHAMMAD SADIQ v ANDER MAJID (1911). I L R. 33 All 616

Question of limitation, if may be considered for the first time in appeal. The Court can, under s. 3 take notice of the question of limitation although it has not been taken up in the Courts below. NARASINGHA BABA GOWDAM v KOLHADMAN THOARI (1918). 22 C W N 984

s. 3, 4 and 14—Filing suit in a wrong Court on the day of its re-opening after recess—Effect of—Meaning of limitation during recess—Effect of—Meaning of prosecution in s. 14—Court in s. 4 meaning of According to s. 14 of the Limitation Act it is only the period during which a suit is actually prosecuted in a wrong Court that can be excluded in favour of a plaintiff but not the period before the filing of the suit though the Court was then closed for recess. So if the period of limitation for the suit expired during the period of recess of the wrong Court wherein the suit was filed on the day of its re-opening the suit must be held to be barred. It is only the period of closing of proper Court in which the suit must be instituted that can be taken account of under s. 4. Abhoja Churn Chuckerbutty v Gour Mohun Dutt & B R 1906 followed. Per STRECHER, J.—Although the word Court in s. 4 is not qualified by the adjective proper as it is in other parts of the Act, it would not be reasonable to take account of the closing and re-opening of any other Court in which the suit was originally instituted. Per CURRIE. According to s. 3 the concessions awarded by the different sections of the Limitation Act are independent and cumulative. See MIRA MOHIDEW ROWTHEN v NALLAPERUMAL PILLAI (1913). I L R. 36 Mad. 131

s. 3 to 25 29 (1) (b)—

See LIMITATION I L R. 46 Calc 199

s. 37, Sch I, Art 142—Minor—Representative re—Death of the minor after majority but pending disability—Right of personal representative to sue—Limitation. Where a minor acquired a cause of action to sue for possession of property and died within three years after attaining majority his personal representative can, although twelve years have expired since the cause of action accrued, institute a suit on the same cause of action at any time within the three years period which had already commenced in the lifetime of deceased. In such a suit the deceased must be included in the terms plaintiff for the purpose of Art 142 for according to s. 3 of the Limitation Act plaintiff includes any person from or through whom the plaintiff derives his right to sue. ABDUL RAHMAN v RAMANATH (1916). I L R. 40 Bom 564

s. 3, Arts 120 132—

See LIMITATION I L R. 46 Calc 455

s. 3, Art. 177—

See APPEAL, ABATED PET OF

I L R. 34 Mad. 292

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s. 4—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 38 Bom. 656
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 127

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1903), s. 192 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 295

General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 10—Pre-emption—Time for payment of pre-emptive price not to be extended beyond period fixed by decree. Held, that neither s. 4 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, nor s. 10 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, applies to the payment of money payable by the successful plaintiff under a decree for pre-emption. HERN NARAIN v. ALAM SINGH (1918) I. L. R. 41 All. 47

ss. 4 and 5—

See LIMITATION (43)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 412

ss. 4 and 23—

See MORTGAGE DECREE.
3 Pat. L. J. 478

ss. 4 and 14—Suit for dower—Period of limitation expiring during Christmas holidays—Suit filed in a Subordinate Judge's Court, on its Small Cause side on the re-opening day—plaint returned for want of jurisdiction on the Small Cause side—Plaint presented as an Original Suit in the same Court on its regular side—Limitation, bar of Where the period limited for the institution of a suit for dower expired on a day when the Court was closed for the Christmas holidays, and the suit was instituted on the re-opening day as a Small Cause suit in the Court of a Subordinate Judge on its Small Cause side and on the plaint being returned after some days for want of jurisdiction it was filed on the next day in the same Court as an original suit and the defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that the time during which the suit was pending on the Small Cause side of the Court and which the plaintiff was allowed to deduct under s. 14 of the Limitation Act could not be tacked on to the period during which the Court was closed, under s. 4 of the Act, so as to save the bar of limitation. UNMATHU v. PATTUMMA (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 817

s. 4, Arts. 74, 75, 80 and 120—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 38 Mad. 374
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 412

s. 4 and seq—

not applicable to Letters Patent appeals—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 2 Lah. 127

s. 5—

6 Pat. L. J. 625
See APPEAL I. L. R. 1 Lah. 508
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 433

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908
O XXII, r. 9 I. L. R. 42 All. 540
XLI, r. 1 I. L. R. 43 All. 660

See COURT FEES ACT, ss. 4, 6, 28.
3 Pat. L. J. 74

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 44 I. A. 218
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 94
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 412

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 5—contd

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), ss. 22, 36 and 52.

I. L. R. 35 All. 410

See SECOND APPEAL I. L. R. 2 Lah. 1.

1. ——— Miscalculation of time by pleader—Appeal rejected—Discretion, exercise of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 2—“Decree,” meaning of A bond fide mistake committed by a pleader in calculating the period of limitation may constitute a “sufficient cause” within the meaning of s. 5 of the Limitation Act. Whether the miscalculation does constitute a sufficient cause in any particular case must be decided by the Court having regard to all the facts and circumstances of that case. Where the Appellate Court refused to admit an appeal presented out of time because according to its view of the authorities a miscalculation by a pleader of the period of limitation was not a “sufficient cause” for not presenting the appeal in time within the meaning of s. 5 of the Limitation Act. Held, that the decision could be reviewed on appeal as there was no exercise of discretion by the Court. It is neither necessary nor desirable that any attempt should be made to find precisely and exhaustively the meaning of the expression “sufficient cause” which should receive a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice when no negligence, nor inaction, nor want of bond fide, is imputable to the appellant. RAKHAL CHANDRA GHOSH v. ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1913) 17 C. W. N. 507

2. ——— Provisional admission to file in the absence of respondent—Preliminary objection taken by the respondent at the hearing—Entertainment of the question—Appeal dismissed with all costs—Second appeal A time barred appeal having been provisionally admitted to the file in the absence of the respondent and at the hearing the respondent having taken a preliminary objection that the appeal was presented beyond time, the Court allowed the objection and dismissed the appeal with all costs on the appellant. On further appeal by the appellant Held, that there being no sufficient cause as a matter of law for extending the time under s. 5 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), there was no objection to the question being entertained after the provisional admission of the appeal to the file in the absence of the respondent. Held, further, that the appeal against the order dismissing the appeal was a second appeal and not a first appeal because it was an appeal against the decree of an Appellate Court. RAOJI v. KRISHNARAO (1914) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 813

3. ——— Application for substitution of names filed beyond time—Procedure S. 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, does not apply to an application made under O XXII, r. 4, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Where, therefore, such an application is made after time, the suit or appeal must be declared to have abated, and the remedy for the plaintiff or appellant is to proceed by application under O. XXII, r. 9. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. JAWAHAR LAL (1914) I. L. R. 36 All. 235

4. ——— Death of party pending judgment—Legal representatives not brought on record—Minority of one of the appellants—Diligence of the guardian—Excuse of delay—Sufficient cause, a question of discretion. S filed a suit against G in the Subordinate Judge's Court. G died after the hearing of the suit, but before delivery of judgment. The judgment was pronounced on the 3rd July 1913 against G. On the 2nd October 1913 G's widow R filed an appeal to the District Court on behalf of her two sons D and B, of whom B was major but D a minor. The appeal was found to be beyond time by fifty days. The question being raised whether there was a sufficient cause for excuse of delay in favour of the minor appellant. Held, that there was no sufficient cause as B and B, the adult relatives of the minor, who were concerned to prosecute the litigation in their own interests and in the interest of the minor were negligent, remiss and careless. DABU GAYESH v. SITARAM MAHTAND (1916)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

I L R. 41 Bom. 15

5 ——— Time taken by instructions review—Laches—Court's discretion if should be fettered by rules. The time taken by the appellant in an infructuous application for review will not be excluded if the grounds of review were only grounds of appeal, nor does a mere routine order registering an application for review constitute the bona fide prosecution of a civil litigation. The discretion of the Appellate Court to admit appeals filed out of time on cause shown ought not to be crystallised into definite rules so as to fetter that discretion. Held, in the circumstances of the present case, that the appeal should be registered. SUDHAKAR RAUT v. SADASHIVA JHATAP SINGH (1913) 19 C W N 1113

6 ——— Discretion of Court—Barrister—Liability for negligence. Held, that an appeal will lie on the question of limitation where the lower Appellate Court in admitting the appeal to it under s. 5 of the Indian Limitation Act has not exercised a judicial discretion. The mere fact that the papers of the case and a fee of some sort had been left with a legal practitioner in order that he might file an appeal, but that he had not done so and had returned the paper only after the expiry of the period of limitation, would not be in itself a sufficient ground for admitting an appeal 37 days beyond time. Per RICHARDS, C. J. Semble, that if an advocate who is a barrister or other professional gentleman receives and accepts instructions to file an appeal or make an application and the client loses his right to appeal or make the application as the result of the negligence of the barrister or practitioner to file the appeal or application within time, such barrister or vakil would be liable to his client in a Court of law. BRIDHU v. DIWAN (1915)

I. L. R. 37 All 287

7. ——— Stamp not obtainable on last day of limitation—The appellant filed an appeal on the 15th July. The period of limitation for filing the appeal had expired on the 15th July and on that day the appellant had filed an affidavit before the appellate Court, stating that he could not get a stamp. The next day was a holiday. Held, that the delay should have been excused under the Limitation Act, 1908, s. 5. MAHARAJAN KESHO PRASAD SINGH SAHARU v. HANNAK RAUT. 1 Pat. L. J. 163

8. ——— Presentation of Appeal in wrong Court—Appeal subsequently presented in proper Court—Excuse of delay—Sufficient cause—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Good faith—Acting on advice of pleader—Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869), s. 16. An Assistant Judge having dismissed a suit in which the claim was valued at Rs. 218, the plaintiff relying on the advice of his pleader filed an appeal in the High Court. The appeal was eventually returned to the plaintiff for its presentation to the District Court, where it was presented long after the prescribed time. The District Judge refused to excuse the delay in presenting the appeal, as he was of opinion that the plaintiff had no sufficient cause since the question as to which Court the appeal lay was not involved in any doubt. The plaintiff having appealed. Held, that the plaintiff had under the circumstances shown sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal in time, since in acting upon the advice of his pleader he was to be regarded as having acted in good faith. Dada-bhai v. Maneksha (1896). 21 Bom. 552, explained, Ham Rao Jambhakar v. Prabhadas Subkarn (1895) 20 Bom. 133, referred to. DATTATRAYA SITARAM v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920) I. L. R. 43 Bom. 607

9 ——— Amendment of decree—Appel—Limitation. Where a decree has been amended and an appeal is filed against the amended decree which is prima facie barred by limitation, it is not in every case that the appellant can pray in aid the provisions of section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. He cannot do so, for instance if his appeal does not attack the amended decree or raise some question connected with the amended decree. Amar Chandra Akunda v. Asud Ali Khan I L R, 32 Cal., 595 Brojo Lal Rai Choudhury v. Tara Prasanna Bhattachary, 3 C L J, 183 and Kalu v. Lahu, I L R, 21 Cal., 259, referred to. GAJADHAR SINGH v. BASANT LAL. I. L. R. 43 All. 380

10 ——— Appeal—Presentation—Vakalatnamah—Vakalatnamah duly accepted, but name of pleader not filled in the body of the document. Two pleaders filed an appeal on behalf of their client; but after they had done so it was discovered that their vakalatnamah, though duly accepted by both, did not contain their names in the body of the document. Thereupon a fresh vakalatnamah was filed, with a petition by the client stating the facts and praying that the memorandum of appeal might be taken as having been presented in the date of the filing of the fresh vakalatnamah and the delay excused under the powers conferred by section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. The court nevertheless dismissed the appeal. Held, that the lower appellate court was wrong in not admitting the appeal under section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. And quære whether a vakalatnamah duly accepted by a pleader should be regarded as of no validity because by an oversight the pleader's name has been omitted from the body of the document. Muhammad Ali Khan v. Jas Ram, I L R, 36 All. 46, referred to. SHAMRUP NATH v. RADHI DAS I. L. R. 43 All. 392

11. ——— An admission of a time-barred appeal subject to any objection that may be taken subsequently is irregular. MO. ABDUL KARIM v. CHATURBHAY SAHAY 6 Pat. L. J. 444

— ss. 5, 12—Sufficient cause—Interference by High Court in second appeal—The time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree, what is. It is now settled by a long string of authorities that where a Court after considering all the circumstances of the case has come to the conclusion that sufficient cause has or has not been established within the meaning of s. 5 of the Limitation Act for not filing an appeal within time, the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. Where a judgment was passed on 27th September 1913 and the decree was prepared and signed on the same day and the annual vacation began on the following day and the Court reopened on 1st November and the appellants applied for a copy of the judgment on 3rd November and for a copy of the decree on 13th November and both copies were ready and were delivered on 21st November and the appeal was filed on 28th November in the lower Appellate Court. Held, that the whole of the time which elapsed from the delivery of the judgment to the reopening of the Court on November 1st 1913, was part of the time requisite for obtaining copies of the judgment and decree, and that this must be so whether the appellant applied for copies on the day on which the Court reopened or on some later date. The words of s. 12, Limitation Act, do not appear to lay down any rule that the time requisite for obtaining a copy must be continuous. DENI CHARAN LAL v. SHEIKH MEHDI HUSSAIN (1916)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.— ss. 5, 12—contd.

20 C. W. N. 1303

— ss. 5, 12, 29—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s. 48, CL. (3)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 593

— ss. 5, 12 and Art. 161—

See LIMITATION (67) 23 C. W. N. 553

— ss. 5, 12 ; Sch. I, Art. 179—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 766

See LETTERS PATENT

1 Pat. L. J. 485.

— ss. 5, 14 ; Sch. I, Art. 178—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), SCH. II, CLS. 17 AND 20

I. L. R. 38 All. 85

— ss. 5, 14—

See LIMITATION

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 94

1. — Delay—Sufficient cause—Review—Strict proof, meaning of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XLII, r. 4, sub cl (2) (b). The plaintiff a Mahomedan lady, applied for review of the judgment of the First Class Subordinate Judge, A. P., at Sura. Her appeal was dismissed by the Judge on October 8, 1915. The application for review was made on January, 5, 1916, to the District Judge, Surat. This application to that Judge was irregular as before that the plaintiff had filed a second appeal to the High Court on November 10, 1915. After the withdrawal of the second appeal on March 29, 1916, the application of January 5, 1916, was transferred by the District Judge for disposal to the First Class Subordinate Judge. It was dismissed as being not properly made under O XLVII, r. (1) of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, to the Judge who passed the decree in appeal. The plaintiff, therefore, presented another application to the LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.— ss. 5, 14—contd.

Subordinate Judge on May 6, 1916. On it being contended that it was barred by limitation Held, that the plaintiff had shown sufficient cause for excuse of delay under ss. 5 and 14 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Per BATHUR, Ag. C. J.—By 'strict proof' in O XLVII, r. 4, sub cl (2) (b), Civil Procedure Code, 1908, is meant anything which may serve directly or indirectly to convince a Court and has been brought before the Court in legal form and in compliance with the requirements of the law of evidence. The words are not that the absence of negligence shall be 'conclusively established' or even satisfactorily proved. What is required is that there be strict proof of this absence of negligence on the record and the phrase 'strict proof' refers to the formal correctness of the evidence offered, not to its effect or result. If the record does contain such strict proof, that is to say, such formal admissible evidence, it shall be for the trial Court only to assess its sufficiency. And Khondiar v. Mahendra Lal De, I. L. R. 42 Calc. 830, 837, approved. Bat NEMATHU v. Bat NEMATULLAH (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 295

2. — Bona fide prosecution of proceeding in wrong Court, if sufficient ground for extending time for filing appeal. An appeal against the decision of a Munsif was filed within time in the Court of the District Judge and a question being raised as to which was the proper Court of Appeal the District Judge took time to consider it and ultimately determined that under the notification of the High Court the Subordinate Judge's Court was the proper Court and returned the appeal which was on the same day filed in the latter Court. The Subordinate Judge rejected the appeal as time barred. Held, that although s. 14 of the Limitation Act was inapplicable to appeals the principle of that section has been recognised by Courts as applicable to appeals in this sense that the bona fide prosecution of a proceeding in a wrong Court has been regarded as a proper ground or as sufficient cause within the meaning of s. 5 of the Limitation Act for extending the time for filing an appeal. RIPA THAKURANI v. KUMUDNATH KARMAKAR (1918)

22 C. W. N. 594

— ss. 5 and 15—Appeal—Security for costs—Decree obtained by appellant accepted as security—Whether limitation runs during the period in which the appeal is pending

Where a plaintiff whose suit had been dismissed by the High Court appealed to the Privy Council, and offered as security for the respondent's costs in that appeal a decree which he had obtained against the latter in another suit; Held, that the acceptance of the decree as security did not amount to an order by the Court that execution of the decree should not proceed pending the disposal of the appeal to the Privy Council and that, therefore, the period between the dismissal of the suit by the High Court and date on which the application for execution of the decree was filed could not be excluded under s. 15 of the Limitation Act, 1908. The period of limitation cannot be extended by express agreement between the parties nor, can it be extended by an agreement to be implied from circumstances such as those of the present case. In the absence of any rule or enactment making s. 5 of the Act applicable to an application execution

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

section of a decree the section does not apply to such an application MIDRAFUR ZIMINDARY CO. v THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF MANBUH

3 Pat. L. J. 132

ss 5-18—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), ss 148 AND 115 4 Pat. L. J. 428

s 5 and Art 156—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (1885), ss 105 AND 107 5 Pat. L. J. 472

s. 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 230 I L R 37 Mad 188

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 48 I L R 37 All 638

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT s 6, CL. (c). 15 C. W. N. 845

Purchaser from minor. The view that the plaintiff having purchased the property from a minor has got by the assignment the rights of a person under disability under s. 6 of the Indian Limitation Act cannot be supported after the decision of the Full Bench in the case of Rudra Cant v Nobokasore I L R 9 Cal 663 BHAGARAN CHANDRA KAITBARTA DAS v ISHAN CHANDRA KAITBARTA DAS (1918) 22 C. W. N. 831

ss. 8, 7—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O XXXIV, BR 4, 5 AND 10

I L R. 41 All. 473

ss. 6, 7, 9, 15—

See ALIEN ENEMY

I L R. 48 Cal 528

ss. 6, 8, 9—Disqualification saving limitation—Management of estate by Court of Wards if saves limitation. Under the Limitation Act, 1908 no other cause of disqualification than those mentioned in the Act can be admitted to save limitation and the only disqualifications that ss. 6, 8 and 9 of the Act recognise are minority, insanity and idiocy and the suit as regards the properties comprised in the debars of 1870 was barred by limitation under Arts. 91 and 142 of the Act. The fact that the plaintiff was a disqualified proprietor whose estate was under the charge of the Court of Wards did not prevent the running of time against her during the period the Court remained in charge ANWARMOOT SINGHA v WASIR ALI MEERZA (1915) 19 C. W. N. 1113 ss 6, 10—Receipt of interest by a mortgagee from a trustee knowing mortgage to be in breach of trust—Suit by beneficiary for such interest against mortgagee—Applicability of s 10 to such suit—Cause of action for beneficiary to recover such interest—No new cause of action on beneficiary attaining majority. Interest received by a mortgagee from a trustee in respect of a mortgage executed by the latter in breach of trust to the knowledge of the mortgagee is not 'property' vested in the mortgagee 'in trust for any specific purpose' within s. 10 of the Limitation Act. If on the dates of payment of interest the beneficiary be a minor, his cause of action to recover the same arises from such dates and if he sues for the recovery of such interest after attaining majority he is bound to sue within the time limited by s. 6 of the Act, and he does not get a fresh cause of action on attaining majority RAJA OF RAMNAD v PONNUSAMI TEVAR (1921) I L R. 44 Mad 277

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

ss. 6, 14, 15 and 19—Assignee of a debt due to a minor—Suit by assignee—Limitation for such suit, whether saved in right of minor assignor—Attachment of debt prior to sale—Time till sale, whether can be deducted in computation—Causes of action for attachment and suit, whether same—Acknowledgment in a deposition—Denial of a subsisting debt—Sufficiency of acknowledgment. Where a decree holder, having attached in 1913 a book debt due in 1911 to a minor judgment-debtor, sold it in auction and purchased it himself in February 1915, sued in March 1915 to recover it from the defendant who pleaded the bar of limitation. Held, (i) that the assignee of a debt due to a minor could not avail himself of the privilege of the extension of limitation given by s. 6 of the Limitation Act, Rudra Kant Surma Sarkar v Nobo Kishore Surma Bursat I L R. 9 Cal 663, followed; (ii) that s. 15 of the Act did not operate to save limitation during the time the attachment was in force, Saib Singh v Sita Ram I L R 13 All 76, followed, and Beti Maharan v The Collector of Panchab, I L R 17 All 198 referred to; (iii) that s. 14 of the same Act was also inapplicable as the attachment proceedings were not based on the same cause of action as the suit to recover the debt; (iv) that, on its appearing that the defendant stated in a deposition that there was once a debt but that he had discharged it, the statement did not amount to an acknowledgment within s. 10, explanation 1 of the Act, Bollapragada Ramamurthy v Tammana Gopayya, 31 M L J 231, followed, and (v) that the suit was consequently barred by limitation. RANGASANI CHETTI v THANGAVELU CHETTI (1919)

I L R. 42 Mad. 637

s 6 and Art 120—Suit for declaration by after-born sons. One B sold his occupancy rights on 27th August 1900. On 6th May 1913, his four sons instituted the present suit for a declaration that the sale should not affect their reversionary rights. The four plaintiffs were born in 1891, 1904, 1908 and 1911, respectively. As regards the eldest son, L D, he being over 21 years of age when the suit was lodged, it was admitted, that the suit was barred by limitation. The other three sons who were born after the alienation were minors at the time when the suit was instituted and it was claimed that so far as they were concerned the suit was in time having regard to the provisions of s. 6 of the Limitation Act, inasmuch as two of them were born before their eldest brother had attained the age of 18 and the period of limitation only began to run from that date. Held, that the three minor plaintiffs, not having been in existence at the time when the right to sue accrued, could not take advantage of the provisions of s. 6 of the Limitation Act, and that the suit was consequently barred by limitation Ramkishore v Jainarayan, I L R. 40 Cal 966, 979 (P C), distinguished LACHMAN DAS v SUNDAR DAS I L R. 1 Lah. 558

s 6 and Art 125—Widow's alienation—Right of several reversioners independent—Not questioned by deceased father for twelve years—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Right of minor son to question after twelve years but within three years of attaining majority For the purpose of questioning an alienation made by a Hindu female possessing a limited estate, one reversioner does not claim through another, and consequently laches on the part of a father who died without instituting a suit within twelve years from the date of the alienation does not disentitle his son from filing a suit for the purpose even after twelve years after the alienation, if he was a minor at the time and files the suit within three years of attaining majority. S 6 and Art. 123 of Limitation Act considered Gowinda Pillai v. Thayammal, I L R. 28 Mad 57, Bhagwanta v. Sukhi, I L R. 22 All 33 Abinash Chandra Majumdar v. Har Nath Saha, 9 C W N 25, Sakyahana Ingli Rao Sahib v. Bhawanji Bori Sahib, I L R 27 Mad 588, and Chinna Veerayya v. Lakshminarasimha, 22 Mad L J 375, followed. Mullapudi Ratnam v. Mullapudi Ramayya I L R 25 Mad. 731, and Chhagunram Asthram v. Bai Motigauri, I L R 14 Bom. 412 not followed. Chiruvolu Punnamma v. Chiruvolu Perayya I L R 29 Mad 390 referred to. Krishner v. Lakshminammal, 18 Mad L J 275, distinguished. VEERAYYA v. GANGAMMA (1913)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 570

— ss. 6, 7 and Art. 144—Mortgage—Mahomedan family—Sale by one co-heir—Suit for redemption by other heirs—One of the plaintiffs a minor—Suit not barred M, a Mahomedan, mortgaged the property in suit to J in 1895. M died in 1901, and his widow sold the equity of redemption to J, who obtained possession of the property under the sale. In 1914, M's son G and daughters S and K sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1895, and for possession. Of these plaintiffs G and K had attained majority three years before suit, while plaintiff S attained majority in July 1913. The lower Court held the suit barred as regards plaintiffs G and K under Art. 144 read with s 6 of the Limitation Act on the ground that the possession of J became adverse in 1901. Held, that the suit having been brought within three years of the date when the youngest plaintiff S attained majority was not barred by limitation under s 7 of the Limitation Act, because the right to redeem was indivisible and neither of the plaintiffs G and K was qualified to discharge or release the equity of redemption. GULAM GOSS v. SHIRIAM PANDURANG (1918)

I L. R. 43 Bom. 487

— s. 6, Art. 164—Application to set aside ex parte decree made after coming into force of Act governed by Art. 164—S 7 of old Act XV of 1877, does not apply—S 6 of General Clause Act (X of 1897) does not make the new Act inapplicable. A decree was passed ex parte against A, a minor, on the 4th September, 1894. A became a major on 16th January, 1909, and applied on 20th January, 1909, to set aside the decree: Held, that the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which came into force on 1st January 1909, applied and the application was barred under Art. 164 of the Act. Under s. 6 of the Act, the plea of minority was available only in the case of suits and applications for execution. S 6 of the General Clause Act (X of 1897) had not the effect of making the new

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Act inapplicable. Kah Amma v. Palappakkara Manakal, 20 Mad. L J 347, followed. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v. KARUPPAN CHETTY (1912)

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 678

— s. 6 and Art. 168—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 151 AND O XLI I L. R. 45 Bom. 848

— ss. 6 and 1, Arts. 182, 183—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908, s. 144 I. L. R. 41 Bom. 625

— ss. 6, 7, 9 and 15—

See ALIEN EXCHANGE I. L. R. 46 Calc 526

— s. 7—

1. — Minor decree-holders—Applications for execution by guardian—Attainment of majority by one decree holder—Application by guardian takes effect in favour of all—Right of the major decree holder to give discharge to the judgment debtor in respect of the judgment debt. Two minor sisters, who were born in the years 1881 and 1887, obtained a decree against the defendants in May 1900. The minor decree holders were represented by a guardian appointed by the Court. The said decree was confirmed by the High Court in appeal in March 1901. Subsequently the guardian presented applications for the execution of the decree in 1904, 1905 and 1906, and while the last application was pending the guardian died. Thereupon the decree holders presented an application for execution as majors in 1908. The defendants contended that as the elder decree holder had attained majority the application by the guardian was, as to her, unauthorized and the execution of the decree was barred as against her. It was further contended that as the elder decree holder could from the time of her attaining majority make an application and give a good discharge to the judgment debtor for the decretal debt without the concurrence of the minor time had, therefore, run against both under s 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) or s 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Held, that by reason of the first explanation of Art. 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) an application made by a representative of one of joint decree holders takes effect in favour of all. Therefore, though the elder decree-holder had attained majority the applications made by the guardian as the next friend of the minor decree holder took effect in favour of both. Held, further, that the contention under s 8 of the Limitation Act of 1877 or s 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908 was inconsistent with the decisions in Gowindram v. Tata, I L R 20 Bom 353, and Zamir Hasan v. Sunder, I L R 22 All 199, the applicability of which had not ceased owing to any change in the words of s 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908. MANCHAND PANACHAND v. KESARI (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 672

2. — Receiver—If can give discharge of debt—Minor owner. A receiver upon whom the Court had conferred all the powers of realisation that an owner has, can himself give a discharge in respect of a debt. He is not fettered by the restrictions which are laid upon any one of several joint creditors or upon a next friend. Where a decree on a bond was passed on 5th August 1904, in favour of the plaintiffs, some of whom were minors, the suit having been filed on 21st June 1904 through their manager and amanda-far, who was appointed Receiver by the District Judge on 16th September, 1900 in a suit between the plaintiffs and was put in charge of the whole business of the plaintiffs with all its "pending and impending litigation," and a Receiver was in charge from that time onwards, and no steps were taken in execution of the decree until 11th May, 1910, when one of the minors applied for execution alleging that he had attained majority on 6th June 1907. Held, that the application for execution was barred by limitation. That the decretal debt vested in the Receiver when he was appointed on 15th September 1900 and from that date onwards he was competent to give a discharge, when once the debt had vested in him the minority of one or more of the decree holders ceased to have any importance for the rights of the minor no less than the rights of the majors were all absorbed by the Receiver. Jagat Taras Das v Achha Gopal Chaki, 1 L R 34 Cal 395 referred to. GIRJA NANDAN SINGH v KANKAYA PROSAD SAHU (1913) 18 C. W. N. 128

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

3. ——— Suit to recover arrears of Deshpandegiri cash allowance—Three years arrears can be recovered. The plaintiffs, one of whom was a minor being jointly entitled to a Deshpandegiri cash allowance, sued to recover arrears for six years prior to the suit. Held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the arrears for three years only for the minority of the second plaintiff could not help the plaintiffs inasmuch as the adult plaintiff was in a position to give a discharge on behalf of himself as well as the minor. Gangat v Sheekhera 6 Bom L R 647 distinguished. HCCBRAO THIMMAI v BUTHIRAO GORE RAO (1917) 1 L R 42 Bom 277

4. ——— Death of decree-holder—Persons entitled to execute decree being the decree holder's two sons one of age, the other not—Application for substitution and death of elder son—A decree absolute for sale on a mortgage was obtained on the 19th of December, 1906. The decree holder applied for execution on the 23rd of September 1909, but during the pendency of these proceedings he died, leaving two sons—J, of full age and R, a minor. On the 29th of September 1910 application for substitution was made by J and R, J purporting to act as next friend to his brother and asking the Court to appoint him as such. Before the date fixed for Jaring, however J died and the application was dismissed on the date fixed, no one appearing on behalf of the decree holder. On the 10th of July, 1917 R, who had attained majority earlier in the same year, applied for execution, praying that his application might be regarded as a continuation of the original application of 1909. Held, that this application was time barred. It could not be regarded as a continuation of the application of 1909 and inasmuch as J could as head of the joint family consisting of himself and R, have given valid discharge on behalf of R as well as himself R could not claim the benefit of s. 7 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. RAJ RAM v. NADAN (1919) 1 L. R. 41 All. 425

5. ——— Joint Hindu family—Elder brother competent to give a valid discharge as manager of the family—Sued by minor brothers barred. In 1913, three brothers, members of a joint Hindu family, sued to recover possession of property after setting aside a sale-deed passed by their mother during their minority on the 28th July 1905. Plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2 were minors and plaintiff No 3 was more than twenty one years of age at the date of the suit. The suit was held barred as against plaintiff No 3, but a question having arisen whether it was barred as against plaintiffs Nos. 1 and 2 under s. 7 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Held, that it was barred as against plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2 also, inasmuch as plaintiff No 3 on his attaining majority became the manager of the joint family and as such could give a valid discharge and acquittance of all claims against the defendants without the concurrence of the minor plaintiffs. Per Fawcett, J.—The main object of the Legislature in s. 7 (of the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908) is to limit the indulgence which is otherwise given to minors, so that, if there are several minors who can claim the benefit of s. 6 that, concession does not extend to cover the whole period of time up to the youngest of the minors becoming a major, but can only be availed of by the eldest of them. Doramasai Serumadan v. Kondasami Saisawan (1912) 38 Mad. 118 followed. BAPU TATTA v. BALA RAJJI (1920) 1 L. R. 45 Bom. 446

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

6. ——— s. 7, Sch. I, Art. 44—Joint Hindu family consisting of minors and widows—Manager—Mukhtiarnama executed by manager—Management by the mukhtiar during the life time and after the death of the manager—Sale by the mukhtiar after the death of the manager—Binding effect—Minor—Limitation to set aside s. 14. A, the manager of a joint Hindu family consisting of minors and widows, executed a mukhtiarnama providing for the management of the family estate, including settlement of money debts and pecuniary claims both during his life-time and after his death until his eldest minor son attained majority. The mukhtiar was empowered to manage the estate as he thought fit including the power of sale and settle claims as A himself could have done during his life time. In connection with the registration of the mukhtiarinama the Sub-Registrar examined the widows in the family including the widow of A, the manager, who had died in the meanwhile, and the deed was registered as the widows admitted the same. Subsequently the mukhtiar sold mortgaged (leasehold) rights of the family in certain lands for valuable consideration. A's eldest son having attained majority on the 10th December, 1894, he with his minor brother brought a suit on the 17th May, 1890, to recover possession of the property alleging that the sale of the mortgaged (leasehold) rights was void ab initio. The lower Courts having dismissed the suit, on second appeal by the plaintiffs. Held, that (i) the sale by the mukhtiar was binding on plaintiffs as having been within the authority conferred by the mukhtiarinama. (ii) The sale could not be treated as a nullity, inasmuch as a dying adult Hindu might appoint a manager and trustee for the minors themselves without interfering with the succession to the property. Raj Luthar Daba v. Gokool Chander Choudhry, 13 Moo I A 209, and Sobabhai Doorga Lal Jha v. Bujah Nelaund Singh, 7 B L R 74, referred to. (iii) The right of plaintiff J, if any, to challenge the sale was barred at the date of the suit under Art. 44, Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) by reason of his failure to sue within three years of his attaining majority. (iv) Plaintiff 2, a minor, was also barred under s. 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) inasmuch as plaintiff 1 after attaining majority could have bound the minor plaintiff if he had chosen to give a discharge and acquittance of all claims to the defendants in respect of mulgans (leasehold) interests, as manager MAHALESHTAR KRISHNAKAPPA v RAMCHANDRA MANGESH (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

I. L. R. 38 Bom 94
 s 7 and Art 44—Sale by a Hindu mother as guardian of her only son—Second son in the womb at the time of sale—Subsequent sale by both the sons to another—First purchaser dispossessed by the latter—Suit in ejectment—Limitation
 The plaintiff claimed under a sale deed executed by a Hindu widow as guardian of her only son at a time when she had another son in the womb. The plaintiff was afterwards forcibly ejected by the appellant who had obtained a later sale deed from the elder son who executed it both on behalf of himself and his minor brother. The plaintiff sued in ejectment more than three years after the first son's attaining majority but within three years of the attainment of majority by the second. Held, that no suit having been brought by the first son within the period prescribed by Art 44 of the Limitation Act to set aside the sale, the plaintiff's right to the share of the first son became absolute and that as the mother did not execute the sale deed as guardian of the second son his share in the suit land did not pass to the plaintiff. Held, also, that as the causes of action for the two sons were different, s 7 of the Limitation Act had no application to the facts of the case. Doraiswami Serumadan v Nondisami Saluran, I L R 38 Mad 118, distinguished. KANDASAMI v IRUSAPPA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 102

ss. 8 and 9—

See s 6 19 C W N 1113.

s 9—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s 48
 I. L. R. 36 Bom. 493

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, s 19 ART
 148 I. L. R. 35 All 227

The 12 years prescribed by s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code must be computed from the day on which it begins to run and is not suspended during minority succeeding to Father who died after decree passed. BHAGWANT RAMCHANDRA v KAMU MAHOMED ABBAS
 I. L. R. 36 Bom 493

ss 9, 15—

See ALIEN ENEMY
 I. L. R. 46 Calc. 526

s 10

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss 92 and 93.
 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1064

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
 2 Pat. L. J. 587

See HINDU LAW—WILL.
 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 365

See KHUJA MAHOMEDANS
 I. L. R. 38 Bom. 214

See TRUSTS PROPERTY
 24 C. W. N. 752

See WAKFS. I. L. R. 37 Bom. 447

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Whether applicable to suits in respect of property which has not been received by a trustee
 The insertion in s 10 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, of the words "or the proceeds thereof or for an account of such property or proceeds" has not had the effect of exempting from the ordinary rules of limitation suits against trustees for failure to reduce the trust property into possession. Neo Fleming, Spinning and Weaving Company, Limited v Kessouji Naik, I L. P. 9 Bom 373, 392, followed. THOLASINGAM CHETTI v VEDACHELLA AITAH (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad 319

—Straits

Settlements Ordinance No 6 of 1896 s 10—Specific purpose meaning of A specific purpose within the meaning of s 10 of the (Limitation) Ordinance No 6 of 1896 of the Straits Settlements (which in terms corresponds to s 10 of the Indian Limitation Act) must be a purpose that is either actually or specifically defined in the terms of the Will or settlement or a purpose which from the specified terms, can be certainly affirmed. The statement in Bahart Rao v Puran Mal, I L R. 6 All, that the purpose of following the property in the hands of the trustees referred to at the end of the section must be the purpose of restoring it to the trust which is specified in the earlier part of the section provides a sound and critical test by which to consider whether or not any particular trust is within the provision of the section. KHAW SIM TEA v GHUAN HOOI GYON NEON (P. C.)

26 C W N 495

ss 10 and 20—

1—Suits against Karta
 S 10 does not apply to suits against a Karta. That section requires that the property must be vested in the trustee for a specific purpose but it cannot be said that a Karta is vested with the property belonging to a joint family. The 6 year limitation under Art 120 applies to such suits. BISWAMBAR HALDAR v GRIHALA DAS
 25 C W N 356

2—Trustee de son tort
 Suit for account. A trustee de son tort stands in the same position as an express trustee. The claim for accounts 6 years prior to the institution of the suit would be saved by Art 120 the obligation of the trustee being continuous. Under the 1908 Article there is no limit to a suit for accounts against a trustee. DHANPAT SINGH v MOHESH NATH TEWARI
 24 C W N 752

s 10, Sch. I, Arts 14, 120—Deposit—Order of the Collector refusing payment vested in trust—Specific purpose—No bar of time for recovery
 In 1833, C, an ancestor of the plaintiff, had his immoveable property sold to satisfy his debt by the then Maharaja of Satara. Out of the sale-proceeds the debt was paid off and the balance of Rs. 1,793-0-5 was credited in the Government Treasury in the name of C. Subsequently when the Satara principality ceased in the year 1818 the said amount came to be credited in C's name in the British Treasury. In 1859 C's descendants applied to the British Government for a refund of the amount when it was ordered that the amount be refunded after production of heirship certificate by the applicants and the order was communicated to the then applicants. Subsequently for a number of years there were litigations in Civil Court between C's descendants and the purchasers of C's property as regards the validity of sale. Ultimately in 1906 M, the father of the plaintiffs, made an application to the District Court for a certificate of heirship and an order for the issue of a certificate was passed on the 23rd March 1907. M then made an application on 16th October 1907 to the Collector of Satara requesting for a refund of the amount of Rs. 1,793 0 5 standing credited in C's name. This application was decided against the plaintiff by the Collector on 6th March 1911. The plaintiffs then appealed to the Commissioner and the appeal was rejected on 17th July 1911. A further appeal to the Government met with a similar fate. Plaintiff, therefore, on 16th June 1912 filed a suit against the defendant as trustee for the recovery of the amount alleging that the cause of action arose on 17th July 1911, the date when the Commissioner's order was received by the plaintiffs. The defendant contended that the cause of action arose on 6th March 1911 when the Collector rejected the plaintiff's application and the suit was barred under Arts. 14 and 120 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). The Lower Court being of opinion that the money was at most held by the defendant on an implied trust held that s. 10 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the case and that the plaintiff's claim could only be decreed on the ground that it was within time under Art. 120 of the Limitation Act. The defendant having appealed to the High Court, Held, that the money being vested in the Government when it took over the Satara Treasury in 1848 and the purpose of the credit in the name of C, being specific, s. 10 of the Limitation Act did apply. Held, further, that the plaintiffs were entitled to succeed on the ground not only that their claim did not fall within Art. 14 and would be within time if it fell within Art. 120, but that it was one to which the bar of limitation could not be pleaded. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. RAJANI MAHADEO (1915) I. L. R. 39 Bom. 572

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—could

— ss. 10, 30 : Sch. I, Art. 134—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 43 Calc. 34

— s. 10, Sch. I, Art. 120—

See ADMINISTRATOR, 2 Pat. L. J. 642

— s. 10, Sch. I, Arts. 124, 134 and 144—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS
3 Pat. L. J. 327

— s. 12—

See s. 5 20 C. W. N. 1203

See ARBITRATION.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 721

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 766

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908),
s. 123 I. L. R. 40 All. 1

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1031

See LEAVE TO APPEAL.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 35

See LIMITATION (67). 22 C. W. N. 553

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—could

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, s. 498

I. L. R. 34 All. 46

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 593

See PATNA HIGH COURT RULES OF 1916.

5 Pat. L. J. 701

1. ——— Time requisite for obtaining copy—Application for copy made on date the Court closed for annual vacation—Notice posted during the vacation—Copy received after vacation. Where an application for copies of a judgment and decree was made on the day when the Court rose for its annual vacation, it was held that the applicant was entitled to the benefit of the whole period of the vacation, notwithstanding that the copying department was kept open for some days and a notice posted during the vacation that the applicants' copies were ready. KHUR CHAND v. HARNUM (1911) I. L. R. 34 All. 41

2. ——— Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Time taken for obtaining copy of decree if may be excluded—Indian Statute permitting exclusion, of ultra vires—Order in Council of 1835—Government of India Act of 1855, s. 64—Letters Patent, cl. 39, 41—Privy Council Appeals Act (VI of 1874). An application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council is not time-barred, if excluding the time taken for obtaining a copy of the decree appealed from it is found to have been made within 6 months. S. 12 of the Limitation Act of 1908 is within the legislative powers of the Government of India in permitting such exclusion. ABDULLAH HUSAIN CHAUDHURY v. ANANDA CHANDRA RAY (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1068

3. ——— High Court judgment—Application for review—Limitation of time from before the signing of decree. In computing the period of limitation for an application for review of a judgment of the High Court, the party applying for review is entitled to have excluded, under s. 12 of the Limitation Act, the time requisite for taking a copy of the decree, and the period of limitation cannot in such a case commence to run until, at all events, the day the decree was signed by the Judges. GANGADHAR KARMAN v. SEKHAR BASINI DASTA (1916) 20 C. W. N. 967

4. ——— Appeal, limitation for presenting—Copies of judgment and decrees applied for at different times—Both periods if to be excluded—Rule when periods overlap. Under s. 12, cl. (2) and (3) of the Limitation Act, the appellant is entitled to a deduction of the time requisite as well for obtaining a copy of the decree as for obtaining a copy of the judgment, and if he has applied for copies of the judgment and decrees at different times, both these periods should be excluded in computing the periods of limitation allowed for presenting the appeal, unless the two periods overlap partially or entirely in which case the appellant is not entitled to have a deduction of the same time twice over. RAJANI KANTA KAPALI v. KALI MOHAN DAS KAPALI (1910)

21 C. W. N. 217

5. ——— Appellant filing a copy of decree appealed from, obtained by another party—Deduction of time taken to get the copy. An appellant who is required to file with his memorandum of appeal a copy of the decrees appealed from, may file a copy obtained by another party ;

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

and under s 12 (2) of the Limitation Act he is entitled to a deduction of time taken to obtain that copy. Ram Kishan Shastari v Kaash Bai (1907) 1 L R 29 All 264, followed. Ramamurthi Ayyar v Subramania Ayyar (1902), 12 M L J 355, dissented from. AMIN UD DIN SAHIB v PYARI BI (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad. 633

6 ————— Christmas holidays—Deduction of, in computing time for appeal. The defendant, against whom a judgment and decree were passed on 21st December 1919, i.e., on the first day of the Christmas vacation, applied for copies of the same on the 7th January 1920, i.e., some days after the reopening. Held, that in computing the time for appeal the defendant was not entitled to deduct the period of the Christmas vacation as 'time requisite for obtaining copies' within section 12 of the Limitation Act. SUBRAHMANYA v NARASIMHAM (1920)

1 L R 43 Mad. 640

7 ————— Limitation—Exclusion of time necessary for obtaining essential copies—Application for copies made after period of limitation had expired. In order to obtain the benefit of s 12 of the Indian Limitation Act, an appellant must apply once and for all for copies of all essential documents before the period of limitation for appeal has run out. He cannot seek in aid the extended period if he finds later that an essential document has been omitted. MULRAJ v NIDAR MAL 1 L R 42 All 260

8 ————— The time requisite for attaining a copy of the decree within the meaning of this section does not begin until the actual application for a copy has been made. JYOTINDRANATH SARKAR v THE LODNA COLLIERY CO., LTD

6 Pat L J 350

9 ————— Appeal—Exclusion of time between delivery of judgment and signing of decree—Delay in filing folios—Practice. Under s 12 of the Limitation Act, 1908, an appellant is entitled to deduct the time between the delivery of judgment and the signing of the decree in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal. An applicant for a certified copy should deposit the required number of folios not later than the first day on which the office of the Court is open after that on which the number of folios was notified to him, and in calculating the time required for obtaining a copy, the applicant is not entitled to deduct the days during which the preparation of the copy was delayed by his own neglect to furnish folios. RAM ASRAY SINGH v SHYO NANDAN SINGH 1 Pat L J 573

ss 12, 29—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s 46 (4)

1 L R 33 All 738

1 L R 34 All 496

s 12, Sch I, Art 179—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), s 12, Sch I, Art 179

1 L R 39 Cal 510

Limitation—Application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council—Exclusion of time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree. Held, that s 12 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, applies to applications for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council. The appellant is therefore entitled to exclude the day upon which the judgment complained of was pronounced and the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree from the period of limitation prescribed. RAM SARUP v JASWANT RAI (1915)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

1 L R 38 All 92

13—Dissolution of partnership—Partnership business carried on outside British India—Absence of defendant out of British India—Suit for dissolution in British Indian Court—Exclusion of time—Cause of action—Jurisdiction of Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 20. A partnership consisting of plaintiff, defendant No 1 and one S carried on business at Delagoa in South Africa and was managed by defendant No 1 who lived there. In June 1902 S died. Defendant No 1 returned to British India in July 1903 and was there till November 1910 when he returned to Delagoa. Thereafter in October 1915 he came back and settled in British India. In April 1916, the plaintiff sued in a British Indian Court for dissolution of partnership. The question of limitation arising—Held, that the suit was in time, for the periods during which defendant No 1 was absent from British India, should be excluded from the period of limitation, under section 13 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. ATUL KRISHNA BOSE v LYON & CO. (1887) 11 Cal 457 followed. Where the parties to a suit reside within the jurisdiction of a British Indian Court one of them can sue the other for dissolution of partnership in that Court even although that partnership commenced and was carried on in foreign territory. ISMAILJI v ISMAIL ABDUL 1 L R 45 Bom 1228 ss. 13, 19 and 20—Loan to a partner ship—One of the partners absent from British India—Suit for loan more than three years after loan but within three years after return of partner, whether barred and against whom—Release by some partners of a partnership debt whether binding on legal representative of a deceased partner—Entries in debtor's accounts, whether payment of interest or acknowledgment. The plaintiff's father was a partner along with the third, the sixth and eighth defendants of a firm at E, which advanced certain loans in 1903 and 1904 to a firm at S of which the first defendant and the former defendants were partners, the first defendant was out of British India from 1903 to 1908. The plaintiff sued in 1909 to recover his share of the loans from the partners of the firm at S. The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation. The plaintiff relied in bar of limitation on s 13 of the Limitation Act and also on certain unsigned entries in defendants' account books in which the interest accruing due were added to principal from time to time, the first defendant further pleaded a release by defendants Nos. 3, 6 and 8 of the claim against him as binding on the plaintiffs. Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation against the first defendant as the plaintiff was entitled to a deduction of the time during which the first defendant was out of British India but was barred against the other defendants under s 13 of the Limitation Act, that the entries in the debtor's accounts could not be treated as payments of interest under s 20 of the Limitation Act or as acknowledgments under s 19 of the Act as they were not signed by the debtors. Held, also, that a partner can release a partnership claim, and after the death of a partner, the surviving partners have a right to release such a claim, that, if a release by any of the partners is fraudulent the other partners can avoid it and seek to recover their share of the released debt, but the legal representative of a deceased partner is not entitled to avoid it as the right to do so is personal to the partners. Held (on the facts), that the release of the first defendant by the third sixth and eighth defendants was bona fide and binding on the plaintiff. PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v VEERAPPA CHETTIAR (1917) I L R 41 Mad 446

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd— ss 13, 19 and 20—contd

— s 14—

See s 4 I L R 44 Mad 817

See s 5 I L R 42 Bom 285

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47

I L R 44 Bom 97

See INSOLVENCY I L R 39 Mad 74

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 84

See LIMITATION (54)

I L R 46 Calc 870

See LIMITATION (72)

I L R 47 Calc 300

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I, ARTS. 62, 120 I L R 39 Mad 62

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908 s 77

24 C. W. N 4 & 29

See RENT SUIT (PREMATURITY)

I L R 46 Calc 870

1. — Plaint filed on last day ordered to be returned for presentation in another Court on a later date—Plaint actually returned later—Interval between bars suit Where a plaintiff which was filed in a wrong Court on the last day of limitation was subsequently ordered to be returned for presentation to the proper Court, but was not actually returned till three days later, and was filed in the proper Court the day following. Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation. Where the final order is promulgated on a later date than that on which it was signed, the date of promulgation should be held to be the day on which the proceedings ended within the meaning of expl I of s 14 of the Limitation Act. Abhaya Charan Chakrabarty v Gour Mohan Dutt, 24 W R 26 distinguished MOHEN DRA PRASAD SINGH v NANDA PRASAD SINGH (1913) 17 C. W. N. 1043

2. — Fresh suit, filing of, whether barred by S 14 of the (Indian) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies only to cases where a Court itself decides that it is unable to entertain a suit for want of jurisdiction or other cause of a like nature and has no application to a case where the plaintiff himself with draws his suit on discovery of some technical defect which would involve a failure Parajal v. Shomeshwar, I L R 29 Bom 219, and Uyendia Nath Noy Chowdhury v Suryakanta Ray Chowdhury 20 I C 203, followed ARUNACHALLAM CHETTIAR v. LAKSHMANA AYYAR (1913) I L R 39 Mad 938

3. — Exclusion of time from period of limitation—Time taken up in proceedings bona fide before a Court—Proceedings before Collector under s. 11A of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bombay Act III of 1874)—Time cannot be excluded. The time taken up in prosecuting an application before the Collector under s 11A of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bom. Act III of 1874) cannot be excluded from the period of limitation, under s 14 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. LAXMAN GANESH v KESHAV GOVIND (1918) I L R 43 Bom. 201

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd— s 14—contd

4. — Plaint—Return of plaint—Proceedings do not end until the party gets back his plaint—Suit filed on the opening date after vacation—Presentation of plaint into another Court—Exclusion of time—Calculation should be made as if the second Court had been closed for vacation When a party is ordered to take back his plaint and present it in the proper Court the proceedings do not end until the party gets back his plaint within the meaning of Expl I to s 14 of the Limitation Act, 1908. The plaintiff sued to recover a sum due on account of dealings with the defendant between 20th May 1913 and 3rd June 1913. The suit was filed in the Hubli Court on the 7th June 1916 the date the Court re opened after the vacation and was then in time. On defendant's pleading that he was an agriculturist the plaint was ordered on the 15th January 1917 to be returned for presentation to the proper Court. The plaintiff took away the plaint on the 20th January 1917 and presented it on the same day in the Haveri Court. It was contended that even if the period from 7th June 1916 to 20th January 1917 was excluded the suit filed in the Haveri Court would still be four days out of time as the period which was allowed to be excluded owing to the Hubli Court being closed for the vacation when the plaint was filed in that Court could no longer be taken advantage of after the order had been made to take back the plaint and file it in another Court. Held, that the suit in the Haveri Court was in time as the plaintiff was entitled to take advantage of those days during which the Hubli Court was closed for the vacation and the calculation should be made in the same way as if the second Court had been closed for the vacation. Mrs Mohidin Rautner v Vallaperumal Pillai (1917) 36 Mad 131 not followed BAVANAPPA v KRISHNADAS (1920) I L R. 45 Bom 443

5. — *Appliability of when the parties in the two proceedings are not the same—Arts 69 and 97 which applies, where an execution purchaser of a plot paid rent to the zemindar after the setting aside of the sale by the first Court and during the pendency of an application for appeal—Executing consideration, rendering of plaintiff purchased a plot at a sale held under Reg VIII of 1819 in May 1908. In October 1910 the purchaser paid rent to the zemindar after the sale was set aside by the Court of first instance in May 1910, and during the pendency of an appeal by the zemindar which was ultimately dismissed. There were certain proceedings for assessment of meane profits between the purchaser and the original proprietor on the basis of the decree for cancellation of the sale. Thereafter the said purchaser in February 1916 sued for recovery of the money paid as rent to the zemindar. Held, that the suit was barred. In view of the provisions of s 14 of the Limitation Act, the Plaintiff was not entitled to a deduction of the time during which the meane profits proceedings were going on as the zemindar was not a party therein, nor was there* since October 1910, any period of time when the right of the Plaintiff to sue was suspended by reason of events over which he had no control. That Art. 62 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. The fact that there was failure of consideration at the time the payment was made in October 1910 attracted the operation of the bar imposed by Art. 62. Art. 97 did not apply because at the time when the money was paid there was no subsisting Consideration. JANAKI NATH SINGH v. BEJOY CHAND MAHATAB . . . 26 C. W. N. 271

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 14—concl'd.

8. ————— Res Judicata does not constitute "Other causes of a like nature" within the meaning of s. 14 of the Limitation Act, 1908. BRAJA GOPAL MUKHARJI v. TARA CHAND MARWARI . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 593

ss. 14 and 15—

See s. 6 . . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 637

ss. 14 and 29—

See LIMITATION

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 309

s. 15—

See s. 5 . . . Pat. L. J. 132

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 43.

I. L. R. 40 All. 198

See LIMITATION (27)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 92

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, SCH. II

ART. 178 . . . I. L. R. 34 All. 436

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 5 AND 15

3 Pat. L. J. 132

See SUIT . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 934

1. ————— Exclusion of time

—Period during which execution of decree is stayed to be excluded in computing period of limitation.

On the 8th August, 1908 an application to execute a decree was made. The Court having directed the execution to proceed as to a part of the decree, the judgment-debtor appealed against the order and pending the appeal the execution of the decree was stayed from the 9th January to the 16th February 1909. On the 12th August, 1911, the decree-holder applied again to execute the decree. The Lower Courts held that the second application was barred by limitation, it having been made more than three years after the date of the first application. On second appeal —Held, that the second application was filed within time, for the applicant was entitled to exclude the period during which the execution of the decree was stayed, in computing the period of limitation for the second application. BAI USAM v. BAI RUXMANY (1913)

I. L. R. 33 Bom. 153

2. ————— An attachment

before judgment is not an injunction or order within the meaning of s. 15 of the Limitation Act. MUNSHIR ALI v. ABHOYA CHARAN DAS (1917)

21 C. W. N. 1147

3. ————— Suits against insolvent—Effect of adjudication—Subsequent annulment—Saving of limitation for suits—Adjudication whether absolute stay of suits—Obtaining of leave to sue from Court—Condition precedent to sue, if sufficient to save limitation—Provincial Insolvency Act (111 of 1907), s. 16, cl. 2. In computing the period of limitation for suits instituted against a person after an order adjudicating him an insolvent was annulled, s. 15 of the Limitation Act does not permit the deduction of time during which the order was in force, as, under s. 16, cl. 2, of the Provincial Insolvency Act, an order of adjudication does not effect an absolute stay of suits against the insolvent, but only makes it necessary that leave to sue should be obtained from Court before a suit could be filed against him while the adjudication was in force. Soni Ram v. Kanhaiya Lal, I L. R. 35 All. 227, and Dorasami Padayachi v. Vaidyanaga Padayachi, 33 M. L. J. 48, referred to Shurmugam v. Mosdeen, I L. R. 8 Mad. 229, distinguished. RAMASWAMI PILLAI v. GOVINDASAMI NAICKER (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 15—concl'd.

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 319

4. ————— Execution of decree—Order demanding security pending appeal—

Security not furnished—Appeal subsequently dismissed, whether period between order for security and dismissal of appeal to be excluded in calculating limitation for a second application for execution—

Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. XLV, rr. 10, 11, 13 and 14. A judgment debtor applied to the High Court for leave to appeal to the Privy Council and petitioned the Court to stay execution of the decree, an application for which had been to the Lower Court on the 13th December 1913, pending the disposal of the appeal by the Privy Council. It was alleged that the decree holder was a man of no substance. The High Court accepted this allegation and by an order, dated the 27th January 1914, allowed the decree to be executed only on condition that the decree holder furnished security. The Lower Court fixed the security at Rs. 50,000 and, the decree holder being unable to furnish this amount, dismissed the application for execution. On the 18th October 1916, the judgment-debtor's appeal to the Privy Council was dismissed for default, and on the 12th April

1918, the decree holder again applied for execution of his decree. The judgment-debtor objected that more than three years having elapsed since the date when the last step was taken, viz., the 13th December 1913 execution of the decree was barred by limitation. Held, that the Court's order of the 27th January 1914, was in effect an order staying execution within the meaning of s. 15 of the Limitation Act, 1908, because the decree-holder was not in a position to furnish the security demanded and that, therefore, the decree-holder was entitled to exclude the period between the 27th July 1914 and 1st October 1916. PANDAY

SATDEO NARAIN v. SRIMATI RADHEY KURA

5 Pat. L. J. 39

s. 16—

— "Proceeding," meaning of, if includes suit to set aside sale—Period taken by defendant in litigation to set aside sale, exclusion of, in calculating period of limitation. That the word "proceeding" in s. 16 of the Limitation

Act is not restricted to an application for setting aside a sale but is comprehensive enough to include a suit as well as an application and the obvious intention of the Legislature was to allow an exclusion of the period during which the validity of the sale was in controversy whether the sale was impeached by a suit or by an application. PROMOTHA NATH ROY v. KISHORE LAL

SHARMA (1916) . . . 21 C. W. N. 304

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

s 17—Unlike cases governed by the Indian Succession Act and the Hindu Will Act in a case governed by the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, the obtaining of Probate is not necessary to clothe the executor with the right to sue for debts due to the estate within the meaning of s 17 and therefore time begins to run from the date of Testator's death as the obtaining of a succession certificate is not a condition precedent for filing a suit but only for getting a decree
BALAKRISHNADU v NARAYANASWAMY CHETTY
 I L R. 37 Mad. 175

s 18—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 95
 I L R 37 Bom 158

See SALE IN EXECUTION
 15 C W. N 965

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1889
 s. 4 I L R 43 AU 440

1. ——— Sale application made after time to set aside—Fraud antecedent to sale, if may be proved Where upon an application by a judgment-debtor to set aside a sale on the ground of fraud, made more than 30 days after the sale, the Court refused to admit evidence of fraud antecedent to the sale on the ground that such fraud was not material for the purposes of s 18 of the Limitation Act. Held, that although proof of fraud antecedent to the sale does not necessarily indicate the continuance of that fraud subsequent to the sale, it may have an important bearing in the determination of the question whether there was fraud subsequent to the sale sufficient for the purposes of s 18. The question of fraud should be considered as a whole. TOOKOO MOSI DAS v DWARKA NATH DRADA (1912)
 17 C W N 478

2. ——— Conditions to be fulfilled before invoking section—Application for setting aside sale on the ground of frauds—Fraud subsequent to sale if necessary to be established S 18 of the Limitation Act provides that where a person having a right to make an application has by means of fraud been kept from the knowledge of such right of the title on which it is founded the time limited for making the application against the person guilty of the fraud or accessory thereto shall be computed from the time when the fraud first became known to the person injuriously affected thereby. Consequently whoever desires to avail himself of s. 18 has to establish in the first place that there has been fraud; and in the second place that by means of this fraud he has been kept from the knowledge of his right to make an application, but it is not essential to prove that there has been fraud subsequent to the date of sale. JOTINDRA MORAN RAI CHoudhuri v BROJENDRA KUMAR DUTTA (1914)
 19 C W. N. 553

ss 18, 20, 21; Sch I, Arts. 65, 739, 115—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY
 I L R. 44 Cal 978

s. 18, Sch. I, Arts. 62, 115, 116—

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 488

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.s 19—

See s 6 . I L R 42 Mad 637

See s 21 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 427

See ACKNOWLEDGMENT
 I L R. 39 Cal. 769

See ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DEBT
 I L R. 48 Cal. 1046

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s 2.
 I L R 42 Mad. 52
 I L R. 2 Lab. 13

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 25
 6 Pat. L. J. 121

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
 1 Pat. L. J. 214

See HATCHETTA I L R. 46 Cal. 746

See LIMITATION I L R. 43 Cal. 211

See LIMITATION, 1877 s 19
 I L R 47 Cal 300

See LIMITATION I L R 35 Bom 383
 I L R 43 Cal 211

1. ——— Debt entered in schedule filed by Insolvent—Acknowledgment—Limitation Where an insolvent has written down a debt in his schedule, as owing that debt to a named person, and has signed the schedule, that is a sufficient acknowledgment, under a 19 of the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) to extend the period of limitation. CHOKRY SHRIGOPAL CHIRANJILAL v DHANALAL GHASIRAM (1910)
 I L R. 35 Bom 383

2. ——— Acknowledgment—Joint judgment debtors—Acknowledgment by one portion of debt—Effect. Acknowledgment of a judgment-debt by one of several judgment debtors keeps alive the decree against such judgment-debtor alone and not against the others. Richardson v Youngs, I L R 6 CA Ap 418, Bhogyal v Amratal, I L R 17 Bom. 175, Dharmia v Balakund, I L R 18 AU 458, distinguished Narayan v Venkata, I L R 25 Mad 220, Jala Subramanian Pallas v Ramanathan Chettiar I L R 32 Mad 421, Aheanullah v Dakshina Das, I L R 27 AU 575, relied on. If a part only of the debt is acknowledged it is kept alive to that extent only. CHANDRA KUMAR DHAR v RAMDIN FODDAR (1912)
 16 C. W. N. 493

3. ——— Limitation—Acknowledgment by agent—Law to be applied to test the validity of an acknowledgment Held, that the criterion to be applied to test the validity of an acknowledgment of liability put forward by a plaintiff as extending the period of limitation in his favour, is the law in force at the time when the plaintiff's suit would otherwise have been time-barred and not that in force at the time when the acknowledgment relied upon was made. Mohesh Lal v Buxant Amaree, I L R 6 Cal 340, Rahman Bibi v Halasa Kwar, I L R 1 AU 642, and Hanuman Prasad v Raghunandan Singh, I AU L J 355, referred to FAIR UK NISSA BIBI v THE MAHARAJA OF BENARES (1911)
 I L R. 34 AU 109

4. ——— Acknowledgment of liability The following two letters were sent by first and second defendants respectively to plaintiff's vakil (i) Sir, 10th June 1908 With reference to your letter of the 2nd instant, I request you to be so good as to furnish me with a copy of a statement of accounts." (ii) "Dear Sir, 18th June 1908. With reference to your letter of the 2nd instant on behalf of landing contractor, Madras, I have to inform you that I wish to examine the accounts as my account does not show such an amount mentioned in your letter. I therefore request you will please forward the copy of the account or to instruct your client to send his gumastah with his account books." Held, that neither of the letters amounted to an acknowledgment of liability under the Limitation Act, s. 19. ANDIAFFA CHETTY v ALASINGA NAIDU (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 19—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 68

5. — Limitation

Acknowledgment—Requires for valid acknowledgment. Held, that an acknowledgment of a debt to be a valid acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, need not be addressed to the creditor, but may be made to some other person as, e.g., by means of deposition in Court. Held, also, that a statement in the form "the whole of Janki Prasad's mortgage money is owing," there being in existence at the time two mortgages held by Janki Prasad, must be taken to apply to both, in the absence of evidence indicating a different signification. Moniram Seth v. Seth Rupchand, I. L. R. 33 Cal. 1047, and Mylapore Iyasarany Vayapooty Moodliar v. Yeo Kay, I. L. R. 14 Cal. 501, referred to. MEGH RAY v. MATHURA DAS (1913)

I. L. R. 35 All. 437

6. — Acknowledgment of debt. A letter to the effect that the writers "after looking into the account will sign it" is not an acknowledgment of liability on an account stated within the meaning of s. 19 of the Limitation Act. BHARAT PRASAD v. GOVARDHAN PRASAD SANGU (1914)

19 C. W. N. 170

7. — Acknowledgment

of plaintiff's title in statement of boundary of neighbouring land in kabuliyat executed by defendant in favour of third party. Where in stating the boundaries of lands included in a kabuliyat executed by the defendant in favour of a third party, he described the land in suit as plaintiff's: Held, that the statement amounted to an acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of the Limitation Act. It is now settled that an acknowledgment, to whomsoever made, if it be an acknowledgment pointing with reasonable certainty to the liability in dispute or the right out of which that liability arises as a legal consequence is an acknowledgment of liability within the meaning of that section. Maniram Seth v. Seth Rupchand, 10 C. W. N. 874; s. c., I. L. R. 35 Cal. 1047, Maynadar Huralal v. Desai Notariyal, 17 C. W. N. 573, Imam Ali v. Bani Nath, I. L. R. 33 Cal. 613, and Mylapore Iyasarany Moodliar v. Yeo Kay, I. L. R. 14 Cal. 501, considered. GLAU CH SAMA v. SREKENDRA KRISHNA RAY CHOWDARY (1913)

19 C. W. N. 263

8. — Letter of acknow- ledgment, construction of—Conditional acknowledgment, operation of—Performance of condition, necessity for—Contract not to plead limitation, liability of—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 23—Developed against statute of limitation. The plaintiff filed a suit on the 19th September 1912, to recover damages for breach of an oral contract by the defendant, of which performance was due in 1903, and relied on a letter, dated 20th September 1909, written by the defendant to the plaintiff as saving the bar of limitation. The letter was to the effect that, if certain arbitrators should decide that the defendant should pay any amount, he would immediately pay, but, that if the arbitrators failed to decide, the plaintiff might sue and that the defendant would not plead limitation. The arbitration failed. The plaintiff sued as aforesaid on the 19th September 1912, but the defendant pleaded limitation in bar of the suit. Held, (i) that the letter amounted only to a conditional acknowledgment, (ii) that where there is a promise to pay on a condition, that condition in order that the promise may operate as an acknowledgment, must be fulfilled, In re River Steamer Company, L. R. 6 Ch. App. 522, Maniram Seth v. Seth Rupchand, I. L. R. 33 Cal. 1047, and Arnachella Row v. Rangiah Appa Row, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 519, referred to, (iii) that the plaintiff was not entitled to a deduction of time which elapsed between the date of the agreement to refer to arbitration and the date of the failure of the arbitration, (iv) that an agreement by a debtor not to raise the plea of limitation is void under s. 23 of the Contract Act, as it would defeat the provisions of the Limitation Act; and (v) that parties cannot estop themselves from pleading the provisions of the statute of limitation. Sitha Rama v. Krishnasami, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 374, referred to. RAMAMURTHY v. GOPALYA (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 19—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 701

9. — Parties referring undadjusted accounts for adjustment by arbitrators—Acknowledgment, if need be addressed to any one and if should be by one willing to pay. Where the parties to an achukhama acknowledged that accounts remained undadjusted which the arbitrators were to adjust and each party distinctly agreed that he should have to pay such amount as might be found due from him on adjustment of accounts. Held, that this was sufficient acknowledgment within s. 19 of the Limitation Act. Under that section it is not necessary that the acknowledgment should be addressed to any particular person and it is a sufficient acknowledgment even if it be accompanied by a refusal to pay. JAYARDAN SHAMA PODDAR v. RADHA DILLAS SHAMA (1919)

23 C. W. N. 921

10. — Acknowledgment

—Court of Wards Act (Bom. Act I of 1903), s. 16. Promise—Offer made by Collector in settlement of claim—If letter the offer can be used as an acknowledgment of debt. In 1880, the defendant's family passed in favour of the plaintiff simple mortgage bond for Rs. 2,500 for a period of ten years. The defendant was a minor and a ward of the Collector under the Court of Wards Act (Bom. Act I of 1903). In 1916, the plaintiff sued to recover the amount due on the bond of 1880. Interest on the bond was paid regularly till 1903. On the 24th May 1913, the Collector wrote a letter to the plaintiff by which the Collector offered to pay Rs. 17,000 in instalments in satisfaction of the "whole of the amount due" to the plaintiff. The plaintiff relied upon this letter as an acknowledgment of debt to save the bar of limitation. On behalf of the defendant it was contended that under the proviso to s. 16 of the Court of Wards Act, the letter could not be proved. Held, that the proviso did not prevent the plaintiff from using the letter

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 19—contd.

as an acknowledgment so as to start a fresh period of limitation under s. 19 of the Limitation Act, 1908. SHIVAJIRAO NARAYANRAO v. HARI NARAYAN (1920). I. L. R. 44 Bom. 871

11. —“Duly authorized agent,” acknowledgment of by—Person having general authority to settle and pay claim, if may acknowledge to save time taken. S, the “note” manager of B, had authority to purchase and pay for all things required for the use of B and his household. The plaintiffs supplied goods to B in 1906 for which S gave a note of hand on behalf of B promising to pay the balance on the 12th November of that year. On 6th February 1908, S gave another note promising payment, amongst others, of the price of the goods. On the question whether the second note which S gave without special authority from B was such an acknowledgment as would under s. 19 of the Limitation Act of 1908 save plaintiffs’ claim from being barred. Held, that S who had general authority to settle the purchase price of the goods, and thus could pay the amount of the claim, could plainly also arrange to prevent time from becoming a bar to it. RAJA BRAJA SUNDAR DAS v. BHOLA NATH 24 C. W. N. 153

12. —Mortgagee—Signature by mortgagee in the capacity of mortgagee in the Register of Sanads. Certain lands were mortgaged with possession in 1826. Government issued sanads to the holders of lands in 1865 and 1876. These were entered in a register where the mortgagee was described as holding the lands as mortgagee. Three entries were signed by the mortgagee. On the death of the mortgagee a similar sanad was issued to his widow in 1882, which sanad was similarly entered in the register and signed by the widow. The mortgagee having sued to redeem in 1917 the defendant contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, negating the contention, that the registers having the signatures of the mortgagee and his widow were acknowledgments of the mortgagee’s liability to be redeemed by the mortgagee and that the suit was not barred by limitation. Hiralal Ichhal v. Narendal Chatur Bhujdas (1913) 37 Bom. 326, explained and applied. PRANJIVANDAS v. BAL MANI (1920)

13. —I. L. R. 43 Bom. 934 The criterion to be applied to test the validity of an acknowledgment of liability put forward by a plaintiff as extending the period of limitation in his favour is the law in force at the time when the plaintiff’s suit would otherwise have been time-barred and not that in force when the acknowledgment was made. ZAHIR U KHAN v. HIRU K. MAHARAJA v. BEVAREK. I. L. R. 34 All. 109

14. —Suit for balance due under a contract to supply cotton—Acknowledgment in the plea of another case admitting that the account on the contract had not yet been settled. The plaintiff-appellant sued defendants for the balance due to him and damages on account of the defendants’ breach of contract to supply cotton towards which plaintiff had made payments by way of advance. The last date on which cotton was to have been delivered was the 27th January 1910, and the suit was instituted on the 8th April 1913. Plaintiff relied on an acknowledgment contained in the jauch danda, dated 3rd June 1910, in reply to another similar suit brought against defendants by the plaintiff in which defendants referred to the existence of the present contract and stated that they had been supplying cotton to the plaintiff and had been taking money from time to time, and that the account had not yet been settled with the plaintiff. Held, that as the defendants had admitted in their written plea in the other case that the account with the plaintiff in respect of the contract on which the present suit is based had not been settled, the admission amounted to an acknowledgment and that the bar of limitation under Art. 51 of the Limitation Act was consequently saved thereby. Maniram Seth v. Seth Rupchand, I. L. R. 33 Cal. 1047, P. C. Sukhmani v. Jehan Chander Jug, I. L. R. 25 Cal. 544 551, P. C. Kader Patrayya v. Manik Huan, 3 Indian Cases, 12, Abdul Ali v. Guldstein, 43 P. R. 1210, and Ebrahim Hossain v. Chundil, I. L. R. 25 Bom. 302, referred to. Andiappa Chetty v. Derarajulu, 12 Indian Cases, 378, I. L. R. 36 Mad. 68, Kalu v. Mehra Mal, 32 Indian Cases 497, and Hari Charan v. Brook, 155 P. L. R. 1906, distinguished. Ganga Sahai v. Jhannu Chaudhary I. L. R. 1 Lah. 357

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 19—contd.

15. —Valid acknowledgment—What is—Endorsement on the back of a mortgage bond stating only that a certain sum on account of the principal was paid, if so a valid acknowledgment saving limitation. In a suit upon a mortgage bond securing an advance of Rs. 5,700, the question was whether an endorsement made on the back of the mortgage bond by the mortgagor in the following terms: “Paid on account of the principal as per separate accounts Rs. 1,761 only was a valid acknowledgment within s. 19 of the Limitation Act. Held, that the expression ‘the principal’ must be taken to refer to the principal mentioned in the bond on the back whereof the endorsement was made. The examination of the bond shows that the principal advanced being Rs. 5,700, a payment of Rs. 1,761 on account of that principal cannot be taken to wipe out the liability and there was thus an acknowledgment of the right of the mortgagee to recover whatever might be found to be due. Therefore, the endorsement constituted an acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 and consequently saved limitation. PROSANKA KUMAR ROY v. NIBANJAN ROY 26 C. W. N. 213

16. —A distinction exists between an acknowledgment which is sufficient to extend time under s. 19 of the Limitation Act, 1908, and a promise to pay a time-barred debt under s. 27 of the Contract Act. RAM BANADUR SINGH v. DAMODAR PRASAD SINGH

8 Pat. L. J. 121

ss. 19 and 20—

See s. 13. I. L. R. 41 Mad. 446

See s. 21. I. L. R. 41 Mad. 427

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I. L. R. 43 Cal. 207

1. —Payment or acknowledgment by one partner only—Invalid as against other partners in absence of proof of authority to make it—No presumption of such authority—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 251—Necessary or usually done in carrying on partnership—Proof under, insufficient—Judicial notice—Practice Held,

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*ss. 19 and 20—concld.

that according to the rulings in this Presidency an acknowledgment or payment made by one partner does not bind the other partners, in the absence of proof that they authorised such acknowledgment or payment, though it may be an act necessary or one usually done in carrying on the business of partnership, and such authority cannot be presumed. The decisions in Valasubramania Pillai v. Ramanatha Chettiar, 1 L. R. 32 Mad. 421, and Shah Mohdveen Sahib v. Official Assignee of Madras, 1 L. R. 35 Mad. 142, require to be reconsidered in the light of the rulings of the English and other Indian High Courts. Such acknowledgments are made as a matter of course by trade debtors, whether carrying on business singly or in partnership and are forthcoming in almost every suit for the price of goods sold and delivered. This is a matter within the daily experience of Courts of first instance so that they are entitled to take judicial notice of it without requiring proof of the same. K. R. V. FIRM v. SEETHARAMASWAMI (1914)

1 L. R. 37 Mad. 146

2. ————— Endorsement of part payment recorded by creditor and signed by debtor—Endorsement, good as an acknowledgment of liability under s. 19. A payment made by a mortgagor who was able to write, was recorded on the back of the mortgage bond by a servant of the creditor and signed by the debtor. The endorsement ran as follows:—"Rs 378 paid towards this document K. V. Subbarayudu." Nearly Rs 1,500 were due on the date of payment. It did not appear whether the payment was made towards principal or towards interest. Held, that the endorsement amounted to an acknowledgment of liability within the meaning of s. 19 of the Limitation Act, though the payment was not good as a part payment within the meaning of s. 20 of the Act. The scope of ss. 19 and 20 pointed out Jeyanatha Sahu v. Rama Sahu, 17 Mad. L. T. 50, followed VENKATACHARI NIAH v. SUBBARAYUDU (1916)

1 L. R. 40 Mad. 698

3. ————— Acknowledgment of liability—Part payment of principal. It is not necessary that the writing referred to in section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, must itself show that the payment made is made as part payment of the principal sum due. It may, for example, be obvious from the fact that no interest was due at the time of making this payment that it could only have been made in part payment of the principal. In the matter of Ambrose Summers, 1 L. R. 23 Cal. 532, followed Sakharam Manchand v. Keshav Padamsi, 1 L. R. 44 Bom. 392, referred to. CHANDLER v. ABDUL HAMID 1 L. R. 43 All. 216 ss. 19, 21—Debt contracted by deceased co-parcener for no immoral purpose—Infant son if bound—Limitation—Acknowledgment of debt by karta of Hindu infant—Acknowledgment, if made as made by karta. The karta of a joint Hindu family of which the defendant was a minor co-parcener was an agent duly authorised on his behalf so as to give an acknowledgment under s. 19 of the Limitation Act of a debt contracted by the Defendant's father for other than an immoral purpose. The decisions in Wajidun v. Kadir Baktah, 1 L. R. 13 Cal. 292, and Chhata Das v.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*ss. 19, 21—concld.

Billo Ali, 3 C. W. N. 13, to the contrary being inconsistent with the provisions of s. 21 of Act IX of 1908 are no longer good law. Such an acknowledgment need not be expressed as made in the capacity of karta. Chinnaya Nayudu v. Gurunatham Chetty, 1 L. R. 5 Mad. 169, followed. HAN PROSAD DAS v. BAKSHI HARIBHAI PROSAD SINGH (1915). 19 C. W. N. 860

ss. 19, 22; Sch. I, Arts. 106, 120—

Dissolution of a partnership business—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 232, 233—Suit for account—Amendment—Suit that plaintiff was a partner, if may be amended on basis that he was servant remunerated by share of profit—Amendment asked for first time in the Court of Appeal—Acknowledgment of part of the claim, effect of. The plaintiff brought a suit against certain defendants on 8th February 1913 alleging that he was a partner with the defendants up to 27th June 1910 when he retired from the partnership, and asking for an account. On the 12th February 1914, a necessary party (e.g., representative of a deceased partner) was added as a defendant. The defendants in their written statement pleaded that the plaintiff was not a partner but a servant remunerated by a share of the profit, they also admitted in a letter, dated 21st January 1913, that they were liable to render an account to the plaintiff up to the year 1904-05 when the plaintiff retired and not till 27th June 1910. In the Court of Appeal the plaintiff (respondent) for the first time prayed that he might be allowed to amend his plaint on the footing that he was not a partner but a servant as alleged by the defendant in their written statement. Held, that the suit against all the defendants must be deemed to have been brought on the 12th February 1914 and was barred by limitation. To such a suit Art. 106 and not Art. 120 of the Limitation Act applied. Held, also, that having regard to the stage of the litigation at which the amendment was asked for and the nature of the amendment, it could not be granted. It is well-settled that where a plaintiff bases his claim upon a specific legal relation alleged to exist between him and the defendant, he should not be allowed to amend the plaint so as to base it on a different legal relation. This rule is only one aspect of the broader principle that leave to amend should be refused where the amendment would introduce a totally different, new, and inconsistent case. The amendment was also refused on the ground that if the plaintiff were to institute a fresh suit on the date the amendment was asked for on the basis that he was a servant, the new suit would be barred by limitation. Held, further, that the letter of 21st January 1913 did not amount to an acknowledgment of the debt claimed by the plaintiff. KALI DAS CHAUDHURI v. DEBAPATI SUNDARI DASSEE (1917). 22 C. W. N. 104 ss. 19 and Sch. I, Art. 64—Acknowledgment of time barred debt, effect of—"Account stated," meaning of. An acknowledgment of a debt accrues to the benefit of the creditor for the purpose of saving limitation under s. 19 of the Limitation Act, 1908, only if the acknowledgment is made before the original debt is time-barred, the basis of a suit by the creditor for recovery of the amount lent being the original debt and not the subsequent acknowledgment. An "account stated" within the meaning of Art. 64 is one where several cross items are set off one against the other and a balance is struck in favour of one of the parties. In such a case the law implies a new promise by the party from whom the balance is found to be due to pay such balance in consideration not merely of past debts but also in consideration of the extinguishment of the old debts on each side, and hence it is not necessary that the balance would be struck within the period of limitation applicable to any of the items in the account. Where the defendant was in the habit of taking loans from the plaintiff and an account of what was due from the former to the latter was made up after the last item in the account was time barred, and the defendant signed the plaintiff's account book acknowledging the amount due on that date held that the account was not an account stated and that a suit to recover the amount was not barred by the defendant's acknowledgment. Hargopal v. Abdul, 9 Bom. H. C. R., followed. SURAJ PRASAD PANDAY v. W. W. BOLCKE 5 Pat. L. J. 371

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 19 and Sch., Art. 64—could

s. 19 and Sch. I, Art. 125

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, O. VII. s. 6

I. L. R. 2 Lab. 13

s. 19; Sch. I, Art. 148—

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 38 All. 540

s. 19 and Sch., Art. 181—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908), ss. 2, 47 I. L. R. 42 Mad. 52

s. 19, Sch. I, Art. 182, cl. 5—

Written acknowledgment—Application made for certifying payments on the decree acknowledging the decree as an outstanding decree—Step-in-and-of execution. The plaintiff obtained a decree on the 3rd July 1909 whereby he was required to pay a sum of Rs. 500 by annual instalment of Rs. 50 and to redeem the mortgaged land. The decree also provided that on failure to pay any two instalments the plaintiff's right to redeem was to be foreclosed and the defendant was to be placed in possession of the land. The instalments for 1901 and 1902 were duly paid, while the one for 1903 was only paid in part. No other payments were made. On the 20th July 1905 the plaintiff made an application to the Court, which was consented to by the defendant, for certifying the above payments in satisfaction of the decree. This application referred to the decree as an outstanding decree. On the 14th December 1907, the defendant applied to foreclose the decree; but the application was dismissed for want of prosecution. He applied again on the 29th March 1909 for the purpose, but his application was dismissed as barred by limitation. The defendant having appealed—Held, that the application was within time, for the application of 1905 was sufficient to give a fresh starting point for limitation, either as an acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) or as a step-in-and-of execution under Art. 182, cl. 5 of the first schedule to the Act. BACHARAJ NYAALCHAND v. BABAJI TEKARAM (1913) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 47

s. 20—

See s. 19. . . 25 C. W. N. 356

See s. 21. . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 427

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 20—could.

See CHEQUE (PAYMENT BY)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1043

See CONTRACT ACT, s. 40

1 Pat. L. J. 474

See EXEMPTION OF DEBTER.

1 Pat. L. J. 214

See EXEMPTION OF PETITION.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 251

See LIMITATION (40)

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 567

See PRESIDENTY SMALL CLAIMS COURTS

ACT 1882, s. 69 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 438

See PRINCIPAL AND DEBTER

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 979

1 ———— Limitation—

Interest—Payment of part of interest due—Suit for foreclosure. The word 'interest' in s. 20 of the Limitation Act means interest or any part of the interest due. Killa v. Haldi, 1 I. R. 13 All. 55, and Anwar Hussain v. Lalpur Khan, I. L. R. 26 All. 167, distinguished. ABDUL AHAD v. MAHYAB DIN (1913) I. L. R. 35 All. 378

2. ———— Part payment—

Payment—recorded by endorsement in the hand writing of the person receiving—Endorsements only signed by the debtor, whether sufficient acknowledgment. To save the suit from being barred by limitation, the plaintiff relied on part payments made by the defendant. The part payments were recorded by endorsements which the plaintiff admitted were in his handwriting but he contended that the endorsement being signed by the defendant was a sufficient acknowledgment within s. 20 of the Limitation Act 1908. Held, that the fact of payment recorded being not in the handwriting of the person making the payment the provisions of the section were not satisfied. Sankarwar Mahania v. Lakshman Mahania, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 813, applied. NIWAZKHAN NATHANKHAN v. DADARHAI (1916)

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 168

3. ———— Execution of decree bearing no interest—Payment saving limitation. Where on an application for execution of a decree which did not bear any interest, made more than three years after the date of the previous application, the decree holder relied on a payment which the judgment debtor was found to have made to the decree-holder, within three years of the first application for execution but there was nothing to show that it was paid by way of interest. Held, that though the decree-holder might either apply to certify the payment before execution or might do so in his application for execution of the decree, the provisions of s. 20 of the Limitation Act would in no way be affected by it. The decree not bearing any interest, any payment made by the judgment-debtor must be taken to have been made in part payment of the principal, and such part payment must appear in the handwriting of the judgment-debtor or of his agent duly authorised in this behalf in order that limitation might get a fresh start. HARENDRA CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA v. GAGAN CHANDRA DAS (1916) 23 C. W. N. 325

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 20—contd.

4 ———— Mortgage—Suit for sale—Limitation—Payment of interest as such—Effect of such payment as against purchaser of part of mortgaged property A payment made on account of interest as such due on a mortgage debt takes effect under s. 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, as much against a person interested in the mortgage as a purchaser of part of the mortgaged property as against the mortgagor himself who makes the payment. Krishna Chandra Saha v Bhavab Chandra Saha, 1 L R 32 Cal 1077, and Doms Lal Sahu v Roshan Dobay, 1 L R 33 Cal. 1278, referred to Suryam Marwar v Barhamdeo Persad, 1 C L J 337, distinguished Roshan Lal v Kanhaiya Lal (1918) 1 L R. 41 All 111

5 ———— Endorsement of payment in handwriting of payer—Requirement of section where payer illiterate In the case of an illiterate person if the payer affixes his mark beneath the endorsement written by some one else it is sufficient to satisfy the proviso to s. 20 sub s. (1), of the Limitation Act, but where no such mark is affixed the provision of law has not been complied with. Baleham Koker v Soha Sreenu (1918) 23 C W N 930

6 ———— Part-payment—Handwriting in respect of part payment—Part payment must appear in the handwriting of the person making payment The defendant purchased certain goods from the plaintiff on the 10th September 1912 for which he owed Rs 1,350. He also owed another debt of Rs 301 to the plaintiff. On the 4th and 5th July 1913, the defendant paid two sums of Rs 500 and Rs 230, accompanied by a letter which ran thus:— "I have sent currency notes of Rs 500 and a Hundi for Rs 235, in all Rs 735 Credit them." The plaintiff applied the sum in wiping out the smaller debt and credited the balance as part-payment of Rs 1,350. On the 14th October 1915, the plaintiff sued to recover the unpaid balance of Rs 1,350 with interest, and sought to bring his claim in time by relying on the part-payment in 1913. Held that the plaintiff's claim was in time, for the requirements of s. 20 of the Indian Limitation Act were satisfied, as the fact of the payment appeared in the handwriting of the person making the same, and it appeared that the payment was in part satisfaction of the principal of the debt. Sakharam Manchand v Ketal Padamji (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 292

7 ———— Execution of decree for sale—Part of the hypotheca taken up under the Land Acquisition Act—Compensation paid into Court—Payment of amount to decree holder through Court—Paper showing payment signed by Judge—Judge, whether an agent of judgment debtor—Signature of Judge, whether sufficient under s. 20 After a decree for sale on a mortgage was passed in 1912 a part of the hypothecated property was taken up under the Land Acquisition Act, and the Government paid the amount of compensation into Court to the credit of the suit, and the same was paid out to the decree holder on the 11th August 1914. When the payment was made the Judge signed a paper showing that payment was made in his presence and through Court. On the decree holder filing an application for execution of the decree on the 10th August 1917, the judgment-debtor pleaded the bar of limitation. Held, that the Judge should be deemed to have been an agent duly authorized by the judgment-debtor to make the payment, and that the signature of the Judge on the paper showing the payment satisfied the condition that the fact of payment should appear in the handwriting of the person making it, as required by s. 20 of the Limitation Act, and that consequently, the application for execution was not barred. Chinnery v Evans (1884) 11 H L Cas 115 applied. Lakshminan Chetty v Sadasuppu Chetty (1918), 35 M L J, 571, referred to Govindasami Pillai v Dasai Goundan (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 871

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 20—contd.

8 ———— Mortgage decree against mortgagor and purchaser of the equity of redemption—Payment of interest as such by the purchaser, effect of A purchaser of the equity of redemption is a person liable to pay the mortgage debt within s. 20 of the Limitation Act hence, if under a mortgage decree for sale of the mortgage property, to which he is a party, though exempted from personal liability, he pays interest as such, such payment gives a fresh period of limitation for execution of the decree. Bolding v Lane (1863), 1 De G J & Sm, 122 and Chinnery v Evans (1884), 11 H L Cas, 115 at 135, followed. Askaram Sowcar v Venkataswami Naidu (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 544

9 ———— Uncertified payment of an instalment decree, if saves limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), Or 21 r 2—Certification of payment, if can be made at any time After the passing of an instalment decree, some instalments were paid within three years of the date of the decree. The payments were not certified to the Court before the application for execution, but were certified by a petition presented after the application for execution was made and made a part of the said application. The said application for execution was made more than three years after the date of the decree, but within three years from the dates of the said payments. Held, that the payments which were evidenced by letter written and signed by the judgment-debtor, having been made within three years of the decree and within three years of the present application for execution and then having been certified by a petition which was made a part of the application for execution the application for execution was not barred by limitation. Madan Mohan Banerjee v Habual Haveli 26 C W. N 534

ss 20 and 21—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

1 L R 44 Cal 878

ss 20, 57, Sch 1, Art 57—Suit for money payable for money lent—Payment of interest saving limitation—Creditor's discretion to apply money received to oldest debt—Second appeal—Tender of evidence (bali khata) at hearing The plaintiff brought a suit on the 28th May 1903 for money due on an adjustment of accounts. The plaintiff alleged that the last adjustment took place within three years from the date of the institution of the suit when the defendant promised to pay. The Courts below dismissed the suit. The District Judge in appeal however found that the defendant took a loan of Rs. 50 from the plaintiff on 21st June 1900, but he refused to give a decree for that amount, because the defendant paid Rs 52 in 1907, although he believed the plaintiff's books and evidence to be genuine and there was at the time of payment over Rs 700 due from the defendant. In the High Court at the time of the hearing of the appeal the plaintiff produced an entry in his baal khata showing that Rs. 43 was paid by the defendant on account of interest in 1907. Held, that a creditor cannot claim the benefit of s. 20 of the Limitation Act unless he can show that the payment was made on account of interest as such; there must be either some express declaration by the debtor or there must be circumstances from which such an intention on the part of the debtor may be inferred and in the absence of either, the payment of Rs 52 did not operate to save limitation under s. 20. That under ss. 60 and 61 of the Contract Act the creditor may exercise his discretion and apply any money paid to him by the debtor in discharge of the oldest debt and the lower Appellate Court was in error in treating the Rs. 52 as a repayment of the recent loan of Rs 60. That the High Court could not receive the entry in the plaintiff's baal khata relating to the payment of Rs 43 at this stage and could not pay any attention to it inasmuch as it was not put in evidence before either of the lower Courts. BITARI RAM v KANZI SINGH (1913). 19 C W N 237

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*ss. 20, 57, Sch. I, Art. 57—contd.

s. 20 Art. 116—Mortgage of Vatan lands—Death of mortgagor—Mortgagor's son recovering possession of lands—Suit by mortgagee to recover mortgage money—Limitation—Covenant in the mortgage deed to pay mortgage money. In 1803, certain Vatan lands were mortgaged with possession for Rs 2,000 for a period of twelve years by the Vatanar. The mortgage deed contained a covenant: "If there be any hindrance to the continuance of the land, I shall pay the said sum together with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent. per mensem out of my other estate and personally in the year in which the hindrance may arise." The mortgagor having died in 1901, his son recovered possession of the lands in 1914 on the ground that on the death of the mortgagor the mortgage became void under s. 8 of the Bombay Hereditary Officers Act, 1877. The mortgagee thereupon sued to recover the mortgage amount with interest relying upon the personal covenant in the deed. Held, that the claim was barred by limitation. Held, further, that the covenant in the mortgage deed only meant that the mortgagor was personally liable to pay the amount if any hindrance to possession was caused in his lifetime. Held, also, that inasmuch as the mortgage came to an end in 1901, the possession of the mortgages became that of a trespasser, and the receipt of rent or profits after 1901 could not be deemed to be payment for the purpose of s. 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. ARUNHAJI SAKHARAM v KASHIM (1910). I L R. 44 Bom. 500

Bombay Hereditary Officers Act (Bombay Act III of 1871), s. 5—Mortgage of Kulkarni Vatan with possession—Personal covenant by mortgagor to repay mortgage money—Further covenant to pay if mortgagee dispossessed—Death of mortgagor—Mortgagee deprived of possession of the mortgaged property after the death of mortgagor—Suit by mortgagee to recover the mortgage amount under the personal covenant—Mortgagee in possession receiving profits—Demand in lieu of interest—Extension of the period of limitation. In 1897, a Vatanar mortgaged his Kulkarni Vatan with possession to the plaintiff for a term of ten years. The deed of mortgage, which was registered, contained a personal covenant to pay the principal at the stipulated time and a further covenant that if the mortgaged land before the expiry of the stipulated period or any time thereafter, passed out of the mortgagee's possession on one cause or another, the mortgagor should be personally liable to pay the principal together with interest from the date the mortgagee was deprived of the possession. The mortgagee went into possession of the property and enjoyed its profits in lieu of interest till 1912 when the mortgagor died. On the mortgagor's death, his alienation having come to end, the defendant who was his son, dispossessed the plaintiff by the help of the Revenue authorities. In 1917, the plaintiff sued the defendant to recover the mortgage amount under the personal covenant. Held, that the agreement was not void under s. 8 of the Vatan Act, and the suit was not barred by limitation, the period of limitation under Article 116 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, as regards the personal liability of the mortgagor to repay the debt, being extended by s. 20, clause 2, of the Act, to six years from the date when the mortgagee as such last received the profits in lieu of interest before the mortgagor's death. Per MAITLAND C J — There is nothing to prevent a Vatanar when mortgaging Vatan property, although the mortgagee admittedly would not be effective beyond the lifetime of the Vatanar mortgagor, in ordinary circumstances, from personally covenanting to pay the mortgage amount. Per BHATT J — I have grave doubts as to the application of this covenant to dispossession in consequence of the mortgage coming to an end on the death of the mortgagor in virtue of the provisions of the Bombay Hereditary Officers Act. That contention is opposed to the decision in Arundaji Sakharum v Kashim (1910), 44 Bom. 500. VITHORA MAHIPATI v BALKRISHNA SAKHARAM I L R. 45 Bom. 1206

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 20, Art. 116—contd.

s. 20 and Art. 130—

Sit SARANJAMDAK.

I L R. 45 Bom. 694

s. 20 and Art. 182 (7)—Execution of instalment decree—Time from which limitation runs—acknowledgment of payment by person, authorized by paper, whether valid. Where a decree provides for the payment of the decretal amount by instalments, and states that each instalment will be payable on a specified day, and that on default in the payment of any instalment the whole amount will become due, the decreeholder is entitled to apply for execution of each instalment as it becomes payable, and the period of limitation continues for three years from the date when default is made in the payment of any instalment. S. 20 of the Limitation Act, 1908, will not defeat a plea of limitation where the acknowledgment relied on is not signed by the person by whom payment was made, even though the person signing or endorsing the fact of payment was authorised by the payer to do so.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 20 and Art. 182 (7)—concl'd.

MANINDRA NATH ROY v. KANHAI RAM MARWARI
 4 Pat. L. J. 365

s. 21—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 45 Bom. 630See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 979

ss. 21 (2), 19, 20—Partnership—

Acknowledgment of liability or payment by one partner, when binding on others. Direct evidence that one of several partners or co-contractors had authority to acknowledge liability or make payments so as to save limitation as against his partners or co-contractors is not necessary, but such authority can be inferred from surrounding circumstances such as the position of other co-contractors or partners. Valasubramanian Pillai v. Ramanathan Chettiar, I L. R. 33 Mad 421, and Shah Mohideen Sahib v. The Official Assignee of Madras, I. L. R. 35 Mad 142, 145, considered. VEERANNA v. VEERABHADRASWAMI (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 427

s. 22—

See s. 19 . . . 22 C. W. N. 104

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1884, s. 85

25 C. W. N. 38

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

O. 1, s. 10, AND O XXIV.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1009

O. XXI, r. 63 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 535

1. Mortgage—Sale of mortgaged property—Suit against one of the heirs of the mortgagor—Subsequent addition of parties—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 22. One K, a Mahomedan, effected a simple mortgage in favour of V on the 23rd of June 1899, the mortgage debt becoming due on demand which was made on the 1st January 1900. K having died, a suit for sale of the mortgaged property was instituted by V against his minor son as a party in possession of the property on the 23rd of June 1911. The minor's guardian having alleged that K left other heirs, a widow and two daughters, applied on the 29th of January 1912 to have them added as parties and they were so added on the 12th February 1912. It was contended by the added defendants that the suit was barred as against them under s. 22 of the Limitation Act, 1908. This plea found favour with the lower Courts and the suit for sale was dismissed so far as the shares of the added defendants were concerned. On appeal to the High Court by the mortgagee. Held, that the money was specifically charged on the whole mortgaged property and the property was liable to be sold in satisfaction of the mortgage in priority to the satisfaction of any interest derived from the mortgagor subsequent to the date of the mortgage. The suit as originally filed was not instituted to enforce claims against shares in the hands of heirs; it was to enforce a mortgage lien binding on the whole property, in the hands of any heir of the mortgagor, and the addition of parties after the expiry of the time did not involve the dismissal of the suit under s. 22 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). GURUSAYYA v. Dattatraya, I. L. R. 23 Bom. 11, followed. VIJENDRA VASIKARASHEET v. KONDU (1915) . . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 729

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*s. 22—concl'd.

2. Transference of party from one category to another. The rule that a party transferred from the side of the defendants to that of the plaintiffs is not a new party to whom the provisions of a 22 of the Limitation Act apply is an absolute rule. DWARAKA NATH DAS v. MOHMOHAN TAFADAR (1915)

19 C. W. N. 1269

3. Substitution of beneficiaries for administratrix after time—New plaintiff. Where the widow of a deceased person G was appointed administratrix of his estate until G's eldest son should attain majority, and a suit was instituted by the widow after the eldest son of G had attained majority under a bond fide belief that she was competent to sue as administratrix, but on discovering her mistake, she prayed that the three sons of G for whose benefit she had been appointed administratrix be substituted as plaintiffs and the substitution was made at a time when the suit if instituted would have been time barred. Held, that this was not the addition of a new plaintiff within the meaning of s. 22 of the Limitation Act. Dharm Das v. Shama Sundari, 3 Moo. I A 229, Hari Saran v. Bhuganeswari, I L. R. 16 Calc 40, and Peary Mohan v. Narendra Nath, 9 C. W. N. 421, referred to. NISTARINI DASAY v. SARAT CHANDRA MAJUMDAR (1915) . . . 20 C. W. N. 49

ss. 22 and 2 (10)—

The word "suit" as used in s. 22 of the Limitation Act, 1908, includes only the stages of a suit down to its termination by the decree of the trial Court and does not include its appellate stage or proceedings in execution of the decree made in a suit. CHANDRIKA ROY v. RAM KUTER THAKUR . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 463

s. 22, Art. 12, Cl. (b)—Madras Rent Recovery Act (V of 1865), ss. 33, 35, 39 and 40—Sale for arrears of rent—Sale of kudivaram right—Suit to set aside sale—Parties to the suit—Purchaser, necessary party—Receiver of melvaramdars, added as supplemental defendant—Lapse of one year—Suit not barred—Execution sales—Proceedings to set aside—Decree holder, necessary party—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, rr. 90, 91 and 93. In a suit instituted under the Madras Rent Recovery Act, by the owners of the kudivaram right in certain lands to set aside a rent-sale of the kudivaram right, the purchaser at the rent sale and the melvaramdars were originally joined as defendants, but on objection taken by the defendants a receiver appointed on behalf of the melvaramdars was added as a supplemental defendant more than one year after the date of the sale. The defendants thereupon pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that in a suit under the Act neither the receiver nor any of the melvaramdars was a necessary party to the suit but only the purchaser at the rent sale and that consequently the suit was not barred by limitation under s. 22 and Art. 12, cl. (b) of the Limitation Act. In proceedings under the Civil Procedure Code to set aside a sale in execution of a decree, the decree holder is a necessary party. ANNAMALAI v. MURUGAPPA (1914) . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 837

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s. 23

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (1908) s. 192 I L R 35 Mad. 655

ss. 23 and 26

See RIPARIAN RIGHTS 3 Pat. L. J. 81

s. 26—

See BIKOAL FERRIES ACT 1835 5 Pat. L. J. 500

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Cal. 59 I L R. 1 Lab. 206

Suit for declaration of right of way—Necessity of proving that enjoyment of the right ended within two years before suit—Affirmative proof of actual user of necessary—Dispute between enjoyment of a right of easement and actual exercise of the right—Plaintiff brought a suit for declaration of a right of way and for removal of an obstruction thereon. The right was enjoyed for more than 20 years peaceably and openly without interruption as an easement and as of right. There was no discontinuance of the enjoyment by reason of the obstruction by the defendant till within a few days previous to the institution of the suit, and there was no suggestion that the plaintiff voluntarily abandoned or discontinued the exercise of the right at any time before such date. Held that it was not necessary for the plaintiff to prove affirmatively actual user of the way down to a date within two years before the suit. A person may without violence to language be said to be in "enjoyment of a right of way during a period of time, though he does not actually use" the way every moment. Cessation of user does not necessarily mean abeyance in enjoyment. CHANDRA SEK v. BANIM BHABH ROY

28 C W N 121

s. 28—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION I L R 44 Cal. 425

See ATTACHMENT I L R. 45 Bom. 1020

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 92 I L R. 38 Mad. 1064

See LIMITATION I L R. 39 Mad. 617

See MORTGAGE DEEDS 3 Pat. L. J. 478

See SARANJAMDAK I L R. 45 Bom. 684

Several daughters of a Hindu jointly succeeding to their father's estate—Exclusive possession of one for more than twelve years—Right of survivor on her death, to the estate by survivorship. Where, on the death of a Hindu his daughters jointly succeeded to his estate but one of them excluded the others from the enjoyment of the estate for more than twelve years and then died after alienating some of the properties. Held in a suit by a surviving daughter against the son of the deceased and the alienees to succeed to the estate by right of survivorship, that with the extinction of the right to joint possession under s. 28 of the Limitation Act, the right of survivorship, which is only an accre-

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s. 28—contd

tion to the right to joint possession was also lost. KALAMA VATHIAR v. RAJAH of SIKKIMPUR (1863), 9 M I 1 539 at page 611 and SURINDER KISHORE DRY v. RAJAH KANT (Hucknully) (1915) 27 I C 250, followed. ATINAMMA v. IYANAM (1921) I L R. 44 Mad. 131

s. 28, Art. 47 Suit to recover possession of lands—Magistrate order of under Criminal Procedure Code (Art. 1 of 1894) s. 145—Order passed without proper inquiry—Notice not legally served on the plaintiff—Plaintiff aware of proceedings—Order not without jurisdiction—Applicability of Art. 47 Tenant for a term—Landlord treating tenant as a trespasser after the expiry of the term—Subsequent registered notice to quit—Cause of action when Art. 47 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) is applicable to a suit for recovery of possession of lands in respect of which an order had been passed by a Magistrate acting under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure although the Magistrate might not have made before he passed the order if the plaintiff had notice of the proceedings, though the notice was not served on the plaintiff in accordance with law. GANAPADARAM AGAR v. SANKARASWAMY Vaidy (1914) 21, followed. Where the defendants were tenants for a term under the plaintiff and continued in possession of the lands after the expiry of the term but the plaintiff did not treat the defendants as tenants holding over but as trespassers after the date of the expiry of the term and the magistrate order under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was passed in the defendant's favour subsequent to the said date. Held that the suit for recovery of possession of the land is brought by plaintiff more than three years after the said order was barred under Art. 47 of the Limitation Act. TUKARAM v. HARI (1928) Bom. 681, BAJAJI MAHATYI v. MAHATYI VASUDEO (1918) I L R. 8 Bom. 343 and HISE v. JAYANARAYAN KHALAM (1917) I R 71 4 73 referred to. BALAJI CHAND GHOSAL v. SAMIRUDDIN MANDOL (1919) Cal. 645 distinguished. PARASRAMAYYA v. RAMA CHANDRABU (1913) I L R. 38 Mad. 432

s. 28, Arts. 124, 144—Pious endowment—Adverse possession of sarbarak—Suit by descendant of original dedicant to oust possession of sarbarak Where a person had been appointed in 1892 by a Revenue Court sarbarak of certain endowed property and had remained in possession until 1914, when he died, it was held that a suit brought in 1915 by a descendant of the original dedicant to oust the son of the appointee of 1899 and to have herself declared sarbarak of the endowed property was barred by limitation. GUANAMBADE PANDARA SHAMSHI v. LALA LAKSHMAN, (1917) I L R. 23 Mad. 271 followed. RAM PRASAD v. NAND LAL (1917) I L R. 39 All. 638

s. 28 Art. 144—Right reverting at uncertain intervals—Right to take wood from trees when fallen or cut—Adverse possession. The father of the plaintiffs in 1863 obtained leave from the Collector to plant trees along a road on land belonging to Government. He expressed his willingness to do so at his own expense and to tend them and the only right he asked for was to get the fallen dry wood from the trees. Subsequently the village passed out of the possession of the plaintiffs' father, and on two occasions, in 1900 and in 1910, the defendant, who had purchased the village, got the proceeds of the sale of such wood. The plaintiffs on both occasions asserted their claim to wood or the price thereof, but were unsuccessful. Within six years from the date of the last sale they brought a suit for a declaration of their right to get the dry wood by virtue of the agreement of 1867. The defendant pleaded adverse possession. Held, that the right being one which could only be exercised on uncertain occasions and not a right recurring at fixed periods, and as there had been disputes as to the right between the parties on two previous occasions, it could not be said that defendant had acquired a title by adverse possession. Quare. Whether s. 28 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, applies at all to a case like this. DEBI PRASAD v BADRI PRASAD (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.s. 28, Art. 144—contd

I L R 40 All. 481

s. 29—See LIMITATION I. L. R. 47 Calc. 300See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, s. 46, cl. (3) I L R 39 Mad. 593s. 46, cl. (4) I L R 33 All. 738
I L R 34 All. 496

1 ————— Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 2, Sch II, Art. 35—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Limitation The plaintiff in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights filed in 1910, alleged that his wife had been taken away by two of the defendants under a promise that she should return to him shortly, but subsequently they denied all knowledge of her whereabouts. In 1909, he alleged, he was informed that she was living at a certain place with one of the defendants. Held, that the plaintiff's suit was not barred by limitation. Bunda v Kannekila, I L R 13 All. 227, referred to. AYESHA v FARAZ HUSAIN (1912) I L R 34 All. 412

2. ————— 'Affect' meaning of—Applicability of the Act to affect periods of limitation prescribed by Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907). Held, by the Full Bench, that recourse cannot be had to the general provisions of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), in dealing with the admission of petitions and appeals presented after the time prescribed under the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907), as such recourse would affect the specially prescribed period of limitation, within s. 29 (1) (b) of the Limitation Act. Abu Backer Sahib v The Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 34 Mad. 505, followed. LINGAYYA v CHINNA NARAYANA (1917) I L R 41 Mad. 169

3 ————— The effect of s. 29 (1) (b) of the Limitation Act is to make both Parts II and III of the Act inapplicable to a special period of limitation prescribed by a special or local law. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SHIB NARAIN HAZRA (1918) 22 C. W. N. 502

s. 29, 14—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 77
24 C. W. N. 29ss. 29, 15 (2)—See SUIT I. L. R. 45 Calc. 934LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd*s. 30—See LIMITATION I. L. R. 43 Calc. 34

Mortgage decree against mortgagor and purchaser of the equity of redemption—Payment of interest as such by the purchaser, effect of A purchaser of the equity of redemption is a person liable to pay the mortgage debt within s. 20 of the Limitation Act, hence, if under a mortgage decree for sale of the mortgage property, to which he is a party, though exempted from personal liability, he pays interest as such, such payment gives a fresh period of limitation for execution of the decree. Bolding v Lane (1863), 1 De O J & Sm 122, and Channery v Evans (1864), 11 H L Cas. 115 at 135, followed. ASKA RAM SOWKAR v VENKATASWAMI NAIDU (1921) I L R 44 Mad. 544

s. 31—See LIMITATION I. L. R. 35 Mad. 191

1 ————— Mortgage—Suit for sale—Limitation—General Clauses Act (4 of 1897), s. 10 The special period of limitation for suits for foreclosure or for sale by a mortgagee prescribed by s. 31 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, namely, two years from the date of the passing of the Act, expired on a Sunday. Held that a suit for sale to which s. 31 applied instituted upon the following Monday was within time. Sreedas Daulatram Marwadi v Narayan vaji Aary, 13 Bom. 1153 dissented from. HIRA SINGH v MUSAMMAT AMARTI (1912) I L R 34 All. 375

2 ————— Period of two years for filing suits—Period not 'prescribed'—Last day Sunday—Suit filed on Monday next—Limitation A question having arisen as to whether a suit for which provision is made under s. 31 (1) of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) if instituted on a Monday one day after the period of two years from the date of the passing of the Act has expired, can be taken to have been instituted within the period of two years. Held, that the suit could not be taken to have been instituted within the period of two years and that two years specified in s. 31 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was not the period of limitation prescribed. SNEHDAS DAULATRAM v NARAYEN (1911) I L R. 38 Bom. 289

3 ————— Limitation—Mortgage—Suit on mortgage barred under Limitation Act of 1871—Mortgagee's rights not removed by present Act Held, that s. 31 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, cannot be construed as reviving rights already time barred under the Limitation Act of 1871. JAI SINGH PRASAD v SURJA SINGH (1913) I L R. 35 All. 167

Sch. I, Art. 2—Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Tender of decretal amount by judgment debtor—Refusal of sale-officer to accept tender—Suit for damages—Limitation The plaintiff sued for damages against a Court Amn under the following circumstances. The plaintiff alleged that in execution of a simple money decree certain immoveable property belonging to him had been advertised for sale. On the day fixed for the sale, and before it had commenced the plaintiff tendered the decretal amount to the defendant, LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.—Sch. I, Art 2—co old who was the officer deputed to conduct the sale. The defendant, however, wrongfully refused to accept the money offered to him and went on with the sale, and the plaintiff was subsequently obliged to get the sale set aside under O XXI, r 89 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The suit was instituted some nineteen months after the alleged cause of action, assuming that to be the refusal of the Amins to accept the money tendered, or his continuing the sale after the tender had been made, had arisen. Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 2 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Ranchardas Moorari v The Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay, 1 L R 25 Bom 387, referred to. MUKAT LAL v GOPAL SOKUR (1918) 1 L R 41 All 219

—Sch I, Arts 2, 62, 102—Limitation

—Suit for refund of octroi duty not alleged to have been in the first instance illegally exacted. The plaintiff sued a municipal board for a refund of octroi duty. He did not allege that the duty had in the first instance been taken from him illegally, but that he had after payment thereof become entitled to a refund. Held that the suit was governed by Art 120 and not by Art 2 or Art 62 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Rajasthan Malwa Railway Co-operative Stores v Ajmer Municipal Board, 1 L R 32 All 491, Guru Das v Ram Narain, 1 L R 10 Cal 860, and Hankman v Hankman, 1 L R 19 Cal 123, referred to. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF GHANPUR v DEORINANDAN PRASAD (1914) 1 L R 38 All 555

—Sch. I, Arts. 3, 115, 126—

See PARTNERSHIP 15 C. W. N 882

—Sch. I, Arts 4, 7, 101, 102, 120—

*Hereditary archakas of a temple—Suspension by trustee—Suit by archakas for pay perquisites and damages against trustees—Limitation for suit—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887), Sch. Art 13—Suit, whether cognizable by a Small Cause Court—Typical against order of remand, whether competent. The plaintiffs, who were hereditary archakas, in a temple, were suspended from their office in June 1912, by the trustees of the temple, the order was passed on the 19th June 1912 and the suspension lasted till 2nd July 1912. The plaintiffs, alleging that the suspension was illegal and unjust, sued on the 25th June 1913 to recover their pay and perquisites as well as damages for mental distress, loss of dignity, etc., for an amount below Rs. 100 as against the trustees, the peskhar of the temple and the person who performed the duties of their office during their suspension. The lower Appellate Court having held the suit was not barred by limitation as regards pay and perquisites and remanded the case to the Court of First Instance, one of the trustees preferred an appeal against the order of remand, contending that the suit was wholly barred. The respondents (plaintiffs) raised a preliminary objection that the appeal was incompetent as the suit was of a small cause nature. Held, that an appeal lay to the High Court against the order of remand, as the suit was not cognizable by a Small Cause Court;* that Art. 102 of the Limitation Act applied to the suit as against the trustees as regards the pay and the perquisites if payable by the temple, and the suit was not barred as regards such claims, that Art. 36 applied to the claim for perquisites if payable by third persons, as well as to the claim for damages, and the claims were barred, and that, as against the peskhar, there was either no cause of action or it was barred under Art 36 of the Limitation Act. BARADWAJA MUDALIAR v ARAYACHALA GURUKAL (1917)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

—Sch. I, Arts. 4, 7, 101, 102, 120

—contd.

1 L R. 41 Mad. 528

—Sch I, Art 11—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), ss 278, 282, 283 AND 287

1 L R. 41 Bom. 64

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—

O XXI, r. 58 1 L R 40 All 225

1 L R 45 Bom 561

1 L R 41 All 823

1 L R 41 Mad. 985

O XXI, r. 97 1 Lah 57

O XXI, r. 100 5 Pa' L J 652

See LIMITATION 1 L R 45 Cal. 785

*Dekhan Agriculturalists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) ss 47 and 48—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 55—Agriculturist Mortgagee—Suit—Conciliator's certificate—Mortgagee necessary party along with other persons interested—Exclusion of time spent in obtaining Conciliator's certificate—Limitation. Defendants 1 and 2 brought a suit on a mortgage against defendant 3 and while the suit was pending, defendant 3 mortgaged the same property, namely, a house along with other properties to the plaintiffs. Defendants 1 and 2 having obtained a decree, they applied for execution and sought to recover the decretal debt by sale of the house. Thereupon, the plaintiffs intervened and applied that the house should be sold subject to their mortgage lien. The plaintiff's application being disallowed they brought a suit against defendants, 1, 2 and 3 to establish their right founded on their mortgage. The suit was brought within one year of the order rejecting their application after the exclusion of the time taken up in obtaining the Conciliator's certificate under ss. 47 and 48 of the Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) defendant 3 being described in their mortgage as an agriculturist. Defendants 1 and 2 contended that defendant 3 being not a necessary party, the Conciliator's certificate was unnecessary and the suit was time-barred. Held, that under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), defendant 3 was a necessary party to the suit which was brought on the strength of the mortgage and he being an agriculturist, the Conciliator's certificate was necessary and the suit was, therefore, not time-barred. ESKATH PANDORA v DAGADURAM (1912)*

1 L R. 38 Bom 624

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.— Sch. I, Art. 11—contd.

Period of limitation altered by implication—S. 30, if applies—Claim petition dismissed for default—Regular suit, if must be brought within a year—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1908), ss. 278, 281. The operation of s. 30 of the Limitation Act is not limited to cases in which the period of limitation has been expressly altered. It applies also to a case where the period of limitation has been altered as the result of the alteration of the description of the suit. Art. 11 of the Limitation Act does not apply where a claim preferred under s. 278 of Act XIV of 1908 was "dismissed for absence," the order of dismissal not being an order passed under s. 281 of that Act but under those sections of the Code which enabled a Court to dismiss a miscellaneous case for default. UMACHARAN CHATTERJEE v. HERON MOYER DEBI (1917) 18 C. W. N. 770

Attachment and sale of moveable—Dismissal of claim petition—Suit for declaration and value of moveables, within one year of dismissal of claim petition but more than a year after attachment, governed by Art 11 of the Limitation Act—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXI, r 63, nature of suits brought under. The plaintiff, whose moveable property was attached in execution of a decree against a third party, was unsuccessful in his claim petition and then filed the present suit more than one year after the date of the attachment but within one year of the date of the order dismissing his claim petition. In his plaint he prayed for a decree establishing his right to his moveables and directing the first defendant at whose instance the moveables were attached, to pay him the value thereof: Held, that the suit was within time, that it was a suit contemplated by O XXI, r 63, Civil Procedure Code, and that it was governed by Art. 11 of the Limitation Act: Held, further, that the words "to establish the right which he claims to the property" which occur both in Art. 11 and in O XXI, r 63, Civil Procedure Code, are wide enough to cover not only a suit for a declaration, but also one for relief consequential on such declaration. Nature of suits under O XXI, r 63, considered. Kishori Mohun Roy v. Hurook Dass, I L. R. 12 Cal. 696, and Kunhamma v. Kunhunn, I L. R. 18 Mad 140, followed. Phil Kumar v. Ghanahayam Mura, I. L. R. 35 Cal. 202, distinguished. RASIVI REDDI v. RAMAYYA (1916) I L. R. 40 Mad. 733

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXI, r 29—Auction purchaser's petition to be given actual possession refused—Application to be given symbolical possession granted—Suit to recover actual possession—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art 11 (a) Plaintiff having purchased at Court sale an 8 anna share of certain property, and being resisted in taking actual physical possession by the Defendant, applied to be put into such possession; but the application was refused under O XXI, r. 29, C. P. C. on 12th January 1912. Thereafter he, on a further application to be given symbolical possession, was put in such possession on 12th April 1912. On 10th February

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.— Sch. I, Art. 11—contd.

1913 Plaintiff brought the present suit in which he asked to be put in actual possession. Held—That as in the suit, Plaintiff was asking for the very same kind of possession as was refused to him on 12th January 1912, Art. 11 (a) of Sch. I of the Limitation Act applied and the suit was barred. The fact that he might not at that stage have a right to actual possession made no difference, as the question was not what he might or ought to have asked but what he did ask. BALDEO v. KANHAIAHAL 24 C. W. N. 1001

Sch. I, Arts 11, 13—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXI, r 63—Claim petition filed on the original side of the High Court—Claim allowed—Appeal under the Letters Patent, if competent—Order confirming original order—Suit under O XXI, r. 63, after one year from date of original order, but within one year from order on appeal—Starting point of limitation. A claim petition was filed by the second defendant objecting to the attachment of certain properties as belonging to the first defendant in execution of a decree passed by the High Court on its original side. The petition was allowed in favour of the claimant by an order passed by a single Judge of the High Court on its original side. The plaintiff, who was the decree holder, filed an appeal against the order to the High Court under the Letters Patent, and the original order was confirmed on appeal. The plaintiff brought a suit under O XXI r 63 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), to establish his right to attach the property, more than one year from the date of the original order but within one year from the date of the order passed on appeal. Held, that Art. 11 and not Art. 13 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applied to the case but that the suit was not barred, as the starting point of limitation under Art. 11 was the date of the order passed on appeal. The word "order" in Art. 11 of the Limitation Act should be construed as meaning the only subsisting order in the case, which is the appellate order (when there has been an appeal), in accordance with the recognised principles of jurisprudence. An appeal lies under the Letters Patent against an order of a single Judge of the High Court on its Original Side, passed on a claim petition filed therein. VENUGOPAL MEDALI v. VENKATASUBBIAH CHETTY (1915) I L. R. 39 Mad 1196

Arts 11, 13 and 120—Attachment before judgment—Decree and order for sale—Claim to attached property, filed after order for sale—Order allowing claim—Suit filed after more than one year to contest the order on claim—Limitation. Property was attached before judgment and after a decree in the suit, and an order for sale in execution were passed, a claim to the property was preferred and allowed by the Court. On a suit to contest the order on the claim being filed more than a year after such order. Held, that the property must be deemed to have been attached in execution of a decree by virtue of Order XXXVIII, rule 11, Civil Procedure Code, and that article 11 and not article 13 or 120 was applicable and that the suit was barred by limitation. ARUNACHALAM CHETTY v. PEEBASANI SERVAT (1921)

I. L. R. 44 Mad. (F. B.) 962

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Art. 11 and s. 22—

Applicability of, discussed.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908

O XXI, BR. 38, CO. 25 C W. N. 544

Sch. I, Art. 12—

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR
I L. R. 39 Mad. 1031

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882,

s. 406, I L. R. 1 Lah. 27

When in an execution of a decree against a father of a joint family property has been sold, the sons cannot claim to redeem without setting aside the sale within the time prescribed by this section. BHOLA JHA v. KALI PRASAD
1 Pat. L. J. 180

Sch. I, Art. 12A and s. 26 and 28—Arrears of revenue—Sale by Revenue Court—Judgment-debtor remaining in possession of property—Sue by purchaser for possession—Defence by judgment-debtor that the sale was invalid—Judgment-debtor not precluded from raising the defence—Revenue sales to be treated differently from sales by Civil Courts—Purchaser's plea of want of notice of judgment-debtor's title not valid. The defendants who owned plant land in a khola village brought a suit against the khots for a declaration that they held the land free of assessment. The suit was dismissed by the lower Courts but on appeal to the High Court it was held in 1905 that the defendants had the right to hold the land free of assessment. While the appeal proceedings were pending, the land was sold by the Revenue Court under the provisions of the Land Revenue Code for arrears of assessment due from the defendants and it was purchased by the plaintiffs' vendor. The sale was confirmed on the 6th August 1904. After the sale, the defendants continued to remain in possession of the property. In 1915, the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the property. The defendants resisted the claim on the ground that the sale was invalid. It was urged on plaintiffs' behalf that as he was a purchaser at a revenue sale without notice of defendants' title, his title was good as against the defendants. The lower Courts decreed the plaintiff's claim, holding that as the defendants did not sue to set aside the sale within one year their right to impugn the sale was barred under Art. 12A of the Limitation Act. Held (reversing the decrees of the lower Courts), that the defendants could raise the defence that the sale was invalid, though a suit by them would have been barred by limitation under Art. 12A of the Limitation Act. Held, also, that the plaintiff as a purchaser at a revenue sale could not succeed on the ground that he was a purchaser without notice, inasmuch as the sale held by the Revenue Court for arrears of assessment while proceedings were pending in a Civil Court became invalid when it was declared that the defendants were entitled to hold the land free of assessment. Unless a suit falls under s. 26 or s. 28 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, there is no bar of limitation to a defence. When a decree is passed against a defendant in a civil suit and his property is put up for sale in execution proceedings and he does not ask for a stay of execution the purchaser at the execution sale acquires a good title although it may happen that eventually the decree against the defendant is set aside on appeal. But there is a great distinction between sales in execution of Civil Court decrees and sales by the Revenue Courts for arrears of assessment. If as a matter of fact the defendant in the revenue proceedings is entitled to hold the land free of assessment, any sale which takes place on the footing that he is bound to pay assessment is invalid and the purchaser at such a sale cannot acquire a good title except by adverse possession. Venkatachalapathi Ayyar v. Robert Fischer (1907), 30 Mad. 444, followed; Shital Bhagwan v. Shamdasprasad (1905), 29 Bom. 435, distinguished; Balikesen Das v. Simpson (1898), L. R. 23 I. A. 151, referred to; MAHADEV v. SADASHIV (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 12A and ss. 26 and 28—contd.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 45

Sch. I, Arts. 12, 65, 166—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 47 AND 50

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1078

Sch. I, Art. 12 or 144—

See INAM I L. R. 42 Mad. 673

Sch. I, Art. 13—

See s. 11 I L. R. 44 Mad. 902

Attachment of property before judgment—Order raising the attachment—Decree in the suit—Subsequent suit for a declaration that the property is liable to be attached for the decree—Existence of the order, whether bar to such suit. An order releasing certain properties from attachment before judgment, is no bar to a subsequent suit for a declaration that they are liable to attachment in execution of the decree in the prior suit, and such suit is not governed by Art. 13 of the Limitation Act. Bukheskar Das v. Ambika Prasad, I L. R. 37 All. 578, not followed. RAMANANJAM v. KAMARAJU (1917)

I L. R. 41 Mad. 23

Sch. I, Art. 14—

See s. 10 I L. R. 39 Bom. 572

See s. 22 I L. R. 39 Bom. 729

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE,
1878, ss. 68 AND 79

I L. R. 45 Bom. 920

See INAM I L. R. 42 Mad. 673

Possession of land as owner for fifty years—User of land as graveyard and also as timber depot—Order by Government for discontinuing the user as timber depot—Order ultra vires—Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879) ss. 65, 66. The plaintiffs were in possession of the land in dispute as owners ever since 1860 and used a portion of it as a graveyard, and on another portion of it they built a shed which was used as a timber shop. In 1871, Government assessed the land and entered it in the Revenue Registers as "Government waste land." The plaintiffs paid no assessment on the land, in 1908, the District Deputy Collector passed an order directing the Mamlatdar to "cause the building and the wood to be removed forthwith from the said land." This order was finally confirmed by the Commissioner on the 24th April 1909. The plaintiffs filed the present suits on the 2nd February 1910, to obtain a declaration that they were absolute owners of the land, to have set aside the order of 1909, and to get a permanent injunction restraining Government from disturbing the plaintiffs in their possession of the land. The lower Court dismissed the suits holding that the plaintiffs were not absolute owners but occupants only, and that the suits were barred under Art. 14 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act, 1908. The plaintiffs having appealed Held, that as the land in dispute was not used for the purpose of agriculture, neither s. 65 nor s. 66 of the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) applied to the case, and the orders passed by the Revenue Authorities to evict the plaintiffs were ultra vires Held, further, that the suits were not barred by Art. 14 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), inasmuch as it was not necessary for the plaintiffs to have the order set aside RASUL-KHAN HAMADKHAN v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) . . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 484

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 14—contd.

Official order—What is—Held, that Art. 14 only applies to orders passed by a Government officer 'in his official capacity' and not to orders which are ultra vires, and that where a Collector passed orders under a 37 of the Bombay Land Revenue Act 1879, with reference to land prima facie the property of an individual in peaceful possession he is dealing with the land in official capacity but acting ultra vires MALKATJI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) . . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 325

Collector's Order—
Forfeiture—Appeal—Exclusion of time—Limitation—Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1876), s. 11
On the 6th May 1911, an order was made by the Collector declaring that a survey number belonging to the plaintiff be forfeited to Government for arrears due on the khata. Against the order of forfeiture, the plaintiff preferred an appeal to the Commissioner. The appeal being dismissed, the plaintiff filed a suit on the 14th October 1915 to get the order of forfeiture set aside as illegal and ultra vires. It was contended that the time taken up in appealing to Revenue authorities be excluded in reckoning the period of limitation Held, overruling the contention, that the suit not being brought within one year from the date of the order of forfeiture, was barred by limitation under Art. 14 of the Limitation Act, 1908 GANESH SHESHO v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) . . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 451

Sch. I, Arts. 14 and 91—Suit for a declaration of rights as Vatandar—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876), s. 4(a)

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 261

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 19, 23—

See LIMITATION (12).

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898

Sch. I, Art. 22—

See ART 11 . . . 25 C. W. N. 544

See ARTS 28, 29

See ART 12 . . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 45

See ARTS 20 and 28

See ART 12A . . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 45

Sch. I, Arts. 19, 62 and 120—Attachment of debt—Wrongful seizure of moveable property—Suit by claimant to the debt against the decree holder—Article, applicable Neither attachment of a debt nor voluntary payment of it into Court, constitutes seizure of moveable property under legal process within the meaning of Art. 29 of the Limitation Act. A suit by a claimant to the debt attached against the decree holder to whom the amount of the debt was paid is governed by either Art. 62 or 120 Narasimha Rao v Gangaraju, I L R 31 Mad. 431, distinguished. YELLAMMAL v AYYAPPA NAICK (1915) . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 972

Sch. I, Arts. 29, 36—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908), s. 73—Money rateably distributed amongst decree holders, to which they were subsequently declared not to be entitled—Suit to recover money so distributed—Limitation. One S brought a suit for money against N and B and attached before judgment a quantity of grain in their possession. Thereupon one M, from whom the grain had been purchased, objected to the attachment setting up a lien on the grain for unpaid purchase money. The Court allowed M's objection holding that M had a lien to the extent of Rs. 2,000, whereupon S brought a suit for a declaration that M had no lien at all. The property being of a perishable nature was sold by the Court and the proceeds were deposited in Court. The suit of S against M was decreed by the Court of first instance on the 25th of June, 1912. Thereafter certain other decree holders of N and B applied for rateable distribution under s. 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the Court made the order asked for and paid the sale proceeds of the grain rateably to the decree holders and S on dates between the 19th and the 26th of September, 1912. But the declaratory decree obtained by S was reversed on appeal on the 24th of September, 1912, and the decree of the lower Appellate Court was affirmed in second appeal on the 30th of April, 1914. In June and July, 1915, M's son brought suits to recover by virtue of his lien the amounts paid to the various decree-holders. Held, that the suits were not barred by limitation, and that neither Art. 29 nor Art. 36 of the first Schedule to the Limitation Act was applicable to the suits Yellammal v. Ayyappa Naick, 23 Mad. L. J. 519, Rajputana-Malwa Railway Co-operative Stores, Limited v. The Ajmere Municipal Board, I L. R. 32 All. 491, and Ward & Co. v. Wallis (1909), 1 Q. B. 675, referred to by WALSH, J. RAM NARAIN v BHAI BANKER LAL (1917) . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 327

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 29, 30, 40—

See ARREST OF SHIP

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 35

Sch. I, Arts. 29, 31, 115—

See LAWS OF GOALS

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 18

Sch. I, Art. 31—Limitation—Suits by consignee for damages on account of non-delivery of goods—Effect of offer to compromise claim on the part of the Railway Company (On the 16th of January 1913, the plaintiff left at the Ramnagar station on the Mithankhand and Humsar Railway a bundle of gunny bags to be delivered to the Ball Super a tender, Sambhar, on the Bumber, Baroda and Central India Railway. The bundle was not delivered. The plaintiff was subsequently informed that it was lying in the lost property office of the latter railway, and that the plaintiff might take delivery of it if he liked. On the 17th of March, 1916, the Bumber, Baroda and Central India Railway wrote to the plaintiff and offered him Rs. 20 as compensation. The plaintiff did not accept this offer, but on the 7th of July 1919, sued the Railway Company for Rs. 50 damages for non-delivery of the bundle of gunny bags. Held, that Art. 31 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, applied and the suit was barred by limitation. The plaintiff could not pray in aid the Railway Company's letter of the 17th of March 1916, as it was written long after the expiry of the period of limitation and could not be construed as a promise to pay anything. It was at best an offer made without prejudice to compromise the plaintiff's claim. Great Indian Peninsula Railway Co. v. Gangul Ray, I. L. R. 31 All. 544, Haji Yousaf Goudam Hussein v. Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Co., I. L. R. 26 Bom. 562, referred to. M.T.A. Raddi Lal v. Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company I. L. R. 42 All. 290

Sch. I, Arts. 31, 49, 115—

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY

I. L. R. 29 Mad. 1

Sch. I, Arts. 31 and 62—*Railways Act (Indian) (IX of 1909), s. 58—Suits by consignee of goods for surplus sale proceeds—Suits against the Company—Sale of goods under s. 58 of the Railways Act—Suits for compensation, distinct from suit for surplus sale proceeds—Money had and received—Applicability of Art. 31 or 62, Limitation Act. A suit by the consignee of goods by a Railway Company for the recovery of the surplus sale-proceeds realized by the Company by sale of the goods under s. 58 of the Indian Railways Act, is governed by Art. 62 and not Art. 31 of the Limitation Act. M. & S. M. Ry. Co., Ltd. v. Haridas Bramahloss (1915), I. L. R. 41 Mad. 371, referred to. Tanachand v. M. & S. M. Ry. Co., Ltd. (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 823*

Sch. I, Art. 32—

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY

1 Fal. L. J. 497

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 47 Calc. 125

Wherein a suit for ejectment of a tenant under s. 165 of the Bengal Tenancy Act for breach of condition compensation was also claimed. Held, that latter claim was governed by Art. 32 of the Limitation Act. Rajendra Das Roy and another v. M. M. Chandra, 25 C. W. N. 839

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Art. 32—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 22, 143—*Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1855), s. 125—Suit to set aside sale—Limitation. Art. 22 and not 143 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act governed a suit by a landlord brought under s. 125 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to set aside a tenant who had allowed a portion of his holding to be encroached upon by a stranger and had exchanged another plot of land of the tenancy with the stranger in contravention of the terms of his khalak. Shreegopal Das Mondal v. Jyotindra Roy Chowdhury, I. L. R. 4 Calc. 541 & 5 C. W. N. 444, referred to. Tarab Mondal v. Tarab Gramani (1915) 20 C. W. N. 661*

Sch. I, Art. 34—

s. 49 Art. 29

I. L. R. 33 A.L. 522

s. 49 Art. 29

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 35

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 29, 30

AND 120 I. L. R. 28 All. 322

Sch. I, Art. 42

See INDENTURE I. L. R. 42 Calc. 530

Sch. I, Art. 44

See s. 7 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 112

I. L. R. 28 Bom. 84

See CONTRACT ACT s. 64

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 26

See HINDU LAW GUARDIAN

I. L. R. 25 Mad. 1123

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, s. 7

I. L. R. 28 Mad. 119

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 7 and 44

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 102

See MURUMADAW LAW 25 C. W. N. 238

Sch. I, Art. 44—*Case of minor's property by his mother—Suit to set aside the sale brought more than three years after the minor attained majority. The mother and natural guardian of a minor having sold the minor's property, a suit to set aside the sale was brought more than three years after the minor attained majority. Held, that the suit was barred under Art. 44 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Rajappa v. Channappa, 17 Bom. L. R. 1134 and Chandappa v. Tatyappa, 17 Bom. L. R. 1137, distinguished. Laxmaya v. Rachappa (1914)*

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 626

Minor—Guardian—Alienation by natural guardian of minor—Suit to set aside alienation—Limitation. A Hindu minor on his attaining majority cannot sue to recover possession of property transferred by his mother acting as his natural guardian during his minority without suing to set aside the transfer within the period of limitation provided by Art. 44 of the Limitation Act. A mortgaged his property to defendant's father in 1877. After his death, his widow S, as natural guardian of his minor son, sold the equity of redemption to the mortgagee in 1901, without necessity. The son attained majority in 1895 and died in 1901 leaving a widow S who died in 1906, and the son's widow died in 1904.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd—Sch. I, Art. 44—contd.

In 1916, the plaintiff, the next reversioner, sued to redeem the mortgage—Held, that the suit was barred under Art. 44 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, for the son ought to have sued to set aside the alienation within three years of his attaining majority. PER SHAN J—The scope of Art. 44 is not limited to sales by guardians who are appointed under testaments or by the Court. The language of the Article is general and wide enough to include sales by natural guardians, who may have some authority, however limited, to alienate the property of the minor that is, sales which are not wholly void, but are voidable at the instance of the person interested in the property. Bhagwant Govind v. Kondi valad Mahadu (1889) 14 Bom. 279, Balappa v. Chambaappa (1916) 17 Bom. L. R. 1134 and Anandappa v. Tolappa (1911) 17 Bom. L. R. 1137n, overruled. Malkarjun v. Narhar (1900) 25 Bom. 337. Mata Din v. Ahmad Ali (1917) 34 All. 213. Mahabeshwar Krishnaappa v. Ramchandra Mangesh (1913) 38 Bom. 94 and Laxmana v. Rachappa (1915) 42 Bom. 626 referred to. PAKRATTA LIMANNA v. LIMANNA bin MAHADU (1919)

I L. R. 44 Bom. 742

Suit to recover property transferred by natural guardian on behalf of minor
A suit for the recovery of property transferred during the minority of the Plaintiff by his natural guardian must under Art. 44 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act be brought within three years of attaining majority since a transfer being voidable and not void. BJOJENDRA CHANDRA SARMA v. PROSHONYO KUMAR DEAR 24 C. W. N. 1016

—Sch. I, Arts. 44, 91—Suit to set aside a compromise decree—

See EXECUTOR,

I L. R. 38 Mad. 579

—Sch. I Arts. 44, 91, 95, 120—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O XXII n 7 I L. R. 2 Lah. 164

—Sch. I, Arts. 44, 144—

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN

I L. R. 28 Mad. 1125

Alienation by mother as guardian of the sons—Decree against the sons represented by the mother as guardian ad litem—Sale in execution—Decree and sale whether nullities—Suit by minors to recover possession—Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (1 of 1908) O XXXII, r. 4 (1) Where a mother acting as the guardian of her minor sons mortgaged their property and a decree on the mortgage was passed against the minors represented by the mother as guardian ad litem and properties sold in execution and subsequently the sons sued to recover possession of the properties more than three years after the elder of them attained majority but within twelve years of the sale, alleging that their mother was not competent to represent them in the previous suit as her interest was adverse to theirs. Held, that the decree against the minors was not a nullity and had to be set aside and that the suit was consequently barred by limitation. KUPPUSWAMI AYYANGAR v. KAMALAMMAL (1920)

I L. R. 43 Mad. 842

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

—Sch. I, Art. 47—

See s. 28.

I L. R. 38 Mad. 432

Suit for recovery of land previously declared to be in defendant's possession under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898)—Limitation—Order not ultra vires, because defective—jurisdiction, meaning of In a proceeding under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code regularly initiated by a preliminary order under sub-s. (1) the parties filed written statements. The first party to the proceedings after some witnesses had been examined on his behalf, applied to withdraw from the proceedings stating that he would conduct the case in Civil Court and would not enter upon the land till the matter should have been settled by the Civil Court. The Magistrate reciting the above facts declared the second party to be in possession on by an order passed on 24th August 1906. The first party instituted the present suit to recover possession on the 21st January 1912 and contended that the suit was not barred by Art. 47 of the Limitation Act because the order of the Magistrate was without jurisdiction. Held that the suit was barred by Art. 47 of the Limitation Act. EAM MAHAMED SHAHA v. HAYAT MAHAMED SAHA (1917)

22 C. W. N. 342

Decree by Mamladar—Mamladars' Courts Act (Bombay Act II of 1906) Order by Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 145—Suit for possession—Limitation In 1913, the plaintiff filed a suit under the Bombay Mamladars Courts Act 1906 and obtained an injunction restraining the defendant from disturbing his possession. The District Deputy Collector having purported to interfere in revision the plaintiff applied in 1914 for an order under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but the Magistrate decided against him and allowed possession to the defendant. In 1917, the plaintiff sued to recover possession. Held that the order of the District Deputy Collector who had no jurisdiction to interfere should be considered as a nullity and that the suit being filed within three years from the order of the Magistrate was not barred under Article 47 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. VENKATESH KEVAL v. BHIKU VENKATESH

I L. R. 45 Bom. 1135

—Arts. 48 and 49—

Suit for goods misappropriated—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 108 and 178 One K took a jewel of the plaintiff in May 1907, to find a purchaser for it, stating that he would settle the price in the presence of the plaintiff but instead of doing so, K in June 1907 pledged it with the third defendant who bona fide lent on its security. Re 175. Plaintiff came to know of K's conversion in 1909 and sued in 1911 for the jewel or its value the third defendant and the widow and son of K who died at the end of 1907. Held that Art. 48 and not 49 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was applicable and that the suit was not barred by limitation. Held, also that the bond fides of the third defendant does not preclude the plaintiff from recovering the jewel without paying the third defendant the amount of loan. Effect of ss. 108 and 178 of the Indian Contract Act considered. SENAPATY v. SUBRAMANIA CHETTIAR (1914)

I L. R. 38 Mad. 783

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Arts 43 and 49—contd.

Suit for goods misappropriated—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss 103 and 178. A commission agent employed to sell a jewel belonging to the plaintiff wrongfully pledged it in 1907 for Rs. 175 to the defendant who lent the amount bona fide without any knowledge of the plaintiff's ownership. Plaintiff coming to know of the wrongful pledge in 1909 sued in 1911 for the recovery of the jewel or its value. Held, (i) that the suit was in time and Art. 48 and not Art. 49 of the Limitation Act was applicable and time began to run from 1903 when the plaintiff came to know in whose possession the jewel was and (ii) that as the defendant was a pawnee in good faith from one who had juridical possession of the jewel the plaintiff was not entitled to recover the jewel without paying the defendant, the amount due to him on the pledge. "Possession" in a 178 of Contract Act (IX of 1872) means juridical possession and not custody. Bameshar Chavley v. Mats Bhalu, I L. R. 5 All. 341, Ram Lal v. Ghalam Hussain, I L. R. 29 All. 579 and the observations of BACHELOR, J. in Vandil Thakrey v. The Bank of Bombay 12 Bom. L. R. 310 335 followed. SKESHAPPIER v. SODRAMATIA CREDITORS (1916).

I L. R. 49 Mad. 678

Sch. I, Art. 49—

See ARREST OF SHIP

I L. R. 42 Calc. 35

See ART 31 I L. R. 39 Mad. 1.See CONTRACT Act s 162

28 C W N 772

Limitation begins to run upon refusal to return property detained. Where a person to whom moveable property is entrusted to be returned on the fulfilment of certain conditions, retains such property after such conditions are fulfilled, he will be deemed to be in possession on behalf of the person entitled, until he refuses delivery mere silence on demand being made will not constitute such refusal. The period of limitation for a suit to recover the property thus detained will, under Art. 49 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act, run from the date when the defendant refuses to deliver such property. GOPALASAMI AYYAR v. SUBRAMANIAM SASTRI (1912).

I L. R. 35 Mad. 636

In a suit for recovery of property deposited for safe custody with defendant limitation does not begin to run against plaintiff until the return of the property has been demanded and refused. LADDO BIRAM v. JANAL-UD-DIN I L. R. 42 All. 45

Sch. I, Arts. 40, 60, 61, 62, 81, 83, 120 and 145.—Specific moveable property, meaning of, in Art. 49.—Whether includes money— Readvay article, when to be applied— Money had and received to the plaintiff's use. Where the karnavan of a Malabar taluk sued a junior for recovery of a sum of toward money recovered by the latter, but withheld by him in denial of the plaintiff's right to the same. Held, that the case was governed by Art. 62, as the defendant had received money belonging to the plaintiff which ex ipso facto he ought to refund, and the cause of action was for money had and received to the plaintiff's use, and arose on the date of the receipt, and not on the date of the denial of the plaintiff's right to the money. Mahomed Habib v. Mahomed Amer, I L. R. 327 Cal. 527, referred to. "Specific moveable property" in Art. 49 does not include money, though money is "moveable property" within Art. 89. "Specific property" is property which is recovered in specie, i.e. the very property itself, not any equivalent or reparation. The ordinary Art. 120 should be applied only as a last resort, if no other article is applicable. Sharoop Dass Mondal v. Joggeswar Roy Chowdhury I L. R. 26 Cal. 564, referred to. SANKUTY v. GOVINDA (1914).

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts. 49, 60, 61, 62, 81, 83, 120 and 145—contd.

I L. R. 37 Mad. 281

Sch. I, Arts. 40, 60, 145.—Limitation—Bridgment—Suit to recover property bailed—Contract or tort. The plaintiff sued for the return of certain property which had been deposited with two persons as follows, namely, four hundred gold mohurs with Musammatt Chon Kunwar and some pictures and manuscripts with Sobhag Mal. Held that the limitation applicable to the former suit was that prescribed by Art. 60 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, and to the latter that prescribed by Art. 145 or, if the suit was looked upon as one in tort, Art. 49 would apply, the period beginning to run from the date when the return of the property was demanded. KALYAN MAL v. KISHAN CHAND (1919).

I L. R. 41 All. 643

Sch. I, Arts. 49, 115, 145.—Gold deposited with goldsmith to be made into ornaments—Suit to recover—Limitation. Where the allegation was that nearly eleven years ago the plaintiff had made over a loka of gold to defendant to be made into ornaments, but no time was fixed and the latter put him off from time to time until being pressed by plaintiff on 24th March 1914, he promised to make and deliver the ornaments within 15 days, but failed to do so. Held, that Art. 145 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act applied to a suit for recovery of the gold deposited. Art. 145 applies even when the property is not recoverable in specie and does not cease to be applicable merely because the defendant refuses to return the property. Such refusal does not bring into operation Art. 48 or 49. Even if Art. 49 applied limitation would begin running from 24th April 1914 before which there was no refusal. If Art. 115 applied limitation would run from the same date, when the contract was broken. GANGAHARI GUERRAVASTI v. NABIN CHANDRA HARIKTA (1915).

20 C W N 232

Sch. I, Art. 51—

See s 19

I L. R. Lah. 357

Sch. I, Arts. 52, 56, 115, 120.—Limitation—suit for recovery of money due on account of materials supplied and work done for constructing a floor under a contract fixing a consolidated rate for both—Claim as laid in plaint, an indivisible one—Meaning of compensation—in Art. 115, and in Indian Contract Act, IX of 1872, s 73. The defendant, who had taken a contract to construct a building at Lahore, employed the plaintiff, as a sub contractor to do the work of flooring in the building. The plaintiff was to supply Italian marble and other stones required for the flooring and was also to do all the work necessary for constructing the floor, and was to be paid a certain sum of money for every square foot of the flooring done by him, which rate included both the price of the materials supplied and the work done by the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued for the balance of the money due to him on the basis of this contract and the plaint made no mention of the price of the materials as distinct from the price of the work. The only question before the full bench was what article of the Limitation Act was applicable to the suit. Held, that the claim as laid in the plaint was an indivisible one, and could not be split up into two portions and consequently neither article 52 nor article 58 of the Limitation Act was applicable, but that if the suit was governed by article 115 and not by article 120 Pudha Kusen v. Damul Lal (193 P R 1913), overruled in this respect. Article 115 is a general provision applying to all actions or contracts not specially provided for otherwise. The word "compensation" in that article as well as in article 116 has the same meaning as it has in section 73 of the Indian Contract Act, and denotes a sum of money payable to a person on account of loss or damage caused to him by the breach of a contract. Nobocomar Mookhopadhyay v. Suru Mullick (I L R 6 Cal 94), and Hussain Ali Khan v. Hafiz Ali Khan (I L R 3 All 600 F B), followed. MAHOMED GHAFITA v. SIRAJ UD DIN I L R 2 Lah. 378

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 52, 58, 115, 120—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 59, 60—*Loan or deposit—Money left with a trader, not being a banker, is loan or deposit—Deposit, as Art. 60, meaning of Under Art. 60 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), money left in the hands of a trader who is not a banker will be a deposit in circumstances such as would make it money of a customer where the depositor is a banker. Art. 60 and not Art. 59 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to a suit to recover money so deposited, even though it is payable on demand. The word "deposit" in Art. 60 is used in a non legal sense. Official Assignee of Madras v. Smith, I L R 32 Mad 63, Perumdevayyar Ammal v. Nammalwar Chellu I L R 18 Mad 390, and Jahar Chunder Bhadury v. Jiban Kumar Bibi, I L R 16 Cal. 25 followed. Dharam Das v. Ganga Devi, I L R 29 All 773, and Ididha Dhanj v. Natha, I L R 13 Bom. 338 dissented from Snackar v. Brougha (Barbeck Bank Case), (1914) A C 328, referred to SUB RAHMANTAN CHETTIAR v. KADIRESAN CHETTIAR (1916) I L R 39 Mad 1081*

Sch. I, Arts. 60, 145—
See ART 49 I L R 41 All 643

Limitation—Suit to recover money deposited with banking firm. There is no doubt, since the passing of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, that a suit for the recovery of money deposited with a banker and repayable on demand is governed by Art. 60, and not by Art. 59, of the first schedule to the Act. Dharm Das v. Ganga Devi, I L R 29 All 773, referred to. JUGAL LAL v. KISHAN LAL (1915) I L R 37 All 282

Sch. I Arts. 60, 61, 62—
See ART 49 I L R 37 Mad. 381

Sch. I, Arts. 60, 63—
Interest due on "Thavani" transactions with Nattukottai Chettis—Hindu widows—Interest in her husband's assets—Acquiescence in treating it as part of her husband's estate—Effect on her death. If a Hindu widow acquiesces in treating the interest on the investments of her husband's assets as part of her husband's estate, it will descend, on her death, to her husband's heirs. If money is deposited with Nattukottai Chettis on "Thavani" with the understanding that at the end of each "Thavani" period the interest for that period is not payable but is to be added to the principal, and both are to be treated as a fresh deposit, Art. 60 of the Limitation Act is applicable to the recovery of such interest and it becomes payable only on demand. Art. 63 does not apply. NATAYANAM CHETTI v. SUDHAN CHETTI (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 60, 63—contd.

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 629

Sch. I, Art. 61—

Revenue paid by person in possession under an order which is subsequently reversed on appeal—Suit to recover revenue so paid from successful competitor—Limitation. A obtained possession of certain revenue-paying property under an order passed in mutation proceedings and whilst in possession, paid the revenue due in respect of the property. But the order in favour of A was subsequently set aside and B obtained possession under the order of the appellate court. Held, that A's claim to recover the revenue which he had paid during the period of his possession was a claim for money payable to the plaintiff for money paid for the defendant and the limitation applicable was that prescribed by Art. 61 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. ALAYAR KHAN v. BIBI HUNWAR

I. L. R. 42 All 61

Sch. I, Arts. 61, 92, 120—Contribution suit—Limitation when begins to run—Date of payment. One R B deposited a certain sum of money in a Bank owned by R and his two brothers S and G. R B brought a suit and obtained a decree for the money deposited against R and the representatives of his brothers S and G. On appeal the High Court exempted G's representatives from liability under the decree in so far as they inherited the share of the family property from G. R B executed his decree against R and advertised some properties exclusively belonging to R for sale. On the 8th December 1900, one Raja S as the purchaser of certain movables belonging to R and his son (the plaintiff) paid in the decretal amount and the execution case was finally struck off. R put in an application stating that the petition filed by the decree holder stating satisfaction of the decree was without his knowledge and that the negotiations between Raja S and himself regarding the sale of the properties had not been concluded. Raja S sued R for specific performance of the contract to sell and ultimately the High Court held that he could not get a decree for specific performance, but was only entitled to get back the money advanced with interest from the 8th December 1900. On 11th January 1900, Raja S in execution of this decree sold certain properties belonging to the plaintiff, the sale being confirmed on 21st June 1906 when Raja S obtained payment. On 3rd February 1908, the plaintiff instituted a suit for contribution against the legal representatives of R's brother S. Held, that it was doubtful whether Arts. 61 and 92, Sch. I of the Limitation Act, were applicable to the present case and under Art. 120 the period of limitation was six years from the time when the right to sue accrued. The date of payment by Raja S was not the date of payment by E within the meaning of Art 99 of the Limitation Act. The plaintiff's right to sue accrued when the decree obtained by Raja S was satisfied by sale of plaintiff's property and the suit being brought within two years from the date of that payment, was not barred by limitation. JANKI KOER v DOMI LAL (1913) 18 C W N 480

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch. I, Arts 61, 99 120—contd

Arts 61 and 116.—Well jointly owned by parties.—Registered agreement for effecting repairs of well jointly.—Repairs made at plaintiff's costs.—Suit for contribution of expenses.—Claim not for compensation for breach of a contract in writing registered.—Limitation three years. The plaintiff and the defendant jointly owned a well. They entered into a registered agreement to the effect that the repairs of the well were to be made by them jointly. The repairs were effected by the Municipality at the instance of the plaintiff who paid a certain amount to the Municipality in 1911. The plaintiff having sued the defendant in 1916 for the contribution claimable in respect of the repairs of the well, it was contended that the suit being covered by Art 116 of the Limitation Act, 1908, was not barred by limitation. Held that the suit, being in fact a suit for contribution, in which the right of action did not rest upon the registered contract, was time barred after three years. SRINATHPRASAD DWARKADAS v KARMAJI ARJUNJI (1919) 1 L R. 44 Bom. 591

Art 82—

See ART 2 1 L R 76 All 555

See ART 31 1 L R 44 Mad 823

See BENGAL ZAMINDARI REVENUE ACT
1 Pat. L. J 374

See BHAGDARI AND YADWADARI TEXTILES
ACT (Bom V of 1862) s 3

1 L R 39 Bom. 358

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908), s. 11 1 L R 40 Bom. 614

See CONTRACT 1 L R 41 Mad. 438

1. Payment by cheque. In case of payment by a cheque, limitation runs not from the date of the delivery of the cheque, but from the date of the receipt of the money by the payee. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAJON HUGHES (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 293

2. Limitation.—Debt due to all the heirs of a deceased recovered by some of them.—Suit by remaining heir for recovery of her share. Some of the heirs of a deceased Muhammadan brought a suit upon a mortgage in his favour implicating as a defendant the remaining heir. The plaintiffs obtained a decree and in execution thereof brought the mortgaged property to sale on the 21st of May 1900 and purchased it themselves for a sum slightly in excess of the amount of the decree and costs. The decree-holders auction purchasers paid in the excess and got possession. On the 1st of June 1912 the remaining heir sued to recover her share in the mortgage money or in the alternative a share in the property purchased. Held, that the plaintiff had no cause of action so far as the property was concerned, and that as to the money her

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Art 82—contd

suit was barred by Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Mahomed Walid v Mahomed Ameer, 1 L R 32 Cal 227, followed. Umardaraz Ali Khan v Wilayat Ali Khan 1 L R 19 All 169 and Mahomed Riamat Ali v Hasan Bannu 1 L R 21 Cal 157, referred to. AMINA BIBI v NAJIB UDDIN (1915)

1 L R 37 All 233

3. Limitation.—Suit for money had and received.—Suit by heir to recover share of inheritance from person appointed to wind up estate. Where, pending arbitration in respect of the distribution of the estate of a deceased person amongst his heirs, the estate was by their consent put in charge of a third party who was to realize the assets and pay the debts, it was held that a suit by one of the heirs to recover from such person her share by inheritance was a suit for money had and received and was governed by Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. MASHI UDDIN v IFTIKHAR-UN-NISSA BIBI (1914) 1 L R. 37 All. 40

4. Limitation.—Succession certificate obtained by one of the heirs of a deceased person.—Suit by remaining heir for recovery of her share. A certain Mahomedan in the year 1903 obtained a succession certificate to realize debts due to his deceased uncle and realised some of those debts. In the year 1913, the widow of his brother who had died subsequent to the death of his uncle brought the present suit for her husband's share of the money realised. Held that Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 governed the suit and as no money had been realised by the holder of the succession certificate within three years of the suit it was barred by limitation. AMINA BIBI v NAJIB UDDIN (1915) 1 L R 37 All 233. Paradara Rao Tanjavi v Radha Bai, 1 L R 37 All 318. Mashi uddin v Iftikhar un Nissa Bibi, 1 L R 37 All 40, Mahomed Walid v Mahomed Ameer, 1 L R 32 Cal 227 followed. Umardaraz Ali Khan v Wilayat Ali Khan, 1 L R 19 All 169, distinguished. ABDUL GHAFAR v NUR JAHAN BEGAM (1915) 1 L R 37 All. 434

5. Suit for refund of consideration money where there is a total failure of consideration. When there is a total failure of consideration with regard to a loan, a claim to a refund of the consideration money is governed by Art 62 of the first Schedule of the Limitation Act. BISWANATH GORAI v SURENDRA MOHAI GHOSH (1913) 19 C W N 120

6. Suit for money taken in execution of a decree.—Compensation.—Suit for money had and received. In execution of a decree certain rents due to the judgment-debtor from his tenants were attached. Prior to the passing of this decree the judgment debtor had sold the property to a third party. The decree holder got the court orders to realize the rents due from the tenants and they were deposited in Court and ultimately paid over to the decree-holder. The purchaser brought the present suit against the decree holder for the recovery of the money within three years of the payment to him. Held, that the suit was money had and received within the meaning of art. 62 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act. Jagannath Sathardis v

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Art. 62—concl'd

Gulam Jilani Chaudhuri, I L R 8 Bom 17, dissented from NIADAR SINGH v GANGA DEVI (1916) I L R 38 All 678

Arts. 62 and 89—Hindu joint family—Partition of immoveable properties—Cash sec rules kept joint—Manager failing to account—Suit for account—Manager holding as an agent—Limitation Plaintiff and his two brothers lived jointly. They divided their immoveable estate in 1898 but kept joint certain cash securities as they were all in the name of their elder brother Ramsing. At the time of the partition it was orally agreed that Ramsing should realize the securities and divide the proceeds among the three brothers. Ramsing did not divide the proceeds nor gave any account. He died on the 6th January 1914, thereafter plaintiff demanded an account from Ramsing's son but he having refused, a suit was filed by the plaintiff for an account on the 3rd January 1917. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit as being barred under Art 62 of the Limitation Act, 1908. On appeal to the High Court Held, that the suit was not barred as it was governed by Art 89 of the Limitation Act inasmuch as Ramsing must be considered as an agent of his brothers and time would not begin to run until the account was demanded and refused. Bairoo Tewary v Doona Tewary (1896) 24 Cal 509, doubted. GABU v ZIRRU (19.0) I L R. 45 Bom 313

Sch. I, Arts 62 and 97

See LIMITATION I L R 48 Cal 670

Sale of land by one having a voidable title and putting purchaser in possession thereunder—Dispossession by person entitled to avoid—Cause of action for return of purchase money, only on dispossession A who had a title to certain immoveable property voidable at the option of C sold it to B and put B in possession thereof. C then brought a suit against A and B, got a decree and obtained possession thereof in execution. Held, that B's cause of action for the return of the purchase money arose not on the date of the sale but on the date of his dispossession when alone there was a failure of consideration and that the article applicable was Art 97 of the Limitation Act. Cases on the subject reviewed. SUBBARAYA v RAJAGOPALA (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 887

Arts. 62, 102—

See ART 2 I L R 36 All 555

Sch. I, Arts. 62, 120—

See ART 29 I L R 38 Mad. 972

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 315.
I L R 35 All 419

1—Separate Hindu family—Property managed by one member—Receipt of money by that member—Suit for partition Three brothers who had been living with their father as a joint Hindu family obtained under the will of their father, in whose hands it was separate property, a considerable amount of movable and immovable property. The property bequeathed was divided by the will into three lots, but the legatees still continued to live as a joint Hindu family and the property of all was managed for a series of years by one member of the family acting as if he were the karā of a joint Hindu family. Held, on suit by the widow of one of the members of the family to recover from the manager her deceased husband's share of money received by the defendant as manager but owned by all the three members of the family in equal shares, that the suit was not a suit for 'money had and received', but was one to which Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act applied. PARSOTAM RAO TANTIA v RADHA BAI (1915) I L R 37 All 318

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts 62, 120—contd.

2—Suit for money on the ground of wrongful rateable distribution, governed by Art 62 and not by Art. 120 of the Limitation Act—s. 14 of the Limitation Act—Time to en to file and to prosecute a revision petition against order of wrongful distribution not to be deducted under s. 14 A suit for money under s. 73, cl (2), Civil Procedure Code, on the ground that the plaintiff and not the defendant was entitled to receive the same in proceedings in execution of a decree for rateable distribution as governed by Art 62 and not by Art. 120 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) the cause of action arising on the date of wrongful payment to the defendant. In computing the period of limitation for the filing of such a suit the plaintiff is not entitled to deduct under s. 14 of the Limitation Act the period of time taken by him to file a revision petition in the High Court or the time during which the plaintiff was prosecuting the revision petition against the order of wrongful distribution. Fish v Bhikaji Phadnis v Achut Jaganath Ghale, I L R 15 Bom 438, followed. Ramanammy Chetty v. Hanirahia Chettyar, 21 Mad L J 705, not followed. BAIKRATH LALA v RAMADOSS (1914) I L R 39 Mad. 62

3—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXII, rr 11 and 9—Withdrawal of surplus sale proceeds belonging to the plaintiff by defendant—Suit instituted more than three years from date of withdrawal Where an application for substitution was made more than six months after the appellant's death before the Registrar and the respondents did not put in any objection before the Registrar to the hearing of the appeal, the application for substitution was treated as an application for the restoration of the appeal after abatement. The plaintiff, a purchaser at auction sale of a revenue paying estate, made default in the payment of Government revenue and the estate was sold and the surplus sale proceeds were withdrawn by the defendants, the original proprietors whose names still remained in the register, and a suit was instituted by the plaintiff, for the recovery of the money so withdrawn, more than three years after the date of withdrawal. Held, that Art 62 of the Limitation Act applied and the suit was barred by Limitation. Muhammad Wahid v Muhammad Ameer, I L R 32 Cal 5-7, and Lachna Varma Singh v Dhanuk-dhari Prasad Singh, 17 Ind. Cas 331, referred to. Money paid to one party with the implied intention that it should finally reach the hands of the party to whom it actually belongs, is money, within the meaning of Art 62, paid to that party for the use of the actual person in whom the right to receive it vests. HARINAR MISER v SYED MOHAMMED (1916) 20 C. W. N. 983

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts. 62, 120—contd.

4 ———— *Suit by one part owner of a jaghir against another who was also manager—Suit for account and recovery of income—Nature of suit—Suit in a District Munsif's Court for one year's income—Plaint returned for presentation to proper Court—Plaint not represented—Subsequent suit in a District Court for income due for previous years—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O II, r 2, suit of, barred under The plaintiff and the defendant were co-sharers in a jaghir of which the latter was appointed by the Government as manager. The former sued the latter in a District Munsif's Court for his share of the net income due for the year 1912, but the plaint was returned for presentation to the proper Court as the valuation of the suit exceeded the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court. The plaintiff did not represent the plaint in any Court but subsequently instituted the present suit in 1913 in the District Court for an account and recovery of his share of income due for the years 1906 to 1907. The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation and by O II, r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held, that the suit was one for an account which was governed by Art. 120 and not Art. 62 of the Limitation Act and that the suit was not barred by limitation. Muhammad Habibullah Khan v Saffur Hussain Khan I L R 7 All 25 followed. Held, also that the suit was not barred under O II, r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code. SURESH RAO v RAMA RAO (1916)*

I L R 40 Mad 291

5 ———— Money paid to one party with the implied intention that it should finally reach the hands of the party to whom it actually belongs to within Art. 62 HARIRAN MISHRA v SYED MOHAMMED

1 Pat L J 374

Sch. I, Arts. 62, 120, 123—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss 82
100 I L R 33 All. 708

Sch. I Art. 63—

See ART 60 I L R 43 Mad. 629

Sch. I, Art. 64—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 19 AND ART 64
5 Pat. L J 371

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

I L R 38 Calc. 394

——— Sch. I, Arts. 64, 89, 115—Suit by principal against agent for recovery of money found due on adjustment of accounts—Limitation A suit contemplated by Art. 89 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act is a suit in which accounts have to be taken. Where an account has been rendered, Art. 89 has no application. Where an account has been taken and adjusted and a specific sum has been found due from the agent to the principal the principal becomes entitled to sue forthwith for recovery of that money, and the position is not altered even if the agent continues thereafter to hold the office as agent of that principal. Either Art. 64 or Art. 115 applies to such a suit. KISHOR PRASAD SINGH v SARWAN LAL (1915)

21 C W N 591

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Art. 65—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 41 Calc 978

Sch. I, Art. 66—

See ART 116 I L R 39 Bom 177

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXXIV, r. 6 I L R 41 All 581

——— Sch. I, Arts. 66, 115, 145—*Deposit of money repayable at a fixed date—Art. 66 and 115 applicable, Art. 145 not applicable—Deposit in Art. 145, meaning of—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881)—Title of executor to sue even without Probate or Letters—Limitation Act, s 17—Same word, re enacted in a repealing Act—Construction same meaning as in the repealed Act—Art. 145 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) is not applicable to deposits of money—Deposit in Art. 145 means only deposit of goods to be returned in specie when wanted, it is the sort of bailment known to lawyers under that name in the Roman Law of Bailments which was accepted by Bracton and afterwards by Lord Holt in Cogge v Barnard (1703) 5 M L C 173 s c, 2 Pym 909, as fit to be enforced in England. Ishur Chunder Bhaduri v Jibun Aikari Bida I L R 18 Calc 25 and Perundestayer Annal v Vam mahar Chetty, I L R 18 Mad. 350 followed. Administrator General, Bengal v Krishna Kamin Dassee, I L R 31 Calc 519, and Lala Gobind Prasad v Chairman of Patna Municipality, 6 C L J 535 not followed. A loan repayable at a fixed date is governed by Art. 66 and is not by Art. 115. Unlike cases governed by the Indian Succession Act and the Hindu Wills Act in a case governed by the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) the obtaining of probate is not necessary to clothe the executor with the right to sue for debts due to the testator, and the estate is represented by the executor even in the absence of probate, within the meaning of s 17 of the Limitation Act and time begins to run from death of the testator's death, as the obtaining of a succession certificate is not a condition precedent to the filing of a suit but is only necessary before getting a decree. Where a word which is used in one sense in one Act is re enacted in a subsequent Act which repeals the former then unless there is some strong reason to the contrary, it must be read in the same sense in the subsequent Act in which it is re enacted. Mayor of Portsmouth v Smith L R 10 A C 354 371, referred to. Testatrix lent money to the defendant on 10th August 1900, and died on 10th January 1904. The will was governed by the Probate and Administration Act. Held, that a suit by the executor in 1910 was barred by limitation either under Art. 66 or 115 of the Limitation Act. BALAKRISHNUPP V NARAYANA WMY CHETTY (1914)*

I L R 37 Mad 175

Sch. I Art. 73—Limitation on—Promissory note—Writing necessary: g or postponing the right to sue.

Defendant borrowed money from a bank and executed a promissory note in favour of the bank on the 13th of June 1913. But on the same date he also wrote to the bank a letter in which he stated—The sum of Rs 700, which I have borrowed from the Bank to day, I undertake to pay principal and interest, within one year. If I cannot pay in within the time specified, then they (the Bank) may realize (the money) in any way they please." Held, that this letter amounted to a "writing restraining or postponing the right to sue" within the meaning of Art. 73 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, and limitation, accordingly, did not begin to run against the Bank until the period of one year from the date of the note had expired. JWALA PRASAD v. SHAMA CHAVAN

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.—Sch. I, Art. 73—contd.

I. L. R. 42 All. 55

—Sch. I, Arts. 74, 75, 80 and 120—

See LIMITATION

I. L. R. 28 Mad. 374

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 412

—Sch. I, Art. 75—

See CONTRACT . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 412

1. ———— Bond—Option of suing for whole amount due in default of payment of instalments—Limitation A bond payable by instalments gave to the creditor the option of suing for the whole amount due on default in payment of any instalment or of suing for the instalments separately. Two instalments were paid, the third was not, and more than six years after default in payment of this instalment, nothing further having been paid on the bond, the creditor sued to recover the whole amount due stating that the cause of action arose on the date when the third instalment became due. Held, that the suit was time barred. Ayudhya v. Kunjal, I. L. R. 30 All. 123, distinguished. AMOLAK CHAND v. BAJNATH (1913) . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 455

2. ———— Limitation—Bond—Instalment—Power to sue for whole amount in default of payment of any instalment—Terminus a quo Where a bond payable by instalments provides that the creditor shall have power to sue for the whole amount of the bond upon default being made in payment of any one instalment this does not mean that the creditor is obliged to sue for the whole within the period of limitation from the first default made. He may, if he so chooses, waive this right and sue for such instalments as remain due and are not barred by limitation. Ayudhya v. Kunjal, I. L. R. 30 All. 123, followed. Amolak Chand v. Bajnath, I. L. R. 35 All. 455, and Chandan Singh v. Baidhya Dhar, 15 Indian Cases, 856, distinguished. MOHAN LAL v. TIKA RAM (1918) . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 104

3. ———— Bond repayable by instalments the whole to become payable "on demand" in default in paying one instalment—Meaning of "on demand"—Waiver A bond repayable by instalments contained the following stipulation—"in default of our making such payment also the amount that may be found due for all future drawings shall be paid in a lump on your demand." Held, that the cause of action for recovery of all the instalments would not arise until demand is made by the obligee in terms of the stipulation and that in consequence the whole amount did not become due merely on failure to pay an instalment. Hannamant Badheram v. Arthur Bowles, I. L. R. 3 Bom. 561, followed. The words "on your demand" mean "when you require." Failure to make the demand will constitute a waiver of the right stipulated for. Harri Pershad Chowdhry v. Namb Singh, I. L. R. 21 Cal. 512, 517 and Jodab Chandra Bhatia v.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.—Sch. I, Art. 75—contd.

Bhairab Chandra Chuckerbutty, I. L. R. 31 Cal. 297, dissented from. KARUTAKARAN NAIR v. KRISHNA MENON (1913) . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 68

—Sch. I, Art. 78—

See LIMITATION (53)

I. L. R. 46 Cal. 169

—Sch. I, Art. 80—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, ARTS 73 AND

80 . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 55

——— Promissory note payable on demand—Agreement fixing time for payment—Suit, by payee—Limitation, from the expiry of the period fixed Art. 80 of the Limitation Act is the article applicable to a suit by the payee on a promissory note payable on demand but accompanied by an agreement fixing a period for payment and time begins to run from the expiry of the period fixed in the accompanying agreement. Simon v. Halim Mahomed Sherif, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 568, and Somasundaram Chettiar v. Narasimha Chettiar I. L. R. 29 Mad. 212 overruled. ANANALAI CHETTY v. VELAYUDA NADAR (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 129

—Sch. I, Arts. 81, 89—

See ART 40 . . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 281

——— Sch. I, Art. 83—Limitation—Suit upon a covenant in a registered deed of sale to recover excess money paid for redemption of a mortgage on the property sold One S. B. on 25th May 1889, sold certain immovable property. The sale deed was registered, the consideration money being Rs. 3,000, out of which Rs. 2,000 was to be paid by the vendee to a mortgagee, and in the event of the mortgage money being in excess of Rs. 2,000 S. B. was to be liable for such excess. The vendee was forced to sue the mortgagee for redemption and obtained a decree on 21st July 1911 on payment of Rs. 3,176 9 0. This payment was made on the 5th December 1911 and on 20th July 1916 the vendee brought the present suit against the lessor of S. B. (who had since died) for recovery of Rs. 1,176 9 0 and its 353 7 0 costs of the redemption suit. Held, that the combined effect of article 116 read with article 83 of the Limitation Act gave the period of 6 years for the suit time running from the date when the plaintiffs were actually demanded, i.e., the 5th December 1911, when the payment was actually made by the plaintiffs, and that the suit was therefore within time. Srinivasa Lakshmar v. Rangasami (I. L. R. 31 Mad. 432), and Hari Bora Singh v. Mohendra Prasad Singh (16 Indian Cases 73), followed. Laghurao Dhol v. Madan Mohan (I. L. R. 10 All. 3), not followed. Hari Tivara v. Pagnawath Tivara (I. L. R. 11 All. 27), distinguished. Shree Narayan v. Bhat Mehta (I. L. R. 22 All. 55), Kudip Dale v. Mahant Daba (I. L. R. 34 All. 43), Edoyakura Saha v. Bihary Lal (I. L. R. 33 Cal. 451), and 27, Mad. L. J. notes 46 referred to. ABUL KALIM KHAN v. MUHAMMAD BAKSHI . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 316

—Sch. I, Art. 84—

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I. L. R. 46 Cal. 249

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch I, Art. 85—

Limitation—"Mutual open and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties" Held, that an account with a bank which commenced by the customer borrowing money from the bank, and which at no time showed a balance in favour of the customer, was not "a mutual, open and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties" within the meaning of Art. 85 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Ram Pershad v Harbans Singh, 6 C L J 153, and Hajee Syud Mahomed v Ashraf con nissa 1 L R 5 Calc 759, referred to BANK OF MULTAN LIMITED v KAMTA PRASAD (1916) 1 L R 39 All 33

Limitation—suit for balance due on a current account where last item is within time but that item was advanced more than three years after the close of the year in which the last preceding item was entered Held, that where the last item in a mutual open and current account was advanced to defendants within limitation, but this item was advanced more than three years after the close of the year in which the last preceding item was entered, the suit is barred by limitation in respect of the previous account.—vide Art 85 of the Limitation Act. Rustoni's Law of Limitation II Edition, page 308, referred to GOSWAMI RAM v JAWALA RAM 1 L R 1 Lah 12

Sch I, Art 89—

See ACCOUNT, SUIT FOR

1 L R 42 Calc. 108

1. Agent continuing in service of heir—Old agency if subsists—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 209 253—Demand of accounts—Agent failing to comply if refusal—Agent not responding to demand for explanation of account papers submitted if refusal—Obligation to explain papers The death of the principal terminates the agency. Where on the death of the principal, the agent continued in the service of his successors in interest Held—That a new agency not governed by the original contract was created. Where, under such new arrangement, parties agreed that account should be submitted from year to year, a suit against the agent would not be governed by Art 115 but by Art 89 of Sch I of the Limitation Act. Easia v Baroda Kuthore, 11 C L J 43, not followed. Shib Chandra Roy v Chandra Narain Mukerjee 1 L R 32 Calc 719 s e 1 C L J 232, and Asghar Ali Khan v Khurshed Ali Khan, 1 L R 24 All 27, relied on. If there has been a demand for accounts and the agent has not responded to the call, there is, by implication, a refusal within the meaning of Art 89. This is the case also where the agent has submitted accounts but has failed to respond to the principal's demand to explain them. Chandra Maikab Barua v Nabin Chandra Barua, 1 L R 40 Calc. 108, not followed. MADRUSUDAN SEN v. RAKHAL CHANDRA DAS BASAK (1915) 19 C. W. N. 1070 1 L R. 43 Calc 248

2. Agent, liability of, to principal, suit on—Limitation—Agency termination of—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) Money is moveable property within the meaning of Art. 89 of the Limitation Act. Asghar Ali

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch I, Art 89—contd.

Khan v Khurshed Ali Khan, 1 L R 24 All-27, followed. Art 89 applies to suits by a principal against an agent for moveable property received by the latter and not accounted for and time begins to run when the account is, during the continuance of the agency, demanded and refused, or when no such demand is made when the agency terminates. An agency is determined when the agent ceases to represent the principal though his liability in respect of acts done by him as agent may continue. Babu Ram v Ram Dayal 1 L R 12 All 541, and Prin v Baldeo Das 1 L R 28 Calc 77s dissented from. Joseph Chandro Ghose, v Benode Lal Roy, 14 C W N 122, not followed. YENKATACHALAM v NARAYANAM (1914) 1 L R 39 Mad. 376 Omission to render accounts, when amounts to a refusal A rent collector employed under a registered agreement was called upon to render accounts up to 12th April on or before the 13th May 1914. No accounts were rendered as demanded, and on 11th October 1915 the said rent collector was dismissed and ordered to render accounts up to date. Subsequently a suit for accounts was instituted on the 27th August 1918. Held that Arts 115 and 116 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the case. In order to make them applicable it must be shown that the suit was not specifically provided for in the schedule. Art 89 applied to the case, as the term moveable property includes money, and consequently excludes the operation of Arts 115 and 116. That there having been a demand for accounts non compliance with the demand amounted to a refusal and the suit in so far as it claimed accounts up to 12th April 1914 must be deemed barred by limitation as it was instituted after the lapse of three years from the date of refusal, i.e., 13th May 1914. Madrusudan v Rakhal (1), Nabin v Chandra (4) and Bhabatarini v Shakti Bahadur (8) and other cases referred to. That the agency having been terminated by the dismissal on the 11th October 1915, and the suit having been brought within three years from that date the plaintiff was entitled to accounts from the Defendant other than the accounts demanded in April 1914. The suit was thus in time for the accounts from 13th April 1914 to 11th October 1915.

PANDIT RAM RAM MUKERJEE v JAGADISH NATH Roy

28 C W N. 61

Sch I, Arts 89, 115—

See ART 64 21 C W N. 591

Sch I, Arts 89, 115 and 120—

See LAMBARDAR 4 Pat L J 304

Sch. I, Arts. 89, 115, 132—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

1 L R 43 Calc 248

1 L R. 41 Mad 1

Sch I, Art 91—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877 ART 91

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE

1 L R. 39 Mad. 456

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Art. 91—contd.

See ART 14 . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 261

See ART 44 . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 164

See KHOJAS . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 419

Held that in a suit to set aside an alienation of the Plaintiff's property made during his minority by his guardian the limitation applicable to Art 141 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act, 1877 BACHCHAY SINGH v KANTA PRASAD I. L. R. 32 ALL. 392

Alienation by Hindu widow—Suit by reversioner to recover possession of property alienated—Alienation found to be sham—Limitation A Hindu widow having alienated a property of her husband, the reversioners sued more than three years after the date of alienation to recover possession of the property. It was found that the alienation was merely a sham. The lower Courts held that Art 91 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act 1908 did not apply and decreed the suit. The defendant having appealed Held, that Art. 91 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act had no application, for the apparent obstacle presented by the mortgage proved usual and ineffectual MAHACHARAM v PANABHAI LALLUBHAI (1915)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 51.

Sale deed executed by a minor—Void instrument—Suit to recover possession—Suit for cancellation of sale deed, whether necessary Art 91, Sch I of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, does not apply to a suit for possession, where the plaintiff alleges and proves that a sale-deed is void because it was executed by him whilst a minor, but does not claim expressly to have it cancelled or set aside NARSA GOUDA v CHAWAGOUDA (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 638

Plaintiff fraudulently made to execute a deed of a different nature from that agreed upon—Suit to recover property affected—Limitation—Void or voidable. Where it is established that the plaintiff by defendants' misrepresentation was got to execute a deed of sale believing the same to have been a deed of a different kind, the transaction is void and not voidable only, and Art. 91 of the Limitation Act has no application to his suit to recover the property. SANNI BIBI v SIDDIK HUSAN MUHAMMAD (1918)

23 C. W. N. 93

Sch. I, Arts 91, 120—Limitation—Suit for declaration that nominal lessee is not the beneficial lessee but merely bareholder or the plaintiff Held, that a suit for declaration that the defendant, whose name appeared in a certain lease as lessee, had no interest under the lease and that the person really interested in the lease was the plaintiff, was governed as to limitation by Art 120 and not by Art. 91 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, the cause of action accruing to the plaintiff when his position as a lessee was challenged BASANT LAL v CHHIDAMI LAL (1913) I. L. R. 35 ALL. 149

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 91, 120—Suit to set aside, a mortgage—Mortgage deed executed without consideration and not intended to be operative—Cause of action A suit to set aside a mortgage-deed was brought nine years after its execution on the ground that the defendant only recently threatened to bring a suit on the basis of it, though when it was executed it was never intended to be acted upon, no consideration having passed for it. Held, that the suit was barred by limitation, no matter whether Art. 91 or Art. 120 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act applied to the suit, the fact entitling the plaintiff to have the documents set aside having been known to him from the very outset, Singarappa v Talari Sanyappa, I. L. R. 28 Mad. 349, and Vithal v Hari, I. L. R. 25 Bom. 78, referred to. QASIM BEG v MUHAMMAD ZIA BEG (1915)

I. L. R. 37 ALL. 640

Sch. I, Arts. 91, 95 and 120—Suit or setting aside or cancelling a written instrument on the ground of fraud and declaration of title—Deed if need be set aside when instrument void ab initio Plaintiff prayed inter alia (1) for a declaration that a deed of gift was void and inoperative in that the donor signed the deed believing owing to the fraud and misrepresentation of the donee, that it was only a power of attorney, and (2) for a declaration of title in certain Government Promissory Notes, the subject of the deed of gift. The deed was signed on the 12th July 1906 and the donor came to know of the fraud on the 23rd January 1915, and the suit was instituted on the 22nd December 1919. Held, that the three years' limitation provided by Arts 95 and 91 of the Limitation Act did apply to the suit, inasmuch as the principle laid down in Foster v Mackinnon (1) that the alleged deed is no deed was applicable so that the deed being void ab initio did not require to be set aside or cancelled. Held, further, with reference to the relief sought for in cl (2) of the prayer, that Art 120 of the Act would apply and that Sec 18 would prevent the period of limitation from running until the fraud became known SARAT CHANDRA GUPTA v KATAI LAL CHAKRABARTY 26 C. W. N. 48

Sch. I, Arts. 91 and 124
See TRUSTEES of a TEMPLE.

I. L. R. 39 Mad 456

Sch I, Arts 92, 93—Suit to declare the forgery of an instrument—Attempt—Lease—Attempt to record a lease under the Record of Rights Act (Bom. Act 11 of 1903) is not an attempt to enforce. The defendant applied to the Mamlatdar to record, under the Record of Rights Act 1903, a lease under which he claimed to be entitled to a rent of 400 coconuts from the plaintiff. The application was made on the 4th August 1908, but the plaintiff having complained that the document was a forgery the Mamlatdar declined to record it. The defendant then applied to the Collector who on the 11th August 1909 ordered that the lease should be recorded. On the strength of the record, the defendant sued in the Mamlatdar's Court for the enforcement of the terms of the lease and recovered in April and July 1912 coconuts of the value of upwards of Rs 40. Within three years of the recovery of these coconuts the plaintiff brought the suit to recover back the value of the coconuts on the footing of the alleged lease being a forgery. The defendant contended that the suit was barred under Art 93 of the Limitation Act, on the ground that it was filed more than three years after the 4th August 1908, the date of an attempt to enforce it against the plaintiff. Held that the suit was not barred under Art 93 of the Limitation Act, 1908, as the first real attempt to enforce the lease took place when the defendant attempted to recover the rent under the lease and that attempt was made within three years of the institution of the suit. The attempt to get the lease recorded under the Record of Rights Act could not be put higher than an unsuccessful attempt to have a document registered in a case in which registration was necessary (Art 92) and that such an attempt was not an attempt to enforce the lease. ACHUT RAYAPA v GOPAL SUNDAYA (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch I, Arts. 92, 93—contd.

I L R 40 Bom 22

Sch I Art 95—

Sec ART 12 I L R. 38 Mad 1076

S e ART 91 28 C W N 480

Sch. I, Art 95—Relief not claimed distinctly on the ground of fraud—Executor—Suit without probate—Decree—Limitation from the date of testator's death—Fraud in the performance of contract, no ground for rescission—Partnership—Fresh agreement—Deceit—Suit for an account on the footing of continuance of original partnership—Suit not maintainable. Art. 95, Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) has no application where on the face of the plaint no equitable relief is claimed on the ground of fraud. Abdul Rahim v Karparam Daji, I L R 16 Bom 186, and Gour Mohun Gouls v Dinomath Karmakar, I L R 25 Cal. 49, referred to. An executor is capable of instituting a suit without obtaining a probate although he might not be able to proceed as far as decree without obtaining a probate. Fraud in the performance of a contract, apart from its making, is no ground for rescission and restoration of the parties to the position in which they were before the contract was entered into. A testator appointed his widow as the guardian of his minor children and executrix (by tenor) of his will. On his death the widow consented to the retention of the testator's share in a partnership business by the surviving partners and subsequently to a transfer of the same to another business. In an action brought by one of the testator's sons as administrator against the surviving partners, for an account of all the assets of the testator at the time of his death retained and employed by the defendants in their business. Held, dismissing the suit, that the testator's widow was perfectly competent as his executrix to enter into the arrangement, which was a novatio, with the surviving partners so as to bind the estate and the suit against the partners on the footing of a continuance of the original partnership was not maintainable. JAMBETJI NASSAR WANJI v HIRJIBHAI NAORJI (1912)

1. L. R. 37 Bom 158

Sch. I, Arts. 95, 120—

Sec ART 44 I L R 2 Lah. 184

Sch. I, Art 95—Mistake—Discovery of mistake when first Court's decree was passed—Appeal—Dismissal of appeal—Time begins to run from the date of the first Court's decree. In 1903, plaintiff No 2 obtained a decree for partition against the defendant, his father and plaintiff No 1. In execution of that decree a compromise was effected between the parties and certain properties, including a mortgage debt due to the family, were allotted to plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2. The plaintiffs sued the mortgagors in 1910 to recover the mortgage amount but the suit was dismissed as it was held that the consideration for the mortgage had been paid off. The decree of the trial Court was passed in 1912. The plaintiffs appealed but the appeal was dismissed on the 11th July 1914. On the 28th June 1917, the plaintiffs sued to recover from the defendant their share of the loss. The Subordinate Judge found that it was a case of mutual mistake under which all the parties considered that the mortgage was a perfectly good asset and therefore held the defendant liable to contribute to the loss. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that the suit was barred under Art 96 of the Limitation Act as the discovery of the mistake dated not later than the first Court's decree which was passed in 1912 and time began to run against the plaintiff from that date. Hulwanchand v Purkuchand (1918) 21 Com. I R 632 relied on. Under Indian law an original decree is not suspended by presentation of an appeal nor is its operation interrupted where the decree on appeal is one of dismissal. MARTAND MAHADEV v DHONDO MORESHWAR (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch I, Art 96—contd.

I L R 45 Bom. 552

Sch I Art 97—

Sec ART 69 I L R. 38 Mad. 887

—Money due on an existing consideration which afterwards fails—Limitation Defendant No. 1 agreed with the plaintiff in September 1906, for a price, to procure from defendant No. 2 a re-conveyance of a house to the plaintiff. In November 1908, defendant No. 2 conveyed the house to 1. In 1910, 1 sued to recover possession of the house from the plaintiff and obtained a decree in July 1911. The plaintiff sued in January 1912 to recover the consideration money. The lower Courts held that the suit was within time under Art. 97 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908). On appeal Held, that the suit was time-barred even under Art. 97, for after the sale to V defendant No. 1 could not have had anything to do with the house and the possession which the plaintiff was allowed to retain must have been on 1's sufferance. GULABCHAND BALARAM v NARAYAN (1916)

I L R. 41 Bom 31

—Failure of consideration, suit on—Sale by a member of joint Hindu family—Mitakshara law—Suit by vendee for possession—Previous sale by manager—Suit dismissed finally by High Court on Second Appeal—Subsequent suit for refund of price and costs of litigation—Suit within three years of decree of High Court whether barred—Failure of consideration, when—Costs of litigation, whether recoverable—Costs of review in High Court, whether recoverable. Where a purchaser of the share in certain lands of a member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, sued to recover possession of the same from another who had previously purchased the entire lands from the managing member of the family, succeeded in the Original Court but failed in the lower Appellate Court on appeal and in the High Court on second Appeal and in the review therein, and where he brought another suit within three years of the decree in the High Court for refund of the price paid by him and for the cost of the litigation against his vendor who pleaded the bar of limitation: Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation under Art. 97 of the Limitation Act, as the consideration failed only when it was finally determined by the High Court in Second Appeal that the sale by the plaintiff's vendor could not take effect against the prior sale by the manager, and that the costs of litigation were legally recoverable, except the costs of review which was a luxury indulged in by the plaintiff. Hanuman Kamat v Hanuman Mandur, I. L. R. 19 Calc. 129, distinguished. Subaroya v. Rajagopala, I. L. R. 38 Mad. 557, and Venkataramayya v. Lanka Ram Brahmam, 35 M. L. J. 124, followed. SANYOTHAMA RAO v CHINNASAMI PILLAI (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 97—conclld.

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 507

Sch. I, Arts. 97, 62—Failure of consideration—Sale of land—purchaser stepping into possession—Loss of possession at the suit of a third party, the real owner—Suit to recover purchase money from vendor—Limitation In 1903, the defendant sold certain land to the plaintiff under the bona fide belief that he was entitled to do so and placed the plaintiff in possession. In 1909, the true owner of the land recovered possession thereof from the plaintiff. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover the purchase money from the defendant, the Court of the first instance held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art. 62 of the First Schedule to the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), for the purchase-money paid to the defendant was money had and received to the plaintiff's use. On appeal it was held that the claim was within time, under Art. 97 of the Act. On appeal to the High Court Held, that the suit was governed by Art. 97, inasmuch as possession given under the purchase to the plaintiff was an existing consideration as long as it lasted. Hanuman Kamat v Hanuman Mandur, I. L. R. 19 Calc. 123, followed. NARSING SHIVRAKAS v. PACRU RAMRAKAS (1913)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 533

Arts. 97, 116—Breach of contract—Damages, suit to recover—Limitation In 1911 the plaintiffs bought two lands under a registered sale-deed, and went into possession. One of the lands was let to a tenant. The tenant claimed the land as his own, and established his title to the land in 1913, the decree was confirmed by the High Court in 1916. In 1917, the plaintiffs sued their vendors for cancellation of the sale of 1911, and to recover the consideration money together with the amount spent by them in improving the land and the costs incurred by them in defending the suit brought by the tenant. The trial Court held that the consideration for the sale failed in 1913 when the tenant established his claim in a Court of law and that the suit was barred by Art. 97 of the Indian Limitation Act. On plaintiff's appeal:—Held, that though the cause of action arose in 1913, the contract of sale having been registered, the suit was governed by Art. 116 of the Indian Limitation Act, and was LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Arts. 97, 116—conclld.

in time. Subbaraya v. Rajagopala (1914) 38 Mad. 557, Hukumchand v. Prithchand (1918) 21 Bom. L. R. 632 and Mariand Mahadev v. Dhondo Morechwar (1920) 45 Bom. 582, followed. PER MACLEOD, C. J.—"It must specially be noted that it is not the case that the seller had no title at all so that it could be said that he was selling nothing, and that, therefore, the transaction was void ab initio, nor is it a case where the purchaser got no possession. Here undoubtedly at the time the sale deed was passed it was considered that the defendants had a good title to convey the free-hold, and it was only in 1913 when (the tenant) filed his suit that it was discovered that there was a claimant who asked to be allowed to redeem and his claim eventually proved successful." PER FAWCETT, J.—"A distinction should be made between cases where from the inception the vendor had no title to convey and the vendee has not been put in possession of the property, and other cases, such as the present one where the sale is only voidable on the objection of third parties and possession is taken under the sale. I think it is only in the first class of cases that the starting point of limitation will be the date of sale." MULTANMAL v. BUDHIMAL (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 955

Sch. I, Arts. 99, 120—

See ART 61 18 C. W. N. 489

Sch. I, Arts. 101, 102—

See ART 4 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 528

Sch. I, Art. 102—

See ART 2 I. L. R. 36 All. 555

Sch. I, Art. 106—Suit for partner ship accounts—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 106—Specific assets realised within period of limitation If a suit for general partnership accounts and a share in partnership profits is itself barred the plaintiff in such a suit cannot be allowed to proceed speculatively against any and every partnership asset which may have been realised by the defendant after dissolution and within the period of limitation. Mercury Homwuy v. Ruskyu Burgory, I. L. R. 6 Bom. 628, distinguished. AHMED SULEMAN v. BHAGWANDAS VISRAM AND Co (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 515

Sch. I, Arts. 106 and 120—

See 19 22 C. W. N. 104

Question as to what amount to a dissolution of a partnership discussed and which article was applicable to the case. HARANDHAN PODDAR and others v. SEDARSON PODDAR

25 C. W. N. 847

Sch. I, Art. 109—Usufructuary mortgage—Suit by mortgagee for possession and income profits—Limitation Where a usufructuary mortgage is wrongfully kept out of possession of the mortgaged property, his proper remedy is a suit for possession and for income profits. As regards the latter remedy the period of limitation applicable is that prescribed by Art. 109 of the First Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. RAM SARUP v. HARPAL (1916)

I. L. R. 39 All. 200

Suit on mortgage—Profits received by transferee pendente lite—Suit by purchaser at mortgage sale to recover same—Profile if wrongfully received The words "wrongfully received" in Art. 109 of the Limitation Act, include receipts of profits that cannot be legally substantiated. It was held in a suit between the purchaser at a mortgage sale and the holder of a usufructuary mortgage granted by the mortgagor after the passing of the mortgage decree that the usufructuary mortgage was void as against the purchaser owing to the application of the doctrine of in pendente. The purchaser having sued the usufructuary mortgagee to recover rents realized by the latter from certain tenants of the property before the Plaintiff obtained possession under his purchase. Held, That Art. 109 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. NAGESHRA NATH PAL & SIBAT KANINI DANI. 26 C. W. N. 336

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 109—concl.

— Sch. I, Art. 110—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1883, SCH. III, ART. 2 1 Pat. L. J. 506

See CONTRACT ACT, ss. 23 AND 27

1 Pat. L. J. 37

See LIMITATION (34)

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 759

*Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865), ss. 9 and 10—When rent ascertained and payable—Rent is payable, within the meaning of Art. 110 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act only when it is ascertained. When proceedings are taken by the landlord under s. 9 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act after the end of the faisli to enforce acceptance of a paika tendered within the faisli, the landlord has to wait an adjudication under s. 19 of the Act and limitation begins to run in respect of a suit for rent only from the date of such adjudication, as it was only then that it can be said that the rent for the suit faisli was ascertained. Rangayya Appa Rao v. Bobba Srinamulu, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 143, followed. SINGARAM PILLAI & SYED GOLAM GHOUSE & Co. (1913) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 438*

— Sch. I, Arts. 110, 116—Registered Lease—Suit to recover arrears of rent—Limitation. Art. 116, Sch. I, of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to suits for debts or sums certain due upon registered instruments. LALCHAND NACHAND & NARAYAN HARI (1913)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 656

— Sch. I, Arts. 110, 115, 120—

See JOINT PROPERTY

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 54

— Sch. I, Art. 113—

See ART. 83 I. L. R. 2 Lah. 316

See BENGAL AGRA AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT ' . 4 Pat. L. J. 447

See CHACRIDARI CHALANAN LAWS

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 173

Contract between two parties that on payment of a specified sum by one to the other, the latter would transfer a decree in his favour to a third party—Suit by such third party for specific performance of the contract—Limitation—Starting point. A agreed with B that on the latter paying him a specified sum of money he would transfer a decree in his favour to C. In a suit by C against A for the specific performance of the contract by the execution of a deed of transfer

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.— Sch. I, Art. 113—concl.

Held, that the suit was governed by the second part of Art. 113 and time began to run from the date on which C had notice that performance was refused and not from the date of payment to A by B of the sum agreed in the contract. Applicability of the doctrine of certum est quod certum rursus potest to third parties, considered. VENKATANA & VENKATAKRISHNAYYA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 18

— Sch. I, Arts. 113, 116, 120—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 30

I. L. R. 34 All. 43

*— Sch. I, Arts. 113, 143—Deed of exchange—Express covenant—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882), s. 119—Implied covenant—Branch of covenant—Dispossession of plaintiff—Suit for recovery of possession of plaintiff's lands—Suit filed more than three years after but within twelve years, of dispossession, whether barred. Where a deed of exchange executed in 1903 between the plaintiff's father and some of the defendants contained a covenant, which only limited the option provided by s. 119 of the Transfer of Property Act and was otherwise of the same nature as one that would be implied under that section, and the plaintiff, being dispossessed in 1908 of the lands given by the defendants, sued in 1916 to recover the lands given by his father under the exchange, and the defendants pleaded the bar of limitation. Held, that Art. 143 and not Art. 113 of the Limitation Act applied to the case, and that the suit was in time. BRENIVASA ATTANAR & JOHNSA ROWTHER (1919)*

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 690

— Sch. I, Art. 114—

See HINDU LAW—(CUSTOM).

5 Pat. L. J. 164

— Sch. I, Art. 115—

See ART. 89

26 C. W. N. 61

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 243

See ART. 120

1 Pat. L. J. 69

See LAMBARDAK

4 Pat. L. J. 304

See JOINT PROPERTY

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 54

See PARTNERSHIP

15 C. W. N. 882

See PROCEDURE

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 832

See LOSS OF GOODS.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1

1. Limitation—Principal and agent—Broker—Suit to recover commission. The relation between a broker and the persons for whom he acts is that of agent and principal. Unlike the factor, he is not entrusted with the custody and apparent ownership of the goods, but he is a mere negotiator to effect business and is paid for his services a commission on the sales resulting from his efforts. Where the contract is not in writing, its terms are to be inferred from the course of dealings between the parties. Hence where a broker, between whom and his employer the contract was that he would be paid his commission at certain rates upon the date of the delivery of goods, sued to recover commission due to him Held, that the suit was one for compensation under a contract for services rendered, which for purposes of limitation was governed by Art 115 of Sch I to the Indian Limitation Act, and was not one for wages within the meaning of Art 102 of the said Act. Ganesh Krishna v Madhavaraj Rayi, I L R 6 Bom 75 Parbati Nath Roy Chowdhry v Madho Paroo, I L R 3 Cal 26 Voboccomar Vookhopadhaya v Sura Mulla, I L R 6 Cal 94, and Vistaram Deb v Chandra Das Deb, 12 C L J 423 referred to SUSHIL CHANDRA DAS & GAURI SHANKAR (1916)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 115—concl'd

I L R 39 All 81

2 ————— To a suit against a surety guaranteeing a promissory note payable on demand Art 115 and not Art 63 applies SREENATH ROY v PEARY MOHAN MOOKERJEE (1896) 21 C W N 479

Arts 115 and 116—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Mad 488

Arts 115 126—

See PARTNERSHIP 15 C W N 382

Arts 115, 145—

See ART 66 I L R 37 Mad 175

Sch I, Art 116—

See s 20 I L R 44 Bom 500

See ART 61 I L R 44 Bom 591

See ART 83 I L R 2 Lah 316

See ART 94 I L R 45 Bom 955

See ART 110 I L R 37 Bom 656

See LIMITATION 23 C W N 338

I L R 33 Mad. 101

See LIMITATION ACT ART 113

I L R 34 All 43

See SALE DEED I L R 38 Mad. 1171

1 ————— Bond executed by defendant alone and accepted by plaintiff and subsequently registered suit upon—Limitation Art 116 of the Limitation Act applies to a suit brought by the plaintiff to enforce a debt due upon a bond executed by the defendant alone and accepted by the plaintiff and subsequently registered CHELLAPPOO CHOWDHARI v BANGA BEHARI SEN (1916) 20 C W N 408

2 ————— Principal and agent bound to render accounts at stated periods—Suit for accounts against heir of agent—Limitation An agent for the management of zamindari property was appointed by a registered mukhtarnama, one of the conditions of the appointment being that the agent should render accounts every six months. The agent died, and the principal sued his heirs to recover a sum of money alleged to be due in respect of a period from 1891 to 1911. Held that Art 116 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act, 1908, applied and that the plaintiff was not entitled to get accounts for a period longer than six years before suit. Jhapananasa Bibi v Bania Sundari Chaudhary, 16 C W N 1049, followed. MATHURA NATH v CHEDDU (1917) I L R 39 All 355

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 116—co cl'd

3 ————— Company registered under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882)—Suit for dividend by a shareholder, governed by Art 116—Registered in Art 116, meaning of A suit by a shareholder against a company registered under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) to recover dividends duly declared by the company is governed by Art 116 of the Limitation Act as the right to a dividend arises out of the contract between the shareholders contained in the registered memorandum and articles of association. Registered in Art 116 means 'registered not only under the Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) but also under special Acts such as the Indian Companies Act, which requires the memorandum and articles of association of a company to be registered. A dividend is a debt on a contract in writing registered within Art 116 of the Limitation Act. PION PRESS AND SUGAR MILL CO LTD v NAMA VEY KATARAMA CHETTI (1918) I L R 42 Mad 33

Sch I Arts 116 110

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Cal 19

Sch I Arts 116, 126—

See ART 113 I L R 34 All 43

Sch I, Arts 116 132—

See MORTGAGE I L R 46 Cal 448

Sch I, Arts 116 120 131 132—

Suit to recover arrear of annuity charged on immoveable property—Claim for personal decree only—Limitation Held that Art 132 of the first Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act is applicable only to suits in which the plaintiff claims to recover money charged upon immoveable property to raise it out of that property and not to a claim in which merely personal decree is asked for. Ramdas v Kalka Prasad, I L R 7 All 502 followed. Held also that the words of Art. 131 to establish a periodically recurring right are altogether inapplicable to a suit to recover arrears of payments due under a registered contract. Dost Muhammad Khan v Sohan Singh, Punj Rec 1906 p 303, followed. A suit of such a nature is governed by either Art 116 or Art 120 of the first Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act. LACHMI NARAIN v TIRABUN VISSA (1911) I L R 24 All 246

Sch I, Arts 116, 68, s 19—Ignored bond—Suit to recover money due on the bond—Period of limitation—Acknowledgment contained in promissory notes. On the 17th June 1897 the defendant passed a registered mortgage bond in favour of the plaintiff. It was attested by two witnesses and made the mortgage amount repayable in three instalments the last one being due on the 24th June 1900. On the 24th August 1903, the defendant passed a promissory note in favour of the plaintiff, wherein he stated "An account is taken to-day and the amount due under the mortgage deed is set apart". Again, on the 11th August 1906 he passed another promissory note which recited "Besides this the mortgage debt is distinct". The plaintiff sued on the 6th August 1910 to recover the money due under the bond. Held, that the words used in the two promissory notes amounted to acknowledgments within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act. Held, further, that the suit was governed by Art.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

— — — — — Sch. I, Art. 118, 60, s. 19—contd.
118 and not by Art. 60 of the Limitation Act for though the suit was in fact a suit for money due on a bond it was in substance a suit for compensation for breach of a contract. Pandey v. Kulkarni, Pitambar I. R. 12 I. A. 12, and Hidabhi G. v. Shri v. Tukuramkhat, I. L. R. 14 Bom. 177—overruled. DISRAM HARI v. CHANDRAVAL NARAYAN (1913) I. L. R. 78 Bom. 177

— — — — — Sch. I, Art. 118—

See HINDU LAW (HINTS)

3 Pat. L. J. 164

— — — — — Hindu Law—Adoption—Suits questioning the validity of adoption—Adoption of an orphan—Entry in Revenue register—A suit questioning the validity of an adoption would be time-barred if not brought within six years under Art. 118, sub. 1 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Srinivas v. Hanumanth, I. L. R. 24 Bom. 260 (Board). Thakur Tukharam Bahadur Singh v. Raja Ramachar Dalak Singh, I. R. 33 I. A. 176 and Umar Khan v. Virendra Khan, I. R. 19 I. A. 12 explained and distinguished. The adoption of an orphan is not valid in law. The Collector's Register is merely for the purposes of Government Revenue and its entries are not evidence of title. SANJAY v. RAILWAY MANAGERS (1913)

I. L. R. 57 Bom. 518

— — — — — Adoption—Death of adopted son leaving a widow—Happening another making a second adoption during widow's life time—Adopted son in possession of the property to the knowledge of the plaintiff—Suit by reversioner of first adopted son to recover property after leaving the second adoption brought after six years — — — — — Suit barred by limitation—One D a holder of Vatan and son Vatan property having died without leaving a son, M his senior widow adopted a son A. A died a minor in 1903 leaving a widow. In 1901, M adopted defendant No. 1 as son to D and from the date of his adoption defendant No. 1 remained in possession of the whole estate to the knowledge of the plaintiff. In 1904, the widow died. In 1912, the plaintiff claiming as the reversionary heir of A sued to recover possession of the property challenging the adoption of defendant No. 1. Defendant No. 1 pleaded limitation and adverse possession. Held, that there had been no adverse possession sufficient to bar the plaintiff's suit but it was barred under Art. 118 of the Limitation Act, 1908 as it was not brought within six years from Plaintiff's knowledge of defendant No. 1's adoption. Held also, that though the adoption of defendant No. 1 might be invalid by Hindu Law and M's power of adoption might have been already exhausted, nevertheless the law of limitation would effectively defeat the plaintiff's claim. Mohesh Narain Moonshi v. Tarach Nath Mehta, I. R. 20 I. A. 34, followed. Held, further, that defendant No. 1's adoption to D who was not the last male holder affected the plaintiff, for the property in dispute was an ancestral estate and that D as well as A were ancestors of the plaintiff. CHANDRASAPPA v. KALANDAPPA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 728

— — — — — Limitation—Sale—

Consent to make good loss in case of vendor being compelled to pay money in excess of sale consideration—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

— — — — — Sch. I, Art. 118—contd.

Breach of contract—Suit against vendor on contract of indemnity—Where vendor was suing the vendor on a contract of indemnity contained in their sale-deed, having been obliged to redeem a prior mortgage, the release of which the vendor did not discharge from its own fund, not from the date of the sale-deed, but from the date when the plaintiff suffered actual loss by reason of their being compelled to pay off the prior mortgage charge. Hari Prasad v. Shankar Dutt, I. L. R. 11 A. 17, 27 referred to. RAM DULAI v. HARSHAN LAL (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 603

— — — — — Art. 118 and s. 6—Suit for declaration that an adoption is untrue or invalid—Reversioner's consent to adoption for a bride—No suit by reversioner—Suit by reversioner—more than six years after adoption came to knowledge of the reversioner—Plaintiff born after adoption and before suit barred—Bar of limitation—A suit for a declaration that an alleged adoption is untrue or invalid, instituted by a reversioner, more than six years after the adoption came to the knowledge of the reversioner, is barred under art. 118 of the Limitation Act. Neither the fact that the reversioner did not himself bring such a suit because he had been bribed to give his consent to the adoption, nor the fact that the reversioner who sued was born after the alleged adoption and before the suit became barred under art. 118, gives the latter any fresh cause of action or stops time running which had begun to run against the whole body of reversioners from the date of adoption. VEERATA SHYAMA v. ADENNA (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 218

— — — — — Sch. I, Art. 119—Suit for declaration that an adoption was valid—Limitation—A decree was passed in 1901 on the basis that there was no adoption. In 1901, the adoption of plaintiff was denied by defendant No. 1. Still the plaintiff did not declare till 1913, when he filed a suit to have it declared that the decree of 1901 was invalid and not binding on him. Held, that the plaintiff's adoption having been challenged in 1901, the present suit was barred under art. 119 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Srinivas v. Hanumanth, I. L. R. 24 Bom. 260, followed. HEERAM v. BALARAM SAKHARAM (1916)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 63

— — — — — Art. 120—

See s. 6 . . . I. L. R. 1, Lah. 539

See s. 10 . . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 572

See Art. 4 . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 523

See Art. 32 . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 378

See Art. 91 . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 149

See Art. 109 . . . I. L. R. 37 All. 640

See ADMINISTRATOR. 2. Pat. L. J. 242

See ARRANGERS OF REVENUE.

I. L. R. 47 Cal. 331

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—

Pat. L. J. 497

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I. L. R. 2, Lah. 954

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 951

See JOINT PROPERTY.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 54

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Art. 120—contd.

See LAMBARDAR 4 Pat. L J 304

See LIMITATION

1 L R 46 Cal 455

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, Art 113

1 L R 34 All 43

See MINERAL RIGHTS. 5 Pat. L J 273

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND

ODISH MUNICIPALITIES ACT

1 L R. 35 All 309

See RECORD OF RIGHTS 3 Pat. L J 36

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882

ss 62 AND 109

1 L R 33 All 708

Suit to enforce an award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s 11,

SCH. II, r 20 1 L R 45 Bom 329

1 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Previous unsuccessful application to correct entry in village papers—Cause of action—Limitation In 1875, the owners of certain zamindari property sold their interest in it with the exception of 26 bighas. In 1888, the vendors were recorded as exproprietary tenants of these 26 bighas. In 1903, the representatives of the vendors applied to have the village papers corrected, but their application was dismissed and they were told to go to the Civil Court. In 1910, the representatives of the purchasers applied to have rent assessed on the 26 bighas and obtained an order in their favour. The representatives of the vendors thereupon brought the present suit in the Civil Court for a declaration that they were proprietors. Held, that, whatever cause of action the plaintiffs might have had before the proceedings of 1910, the order passed in those proceedings gave them a fresh cause of action and their suit was not barred by limitation. Legge v Rambaran Singh, 1 L R 29 All 35. Alber Khan v Turaban, 1 L R 31 All 9, Sheepert Singh v Deonarain Singh, 10 All I J 413, Purshottam v Parmanand, Misc No 279 of 1908, and Shinner v Seanker Lal, S A No 263 of 1907, referred to. ALLAH JILAI v UMRAO HUSAIN (1914) 1 L R 38 All 492

2. ———— Pre-emption, right of—Knowledge of sale when essential for the article to apply In a suit by an ottidar to enforce his right of pre-emption the right to sue cannot be said to arise unless the plaintiff has the necessary knowledge of the sale. Such a right can only be exercised when the ottidar knows first of all that the property is sold or attempted to be sold to another person and what the terms on which it is proposed to be sold. Without such knowledge he is not in a position to elect. Ramasami Pillai v Chinna Aari, 1 L R 24 Mad 449, and Kurra Venarreddi v Kurra Epparreddi, 1 L R 29 Mad 235 distinguished. Cherna Krishnan v Iyanku, 1 L R 6 Mad 198, Varaderan v Keshavan, 1 L R 7 Mad 109 and Ammadu Hoja v Kunhayan Kudi, 1 L R 15 Mad 480, commented on. MAHMAJI v KUSHIPAKSI HAJI (1912)

1 L R. 38 Mad. 67

3. ———— Hypothecation of movable property—Suit to recover money lent by sale of the hypothecated property—Limitation. Where a plaintiff who has lent money on the security of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

movable property seeks to recover the money by sale of the hypothecated property and does not ask for a personal decree against the debtor, the limitation applicable is that provided for by Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Madan Mohan Lal v Kanhai Lal, 1 L R 17 All 284; Nim Chand Baboo v Jagabundhu Ghose, 1 L R 22 Cal 21 and Mahainga Nadar v Ganapathi Subbiah, 1 L R 27 Mad 528, followed. DEOKINANDAN v GAFTA (1918) 1 L R 40 All 512

4. ———— A suit to enforce a mortgage of a turn of workshop is not governed by Art 132 but by Art 120 of the Limitation Act NARASINGHA BANA GOSWAMI v PRODHADMAN TEOKARI (1918) 22 C W N 994

5. ———— Suit for declaration of title—Cause of action—Limitation In the settlement records of 1897 a certain plot of land was recorded as the separate property of the defendants. In 1914 the defendants applied for partition and claimed that this plot belonged to them in severalty, was in their separate possession and should be assigned to their mahal. The plaintiffs traversed this statement, alleging that the settlement record was wrong and that the plot in question was in fact part of the inhabited aote and belonged to all the co-sharers jointly. The court required the plaintiffs to institute a suit in the Civil Court to have the question of title to the plot in dispute decided. Held, that such suit was not barred by limitation. The proceedings taken in the partition court, whereby the plaintiffs found themselves, if their statements of fact were true, for the first time in danger of being actually dispossessed of their joint ownership of the plot gave rise to a fresh cause of action altogether independent of any cause of action which might have been furnished to them by the settlement entry made in the year 1887. Akbar Khan v Turaban, 1 L R 31 All 9, Rahmat Ullah v Shams ud-din, 11 A L J 877, and Allah Jilal v Umrao Husain, 1 L R 36 All 492 referred to. KALI PRASAD MISHR v HARBANS MISHR (1919) 1 L R. 41 All. 509

6. ———— Though attachment of a mans lands as if it belonged to another gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit but did not yet the sale of same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within six years from the date of sale ANANTHARAJU v NARAYANARAU 1 L R 36 Mad 285

7. ———— Suit to declare entry in record of rights incorrect—Limitation, when it runs from date of signing of certificate of final publication—Prayer for confirmation of possession when no allegation of disturbance of position—Limitation The period of limitation applicable to a suit to declare an entry in a record of rights to be incorrect is that provided by Art. 120 of Sch I to the Limitation Act and it commences running from the date of the final publication and not from the date of the signing of the certificate of final publication of the record of rights. Where in such a suit the plaintiff added a prayer for confirmation of possession without however alleging that his possession had in any way been dis-

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts. 116, 68, s. 19—contd.

116 and not by Art. 68 of the Limitation Act for though the suit was in form a suit for money due on a bond it was in substance a suit for compensation for breach of a contract. Ramda v. Kalka Parshad I L R 12 I A 12, and Dulakhi Gossu Sht v. Tularambhat I L R 14 Bom. 377, commented on DINKAR HARI v. CHHAUNAL VARSIDAS (1912) I L R. 38 Bom. 177

Sch. I, Art. 118—

See HINDU LAW (CITYOM)

5 Pat L J 164

Hindu Law—Adoption—Suits questioning the validity of adoption—Limitation—Adoption of an orphan—Fiduciary in Revenue register. A suit questioning the validity of an adoption would be time-barred if not brought within six years under Art. 118, Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Shrinivas v. Hanuman, I L R 9 I Bom. 260 followed. Thakur Tulshnandan Bahadur Singh v. Raja Ramachar Balak Singh I L R 33 I A 156 and Umar Khan v. Vinayad-din Khan, I L R 39 I A 19, explained and distinguished. The adoption of an orphan is not valid in law. The Collector's Register is purely for the purposes of Government Revenue and its entries are not evidence of title. SHRINIVAS SAMJERAY v. BALWANT VENKATESH (1913) I L R. 37 Bom. 513

Adoption—Death of adopted son leaving a widow—Adopting mother making a second adoption during widow's life time—Adopted son in possession of the property to the knowledge of the plaintiff—Suits by reversioner of first adopted son to recover property after leaving the second adoption brought after six years—Suits barred by limitation. One D a holder of Vatan and non Vatan property having died without leaving a son, A his senior widow adopted a son A 4 died a minor in 1895 leaving a widow. In 1901, A adopted defendant No. 1 as son to D and from the date of his adoption defendant No. 1 remained in possession of the whole estate to the knowledge of the plaintiff. In 1904 A widow died. In 1912, the plaintiff claiming as the reversionary heir of A sued to recover possession of the property challenging the adoption of defendant No. 1. Defendant No. 1 pleaded limitation and adverse possession. Held, that there had been no adverse possession sufficient to bar the plaintiff's suit but it was barred under Art. 118 of the Limitation Act 1908 as it was not brought within six years from Plaintiff's knowledge of defendant No. 1's adoption. Held also, that though the adoption of defendant No. 1 might be invalid by Hindu Law and A's power of adoption might have been already exhausted, nevertheless the law of limitation would effectively defeat the plaintiff's claim. Mahesh Narayan Moonshi v. Tarunk Nath Motra, I L R 29 I A 30, followed. Held, further, that defendant No. 1's adoption to D who was not the last male holder affected the plaintiff, for the property in dispute was an ancestral estate and that D as well as A were ancestors of the plaintiff. CHAW BASAPPA v. KALITANDAPPA (1917) I L R. 41 Bom. 728

Limitation—Sale—

Covenant to make good loss in case of vendee being compelled to pay money in excess of sale consideration—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 118—contd.

Breach of covenant—Suits against vendors on covenant of indemnity. Where vendors engaged their vendors on a covenant of indemnity contained in their sale-deed having been obliged to redeem a prior mortgage the existence of which the vendors did not disclose limitation runs, not from the date of the sale deed but from the date when the plaintiffs suffered actual loss in reason of their being compelled to pay off the prior mortgage charge. Hari Tiwari v. Jagdish Chandra, I L R 11 All. 27 referred to. RAM DILASHI v. HARDWARI LAL (1918) I L R. 40 All. 605

Art. 118 and s. 9—Suit for declaration that an adoption is untrue or invalid—Nearest reversioner's consent to adoption for a bride—No suit by nearest reversioner—Suits by remote reversioner, more than six years after adoption came to knowledge of the nearest reversioner—Plaintiff born after adoption and before suit barred—Bar of limitation. A suit for a declaration that an alleged adoption is untrue or invalid, instituted by a remote reversioner, more than six years after the adoption came to the knowledge of the nearest reversioner, is barred under art. 118 of the Limitation Act. Neither the fact that the nearest reversioner did not himself bring such a suit because he had been bribed to give his consent to the adoption, nor the fact that the remote reversioner who sued was born after the alleged adoption and before the suit became barred under art. 118, gives the latter any fresh cause of action or stops time running which had begun to run against the whole body of reversioners from the date of adoption. VENKATA SVATTA v. ADENNA (1921) I L R. 44 Mad. 218

Sch. I, Art. 119—Suit for declaration that an adoption was void—Limitation. A decree was passed in 1900 on the basis that there was no adoption. In 1901, the adoption of plaintiff was denied by defendant No. 1 still the plaintiff did nothing till 1913, when he filed a suit to have it declared that the decree of 1900 was invalid and not binding on him. Held, that the plaintiff's adoption having been challenged in 1901, the present suit was barred under art. 119 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. SHRINIVAS v. HANMANT, I L R 24 Bom. 260, followed. BEARMA v. BALARAM SAKHARAM (1918) I L R. 43 Bom. 63

Art. 120—

Sec 6 . I L R. 1, Lah. 558

Sec 10 . I L R. 39 Bom. 572

Sec ART 4 I L R. 41 Mad. 528

Sec ART 52 I L R. 2 Lah. 376

Sec ART 91 . I L R. 35 All. 149

Sec ART 109 I L R. 37 All. 849

Sec ADMINISTRATOR. 2. Pat L J. 642

Sec ANKARS OF REVENUE.

I L R. 47 Calc. 331

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—

Pat. L J. 497

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R. 2 Lah. 884

I L R. 44 Mad. 951

See JOINT PROPERTY

I L R. 39 Mad. 54

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdArt 120—contdSee LAMBARDAR 4 Pat L J 304See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Cal 455See LIMITATION ACT, 1908 ART 113
L L R 34 All 43See MINERAL RIGHTS 5 Pat L J 273See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND ODISH MUNICIPALITIES ACT

I L R. 35 All 308

See RECORD OF RIGHTS 3 Pat L J 38See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882
ss 52 AND 109

I L R 23 All 708

Suit to enforce an award—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s 11,
SCH. II, s 20 I L R 45 Bom 329

1 Suit for declaration of title—Previous unsuccessful application to correct entry in village papers—Cause of action—Limitation. In 1875, the owners of certain samin dan property sold their interest in it with the exception of 26 bighas. In 1888 the vendors were recorded as exproprietary tenants of these 26 bighas. In 1903, the representatives of the vendors applied to have the village papers corrected but their application was dismissed and they were told to go to the Civil Court. In 1910, the representatives of the purchasers applied to have rent assessed on the 26 bighas and obtained an order in their favour. The representatives of the vendors thereupon brought the present suit in the Civil Court for a declaration that they were proprietors. Held, that, whatever cause of action the plaintiffs might have had before the proceedings of 1910 the order passed in those proceedings gave them a fresh cause of action and their suit was not barred by limitation. Legge v Rambaran Singh, I L R 29 All 35. Albar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9. Sheopher Singh v Deonarain Singh 10 All L J 413. Per shotam v Parmanand Mtec. No 279 of 1908 and Slanner v Slanker Lal, S A No 763 of 1907 referred to. ALLAH JILAI v UMRAO HUSAIN (1914) I L P 36 All 492

2 Pre-emption right of—Knowledge of sale when essential for the article to apply. In a suit by an otidar to enforce his right of pre-emption the right to sue cannot be said to arise unless the plaintiff has the necessary knowledge of the sale. Such a right can only be exercised when the otidar knows first of all that the property is sold or attempted to be sold to another person and what the terms on which it is proposed to be sold. Without such knowledge he is not in a position to elect. Ramamya Pallar v Chinnam Asari I L R 21 Mad 449 and Kurra Veerreddi v Kurra Bapreddi I L R 29 Mad 336 distinguished. Cherva Krishnan v Vudhanu, I L R 5 Mad 198. Vasudevan v Keshavan I L R 7 Mad 309 and Ammothai Haji v Kun Anjan Kutti I L R 15 Mad 450 commented on. MAHIMALI v KUSHITAKKI HARI (1912)

I L R 38 Mad 67

3 Hypothecation of movable property—Suit to recover money lent by sale of the hypothecated property—Limitation. Where a plaintiff who has lent money on the security of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

movable property seeks to recover the money by sale of the hypothecated property and does not ask for a personal decree against the debtor, the limitation applicable is that provided for by Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Madan Mohan Lal v Ranks Lal, I L R 17 All 284. Am Chand Baboo v Jagabandhu Ghose I L R 22 Cal 21, and Mahainga Nadar v Ganapathi Subbarin, I L R 27 Mad 528 followed. DEOKINANDAN v GAFCA (1918) I L R 40 All 512

4 A suit to enforce a mortgage of a turn of workshop is not governed by Art 132 but by Art 120 of the Limitation Act. NARASINGHA BANA GOSWAMI v. PROLUADMAN TEGARI (1918) 22 C W N 994

5 Suit for declaration of title—Cause of action—Limitation. In the settlement records of 1887 a certain plot of land was recorded as the separate property of the defendants. In 1914 the defendants applied for partition and claimed that this plot belonged to them in severalty, was in their separate possession and should be assigned to their mahal. The plaintiffs traversed this statement alleging that the settlement record was wrong and that the plot in question was in fact part of the inhabited site and belonged to all the co-sharers jointly. The court required the plaintiffs to institute a suit in the Civil Court to have the question of title to the plot in dispute decided. Held, that such suit was not barred by limitation. The proceedings taken in the partition court, whereby the plaintiffs found themselves, if their statements of fact were true, for the first time in danger of being actually dispossessed of their joint ownership of the plot gave rise to a fresh cause of action altogether independent of any cause of action which might have been furnished to them by the settlement entry made in the year 1887. Albar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9, Pahmat Ullah v Shams ud-din, 11 A L J 877 and Allah Jilai v Umrao Husain, I L R 36 All 492 referred to. KALI PRABAD MISHR v HARBANS MISHR (1919) I L R 41 All 509

6 Though attachment of a mans lands as if it belonged to another gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit but did not yet the sale of same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within x years from the date of sale. ANANTHARA. ZU v NARAYA NARAYU I L R 26 Mad 785

7 Suit to declare entry in record of rights incorrect—Limitation—The time runs from date of signing of certificate of final publication—Prayer for confirmation of possession when no allegation of disturbance of possession—Limitation. The period of limitation applicable to a suit to declare an entry in a record of rights to be incorrect is that provided by Art. 120 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act and it commences running from the date of the final publication and not from the date of the signing of the certificate of final publication of the record of rights. Where in such a suit the plaintiff added a prayer for confirmation of possession without however alleging that his possession had in any way been dis-

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Art 120—contd

See LAMBARDAK 4 Pat L J 304

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Cal 455

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART 113
I L R 34 All 43

See MINERAL RIGHTS 5 Pat L J 273

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND
ODISH MUNICIPALITIES ACT
I L R 25 All 308

See RECORD OF RIGHTS 3 Pat L J 36

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882
ss 82 AND 100
I L R 33 All 708

Suit to enforce an award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s 11,
SCH II, s 20 I L R 45 Bom. 329

1 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Previous unsuccessful application to correct entry in village papers—Cause of action—Limitation In 1875, the owners of certain zamindari property sold their interest in it with the exception of 26 bighas. In 1888, the vendors were recorded as exproprietary tenants of these 26 bighas. In 1903, the representatives of the vendors applied to have the village papers corrected, but their application was dismissed and they were told to go to the Civil Court. In 1910, the representatives of the purchasers applied to have rent assessed on the 26 bighas and obtained an order in their favour. The representatives of the vendors thereupon brought the present suit in the Civil Court for a declaration that they were proprietors. Held, that, whatever cause of action the plaintiffs might have had before the proceedings of 1910, the order passed in those proceedings gave them a fresh cause of action and their suit was not barred by limitation. Legge v Rambaran Singh, I L R 29 All 35. Albar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9. Sheopur Singh v Deonarain Singh, 10 All L J 413. Purshotam v Parmarand Muc No 279 of 1908 and Skinner v Shanker Lal S A No 263 of 1907 referred to. ALLAH JILAI v UMRAO HUSAIN (1914) I L R 28 All 492

2 ———— Pre-emption right of knowledge of sale when essential for the article to apply In a suit by an ottidar to enforce his right of pre-emption the right to sue cannot be said to arise unless the plaintiff has the necessary knowledge of the sale. Such a right can only be exercised when the ottidar knows first of all that the property is sold or attempted to be sold to another person and what the terms on which it is proposed to be sold. Without such knowledge he is not in a position to elect. Ramasami Pillai v Chinnai Aeri I L R 24 Mad 449 and Kurri Veeraraddi v Kurri Bayreddi I L R 29 Mad 336 distinguished. Cherna Krishnan v Vidhanu, I L R 6 Mad 193, Vasudevan v Keshavan, I L R 7 Mad 309 and Amrath Hays v Kunayyan Kutti I L R 15 Mad 480, commented on. MAHMAI v KUNHAWAKKI HAJI (1912) I L R 38 Mad. 67

3 ———— Hypothecation of movable property—Suit to recover money lent by sale of the hypothecated property—Limitation Where a plaintiff who has lent money on the security of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

movable property seeks to recover the money by sale of the hypothecated property and does not ask for a personal decree against the debtor, the limitation applicable is that provided for by Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Madan Mohan Lal v Kamhat Lal, I L R 17 All 284, Aim Chand Baboo v Jagabundhu Ghose I L R 22 Cal 21 and Mohalinga Adar v Ganapathi Subbena, I L R 27 Mad 528, followed. DEOKHANANDAN v GADPA (1918) I L R 40 All 512

4 ———— A suit to enforce a mortgage of a turn of workshop is not governed by Art 132 but by Art 120 of the Limitation Act NARASINGHA BANA GOSWAMI v PRODHADMAN TEOARI (1918) 22 C W N 994

5 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Cause of action—Limitation In the settlement records of 1887 a certain plot of land was recorded as the separate property of the defendants. In 1914 the defendants applied for partition and claimed that this plot belonged to them in severalty, was in their separate possession and should be assigned to their mahal. The plaintiffs traversed this statement alleging that the settlement record was wrong and that the plot in question was in fact part of the undivided estate and belonged to all the co-sharers jointly. The court required the plaintiffs to institute a suit in the Civil Court to have the question of title to the plot in dispute decided. Held, that such suit was not barred by limitation. The proceedings taken in the partition court, whereby the plaintiffs found themselves, if their statements of fact were true, for the first time in danger of being actually dispossessed of their joint ownership of the plot, gave rise to a fresh cause of action altogether independent of any cause of action which might have been furnished to them by the settlement entry made in the year 1887. Albar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9, Rahmat Ullah v Shams ud-din 11 A L J 877 and Allah Jilai v Umrao Husain, I L R 36 All 492 referred to. KALI PRASAD MISHR v HARBHANS MISHR (1919) I L R 41 All 509

6 ———— Though attachment of a mans lands as if it belonged to another gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit but did not yet the sale of same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within six years from the date of sale. ANANTHANA RIV NARAYANARAO I L R 36 Mad 785

7 ———— Suit to declare entry in record-of-rights incorrect—Limitation when entry runs from date of signing of certificate of final title runs from date of signing of certificate of possession publication—Prayer for confirmation of possession publication—Prayer for declaration of possession—Limitation when no allegation of disturbance of possession—Limitation The period of limitation applicable to a suit to declare an entry in a record of rights to be incorrect is that provided by Art. 120 of Sch I to the Limitation Act and it commences running from the date of the final publication and not from the date of the signing of the certificate of final publication of the record-of-rights. Where in such a suit the plaintiff added a prayer for confirmation of possession without however alleging that his possession had in any way been disturbed

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

turbed or threatened to be disturbed by the defendant: Held that the Court of first instance was right in treating the prayer as one for declaration of possession and Art 129 applied to the suit. RAJANI NATH PRAMANIK v MONAHAN MANDAL (1919) 23 C W N 893

8. — Held that in a sale in contravention of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act and purchase by mortgagee—suit by mortgagee for recovering property governed by Art 120. UTTAM CHANDRA DAW v RAJ KRISHNA DALAL 24 C W N 229

9. — Mortgage—Sale — One of the mortgagors paying off the mortgage amount—Payment creating a charge in favour of the creditor—Creditor not entitled to sell the property until declaratory decree obtained—Limitation In 1887 a mortgage of the plaintiff property was executed in favour of four brothers. On the 22nd August 1901 the plaintiff one of the mortgagors advanced a sum of money to enable the mortgagee to pay what was required to make the last payment on account of the mortgage of 1887 on the understanding that a further mortgage would be executed by the mortgagee in favour of the plaintiff. The mortgage was executed but it proved ineffectual for want of proper attestation. The plaintiff therefore brought a suit in 1914 for sale of the mortgaged property on the ground that the payment made by him in 1901 created a charge on the property to the extent of the money advanced. Held that the payment made in 1901, enabled the plaintiff to establish his right to a charge on the property but mere payment would not give the plaintiff any right against the property either to go into possession or sell it, he was bound to ask for a declaratory decree that a charge was created before the Court could have jurisdiction over the property. Held further that the plaintiff's claim to get a declaratory decree was governed by Art 190 of the Limitation Act and was, therefore, barred as not having been brought within six years from the date of payment in 1901. BULLER v RICE 1910 2 Ch 277, referred to. CHHOTALAL KAPASWAS v LALSHY CLAVEN (1920) I L R 45 Bom 587

10. — Limitation—Suit to recover money under an award—money originally recovered by plaintiff under a decree passed on the award—but refunded on the decree being set aside—award—date when the right to sue accrues—fresh cause of action Plaintiff and defendant in 1909 submitted a dispute to arbitration, an award was duly made and a decree passed in terms of it on the 19th October 1909. In execution of the decree plaintiff realised Rs 4,000 on 14th January 1911. The decree was set aside on appeal to the Chief Court on 4th August 1912, and on 4th May 1915 the Rs 4,000 were refunded to the defendant. On 25th February 1919, plaintiff brought the present suit claiming the Rs 4,000 and interest as due to him under the award. The question was whether the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that on the annulment of the satisfaction a fresh cause of action arose, and that the claim was therefore with in time under article 120 of the Indian Limitation Act. Muthuswappa Chetty v Adakkappa Chetty (I L R 43 Mad 845) followed. Rameswaramoorthy v Shookhe Mookhee (12 Moo I A 244) referred to.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Koat Pam v Kankhaya Lal (I L R 35 All. 227 P C) distinguished. KANTAN SINGH v BHAGAT SINGH I L R 2 Lah. 220

— Sch. I, Arts. 120, 115 A suit by some of the co-shares in a ferry against others for recovery of their share of profits in governed by Art 120 and not 115 KISHNU DEVAL SINGH v KISHNU

DEO JHA 1 Pat. L. J. 69

— Sch. I, Arts. 120, 123—

See HINDU LAW—POTTERSONER

I L R. 41 All 492

— Limitation—suit by reversioners for a declaration in respect of a mortgage made by a Hindu widow who has a daughter living—whether "and" in art 125 includes a house On 24th January 1908 Musammal A D, widow of G R mortgaged a house to one U C. On 12th August 1910, the plaintiffs collaterals of D R, sued for a declaration that the mortgage should not affect their reversionary rights. Musammal A D had a daughter living who admittedly was entitled to possession on her mother's death, though with limited interest. Held, that the suit is governed by art 120 (and not by art. 125) of the Limitation Act, and that the starting point of limitation is the date of the mortgage. Perumma v Gopalanayyan (I L R 41 Mad 553 (P H)) and rulings cited in Rudram v Limbungan Act 2nd Edition, page 294, referred to. Abinash Chandra v Majumdar (9 Cal W N 23) and Gowinda Pillai v Thayammal (14 Mad L. J. 209) distinguished. Semler that "land" in art 125 includes a house and its site. Dolga Ram v Sher Singh (5 Indian Cases 312) Sant Ram v Ganga Ram (32 P R 1904) and Musammal Raut v Sunder Singh (103 P R 1912) referred to. Dev Raj v Shiv Ram (70 P R 1918), distinguished. ROMAN SINGH v UTTAM CHAND

I L R 1 Lah. 69

— Hindu law—Hindu widow—Suit for declaration that alienation by widow accrues only for her life—Pottersoner—Right of suit Held that, although the existence of nearer reversioners may be a bar to a more remote reversioner suing for a declaration that an alienation made by a Hindu widow does not endure for a longer period than the life time of the widow, yet he is not entitled to wait until limitation has expired in respect of all the nearer reversioners for such a suit is, under Art 125 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, twelve years from the date of the alienation for nearer and more remote reversioners alike. KUNWAR BAHADUR v BINDHARAN (1914) I L R. 37 All. 195

— Sch. I, Arts. 120 and 131—

See FIDUCIARYSHIP OF TRUST

2 Pat. L. J. 124

— Sch. I, Arts. 120, 132, 141 and 144—Immovable property, whether proceeds of sale of, or "any interest therein"—General Clause Act of 1897, s 3 (2)—"Benefit to arise out of land"

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

—Sch I, Arts 120, 132, 141 and 144
—contd

—Land acquisition Act (I of 1894) A claim for the proceeds of what was once immovable property but which has been substituted for moveable property is not a claim for immovable property or any interest therein or any benefit arising out of land. Where, therefore, certain property was compulsorily acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, and the plaintiff sued the vendor for the value of the property so acquired, held, that the period of limitation for the suit was 6 not 12 years. PAI RADHA KISHEN RAI v. NARAYAN LAL, 3 Pat L J 522.

—Sch I, Arts 110, 112—

See Art. 62 I L R 33 All 718

Hypothecation decree—moveable property—Moveable property converted into immovable property—Substituted security—Mortgagee purchasing part of the mortgaged property—Merger A hypothecation decree is moveable property and a mortgage thereof is of moveable property which is governed by Art 120, Sch I to the Indian Limitation Act. But where moveable property has become converted into immovable property, the mortgagee becomes entitled to the substituted security and also to the larger period of limitation prescribed by Art 132 of the first Schedule to the said Act. It does not necessarily follow that because a person in the position of a mortgagee purchases a portion of the mortgaged property the mortgage thereby becomes pro tanto extinguished. Everything depends upon the terms of the sale, and unless it is stipulated that the mortgage is to be extinguished or unless there are circumstances from which an intention to extinguish the mortgage in whole or part may be inferred, it cannot be held that the mortgage merges in the purchase. Gowd Malamed v. Akbar Ali Akbar, 1 L R 23 Cal 56. Jivan Ali Beg v. Sasa Mal, 1 L R 9 All 128, referred to. JAMNA DEVI v. LALA RAM (1918)

I L R 29 All 74

—Sch I, Arts 120, 124, 144—

See Mutt I L R 41 Mad 124

—Limitation for suit by one of several mortgagees of a Khankah for recovery of joint possession of a site belonging to the Khankah, wrongfully alienated by one of his co-mortgagees Held, that the limitation for a suit by one of several mortgagees of a Khankah to recover joint possession of a site belonging to the Khankah wrongfully mortgaged with possession by one of his co-mortgagees is 12 years under either Art 134 or Art 144 of the Limitation Act. Doublet that a suit by a worshipper of a religious institution for declaration that an alienation by the trustee thereof is void and that the alienee is ejected is governed by Art 120. Assam v. Paras Ram (9 P F 1904) referred to. And that a suit brought by the executor of a trustee of such an institution against the alienee of trust property for value, to recover the property for and on behalf of the trust is governed by Art 134 and the term minors a quasi is not the date when the executor succeeds to the office, but the date of the alienation. Har Gian Das v. Euldeo Das (17 P. P

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

—Sch I, Arts 120, 134, 144—contd

1908) (F B), Sayedur Raja v. Gour Mohan Das (1 L R 24 Cal 418), Sagun Balkrishnaiah v. Raju, Hussain (1 L R 27 Bom 500) referred to. SUADI v. ABDUR RAHMAN

I L R 1 Lah. 66

—Sch I, Arts 120, 142—“Dispossession” and “discontinuance of possession,” meaning of—Suit to determine rights of parties to order under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code period of limitation for—Suit, if lies against Magistrate—Magistrate a stake holder—Declaratory suit against rival claimant—continuing wrong The defendants at tempted to interfere with the plaintiff's possession of the disputed property and a breach of the peace becoming imminent proceedings under s 146, Criminal Procedure Code, were instituted and resulted in an order of attachment under s 146, Criminal Procedure Code. The plaintiff sued for declaration of his title and for recovery of possession. Held that though deprived of possession the plaintiff was not dispossessed or had discontinued possession within the meaning of Art 142 of the Limitation Act. Meaning of “dispossession” and “discontinuance of possession” explained. That as there was no cause of action against the Magistrate, the suit could be brought only against the defendants. Cetwams v. Giridhar 1 L R 20 All 120, distinguished from Paja of Venkateswara v. Venkateswara 1 L R 26 Mad. 410 followed on this point. Kkegirdra Narain v. Matargiri, 1 L R 17 Cal 814, 819 and Pawa Suany v. Malku Suany, 1 L R 30 Mad 12, referred to. That plaintiff having proved his title the suit must be treated as a suit for declaration of title under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. That it was a case of continuing wrong. Defendant of contract and consequently under s 43 of the Limitation Act a fresh period of limitation under Art 120 began to run at every moment of the time the wrong continued. Continuing wrong defined. Jaya of Venkateswara v. Venkateswara, 1 L R 26 Mad 410 distinguished from Maha Chavri v. Abdul Hamid, 1 C L J 73. Bisda v. Kannaiah, 1 L R 13 All 126. Ananda v. Vey yanna, 1 L R 15 Mad 422, and Jugal Kishore v. Lakshman Das, 1 L R 23 Bom 659, referred to. BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHAUDHURY v. SANO JINI RAY (1915)

20 C W N 481

—Sch I, Arts 120, 142, 144—

See UNSETTLED PALAYAN

I L R. 41 Mad. 749

—Sch I, Arts 120, 144—Landlord and tenant—Tenant building on the land adjacent to the landlord's house—Staircase of the tenant's house supported by a pillar on the landlord's land—Injunction to remove the staircase—Trespass—Adverse possession—License In the year 1903, the defendant while a tenant of the house of which the plaintiff had taken a permanent lease in 1903 built his own house on the adjoining land and put up a staircase supported by a pillar. The plaintiff contended that the land on which the pillar rested belonged to him and that the pillar was put up by his predecessor in title nine years before suit. In 1912 he asked the defendant to pull down the staircase but the latter having refused filed a suit on July 21, 1913, praying for a mandatory injunction directing the defendant to remove the staircase. The subordinate Judge found that the land under the staircase belonged to the plaintiff.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts 120, 144—contd.

iff but dismissed the plaintiff's suit on the ground that the pillar existed on the land for nineteen years. The Assistant Judge held that as the plot belonged to the plaintiff he was entitled to get the staircase removed. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the staircase was standing on the land either by the license of the plaintiff's predecessor in title or adversely to them, but in any case the plaintiff's suit was barred under Art 120 or 144 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Held, (i) that the plaintiff's suit was barred under Art 120 of the Limitation Act, 1908 as it was not brought within six years from 1893 when the license to construct the staircase could have been granted. (ii) That the plaintiff's claim was also barred by adverse possession as the lower Courts having found that the staircase was put up nineteen years before suit the presumption was that from that date the defendant's possession was adverse. HARIRAM KUNIVIRAM v. SHYANAKAS RANCHAND (1915) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 333

Sch. I, Arts 121 to 144—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF PAYMENT.

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 779

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 412

Sch. I, Arts. 121 and 142—

A suit for recovery of possession brought with 12 years from the date on which the Collector gave symbolical possession to the purchaser is within time coming under Art. 142 not 121. MOUTH CHANDRA PIER v. PEYAKAL DAS I. L. R. 44 Cal. 412

Sch. I, Arts. 121, 142, 144—

In a suit for khas possession and recovery of land purchased by plaintiffs at a sale for arrears of Government Revenue the Defendant contended that they had been in adverse possession for a long time and that their occupation was in the nature of an incumbency and plaintiffs were not entitled to avoid same. Held, that the interest which defendants acquired was an incumbency within Art 121 and the suit was barred. PRASADYA KUNAR DUTT v. JYANENDRA KUNAR DUTT I. L. R. 43 Cal. 79

Sch. I, Art 123—

See BURMESE LAW

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 379

See PRESIDENTIAL LEGATTEE

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 371

See WILL, CONSTRUCTION OF

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 845

Sch. I, Arts. 123, 144—

Mahomedan law Joint property—Property devolving on sons on father's death—One of the sons selling his share to a third person—Suit for partition—Property held by sons as tenants in common—Time to run when one co-tenant excludes the other from joint property. Two mahomedan brothers A and O succeeded to their father's property according to Mahomedan law. O mortgaged his share in the property to the plaintiffs and eventually sold the equity of redemption to them. The plaintiffs sued to recover possession of O's share by partition. The trial Court dismissed the suit as time-barred under Art 123 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1918. Held, that the proper Article applicable would be Art. 144 of the Limitation Act, as the plaintiff's suit was in terms a suit to have partitioned property which the two persons were holding as tenants in common. KALLANGOWDA v. BIRAHAYA (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Arts 123 144—contd.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 843

A Mahomedan dying in testate—Fiduciary undivided—Heirs holding as tenants in common—Suit by a heir to recover his share—Adverse possession—Where members of a mahomedan family continue to live as tenants in common without dividing the estate of a deceased ancestor limitation will not run from the time of his death and a suit for a distinct share of the deceased estate will not be governed by Art 123 but by Art 144 of the Limitation Act, 1908. KALLANGOWDA v. BIRAHAYA (1920) 43 Bom. 843, followed. KUNDIR NARAYAN v. BO LAKRAO (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 819

Art 124—

See LIMITATION, c. (25)

I. L. R. 42 Cal. 244

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

3 Pat. L. J. 327

Shani in Malabar constituted trustee of a temple and its properties—Absolute transfer by the shani of the trusteeship and temple properties to defendant's predecessor—Effect of adverse possession for over statutory period on succeeding Shani—S. 2 (d) of Limitation Act, definition of "plaintiff" is. According to the customary law of Malabar a shanom is descendible from one shani to another in a peculiar line of succession. A suit by a shani to recover a hereditary office of trustee of a temple and its properties attached to the shanom is governed by Art 121 of the Limitation Act and adverse possession for over the statutory period of the office of trustee and the properties of the trust as against a prior shani is a bar to a suit by the successor to recover the same. Though the successor gets his title not by any act of his predecessor but by succession according to the law of the land, he derives his right to sue only from or through his predecessor within s. 2 cl (5) of the Limitation Act. Gnanasambanda Pandara Sannodhi v. Idm Pandaran, I. L. J. 23 Mad. 217, 231 applied. RAJA OF KALGHAT v. RAMAN UNNI (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 6

Sch. I Arts 124, 140—

See LIMITATION (18) I. L. R. 41 I. A. 267

Sch. I Arts 124, 144—

See s. 29 I. L. R. 33 All. 636

Sch. I, Art. 125—

See s. 8 I. L. R. 28 Mad. 570

See Art 120 I. L. R. 41 All. 482

Held that although the existence of nearer reversioners may be a bar to a more remote reversioner's suit for a declaration regarding an alienation by a Hindu widow yet he is not entitled to wait until limitation has expired in respect of all the nearer reversioners before bringing his suit. KUNWAR BHANU v. BINDHABAN

I. L. R. 37 All. 195

Alienation by a Hindu widow—Failure of existing reversioner to sue to set it aside within twelve years, effect of on future reversions—Representative characters of the suit. A suit by a reversioner to set aside an alienation by a Hindu widow is a representative suit on behalf of all her reversioners, then existing or thereafter to be born, and all of them have but a single cause of action, which arises on the date of the alienation. Hence, if by failing to sue within twelve years, allowed by Art. 125 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908), the existing reversioners become barred by limitation, reversioners thereafter born are equally barred. Venkataramayya Pillai v Subbammal, I L R 33 Mad 406, Janaki Ammal v Narayanaswami Aiyar, I L R 39 Mad. 734, followed Gorinda Pillai v Thagammal, I L R. 28 Mad 57, Veerappa v Gangamma, I L R 36 Mad 570 Narayana v Rama, I L P 33 Mad 396, and Venkata Rao v Tularam Rao, (1917) Mad W A 30, overruled Semble. A decision one way or other, in a suit by one of them binds all of them. PER SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J Semble. That Art. 125, does not apply to persons not born at the date of the alienation but that the right to declaratory relief of this nature is only conferred on persons alive at the date of the alienation. VARANNA v GOPALA DASATTA (1918). I L R 41 Mad. 659

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch. I, Art. 125—contd

Sch. I, Art. 126See PARTNERSHIP

15 C W N 882

Sch. I, Arts. 126, 144, 148—Sale of equity of redemption by one of two mortgagors—Redemption by vendee—Possession of property by vendee for more than twelve years—Sale by the other co mortgagor to another—Suit by latter to redeem his half share—Suit more than twelve years after first vendee took possession on redemption, whether barred. The first defendant and his father G mortgaged with possession the suit lands to the second defendant in 1892. In 1897 G sold the equity of redemption to the third defendant, who redeemed the lands and obtained possession in 1898. The first defendant sold his interest in the lands in 1910 to the plaintiff who instituted a suit in 1912 to redeem his half share in the property on payment of half the mortgage-debt. The third defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation. Held, that Art. 148 of the Limitation Act was not applicable to the case and the suit was barred by limitation, as the case fell within Art. 126. Semble. The suit was also barred under Art. 144. Jai Kishan Joshi v Padmanand Joshi, I L P 35 AU 138 Bhayy Shamrao v Hajimaya Mahomed, 14 Bom. L. J. 314 followed and Panamam Ayyar v Panamamalai Ayyar, I L R. 23 Bom 137, s e 26 I C 873, Parasuram Mudali v Srinivasa Pillai, I I P 30 Mad. 426, explained. MIGNA GOUDAN v PANASWAMI CHETTI (1918). I L R. 41 Mad 650

Sch. I, Art. 127—See CATCH MEMOS.

I L R. 41 Bom 18

See ANOJAS. I L R. 38 Bom. 449See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, SCH. II, ARTS. 129 AND 144

I L R. 47 Bom. 64 & 54

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R. 38 Mad. 1099

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.Sch. I, Art. 127—contd.

Applicability of the Article to Mahomedan—Suit to recover share in joint family property. The following question was referred to a Full Bench—"Whether Art. 127 of the Second Schedule of Act XV of 1877 can apply to the property of a Mahomedan (or any other person not being a Hindu), and not having been proved to have adopted as a custom the Hindu law of the joint family." Held (SHAN J dissenting) that it did not. ISAF AHMED v ABRAHIM AHMADJI (1917) I L R. 41 Bom 588

Sch. I Art. 128—Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution—Application for transfer of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1882), s. 223. Held, that an application made to the Court passing a decree to transfer it for execution to another Court is an application to take a step in aid of execution within the meaning of Art. 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Chandra Nath Goswami v Guroo Prasunno Ghose, I L P 22 Calc 375, followed TODAR MAL v PHOLA KACHWAR (1913)

I L R. 35 AU 389

Sch. I, Art. 130—See SARANJAM I L R 40 Bom 606See SARANJAMDAR I L R 45 Bom 694

Land entered in record of rights as liable to assessment—Suit to assess rent—Limitation—Suit of maintenance by a co-sharer landlord—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 158 and 103B. Defendant's lands having in 1910 been entered in the record-of rights as liable to be assessed with rent, the recorded landlord brought the present suit for assessment of rent. The District Judge held that the right to have the rent assessed having accrued to the plaintiff more than twelve years before the suit, it was barred by limitation under Art. 130 of the Limitation Act, and dismissed the suit disagreeing with the Munsif's finding that the suit having been brought within twelve years of the publications of the record-of rights was within time. Held, that the Munsif was wrong in taking the entry in the record-of rights as the starting point for limitation as such rights as the starting point for limitation as such an entry confers no title. That the suit was not one for "resumption or assessment of rent free land" within the meaning of Art. 130 but a suit for the assessment of land presumably liable to be assessed. That the fact rent has not in fact been paid more than twelve years before suit is not per se sufficient to support a decree for dismissal of such a suit, for the right to have rent assessed is not continuous so long as the relationship continues of landlord and tenant of land liable to be assessed. That such a relationship and liability were to be presumed from the record-of rights and it was for the defendant to rebut this presumption by evidence. A suit to assess rent is consistent with and arises out of the general law and the land revenue system of the country, and is not one which the landlord is "required or authorised to do under the Bengal Tenancy Act within the meaning of s. 158 of that Act. A co-sharer landlord is therefore entitled to institute such a suit. That had s. 158 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applied, the fact that the plaintiff had joined his co-sharer as defendants would not have justified the Court in entertaining the suit on principles of justice and equity." DWANJOY BANERJEE v USHERA NATH DEB (1915). 22 C. W N 635

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) —contd

Sch I Art 131

See ART 130

1 Pat L J 124

See ALAPPA P P APPASWAMI

1 L R 45 Bom 633

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT

2 Pat L J 124

See INAMDAR 1 L R 41 Bom 159

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 110.

1 L R 34 AU 246

—Sut to recover sums due under periodical recurring rights governed by Art. 131 of sch II of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to suits to recover sums due under a periodically recurring right whether there is a prayer for a declaration of plaintiff's right or not. Held therefore that a suit to recover arrears of adima allowance for a period of eight years was not barred as to any portion of it. ZAMORIN OF CALANT v AUDITHA MEX v (1914)

1 L R 38 Mad 916

Sch I Arts 131 132—

See ART 110 1 L R 34 AU 246

Arts. 131 and 141—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

1 L R 45 Bom 639

Sch I, Art 132—

See ART 89 1 L P 43 Calc 248

See ART 110 1 L R 45 Calc 418

See ART 130 1 L R 39 AU 74

See LIMITATION 1 L R 41 Calc 634

1 L R 42 Calc 244

1 L R 48 Calc 625

1 ——— Limitation—Malikana—

Sut for malikana—Decree asked for against property charged Where a plaintiff sued for the recovery of malikana for 11 years and claimed a decree against the property on which the malikana was charged, it was held that the suit was within time having regard to Art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Kallar Roy v Gangy Perashat Singh 1 L R 33 Calc. 998 distinguished. SHAIKA ALI v. PHILLO (1913) 1 L R 35 AU 185

2. ——— Interest—Sut to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property—

Installment bond—Meaning of "becomes due." A mortgage deed executed on the 16th July 1890 provided that the mortgagors pay the principal amount secured in ten years by instalments of Rs 675 yearly and that interest should be paid monthly. There was this further clause:—"If we fail to pay the interest aforesaid in any month, on the principal by the stipulated period, as specified above or no payment is made in a year the mortgagee shall under all those circumstances be at liberty to realize the entire amount with the interest aforesaid in a lump sum through the court by means of a sale from the mortgaged and other moveable and immovable property and the person of us the executors." There was also this further provision:—"If the mortgagee in order to get interest does not bring a suit in default of any instalment and we are unable to pay the money the interest should continue up to the stipulated period of ten years and after it up to the date of realization." No payment was ever made of either principal or interest and the mortgagees ultimately brought a suit on the mortgage of the 12th June 1910. Held by MR JUSTICE J. and MR JUSTICE J. (BAYLEY) J. dismissed that the suit was barred by art 132 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, the mortgage money having become due when the first instalment was made. See also Mutwar v. Srinivasulu 1 L R 40 Mad 40 See also Escher v. Escher 2 Q B D 509 See also Chand Aker v. Hanley Hall 1 L R 24 Calc 291, and Perumal Ayyan v. Alajayaram Idaya Aiyar, 1 L P 20 Mad 215 referred to. See also Chandrasekhar v. Kumara Bhat Chandrasekhar 1 L R 23 Mad 2. Moharaj of Baroda v. Lord Lumsden 1 L P 22 AU 431. Shankar Prasad v. Jyoti Prasad 1 L R 16 AU 371. Thilaka v. Khand 1 L R 50 AU 123 and Jinawar Dutt v. Mohabir Singh, 1 L R 1 Calc 183 distinguished. See also *MR JUSTICE J. Having regard to the second of the provisions above cited the suit was not barred by limitation. Where a deed or is authorized to wait for the full period stipulated for repayment the money does not become due within the meaning of art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 until that period expires. GAYA DUTT v. JHUMMAN LAL (1915) 1 L R 57 AU 400*

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) —contd

— Sch I Art 132—contd

3. ——— Accounts—Sut for unpaid agent—Stipulation to read accounts yearly—See also See also A suit by the principal against his agent for recovery of sums to be found due upon adjustment of accounts by sale of immovable properties hypothecated by the agent is a suit to enforce a charge on immovable property within the meaning of Art. 132 of the Indian Limitation Act. Hafizulla v. Mandal v. Joda Nath Saha 1 L R 35 Calc. 295 followed. Jogesh Chandra v. Benode Lal Roy 11 C W N 192 not followed. MADHUSUDAN SINGH v. PASHAL CHANDRA DAS (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 248 19 C W N 100

4. ——— Sut for the recovery of malikana—Limitation—Distinction between personal claim and claim against property charged—Where a plaintiff sued for the recovery of malikana for eleven years and claimed a decree against the property on which the malikana was charged it was held that the suit was within time having regard to Art. 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. SHAIKA ALI v. PHILLO 1 L R 35 AU 185 followed. Pam Dan v. Kalka Prasad 1 L R 7 AU 50, referred to. NATHU v. GHANSHAM SINGH (1918) 1 L R 41 AU 259

5. ——— Loan of paddy secured on land—Sut to recover—Limitation—Where a mortgage bond to secure a loan of paddy provided that in default of payment of the paddy and the interest which was also provided to be paid in paddy the mortgagee would be entitled to attach and sell the mortgaged property and real estate dues and if that was insufficient would be entitled to realise them also from other moveable and immovable property of the mortgagor and from the person. Held that it was clear that upon failure to deliver the paddy the mortgagee was entitled to recover money and not to claim specific paddy, and hence the mortgagee's suit to enforce the bond was governed by Art 132

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 132—contd

of Sch I of the Limitation Act JOGENDRA NATH SINGH v MOHAN LAL KHAN (1919)

23 C W N 951

6 Loan of paddy charged on land—Suit to recover—Limitation A mortgagor borrowed a quantity of paddy from the mortgagee (valued in the bond at Rs 192) agreeing to repay the paddy with interest at a certain date, failing which the mortgagee was to be entitled to recover the price of the paddy with interest by sale of the mortgaged land. Held, distinguishing Rash Behari Das v Kunya Bihari Patra 24 C L J 348, that Art 132 of the Limitation Act applied to a suit by the mortgagee to enforce the bond. INDRA NARAIN SHAO v DEJABAR SAMANTA (1919) 23 C. W. N 949

7 A suit to recover the value of paddy charged upon immovable property is a suit to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property within the meaning of Art 132 of the Act RANCHAND SUN v ISWARCHANDRA GIRI AND OTHERS (1920)

25 C W N 57

8 Limitation—Bond payable by instalments—Stipulation empowering creditor to sue for whole amount on default of payment of interest—Terminus a quo A mortgage bond provided a period for repayment but also provided that if the borrower made default in the payment of any instalment of interest, the creditor could sue for the whole amount due. Held, that limitation, under article 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 began to run from the date of the first default, that being the date when according to the terms of the bond the whole money became due. Mata Tahal v Bhagwan Singh 19 A L J, 496 not followed. NATHI v TUNSI I. L. R. 43 All 671

9 Mortgage—Bond payable by instalments—Total amount due exigible on default of payment of any instalment—Limitation—Terminus a quo In a mortgage bond, dated the 21st of February, 1903 it was stipulated that the mortgage debt would be payable at the end of twelve years. It was further stipulated that the mortgagor would pay Rs 500 annually in payment mostly of interest, and that if default was made in such annual payment the mortgagee were to have power, without waiting for the expiry of the stipulated period to set aside all the stipulations embodied in the document and to bring a suit in court to realize the entire principal together with interest and costs from the persons of the mortgagors and from the hypothecated property. No annual instalment was ever paid. The mortgagee brought a suit on their bond on the 21st of February, 1917, that is to say on the last day of a period of twelve years from the time that the mortgage money was expressed to be payable. Held, that article 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908, applied and the suit was barred. Goga Das v Jhannan Lal I L. R., 37 All, 400, followed. PANCHAM v ANNAH HUSAIN I. L. R. 43 All 596

Sch I, Arts 132, 75—Mortgage bond—Interest payable annually—Principal payable on a future date—Principal and interest payable immediately on default—Option to mortgagee to enforce payment—Suit after twelve years from default, if barred—Gift by a Hindu widow of a mortgage bond due to her husband—gift, if valid and to what extent—Suit by widow, competency of transferee to continue—Decree, nature of Suits for money due on hypothecation bonds, though containing stipulations for payment in instalments, are governed by Art 132 and not by Art 75 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and there is no warrant for importing into the former the words of the latter article. A hypothecatee is not bound to take advantage of a clause in his bond, which in case of default in payments of interest, enables him (a) to demand the principal before its due date and (b) also claim a higher rate of interest from the date of default. Hence a suit restricted to a claim to recover the principal and interest at the original rate, brought within twelve years from the date originally fixed for payment of the principal though beyond twelve years from the date of first default in respect of interest, is not barred by limitation. Athalaruppa Goundan v Kumarasami Goundan, I L J 2nd Mad 27 Astley v Earl of Essex 18 Eq 290 and Goswami of Magdalen Hospital v Knotts 5 Ch D 175, followed. Perumal Ayyan v Alagarasami Chagavahar, I L R 20 Mad 245, explained. A gift by a Hindu widow of a mortgage bond executed to her in discharge of a debt due to her husband, is valid to the extent of the interest that had accrued due at the date of the gift and the transferee is competent after her death to prefer a second appeal in a suit filed by her on the bond and obtain a decree for recovery of interest only due thereon. NARNA v BHARANI AMMA (1919)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Arts 132, 75—contd

I L. R. 39 Mad 681

Sch I, Arts. 132, 144—Limitation Mortgage—Suit for sale on a mortgage impeding defendants alleged to be in adverse possession of the mortgage property Held that a suit for sale on a mortgage can always be brought under art. 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, against all persons in possession whose possession is subsequent to the date of the mortgage provided that the suit is brought within twelve years from the time at which the money became due. Such a suit does not become a suit for possession governed by art 141 because it may be necessary to impend persons who are in possession and claim a title by possession adverse to the mortgagor. Araon Singh v Bakur Ali Khan I L J 5 All 1, distinguished. Nandan Singh v Juman, I L R 34 All 640 and Alimdar Mandal v Mahlan Lal Dey I L R 33 Cal 1915 referred to. RAJ NATH v NARAIN DAS (1914)

I L. R. 36 All 567

Sch I, Art 134—See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L. R. 33 Cal 526

I L. R. 40 Mad 745

See LIMITATION I L. R. 43 Cal 34

See MUTHU—HEAR OF

I L. R. 38 Mad 356

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L. R. 47 Cal 886

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

I L. R. 43 All 127

See PELLICCIOLI FIDUCIARIES

3 Pat. L J 327

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*cont'd*Sch. I, Art. 134—cont'd

1. ————— Mortgage—Sale by mortgagee—Suit for redemption by mortgagee against mortgagee and vendee—Plea of purchase for consideration—Omission of the words "in good faith" in Art 134 The omission of the words "in good faith" from the Art 134 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act of 1908 does not entitle a person who purchases with full knowledge that his vendor's title is merely that of mortgagee to the benefit of article. DRISAL SINGH v KALLU (1917) . . . I L R 37 All 880

2. ————— Puina lease granted by shebait, if "transfer for valuable consideration"—Non payment of premium for creation of lease if alters nature of transfer—Suit by shebait for recovery of possession—Limitation—S 30, when applies The grant of a puina lease of a property belonging to an idol by the shebait is a transfer for valuable consideration within the meaning of Art 134, Sch. I, of the Limitation Act, whether or not and premium was paid for the creation of the lease and a suit brought more than 12 years after the date of the lease by the then shebait to recover possession of the property is barred under Art 134 S 30 of the Limitation Act only applies when there is a period of limitation prescribed both by the Act of 1877 and the Act of 1908. RAMESHAR MALIA v RAM CHANDRA ACHARYA GOSWAMI (1915) 19 C W N 1032

3. ————— Transfer with possession by mortgagee—Transferee taking possession of some items later than date of transfer, effect of—Transferee not taking possession at all of some other items, effect of—Limitation, from what date date of transfer or date of possession "Transfer" in Art 134, meaning of—Question referable to a Full Bench, when—High Court, Appellate Side Rules, r 2 Held by the Full Bench (WALLIS, C J, and COURTS TROTTER, J, contra) that Art 134 of the Limitation Act does not apply to a transfer from a trustee or mortgagee under which possession is not taken by the transferee. Per WALLIS, C J, and COURTS TROTTER, J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies to a transfer from a trustee or mortgagee under which possession is not taken by the transferee. Where possession is taken under the transfer not on the date of the transfer but some time later, Held (a) Per WALLIS C J, and COURTS TROTTER, J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies and time begins to run from the date of transfer and not from the date of taking possession, (v) Per ABDUR RAHIM and SESHAGIRI ATYAR, J J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies, but time begins to run not from the date of transfer but from the date of taking possession, and (c) Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act is not applicable to the case. It applies only in cases where the transferee takes possession on the date of transfer and where the mortgagee is entitled even on the date of transfer to sue the transferee for possession. Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR, J—Obiter "Transfer" in Art. 134 means "transfer of title" and not "transfer of possession." Held by the Full Bench—Under r 2 of the Rules of the High Court Appellate Side only a question of law involved in the determination of the case may be referred to a Full Bench; and that the third question referred to them did not so arise in the case SEETH KUTTY v KUSHI PATHEMARIA (1917)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*cont'd*Sch. I, Art. 134—cont'd

I L R 40 Mad 1040

4. ————— *Mortgagee and mortgagee—Redemption—Purchase by mortgagee of a Court sale—Transfer by mortgagee to third persons—Mortgagee re purchasing from the transferee—Mortgagee entitled to redeem the property re-purchased. The properties in suit were mortgaged with possession in 1885 by two persons, S and D. In 1888 in execution of a money decree against the mortgagors the properties were sold and the interest of the mortgagor S alone was purchased by the mortgagee at a Court sale. In 1892 three of these properties survey Nos. 11, 54 and 87 were sold by the mortgagee to third persons, and in 1898 the mortgagee bought back Survey Nos. 54 and 87 from the vendees. The plaintiffs mortgagees sued for redemption of all the properties in 1910. The lower appellate Court held that D alone was entitled to redeem all the properties in suit except Survey Nos. 11 54 and 87 in respect of which the claim to redeem was barred under Art 134 of the Limitation Act, 1908, and that D could have no right to claim compensation on account of these lands. On appeal to the High Court by D Held that D's claim for redemption and compensation in respect of Survey No. 11 was rightly disallowed but that he was entitled to redeem Survey Nos. 54 and 87 as these properties having come back into the possession of the defendant he must be treated as mortgagee and not as an innocent transferee without notice. KALU DEVBA v RUPCHAND KISOYDAS (1920)*

I L R 44 Bom 843

5. ————— Suit by Mafzal to recover possession of Waf's property mortgaged, by previous Mafzal. Date from which limit on to be reckoned was held to be 12 years from the date of the mortgage NABAIN DAI v KAZI ABDUR RAHIM 24 C W N 690

6. ————— Mortgage—Transfer by mortgagee—Rights of the transferee—Redemption—Construction of statute—Legislative exposition The plaintiffs sued in the year 1906 to redeem a mortgage effected prior to the year 1834. The representatives in title of the mortgagee claiming to be absolutely entitled mortgaged the land with possession to A in 1891 and he sold his rights to defendant 5. The suit having been brought more than 12 years after the alienation to A, defendant 5 claimed as against the plaintiffs the interest of a mortgagee by virtue of his adverse possession under Art 134 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Held that it was obligatory on the plaintiffs to redeem defendant 5 before they could recover possession of the property. Yesu Rang, Kainath v. Bolleekhan Lotekhan I L R 15 Bom. 533 Malya v Fakirchand I L R 22 Bom. 225 and Ramechandra v Shesik Mohidin, I L R 23 Bom 614 followed. Abhairam Goswami v Shyama Charan Aandi, L R 36 I A 148 and Ishwar Shyam Chand Jiu v Ram Kanai Ghose I L R 33 Cal 578 explained. The alteration in the language of Art 134 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was a legislative recognition of the soundness of the view that the Article was intended to give protection to all transferees for value including mortgagees. Surft v Jewsbury L R 9 Q B

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch. I, Art. 134—contd.

312, and Morgan v London General Omnibus Company, 12 Q B D 201, referred to. RAGAS UMARJI v. NATHARHAI UTAMRAH (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 146

*Neither under Mufha median nor Hindu Law is property conveyed to a Shebat or Mufuals on dedication—They are not trustees in the English sense but of specific property is specifically entrusted to such a person for specific purposes, he might be regarded as trustee with regard to that property. Where the head of a Mutt gave a permanent lease of property which had been granted for the general purposes of the Mutt and no necessity for the alienation was established. Held, That Art 134 of the Limitation Act which is controlled by s 10 of the Act did not apply to the case as the property in question was not property specifically conveyed to the Mastabipathe "in trust". Also, that the rent reserved in the lease was not "valuable consideration" within the meaning of the article. Held, further, that as, according to the well settled law of India, a Mohant is incompetent to create any interest in respect of Mutt property to endure beyond his life the possession of the lessee did not become adverse within the meaning of Art 144 of the Limitation Act until he died, and the acceptance of rent by his successor being properly referable only to a new tenancy created by himself, which it was within his power to continue during his life, the possession of the lessee did not become adverse again until his death. The legal position of Mohants, shebats, sayadanashins and mufuals discussed. Ordinarily speaking, the sayadanashin has a larger right in the surplus income than a mufual, for so long as he does not spend it in wicked living or in objects wholly alien to his office he, like the Mohant of a Hindu Mutt, has full power of disposition over it. SIR VIDYA VASANTH THEETHA SWAMIDAL v. ALEXSAMI AYYAR.

26 C. W. N. 538

Sch. I, Arts. 134, 144—

See ART 120 . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 186

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 679

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 831

Suit for redemption by co-mortgagor—Property already redeemed, re mortgaged and finally sold to second mortgagee—Limitation—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 95 In 1860 the father of a family of four sons mortgaged some of the family property. In 1877, after the death of the father, one of the sons again mortgaged the property and with the money borrowed on the second mortgage paid off the first mortgage. The second mortgagee or his son remained in possession of the property as mortgagee until 1893, when the second mortgagee sold it to the son of the second mortgagee. In 1912, a grandson of the original mortgagor sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1860. Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 144 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, whatever might have been the position of the members of the family (which was not clear) as regards jointness or separation. Art 134 does not apply to a person who being interested in part of a mortgage redeems the whole, such person being merely a charge holder and not a mortgagee. Ashfaq Ahmad v Wazir Ali, I. L. R. 14 All. 1 distinguished. JAI KISHAN JOSHI v. BUDHANAND JOSHI (1915) I. L. R. 38 All. 138

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch. I, Arts. 134, 144—contd

Hindu Law—Rever

*soner—Suit by reversioner to recover possession after death of daughter of the last male owner—Lands mortgaged usufructually by last male owner in 1866—Sale in 1900 by mortgagee after male owner's death, during daughter's lifetime—Death of daughter in 1908—Suit in 1914 by reversioner against vendee for possession of lands—Bar of limitation A Hindu reversioner instituted a suit in 1914 to recover possession of certain lands which has been usufructually mortgaged by the last male owner in 1866, and had been sold for consideration by the mortgagee in 1900 after the death of the last male owner and during the lifetime of his daughter who had inherited his estates and died in 1906. The vendee who were unpleaded in the suit pleaded, inter alia, the bar of limitation. Held, that article 134 and not article 141 of the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1904) applied to the case and that the suit was barred by limitation. SESHA NAIDU v. PERIASAMI ODAYAR (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 951

*Sch. I, Arts. 134, 144 and 148—Mortgage—Mortgagee in possession dealing with mortgaged property as full owner—Adverse possession A mortgagee in possession, professing himself to be the full owner and not merely a mortgagee, mortgaged the property to a third party, whose heirs, having brought a suit on their mortgage and obtained a decree, put up the property for sale and purchased it themselves. Subsequently they sold by private contract the property which they had so purchased. The representatives of the original mortgagor then sued for redemption. Held, that neither article 134 nor article 148 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, applied to the suit, but article 144, and the suit was barred. The ultimate purchasers, the defendants, were entitled to add to the period of their possession the period of possession of the auction purchasers, their predecessors. Hussain Ahamam v. Hussain Khan, I. L. R. 29 All. 471, Seeti Kutt v. Kunbi Pathumma, I. L. R. 40, Mad 1040 Ammu v. Ramu Krishna Sastri, I. L. R. 2 Mad. 226, Chitlu v. Janki, I. L. R. 18 Bom. 51, Ahamed Kutt v. Raman Nambudri, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 99, Elayagan Sahas v. Elayagan Din, I. L. R. 9 All. 97, Sheo Nath Singh v. Mahipati Singh, 2 A. L. J. 234, referred to. Babu Ram v. Banke Behar Lal, 3 A. L. J. 424, followed. RAM PRASAD v. BUDH SEN. I. L. R. 43 All. 164

Sch. I, Arts. 134 and 148—Mortgage

—Transfer from mortgagee—Suit for redemption—Mortgagor's right of redemption not defeated by reason of mortgagee's transfer In 1882 certain lands were mortgaged with possession by the plaintiff's father. In 1883 the mortgagee mortgaged the lands to the predecessor in title of the defendants representing himself as absolute owner. In 1916, the plaintiff having sued for redemption, the defendants contended that the suit was barred under Art 134 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Held, that the suit was not barred as on the facts the proper Article applicable to the case was Art 148 and not Art. 134 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act, 1908,

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Arts. 134 and 148—contd.

Per MACLEOD, C J—"A suit to recover possession is not the same thing as a suit to redeem, and a mortgagor's right to redeem the period of limitation for which is 60 years under Art. 143, will not be defeated merely because his mortgagee transfers the mortgage to another person."

TAIMIYA v SHIBULISAR (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 614

Sch. I, Art 135—

See CONTRACT ACT, ss. 126 AND 149

I L R 42 All 70

See MORTGAGE

I L R 38 All 97

Sch. I, Art 137—

See POSSESSION 4 Pat. L J 463

Sch. I, Arts 137, 139, 142—Suit for possession by auction purchaser—Onus on plaintiff to prove judgment debtor's possession at date of sale or that judgment-debtor became entitled to possession within 12 years of suit. The plaintiff, an auction purchaser of certain lands, sued to recover possession on declaration of title. His case was that the judgment-debtor was in possession at the date of the sale and subsequently, and when he went to take possession on their treating the land he was met by the defendant who alleged that they had been in possession from before the execution sale and contended that the suit was barred. Held, that the suit was governed either by Art. 137 or Art. 138 or Art. 142 of the Limitation Act and the onus was entirely on the plaintiff to prove not only that he had a title but a subsisting title which he had not lost by the prescriptive sections of the Limitation Act, i.e., he must show which Article of the Limitation Act saved his suit from the bar of limitation and the lower Court erred in law in throwing the burden of proof on the defendants to show that they had been in adverse possession for over 12 years. DOKARI JODDAR v NILMANI KUNDU (1916)

22 C W N 319

Sch. I, Art 138—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 47

I L R 35 Bom 452

See POSSESSION. 4 Pat. L J 463

"Date when sale becomes absolute," significance of—Arts 137, 138 and 144, which applies when an execution purchaser obtains symbolical possession, but is kept out of actual possession—S. 16, if applies to a suit for possession by such an execution purchaser. A tenure was purchased at an execution sale, which was confirmed in August 1902 symbolical possession was delivered to the purchaser in January 1904. An application for setting aside the sale was made in June 1905 and was rejected in April 1906. Being kept out of actual possession the purchaser brought a suit for possession in July 1914 and added some Defendants in March 1916, i.e., more than 12 years from the date on which the sale became absolute, as well as from the date when symbolical possession was delivered to the execution purchaser. Held, that the sale became absolute on the confirmation of the sale in August 1902 and not in April 1904 when the application for setting aside the sale was dismissed. The confirmation of a sale cannot be kept in abeyance (when no proceedings are taken to set aside the sale before the confirmation) in order to enable the judgment-debtor to take such proceedings afterwards. So if Art. 138 of the Limitation Act applied, the suit would be barred, even deducting the time during which the application for setting aside the sale was pending. Art. 137 did not apply as the judgment debtor was in possession at the date of the sale. Art. 138 too was not the proper article applicable to the case. The purchaser obtained symbolical possession, which was as effective as actual possession against the judgment debtor, and if the latter continued in possession it was adverse against the purchaser from the very day on which he got symbolical possession. The purchaser therefore had a fresh cause of action for instituting the suit for possession against the judgment debtor. In such a case Art. 138 does not apply but Art. 144 applies. Gopal v Krishna Rao I L R 25 Bom. 275 referred to. Where Art. 144 applies no deduction of time under s. 16 of the Limitation Act or under the general principles of equity is allowable and the suit was therefore barred. BRAJENDRA KUMAR ROY CROWDHURST v ASHUTOSH ROY

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch. I, Art 138—contd.

28 C. W. N 364

Sch. I, Arts 138, 144—

Execution of decree—Successive purchasers of same property—Suit by subsequent purchaser to recover from earl or purchaser—Limitation Art. 138 of the Limitation Act only applies to suits in which the auction purchaser is the plaintiff and the judgment-debtor or some one claiming through him is the defendant. Ram Lalhan Rai v Gayadhar Rai, I L R 34 All. 224 and Akroda Kanta Roy v Krishna Das Laha 12 C L J 378 referred to. BHAGWANT SINGH v BHOLI SINGH (1913)

I L R. 35 All. 432

Limitation—Suit for joint possession—Purchase of undivided share—Effect of an order for formal possession against the judgment debtor On the 20th of March, 1900, plaintiff purchased at an auction sale in execution of a decree an undivided one third share in certain waste land. On the 20th of September 1900, plaintiff obtained under s. 319 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, formal possession of the property purchased. On the 18th of September, 1912 plaintiff filed a suit for recovery of joint possession of the share. Held that the suit was within time. Mangal Prasad v Devi I L R 19 All. 499, Jagan Nath v Mlap Chand, I L R 28 All. 722 Narain Das v Lalla Prasad, I L R 21 All. 269 and Rahim Baksh v Muhammad Hafez, 19 Indian Cases 319, referred to. RAJENDRA KISHORE SINGH v BHAGWANT SINGH (1917)

I L R. 39 All. 460

Sch. I, Arts 139, 142—

See ART 137

22 C W. N 319

Sch. I, Art 140—

See LIMITATION (18) I L R. 41 I A 287

Sch. I, Arts 140, 141—Suit by a reversioner—Mortgage—Redemption—H widow, disappearance of—Presumption of death—Onus of proof—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 108 One S died leaving him surviving his widowed daughter-in-law R. In 1860 R passed a mortgage bond in favour of the 1st defendant's father. In 1803 R disappeared and was not heard of since 1870. In 1911 the plaintiff, as the reversioner of S, sued to recover possession of the property alienated by R. The defendants pleaded limitation. The first Court decided in plaintiff's favour on the ground that under s. 109 of the Indian Evidence Act the Court must presume that R died at the time of the suit and therefore the claim was in time. The lower Appellate Court reversed the decree and dismissed the suit holding that the presumption of R's death at the time of the suit could not be drawn and that the onus probandi which lay heavily on the plaintiff to show when R died was not discharged. The plaintiff having appealed; Held, that it lay on the plaintiff to show affirmatively that he had brought his suit within twelve years from the actual death of R. Nepean v Deo d Knight, 2 M and W 824, followed. Art. 141 of the Limitation Act is merely an extension of Art. 140, with special reference to persons succeeding to an estate as reversioners upon the cessation of the peculiar estate of a Hindu widow. But the plaintiff's case under each Article rests upon the same principle. The doctrine of non-adverse possession does not obtain in regard to such suits and the plaintiff suing in ejectment must prove whether it be that he sues as remainder man in the English sense or as a reversioner in the Hindu sense, that he sues within twelve years of the estate falling into possession, and that onus is in no way removed by any presumption which can be drawn according to the terms of s. 109 of the Evidence Act, 1872. JAYAWANT JIVANRAO v RAMCHANDRA NARAYAN (1915)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch. I, Arts. 140, 141—*contd.

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 239

Sch. I, Art. 141—

See ART 131 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 638

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I. L. R. 43 Mad 665

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I. L. R. 47 Calc. 274

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I. L. R. 39 All 117

See HINDU LAW WIDOW

I. L. R. 43 Mad 855

Dispossession in lifetime of full owner—Adverse possession against limited owner before Limitation Act of 1871, effect of— Thal and survey maps, as evidence of title and possession. Art. 141 only applies to cases where it is proved that the last full owner was in possession at the time of his death. If he himself was dispossessed and time began to run against him, the fact that on his death he was succeeded by his widow, daughter or mother would not arrest the operation of the law of limitation. Under the law as it stood before the Limitation Act of 1871 came into operation, adverse possession which extinguished the title of the female heir also extinguished the title of the reversioner and once the title was extinguished while the Limitation Act of 1859 or Reg. III of 1793 or Reg. II of 1805, was in force, it could not be revived by the introduction of the Limitation Act of 1871. MOKEY DRA NATH BISWAS v SHANUSUNISSA KHAYUM (1914) 19 C. W. N 1280

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch. I, Arts. 141, 142, 144—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 69

Sch. I, Arts. 141, 144—Alienation by a widow—Death of the widow—Property taken by surviving co-widow—On her death property vesting in the daughter as reversionary heir—Suit by daughter's son to recover possession—Adverse possession. One D died leaving two widows K and R and daughters S and T. In 1897 the senior widow K sold the property in suit to defendant No. 1. In July 1902 K died. Thereupon R as the surviving co-widow took the property for a widow's estate. R died on January 17, 1903. On her death, the daughters S and T inherited the property. S died in 1907 and T in 1911. On January 13, 1915 S's son brought a suit to recover possession of the property sold by K. Both the lower Courts held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art. 144 of the Limitation Act 1908. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the suit was governed by Art. 141 of the Limitation Act, 1908, and, if not, in any case, it was not barred by adverse possession under Art. 141. Held, that Art. 141 of the Limitation Act, 1908, did not apply as that Article was restricted to suits by a plaintiff whose right and title to sue for possession occurred upon the death of a female holding the limited woman's estate. The suit was, however, not barred under Art. 144 of the Limitation Act, 1908, as no adverse possession began to run against the plaintiff until the death of R on January 17, 1903. MALKARJUN MAHADEO v AMRITA TEJARAM (1918) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 714

Art. 142—

See ART 120 20 C. W. N. 481

See ART 121 I. L. R. 44 Calc. 412

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT 1905 s 41
6 Pat. L. J. 51

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 684

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, Art. 121

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 779

See POSSESSION 1 Pat. L. J. 148

Suit for possession—De facto possession with defendant—Burden of proof. Where the plaintiff alleges possession of land, and it is found that part of the land is de facto in possession of the defendant, the case falls under Art. 142, and not Art. 144, of Sch. II to the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Every suit for possession of immoveable property in which the plaintiff alleges that he has had possession must fall under Art. 142. It is only where the plaintiff does not allege that he has ever been in possession that the case will fall under Art. 144. In the former class of cases the plaintiff is bound to show that the dispossession or discontinuance of possession which gives rise to the starting point of limitation was within twelve years of the date of the suit. SUBAPPA v VEKKAPPA (1914)

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 335

In cases under Art. 142 of the Limitation Act, although the Plaintiff's title is proved, the onus is not upon the Defendant to show that the Plaintiff lost his title

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Art. 142—contd.

by adverse possession on the part of the Defendant. RAKHAL CHANDRA GHOSH v DURGADAS SAMANTA 26 C. W. N. 725

"Discontinuance" and "dispossession"—time from which limitation runs—"Discontinuance" in Art. 142 of the Limitation Act, 1908, implies abandonment of possession followed by the actual possession of another person. "Dispossession" in the same article implies ouster from possession followed by the possession of another person. An owner of property must be considered in law to be always in possession so long as there is no intrusion. MADAN MOHAN SINGH v BRAJ BIHARI LAL 5 Pat. L. J. 592

Ejectment—plaintiff's title proved but neither side found to be in possession within 12 years of suit—presumption. A Court can draw a presumption as to possession from title. In a suit for ejectment, where the plaintiff's title is established but neither party is found to have been in possession within 12 years of the institution of the suit, and the condition of the land during that time is such as to render it unfit for actual enjoyment in the usual way, the plaintiff's possession will be presumed. INDER LALL v MUHAMMAD RAM SARAT KUER 5 Pat. L. J. 724

A suit to reverse or modify a Collector's order under s. 41 of the Bengal Survey Act is governed by Art. 142. MUNANTH PARNHU CHAMAN BHUTTI v SECRETARY OF STATE 6 Pat. L. J. 51

Arts. 142 and 144—

See Art. 142. I. L. R. 39 Bom. 335

See Art. 144. 2 Pat. L. J. 506

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 5

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 48 Calc. 694
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 858

See LIMITATION ACT, s. 51
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 694

See UNSETTLED PALAYAM
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 749

Where a right to catch fish is a benefit derived from the ownership of land upon which the water in which the fish are caught collects, dispossession from that benefit is dispossession from immovable property within the meaning of arts. 142 and 144 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act, 1908. SYED BAKAR HUSAIN v RANI RANJIT KUER 2 Pat. L. J. 289

Suit to recover possession—Adverse possession of trespasser—One trespasser cannot tack his own wrongful possession to the wrongful possession of another trespasser. The property in dispute, which belonged to V, was wrongfully sold in execution of a decree and purchased by C. C was put in possession of the property in 1893. V applied to recover possession of the property by setting aside the sale. On V's death, the name of his sister B was placed on the record as his heir. The proceedings terminated in B's favour and she recovered possession of the property on the 14th October 1903. The plaintiff who was the nearer heir to V than B, filed the present suit on the 11th October 1915 to recover possession of the property from the absence of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Arts. 142 and 144—contd.

B.—Held, that the suit was within time as it was governed by Art. 144 and not by Art. 142 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, and that B, the latter of the two trespassers, could not be allowed to add to the period of her hostile possession the period of possession of a former trespasser C from whom she did not derive title in any way. RANCHANDRA BALWANT v BALAJI GANESH (1920) I. L. R. 45 Bom. 570

Sch. I, Art. 143—

See Art. 32. 20 C. W. N. 661

See Art. 113 I. L. R. 42 Mad. 590

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 113
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 690

Suit for lease possession on breach of covenant of lease—Period of limitation and point of time whence period runs. MOTILAL PAL CHOWDHURY v CHANDRA KUMAR SEN 24 C. W. N. 1064

Sch. I, Art. 144—

See s. 28. I. L. R. 40 All. 461

See Art. 120. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 333

See Art. 132. I. L. R. 36 All. 567

See Art. 134. 26 C. W. N. 538

See Art. 141. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 714

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 425

See EASEMENT ACT 1882, ss. 13 and 47
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 80

See HINDU LAW GUARDIAN
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1125

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 69

See IVAM I. L. R. 42 Mad. 673

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 46 I. A. 285
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 244

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 883

See LIMITATION ACT, Art. 121, 142, and 144. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 776

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS
3 Pat. L. J. 327

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 46

Right to take water from a well—

See EASEMENT ACT 1882, ss. 13 and 47
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 80

Suit by more distant collaterals for possession—within 12 years of death of nearest reversioner who did not contest mutation in favour of defendants—adverse possession—compensation to defendants, collaterals of the donees, for trees planted by the donees. 1st December 1897 the widow of one H gifted certain land to her daughter's sons, D and N. On 21st January 1900, N died and D obtained possession of his share and retained it till his death in 1909. After D's death mutation was effected in favour of defendants, D's first cousins, which was accepted by A, the nearest reversioner. A died in 1914 and in 1918 plaintiffs, collaterals in 4th degree of H, the original donor's husband, brought the present suit for possession on the ground that the donees direct line of descendants having failed the lands revert to plaintiffs. Held, that the suit was not barred by limitation in respect of N's share, plaintiffs having had no right to sue for possession until the death of A in 1914 Sundar v Salig Ram (25 P R 1911, F. B.), referred to Kabla Singh v. Dials (113 P R 1916), distinguished. Held also, that the defendants, collaterals of the donees, were not entitled to claim compensation for trees planted on the land by the donees and that the ordinary principle quid quid plantatur solo, solo cedit must prevail. HANNAHAN v DASOUDH

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 210

Adverse possession, continuity of 12 years, whether death of trespasser operates as break in Where the proprietor of land sued a tenant-holder for recovery of possession of land on which the latter had encroached, Held, that the proprietor, having shown that he had a good title to the land prior to 12 years before the institution of the suit, was entitled to claim the presumption that he was in possession at that time and that his possession continued till within 12 years of the institution of the suit, and the suit, therefore, was in essence a suit for declaration of title and confirmation of possession, and was governed by art. 144 of the Limitation Act, 1908, and not by art. 142. Therefore the tenant holder's plea that the encroachment had been begun by his father and that the period for which he and his father had been in possession was more than 12 years prior to the institution of the suit, did not establish adverse possession for 12 continuous years as there was a break in the period on the death of the father. The character of the land cannot affect the principle of law which requires that the plaintiff should give affirmative evidence of possession within 12 years in every suit under art. 142 of the Limitation Act, 1908. MIDYARORE ZAMINDARY COMPANY, LIMITED, v PANDAY SARDAR

2 Pat. L. J. 500

Sch. I, Arts. 144 and 148—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 41 Mad. 650

See MORTGAGE 6 Pat. L. J. 680

Sch. I, Arts. 144 and 149—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 39 Mad. 617

Sch. I, Art. 145—

See CONTRACT ACT, s 162
26 C. W. N. 772

Sch. I, Art. 148—

See ART 134 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 614
See ART 148 26 C. W. N. 123

See LIMITATION (51) I. L. R. 46 Calc. 111

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 38 All. 540

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882,
s 99 24 C. W. N. 229

1. ———— Limitation—Usufructuary mortgage—Redemption Right of purchaser of equity of redemption in part of the mort-

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch. I, Art. 148—contd.

gaged property A purchaser of the equity of the redemption in a part of the mortgaged property, is entitled to redeem his own portion of the property within sixty years of the date of the mortgage from another person who having purchased another portion of the mortgaged property has redeemed the entire mortgage and is in possession of the entire property. The limitation applicable to a suit of this description is that provided by Art. 148 of Sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act. Ashfaq Ahmad v Wazir Ali, I. L. R. 14 All. 1, followed. Jai Kishan Joshi v Budhanand Joshi, I. L. R. 35 All. 133, referred to. WAZIR ALI v ALI ISLAM (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 633

2. ———— Persons owning a portion of the equity of redemption paying off the whole mortgage—Suit by remaining co-sharer to redeem—Limitation—Mortgage and charge—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss 35, 100—Persons taking exclusive possession under a Court sale of the whole, though interest of certain co-sharers only sold—Possession, whether as co-sharer or exclusive Where on 7th May 1890 in execution of a decree against two out of three brothers who had mortgaged their property, one A purported to purchase the whole property which he redeemed on 6th April 1892 by paying off the mortgage, and A or persons claiming through A remained in sole possession of the property for 19 years from 19th April 1892 when A obtained possession through Court, until the present suit by an assignee of the share of the remaining brother A was brought for redemption of A's one third share of the property in the hand of A's successor in interest. Held, that under a 93 of the Transfer of Property Act, A obtained a charge on the one third share of A, which not being a mortgage, Art. 148 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the suit. That suit having been brought more than twelve years from the date when the charge came into existence and more than twelve years from the date when A obtained exclusive possession was barred by limitation. That in the circumstances, the possession of A under a sale of the whole property was not that of a co-sharer of A and was exclusive of him. PURNA CHANDRA PAL v BARODA PRASANTA BHATTACHARJYA (1918) 22 C. W. N. 637

3. ———— Suit for redemption of a lekha-mukhi mortgage—Limitation—Starting point of Held, that a suit for redemption of a lekha mukhi mortgage is governed by art. 148 of the Limitation Act and the starting point of limitation is the date of the mortgage. Ranaja v Mussammat Piarce (39 P R 1867) and Gali Haf v Shera (39 P R 1881) referred to—also Ruttigan's Customary Law, 1111 Edition, page 151, and Ghose's Law of Mortgage, IV Edition, Volume I, page 103. KHANDU LAL v FARAZ
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 80

Sch. I, Art. 149—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 39 Mad. 617

Sch. I, Art. 152—

Limitation—Appeal—Jurisdiction—Appeal presented to Judge at his private house after court hours A memorandum of appeal was presented to a District Judge at his private house, after court hours on the last day of limitation Held, that the Judge had jurisdiction to accept the memorandum of appeal so presented, though he was not obliged to do so. Jai Anar v Hara Lal 7 A W P H C Rep. 5 overruled. THAKAR DINDAS v HARI DAS (1912) I L R. 34 All 482

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch I, Art. 152—*contd.

Present on of appeal beyond the prescribed period of limitation—Proper order to endorse on such memorandum of appeal—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s 5—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s 7, sub s. (4) cl. (c)—Bombay Civil Courts Act (Bom Act XIV of 1869), s 8 and 26—Party following mistaken advice as to proper Court to which to appeal—Sufficient cause for not presenting appeal in proper time—Power of Desai in Belgaum District to alienate hereditary property of the Vatan as against his widow, his adopted son, and the servants of the Vatan—Bombay Regulation XVI of 1897—Bombay Act II of 1863. Where a memorandum of appeal is presented beyond the prescribed period of limitation the proper order which the Court should endorse on it would be that it was presented for admission on the date when the memorandum of appeal was handed into the office of the Court and that notice of the order and its dates should be given to the respondent. Krushnasami Panlondar v Ramasami Chet (1891) 1 L R 41 Mad 412, 1 L R. 45 I A 25, followed. An appeal from a Subordinate Judge which from its nature should rightly have been presented to the District Court and not to the High Court, was not presented to either Court until after the period of 30 days prescribed by the Limitation Act, 1908, Sch. I, Art. 152, had expired for an appeal to the District Court, it was then, on 19th July 1910 presented to the High Court well within the 90 days allowed for such an appeal, but the High Court directed it to be presented to the District Court which made an order admitting it without prejudice to any objection that may be taken by the respondent as to its being barred by limitation. It appeared that the District Judge had when Legal Remembrancer advised that the appeal rightly lay to the High Court when it was presented to that Court on 19th July 1910. After the District Judge had admitted the appeal it was, by order of the High Court, removed to that Court and, after hearing the parties, and considering the affidavits which were filed, an order was made by the High Court admitting the appeal on the ground that they were satisfied that there had been sufficient cause shown for not having preferred the appeal to the District Court within the prescribed period of limitation. Held, that the appeal was not barred by limitation the fact that the defendants had acted on mistaken advice as to the law in appealing to the High Court in 1910 did not preclude them from showing that it was owing to their reliance on that advice that they had not presented the appeal to the Court of the District Judge within the proper period. By: Indar Singh v Anasahi Ram, 1 L R 45 Cal 91 1 L R 44 I A 213, referred to. On the question whether a Desai in the Belgaum District could dispose by will of the hereditary lands of the Vatan as against his widow his son adopted by the widow, and the hereditary servants interested in the Vatan property, their Lordships of the Judicial Committee agreed with the High Court in holding that such property was not alienable. Only the testator's private property was alienable. Subbarao v The Collector of Belgaum (1918) I L R. 43 Bom 378

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch I, Art 152—*contd.

Sch I, Art 154—See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R. 40 Cal. 239

I L R. 29 Mad. 750

Sch I, Art 156—Applicability of, to appeals under Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894). Art 156 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to appeals filed under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894). Agga Muhammad Hamadani v Cohen (1936) 1 L R 13 Cal 221, referred to. RAMASAMI PILLAI v DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF MADURAI (1920) I L R. 43 Mad 51

Sch. I, Art 158—See ARBITRATION I L R 46 Cal 721*Arbitration—Award

Application to set aside—Form of—Practice The form which an application to set aside an award under the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code should take is nowhere prescribed or indicated. It is sufficient if some notice is given to the proper office that the party objects to the award, and the date on which such notice is given is for the purpose of the Indian Limitation Act, the date on which the application is made. GOPALJI KALLIANJI v CHHAQANTAL VITTHALJI . . . I L R 45 Bom. 1071

Art 161, read with s 17, Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887)—Application for review of judgment made on the last day of limitation without the required deposit of security, if barred—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s 5, if empowers the Court to grant extension of time for the deposit, after the application was made in time. An application for review of judgment in a Small Cause Court suit was made on the last day of the period prescribed for limitation; but without deposit of the amount of costs or security for the same as required by s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. On the following day the Court allowed the applicant time for making the deposit, which was eventually made and the application for review was granted. Held, that as the application failed to comply with the provisions of s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, the application for review was not a proper application in time and it was barred under Art 161 of the Limitation Act. It was doubtful whether s 5 of the Limitation Act applied to the case at all as the application for review was made within time. ABDUL SHUKR v MAHAMMAD ATTA . . . 24 C W N 380

Sch I, Art 161—See LIMITATION (67) 23 C. W N. 553*Sch. I, Art 164—*See s 6 . . . I L R. 35 Mad. 678*See EX PARTE DECREE.

I L R. 39 Cal. 506

See PROMISE I L R. 41 Cal. 819

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch. I, Art. 164—contd.

*Limitation Act (XI of 1877), s. 11 and Sch. II, Art. 164, and (IX of 1908), s. 11 and Sch. I, Art. 164, applicability of—*Application to set aside ex parte decree passed before Amending Act—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1909), s. 17—Deposit of security after application—Power of Court to extend time—Fraud, knowledge of, onus of proof as to—Simble. Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is made after the Limitation Act of 1908 came into operation although the decree was passed before it came into force, the provisions of the Act of 1908 and not those of the Act of 1877 would apply. An ex parte decree was obtained in a Small Cause Court on the 7th August 1908 and on the 14th December 1909 a fraudulent entry was obtained in the records of the Court that the decree had been partially executed by attachment of moveables. On the 20th February 1909 the judgment-debtor first became aware of the existence of an ex parte decree against him. On the 15th March he applied before another Court to have the ex parte decree set aside. Subsequently the application was returned for presentation to the Court which passed the decree. On the application being refused in that Court it was registered as an ordinary application to set aside an ex parte money decree. On the 7th August 1909 it was discovered that the decree was a Small Cause Court decree and an order was made giving the petitioner time to deposit the amount of the decree under s. 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. The time having subsequently been extended the amount was ultimately deposited on the 28th August 1909. Held, that in the circumstances whether the Limitation Act of 1877 or that of 1908 applied the application was not liable to be rejected as time barred as under s. 14 of the Limitation Act the judgment-debtor would be entitled to a deduction of time from the 15th March to the 7th August when he was prosecuting another legal proceeding in good faith. Also in the circumstances, he must be deemed to have first become aware of the decree as a decree of the Small Cause Court on the 7th August 1909. Thus regarding the application as having been filed on the 7th August 1909 no question as to the deposit being made out of time as prescribed by s. 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act arises. The provisions of s. 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act are mandatory where an application under that section is filed within the time allowed by law for the application, the applicant has a right to have his application heard on the merits. Where an application is made by a party on the obligation that an entry in a judicial record is fraudulent there is nothing to prevent the application being entertained without a preliminary enquiry into the truth of the allegation. Shankarprasad v. Jindal & Sons, Mad. L. J. 1 L. R. 23 Cal. 372 (1913) approved and cited. Where a fraud has been committed by a person who has obtained property thereby the party defrauded can move the application of the injured party on the ground of fraud in, case, that it can show that the injured party has had clear and definite knowledge of the facts moving to the fraud at a time too remote for the suit to be brought and the mere suggestion of being defrauded is not sufficient in the present case. Police

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch. I, Art. 164—contd

Shoy v. Turner, 1 L. R. 17 Bom. 341, followed. BASTRUDDIN MANDAL v. SONAVILLA MANDAL (1910) 15 C. W. N. 1002

Application to set aside an ex parte decree passed when Act No. XI of 1907 was in force—Limitation. The plaintiff obtained an ex parte decree on the 29th of November 1904 which was made absolute on the 24th of August 1907. The proclamation of sale was brought to the village on the 19th of December, 1912. The defendant on the 9th of January, 1913 applied to have the ex parte decree set aside. The plaintiff contended that the defendant had knowledge of the decree prior to 1910 and, therefore her application was barred by Art. 164 of the Indian Limitation Act of 1908. The defendant contended that Art. 164 of the Limitation Act of 1877 applied to her case. Held, that the defendant's application was barred by Art. 164 of Act IX of 1908. Hope Mills Limited v. Jitlal Das Frankindas, 12 L. M. J. L. P. 720, referred to. Jia Bibi v. Itani Baksh (1915)

I L. R. 37 All. 597

Arts. 164 and 181—Ex parte decree setting aside of—Defendant died after decree—Executor not brought on the record—Executor, application by, to set aside ex parte decree—Application made more than thirty days after decree—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908), s. 146. Where a decree was passed ex parte against a defendant who died seven days after the decree, and an application to set it aside was made by the executor of the deceased defendant more than thirty days after the passing of the decree. Held, that Art. 164 and not Art. 181 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applied to the case and that the application was barred. On the true construction of Art. 164 of the Limitation Act read with s. 146 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) the word "defendant" in the said Art. 164 is wide enough to include the executor of the original defendant though the executor may not have been brought on the record when the application was made. Canada Food Co. v. S. S. Narain Malhotra, 1 L. P. 23 Cal. 31, referred to. VENKATASUBRAHMANIAM v. KRISHNABENDEY (1913)

I L. R. 23 Mad. 442

See also CHANDAN LAY, 1912, at 150 and 169.

I L. R. 1 Lah. 187

Sch. I, Arts. 163, 181—

Civil Procedure Code (1908), s. 47—Execution of decree—Limitation—Application by judgment-debtor to set aside judgment of immovable property sold in the execution of decree of that Court. It is that the application of a judgment-debtor to set aside a judgment of immovable property sold in the execution of a decree of that Court is barred under s. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure and governed by Art. 181 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act. Prasanna Appa v. Krishna L. v. Vaidya, 1 L. R. 21 Mad. 194, 110 Ind. 503, v. Lakshmi Narayana v. Lakshmi Narayana (1913)

I L. R. 22 All. 239

Execution of decree—Limitation of decree—Judgment-debtor to set aside judgment of immovable property sold in the execution of decree of that Court. It is that the application of a judgment-debtor to set aside a judgment of immovable property sold in the execution of a decree of that Court is barred under s. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure and governed by Art. 181 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act. Prasanna Appa v. Krishna L. v. Vaidya, 1 L. R. 21 Mad. 194, 110 Ind. 503, v. Lakshmi Narayana v. Lakshmi Narayana (1913) lands—Limitation for such applications—Applicability of Arts 163 or 181 of the Limitation Act, 181, and not Art 163, of Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) governs an application made by a judgment debtor for restoration of immoveable property delivered to the decree holder in execution proceedings in excess of what had been decreed Pataam Ayyar v. Krishna Doss Fital Doss, I L R 21 Mad 491, overruled Aldat Khanna v. Islamunnissa Bibi, I L R 33 All 339, followed Vachali Ramesh v. Kumbh Aliyasan (1910) I L R 42 Mad. 753

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Arts 163, 181—contd.

Sch. I, Art 166—

See Art 12 I L R 38 Mad. 1078

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT, 1909, s 231 I Pat L J 453

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s 47, O XXXIV, s 14

I L R 45 Bom 174

See HIGH COURT CIVIL APPELLARS

I L R 45 Bom 1132

Sch. I, Arts 166, 181—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s 63

14 C W N 1098

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s 47, 144, 15 I L R 43 Bom 235

See SALE I L R 46 Calc 975

Exonerated defendants

Gifts of properties, including share of exonerated defendants—Application to set aside sale—Limitation In a decree awarding maintenance a charge was created on the shares of some of the defendants in lands belonging jointly to them and the appellants, but the shares of the latter were expressly exonerated. In execution of the decree, however, the lands were sold by Court auction, including the shares of the appellants therein. On an application by them a year and seven months later to set aside the sale of their shares. Held that art 181 and not art 166 of the Limitation Act applied, and that the application was not barred Beshagiri Rao v. Srinivasa Rao (1920) I L R 43 Mad 311

Sch I, Art 168—

See s 6 I L R 45 Bom. 648

Application for realisation of an appeal dismissed in default—Inherent powers of Court—Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908, s 151 This application for restoration of an appeal dismissed in default was filed on the 17th November 1919 the order dismissing the appeal was made on the 27th January 1919. The applicant urged that he was not to blame for his non-appearance and did not discover for several months that the appeal had been dismissed. Held, that the application is barred by limitation under art 163 of the Limitation Act. Held also, that the inherent powers of the Court under s 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be invoked in breach of the clear provisions of the Limitation Act. Devi Baksh Singh v. Habib Shah (I L R 35 All 331, P O) distinguished Bista Mal v. Kesar Singh I L R 1 Lah 363

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch. I, Art. 171—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O L R 10 I L R 35 Bom. 393

Sch. I, Art. 178—

See ARBITRATION 4 Pat L J 394

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, Sec II, cl. 17 AND 20

I L R. 33 All. 83

Sch I, Art. 179—

See APPEAL TO PRINCIPAL COUNCIL.

I L R. 39 Calc. 765

See s 12 I L R. 39 Calc. 510

I L R. 33 All. 82

Decree—Execution proceedings—Application for time to obtain copies of decree and judgment—Step in aid of execution An application for time to enable the applicant to obtain copies of decree and judgment, made after presenting a draft to execute a decree is a step in aid of execution Kunhi v. Sitchapuri, I L R 5 Mad 111, followed Karick Nath Pandey v. Jangernath Ram Marwari, I L R 27 Calc 755, disented from Haridas Nandanai v. Vithaldas Kirandias (1912) I L R. 35 Bom. 635

Sch. I, Art 180—Application by decree holder for possession of properties purchased in Court auction—Application filed more than three years after confirmation of sale—Proceedings to set aside sale, effect of—Suspension of cause of action After a Court sale had been confirmed without opposition on 26th April 1913, an application was made on 3rd January 1914 to set it aside on the ground of fraud, and it was set aside on 25th June 1915 as to part of the properties sold. The auction purchaser having applied on 17th February 1917 for delivery of the remaining properties, on a reference to a Full Bench, Held (Per ABDEU RAHIM ORU C J, SADASIVA AYYAR, J., SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J., and BHARU, J.), that the application was not barred under art 180 of the Limitation Act as time should be computed from the date of the order disallowing the petition to set aside the sale on the ground of fraud and not from the date of the first confirmation Baijanath Sahas v. Pampat Singh, (1926) I L R 23 Calc 775 (P C), followed Per OLDFIELD J—As the question referred was not 'when the cause of action arose on the facts of the case' but whether the existing cause of action became suspended, the answer is that when once a cause of action has arisen, it is not suspended by later events Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.—The cause of action was suspended during the interval MUTHU KORAKKAT CHETTY v. Madan Annal (1920) I L R 43 Mad. 185

Sch I, Arts 180, 183—

See LIMITATION I L R. 42 Calc. 776

Sch. I, Art. 181—

See s 19 I L R 42 Mad 52

See Art 164 I L R. 38 Mad. 442

See Art 163 I L R. 33 All. 339

See Art 160 14 C. W. N. 1098

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O XXI, s. 2; O XXXIV, s. 4 & 5.

I L R. 39 All. 532

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch. I, Art. 181—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908),
O XXI, R. 89-92 24 C. W. N. 73

O XXXIV, R. 5

1 L. R. 39 All. 641

1 L. R. 38 All. 21

1 L. R. 40 All. 203

25 C. W. N. 378

R. 6 1 L. R. 40 All. 551

See COMPANIES ACT, 1882, ss. 150 AND 160 1 L. R. 1 Lab. 187

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 L. R. 35 All. 178

3 Pat. L. J. 103

See LIMITATION 1 L. R. 42 Cal. 294

See MORTGAGE 1 L. R. 37 Cal. 796

See MORTGAGE DECREE.

4 Pat. L. J. 213 & 523

See RESTITUTION 3 Pat. L. J. 367

Filing affidavit to prove service of notice under O XXI, r. 22 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) step in aid of execution. Filing an affidavit to prove service on judgment debtor of notice issued under O XXI, r. 22 of the Civil Procedure Code was equivalent, in this case, to applying to the Court to take a step in aid of execution. PRANERISHNA DAS v PRATAP CHANDRA DALOI (1917)

[21 C. W. N. 423]

Mortgage—Suit for sale

Application for final decree—Limitation. An application for final decree in a suit for sale on a mortgage being an application in the suit and not an application in execution, the fact that one such application has been made within the prescribed period of limitation does not operate to extend the period of limitation in favour of a second application, the first having been dismissed for default. ANAND KHAIR v MUHAMMAD GAURA (1917)

1 L. R. 40 All. 235

Execution of decree—

Limitation—Execution temporarily suspended by an injunction. Whilst an application for execution of a final decree in a mortgage suit was pending, a suit was brought for a declaration that the decree itself had been obtained by fraud and on the 9th of December 1914 an order staying execution was passed. On the 26th of April 1915 this suit was dismissed. An appeal was filed, but it too was dismissed on the 19th of April, 1917. The next application for execution of the mortgage decree was made on the 11th of June, 1918. Held, that the application was time barred. Pudhar Singh v Dhanpal Singh 1 L. P. 28 All. 156 followed. Mohd ud-din Khan v Chhajju Singh 2 A. L. J. 276, and Qamar-uddin Ahmad v Jauhar Lal, 1 L. R. 27 All. 334, distinguished. BALWANT SINGH v BUDH SINGH 1 L. R. 42 All. 564

Consent decree—Instalments—Application for decree absolute for sale—Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXXIV. An application for a decree absolute for sale of a mortgage charge under the terms of a consent decree which provided for satisfaction of the decretal debt by instalments, is an application under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch. I, Art. 181—contd.

1908), O XXXIV, and is governed by Art. 181, Sch. I, of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Such application must be made within 3 years from the time the right to apply accrues. DATTO ATMARAN v SHANKAR DATTATRAYA (1913)

1 L. R. 38 Bom. 32

Limitation—Execution of decree, payable by instalments, with option of getting possession of land in case of default of payment—application for possession more than 3 years after first default. In 1909, the appellant obtained a decree against the respondents for Rs. 370, payable by annual instalments of Rs. 25 which provided that in default of payment of the whole or part the judgment debtors would put the decree holder in proprietary possession of 5 bighas 4 biswas of land. In April 1918 the decree-holder applied to be put in possession of the land and failed to prove that any instalment had been paid under the decree. The lower Appellate Court held that the claim for possession was time barred more than three years having elapsed since the date to the first default. The decree holder appealed to the High Court. Held that it was not intended that the option given to the decree holder of obtaining possession of the land on a default being made in payment was to be exercised only on the occurrence of the first default. The decree holder was entitled to apply for delivery of possession on the occurrence of any subsequent default, and the present application was consequently within time, under art. 181 of the 1st Schedule of the Limitation Act. Muhammad Islam v Muhammad Ahsan (1 L. R. 16 All. 237) and Shankar Prasad v Jalpa Prasad (1 L. R. 16 All. 371) followed. Musammam Kirpa Devi v Das and Ram (8 P. R. 1917) not followed. HAR GOPAL v RAM RACHPAL 1 L. R. 2 Lah. 155

182—Application to execute decree—Limitation—Decree against property of deceased debtor in the hands of his brother, not a decree against the estate of the deceased generally—Time does not run until brother gets possession of estate. Pending the trial of a suit for money against J, J died whereupon the Plaintiff R had J's brother F substituted on the records in the place of J and got a decree on 27th July 1906 which did not provide that E was to be personally liable but declared that the decretal amount was to be realised by the sale of the property belonging to J and left in P's possession. There was no decree against the estate of J in the possession of any one else. All J's property was at that time in the possession of the widow of J. E brought a suit to recover that property from J, which was decreed by the trial Court on 15th August 1908. At the High Court on Appeal (having stayed execution in the meantime) reversed this judgment on 2nd August 1909. This decision of the High Court again having been reversed by the Privy Council decreeing E's suit on appeal on 22nd July 1914, P applied for execution of the decree in December 1914. Held that the application was not barred by limitation. In order to make the provision of Art. 182 of the schedule to the Limitation Act applicable, the decree sought to be enforced must have been in such a form as to render it capable in the circumstances of being enforced. Shah Anwar ud din Ahmad v Jauhar Lal, L. P. 32 I. A. 102 (1905), referred to. That the application for execution could not have been executed until E had come into possession of the property of J and by Art 181 of the Limitation Act, the period of limitation for making the applications was three years from the time when the right to apply accrued. MAHARAJA SRI RAMESHWAR SINGH v HOMESWAR SINGH (P C)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

25 C W N 337

Limitation—decree for sale.—Appeal A preliminary decree in a suit on a mortgage declared the liability of each of the properties against which the mortgage was sought to be enforced and also that each would be liable for a proportionate part of the amount found to be due on the mortgage. The amounts and property liable therefore were specified in the decree. Against his decree some only of the defendant appealed and against them only the decree was set aside. More than 5 years after the decree of the first Court though within three years of the appellate decision the decree holders applied for a final decree against the defendant who had not appealed. Held that the application was time barred. GTAM SINGH v ATA HUSAIN

I L R 43 All 320

Appeal against preliminary decree for sale in a mortgage suit.—Application for final decree under O XXXIV r 5 Civil Procedure Code.—Article applicable and starting point of limitation. An application for a final decree for sale under O XXXIV, r 5, Civil Procedure Code, is governed by art 181 of the Limitation Act and the starting point, in cases where there has been an appeal from the preliminary decree is the date of the appellate decree whether the latter confirmed or varied the preliminary decree. Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v Brijas Bahadur Singh, (1901) I L R 23 All. 152 (P C), applied. Jascuran Baid v Pirichand Lal Chowdhury, (1919) I L R 46 Cal 670 (P C), explained. Venunatha Sastri v Sitalakshmi Ammal, (1921) 23 L W 37, distinguished. VENKATYA v SATHIBABU (1921)

I L R 44 Mad. 714

Sch. I, Arts. 181, 182—

See INSURANCE I L R 46 Cal 103

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 48—Decree—Execution—Amendment of the decree.—Date of judgment, the date of the amended decree—Right to apply to make the decree final under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O XXXIV, r 5—Limitation—Starting point—Procedure On the 17th November 1907, a decree on an award was passed. The decree did not embody the terms of the award. Plaintiff applied for execution of the decree. It was opposed by the defendants on the ground that the decree did not specify the relief that was granted and was on that account inexecutable of execution. The Court then directed the plaintiff to obtain an amendment. On January 28 1909 the decree was amended so as to bring it into consonance with the directions of the award and was dated 28th January 1909. Several applications for execution were made the last of which was dated 2nd December 1909. The lower Court held the application in time and allowed execution to proceed. On appeal it was contended (1) that the application was barred so far as it related to two sums of Rs 575 and Rs 6,000 which under the decree were to be paid forthwith that is, 17th November 1907 the date on which the decree was passed and which must be taken as the starting point for limitation. (2) that the application as a whole was barred by limitation, as the application must be treated as an application for a decree final for sale under O XXXIV, r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 and as such it was barred under Art 181 of the Limitation Act, 1908, for the right to apply accrued when default in payment was made and that was found to have been in 1902. Held, (i) that the recovery of the two sums was barred as the decree was to be referred to 17th November 1897, the date of the judgment and not to 28th January 1909, the date of the amended decree. (ii) that the application was not barred as the right to apply under O XXXIV, r 5, never accrued to the plaintiff until the Code of 1908 conferred it upon him, the plaintiff was, therefore entitled to claim that under Art. 181 of the Limitation Act 1908 he would have a period of three years from 1st January 1909, when the new Code of Civil Procedure came into force. Amlook Chand Parroek v Sarat Chander Mukerjee, I L R 35 Cal. 213, distinguished. NARISINGAO KONHAR INAMDAR v BANDO KRISHNA (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

I L R 42 Bom 309

Redemption of mortgage—Decree for redemption.—Application for time to pay the mortgage amount into Court and recover possession.—Limitation.—Dekkahn Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) s 15B On the 17th January 1907, the plaintiff obtained a decree in a redemption suit brought under the provisions of the Dekkahn Agriculturists' Relief Act 1879. The decree remained unexecuted. In 1915, the rights under the decree were assigned by the plaintiff to the respondent, who applied to the Court on the 27th September 1915 to be allowed to pay the mortgage amount into Court and get possession of the property under the decree. The lower Courts held the application was in time and ordered warrant for possession to issue. On appeal to the High Court, HEATON and PRATT JJ., having differed in opinion, referred the following point of law to a third Judge—“Is the application or is it not time barred under Art. 181 of the Schedule to the Limitation Act the application being regarded as one to extend time for the payment of the mortgage debt. Held by SHAN J (agreeing with HEATON, J., but differing from PRATT J.) that treating the application as one to extend time for the payment of mortgage debt it was barred under Art 181 of the Limitation Act. Held, further by SHAN J that even if the application was treated as one not merely for the extension of time for the payment of the mortgage debt but for the recovery of possession of the property as in terms it purported to be, it was an application for the execution of the decree and as such it was time barred under Art. 182 of the Limitation Act. VANUDEY VISHNU v GOTAL PARASHRAM (1919)

I L R 43 Fcm. 629

Sch. I, Arts. 181-183—

See MORTGAGE I L R 28 Cal 613See MORTGAGE DECREE.
I L R 39 Mad 544

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art. 182—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908), ss. 38, 39, 41 AND 50, ETC
 I L R 37 Mad 231
 I L R 39 Bom 256

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R. 36 All 482
 I L R. 37 All 527
 e 49 3 Pat. L J 285

See LIMITATION (41)

I L R. 45 Calc 630

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), SCH
 II, ART 179 I L R. 39 Bom 20

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908 s 20

4 Pat. L J 365

See MORTGAGE DECREE

I L R. 39 Mad. 544

1. — Suit for account—
Court fee paid months after date of judgment—
Starting point of limitation—Step in aid of execution for the purpose of Art 182 of the first schedule of the Limitation Act, the date on which the Court passed its judgment is the 'date of the decree,' and the fact that the Court fee required to be paid in order to validate the decree (which was passed in a suit for account) was not put in till some months later, did not give a different starting point for computing the period of limitation. The payment of the Court fee did not constitute a step in aid of execution within the provisions of the Limitation Act. BRAJAN BEDARY SHANAI & GIRISH CHANDRA SHANAI (1917)
 17 C W. N 959

2. — Execution of decrees of Presidency Small Cause Court—S 48 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) not applicable to such Court—Transfer to City Civil Court for execution of a decree more than 12 years old—Art 182 applicable—S 48 applicable to City Civil Court, no bar. Although a decree may be transferred by the Court which passed it to another Court, for execution the law of limitation applicable for its execution is that applicable to the decrees of the former Court, i.e., of the Court which passed them. A different rule will lead to anomalous consequences. A decree of the Presidency Small Cause Court (Madras) passed in 1896 was transferred for execution to the City Civil Court. S 48, Civil Procedure Code, not being applicable to the Court of Small Causes. Held, that an application for the execution presented to the City Civil Court in 1910 was not barred the article applicable to the cause being Article 182 of the Limitation Act, that the fact that s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code was applicable to the City Civil Court was immaterial. Sambasiva Mudaliar v Ponchanada Pillai 17 Mad L J 441, I L R 37 Mad 24, Tincovture Dassi v Debendra Nath Mookerjee, 5 L J 17 Calc. 491 and Jogemaya Dassi v Thackuram Dassi, I L R 24 Calc 473, followed. Her Highness Ruckmaboy v Lallabhooy Maltichand, 5 Moo I A 234, not applicable. Per CURRIE. A transfer of a decree by the Court which passed it to another Court does not make the decree one passed by the latter Court. Even after transfer the control of the execution is still left in several respects in the hands of the Court which passed the decree, e.g., recognition of assignment, application for execution against legal representative, stay of execution, issuing precepts and certificate of non execution or partial execution, etc. SREE KRISHNA DASS v ALVARAR ANNAL (1913) . . . I L R. 36 Mad 108

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Part of a decree containing unascertained amount—Execution of whole decree three years after ascertainment—No bar—Policy of Limitation Act as to period of limitation for execution of decrees. For the purposes of limitation regarding execution of a decree, the decree must be taken as a whole and ordinarily when a portion of the decree is not executable by reason of the fact that the amount due under that portion is left to be determined at a future time, limitation begins to run as regards execution of the whole decree only from the time of ascertainment of the amount left undetermined, even though it might have been open to the party to have executed the other portions earlier. Hoja Ashfaq Hussain di Lala Court Sahai, 13 C L J 351, I L R 33 All 264, Ratnachalam Ayyar v Venkatarama Ayyar, I L R 29 Mad 46 and Krishnan v Nilakandan, I L R 8 Mad 137, followed. Gopal Chandra Hanna v Govind Dass Kalay, I L R 25 Calc 594. Krishnawar Chastor v Mangammal, I L R 26 Mad 51, Abdul Kari man v Mardin Saibai I L R 22 Bom. 50 and Court Sahai v Ashfaq Hussain, I L R 29 All 623 applied. Subramanya Chettiar v Alagappa Chettiar, I L R 30 Mad 268, and Deval Chandra Sadooklan v Amiria Lall Sadookhan, I L R 26 Calc 888, referred to. C M A No 74 of 1913 (unreported) not followed. A decree in a second appeal, dated 30th July 1908 was as follows—
 'Appellant (defendant) do pay respondent (plain tiff) Rs 64 11 4 for his costs in this second appeal, Rs 78 3 7 for his costs in the memorandum of objections and also his costs in the lower Appellate Court which will be ascertained and taxed by that Court.' The costs in the lower Appellate Court were ascertained by that Court on 1st December 1906. The application for the execution of the whole decree was made on 7th August 1909 i.e., more than three years after the decree in second appeal but within three years after ascertainment by the lower Appellate Court. Held that the execution of the decree was not barred. The policy of the Limitation Act in the case of execution of decrees is to lay down a simple rule and to treat the decree as a whole except when the decree itself directs that different portions of the relief granted are to be rendered by the defendant to the decree holder at different times. Per CURRIE. Under Art 182, there is only a single starting point, where there has been an appeal review or amendment, although it might be open for a decree holder to apply for the execution of a part of the decree before proceedings in appeal review or amendment have terminated. VIDYANATHA AIVAR & SUBRAMANIA PANTER (1913)

I L R. 36 Mad. 104

Restitution of property—Application for execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 144. An application for restitution, under s 144 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 is an application for execution of a decree, and is governed by Art 182 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Kurpadipanda v Nisargan gouda (1917) 41 Bom 625, followed. Kishorilal

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Roy v Mahanta Balindra Das (1917) 3 P. L. J. 357, dissented from Hamidalli v Annadalli
I L. R. 45 Bom 1137

Sch. I Art 182 (2)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s 145
I L. R. 41 Bom. 34

Revision to the High Court—
Order in, not giving any fresh starting point for execution of original decree—Effect of reversal or modification in revision—"Appral" meaning of in Limitation Act—Letters patent appeal from revisions no "appral". An order of the High Court passed in the exercise of its revisional powers is not an order on an 'appeal' within the meaning of Art. 182, sub-cl. (2) so as to create a fresh starting point for the calculation of limitation. Per Curiam Unlike the word "appeal" in ss 15 and 39 of the Letters Patent, the word 'appeal' in the Limitation Act is used in the narrower sense so as to exclude a revision, this is clear from the three classifications in the Limitation Act, viz., "suits appeals and applications, which last include applications for revision. If the High Court interferes on revision, either there is a decree passed by the High Court which may be executed under the first clause of Art. 182 or the case is sent down with a direction to the lower Court to amend its decree. The latter appears to be the regular course and in such event there is no room to employ any sub-clause other than sub-cl. (1) or the new sub-cl. (4). Where a revision petition is simply dismissed, no fresh starting point of limitation arises. When the order appealed against cannot give any fresh starting point (viz., the order in the revision petition) an order in a Letters Patent appeal therefrom, cannot give one, as if it were an appeal within the meaning of Art. 182. Chappan v Moudia Kuti, I L. R. 22 Mad. 63, Secretary of State for India in Council v Pruthi India Steam Navigation Company, 15 C. W. N. 813, and Hariak Chandra Acharya v Naich Bakhadar of Marhadiabad, 15 C. W. N. 879 distinguished. Judgment of WALLIS, J. confirmed. SUBRAMANIAM PILLAI v. SETHNAI AMMAL (1913)

I L. R. 38 Mad. 135

Mortgage suit decreed against some defendants and dismissed against others who were allowed costs against plaintiffs—
Appeal by the defendants against whom suit decreed effect of, an application by the other defendants for execution of decree for costs against plaintiff. The appellant was the plaintiff in a mortgage suit and obtained a decree except against two of the defendants whose property was exempted from liability and whose costs the plaintiff was directed to pay. The defendants against whom the suit was decreed appealed. The two other defendants applied for execution of their decree, for costs against the appellant. The lower Court held that limitation ran from the date of the decision of the appeal preferred by the defendants against whom the suit had been decreed. Held, that in dealing with the question of limitation in these cases, the Court should see whether the original decree was really one decree or an incorporation of several decrees and whether the appeal against it imperilled the whole decree or not, for the execution of which the application is made. That the order dismissing the plaintiff's suit with costs as against two of the defendants and the order decreeing it with costs as against the other defendants were not one and the same decree, because they were embodied in one formal order. There was no appeal against the decree by which the plaintiff was directed to pay costs to two of the defendants and the fact that there was an appeal against an entirely different decree which was recorded in the same document did not affect the question of limitation when no order that could have been passed in that appeal could possibly have affected the decree sought to be executed. LAW v BHARANATHI PROSHAD CHOWDHURY (1914) . 19 C. W. N. 237

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Suit for ejectment—

Decree against some defendants on consent and against others on contest—Appeal by contesting defendants—Dismissal of appeal—Execution of decree, application for, within three years of dismissal of appeal but more than three years after the first Court's decree, if barred as against consenting defendants. A suit for ejectment brought against two sets of defendants A and B was decreed on 17th September 1903 against set A upon consent and against set B upon contest, the result being embodied in one decree which did not define the respective shares of the two sets of defendants. An appeal preferred by set B alone in which they did not make set A parties was not disposed of until 5th May 1908. On 7th May 1910 application was made for execution of the decree against both sets of defendants. Held, that the application was not time-barred as against set A, even though set A did not and could not appeal against the decree of 17th September 1903, inasmuch as the appeal of set B was of necessity against the entire decree—there being a chance or risk of the Appellate Court modifying the decree even as against set A. That on appeal by the contesting defendants the whole matter was reopened and the decree holders were entitled to the benefit of Art. 180 col. 3, cl. (2) of Sch. I of the Limitation Act. Balak Nath v Munas Das, I L. P. 36 AR 350 s. c. 18 C. W. N. 740, and Ashraf Hussain v Gouri Sahai, L. R. 38 I. A. 37 s. c. 15 C. W. N. 370 and Lau v Perarathnam Proshad 19 C. W. N. 237, referred to. Quare Whether time runs against the decree holder from the date of the final decree in the appeal irrespective of the question whether the appeal did or did not imperil the decree whereof execution was ultimately sought. LOKYNATH SINGH v GURU SINGH (1915) . 20 C. W. N. 178

Decree modified by

High Court in revision if gives new start to limitation. A decree was passed on consent by the High Court directing that the plaintiffs do pay to the defendant the price to be ascertained by the first Court of a certain property within one month from the date of the valuation being made and that upon such payment the defendant do convey the property to the plaintiff. The first Court made the valuation and embodied it in a supplementary decree. An appeal from this decree was rejected by the High Court but in revision the said Court on 14th June 1909 held that no supplementary decree should have been passed and that the decree of the High Court became capable of execution one month after the making of the valuation viz., on 12th January 1905. The defendant applied for execution of the decree on 23rd August

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.*Sch I, Art 182 (2)—contd.

1911 Hell, that under cl. (2) of Art. 182 of the Limitation Act, limitation ran from the order in revision passed by the High Court on 14th June 1909, which modified the decree of the first Court and the application was within time. GURUJADA HALDAR v TARIT BHUSAN RAY CHOUDHRY (1915) 22 C W N 158

"A final decree or order"—abatement of appeal—date from which limitation runs—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O XXII rr 4 (3) and 11 Art 182 (2) of the Limitation Act, 1908 which provides that limitation shall run from the date of the final decree or order of the appellate court does not apply where the appeal has abated by operation of law and not on account of any final decree or order of the appellate court, e.g., where the appeal abates by reason of non substitution of any of the parties but there is no order of the appellate court declaring the appeal to have abated.—TIKAIT KRISHNA PRASAD SINGH v RAJA WAJAH NARAIN SINGH . . . 5 Pat L J 731

Appeal filed in wrong Court—Order of Court returning appeal for presentation to proper Court—Appellate Court, meaning of—Time for executing decree. Where a Court decides that an appeal has been wrongly presented to it and orders a return of it for presentation to the proper Court, such an order is neither 'a final order' of the Appellate Court, nor 'a withdrawal of the appeal' within art. 182 (2) of the Limitation Act. 'Appellate Court' in the article means an Appellate Court having jurisdiction to hear the appeal. Per OLDFIELD J. (YESHAJIAT ATYAR J. doubting).—A mortgagor in whose favour a decree for redemption has been passed can execute the decree by sale of the mortgaged properties. Gowinda Taragan v Ieran (1913) 1 L R 35 Mad 32 followed. ABDUL KADER v SAMIPANDIA TEVAR (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad. 835

Execution of decree—Limitation—Appeal—Appeal filed though no appeal lay—Terminals a quo—Civil Procedure Code, 1908 s 43 Where an appeal has been filed, the twelve years period of limitation referred to in s 43 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908, begins to run from the date of the decree in appeal not withstanding that the decree in appeal may be merely a decree dismissing the appeal on the ground that no appeal lies. Ankush Kumar v Chander Mohan, 1 L R, 18 Cal 250, and Faizul Rahman v Shah Muhammad Khan, 1 L R 39 All, 335 referred to RUP NARAIN v SHRO PRAKASH 1 L R 43 All 405

(Sub-cl. 2 and 3)—Application for rehearing of and dismissal for default dismissal of appeal—where there has been appeal—"Review." The words "where there has been an appeal" in cl. (2) of art. 182 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act 1908, mean where there has been an appeal against a decree in the suit, and do not include an appeal against an order made on an application to set aside that decree. An order dismissing an application for rehearing a suit who has been dismissed for default is not a "review of judgment" within the meaning of cl. (3) of art. 182. KARUPAN ZAMUDAN v RAI BHURAJ v NARAYAN LAL 3 Pat L J 119

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Application for ascertaining of means profile—Application for execution Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), s 211, 212 and 214 An application for ascertainment of means profits is an application for execution of a decree and is governed by Art 182 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Uttamram v Kshordas (1899) 24 Bom 149 and Ramana v Babu (1912) 37 Mad 186, approved. Puran Chand v Poy Padma Kishan (1891) 19 Cal 132, disapproved. GANGADHAR v BALKRISHNA SORROBA 1 L R 45 Bom. 819

Sch I, Art 182 cl. (5)—

Sec 19 1 L R 38 Bom 47

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 37, 38 30, 150

1 L R 42 Mad. 821

See EXECUTION

1 L R 40 Mad. 1069

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1883) s 29 E

1 L R 43 Bom. 44

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Cal 22

1. Execution of decree—Step in aid of execution—Substituted service Held, that an application by a decree holder seeking to execute his decree for substituted service on the judgment debtor is an application to take some step in aid of execution within the meaning of art. 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Pram Singh v Tata Singh, 1 L R 29 All 301, referred to. AMINA BIBI v BANARSI PRASAD (1914) 1 L R 38 All 439

2. Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution—Application by decree holder to be put into possession of property purchased by him in execution of his decree. Held, that an application by a decree holder to be put in possession of property which he has purchased in execution of his decree is an application to take a step in aid of execution of the decree within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Moti Lal v Mokund Singh 1 L R 19 All 477, and Bhagwati v Banwari Lal, 1 L R 31 All 82, referred to. BAHU PAM v PIRAI LAL (1919) 1 L R 41 All 479

3. Application by decree holder purchaser for delivery of possession of a step in aid of execution Per NEWBOLT, J (GURUJADA J. contra).—An application by a decree holder to be put in possession of property purchased by him at a sale in execution of his decree is an application to the Court to take a step in aid of execution within the meaning of cl. 5 of art 182 of the First Schedule of the Limitation Act. Per GURUJADA J. All steps in execution of a decree which can save limitation on must be taken by the decree-holder as decree-holder and not as auction purchaser. ANVADA PRASADRA SRY v SOMNATH MISHRA (1919) 23 C W N 920

4. Application for execution of decree by transferee—Injunction against transferee—Subsequent application by persons entitled to execute decree—Limitation—For whether saved by previous application An application for execution of a decree made by a transferee of the decree after he has been restrained by injunction

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

tion from "executing it or otherwise realising the decree-debt" will operate to save the bar of limitation in respect of a later application for execution made by persons held to be legally entitled to execute the decree. HARI KRISHNA MURTI v SURYANARAYANMURTI (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 424

5 ————— Decree—Execution—Step in aid of execution—Application for certificate under Succession Certificate Act (VI of 1889). An application by the representative of a judgment creditor to obtain a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) is not a step in aid of execution within the meaning of the Limitation Act, 1908. Sch I Art 182 cl (5) MURGEPPA MUDIWALLAPPA v BASAWANTRAO (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 539

6 ————— Application for execution—Limitation—Step in aid of execution—Application by decree holder certifying portion of payment with a prayer to strike off execution on satisfaction. An application by the decree holder certifying payment of a portion of the decretal amount out of Court is a step in aid of execution of the decree within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the Limitation Act provided the payment asserted has actually been made. The fact that there is in the application a prayer that the execution case might be struck off after satisfaction does not take it out of the operation of the above rule. Where an application for execution filed within time which had been returned for amendment of certain formal defects was re-filed after the period of limitation had expired and after the time allowed by the Court for the purpose, with an application explaining the delay and the petition was accepted. Held that the Court had in fact in exercise of its discretion enlarged the time under a 148 Civil Procedure Code, though there was no express order to that effect. GORAL PRSHAD BHAGAT v RAJENDRA LAL PANDA (1915)

20 C W N 615

7. ————— Step in aid of execution, what is—Decree holder's application for summoning witnesses in opposition to objections taken by the judgment debtor, if such a step. After delivery of possession of certain property to the decree holder, the judgment debtor put in objections to the said delivery of possession and the Court found it necessary to determine the standard of measurement, and, for that purpose, to take evidence in the matter. The decree holder, on 11th February 1911 applied for summonses upon his witnesses and witnesses were examined. The Court after taking evidence on both sides directed fresh delivery of possession and ordered the decree holder to deposit costs which not having been paid, the execution case was dismissed on the 29th April 1911 for default. The decree-holder next put in the present application for execution on the 17th January 1914. Held, that as the determination of the standard of measurement became necessary by reason of the judgment debtor's objection, the decree holder's appeal on to the Court for summoning witnesses was an act in furtherance of the application for execution which was still pending and was therefore a step in aid of execution. And the present application for execution having been made within three years of the date on which such a step was taken, was not barred. HADESA NATH DE ROY v LAXMI KANTA DE (1917)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

21 C. W. N. 863

8 ————— Application for execution—Omission to file encumbrance certificate and draft sale proclamation—Petition for amendment—No representation—Application whether, in accordance with law. An application for execution presented in December 1912 was ordered to be returned for amendment the order requiring the applicant to file (a) encumbrance certificates and (b) draft proclamation of sale. It was never taken back by the applicant or amended. A fresh application was presented in January 1915. On the objection that the application of December, 1912 was not in accordance with law and that the application of January 1915 was therefore barred by limitation. Held that the application of December 1912 having complied with every statutory requirement was one in accordance with law within Art 182 (5) of the Limitation Act and that the application of January, 1915 was therefore in time, the failure to represent the earlier application being of no consequence, as neither the failure to file an encumbrance certificate as required by r 148 of the Rules of Practice nor the failure to file a draft proclamation of sale (which is not required by O XXI, r 66, Civil Procedure Code to be annexed to the application) were with defects as would render an application otherwise legal, illegal. NATESA v GANAPATHA (1916)

I L R. 40 Mad. 949

9 ————— Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution. An application to the Court executing a decree asking that certain objections to the execution of the decree be rejected is a step in aid of execution within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. TANIZ UN NISSA BINI v NAJJU KHAN (1918)

I L R 40 All. 683

10 ————— Execution of decree—Limitation—Application accompanied by a copy of the decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908), O XXI r 11. An application for execution of a decree which complies with the requirements of cl (2) of r 11 O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be said to be an application which is not 'in accordance with law' within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 only because it is not accompanied by a copy of the decree which may be required by the Court under cl. (3) of the rule. RAGHUNANDAN LAL v RADAN SINGH (1918)

I L R 40 All. 209

11 ————— Decree for partition—Decree unnecessarily made absolute—Application to execute the decree if made within three years of the final decree is in order. On 10th January 1910, a decree for partition was made. In 1912 the plaintiff applied to the Court for a final decree although such application was quite unnecessary. The Court, however, made the decree final on 10th February 1913. The first application to execute the decree was made on 6th October 1913. On 6th August 1916, a second application was made, but it was objected to on the ground that the first application being made more than three years after the date of the original decree was barred by time, inasmuch as the application for final decree and the order made on that application were not in accordance with law. Held, overruling the contention, that the first application was within time, as the final decree made by the Court in 1913 was binding on the parties until it was set aside. Mungul Pershad Dicit v. Gajra Kait Lahiri Chowdhry (1881) L R 8 I A 123 and Desappa v. Dundappa (1919) 41 Bom 227, referred to. DATARHAI v. BAI UJAN (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

I L R 45 Bom 952

12. — Application for execution of decree to Court which passed the decree—Application made after transfer of decree to another Court for execution—'Proper Court' meaning of—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1889) ss 203 and 224—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), ss 33, 39 and 41 In this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that an application for execution of a decree not having been made to the 'proper Court' within the meaning of art 182 of sch I of the Limitation Act, 1908, was insufficient to prevent limitation from running and that the execution of the decree was consequently barred. Maharajah of Bobbili v. Narasarao Pedd Bahara Samadulu, I L R 37 Mad 231, upheld. MAHARAJAH OF BOBILU v. NARASARAJO PEDD BAHARA (1916) I L R 39 Mad 640

13. — Held that an application made to the Court passing a decree to transfer it for execution to another Court is an application to take a step in aid of execution within the meaning of Art 182 of Sch I of the Limitation Act 1908. TODAR MAL v. PHOLA KUNWAR I L R 35 All 389

14. — Execution of decree—Limitation—Application in accordance with law—Application claiming interest in excess of that provided for by the decree. Held that a mere mistake in calculating interest or even deliberately calculating more interest than is due does not make an application for execution of a decree one not in accordance with law' within the meaning of art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. If more interest than is due is charged, it may be considered as mere surplusage and be struck out. JAMIL UL-NISSA BIBI v. MATHURA PRASAD

I L R 43 All 550

15. — Exec (i) on of decree—Application to take a step in aid of execution—Application to execute decree against surety available in respect of a subsequent application to execute against judgment-debtor An application asking the proper court to execute the entire decree by arrest of the person of a surety who has made himself liable for the satisfaction of the decree amounts to asking the execution court, to take a step in aid of the execution of the decree as against the principal whose liability the surety has taken upon himself within the meaning of clause (5) of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. MUHAMMAD HAFIZ v. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM I L R 43 All 152

Sch I, Art 182, cls (5) and (6)—Step-in-aid of execution—Application to transfer the

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

decree to the Court of a Native State for execution. An application made to a British Indian Court to transfer its decrees for execution to the Court of a Native State between whom and the British Government there exists an agreement to execute each other's decrees is a step in aid of execution within the meaning of Art 182 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. JANARDAN GOVIND v. NARAYAN KRISHNAJI (1918)

I L R 42 Bom. 420

Sch I, Art 182 (6)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

3 Pat L J 285

Interpretation principle of—Execution application—Art 182, cl (6)—Notice, issue of whether, gives a fresh starting point Art 182 of the Limitation Act should receive a fair and liberal but not too technical a construction, so as to enable the decree-holder to obtain the fruits of his decree. The issue of notice referred to in cl (6) of Art 182 of the Act need not be in respect of an application made in accordance with law. The words in accordance with law' found in cl (5) should not be introduced into cl (6) when the Legislature has not thought fit to do so. Jamna Dui v. Bishnooth Singh, 6 All L J 944 and Deo Narain Singh v. Sri Bhogal Das, 10 I C 411, followed. A decision especially on procedure cannot be treated as res judicata when that procedure itself is changed by the statute law. VARADARAJA MUDALI v. MURUGAN PILLAY (1910) I L R 39 Mad 923

Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution An application for execution of a decree was made on the 20th January 1911. The judgment-debtor put in an objection and the Court ordered the parties to adduce evidence in support of the respective cases. In the course of these objection proceedings the decree holder on the 25th November 1911 filed a list of witnesses and intimated to the Court that he was ready to proceed with his case. Held, that this should be taken to be an application to the Court to take some step in aid of execution and a subsequent application for execution of the decree filed on the 2nd August 1914 was within time. BRONJESARA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v. DIL MAHMUD SARKAR (1918)

22 C W N 1027

Execution opposed by judgment-debtor alleging payment and asking for certification thereof—Plea successful in first Court, but reversed on appeal—Second appeal by judgment-debtor—Limitation of super added during pendency of second appeal When a decree-holder is obstructed by violence or fraud and litigation is necessary to get rid of such obstruction, the execution is suspended during such litigation. But the mere pendency of an appeal from a decision which has removed all obstacles from the decree-holder's way cannot give him a right to defer execution until the disposal of such appeal. Ashrafuddin Ahmed v. Depa Bahari Mullick I L R 20 Cal 497, 413, and Mazhab Alam Dasi v. Lambert I L R 37 Cal 796 & 15 C W N 337, 12 C L J 328 relied on. HARTECK CHANDRA MONDAL v. NIRMAL MONDAL (1916)

20 C W N 695

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdExecution of decree—

Advice on decree holder issued by executing Court forwarded to another for service—Date from which limitation to commence—Filing of affidavit by debtor if step in aid of execution—Limitation if runs from date of application or date of disposal thereof Where the notice for the execution of a decree is forwarded by the Court to another Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the judgment debtor resides the period of limitation under cl 6 of Art 182 of the Limitation Act begins to run from the date when the notice actually left the Court of execution and the fact that in the Court of service it was made over to the peon on a later date cannot extend the period of limitation. Rajan Chand Oswal v Deb Nath Barua, 10 C W N 303 (1906), distinguished. The date on which an application for execution of a decree is disposed of is not the date from which the period of limitation runs. It commences on the date on which the application was actually made. The mere filing by the decree holder's identifier of an affidavit of service unaccompanied by any application oral or written does not give a fresh start to limitation. Pran Krishna Das v Pratap Chandra Datta, 21 C W N 423 (1917), distinguished. ANNAPURNA THAKURANI, Sateow KRISHNA PRASAD MOTRA v DHIRENDRA NATH CHAKRAVARTY

24 C W. N. 55

Execution of decree—

Step in-aid of execution—Order to issue notice—Actual issue of notice—Time runs from the actual issue Cl 6 of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, makes the time run, not from the date when the Court passes an order to issue the notice but, from the date on which the notice is actually issued. MILKANTH LAXMAN v RAJOU BHA MAHARU (1918)

I L R. 42 Bom 553

Execution of decree—'Date of issue of notice'—Minority—Super-session of a minority after limitation has commenced to run Held, on a construction of art. 182 (6) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, that the expression "the date of issue of notice" must be taken as the date on which the order of the Court directing that notice be issued to the judgment-debtor is passed. Held, also, that when the decree-holders are all of full age at the time of a passing of the decree execution of which is sought, and limitation has already commenced to run, the subsequent intervention of a minority does not entitle the decree holders to the benefit of s 7 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Bhagot Eihars Lal v Rama Nath, I L R 27 All 704, referred to Zamir Hasan v Sundar, I L R 22 All 299, distinguished. KALKA BAKSH SINGH v RAM CHARAN (1918). I L R 40 All. 630

Sch. I, Art. 182 Sub-cl 7—

Secs 20 . . . 4 Pat. L. J 365

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O

XXI, p 2 . I L R 38 All 204

Execution of decree—

Decree payable by instalments—Whole decree executable on failure to pay any one instalment—Limitation When a decree payable by instalments provides that the decree-holder shall have "discretion" or "power" on default being made in payment of any one instalment to realize the full amount of the decree with interest without waiting for any future instalment to become due. Held, that this does not mean that the decree-holder is bound to execute the decree for the whole amount remaining due when default is made, but he may still continue to execute the decree by instalments as they become due. Goya Das v Jhumsian Lal, I L R 37 All 460, and Chatar Singh v Amir Singh, I L R 33 All 204, distinguished. Shankar Prasad v Jaiya Prasad, I L R 16 All 371, referred to. LACHMI NARAIN v SANJU PRASAD (1916). I L R 39 All 230

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 182, Expl I.—Execution of decree—Limitation—Execution of decrees of first Court and of decree of Appellate Court for costs carried out separately In execution of a decree against S, D attached a decree held by S against himself and others for possession of certain property and costs. This decree had been the subject of an appeal by D and one other of the judgment debtors, which had resulted in a decree for costs against the two appellants only. The last application for execution of this decree was made in 1907. As to the lower Court's decree D made various applications for execution and succeeded in realizing all that was due under it. S became insolvent, and the receiver sold to one M what ever rights S may have had under either decree, but on application for execution made by the purchaser, it was held that there was nothing more to realize under the original decree and that execution of the appellate decree was barred by limitation. CHULAM MURUGUDIN KHAH v DAMBAR SINGH (1918). I L R 40 All 206

Sch I Art 182(5)—Expl II.—'Proper Court,' interpretation of—Execution proceedings before Sangli Courts are proceedings before 'proper Courts'—Intermediate application barred by limitation—Subsequent application if made in time and not objected to are not barred On the 10th September 1907, a decree was passed by the Sangli Court. An application was made to that Court to execute the decree, but it proved fruitless. On the 11th November 1907, a second Darbhast was made to that Court, but it was transferred to the Shabapur Court on the 14th idem. It resulted in recovery of Rs 11412 odd on the 24th March 1915. The third Darbhast was presented to the Sangli Court on the 9th August 1916, but it was disposed of on the 10th November of the same year. The next Darbhast was made to the Belgaum Court, but it was disposed of on the 16th May 1917. The present Darbhast, which was filed in the same Court on the 27th August 1917, was objected to as having been barred by limitation on two grounds (1) the proceedings from November 1907 to November 1915 not being before "proper Courts" did not save limitation; (2) the third Darbhast which was filed more than three years after the date of the second Darbhast having been barred by limitation, the subsequent Darbhasts also were similarly barred. Held (overruling the objections), that the proceedings before the Sangli Court operated to save limitation, because those Courts were "proper Courts" within the meaning of Art 182 cl 5 Expl. II of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Held, further, that assuming that the third Darbhast was barred by limitation, yet inasmuch as proceedings were taken thereunder until the disposal of the Darbhast they provided a new starting point for limitation and the subsequent Darkhasts which were in time and not objected to were not affected by the bar of limitation Asubhas Vazrubhas v Dayabhas Amulakh (1916) 40 Bom 594, distinguished. Desaiappa v Dandappa (1919) 41 Bom 227, followed. PARBETLINGA APPA v GURUNTH DALAJI (1920) . . . I L R 45 Bom 453

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Arts 182, 183—

See s 6 I L R 41 Bom 625

See REVIVOR . I L R 43 Calc 903

Sch I Art 183—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O 45, r. 15 I Fa' L J 385

See LIMITATION I L R 47 Calc 746
I L R 42 Calc 776

Revivor of decree of Original Side of the High Court—Revivor of decree on notice to one only of two judgment debtors, not operating as revival against the other. A revivor of a decree of the Original Side of the High Court made on an application for execution against one only of two judgment-debtors in the case does not keep the decree alive so as to enable the decree-holder to execute it against the other judgment debtor after twelve years from the date of the decree. McLAREN v VEERIAN NAIDU (1915) I L R 38 Mad 1102

Application to enforce Privy Council order—Revivor, meaning of. On 22nd January, 1915 an application for execution of an Order of Her late Majesty in Council, dated the 28th November 1899 was made to a Subordinate Judge to whom the execution proceedings were transferred. Held that the application was governed by Art 183 of the 1st Schedule of the Limitation Act, 1908 according to which an application to enforce an Order of the Sovereign in Council must be made within 12 years from the date on which a present right to enforce the order accrued to some person capable of releasing the right providing, inter alia, that where the Order has been revived, 12 years shall be computed from the date of such revivor. Where on an application for execution notice is issued under s 216 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1877 or s 243 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882 and the Court has decided that the decree is still capable of execution and makes an order for execution there has been a revivor within the meaning of the article. Where an Order in Council is transmitted to a subordinate Court for execution without any notice being given to the judgment debtors it would not be a revivor of the Order. TRIBERAM DEO NARAYAN SINOH v BADRI MISSEY (1916) 20 C W N 1051

Decree of Original—Side of High Court against two persons jointly—Revivor of decree on notice to one only under s 216 of Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1877), whether a revivor against the other also. On the Original Side of the High Court an order of revivor under s 243, Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) of a decree against two persons jointly when made on an application for execution against only one of them does not keep the decree alive as against the other so as to enable the decree-holder to execute it against that other judgment-debtor, more than twelve years from the date of the decree. Art 183 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which is applicable to execution of decrees passed on the Original Side of the High Court differs in this respect from Art 182. KRISHNAIAH v GAJENDRA NAIDU (1917) . . . I L R 40 Mad 1127

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

LIMITATION AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1909)

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV of 1884), s 168

I L R 38 Mad 456

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

I L R 38 Mad 6

LIMITED COMPANY

See PCTNI LESSOR

I L R 42 Calc 1029

— assignment of lease to—

See LESSOR OR LEASEE

I L R 48 Calc 176

LIMITED GROUND

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 406

LINGAYET PANCH-KALAS MARRIAGE

See VATANDAR JOSHI

I L R. 40 Bom 112

LIQUIDATED DAMAGES

See INTEREST. I L R 42 Calc 652

LIQUIDATION

See COMPANIES ACT (VI of 1882), ss. 58, 147 I L R 40 Bom 134

See COMPANY

I L R 42 Bom 159, 264

LIQUIDATOR

— appointment of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913), ss 207 (u), 208 I L R 39 All 412

— charges created by—

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 215

— in possession—

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 810

— Release of—

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 620

Registered company—Property of the company, vesting of—Official Assignee—Distribution of proceeds in Court when governed by Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)—Release—Companies Act (VII of 1913) ss 2 (3), 3 (3), 171, 215 232 The Liquidator of a registered company differs in this respect from the Official Assignee in that the property of the company does not vest in him. The distribution of the proceeds which had come into Court before an application was made (to the High Court) to pass an order in favour of the liquidator, must be governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. ANBITA LAL KUNDU v ASHUTL CHANDRA DAS (1916) I L R 43 Calc. 586

LIS PENDENS

See ASSIGNEE OF A MONEY DECREE.

I L R. 38 Mad 36

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XVI, R 63

I L R. 38 Mad 535

See COMPANY I L R. 42 Bom 215

See RES JUDICATA.

I L R. 36 Bom 169

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT.

14 C W N 677

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, s 5.

----- Misdescription of Property-----

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 31

26 C W N 36

Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1852), ss 213, 311-313. Non-service of notice, of an irregularity—Sale of 1 tni mahal for arrears of rent—Purchase of tni mahal by executor of deceased d r potahar's estate in his personal capacity—Application under s 311 for setting aside sale by executor as such and under s 313 by purchaser in personal capacity. D, the zamindar of a purni mahal, sold his interest in the property and then brought a suit against C, the putnadar for the arrears of the purni rent that had accrued prior to the sale and obtained a decree. Shortly afterwards D died after having assigned all his property including this decree to certain trustees for the payment of his debts. The purni was then put to sale under Reg VIII of 1619 for non payment of rent and F who was the executor to the estate of his deceased father who was dar putnadar under C deposited the arrears for saving the dar putnadar interest from the effect of the sale and obtained possession as mortgagor. The putnadars interest in the purni was then sold in execution of a money decree and purchased by S. The trustees appointed by D took out execution and the purni was fixed for sale. F instituted a regular suit for a declaration that the decree under execution was not a rent decree and for a perpetual injunction upon the decree-holders not to execute the same against the purni mahal. The suit was decreed by the first Court but disallowed by the High Court on the 8th April 1908. F applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council which was granted on the 30th June 1908. The trustees applied for the sale of the purni mahal and they impeached C alone as judgment-debtor. The sale took place on the 6th July 1908 and the property was purchased by F in his personal capacity. For setting aside the sale an application under s 311, Civil Procedure Code, was made by S as also by F as executor to the estate of his deceased father. F also made an application in his personal capacity under s 313, Civil Procedure Code. The District Judge allowed these applications and set aside the sale. The judgment of the Privy Council was subsequently delivered on the 4th March 1914 and it was held that the suit instituted by F should have been decreed. Held that the facts were sufficient to attract the application of the doctrine of lis pendens and the act of the decree holders in bringing about the sale could not prejudice F and make the judgment of the Privy Council nugatory.

LIS PENDENS—contd.

Shidol v Shambhu, I L R. 29 Bom 435, distinguished. That although C, the former putnadar, had no subsisting interest in the property, the decree holders having chosen to treat him alone as the judgment debtor were bound to serve him with notice of the sale, though they were not bound to issue notice on S the purchaser of the purni interest, whose suit failed, whom they were not willing to treat as the legal representative of C and against whom they did not want to execute the decree. That non-service of notice under s 218, Civil Procedure Code, was not a mere irregularity and violated the sale. Jagannath Das v Sunder Das, 15 C W N 1038, followed. That the auction purchase of the purni was made by F in his personal capacity and he was not debarred from applying under s 313, Civil Procedure Code, for setting aside the sale. MOHANAS BHADUR SINGH v SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH 1914) 19 C W N 152

Mortgage suit, settlement of land by mortgagor with tenants pending suit and before suit—Tenants if acquire rights in title—Mortgagor's power to grant leases binding on mortgagor. Where, pending a mortgage suit, the mortgagor settled a number of persons on different portions of the land and the latter got their names entered in the record of rights as tenants in occupation. Held, in a suit by the plaintiff in the mortgage suit, who had purchased the mortgaged property in execution of his own decree to recover possession from the tenants, that the plaintiff should recover. The principle of Brund Lal Patraiah v Anil Prameswar, I F R. 20 Cal. 703, should not be extended so as to affect the application of the doctrine of lis pendens. But tenants who were settled on the land by the mortgagor before the mortgage suit but after the mortgage, could keep their lands against the plaintiff upon proof (the burden whereof would be upon them) that the leases in their favour were granted on the usual terms in the ordinary course of management. The mortgagor has not anything like a general authority to deal with or affect the mortgaged property during his possession thereof. The true position is that he may make a lease conformable to usage in the ordinary course of management. MADAN MOHAN SINGH v RAJ KISHORI KUMARI (1912)

21 C. W. N. 88

Act (IV of 1852) s 52—No contest between defendant and alienation by one defendant to a stranger pending suit, whether affected by lis pendens. The rule of lis pendens enunciated in s. 52 of the Transfer of Property Act does not differ from the English rule and it protects parties to litigation against alienations by their opponents pending suit and the prohibition contained in the section is like res judicata inapplicable between parties to the suit who are ranged on the same side and between whom there is no issue for adjudication. 'Any other party' in s. 52 means any other party between whom and the party alienating there is an issue for decision which might be prejudiced by the alienation. Pillay v Salane, (1857) De C & J 566, and Fayaz Hussain Khan v Prag Narain, I L R. 29 All 339, 345, applied. In a previous suit by A to set aside a sale made by him to B as void and invalid and consequently

LIS PENDENS—concl'd

to set aside a mortgage made by B to C also as invalid, the plea of B and C that both the sale and mortgage were good was upheld. Pending the suit D bought B's rights in a Court auction. In a subsequent suit by C to enforce the mortgage Held, that D's purchase was not affected by lis pendens as there was no contest between B and C in the previous suit as to the validity of the mortgage and that D was entitled to plead that the mortgage was invalid as having no consideration. KRISHNAYA v MALLYA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad 458

Suit to set aside gift of immovable property—Amendment of plaint—Change of description of property—Amendment not necessarily relating back to date of suit—Mahomedan law—Gift—Circumstances in which a gift becomes irrevocable In 1908, a Mahomedian lady executed a deed of gift transferring seven items of house property to her daughter in law S. In February, 1912, the donor instituted a suit for revocation of the gift, and summons was served upon the defendant in March, 1912. In the plaint it was alleged that the gift had in fact been cancelled as regards items 1, 6 and 7 of the property comprised in the deed of gift as the result of a decree in litigation between an heir of the donor's husband and the donee, and the plaintiff sued for cancellation of the gift in respect of the remaining items, including Nos 2 and 5. On the 16th of May, 1912 item No 6 (a house) was sold by the donee to T for Rs 1,000. On the 21st of May, 1912, the plaintiff asked for and obtained leave to amend her plaint by substituting item 6 for item 5. Subsequently to this the defendant added a plea to her written statement to the effect that item No 6 had been sold by her to T on the 18th of May, 1912. Nevertheless no steps were taken by the plaintiff to bring T on to the record as a defendant. In this suit a decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff. In 1915, T, the vendee of item No. 6, sued for possession of the property sold to her, impleading as defendants the original donor and W, her niece, to whom the house had been transferred by a deed of gift in April, 1914. Held, the plaintiff was entitled to succeed. The claim was not barred by the doctrine of lis pendens, inasmuch as an amendment of a plaint such as that obtained by the donor in her suit for revocation of the gift made by her, would not relate back to the date of the filing of the suit. Moreover, according to the Mahomedan law, the gift in favour of S became irrevocable on the execution of the sale by the donee in favour of T. WALI BANDI TIBI v TAREYA BIBI (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All 634

Alienation made a party to the litigation—Compromise between original parties behind the back of the alienor, whether binding on the alienor An alienor pendente lite who has been added as a party to the litigation is entitled to object to a decree being passed in terms of a compromise arrived at between his alienor and the opposite party. VEERABHAGAVAT REDDI v SUBBA REDDI (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 37

LIST OF MEMBERS

See COMPANY I. L. R. 45 Calc. 492

LITIGATION

— protection of—

See GRANT I. L. R. 44 Calc. 585

LOANSee CONTRACT ACT, s 74
I. L. R. 36 Bom 184See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908), ART. 59, 60
I. L. R. 39 Mad 1081LOCAL BOARDS ACT (V OF 1894)

— ss. 54, 144 to 147—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (V OF 1881), ss. 5 AND 6.

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 818

LOCAL BOOKING FORMSee RAILWAY COMPANY
I. L. R. 47 Calc 6LOCAL CUSTOMSSee RAILWAY RECEIPT
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 684LOCAL FUND CODE

— I 549—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (V OF 1881) ss. 5 AND 6.

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 818

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

— delegation of power to—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss. 183 AND 209

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 602

— order of, authorising complaint—

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I. L. R. 37 Calc 467

— powers of—

See BYE LAWS I. L. R. 47 Calc 547

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I. L. R. 37 Calc 467

— ratification by—

See SECRETARY OF STATE.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 45

— Rules of—

See MUNICIPALITY
I. L. R. 47 Calc 426See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss. 183 AND 209

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 802

LOCAL INQUIRY

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See LOCAL INSPECTION

LOCAL INQUIRY—contd

—order based on—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
I L. R. 46 Cal. 1036LOCAL INSPECTION AND INVESTIGATION

See PRACTICE

I. L. R. 25 Bom. 317

—by Judge—

See RIGHT OF SUIT
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 501

Power of Magistrate to make such inspection during a trial to understand the evidence and to determine the credibility of witnesses—Importing into judgment facts of record on such inspection—Disqualification of Magistrate—Illegality of conviction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895), ss 145 202 293 294 336, Explanation. A Magistrate may inspect the place of the occurrence of an offence in cases where he cannot follow or understand the evidence without seeing the features of the land and he does not, merely by doing so disqualify himself from trying the case. But every possible precaution should be taken that the inspection is only a view of the local features, and an immediate report of what he has seen should be placed on the record and laid open to the scrutiny of the parties. The Magistrate can use the testimony of his own senses to test the veracity of the witnesses before him as regards the features of the locality but he cannot import into the case other matters of facts which he has himself observed. Where the Magistrate did not merely view the place of occurrence for the purpose of following or understanding the evidence and testing it in respect of the features of the locality but imported into his judgment matters of opinion and inference based on circumstances not on the record and did not place thereon the results of his local inspection—Held that he had committed an error of jurisdiction which may have materially prejudiced the accused, and that the conviction was, therefore, bad in law. The Explanation to s. 336 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not directly authorize a Magistrate to make a local inspection, but saves his jurisdiction to try a case, notwithstanding his having made such inspection or investigation, and does not do away with the restrictions under which they should be made. Griek Chander Ghose v Queen Empress, I L. R. 20 Cal. 337, Hari Kishore Mitra v Abdul Baki Miah, I L. R. 21 Cal. 920, Queen-Empress v Manabam I L. R. 19 Mad. 263 In re Lajp, I L. R. 13 All 302, Sabri Dulah v Empress, 3 C W N 607, Nidani Mondal v Alohoza Sircar, 2 C W N 622 and Lal Behari Saha v Dejoy Sankar Sirkar, 10 C W N 181, referred to. HARBON SHELK v EMPRESS (1910) I L. R. 37 Cal. 340

Results of inspection not recorded at the time but embodied in the trying Magistrate's judgment—Effect of omission of contemporaneous record—Facts so found not impugned before the Appellate Court—Legality of the conviction—Prejudice. A Magistrate trying a case may view the place of occurrence in order to follow or understand the evidence, but he should be careful not to allow any one on either side to say anything to him which might prejudice his mind one way or the other. In re Lajp, I L. R. 13 All 302, approved. There is nothing in the Criminal Procedure Code to prevent a Magistrate from holding a local investigation for the purpose of elucidating any matter in dispute, and in so far as it conforms to the provisions of the law of evidence it cannot be excluded. He should place on record the results of the local investigation, but it is not a positive rule of law that a note thereof must be made on the spot. Where the facts established by the local investigation are impugned and there is no contemporaneous record of them the Appellate Court cannot act on them; but if they are not impugned the Court cannot exclude them from consideration because there is no such record when the accused is not prejudiced by the irregularity. Joy Chomar v Bhandoo Tail I L. R. 9 Cal. 363 followed. Earbon Sheikh v Empress I L. R. 37 Cal. 319, Griek Chander Ghose v Queen Empress, I L. R. 20 Cal. 337 distinguished. Where the defence suggested that the alleged place of occurrence, a mound of earth was not available nor large enough to accommodate the number of assailants said to have been present, upon which the trying Magistrate inspected the locality and found the facts against the accused but made no separate note thereon on the record of the time though he embodied them in his judgment and they were not impugned before the Appellate Court but it was sought to exclude them on the ground of the omission of such note. Held that the omission of the Magistrate to record a note of the results of the local inspection at the time had not prejudiced the accused and that the conviction was not bad on that ground. ATIAN RAI v EMPRESS (1912) I L. R. 39 Cal. 476

LOCAL INSPECTION AND INVESTIGATION
—contd.

Irregularity whether vitulates trial. Where in the course of a trial, the Court sent out a Sub Deputy Magistrate to hold a local investigation and examine him as a witness after he had made the investigation: Held, that the sending out of the Sub Deputy Magistrate was at most an irregularity and unless it prejudiced the accused, the trial was not vitiated thereby. That, under the circumstances of the trial, the irregularity did not prejudice the defence. KADHA MADHAR PAIRRA v EMPRESS (1910)

15 C. W. N. 414

Proper mode of conducting local investigations—Practice. Great care ought to be taken by a Magistrate who holds a local investigation to see that he is not approached by an outsider and that he does not allow his mind to be affected by outside matters. The proper thing for him to do is to be attended by a representative of either side for the purpose of identifying the points which are material in the case on the one side or the other, and he ought not to allow himself to enter into general conversation with the people of the neighbourhood about the case. CHANDRA KUMAR GHOSH v MAHENDRA KUMAR GHOSH (1910)

I L. R. 44 Cal. 711

LOCAL LIMITS.

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I L. R. 46 Cal. 215

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT (BENG. III OF 1885).

S. 2 (2)—District Board of Manbhum bye laws framed by—Encroachment, hanging verandah, if is A hanging verandah would be an encroachment if it amounted to an unlawful gaining upon the right of user by the public. That right extends to all forms of traffic which have been usual or customary and also all that are reasonably similar or incidental thereto. The question whether a hanging verandah amounted to an encroachment would depend in each case upon the question whether in the particular circumstances it constituted an invasion of the public right of user as described above. The public have a right of user not merely on the roadway, but also on the side lands attached to the road. MIRAJI BALDEO v MANBHUM DISTRICT BOARD (1913) 18 C. W. N 1120

LOCUS DELICTI

See EMIGRATION I L R 37 Calc. 27

LOCUS POENITENTIAE.

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 43 Calc 1128

LOCUS STANDI.

to maintain suit—

See UNDER-TEXTURE, SALE OF
I L R 37 Calc. 823

LOCUSTS

Locusts, owner's right to drive away, from land—Liability to neighbouring owner on whose land they alight, for injury done Visitations of locusts, even where unpleasantly frequent, are in the nature of extraordinary and incalculable events, rather than a normal incident like the rise of a river in a rainy season. The principles of law laid down preserving or regulating the settled course of a river, on which depend many of the rights and benefits of adjacent owners are not necessarily appropriate to the course of an insect pest, which has no settled course and which it is the interest of every one concerned to repel or destroy. An owner may therefore protect his land from such a visitation and turn away the pest without being responsible for the consequences to neighbouring owners. Even if such visitations be regarded as a normal incident of agricultural industry, the owner would be entitled as an agricultural operator to drive away the swarm, just as he would be entitled to scare crows without regard to the direction they may take in leaving GREYVEN STEYN v BATTINGOR (1911) 15 C. W. N 563

LOBBY (HAND-DRAWN).

See PUBLIC CONVEYANCES ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1863), s 1
I L R. 27 Bom. 374

LOSS OF GOODS.

See CARRIERS I L R. 39 Calc. 311
I L R 41 Calc. 80
I L R 47 Calc. 1027

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s. 72.
21 C. W. N 1125

See RAILWAY COMPANY
16 C. W. N 766
I L R 41 Calc 576
I L R 47 Calc. 6

See SHAWLS, MEANING OF
I L R. 39 Calc 1029

*Notice—"Railway administration"—Railways Act (IX of 1890), s 3(6) 77, 140—Scope of s 140—Notice to Government through Collector—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch 1, Arts 30 31, 115—Contract—Breach of contract for non delivery s 140 of the Railway Act has not the effect of cutting down the connotation of the words "railway administration" as contained in s 3 (6) It only provides for the convenience of the party aggrieved that if he wants to serve the notice on the Manager of the State Railway or the Agent of the Railway Company he must do so in one of the ways mentioned there. If the party chooses to give notice to the Government or the Native States or the Railway Company there is nothing in the Act to prevent his doing so, the latter alternative may enhance his trouble but it cannot take away his rights. Secretary of State for India v Dip Chand Poddar, I L R 24 Calc 306, Great Indian Peninsular Railway Co. v Chandra Bai, I L R 25 All. 552, Janaki Das v Bengal Nagpur Railway Co., 15 C W N 356, Pervannan Chetti v South Indian Railway, I L R 22 Mad 137, Nadhar Chand Shaha v Wood, I L R 35 Calc 194, referred to. Per CHATTERJEE, J Notice served upon the Government through the Collector within six months is sufficient to satisfy the requirements of s. 77 of the Act. Art 30 of the 1st Schedule to the Limitation Act does not apply where the plaintiff's case is not for the loss of the goods, and where the defendant does not plead or prove any loss. Per CHATTERJEE, J Art 31 applies to suits against a carrier for compensation for non delivery of or delay in delivering goods, and the time for suit is one year from the time when the goods ought to be delivered. This Article contemplates a suit by the consignee and further it casts upon the carrier the onus of proving when the goods should have been delivered. Per CHATTERJEE, J When there is breach of a written contract Art 115 of the Schedule governs the case. Mohani Singh (Kauwa v Henry Coude, I L R 7 Bom 478, Diamond v British India Steam Navigation Co., I L R 12 Calc 477, referred to. RADHA SHYAM DASAK v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) I L R. 44 Calc. 16 20 C. W. N. 780*

Damages—Port Commissioner's liability to deliver goods—Calcutta Port Act (Beng 111 of 1890), s 112, 113 and 114—"Sale risk," meaning of Is an action for damages, by a consignee against the Port Commissioners of Calcutta for non-delivery of goods landed by them—Held, that the provisions of LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1858)—contd— s 14—contd.

Sale by Manager with out obtaining order of Court—oid—Pre-emption—compromise in suit for land—whether a sale—Trans fer of Property Act IV of 1882 s 54 One J D was judicially decreed insane and his wife Musammat R N was appointed his Manager. On 10th January 1883 she sold part of her husband's estate to N R, father of present defendant respondent M. R., without obtaining an order of the Court. The property sold was already in possession of N R, as mortgagee and the mortgage money was part of the consideration for the sale. On 10th May 1883, Musammat R N was removed from the Managership and M D the brother of the lunatic was appointed in her place and N R. was informed that the sale was invalid but nothing further was apparently done. In July 1895 there was a dispute in mutation proceedings in connection with the sale but mutation was granted mainly on account of the vendee's possession. On 3rd March 1903 the lunatic J D died and on 29th February 1912 his sons who had attained majority instituted a suit against the representatives of N R. for the possession of the land sold by their mother on the ground that the sale was void and also for redemption on payment of Rs. 260. The defendants pleaded that the plaintiffs were governed by Muhammadan Law, and that the mother was herself a sharer, that the suit was barred by limitation and acquiescence, that plaintiffs were estopped, that they had gained a title by adverse possession and that plaintiffs had benefited by the purchase money. But before any evidence was recorded the suit was compromised the plaintiffs giving up all their claims on payment of Rs. 500 and the suit was accordingly dismissed. In August 1913 a cousin of J D instituted the present suit for pre-emption on the basis that the compromise was a sale of the land. Held, that under the provisions of s 14 of Act XXXV of 1858 the sale by Musammat R N was void and as such could not be ratified. Held also, that by the compromise the sons of J D did not sell the land; they merely abandoned, in consideration of Rs. 500, their rights to obtain a decision of the Court in a case which was genuinely contested and therefore no claim for pre-emption was competent. Janki v Gya Dat (I. L. R. 7 All 482 F B) Gul Muhammad Khan v Aham Ahmad Shah (29 P. R. 1393) Tilava Pami v Dharam Chand (45 P. R. 1895), Krishna Tanjari v Aba Shetti Padi (I. L. R. 34 Bom. 139), Rani Meera v Aswar v Panti Hulas Kaur (L. R. 11 A 157, 166 P C) Abdul Wahid Khan v Shalakh Babi (I. L. R. 21 Cal. 496 P C) Raj Bahadur v Jayrup Pande (48 Indian Cases 37) Mirza Muhammad Ali v Ali v 4 Quere (9 O. C. 86), Kurella v Ali v Rashid Hussain, (9 O. C. 331) Lauq Singh v Harnam (20 Ind. Cases 351), Miles v New Zealand Alford Estate Co. (32 Ch. D 268, 291), referred to, also 1 stock and Mulla's Ind. on Contract Act, 3rd Edition, p 152 Mahmuddin v Matu Pami

I L. R. 2 Lab. 109

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912).

Procedure—Inquisition as to person alleged to be a lunatic—Court not competent to delegate its judicial functions to an arbitrator or commissioner—Expert evidence It is not competent to a Judge who has to conduct an inquisition under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, into the state of mind of an alleged lunatic to abrogate his own judicial functions and appoint some person by way of an arbitrator or commissioner to make a report on the state of mind of the alleged lunatic. If a Judge, in these or similar circumstances, finds it necessary to have expert opinions to assist him it is his duty to call such persons as may be able to give the evidence needed and examine them upon oath. MULLIKHAR PANDIT v LACHMI PANDIT I L. R. 43 All 459

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912)—contd

— ss 37, 38 and 62—See LUNACY

I L. R. 48 Cal. 577

Before a District Court can institute inquisition under s 62 as to a person possessed of property it must be established not merely that such person is residing with its jurisdiction but also that he is not subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court mentioned in s. 37 as the jurisdiction of the two Courts is not concurrent. SERINATI ANILABALA CHOWDHURANI v DHIRENDRA NATH CHOWDHURY

I L. R. 48 Cal. 577

25 C. W. N. 178

s 56—Guardian of lunatic obtaining District Judge's permission to take out compensation money in deposit with Land Acquisition Judge—Latter if may refuse to pay Where the natural guardian of a lunatic, in whose name a sum of money representing his share of compensation money paid by the Land Acquisition Collector was in deposit in the Court of the Land Acquisition Judge, obtained an order from the District Judge under s 56 of Act IV of 1912 for payment to him of a portion thereof for the maintenance of the lunatic, the Land Acquisition Judge had no jurisdiction to refuse the guardian's application for withdrawing the money. BATTENDRA NATH DIX v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) 20 C. W. N. 975 ss. 62, 63—“Relative” in s 63, meaning of—Wife's brother, if a “relative”—Inquisition proceedings, if may be started on verified petition only without medical certificates The brother of the wife is a “relative” within the meaning of cl. 11 of s 63 of the Lunacy Act competent to apply to the Court for the initiation of proceedings for inquisition. A District Judge is competent to take action for inquisition on a verified petition unaccompanied by medical certificates which under the rules of the High Court must be filed in such proceedings in the Original Side of that Court. MANI LAL SINGH v NEPAL CHANDRA PAL (1917) 22 C. W. N. 847

s 72—Lunatic—Appointment of guardian to person of lunatic—Wife of lunatic not necessarily excluded by s 72 s 72 of the Lunacy Act is a kind of warning that particular care should be exercised by the court where a person is appointed to inherit part of the property of a lunatic and is therefore benefited by his death, to see that the appointment of such person as guardian of the person of the lunatic is a beneficial one. The section, however, does not absolutely pre-

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912)—contd

s 72—contd.

clude such an appointment and in some cases the appointment of, for instance, the wife of the lunatic may be the most suitable, notwithstanding that she is one of the heirs. Fazal Rab v Khafun Bibi, 1 L R 15 All 29, distinguished. AVIR KAZIM v MUSI IMRAN (1916)

I. L. R. 39 All. 158

Chap V—

Lunacy—Requisition as to mental condition of alleged lunatic—Procedure. An inquisition under Chap. V of the Indian Lunacy Act once started must be prosecuted to the end. Before such an inquisition is ordered there ought to be a careful and thorough preliminary inquiry, and the Judge ought to satisfy himself that there is a real ground for an inquisition. An application for an inquisition should ordinarily be supported by affidavit or by examination on oath of the applicant, and by a medical certificate of some doctor as to the condition of the alleged lunatic. It would also be desirable in many cases that the Judge should seek some personal interview with the alleged lunatic with a view to satisfy himself that there is a real ground for supposing the existence of an abnormal mental condition which might bring the person within the Lunacy Act. MUHAMMAD YAKUB v NAZIR AHMAD

I. L. R. 42 All. 504

LUNATIC

See COSTS. I. L. R. 34 Bom. 374

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1933) s 471

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 134

See DECREE. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 627

See GUARDIAN AD LITEM.
14 C W N 236

See LUNACY ACT

adoption by—

See LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1933)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 680

Lunatic suit against—Ex parte decrees against unrepresented lunatic—Ignorance of Court as to fact of lunacy—Jurisdiction of Court—Fraudulent purchases by de facto manager of lunatic—Rights of purchasers from such fraudulent purchaser. One A was a lunatic not adjudged as such. During his lunacy a suit for rent was brought by the landlord for two plots of land belonging to the lunatic and two rent decrees were obtained ex parte against the lunatic who was not at all represented in the suit. The fact of the lunacy was not brought to the notice of the Court. At the auction sales in execution of the decrees the properties were purchased by a person who was the lunatic's de facto manager who again sold them to other persons who purchased with full knowledge of the lunacy. Held, that as the lunatic or his estate was not represented in the rent-suit the sales under the decrees of the Court therein obtained were nullities and the purchaser acquired no title by his purchase. The purchaser, being besides a fraudulent purchaser who had acted deliberately in breach of his trust as de facto manager of the lunatic, could not in any case be allowed to take advantage of the Court-sales even if they had been made with jurisdiction. As he had no title whatever the purchasers from him also acquired no title. Rasik Lal Datta v Budhramkha Dasari, 1 L R 33 Calc. 1094, relied on. Kharaj Mal v Daim, 1 L R 32 Calc. 296, 315, doubted. HAKINGELLA v NABIN CHANDRA BARUA (1914)

LUNATIC—contd.

18 C W N 1329

LURKING HOUSE TRISPASSSee PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860),
s 456 I. L. R. 37 All. 395

I. L. R. 38 All. 517

See PENAL CODE ss. 413 and 441

Theft—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 456, 457, 350—Trial for house trespass and theft under ss 457, 350, Penal Code—Disbelief of story of theft—Finding of intention to make immoral proposals—Contention under s 456, legality of—Prejudice—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s 238—Necessity of charging intention in cases under s 456—Intention how determined—Rule of construction of decided cases. On a trial for offences under ss 457 and 350 of the Penal Code, although the alleged intention, viz to commit theft has failed, the Court can, under s 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code, convict the accused of a minor offence, under s 456 of the Penal Code, if he has not been prejudiced thereby. Where on an allegation that the accused entered the room of a widow at night and committed theft he was tried summarily for offences under ss 457 and 350, and set up the defence of previous intrigue and entry with such intent at her invitation but the Court disbelieved the stories of theft and intrigue and found the entry to have been without her consent and in order to make immoral proposals to her annoyance. Held that that the conviction under s 456 of the Penal Code was legal and that the accused had not been prejudiced in the circumstances. Jharu Sheikh v King Emperor, 16 C W N 696, distinguished. Kodlash Chandra Chakrabarty v Queen-Emress, 1 L R 16 Calc. 637, Bulmaband Ram v Ghansamram, 1 L R 22 Calc. 391, Premannanda Shaha v Brindaban Chung, 1 L R 22 Calc. 991, Emperor v Ishri, 1 L R 29 All. 46 Sher Singh v Emress (1883), Punj Rec 14 Lohi Rom v Queen Emress, (1893) Punj Rec 12 Ramroop v King-Emperor (1902) Punj Rec 18 Queen Emress v Balu (1856) Rukan unrep Cr O 253, approved in determining the question of prejudice, the nature of the case made at the trial, the evidence given and the line of defence of the accused are matters to be taken into consideration. Reg v Gomedas Haridas, 6 Bom. H C 96, referred to. To sustain a conviction under s 456 of the Penal Code it is not necessary to specify the criminal intention in the charge. It is sufficient if a guilty intent on contemplated by s 441 is proved. The intention may be determined from direct evidence or from the conduct of the accused and the attendant circumstances of the case. Dalmatand Ram v Ghansamram 1 L R 22 Calc. 391, Re v Dixon 3 M & S 11, referred to. Every judgment must be read as applicable to the particular facts proved or assumed to be proved. Quinn v Leatham, (1901) A C 496, followed. KARALI PRASAD GURU v EMRESS (1916) I. L. R. 44 Calc. 358

M

MACHINERY.

_____ hire of—

See HIRE PURCHASE AGREEMENT

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 72

Over-head tank of Calcutta Corporation, if "machinery"—Machinery attached to land, if can be taken into account, in assessing value of land—Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884), ss. 6 (5), 101 (proviso) Per BEACHROFT, J. It cannot be properly said that everything which is contained in a system comes within the description of Machinery. Merely because mechanical contrivances are employed in the working of some parts of that system. The test to be applied with reference to any particular parts of the system is whether it is essential to, or assists in the working of the mechanical contrivance. The over head tank of the Calcutta Corporation is nothing more than a building for the storage of water, the water so stored being used when the need arises to supplement the amount of water pumped into the mains from the underground reservoir. It forms part of the system for supplying Calcutta with water and is filled from the same pumps which pump the supply of water into the mains. Held by the majority (FLITCHER, J. dissenting), on the above finding, that the tank was not "machinery" within the third proviso to s. 101 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 Chamberlayne v. Collins, 70 L. T. N. S. 217, Re Mulley and Finn, (1894) W. N. 64, Kirby v. Hundel Union Assessment Committee, [1906] A. C. 43, and Mersey Docks and Harbour Board v. Assessment Committee of the Birkenhead Union, (1901) A. C. 175, referred to. COSMOPOLITE CHITPORE MUNICIPALITY v THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1919).

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 910

MADRAS ABKARI ACT (MAD. ACT. I OF 1886).

ss. 56, 64—Offence under section 56 not by licensee but by his deposit writer—Conviction, inquiry of. ss. 56 and 64 of the Abkari Act (Madras Act I of 1886) should be read together and not only the licensee but also the actual offender is liable to prosecution for offences under s. 56 of the Act. Re Subudaimathu, 1 W. N. Cr. R. 647, followed. Re MUTHAYA (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 895

MADRAS ACTS

1859—XXIV.

See MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT.

1863—X.

See MADRAS RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT.

1864—II.

See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT.

1865—VII.

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT.

See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT.

MADRAS ACTS—contd.

1865—VIII.

See MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT.

1869—VIII.

See MADRAS INAM ACT.

1873—III.

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT.

1876—I.

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT.

1878—V.

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT.

1882—V.

See MADRAS FOREST ACT.

XXI.

See MADRAS FOREST ACT.

1884—IV.

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT.

V.

See MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT.

1886—I.

See MADRAS ABKARI ACT.

1887—I.

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT.

1888—III.

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT.

1889—I.

See MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT.

1889—III.

See MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCE ACT.

1891—I.

See MADRAS GENERAL CLAUSES ACT.

1894—II.

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATE VILLAGE SERVICE ACT.

1895—III.

See (MADRAS) HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT.

1896—IV.

See MALABAR MARRIAGE ACT.

1897—IV.

See MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT.

1900—I.

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MADRAS).

See MALABAR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS ACT.

1900—V.

See IRRIGATION CESS AMENDMENT ACT.

1902—I.

See MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT.

1903—I.

See MADRAS PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT.

MADRAS ACTS—concl'd

1904—III

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPALITY ACT

1905—II

See MADRAS PORT TRUST ACT

1905—III

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT

1907—I

See MADRAS MOTOR VEHICLES ACT

1908—I

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

1914—I

See HINDU TRANSFERS AND REQUESTS ACT, MADRAS

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1904)

— s 120—Exercising a trade, what amounts to. Where a person has a servant at A who purchases piece-goods there and forwards them to B, where they are sold and the profits are earned, such person 'exercises his trade,' within the meaning of s 120 of the Madras City Municipal Act at B and not at A. There may be kinds of business in which the buying of goods is the most important part of the business and in such cases it cannot be said that the profits are earned elsewhere. HARVEY SHAIK MEERA ROWTHEN v THE PRESIDENT OF THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1906) I L R 23 Mad 62 — ss 121, 125, 172 and 177—Right of appeal—Scope of section, assessment finally of order of, when no objection made within 15 days. Petitioner's name appeared in the classification made under s 121 Madras City Municipal Act of 1904, and he was served with a notice to pay profession tax under s 125 of the Act. He did not pay the tax nor did he apply for revision within fifteen days of the notice. Held, that under s 177 the assessment was final and that no appeal lay. Profession tax is a matter within the scope of s 172. The first clause of s 172 of the Act of 1904 is wider than the corresponding clause of s 190 of Act I of 1884. S. 172 of the Act of 1904 must be construed to mean that all complaints against any tax or toll leviable under Part IV and all applications for revision in respect of any such tax or toll are cognisable by the President and two Commissioners. It should not be read so as to limit the complaints and the applications for revision as to the question of classification. Muthuswamy Ayyar, J., vs Davies v President of the Madras Municipal Commission, I L R 14 Mad, 140, 144, not followed. Municipal Council of Cocanada v The Standard Life Assurance Company, I L R 24 Mad 206 distinguished. VEERARAGHAVU v THE PRESIDENT OF THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 130

— s 150—'Kept,' meaning of—Vehicle under repair is one kept and taxable. Even a vehicle that is under repair and therefore unfit for immediate use is a vehicle 'kept' within the meaning of s 150 (1) of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) and so becomes liable to be taxed under that section. The word 'kept' is not qualified by the words 'for hire.' It is not necessary that the owner should have possession of the vehicle (in order to make it taxable. KRISHNA ROW v. MADRAS MUNICIPAL CORPORATION (1916) I L R. 40 Mad. 543

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1904)—concl'd— s 150—concl'd

— ss 172, 177—

See S 121 I L R 34 Mad 130

— ss 262 and 420—Re-construction of pandal, whether within the section. The reconstruction of an old pandal with inflammable materials without the written permission of the President of the Corporation is prohibited by s 262 and is an offence punishable under s 420 of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904). S. 262 of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) was intended to reproduce s 264 of the Madras City Municipal Act (I of 1884). CORPORATION OF MADRAS v VANADACHARIAR (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 7

— s 287—Final, meaning of in s 287 (3)—Standing Committee, whether special tribunal, or independent body—New additions to building—Whether mandamus or injunction appropriate—Remedy to remove them. The plaintiff, as the owner of house and premises No 34 in Ergama Chetty Street in the City of Madras obtained permission from the Municipality of Madras City to execute certain repairs therein. The President being of opinion that under cover of the permission granted she had made considerable additions and alterations, made a provisional order under s 287, cl (1) of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) directing their removal and subsequently confirmed that order under cl (2) of s 287. Any appeal by the plaintiff to the Standing Committee having proved ineffectual she filed a suit in the City Civil Court for the issue of a perpetual injunction restraining the Corporation from continuing the alleged additions. Held, that when a right and an infringement thereof are alleged a cause of action is disclosed, and unless there is a bar to the entertainment of a suit the ordinary Civil Courts are bound to entertain the claim and that a suit for injunction will therefore lie. Held, further, that the Standing Committee cannot be held to be an independent body or a special tribunal authorised to settle finally disputes as between the tax payers or house-owners and the Corporation of which they are the members. Instance of 'Special tribunal,' pointed out. Bhai Ekanori v The Municipal Corporation of Bombay I L R 31 Bom. 604, referred to. Held, also, that the word 'final' in s 287 refers to proceedings before the Corporation and is intended to bar an appeal from the Standing Committee to the general body of Commissioners, but not to shut out the jurisdiction of the courts. The suit was properly brought against the President as he was acting on behalf of the Corporation. Phadaram Chowdhury v Corporation of Calcutta, I L R 35 Cal. 671, distinguished. VALLI ANNAL v THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1912) I L R 33 Mad 41

— s 368—Order by Health Officer to remove a patient to isolation hospital—Fines to be levied—Disobedience of order—Charge under s 269, Indian Penal Code, whether sustainable—Duty of prosecution—Essentials of offence—The golly' and 'unlawfully' distinction between A person who was directed by the Health Officer acting under s 368 of the Madras City Municipal

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1904)—*contd*s 366—contd

Act to remove his son to an isolation hospital removed him to an isolated house Held, that he was not guilty of an offence under s 269 Indian Penal Code Although under s 368 cl (3) of the Madras City Municipal Act, a person disobeying an order under the section is to be deemed to have committed an offence under s 269, Indian Penal Code, the prosecution must prove not only that there has been disobedience to the order but also that he had unlawfully or negligently done an act which he knew, or had reason to believe, would spread infectious disease Caloon v Maheux (1897) I L R 24 Cal 494 referred to KANDA SWAMY MUDALIAR v KING EMPEROR (1900)

I L R 43 Mad 344

s 409 (Bye Laws under)— bye-law 169—Exposing for sale unwholesome drink (aerated waters)—Food in bye-law not covering drink The word "food" in bye-law 169 framed under the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) which prohibits the exposing or keeping for sale any article intended for human food which is unwholesome or unfit for human consumption does not include drinks such as aerated waters THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v GANAPATHI IYER (1914) I L R 39 Mad. 362

s 413 (Rules under)—Presidency Magistrate holding an inquiry under rules framed under, not a Court under Charter Act (24 & 25 Vct, c 104), s 15—Jurisdiction—The Indian High Courts Act (24 & 25 Vct, c 104), s 15 The High Court has no jurisdiction to revise an order passed by a Presidency Magistrate in an inquiry held by virtue of the rules framed by Government under the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904), whereby a Magistrate may decide as to the competency or otherwise of a candidate for a Municipal election The Magistrate is not a Court subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court within the meaning of that word in s 15 of the Charter Act (24 & 25 Vct, c 104) He is in the position of a referee between the President of the Municipal Corporation and the candidate VIRI RAGHAYYU PILLAI v THEAGORAYA CHETTI (1914)

I L R 38 Mad. 581

s 420—

See S 262. I L R. 42 Mad. 7

MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1888)

s. 75—

1 Place of public resort, meaning of—Madras Harbour as a place of public resort—Disorderly behaviour in harbour premises, if an offence under s 75—Public place, meaning of—Right of public to go if necessary—Madras Port Trust Act (II of 1905) bye-law 2nd, meaning of The Madras Harbour is a place of public resort within the terms of s 75 of the Madras City Police Act Though the bye-laws passed under the Port Trust Act provide for the prosecution as trespassers of persons who enter the harbour premises without having business there or with the ships lying in the harbour, yet the bye laws were not intended to exclude respectable members of the public who have been freely allowed to enter the harbour premises A legal right of access by the public is not necessary to constitute a public place A public place is one where the public go, no matter

MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1888)—*contd*s 75—contd

whether they have a right to go or not. The Queen v Wellard, 14 Q B D 63, followed Kiston v Ashu, [1899] 1 Q B 245 referred to THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v GOVINDARAJULU (1915)

I L R 39 Mad. 886

—Arack shop is a place of "public resort" within the section The public have a right, under the terms of the licence granted to arack shopkeepers to resort to such shops and such shops are places of public resort within the meaning of s 75 of the Madras City Police Act III of 1888 THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v MOOVU SANY (1909)

I L R 33 Mad. 83

s 76—Breach of condition of licence by servants of licensee holder—Conviction not only of licensee holder but of servants also, propriety of Under s 76 of the Madras City Police Act only a licensee under the Act is liable to punishment for a breach of the conditions of the licence whether committed by himself or his servants But the section does not contemplate proceedings against the servant or agent of the licensee VELAYUTTA MURALI v KING EMPEROR (1920)

I L R 43 Mad. 438

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873).

ss 12 13—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 7 (a)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)

—*Suits to redeem—Suit in a Subordinate Court—Voluntion for purposes of jurisdiction and court fees same—Court fees rightly payable only on principal debt as certified by Rs 800—Erroneous order of Subordinate Court to pay court fees on total amount payable on redemption above Rs 800—Appeal—No jurisdiction to the High Court but to the District Court In a suit for redemption of a mortgage instituted in the Subordinate Judge's Court, the amount of the principal of the debt was Rs 3,809 and odd the plaintiffs paid court fees on that amount; but the Subordinate Judge erroneously ordered the plaintiffs to pay court fees on the total amount payable on redemption, viz, Rs 7,218 and odd, and the plaintiffs paid the deficient court fees The Subordinate Judge passed a decree in the suit in favour of the plaintiffs The defendants preferred an appeal to the High Court The respondents objected that the appeal did not lie to the High Court but to the District Court Held that the amount of the principal debt must be taken as determining the jurisdiction under the Civil Courts Act and consequently that the suit lay in the Subordinate Judge's Court and that the appeal lay to the District Court and not to the High Court The authority of the Full Bench decision in Zamern v Calcutt v Narayana I L R 5 Mad 281, is unaffected by the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) The order of the Subordinate Judge erroneously levying court fees on the total amount payable on redemption, cannot deprive the District Court of jurisdiction to hear the appeal and reverse it on the High Court Joia dera v Madhava I L R 16 Mad 396 followed Jyotulla Bhayya v Chandra Mohan Panneer, I L R 31 Cal 354, distinguished *Jallijalluv Narayana v Vijayarani (1913)

I L R 29 Mad. 447

s 12—

See APPEAL. I L R 40 Mad 1

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)

—contd

s. 14—

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7

I L. R. 39 Mad. 873

See JURISDICTION I L. R. 38 Mad. 795

Court Fees Act (VII of 1837), s. 7, (v) and (vi).—Suit for pre-emption—Valuation of suit for purposes of jurisdiction.—Suit originally filed in District Munsif's Court.—Return of plaintiff as beyond its jurisdiction.—Presentation of plaint in a Subordinate Judge's Court.—Plaint again returned by latter Court.—Appeal to District Court against order of District Munsif whether competent.—Election of remedies.—Civil Procedure Code, O XLVIII, r. 1. The plaintiff instituted the suit in a District Munsif's Court to enforce his right of pre-emption in respect of the suit lands which had been mortgaged to him on otti for Rs. 3190 and were sold to some of the defendants for Rs. 4500. The District Munsif returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court, holding that the suit was beyond his pecuniary jurisdiction. On the plaint being presented in a Subordinate Judge's Court, it was returned again by that Court which held that the former Court had jurisdiction. The plaintiff, thereupon, preferred an appeal to the District Court against the order of the District Munsif. The defendants raised a preliminary objection that the appeal was incompetent and also contended that the District Munsif had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Held, that the appeal to the District Court was maintainable, although the plaintiff had filed the plaint in the Subordinate Judge's Court in pursuance of the order of the District Munsif. Held, also, that the proper valuation of a suit for pre-emption is for purposes of jurisdiction, in accordance with s. 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act that fixed in the manner provided by the Court Fees Act, s. 7 (b); and that so valued the present suit was within the jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court. NARAYAN NAIR v. CHEKIA KATHIR KUTTY (1918)

I L. R. 41 Mad. 721

s. 16—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, SCH. II, ART. 35. I L. R. 34 Mad. 398

See MAPPELLAS OF NORTH MALABAR.

I L. R. 18 Mad. 1052

Marriage—Hindu Law—Validity of marriage of Hindu with Christian women converted to Hindu religion.—Such marriage valid if recognised by the usage of the particular caste, though opposed to orthodox Hindu tenets.—Suit, abatement of.—Suit by reversioner for declaration on behalf of all reversioners does not abate on death of plaintiff. A marriage contracted according to Hindu rites by a Hindu with a Christian woman who, before marriage, is converted to Hinduism, is valid when such marriages are common among and recognised as valid by the custom of the caste to which the man belongs, although such marriage may not be in strict accordance with the orthodox Hindu religion. Under the Hindu system of Law, clear proof of usage will outweigh the written text of the Law. Under s. 16 of Madras Act III of 1873, any proved custom concerning marriage must be upheld. Apart from custom, such a marriage between parties who do not belong to the twice-born classes, is valid under Hindu Law. It is only

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)

—contd

s. 16—contd

persons who belong to the twice born classes that are enjoined to marry in their own class. All other persons must be treated as Sudras and marriages between members of different classes of Sudras are valid. Where a caste accepts a marriage as valid and treats the parties thereto as members of the caste, the Court will not declare such a marriage null and void. A declaratory suit by a reversioner brought not only on his own behalf but on behalf of the body of reversioners, does not abate on the death of the plaintiff. MUTHUSAMI MEDALAR v. MASILAMANI (1909) I L. R. 33 Mad. 342

s. 17.—Original suit tried partly by a District Munsif.—Subsequent appointment as Subordinate Judge.—Decree passed by successor in the Munsif's Court.—Appeal from the decree.—Competency of the Subordinate Judge to hear the appeal.—Disqualification under the common law and statutory law, nature of.—Objection when to be taken.—Waiver.—Here bias or prejudice, ground of disqualification, when.—Appropriate remedy. Where a District Munsif tried an original suit in part and was promoted to be a Subordinate Judge and his successor in office as a District Munsif completed the trial of the suit and passed a decree therein, and an appeal preferred against the decree was heard and disposed of without objection, by the Subordinate Judge who had tried the original suit in part, Held, that the disposal of the appeal by the Subordinate Judge was not legally invalid and ought not to be set aside by the Appellate Court. S. 17 of the Madras Civil Courts Act introduces a statutory disqualification as regards District and Subordinate Judges but is confined to the case where the appeal to be heard in the Appellate Court is against the decree or order passed by the District or Subordinate Judge himself in another capacity. S. 17 of the Madras Civil Courts Act does not make any distinction between the Judge being a nominal party or a really interested party. The interest which disqualifies a Judge must be pecuniary interest or one which involves some individual right or privilege or it must be an interest arising out of the near relationship of the Judge to a party to the cause. Mere bias or prejudice on the part of a Judge does not disqualify him in the absence of a statutory provision. Even as regards relationship to a party to the cause, a Judge was not under the common law disqualified by such relationship and it is only by statute law that such a disqualification could be imposed on a Judge. Under the common law, there is no disqualification imposed on a Judge to sit in his own Court in review of his own decision (it is so under the statute law also) or even to review it on appeal in the Appellate Court, if he becomes an Appellate Judge having appellate jurisdiction over the Tribunal in which he decided the cause as Original Judge. Where there is no statutory or common law disqualification in the Judge of the Court below, an Appellate Court could not set aside its judgment of the Lower Court on the mere ground that it might have been swayed by bias or prejudice. Even in such a case unless objection was taken before the Judge of the Lower Court itself at or during the trial of the cause to his trying the suit or appeal, the Appellate Court could not interfere except in a strong or clear case of failure of justice in the Lower Court through bias or

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)—
*—conclds. 17—contd

prejudice. The appropriate remedy in such cases was for the party to have applied to the proper superior Court to have the case transferred to another Court. VENKATAPATEE NAYANIVART v MAHOMED SAMIR (1913). I. L. R. 38 Mad. 531 ss. 41, 37—Non-notification of pecuniary claims as required by s. 37, effect of—Cessation of interest, whether final—postponement of payment of unnotified claims to notified claims, whether continued after cessation of Court of Wards' management. The direction contained in s. 41 of the Madras Court of Wards Act (II of 1902) to postpone payment of pecuniary claims against a ward of the Court which are not notified to claims notified to the Collector as required by s. 37 of the Act applies only to the Court of Wards and not to others authorized to execute decrees under the Civil Procedure Code, and that to others in respect of unsecured claims; and the direction is not operative after the ward's estate ceases to be under the Court of Wards. Hence a mortgage decree against a person which the decree holder failed to notify to the Collector while the person was under the Court of Wards is executable in Civil Courts, without any liability to postponement to notified claims, after the Court of Wards management ceases. But non notification of existence of the claim as required by s. 37 entails a final cessation of interest from six months after the notification prescribed in s. 37 of the Act except in the event specified in s. 53 (f). Depuru Kalappa Reddy v Umada Rajah, 1 Mad W N 75, considered. BUNGA ROW v RAJAH of KARVEENAGAR (1917).

MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT (MAD. I OF 1902).s. 35—*See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS*I. L. R. 40 Mad. 671

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 603

s. 49—(1)—Notice of suit—Suit for money as a suit relating to property of a ward. A suit for money is a suit relating to the property of a ward within the meaning of sub s. (1) of s. 49 of Madras Act I of 1902 (Madras Court of Wards Act) and requires a notice of suit under that section. A mere demand for payment is not a notice of suit. VENKATACHALAPATHY v SRI RAJAH B S V SIVA RAO NAIDU BARADUR (1912).

I. L. R. 37 Mad. 283MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884).*See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.*I. L. R. 38 Mad. 6*s. 10—*See RIGHT OF SUE*I. L. R. 36 Mad. 120

s. 53—Shipping Company—Stips, calling at ports to load and unload goods—Calling at Cocanada for loading goods—Agent at Madras—Sub Agent at Cocanada—Contracts with shippers entered into only by agent at Madras—Company, whether trading or carrying on business at Cocanada—Company, whether liable to be taxed in Cocanada. Where a shipping company, which earned profits by carriage of goods by sea and in the course of its business called at several ports in various parts of the world, was in the habit of loading and unloading goods at Cocanada, and it appeared that the Company had its principal Agent at Madras who employed a Sub Agent at Cocanada but that all contracts with shippers could be and were entered into only by the Agent at Madras and the Company was assessed by the Municipality of Cocanada to pay tax under s. 53 of the District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) for exercising its trade and carrying on business in Cocanada. Held, that the Company was not exercising any trade or carrying on business in Cocanada so as to be liable to be taxed under s. 53 of the Madras District Municipalities Act, because the freight-earning contracts with the shippers were not entered into at the port of Cocanada. Umsinger v Gough, [1896] A. C. 325, and Lowell and Christmas, Limited, v Commissioners of Taxes, [1903] A. C. 40, followed. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF COCANADA v THE 'CLAN' LINE STEAMERS, LIMITED (1918).

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—contds. 53—contd

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 455

ss. 53 and 60—'Holds office' meaning of M, a District and Sessions Judge, whose usual place of business was within the Municipality of C, resided for sixty days within the Municipality of A, during the annual recess and during that period did some administrative but no judicial work. Held, (a) that M 'held his office' during that period, within the Municipality of K, within the meaning of s. 53 of the District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884), and (b) that a payment by him of profession tax for the half year covering the sixty days to the Municipality of K was a lawful payment which would exempt him under s. 60 of the Act from liability to pay the tax again for the same half year to the Municipality of C. Chasman, Ongole Municipality, v Mounsey, 1 I. L. R. 17 Mad. 453 distinguished. MOBERT v THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF CUDDALORE (1914).

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 679

ss. 72 and 73—Theatre unfit for use and unused owing to removal of part of roofing—Exemption from tax. A building cannot be held to be 'completely demolished or destroyed' within section 73 (2) of the Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) so as to be completely exempt from liability to tax, simply because part of its roof is removed for the purpose of effecting repairs and the building is thus rendered unfit for use. As a building actually unused, it is liable for half the usual tax under section 72 of the Act. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF TANJORE v KARNATA PRASAD (1921).

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 354s. 103—*See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 18*s. 168—*See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.*I. L. R. 38 Mad. 6

Adverse possession, against Municipality—Lawful encroachment, meaning of—Right of Municipality to remove encroachments, etc., after title barred—Limitation Act (XI of 1877)—Limitation Amendment Act (XI of 1900). Adverse possession by a person for twelve years before the Limitation Amendment Act of 1900 came into force, of some portion of a street vested in a Municipality is sufficient to give the person a clear title as against the Municipality.

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—contd

— s 168—contd

Under s 168 of the District Municipalities Act the Municipal Council is not entitled to remove the projections and encroachments made by a person who has acquired full title to them and to the site on which the encroachments stand by adverse possession for the statutory period. Bakamurra Swami v Bellary Municipal Council, 1 L R 33 Mad 6, a.c. 23 Mad 1 J 478 distinguished. CHAIRMAN, MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, SRIHARAGAM, v SUBBA PANDITHAR (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad. 456

— ss 172 and 173—

See Torts 1 L R 41 Mad. 538

— ss 188, cl (5) and 189—*Application for license to boil paddy—Refusal of license more than thirty days after application—Fails to apply subsequent to refusal—Charge under s 189 of the Act—Conviction of legal Where a petitioner applied to the Chairman of a municipality for the continuance of a license for boiling paddy at a certain place during the next financial year, but the license was refused more than thirty days after the receipt of the application by the Chairman, and the applicant used the place for boiling paddy notwithstanding the refusal. Held that the petitioner was not guilty of an offence under s 189 of the District Municipalities Act, as the place in question should be held to be duly licensed for the financial year for which the license was sought under s 188, cl (5) of the Act. Ra Venkatarubraya (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 589*

— s 191—*No right to farm slaughtering fees—Contract of farming such fees void and unenforceable—Contract Act, ss 11 and 23—Powers of Corporations to contract—Farming out by a municipality, of its right to collect fees on the slaughter of animals, which the municipality is entitled to levy under s 191 of Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884), is unauthorized and ultra vires. A contract of lease which has the effect of farming out such a right is void and unenforceable under ss 11 and 23 of the Contract Act (IX of 1925) as being beyond the competency of the Municipal Corporation to enter into, and therefore prohibited. Held that any amount due to the municipality under such a contract cannot be recovered. Decision of WALLIS, J., in Corporation of Madras v Nathan Sah [C S No. 244 of 1907] 21 Mad L J 788, and Marudamuthu Pillai v Ranganatha Moopan, 1 L R 24 Mad 401 applied. Halsbury's Laws of England Vol VIII, article 80, Corporations Title, referred to Abdulla v Mamood, 1 L R 26 Mad 156, distinguished. Per CURRIE. The right of farming out is not necessary to the exercise of the right of levying such fees may be naturally and easily collected by Municipal subordinates. The fact that there is an express power to farm out tolls negatives an implied power to farm out other kinds of fees. The fact that the Municipal Account Code contains provisions for the farming out of slaughtering fees and other taxes besides tolls is no guide to the interpretation of the Act in this respect. Quare Whether s 11 of the Contract Act is not exhaustive and does not deprive competency of a corporation to contract? MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, KUMBakonam, v ABRAHAM SAHIB (1913) 1 L R 33 Mad 113*

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—contd

— ss 207 and 248-A—Non-compliance with notice to provide latrines in houses—Duty of Municipality to call upon owners to provide movable receptacles or itself construct latrines before prosecution, whether any. It is not obligatory on a Municipality under the Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) either to call upon a house owner to provide movable receptacles under s 217 of the Act or to construct a latrine itself, before prosecuting the house owner under s 204 A for non-compliance with a notice to construct a latrine. An owner cannot be convicted of not providing a latrine in the backyard of his house when there is no backyard to his house. THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v NARAYANA REDDI AND OTHERS (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad. 57

— ss 207, 264 (a), 278—*Fraction of a latrine by a house-owner—Nuisance to neighbours—Nuisance avoidable—Injunction—Damages whether sole remedy. The fact that a municipality, governed by the Madras District Municipalities Act which is empowered to see that house-owners provide latrines in their houses ordered the erection of a latrine in a certain house does not enable the house owner to erect a latrine at a place where it would be a nuisance to his neighbour. If he could erect it at any other place where it would not be a nuisance he can be restrained by an injunction to abate the nuisance. Award of damages as provided for by s 278 of the Act is not the only remedy. RAMA ROW v MARTHA SEQUEIRA (1919) 1 L R 43 Mad. 796*

— ss 216 to 221—Duty of Municipality to carry night soil from houses to Municipal deposits—No rights in the municipality to levy fees from house owners. A Municipality constituted under the Madras District Municipalities Act (V of 1931) has no power to levy fees from owners or occupiers of houses and buildings within the Municipality, for carrying night soil and other offensive matter accumulating on their premises from inside those premises to the municipal deposits wherever situated, such duty being cast on the Municipality by the Act. SOUTH INDIAN RAILWAY v MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, TRICHINOPOLY (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad. 905

— s 279—

See RIGHT OF SOFT

— s 287—Held that the word 'shall' in s 287 refers to proceedings before the Corporation and is intended to bar an appeal from the Standing Committee to the Commissioners but not to shut out the Jurisdiction of the Courts. VALLI AMMAL v THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS 1 L R 38 Mad 41.

MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT (XXIV OF 1859)

See UNSETTLED PALATAM

1 L R 41 Mad. 749

— s 45—'Threat' means if—Demand by a police constable of manil or customary payment whether an offence under the section. A demand by a police constable of a 'mamul' (customary payment made to obtain his favour) is a 'threat' within s. 46 of the Police Act (XXIV of 1859) and obtaining money by such a threat is an offence under the section. THE KING EMPEROR v LAL BAGO (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad. 463

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

Tender of patta not necessary to recover rent though accrued due prior to the Act.—Limitation, when begins to run in respect of claim for rent. In a suit for recovery of rent time runs from the time the rent became due according to the terms of the tenancy. Arunachalam Chettiar v Kadir Panthan, 1 L R 22 Mad 556 applied. Chinnampalam Rajagopalachari v Lakshmi Doss, 1 L R 27 Mad 241, and Pangayya Appa Rao v Bobba Sriramulu, 1 L R 27 Mad 143, referred to. Tender of patta is not a condition precedent to the maintainability of a suit under the Estates Land Act for the recovery of arrears of rent though such rent may have accrued due before the Act came into force. Leenbhadra Raju v Kumbharanda, 22 Mad L J 451 followed. Even under the Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1805) the tender of patta was not necessary to complete the landholders right to rent but was only a condition to be fulfilled if legal proceedings had to be instituted for the enforcement of the landholder's rights. Appa Rao v Ratnam 1 L R 13 Mad 249 followed. Venkata Narayana Andu v Seethayya, 9 Mad. L T 231 and Jaganmohi Jinnal v Muktabai, 1 L R 14 Bom 516 distinguished. Gopalanayami Mudali v Muktes Gopalur, 7 Mad H C 312 referred to. KANTHATHATHYATHA v MUTHUSANIA (1912) 1 L R 37 Mad 540

Lessee whose term has expired whether a landholder under the Act.—No power to distrain holding after expiry of lease. The provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) do not empower a person who was a lessee of an estate to take proceedings after the expiry of his lease to sell the tenant's holding for arrears of rent due for a term covered by the period of his lease. Forbes v Maharaja Bahadur Singh, 1 L R 41 Cal. 926 referred to. PER SESHAKR J.—His only remedy is to sue the tenant on his contract for rent. PER SESHAKR AYYAR J.—(i) A person to whom arrears are due is a landholder notwithstanding the fact that his estate has terminated. (ii) The law does not give him a first charge on the holding or the crops thereon. (iii) He can distrain the moveable property or the trees in the holding of the defaulter. (iv) He is not entitled to attach the holding. SUNDARAM AYYAR v KULATHU AYYAR (1910) 1 L R 23 Mad 1018

Arrears of rent.—Transfer of interest in the estate.—Suit for recovery of arrears—Pecuniary or Civil Court—Jurisdiction. The Revenue Court alone has jurisdiction to try a suit for arrears of rent which accrued due to a landholder under the Madras Estates Land Act, even though before the date of the filing of the suit plaintiff's interest in the estate had been transferred. Forbes v Maharaja Bahadur Singh (1914) 1 L R, 41 Cal. 926 (P.C.) distinguished. PER SADASIVA AYYAR J.—From a bare assignee of the arrears of rent from the owner of an estate or a part thereof is a landholder within the meaning of the Act for the purpose of pursuing the remedies of a landholder under the Act. VENKATA LAKSHMANAIAH v ACUTI REDDI (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad F. R 433

Appellant obtained from Respondents a lease of certain Lanka Lands for 3 years at an annual rent.—The law shewed that the parties anticipated cultivation of the land and there was no clause forbidding a sub-letting. It was further stipulated that at the conclusion of the term the lands were to be dealt with according to the pleasure of the Estate authorities without obtaining any release from the lessees. After obtaining the lease the Appellants did not cultivate the lands themselves but sub leased them to cultivating tenants. On the termination of the lease the Appellants were served with a notice to quit. The Appellants contending that inasmuch as they were cultivating the lands as rayots when the Madras Estates Act of 1908 came into operation the contract of tenancy was entirely superseded by that statute instituted a suit against the Respondents for determination of a fair and equitable rent for the holding leased to them and for a decree directing the Respondents to grant to them a patta in proper terms. Held that the object of the Madras Estates Act 1908, was to improve the condition and confer new rights and privileges especially upon the occupying cultivators of rayots lands and it would be quite opposed to its policy to confer on middlemen who sub let to occupying and cultivating tenants rights and privileges at all resembling those conferred on occupying cultivators and indeed would result in depriving the latter class of the benefits intended to be conferred upon them. The words owner and farmer of rent in sub-s 1 & 6 are not synonymous. They denote two classes of persons. If owners and farmers of rent are rayots at all they are as appears from s 48 non-occupying rayots and cannot be converted into rayots with a permanent right of occupancy. SCRIBETT BURGIAIA v SRI RAJAH PARTHA SARATHY APPA RAO 28 C W N 785

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)
—contd

s 3 cl (2) (c) (d) & 5—Land holder.—Grantee of a portion of melaram is an estate a landholder—Cultivating tenant under the grantee, a ryot. An alienee of a part of the melaram due from the lands which form a part of an estate's ryoti lands is a landholder within the meaning of s 3 cl 5 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) though what he thus owns may not be an estate under the Act and the tenant holding ryoti land under him for purposes of agriculture is a ryot under the Act hence a suit to eject such a tenant can be brought only in a Revenue Court and Civil Courts have no jurisdiction. Brandanachandrar Horsachandrar Raja v Ramayya, 25 Mad. L J 600 followed. VENKATIA v SRI RAJA PAMA RAO (1914)

1 L R 38 Mad. 1155

s 2 cl (2) (d), s 8, except—Grant of village as nam.—Village composed of cultivated lands and waste lands—Grant of melaram—Tenant of waste lands without occupancy right—Village an estate—Surrender by tenant—No acquisition of melaram by landlord—Suit in ejectment—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts. A village granted as an nam in A.D. 1749 was comprised at the time of the grant partly of lands under cultivation and partly of waste lands. The waste lands were subsequently given by the namdar for cultivation from time to time to different sets of tenants without occupancy right. The namdar brought the present suit in the Civil Court to eject the tenant whose period of tenancy had expired prior to the suit. The defendant contended that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

Held, that the village as a whole must be considered to be an estate within the definition of s 3 cl (2) () of the Estates Land Act. Nor render by a tenant is not one of the modes in which the kudivaram right can be acquired by an inamdar within the terms of the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act. An inamdar cannot acquire the kudivaram right by surrender from a tenant, who had himself no occupancy right in the holding. Held consequently, that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. VENKATA SASTRULU v SITARAMUDU (1914)

I L R 33 Mad. 891

The provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 do not empower a person who was a lessee of an estate to take proceedings after the expiry of his lease to set the tenant's holding for arrears of rent due for a fall covered by the period of his lease. SUNDARAM AYYAR v KULATHU AYYAR

I L R 39 Mad. 1018

ss 3 (2) (c) and 8.—Meaning of 'an settled jagir,' as distinguished from ordinary inams.—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts. A personal grant for subsistence in no way differing from an ordinary inam, is not an unsettled jagir within the meaning of s 3 (2) (c) of the Estates Land Act but an inam. When the inamdar subsequently to the grant, acquires the kudivaram interest the case comes under the exception in s 8 of the Act, and the Civil Courts have jurisdiction in ejectment. SAM v RAMALINGA MUDALIAR (1916)

I L R 40 Mad. 664

s 3 (2) (d) —

Tanjore Palace Estate whether an "estate"—Inam.—Resumability not a test. After the annexation of the Tanjore Raj, the British Government made an irrevocable grant in inam in 1862 to the widows of the last Raja of Tanjore, of the revenue due on certain villages, commonly called the Tanjore Palace Estate, the kudivaram in which was vested in other persons, namely, the actual cultivating tenants of the village. Held, by the Full Bench that the Tanjore Palace Estate was an estate within s 3 (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908). Seemle. A grant to be an inam need not be resumable. SUNDARAM AYYAR v DEVA SANKARA BHAI Second Appeal No 261 of 1913, overruled. SUNDARAM AYYAR v RAMA CHANDRA AYYAR (1917) I L R 40 Mad. 389

Grant in inam of an agraharam by an ancient king.—Presumption as to rights conveyed.—Agraharam granted, whether an "estate".—Right of agraharamdar to sue in ejectment in Civil Court. There is no presumption in law that the grant of an inam by a Native ruler prior to British rule conveyed only the melvaram (revenue due to the State). Held accordingly, that a grant of an agraharam in inam made by a Reddi king of Nellore more than 400 years ago and validated under s 15 of Madras Regulation XXXI of 1802 conveyed both the melvaram and kudivaram rights. Held, further, that the agraharam was not an "estate" within s 3 (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act and the agraharamdar was entitled to sue the tenants in ejectment in a Civil Court. SCRIVANARAYANA v PATANNA (1918) I L R 41 Mad. 1012

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

ss 3 (2) (d) and 8.—One of several inamdar, acquiring the entire kudivaram right in an inam village.—Leave of lands by such inamdar.—Suit for rent in Civil Court.—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court.—Exception to s 8, applicability of, to cl 1 or 2 of s 8.—Strict construction, necessary for. Where one of several inamdar in an inam village, having acquired by gift the kudivaram right in the whole village and leased fifty cents of land out of the whole village, sued to recover rent in a Civil Court on the basis of the lease; Held, that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit and that the plaintiff should be returned for presentation to a Revenue Court having jurisdiction. The expression "the inamdar" in the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act should be read in its strict sense as equivalent only to the owner of the entire interest in the inam, and the exception should be treated as governing only sub-s (1) and not sub-s (2) of s 8 of the Act. RAJACHARI v THEMCOON DEVASTANAM (1918)

I L R 41 Mad. 724

s 3, cl (d) and s 8.—Whole inam village.—Minor inams therein.—Sarna inam of the temple, whole village described as.—Landholder, meaning of, in s 6 of the Act. s 3 sub-s (2), cl (d) of the Estates Land Act excludes from the definition of estate minor inams & e particular extents of lands in a particular village as contrasted with the grant of the whole village by its boundaries. A whole inam village though containing such minor inams is an estate within the meaning of cl (d) of the above section. Where a village is described as sarna or rent free agraharam of a deity it means that the whole village has been granted to the deity as inam. The term landholder in s 6 of the Act need not be a beneficial owner of the estate and includes a receiver appointed to manage the estate. NARAYANASWAMI NATUDDU v SUBRAMANYAM (1913)

I L R 39 Mad. 883

ss 3 (2) (d) and 153.—Inam village, if estate.—Grant whether carries melvaram only or kudivaram also.—Agraharam, meaning of. The word kudivaram, literally signifying a cultivator's share in the produce of land as distinguished from the landlord's share which is sometimes designated melvaram is a species of tenant right or right of permanent occupancy. In a suit by an inamdar of a village holding under a grant made to his ancestor in 1748 to eject tenants who had entered in 1907 under a tenancy agreement which had expired in 1908, the District Judge held that the inam village was an "estate" within the definition in s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act, so that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. The decision having been affirmed by the High Court. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that there is no presumption of law that an inam grant of a village particularly if made to a Brahmin, is prima facie a grant of melvaram right only and does not include the kudivaram. ADVENMILLS SRYGANARAYANA v ACHIA PAIKANNA, L R 45 I A 209 s c 23 C W N 273 (1918), followed. Held, on the evidence, that the inam grant in this case carried, not the land revenue alone, but the whole proprietary interest in the property. S. 153 of the Madras Estates Land Act I of 1908, as amended by s 8 of Act IV of 1909, had no application to the case. UPADRASHTA VENKATA SASTRULU v DEVI SREKTHARASUDU

24 C. W. N. 126

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

ss 3 (2) (d) and 189.—Grant of inam village.—Leaves by inamdar to tenants.—Claim by tenants to rights of occupancy.—Presumption as to transfer of kuduvaram.—Suits in Civil Court for ejectment.—'Estate' under Estates Land Act.—No evidence of any permanent occupancy rights.—Jurisdiction.—The appellant was the inamdar of a village consisting of both cultivated and waste lands, and he held it under a grant made to his ancestor in 1748, and since confirmed and recognized by the British Government. To suit in the Civil Court for ejectment against tenants of waste lands, the defence was that the respondents had permanent rights of occupancy, and that as the inam village was an 'estate' under s 3, sub-a (2), cl (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suits. Held, that since the decision of the Board in Suryanarayana v Palanra (1915), I L R 41 Mad 1012 (P C), which was decided subsequently to the judgment now appealed from, there was no presumption of law that an inam grant of a village did not include the kuduvaram. Each case must be considered on its own facts and in order to ascertain the effect of the grant, resort must be had to the terms of the grant, and to the whole circumstances, so far as they could now be ascertained. Held having regard to the facts the terms of the grant the history of the estate, and the conclusions to be drawn from the other documentary evidence in the case, they were all inconsistent with the existence of any permanent occupancy rights, and lead to the conclusion that the inam grant carried not the land revenue alone but the whole proprietary interest in the property. The lands in suit therefore were not an 'estate' within the meaning of the Act, and s 189 did not apply. The Civil Court consequently had jurisdiction to entertain the suits. VENKATA SASTRIGU v SEETHARAMUDU (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 168

s 3, 2 (d) (e) and 5 and s 189.—Inamdar and ryot.—Suit for rent in a Revenue Court.—Revenue Court jurisdiction of—Landholder under s 3 cl (5)—Estate—S 3 cl (2) (d) and (e)—S 189 and sch A, No 8.—Landholders wider than "owner of an estate". An inamdar of a portion of a village where the inam consists only of some of the lands in a village granted by a Zamindar after the permanent settlement, is a landholder under s 3, cl (5) of the Madras Estates Land Act though the inam may not be an estate under s 3 cl (2) (d) and (e) of the said Act. A suit brought by such an inamdar for arrears of rent against a ryot is cognizable by a Revenue Court under the said Act. The test which is decisive on the question of jurisdiction is whether the plaintiffs are landholders under the Act. The term 'landholder' is wider than the expression the owner of an estate, and includes every person entitled to collect the rents of any portion of an estate by virtue of any transfer. APPALANARASIMHULU v SANYASI (1912)

I L R 38 Mad 33

Minor inamdar.—Lands granted by zamindar after settlement in permanently settled estate.—Whether inamdar a landholder.—Whether tenants under him have occupancy rights. Where a zamindar made post settlement inam grant of a portion of a village with both the warasams on a permanent kasimbadi. Held (RAMARASWAMI SASTRI, J., dissenting) such minor inamdar is a

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

"landholder" within the meaning of s 3, cl (5) of the Estates Land Act and the tenants have permanent rights of occupancy. GADADHARA DAS BAJAJ v SURYANARAYANA PATNAIK (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 677

ss 3 (5), 192, 205—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XVII, r 5

I L R 42 Mad 76

ss 3, (7) and 6.—'Final decree' in s 3 cl (7), meaning of. Held, by the Full Bench as follows—where an appeal from a decree in ejectment passed under the old law is heard after the commencement of Madras Act I of 1908 (Estates Land Act) the defendant being a ryot in possession of ryot land on such date he is entitled to claim a right of occupancy under s 6 cl (1) of the Act notwithstanding the original decree. The words "final decree" in the last sub clause of s 3, cl (7) mean a decree which is not under appeal or liable to be set aside or modified on appeal. Obiter CHIEF JUSTICE.—It is clear that where a landlord obtains a decree in ejectment before the commencement of the Act and executes it before the commencement of the Act the ryot could not claim the benefit of the first part of s 6. Obiter KANISWA SWAMI AYYAR, J. The final decree of a competent civil court referred to in the definition of old waste in s 3 cl (7) is a decree obtained in a proceeding independent of that in which the question of occupancy right is dealt with under s 6, cl (1) or the presumption under s 23 is made. The presumption under s 23 applies to all suits or appeals whether pending at the date of the commencement of the Act or instituted thereafter. KANAKAYYA v JANARDHANA PADHI (1913) ss 3 (7) (1) and 6 (1).—Definition of old waste.—At the time of letting, meaning of. In a suit in 1910 by a landholder against a tenant who was holding over for ejectment and damages under s 153 of the Estates Land Act it appeared that the land in question was not cultivated before 1901 that it was then leased to a stranger for cultivation for five years ending with June 1906 and that it was thereafter leased by the plaintiff to the defendants for three years ending with June 1909. The defendants contended that they had acquired occupancy rights under s 6 (1) of the Estates Land Act. Held (i) that the land was ryot land other than old waste within s 6 (1) and (ii) that the defendants had acquired occupancy rights under s 6 (1) of the Estates Land Act and were not liable to be ejected. Held, further, that the words "at the time of letting" in the definition of "old waste" in s 3 (7) (1) refer to the creation of the tenure which is in dispute. VENKATARAMAN v SRI RAJAN APPA RAO RAJA DUB (1916)

I L R 36 Mad 439

I L R 40 Mad 529

Suit for resumption by a landholder against ryots.—First Court a decree before the Act in favour of the landholder.—Act coming into force during appeal, effect of.—Whether Estates Land Act, s 6, retrospective.—Final decree in s 3 (7), meaning of.—Annamam tenure, resumable.—Right of resumption when exercisable.—Notice to quit.—Prescription.—No estoppel by receipt of rent.—Improvements when tenant entitled to value of.—Transfer of property Act (IV of 1882) as 51 and 103 (h) Appeal No 174 of 1901. If a tenant knowing that he has not a permanent occupancy right in the land in his possession makes improvements without any hope or expectation in himself created or encouraged by the landlord, he cannot claim compensation for the value of such improvements. Even if the landlord knew that the tenant was making the improvements under a mistaken belief, that he had occupancy rights in the land, and merely kept quiet without interfering there will be no estoppel against the landlord. Ramsden v Dyson L R 111 L 192 and Bani Ram v Kundan Lal L R 26 All 493 followed. Mahabateshi Ammal v Palani Chetti 6 Mad H C 245 doubted S 51 of the Transfer of Property Act will not apply to the case of a tenant as it cannot be said that he is a person believing in good faith to be absolutely entitled to the land. Neither s 108 cl (h) of Transfer of Property Act nor the Hindu Mubam madan law nor Common Law of India is applicable to a case where the tenant without removing the fixtures in the one case or the building erected by him in the other case, wants to recover compensation for the improvements effected by him. [Where there has been a periodical raising of the rent due by the tenants and periodical resumption of the tenants' lands by the landlords both of which were submitted to by the tenants without any contest it may be concluded that the tenants have no occupancy rights. Lands held under Amaram tenure have generally been held to be resumable. So far as this Presidency is concerned it would seem to be well settled that a person who has lawfully come into possession as a tenant from year to year or a term of years cannot by setting up, however notoriously during the continuance of such relation, any title adverse to that of the landlord, inconsistent with the legal relation between them acquire by limitation, title as owner of any other, title inconsistent with that under which he was let into possession. Seshamma Shetty v Chikaya Hegde, I L R 25 Mad 507 followed. This doctrine is of doubtful applicability in a case where the landlord has shown by an unequivocal act that he intends to exercise his option and determine the tenancy even though he may not have succeeded in doing so. Srinivas Ayyar v Mathurami Pillai, I L R 24 Mad 216, referred to. It is also well established in this Presidency that if after the determination of the tenancy the tenant remains in possession as a trespasser for the statutory period, he will by prescription acquire a right as owner of such limited estate as he might prescribe for. A receipt of rent, subsequent to a notice to determine the tenancy is consistent with the case of either party on the question as to the existence of occupancy right as in any event there would be a liability to pay rent and it is therefore doubtful if such a receipt could be relied on as a waiver of the plaintiff's right to resume. Held, on the facts of the present case, that there was a determination of the tenancy by a reasonable notice and that there was no assertion of an adverse title for twelve years before the suit so as to entitle the defendants to claim a prescriptive right.] (The views enclosed in rectangular brackets were also stated but are no longer law as a Full Bench composed of the C. J., KUNSI NAYANAR, AYYAR and ALYING, JJ., decided the contrary in Harakappa v Janardhanu Padha, I L R 35 Mad 439, on 14th November 1910. This case is now reported for the other points decided in the case which are noted below.) [Where, during the pendency of an appeal filed by the defendant in a suit brought by a ramiandar to eject his tenants, the Madras Estates Land Act of 1908 came into force, the tenants who were ordered by the decree of the First Court to be ejected, cannot take advantage of s 6 of the Act even if that section be assumed to be retrospective, as the ryoti lands in respect of which they claimed permanent occupancy rights would be "old waste" as defined by s 3 cl (1), of that Act, in respect of which, before the passing of the Act, the zamindar had obtained a final decree of a competent Civil Court negating the occupancy right.] The words "Final Decree" occurring in s 3, cl (7) mean "final" with reference to the Court which passes the decree. A decree is none the less final for the purposes of the section because an appeal was pending when the Act came into operation. Quære Whether an appeal is a rehearing of the suit within the meaning of the Civil Procedure Code as under the Rules under the English Judicature Act so as to give retrospective effect to a statute passed after the decree of the First Court and during the pendency of the appeal. Quære Whether s 6 of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 is in terms retrospective. NARASAYIA v RAJA of VENKATAGIRI (1910).

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

I L R 37 Mad 1

—s 3 (7), 6, 23, 153 and 157—'Old waste,' 'ejectment from—Onus of proving 'old waste' on landlord. A landholder claiming to eject a tenant under s 153 and 157 of Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) on the ground that he is a non occupancy ryot of 'old waste' is by s 23 of the Act bound to prove that the land is 'old waste' within the meaning of s 3 cl (7) of the Act. If neither sub-cl (1) nor the latter part of sub-cl (2) of the definition of 'old waste' would apply to the facts of the case, the first part of sub-cl. (2) cannot be used to prove that the land is 'old waste' as that refers to a state of facts subsequent to the passing of the Act, and as s 6 of the Act vested in the tenant in possession occupancy right from the date of the passing of the Act in all ryoti lands not being 'old waste'. SARAYANATHU v VENKATARAJU (1913) I L R 38 Mad 459

—s 3 (7), 153 and 157—Proviso to s 153 effect of— 'Old waste,' tenant of—Ejectment from grounds of. The combined effect of s 153 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) even as added to by s 8 of Madras Act IV of 1909, and of s 157 of the Estates Land Act is that a ryot of old waste cannot be ejected on the ground of expiry of a term of lease contained in a contract entered into before the Act came into force. ATYAPARAJU v RAJAH VELUGOTI GOVINDA KRISHNAYACHEN DRULAVARU (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 163

—s 3 (10) 8, 185—Private land conversion of ryoti into—Proof—Proviso to s 185 nature of. Per WALLIS, C J—S 8 of the Estates Land Act does not impose respectively an absolute prohibition of the conversion of ryoti into private land not to be found in the definition or in the section specially dealing with evidence as to what is private land. Such a conversion should be proved by every clear and satisfactory evidence. The acquisition of Ludivaram right in certain lands by the landlord and his letting them out as kambattam lands on terms negating occupancy right with a view to prevent the assertion of such right is not sufficient to convert them into private lands within the meaning of the definition. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J—Land originally seri cannot become the private land of the landholder except in the one instance mentioned in the proviso to s 185 of the Act. The proviso is not in the nature of an exception but enacts a rule of substantive law. Mullins v Treasurer of Survey, 5 Q B D 173, and Maha Prasad Singh v Ramani Mohan Singh, 27 Mad L J 459, followed. ZAMINDAR OF CHELLAPALLE v SOMAYA (1914)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1909)
—contd.

I L R. 39 Mad. 341

—ss 3 (10 and 15) and 6—Sub s (1) and explanation added by amending Act (Madras Act IV of 1909), s 3, and s 185, proviso—Conversion of ryots into private land—Holder in unauthorized possession. The respondents held certain lands under a muchlika, dated 28th July 1907, given by them to the appellant by which they agreed to hold the lands, described as Kamatam or private lands until 30th April 1908 for the purpose of cultivation, the document expressly providing that it should itself operate as a surrender of the lands at the end of that term. The respondents however held over after the expiration of the lease, not only without the consent of the appellant, but contrary to his wishes and intention, and contrary also to the terms of the muchlika, and were so holding the lands on and after 1st July 1908 when the Madras Estates Land Act (Mad Act I of 1908), came into force. In a suit by the appellant to eject the respondents and recover possession of the lands which he claimed as his private lands within the meaning of Madras Act I of 1908 the defence was that they were ryotilands in which the respondents had occupancy rights under s 6, sub s (1) of the Act and explanation thereto added by the amending Act (Mad. Act IV of 1909). There were concurrent findings of fact by the Courts below that the lands were ryots, and that the appellant had not proved that they were his private lands within the proviso of s 185 of the Act of 1908. Held that, assuming that the respondents had not any permanent rights of occupancy in the lands in suit before the coming into force of Madras Act I of 1908, they obtained such permanent rights of occupancy by the operation of s 6 sub-s (1) as amended by s 3 of Madras Act IV of 1919, and the suit was rightly dismissed by the Courts in India. Gowinda Parama Guruvu v Bhojani Dandam Padhi, 20 M L J 628 approved. Kanaleyya v Janardhana Vadhi, 1 L P 35 Mad 439, referred to. YERLACADDA MALI KARJUNA PRASAD NAYUDU v SOMAYYA (1918)

I L R. 42 Mad. 400

—ss 3 (10), 19, 189—

See RENT. I L R. 26 Mad. 7

—s 3 (11)—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R. 42 Mad. 702

—ss 3 (11) 53, 189 and Sch A Art 6

—Suit for ci, local cess, village cess by an ijaradar—Mandatory only in Revenue Court—Exchange of patia and muchlika not necessary for recovery of rent by suit under Estates Land Act—

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)
—contd.

'Ijaradar' and 'Pent,' definitions of—Article 13 of schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887). A suit by an ijaradar of a ehate of a village governed by the Estates Land Act (Mad. Act I of 1908) for recovery of ci, local cess and village cess due by a ryot is cognisable by virtue of s 189 and sch A, art 8 of the Act only by a Revenue Court and not by a Small Cause Court, as all the above items sought to be recovered are by s 3 of the Act included in the term 'rent' and as an 'ijaradar' is according to s 3 (5) of the Act a 'landholder' being entitled to collect rent by virtue of a transfer from the owners. No exchange of patia and muchlika is necessary under the Estates Land Act for recovery of rent by suit, the same being necessary according to s 53 only in case where the landholder wishes to distrain or sell the ryot's movables or his holding. It is wrong to hold that art 13 of the schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) applies to a suit for land cess or village cess under the above circumstances. Second Appeal No 680 of 1910 (unreported), followed. PERRAJU GARU v SUBBAHAYUDU (1913) I L R. 36 Mad. 126

—s 3 (15 & 16)—'Ryotilard'—'Ryot, Rent—Pasture land not ryotilard—Rent for pasturing, not 'rent' under the Act—Ss 139 and 77 of the Act—Suit for ejectment and recovery of pasture rent, cognisable, only by Civil Courts. Land usually fit only for pasturing cattle and not for cultivation, i.e., ploughing and raising agricultural crops is not 'ryotil' land, though it may have been 'old waste' and a tenant of such land is not a 'ryot' and any amount agreed to be paid for pasturing cattle is not 'rent' within the definitions of s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) hence a suit to eject such a tenant from the land or to recover the amount due for pasturage is cognisable only by a Civil Court and not by a Revenue Court, as the jurisdiction of Civil Courts exists in all cases where it has not been expressly taken away. PAJA OF VENKATAGIRI v AYYAPANE DJI (1913)

I L R. 38 Mad. 738

—ss 4, 27, 73, 143—Levy of fee (Kanpa nam) for supervision of harvest, legality of—Right of landlord to enter land and make experimental harvest—Liability of tenant to pay compensation for loss of crops by theft or cattle—Liability to pay rent for fallow lands, in the absence of custom—Right of tenant to obstruct flow of rain water into the landlord's irrigation channel—Liability to pay wet rate when water insufficient—Remission of rent, legal right to. Where the landlord is entitled to a share of the produce, the levy of a fee (called Kanpanam) by the landlord on the tenant for supervising the harvest in order to protect his interests is not illegal and it is not opposed to s 73 or 143 of the Estates Land Act. Detana v Raghunatha Row, (1913) Mad W N 886 and Karri Peddi Reddy v Receiver of Nidadavole and Medur Estates, 18 Mad L T, 771, followed. A landholder entitled to a specific share of the produce, is not entitled to enter upon the land and make an experimental harvest of a small portion of the land with a view to throw on the tenant the burden of proving that the yield of the other portions was not equal to that of the experimental harvest. A landowner is not entitled to levy a fee (called Panchamuti) as compensation for the loss caused to the crop by cattle, theft, etc., as the tenant is not an insurer and is not liable for acts beyond his control. Raja Paritha Sarathi Appa Poo v Cherendra Chinnu Sundara Pimayyan, 1 L R 27 Mad 813, followed. In the absence of a custom to charge rent for lands left fallow by the tenant no rent is claimable in respect of such lands. S 4 of the Estates Land Act should be read subject to s 27 of the Act. Siva Rethen v Alagappa Chetty 26 Mad L J 269. Arunachalam Chettiar v Mahalingam Thevar, 26 Mad L J 575 and In re Arunachalam Chettiar, 26 Mad L J 828 followed. Appalaraju v Raja of Visnupuram, 25 Mad L J 50 distinguished. In the absence of a custom to that effect a tenant owning dry land within the bed of an irrigation tank has no right to obstruct the flow of rain water into the tank by putting up ridges on his land so as to retain for his cultivation the water so obstructed. If he so obstructs the flow of water he is liable to pay the higher rate called Sarasari as for wet crops. A tenant is liable (a) to pay Sarasari wet rate, if he raises on his wet and dry crops when he can raise wet crops and (b) to pay only the usual dry rate if he raises only dry crops owing to insufficiency of water. Remission of rent is a matter of grace and not of right. Alagappa Chetty v Tirunagurali 13 Mad L J 377 followed. ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR v MANGALAM (1915) 1 L R 43 Mad. 249 — ss 5, 7th 125 132, 133 Transfer of Property Act (1 of 1882), s 100—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) O XXIV, r 14—Suit for rent in a Revenue Court—Money decree for rent—Rule in execution—Title of purchaser, whether free from encumbrances. A sale in execution of a decree for rent in a Revenue Court passes the property to the purchaser free of all encumbrances except those specified in s 125 of the Madras Estates Land Act. A charge for rent, created by s 5 of the Madras Estates Land Act is not a charge within the meaning of s 100 of the Transfer of Property Act so as to attract to it the provisions of O XXIV of the Civil Procedure Code. Perick Chander Dey Sarcar v Foley 1 L R 15 Cal 49^a, and Royudis Shrikh v Kals Nath Bookkeeper 1 L R 33 Cal 985 followed. Taruniprasad Roy v Narayan Kumar Dutt 1 L R 17 Cal 301, dissenting from SRINAMMA v SURYANARAYANA JAGAPATHIRAJU (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 114 — ss 5 and 132—Decree for rent—Transfer of execution of decree to a Civil Court—Land holder's right of first charge on holding—Decree holder ceasing to be landlord at the time of execution effect of a first charge. A landlord's right to enforce in execution a decree for rent passed under the Madras Estates Land Act as a first charge upon the tenant's holding is available only if the decree is executed in a Revenue Court and not when its execution is transferred to a Civil Court. Held further by SADANIV AVARAJ—The landlord is entitled to claim the first charge for rent on v if he continues to be landlord at the time the claim for rent is sought to be enforced. Forbe v Mahomed Bahadur Singh (1914) 1 L R 41 Cal 906 (P C) followed. VENKATA LAKSHMANNA v SRIYATTA (1920)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd.

1 L R 43 Mad. 786

— s 6—

See ante

26 C W N 783

See s. 3

1 L R 37 Mad. 1

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd.

— s 6—contd.

— Permanent right of occupancy—Sole crop—Proprietors and farmers of rent—Middlemen. The appellants were lessees of certain lands under a lease made before the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 came into operation. The lease by its terms contemplated the cultivation of the land by ryots and did not prohibit subletting. It provided for the termination of the tenancy in 1910. The appellants sublet the lands to tenants who occupied and cultivated them. Held that the appellants had not a permanent right of occupancy under section 6 sub-section (1) of the Act being merely middlemen. If the proprietors and farmers of rent referred to in s 6 (6), are ryots at all they are non-occupying ryots and cannot be converted into ryots with a permanent right of occupancy. (Judgment of the High Court affirmed) PITCHAYIA v AIPA RAO (1921)

1 L R. 44 Mad (P.C.), 836

— Explanation on—Transfer of property in possession on the date of the Act not entitled to occupancy right. Where a landholder brought in execution of his decree for arrears of rent his tenant's right in a ryoti land before the date of the commencement of the Estates Land Act, but the tenant continued in actual possession of the land on that date. Held that the tenant was then a mere trespasser and did not acquire occupancy rights by virtue of the Explanation to s 6, clause (1) of the Act. Sripada Mudali v Thyagaraja Chettiar (1914) 2nd M L J 60^a not followed. VENKATACHALA NAIR v PETHURAJAN NAIR (1911)

1 L R 44 Mad 220.

— s 6 sub-s (5)—Release of revenue on lands and ryotwari tenure purchased by zamindar—Zamindari lands acquired by Government under Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894)—Compensation—Substitution of ryotwari lands as zamindari lands—Suit for payment—Acquisition by land holder of occupancy rights—Acquisition by tenant of rights of land holder. The respondent was zamindar of a settled estate parts of which were taken by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act 1894, for making drainage canals. The compensation to which the land holder was entitled could have been paid in money or with the land holder's consent by a reduction of the revenue on the estate, but the land holder asked that he might have instead some Government lands in another district of which lands he had already acquired the ryoti rights and this was agreed to, and the new lands were transferred to the land holder and entered in the Collector's registers as zamindari lands instead of as formerly Government lands. Three lands were let in 1901 to the appellant for five years, and the lease was prolonged for a further period of three years on the expiration of which the land holder was desirous of resuming possession, but the appellant refused to quit on the ground that he had acquired a permanent right of occupancy in virtue of the provisions of s 6 of the Madras Estates Land Act (1 of 1908) which had come into force on 1st July of that year. In a suit in the Civil Court by the respondent to eject the appellant. Held that for the appellant to succeed it was essential that the lands let to him should be a 'permanently settled estate' or part of such an estate within the provisions of Madras Act I of 1908. But there was no formal settlement, and no recorded evidence of any settlement. Admittedly there was no sanad dealing with the lands in terms of Madras Regulation XXV of 1802, nor anything to which the appellant could point as making a settlement, and the uncertainty of the mode of settlement, if any, was fatal to any idea of a settlement having been made, and the defence therefore failed. PARTHASARATHI APPA RAO v BONMADEVA SATTANARAYANA (1918)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd.

I L R 42 Mad 355

— s 6, sub-s (6) and s 8—Government lands under ryotwari tenure, purchased by zamindar—Release of revenue on such lands—Zamindars' lands, acquired by Government under Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)—Compensation—Substitution of ryotwari lands as zamindars' lands—Suit to eject—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Acquisition by landholder of occupancy right—Acquisition by tenant of landholder's right, difference between Where a zamindar who had purchased some ryotwari lands from a Government ryot and obtained a release of revenue due on such lands in lieu of compensation payable to him for some other lands taken up by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1904), brought a suit in 1911 in the District Court to recover such lands from a tenant who was in possession thereof since 1801, and the defendant contended that he had acquired occupancy right thereto and that the Civil Courts had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Held (i) that assuming that the suit lands were substituted as part of the zamindari, the plaintiff, who was a Government ryot of such lands prior to the substitution had occupancy right therein and did not lose such right by becoming interested in them as landholder, under the explanation to sub-s (6) of s 6 of the Madras Estates Land Act, (ii) that the provision of s 8 (1) of the Act refer to the acquisition of occupancy right by landholders and not to the acquisition of landholders' right by ryots, and (iii) that in any event the general provisions of s 8 (1) cannot affect the special provisions of the explanation to sub-s (6) of s 6 of the Act. ZAMINDAR OF SANTYARAPET v ZAMINDAR OF SOUTH VALUR (1913). I L R 39 Mad. 943

— s 8—

See s 3. I L R. 38 Mad 891

I L R. 40 Mad. 684

I L R. 41 Mad. 724

See s 6. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 944

— ss 8 (except 3), cl (2) (d)—Inamdar—Right to kudavaram—No presumption in favour of inamdar—No distinction between zamindar and inamdar as to presumption—Surrender or abandonment of holding, not an acquisition by landholder of right to kudavaram—Suit in ejectment—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court The presumption is that an inamdar like a zamindar is not the owner of the kudavaram right. Per SANKARA AYYAN, J.—Surrender or abandonment of the holding by the tenant, is not a case of acquisition of the kudavaram right by the landholder within the terms of the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act and such land does not therefore cease to be part of the estate, consequently the Civil Courts have no jurisdiction to entertain suits in ejectment brought by inamdars against the defendants who were tenants in possession, but the plaintiffs should be returned for presentation to the Revenue Courts. Per SPENCER, J.—A narrow interpretation should not be placed on the word 'acquired' in the exception to s 8, so as to exclude acquisition by an inamdar by surrender or abandonment of the kudavaram right by a tenant. SUBBANA RAYANA v PATANA (1913) I L R 38 Mad 608

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd.

— s 8, except; s 153, proviso, ss 157 and 163—Shrotriendrar—Right to kudavaram—Presumption as to—Acquisition of kudavaram right—Surrender or abandonment, effect of—Suit in ejectment—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Courts—Tenant for a term—Tenant in possession after expiry of term—No subsequent recognition by landholder as tenant, effect of—Trespasser The plaintiff, who was the shrotriendrar of a certain village, brought a suit in the Civil Court to eject the defendant who was a tenant of some lands forming old waste under a lease for a period of three years which had expired before the Madras Estates Land Act came into force. It was found that the defendant had no occupancy right in the holding, and that he was not recognised as a tenant by the landholder after the expiry of the period of the lease. The defendant contended that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Held that the Civil Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Per MILLER, J.—Surrender or abandonment by the tenant is one of the modes in which the landholder can acquire the kudavaram right so as to attract the provisions of the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act. When it is found that a tenant has no occupancy right in his holding and that the land is not private land, the presumption, is that the occupancy right is in the landholder either by the original grant or by prior or subsequent acquisition. Per SPENCER, J.—The provisions of s 153 of the Estates Land Act are not exhaustive of all possible cases of eviction. Cases of eviction of tenants under leases or terms not exceeding five years are taken out of the Act by the proviso to s 153 and consequently out of the jurisdiction of the Revenue Courts. A tenant in possession after the expiry of his term, who has not been recognised by the landholder as a tenant subsequent thereto, is a trespasser within the meaning of s 163 of the Act, and consequently a suit in ejectment can be instituted against him in a Civil Court. PONNUSAMY PADAYACHI v KARUPUDAYAN (1914). I L R 38 Mad. 543 — ss 9, 11, 151, 157 and 157 (g)—Custom or contract enabling tenant to build on ryoti land, validity of A custom or contract entitling a ryot of agricultural land to erect buildings thereon, is not opposed to the provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act, and can be enforced against the landlord, though such erections may impair the value of the holding for agricultural purposes. The effect of such a custom is simply to make it an implied term of the contract of tenancy. MARNA KATH ROWTHAN v FOLKES (1912)

I L R 37 Mad. 432

— s 11—

See s 3. I L R. 43 Mad. 174

— ss 11 and 151—Suit for injunction by landholder against tenant—Agricultural holding—Erection of building on part of the holding—Part rendered unfit for agricultural purposes—Holding as a whole not rendered unfit, effect of—

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd.

Right of landlord to reliefs under s 151—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 23 S 151 of the Madras Estates Land Act gives the landlord a right to sue for any of the reliefs mentioned in cls 1 and 2 thereof only when the holding as a whole was rendered substantially unfit for agricultural purposes by the acts of the ryot committed on the whole or any part of the holding. Mrs. Mohan Misser v. Suresh Chandra Karayon Singh I L R 31 Cal. 713, followed. RAMA v. ARUNACHALAM (1913) I L R 39 Mad. 673

s 13, cl (3)—Improvements at tenants' sole expense—Payment of higher rent therefor for sixty years—Presumption of a binding contract to pay at a higher rate under the Rent Recovery Act—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) s 23—Sadashur and Mathuri Kasuru not illegal cesses within s 143 of the Act Held by NAPIER and KUMARASWAMI SASTRIYAR JJ (SADASHIVA AYYAR v. SASTRIYAR) that—(i) s 13 cl (3) (Madras Estates Land Act) does not enable a tenant to claim exemption from liability to pay a higher rate of rent for crops raised with the help of improvements made at the tenant's sole expense where the improvements had been effected before the Act came into force and where there had been a binding contract entered into between the landlord and the tenant before the passing of the Act for the payment of such enhanced rent, (ii) the section applies only to contracts and improvements made after the Madras Estates Land Act came into force (iii) the right to levy increased assessments in consequence of improvements effected before the Act being a vested right in the landlord the section cannot be construed so as to operate retrospectively and to defeat the same especially when there is no indication in the section that it is to operate retrospectively and (iv) the rule embodied in s 23 of the Act applies to the increased assessment and makes it binding between the parties. Per SADASHIVA AYYAR and NAPIER JJ—Where the higher rate was regularly paid for sixty years even in respect of the improvements effected at the tenant's sole expense, the Courts could presume a lawful origin for a contract to pay like that under the Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1885) Per SADASHIVA AYYAR v. Sadashur (charge for stationery) and Mathuri Kasuru (straw rent) which were being customarily paid along with the rent for a long number of years form part of the rent and are not additional illegal cesses within s 143 of the Madras Estates Land Act. VENKATA PEEUMAL RAJA v. RAMANUJ (1914) I L R 39 Mad. 84

— s 19—

See REVY I L R 38 Mad. 7

— s 23—

See S 3 I L R 38 Mad. 459

s 26—Suit in a Revenue Court—Contract between previous landlord and tenant as to rate of rent—Rate, lower than the lawful rate, whether binding on successor—Validity of contract—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court to decide. A Revenue Court exercising jurisdiction under the Madras Estates Land Act is competent to decide all incidental questions the determination of which is necessary for the disposal of the main question arising in the case; and in a suit filed to contest the right to sell a holding for arrears of rent under the Act the Revenue Court can decide on the validity of a contract between the landlord's predecessor in title and the tenant as to the rate of rent although the objection to its validity is based on grounds other than those specified in s 26 of the Act. Raja of Irtayee v. Sreerama Charyulu, (1911) Mad W A 30 explained. SATHURAMA AYYANGAR v. SUFFIAN LILLAI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad. 121

— s 27—

See S 4 I L R 40 Mad. 640

— s 28—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 13, cl. (3)

I L R. 39 Mad. 84

s 40, cl (3)—Years' in meaning of—Swami bhagam whether rent or cess within s 3, cl (11)—Agreement between landlord and tenant for a consolidated gross rent enforceability of—In s 40, cl (3) (a) of the Madras Estates Land Act, 'preceding ten years' means the ten years preceding the year in which the Collector determines the amount of the commuted rent and not the ten years preceding the year in which the suit is instituted, and 'year' means the year of the lease, that is, the year for which the landlord is entitled either by custom or contract to claim rent and not the fiscal or the calendar year. Swami-bhagam is 'rent' within s 3, cl. (11) and is not a cess. Where a fixed grain pollam (rent) has been agreed to the arrangement is binding on both the parties and it is not open to the tenant to reopen the same on the ground that certain illegal cesses were included therein. When the Revenue Court refuses commutation, an appeal lies under Sch A, cl. 4 of the Act only to the District Collector and not to the District Court and hence no second appeal lies to the High Court from such order of refusal. Jeevadiah Paramanick v. Jugadindro Narayan Roy 22 W R 12, followed. SIVAN PANDIA THEVAR v. ZAMINDAR OF URKAD (1917)

I L R 41 Mad. 109

s 42, cl (1) (a) and (b), cl (2)—Enhancement or alteration of rent—Lease-deed—Provision as to payment of rent on excess of area of lands found on measurement—No enhancement or alteration of rent—Previous order of Collector not required—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 22 and 188 The proviso found in cl. 2 of s. 42 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) which requires the order of a Collector before enhancement of rent can be allowed, does not apply to the claim of a landlord who sues to recover arrears of excess area due under a lease-deed which contained a provision for payment of rent at a specified rate on the excess lands found on measurement over the area specified in the lease deed. It is only where the landlord wants to enhance the rent, basing his claim on the right granted and declared by s. 42, cl. 1 (a) and (b) that he should obtain under cl. 2, the order of the Collector for such alteration of rent before he could claim the altered rent. Dhanraj Das v. L P D Broughton, 3 C N N 225, and Rama Chander Chelrabuttu v. Girdhar Dutt I L R 19 Cal. 754, followed. MANAGER TO THE LESSEES OF THE SIVANGA ZAMINDARY, v. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad. 524

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd.

s. 46—

See S 1

26 C. W. N. 785

Application to Receiver of an estate, for conferring occupancy right, validity of. An application by a non occupancy ryot under s. 46 of the Madras Estates Land Act, for the acquisition of occupancy right in an estate, can be made only to or against the owner of the estate and not to a Receiver in charge of the estate
SWAMINATHA ODAYAR v SUNDARAM AITAR
 I. L. R. 44 Mad. 274

s. 52(3)—

See PROCEDURE

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 293

s. 53—

See S. 3

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 126

Distrain for a higher rent than legally due good for the amount legally due. S. 53 (2) of the (Madras) Estates Land Act (I of 1907) enables a Collector, in a suit to set aside a distraint to the extent of the amount legally due to the landlord by the tenant under the patta tendered by the landlord. The application of the clause is not confined to the enforceability of the proper amount of rent, in suits for rent only.
IRAGUNATHA ROW SAMIR v VELLAMONJI GOV. DAW (1914).
 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1140

ss. 54 and 78, cl. (2).—Tender of patta by a landlord to his tenant at his house.—Tenant, refusal by.—Subsequent affixture of patta to the tenant's house, not to his land.—Tender, val duty of.—Methods of tender under the Act.—Delivery of patta, meaning of.—Essentials of a valid tender under the Act. Where a patta was offered by a landlord to his tenant at his house but the tenant refused to receive it, and thereupon the patta was affixed to the tenant's house but not to the land in his holding. Held, that there was no valid tender of patta to the tenant as required by ss. 54 and 78, cl. (2) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1907). An offer of a patta to the ryot is not delivery to him. When once an offer of patta is made and refused, the tender by delivery cannot be effected, and it then becomes necessary to affix the patta to the land in the ryot's holding. If this is not done, there is no valid tender of patta. Meaning of 'tender' and 'deliver' considered.
CHINNATHAMBAR v. MICHAEL (1913)
 I. L. R. 33 Mad. 629

ss. 55 and 146.—Purchaser of occupancy right.—Suit for patta in a Revenue Court.—Duty of Revenue Court to decide as to title of plaintiff.—Rival claimant of such right, previously recognised by landlord as transferee.—Power and duty of Court to decide in the suit.—Proceedings under s. 146, effect of.—Non-frustration of purchase.—Dismissal of suit.—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908), O. 1, r. 10, cl. (2). The power and duty of a Revenue Court, in a suit under section 55 of the Madras Estates Land Act, to deal with the rights of the parties before it, are not affected by the provisions of s. 146 of the Act. Where a suit is instituted in a Revenue Court under section 55 of the Act by a purchaser of land from a ryot against the landlord to obtain patta, the Court is bound to decide whether the plaintiff is entitled to patta or not, if his title is disputed, although the landlord might have previously recognised a rival claimant as transferee and issued patta to him, on the joint application of the transferor and the transferee. In such a suit, the rival claimant is only a desirable and not a necessary party. even if he were a necessary party, the Court should not dismiss the suit for non joinder of such claimant, but add him as a party if it thought fit to do so, under Order I, rule 10, clause (2), Civil Procedure Code, which is made applicable to Revenue Courts by s. 192 of the Act RAMANATHAN CHETTY v ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR (1921)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd.

 I. L. R. 44 Mad. 43

s. 73—

See S 4

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 640

s. 77—

See S 5

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 114

See S 189

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 239

Madras Local Boards Act (V of 1884), ss. 73 and 74.—Right of land holder to distrain property of intermediate tenure holder for cess paid. Neither s. 77 of the Madras Estates Land Act, nor ss. 73 and 74 of the Madras Local Boards Act, authorizes a land holder to levy distraint against an intermediate tenure holder for recovering any portion of cess collected from the land holder LAKESHIVARASIMHAM PANTILU v RAMACHANDRA MARDARAJA DEO (1912)
 I. L. R. 37 Mad. 319

ss. 77 and 189—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908

s. 102—

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 697

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 3. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 738

s. 78—

See S 54

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 629

s. 81—

See S. 189

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 239

ss. 111 and 118.—Civil Procedure Code O. XXI, rr. 90 and 92.—Sale of ryot's holding for arrears of rent.—Irregularity in conduct of sale.—Application to Revenue Court by landholder to set aside sale.—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court.—Order setting aside sale.—Suit by purchaser in Civil Court for declaration that order is ultra vires and void, whether maintainable. When summary proceedings under ss. 111 and 118 of the Madras Estates Land Act, have been instituted by a landholder for recovery of rent by the sale of a ryot's holding and property has been sold, the Revenue Court has no jurisdiction, on an application by the landholder, to set aside the sale on the ground of irregularity in the publication, or conduct, of the sale; and if in the publication, or conduct, of the sale; and if such an order is passed the purchaser can institute a suit in a Civil Court for a declaration that the order is ultra vires and void. O. XXI, rr. 90 and 92, Civil Procedure Code, do not apply to sales held under ss. 111 and 118 of the Madras Estates Land Act JAGANNATHA CHAVILU v. SATTANARAYANA VARATHAPADA PIAO (1920)
 I. L. R. 43 Mad. 351

s. 111 et seq.—Sale of holding under.—Suit for declaration of its invalidity.—Competence in a Civil Court. A suit for a declaration that the sale of a holding under s. 111 et seq. of the Madras Estates Land Act was void in consequence of the landholder's failure to supply for sale within forty five days as prescribed by s. 115 of the Act is maintainable in a Civil Court. Gowes Mohideen Sahib v. Muthulu Chettiar (1914) 44 Mad. W. N. 55, followed. Dorasamy Pillai v. Muthusamy Mooppan, 1 L. R. 27 Mad. 94 and Zemindar of Ettayapuram v. Sankarappa Reddiar, 1 L. R. 27 Mad. 453 referred to. S. 189 of the Act commented on in CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI v. MUTHURAM (1914)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1903)

—cond

1 L. R. 38 Mad. 1042

— s. 125—

See S. 5 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 114

ss. 131, 182, 205—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 115—Application to Deputy Collector to set aside sale on the thirtieth day—Deputy Collector absent on leave—Deposit made two days later—Sale set aside by Deputy Collector without notice to purchaser—Revision petitions to District Collector and Board of Revenue dismissed—Revision petition to High Court competency of District on exercise of revisional powers—Absence of notice before setting aside sale effect of General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s. 10. An application to set aside a sale held for arrears of rent was made to the Deputy Collector under s. 131 of the Madras Estates Land Act and the deposit thereon required tendered on the last day allowed by that section the Deputy Collector being absent on leave the petitioner was asked by the clerk to come two days later on which day the Deputy Collector received the deposit and set aside the sale without giving notice to the purchaser. The latter presented petitions to the District Collector and the Board of Revenue respectively to revise the order under s. 205 of the Act, the petitions being dismissed the purchaser filed a revision petition to the High Court. The respondent objected that no revision lay to the High Court and that as the sale was properly set aside the High Court should not interfere in revision. Held, that the revision petition to the High Court was competent, because s. 192 of the Madras Estates Land Act renders s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code applicable to all suits, appeals and other proceedings under the Act, even though s. 205 thereof gave a power of revision to the Board of Revenue and the District Collector, but where the petitioner had previously applied to the revenue authorities and failed, the High Court would decline to exercise its discretionary power in revision, unless it was imperatively called upon to do so to prevent miscarriage of justice, that, as the deposit was not made within time owing to the absence of the Deputy Collector and not the default of the petitioner it was competent to the former to receive the deposit on the next open day under general principles of law embodied in s. 10 of the General Clauses Act and set aside the sale. Shoochee Bhushan Rudra v. Gounda Chander Roy, 1 L. R. 18 Cal. 231, followed, that assuming that the failure to give notice to the purchaser vitiated the whole proceedings, the High Court will not exercise its revisional powers on that ground alone, and that the order setting aside the sale was proper as no valid objection was or could be raised by the petitioner even when opportunity was given to him. RANASINGH GOUDAN v. KALI GOUDAN (1916). 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 310

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1903)

—cond

— s. 132—

See S. 5 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 114
1 L. R. 43 Mad. 786

— s. 133—

See S. 5 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 114

— s. 134—

See S. 189 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 239

— s. 143—

See S. 4 1 L. R. 40 Mad. 640

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L. R. 42 Mad. 197

— s. 146—

See S. 55 1 L. R. 44 Mad. 43

Second crop of paddy, raised by ryot with landlord's water—Landlord's right to extra rent—Usage or contract disentitling landlord to extra rent—Proof of—Burden of proof on tenant—Heir of registered pattadar—Right to be recognized as ryot—Defaulter under the Act, meaning of—Mere receipt of rent from a person, whether landlord bound to accept as ryot. The landlord is prima facie entitled to claim extra rent for second crop of paddy raised with the landlord's water by the tenant on his wet holding in the absence of proof of an established usage or an express or implied contract disentitling the landlord to the same, the burden of proving such usage or contract being on the tenant. The landlord is bound to recognize the heir of the registered pattadar as the ryot under the Madras Estates Land Act in the place of the deceased pattadar, and if a suit under the Act is instituted by a person claiming as heir to be recognized as the ryot, the question whether he is the heir or not must be determined by the Court, and if the heirship is established or admitted, the suit must be held to be competent. Mere receipt by the landlord of the rent due upon the holding from any person, cannot bind him to recognize the latter as the ryot. "Defaulter" in the Estates Land Act, denotes only the man who is the registered pattadar or his heir or the person whom the landholder has become bound to recognize as the ryot under s. 146 of the Act. MIRZA FORN ZEMINDARY CO., LTD., v. MUTHARUPUDAYAN (1921)

1 L. R. 44 Mad. 534

— s. 151—

See S. 9 1 L. R. 37 Mad. 432

See S. 11 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 673

— s. 153—

See S. 3 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 163, 453
24 C. W. N. 129

See S. 8 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 343

ss. 153 and 157—Suit in Revenue Court to eject non-occupancy ryot of "old waste" on expiry of registered lease for more than five years granted before the Estates Land Act—Jurisdiction—Mere profits, jurisdiction of Revenue Court to grant. A suit is maintainable in a Revenue Court under ss. 153 and 157 of Madras Estates Land Act to eject a non-occupancy ryot of "old waste" on the expiry of the term of a registered lease or more than five years though granted before the commencement of the Estates Land Act. Atticharaya

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

v. Rajah F. O. Krishnayachandrala Varu, I. L. R. 38 Mad. 193, not followed. A Revenue Court can award mesne profits against persons in unlawful possession of lands holding over beyond the period of their lease. JAMPANA BOMADU v. ZAMINDAR OF MUKLAPURAM (1918) . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 315 ss 155 and 192 (a)—Set-off of money allowances against claim for rent Except in the case provided for by s. 155 a tenant has no right under the Madras Estates Land Act to set off amounts due to him from the landholder against a demand for rent. RAJA OF RAMNAD v. VENKATASAMA AYYAR (1920) . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 69

— s 157—

See S. 3 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 163, 459

See S. 8 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 843

See S. 9 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 432

— s 163—

See S. 8 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 843

ss 164 to 167—Officer, preparing record of rights under—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893), s. 476, not a Court within the meaning of a revenue Officer preparing a record of rights under ss 164-167 of the Madras Estates Land Act, is only discharging an executive function of Government and is not a Court within the meaning of s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Re HANUMANTHA RAO (1915) I. L. R. 39 Mad. 414

— s 165—

See s. 3.

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 168

— s 189—

See S. 3 . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 7, 126

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 33, 738

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 168

Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908), s. 11—Res Judicata—Suit to enforce acceptance of patta—Decision by Revenue Court—Decision as to occupancy right or title to land claimed as part of the holding—Subsequent suit in a Civil Court for ejectment of tenant as trespasser—Decision of Revenue Court, whether binding as res judicata in the suit in Civil Court S. 189 (3) of the Madras Estates Land Act does not constitute the decisions of the Revenue Courts, on an issue as to title to land or occupancy rights therein arising incidentally in suits to enforce the acceptance of pattas which are cognizable exclusively by such Courts, res judicata in a subsequent suit in a Civil Court instituted by the landlord for ejectment of the tenant from such land. APPA RAO v. GURURAJU (1920) . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 859

s 189 and cl. (12) of Part A of Schedule—Suit to recover lands under the Act for non payment of rent non-maintainability of in Civil Courts S. 189 and cl. (12) of Part A of schedule to the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) preclude a Civil Court from taking cognizance of a suit by a ryot to recover possession of a holding sold under the Madras Estates Land Act, for non payment of rent, on the ground that the landholder had no right to sell the holding. Cl. (12) is not confined to a suit to question an intended sale of the holding. Goust Mundeen Saib v. Muthiah

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

Chethar, 26 Mad. L. J. 36, distinguished. RAMA-NATHAN v. RAMASWAMI (1914)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 60

ss. 160, 213, 134, 91 and 77—Ryot wari landowner—Illegal distraint—Suit for damages—Jurisdiction—Revenue Court—Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1883), ss 49 and 78 A suit by the tenant of a ryotwari landowner or of any sub tenant of such for damages for illegal distraint of moveable property, growing crops of the produce of land or trees in the default of a holding is solely cognizable by the Revenue Court. Per WALLIS, C. J.—Sub ss (2) and (3) of a. 213 of the Madras Estates Land Act are in the nature of provisos and it would not be legitimate to cut down the operative portion of s. 189 to which these provisos do not in terms apply merely because otherwise, the provisos would be "meaningless and even senseless." West Derby Union v. Metropolitan Life Assurance Society, [1897] A. C. 617, referred to. Sub ss. (2) and (3) which were drafted in place of ss. 49 and 78 of the Rent Recovery Act were probably retained by inadvertence after the jurisdiction of the Civil Court had been taken away by s. 189 in its present form. Obiter Suits under a. 91 of the Madras Estates Land Act are exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. Per SADASIVA AYYAR and SRINIVASA AYYANGAR, JJ.—Cl. (2) of a. 213 saves the Civil Court's jurisdiction only where the suit is not brought for the relief of pecuniary damages for proceedings taken under colour of the Act that is where it is brought for other remedies such as injunction, declaration, possession, etc. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.—The proviso forming cl. (3) of a. 213 takes away the jurisdiction of the Civil Court even in respect of cases claiming other redress than pecuniary damages if the redress of damages had been already claimed by the plaintiff in a suit filed before the Collector under cl. (1) of a. 213. Quere Whether the remedy by a suit in the Collector's Court to set aside a distress under s. 90 can be availed of by a Government ryot's tenant whose moveables have been distrained under s. 77 and whether as suming that he could do so, the jurisdiction is an exclusive one in the Revenue Court. NARAYANASWAMY v. VENKATARAMANA (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 239

— s 192—

See S. 131 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 310

See S. 155 . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 69

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

O XXII, p. 2 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 78

O XLIII p. 1 and s. 115.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 554

Presentation of plans to Head Clerk not authorized to receive—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 4—Court not closed, if the officer on tour only and not on leave—R. 14 of Civil Rules of Practice Plaints under the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908), cannot be said to be validly presented, if presented to the Head Clerk of the Collector, unless the Collector has appointed him to receive them. A Court cannot be said to be closed within the meaning of s. 4 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) merely because the presiding officer is not in head quarters but is in camp on tour. R 14 of the Civil Rules of Practice does not apply to proceedings before a Revenue Court. THE PEKIVEN OF THE NIDADA VOLK AND MEDEH ESTATES v SCRAPARATO (1913) I. L. R 38 Mad. 295

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd— s 192—contd.

— Suit under s 213—

Appellate decree—Second Appeal—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 23—Disturbance of possession—Cause of action. A second appeal lies to the High Court under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure from an appellate decree passed in a suit instituted under s 213 of the Estates Land Act. S 192 of the Act makes the provisions of Chapter XLII of the Code of 1882 applicable and the provisions that give a right of appeal cannot be struck out and those only which prescribe in what manner an appeal is to be heard and determined retained. Where the proceedings which give rise to a cause of action consist in a wrongful distraint that distraint is not a continuing wrong and will not therefore give rise to a continuing cause of action under s 23 of the Limitation Act. Pannu Samyay v Zamindar of Jeypur I L R 25 Mad. 540 followed. Continuing cause of action under English law considered. Hole v Chard Un on (1884) 1 Ch. 293 referred to. VENKATAPATI v VAITHILINGA THANDIRAM (1913) I. L. R 38 Mad. 655

— s 205—

— s 131 I. L. R 42 Mad. 310

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11.
O LAL v S I. L. R 42 Mad. 76

— ss 210, 211, cl (2), art 8 of sch part A—

— See LIMITATION I. L. R 38 Mad. 101

— ss 210 211 and Art 8 of Part A of Schedule—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 7—Suits for arrears of rent—Minority as a ground of exemption—Statutes of Limitation, when retrospective—Principles to be applied—Madras General Clauses Act (I of 1891) s 6 cl (e) and s 8 cl (d). A 'landholder' under the Madras Estates Land Act, who became a major on 5th October 1906 brought suits for recovering arrears of rent due for each 1915 after the Estates Land Act came into force, but within three years of his attaining majority. On the date the suits were brought more than three years had elapsed after the rents had become due. The lower Courts dismissed the suits as barred by the limitation of three years prescribed by ss 210 and 211 and Art. 8 of Part A of the schedule to the Estates Land Act. Held by WALLIN, C.J. and KUMARASWAMI SASTRIAR J., agreeing with SADASIVA AYYAR, J. [SESHAGIRI AYYAR J. dissenting] (a) that notwithstanding s 211 which prohibited the application of s 7 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) to suits under the Estates Land Act the plaintiff was entitled to the exemption and extension given by s 7 of the Limitation Act, and (b) that the suits were therefore within time. S 211 of the Estates Land Act should not be construed retrospectively so as to destroy or practically destroy rights of action existing on the date that Act came into force. Retrospective operation of statutes considered.

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd— ss 210 211—contd

Ramkrishna Chetty v Subbaraya Ayyar I L R 38 Mad. 191 and Gopeshwar Pal v J Ban Chandra, I L R 41 Cal 1155 followed. 1st SESHAGIRI AYYAR J.—As s. 211 of the Estates Land Act expressly prohibited the application of s. 7 of the Limitation Act the suit was barred by the three years rule of limitation prescribed by the Estates Land Act. It is the rule of limitation that is in force at a time the suit is instituted that governs the action and not the one under which the rights accrued. Soni Ram v Kanyalal, I L R 35 All 227 followed. RAJAH OF ITTAPPA v VENKATA SUBBA ROW (1915) I. L. R 39 Mad. 645

— s 212—

— See PENAL CODE s 421

I. L. R 38 Mad. 793

— s 213—

— See s 189 I. L. R 39 Mad. 293

MADRAS FOREST ACT (V OF 1882)

— offences under—

— See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

ss. 40 '9 I. L. R 38 Mad. 773

— ss 3, 16, 25—

— See POSSESSION NATURE OF

I. L. R 34 Mad. 353

— ss 6 10 16 and 17—Notification under s 16—Notice under s 6 a condition precedent—Irregularity due to absence of notice not cured by knowledge under s 17—Grant of personal names of lands including poramboke meaning of A Forest Settlement Officer who is constituted a Court for the decision of claims to lands which it is proposed to include in a reserved forest has in the absence of notice required by s 6 of the Act no jurisdiction to make any decision affecting the right to those lands. Auserramjee Pistonjee v Meer Mynoodeen Khan Bulud Meer Sudroodeen Khan Lakadur, 6 Moo I A 134 and Saunby v London (Ont), Water Commissioners [1906] A C 110, followed. Poramboke in the phrase grant of lands les des poramboke, means poramboke or unassessed waste. Secretary of State for India v Pophunatha thatha Channar 24 Mad L J 31 followed. Narayanasami Naidu v Secretary of State for India, 24 Mad L J 36, distinguished. BALKRISHNA RAO v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) I. L. R 39 Mad. 494

— ss 10 18—

— See LIMITATION I. L. R 39 Mad. 617

— ss 16, 25—

— See POSSESSION NATURE OF

I. L. R 34 Mad. 353

— ss 28, 53 and 55—Compounding offence. The words "no further proceedings shall be taken in s 53 of the Forests Act (Madras Act V of 1882) mean that proceedings then in progress must lapse. Re NARAYANA LADAYACHI (1912) I. L. R 37 Mad. 260

MADRAS GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (I OF 1891)

— s 8—

— See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT, 1908,
ss 210 AND 211

I. L. R 39 Mad. 645

MADRAS HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT (III OF 1895)

See HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT

See UNSETTLED PALAYAM.

I. L. R. 41 Mad 749

s 2—

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (I OF 1876), s 2

I. L. R. 38 Mad 1128

ss 3 and 5—Applicability of—Emolument of hereditary offices in s 3, cl 4—Statute, construction of s 5 of Madras Act III of 1895 is applicable to emoluments of hereditary offices in proprietary estates of the classes mentioned in s 3, cl 4 Muthaya Eapanya v Kosuru Muramulu, (1912) Mad II N. 7, approved Peerabadrar Achari v Suppaiah Achari, I L R 33 Mad 488, overruled. Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—In case of ambiguity as to the construction of a statute, considerations based on the scheme of the Act and the previous history of the legislation relating to the matters dealt with in the Act might properly be referred to for deciding which of two views ought to be taken KANDAPPA ACHARY v VEJOHANA NAIDU (1912) . . . I L R. 37 Mad 548 ss 13, 21—S 21 is no bar to suit for recovery of land. A suit in the Civil Courts for land, not based on the ground that such land constituted part of the emoluments of any of the offices described in s 13 of Madras Act III of 1895, is not barred by s 21 of the Act. The effect of the words in s 13 of the Act, "but such decision etc.", is to preserve the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts even in cases where the Collector decided the case on the assumption mentioned therein and not to oust such jurisdiction where he did not GAYARA RAMAN v ADARALA PATTAYYA (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 235

Prohibition in s 21 applies only when jurisdiction is conferred on Revenue Courts by s 13—Construction of statute. Notwithstanding the apparent generality of the language of s 21 of Madras Act III of 1895, it must be held that the section takes away the jurisdiction of Civil Court only in those cases in which jurisdiction is conferred on Revenue Courts by s 13. A suit for a village officer's inam land on the expiry of a lease granted by such village officer to the defendant, is cognizable by the Civil Courts as the plaintiff has only to prove the letting and expiry of the term and he is not called upon to prove his title which the defendant will be stopped from disputing. The plaintiff cannot, however, lease his claim on his title to the land Narasimulu v Narasimulu, 16 Mad I J 336 referred to. Aswath Narasimulu v Narasimulu Panthulu, I L R 30 Mad 126, referred to. It is a general principle of law that every presumption shall be made in favour of the jurisdiction of a Civil Court and that it shall not be taken away except by express words or by necessary implication. MUVVELA SETHUPAN NAIDU v DODDI RAM NAIDU (1909) . . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 208

MADRAS HIGH COURT RULES

See HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS

(a) Appellate.

See LETTERS PATENT, CL. 15 AND 26.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 943

MADRAS HIGH COURT RULES—contd

(b) Civil—

r 14—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s 192 I L R 38 Mad 295

r 161 (a)—Filing of six months for applying for execution in Court to which decree is sent for execution—Object of the rule—Execution application after six months and partial execution thereon, validity of—Time not the essence of the rule—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 24, c (1) (b)—Right of District Court to recall a case sent to a Subordinate Court for execution. R 161 (a) of the Civil Rules of Practice which enacts that if after a decree has been sent to another Court for execution, the decree-holder does not, within six months from the date of the transfer, apply for the execution thereof, the Court to which the decree has been sent shall certify the fact that no application for execution has been made to the Court which passed the decree and shall return the decree to that Court" is in the nature of instruction or direction to the Court to return the papers to the transmitting Court if no steps are taken by the decree-holder within six months to execute the decree. A violation of this rule does not render the proceeding taken, as in this case after six months after transmission, void ab initio. The rule is only directory and not mandatory and the time mentioned is not of the essence of the rule Coldew v Puzell, 2 C P D 562, followed. Where a decree is sent to a District Court for execution by another Court and the District Court transfers the decree for execution to a Subordinate Court, the period of six months allowed by the rule for execution in favour of the decree holder is to be counted from the time the decree is sent to the District Court and not to the Subordinate Court. Under s 24 (1) (b), Civil Procedure Code, the District Court is entitled to withdraw to its own file the execution proceedings transmitted by it to the Subordinate Court and to dispose of it. VELLAPPA v SUBRAHMANYAM (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 483

r 277—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s 115 I L R 38 Mad. 650

(c) Criminal—

r 1 (b)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss 233, 421 AND 537 I L R 29 Mad 527

r 1 (f)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss 233, 423 AND 537

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 527

MADRAS HINDU TRANSFER AND BEQUESTS ACT (I OF 1914)

See HINDU TRANSFER AND BEQUESTS ACT

MADRAS INAM ACT (VIII OF 1863)

See INAM

I L. R. 44 Mad. 421

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1863).

Water Rights—Artificial Channels—Right of Zamindar—Permanent Settlement—Engagements with Government—Madras Irrigation Cess Act VII of 1863 and F of 1900.

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1905)—contd.

By the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1885), as amended by Madras Act V of 1900, s 1, whenever water is supplied or used for purposes of irrigation from any river, stream, channel, tank, or work belonging to, or constructed by, Government, a separate cess for such water may be levied on the land so irrigated, provided (inter alia) that where a zamindar or inamdar is by virtue of engagements with the Government entitled to irrigation free of separate charge, no cess under this Act shall be imposed for water supplied to the extent of this right and no more." At the permanent settlement the Government settled in four zamindari lands contiguous to a river together with four artificial irrigation channels and sluices connecting them with the river. The sanads did not refer to the channels or sluices. The appellants were the present holders of one of the four zamindaris the sluices of one only of the channels being upon their lands. The other three zamindaris had been purchased by the Government. The appellants used for irrigation water derived from the river through all four channels. The Government claimed to be entitled to levy cess under the above Act upon the appellants' lands for the irrigation so far as it included crops not customary at the time of the permanent settlement. Held, assuming, but not deciding, that the river belonged to the Government, (i) that the settlement was an engagement with the Government within the meaning of the proviso (ii) that under the sanads the zamindar in whose estate the sluices of each of the channels were situated acquired the right to take from the river for irrigation an amount of water limited by the then size of the channels and nature of the sluices but not limited by the irrigation then customary, (iii) that after the water had passed into the channels the Government had no rights in respect of it save as owners of the three zamindaris (iv) that the rights of the owners inter se in the water flowing in the channels were analogous to those of the riparian owners in a natural stream, (b) that, there being no evidence that more water was being taken from the river than was justified by the sanads, the appellants were not liable to pay cess. The law of the Madras Presidency as to rivers and streams differs in some respects from English law, and it is quite possible that the former law recognises some proprietary right of the Government in water flowing in them. KANDUKUR BALASUBRYA ROW v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

L L R. 40 Mad 886

L R 44 I A 168

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1905)—contd.

of 1900. Held, that there was to be inferred from the circumstances an engagement to the Government within the meaning of the proviso of Madras Act VII of 1905 as amended and that the respondent consequently was not liable to pay the cess. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAHARAJA OF ROBERTS (1919) . . . L R. 40 I A 302

See GRANT, CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R. 28 Mad. 424

s 1—

See ante . . . I L R. 40 Mad. 226

L R. 46 I A. 302

See IRRIGATION CESS ACT

I L R. 40 Mad. 58, 809

Held, that it was not obligatory under s 1(b) for the Collector to certify that the irrigation is beneficial and that the words "irrigation by percolation" mean not only irrigation by means of water flowing on the surface but cover cases where subsoil is taken by roots of trees. SECRETARY OF STATE v MAHARAJA GASTRITAL . . . I L R. 40 Mad (F.B.) 58

"Engagements" construction of.—Underlying by Government to supply water for wet lands free of charge.—Engagements at the time of the Permanent Settlement.—Subsequent engagements, express or implied, if included under the section.—Unauthorised acts of subordinate officers, how far binding on Government.—Ratification, essential of.—Communication of, to the other party, if necessary.—When complete.—Government Orders, how far enforceable.—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss 195 to 200 and 3 to 6. In all cases of permanently settled estates, where the income derivable from wet lands have been taken into consideration in settling the peshkash payable to Government, there is an implied undertaking of the nature of an enforceable contract on the part of the Government to allow the use of Government water to such wet lands without charge and thus implied undertaking amounts to an engagement within the meaning of the Act. There is a similar implied engagement as regards inams. The word "engagements" in s 1 of Act VII of 1905 is not qualified in any way and is not limited to the cases of engagements deductible from the circumstances under which the peshkash (or quitrent in the case of an inam) was determined at the time of the Permanent Settlement, but includes all engagements between the Government and the landholder that might have been made or be deductible from the circumstances, at any time after the Permanent Settlement. PERATHUR J.—Held (on a construction of the Government Orders and other proceedings), that no implied engagement of the latter kind or a ratification thereof by the Government was established. An express ratification by one party within the meaning of s 197 of the Indian Contract Act, cannot become complete until it is communicated to the other party. Till then it is liable to revocation. This is in accordance with the principles embodied in the provisions of s 3 to 6 of the Act which deal with proposals, acceptances and revocations. An order of Government which stated that an unauthorised act of a subordinate officer should not be repudiated must be treated as an incomplete ratification before communication to

Artificial Channel—
Reversion—Forfeiture of Servient Estate—"Engagement with the Government"—Madras Acts VII of 1885 and V of 1900. In 1814 a zamindar who before the permanent settlement had constructed an artificial channel through the estate now enjoyed by the respondent, admitted the right of the then holder to take water therefrom for the irrigation of a village, and from that date until 1907 the respondent's predecessors and the respondent exercised that right without any claim to payment. In 1833 the estate of the zamindar who had constructed the channel was forfeited to the Crown. In 1907 the Government imposed upon the respondent in respect of the village an irrigation cess under the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1905), as amended by Madras Act V

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1900)—contd

the landholder is concerned, and the same, having been revoked by a later Government Order, is not binding upon the Government. It is not advisable to interpret the plain words of an Act in the light of expressions of the views of Government before its enactment. Administrator General of Bengal v Premal Mullick, 1 L R 22 Cal 753, Kadir Baksh v. Bhawan Prasad, 1 L R 14 All 148, Queen Empress v Bal Gangadhar Tilak, 1 L R 22 Bom 112 and Hilder v Dexter, [1902] A O 474, referred to. Per SADVIVA AYYAR, J—A deliberate and considered ratification by Government reduced into a formal Government Order is conclusive just as a person's declaration in a registered document would stand even if not directly communicated to third persons. Ratification by a long course of conduct is not less effective than a ratification by a formal declaration. Construction of orders of Government and acts of public officers and ratifications of such acts as well as the mode of their communications considered. Chidambaram Row v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 26 Mad 66, Lutchmee Doss v Secretary of State for India, 1 L R. 32 Mad. 456, Kandukuri Mahalakshamma Garu v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 34 Mad 295, Sri Raja Venkata Ranganay v The Secretary of State for India, (1913) Mad W N 417, Kezars Venkatesubrah v The Secretary of State for India, 14 Mad L T 131, Secretary of State for India v Ambalawana Pandarasannadhi, 1 L R 34 Mad 369, Maria Susan Mudaliyar v The Secretary of State for India, 14 Mad L J 350, The Secretary of State for India v Peruma Pillai, 1 L R 24 Mad. 279 and Venkata Ranganay Appa Row v Secretary of State for India, 24 Mad L J 689, referred to. RAJAGOPALACHARYULU v SECRETARY OF STATE (1913). 1 L R 38 Mad. 937 ss 1 and 4—as amended by Madras Act V of 1900—Right to take water for irrigation through artificial channel—Recognition of—Forfeiture of estate to Government—Easement—Engagement with Government—Non liability for cess after period of 80 or 90 years—An artificial channel from a non tidal river through which water for irrigation ran through an estate belonging to the respondent was constructed upwards of a century ago by the zamindar of Palkonda, a neighbouring landholder and the evidence showed that in 1814, the zamindar recognized the right of the respondent's predecessor in title to irrigate his lands with water from the channel. In 1833 on forfeiture of the Palkonda zamindari for rebellion, it came into possession of the Government but no attempt was made by the then Government to change the form on which the irrigation rights were enjoyed by the predecessors in title of the respondent and of the respondent himself, or to lessen or interfere with the continued enjoyment of the easement as of right and without any exaction or charge. No claim in respect of the lands in suit was made until 1907 when a sum was levied on the respondent under the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (Madras Act VII of 1865 as amended by Madras Act V of 1900) which he paid under protest, and brought a suit for a refund of the amount, and for a declaration that he was not liable to pay any cess under that Act. The Act as amended enacts in a proviso "that where a zamindar or any other description of landholder not holding under ryot

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd

ss. 1 and 4—could war settlements is by virtue of an engagement with the Government entitled to irrigation free of separate charge no cess shall under this Act be imposed for water supplied to the extent of this right and no more. Ibid, that "an engagement with the Government" had been created within the meaning of the proviso to the Act by the transaction of the zamindari having passed to the Government and had been accepted by them as binding the parties for a period of between 80 and 90 years during which (including 40 years since the Act was passed) the respondent's zamindari had been enjoyed without any question or doubt that the respondent held under a tenure which gave him the benefit of the proviso in Act VII of 1865. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v MAHARAJAH OF BOBBILI (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad (PC) 529

s 2—
1—Ownership of bed of channel—Owner of channel bed not on that account alone entitled to water free of cess—Engagement to supply water free of charge how proved—Nature of engagement to be inferred from permanent settlement—Act III of 1905, s 2—Stream, what is—Voluntary payment—Money paid on a decree and under Act II of 1864 not voluntary. Where in a grant by Government of land no reservation is made of channel beds and nothing is proved to show that the Government must have intended to reserve them and it is shown that the grantee exercised full control over the channel, it must be presumed that the bed of the channel was included in the grant. The ownership of the bed will not however, carry with it the right to use the water of the channel free of charge under Act VII of 1865. If water from a Government channel or river is distributed through channels provided by a private person such irrigation is not free of cess. S 2 of Act III of 1905 is declaratory, and effect must be given to the clear declaration, without confining its operation to the matter of encroachments on land. The channel or river is the flowing body of water. Under a 2 of Act III of 1905 where it is not shown to belong to a private person it belongs to Government although private persons may be proprietors of the bed. The riparian proprietors have easement rights, but they are not on that account owners of the channel, and they cannot use water which belongs to Government free of cess in the absence of an engagement with Government to that effect. The abstention of Government from charging water cess for a number of years, and the fact that the Government and the zamindar apportioned the cost of the upkeep of the channel according to the extent of zamindari and ryotwari land under it do not raise a presumption of any such engagement. The only engagement which can be inferred from the Permanent Settlement is that the peshkush being fixed with reference to the area of land then under irrigation no further charge for the use of water should be made in respect of that area. The burden of proving that any kind of crop is exempt from water cess lies on the zamindar. Maria Susan Mudaliyar v The Secretary of State for India in Council 14 Mad L J 354. Where capacity to grow a second crop is taken into account in fixing the peshkush, no separate charge

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s. 2—contd.

can be made for the second crop. Money paid on a demand by Government and enforceable by attachment under Act II of 1864 is not a voluntary payment. KANDUKURU MALALAKSHMANNA GARU v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910)

I L. R. 34 Mad. 205

2

Conditions necessary to entitle Government to levy water cess—Government irrigation source, what is—Engagement, nature of, to be implied from title-deed—Extent of water right, how ascertained—Cultivation of larger area without increase of water not liable to cess—Injunction, granting of. The essential conditions for the levy of water cess under Madras Act VII of 1865 are:—(i) The irrigation must be effected by means of the water of a river stream, tank or channel or work belonging to or constructed by Government. (ii) If the water from such a source is received by indirect flow or used after storage in an intermediate reservoir, the irrigation must, in the opinion of the Collector (subject to the control of the Board of Revenue and Government) be beneficial to and sufficient for the requirement of the crops. (iii) The charge must not be contrary to any engagement between the landholder and Government whereby the latter is entitled to irrigation free of charge. Where water from two hills—one belonging to Government and the other to a private party—combine and flow in a channel between Government and private lands and through Government and private lands alternatively and afterwards drawn for irrigation through channels owned by private parties, such irrigation is effected by means of water drawn from a Government source within the meaning of s. 2 of Act VII of 1865. Palani Proprietors v The Secretary of State for India, I L. R. 34 Mad. 230, followed. Where Government waters mingle with those of another stream, the combined water must be treated as Government water and the fact that it is drawn for use through private channels is immaterial. The question whether the irrigation is beneficial and sufficient must be decided by the Collector and his decision, when not impeached by the Board of Revenue, or Government, cannot be questioned by the Civil Courts. The only undertaking which may be implied from a grant of land by Government is an undertaking to supply water free of charge to the extent of the accustomed flow at the time of the grant. Where the quantity of the customary flow cannot be ascertained, the area irrigated will be presumed to be the measure of the quantity of water used at the time of the grant. Where a larger area is irrigated subsequent to the grant, it will be open to the landholder to show that the increase is not due to the use of a larger quantity of water but to a more economical use of it, in which case no cess can be levied for the increased extent. Maria Susa Mudalar v The Secretary of State for India, 11 Mad. L. J. 354, referred to. An injunction ought not to be granted when there are no sufficient data for determining whether an infringement of it has taken place. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v AMBALAVANA PANDARA SAH, MADRI (1910). I L. R. 34 Mad. 368

3.—'River belonging to Government,' meaning of—Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905), effect of. A river which, after rising in certain Government hills, flows through ryotwari tracts and then through a zamindari

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s. 2—contd.

dari and lastly through a Government village, is not a 'river belonging to Government' within s. 2 of Madras Act VII of 1865 at the place where it passes through the zamindari wherein both the banks and the bed of the river belong to the zamindar; and a ryot of the zamindar taking water from the river within the limits of the zamindari for irrigation is not liable to pay water-cess to Government under the Act. Madras Act III of 1905 has not taken away pre-existing natural and easement rights of private proprietors in flowing waters of natural streams. CHINNAPPAN CHETTY v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918). I L. R. 42 Mad. 239

s. 4—

See s. 1. I L. R. 43 Mad. 529

Levy of cess, what is—Effect of levy not retrospective—"Arrears" in s. 2 of the Act means payments which become due and remain unpaid after levy. Under Madras Act VII of 1865, Government have the right to levy at pleasure a separate cess for water. The liability to pay water cess is not incurred in each fall by the mere fact of taking Government water but only when Government indicates its intention to charge the cess. The cess must be imposed during the fall. "Arrears" in s. 2 of the Act means payments which have become due and remain unpaid after the levy was made. An "arrear" under the Act presupposes an engagement to pay and the mere use of water implies no such engagement. The Government cannot by the mere act of levying water cess in a subsequent fall indicate an intention to claim rent for previous fall. RAMA CHANDRA APPA ROW v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911). I L. R. 35 Mad. 197

Water-cess—Zamindars' lands—Excess area, whether liable to pay water-cess—Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905), effect of. Where a right to take water is proved, even though no express agreement on behalf of Government not to levy any charge is proved, an engagement under Act VII of 1865 will be implied and no cess can be levied. Per SANKARAN NAIR, J. Act III of 1905 did not take away any rights that existed at the time the Act was passed and the Government are not by reason of that Act coupled with Act VII of 1865 entitled to impose any cess upon those landholders who were before the Act not liable to pay cess for their using the water. Kandukuru Malalakshmanna Garu v The Secretary of State for India, I L. R. 34 Mad. 295 and Venkataramanmal v Secretary of State I L. R. 37 Mad. 366, followed. ERI RAJAH SIVNADH RAJU v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914).

I L. R. 39 Mad. 67

Inam lands irrigated by water coming from Government source—Water-cess liable to be levied on, where inamdar has no option to refuse use—Phrase "used for the purpose of irrigation," meaning of. Certain dry inam lands were submerged by water flowing from a Government source and by reason thereof the inamdar was compelled to raise wet crops with the help of the water which he enclosed in his adjoining land out of the flood water. Field, that under Madras Act VII of 1865, he was liable to pay water cess. Madras Act VII of 1865 is not based upon any theory of the ownership of the bed of a tank or water course being the foundation of a right to use the water free of charge. The fact that before irrigating the inamdar's lands the water had flowed through two-fifths of a sheet of water included in the inam does not make it any the less water from a Government source. Held, further, the fact that rain water had got mixed with the flood water is no ground for getting rid of the liability. Secretary of State for India in Council v Perumal Pillai, 1 L R 24 Mad 279, distinguished. Maria Susan Mudali v The Secretary of State for India, 11 Mad L J 350, distinguished. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SWAMI NARATHESWARAN (1910)

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s 4—contd.

I L R 34 Mad 21

Madras Act II, 1864—'Defaulter,' who is—Person liable to pay cess under Act VII of 1865—The zamindar and not the tenant in occupation liable. Where water-cess is leviable on zamindari land under the provisions of Madras Act VII of 1865, the person bound to pay such cess is the zamindar and not the tenant in occupation of such land. Nynapan Serran v Secretary of State, Mad W N 322, dissented from. Subramanya Chetty v Mahalingasami Sivan, 1 L R 33 Mad 41, followed. The zamindar is the proprietor and landholder within the meaning of Act II of 1864. He is the defaulter whose right and interest passes by the sale under s 39 of the Act. The security for the public revenue and for the cess which is recoverable as such revenue is the full proprietary right and not the right of the tenant. KOTTILINGA SETHU ROYER, ZAMINDAR OF URKAD v SAMASRAMA IYER (1911)

I L R 34 Mad 520

"River belonging to Government," meaning of—Zamindars and Rajas, rights of, to waters of rivers passing through their lands—Water, proprietary rights in, discussed—*Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) effect of, upon such rights. Per MILLER, J.—In a suit for the recovery from Government water cesses illegally levied, the cause of action arises on each occasion on which the cess is demanded and Art 131 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act does not apply. The High Court having held in Kandukur Mahala Krishnamma Garu, Proprietrix of Urilom v Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 34 Mad 295, on facts similar to those relied upon in the present case, that the Vamsadhara river is a river belonging to Government, such finding was a matter of law which should be followed until overruled by a Full Bench or a higher Court. Followed accordingly. Per SANKARAN NAIK, J. Under the customary law of the country water belonged to the owner of the estate through which it passes, so long as the water remained on the land, subject to the claims of the proprietors below. The members of the village community and the zamindars or poligars were entitled to the water which flowed through their lands. If Government are the proprietors of the land, they are the owners of the water thereon and those rivers and streams of which they own, the bed and the banks belong to Government. It was the policy of the East India Company in granting the permanent sanads to recognise private proprietary rights and to divest themselves of such rights which may have been vested in them. It is against the policy and the spirit of the permanent* settlement regulation to hold that the Government reserved to themselves any power to increase the revenue on the zamindari or to levy any assessment for the use of water. The permanent sanads granted to Rajas and chieftains did not interfere with their use of the waters of natural streams for the cultivation of all lands within the agavat (i.e., the area of land that can be irrigated according to the customary methods) subject to the claims of the ryots. The new zamindaris created by the East India Company were placed on the same footing as the old. Speaking generally, whenever the Government contend that these zamindars are not entitled to exercise any of the rights which are capable of private ownership, and that such rights are vested in the Crown, it lies on the Government to prove that such zamindars were deprived of them either expressly or by necessary implication under the sanads granted under that Regulation (Regulation XXV of 1802) the new zamindars were placed on the same footing. The sanads referred to are those which were granted by Lord Clive, a copy of which will be found in the earlier editions of the Standing Orders of the Board of Revenue. Under the Regulation of 1802, the Government did not enter into any engagements with the landholders to supply water. The circumstances under which the permanent sanads were granted preclude any such engagement. In the case of new zamindaris created there may be cases in which the Government reserved to themselves the control of water courses. Act VII of 1865 was intended by the Legislature to refer to all rivers and streams in those ryotwari districts where no miras or any corresponding right prevailed and the words "rivers belonging to Government" do not apply to rivers running through or by zamindaris. The Act was not intended to effect any change in the substantive law but to enable Government to levy a cess on account of the large expenditure incurred by Government in the construction and improvement of irrigation works. The ryotwari lands were assumed to be Government property, and all rivers running through ryotwari lands were accordingly treated as belonging to Government. But it does not enable the Government to levy a water cess where the landowners use the waters of rivers in accordance with the rights they had before. The exemption clause in s 1 of the Act—"Where a zamindar or inamdar by virtue of engagements with the Government is entitled to irrigation free of separate charge, no cess under this Act shall be imposed for water supplied to the extent of such right and no more"—does not apply to those zamindaris and proprietors who themselves take and are entitled to take the water for irrigation from the rivers and streams in their zamindaris without its being supplied to them by Government. Even if the section with the exemption clause applied, the "engagement" to be implied is one to allow the proprietors to irrigate all their lands within the agavat which could be irrigated without any fee and without any charge. As Act III of 1905 does not interfere with vested rights, it cannot be used to interpret Act VII of 1865 to take away such rights. Therefore under Act VI of 1865 (standing unaffected by subsequent legislation) it was not competent to the Government to levy any cess for any water taken from the Vamsadhara river with out the aid of Government works. [See the end of the judgment for a summary of the conclusion.] SECRETARY OF STATE v JANAKINAYAKA (1912) I L R 37 Mad. 323

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s 4—contd.

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

— s 4—contd.

MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1905)

— ss 1 and 2—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)

— ss 3, 5 and 14—Penal assessment
Levy of—Suit for declaration of title and recovery of penal assessment—Suit brought after six months from date of notice and levy of penal assessment—Suit barred—Limitation Where the plaintiff brought a suit against the Secretary of State for a declaration of his title to certain immovable property and for recovery of penal assessment levied from him by Government under s 3 of the Madras Act III of 1905 more than six months after the issue of notice and levy of the assessment from him. Held that the suit for declaration of title as well as for recovery of penal assessment was barred under s 14 of the Madras Act III of 1905. PHANAKARADU v SUBHARAYUDU (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 674

— ss 5, 6, 7 and 14—Notice under s 7—Levy of penal assessment—Suit for declaration—Cause of action—Limitation A notice under s 7 of the Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) was issued to the plaintiff and penal assessment was thereafter levied from him. More than six months after such levy the plaintiff brought this suit for a declaration of his title to the land in question and for the refund of the assessment levied. Held that the notice under s 7 of the Madras Land Encroachment Act calling on the person in occupation to show cause why he should not proceed against under s 5 or 6 of the Act does not give rise to a cause of action, but that the suit was barred having been filed more than six months after the levy of assessment. NARAYANA PILLAI v SECRETARY OF STATE 27 Mad. L. J. 167, approved. BHASKARADU v SUBHARAYUDU, I L R 33 Mad. 674 considered. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ASSAN (1915) I L R 39 Mad. 727

— ss 5, 7, 14—'Levied' in s 14 means—Levy of penal assessment—Suit for refund of penal assessment, declaration of title to property and injunction—Injunction In a suit under s 14 of Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) for (a) refund of penal assessment levied from the plaintiff (b) declaration of the plaintiff's title to the property in respect of which penal assessment was levied and (c) an injunction restraining Government from interfering with the plaintiff's possession, the cause of action for the refund arises not from the date of imposition of the penal assessment but from the date on which it was actually collected, and the cause of action for the declaration and injunction arises not from the date when the Collector issues his order for the eviction but from the date on which some steps are taken under s 8 of the Act to evict the plaintiff. 'Levied' in s 14 means 'collected' and not merely imposed. The Secretary of State for India v Assan, I L R 39 Mad. 727, explained and distinguished. ARAYANA

MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1905)—contd.

— ss 6, 7, 14—contd.

CHETTY v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) I L R 42 Mad. 431

MADRAS LAND-REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (MAD I OF 1876)

Partly driven to sue for separate registration not entitled to damages for refusal to register—Action for money had and received—Request when implied The alienor of a portion of an estate who is driven to a civil suit to enforce separate registry, under Act I of 1876, all the parties to the alienation not consenting to the transfer, is entitled to recover only the costs of such suit and not any further damages. In an action to recover money paid by plaintiff for the defendant at his request a request will generally be implied where the defendant has notice of the payment being made for him and does not dissent. Where the circumstances show that the owner of property which is saved by another party knew that the other party was laying out his money in the expectation of being repaid, the inference of an understanding between the parties amounting in law to an implied contract will unless satiatingly be drawn. FALKE v BRITISH IMPERIAL INSURANCE COMPANY 35 CA D 217 referred to. Where a portion of an estate is alienated and the vendor and vendee agree that the vendee should pay the vendor for a certain amount as the vendee's share of peishkash on the portion alienated which amount is in excess of the amount ascertained on separate registry to be due on such portion the vendor is interested in paying the peishkash as he makes a profit in doing so and he can recover the amount so paid. NARAYANA-SWAMI NAIDU v VELLAYUTHI SREENIVASA JAGAN-NADHA PAO (1909) I L R. 33 Mad. 189

— s 2—Owner under no obligation—Permanent lease not an owner—Non liability to separate registration and assessment—Proprietor or owner under Regulation (XXI of 1876)—Madras Hereditary Village Officer (Act III of 1855) Grants, holding under perpetual grants subject to payment to the zamindar (the grantor) of a small rent under the name of jali kuttubadi or poroppu are not liable to have their lands separately registered and to have separate assessment imposed upon them under the provisions of the Madras Act I of 1876. A permanent leasee is not included in the term owner as used in s 2 of the Madras Assessment of Land Revenue Act (I of 1876). A permanent leasee is not a proprietor or owner under Regulation XXV of 1802 or the Madras Hereditary Village Officer Act (III of 1855). VELAKUTSWARI v APPALA NAIDU v ALAGOO MEETHOO SERRANGORE & MOO 1 A 327 HARI NARAYAN SINGH v SIVRAM CHAKRAVARTI, L R 37 I A 155 DURGAPRAMAD SINGH v BHOJA NATH BOSE, L R 39 I A 133 and AKHTRABARA FISAOJI v SOLHANAPURAM HARI KRISHNA NAIDU, I L R 33 Mad. 311, followed. ROBERT FISCHER v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, I L R. 29 Mad. 270 distinguished. KOMALAKMAL v BAYA NAIDU, I L R 19 Mad. 393 distinguished. MAHARAJA OF VIZIANAGARAM v THE COLLECTOR OF VIZIANAGARAM (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 1128

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD V OF 1881)

— ss 33, 35 (1) and (2)—Delegation of duty to give notice of removal of obstruction to a

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD. V OF 1884)—contd

ss 33, 98 (1) and (2)—contd.

public road by the president of a Taluk Board to a chairman of a union, validity of—“Other person duly authorized by him as aforesaid” in s 93 (2), meaning of S 33 of the Madras Local Boards Act (V of 1884) does not restrict the specific delegations of duty allowed to the president of a Taluk Board by other sections of the Act. The words “other person duly authorized by him as aforesaid” in s. 93, cl (2), mean “any person duly authorized by him in that behalf,” viz., the one mentioned in s. 93, cl. (1) and do not mean only the vice president of the Taluk Board. Hence a notice to remove an obstruction to a public road given by the chairman of a union to whom the president of the Taluk Board within which the union was situated delegated the power to give such notice is a legally valid notice, and disobedience to the notice is an offence under the Act. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. SANKARALINGA MOOPAN (1919). I L R 42 Mad. 787

s. 51—

See CHARITABLE TRUST

I L R. 34 Mad. 375

Taluk Board taking over management of charity not bound to keep account accessible to all persons, when they take the place of trustees who are under an obligation to do so—Power of Taluk Board to transfer management—Madras Regulation VII of 1817, ss 2, 3, 5, 7, 8, 13—Under s 51 of Act V of 1884, the Taluk Board is vested with powers of supervision and management and not with the power of appointing trustees conferred on the Board of Revenue. Where a Taluk Board under s. 51 of Madras Act V of 1884 takes the place of trustees appointed by a will, which directs the trustees to keep accounts accessible to all persons, such Board will not in the absence of a charge of mismanagement be under an obligation to keep such accounts. The management being transferred by a special law to a statutory body, we must look to that law and not to the will to determine the duties incidental to such management. The Board is not bound to give inspection of accounts when no charge of mismanagement is made. The Taluk Board which has taken over the management under s. 51 of the Act cannot appoint an independent trustee so as to divest itself of the duty of management. The power and duties of the Board of Revenue which devolve on the Taluk Board under s. 51 of the Act do not include the power to appoint trustees vested in the Board under s. 13 of Reg VII of 1817. NELAYATHARSHI AMMAL v. THE TALUK BOARD, MAYAVARAM (1910). I L R. 34 Mad. 333

ss 54, 144 to 147—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT 1881, ss 5 AND 6 I L R. 43 Mad. 816

ss 63, 68 and 73—

See MUTT, HEAD OF

I L R. 38 Mad. 356

s. 73—Mortgages with possession, whether intermediate holder—His right to recover rent. A mortgagee with possession is an intermediate tenure-holder within the meaning of s. 73 of the Local Boards Act (V of 1884), and is entitled to recover rent by summary process. The tenant's liability to pay him is not abrogated by a contract to which he was not a party. JAGANNATHULU v. MANAGER OF NANDIGAM ESTATE (1914)

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD V OF 1884)—contd

s. 73—contd

I L R. 39 Mad. 289

ss 73, 74—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 77. I L R. 37 Mad. 319

s. 95—Taluk Board—Planting of trees along a road—Statutory duty—Branches of trees overhanging plaintiff's land—Omission to remove, if actionable—Non-feasance—Absence of negligence—Cause of action—English and Indian Law. Where a Taluk Board, acting under s. 95 of the Local Boards Act (V of 1884), planted, on the sides of a road certain trees, whose branches spread over the land of the plaintiff, who thereupon sued for an injunction directing the Board to lop off the branches. Held that the suit was not sustainable as (i) the Taluk Board in the discharge of its statutory duties had not acted carelessly or negligently, and (ii) the omission to remove the branches, even if it ought to have been done, is only a non-feasance for which no action at the instance of a private individual would lie. English and Indian Cases on the subject, reviewed. KRISHNAMOORTHY AIYAR v. THE TALUK BOARD OF MAYAVARAM (1918). I L R. 42 Mad. 331

s. 100—Order of a Taluk Board, to an owner to fill up a tank without regard to attendant circumstances, validity of. A Taluk Board passed an order under s. 100 of the Madras Local Boards Act (V of 1884) asking the owner of certain tanks to fill them up on the ground that they were in an insanitary condition without taking into consideration (1) that such condition was brought about not by any act of the owner, but by the Taluk Board allowing drainage water to escape into the tanks and (2) that filling up the tank was far more expensive than raising a bund all round the tanks which would have equally served the purpose. Held, that the power conferred by s. 100 of the Local Boards Act, though a very wide power must not be exercised for ulterior purposes, or in a capricious wanton and arbitrary manner, and, if so used can be controlled by the Civil Courts and that the order passed by the Board in this case was one that should be set aside. TALUK BOARD, BANDER v. ZEMINDAR OF CHELLAPALLI (1921).

I L R. 44 Mad. 168

MADRAS MOTOR VEHICLES ACT (MAD I OF 1907).

See TORTS I L R. 41 Mad. 538

MADRAS PERMANENT SETTLEMENTS

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CHES. ACT, 1865
I L R. 40 Mad. 886

See MADRAS REGULATION XXV OF 1802

MADRAS PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT (I OF 1903)

See PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT (MAD)

I L R. 36 Mad. 467

ss. 21 and 35—Breach of contract by master or labourer—Prosecution of master. Successive prosecutions and convictions, if permissible under the Act—Directions by the Magistrate to complete performance.—Successive directions, if permitted by the Act. Under s. 25 of the Madras Planters' Labour Act (I of 1903), the Magistrate has power to issue successive directions to a master labourer to complete the performance of his contract. Re Panja Madry, 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 417, disapproved from. Successive prosecutions can be instituted and convictions obtained against a master in respect of successive defaults made by him under s. 24, (a) (b) and (c) of the Act. Unwin v. Clarke, 1 L. R. 1 Q. B. 417, and Culler v. Turner, 9 Q. B. 592, followed. Whitton v. Niam Mad Maistry (1915) 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 889

MADRAS PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT (I OF 1903)—contd.

ss. 21 and 35—contd.

MADRAS PORT TRUST ACT (II OF 1905).

by-law 22—

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1883), s. 75 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 835

MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1934).

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 47

1 L. R. 41 Mad. 418

ss. 5 and 10 cl. (2)—Service inam—

Emolument, partition of, whether prohibited—Alienation, validity of—Subsequent suit for ejectment—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1902), s. 43—Ancestral property—Property inherited by maternal grandsons—Interest, nature of. The enfranchisement of a service inam under s. 10 cl. (2) of the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service Act (II of 1934) does not destroy the rights of any member of a joint family who has a hereditary interest in it. The alienation of a service inam is void and though it is subsequently enfranchised the alienee cannot invoke the aid of s. 43 of the Transfer of Property Act in his favour. Ramaswami Sankar v. Ramaswami Chetty, 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 255, Narayan Sita v. Siva Narayan Naidu (1913) Mal. W. N. 411 and Bala Ramayya v. Pharasathi (1913) Mal. W. N. 229, referred to. Property which devolves on daughter's sons from their maternal grandfather is ancestral property in which the grandsons take an interest by birth according to the Mitakshara law. Case reviewed. Ramappa v. Jagannadham (1915) 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 930

MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802).

See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

1 L. R. 36 Mad. 325

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ACT 1901

1 L. R. 40 Mad. 830

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (I OF 1908), s. 2

1 L. R. 38 Mad. 1108

See MADRAS PERMANENT SETTLEMENT

See UNATTAINED ESTATE

1 L. R. 41 Mad. 749

See REGULATION

17 C. W. N. 1221

ss. 3 and 4—Zamindar—Permanent settlement—Sansad—Construction of Sansad—Right of Government to resume inam lands. A sansad issued by the Government on August 21st 1902, to a zamindar in the Presidency of Madras (Trent) stated that in consideration of the relief which the ss. 3 and 4—contd.

MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802)—contd.

zamindar's finances would derive from the relinquishment of his military services, and of the Government charging itself with the duty of protecting his territories, "the British Government has fixed your annual contribution, including equivalent for military service and the established postkhush for every year at the sum of six pagodas 1 11 98, which said amount shall never be liable to changes under any circumstances." Cl. (5) reserved to the Government the revenue derived from salt and saltpetre, and certain other subjects, without making any mention of lakhurs or sum lands. It appeared from other documents that the assessment had been fixed on the whole zamindari, irrespective of the assets derived from each particular unit of property within it. Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 which was passed on July 13th, 1802 provided by s. 3 that in all cases of disputed assessment reference was to be had to the sansad and kabulats executed, and by s. 4 that the Government having reserved to itself certain articles of revenue including "lakhurs" lands (or inam) exempt from the payment of Government revenue) and of all other lands paying only favourable quit rents, the permanent assessment of the land tax shall be made exclusively of the said articles now recited." At the time of issue of the sansad there were in the zamindari certain religious and charitable inams and lakhurs lands granted by the zamindar or his predecessors. Held that having regard to the terms of the sansad, and the circumstances in which it was issued, the Government was not entitled to resume them or assess them to the public revenue. Judgment of the High Court affirmed. Secretary of State for India v. Raja of Venkatagiri (1921)

1 L. R. 44 Mad. (P.C.) 884

s. 4—Pre-settlement inam—Lands held on service tenure in addition to payment of quit rent—Service to Zamindar—Service quasi-public before settlements—In discontinuance thereafter—Resumption by Government, right of—Presumption—Onus of proof, as to exclusion prior to Settlement—Evidence Act (I of 1922) ss. 108 and 111, ill. (g). Where lands in a Zamindari were pre-settlement inams granted on condition of rendering personal service to the zamindar and paying a favourable quit-rent, and the Government resumed such inams on the ground of discontinuance of such services. Held, that as the grant was for services purely personal to the zamindar, prima facie the inams formed part of the assets of the zamindari and the zamindar, and not the Government, was entitled to resume. Held, also, that where such services are rendered in addition to quit rent, the proviso to s. 4, Regulation XXV of 1802, has no application. The onus of proving that such lands were excluded from the assets of the zamindari, and that the Government had the right to resume lay on them. Per TRAVIS, J.—The Government having special means of knowledge as to exclusion or otherwise, of these lands, at the settlement, from the Zamindar, the burden was upon them according to s. 109 of the Evidence Act and the necessary presumption against the non-production of the records in their possession should be drawn against them. See RAJA PARTHASARATHY APPA RAO BARADER v. SECRETARY OF STATE (1913)

1 L. R. 35 Mad. 620

MADRAS REGULATION (XXXI OF 1802).See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT, s 3*I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1012*MADRAS REGULATION (XI OF 1816).s. 10—Village Magistrate

—Power to sentence confinement—Village choultry—Confinement to be only in village choultry and nowhere else—Sentence of confinement before a temple, legality of— Under s 10 of Madras Regulation XI of 1816, the village magistrate has power to pass sentence of confinement only in the village choultry and not in front of a temple, although a public place. Criminal Revision Petition 190 of 1898 1 Weir, 924, referred to PONNUSAMI PILLAI in re (1921)

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 113MADRAS REGULATION (VII OF 1817).See CHARITABLE TRUST*I. L. R. 34 Mad. 375See MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT, 1894*I. L. R. 34 Mad. 333*MADRAS REGULATION (VI OF 1831)See PENSIONS ACT 1871, s 4*I. L. R. 36 Mad. 559See SERVICE INAM*I. L. R. 35 Mad. 705*MADRAS REGULATION (X OF 1831)See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT*I. L. R. 41 Mad. 733*MADRAS RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (X OF 1863).See CHARITABLE TRUST*I. L. R. 34 Mad. 375*MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865).See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1918), s 13, cl. (3)*I. L. R. 39 Mad. 84

Tenant, who is—Transfer puts an end to holding without notice to landlord—Tenant at the beginning of fasli is tenant for the fasli, notwithstanding subsequent transfer— A transfer of the holding by the tenant puts an end to the tenancy without notice to the landlord, unless the tenant under certain circumstances is estopped from denying its continuance. There is nothing in the Rent Recovery Act to warrant a contrary view. A tenant who is a tenant at the beginning of the fasli continues to be the tenant for the fasli, notwithstanding a subsequent transfer of the holding, and is liable to be proceeded against under the Rent Recovery Act. RAMASWAMI AYYANGAR v BRUNNIGAN PILLAI (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 179

Implied contract by ryot to pay enhanced rent—Consideration—Zemindar refraining from raising a hopeless dispute, if valid consideration—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s. 2—Payment of increased rent for several years, if estoppel ryot from challenging it—New plea not entertained by Privy Council— Where the contract of tenancy between zemindar and ryot was that the ryot was to hold the lands at the uniform punja rate of 4 fanams a guli, and was to remain in occupancy so long as circumstances affecting the holding remained unchanged otherwise than by the labour and outlay of the ryot himself, and the landlord pleaded that the tenant having subsequently (by making a well or tank at his own expense) resorted to "garden" cultivation thenceforward agreed to pay rent at 8 as. per guli, and that this contract to pay enhanced rent was to be implied from the fact of the zemindar having demanded and realised such rent for several years thereafter. Held, that the term "implied contract" as used in the Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) which governed the case was an English term of art and must be so construed. That there was no consideration for the promise to pay increased rent and the "implied contract" was not therefore enforceable. That the fact, if proved, of the zemindar having consented not to raise a hopeless and groundless dispute as to the right of the tenants to hold the lands at the 4 fanams rate would not be a valid consideration for the tenant's promise to pay enhanced rent. That in the absence of evidence showing an implied representation by the ryot of some existing fact on the faith of which the zemindar had changed his position, there was no estoppel in pais which would bind the ryot to pay the enhanced rent. The Judicial Committee refused to entertain new pleas for the first time raised before it, and held the Appellant to the position taken up in the lower Courts. JAGAVEERA RAMA VENKATESWARA ETTAPPA v ALAWARASA ASARI (1918) 23 C W N. 225 ss. 3, 11—Varam rate—Rate of rent, ascertaining of—Right of landlord to varam rate on wet crop raised on dry lands, when no contract for the rent chargeable— By agreement between the landlord and tenant, a permanent money rent was fixed for dry cultivation and the agreement provided for extra charge for wet and garden crops without however stating the amount of such charge. The land was subsequently cultivated with wet crop, without any assistance from the landlord and the tenants took objection to the varam rate claimed by the landlord. Held, that the landlord had the right to claim the varam rate, as there was no contract in regard to the rent payable for wet cultivation. The contract having left the rate for wet cultivation undetermined was not a contract within the meaning of s 11 of the Act. Where, under the circumstances the landlord becomes entitled to varam rate under s 11 of the Rent Recovery Act, his claim to such rate cannot be objected to on the ground that the rent is thereby increased and it is not necessary to obtain the sanction of the Collector. In the absence of contract or survey rates, the landlord is entitled to varam rate under cl 3 of the section. An enquiry to determine the rate according to local usage is not necessary to enable the landlord to claim varam rates. SIR RAJA BOMMADEVARA VENKAYA NARASIMHA NAYUDU v KASARANEVI CHINNA RAOYAPPA (1908)

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 12

Right of landlord to enhance rents on dry land cultivated with garden crop by wells dug at tenant's cost—No such right in the absence of a contract supported by consideration— Dry lands liable to pay a fixed rent were cultivated with garden crops by the tenant by means of wells excavated at his cost with the consent of the landlord. The landlord claimed, and the tenant for some years paid, an enhanced rate of rent for the crop so raised. In a suit by the tenant to compel the landlord to grant patta at the usual dry rate, it was contended for the landlord that a contract to pay the enhanced rate must be implied from the payment for a number of years of such rate and that such contract was supported by consideration as the landlord had consented to the digging of wells and as he had forbore from claiming the varum rate, which he had a right to do under s. 11, cl 3, of the Rent Recovery Act. There was no evidence that rent was chargeable according to the nature of the crop raised. Held, (i) that the word "contract" in s. 11 cannot be construed as a mere agreement but as an enforceable contract supported by consideration, (ii) that the consent of the landlord not being necessary to entitle the tenant to sink the well, such consent was no legal consideration for an agreement to pay the enhanced rate, (iii) that payment of a fixed rate of rent prior to the sinking of the wells was evidence of an implied contract to pay rent at that rate, and in the absence of evidence to show that the rate was fixed not on the holding but on the nature of the crop and was liable to be altered with a variation in the crop raised, that the existence of such a contract debared the landlord's claim to varum rates under s. 11, cl 3, of the Rent Recovery Act. The promise not to press such an un-enforceable claim was no legal consideration. ABEYLOAM CHETTIYER v. RAJA JAGANNATHA KAMA VENKATESWARA ETTAPPA MAHARAJA AJYAR (1910).

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1863)—*contd.*ss. 3, 11—contd.

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 134

ss. 4, 5, 16—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 623

s. 7—Distrain for larger amount than is legally due not good even for the amount due. Where, after tender by landlord and refusal by the tenant of a patta providing for a larger rent than is really due, the landlord distrains property of the tenant for such larger amount, such distrain will not hold good even for the amount properly claimable. VENKATA NARASIMHA NAIDU BHARADUR v. SAGGA S. MATHA (1911). I. L. R. 35 Mad. 139

s. 8—Tender of Pattas on produce sharing system.—Allegation by tenants that money system prevailed.—Prevalence of money rent for series of years.—Alleged express contract to make prevailing rate permanent.—Implied contract, presumption of.—Convenience in considering usage prevailing.—Remand of cases for determination of proper rate when no contract exists. The appellants, a samindar, brought suits against the respondents, the tenants in a village on his estate, under s. 9 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1863) to enforce patta tendered by him, and the execution of corresponding muchilka. The patta tendered were under the Asara, or produce sharing system, which the respondents denied was in force in their village, money rates, as they alleged, being the proper form of rent. It appeared that in 1299 (1889) different rates of rent prevailed in the village, some being higher than Rs. 5, and others lower, than in that year a uniform rate of Rs. 5 per acre was introduced by mutual agreement between the appellants and respondents, and leases were exchanged on that basis for a term of 5 years. The respondents alleged that the appellants at that time expressly agreed that the rate of Rs. 5 should be permanent. The High Court did not uphold the express agreement, but found there was an implied contract to be inferred from the fact that rents at the same rate were paid and received for four years after the expiration of the term fixed by the leases of 1293, the presumption being that such rate of rent should continue the same in perpetuity. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that there was, alongside of the express contract embodied in the leases exchanged between the parties, no proof of any such collateral implied agreement relating to fixity of rent. Any understanding of the kind was denied by the appellants, and no credible explanation was given by the respondents why, if it existed, such an important arrangement was not reduced to writing. Whilst agreeing with the High Court that it was not open to Courts to imply, from the mere circumstance that the rent had been paid in money for a series of years, an agreement to pay money rent, their Lordships saw no reason why the fact that money rent had prevailed in a particular locality for a considerable number of years might not form an element in the consideration of usage. The real question between the parties not having been decided, namely, whether the patta tendered by the appellants were such as he was entitled to impose on the respondents, a question which, it having been found that there was no express or implied contract, must be decided in accordance with the rules contained in cl (iii) of s. 11 of Act VIII of 1863 which dealt with the mode of determining the rate when no contract exists, their Lordships remanded the cases to the proper Court in India to determine under those provisions the rates the appellants were entitled to receive. PARTHASARATHY APPA ROW v. CHANDRA VENKATA NARAYAN (1910).

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1863)—*contd.*s. 9—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 177

ss. 9 and 10—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, SCH. II, ART. 110

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 438

s. 11—

See s. 3. I. L. R. 43 Mad. 1074

See PATTAS

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 4

Payment of enhanced rent.—Implied contract.—Absence of consideration. The Madras Rent Recovery Act, 1863, s. 11, among rules to be observed in the decision of suits regarding rates of rent, provides "all contracts for rent, express or implied, shall be enforced." A tenant of dry lands sank a well at his own cost and there after cultivated the land with garden crops. Prior to the sinking of the well the tenant had always paid a uniform rent on a dry basis, subsequently the landlord claimed and the tenant for some years paid, an enhanced rent, namely, at the garden crop rate. In a suit by the tenant to obtain patta at the usual dry rate. Held, that there was an implied contract to pay rent at the dry rate and that there was no consideration to support an implied contract to pay at the enhanced rate; further, that to construe the original contract as a contract to pay at the dry rate only so long as the land remained dry, having the subsequent rent to depend upon the produce, would be repugnant to the Act JAGANNATHA RAMA ETTAPPA v ARUMUGAM CHETTI (1918). . . I L R 45 I A 195

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)—contds 11—contd

ss 33, 35, 39 and 40—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), s 22, I L R. 38 Mad. 837

ss 49, 78—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), 13, cl. (3) I L R 39 Mad. 239

s 69—

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL I L R 37 Mad 443

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD. II OF 1864).

ss 1, 42—Sale for arrears of water-cess due under Madras Act VII of 1865—Discharge of encumbrances Under s 42 of Madras Act II of 1864 (Revenue Recovery Act), a sale for arrears of water cess due under Madras Act VII of 1865 conveys a title to the purchaser free of encumbrances water cess being included in the term "public revenue" as per s 1 of Madras Act II of 1864. Cases relating to sales for arrears of income tax and abkari revenue have no bearing on this question VELLAPPAYAL ANBALAM v KARUPPIAN PILLAI (1911). . . I L R 37 Mad. 49 ss 2, 5, 42—Provisions of s 42 not confined to land on which the arrears become due—Land mortgaged by defaulter does not cease to be his property Land belonging to the defaulter does not, because mortgaged by him, cease to be his property within the meaning of s 5 of Act II of 1864. There is nothing in s 2 or 5 to restrict the land that may be sold thereunder to the land in which the arrears of revenue have accrued. When therefore land belonging to the defaulter is sold for arrears accruing due on their lands belonging to him, the sale under s 42 of the Act is free of all encumbrances. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v PISHAYAT SIV KARATYA (1910). . . I L R 34 Mad. 493 ss 3 to 5, 26—Defaulter, who is Registered proprietor is defaulter in respect of arrears accrued before registry The Madras Revenue Recovery Act lays the obligation to pay the revenue including all the arrears on every land holder irrespective of the time when he becomes the holder and if he does not do so he becomes a defaulter. A person, on being registered as the holder, becomes a defaulter in respect of arrears accrued before the registry, as if he were the registered owner when the arrears fell due. HOTA SUBHAYA KUPPA GARU v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912). . . I L R 35 Mad. 555 ss 3, 35—'Defaulter' who is—Defaulter means registered pattadar—Contract Act, s 69 Where one person is the real owner of a share in land and another is the registered proprietor of the whole, the latter and not the former is the 'defaulter' within the meaning of the Revenue Recovery Act, and where the latter as mortgagee of a share of the land not owned by the former has paid the arrears of revenue due on the whole land and the former has paid the revenue, of his share, he cannot, being himself the defaulter, recover the amount from the former under s 35 of the Revenue Recovery Act. The latter cannot recover under s 69 of the Contract Act as the former is not bound by law to pay the money which the latter has paid. SUBRAMANIAM CHETTI v MAHALINGASAMI SIVAN (1909)

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD. II OF 1864)—contdss. 3, 35—contd

I L R. 33 Mad. 41

ss 32 and 42—

See MUTT, HEAD OF I L R. 38 Mad. 356

ss. 37 (A), 38 and 59—Sale for arrears of revenue—Applicability of Act s 37 (A) and 59—Dismissal by Deputy Collector and Collector—Confirmation of sale, whether final—Application to Board of Revenue—Powers of general supervision of Board of Revenue—Power to direct Collector to cancel sale—Cancellation by Collector—Adultery of title of purchaser, whether affected—Suit by purchaser for possession—Limitation—Material irregularity—Proof of substantial loss—Madras Regulations I, II of 1863 and VII of 1828 The plaintiff purchased the suit lands in a revenue auction sale held under the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864). A petition to set aside the sale under s 37 (A) of the Act was filed by the defaulter before the Deputy Collector and was dismissed, another petition under s 38 (2) of the Act was also dismissed by the Deputy Collector who confirmed the sale, the District Collector also confirmed the sale, the first defendant then filed a petition before the Board of Revenue to set aside the sale. The Board of Revenue in the exercise of their powers of general supervision, directed the Collector to cancel the sale which was accordingly cancelled by him. The plaintiff thereupon instituted this suit to recover possession of the suit lands more than six months after the order cancelling the sale. The first defendant pleaded that the sale was validly cancelled by the Collector, that the suit was barred by limitation under s 53 of Act II of 1864, and that the sale should have been set aside on account of material irregularity. Held, that when a Collector is empowered by a statute to pass a certain order, it is not open to the Board of Revenue having only general powers of supervision over him to direct him to pass a special order contrary to that he had already passed, that the order cancelling the sale, though purporting to be passed by the Collector, was really the order of the Board of Revenue who had no power under Act II of 1864 to pass such an order, that after an order under s 38 (3) was passed by the Deputy Collector and confirmed by the Collector, it became final under that section, and neither of them had power under the Act to pass any further order, that the suit was not barred by limitation as s 59 of Act II of 1864 was not applicable for the reason that the order complained of was passed wholly without jurisdiction and not under any power conferred by the Act, and that, on the merits, the sale should not have been set aside, as no substantial loss was proved to be due to the irregularity. SUNDARAM AYYAN GAR v RAMASWAMI AYYANAR (1918)

I L R. 41 Mad. 955

s 59—

See LIMITATION. I L R 38 Mad 92

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD. II OF 1861)—*contd.*s. 59—*contd.*See MUTT HEAL &

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 336

Sale of a minor's ryot *was land-holder's lands for arrears of revenue, validity of—Madras Regulation (X of 1831), s. 2—Wrong entry of minor's mother as patta holder instead of minor, effect of—Suit to set aside revenue sale more than six months after sale, whether barred by limitation. On the death of a ryotwar landholder the Revenue authorities erroneously registered his widow as the patta holder instead of the plaintiff his minor adopted son. In default of payment of revenue having occurred the lands were sold for arrears of revenue during plaintiff's minority and he then sued to set aside the revenue sale and recover the land within twelve years of the sale but more than six months after attaining majority. Held by the Full Bench, (a) that s. 2 of Madras Regulation X of 1831 which prohibits the sale for arrears of revenue of minor's property applies to all lands of minors whether permanently settled or only ryotwar, whether the lands be considerable or so small as not to be taken charge of by the Court of Wards; (b) that the sale being ultra vires, the special period of limitation of six months prescribed by s. 59 of the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1861) did not apply to the suit and (c) that the fact that the Revenue authorities mistakenly registered the plaintiff's adoptive mother as patta holder did not in any way affect him. Arishan v. Melam Perumal I. L. R. 10 Mad. 41, considered. Subramania Chetty v. Mahalingam Sivas I. L. R. 33 Mad. 41, distinguished. Secretary of State v. Ishamurthy I. L. R. 13 Mad. 59, followed. Bhanti Natha Attayar Govindasawami Padayathi (1918)*

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 733

MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT (MAD IV OF 1897)

s. 11—*Decision of Survey Officer, on dispute as to boundary, not set aside on appeal or by suit within one year, effect of—Continued possession of unsuccessful party effect of—A decision of a Survey Officer passed under s. 11 of the Madras Survey and Boundaries Act (IV of 1897) on a dispute arising between two parties as to the boundary of a certain property, is final and conclusive as to the rights of the parties if not set aside either on appeal or by a suit brought within one year and it is none the less so, because the unsuccessful party who was in possession on the date of the order was not subsequently ousted from possession. Arasammal v. Ichayya, I. L. R. 2 Mad. 306, distinguished. MUTHURELANDI PUDSARI v. SETHURAM AYYAR (1918)*

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 423

s. 12—*Land with shifting boundaries—Dimagras—Lease—Lease, rights of—Where the boundaries of land to be leased are of a shifting character, the prospective lessee is entitled to rely upon the area stated in the lease and to be put into possession of an area which approximates to that which is mentioned in the lease. Iyo Durga Prasad Singh v. Rajendra Narain Singh, 10 O. J. 570, applied. Where the lessor is unable to put the lessee into possession of the area stipulated in the lease, he is liable to compensate the lessee by way of damages. Where the alteration to the land takes place after the lessee has been* put into possession the rule would be different. PENNAIRASU VENNIAH v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) ss. 12 and 13—*Decision of a Survey Officer. Finality of decision—Decision whether final for all or for what purposes—Effect of word final—s. 12, suby. (3). The effect of s. 12, suby. (3) of the Survey and Boundaries Act is to make the orders of a Survey Officer in cases falling under that section final for the purposes of the survey but it does not purport to preclude the land owners altogether from afterwards disputing its correctness in a Court of Law, unless there was a dispute before the Survey Officer and the order is one to which s. 13 of the Act applies. McArdlands Ponnai v. Sathuram Ayyar (1912); I. L. R. 42 Mad. 475 (F.B.), explained. CHINNA VENKATRAYUDH v. HANAMANTH (1921)*

MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT (MAD. IV OF 1897)—*contd.*s. 12—contd.

I. L. R. 31 Mad. 103

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 86

MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCES ACT (MAD. III OF 1859)

*Held, that a Public Place was one where the Public go whether they have a right to do so or not. It is sufficient to constitute a place a public one even if only a section of the general public goes there. In this case the compound of a Hindu Temple. *KRAO PETERSON v. MUSA I. L. R. 40 Mad. 537

s. 3 (10)—Gaming—*and public place, meaning of—The accused in this case held for stakes a game called 'Ring' in an open space in the compound of a Hindu temple. In convicting the accused under s. 3 (10) of the Madras Towns Nuisance Act (III of 1859), on the grounds that the place was a public place and the game was a game within the meaning of the above section as it was played for stakes. Held, (a) "Gaming," generally and in s. 3 (10) means "playing for stakes," (b) a public place is one where the public go whether they have a right to or not; it is sufficient to constitute a place a public one even if only a section of the general public such as Hindus have a right to go to it; and (c) the character of the game as one of skill or chance is not material under the section. Hars Singh v. Jedu Nandan Singh, I. L. P. 31 Cal. 442, followed. KRAO PETERSON v. MUSA (1916)*

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 556

ss. 6 and 7—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 517.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 644

MADRAS UNIVERSITY.

Regulation 64—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877).
 s. 45. I. L. R. 40 Mad. 125

MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT (I OF 1889)

s. 24—Order of Deputy Collector debarring one from appearing as plaintiff for parties in village Courts, ultra vires—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42—Suits for declaration of validity of order, maintainability of—Under s. 24 of the Madras Village Courts Act (I of 1889) any person holding a vakalatnama from a party may appear and plead in a village court, and there is no provi-

MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT (I OF 1889)

—could

— s 21—could

sion in the Act for debarring any one from this privilege. The power of removing suspending and dismissing village munsifs conferred on Divisional officers does not include the power of debarring a person from acting as a vakil for a party in village courts. A suit for a declaration that an order debarring one from acting as vakil for another in village courts is void is maintainable though it may not be covered by s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877). RAMACHANDRA RAO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915)

I L R 39 Mad. 808

MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)

Where a right to take water is proved even though no express agreement on behalf of Government not to levy a charge is proved an engagement under Act VII of 1865 will be implied and no cess can be levied. SRI RAJAH SETHUPATHI RAJU v SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 39 Mad. 67

MAFI

— not rent—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 133
I Pat L J 504

MAGISTRATESee CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

S 520 I L R 35 Bom 253

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTSee JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES

— acting in two capacities—

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
I L R 37 Cal 221

— an executive officer—

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) s 3 (I) pro viso I L R 33 Mad 1184

— compelling attendance of witness—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
I L R 33 Cal 24

— deciding question whether he has jurisdiction—

See PRACTICE
I L R 37 Bom 144

— duty of—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Cal 105See COMMITMENT I L R 42 Cal 608See CONDOMINIUM I L R 45 Cal 816See SECRECY I L R 43 Cal 1024

— inquiry by—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 209 I L R 35 Bom 163

— in insolvency—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) ss 17 103 and 104
I L R 35 Bom 63

— Jurisdiction of—

See COSTS I L R 47 Cal 974

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 188
I L R 41 Bom 667

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
I L R 43 Cal 882

MAGISTRATE—could — Jurisdiction of—could

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 39 Cal 164

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) ss
178 (a) 130 I L R 43 Bom 688

— power and duties of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 206 I L R 37 All 355

s 145 I L R 37 All 654

See MAGISTRATE (POWER OF)See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 47 Cal 164, 597

— offering bribe to—

See ABETMENT OF AN ABETMENT

I L R 46 Cal 607

— on tour—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 41 Cal 806

— order of forfeiture passed by—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 40 Bom 200

— Power of—

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 47 Cal 597

I CHANGE IN BENCH OF DURING TRIAL.

*Magistrate committing case has not heard at the evidence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 530. Where the trial of the accused was commenced before a Bench of four Magistrates who heard part of the evidence and continued before the same four Magistrates and another who had joined as the fifth and all the five Magistrates deliver judgment convicting the accused. Held that the conviction was valid and that there must be a retrial. Re SUBRAMANIA AYYAR (1913)
I L R 38 Mad 304

II JURISDICTION OF

1. Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 100 552—Jurisdiction of first class Magistrate upon an application under s 552 of the Code to issue a search warrant under s 100 as a fresh complaint of facts alleging wrongful confinement—Warrant under s 100 drawn up on a printed form used under s 98 with the necessary alterations—Presumption that such alterations were made—Destruction of original warrant by the accused—Resistance to execution of such warrant and arrest on the police—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 147 and 332. Where on an application made under s 552 of the Criminal Procedure Code to a Magistrate of the first class he examined the applicant on oath recorded a statement of facts alleging wrongful detention of his wife and directed the issue of a search warrant under s 100. Held, that he had jurisdiction to do so. A search warrant under s 100 of the Code drawn up in the absence of a printed form of warrant there under on a printed form used under s 98 with the necessary alterations is not illegal. Bisw Halder v Probation Chunder Chuckerberty 6 C L J 127, distinguished. Where the original warrant was in such a case not produced at the trial owing to its destruction by the accused at the time of its execution. Held, that it must be taken that it contained the substance of s. 100 and that the necessary alterations were made. GORA MAHAJI v. ABDUL MAJID (1911)

MAGISTRATE—contd.

I L R 33 Cal 403

2. ————— *Deputy Magistrate in charge of the office of the District Magistrate at his quarters—Subordination of the Sub-divisional Magistrate to such Deputy Magistrate—Power of latter after taking cognizance and examining the complainant on oath to direct a local investigation by the former—Irregularity, effect of—Power of the same to dismiss the complaint and order the prosecution of the complainant on evidence taken at the investigation and on the report of the Sub-divisional Officer—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1938) s. 12, 200, 203, 476 and 529 (1). A Sub-divisional Magistrate is not under s. 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code subordinate to a Deputy Magistrate appointed to act in the district within the definition of the local limits of jurisdiction on who was in charge of the office of the District Magistrate at head-quarters during the latter's absence on tour and such Deputy Magistrate cannot therefore, after taking cognizance of an offence committed in the sub-division and examining the complainant on oath direct a local investigation by the Sub-divisional Magistrate, nor can he thereafter dismiss the complaint, and order the prosecution of the complainant under s. 476 of the Code on such report and the evidence taken at the investigation. Section 529 (1) does not in the circumstances confer jurisdiction on the Deputy Magistrate to make such orders of dismissal and prosecution but vests the Sub-divisional Magistrate with such power of the case and the latter alone can inquire into it and pass final orders. LALIT HOSEIN v. EMPEROR (1912)

I L R 39 Cal 1041

3. ————— Where a complaint was filed by a Sub-Inspector of Police before the Sub-divisional Magistrate of an offence under s. 399 of the Penal Code and the facts disclosed also an offence under s. 4 (b) of the Explosive Substances Act (VI of 1908) of which the Magistrate could not then take cognizance for want of the consent of Government under s. 7 and a complaint was subsequently filed by the Superintendent of Police with such consent before the Additional District Magistrate. Held that the latter had jurisdiction to take cognizance of the offence and that the institution and continuation of the proceedings by him were legal notwithstanding that he had not withdrawn the original case to his own file. Held, also that in any case having regard to ss. 521 to 531 of the Criminal Procedure Code unless it appeared that the proceedings wrongly held had in fact occasioned a failure of justice they could not be set aside and that s. 309 requires opinions of assessors to be given orally. LALIT CHANDRA CROWDERY v. EMPEROR

I L R 39 Cal 119

III. POWERS OF.

District Magistrate power of to cancel bond for keeping the peace or for good behaviour—Order directing prosecution for using forged rent-receipts in a proceeding before a subordinate Magistrate, for keeping the peace, and for abetment thereof—“Judicial proceeding”

MAGISTRATE—contd.

*Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1938) s. 4 (m), 125, 476. Section 125 of the Criminal Procedure Code gives the District Magistrate the power to cancel a bond for keeping the peace for reasons which appear to him sufficient but not the right to hear an appeal from an order in a proceeding under s. 107 passed by a subordinate Magistrate. A District Magistrate has no jurisdiction under s. 476 of the Code to direct a prosecution for dishonestly using a forged document and for abetment in respect of rent receipts filed before a subordinate Magistrate in a case under s. 107 of the Code which has been disposed of by him under s. 125, the proceeding under which is not a “judicial proceeding”. DAYAVATH TRIKUR v. EMPEROR (1909)

I L R 37 Cal 72

A Magistrate may, on taking cognizance of a complaint issue either a summons under s. 94 or a search warrant under s. 96 of the Criminal Procedure Code but is not competent to pass an order directing the police to take possession of account books forming the subject of the charge. If the Magistrate, after first having examined the complainant under s. 200 is not satisfied that process should issue, he can under s. 202, either hold an inquiry and take evidence himself, or direct a local investigation by a subordinate officer. After ordering a police investigation he may if dissatisfied with the materials personally make a further inquiry and take evidence or direct a further local investigation but not an inquiry and report by another Magistrate. If he thinks it proper to send the case to a Magistrate for inquiry, other than a local investigation, he should transfer it under s. 192 to the latter for disposal, and not for a report. Where the complainant made no specific allegations of facts in the complaint but stated in his examination on investigation under s. 202 that when the jabba books were first opened the title pages contained the name of his son as a partner, and that he later discovered that a substitution of pages had been made showing the name of his father in law as a partner and the statements in the complaint and such examination were not consistent as to the names originally entered, and he was contradicted by his only witness in several particulars and his story was not supported by the original deed of partnership or the payment of the contributions it was held that the proceedings must be quashed as the materials before the Magistrate disclosed no offence. *Criminal Revision, No. 835 of 1910 against the order of D. Srinibho, Officiating Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta, dated June 7, 1910. Jagat Chandra Mazumdar v. Queen Empress (1) Choa Lal Dass v. Anand Pershad Mitter (2) and Chandi Pershad v. Abdur Rahman (3) referred to. See also A title page in an account book containing the names of the partners and the amount of the capital contributed by each is, if signed by them, a “valuable security” within s. 30 of the Penal Code. HARI CHARAN GORAI v. GIRISH CHANDRA SADRUKHAN

I L R 35 Cal 68

IV. TRANSFER OF

Inquiry—Continuance of inquiry by another Magistrate without the examination of the witnesses de novo—Criminal Procedure Code Act (V of 1938) s. 145, 350, 353 of the Criminal Procedure Code applies to an inquiry

MAGISTRATE—contd

under s 115 Where a Magistrate who has commenced a criminal enquiry is transferred and the District Magistrate has made over the case to another Magistrate the latter has power under s 350 of the Code to proceed with the trial without examining the witnesses de novo ANUSHE KHAN FEROZ (1910) I L R 37 Cal 812

MAHA BRAHMIN

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 60
I L R 41 All 656

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 6 58 I L R 33 All 196

Agreement as to distribution of offerings—Construct of agreement
The members of a family of Maha Brahmins entered into an agreement amongst themselves whereby certain members of the family were to take the offerings made on certain days of the month, and the other members of the family the offerings made on the other days. Held by BANERJI and LYALL, JJ (PICKARDS C J dissenting) that the effect of such an agreement was that if an offering was made to a member of the family on a day which belonged to the other branch he was bound to account for it to the branch to which the day belonged. Per RICHARDS C J—Such an agreement as above described would not prevent a person who wished to do so from making a special individual gift to a member of the family even on a day which was appropriated by the agreement to the other branch. Doorga Peshad v Budree 6 N W P H C 189 191 and Oochi v Ulfat I L R 20 All 231 referred to SONA DEVI v FAKIR CHAND (1913) I L R 35 All 412

Right of tresspass to alms
Apart from the possession of specific property—Suit for declaration and injunction—Cause of action—Act No I of 1877 (Specific Relief Act) ss 42 and 54 Certain Maha Brahmins alleging that the collection of alms by them at a particular spot on the banks of the Ganges had been interfered with by the defendants who were Gangaputras sued the Gangaputras claiming first a declaration of their right to receive offerings at the particular place named, and secondly an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with their so doing. Held that as the giving of such offerings was a purely voluntary act and the receipt thereof was not claimed in virtue of the possession on by the plaintiffs of any temple or other holy place to which people were in the habit of resorting the plaintiffs had no cause of action on which would support the suit. BANSTI v KAN HAIYA. I L R 43 All 159

MAHAD

See HINDU LAW—MITAKSHARA
I L R 40 Bom 621

MAHAL

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 37 (d)
I L R 36 All 231

MAHANT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s 11 et seq I L R 35 All 474

MAHANT—contd

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 37 All 298
I L R 43 Cal 707

Held that a Mahant is entitled to grant a lease of Math Lands in the ordinary course of management. MA ANTH JAI KRISHNA PURI v BHUKAI AL GOPE

6 Pat L J 638

MAHAP WATAN LAND

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s 4 (a)
I L R 43 Bom 277

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1874) ss 10 and 13
I L R 35 Bom 146

MAHOMEDAN

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH. I ART 127 I L R 41 Bom 589

Ahmadias and Khadiwas—Disenters right of to worship in a mosque used by orthodox Muhammadans—whether dissenters are entitled to choose their own Imam
The sect known as Ahmadis or Khadiwas are Muhammadans notwithstanding the fact pronounced dissent on several important matters from the orthodox Muhammadan faith. The Khadiwas are entitled to enter a mosque if they please and to offer up prayers with the regular congregant and behind the recognized Imam but they are not entitled to pray as a separate congregant on behind an Imam of their own in a mosque which has always been used by orthodox Muhammadans. HAKIM KHALIL AHMAD v MALIK ISRAFI 2 Pat L J 108

MAHOMEDAN FAMILY

See DECREE I L R 43 Bom 412

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ss 6 7 and ART 144
I L R 43 Bom 487

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 378

Breach of promise of marriage—

See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 499

MAHOMEDAN LAW

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT
I L R 45 Bom 75

Death—presumption as to—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1892 s 108
I L R 43 All 672

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF SONSHIP	COLD 2783
ADOPTION	2 83
ALIENATION	2784
B GAMY	2 86
CONVERSION	2786
CUSTOM	2 86
DIVORCE	2787
DOWER	2789
ENDOWMENT	95
GIFT	2801
GLADIATOR	2807
HUSBAND AND WIFE	2808

MAHOMEDAN LAW—contd

INTERFERENCE	2409
JOINT FAMILY	2409
LE ITTAKAT	2410
MAINTENANCE	2411
MARRIAGE	2412
MOROR	2412
MUTAWALLA	2418
POWERS OF ATTORNEY	2419
PROSECUTION OFFICE	2422
PROSECUTION OF CONFIDENTIAL PARTIES	2424
RALE	2425
RECESSION	2425
TRUST	2425
WAKF	2430
WIDOW	2430
WILL	2431
WIDOWSHIP	2433

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SONSHIP

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

Knowledge of illegitimacy—Effect on acknowledgment. A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son, a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

Knowledge of illegitimacy—Effect on acknowledgment. A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son, a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

Knowledge of illegitimacy—Effect on acknowledgment. A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son, a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

28 C. W. N. 31

Knowledge of illegitimacy—Effect on acknowledgment. A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son, a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

I. L. R. 1 LAH. 223

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION (1715). I. L. R. 23 Cal. 418

Adoption—Effect on adoption. A Mahomedan cannot legally adopt a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION—contd

necessary consequence of conversion the law of adoption recognized by Hindu Law has been abandoned by him. He who alleges that the usage and law in question had been retained must prove it. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION (1715). I. L. R. 35 Bom. 264

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

See *MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION*See *MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION*See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

I. L. R. 45 Cal. 878

Alienation—Effect on adoption. A Mahomedan cannot legally adopt a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 217

Alienation—Effect on adoption. A Mahomedan cannot legally adopt a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must not be merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship, but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances. See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY (1715). I. L. R. 43 Bom. 28

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION—contd.

attaining his majority to treat the transaction of the 15th of June, 1830, as being void as against him Held, also, that the possession of the appellant did not become adverse to the respondent until the expiry of the term of the mortgage of 1835, namely, the 2nd of December, 1893, and therefore the suit was not barred by the 12 years' period provided by Article 144 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Article 44, Schedule II, of the same Act was not applicable, as the sale was made not by a guardian but by an unauthorized person MATA DIN v AHMAD ALI (1912) . . . I L R 34 All 213

Private sale by one of several heirs of a deceased Mahomedan, in possession of the estate, for discharging a debt binding on the estate, not binding on co heirs or other creditors of the deceased When one of the co heirs of a deceased Mahomedan in possession of the whole or part of the estate of the deceased, sells property in his possession forming part of the estate for discharging the debts of the deceased such sale is not binding on the other co heirs or creditors of the deceased Pathumathi v Vittal Ummachadi, I L R 26 Mad 734, overruled Hasan Ali v Mehdi Hussain, I L R 1 All 533, dissented from Quare Whether a decree against one of the heirs of a deceased Mahomedan binds the others ABDUL MAJEETH v. KRISHNAMACHARIAR (1916) . . . I L R 40 Mad 243

Unlawful alienation of endowed property by mutawallis of mosque—Ahl-i-masjid, a daily worshippers, if may sue for declaration that alienation void without special damage—Representative suit if hee, under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O 1, r 8—S 92 of the Code or s 14 of Act XX of 1863, if bare suit A suit brought by two worshippers of a mosque for themselves and as representing other worshippers in the locality for a declaration that a permanent lease granted by the mutawallis is void and inoperative is maintainable, the requirements of O 1 r 8, having been complied with by the plaintiffs. No special damage need be alleged or proved for the maintainability of such a suit, since worshippers living in the vicinity of a mosque have rights as daily worshippers to it over and above those possessed by the Mahomedan public and have a more direct interest in its maintenance and in the proper administration of the properties endowed for its benefit S 14 of Act XX of 1863 contemplates a suit instituted primarily against the Trustee, Manager or Superintendent of a mosque, temple or religious establishment or the members of any committee appointed under that Act, and the only relief that can be asked for in such a suit is a decree directing the specific performance of any act by such Trustee, Manager, etc., a decree for damages and costs against them and a decree directing their removal A suit under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code is primarily a suit against a Trustee and can only be instituted either on the ground that there has been a breach of trust or that direction of the Court is necessary for the administration of the trust In the present case the mere fact that the Trustee was a defendant in the suit did not attract the application of s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code, since no relief was claimed against him, nor was the Court asked to give any direction for the administration of the trust ABRAHAM ALI v MAHOMMAD AL-KHOLJONA (1918) . . . 23 C W. N. 115

MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY.

Effect of apostasy of husband after marriage, and reconversion to Islam during the period of iddat—Second marriage of the wife with another man during such period—Alet ment—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss 494 and 494 Under the Mahomedan Law the marriage of a man, who subsequently embraces Christianity becomes ipso facto void, notwithstanding his reconversion to Islam during the period of iddat, and the wife, in contracting a second marriage during such period, does not commit bigamy under s. 494 of the Penal Code Per HOLMWOOD, J—A second marriage contracted by the wife during the period of her iddat is not void by reason of its taking place during the life of the first husband, but by reason of a special doctrine of the Mahomedan Law with which the Penal Code has nothing to do Where the parties have acted in good faith or what they believe to be a sound interpretation of a very difficult point of Mahomedan Law even though they are mistaken, the consequences cannot be visited upon them in a Criminal Court in a trial for bigamy ABDUL GHANI v ABIZUL HUQ (1911) . . . I L R 39 Calc 409

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CONVERSION*See JURISDICTIONI L R 35 Bom 264See MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMYI L R 39 Calc 409

Marriage—Conversion of wife to Christianity—Dissolution of marriage—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights Under the Mahomedan Law a wife a conversion from Islam to Christianity effects a complete dissolution of marriage with her Mahomedan husband The fact of such a conversion is therefore a bar to a suit by the husband for restitution of conjugal rights Zuburdul Kfan v His wife 2 A W P H C Rep 370, and Imamdin v Hasan Bibi Punj Rec (1906) 309, followed AMIS BEO v SAMAN (1910) . . . I L R 33 All 90

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM*See CUSTOMSee CLTCH MEMOIRSI L R 41 Bom 181Exclusion of daughters—See CUSTOM* I L R 45 Calc 450of Pre-emption—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION*

Subbas of Coimbatore district—Right of succession—Exclusion of females—Custom—Petition of rule of Hindu Law—Pecol of Custom, standard of—Family Custom proof of—Abandonment of Custom Among the Subbas of the Coimbatore district who are Hindu converts to Mahomedanism a custom prevails under which they retain the rule of Hindu Law which excludes females from the right of succession Murali v Vellayanna 1 J R S Mch 464, and Kunjomla v Kalandhar, 27 Mad J J 150, referred to It is open to them to abandon the custom and follow the ordinary rule of Mahomedan Law Jaisankar Singh v Pampay Surma Moosoodar, 1 J 1 1 Calc 186, referred to Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J.—Custom in its legal sense means a rule excep-

MAHOMEDAN LAW—contd

	COLN
INTESTANCE	2809
JOINT FAMILY	2809
LEGITIMACY	2810
MAINTENANCE	2811
MARRIAGE	2812
MINOR	2817
MUTAWALLI	2818
PRE-EMPTION	2819
RELIGIOUS OFFICE	2823
RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS	2824
SALE	2825
SUCCESSION	2825
TRUST	2827
WAKF	2830
WIDOW	2839
WILL	2841
WORSHIP	2843

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SONSHIP.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

Acknowledgment of legitimate sonship—Inference of acknowledgment. A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son, a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must be not merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances justifying that inference. USMANIYA V VALI MAHOMED (1915) I L R 40 Bom. 23

Acknowledgment as son, what is necessary to its validity—Valid acknowledgment, operates as declaration of legitimacy and not as legitimization—Presumption of fact, rebuttable by proof of impossibility of marriage or no marriage—Concurrent findings of fact. In Mahomedan law, the acknowledgment by one person of another as his legitimate son is of no avail, in the face of a finding that there was no marriage. In Mahomedan law, such an acknowledgment is a declaration of legitimacy and not a legitimization—a declaration which though it cannot be withdrawn may be contradicted. BYED HANIF V RABIA CHOWDHURY V BYED ALI CHOWDHURY

20 C. W. N. 81

Acknowledgment by a father of a son by a female slave legitimizes the boy in the absence of direct proof that no marriage had taken place. The law requires to declare a man a bastard except on the clearest evidence. IBRAHIM ALI KHAN V Mst MURARIK BEGUM

I L R 1 Lah. 220

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION

See CUSTOM I L R 39 Cal. 418

Adoption by a convert from Hinduism—Custom of adoption—Furder of proof. The Mahomedan Law does not recognize adoption. Hence, where a Hindu is converted to Mahomedanism, the presumption is that as a necessary consequence of conversion the law of adoption recognized by Hindu Law has been abandoned by him. He who alleges that the usage and law in question had been retained must prove it. BAT MACHIMRAY V BAT HIRBAT (1911)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION—contd

I L R 35 Bom. 264

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN*See* MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR*See* MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 45 Cal. 878

Minor—Right to sell minor's property—Necessity—Bond fide purchaser without notice. By a deed of conveyance dated 19th January 1904 one N purported to convey on behalf of herself and her minor son, the plaintiff, certain immovable property to the defendant for the consideration of ₹1000. On the same day N passed an indemnity bond in favour of the defendant indemnifying him against the claim of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued to have the said deed of conveyance declared void and for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to the whole of the property purported to be conveyed. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed on the grounds (i) there was absolutely no evidence that the sale was in any way necessary for the maintenance of the minor, (ii) the purchaser was not a bond fide purchaser without notice of the plaintiff's rights. The purchaser of an estate who takes with notice of a breach of trust is in the same position as the vendor who committed the breach of trust. FAKIRUDDIN V ABDUL HUSSAIN (1910)

I L R. 35 Bom. 217

Guardian—Construction of will—Alienation of property of minor by his brothers acting as executors of will and guardians of minor—Sale not binding on minor—Right of suit to redeem mortgage—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Schedule II, Articles 44 and 44 A. A Mahomedan testator by his will left all his property to his four grandsons (brothers) but did not expressly appoint any executors of his will or guardians of such of his grand children as might be minors at his death nor was there in the will any intention to entrust the administration of the property to any particular individuals. The testator died in 1847 and on the 15th of June 1899 the three elder grandsons on their own behalf and purporting to act also as the guardians of the fourth grandson, the respondent (plaintiff) then a minor sold some of the property to the appellant (defendant). The appellant was a mortgagee of two villages on the estate under two mortgages executed by the testator on the 2nd of December 1837, and the 7th of August 1838 for ten years and seven years respectively, and the effect of the sale had been to pay off the later mortgage on the smaller village, and other debts, by selling the larger village to the mortgagee. The respondent attained his majority in 1892 or 1893, and treating the sale of the 15th of June 1891, as a nullity, and the mortgage as still subsisting he tendered to the appellant the amount of mortgage money necessary to redeem the larger village, and on the appellant refusing to accept it, brought a suit for redemption on the 14th of September, 1905. Held that the elder brothers were not authorized either by the will or by the Mahomedan Law to act as guardians of the minor, and that he was entitled on tional to the general rule of law. In 114 in many cases, it is impossible to say that any particular usage which is pleaded is in derogation of a general law consequently the inquiry in many cases is as to what is the law and not what is the usage at variance with law. Nature of custom an illustration of principle thereof requires in England as in India compared. Habib v Gorla 17 Bom H C R 201 Rasulan v Perachi 11 R 10 Mad 251 Auntie Panna v Aunty Larna 15 (1910) M d B N 442 and Fanudin Deb v Papenar Dass 11 R 12 I A 70 referred to SHAIKH v MUHAMMAD (1915)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM—contd

I L R 33 Mad 664

Proof of custom in derogation of if permissible—standard of proof—Unusu— Subba Mahomedans of Coimbatore—Custom excluding females from access on The parties to the litigation were Libbal Mahomedans of the Sunni sect residing in the District of Coimbatore in the Madras Presidency the question was whether success on to the estate of a deceased member of the sect was governed by Mahomedan Law or by a rule of descent excluding females. Held that in view of s. 16 of the Madras Civil Courts Act III of 1873 prima facie all questions of succession amongst the parties who were Mahomedans were to be decided according to Mahomedan Law but it is now well established that in India a custom at variance even with the rules of Mahomedan Law governing the succession in a particular community of Mahomedans may be proved. The onus of proof is on the party alleging the custom. The custom should be ancient and invariable and established to be so by clear and unambiguous evidence. Ramalakshmi Ammal v Chinnaswami Perumal Sethurayar (4) and Abdul Hussein Khan v Biba Soma Devi (3) referred to. Held that the evidence fell short of the standard proof requisite to establish a custom. (3) L R 45 I A 70 s c I L R 45 Calc. 450 22 C W N 333 (1917) (4) 11 M I A 570 (1872) MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM ROWTHEN v SHAIKH IBRAHIM

26 C W N 793

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE

Hanafi Law—Divorce—Talak need not be addressed directly to the wife to constitute a valid divorce. According to the Hanafi Law it is not necessary that the Talak or words of repudiation should be addressed directly to the wife to constitute a valid divorce. The expressions mentioned in the Hedaya as constituting express divorce are not exhaustive but merely illustrative of the different forms in which the Talak may be pronounced. The incidents of marriage and divorce under the Mahomedan Law fully discussed. Furund Hussein v Janu Bibi 1 L R 4 Calc. 558 doubted ASHA BEE v KADIR IBRAHIM ROWTHEN (1909)

I L R 33 Mad. 22

Sunni sect—Divorce—Evidence—Burden of proof No special form of formula is prescribed for a divorce under the Hanafi law. All that the law requires is to see that the words of divorce pronounced by a husband should show a clear intention on his part to dissolve the contract of marriage. Where witnesses depose that a divorce was effected, in their presence it is for the party alleging the contrary to prove by cross-examination that the words used by the husband when pronouncing the divorce were insufficient and inconclusive to support a valid divorce. WAHID KHAN v ZAFAR BEG (1914)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE—contd

I L P 26 All 458

Kolinnamoh—Condition that husband should live with wife in wife's father's house as Khandamad and for divorce upon breach if void. A condition in a kolinnamoh that the husband shall live with the wife in her father's house and that if he broke this condition she would be entitled to divorce him is invalid under the Mahomedan Law and her claim for deferred dower following upon such a divorce must fail. IMAN ALI PATWARI v ARPATYVENNA (1913)

18 C W N 293

Divorce—Revocation—Validity of the bedai form of divorce Held that it is not every kind of divorce which is revocable according to the Mahomedan Law but only those made in certain forms. The bedai form of divorce is a perfectly legal form and is irrevocable. In re Abdul Ali Ismailji 1 L R 7 Bom. 150 followed. AMIR UD-DIN v KHATUN B 11 (1917)

I L P 39 All 371

Post nuptial agreement by husband not to take another wife and delegation to wife of power of divorce on breach—Validity—Breach of agreement followed by husband's suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Divorce given after suit by wife, if valid A post nuptial delegation of the power of divorce is valid under Mahomedan Law. Where by a kolinnamoh executed after the marriage, the husband undertook not to take a second wife without the wife's permission and delegated to her the power of giving three tala's in cases of violation of the said amongst other conditions "whenever she chose" and afterwards having taken a second wife without the first wife's permission used the latter for restitution of conjugal rights, whereupon she gave herself the three divorces according to Mahomedan Law. Held that the authority to divorce was validly given and exercised and the suit must fail. SAIFUDDIN v LATIFVENNA B 11 (1918) I L R. 48 Calc. 141

22 C W N 924

Talaknama—Registration of the deed—Whether Kazi now wife present at the time of the execution of the deed—Deed not immediately communicated to wife—If wife's knowledge of the deed within a reasonable time—Validity of Talaknama A Mahomedan executed a talaknama (deed of divorce) in the presence of witnesses and got it duly registered under the Indian Registration Act 1908. Neither the Kazi nor the wife was present at the time the deed was executed. The deed was not immediately communicated to the wife but it came to her knowledge within a reasonable time. Held that the talaknama was valid according to Mahomedan law. PAJASARER RASULBAKSH In re (1919)

I L R. 44 Bom. 44

Marriage—Suit for dissolution—False charge of adultery made by the husband a ground for dissolution of marriage A Mahomedan wife is entitled to bring a suit for divorce and obtain a decree for dissolution of marriage on the ground that her husband has falsely charged her with adultery. Jauk v Biparee 3 W R 18 doubted. ZAFAR HUSAIN v UMMAIR RAHMAN (1919)

I L R 41 AU 278

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE—concl'd

Divorce by writing—Pregnancy followed by miscarriage—Divorce in khula form—Date on which period of iddat commences—Circumstances by which iddat may be terminated earlier A Mahomedan husband executed and registered a deed of divorce in favour of the wife and a few days later saw her, pronounced the legal formulas made over the document to her and went away. Subsequently she went through ceremonies of marriage with two persons one after the other, the marriage with the Plaintiff taking place last. In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights by the Plaintiff on the allegation that the first marriage after the divorce took place within the period of iddat and as such was void the defence set up was that the period of iddat commenced on the date of the execution of the document and expired before the first marriage after the divorce took place, that the lady was pregnant at the time of the divorce and miscarried and this had the effect of terminating the period of iddat, and that the divorce was in khula form. Held, that the divorce took effect from the date of the writing and not from the date of its receipt by the wife unless there were words in the instrument showing a different intention. MOHAM MOLLA v BART BIRI

28 C. W. N. 261

Divorce for consideration—Khulanama—Whether invalidated by non-payment of consideration The plaintiff sued her husband, the defendant, for a declaration that she had been divorced by him, and was no longer his wife. It was found that the defendant made a written deed of divorce (khulanama) in consideration of Rs 150, which amount had however not been paid to him and the document had not been delivered to the wife. The first Court found that the non payment of the Rs 150 did not invalidate the divorce. On appeal the District Judge held that the transaction was a mere promise to divorce if his wife paid him Rs 150. Held, that it must be presumed that prior to the writing of the deed the wife offered and the husband accepted Rs 150 as compensation for the release of his marital rights, the deed (khulanama) was then written securing to the husband the stipulated consideration, but it did not constitute a divorce. It assumed it and was founded upon it. Consequently there was a complete and irrevocable divorce which was not invalidated by the non payment of the consideration. MOONSHI BAZUL PAHIM v LATIF ULLAH (8 Moo I A 379 396 P C), followed. Mulla's Muhammadan Law, 5th Edition, page 179. Wilson's Digest of Anglo-Muhammadan Law, 3rd Edition, page 144. Articles 69 and 70, and page 143, Article 143, and Tyabji's Principles of Muhammadan Law, page 141, paragraph 143, referred to. MRS. ZAMMAT SADDAN v FAIZ BAKRISH

I L R. 1 Lah 402

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

See HERRA BIL-FWAZ 24 C. W. N. 928See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R. 42 Cal. 261

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R. 32 All 477

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

I L R. 1 Lah 597

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—*cont'd*See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW.See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—

SS. 2 AND 4 . I L R. 33 All. 327

s 4 . I L R. 43 All 341, 493

SS. 4 AND 7 . I L R. 32 All 335

1. ——— Dittham, value of—Dower The money value of ten dirhams in India is something between three and four rupees. Sughra Bibi v Musa Bibi, I L R. 2 All 473, referred to. ASMA BIBI v ABDUL SAMAD KHAN (1900)

I L R. 32 All 167

2. ——— Jurisdiction—Marriage—Dower—Act No. XVIII of 1876 (Oudh Laws Act) Held, that the mere fact that a marriage was celebrated in Lucknow, the parties being afterwards domiciled in the province of Agra, was not sufficient to authorize a Court in the province of Agra to apply to a suit brought by the wife against the heirs of her deceased husband for recovery of her dower, the provisions of the Oudh Laws Act, 1876. Zakari Begum v Sakina Begum, I L R. 19 Cal. 639, followed. RUKIA BEGUM v MUHAMMAD NAZIM (1910)

I L R. 32 All 477

3. ——— Prompt dower—Payment of—Restitution of conjugal rights—Consummation of marriage—Suit for prompt dower not premature before consummation Under Mahomedan Law, the Court may hold that the whole of the dower is exigible, in cases where no specific amounts of the dower has been declared exigible and there has been no evidence of what is customary. Fatma v Sadruddin, 2 Bom H C P 291, followed. Prompt dower (i.e., muqaddar) is payable immediately on the marriage taking place, and it must be paid on demand. It is only by payment of the prompt dower that the husband is entitled to consummate the marriage or enforce his conjugal rights. Therefore the right to restitution so far from being a condition precedent to the prompt dower, arises only after the dower has been paid. Ranee Khe Joorunissa v Ranee Ryeesunissa, 13 W R 371, followed. HUSEINKHAN SARDARKHAN v GULAB KHATUN (1911)

I L R. 35 Bom 386

4. ——— Liability of widow in possession to account for profits—Dower—Interest Held, by the Full Bench, that a Mahomedan widow who has been put in possession by her husband of his estate in lieu of her dower debt, is entitled when called upon by her husband's heirs other than herself, to account for rents and profits received by her during the time of her possession, to claim interest at a reasonable rate upon her dower debt. The liability of the heirs of the husband not being personal, the heir who sues the widow for possession of his share is only liable to pay the proportionate part of the dower debt. Abdul Karim v Maghulani, I L R. 39 All 315. Soorma Akaloon v Aluffoon and Akhaloon, 2 Hay 219, followed. Fatima Begum v Meerwan Khanum, 9 W R 318, followed. Ammal Fatima 3 C L R. 511. Musa Jan v Lubana, 6 B L R. 590, and Chaudhri Hussain Ahmad v Musammat Masara Bibi, F A No 65 of 1901, decided 3rd July 1906 referred to. IRAMBA BIBI v ZUNAIDA BIBI (1910)

I L R. 33 All 162

5. ——— Presumption—Sunni—Dower—Void termination of marriage whether dower to be prompt or deferred—Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O 11, r 2—Fittippel In the case

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—contd

how much of the wife's dower is to be prompt, it is to be presumed that a reasonable proportion thereof will be prompt. A proportion of 72 per cent is certainly reasonable. Umda Begum v. Muhammad Begum, I L R 35 All 291, followed Mirza Badur Bukht Muhammad Ali Lohadur v. Mirza Khurruza Bukht Yahya Ali Khan Lohadur, 19 W R 315, distinguished. MOHAMMAD SUBHAN ULLAH v. BAGHIR UY YAKSA (1918)

I L R. 41 All. 562

17 ——— *Sunnis—Prompt dower, payment of—Marriage of a pregnant woman but pregnancy not known to husband—(annulment of marriage)—Husband turning away wife on her pregnancy coming to his knowledge—Divorce not given—Wife's right to claim dower—At the time of her marriage, the plaintiff, a Sunni Mahomedan woman, was pregnant, but her pregnancy was not known to her husband (defendant). The marriage was duly consummated. Within five months of the marriage the plaintiff gave birth to a fully developed child; whereupon the defendant turned her out of his house, but did not divorce her. The plaintiff having sued to recover her prompt dower from the defendant—Held that the defendant was liable on the suit by the plaintiff for her prompt dower, since the concealment of pregnancy by the plaintiff at the time of her marriage did not render the marriage invalid. Per MacLEOD, C. J. "Where concealment of pregnancy is not by itself a ground for cancelling the marriage, the husband has remedy by divorce." KERSEBAI v. ABDUL KADIR (1920)*

I. L. R. 45 Eom 151

18 ——— *Relinquishment of dower during the funeral ceremony—Of the husband, validity of—Where a Mahomedan lady, when overwhelmed with grief at the death of her husband, orally relinquished her right to dower, on the suggestion of her mother and sister—Held, that under the circumstances of the case, there was no exercise of free and deliberate judgment, and the relinquishment made was invalid. Aurangzeb Khanum v. Khayy Mahomed Sakroo (1919) I L R 47 Cal*

I L R 47 Cal 537

19 ——— *Interest when may be decreed on dower—Appellant's burden—In every appeal it is incumbent upon the appellant to show some reason why the judgment appealed from should be disturbed. In decreeing a widow a suit for dower against the heirs of the deceased husband the committee allowed 6 per cent not strictly as interest but as a means of preventing her position being adversely prejudiced by the unsuccessful controversy raised by the heirs as to her rights. Mohammad Tarkunissa v. Motun Nizam Sadiq . . . 25 C W. N. 867*

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTUALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

1 ——— Mortgage—Wakf—Mortgage of wakf property by Mutualli for receipt of urgent character, whether valid—Effect of obtaining permission of Cadi after the mortgage—Loan by a trustee at a high rate of interest—Under the Mahomedan Law, mortgage of wakf property by the mutualli in case where necessity is established is valid even if the permission of the Cadi is obtained subsequent to the mortgage. Where, therefore, a Court found that a mortgage by a mutualli of

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

wakf property was for urgent necessity and that the mortgage was proper, the mortgage is valid in law, inasmuch as it might be taken to have been retrospectively approved by the Court. A loan by a trustee of endowed property at the rate of interest at 12 per cent per annum with quarterly rests, could not be considered beneficial to the endowment although the principal sum itself might have been urgently raised for the protection of the endowment, and in such a case the Court is justified in allowing interest at a reduced rate. Nizam Chand Audya v. Golam Hossain (1909)

I. L. R. 37 Cal 179

2 ——— *Mutualli, suit for office of—Half—Direction of founder, Court's power to disregard—Surrender of the office of Mutualli and appointment of a successor by a person who is not a general trustee, effect of—Limitation Act (XI of 1877) Sch II Art 120. In appointing a mutualli a Court will not disregard the directions of the founder except for the manifest benefit of the endowment. In re Tempest I R 1 Ch App 455 14 L T 684, referred to. It created a wakf on the 22nd April 1861 by the wasfiyah he appointed himself the first mutualli, and also gave directions as to the appointment of his successors. The deed further provided that after the death of the founder his widow would remain in possession of the endowed properties, and the mutualli would act under her orders. During the lifetime of the founder the person who was nominated as the successor in the office of mutualli died subsequently on the founder's death in 1868, his widow obtained certificate and undertook the performance of the duties of mutualli, and continued to do so till the 20th of January 1877 when she executed a faukhnamah, by virtue of which she surrendered the office of mutualli, and appointed a third party as her successor in that office, who accordingly took possession of the endowed properties. Upon a suit by the plaintiff as one of the representatives of the founder for declaration of his right as mutualli and for recovery of possession of the endowed properties, held, that inasmuch as the widow of the founder was in no sense a general trustee and that she had no authority express or implied, to modify in any way the terms of the trust deed nor she had the authority to renounce the office and appoint a successor her acts were illegal under the Mahomedan Law, and that Art 120 of Sch II of the Limitation Act applied to the case, and the plaintiff's suit was barred by limitation. Arariz Salimullah v. Abdul Kham M. Muttah (1909)*

I L R 37 Cal 263

3 ——— *Declaration of wakf, suit for—Right of Mahomedans entitled to use such property to sue for a declaration that property is wakf. The plaintiff Mahomedans resident in the city of Kanauj sued for a declaration that a certain idgha and the land adjoining it situated in a village in Jazirana Kanauj was wakf property. Held, that as Mahomedans who had a right to use the idgha they were entitled to sue and that no special permission was required to enable them to do so. Zafaryab Ali v. Balmaur Singh, I L R 5 All 497, and Jauabra v. Akbar Hussain, I L R 7 All 178 followed. Wajid Ali Shah v. Deewatullah Beg, I L R 8 All 31, distinguished. Mohammad Akbar v. Akbar Hussain (1910)*

I L R 32 All. 671

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

4. ————— Subject of wakf—Wakf—Right to recover money under a decree cannot be made the subject of Wakf. Right to recover money under a decree cannot be made the subject of wakf in the absence of a custom authorising such appropriation. Ansom Dabee v. Gulam Hossein Cassim Arif, 10 C W N 449, 491, referred to in followed Kishooia Sahib v. Anwaruddeen Sahib, 1 L P 18 Mad 201, 203, referred to KADIR IBRAHIM ROWTHER v. MAHOMED RAHMATULLA ROWTHER (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad 118

5. ————— Sale of wakf property—Sanction to sell Jurisdiction—Practice—Trustees Act (XXI of 1866) s 3—Trustees' and Mortgagees' Powers Act (XXVIII of 1866) s 45—Cases to which English law is applicable. On an application made by the trustees to a wakf, for sanction to sell wakf property—Held, that there being no statute authorising such an application, such sanction could only be obtained by means of a suit. In the matter of Woozatusseha Bilee, 1 L R 36 Cal. 21, not followed. Although a Judge of the High Court exercises the functions of a Qazi when administering Mahomedan law, the procedure to be adopted is to be regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the Rules and Orders of the High Court. Shama Churn Roy v. Abdul Karber, 3 C W N 153, and Aemai Chand Addya v. Goolam Hossein, 1 L R 37 Cal. 179, referred to. Such an application does not come within the purview of Acts XXVII and XXVIII of 1866. These Acts govern only such trusts as are in the form of an English trust and are constituted by persons of purely English domicile, or persons governed by the Indian Succession Act. In re Kahandas Narrandas, 1 L P 5 Bom 151, and In re Nilmoney Dey Sarkar, 1 L R 32 Cal. 143, not followed. In re HALIMA KHATUN (1910)

1 L R 37 Cal. 870

6. ————— Agreement by Hindu to dedicate property for maintenance of mosque—Mahomedan Law—Validity—Agreement interfering with work of Peshcar. An agreement by a Hindu to dedicate property for maintenance of a mosque is not enforceable according to Mahomedan Law. FUTUR RAHAMAN v. ANATH BANDHU PAL (1911) 16 C W N 114

7. ————— Khanga attached to Darga—Religious institution—Right of management—Exclusion of females—Prevailing usage—Usage as indication of the direction of the founder. The right of management of a religious institution such as Khanga attached to Dargah is to be decided according to the prevailing usage, that usage being taken as indication of the direction of the founder. Even in cases where appointments have been regularly made by the last holders an inquiry into the usage governing such appointments has been considered relevant. Shah Gulam Rahmatulla Sahib v. Mahomed Akbar Sahib, 8 Mad H C 63. Sayed Abdulla Edrus v. Sayad Zain Sayad Hasan Edrus, 1 L R 13 Bom 553, Sayed Muhammad v. Fattah Muhammad 1 L P 221 A 4, referred to. ISMAILIYA v. WAHADAT BEGAM (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom. 308

8. ————— Endowment—Creation of endowment—Wakf by dedication or user—Graveyard, land used as—Presumption of ancient origin of shrine and burial place—Punjab Land Revenue Act (XVII of 1887) s 44—Entry of owner ship in record of rights at settlement. In this case the

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the Chief Court of the Punjab) held, on the evidence that the land in suit (known as the Mai Pak Lan an graveyard) which had been used from time immemorial by the Mahomedan community of Multan for the purpose of burying their dead, formed part of a graveyard set apart for the Mahomedan community, and that by user if not by dedication, the land was wakf. In the record of rights of the last settlement an area of land, which comprised the land in suit was entered as in the possession of Mahomedans, and was described as kabristan or ghaur min kabristan (graveyard or unculturable land forming portion of a graveyard) and in the ownership column the name of the defendant (now represented by the Court of Wards) was entered as owner. Their Lordships said: "It would seem that he was properly entered as owner, being trustee and custodian of the shrine of the saint Mai Pak Dairan, and being or claiming to be the recognised head of the Mahomedan community in Multan," and held, that, under s 44 of the Punjab Land Revenue Act (XVII of 1887), the entry not having been disproved, must be presumed to be correct. COURT OF WARDS v. ILAHI BAKSH (1912)

1 L R 40 Cal. 287

9. ————— Public Mosque—Right of management—Civil Procedure Code, 1882 s 539—Suit for appointment of Trustees and for settlement of a scheme of management—Community composed of Sunni Mahomedans from various districts and places—Trust deed giving managements exclusively to Rhandarias—Discretion of Kazi under Mahomedan Law—Discretion of Court—Obligation to adhere to intentions of founder, and objects of Trust—Right to vary details of management in accordance with changing conditions and circumstances. This appeal which arose out of a suit brought under s 539 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, for the appointment of Trustees and the settlement of a scheme of management related to the Sunni Jumma Masjid at Rangoon which was admittedly a public mosque dedicated to the performance of religious worship by all Sunni Mahomedans without restriction as to place of origin. The land on which the mosque was built had been granted by the Government on trust for that purpose in 1862 and it was, together with other land adjoining, purchased in 1871 from the Government by five members of the Sunni Mahomedan community who by a deed of trust in March 1872 dedicated it, and the mosque erected thereon for the purpose of divine worship by all Sunni Mahomedans and vested the control and management of the mosque solely in Rhandarias (Sunni Mahomedan from Rhandar near Suat). Held, that the transactions which took place in 1871 and 1872 in no way affected the original and then existing trust, and that the trust deed did not create a new dedication, but the mosque remained as before a public mosque dedicated to the performance of worship by all Sunni Mahomedans as originally founded. With respect to the public religious trust as distinguished from a private trust, the discretion under the Mahomedan Law, of the Kazi (a discretion now exercised by the Civil Court) was very wide, for though he could not depart from the intentions of, or the rules made by, the founder as to the objects of the benefactions yet as regards its management, which must be governed by circumstances he

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—concl'd

17 Cal 498 L R 17 I A 28, and Muzhurool Hug v Puhay Dutray Mohapatra, 13 W R 235, followed Per BRAMS & HUDAJ. The onus to prove that a suit by a matrulli to recover possession of wakf property is within time is on the plaintiff, it is for him to show that mortgago was not followed by possession. NARAY DAS ARORA v HAJI ABDUL RAHIM (1920)

I L R 47 Cal 806

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 13 and 44 I L R 35 Bom 237

See LIS PENDENS I L R 41 All 534

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) ss 193, 129

I L R 38 All 212

1. — Offerings at a shrine—Gift of a fixed share of offerings made at a shrine—Possession of subject of gift. Held that a gift of the right to receive a certain share of the offerings which might be made at a particular shrine was a valid gift and not repugnant to the doctrines of the Mahomedan Law. Intal Nissa Begum v Mir Nureddin Hossain Khan I L R 22 Bom 457 distinguished ARMAN UDDIN v ILAMI BAKISH (1912)

I L R 34 All 465

2. — HANAFI Law—Gift of construction of a monument—Condition in derogation of the grant invalid. A deed of gift of certain property provided as follows:—My son Naki Khan, will remain owner (malik) of the remaining two-thirds and of the said two-thirds Naki Khan will remain full and absolute owner of one third (malik kamil katal), and he shall have the powers of an owner with respect to it, and Naki Khan will be owner (malik) of the other third also, and his name will be entered in the khata, but the income of it is given for the maintenance of my minor grandson Muhammad Shah Khan son of Muhammad Taqi Khan deceased. According to law, Naki Khan is guardian of Shah Khan, he must give the income of that one third for the maintenance of the minor and Naki Khan will not have the power of transfer over that one third during the life of the minor. Held on a construction of the deed that the condition against alienation was invalid, but the condition as to the payment of one third of the income to Muhammad Shah Khan was valid and attached to the property in the hands of a transferee who was bound to have notice thereof. Nurul Ahmad Dildly Khan v Muhammad Ullah Khan I L R 11 All 414, followed. LALI JAN v MUHAMMAD SHAH KHAN (1912)

I L R 34 All 478

3. — Possession—Gift of life of—Transfer of possession when acceptance—Donor as a donor necessary to hold a gift. To make a valid gift under Mahomedan Law the donor must be put in possession. But when the gift is a usufruct of the gift and the donor remains in possession of the property as guardian of the donor or his life the gift would be valid under Mahomedan Law unless the subject matter of the gift is the possession of a trustee or agent of the donor who is not put in possession of the gift. The owner of a property then is put in possession, and a usufruct of it

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—concl'd or rather a gift made by him will not pass the ownership of the property to the donee until the donor takes possession by the donor's consent. FAKIR NYAR MUHAMMAD IOWTHY v KANDASA WAMY ALLATHU VANDAN (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 120

4. — Mushaa—Gift—Share in common property—Gift by some co-shares to the others—Possession delivery of necessary—Gift to adult and minor jointly—Gift by mother to minor son—Delivery of possession if necessary. Hiba bil mushaa (gift of undivided joint property) is not void but only invalid and possession remedies the defect. When persons own a property jointly by any sharer may make a gift of his share in that property to any other sharer without the formality of a delivery of possession. There is no inherent illegality in a joint gift to an adult and a minor. When the interest of the two are sufficiently specified so that there can be no apprehension of any confusion or dispute the gift is unobjectionable. Where some of the co-shares of a zimmudari property simultaneously made over their undivided share to the remaining co-shares the doctrine of mushaa did not apply. In the case of a gift by a parent who is the de facto guardian of a minor to such minor a formal delivery of possession is not necessary. JABEDANNA BEE v NAZIRAL ISLAM MOLLA (1910) 15 C W N 328

5. — Mushaa—Gift—Mushaa. Where the defendant made a gift of a four anna share in a kamra ra vali holding to the plaintiff his nephew by marriage and admitted him to joint possession with himself and recognised the plaintiff as being in such possession for 14 years. Held that he could not be allowed to say that there had been no valid gift. The doctrine of mushaa is not applicable to such a case. Imamuddin Arif v Sultan I L R 35 Cal 1 Imamuddin Hajirabai I L R 13 Bom 351 Jivan Lalish v Imal Begam I L R 2 All 97 Muhammad Mustafa Ahmad v Zulaidi Jan I L R 11 All 466 referred to. ABDUL AZIZ v LATIF MUHAMMAD HAJI (1911) I L R 39 Cal 518

6. — Gift to a Mopla—Verbal. Mahomedan Law on his marriage not void on his wife's death and divorce—Necessity to divorce. Under the Mahomedan Law a girl when married passes over to her husband's family and there is no obligation on the members of her natural family to maintain her after her marriage, even if she is divorced. In the absence of any usage among Moplas governed by Mahomedan Law a gift made to the husband of a Mopla girl does not become void and does not revert to the members of her natural family when the girl dies or is divorced. The rule is otherwise among people governed by Marumakkattayam Law. Haroon v Abdulaziz [second Appeal No. 176 of 1903 (unreported)] referred to. PANIKKURU PISHABANA (1913) I L R 28 Mad 235

7. — Ethias—Gift—Marriage—Mushaa. Gift of more than one share during life—The Shia Law a gift made in usufruct of the gift to the extent of the gift only if the donor's estate in the gift is not sufficient to give to his death. Under the Shia Law if a person dies of a disease of more than a year's duration, the disease is to be considered a death illness. But there is the exception attached to it that if the donor's intention is such as to extend as to endorse with his own hand a statement that a document proved or admitted in evidence was proved against or admitted by the person against whom it was used, as laid down in a. 141 of the Civil Procedure Codes of 1877 and 1882, and practically re-enacted in O XIII, r. 4, of the rules and orders passed under the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. With a view of insisting on the observance of the wholesome provisions of these Statutes, their Lordships will, in order to prevent injustice, be obliged, in future on the hearing of Indian appeals, to refuse to read or permit to be used any document not endorsed in the manner required. SADIK HUSAIN KHAN v HASRIN ALI KHAN (1916)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—cond

I L R. 33 All 627

12. ———— Deed of gift with a condition attached—Obligation in the nature of trust—Construction of document. A Mahomedan woman made a deed of gift in favour of three persons: Mirza Vazir Beg, Imatiyaz Begum and Chaggan Bibi in the following terms: "The lands have been given to you three as gifts. All my rights of ownership are transferred to you. The vahwat or management of the lands should be made by one of you three, namely, Vazir Beg, and after paying Government dues Rs 40 should be paid out of the residue of the income annually to the Imatiyaz Begum, and the remainder should be divided equally between Mirza Vazir Beg and Chaggan Bibi. Mirza Vazir Beg should have vahwat and give income according to their shares to the two. They have no right of claiming division of the lands from Mirza Beg, but only a right of claiming income every year." A suit was brought by Imatiyaz Begum to enforce her right under the deed of gift. The second defendant, transferee of Mirza Beg a interest in the property, contended that the deed of gift in so far as it conferred benefits on the two women mentioned therein was void and that he was absolutely entitled. Held that the gift was good and complete under the Mahomedan Law and the deed could be supported in favour of the plaintiff. TAVARAHNAT v IMATIYAZ BEGUM (1916)

I L R. 41 Com 372

13. ———— Gift made during his last illness by a son to his mother—Maw'ul must—Application of doctrine. On a question of the application of the doctrine of maw'ul must to a disposition of property made by a Mahomedan during his last illness, if the transaction is a sale the doctrine would not apply at all, if the transaction is a waqf, it would be valid to the extent of one third, while if it is a gift, it would not be valid at all. In the case before the Court the particular transaction was held on the facts to be really a gift, to one of the heirs (the mother of the donor) and therefore invalid, although in form it purported to be a sale. FAZL AHMAD v RAHIM BIKI (1917)

I L R. 40 All 238

14. ———— Heba-bil-e'was—Transfer of Property Act (1882), s. 11. The ordinary rules applicable to gifts apply to the Mahomedan Law like any other system of law, and a gift under a heba-bil-e'was is not invalidated by an invalid condition being attached to it. MAHARAJAN v BIKI v HOSSEINUDDIN NAZIR (1918)

22 C W N 512

15. ———— Heba-bil-e'was, it valid without passing of consideration.—A Mahomedan executed a Heba-bil-e'was in favour of a

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—could minor daughter of his predeceased son. In a suit for enforcing the gift no evidence was adduced about the passing of any consideration. Held, that if the document failed as a Heba-bil-e'was it could take effect as a simple gift (Heka) if it satisfied the conditions of a deed of gift. SHER AJUDIN HATTEP v ISAE HALDAR

25 C W N 135

16. ———— Accl-Tangible Property—Held, that non-tangible property can be given by any appropriate method of transfer other than actual delivery of possession. SAASUL NEHAR BIKI v MOULVI MAHMOUD AHMAD

25 C W. N. 310

17. ———— Gift by mortgagee of property in the possession of mortgagee, if void. Where A, a Mahomedan mortgaged some lands to a third person putting the mortgagee in possession and while the mortgagee was in possession A made an oral gift to Defendant No. 1 and immediately after got Defendant No. 1's name recorded in the Settlement Record and put him also in physical possession of one of the properties, namely the Homestead. Held, that the gift was valid in law. In order to properly appreciate the judicial idea of gift as conceived by Mahomedan jurists it is to be borne in mind that gift is considered a class of contracts but as it is a voluntary contract without consideration it is not enforceable unless accompanied by possession in which case the devolution or transfer of right to the property becomes complete. By possession in connection with the law of gift is meant such possession as the nature of the subject of the gift is capable of. Chaudhri Mehd Hasan v Mahmud Hasan, L. P. 331 A 68, s. c. 10 C W N 766 (1906) relied on. As possession through a tenant may be constructive possession capable of being delivered so as to validate a gift of such property so property in the possession of the mortgagee should likewise be considered to be in the constructive possession of the mortgagor as in both cases some kind of right to property is left in the owner. The right of equity of redemption and such similar rights as are termed incorporeal rights may in view of the exigencies and necessities of modern conditions and conceptions of legal rights of property be subject of a valid gift, the mode of delivery of possession varying according to the nature of the right conveyed. TARA PROBYNIA SING v SHANBI BIKI

25 C. W. N. 762

18. ———— Gift—Donor in possession of half of gifted land—Delivery of possession to donee—Other half mortgaged with possession not actually delivered to donee—Gift of the latter void under Mahomedan law. A Mahomedan female who owned five lands made a gift of them to the plaintiff's father. At the date of the gift, she had possession of only two lands and a moiety of the third land; there she immediately put in possession of the donee. The remaining lands had been mortgaged by her to defendants, who retained their possession under the mortgage. In a suit by the plaintiff, the defendants contended that the gift of the mortgaged land was invalid, not having been perfected by delivery of possession. Held, overruling the contention, that the deed of gift must be looked at as a whole; and that reviewed the gift of the equity or redemption coupled with the completed gift of the remaining lands.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE—contd

convetance need have been executed Pam Laksh v Moghiani Khanam, I L R 26 All 266, followed Quere Whether an award is governed by Mahomedan Law MUHAMMAD TALIB HUSANI v INAYATI JAN (1911) I L R 33 All. 683

MAHOMEDAN LAW—INHERITANCE

Family custom at variance with the law, if may be proved—Bengal, A II P and Assam Civil Courts Act (VII of 1887) s 37 Where in a suit by a Mahomedan lady against her brothers for recovery of her share in their father's property, the defendants having set up the plea that according to family custom female descendants could not inherit in the presence of male descendants, the Courts in India refused to admit evidence in support of the alleged custom on the ground that evidence of custom at variance with the ordinary rules of Mahomedan Law was inadmissible in regard to matters mentioned in s 37 of the Bengal A W P and Assam Civil Courts Act Held, reversing the Courts below, that evidence with respect to the issue as to family custom should be admitted ISMAIL KHAN v SHEOMUKH RAI (1912) 17 C W N 97

Contingent right to inherit, transfer or renunciation of, whether prohibited A transfer or renunciation of a contingent right of inheritance is prohibited under Mahomedan Law Musammam Khanum Jan v Musammam Jan Bee bee, (1837) 4 S D A 210, followed Kunhi Mamod v Kunhi Moidin, I L R 19 Mad 176, considered Musammam Hussain Ool Nussa Begam v Allahdad Khan Hajeer Hidayet 17 B R (PC) 108, explained ASA BEEVI v HABIBAN CHETTY (1917) I L R 41 Mad 365

MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT PROPERTY

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, ART 123 AND 141 I L R 44 Bom 943

Joint business by two brothers—Death of one of them—Subsequent business by survivor and sons of the deceased—Properties purchased out of profits of joint business—Moneys collected by survivor—Suit by heirs of the deceased for their share—Nature of suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 106, 123 and 127—Joint family property, if exists in Mahomedan Law—Exclusion, proof of, if necessary Two Mahomedan brothers carried on a joint business and one of them died nineteen years before suit leaving three sons and three daughters. Some properties were purchased out of the profits of the joint business, and the names of the surviving brothers, the latter subsequently carried on several other businesses along with two of the sons of the deceased brother and with a stranger who died more than three years before suit. The heirs of the deceased brother brought the present suit against the surviving brother and others to recover their share of the properties acquired out of the profits derived from the several businesses and their share of the moneys collected in the same. Held, that the suit was one for an account and a share of the profits of a dissolved partnership and was barred under Art 100 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Under the Mahomedan Law there is no such thing as joint family property. If the members of a Mahomedan family succeeded to property on the death of a relation, each of them takes a share of each

MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT PROPERTY——contd

item of the property, and a suit by such a member for a share is governed by Art 123 and not Art 127 of the Limitation Act Abdul Kader v Aisla mma, I L R 16 Mad 61 distinguished Mou DEEN BEK v SYED MIFRA SAHED (1915) I L R 38 Mad. 1099

MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT I L R 40 Bom 28

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 38 All 627

Acknowledgment of child as son—Illegitimate son—Zin—Son by adulterous intercourse cannot be legitimised Under Mahomedan Law, a person can acknowledge a child as a son, when there is no proof of the latter's legitimate or illegitimate birth and his paternity is unknown in the sense that no specific person is shown to have been his father. It is not permissible to acknowledge a child born of zin (i.e., fornication, adultery or incest) Muhammad Allahdad Khan v Muhammad Ismail Khan, I L R 10 All 259, followed MARDAN SAHER v PAJAK SAHER (1909) I L R 34 Bom 111

Acknowledgment

Status of son born of a concubine—Admission in document—Conduct—Intention to legitimise—Presumption of marriage Where a child is proved to be illegitimate by reason of the marriage of his parents being disproved, such a child cannot be rendered legitimate by any acknowledgment or recognition of legitimacy. Where an acknowledgment is alleged it may be shown that there was no acknowledgment either in fact or law, that is, that there was never an acknowledgment at all. But an acknowledgment once made and proved cannot be rebutted. It cannot even be repudiated by the man who made it. There is no valid acknowledgment where it has been proved that there was a legal bar to the marriage of the acknowledger and the woman whose son the claimant to the legitimacy is said to be. Where there is no valid acknowledgment in the sense of an intention to confer legitimacy, then the onus lies on the plaintiff who claims legitimacy to prove the marriage. On the other hand, if acknowledgment is valid then the onus lies on the defendants denying the legitimacy to disprove not only marriage but also semblance of marriage. If the marriage is proved there is no need to have recourse to the acknowledgment, if a marriage or semblance of marriage is disproved so as to establish that the plaintiff is zina, then the alleged acknowledgment is not valid. If in the evidence the marriage and legitimacy are left in doubt, then a valid acknowledgment is conclusive Asraf-ood-doula Ahmed v Hyder Hussein, 11 Moo I A 94 Muhammad Allahdad Khan v Muhammad Ismail Khan, I L R 10 All 239, Muhammad Asad Ali Khan v Lalji Begum, I L R 3 Cal 422, Dhan Lal v Laloo Bhai, I L R 27 Cal 801, Mir Aqadik Hussein Khan v Hashim Ali Khan I L R 38 All 627 21 C W A 120, Aslamkhan v Aslamkhan, I L R 23 Cal 136, Lingaji Ali v Aslamkhan, I L R 15 All 390 Sadaiat Hussein v Mahomed Ismail, I L R 10 Cal 663, referred to HABIBAR RAHMAN CHOWDHURY v ALTAF ALI CHOWDHURY (1918) conceived while it exists are legitimate and capable of inheriting from their father. A nika marriage is a religious ceremony and confers on the woman the full status of wife and children born after it are legitimate. The term of a nika marriage may from time to time be extended by agreement. Where it was alleged by the plaintiff who claimed to be the only legitimate child and sole heiress of M a Shiah Mahomedan that her (the plaintiff's) father M and mother A had lived together as man and wife for many years but that they were married in a nika from only 1½ years before her birth and it was urged in defence that she was illegitimate and that if she was legitimate so were two other daughters of M and A born before the plaintiff and that in the latter case plaintiff could recover one third only of the inheritance the claim of her sisters being time barred and in evidence the plaintiff tendered a deed of dower executed by the father at the time he was alleged to have contracted the nika marriage in which however M had expressly declared that he had contracted nika with A in the beginning but now for reasons stated in the deed had married her in nika form and examined witnesses who deposed to the marriage ceremony taking place on the same date and the Subordinate Judge (who however had not seen the witnesses examined) disbelieved the witnesses and held the deed to be a forgery but on appeal the High Court having before it additional evidence of considerable importance held that the deed was genuine and that the nika marriage had been performed as deposed to by the witnesses. Held by the Judicial Committee after a careful consideration of the evidence that they ought not to reverse the High Court's findings though they thought there were good reasons why both the deed itself and the evidence of the witnesses in question ought to be looked upon with suspicion and scrutinised with great care. The Judges of the High Court who came to these findings had necessarily a large experience in matters of this nature and the Subordinate Judge had no more opportunity than they of seeing and observing the demeanour of the witnesses, and they on the other hand, had evidence before them which was not before the Subordinate Judge. Held also on the evidence that if the deed were treated as valid and the plaintiff's witnesses as reliable there was considerable evidence that cohabitation of M and A commenced in a nika marriage and that in the absence of evidence to the contrary such marriage must be taken to have subsisted throughout the period which covered the conception and birth of plaintiff's sisters. That their claim as such being statute barred the expiration of the period of limitation would accrue for the benefit of the defendant and not for the benefit of the plaintiff. See Shahamat Begum v. Javed Ali (1914).

I L R. 46 Cal 259

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

13 C W N. 225

7 ——— Marriage of a woman's natural son with her foster-daughter.—If valid The prohibition of Mahomedan Law to the marriage of a woman's natural son with her foster-daughter is absolute and not conditional upon the birth of the one and the death of the other occurring within any limited period. The principle of fictum culd does not render good in law a marriage which ought not in law to have been celebrated.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

Fadha Mohun v. Haddad Bhai 1 I L R 22 Mo 1 898 followed. JANAR ALI KHAN v. NAZAMUDDIN (1913) 19 C. W. N. 897

8 ——— Marriage with a wife's sister during the continuance of first marriage.—Whether invalid or wholly void—Legitimacy of the issue of such marriage Under the Mahomedan Law the marriage with a wife's sister during the subsistence of the first marriage is only fand (invalid) and not bahil (void). The issue of such marriage is legitimate and can inherit. Aftarkhan Akhatoon v. Karimunnissa Akhatoon 1 L R 23 Cal 130 dissented from. Tajul v. Mowla Khan (1917) 1 L R 41 Bom 485

9 ——— Marriage of girl of below the age of 15 after death of her parents.—Entire or grand other if entitled to consent—Proof that she had attained puberty and consented to marriage, in the absence of guardian's consent essential—Burden of proof—Legal evidence—Hearsay evidence, objection to admission of—Hearsay statements recorded by Commissioner, if should be allowed to be read in Court According to Mahomedan Law a girl becomes a major on the happening of either of two events first, the completion of her fifteenth year and second on her attainment of a state of puberty at an earlier period. The burden of proving that a girl has in either of these ways reached her majority rests upon those who allege it and rely upon it. And this must be done by legal evidence. The evil consequence of the admission of hearsay evidence is not merely that it prolongs litigation and increases its cost but that it may unconsciously be regarded by judicial minds as corroboration of some piece of evidence legally admissible and thereby obtain for the latter quite undue weight and significance. The reading of undoubtedly hearsay evidence recorded by a Commissioner who is not empowered to rule out evidence on the ground of inadmissibility disapproved. ATKIA BEGUM v. ISRAHIM PASHTU (1916) 21 C W N 345

10 ——— Validity of Marriage.—Guardianship of minor—Power of mother as de facto guardian to alienate her minor children's interests in immovable property so as to bind the infants—Absence of entries in account books as evidence against validity of marriage where regular payments in other ways are shown by other entries—Production at first hearing of all documentary evidence relied on by parties—Civil Procedure Code, 1908 O VIII, r 1—Practice of Indian Courts in settling decrees of Foreign Courts A wealthy Mahomedan died leaving widows, two admittedly his lawful wives and children by each of them, and a third one Z who claimed to be his married wife but the validity of whose marriage was disputed. She had two minor children and by a deed of 10th June 1906 without having been legally appointed the guardian she purported to transfer the shares of both herself and her children in the property of the deceased to the plaintiffs who sued for a declaration of the title and status of their vendor and for a decree for possession of the shares covered by the deed of sale. As to the validity of the marriage of Z entries in the books of account of the deceased tendered in evidence by the contesting defendants (the sharers other than Z and her children) showed regular payments to the admittedly lawful wives, but the books contained no entries of payments to

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—concl'd

Z They were not admitted in evidence by the lower Courts. Held by the Judicial Committee (who held the books of account admissible) that there was clear evidence of a reliable character regarding the acknowledgment by the deceased of the children of Z as his legitimate issue, which gave rise to a legal presumption of her marriage, and that such presumption was not displaced by the mere inferences, the contesting defendants sought to draw from the absence of entries in her favour in the account books. The marriage was, therefore, valid under the decision in Mahatula Bibee v Haleemossaman, 10 C L R 293, and Z and her children were entitled to their shares in the inheritance. Held, also, that Z had no power to deal with the minor's shares as she had done, and that only her own shares passed under the deed of sale. By Mahomedan Law the mother is entitled only to the custody of the person of her minor child up to a certain age according to the sex of the child. But she is not the natural guardian, the father alone or, if he be dead, his executor (under the Sunni law) is the legal guardian. Mafa Dun v Ahmed Ali, 1 L R 31 All 213, 1 L R 39 I A 49, referred to and discussed. On a review of the provisions and principles of the Mahomedan Law on the question of how far, and under what circumstances a mother's dealings with the property of her minor child are binding on the infant. Held, that one who has charge of the person or property of a minor without being his legal guardian, and who may therefore be conveniently called a de facto guardian, has no power to convey to another any right or interest in immovable property which the transferee can enforce against the infant nor can such transferee, if let into possession of the property under such unauthorised transfer resist an action in ejectment on behalf of the infant as a trespasser. It follows that being himself without title he cannot seek to recover property in the possession of another equally without title. Ayderman Kuttu v Syed Ali, 1 L R 37 Mad. 514, referred to and commented on O XIII, r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, requires the parties or their pleaders to produce at the first hearing of the suit all the documentary evidence of every description in their possession or power on which they intend to rely. But it does not exclude the discretion of the Court to receive any such documentary evidence at any subsequent stage. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee deprecated the practice in some of the Indian Courts referring largely to decisions of Foreign Courts to which Indian practitioners could not be expected to have access, which were often based on consideration and conditions totally differing from those applicable to or prevailing in India, and are only likely to confuse the administration of justice. IMAMBANDI v MUTSADDI (1914). 1 L R 45 Cal 878

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION
GUARDIAN—MARRIAGE.

Minor—De facto guardian's powers over minor's properties—Sale by mother for expenses of minor's sister's marriages or for the discharge of proper family debts not binding. Under the Mahomedan Law the general rule is that the dealings of a de facto guardian of a minor with the minor's properties do not bind the minor. The rule is, however, subject to exceptions. In cases of urgent and imperative necessity, or where the transaction from its nature must necessarily be beneficial to the minor, a de facto guardian can alienate the property of the minor, whether moveable or immovable. According to Mahomedan Law, sale of a minor's property by an unauthorised guardian, even if it was not made for a valid cause, is neither void nor voidable in the ordinary sense of the terms, but is regarded as manquf or dependent, that is, in a state of suspense, its validity or invalidity being determined by the minor adopting or not adopting after he has attained majority, though the effect of his decision will relate back to the date of inception of the transaction. A person who chooses to buy a minor's property from a person who has no power to deal with it, however, bona fide his action may have been, cannot invoke any principles of justice and good conscience to support the transaction itself, though such considerations may be a good ground for the Court refusing to give relief to the minor except on condition of his restituting whatever benefit he has derived from the transaction. A sale by a mother of the minor's property for finding money for the marriage expenses of the minor's sisters or for the discharge of family debts and for other family purposes, is not binding on the minor. AYDERMAN KUTTI v SYED ALI (1912) 1 L R 37 Mad 514

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR—cont'd

Sale of minor's property by mother. The mother of a Mahomedan minor is not the natural guardian of the minor and if she is not his authorised guardian a sale of the minor's property by her not shown to be for his benefit or advantage is void.

1 Pat L J 188

Right to sell minor's property—Necessity—Bona fide purchaser without notice. By a deed of conveyance dated 19th January, 1904, one purported to convey on behalf of herself and her minor son the plaintiff certain immovable property to the defendant for the consideration of Rs 7,000. On the same day N passed an indemnity bond in favour of the defendant indemnifying him against the claim of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued to have the said deed of conveyance declared void and for the declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to the whole of the property to be conveyed. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed on the grounds that (1) there was absolutely no evidence that the sale was in any way necessary for the maintenance of the minor, (2) the purchaser was not a bona fide purchaser without notice of the plaintiff's rights. The purchaser of an estate who takes with notice of a breach of trust is in the same position as the vendor who committed the breach of trust. FAKIRUDDIN v ABDUL HUSSAIN

1 L R 35 Bom. 217

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—
WAKF

Mutawalliship of property annexed to a mosque—Right to succeed by principle of hereditary—Proof and validity of such right. Held, on the facts of the case, that the plaintiff mosque who claimed to be the mutawalli of the plaintiff mosque by right of hereditary had not established by clear proof that that was the method of succession to the office and that he was there fore the lawful mutawalli. Held, also, as a valid appointment of a mutawalli could be made only in one of three modes, viz (a) by the original author of the waqf or by some person expressly authorized by him, or (b) by the executor of the author or (c) lastly by the Court any person claiming to be a mutawalli by hereditary must show by strict proof of precedents that that mode of appointment was one which must be necessarily deemed to have been sanctioned by the author of the trust. It is frequently provided that each mutawalli should have the power to appoint his successor, where there has been a long established practice for the mutawallis to nominate his successor it is assumed (and as the contrary is proved) that power to do so was given by the founder of the waqf. But where from past practice it is sought to be established that the mutawalliship is to devolve hereditarily, there must be something from which a rule of hereditary succession sufficiently precise or definite may be deduced and the mere fact that for some time prior to 1874 three persons from the family of the plaintiff were successively mutawallis does not show that mutawalliship devolved by hereditary in the absence of proof that they were not appointed or nominated by somebody. Sayad Abdulla Edrus v Sayad Zain Sayad Hasan Edrus, I I R 13 Bom. 553, 562 referred to Per BADA SIVA AYYAR, J. Hereditary as a principle of succession to any office is highly objectionable. THAT MARI v HAZI MUSA SAHIB (1913)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI—contd.

I L R 38 Mad. 491

*Mortgage of the office of a mutawalli, if valid and enforceable in law—Such office, if alienable at all. One Ahadali, a priest of Peer Sahib, mortgaged his right in the office to three persons and subsequently one of the mortgagees brought a suit against Ahadali a minor son to enforce the mortgage by sale of the mortgaged turn of worship. The latter too brought a suit for getting the mortgage set aside. Held that the office of a priest in such cases is not alienable and therefore the mortgage cannot be enforced. *SAHIB BUKSH v GOLAM NABI KHANDEAR (1913)

22 C W N 996

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION

See PRE-EMPTION

— In Bulshar district—

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 44 Bom. 387

— Sale by Mahomedan to Hindu—

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 45 Bom. 1058

*Shafi-i-sharik—Shafi-i-khalit—Shafi-i-jar—Effect of perfect partition. When a mahal has been perfectly partitioned, no right of pre-emption under the Mahomedan Law subsists in favour of the owner of one of the new mahals in respect of the other new mahal or any portion of it on the ground of vicinage alone. *Mahadeo Singh v Mussamat Zarnat-un-nisa II W P 169 Shakh Mahomed Hossain v Shaw Mohsin Ali, 6 B L R 41, and Abdul Rahim Khan v Kharag Singh, I L R 15 All 104 referred to. Nor will the fact that a village chaupal has remained undivided give the owner of either of the new mahals a right of pre-emption against the owner of the other as a shafi-i-khalit. *Rahim Singh v Talab Musar 10 W R 314 and Shakh Karim Buksh v Kamr-ud-deen Ahmad, 6 N W P H C 377, distinguished. Abdul Rahim Khan v Kharag

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—contd.

*Singh, I L R 11 All 101, and Lalla Parag Dutt v Shakh Bunde Hossain, 15 W R 225 referred to. But a right of pre-emption as shafi-i-sharik may subsist in relation to villages, in large estates equally with houses gardens and small plots of ground. *Shakh Mahomed Hossain v. Shaw Mohsin Ali, 6 B L R 41 and Shakh Karim Buksh v Kamr-ud-deen Ahmad 6 N W P H C 377, referred to. MUNNA LAL v HAJIRA JAN (1910)

I L R 33 All 23

2. ——— Hindus in Bihar—Pre-emption—Customary right—Right of pre-emption—Co-sharers—Assertion of right of pre-emption delay in making—Power to perform ceremonies of assertion—Manager appointed by Court of Wards of estate of “disqualified proprietor” under the Court of Wards Act (Ben Act IV of 1879)—Powers and duties of manager under section 4 of Act—Issue of right of pre-emption among co-sharers in undivided mahal—Sanction of Court of Wards. The Mahomedan Law of pre-emption has long been judicially recognised as existing among the Hindus in Bihar to which the district of Champaran appertains. Fakir Rowat v Enambaksh B L R Sup Vol 35 W R P B 143 followed. In a suit for pre-emption in respect of certain undivided shares in a number of villages comprised in a mahal, the estate of the plaintiff was in charge of the Court of Wards as that of a disqualified proprietor under Bengal Act IX of 1879 s 40 of which provides that the manager shall manage the property *diligently and faithfully for the benefit of the proprietor and shall in every case act to the best of his judgment for the ward's interest, as if the property were his own. Held, that the manager appointed by the Court of Wards was independently of the provisions of section of the Court of Wards Act competent on behalf of the plaintiff, to perform the preliminaries essential to the assertion of the right to pre-emption though if, in that case, the validity of his action depended on the sanction of the Court of Wards, their Lordships were of opinion that s 40 gave him full authority to act as he had done and in that view the adoption of his acts by the Court of Wards became unnecessary. A “mahal” is a unit of property and though all the villages of which it consists may be separately assessed for revenue purposes and each of the sharers may not have an interest in them all, the sharers are all co-sharers in the whole mahal, and jointly liable for the Government revenue. Each co-sharer therefore has a right of pre-emption against the other in respect of any part of the mahal sold by any of them to a stranger. After partition by the Revenue authorities each share so partitioned becomes a unit of property. *JADU LAL SAHU v JANKI KORR (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 915

3. ——— Survival of the action to executors and administrators on the pre-emptor's death—Personal action—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 39—Action personal—monitor cum person. The right of pre-emption under Mahomedan Law does not abate at the pre-emptor's death, but survives to his executors and administrators under s 39 of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). SYAD JAUH HUSSAN v SITARAM BHAD (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 144

4. ——— Shafi right of—Delay in assertion—Waiver—Right of pre-emption, accrual of—General law to govern the incident of sale in apply

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—contd

ing the law of pre-emption and not the pure Mahomedan Law. Per CHANDLER, J. The right of shafa cannot arise until there has been a sale to a third party, for the right of shafa, recognised by the Mahomedan Law, is not the right of pre-emption known to the Roman Law, that is to say, the right arising out of an obligation on the part of an intending vendor to sell preferentially to the obligor if he offers as good conditions as any intended vendee, but rather the obligation attached to a particular status, which binds the purchaser from the person obliged to hand over the subject matter to the other party to the obligation on receiving the price paid by him for it. The right accrues only when the property has passed from the original owner to a purchaser. The general law, which is paramount and has superseded the Mahomedan Law, should govern the incident of sale in applying the law of pre-emption. Per RICHARDSON, J. Where possession is not given and the price is not paid till registration, the right of pre-emption arises upon registration and not before. Jadu Lal Sahu v Janki Koor, I L R 35 Cal 575, referred to. Begum v Muhammad Yakub I L R 16 All 344, Ladun v Bhayro Ram, 8 W P 255, Najm-un-nissa v Ayub Ali Khan, I L R 22 All 343, Oyemussa Begum v Rustam Ali (1864) W R 219, Torai Kombar v Mussammat Achhee, 18 W R 401, Koddeep v Ram Deen Singh 24 W R 198, Skeo Tahul v Ramkoer, (1864) W R 311, Brojo Kishore v Kartee Chander, 15 W P 247, Jehanpur v Lala Bhikari & B L R 42 note Kanhai Lal v Kaika Prasad I L R 27 All 670, discussed. BUDHAI SARDAR v SOYAVALLAH MEIDHA (1914) I L R 41 Calc. 943

5 ———— Hindus—Adoption of pre-emption as usage—Burden of proof—Ancient and invariable custom—Pre-emption, a personal right not descendible to heirs—A custom cannot be proved by the admission of parties or their counsel. In litigation between Hindus where one party alleges the adoption of a whole branch of the Mahomedan Law, such as that of pre-emption, and the other party repudiates the application of the foreign law, it lies very heavily on the party alleging to prove that that law has been adopted as a usage and could be proved to have been so adopted by proof of ancient and invariable custom. Such a party must stand or fall by the strict Mahomedan Law of pre-emption. Generally speaking the right of pre-emption is a personal right which, under the Mahomedan Law, would not descend to heirs. Per MACLEOD, J. A custom must be proved by evidence in the first instance and once it is proved the Courts are entitled to recognize its existence. A custom cannot be proved by the admission of the parties or their counsel before the Court. DANVABHAI MOTIRAM v CHUNILAL KESORNIDAS (1913) I L R 38 Bom. 183

6 ———— Sale—Demands—Assignment in lieu of dower debt. If at the time of talab-i-mauasat the pre-emptor has an opportunity of invoking witnesses, in the presence of the seller or the purchaser or on the promises, to attest the immediate demand, it would suffice for both the demands and there would be no necessity for the second demand. Nundo Pershad Thakur v Gopal Thakur, I L R 10 Cal 1068, referred to. Hida, further, that when property is sold by a husband to his wife in lieu of dower a suit for pre-emption can be maintained by a person entitled to a preferential right to purchase that property. Fida Ali v Musaffar Ali, I L R 5 All 65, followed. NATHU v BHADRI (1915) I L R 37 All 522

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—contd.

7 ———— Question of law, at what stage of case can be raised—Decree of nature—When Court should give notice of events happening after institution of suit. A person who seeks the assistance of a Court with a view to enforce a right of pre-emption is bound to establish that the right existed at the date of the sale, at the date of the institution of the suit and also at the date of the decree of the primary Court. Ram Gopal v Piers Lal, I L R 27 All 441 and Tafazzul Hussain v Than Singh I L R 32 All 567, followed. When a question of law is raised for the first time in a Court of last resort upon the construction of a document or upon facts either admitted or proved beyond controversy, it is not only competent but expedient in the interests of justice to entertain the plea. Connecticut Fire Insurance Co v Kavanagh, (1892) A C 473, followed. Ordinarily the decree in a suit should accord with the rights of the parties as they stand at the date of its institution. But where it is shown that the original relief claimed has, by reason of subsequent change of circumstances become inappropriate or that it is necessary to have the decision of the Court on the altered circumstances in order to shorten litigation or to do complete justice between the parties, it is incumbent upon a Court of justice to take notice of events which have happened since the institution of the suit and to mould its decree according to the circumstances as they stand at the time the decree is made. Ras Charan Mandal v Birno Nath Mandal, 20 C L J 107 referred to. NUZ MIAH v AMBICA SINGH (1916) I L R 44 Calc 47

8 ———— Kolaba District—A co-sharer selling his share to a Hindu purchaser—Applicability of the law of pre-emption by agreement of parties—Observance of the formalities of Talab-i-Mauasibat and Talab-i-Ishhad before the completion of sale, whether premature—Right of an administrator to continue the suit on the death of the pre-emptor pendente lite—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 82. S, a Mahomedan owner of an undivided one fourth share in certain Inam villages in Kolaba District entered into an agreement with the defendants on the 14th October 1908 for the sale of his share for Rs 30,000, the terms of the agreement being that if the owner of the three fourths share (i.e., the plaintiff) was willing to purchase S's share and if S agreed to the purchase he should immediately return the amount received from the defendants. On the same day a notice was accordingly served on the plaintiff by S asking him if he was anxious to pre-empt the quarter share. On receipt of this notice the plaintiff on the 15th October performed the Talab-i-Mauasibat. On the 17th October the plaintiff through his attorneys wrote a letter to S declaring his intention to exercise the right of pre-emption and at the same time performed Talab-i-Ishhad. The copies of S's notice and plaintiff's solicitor's reply of the 17th October were duly forwarded to the defendants and what the correspondence between S and the plaintiff was going on the former received the full amount of the purchase money from the defendants and executed a sale deed in their favour. The plaintiff thereupon sued to recover the share by right of pre-emption. The defendants contended inter alia that the right of pre-emption could not be exercised against them as they were Hindus that the property over which it was claimed was not a small one that the law of pre-emption was not made applicable to Kolaba District, that the talabs performed before the completion of the sale were premature. On these facts, Held, (i) that the defendants were bound to comply with the plaintiff's demand for a transfer of the quarter share in the villages to him since it was clear from the contract and the subsequent correspondence that the defendants agreed with the vendor that the law of pre-emption applying between the vendor and his co-sharer should be applicable to the defendant's purchase (ii) that the action of the plaintiff in performing the talabs was not premature as the intention of the parties as to the date when the bargain was to be considered as concluded was the date of the contract itself, (iii) that there was no limit to the size of the property of which pre-emption might be claimed by a co-sharer though there was a limit in the case of those who based their claim on vicinage. A question being raised as to whether on the death of a pre-emptor pendente lite a suit can be proceeded with by his administrator under s. 80 of the Probate and Administration Act 1881 Held that the suit could be proceeded with by the administrator as the relief sought, namely conveyance of a share could be enjoyed by a personal representative after the death of the pre-emptor inasmuch as it added the property in suit to the estate of the deceased SITARAM BHATRAO v SATAD SHRAJLE (1917) I L R. 41 Bom 636

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—could

9 ——— Sale disguised as a lease—In order to defeat pre-emption—Device not permissible under the Mahomedan Law. In a suit for pre-emption whether the right is claimed under the Mahomedan Law or by virtue of a custom of pre-emption it is the duty of the Court, if the question is raised, to consider and decide whether the transaction in respect of which the claim is brought is or is not in substance a sale though it may be disguised in some other form, as for instance, in that of a lease. There is no rule of Mahomedan Law which renders it permissible for a transaction of sale to be framed as a lease so as to avoid claims for pre-emption. MURHAMAD NIAZ KHAN v MUHAMMAD IDRIS KHAN (1918)

I L R. 49 AU. 322

10 ——— Though the Hindustani Sunnat have adopted the Mahomedan Law of pre-emption by a long established custom with regard to houses it is an open question whether they have adopted the law with regard to agricultural land. JAGJIVAN HARIBHAI v KALIDAS MULJI . . . I L R. 45 Bom 604

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WITNESS

Aspir—Miserror—Religious office—Competency of women to hold or succeed to such office—Fighi to perform family—Rule of Mahomedan Law. A religious office can be held by a woman under the Mahomedan Law unless there are duties of a religious nature attached to the office which she cannot perform in person or by deputy and the burden of establishing that a woman is precluded from holding a particular office is on those who plead the exclusion. Though there is no general rule of Mahomedan Law prohibit-

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE—could

ing a woman from holding a religious office, prohibition may arise by local usage or custom. Imam Bee v Mulla Akhram Sahib, (1916) 5 L. W. 226 followed. Akhaee Danoo v Aga Mahomed Jaffer Baidineem I L R. 34 Cal 118, referred to. Held (on the facts of the case) that a woman was competent to succeed to the office of Head Murwar of the suit Astan. MUKHAYARU BEGAN SAHIB v MIR MAHAPALLI SHAHIB (1918)

I L R. 41 Mad. 1033

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

— Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Defence to suit—Cruelty. In a suit by a Mahomedan husband against his wife, for restitution of conjugal rights it was found on issues remitted by the High Court that there was no very satisfactory evidence of actual physical cruelty but that the parties were on the worst possible terms and the reasonable presumption was that the suit was brought for the purpose of getting possession of the defendant's property. There had been a good deal of ill treatment short of physical cruelty and the court was of opinion that by a return to her husband's custody the defendant's health and safety would be endangered. In these circumstances the High Court refused to interfere with the decree of the Court below dismissing the suit. Armar v Armar I A L J. 318 referred to. HANID HUSSAIN v KUBRA BEGAM (1918)

I L R. 40 AU. 322

— Suit by husband for restitution of conjugal rights where he had entered into agreement that his wife should live permanently in the house of her parents—payment of dower—discretion of Court. The plaintiff sued his wife for restitution of conjugal rights and for an injunction against her parents and friends who were alleged to prevent her from living with him. On their marriage the plaintiff had agreed to the dower being fixed at Rs. 500, without specifying what part of it was prompt or deferred and also that the girl should live for the whole of her life with her parents. Defendants pleaded that in the face of those agreements plaintiff was not entitled to restitution of conjugal rights till he had paid the dower of Rs. 500, and could not claim that his wife should live with him at his house and not at her parents. The first Court decreed plaintiff's suit and the Lower Appellate Court upheld the decree of the first Court with the condition that plaintiff before applying for execution shall pay 1-5th part of the dower fixed, viz., Rs. 100. The defendants appealed to this Court. It was found as a fact that the wife did live with her husband for a time at his residence and there gave birth to a child. Held, that the agreement that the wife should live with her parents was not legal and could not be used to defeat the husband's claim for restitution of conjugal rights and that in any case the wife by living with her husband for a time away from her parents' house had waived the right, if any, acquired under the agreement. Imam Ali Pet v Arifatusseena, (18 Cal W N 693) followed. HANID AH-NUVA BINA v Zahir ud Din (I L J. 17 Cal 670), referred to also. Ameer Ali's Mahomedan Law Volume II 1917 Edition pages 369 and 478—80. Tajuddin's Mahomedan Law, II Edition (1910) page 109, disapproved. Held also that the Lower Appellate Court in its discretionary power having fixed the part of the dower to be paid by plaintiff, this Court was not prepared to hold that it had not exercised its discretion properly Musarat Fatima Bibi v Nur Muhammad I L R 1 Lah 597

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS—contd

Direction by Court that conjugal rights should be exercised at the residence of the wife's parents, if strait? A Mahomedan husband executed a Kabilnama in which the wife was given the right to leave her husband's house in case of ill treatment. There was ill treatment by the husband and the wife went to her parents' house. The husband sued for restitution and got a decree with a direction that such rights must be exercised in the house of the wife's parents. Held, that the Kabilnama was good but the condition of the decree bad. SABIR KHAN v BILATUNESSA Bibi 25 C W N 888

MAHOMEDAN LAW—SALE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

—whether complete without Registration—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 34 I P^r L J 174

Sale of minor's property by widow, validity of. The mother of a Muhammadan minor is not the natural guardian of the minor, and, if she is not his authorised guardian either, a sale of the minor's property by her not shown to be for his benefit or advantage, is void. SHAIKH RAJA ALI v SHAIKH WAJIB ALI I Pat L J 188

MAHOMEDAN LAW—SUCCESSION

See CUSTOM I L R 39 All 574

I L R 45 Cal 450

See KHOSAS I L R 39 Bom 449

See KUNJIPURA, STATE OF

I L R 39 Cal 711

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1880), ss 4 AND 7

I L R 32 All 335

—Heirs holding as tenants-in-common—Suit by a heir to recover his share—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SEC. 1, ARTS. 133 AND 144

I L R 45 Bom 519

—Heir entitled to bring a suit for account and administration not bound to file a suit for partition—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 45 Bom. 75

—Succession by a Christian to the sons of a convert to Islam—

See ACT XXI OF 1850

I L R 1 Lah. 378

—Exclusion of female heirs—Custom excluding females from succession in Oudh—Limitation—Relinquishment—Estoppel. M, a Mahomedan of Oudh, died leaving two widows, B and J, and his mother. His estate passed first to his mother and on her death to his widows in equal shares. After B's death on 24th January 1888, J retained possession of the whole estate until her death in 1894. When mutation was effected in favour of the sons of the brothers of B and J, a sister of B instituted two suits for recovery of her share. In the first suit the Subordinate Judge held that the succession was governed by the Mahomedan Law and that the custom of excluding female heirs was not proved and decreed the suit. The Judicial Commissioners affirmed these findings. Held, that the concurrent findings of fact were fatal to the appeal. The second suit was instituted on 11th February 1903. The dispute related to the estate left by the plaintiff's brother Mubarak who died on 7th February 1891, including in that estate the property he had inherited from B and his father. Held that limitation began to run against the plaintiff at once, from the death of J, and that therefore the suit was not barred. Held further that the plaintiff had not relinquished her claim nor was she estopped from pressing it. MEHAMMAD KAMIL v MEHAMMAD IMTIAZ FATIMA (1909) 14 C W N 59

MAHOMEDAN LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

—Fideli acquisitions—Acquisition by member of family if to be presumed as acquired out of joint family funds—Estoppel. Two sons of a deceased Mahomedan and his widow inherited 42,960lbs 42,900lbs and 12,960lbs respectively of his properties. The properties were however partitioned between them later on in equal halves by an arbitration award to which the widow was a party. The award specifically stating that the properties dealt with were the whole properties which were subject to division and that nothing more fell to be divided and provision being made for the grant by the sons of a maintenance allowance in money to the widow. After the death of the widow whom one of the sons predeceased, Plaintiff the surviving son, sister also claimed his share in certain items of property which were excluded from the award and which had been acquired in the name of his deceased brother after their father's death as the property of his father and the widow's share in certain other items of property dealt with by the award and divided half and half between the brothers by the award, as the widow's heir. Held—That the succession of a Mahomedan being an individual succession there is no presumption in the case of a Mahomedan such as exists in the case of a Hindu joint family that property purchased in the name of a member of the family was purchased out of joint undivided property. That prima facie therefore the property bought in the name of the deceased brother was bought with his money, and the statement in the award established that it was. That the Plaintiff was estopped by his own proceeding in the arbitration wherein he received his full half of the properties belonging to his father upon the footing of the exclusion of the mother, from claiming a share therein through his mother. MEHAMMAD WAZI KHAN v MEHAMMAD MOHIDDIN KHAN 24 C W N 321

—Where one of the co-heirs of a deceased Mahomedan in possession of the whole or part of the estate of the deceased sells property in his possession forming part of the estate for discharging debts of the deceased, such sale is not binding on the other co-heirs or creditors of the deceased. ABDUL MAJEED v KRISHNAMACHARIAR.

I L R 40 Mad. 243

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST

1 ———— Revocation of trust—Hafz—Gift—Essential elements for validity—Power of revocation—General principles—Executed remainder. In 1902 a Shih Mahomedan by deed conveyed certain immovable property to himself and other trustees for himself for life and after his death for the payment of annuities to his widow and daughter, and the balance to certain charities. Further clauses provided that on the death of his widow her annuity was to go to certain other charities and that on the death of his daughter a lump sum was to be given to her son. A further proviso reserved power to the settlor at any time to revoke all or any of the above trusts. In 1908 he revoked the trust and executed a mortgage of the property. In 1909 he died and receivers of his estate were appointed. His daughter then filed a suit for a declaration, inter alia, that the revocation and subsequent mortgage were invalid, and that the original trusts still subsisted. Held that the conveyance in 1902 was invalid. Looked at from the standpoint of the Mahomedan law giver, a private trust would be no more than a private gift inter vivos through the medium of the third party, and therefore subject to all the conditions of a valid gift, but quære whether private trusts were known to Mahomedan law. Banoo Begum v. Mir Abed Ali, 1 L. R. 32 Bom 172, discussed and distinguished. JAINARAI v. R. D. BETHGA (1910) 1 L. R. 34 Bom 604.

2 ———— Khoja Mahomedans—Settlement—Settlor himself trustee—No delivery of possession—Son born after settlement—Power of Settlor to revoke settlement—Settlor's intention not carried out owing to Settlor's death—Power of Court to aid defective execution—Suit by after-born son to set aside settlement—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s. 10—Perpetual trust back to Settlor—Adverse possession—Difference between stoppage and rescission—Validity of Waqf contained in deed containing other gifts—Local usage cannot override Mahomedan Law—Prostitution—Was Major. By an indenture of settlement dated 7th January, 1886, J. P., a Khoja Mahomedan, purported to convey certain immovable properties to trustees for the benefit of his family. The trusts were in effect for J. P. for life and after his death, subject to certain rights of residence and maintenance to pay the net income of the trust properties to N. M. for his life and in the event (which subsequently occurred) of the death of N. M. without leaving male issue, to divide the trust funds into ten equal parts to be held in favour of certain donees, four tenths being given to charity. The indenture also reserved to the settlor power to revoke or vary any of the trusts contained therein. There was no surrender of the property in fact to anyone except J. P. himself in his character as trustee for himself. The donees, however, agreed an agreement in two books of this property as trust property. On the 26th October, 1886, a second son, the plaintiff, was born to J. P., whereupon J. P. being desirous of providing for this second son, desired to vary the terms of the deed of the 7th of January, 1886 and to re-settle the same so that his two sons should share equally. A draft deed of declaration of new trusts was accordingly prepared by J. P.'s attorneys and on the 24th of July, 1887, was finally settled and approved by J. P. An engrossment was thereupon made and duly stamped but on taking the engrossment to J. P. for his execution on July 29th it was found that owing to an error of the engrossing clerk several pages of it were missing. Another engrossment was prepared forthwith, but on the same day before the new engrossment was ready J. P. died. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit to have it declared whether or not the deed of 1886 was a valid deed and prayed that the defective execution of the second deed might be aided by the Court and the provisions of the said second deed declared to be valid. Held, (i) That the plaintiff was not time-barred as against the trustees from bringing the action. (ii) That however restricted the gift was in form to J. P. it was in effect a gift absolute to him for life, and that entirely irrespective of the power of revocation. (iii) That all the gifts in the trust settlement made contingent upon N. M. dying without issue were bad. (iv) That that portion of the instrument which purported to create a waqf in respect of four tenths of the settled property was bad and void. (v) That the gift was bad for want of contemporaneous delivery of possession. (vi) That this was a case, if ever there was a case, in which the Courts might act upon those principles which have always guided the Court of Equity in England and aid defective execution of a power, defective not through any fault on the part of the person intending to execute it but by reason of an act of God, and that the unsigned deed ought to be effectuated by the Court to the extent of making it binding on the conscience of the trustees. Per Curiam. It is only in the event of the trusts or some of them being bad that the question of limitation can arise. For if a trust deed in its entirety is good, then of course effect must be given to it irrespective of any question of lapse of time. Where what purports to be a trust-deed turns out to have been entirely void and therefore not to have passed the legal estate, the position of those who took possession believing themselves to be trustees but not in law real trustees necessarily assumes the character of possession by trespass and is therefore from its inception in law adverse against all the world. Where, however, the trust-deed in itself is good and valid to the extent of passing the legal estate but the trusts declared are in themselves wholly or partially bad, then there is a resultant trust to the author of the trust and the possession of the trustees, whatever they might think of it and however they might intend to use it for the purpose of carrying out of the bad trusts, could not in law be adverse to the cestui que trust, that is to say, the grantor. Widely different is the case of trustees who obtain the legal estate from the author of the trusts to apply the beneficial uses to specified objects which may or may not be good. For then from the beginning there is always a relation between the author of the trusts and the trustees in whom his confidence has been reposed and there is always the legal possibility of least of another relation coming into existence between them where owing to the failure of the declared trusts, there is a resultant trust back to the grantor who from that moment becomes in law the cestui que trust of the trustees. Where it was the intention that there should be an ultimate trust in favour of the grantor it is usual to express that on the face of the deed. A deed so framed as upon its very face to provide for the springing back of the trust fund or a part of it in certain events to the author of the trust does create what is at once an express and resultant trust. The current of authority seems to have set steadily against the extension of section 10 of the Limitation Act to all cases of resultant implied or constructive trusts. Where the ultimate resultant trust which is to spring back to the settlor is consistent with the discharge of the declared trust, then it may by loose use of language be said to be express on the face of the deed but when the extinction or failure of all the intended trusts is a condition precedent to the resultant trusts coming into being, then the latter is clearly a true resultant trust and is not express and never can be express on the face of the deed. The answer to the question—What is the true position when declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust over to the settlor or his heirs—is to be found in the very elementary proposition that the possession of the trustee is always that of cestui-que-trust, and, therefore, however, he may think or wish to be holding as trustee for trusts which have failed in the eye of the law, he is really holding when those trusts failed, as trustee for the settlor. Then the position is simply this so long as he retains and professes to retain the character of a good and legal trustee, he is holding the legal estate as stake holder for two claimants, the intended beneficiaries of the declared trusts which have failed, and the resultant trustee, that is, the settlor. And no length of possession by a trustee can be adverse to his cestui-que-trust as soon as that legal person is discovered and ascertained. So long as a trustee occupies the position of a trustee as soon as declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust in favour of the settlor, the trustee's possession is essentially that of his cestui-que-trust and can only be changed into adverse possession by a conscious and deliberate act, that is to say, that he must repudiate all intention of holding for the resultant cestui-que-trust and he must assert his intention of continuing to apply the trust fund to uses which the Court has declared or which are known to him to have failed. Then his possession might become adverse to his legal cestui-que-trust and if that person did not take steps within twelve years he might not be able to avail himself, under the Indian authorities, of the provisions of section of 10 the Limitation Act. Estoppel and res judicata are entirely distinct. Res judicata precludes a man averring the same thing twice over in successive litigations, while estoppel prevents him saying one thing at one time and the opposite at another. It is consistent with the Mahomedan Law that a Mahomedan may devote his property in wakf and yet reserve to himself and his descendants in a very indefinite manner the usufruct of property. Jaisa Bai v R D Sakhia I L R 34 Bom 604, considered. The power of revocation is inherent in the donor of every gift, so that expressing it, as is usually done by English draftsmen in these voluntary settlements, is merely surplusage and so far from invalidating the gift as a whole would necessarily be implied in it were it not expressed. Under the Mahomedan Law where a gift is conditioned by a power restricting alienation, the gift is absolute and the condition is void. A gift to the donor himself for his life and then over to others could not be reconciled with any recognised principle of the Mahomedan Law of gift and must necessarily therefore, so far as the remoter donees are concerned be bad ab initio. Jaisabai v P D Sakhia, I L R 34 Bom 591, followed. A vested remainder in the strictest sense of the English words and a forfeiture a contingent remainder could not possibly by any stretch of ingenuity be made the subject of a valid Mahomedan gift inter vivos consistently with the requirements of the Mahomedan Law on that head and for this very simple reason that no man can give possession in praesenti of that which may never come into possession at all. It is of the essence of a Mahomedan gift inter vivos that the donor should divest himself of the actual possession of the thing given and transfer it to the donee and if the donee does not take physical possession of it at the time of making the gift, then still he does the gift is revocable. There is no authority to be found anywhere in the Mahomedan Law books themselves for the proposition that a man giving inter vivos may give an estate first to himself and then to A for life and then to B absolutely. It is undoubtedly a rule of the Mahomedan Law that where a donor makes a gift and accepts in exchange something whether that something be independent of or part of the original gift, then the rest of the gift is irrevocable. No gift in futuro can be made by a Mahomedan inter vivos, in order to validate such a gift there must be an actual delivery of seisin to the donee, there must be a transfer of possession and that transfer of possession must be from the donor to the donee. While the Mahomedan Law insists that a gift to private persons should be free of all pious and religious purposes, this does not necessarily prohibit the making of the gift to wakf which may be contained in a deed which makes other gifts at the same time to private persons. It appears to be the Mahomedan Law that a donor may give his property in wakf, that is to say, appropriate and dedicate the corpus to the service of God, while reserving for himself a life interest in the usufruct. But as in the case of gifts to private individuals the Mahomedan Law never contemplated and will not allow a merely contingent gift in wakf. This necessarily flows from the juristic conception of a wakf which is the immediate appropriation and consecration of specified property to the service of God and the reservation of the donor's life interest in that property does not in any way clash with that conception for the corpus is there and then definitely and finally appropriated to its intended purpose. But it is plainly otherwise, while the gift is conditioned upon the happening of some future uncertain events. There can, in such circumstances, be no appropriation synchronizing with the declaration, because should the future events happen it is neither the donor's intention then nor after the happening of that event that the property ever should be appropriated to the service of God. It would be passing the limits of the application of the maxim Usus et contractus vincunt legem if it were sought to be shown that the Khojas are allowed to local usage to override the Mahomedan Law which prohibits any Moslem from disposing of more than one third of his property by will. CASAMALLI JAJRABAI v SIB CURRIMHOY KERANIM (1911)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd.

I L R 26 Bom 214

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s 92

(1) . . . I L R. 25 All 98

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

I L R. 43 All 509

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

See MUHAMMADAN WAKF VALIDATING ACT
(VI of 1913) s 3

I L R 39 Bom 563

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

6 Pat L J 218

See WAKF

1. ——— Valid wakf—Charitable objects—Expenses of fateha of exculant—Burning lamps in mosque—Salary of Hafiz Held by BAKERJI J (STANLEY, C J, dubitante) that a wakf by which a substantial portion of the income of the endowed property was appropriated for (i) expenses of the annual fateha of the wakf, of her husband and members of her family (ii) the annual expenses of burning lamps in a mosque and (iii) the salary of Hafiz and readers of the Quran, was a valid wakf, and that there was a substantial dedication of the property to religious or charitable purposes. Muhammad Ahsanullah Chowdhury v Amur Chand Kundu, I L R 17 Cal 498. Luchmiput v Amur Alum I L R 9 Cal 176. Phul Chand v Albar Yar Khan I L R 19 All 211 and Bibi Jan v Kabi Husain 6 All L J 115. I L R 31 All 136 referred to. Kaidoola Sahib v Ameer ud-din I L R 13 Mad 201 and Fakhr ud-din Shah v Kiyasatullah 7 All L J 1025 doubted. Per STANLEY C J—The general dedication of villages in the name of God is not sufficient to render the wakf valid in respect of so much of the property as has been dedicated expressly for specific objects which are not proper objects of wakf fateha ceremonies and the reading of the Quran in private do not seem to be such objects. Mazhar Hussain Khan v Abdul Hadi Khan (1911)

I L R 33 All 400

2. ——— Performance of fateha, when a valid object of wakf—Wakf when illusory—Rule to be adopted when one of the purposes of the wakf fails—Provision for heirs invalid as a wakf—Validity of direction to accumulate in a wakf. The performance of fateha (distribution of alms to the poor accompanied with prayers for the welfare of the souls of deceased persons) which so far as it involves the expenditure of any money, consists in feeding the poor, is a valid object of wakf. A gift for the benefit of a man's own family or descendants will not be valid as a wakf, and a gift, really for such a purpose, though ostensibly one for valid charitable purposes will be bad as only an illusory wakf. It can be no objection to the validity of a wakf that some provision is made for the donor's family provided such provisions are not inconsistent with the gift being one substantially for charity. If, however, such provisions in a deed purporting to be by way of wakf exhausts the bulk of the income or are to last for an indefinite period, the wakf will be bad as illusory. The fact that the donor did not direct the proportions in which the income should be divided between the charities and his heirs, who were appointed trustees will not raise the presumption that he intended the heirs to take the whole. It must be presumed that he intended the charities and his heirs to benefit equally. Where a donor mentions several purposes as objects of charity and one of such purposes fails, then if a general intention can be gathered of dedicating the property to charity the entire property will be devoted to the lawful objects, if any, mentioned in the deed and in the absence of any such to the poor, whether or not any definite portion of the income has been set apart for the purpose which fails. A gift by way of wakf partly for valid charitable purposes and partly for the donor's heirs will not be void because the latter is not a legal purpose of a wakf. The wakf will be valid and the whole income will be devoted for the valid purposes. A provision for accumulation which will ensure solely for the benefit of charitable purposes will not be bad as offending the law of perpetuities. RAMANDRAM CHETTIYER v VADA LEVAT MARAKAYAR (1910)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

I L R 34 Mad. 12

See POST

I L R 40 Mad 116

3. ——— Sunni schools—Injunction be inter co-owners—Mahomedan burial ground for joint interests in. The Court will refuse to a co-owner an injunction to prevent the carrying out of a necessary work by another co-owner upon property held in common. According to the accepted view of the Sunni schools which comprise the followers both of Imam Abu Hanifa and Imam Shafai it is in the very conception of wakf, which is the name for a grant by which mosques and similar institutions are dedicated that all proprietary rights of men should be extinguished in the property so dedicated. KUTTAYAN v MAMMANA RAYUTHAN (1912)

I L R 25 Mad 681

4. ——— Subsequent failure of title of wakf—Right of mutawallis to sue on a indemnity bond executed in favour of wakf as purchaser—Right of plaintiff to shift basis of claim during suit—Produce. A purchased a village the venditor giving him an indemnity bond in case he should be dispossessed. A then made a wakf of the property purchased naming himself as mutawalli and after him his son M. A lost the property as the result of a suit, and subsequently (A meanwhile having died) M sued as mutawalli to enforce the terms of the indemnity bond. Held, that the wakf was invalid, and that M could not be permitted to change the character of the suit by claiming as one of the heirs of A. Per CHAMBERS, J—Even if the wakf was valid the mutawalli was not entitled to maintain the suit in the absence of a transfer to him as such of the vendee's rights under the indemnity bond. MASHUD DIN v BALLASH DAS (1912)

I L R 35 All. 66

4(a). ——— Right to worship in mosques—Every Mahomedan who has a right to use a mosque for purposes of devotion is entitled to exercise such right without hindrance and can bring a suit against anyone who interferes, but if he brings it in his personal capacity and not on behalf of the community the decision will be binding only as between plaintiff and defendant. RAMCHANDRA v ALI MAHOMED

I L R 35 All. 197

5. ——— Dedication subject to annuities—Payable to the members of the settlor's family. Where a wakfnama provided that about two-thirds of the income of the property were to be paid as allowances to the wife and children of the settlor and only about a third was to be spent for religious and charitable purposes and it was further provided that the allowances to the wife and children would have to be reduced in the event of the income of the estate being reduced but there was no provision that the amount to be spent for religious and charitable purposes was to be reduced for any reason though the amount might be increased with the increase of the income of the estate. Held, that the wakf was valid under the Mahomedan Law. GHANI MIA v ADAK PATARI (1913) . . . 17 C W. N 1018

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

6. ———— Shia Sect—Wakf—Varz ul mauit—Validity of wakf made in marz ul mauit Under the Shia law a wakf made in death illness is valid only to the extent of one third if not assented to by the heirs, even if possession has been delivered by the maker of the wakf. Nazar Husain v. Rafeeq Husain, 8 All L J 1151, approved ALI HUSAIN v FAZAL HUSAIN, KRAY (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All 431

7. ———— Constitution of by deed of trust—Objects charitable and religious—Validity of wakf Where with the object of dedicating a house to the service of the Imams, Hasan and Hussain, and for other religious purposes, the settler had conveyed the house to his grand daughter and his grand son on trust for the proper observance of the objects mentioned in the deed. — Held, that there was a valid wakf. Delross Banoo Begum v Aahgar Ally Khan, 15 B L R 167, discussed. Phul Chand v Ablar Jar Khan, 1 L R 19 All 211, Baba Jan v Kalb Husain, 1 L R 31 All 136, Ma har Husain Khan v Abdul Hadi Khan, 1 L R 33 All 400, referred to. RAM CHARAN LAW v FATIMA BEGAM (1913)

I. L. R. 42 Cal 933

8. ———— Dedication for expenses of mosque—And maintenance of family members, how far valid Where a person belonging to the Hanafi School of Mahomedan Law made a wakf whereby he provided for the payment of expenses of and in connection with a mosque and for regular monthly maintenance of the members of his family. — Held, that the dedication in connection with the mosque was valid, but not so the provision for the payment of maintenance to members of the family. RAHIMUN-NISSA BIBI v SHAIKH MANIK JAV (1914) . . . 19 C W N 78

9. ———— Res judicata—Decision in previous suit between same individuals, but brought by plaintiff in another capacity—Decision of High Court on legal grounds declaring a wakf invalid, conclusive in later suit even when not strictly res judicata Where in a suit by a creditor or representative of the wife of the original owner of property which the latter had made wakf before his death, it was declared by the High Court on appeal on legal grounds is that the wakf was invalid. — Held, that this adjudication by the High Court of the invalidity of the wakf was binding between the parties to a subsequent suit brought against the same defendant by the same plaintiff but suing now as the heir of the owner's daughter. MOHAMMED BUKTH MAJUMDAR v DEWAY AJMOH RAJA (1915) . . . 19 C W. N 967

10. ———— Founder herself mutawalli, if may renounce office—and appoint another—Right of next in order of succession under original wakf to sue if arises immediately or on death of predecessor—Limitation—A mutawalli cannot renounce his office except in the presence of the founder of the wakf, but whether the founder is herself the mutawalli, a renunciation by her to herself would be valid and the appointment by her of another mutawalli would be valid at least during her lifetime and limitation would not begin

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

running against the person next entitled to succeed to the office under the original endowment until her death. ABDUL GAFOOR MIAN v HAJI KHUND RAN ALTAF HOSAIN (1915) . . . 20 C W N 605

11. ———— Deed providing for charitable purposes, and also for support of grantors family—And descendants—Test whether deed is valid as a wakf or whether wakf is illusory—Property substantially given to charities the surplus to support family—Muslimans Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913) The test of whether a deed was, or was not, valid as a wakf in the cases decided before Act VI of 1913, was that if the effect of the deed was to give the property substantially to charitable uses it would be valid, but if the effect of it was to give the property in substance to the settlors' family it would be invalid under Mahomedan Law. Mahomed Ashanulla Chondhray v Amarchand Kundu, 1 L P 17 Cal 493 L R 17 I A 28 Abdul Fata Mahomed Isahak v Rasmaya Dhur Chondhuri, 1 L R 22 Cal 619 L R 22 I A 76, and Majubunissa v Abdul Rahim, 1 L R 23 All 233 242 L R 23 I A 15, 23 referred to. To determine whether any particular case answers the test, all the circumstances existing at the date of the deed must be taken into consideration such as the financial position of the grantor, the amount of the property, the nature and the needs of the charity, their probable or possible expansion, the priority of their claim upon the settled fund and such like. It does not follow because the share of the income going to the family which may be a dwindling sum is for a time larger than that going to the charities, that the effect of the deed is to give the property in substance to the family and that it is therefore invalid as a wakf. In the present case the sum devoted to the charities was not large though for the present it was abundant for their needs, but having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the dominating purpose and intention of the grantors in executing the deed was to provide adequately for those charities. That was their main and paramount object. The secondary and subsidiary object was to secure for their family and descendants any surplus that might remain after the needs of the charities had been satisfied. As the gift for the charities was perpetual it was necessary and right that the provision for capturing any possible residuum should also be perpetual. The provisions of the deed carry out these objects, and in their Lordships' opinion the effect of the instrument is not to give the trust property in substance to the family of the grantors but to give it substantially to the charitable purposes named in it. The deed therefore was within the authorities a good and valid deed of wakf. FAMANDAR GHEHTIAN v VAVA LEYVAT MARAKAYAR (1916).

I. L. R. 40 Mad 116

L. R. 44 I A 21

13. ———— Mutawalli—Jurisdiction of Court to appoint guardian in respect of wakf property—Guardians and Wardes Act (VIII of 1890) A Mahomedan died leaving two sons and a daughter, all minors, and having also constituted a wakf of a partly public and partly private character, under which, upon the death of the wakf one or other of his sons was to be mutawalli. — Held, that it was competent to the District Judge to appoint a person to perform

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd.

the duties of the mutawalli pending either the coming of age of the minors or the institution of a regular suit by some persons interested in the endowment to contest the arrangement made by him. Ejaz Ahmad v Khatun Begam (1916) 1 L R 59 All 288

14 ——— Validity of—Determining test—Annuity to destitute illegitimate daughter of founder's husband of charitable gift Where under a wakf a certain portion of the property was to go for objects religious and charitable but the main object was the benefit of the daughter of the settlor and her successors. Held, that in the circumstances of the case the dominating purpose and intention of the grantor which is the true test in such cases, was not to provide for charities. That although the deed might not be wholly good, it was competent for the Court to declare the charitable trusts constituted by the document to form a valid charge on the property. That the annuity to an illegitimate daughter of the founder's husband who was destitute and unprovided was a charitable gift. Karimunnissa Chowdhurani v Emina Banoo (1917) 22 C W N 568

15 ——— Appointment of mutawalli by tauliqnamah—Testamentary character and validity of—Mahomedan Endowments Committee at Chittagong—Statutory body—Regulation XIX of 1910—Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863), s. 7—Doctrine of marz-ul-mawl. Where a mutawalli of a mosque executed a tauliqnamah, a few months prior to his death, in favour of B appointing him as his successor—Held that the Mahomedan Endowments Committee at Chittagong was a statutory body and its recognition of a person as the true and rightful mutawalli was authoritative. Seemle that according to Mahomedan Law, a tauliqnamah was capable of being construed as a document of a testamentary character speaking as from the moment of death also, that when a person had a right or power under the law to appoint a successor and if he freely executed a tauliqnamah as a testamentary document while he was of sound mind its validity could not be questioned. Sayad Muhammad v Fatteh Muhammad, 1 L R 22 Cal. 324 L R 22 I A 4, Sayad Abdula Edrus v Sayad Zain Sayad Hasan Edrus 1 L R 13 Bom. 655 referred to SULTAN AHMAD v ABDUL GANI (1918) 1 L R. 46 Cal. 13

16 ——— Illusory dedication—Mussalman Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913) preamble and ss. 3 and 4—Act not retrospective. The Mussalman Wakf Validating Act, 1913, is not retrospective in its operation. If, therefore, a wakf purporting to be created before coming into operation of that Act is to be held valid it must conform to the law as established by the decisions of the Privy Council prior to the said Act, that is to say, the owner of the property, the subject of the wakf, must divest himself of it and appropriate it to religious or charitable purposes, there must be a substantial dedication to religious or charitable purposes at some time or another, there must be a substantial and not merely a colourable dedication of the property, the religious or charitable purpose must not be so unsubstantial or illusory as to give to the settlement merely a colour of piety, the real object being the aggrandisement of the settlor's family. Rahimunnissa Bibi v Shazia Mamik Jax, 19 C W N 76 Mahomed Bakti

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd.

Majumdar v Dwan Ajman Begs, 1 L R 43 Cal. 158 and Amur Bibi v Aziz Bibi, 1 L R 39 Bom. 563, referred to NAIM UL-HAQ v MUDAM-MAD SURHAN ULLAH (1918) 1 L R 41 All. 1

17 ——— Office of mutawalli devolving upon an entire family—Division of the wakf property amongst the family—Right of some members of the family to sue for the setting aside of the transactions of other members relating to the wakf property. By the terms of a wakf constituted in 1845, the original mutawallis were two nephews of the wakif, the sons of his brother. Thereafter the office of mutawalli was to descend to the family of the brother generation after generation without a break and without any separation for ever. In course of time it happened that the office of mutawalli devolved on three brothers who, for their own purposes, divided the wakf property amongst themselves. One of these brothers entered into various transactions relating to portions of the wakf property which were inconsistent with his position as mutawalli, and thereafter attempted to resign office in favour of his sons. The sons then endeavoured to get the transaction entered into by their father set aside, but failed. Subsequently three of the sons of the third brother their father having died mean while brought the present suit to set aside the transactions referred to above. Held, that, as on their father's death the office of mutawalli devolved upon the plaintiffs jointly with their uncle, they were entitled to bring the suit. Ali Muqtada Khan v Abdul Hamid Khan (1919)

[1 L R 41 All. 412]

18 ——— Shia sect—Wakf created by trust deed—Ownership in property not divested from date of execution of deed. Held, that a trust deed executed by a Mahomedan of the Shia sect and his wife which purported to create a wakf, but did not divest the executants in present of the ownership or power of alienation in respect of the property therein dealt with, could not operate to create a valid wakf. ALI RAZA v SANWAL DAS (1918) 1 L R 41 All. 34

19 ——— Illusory dedication—Where it was conceded that the annual value of property dedicated by way of wakf was about a thousand rupees but it appeared that the expenditure needed to carry out the stated charitable and religious purposes would amount to only a small fraction of the annual income and were in fact so unimportant or so remote as to be illusory. Held applying the test laid down in Musunnissa v Abder Rahim 1 L R 23 All 233; s. c. 5 C. W. N. 177, that the document was not a valid wakf. MARHAM ALI KHAN v NIZAMAT ALI (1919) 23 C W N 903

20 ——— Lease by mutawalli—Sanction of Judge (Kari) how obtainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 92. S. 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure evidently relates to suits claiming any of the reliefs specified in sub s. (1) thereof. An application by a mutawalli for sanction to grant a lease is not a suit under sub s. (1) of s. 92. The application for sanction should be made to the District Judge if the property is situated in the mofussil or to the Judge on the Original Side of the High Court if it is within a Presidency Town. It is not necessary to bring a suit for obtaining such sanction; it will be granted upon a proper application being made by the mutwalli. Any application made by the mutwalli will of course be enquired into by the District Judge before sanctioning a lease as Kazi FARUKUNNESSA BEGUM v. DISTRICT JUDGE OF 24 PARAGANAS (1920) I L R 47 Cal 592

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

21 ———— Illusory—Chief object of wakf to make pious on in perpetuity for the family—Wakf how far valid—Court whether precluded from taking notice of illegality of wakf when illegality not disclosed in pleadings In a suit for recovery of the office of mutwalli and for possession of the properties covered by a wakf the Plaintiffs prayed that the first Plaintiff might be declared to be the mutwalli appointed in accordance with the long established custom and usage of the family and in conformity with the provisions of the deed of wakf or if in the opinion of the Court the first Plaintiff had not been validly appointed mutwalli the Court might issue orders for the nomination and election of the mutwalli by the members of the family and thereafter appoint the person so nominated. The Defendant denied the claim and alleged that he had been duly nominated and appointed mutwalli by his father. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit holding that the Defendant had been validly appointed mutwalli and that the alleged election of the first Plaintiff had no legal effect. On appeal it was pointed out that the gift to charity was illusory and the chief object of the wakf was to create a settlement in perpetuity for the aggrandisement of the family. It was urged on behalf of the Appellant that as in the Court below the parties had proceeded on the assumed basis that the wakf was good and valid, this Court was not competent to determine whether this assumption was or was not well founded. Held—That the Court was in no way bound by the assumption made by the parties as to the legality of the wakf in question and could not be invited by either of them to adjudicate upon their claim in relation thereto. Wakf of this character had been pronounced invalid by the highest judicial tribunal as contrary to public policy. If the illegality of a transaction is brought to the notice of the Court the Court will not assent to the person who invokes it and even though the Defendant has not pleaded the illegality and does not wish to raise the objection on Connolly v. Consumers Cordage Co 2 Beauchamp P C 49 89 L T 347 (1903) Scott v. Brown [1892] 2 Q B 721, Yedge v. Royal Exchange Corporation [1900] 2 Q B 211, Poyal Exchange Assurance Corporation v. Sjöforsvårings, [1902] 2 A B 331 Thomas v. Day [1903] 24 T L R 272 and Luckett v. Wood [1908] 24 T L P 617 referred to. NAWAZADA KHANJAH ATYULLA v. NAWAB KHANJAH HABIBULLA 24 C W N 508

22 ———— Sunnis—Wakf—Del very of possession essential According to the Mahomedan Law of the Hanafi school it is essential to the validity of a wakf that the wakf should actually direct himself of the property to be made wakf Muhammad Ad-din v. Admad v. The Legal Representatives, I L R 15 All 321 followed MUHAMMAD YUSUF v. MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN I L R 43 All 437

23 ———— Whether a wakf can cancel the dedication subsequently—And whether a house can be dedicated for purposes of prayer—

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

Cottingent deed cat on—wakf made exclusively for use of a particular sect—whether valid One Chittu a member of a peculiar sect of Mahomedans called Ahl-i-Quran or Chakralai purchased a house and on 23rd May 1903 executed a wakfnama by way of a will and declared the property wakf for the use of his sect and appointed himself as its mutwalli. The wakf was to be acted upon after his life time and after his death his mutwallis were to be elected to manage the wakf. On 15th March 1905 he executed another document in which he made the wakf more complete and having given up his *mutwalli*ship placed the property in possession of certain persons who were appointed mutwallis. In the first wakfnama there was a direction that a mosque should be erected to carry out the objects of the wakf but he consecrated the house itself for the purpose of prayers and the recitation of the Quran. The newly appointed mutwallis failed to obtain a site for the building of a mosque and so they appointed Chittu again as mutwalli of the wakf in the hope that by his influence a site might be secured. When Chittu came into the possession of the wakf property he apparently changed his mind and began to deal with the property as his own. He made transfers and leases and gifted part of the house to his wife. Thereon the other mutwallis removed him from the *mutwalli*ship, and he accepted his dismissal on 3rd June 1909. In November 1911 he died and his legal heirs took possession of a portion of the wakf property. The mutwallis then instituted the present suit against the heirs for a declaration that the property being wakf the defendants had no right to any portion of it. Held that the second wakfnama followed by possession being given to the mutwallis created a valid and binding wakf in the life time of Chittu which could not be invalidated by Chittu's subsequent acts. Held also that on a proper construction of both the wakfnamas it was not a condition of the dedication that a mosque should be built, the house itself having been constituted as a wakf property in the wakf's lifetime and having been used as a house of prayer by the followers of the sect ever since. It could not therefore be said that the wakf never came into existence or that it was a contingent one dependent on the fulfilment of the condition of building a mosque. Left further that according to Mahomedan Law any place which is dedicated for the purposes of prayer may validly be treated as a mosque and it is not necessary that the building should have a minaret. Held lastly that the fact that Chittu in both wakfnamas expressed a wish that only the Ahl-i-Quran should perform their prayers in the house could not invalidate the wakf which was made according to the rules of Mahomedan Law, and the house must be treated as having been the property of God. Where a wakf has been validly made exclusively for the use of a particular sect the wakf is good and the condition attached to it is valid. Ali I. Khan v. Ali I. Khan (I L R 12 All 424 (501)) F P Far Edge C J, referred to. Alida Sultan v. Akrab Ali, (I L R 35 Cal 294) Fazlul Karim v. The Adalat-e-Circular of Calcutta (I L R 16 Cal 42) Kulshrestha v. Ram Ali Khan v. Shalimar, Mushtaq Hussain v. (30 Ind an Cal 715) and Kutayyaz v. Mahomed Farukhan (15 Ind an Cases 195) distinguished. MATTA BAIKUN v. AMIR KHAN I L R 1 Lah. 317

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—cont'd

24 ——— Sanction to sell—Jurisdiction
—Direct On an application made by the Mutawallis to a wakf for sanction to sell wakf property Held, that there being no statute authorising such an application such sanction could only be obtained by means of a suit In re HALIMA KHATUN

I. L. R. 37 Cal. 870

25 ——— Muslims' Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913)—Provision for support and maintenance of family how far validates wakf
—If wakf property be mortgaged at the time of dedication whether the wakf valid—Whether delivery of possession essential—Sells in death illness—Wakf off etc what share of the property—Death illness, conditions of—Question when one of fact only and when of law and fact In a wakf although provision is made for the maintenance and support of the family children and descendants of the settlor, if the ultimate benefit is reserved for the poor and for other purposes recognized by the Mahomedan law as religious pious or charitable purposes of a permanent character then tested in the light of the provisions of the Muslim wakf Validating Act, no valid objection can be taken to the legality of such a wakf The circumstance that the property dedicated was under a mortgage at the time of creation of the endowment and that provision was made in the wakf for the discharge thereof does not render the endowment invalid under the Mahomedan Law According to the Calcutta High Court, a valid wakf is created by declaration of endowment by the owner, and delivery of possession is not essential Where the settlor had appointed himself as the first mutawalli no formal delivery of possession from himself was a prerequisite to the validity of the wakf and even if transmutation of possession was necessary no formal delivery was essential A Muslim who is in Mars ul maut or death illness cannot make a valid disposition of more than one third of his property after payment of funeral expenses and debts and if he purports to make a wakf in such illness, unless his heirs assent the wakf will affect only one third of his estate and will be invalid in respect of the excess notwithstanding that possession of the entire property dedicated has been delivered to the person nominated mutawalli In order to establish the existence of death illness there must be at least three conditions with regard to the illness which has caused death (a) proximate danger of death so that there is a preponderance of apprehension of death (b) there must be some degree of subjective apprehension of death in the mind of the sick person and (c) there must be some external and/or such as inability to attend to ordinary vocations Whether or not a particular illness constitutes Mars ul maut is primarily a question of fact, but may sometimes be a mixed question of law and fact, for instance where the question arises whether the facts found as to the physical condition of the deceased at the date of the execution of the deed constitute the essential elements of Mars ul maut as formulated by Mahomedan jurists Bibi JEWTRA KHATUN v MOHAMMED FAKIRULLA

26 C W N 749

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

—Bhag property—widows power of alienation—

See WASTE. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 727

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW—cont'd

Claim to dower—Rights of widow in possession in lieu of dower—Proof of consent of husband or heirs not necessary A Mahomedan widow to whom dower is due who enters into possession of her husband's property on his death is entitled to hold the estate against the other heirs until her claim to dower is satisfied, subject to her liability to account for the profits which she may receive while so in possession It is not necessary for her to show that the deceased husband or his heirs consented to her getting into possession Amamat un nissa v Bashir un nissa I. L. R. 17 All 77 dissented from Musammal Bibee Bachun v Sheikh Hamid Hossein 14 Moo. I. A. 377, Ameer un nissa v Moorad-un nissa 6 Moo. I. A. 211 and Amam Perjum v Muhammad Karim-ullah, I. L. R. 16 All 273, referred to RAMEAN ALI KHAN ASGHARI BILGAM (1910)

I. L. R. 32 All 563

Dower—Right of widow to remain in possession of property of her husband—Such right heritable The right of a Mahomedan widow who has entered into possession of her husband's property peacefully and without fraud in lieu of her dower debt, is a heritable right and her heirs are entitled to remain in possession until the debt is satisfied. Aziz ul lah Khan v Ahmad Ali Khan, I. L. R. 7 All 353, followed. Amamat un nissa v Bashir un nissa I. L. R. 17 All 77, doubted Musammal Bibee Bachun v Sheikh Hamid Hossein, 14 Moo. I. A. 377, Mahomed Usaid ood lah Khan v Musammal Ghoshan Beeber, 1 Agr 150 Musammal Kummur-ool nissa Begum v Mahomed Hussain, 1 Agr 257, Musammal Bahad un nissa v Musammal Shubratun 6 B. L. R. 34 Ahmad Hossein v Musammal Akhderja, 10 W. R. C. R. 363 Sayed Bazyet Hossein v Dooli Chand, L. R. 5 I. A. 211, Ali Muhammad Khan v Aziz ul lah Khan, I. L. R. 6 All 50, Ajuba Begum v Na'ir Ahmad, All Weekly Notes (1890) 115, Hadi Ali v Akbar Ali, I. L. R. 20 All 262, and Mu'ajjar Ali Khan v Farbuti, I. L. R. 29 All 610, referred to ALI BAKSH v ALLAHAD KHAN (1910)

I. L. R. 32 All 551.

In possession of husband's property in lieu of dower—Rights of widow—Transfer by widow—What acquired by transferee—Limitation—Act No. 1A of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act), s. 1, art 151 Where a Mahomedan widow is in possession of property belonging to her deceased husband in lieu of dower, it is competent to her to sell it without necessarily selling her right to receive her dower Such a transfer conveys to the transferee the right to remain in possession during the widow's life time or until the widow's dower, or the proportionate part thereof corresponding to the property transferred, is satisfied Mohammad Hussain v Bashir un nissa 15 A. L. J., 1161, distinguished. Musammal Kummur-ool nissa Begum v Mahomed Hussain N. W. P., II C. Rep., 1366, 257, and Ali Baksh v Allahdad Khan, I. L. R. 32 All. 551, referred to. ABDULLA v SHAMS UL HAQ

I. L. R. 43 All 127

share taken by as sole heir—Where a Mahomedan dies leaving a widow as his sole heir the widow will take one fourth as her share and the remaining 3/4th by Return The surplus 1/4th does not sequester to the Government

I. L. R. 44 Bom 949

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL.

See PROBATE 15 C W N 185

See WILL I L R 43 Bom 641

Request to an heir—Effect of—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907
s 16 I L R 42 All 593

1. — Probate—Will, admissibility of, in evidence, without probate—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 4—Succession Act (X of 1865), s 187—Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) s 2, here is no provision of law rendering it obligatory, in the case of a Mahomedan will to take out probate. After due proof, a Mahomedan will is admissible in evidence, notwithstanding that grant of probate has not been obtained. Fatma v Shaik Essa I L R 7 Bom. 266, not followed. Shaik Moosa v Shaik Essa, I L R 8 Bom 241, followed. Kacrodmonny Dasse v Durgamony Dasse, I L P 4 Cal 455. Administrators General of Bengal v Premial Mullick, I L R 22 Cal 783, Sarat Chandra Banerjee v Bhupendra Nath Dasu, I L R 25 Cal 103. Bhagwanang Bhargava v Richardas Harychandras, I L R 6 Bom 73, and Surbomungola Dabee v Mohendranath Nath I L R 4 Cal 503 referred to. SAIKHAT ABDUL MAHOMED (ISHAK 1910) I L R 37 Cal 839

2. — Legacy—Limitation Act (XI of 1887) Act 123—Suit to recover legacy—Legacy not assented to by executor—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 112—Shahs—Wakf—Request for Gadi ul khum feast—Fatiha dinners—Valid bequest—Cypres Article 123 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act, 1877, applies to a suit where the substantial claim is to recover a legacy, even though not assented to by the executor and whether or not the suit involves the administration of the whole estate. A Shah Mahomedan directed his executors by his will to spend a portion of the income of his property upon the following charitable or religious objects: (i) The Gadi ul khum feast at Mecca, (ii) The Cadi feast at Rehmanpura in Surat and (iii) A Fatiha dinner on the testator's and his wife's account. The Cadi feasts were to celebrate the appointment of Ali as successor of the Prophet. Held that the first two bequests were valid, but the validity of the third bequest was doubtful. Kaleelool Sahib v Askereddin Sahib I L P 18 Mad 201. Fozala Bibi v Zynul Ahdin 6 Bom L R 1038 and Dina Jan v Asib Hussain I L P 31 All 156 followed. Where the testator has indicated a general charitable intention in the bequest made by him and if these bequests fail, the Court can devote the property to religious or charitable purposes according to the cypres doctrine. SAIKHAT ABDUL HADEN v BAKHARU (1911) I L R 26 Bom. 111

3. — Bhagdari property—Will in favour of widow and daughter—Suit by a residuary heir of the testator for a division on that the will was invalid—Bhagdari custom—Testamentary capacity of the owner—Rule of Mahomedan Law to be applied—Validity of the will. A Mahomedan testator made a will by which he purported to dispose of his entire property including Bhagdari property in favour of his widow and daughter. The plaintiff who was the residuary heir of the testator never converted to the form of the will. He therefore, sued for a declaration that the will was invalid under Mahomedan Law so far as the Bhay property was concerned and that he was entitled to succeed to it after the death of the widow under the Bhagdari custom. The question being raised as to what was the rule which regulated the testator's power to make the will. Held, that the rule of Mahomedan Law was the only law which could be applied and according to it the will was invalid. The plaintiff was, therefore, the presumptive reversioner under the Bhagdari custom. AMRAT AHMAL v BAI BIBI (1916) I L R 41 Bom 377

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL—contd

3(a) — Mother as de facto Guardian.—If competent to alterate property of infant children.—In case of infant whose property is administered.—Suit for recovery of possession within twelve years from date of sale or three years from attainment of majority.—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1907) s 4, Art 44. A Mahomedan died leaving his widow and infant children. He had debts and to satisfy the decrees obtained by one of the creditors against some of the heirs the widow acting in her own behalf and on behalf of her minor children sold a certain property and made over delivery of possession. The other creditors took no steps to enforce their dues by suits. The children on attaining majority sued jointly with the widow to recover possession of the property on declaration of title. Held, that as laid down by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Inam Bhandi v Mutsuddi L P 45 Cal 73 s c I L R 45 Cal 378 23 C W N 50 (1916) a mother has not power under the Mahomedan law to alienate or charge immovable property as de facto guardian of her infant children. If such an alienation is made it is not necessary for the infants to have it set aside within three years after attainment of majority under Art 41 of the schedule to the Limitation Act, because the alienation must be deemed to have been effected not by a guardian but by a wholly unauthorised person. The infant whose property has thus been alienated is consequently entitled to institute a suit for recovery of possession within twelve years from the date of sale or within three years from the attainment of majority whichever may be the later date. That the decree for possession in favour of the plaintiffs should be conditional on repayment of a proportionate share of the ancestral debts which were payable out of the assets left by the original debtor and each heir, with the exception of the widow who was competent to sell her own share and could not subsequently ignore her act, was liable to satisfy the debt to the extent of the assets in his share. That the suit must fail so far as the Plaintiff who attained majority more than three years before suit the sale having taken place fourteen years before. LALOO HARIKAR v JAGAT CHANDRA BABA

25 C. W. N. 258

4. — Requests to heirs and to strangers—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXII r 4—Legal representatives—Statement of suit. In giving effect to the will of a Mahomedan which contains bequests to heirs and also to strangers the principle to be followed is that the bequests to the heirs will be invalid unless in each case they are assented to by the other heirs. But the bequests to the strangers will be valid to the extent of one third of the testator's property. Held also that an application to bring upon the record as representative of a deceased defendant a person who is not in fact such representative will be of

MAINTENANCE—contd

charge of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s 16 (d)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 337

decree for, against a soldier—

See ARMY ACT (44 & 45 Vic c 58), ss 145, 190 I. L. R. 43 Bom. 368 future, including allowances, right to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s 60 (7) I. L. R. 40 Mad. 302

Marumakkathayam, law of—

See MALABAR LAW

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 593

of child—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s 488

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 957

of daughters—

See WILL I. L. R. 38 Calc. 327

of junior members—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE, I. L. R. 39 Mad. 396 of members other than the senior male in a tarwad—

See MALABAR LAW

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 317

on gift by widow to daughter—

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER,

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 255

right to—

See MALABAR LAW I. L. R. 38 Mad. 79

right to get, from husband's estate—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 153

separate—

See ALIYASANTANA LAW

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 203

separate living member, when entitled to—

See MALABAR LAW.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 591

unit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s 16 (3), I. L. R. 40 Bom. 337

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS (ACT IX OF 1887), SCH II, ART 38

I. L. R. 40 All. 52

1. ——— Hindu widow—Hindu Law—Maintenance allowed by will of husband to wife—Unchastity of wife after husband's death—Maintenance not affected—Unchastity—Starving maintenance A Hindu widow was entitled to maintenance at the rate of Rs. 24 a year under her husband's will. After the husband's death, the widow led for some time an unchaste life and gave birth to a child; but since then she remained chaste. She sued to recover maintenance allowed to her under her husband's will. It was contended in reply that the plaintiff, on account of the unchaste life which she had led for some time after her husband's death, had forfeited her right even to bare or starving maintenance. Held, negating the contentions, that though the annuity was granted by the will as "maintenance" that word could not be understood as imposing any condition or restriction so as to cut down or extinguish the right to Rs. 24 a year given by the will. The rule that the will of a Hindu must be construed with due regard to Hindu habits and notions applies only where there is ambiguity. Caution must be used in applying that rule and it must be adopted only where a suggested construction of doubtful language leads to manifest absurdity or hardship. The general rule to be gathered from the texts is that a Hindu wife cannot be absolutely abandoned by her husband. If she is living an unchaste life, he is bound to keep her in the house under restraint and provide her with food and raiment just sufficient to support life, she is not entitled to any other right. If, however, she repents, returns to purity and performs expiatory rights, she becomes entitled to all conjugal and social rights, unless her adultery was with a man of a lower caste, in which case, after expiation, she can claim no more than bare maintenance and residence. Honamma v. Timannabhat, I. L. R. 1 Bom. 559, Valu v. Ganga, I. L. R. 7 Bom. 84, and Yashu Shambhog v. Manamma, I. L. R. 9 Bom. 193, discussed. PANXIE v. MARADEVI (1909) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 278

MAINTENANCE—contd

2. ——— Illegitimate son—Right of off spring of illegitimate son of a married woman to maintenance from the joint family property of the survivors of the putative father—Criminal intercourse effect of, on right to maintenance. The offspring of the intercourse of a man with his concubine who was a married woman is entitled to maintenance against the surviving members of the joint Hindu family to which the father belonged and who have taken his share by survivorship. Cheruturaya Ruu Mardun Syn v. Sohul Parhulad Syn, 7 Moo. I A. 18, followed, and Muthuswamy Jagaveera Yettappa Naicker v. Venkataswara Yellaya, 12 Moo. I A. 203, followed. There is no distinction between the right of the illegitimate son of an unmarried woman to maintenance out of the estate of the putative father and that of the offspring of an adulterous intercourse. Venkateshella Chetty v. Parutham, 8 Mad. H. C. 134, 143, followed. Virarammuthudayan v. Singaravelu, I. L. R. 1 Mad. 306, followed. Kuppa v. Singaravelu, I. L. R. 8 Mad. 325, followed. Rahi v. Govinda Valad Teja, I. L. R. 1 Bom. 97, followed. The offspring of a criminal intercourse should not be deprived of maintenance on the ground of the criminal origin of its being. Velarayana Mudaliar v. Vedammal, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 951, distinguished. SUBRAMANIAM MCDALI v. VELU (1910) I. L. R. 34 Mad. 86

3. ——— Future maintenance—Widow's right to transferable property—Right not one falling within s. 6, Transfer of Property Act—Validity of transaction not governed conclusively by Act, Civil Procedure Code, s. 226—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 16—Undue Influence A right to future maintenance is not an interest in property restricted in its enjoyment to the owner personally within the meaning of paragraph (d) of s. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act neither is it property within the enabling words of s. 6 of that Act. The fact that the transfer of such an interest is not recognised by the Transfer of Property Act is not conclusive on the question of its validity. Where the amount payable is subsequently fixed by agreement or by decree a transfer of such an interest may be valid. Urgent need of money on the part of a borrower does not of itself place the lender in a position to dominate his will within s. 16 of the Contract Act. Nor on the other hand will the fact that the borrower acted under a vice preclude her asking for relief on the ground of an undue influence. Where the executant of a document was a poor widow who entered into a contract with a money lender to enable her to establish her right to maintenance. Held that under sub s. 3 of s. 10 of the Contract Act the burden is on the plaintiff to prove that the contract was not induced by undue influence. RAME ANANTHURI NACHIAH v SWAMYKATHA CHETILAR (1910)

MAINTENANCE—contd

I L R 34 Mad 7

4.—Attachment of maintenance allowance—Maintenance to a person for life time and to her descendant—Assignment of decree for maintenance—Recurring charge—Validity of assignment in respect of arrears or future maintenance—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s. 6—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908), s. 232, 266—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908), O XLI, r. 16. Where a person is entitled to a monthly maintenance allowance under a deed the allowance can be attached by an execution creditor only after it has become due that is to say it cannot be attached prospectively before it has become due. Kashobkure Debai v Grees Chunder Lahure, 6 W R Mys 61 Hari Das Acharya v Birela Kishore Acharya I L R 27 Cal 35 Harris v Brown, I L R 28 Cal 621 referred to. Where a claim has been merged in an actual judgment the right under the judgment is assignable and the nature of the chose in action is generally immaterial. Conty v Faerie I Peter 193 Dugan v Mathers 9 Georgia 519 Charles v Hopkins, Iowa 329 77 Am Dec 148 Moore v Howell, 94 N C 265, Stewart v Lee 70 N H 131 46 At 31, referred to. Future maintenance awarded by decree when falling due can be recovered by execution of that decree without further suit, and hence the decree holder in this case was entitled to recover in execution without further suit the allowance as it accrued due. Ashutosh Bannerjee v Lakhmoyi Debty, I L R 19 Cal 131, referred to. ASAD ALI MOLLAH v HAIDAR ALI (1910)

I L R 38 Cal 13

5.—Liability of estate of deceased person for arrears of maintenance accrued prior to death—Abatement of order for maintenance after death—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898), s. 489 (1) (3), (6). A claim for arrears of maintenance abates on the death of the person against whom an order under sub s. (1) of s. 488 of the Criminal Procedure Code has been made, and cannot be enforced thereafter against his estate. Sembli. Before a warrant is issued under sub s. (3), wilful neglect to comply with the order must be found, and for that purpose evidence has to be taken under sub s. (6) in the presence of the accused. FAU ALI LAL BIRI (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 88

6.—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887), Art 41—Decree for maintenance against three persons, two of whom were made liable only in case of default by the third—Suit to recover proportionate amount of payments made—Suit cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. A decree was passed against three brothers for payment of a maintenance allowance to the widow of a fourth brother deceased. It was, however, provided by the decree that one of the three, Ant Ram, should alone be primarily liable for payment of the allowance and the others only in case of default being made by Ant Ram. Ant Ram, having made certain payments sued to recover a proportionate part thereof from the other brothers. Held, that the suit was not one for contribution, but was a suit cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. Maruti Anant v Maruti Maracore, I L R 39 Mad 219 and Pimaseewami Pantulu v Narayana moorthy Pantulu, 14 Mad L J 430 followed. Fatima Bibi v Hamida Bibi 13 A L J 452, referred to. ANT RAM v MITHAN LAL (1917)

MAINTENANCE—contd

I L R 40 All 135

7.—Arrears of maintenance—Suit by a Hindu widow. The Courts dealing with claims for arrears of maintenance have a very large discretion to grant or withhold those arrears with special reference to the urgent need and necessities of the widow. As soon as the widow satisfies the Court that she was in want at the time at which she was entitled to maintenance provided that time is within the period of limitation the Court might in any given case award her arrears to that extent and that would be quite independent of any demand on her part. In other words while a demand is allowed to be prima facie evidence of need on the widow's part, it is not in a demand that the right to obtain arrears of maintenance is rooted. Nor indeed is any demand necessary. KARNASAPPA v KALLAYA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom. 88

8.—Maintenance secured by deed—Hindu Law—Uncertainty. Where in a suit by a Hindu against her deceased husband's brother for maintenance at the rate fixed by agreement it was found that the plaintiff had since lived an immoral life but reformed her ways at the time of the suit. Held, that she lost her right to the rate fixed by the deed but was entitled to a 'starving' allowance. SATTYABRONA v KESAVA-CHARTA

I L R 39 Mad 668

MAINTENANCE GRANT

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 40 Cal 623

See GRANT

I L R 37 Cal 674

See REVT

I L R 38 Cal 278

Villages granted revenue free in lieu of maintenance—Undertaking by grantor to pay revenue of grant villages if a charge on the Taluk or a covenant running with the land—Suit to declare revenue payable for grant villages a charge on the Taluk—Cause of action—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s. 42. In 1884 B, the Talukdar of certain villages granted to L, a junior member of the family, certain specific villages in lieu of maintenance and it was agreed between the grantor and the grantee that the Talukdar should pay the whole revenue, the grantee enjoying the villages given to him revenue free. In 1910 by an arbitration award the then Talukdar B was directed to give to his two uncles S and R certain villages for exclusive enjoyment subject to the liability of each paying a certain specified share towards the payment of the Government revenue by K. The descendants of L, thereupon, apprehending that these and other alienations by the Talukdar may affect the latter's ability to pay the revenue due on account of the villages granted to L, sued K, S and R praying that the revenue payable on account of the villages granted to L be declared a charge upon the rest of the Taluka. Held—That under the arrangement of 1804, B undertook a personal liability to pay the revenue of the villages granted to L and it was not intended to charge the remainder of the taluk with such obligation. That in the absence of any allegation in the plaint that K had not ample property to carry out his undertaking there was no cause of action for the suit. That any transfers from the Talukdar took subject to the rights created by him. SUNDERLAL v RAMJILAL

MAINTENANCE GRANT—contd

24 C W. N 929

MAJORITY.

See MORTGAGE (MINOR)

I L R 38 Mad. 1071

— age of—

See MAJORITY ACT (IX OF 1875), s 3

I L R 35 All 150

— age of, for making a will—

See HINDU LAW—MINOR.

I L R 38 Mad. 166

— age of—for adopting—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 43 Bom. 461

MAJORITY ACT (IX OF 1875)

See GUARDIANS AND WARD'S ACT (VIII OF 1900) ss 2, ETC

I L R 39 Mad. 608

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R. 44 Mad 446

— s 2—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R. 41 Mad. 1026

— ss 2, 3—Hindu Law—Majority—Testamentary capacity of Hindus Held, that a Hindu domiciled in the United Provinces cannot execute a valid will until he has reached the age of majority as prescribed by the Indian Majority Act, 1875. HARDWARE LAL v GOERI (1911)

I L R 33 All. 525

— s 3—

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 36 Bom 622

I L R 33 Mad. 166

See PRYAL CODE (ACT XIV OF 1860), s 363.

I L R 37 Mad 567

— Guardian and minor—Effect of appointment of Hindu widow as guardian of her minor sons—Sale of minor's property A Hindu died leaving a widow and two minor sons. The widow was appointed in 1900 guardian of the two sons and in 1901 obtained sanction from the District Judge for the sale of half of the property of the minors. In 1906, the widow and the elder son who had then attained majority sold part of the property of the sons amounting to a somewhat less than half. Within three years of his coming of age the younger son sued for a declaration that the sale of 1900 and a mortgage executed in 1902 were not binding on his interest in the property purporting to be dealt with thereby. Held (i) that the appointment of the mother as guardian had the effect of prolonging the minority of both sons until they reached the age of twenty-one years, and (ii) that the sanction of the Judge given in 1891 could not validate a sale which was not made until 1900. Gharibullah v Khalid Singh, I L R 25 All 407, distinguished. SHAMJI NATH SAHJI v LALJI CHAUDH (1913)

MAJORITY ACT (IX OF 1875)—contd

— s 3—contd.

I L R 35 All 150

— Appointment of guardian to minor under 18—Release of guardian before minor attains 21 Effect of Held that when once a guardian of a minor has been properly constituted by the Court the minor cannot be deemed to have attained the age of majority until he has completed the age of 21 years even though the guardian is discharged before he attains that age. Per Das, J When an issue is raised as to minority an order appointing a guardian is no evidence of minority. HARINAR PRASAD SINGH v BABU EDUL SINGH

5 Pat L J 460

— Hard—When attains majority in cases where guardian discharged When a guardian of a minor has once been appointed the minor does not attain majority until he is 21, even though the certificate of guardianship is cancelled before then. SHAIKH ABDUL RAHIM v MUSAMMAT BARISA

6 Pat L J 273

"MAJUR

See INSURANCE I L R 36 Bom 484

MAKAN

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 37 Bom 224

MAKBUZA

See PRE EMPTION I L R 38 All 261

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD I CF 1900)

See CUSTOMARY LAW OF SOUTH KANARA I L R 47 And. 118

See MARUMAKATTAYAM LAW

I L R 37 Mad 648

— ss 3 and 5—Tenant introduced by mortgagor after mortgage—Purchaser in execution of decree on mortgage—Right to improve etc against—Right of tenant to improvements not confined against lessor The word "tenant" in s 3 of the Malabar Tenants Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900) includes also a lessee from a mortgagor after the creation of a mortgage in favour of a stranger. Hence, such a tenant is entitled under s 5 of the Act to the value of improvements effected by him even as against a purchaser in execution of the decree under a mortgage. s 5 of the Act does not confine the tenant's rights to improvements only as against his lessor. KANARAM v SIBUTHIA (1914)

I L R 38 Mad. 954

— ss 5, 6—

See EJECTMENT I L R 41 Mad. 441

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 42 Mad. 100

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD. I OF 1900)—

—contd

—s. 5, 6—contd

Decree for ejectment—Value for improvements, ascertained and specified in the decree—Improvements effected subsequent to decree, not ascertained—Application for execution by ejectment, whether maintainable Where a landlord in Malabar obtained a decree for ejectment of his tenant on payment by him of an ascertained amount for compensation for value of improvements, applied for execution of the decree by ejectment of the tenant after depositing into Court the amount specified in the decree for value of improvements, held that the landlord was entitled to an order in execution for ejectment of the tenant from all the lands specified in the decree, even though the value of improvements, effected by the tenant on some of the lands, subsequent to the decree had not been ascertained under s. 6 (3) of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants' Improvements Act. SANKARAN NAMBUDIPAD v SANKARAN NAIR (1921) 1 L. R. 44 Mad. 989

—ss. 5, 6, 9 to 19—Contract to claim compensation according to custom, no special contract within the meaning of s. 19—Tenant can claim higher rates under Act in spite of contract before Act prescribing a lesser rate Where, under a contract entered into in 1872, the tenant has agreed to accept compensation for improvements according to local custom, such undertaking by the tenant is not a special contract within the meaning of s. 19 of Madras Act I of 1900 which will debar the tenant from claiming under s. 5 compensation as provided in s. 6 13. Kerala Varma Valia Raja v Ramuni, 3 Mad. L. J. 51, referred to S. 19 of Act I of 1900 deals only with contracts limiting the right to make improvements and claim compensation. A mere contract regulating the rates of compensation whether before or after the 1st day of January 1886 is not touched by s. 19. Where there is such a contract, the tenant, if the contract rates are lower than the rates provided in the Act, can claim the latter rates under s. 5, and if the contract rates are higher, he can claim such rates notwithstanding s. 6 of the Act. Kozhikot Sreemana Vikraman v Chundayil Ananta Patter (1910) 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 61

—ss. 5 and 19—Compensation, rate of, for tenants' improvement—Compensation, amount of, methods of fixing—Contract made before 1st Jan. 1886—No express reference to tenants' right to make improvements—Contract less favourable to tenant than ss. 5 and 6 of the Act—Contract not binding—as ss. 5 and 6 applicable Where a contract, entered into between a landlord and a tenant in Malabar, before the 1st January 1886, regulated the rates of compensation claimable by the tenant for improvements, or provided for the methods of fixing the amount of compensation due to him but did not expressly refer to the tenants' right to make improvements. Held (by the Full Bench), that the contract is not binding on the tenant if it is less favourable to him than ss. 5 and 6 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants' Improvements Act (I of 1900), and that the tenant is entitled to claim compensation according to the provisions of the Act. Held, also, that there is no inconsistency between the judgment in Randupurayil Kunhi v Nerali Kunhi Kanna, 1 L. R. 33 Mad. 1, and the judgments in Kozhikot Sreemana

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD. I OF 1900)

—contd

—s. 5 and 19—contd

Vilramma v Madathil Ananta Patter, 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 61, and Paru Amma v Mookorant, 22 Mad. L. J. 221 and that the two last mentioned cases were rightly decided. Kochu Radia v Abdurrahman (1913) 1 L. R. 35 Mad. 589

—ss. 5, 6, 9 to 18 and 19—Right to compensation—Contract to the contrary, made before 1886, effect of—Distinction between restriction of right to make improvements and of right to the value of improvements—Validity of each restriction Under the provisions of the Malabar Tenants' Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900), a tenant is entitled to the full value of his improvements according to the rates provided in ss. 9 to 13; s. 19 does not cut down his right under ss. 5 and 6 to the value of his improvements according to the rates prescribed in the Act even where a contract was entered into before 1st January 1886, limiting his right with respect to the amount of compensation claimable by him. Accordingly a restrictive provision in a document limiting the amount of compensation cannot be enforced. But contracts made prior to January 1886 limiting the right to make improvements are not affected by s. 19, and are valid. Kozhikot Pudiya Kottai Sreemana Vilramma v Chundayil Madathil Ananta Patter 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 61, followed. Held, on a construction of the following provision in a kanom deed of 1884, "If I make chaimayams (or buildings) thereon exceeding Rs. 25 in value I shall only remove and take them at the time of surrender and shall not demand the value of improvements therefor" that the meaning of the clause was not to restrict the kanomdar from building but to restrict his right to the amount of compensation if he built, to Rs. 25 if he is content to take it, regard being had to the absence of any right on the landlord to require the tenant to remove any building worth more than Rs. 25. PER CURIAM The provision for removing is merely a recognition of the right which a kanomdar has always possessed to remove any improvements made by him. Angimall v Islami Sahib, 21 Mad. L. J. 891, referred to Paru Amma v Kumbikandam (1913) 1 L. R. 36 Mad. 410

—s. 7—Stipulation in lease to receive compensation at ordinary rate does not exclude operation of the Act—Rate of compensation claimable is that prevailing when compensation is paid The terms of a lease executed before the passing of Madras Act I of 1887 provided that the tenant at the time of surrender should receive compensation for fruit trees at the customary rate. Before the surrender, Madras Act I of 1887 was passed and provided a rate of compensation for fruit trees. In a suit by the tenant to recover compensation under the lease. Held, that the stipulation aforesaid did not exclude the operation of the Act, there being no such special contract as is contemplated by s. 7 of the Act and that compensation must be paid at the rate provided by the Act. Kerala Varma Valia v Ondan Ramuni (1892) 1 L. R. 33 Mad. 218

—s. 19—

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 90

1 L. R. 43 Mad. 65

Claim, subsequent to Act—Contract before the Act, fixing rate of compensation

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD I OF 1900)—contd

s 19—contd

enforceability of Contracts entered into between a Malabar tenant and his landlord before the 1st January 1885, according to which compensation is payable at certain rates therein specified are valid and binding whether the rates are more or less favourable to either party than the rates prescribed by the Malabar Compensation for Tenants' Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900), and when the question of the rate of compensation comes up for determination at a date after the introduction of the Act, it is not open to either party to the contract to elect to have the rates fixed according to the Act in preference to the rates mentioned in the contract Kozhikot Sreemana Vikraman v Medathil Ananta Patter, I L R 34 Mad 61, Paru Amma v Kunkikandan, I L R 36 Mad 416, and Kochu Rabia v Abdurrahman, I L R 38 Mad 589, overruled RAYARAJA ATHOTI v KELAPPA KURUP (1916)

I L R 40 Mad. 584

*Lease—Stipulation for payment of fee in respect of trees cut down. A stipulation in a Malabar lease for the payment of kutikayam (customary fee) to the landlord in respect of trees cut down is not necessarily contrary to the provisions of s 19 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants' Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900). It is a question of fact to be determined in each case whether the cutting down of trees is an improvement or not and whether the fee stipulated is reasonable or so unreasonable as to be prohibitive of the cutting down of trees at all. Sembla. A customary fee of eight annas per tree is not unreasonable. Vasudevan Nambudripad v Vatta Chathu Achian, I L R 21 Mad 47, considered. RAJA OF COCHIN v KATTUVATTI NAIR (1916) I L R 40 Mad. 603*

*Compensation for tenants' improvements—Contracts made after Act more favourable to tenant than the Act—Contt ct, or Act enforceable—Value whether at the time of eviction or at date of contract payable S 19 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants' Improvements Act does not prevent the tenant from claiming compensation under a contract made after passing of the Act if it is more favourable to him than the Act. The value of improvements payable to a tenant is their value at the time of eviction. Kerala Formah Lado Razi v Panunni (1913) 3 M I J, 51 (F R) followed. *ANNAIAH AMMA v RAMAN NAIR (1919)

I L R 43 Mad. 772

MALABAR LAW

See MAPPELLAS IN NORTH MALABAR

I L R 38 Mad 1952

See MARUMAKKATHAYAM LAW

I L R 34 Mad 387

I L R 35 Mad 648

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Mad. 429

*Acquisition by manager of branch tarwad of the whole tarwad—Property acquired by anandavan to be deemed property of the tarwad in the absence of evidence to show self-acquisition. The rule of Hindu Law that if nothing appears in the case except that a member of a joint* *family is in possession of property, the burden of proving self-acquisition lies on such person, applies to property in the possession of an anand ravan of a Malabar tarwad. Where such anand ravan is also the manager of a branch tarwad and was in possession of funds belonging to such branch, the presumption will be that such property belongs to the branch. MARI VEETIL CHATHU NAIR v MARI VEETIL MULANPAREL SEKARA NAIR (1909) I L R 33 Mad 250*

MALABAR LAW—contd

*Karamkari tenure in South Malabar—Alienation by tenure holder, effect of, even in the absence of clause for re-entry. A holder of land on Karamkari or Karammakari tenure in South Malabar has only a heritable or permanent right of cultivation but not a right of alienation, which event puts an end to the tenure; and the land not entitled to the reversion is entitled to possession thereupon even in the absence of an express provision for re-entry. Moore's Malabar Law and Custom, page 308, referred to. Parameswari v Kuttappa Shandayi, I L R 26 Mad 157 and Nairappa Singh v Kalyan Das, I L R 25 All 400, distinguished. Obiter. A karamkari holder in North Malabar has no heritable right at all. ACHUTHA MENON v SANKARA NAIR (1913) I L R 36 Mad. 380*

*Want of harmony among some members—Separate living of one—When entitled to separate maintenance. A junior member of a Malabar tarwad leaving the tarwad house on the ground that he or she does not feel quite comfortable there, or is not able to live there in complete harmony with others so as to ensure happiness, is not entitled to separate maintenance if he or she was responsible for the discomfort complained of. When a junior member will be entitled to separate maintenance, considered. *KUTCHAI AMMA (1913)

I L R 36 Mad. 591

*Maintenance—Wife living in her husband's house leaving tarwad house—Right of maintenance from her tarwad. According to Marumakkathayam law a wife living with her husband in her husband's house is entitled to maintenance from her tarwad in the absence of any waiver to claim the same as leaving the tarwad house to live with her husband, is a justifiable or proper purpose. Mari wadi v Parakkal 23 Mad L J 399 followed. Parathil v Karaman, I L R 6 Mad 341, referred to. Obiter. The Marumakkathayam law of maintenance is the same as the Alyanchar law prevailing in South Canara. *VEETIL AMMA v GOPALAN (1913)

I L R 36 Mad. 593

*Fee for self-acquisition descent of, to her own heirs and not to tarwad—Tarwad, meaning of. The self-acquisitions of a female member of a Marumakkathayam tarwad do not lapse on her death to her tarwad, but descend to her tavarhi which will be her issue if she has any and in the absence of the issue will be her mother and her descendants. Tavarhi defined. Govindan Nair v Sankaran Nair I L R 32 Mad 351 distinguished. Emmavayal v Appudurai Pillai I L R 31 Mad 337, overruled. *KRISHNA v DAMODARAN (1917)

I L R 38 Mad 48

Suit against managing member of tarwad—Tarwad property, trustee real for the maintenance

MALABAR LAW—contd

orce—Gift by husband to wife—Mention of children—Interest taken by wife, whether absolute—Right of inheritance—Construction of deed of gift. A member of a taravai has a right to sue the managing member of the taravai for his maintenance if maintenance is refused by such managing member, where the karnavan of the taravai is unable to maintain the member out of taravai property. It is immaterial whether the member of the taravai seeking maintenance, has private means sufficient to provide for him an adequate maintenance without necessity of recourse to the taravai property. Putrasakuma property is held by the members of the taravai to which it belongs with the ordinary incidents of taravai property. Per ANDRA RAO, 1.—Even apart from the fact whether there is sufficient property of the taravai to which a member of a taravai can look for maintenance, he has a right to demand an allowance in the nature of maintenance from the taravai property itself. Maintenance is not a mere subsistence allowance. It should be based on the value of the taravai property, the position of the members and not confined to what is just sufficient to satisfy the needs of the members. A member of a taravai is entitled to an allowance for maintenance both from the taravai and taravai properties. Where a deed of gift in favour of a woman is clearly expressed to be to her and her children, there is no warrant for construing it as conferring on the donee an absolute title to the property given where the donee is the wife of the donor and a member of a Marumakkattayam taravai. It makes no difference that the karnavan of the taravai joined in the gift. In estimating the amount of the income of the taravai property out of which maintenance is payable the interest payable upon debts binding on the taravai should be deducted but not interest on debts contracted after the period for which maintenance is claimed. NAKU AMMA v. PACHAYA MANOY (1912).

I L R 38 Mad 79

Male member, leaving taravai house to live with his wife—Rights of such member to separate maintenance—Menchidaru, claim for, whether on a higher footing than one for maintenance. A male member of a Malabar taravai, leaving the taravai house for the purpose of living with his wife, is entitled to separate maintenance from the taravai. A claim to menchidaru is on the same footing as a claim to maintenance. GOVINDAN NAIK v. KUNJU NAIR (1919).

I L R 42 Mad 656

Right of a member of a taravai to separate maintenance—Female member marrying under Malabar Marriage Act (IV of 1896)—Act whether bar to her claim for maintenance from taravai. The right of every member of a Malabar taravai to be maintained out of the taravai property is based on his or her right as a co-proprietor in the same and a female member of the taravai is not deprived of such right by reason of her marriage under the provisions of the Malabar Marriage Act (IV of 1896). AMMANI AMMA v. IADMANABHA MENON (1914).

I L R 41 Mad 1075

Claim by an estraydraven for expenses of maintenance—for himself and his wife, maintainability of. An estraydraven of a Malabar taravai is not entitled to claim maintenance from his taravai for his wife, who belongs to another taravai, and much less is he entitled to claim for her any membership (pocket money for meeting expenses other than maintenance). Torvath v. Karavan, 1 I L R 6 Mad 311 referred to and explained. An estraydraven is entitled to a decree from his taravai for arrears of his own children, which in law stands on the same footing as arrears of maintenance. Kusumam v. Avasli Katti 41, 1 I L R 7 Mad 213, 10 Mys Kowli Fdm Kulu v. Jalsahai Nairgar Ammal, 1 M W N 379, and Govindan Nair v. Kunju Nair, 35 M L J 665, followed. RAYAN v. ACTIAN v. THAKKUNNI (1919).

MALABAR LAW—contd

I L R 42 Mad 789

Namti d. Hion—No liability of sons to pay their father's debts. A Namtudu Hion differs in many respects from an ordinary joint Hindu family on account of the impartibility of its property and its close resemblance to a heir taravai. The rule of Hindu Law which imposes the duty on a son to pay his father's personal debts neither illegal nor immoral, is not applicable to Namtuds and the mere fact that there are no other members in the Hion besides the sons and grandsons of the Namtudu debtor, cannot affect the principle. Adakandan v. Madhavan, 1 L P 10 Mad 9, and Govinda v. Arunhan, 1 L R 15 Mad 333, followed. Kushichan v. Lydia Arundhan (1912), Mad W N 346, considered. Munayya v. Zemindar of Sripur, 1 L R 6 Mad 1 distinguished. KUNJU KUTTI AMMAN v. MALAIRATU (1915).

I L R 38 Mad 827

Partners—Taravai—Division by taravai—Right of minor members to upset partition—Division per stirpes and not per capita, whether sufficient ground—Authority in favour of division per stirpes or per capita, preference of Members of a Malabar taravai, who were minors when a partition was made with the consent of all the adult members at the time, cannot upset the partition on the ground that the division was per stirpes, &c., by taravai and not per capita. Sulaiman v. Dnyanamma, 32 M L J 137 and 10 Mys Kowli Chiruderi v. Veluchakal Taravai Karavams, 31 M L J 79, referred to. KARAIKUTTI v. ACHUTHAKUTTI NAIR (1918).

I L R 42 Mad 292

Trade carried on by karnavan of a Mappilla taravai—Debts incurred by the karnavan in the trade, whether binding on other members. Trade is not one of the ordinary pursuits of a Malabar taravai and carrying on trade is not within the ordinary scope of authority of a Malabar karnavan, hence in the absence of evidence that a trade carried on by a karnavan has been the trade of the taravai as a whole or that the members of the taravai or at least the adult members thereof consented to the trade being carried on by the karnavan, the other members of the taravai are not bound by the liabilities incurred by the karnavan in connection with the trade. This rule applies even in the case of a Mappilla taravai where all the male members habitually follow trade as the ordinary avocation. ABDUREHMAN KUTTI HAJI v. HUSSAIN KUNBI HAJI (1914).

I L R 42 Mad 761

On—Presumption—Incidents of taravai property—Right of management in the senior male—Maintenance of other members—Right to partition—Alienation of member's share—Its attachment and sale—Execution. When properties are given by a person to his wife and children or children alone following the Marumakkattayam law the presumption is that the donees take the property with the incidents of tarwad property and the right of management of the property as forming the subject of the gift is vested in the senior male member amongst the donees. Persons subsequently born into the tavazhi are entitled to be maintained but not to claim partition. Any one member of a tarward or a tavazhi cannot alienate his share nor can it be attached and sold in execution of a personal decree against any of the members. Per Srinivasa Ayyangar, J.—It is not the giving of the properties by a person to his wife and children that constitutes the tarward, but if properties are given to a wife and children following the Marumakkattayam law, they as tavazhi hold those properties with the incidents of tarward property and the right of management of the properties is vested in the senior male member of the tavazhi. Kunhacha Ummi v Anni Mammu Hayer, I L R 16 Mad. 201, followed CHAKRA KANNAN v KUTHI POKKAR (1917) I L R 39 Mad 317

MALABAR LAW—contd

Gift by a husband to his wife and her children by him—Donees, whether exclusively entitled as a branch tavazhi—Rights of her children by another husband—Rights of tarwad to such properties—Adverse possession by branch tavazhi against tarwad Under the Malabar Law, a separate branch of a tavazhi can be established consisting of a woman and her children by one husband to the exclusion of her children by another husband. Datum of Sadasiva Ayyar, J., in Chakka Kannan v Kuthi Pokkar, I L R 39 Mad. 317, followed Where a husband gives property to his wife and his children, there is no presumption that he intended to benefit her children by a former or subsequent husband, in the absence of any expression of such intention. Where the suit properties were acquired in the name of a woman and her son by a second husband out of the income of properties given by the latter to her and her children by him, and it appeared that they had dealt with the properties for forty years exclusively although there were members of the tarwad senior to them, and a suit was instituted by the karnavan of the whole tarwad to redeem the properties as belonging to the entire tarwad. Held, that the properties belonged in law to the branch of the tavazhi of the woman and her children by her second husband; and that the branch tavazhi had also acquired title to the suit properties by adverse possession against the tarwad, of which the plaintiffs was the present karnavan. IMMACHI DEVI UMMI v RAMAN NAM (1919) I L R 42 Mad 309

Karnavan—Junior members—Karnom—P. Sanyal, suit for—Suit by junior members, whether maintainable—Transfer of Property Act (21 of 1882) s. 51—Interest to redress Only under very special circumstances can junior members of a Malabar tarwad, following the Marumakkattayam law, maintain a suit for the redemption of a karnom created by their karnavan. DOORI v MAKINOMA (1920) I L R 43 Mad 293

Karnom—Lease Four years before expiry of a prior lease—No necessity of notice for such lease—Expiry of prior lease a new grant was karnom, effect of, on subsequent lease—Lease, whether valid or binding on succeeding karnom. Where a karnom granted a lease to take effect on the expiry of a prior lease whose term was to expire four years later, and it was found that there was no necessity or justification for granting the subsequent lease four years prior to the expiry of the term of the prior lease. Held, that the subsequent lease was not valid or binding on the succeeding karnom, even though the prior lease expired when the grantor continued to be the karnom. KUTHAM MAD v KUNHACHU (1910) I L R 43 Mad. 715

MALABAR LAW—contd

Karnavan, removal of, from office—Senior anandavran—Exclusion from succession to office of karnavan—Power of Court to declare senior anandavran unfit to succeed to office—Grounds of exclusion A Court can for good cause remove a karnavan and declare the senior anandavran to be unfit to succeed to the vacant office. Annan v Sankara (1891) I L R, 14 Mad, 78, followed Chidan Nambiar v. Kunhi Paman Nambiar (1918) I L R, 41 Mad 577 (P. B.), referred to datum of SADASIVA AYYAR J., in Chera Pangi Achaa v Unnalachan (1917) 30 M L J, 321, dissented from NEMANNA KUDRE v ACHU HENGU (1910) I L R 43 Mad 319

Karnavan of tarwad making a gift—Gift not questioned even by the last surviving member of the tavazhi—No right of attaladakkam heirs to question gift An attaladakkam heir succeeds only to such of the properties of a tavazhi as have not been disposed of by its last members. He cannot therefore question an alienation made by the karnavan of the tavazhi, when the other members had not by any unequal vocal act called it into question during their lifetime. THAYIAL MAMMAD v PURATHI MAMMAD (1921) I L R 44 Mad. 140

Right of other members to remove such karnavan by suit, for misconduct Held by the Full Bench, that a person appointed as karnom of a tarwad by an agreement (karni) of the members of the tarwad is liable to be removed for gross misconduct by a suit at the instance of the other members. Chera Pangi Achaa v Unnalachan, (1917) Mad W N 135, explained. CHIDAN NAMBIAH v KUTHI RAMAN NAMBIAH (1919) I L R 41 Mad. 577

Karnom—Lease or mortgage—Deed of karnom, construction of—Attenuation of deed, necessity for—Transfer of Property Act, ss 63 and 68—Anomalous mortgage—Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908), O L, r 2—Non transfer of parties—Decree against parties in appeal A Karnom is an anomalous mortgage falling under s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act, with certain well-known incidents attached to it under the customary law of Malabar, and a karnom deed, to be valid, must be attested as a mortgage-deed under s. 59 of the Act. The fact that the document is denoted as a taraga or royal grant or that the karnom amount is exceedingly insignificant does not alter the nature of the transaction. KANNA KUTUR v RAVKARA VARMA RAJAH (1921) I L R. 44 Mad. 814

Conversion of a member of Marumakkattayam tarwad to Muhammedanism—Right of convert to partition of tarwad property—Removal of Caste Disabilities Act (V of 1850), effect of A member of a Marumakkattayam tarwad does not, by reason of his conversion to

MALABAR LAW—contd.

Mohammedanism, acquire right to a partition of the tarwad property. Observation of Wilson, J., in Matungani Gupta v Ram Pution Roy (1892), 1 I L R 19 Calc 289 (F B.) at 291, followed. Ke hickikan v Lydia Aruanden, (1912) M W A, 286, and Abraham v Abraham, (1863) 9 M I A, 195, explained. PATUNNMA v IYANAN NAMBIAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad (F B) 591

Tarwad—Karnavan, becoming a stani—Succeeding karnavan incapable of business management—Karnavan ceasing management in stani—Prevalence of an old deed by karnavan volition of Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J. (NAPIER J. dubitante)—An arrangement among the members of a Malabar tarwad by which a previous karnavan who had become a stani was given certain specific powers of management in respect of the tarwad, without any express power to obtain renewals of mortgages in favour of the tarwad, does not deprive the actual karnavan, however incapable he may be, of the power of renewing usufructuary mortgages in favour of the tarwad. The renewal being binding on the members of the tarwad, they cannot set up adverse possession but must submit to a redemption on by the mortgagor. The relation to the tarwad of a member who had become a stani discussed. Chappan Nayyar v Asen Aulfi, 1 L R 12 Mad 219, doubted. KRISHNAM KIDAYU v RAMAN (1916) I L R 39 Mad 918

Taraga Lease for reclamation and improvement by a stanomdar for twelve years with a clause for renewal for another twelve years, validity of A taraga lease in Malabar given for reclaiming and improving lands contained the following clause by the lessee—"I shall well improve this peramba and plant, etc. when the improvements have survived the period of decay and the coconut trees begin to bear their first fruits, I shall take a taraga after fixing the rent in accordance with the local custom on an inspection of Kulkapanoma." Held that the clause entitled the lessee to a renewal of the lease for twelve years from the expiry of the first term of twelve years at an enhanced rent to be determined in accordance with it. Gopalan Nay v Kunhan Menon, (1907) I L R, 39 Mad, 309, distinguished. A stanomdar is entitled to grant a lease so as to last beyond his life time and to bind his successors provided the lease is beneficial to the estate. KUTTIYAL v UMMANNA (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 509

MALABAR MARRIAGE ACT (IV OF 1896)

See MALABAR LAW I L R 41 Mad. 1075

MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT MAD I OF 1900

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT

MALE HEIRS

failure of—

See JAYAM I L R 46 Calc 683

MALE MEMBERS

rights of—

See CHATWALI TEXTURE I L R 46 Calc. 392

MALICE.

See LIBEL I L R 37 Calc 700

I L R 48 Calc 304

MALICE—contd.

See MARRIAGE, CONTRACT OF

I L R 39 Bom 682

absence of—

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

I L R 39 Mad 781

charge of—

See TRESPASS—SEARCH FOR ARMS

I L R 39 Calc 953

MALICIOUS ARREST

See LIMITATION I L P 40 Calc 898

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885, s. 53

1 Pat L J 149

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 107

I L R 41 All 503

I L R 43 All 402

See DAMAGES, SUIT FOR

14 C W N 86

See INJUNCTION I L R 42 Calc 550

statement of appeal regarding—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, O XLI, s. 22

I L R. 44 Mad. 828

1 Cause of action—Complaint laid, but no Process issued Where in a suit for malicious prosecution, it was averred that a complaint had been laid by the defendant before a Magistrate who thereupon sent the case to the police for enquiry and report, but there was no averment that the Magistrate had ever issued process—Held, that the plaintiff disclosed no cause of action. Yates v The Queen, I L R 14 Q B D 648, followed, Clarke v Postan, 6 Q & W 423 and Ahmedbhai v Framji, Edulji, I L R 28 Bom 226, not followed, Thorpe v Priestnall, (1897) 1 Q B 159, referred to. DE ROZARIO v GULAB CHAND ANUNDJEE (1910) I L R 37 Calc 358

2 Complaint laid, but no process issued—Action on the case—Cause of action—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s. 202, 203—Defamation—Privilege Where a complaint had been laid before a Magistrate by the defendant against the plaintiff for criminal breach of trust, and the Magistrate had referred the matter to the Police under s. 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code for enquiry and report and finally dismissed the complaint under s. 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code, without issuing process—Held, that the prosecution had not commenced and no suit for malicious prosecution was maintainable. Fates v The Queen, I L R 14 Q B D 648 and Clarke v Postan, 6 Q & W 423, referred to. Nor would there be any action on the case analogous to malicious prosecution. Held, further, that the complaint, even if defamatory, was absolutely privileged. GOLAR JAN v BHOLANATH KUNTHAY (1911) I L R 38 Calc 889

3 What has to be proved—Onus on plaintiff—What amounts to malice—Recklessness in what amounts to malice. In a suit for damages for malicious prosecution it is not on the defendant to show that there was reasonable and probable cause but on the plaintiff to prove its absence. All that the defendant has to be satisfied about is that there is reasonable and probable cause for the charge, i.e. reasonable grounds for believing that the plaintiff is guilty of the offence and not reasonable grounds for coming to the conclusion that the Court would convict him of it. Carelessness on the part of the defendant in deciding whether there was reasonable and probable cause would not amount to malice, and both malice and absence of reasonable and probable cause have to be proved. If a man is reckless, whether the charge be true or false, that might amount to malice but not recklessness in coming to the conclusion that there was reasonable and probable cause. What would amount to reasonable and probable cause is a question of fact. VIDYASABER V KRISHNA SWAMI IYER (1913). I. L. R. 36 Mad. 375

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

3 (a) ————— Where complaint was made in the Police Court against the plaintiff for criminal breach of trust and the Magistrate referred the matter to the Police for enquiry under s. 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code and after such enquiry refused to issue process. Held, that a suit for malicious prosecution would not lie as unless process is issued the person complained against cannot be regarded as an accused person. GOLAP JAN V BHOLA NATH KHETRY

15 C. W. N. 917

4 ————— *Suit for damages for—Onus—Plaintiff, if must prove innocence—Judgment of discharge by Criminal Court, if conclusive—The plaintiff in a suit for damages for malicious prosecution has amongst other matters to prove his innocence if only to establish that the prosecution was commenced maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause. The finding in the criminal case acquitting or discharging him is not conclusive on the matter. Per Bowen, L. J., in Albark v North Eastern Railway Co, 11 Q. B. D. 410, 455 approved. Gunesb Dutt Singh v Muggeram Chaudry, 17 W. R. 283 Cora v Jervis [1909] App. Cas. 549, referred to. MUTHU OSTA V HIRSMUL MARWARI (1912). I. L. R. 37 C. W. N. 434*

5 ————— *Suit for, when lies—Criminal Procedure Code prevent on of offences, provision for—Malicious proceedings under such provisions, if sufficient basis for suit—Prosecution, meaning of—It is not that an action for damages for malicious prosecution lies only when the original proceeding was a "prosecution" in the sense in which the term is used in the Code of Criminal Procedure, it is not essential that the original proceeding should have been of such a nature as to render the person against whom it was taken liable to be arrested, fined or imprisoned. Where there has been a deliberate abuse of the process of the Criminal Court and salutary provisions framed by the Legislature to secure the prevention of offences have been utilised maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause for the harassment of the plaintiff who has thereby suffered damage in reputation and property, an action for malicious prosecution or malicious abuse of judicial process is maintainable. Per WORMFIRE J.—An action for maliciously putting the law in motion lies in all cases where there is concurrence of the following elements: (i) the commencement of continuance of a criminal proceeding, (ii) its legal causation by the present defendant against the plaintiff who was defend-* ant in the original proceeding, (iii) its bona fide termination in favour of the present plaintiff, (iv) the absence of probable cause for such proceeding, (v) the presence of malice therein, (vi) damage conforming to legal standards resulting to the plaintiff. Albark v N. E. Ry. Co, 11 App. Cas. 247, Cox v. English Scottish and Australian Bank [1905] App. Cas. 168 referred to. Any enforcement of the criminal law through Courts of Justice concerning a matter which will subject the accused to prosecution without regard to the technical form in which the charge has been preferred and irrespective of the grade of the criminal offence, is a sufficient proceeding upon which an action for malicious prosecution may be based. Else v. Smith, 2 Chitty 304. 24 R. R. 39. Isiah v. Webb 3 Esp. 164, referred to. Per BEACH CROFT J.—If a person sets the criminal law in motion it is no defence for him to say that the law took a direction which he did not anticipate and did not desire. The responsibility of the person begins with the presenting of the complaint but it does not end there and is not limited to the prayer contained in it. CROWDY v. L. O. PHELLY (1912). 17 C. W. N. 554 6 ————— 'Prosecution' what amounts to—Magistrate sending only notice but not summons or warrant and dismissing complaint no prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898), s. 209. Where on receiving a complaint of an offence of defamation a Magistrate issued only a notice but not a summons or a warrant to the accused which notice simply informed him that a preliminary enquiry would be held at a certain time in the matter of the complaint preferred by the complainant and the complaint was dismissed under s. 202 Criminal Procedure Code after hearing counsel for both parties. Held that there was no prosecution of any offence by the complainant so as to give room for any suit for malicious prosecution. Leharan v. Lalob Chand Anand s. 1 I. L. R. 37 Cal. 353. Golap Jan v. Pichanath Ahetry, I. L. R. 38 Cal. 880 followed. Sending such notice and the hearing thereon are not authorized by the Criminal Procedure Code. Prosecution commences with the issue of process (summons or warrant) after the complaint has been entertained by the Magistrate and that the prior proceedings constitute at most an attempt by the complainant to prosecute the accused. SUREK MURBAN SARKAR v. KATHAVELU MUDALI (1915).

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

I. L. R. 37 Mad. 181

7 ————— Suit for damages—Prosecution, what it means and when commences—Accused attending at judicial enquiry upon notice if may sue on failure of prosecution—The action for damages for malicious prosecution is not a creature of any statute. To determine whether such an action is the term "prosecution" should not be interpreted in the restricted sense in which it is used in the Code of Criminal Procedure. A proceeding maliciously taken against a person to compel him to furnish surety to keep the peace may be made the foundation of a suit for damages for malicious prosecution. A prosecution exists when a criminal charge is made before a judicial officer or tribunal, and any person who makes or is actively instrumental in the making or prosecuting of such a charge is deemed to prosecute it. If a person maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause sets the machinery of the criminal law in motion he is responsible for the consequences and cannot escape liability on the ground that the action taken by the Court was such as he did not intend or was erroneous in law. The prosecution commences as soon as the complaint is made to the Magistrate irrespective of the result of the prosecution or of the stage at which it may fall through. When no action at all has been taken against the plaintiff upon such a complaint the action would fail not because there was no prosecution commenced but because there was no damage done to the plaintiff. Where on a complaint being filed by the plaintiff against the defendant the Magistrate ordered an enquiry by a Subordinate Magistrate and the latter gave the plaintiff notice so that he might appear at the enquiry and be heard and the plaintiff did so and the complaint was in the end dismissed. Held that upon these facts the plaintiff had a cause of action for damages for malicious prosecution and would be entitled to get damages for loss which he may prove to have suffered in consequence. That it was not open to the defendant in such a suit to urge that the plaintiff need not have appeared. Kandasa v Subramania 13 Mad 11 J 370 and Verma v Rana 14, 15 I L R 37 Mad 181. Insisted from Omerji v Omerji 17 C W J 551 s c 17 C L J 105 followed. Clarke v Post 16 C L J 423 Yates v Queen 14 Q B D 615 De Ryorio v Golapchand 1 I L R 37 Cal 155 and Golap Jai v Bhalanath 13 C W J 917 s c 1 I L R 38 Cal 387 considered. Ahmed Bhai v Framjee, 1 I L R 28 Bom. 279 approved. Bhikshu Pershad Narain Singh v Pothman Singh (1914) 119 C W N 933

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

8 ————— *Prosecution by the police—Report made by a person to a village munsif of theft by another—Instituted on by police—Prosecution for theft instituted and conducted by police—Action for damages for malicious prosecution is maintainable—Whether maintainable—Suit for damages for malicious prosecution is maintainable by a person who was prosecuted by the police and acquitted against another who had made the report containing maliciously false information against the former to a village munsif as the result of which the police after investigation launched and conducted the prosecution even though the informant was not the prosecutor in the criminal case. Vara s v R. S. v. M. Thapa P. H. v. I. R. 26 Mad 35, disapproved from Ganga Prasad v. Dhanraj 1 I L R 19 All 525, referred to. Periya Gounder v. Kuppas Gounder (1919) 1 I L R 42 Mad 330*

9 ————— *Case of act on—Criminal proceedings against the plaintiff dismissed upon technical grounds—To support a suit for damages for malicious prosecution it is not necessary that the criminal proceedings instituted against the plaintiff should have been heard out to the end; it is sufficient if criminal proceedings have been initiated though they may have fallen through for technical reasons unconnected with the merits. Malappa Gounder v. Kallappa Gounder 1 I L R, 21 Mad 39 not followed. Bhaskar Prasad v. R. S. v. P. H. v. Singh 19 C W J 935 and Ahmed Bhai v. Framjee 1 I L R, 28 Bom. 279 referred to. A complaint as filed against the plaintiff in a Criminal Court* and he was summoned to answer the charge, but the complaint was dismissed as the complainant did not deposit due money within the time fixed by the Court. The plaintiff filed this suit for damages for malicious prosecution. Held that the accused having been summoned to answer the charge there was a prosecution and the prosecution having failed the suit was maintainable. Azmat Ali v. Qurban Ahmad

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

I L R 42 All 305

10 ————— *Inst. act on of criminal proceedings—Reasonable and probable cause—Malice—Inference of Malice—Damages—One V had obtained on lease a piece of land from Government. Under an arrangement made with V plaintiff No 3 raised crop on the land. The crop was sold by plaintiff No 3 to plaintiff No 1. The defendant claimed to be a purchaser of the crop from V and began to reap it. On being obstructed by the plaintiffs the defendant filed a complaint against them for theft. They were convicted by the Magistrate but on appeal the conviction was set aside on the ground that the probabilities were strongly in favour of plaintiff No 3's assertion that under the arrangement he made with V he had a right to the crop. The plaintiffs thereupon sued the defendant for damages for malicious prosecution. Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to damages as on the facts of the case there was no reasonable and probable cause for instituting the prosecution, and malice could safely be inferred from the circumstances. Jayvadan Shivram v. Churnilal Hambirmal (1920)*

I L R 45 Bom 227

11 ————— *Right to sue for, and damages for, whether survives the person entitled to a—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1891), s 89—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 23—Admission, made to Panchayat whether admissible—Where a person who had a right to sue for damages for malicious prosecution dies the right to sue does not survive to his legal representatives. The words 'or other personal injuries not causing the death of the party' in s 39 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1891, are quodam generis not only with 'assault' but also with 'defamation,' and include malicious prosecution. An admission made to a panchayat is admissible in evidence and is not excluded by s 23 of the Evidence Act 1872 but it is for the Court to decide what weight should be attached to such an admission. Ponjab Singh v. Ramautar Singh, 4 Pat L J 676*

MALIKANA

See BENGAL LAND REVENUE SETTLEMENT REGULATION 1822

2 Pat. L J 286

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 91, O XXVIII, R 5; O XXIX, R 1

I L R 37 All 423

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908), Sch I, Art 132] I L R 35 All 185

I L R 41 All 259

See PRE-EMPTION, I L R 42 All 262

See SETTLEMENT, CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 39 Cal 1

————— Malikana or dastur payable to proprietors out of whose estate jayr carved—Mode of assessment—Amount of fixed or variable

MALIKANA—contd.

—*Resumption of jagir by Government—Permanent settlement of specific mouzās—Malikana allowance if liable to alteration—Jagir Meherullah Khan was granted by Emperor Alamgir out of an estate belonging to the appellant's predecessors who thereupon became entitled to an allowance by way of compensation known as dastur or malikana. The East India Company on acquiring the D. wani made enquiries regarding the amount of the malikana due on account of this and other jagirs and by parwanas fixed the malikana due on this jagir at Rs 790 on 1st calculating it at 10 per cent. of the proceeds for the year 1781. Held, on a construction of the parwanas that what was fixed was the amount and not a percentage varying from year to year with the proceeds. That the Government on resuming the jagir became liable to pay this malikana but when subsequently it caused Mouzah Sahu one of the mouzās comprised in the jagir to be permanently settled it incurred no liability to pay an additional sum as malikana due in respect of the mouzah. That the fact that a specified sum of Rs 492 was entered as malikana in an account attached to the settlement did not show that the malikana as fixed previously was thereby altered but that it was merely one of the items to be taken into account in fixing the annual jummas to be paid by the person with whom the settlement was made. PAKSHWAN SINGH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

15 C W N 1029

—*Interest in immovable property—Money charge on immovable property—Limitation Act (XIV of 1859) s 12 (IX of 1871) Art 132, Sch. II—Right not exercised for more than 12 years before Act IX of 1871 came into operation—Right of barred Under Act XIV of 1859 malikana was an interest in immovable property and governed by Act XIV of 1859 s 12 and would be barred if there had been no enjoyment of the malikana for a period of 12 years. Bhoolal Singh v Veemoo Dehoo 12 W R 495 Gobind Chander Roy Chowdhary v Ram Chander Chowdhary 10 W R 91 and Hereraund Shoo v Ozerun 9 W R 192, followed. Where therefore the right to malikana was established by decree of Court in 1853 but the right was not enjoyed for more than 12 years before Act IX of 1871 came into force the right was extinguished under Act XIV of 1859 and could not be revived by any subsequent statute of limitation. *Chhagan Lal v Bapthai 1 L R 5 Bom 63 distinguished. MAHESWARI PRASAD SINGH v BAI NATH HAZARI (1913)

19 C W N 410

—*When the malikana date of 10th old share of a certain villa used the proprietors and remaining malikana holders for recovery of arrears of their share it was held following the analogy of s. 149 A of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 that the plaintiffs were entitled to a decree giving them a charge on the land and that the suit was governed by the 12 years rule of limitation. MARAJA SINGH KUMAR SINGH MAHARAJA CHANDRABHAI DEWAS NARAIN JHA

8 Pat L J 33

MAMLATDAR

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

ss 3 115 L R 37 Bom. 114

s 115 L R 44 Bom 595

O XXI s 89 1 L R 44 Bom 50

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 130 (1) (c)

1 L R 39 Bom 310

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (BOM ACT X OF 1863) ss 4(c) 5 AND 6

L L R 37 Bom 542

MAMLATDARS COURTS ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1908)

See BOMBAY MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ART 47

1 L R 45 Bom 1135

— ss 19 23 (1) (2)—*Code of Procedure (Act V of 1908) s 115—Provisionary decree of the Mamlatdar setting aside the suit—Application to the Collector—Provision—Non interference with legal and regular findings of fact Entry in Revenue Record. A Collector acting under s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1908) is not authorized to interfere with the findings of fact of the mamlatdar in a provisional suit the findings being on their face legal and regular and arrived after a consideration of the evidence on record. The provisions of cl (2) of s 23 of the Act which empower the Collector to interfere by way of revision when he considers any proceeding final or order in a suit to be improper must be harmonized with the provision in cl (1) that there shall be no appeal from any order passed by a Mamlatdar. Settle. The word improper in cl (2) of s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1908) has no different meaning from the word irregular occurring in the expression irregularity in s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). The entry of a person's name as owner or occupier in the books of Revenue Authorities is not in itself conclusive evidence either of title or possession. Fatma Khatun v. Sait v. Dargan Sahib 10 L R 11 187 187 and Bhagwan v. Bipin 1 L R 131 m 75 referred to. KAMU RAM MANNING v. PAKSHWAN (1911)

L L R 35 Bom 487

s 23

—*Provisionary suit—Collector's powers to revise—The powers can be exercised by Assistant Collector in charge of the district—Land Revenue Code (I. m. Act V of 1879) s 10. An Assistant Collector who is placed in charge of portions of a district under sect 10 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code (I. m. Act V of 1879) has the power to exercise all the powers conferred upon the Collector by section 23 of the Bombay Mamlatdars Courts Act (I. m. Act II of 1908). KHYAVAT JAYRAM (1911)

1 L R 26 Bom 123

—Suit or application—Mamlatdar's order—Appeal—District Collector's order—Section 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (I. m. Act II of 1908) (1) Collector or the District Collector's order in a suit in which the mamlatdar's order is set aside, has no jurisdiction to exercise the powers of an appeal.

MALIK-O-JABIZ.

See HINDU LAW—WILL.

L L R 25 All 419

MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1906)—contd

— s 28—contd

Court against any order passed by a Mamlatdar under the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) HASAN v RASUL (1913)

I L R 37 Bom. 595

— Possessory Suit—District Deputy Collector a authority to recover—Bombay General Clauses Act (Bom. Act I of 1904) s 3—The term Collector does not include District Deputy Collector—Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879) s 19 The term Collector in s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) does not include District Deputy Collector in view of the express definition of the term in s 3 of the Bombay General Clauses Act (Bom Act I of 1904) A District Deputy Collector has, therefore no authority to pass any order under the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) Keshav v Jaram, I L R 36 Bom 193 dissenting from SOMU JANARDAN v ARJUN WALAD BARRU (1915)

I L R 39 Bom 552

MANAGEMENT

See CHURCH I L R 19 Mad 1056

right of—

See CHURCH I L R 38 Mad 418

See MAHOMEDAN LAW ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Cal 1085

scheme of—

See TRUST I L R 41 Cal 19

transfer of—

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE

I L R 39 Mad 456

MANAGER Y

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER

See HINDU LAW—MINOR,

I L R 34 Bom 72

See IDOL I L R 36 Bom 135

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 36 Bom 303

alienation by—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 35 Mad 177

in a joint Hindu family—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 7 SCH I ART 44 I L R 38 Bom 94

Employment of workmen at a textile factory after prescribed hours—

See FACTORIES ACT (XII of 1911) s 79 AND 41 I L R 45 Bom 220

liability of—

See COSTS I L R 43 Cal 190

Liability of for mesne profits—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY I L R 44 Bom 179 of a temple—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 466

MANAGER—contd

payment by of on behalf of minor member of Hindu joint family—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s 20 I L R 37 Cal 461 suit for account against—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1908) s 1 ART 6 AND 8 I L R 41 Bom 313

MANAGER AND DIRECTOR OF NEWSPAPER COMPANY

liability of

See (INTEREST OF COLIT

I L R 45 Cal 169

MANAGER UNDER COURT OF WARDS

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMBITION

I L R 39 Cal 915

MANAGING AGENT

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Cal 810

MANAGING MEMBER

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 44 Mad 656

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 45 Cal 723

contract by—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877) s 15 I L R 37 Mad 337

MANDADARI TEVURE

Nature of such tenure—Land held under it not transferable—Occupancy holding If land that land held under what is known in Gorakhpur chiefly as a mandadars tenure is nothing more than an occupancy holding and is not therefore transferable Such land cannot therefore be sold in execution of a decree upon a mortgage thereof KEDAR NATH KARNADHAN v NARAYAN (1911) I L R. 34 All 155

MANDAMUS

See MUNICIPAL ELECTRICITY

I L R 39 Cal 593

See PLADEFERSHIP EXAMINATION

I L R 40 Cal 568

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III of 1901) I L R 33 Mad 41

See UNIVERSITY LICENTURESHIP

I L R 41 Cal 518

Action on to—

See MUNICIPAL CORPORATION

I L R 40 Cal 836

Specie Re Relief Act (I of 1837) ss 45 46—Mandamus writ of of the Board of Revenue—Want of necessary party—Other legal remedy being a suitable whether the Court will interfere A mandamus will never be granted to enforce the general law of the land which may be enforced by action A having obtained a decree for recovery of possession of an estate against an infant under the Court of Wards and the Collector of the District representing that Court applied during the pendency of an appeal by the defendants to the High Court to the Members of the Board of Revenue forming the Court of Wards that the estate might be released in his favour. This application having been rejected, A obtained a Rule from the Original Side of the High Court under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, calling upon the Members of the Board only to show cause why they should not forthwith release the estate. The Rule was not served upon the infant, whose interest would be affected if the Rule were made absolute. Held, that inasmuch as the petitioner had failed to comply with rule 483 of the Rules of the High Court, Original Side, by not serving the Rule upon the infant, and that inasmuch as he had an adequate legal remedy by way of execution of the decree obtained by him, the Rule was liable to be discharged, and the petitioner could not get any relief under s. 46 of the Act. Held, further, that unless the Court was satisfied that the doing of or forbearing from an act was consonant to right and justice, and such doing and forbearing was under any law for the time being in force clearly incumbent on the person against whom the order was sought, no mandamus ought to be granted, and that title to property would not be tried in mandamus proceedings and the writ would not issue when it was necessary to try or decide complicated or extended questions of fact. KESHO PRASAD SINGH & THE BOARD OF REVENUE (1911) I L R 38 Cal 553

MANDAMUS—contd.

MANDATORY INJUNCTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXXIX, r. 2

I L R 38 Bom 381

See FOOTINGS I L R 38 Cal 687

See INJUNCTION I L R 46 Cal 103

MANPAN

— dispute as to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), SCH II, s. 20

I L R 37 Bom 442

MANUFACTURE, SALE OR POSSESSION

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES

I L R 39 Cal 1053

MANU KYAX.

— Book X, rr 5, 14—

See BURNES'S LAW

I L R 44 Cal 379

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR

— Law applicable—Question of fact—Custom, requisites of a valid—Judicial notice—Reasonableness or legality—Question of law—Custom derogating from the Mahomedan law—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873) s. 16 The law applicable to the parties to a suit is the law which the parties as a matter of fact by their customs and usages have adopted, not the law which the Courts by a consideration of the historical circumstances relating to the parties or of their religious books or otherwise consider to be the law that they ought to have adopted. If that law being sufficiently certain and not opposed to public policy is of such a nature that the Courts can give effect to it, then the principles underlying s. 16 of the Madras Civil Courts Act require that they should give effect to it

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR—contd

Jammya v Duran, I L R 23 All 10, Muhammad Ismail Khan v Lala Sheomukh Rai, 17 C W N. 97, and Hirbac v Sonabas, Per O C, 110, referred to. The question whether the particular parties are governed by the Marumakkattayam or the Mahomedan law, is one of fact. George v. Davies, [1911] 2 K B 445, Assor v Pothamma, I L R 22 Mad 494, and Kunhimba Umma v. Kandy Moithin, I L R 27 Mad 77 referred to. A custom to hold good in law must be not unreasonable and must apply to matters which the written law has left undetermined, and the majority at least of any given class of persons must look upon it as binding and it must be established by a series of well known, concordant, and on the whole, continuous instances. The question whether an alleged rule of conduct can be enforced at all or whether it is uncertain or opposed to public policy or unreasonable is one of law and may be considered irrespective of the question whether the custom actually exists. Movli v Halliday [1893] 1 Q B 125 followed. S. 16 of the Madras Civil Courts Act, discussed. KUNHABEY KALANTHAR (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 1052

MARFADARI RECEIPT

See ITNAB I L R 47 Cal 979

MARINE INSURANCE

See INSURANCE 16 C W N 891

I L R 33 Com 484

MARITIME NECESSARIES

See ARREST OF SHIP

I L R 42 Cal 85

MARK BY ILLITERATE EXECUTANT

See MARKS & C

MARKET

See I P LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), ss 66, 86

I L R 32 All 193

MARKET FRANCHISE

— Contract—Procuring breach of contract—Justification—Pickelling with intimidation and force, if actionable—Appellate Court, discretion of, in considering evidence. In Bengal, there appears to be no such thing as a market franchise or a right to hold a market, conferred by grant from the Crown, nor can such right be acquired by prescription. The right to hold a market is treated as incident to the ownership of land and a proprietor may set up a market in proximity to his neighbour's market without infringing the maxim sic utere ut alienum non laedas. The proprietor of the old market has no monopoly or privilege which is entitled to protection and no immunity from competition. He has no remedy at law merely because his profits are diminished. Lakhot Das Addy v Durga Sundari Das, I L R 17 Cal 458, Nanda Kumar Sircar v. Emperor, 11 C W N 1128, Rex v. Marsden, 3 Burrow 1312, and Hammerton v. Earl of Lyons, (1916) 1 A C 57, referred to. Where illegal means in the nature of intimidation and physical compulsion are employed by the agents of the owner of the new market to dissuade traders from attending the old market, the owner of the old market is entitled to a civil re-

MARRIAGE—contd

marriage contract entered into by Mahomedans whether binding—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R. 1 Lah 597

Breach of Contract of—Procuring breach of—Parent or guardian procuring breach maliciously or by false representations made. An action is maintainable against a person for inducing a party to break a contract of marriage entered into by such party. A parent or guardian inducing a child or ward, to break such a contract is liable when such parent or guardian does so maliciously or by false representation. Although malice is not the gist of the action in such cases, it may, if alleged and proved, displace the protection or privilege which arises from the relation between the party procuring the breaking of the contract and the party breaking it. IRVINE FANNY COLQUHOUN v FANNY SMITHER (1900)

I L R 23 Mad 417

Restitution of conjugal Rights—Under the Mahomedan Law a wife's conversion from Islam to Christianity effects a complete dissolution of marriage with her Mahomedan husband. The fact of such conversion is therefore a bar to a suit by the husband for restitution. AMIN BEG v SARHAN

I L R 33 All 90

Contract to pay money to a mother for giving her daughter in marriage—Public policy—Hindu Law—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 23. A contract whereby a guardian whether natural or appointed agrees to dispose of his ward in marriage for his own personal pecuniary gain is not enforceable in a Court of law. Dhaddas Ishwar v Faj Chand Chagan I L R 22 Pw 658. Venkata Krishnaswami v Lakshmi Narayana I L R 32 Mad 185. Ram Chand Sen v Ananda Sen, I L R 19 Cal 1048 (the opinion expressed by Garth C J) followed. Jugguram Chakraborty v Panchcoore Chuckerbarty 14 B L 151. Panne Laloo Mowee Doss v Robin Mohon Singh, 25 B R 32. Belakshi Das v Sada Das, I C L J 261, 265, distinguished. Venkatath v Samina Shaw, I L R 3 Mad 84, distinguished. The rule rests on the broad and general principle that where any one is in a fiduciary position with respect to a person and is bound to exercise skill, care and judgment for the benefit of that person, he must not take a reward from some other person for the exercise of his powers in some particular way, whether the course taken is in fact beneficial or the reverse to the person whose interest he is bound to protect. Where a Hindu mother sought to recover a sum of money which the defendant had agreed to pay to her in consideration of her consenting to give her daughter in marriage to his son—It is that the suit was not maintainable. The agreement being opposed to public policy. HALLOO DAS A ARWALLA v MOHAMMAD FERRAD (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 417

Legitimacy—Child taken into—Legitimacy of a child in favour of a putative mother, how may be established—Child of free bond on a ground of presumption, if may be attached to a second step-mother. When it is proved that two persons have lived together for many years as husband and wife, and their child has always been treated as legitimate—the presumption of law is that they were lawfully married. The presumption can be rebutted only by evidence to the contrary and is not displaced merely because the direct evidence of marriage which took place many years ago is not satisfactory. Luce v Luce—II L R 331, Morris v Davies 5 Cl & Fin 163, and Morris v Lal v Chandrabati Kumari I L R 38 Cal 700, referred to. Where the lower Appellate Court reversed the finding of the trial Judge in favour of legitimacy without reference to the above principle and upon a mere balance of probabilities, its finding was set aside on second appeal as being contrary to law. PEPIN BENARY DAS BAIKAOI v ATUL KRISHNA DAS BAIKAOI (1911)

MARRIAGE—contd

17 C W N 494

Procuring breach of contract of—Conspiracy—Cause of action—Malice an essential ingredient—Tort. The first plaintiff betrothed his son, the second plaintiff to one J. Subsequently J's father married her to the first defendant. Thereupon the plaintiffs brought this action against the first defendant and his sisters the second and third defendants to recover damages, alleging that they (the defendants) had plotted and conspired together wrongfully to procure the breach of the first contract of marriage. The conspiracy alleged was not proved at the trial nor was it proved that the first defendant knew at the time of his marriage with J of her previous betrothal to the second plaintiff. Hill (i) that the suit was not maintainable (ii) that no legal right inhering in the plaintiff had been violated, since, according to Hindu law by which the parties were governed a father was entitled to break off his daughter's engagement should a more suitable bridegroom be available. In an action of conspiracy to procure a breach of contract malice is an essential ingredient of the cause of action. Rule in Lumley v Gye 22 L J Q B 463 considered and its universal applicability doubted. KUMARI VASDEVJI v NAKEI DHANJEE (1914)

I L R 59 Bom 682

in Part form among Vaishnavs. The Petitioner applied for letters of administration to the estate of the deceased who was after the death of her husband married to him in Part form. Hill—That marriage by Kantilal (exchange of earlier in) among Vaishnavs is valid and the petitioner was entitled to letters of administration. PRINCE LEMARY ADH KARY v SHANTI LINGAN RAO

24 C W N 938

MARRIAGE-PROMISE AGREEMENT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 23.
63 I L R 41 Mad 197

MARRIAGE CUSTOM

See CUSTOM 20 C W N 400
See JEWELL LAW I L R 43 Cal 276

MARRIAGE EXPENSES

of male members
See HINDU LAW—JURY PAPER
I L R 27 Mad 27.

MARRIAGE SETTLEMENT

See JEWELL LAW I L R 25 Cal 709

MARRIAGE WITH WIFE'S ELTER

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE
I L R 23 Cal 492

MARRIED WOMAN

See ADULTERY I L R 45 Cal 641

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860),
s. 478 I L R 36 All. 1MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT III OF 1874See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1906), s. 60 I L R 37 Bom 471

See LIFE INSURANCE

I L R 25 Mad 162

— ss 2, 4 & 6—Hindu effecting a policy of life insurance for benefit of wife and children—Policy money if available for his debts on death—Statute, application of leading to anomaly—Interpretation. A policy of life insurance effected by a Hindu for the benefit of his wife and children is not governed by the provisions of s. 6 of the Married Women's Property Act of 1874. Per RICHARDSON, J. Although s. 2 of the Act expressly provides that nothing in the Act applies to any married woman who at the time of her marriage professed the Hindu amongst other religions, or whose husband at the time of such marriage professed that religion and does not expressly exempt their children from the operation of the Act, the intention of the Legislature making the Act as a whole, is to exclude the children also from the benefits of s. 6 of the Act. If the words of an Act are so plain that no other construction is reasonably possible the anomaly must be accepted and effect must be given to the language which the Legislature has chosen to employ. But if the language is of doubtful import the most reasonable construction of which it is fairly capable ought to be adopted. Held per CHANAM that the money due under the policy in question formed part of the estate of the assured and was available for payment of his debts after his death. ESHAJI DASI v. GOPAL CHANDRA DEY (1914)

18 C W N 1335

— s. 6—Applicability to Hindus—Insurance—Policy for the benefit of wife and children, if creates a trust—Policy amount payable to the executors, administrators and assigns of the assured—Right of beneficiary to enforce—Presumption of advancement. Where a Hindu male effected a policy of insurance on his own life expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife, or his wife and children or any of them, but payable to his executors, administrators and assigns, and died leaving a daughter Held, by the Full Bench, that s. 6 of the Married Women's Property Act (III of 1874) applied to the case, and by virtue thereof a trust was created in favour of the daughter, in regard to the policy amount, against which the creditors of the assured have no right to proceed. Oranul Government Security Life Assurance, Limited v. Vandia Ammayya, I L R 35 Mad. 167, overruled. Per WATTS, C. J. (SAYAKAN NAIK J., concurring). Ss 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of Act III of 1874 do not apply where either of the spouses, at the time of the marriage, professed the Hindu religion. The primary object of s. 6 is to enable a man (though a Hindu male) to make provision for his wife and children by insuring his life for their benefit without executing a separate deed of trust, though the result may be that a Hindu woman derives a benefit thereby. Per WATTS C. J. S. 6 does not affect the law of contract or the law of trust as regards the persons entitled to enforce the contract on the life policy. The person entitled to enforce the rights of the beneficiary is the trustee, if a trustee has been appointed, and if no special trustee has been appointed, the official Trustee, to whom the money is payable and not the daughter, the beneficiary. Held also that the daughter was not entitled to enforce her claim against the insurance company or as against a creditor as (i) the company was under a contractual obligation to pay the amount to the executor or administrator of the assured and (ii) the presumption of advancement of a daughter was rebutted by the words

MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT (III OF
1874)—contd

— s. 6—contd

“for the benefit of his wife and children,” the policy not being one for the benefit of such of the children as are daughters. Per TRAYN, J. The daughter's right under the insurance policies is affected by s. 6 of Act III of 1874, and the operation of s. 6 is not prevented by s. 2. For the daughter is not a married woman within the meaning of ss 2 and 6, though she may be married, as the expression married woman cannot refer to any woman other than one who is married to the assured. BALAMBAI v. KRISHNAIA (1913)

I L R 37 Mad. 483

MARSHALLING

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 395

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s. 50 I L R 42 All 338

MARTIAL LAW

Trial of Offences by Commissions—

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

I L R 1 Lah 326

MARTIAL LAW ORDINANCES (I AND IV OF 1919)

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

I L R 1 Lah 326

See CRIMINAL LAW I L R 2 Lah 34

Government of India Act of 1915, s. 65, cl. (2) and (3), ss 72 and 84—Ordinance issued by Governor General, if void as affecting the warlike law and constitution of the United Kingdom, etc.—Ordinance contravening s. 65(3) as to British-born subjects, if void altogether—Government of India Act of 1916 s. 2 Sub s. (2) to s. 65 of the Government of India Act, 1915, does not prevent the Indian Government from passing a law which may modify or affect a rule of the constitution or of the common law upon the observation of which some person may conceive or allege that his allegiance depends. It refers only to laws, which directly affect the allegiance of the subject to the Crown, as by a transfer or qualification of the allegiance or a modification of the obligations thereby imposed. In re Ameri Ahan, 6 B L R 292, 439 (1870). The Queen v. Bural, L R 3 A C 349 367 s. c. L R 5 I A 178 I L R 4 Cal 172 (1878) and Bevan v. The Advocate General of Madras, L R 46 I A 176, 191 s. c. 23 C W N 896 (1917), referred to Ordinance IV of 1919, if it was repugnant to s. 65 (3) of the Government of India Act, so far as British-born subjects were concerned, was, under s. 2 of the Government of India Act of 1915, void to the extent of that repugnancy but not otherwise. REGDAI v. KING EMPEROR (P. C.) 24 C W N 650

MARUMAKKATTAYAM LAW

See MALABAR LAW

Tarwad is the heir to the property of a deceased member, subject to the liability to discharge debts of deceased—Devolution of property acquired by or for benefit of Tarwads—Survivorship—Property acquired by a divided member, devolution of Co parcenary exists among the members of an undivided Malabar Tarwad. Where therefore one of the members dies, the Tarwad is the heir to the property of deceased subject to the liability to discharge the debts of the deceased member. Ryrappan Nambiar v Kelukurup, 1 L R 4 Mad 150, referred to. Where property is acquired for the benefit of the Tarwads, the incidents of such property will depend on the constitution of the Tarwads. If the Tarwads form a distinct branch from the main Tarwad with separate properties and has its own karnavan, it will, in law, form a Tarwad and the incident of Tarwad property will attach to it. None of the members will have an alienable interest in such property and it cannot be attached in execution of a decree against any of the members. Kanath Padhen Ithul Tarwads v Arayannan, 1 L R 23 Mad 132, 139, referred to. If, however, the members of the Tarwads have not separated from the main branch by taking their share of Tarwad property or renouncing their interest therein, the mere acquisition of such property will not make them a separate Tarwad and the karnavan of the main Tarwad will retain all his right and obligations towards them. The property will be the separate property of the Tarwads and not Tarwad property and the incident of impartibility, which attaches to Tarwad property, will not attach to it. The interest of each member will be the same as in an ordinary Hindu family and will be liable to be attached and sold. If, however, any member dies without his interest being alienated, in his life-time, his interest lapses to the other members and it cannot be sold. Kunachamma v Kuttimammi Hayee, 1 L R 6 Mad 201, referred to. If property is acquired solely for the benefit of two members of a Tarwad they must be treated as tenants in common. They cannot be treated as a separate branch and on the death of one, the share will pass to the heir of the deceased which according to the preponderance of authority will be the Tarwad. The principle of joint tenancy is unknown to Hindu Law except in the case of the members of an undivided Hindu family. Joydevvar Narain Doo v Pamchendra Dutt, 1 L R 23 Calc 670, referred to. UNMANGA v AITADORA PATTER (1910)

1 L R 31 Mad 337

Gift to a woman and her children ensures for their benefit with the incidents of landed property—Members subsequently born acquire an interest by birth—Karnavan, power of, to alienate—Right of one member of tarwad to erect buildings in tarwad property—Compensation, claim to, for demolition of building—Malabar Tenants Improvement Act, s. 6. A gift to a woman governed by the Marumakkattayam law and her children ensures in favour of the donee and her children with the incidents of tarwad property. As members of a tarwad acquire an interest in the tarwad property by birth, children born subsequent to the gift will acquire an interest in such property. A karnavan cannot make an alienation for such a long period as twenty years in the absence of special necessity or special benefit. Such an alienation cannot be held good for a portion of the term, i.e., the usual period of twelve years, as it will have the effect of creating a new contract between the parties. Although in the case of ordinary co parcenaries, the Courts will not order the demolition of buildings erected by one co parcenary in joint property, unless some substantial injury is shown, the case will be different in the case of tarwad property. The members of the tarwad have not, like the members of an ordinary co parcenary, the right of compulsory partition and it would not be fair or equitable to compel the karnavan to purchase the building erected by a junior member or to deprive the karnavan of possession of part of the property for ever. The junior members cannot, therefore on general principles, resist recovery or demolition of the building. A lessee, whose lease is disputed and who is put on inquiry as to the real title of the lessor, before constructing buildings on the land leased cannot, after constructing buildings on a wrong view of the lessor's title, claim on eviction compensation for the buildings as a bona fide tenant under s. 6 of the Malabar Tenants' Improvements Act. KALJANI AMMA v GOVINDA MENON (1912)

MARUMAKKATTAYAM LAW—contd

1 L R 35 Mad. 648

MARZ-UL-MAUT

See MAROMEDAN LAW—GIFT

1 L R 36 All 289

1 L R 40 All 238

See MAROMEDAN LAW—WAKF

1 L R 36 All 431

1 L R 46 Calc. 13

MASTER

See MASTER AND SERVANT

— authority of—

See REVIVOR 1 L R 43 Calc 803

MASTER AND SERVANT

See ADULTERATION

1 L R 39 Calc. 682

See BENGAL MOTOR CAR AND CYCLE ACT, s. 3 1 L R 33 Calc 415

See COMPANY 1 L R 38 Mad. 991

See OPIUM ACT (I of 1879), ss. 5, 9

1 L R 34 All 319

See PENAL CODE, s. 379

15 C W N 414

See SCHOOL MASTER.

1 L R 44 Calc 917

See TORT 1 L R 43 Bom 103

See DISMISSAL FOR MISCONDUCT

1 L R 33 Mad 126

See TRUST 1 L R 41 Calc 19

See WORKMEN'S DRAUGHT OF CONTRACT

ACT (XIII of 1859), ss. 2 and 3.

1 L R 41 All 390

— ground for dismissing an Editor—

See COMPANY 1 L R 38 Mad 991

Ganga—Illegal possession of panya by servant acting on his own behalf and beyond the scope of his employment—Liability of the master for the act of the servant—Bengal—

MASTER AND SERVANT—contd.

Excise Act (Beng 1 of 1909) ss 46 (a) and 57
To support a conviction under s 56 of the Bengal Excise Act it is necessary to show not only that a servant was in the employ of the master, but also that he was acting within the scope of his employment and for the benefit of the latter.
Where a servant whose duty was to remain at his master's shop and to conduct the business there, was found travelling to another place with goods in his possession, in contravention of s 46
(a) of the Act. Held that the master could not be convicted under s 56 as his servant acted beyond the scope of his employment and for his own private purpose. *Suffer 41s Akbar v Colam Hydr Khan 5 B R Cr 60 referred to Emperor
v Haji Shari Mahomed Shumari 1 I R 3 Bom
10, distinguished UTTAM CHAND v EMPEROR
(1911) 1 I L R 39 Calc 244*

----- Clerk engaged on a monthly salary—Felnishment of employment without consent of master—Clerk not entitled to salary for broken portion of month in which he left his service. Held that an office clerk engaged on a monthly salary is not entitled to any salary for the broken portion of a month in the course of which he leaves his service without the consent of his employer. *Adjuway v Hungerford Market Company 3 A & L 171 Dhawan Behara v Seve moke, 1 I R 13 Calc 8 and Purnu Major v
Lulle, 10 Bom H C R 67 referred to RALLI
BROTHERS v ANWOLA PRASAD (1912)
1 I L R 35 All 132*

MATADARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1887)

----- ss 9 and 10—*Heir next in succession—Succession to Matadar property—Success-sion not confined to the limits of Matadar family —Heir to be ascertained by reference to the personal law governing the parties. One R the representative Matadar who inherited his Mata from his mother's side having died disputes arose as to the succession to the Matadar property between B, who was the daughter of a maternal cousin of R, and D who was the grand nephew of R. Held, that D was the preferential heir to B as in order to ascertain the heir of a deceased Matadar the Court was not confined to the limits of the Matadar family and should have in the first instance reference to the personal law which governed the parties. DAYA KUNJAL v BAI BRIKHI (1910)
1 I L R 39 Bom 478*

MATERIAL IRREGULARITY

See REVIEW 14 C W N 244

MATERIAL PREJUDICE

See REVISION 1 I L R 47 Calc 438

MATERNAL UNCLE

*See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
1 I L R 43 Calc 1*

MATE'S RECEIPTS

See CONTRACT 1 I L R 41 Calc 670

MATH

*See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
1 I L R 48 L A 201*

See LEGITIMATION 1 I L R 37 Calc 835

See MUTE

MATHIRI KAJUVU AND SADALWAR

See MAHARASHTRA ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s 13, CL (3)

1 I L R 39 Mid 84

MATRIMONIAL CAUSES ACT, 1857 (20 & 21 VICT C 85)

— s 28—

See DIVORCE 1 I L R 43 Calc 525

MATWALI

*See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WARY
1 I L R 47 Calc 592*

MAXIMS

See ACTIO PERSONALIS MORITUR CUM PERSONA 1 I L R 35 Lom 12

----- 'a man cannot take advantage of his own fraud'

*See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
1 I L R 41 Bom 93*

----- 'generalia specialibus non derogant'

*See SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY
1 I L R 39 Mid 1*

----- 'Ut res magis valeat quam pereat'

*See LANDLORD AND TENANT
1 I L R 46 Calc 456*

MAYUKHA

*See DAUGHTERS, INHERITANCE OF
1 I L R 34 Bom 510*

*See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
1 I L R 34 Bom. 553*

*See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
1 I L R 36 Bom. 379*

*See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
1 I L R 36 Bom 424*

*See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
1 I L R 34 Bom 285
1 I L R 39 Bom 57*

MEASURE OF DAMAGES.

See DAMAGES

MEASUREMENT OF LAND

*See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 91
14 C W N 231*

----- *Excess area—Bengal
Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 52 (c) as amended by Beng Act I of 1907, s 13. The words 'at the time the measurement, on which the claim is based, was made in s 52 (c) of the Bengal Tenancy Act do not refer to the measurement upon which the excess area is found out before the institution of the suit. The section merely provides that if the landlord proves that at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made there existed a practice of settlement being made after measurement of the land assessed with rent it may be presumed that the area specified in the putta kashlyat or counterfoil rent receipt was entered in it after measurement though the landlord is not able to prove that as a matter of fact the lands in the particular case were settled after measurement. Lmas Singh v Raj Tarai Prasad Bahadur, 19 C L J 452 referred to KHAKH HANBULLAH v UMED ALI,
(1919) 1 I L R 47 Calc. 266*

MEASUREMENT OF LAND—contd

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 52 (6) The expression "at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made" in s 52 (6) of the Bengal Tenancy Act refers to the measurement upon which the area in excess or defect, as the case may be, is found out before the institution of the suit, it does not refer to the measurement made at the time of the original settlement or the last preceding adjustment of rent. Khajeh Habibullah v Umed Ali, 1 L R 47 Calc. 266, dissented from in NILMANT KAR v SATI PRASAD GAROA (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 556

MEASURE OF RIGHT

See EASEMENT . I L R 39 Calc 59
I L R 42 Calc 46

MEDICAL WORKS

reference to—

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

MEDICINAL PREPARATION

See EXCHANGABLE ARTICLE

I L R 45 Calc 83

MEHR

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 41 Bom 5

MELVARAM

grant of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1908) s 8 I L R 38 Mad. 891

MELVARAMDAR

receiver of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 22
I L R 38 Mad. 837

right of, to trees—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Mad. 155

MEMBER

See STOCK EXCHANGE

I L R 47 Calc 623

MEMONS

See SUCCESSION . L R 43 I A 35

See WILL I L R 43 Bom 641

Halai Memons and Bombay Memons—Hindu law governs Halai Memons of Kathiawar in matters of succession and inheritance—Custom—Domicile—Change of domicile of origin—Value of judgments of a foreign Court for proving a custom peculiar to a community—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 13—Value of evidence of tradition given by leading men of the community A Halai Memon a native of Porebunder in Kathiawar died intestate at Bombay leaving him surviving a widow, the second defendant one son, the first defendant and two married daughters one of whom had since died, the survivor being the plaintiff The estate of the deceased consisted of five immovable properties in Bombay a share in a business in Bombay and a house and land at Porebunder The plaintiff claimed to be entitled as a daughter to 7-32 of the estate as her share, on the footing that the deceased as a Bombay Memon, was governed by the Mahomedan law of succession and she was supported in her contention by the representatives of the deceased daughter The first defendant contended that Hindu law applied and that under that law he was entitled to the whole estate subject to the maintenance of the deceased a widow The second defendant supported the first defendant though as widow of the deceased she would have been entitled under Mahomedan law to 4-32 of the estate The Court of first instance decreed the plaintiff's suit, holding that though the deceased belonged to a family of Halai Memons who had settled in Porebunder, the Halai Memons settling in Porebunder did not as regards succession and inheritance retain Hindu law at the time of their conversion, nor had they adopted Hindu law by immemorial custom The first defendant appealed —Held, reversing the decree of the lower Court, (i) that the plaintiff was not entitled to any share in the estate of her deceased father as he was governed by Hindu law and not by Mahomedan law in matters of succession and inheritance, (ii) that the evidence established that the Memons of Kathiawar of whatever group or sect followed the Hindu rule of succession and this conclusion was supported as to Porebunder Memons particularly by a large number of instances in which widow and daughters had been excluded from succession, sons had divided the property with their father in his life-time or equally with each other after his death and the right of predeceased brother's sons to share with their uncles had been repeatedly recognised, all these results being incidental to the Hindu and not to the Mahomedan system Per SCOTT, C J —There is no principle recognised by the law administered in this country upon which a Hindu's or Mahomedan's possessions may be distributed partly by one law and partly by another according to the locality of the possessions They must all fall under either the law of the religion or the customary law of the community There is no lex loci for the purpose of distribution Permanent residence in Bombay does not necessarily import the Mahomedan law of succession for one whose ancestors were converted from Hinduism Severance from the domicile of origin and permanent residence in Bombay would, in the case of persons falling within the purview of the Indian Succession Act effect change of domicile and with it a change of law, e.g., from French to Anglo-Indian or Portuguese to Anglo-Indian but it would not change the law of succession for Hindus or Mahomedans Kojnals and Memons case (1847) Perry's O C 110, Das Bays v Das Eastok 1 L R 20 Bom 63, Abdurahim Hajji Feraid Mawhu v Heli mabai L R 43 I A 35 and Abdul Hussain Khan v Bubi Sona Dero, L R 45 I A 10, referred to. Mahomed Haji Abu v KHATIBAI (1918)

MEMONS—contd

I L R 43 Bom 647

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

See STAMP ACT (II of 1899), s. 37

I L R 38 Mad. 349

MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL

See APPEAL

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908), ss. 107, 149, O VII, r. 11

CL. (c) . . . I L R 38 Bom 41

MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL—cond

ss 115, 131, O XII, s 23.

I L R 42 Bom 303

See COURT FEE I L R 39 Calc. 503

See REFUND OF COURT-FEE.

I L R 40 Calc. 383

— order returning—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O

XLIII, s 1 I L R 40 All. 659

MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

See COMPANIES ACT, 1882, ss 6, 40, 41

I L R 40 Calc 1

MENACE TO PERSON AND PROPERTY

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R. 46 Calc 215

MERCHANDISE MARKS ACT (IV OF 1899).

ss 6, 7—

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 231

MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT (I OF 1859)

